BATTLE RAGING FIERCELY TODAY ALONG THE FRONT

Slight Retirement of Germans' Right Only Advantage Noticeable — Some Belief Now That Enemy's Stand is to Give Time For Re-inforcements to Come Up

London, Sept. 18—As has been the case heretofore when the struggle along the vast battle line in France has been most acute, the public in England as well as in France and Germany, has been forced to content itself with the most meagre news of the progress of the operations.

Experience has shown that extended statements are issued only after the retirement or the temporary defeat of one army or the other.

The information this morning sets forth laconically that the battle is raging with great fierceness along the whole front, but that the Germans have had a slight retirement of the German right wing at certain points, no decided advantage is credited to either side.

Presumably the efforts of the allies front, which extends, roughly speaking, from the river Oise near Noyon to the German fortress of Metz, but barring a slight retirement of the German right wing at certain points, no decided advantage is credited to either side.

The position of the fourth and fifth German armies is considered not so strong as the remainder of the line, while, if the flanking movement is successful, the railroad lines on which the Germans depend so greatly would be cut.

TIME TO GET REINFORCEMENTS

While the next move of either army is a matter of the merest speculation, the press of London dwells today upon the possibility that the Germans are trying only to hold the strong positions they now have assumed, with the view of keeping the allies at bay and thus affording Emperor William opportunity to rush more troops to his eastern frontier.

There is nothing to indicate a change in the situation in the eastern zone. Presumably the armies of Austria are still trying to unite at Cracow, while the Russian army, under General Rennenkampf, is holding the Germans at bay along the frontier of Poland.

While public opinion and the press in Italy and Roumania are apparently in the dark as to the course these nations will pursue, a semi-official assurance came from Denmark today, from the newspaper Politiken, that that country will remain firm in its neutrality. The Politiken says:—"Nothing can induce us to change the policy of neutrality which Denmark has declared she will follow."

CROWN PRINCE MAKES STAND

Paris, Sept. 18—The great battle of Aisne continues. All that is known officially of its progress is that the Germans are yielding slightly at some points on the left. Though this fact was given out officially by the French yesterday, it evidently refers to the situation on Tuesday, since it accords with the British press statement of Wednesday. The many wounded prisoners coming in from the front indicate that the allies have made the Germans give ground, the latter leaving their wounded behind.

The army of Crown Prince Frederick William has finally turned on its users at Montfaucon, to the northwest of Verdun, encouraged, no doubt, by devices of reinforcements coming from the Rhine garrisons, and the line of defence is now clearly established from Noyon, sixty-seven miles north of Paris, to Montfaucon.

BELGIANS AT WORK AGAIN

In addition to the difficulty of re-organizing their forces to withstand the attack on the new line, the Germans are, no doubt, troubled about their rear. The resumption of activity by the Belgians means more than that its troops are had time to rest and no doubt there is good foundation for the many rumors that King Albert's forces have been reinforced through from where is only a matter of conjecture.

Some experts still think that the battle is intended only to ensure the safety of the crown prince's army, which had great difficulty in disengaging itself from the defiles of the Forest of Argonne and is not yet, according to opinion here, by any means safe. The prolonged rains also make it necessary to have more time in which to get the artillery out of the chalky mud of northern and eastern Champagne.

Bordeaux, Sept. 18—General Bataille of the French army is reported killed in action.

State of Siege

Rome, Sept. 18—Despatches from Trieste, Austria, are to the effect that everything is in readiness for the proclamation of a state of siege. Even the Alpine refugees, it is declared, have been transformed into forts in which cannon has been mounted. All males from sixteen to sixty years of age are practicing at the rifle ranges, but insufficient rains are available despite the arrival of rifles from Germany.

One Eye on Their Paris Dollars

Paris, Sept. 18—There has been some speculation here as to what has become of interests which Germans who have left to rejoin the army, possessed in houses of commerce in Paris. Yesterday the question came before a civil court in the form of a request from Germans fighting in the ranks of the invading army, for the appointment of judicial administrators to assume the direction of their affairs. These requests were referred to Judge Gignault, but in legal circles it is felt that no action will be taken regarding them.

Crown Prince Wires for Supplies

Berlin, Sept. 18—Crown Prince Frederick William today telegraphed to the citing Am Mittag as follows:—"Please direct and forward as early as possible cotton underwear and socks for my soldiers. Greetings."

It was only a few days ago that the crown prince telegraphed to a Berlin newspaper asking it to collect and forward tobacco and cigars for his soldiers.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Issued by authority of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, R. F. Stupart, director of meteorological service.

Synopsis — Fine weather prevails throughout the Dominion except in British Columbia, where a gale is blowing in the east coast of Newfoundland.

Fine; Not So Warm

Maritime—Moderate winds, fine today and on Saturday, with stationary or a little lower temperature.

New England Forecast—Fair tonight and Saturday; moderate, variable winds.

It was announced officially in Paris at three o'clock this afternoon, that the allies had progressed somewhat. The western wing was declared to have repulsed a vigorous German offensive.

FIGHT IN WORTHY CAUSE AND SHALL NOT LAY DOWN ARMS TILL THAT PURPOSE IS FULLY ACHIEVED

King George's Speech at Prorogation of Parliament

London, Sept. 18—In his speech from the throne proroguing parliament, King George spoke today as follows: "My lords and gentlemen: I address you in circumstances that call for action rather than for speech. After every endeavor had been made by my government to preserve the peace of the world, I was compelled, in the assertion of treaty obligations deliberately set at naught and for the protection of the public law of Europe and the vital interests of my empire, to go to war."

"My lords and gentlemen, we are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose is fully achieved. I rely with confidence upon the loyal and united efforts of all my subjects, and I pray that Almighty God will give us his blessing."

When the deputy speaker announced the formal prorogation, Will Crooks, labor leader, arose and asked if it were in order to sing "God Save the King." The anthem was then sung, the members rising in a body. At its close, the commoners slowly filed out.

RABBI HELLER COMES TO HAZEN AVENUE TEMPLE CONGREGATION

St. John welcomes the arrival of Dr. Nachman Heller, a Jewish divine, who has answered the call of the Hazen avenue congregation's temple to take charge of its responsibilities and obligations, preaching to the members and instructing their children. Rabbi Heller is widely known as an educator, speaker, organizer and communal worker, as well as a scholar, author and newspaper writer. He has ministered to congregations in West Virginia, and Winnipeg. Rabbi Heller contributes to English papers and Hebrew periodicals in the United States and Canada, and has recently translated the canonized Aramaic of the Books of Daniel and Ezra into Hebrew, the latter being missed in these particular prophecies since time immemorial.

The reason for Doctor Heller's coming to town at this time is that the Feast of New Year, Attonement and Tabernacles are at close range, the former beginning with the sunset of Sunday, September 20, and lasting two days, the latter on Monday and Tuesday, September 21 and 22, and the following day, October 4, and the following day, October 5. The Rabbi will meet his co-religionists continuously, conduct the services and preach sermons on vital topics and questions that confront Jews and Judaism. Universal peace is one of the chief features.

WAR NOTES

An unconfirmed report from Petrograd has it that a battle between German warships occurred in the Baltic Sea. Several cruisers are said to have been sunk, and the German fleet is reported to be in the Kiel Canal. The English training ship Figsard II was sunk yesterday after having turned turtle in the English channel, while being towed into port. Twenty one of her crew were drowned.

A Tokyo rumor says that five British steamers have been sunk by a German warship off the coast of India.

An Austrian cable says that the Germans are preparing Cologne, Duisburg and Wesel for attack.

SEVENTEEN KILLED IN ACCIDENTS IN STATES

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 18—Six persons were killed and fifteen seriously injured early today when a passenger train of the Alabama and Great Southern railroad was derailed at a switch one mile west of Livingstone, Ala.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 18—Eleven persons were killed and fifteen injured as the result of a trolley car being run down by an Illinois Central freight train last night near this city.

TAKES NEUTRALITY OATH

Since the outbreak of hostilities in the old country several Germans and Austrians have taken prisoners by the local militia, but with the exception of four sent to Halifax to the militia headquarters there, all have been released upon taking the oath of neutrality. This morning another, named Leahf, was arrested, being taken from a coal steamer in the harbor. He was brought before Col. J. L. McAvity in the armory and after being examined thoroughly, took the required oath and was allowed to go.

SEVEN BRITISH FIGHT 250 GERMANS TILL AMMUNITION GONE

Capetown, Sept. 18—A force composed of 250 Germans, together with three machine guns, attacked the British post at Nakob on Thursday. The garrison consisted of seven policemen, who fought until their ammunition was exhausted. Those who had not been killed were taken prisoners.

Fourteen Drowned In St. Lawrence As Collier Rams Government Steamer

The Montmagny Struck by the Lingan In Fog in Early Morn -- Mother and Babes Among Those Lost

Quebec, Sept. 18—Fourteen lives were lost shortly before five o'clock this morning when the government steamer Montmagny was rammed by the Black Diamond collier "Lingan," at Beaujeu banks, a mile below Crane Island, and some twenty-six miles below Quebec City.

The Montmagny was on her way from Quebec to the Gulf, and the Straits of Belle Isle, Newfoundland, where she was taking the families of two light house keepers together with coal and other provisions, for the wireless stations, and the signal service stations down the coast.

The boats struck in a bank of fog, not far from Crane Island, and the early hour at which the fatality occurred is responsible for the heavy loss of life. The Montmagny is not a passenger carrying vessel, but she has quarters for the families of the light house keepers, and, on this voyage, Mrs. Richard, wife of the lighthouse keeper at Belle Isle, with her seven children, was on board, with Mrs. Lavalle, wife of the lighthouse keeper at Flower Island, who perished with her four children.

Second Officer Lachance is among the dead, according to the initial list given at Crane Island. He died with two children, he had in his arms trying to save them. The crew was picked up by the steam collier Potana, and taken over to Grosse Ile, whence the government boat Alice is coming to Quebec with them and the bodies of two infants.

The Montmagny was a twin screw steel steamer of 1,269 tons. She was built at Paisley, Scotland, in 1908, and was attached to the service of the Canadian marine and fisheries department with headquarters at Sorel, Que.

The collier Lingan is of 4,888 tons burden. At the time of the accident she was proceeding from Sydney, N. S., to Montreal with 10,000 tons of coal on board. The Lingan is like the Starstad which rammed the Empress of Ireland. She is chartered by the Dominion Coal Company.

The collision occurred while most of the passengers were asleep. The Montmagny went down inside of three minutes. The Lingan is leaking badly, but is on her way to Quebec, under her own steam. One more name is added to the list of the dead. It is the fifth child of Mrs. Lavalle, that was thought safe but who is found to have been drowned.

ALL BUT THREE READY TO GO

True Spirit Shown at Drill Here This Morning — News From Valcartier

The local recruiting continues quite encouragingly. The Army Service Corps resumed meetings last evening and will begin active voluntary drill on next Monday evening, taking on recruits meanwhile. The 2nd Regiment Artillery are planning on an active drill session also, while the Army Medical unit is also active in this regard.

An interesting feature of this morning's drill at the armory for the members of the volunteer company of the 62nd Regiment Fusiliers was that on a query as to who among them would be willing for the foreign service all but three of the fifty-nine men on duty volunteered. This is considered a very satisfactory indication that more men are easily found for the second contingent which is now in the recruiting stages.

News from Valcartier.

Many of the volunteers at Valcartier hold to the belief that they will be used for a time in garrison duty in England before being sent to the front. A letter received yesterday said that it might be the last he would send from Canadian soil, this being taken to mean that orders to embark were expected soon. It is not permissible to give the date of the departure from the camp, and it will not be known generally that the troops have gone until they are safe on the other side. In fact it is said that some have already been conveyed across.

While the course of seasoning which they have undergone at Valcartier has been strict and the medical examination severe, it is expected that they will be more rigidly drilled in the old country before being sent into action. The belief is current in the camp that the majority of the Canadian expeditionary force will undergo a further seasoning at a big training centre in Ireland, where a large force of English and Irish soldiers are now drilling. After a comparatively brief period spent in this connection, civilians now recruiting for service throughout England will be taken for the garrison details replacing the Canadians and other colonial volunteers, who will be sent into the field.

The militia department are keeping the plan of Canadian troops secret, but it is supposed that they have advice from the British War Office regarding the disposition to be made of the volunteers. Different views are entertained among the officers and men of the Canadian contingent, but the foregoing are accepted apparently by many of them.

SIR JAMES M. BARRIE SAYS WAR LIKELY TO LAST FOR A LONG TIME

New York, Sept. 18—The Cunard liner Lusitania from Liverpool reached her pier here early today. Prominent among the 1,502 passengers were Sir James M. Barrie, author and playwright, and A. E. W. Mason, an English novelist. Speaking of the war, Sir James said:

"The real ultimate cause of the war is militarism. The nations have been arming themselves and a loaded gun always goes off sooner or later. "In my opinion the war will last a long time. The issue involved is as clear as the cause which brought it about—it is whether soldiers or citizens are to rule in Europe. So far as England is concerned, the most striking feature of the war is the way in which the young men of Britain are enlisting."

"One hears the Kaiser generally blamed for the war. This is somewhat less than fair. The Kaiser was a young man in 1870, when the war spirit was very strong, and he is merely the product of a system."

"It is too early to talk of peace negotiations. No peace would be lasting nor would it produce the results which we all hope for unless one side is thoroughly beaten."

IRELAND GETS HOME RULE BILL SIGNED BY KING

Stirring Scene as Imperial Parliament Prorogues—Redmond Leaves For Recruiting Work

London, Sept. 18—King George's signature was today attached to the home rule for Ireland bill, which thus goes on the statute book. Scenes of enthusiasm unusual in the staid legislative chambers of Westminster Palace, were enacted today when the two houses of parliament were prorogued.

While King George was absent, inspecting troops, his speech was read in the House of Lords by Viscount Haldane, the Lord High Chancellor and in the house of commons by John H. Whitley, the deputy speaker.

When the announcement was made in the House of Lords that the royal assent had been given to the Irish Home Rule and the Welsh Church disestablishment suspensory bills and to several emergency measures, cheers were given for the passing of the Irish and the Welsh bills.

CHEERS FOR HOME RULE

On the announcement of the passing of the Irish home rule bill in the House of Commons, the Nationalists and Liberals broke into loud cheers, which were repeated again and again.

Will Crooks, the Labor leader, asked if it were in order to sing "God Save the King." Without waiting for permission, he started the first verse himself, and then broke down with emotion.

The anthem was taken up by the spectators in the galleries as well as by the members and the singing was heard in the palace yard.

As the members filed out of the chamber Mr. Crooks cried out: "God save Ireland." John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, replied: "God save England."

Parliament will sit again on October 27.

REDMOND GOES RECRUITING

Mr. Redmond, who was the recipient of many warm congratulations in the lobbies of the house after adjournment, left later in the day for Ireland, where he will take part in the recruiting campaign.

The government is pledged to introduce and deal with an amending bill before the Home Rule Bill becomes operative. The latter will probably not become operative until after the war.

RECENT DEATHS

Andrew Smith, surveyor, of Smithtown, N. B., was killed on Tuesday morning by being thrown from his carriage at the Titusville railway crossing.

Mrs. Guilford Steeves of Weldon, Albert county, is dead. She is survived by her husband, six daughters—Sarah, Helen, Harriet, Jennie, Emma and Marion, and one son, Lewis. The deceased lady was formerly Miss Copeland of Alma and was at one time a teacher.

MARYSVILLE COTTON MILL
Frederickton Mail—It is learned on reliable authority that the Canadian Cotton Limited's mill at Marysville, which of late has been running three-quarters time, will soon be working full time and perhaps with two shifts.

REV. MR. PENNA IMPROVING
The Rev. Wm. Penna, who was operating in the General Public Hospital here about five weeks ago is steadily improving. His friends will be glad to know that he expects to be able to leave the hospital in the course of a few days.

After having been selected as one of the teachers in the Vernon, Ind., High School, Miss Marjorie Hengster declines the position and will launch into the grocery business.

FUND CLIMBS ABOVE $25,000

Col. H. H. McLean this morning subscribed $500 to the Patriotic Fund. A few more contributions like this will make the fund show up well. Has Passed $25,000.

Today marks the fifth successive day in which the local Patriotic Fund has increased $1,000 daily, the total this morning passing the $25,000 mark. This is exclusive of $3,500 pledged but not collected. The contribution of the Maritime Dredging & Construction Company of $1,000 was responsible for today's $1,000 step. Other contributions acknowledged this morning were: Dr. D. C. Malcom, $5; Masonic Grand Lodge Corp., $100; William E. Golding, $25; Daughters of Israel Society, $27; Happy Home Lodge, I. O. G. T., Bloomfield, $22; proceeds of pie social, Loch Lomond, $18.20; John Richards, $1.

The executive met with Judge Forbes in the chair. A deputation of ladies from the local fund to see the Endurance, and a member of the Canadian Anti-Limit's mail at Marysville, which of late has been running three-quarters time, will soon be working full time and perhaps with two shifts.

The cabinet for tourists to Greenland and Spitzbergen, the Endurance is a very different ship today. Her cabins are being turned into store-rooms, and officers and crew will sleep in odd corners, for two years' provisions will have to be carried. The Endurance is a combined sailing and steamship, and of course, a wooden vessel, as iron ones cannot be used in ice floes. A flat-roofed wooden hut, about the size of a country cottage, now standing on the dockside, will be taken to the Antarctic in the hold of the Endurance. It has been specially designed to catch the snow and thus ensure the maximum of warmth with the minimum of fire.

Many people have visited the South-West India dock to see the Endurance, the ship of Sir Ernest Shackleton's Antarctic expedition (says the London Mail). Originally fitted with luxurious saloons and cabins for tourists to Greenland and Spitzbergen, the Endurance is a very different ship today. Her cabins are being turned into store-rooms, and officers and crew will sleep in odd corners, for two years' provisions will have to be carried. The Endurance is a combined sailing and steamship, and of course, a wooden vessel, as iron ones cannot be used in ice floes. It has been specially designed to catch the snow and thus ensure the maximum of warmth with the minimum of fire.

Major Frink was this morning appointed by the executive of the Soldiers' and Families' Patriotic Fund as a committee to proceed at once to Ottawa to gather information and details in regard to the merging of the local fund with the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

PATTI WAS PRISONER OF WAR AND SUBJECTED TO INSULTS

Paris, Sept. 18.—Adelina Patti arrived in Paris yesterday after being kept several weeks, together with her husband, Baron Custerstrom, a prisoner of war at Carlsbad, where she was finally obliged to leave all her domestic affairs. This was obtained only after laborious negotiations and in the meantime the count and countess were subjected to insults by the people besieging the hotel in which they were kept.

AP-AMERICAN LOVE FEAST

Tokio, Sept. 17—A notable demonstration of friendship toward the United States was made tonight at a dinner given by the Japanese association, which was attended, among others, by Takasaki Ito, the Japanese foreign minister, and G. W. Guthrie, the United States ambassador.

Viscount Kaneko, president of the association, in an address, scored those persons who, he said, were trying to estrange the United States and Japan. "Japan not only will not attack the Philippines," said Viscount Kaneko, "but he never had any idea of disturbing the tranquillity of the territorial waters of the Philippines. Our friendship will be firm and immovable as historic Plymouth Rock."

Other speakers suggested an alliance between the United States and Japan for the preservation of peace in the Pacific.

(Toronto World)

The late Dr. William Saunders has been eminent in science which, in many respects, should be peculiarly Canadian, for a quarter of a century. One of the great agriculturists of his day, in associated sciences he was scarcely less eminent. His book on entomology, of which a new edition was recently published is a standard work on insects pertaining to the farm. In botany and horticulture he was also an authority. This was recognized abroad by his enrolment in the learned societies. He was a fellow of the Linnaean Society of London, England; member of the Royal Botanical Society, following the Entomological Society and an honorary member of the Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland. He was decorated with the C. M. G. by the late King Edward, and was the recipient of many other distinctions. In his peculiarly agricultural achievements two things stand out. One is Marquis wheat, which he developed. It ripens a week to two days earlier than Red Fife. He also originated the Pyrus Basia, a hardy variety of apple, which was

HONOR FOR J. J. MITCHELL

Appointed on Ways and Means Committee of National House

Washington, Sept. 18—Congressman John J. Mitchell of the 18th Massachusetts district has been elected by the house to membership on the important ways and means committee. Applause greeted the formal announcement by the clerk of the house. Congressman Mitchell is the only member from New England on the ways and means committee. The vacancy to which he was elected was caused by the retirement of Hon. Andrew J. Peters of Boston.

the first to withstand the severity of the Northwest climate. He became director of the experimental farm at Ottawa in 1886 and did splendid work for the dominion in that capacity. There are few better examples of a long life entirely devoted to activities and researches which were wholly beneficial to the race. Canada needs such services above all others. The wheat growers and farmers of generations to come benefit by the toil of such men as Dr. Saunders, carried on modestly and without parade. His labors are wrought into the fabric of the dominion in a vital way, and he must always be remembered as a great Canadian.

WILL WAR PRICES COME ON CLOTHES?

Head of Semi-ready Company Says They Can Hold the Fort for a Year.

What will be the effect of the war on prices of clothes? It has had many letters from our customers throughout Canada asking me this question," said the President of Semi-ready Company, answering early in July, when the war clouds were gathering. "We are taught to look a year ahead.

"Fortunately for our company, we have on hand nearly a year's supply of staple wools and serges.

"The world's wool clip is stationary or declining, and only the festive goat of Angora persuasion is multiplying his offspring and his fleece. So that the wool situation of itself has for years been a great cause for anxiety. Aggravated by the feeble output and the suspension of many producing centres, the prices of woollen goods may be expected to soar to dizzy heights.

"Scientists, manufacturers and governments have taken an eager interest in an experiment which promises a new clothing-making material. The world's product of raw silk does not increase with the increasing population of the world, and a fibrous wool silk was evolved by scientists. It is much used in scarfs, silken sweaters and in knitted neckwear.

"While it is not likely, yet it is possible that Great Necessity will prove the Mother of Invention in the discovery of some new cloth material if war prices should prevail.

"The price of woolsens in both overcoats and suitings on winter weights has been well sustained for years, but with the war there is no telling how high they will go.

"Some relief will come from the tendency towards lighter-weight weaves. We have been told by scientists and by hygienic authorities that we wear our clothes too thick and too warm for our general health and permanent good. With a wider knowledge of hygiene we are finding out truths our fathers never knew. Weight does not mean warmth and comfort.

"That there should not be any present advance in the cost of woolsens is further reasoned because of the good stocks in hand by all the larger and more responsible manufacturers. But the past experience of a great war always means an advance in the cost of foodstuffs and wear-stuffs—the actual necessities of life."

John P. Condon says that he has all his fall stock of suits and overcoats, tailored to his own selection of fabrics and styles, and that there has been no advance in the price in the pocket on any of these.

England has twenty women inspectors of labor, and they are practically independent in their work and functions, Austria has eighteen women inspectors,

Mr. Carvell and the Globe

F. B. Carvell, K. C., M. P., on Sept. 10 addressed the following letter to the St. John Globe:

To the Editor of the St. John Globe.

Sir—I have read with a great deal of interest your editorial of Thursday last headed "Other Crown Land Frauds," and have been particularly struck with one sentence therein which reads as follows: "The Dugal investigation disclosed certain frauds, but it did not bare all the facts or the full extent of the frauds in connection with the renewal of leases."

I would assume from this statement that you must possess certain information which has not yet been made public, and if so, let me assure you it is a matter of deep regret to me that you had not given Mr. Dugal and his counsel this information before the investigation was closed.

I have no doubt, however, that the report has not been actually made, the commissioners will re-open the inquiry, and if you will furnish me with the information I will apply to them immediately for the purpose of having these facts all laid bare.

I attempted to place before the public, through the means of the commission, all the information in my possession, and while I have not failed in that, yet I felt during the whole investigation that I was being held pretty strictly to the technical rules of the law of evidence, but I would judge from the tone of your editorial that you must have information which will come within those rules, and therefore it must appeal to you as your duty to make this information known at the earliest possible moment.

I have no doubt whatever but that I only touched the fringe of all the reality in connection with the administration of the crown lands in this province during the last three years, and let me assure you that should the commission feel like opening up this present investigation, it will not be many months until the legislature will meet again, and I am satisfied that Mr. Dugal will be only too happy to make other charges, provided the information is forthcoming, and should such be the case, I can assure both you and him that he will not lack for counsel to look after his interests.

I quite agree with you "There should be no patching-up work, no trace, but a complete overturn of existing methods," and unless this province expects to resort to direct taxation or the repudiation of honours debts this overturn cannot commence a day too soon.

Believe me,
Sincerely yours,

THE WAR NEWS

The great battle of the Aisne is still in progress, and the meagre reports at hand merely convey the information that the allies are holding their own at all points, and at some points along the extended battle front are forcing the Germans to give way.

abandon the scheme for the present; but the conditions for the success of such a conference may be much more hopeful after the war than they were before.

The war is now nearly seven weeks old and the German fleet continues to hide itself from the British.

Several days may elapse before the great battle now in progress on French soil is ended, but both the French and British war office await the result with confidence.

Reports from Petrograd continue to tell of Russian successes, and of further disaster to the Austrian troops in Galicia.

Germany is still endeavoring to secure the aid of Italy, but if that country enters the fight at all it will certainly not be on the side of Germany and Austria.

MR. CARVELL AND THE GLOBE After the close of the inquiry by the Royal Commission into the Dugal charges the Globe said that "the investigation disclosed certain frauds, but it did not bare all the facts or the full extent of the frauds in connection with the renewal of the leases."

RELIGION AND THE WAR Among other work which has been seriously interfered with by the war is that of the World Conference on Christian Faith and Order.

BRITAIN NOT DECADENT One thing this war has already done and that is to dissipate the notion that Britain is a decadent nation.

In the British Empire there has been continual process of recognition that special loyalty finds its chief sustenance in the extension of national freedom of sentiment. Local independence, developing under the protection afforded union and co-operation for common purposes, has been the great solvent of empire's internal problems.

This entirely natural evolution has razed the nations that hold to the old-conceptions. They have not been able to understand that the evidence and action of separate local nationality and demand for larger powers of self-government do not mean a determination of sentiment. Local independence, developing under the protection afforded union and co-operation for common purposes, has been the great solvent of empire's internal problems.

able and has been signally displayed in the universal loyalty shown by our great Indian dependency. Even in Egypt no sign of unrest has been manifest. The imperial outlook today was never so hopeful and reassuring and the rallying of the whole empire to the flag will start influences that are impossible to measure. Out of the welter of war will come, both within and without the empire, a new era resting on the ideas it now embodies.

For informal wear this frock of soft lavender crepe is charming. If 38-inch material is used 7 1/2 yards will be required, with 3/4 yard 18-inch all-over lace for the vest and 1/4 yard contrasting material 27 inches wide for the collar.

Start with the waist, sewing upper edge of front to go back as notched; then close under-arm seam. Gather lower edge of front and back between double "T" perforations; sew stay to lower edge, centers even, small "o" perforation at under-arm seam. Sew round collar to neck edge and standing collar to shield as notched. Adjust shield, centers and corresponding large "o" perforations even.

Close sleeve seam as notched. Sew sleeves in armholes as notched, easing in any fullness.

Turn under left back edge of skirt on slot perforations, lap on right back edge centers even (large "o" perforations indicate center-back) stitch as illustrated and press. Gather upper edge between double "T" perforations. Close back seam of tunic (indicated by large "o" perforation), gather upper edge between double "T" perforations.

Arrange on back gore, center-back, front edges and small "o" perforations upper edges even. Turn under front edges of back gore and tunic on slot perforations, lap on front gore to small "o" perforations, notches even and set in, leaving edges to left of center-front free above large "o" perforation in front gore for placket. Sew to lower edge of waist over stay, centers even, small "o" perforation at under-arm seam.

KITCHENER TELLS OF BRITISHERS ON THE FIRING LINE

quiet confidence, it should be borne in mind that the struggle is bound to be a long one, and it behooves us to develop armed forces to carry on and bring the mighty conflict to a successful conclusion. It will be necessary, in order to keep the army at its full strength, to maintain a steady flow of reinforcements."

A British army division consists of 20,000 men so that including cavalry the expeditionary force under the command of Sir John French must consist of 160,000 troops. According to afternoon reports yesterday 3,000,000 men are engaged on both sides in the terrible struggle along the line from Noyon to Verdun.

London, Sept. 18—2.55 a. m.—Austria is desirous of peace, according to a Rome despatch to the Daily Telegraph, which represents internal conditions, particularly in Bosnia, Croatia and Dalmatia, as disastrous.

New Armies For The Front—Work For The Territorials and Volunteers—Austria Reported as Desirous of Peace

London, Sept. 17, 7.15 p. m.—Speaking in the House of Lords today Field Marshal Earl Kitchener revealed the strength of the British expeditionary force in France, and described what he believed must be done to assure a successful issue of the conflict. A steady flow of reinforcements was required, he said.

There were already in France, the secretary of war said, rather more than six divisions of British troops and two divisions of cavalry which were being maintained at their full strength. Further regular divisions and additional cavalry were being organized from units drawn from overseas garrisons, which were now being occupied by territorials and volunteers. A division of territorials already had left for Egypt; a brigade had gone to Malta, and a garrison force to Gibraltar.

Referring to the two new armies the secretary said that new divisions were now being collected at the training quarters. The third army was being formed on the new camping ground and the fourth army was being created. Meanwhile Indian divisions were on their way.

Earl Kitchener spoke in the highest eulogistic terms regarding Sir John French, the British commander-in-chief, who he said, has met every difficulty presented by the situation in a manner that proved his worth as a soldier.

"Thanks to his superb leadership," continued the war secretary, "the British army has been able, at all times, to fight a fight that has thrown terror into the enemy. Nothing has been wanting. His every move has shown that he has foreseen what was to come, and has so distributed his forces that the strongest German blows have spent their weight, without bringing the disaster their authors had planned."

Earl Kitchener also paid a tribute to the other generals, and the bravery and endurance of the officers and men of the expeditionary force. The latest advices from General French did not materially change the situation as it was already known from published statements. The troops were reported to be in good heart, and ready to move forward, "when the moment arrived."

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff itching scalp and falling hair.

Husband Killed Wife and Then Self—Farmer's Home Scene of Tragedy

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 16.—William Fuller, aged 80, and killed his wife, Hattie May Fuller, 28 years old, at their home in Sennett, near here. He then turned his rifle upon himself and died within a few minutes with a bullet in his brain.

They had lived happily, according to relatives, but neighbors declare that Fuller was subject to melancholia and was extremely jealous. He was a farmer. The double tragedy leaves four orphans, the youngest seven months old.

TIMES, SEPTEMBER 18, 1914

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The government is taking steps to turn at least a part of Canada's immense apple crop of some 10,000,000 barrels this year to advantage in supplying the Canadian and British troops with a very necessary item of rations during the coming winter campaign. Incidentally the conjunction of a large crop with limited markets and transportation facilities has created a special opportunity which Canada has been missing in neglecting to develop an extremely profitable trade in evaporated apples both at home and abroad.

With an eye both to patriotism and to the fruit branch of the agriculture department is now investigating ways and means of securing a large supply of evaporated apples as a part of the British commissariat, and also of stimulating the fruit evaporating industry in Canada on a permanent basis.

A circular to all evaporator factories in Canada was sent out by David Johnson, Dominion fruit commissioner, asking for information as to factory output and intimating that the government may acquire evaporated apples in large quantities.

It has been pointed out in a recent letter to the press by Dr. P. H. Bryce, chief medical officer of the department of the interior, that the security, the scourge of armies, is to be avoided, a small ration of dried fruit or vegetable must be applied daily to the troops. Canada has a raw material this year in almost uncounted amounts. The apple crop, the largest in years, is being harvested, but because of market and transportation conditions apparently half of this crop will have to be wasted with a consequent loss of many millions to the growers. The government has seen a way out of the difficulty in the suggestion that a considerable proportion of the crop can be preserved in evaporated form and used by the War Office to give the troops a needed amount of fruit diet. The Germans are already doing this and have developed a most thorough system of fruit evaporation for army purposes. The German standard allows only 20 per cent of moisture in the evaporated product. In Canada and the United States inadequate methods of evaporation give a much larger per cent of moisture, and consequently the food value and keeping qualities are greatly lessened. It is because of this that the industry has not thrived as it should have done in Canada.

If present intentions are carried out the government in purchasing supplies this autumn will see to it that apples are evaporated according to the best standards of cleanliness and moisture known. The start once made owing to the exigencies of the present war situation and of a crop otherwise going to waste, it is hoped that the industry may be developed in succeeding years to its real economic possibilities.

The present production of evaporated apples in Canada is about 4,000,000 pounds. This production could probably be trebled or quadrupled. Western Canada and Europe will supply a constant market for the article. As it is now, Ontario and Nova Scotia are losing millions annually by having to market the fruit in bulk form, under heavy transportation charges and easily perishable conditions of packing.

PUT END FOR ALL TIME TO THE MENACE OF GERMAN MILITARISM

New York, Sept. 18.—The New York world power. Nothing else would satisfy England.

Great Britain, it is learned on high authority, wants this war to bring to an end the race for armored superiority. She also wants to eliminate the German competition for mastery of the seas, so that England may cut down her own fleet and end the mad rush for naval supremacy.

If the war ends in favor of the allies, it will be England's demand that Germany's fleet be dismantled, whether it has come out to fight in the meantime or not.

It is England's belief, as expressed by numerous officials, that there is no hope of lasting European peace unless Germany is thoroughly whipped.

Militarism, it is said, must be eliminated in Europe, and in this respect Germany, to the English mind, represents militarism. It is becoming obvious that if Germany is whipped the allies will see to it that her influence is crushed.

Belgium, it is said, will make a demand for territory, in addition to an indemnity tax. This is not official, but a high authority states that the growing feeling among the Belgian populace probably will force a not unwilling government to make demands for slices of Germany's Rhine provinces.

Then France will want Alsace-Lorraine and possibly more. Russia will demand Poland, Italy and Serbia will want certain provinces of Austria, while Denmark will ask for Schleswig-Holstein.

These peace terms now, are of course, academic, but in view of the allies' successes recently, there are many who seriously are considering what the demands on Germany should be.

THE NEW DEAN OF THE DALHOUSIE LAW SCHOOL

Of the new dean of Dalhousie Law School, whose appointment the Times announced yesterday, the Halifax Chronicle says:

It has been a difficult matter to find a man of the calibre needed to take the position of dean of the law school, which was left vacant by the retirement of Dean Weldon, but Dalhousie has been fortunate in securing the services of one of its own able graduates to succeed Doctor Weldon.

The new dean is Doctor Donald A. MacRae. He is not only a Canadian, which was essential for such a position, but is a maritime province man, a native of Prince Edward Island, and so in touch with the spirit and aspirations of our own people and institutions. Doctor MacRae has had a brilliant academic career, and is more than usually familiar with university matters on both sides of the line.

Doctor MacRae graduated from Dalhousie in 1898 with high honors in classics and was awarded a university medal. During his course he won the North British Society Bursary of $60 for two years. He proceeded to Cornell for graduate study and after being successively scholar and fellow at that university was awarded the degree of Ph. D., and was appointed instructor. From that position he was called to Princeton University as assistant professor and preceptor in Greek. After several years stay in this capacity he began the study of law at Osgoode Hall in Toronto. For a time he was also in the editorial department of the great MacMillan Publishing Company. He was admitted to the bar of Ontario more than a year ago, and has since been practicing with Mr. Bicknell's firm in Toronto.

The new dean has a fine personality and is well known to many old Dalhousians in Halifax; and Mrs. MacRae, who was Miss Laura Barnstead, will be warmly welcomed by her many friends.

Sir Edward Carson was united in marriage yesterday to Miss Ruby Frewen, niece of Morton Frewen, member of parliament for Northeast Cork.

A "WAR BABIES AND MOTHERS LEAGUE"

Prominent London Women Organize to Render Aid to Needy Soldiers' Wives and Children.

London, Sept. 17.—Prominent London women, under the leadership of the Countess of Shaftesbury, Lady Scott, widow of the late Captain R. F. Scott, the British Antarctic explorer; Lady Jellicoe, wife of the vice-admiral commanding the home fleet; Lady Byron and Mrs. Reginald McKenna, wife of the home secretary, today completed the organization of "The War Babies and Mothers League."

The league will give financial aid and other help and advice, wherever needed, to the wives of both the regular soldiers and the territorials. The movement has the support of Earl Kitchener, the secretary of war, and one of the first to donate to the cause was Mrs. Winston Churchill, who sent a box of baby clothes to the headquarters of the league.

A novel feature of the new organization will be its determination to work unhampered by red tape. It will aid not only recognized wives, but any woman whose immediate future may have been dependent upon some man called to the colors. A nursery will be provided where mothers may leave their little ones while they are seeking work for themselves.

WHAT KIND OF CATTLE?

(Ottawa Journal)

A manifesto has been issued by the "Social Democratic Party of Canada" addressed to "the workers" calling on them to denounce and oppose the war. The manifesto, which is anonymous, is a gem in its way. The flow of language suggests a large over-dose of beer during the throes of composition. Here is a sample paragraph—

"The Hague Peace Conference is a drooling, stammering bankrupt. The Christian Church is palsied, staggering on its poverty of influence to stop the blood gushing from a million wounds, while Christian cannon are battering down the Christian spires and altars of Europe. Capitalism wallows in the stinking filth of its own chaos. Aply may we sneer at the pomp and parade called civilization now in sudden and shameful collapse."

No one should jump to the hasty and we believe utterly unwarranted conclusion that this magnificent anonymous splutter has come from the Ottawa Citizen office. Our conviction is that that institution is at present too worried about the doped water question and the Provincial Board of Health to have time to sit up nights to frame up manifestos for the Social Democrats, no matter how suspiciously like a Citizen editorial any of the eloquence may sound. No—we think some other explanation should be sought. Even in time of war let us all be just to even the weakest-minded of our brethren.

But seriously—when the German Socialists are fighting for their country, lacking democratic freedom though it does—when French Socialists are joining hands with a government they attack in time of peace—when Russian Jews are rallying around a national flag under which they suffered oppression—when Orangemen and Home Rulers are shaking hands—when the South African Boer seizes his rifle to fight for the country which a moment ago conquered him—when all these things are happening more or less because beyond all question the allied cause of cattle is not merely a cause of each nation concerned but the cause of human freedom in general—what sort of cattle are our Bourgeois and our Social Democrats who so dishonor the finest freedom that the world knows, the freedom under the British flag

TERRORS OF INDIA IN WAR ZONE; QUICK, DEADLY FIGHTERS ARE SIKHS AND GURHKAS

East Indian troops of England entraining. The soldiers in the picture are of the native troops, known as the Second Queen's own sappers and miners. This regiment was first organized by the English in Madras in 1780, and as a continuous service body has fought for England all over the world. Its campaigns have been in Egypt, Java, Persia, Lucknow, China, Abyssinia, Afghanistan, Burmah, South Africa, and the Boer war in China.

Newer, more terrible, tricks of fighting will result now that England's Indian levies have reached the European war zone. These picked Oriental warriors trained for centuries to the trade of fighting are feared more than any other foe. They are all fatalists whose greatest glory is to die in battle. Armed and disciplined according to Occidental standards these dusky fighters also carry their deadly native weapons.

While Lord Kitchener, England's ace, these two tribes gave England the most trouble when it conquered India. The Sikhs defeated white armies in the field in pitched battles. Both tribes finally transferred their allegiance to the white men and have remained loyal ever since. Today they comprise one-quarter of the Indian army and, offered by Englishmen, are declared to be the hardest fighters in the world.

The Sikh is a huge, strapping, bearded warrior. There are 80,000 of these soldiers under arms. In addition to modern weapons they carry the age-old Pathan knife, the "chokers," which they use with horrible effect.

It is a circular blade, much resembling a quill, about five inches in diameter. In throwing it the Sikh spins it on his fingers and then calls it at the charging foe. He throws four or five in rapid succession with amazing accuracy and so swiftly that the attacker has no chance to dodge. The weapon makes a ghastly wound and a shower of them are as effective in stopping horses, or men, as a line of buzz saws.

retary of war, has not announced the kind of men he is bringing from India. It is known that a majority of the levy consists of Sikhs and Gurhkas, the fiercest of the eastern army.

The Gurkha, however, is the real terror of the European soldier. This little hillman has had a name as a fighter for a thousand years and more. He is short and stocky and shows a touch of Mongolian blood, but is quick and wiry and as active as a monkey. Though armed and equipped as an infantryman, his favorite weapon is his native knife, the "kurki." With it he does terrible execution.

The weapon is shaped like a boomerang. It has a small handle, but the blade is three inches wide and twenty-two inches long, but sharply bent in the middle and perfectly balanced.

In making a charge the Gurkha drops his gun and armed only with his "kurki" dashes at the enemy. When in striking

What Dyspeptics Should Eat

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty foods, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

WHAT THE WAR'S GREATEST BATTLE NEAR PARIS LOOKED LIKE

Correspondent Burton, Caught in The Fighting Zone, Describes Scenes In The Battle Which Checked Germans' Deadly March Forward

(By Harry Payne Burton, Special Staff Cable, Copyrighted, 1914, Newspaper Enterprise Association.) London, Sept. 17.—La Grande bataille! (The great battle.) My eye trailed the outstretched arm of Monsieur Trictorin and there upon the distant hill-top to the right floated through the windless air of dawn countless little balloons of smoke which were lightened with terrible rapidity by shells that were bursting in their midst.

Great convulsions of sound came as blinding flames leap up and an instant later shells burst far down the valley but most of them directed into the distant forest to the south.

We conclude that the German batteries are holding the other hilltop and are firing on the French lines concealed in the woods. But we are not sure for smoke and blinding flashes make of the landscape just one great blur.

Monsieur Trictorin at the wheel starts the motor. We are going to leave what we have seen of the great battle, the car swings northeast and the road starts a descent. But suddenly at the turn up goes the road again and we find ourselves with another and better view of the battle.

Binoculars are produced by Trictorin, for we have discovered soldiers this time. They are running down the distant slope. There is nothing "military" in their method. They seem from five to fifteen feet apart and they lope down, ducking and turning, and for the most part running in a crouched position.

This all means that a little company of French soldiers have advanced five hundred yards through Hell and are now firing from a nearer position upon German infantry also concealed in trenches.

I cannot find the German trench but it seems to be behind a field of wheat for English artillery, high on another near ridge, drops smoking bombs constantly and fiercely into this particular place. The bombs leave a trail of inky smoke which make firing targets for infantry.

Suddenly, far beyond this to the east we see an aeroplane swinging above the battlefield. I think it is German. Trictorin declares it is French. The aeroplane seems to be only gathering information. Then I notice a little streak of whirling flame shooting downward. I lost sight of it and before my vision can pick it up again it has burst. The aeroplane has thrown a bomb!

Fragments fly up in all directions. The lens seems to tell me that it is only flying earth but I know at my heart that fragments are soldiers—human beings!

We have stood still only three minutes but Trictorin moves on. He must get his brother into Paris before seven o'clock and it is now six. We leave burning fields, bursting shells and billows of thick yellow smoke, all punctuated with staccato reports of machine-guns.

Hal way down the hill we hear a new sound. It is not the heavy artillery fire, which is now more muffled, but the crack crack! of rifle fire.

We stand upon the seats of the car and strain our eyes through the glasses. Then we suddenly realize that the great battle is not some concentrated military manoeuvres such as a schoolboy might play out on a kitchen table, but a horrifying stretch of individual fights; for here in a little cove not more than half a mile away, there is still another though smaller battle going on.

Another Fight, Men Against Men. Some German infantrymen have attacked sentries posted in this forest just outside Gaux. Through the glasses you can see the Germans, perhaps two hundred in all, run from a trench into the woods.

Occasionally the red legs of the French soldiers appear between trees. It seems to be the close of a fight between two posts with no supporting artillery fire from either side. Only a few thin trails of smoke curl above the tree tops.

Trictorin says the spear went into his mouth and came out back of his neck. I could not see that myself. We start again and leave the great battle forever. All along the way though we are reminded we are riding through a country being bashed in blood. Once again stray boots and knapsacks are seen along the road and a French sentry displays two Uhlan helmets.

At one place we see ten Germans lying dead beneath one tree. We do not know whether they were shot as spies or whether the tide of battle left them there as it rolled over his bloody strand. I know they were all very young; they looked as if they must surely wake in life again—life they had only used as a little as yet.

And a bit farther, not far from the gates of Paris itself, we see two French sentries in their vibrating scarlet lying dead in the road—two sentries crushed amid titanic wreat.

GERMAN SAILORS ON NORTH SHORE REFUSE TO GO TO ENGLAND

Chatham World—Five of the crew of the Norwegian S. S. Christian Michelsen, loading at O'Brien's mill, Nelson, for England, are Germans, and three of them have decided that they will not go to England. They refused duty and the captain appealed to the authorities for aid. Colonel Irving placed the men under arrest and had them taken to the Chatham lock-up on Saturday afternoon. The other two Germans on the ship have not been disturbed. Their case will be taken up this afternoon, when they will be sent to jail to await the sailing of the ship, or be handed over to the military authorities as prisoners.

HAY NOW IN FRANCE

Ottawa, Sept. 18—Although it is only a month since the Canadian government was asked by the Imperial authorities to purchase 700,000 bushels of oats and 10,000 tons of hay, yet some of the hay has been already landed in France. In that short time the cabinet had to purchase the hay, secure presses, and have it baled and shipped. A. R. Harris, under whose supervision the work was done, has been eminently successful in carrying out the project. The hearty co-operation of the Canadian Pacific was of the greatest assistance and was much appreciated by the Ottawa authorities.

RECORD CARGO OF GRAIN

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 18—The steamer W. Grant Morden cleared on Thursday with the largest cargo of grain ever shipped from this port. The previous record was held by the Colonel Shoemaker, but the Morden's cargo of 451,214.20 bushels of wheat, beats her record by about 1,500 bushels. The Grant Morden's huge cargo is by 1,500 bushels larger than any cargo shipped to an eastern port from any shipping port on Lake Superior. She cleared for Port Colborne.

SANG "RULE BRITANNIA"

American Sailors Joined Chorus of Tommy Atkins

London, Sept. 18—A Times correspondent in France describes an incident at Havre where the United States cruiser Tennessee lay in the harbor and a British minesweeper, the decks of which were thronged with soldiers, passed her. The American cruiser dipped the Stars and Stripes and suddenly the British Tommies broke into "Rule Britannia."

"Then," says the correspondent, "an amazing thing happened. I heard and was thrilled by it, the bronzed American sailors took up the rolling chorus of 'Rule Britannia, Britannia rules the waves, Britons never, never, never shall be slaves.'"

"It was the most brotherly act I have ever witnessed."

GREAT ARTILLERY DUEL ON THE AISNE

In Pauses of Thunder, Troops Flung Into The Fray

BOYS IN GERMANS' RANKS

Lads Under Sixteen on the Firing Line—Important Events in Belgium in Next Few Days Are Foreshadowed

London, Sept. 18—So far as the public knows, the great artillery duel along the line of the River Aisne continues to be a draw. In the pause of the thunder of the huge guns, the infantry and cavalry units scattered along the line of battle are being flung into the fray without appreciable effect on its outcome.

An official statement, written by a staff officer who has been on the scene of the operations and which is authorized by the British War Office, gives details of the actions closing with the crossing of the Aisne, but only the most necessary communications have been issued concerning the fighting of the last two days.

Roughly speaking the line of the advance of the allies is threaded by six rivers, four of which have already been crossed. The crossing of the Marne, marking the assumption of the aggressive by the allies, was purely a rear guard action in which General Von Kluck managed to keep the German right from being outflanked. So far as the British were concerned, the passage of the Ourcq was not contested. The Vesle River was only lightly defended by the Germans, while as is now well known, the resistance of the Germans at the Aisne was and still is of the most stubborn character on both the French and British fronts.

Boys in the Ranks

London, Sept. 18—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Bordeaux asserts that boys less than sixteen years, are fighting in the German ranks. The correspondent declared he saw one wounded in the Bordeaux hospital, whose age was fifteen years and nine months, and who told him that all school students of more than fifteen years had been mobilized and placed in different regiments.

150,000 Germans in Belgium

London, Sept. 18—The Daily Mail correspondent at Ostend learns that important events are expected in North Belgium in the near future. He says there is little doubt that there are three German army corps, about 150,000 men, in Belgium.

ST. JOHN MAN IN CARE OF GUARDS IN BOSTON

One of the officers on the steamer Governor Cobb, at this morning tells of an exciting and spectacular episode that occurred on Wednesday on Long Wharf, Boston, in which St. John man played an important part. The excitement was caused by a chase, following his attempt to escape from guards who were detaining him on the wharf.

He is said to have walked into the immigration headquarters about a month ago, and he was asked to be sent back to Canada, as he was in the United States illegally, arriving in Boston as a stowaway on the steamer Calvin Austin from St. John on August 24.

Evidently the immigration people doubted his word, as he was held in restraint while proof was procured. But he had not anticipated so long a wait. He tired of captivity and decided to get out. A watchful guard, however, saw him hurrying across the roofs and gave chase. The result was that he is back in the detention room again.

A PLEASANT TIME

A pleasant time was spent last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kiernan, Spar Cove road, when a reception was held in honor of John Carroll, ex-alderman of Woburn, Mass., and Mrs. Carroll and W. H. McVicar, of Boston, the New England champion runner, who has been selected as a trainer for the Marathon at the Olympic games, scheduled to be held in Germany in 1916. About fifty people were present and a very enjoyable evening was spent in games and music. Those who assisted in entertaining were: Mrs. Edward Duffy, John Carroll and Mrs. Frank Cunningham.

THE BOSTON SERVICE

The steamer Governor Cobb arrived in port this morning but instead of sailing again this evening she will lay over until Monday, on account of some changes that are being arranged in the sailings. The direct trip will be made tomorrow evening.

GAMBLING DEBT FEATURE IN CASE

Enters Into Trial Over Two Notes For $200—Also Hearing in Bank Case

In the case of William A. Cairns vs John E. Giles, His Honor Judge Forbes gave judgment this morning for the plaintiff for $200 the full amount of the two promissory notes upon which suit was brought.

In this case George Moore of Fredricton was indebted to the plaintiff in the amount of $200 for carriages purchased from the plaintiff. The defendant asked Moore money, and asked the plaintiff to accept Giles' notes in settlement, which the plaintiff agreed to do. Giles signed the notes making the same payable directly to Cairns. It was said that the defendant's indebtedness to Moore consisted of a gambling debt, and W. D. Turner for the defendant argued that there was no good consideration for the notes. L. P. D. Tilley, K. C. who appeared for the plaintiff, argued that the consideration was the forbearance of the plaintiff at the request of the defendant to press his claim against the third party, Moore. Judgment was reserved at the trial and delivered this morning.

Royal Bank vs Bustin

Hearing in the case of the Royal Bank of Canada vs Stephen B. Bustin suit brought to recover $125 from the defendant as endorser on a promissory note, was continued this morning when the evidence of John Russell, jr., was taken. The argument will take place on next Thursday. L. P. D. Tilley, K. C., is appearing for the plaintiff, and J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., and E. T. C. Knowles, K. C. for the defendant.

K. OF C. APPOINTMENT
 John M. Lyons of Moncton, for many years with the L. C. R. has been appointed district deputy of the Knights of Columbus for New Brunswick. The selection should prove most popular as Mr. Lyons is held in high regard by the members of the order throughout New Brunswick and always takes an active interest in Columbianism.

REWARD OF $500
 The Nova Scotia government has offered a reward of $500 for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who committed murder at Tatamagouche on August 31, when John J. Bonnyman, a Colchester county constable, met his death by being shot while he and four other men were investigating into the case of three strangers interfering with the peace of the community.

BY-LAW MATTER

Thomas H. Haley appeared before the magistrate this morning to answer to a report for having three steps of stairs on the sidewalk in front of his house in Rockland street. The by-law allows only one step on the sidewalk. Mr. Haley said that when the house was being built he had been told that the street was to be raised, and that if this had been done he would not have had to put three steps on the sidewalk. The case was adjourned for witnesses.

FOOTBALL MATCH

A football team picked from the St. John Football Association has arranged to play a team made up of soldiers on duty at the armory. The game will be played at four o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the barrack green. The St. John Football Association players will be: R. Stockley, goal; Frost and Brindle, backs; Lawrenceon, Clements and Smith, half-backs; Fenton, G. Spearman, Peckles, A. Brindle and A. Spearman, forwards.

TRADES AND LABOR

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last evening, final arrangements were made for the big dominion convention to be held here next week, opening on Monday. It was reported that owing to the use of the armory by the militia, it would not be possible to occupy that building, the St. Andrew's rink has been secured. Reports indicate that the convention would be attended by many. Neat souvenir badges and souvenir booklets have been prepared for the convention.

A Dash of Color

According to psychology, the attention of the public is easily attracted by a dash of color.

According to the decree of fashion, it is the dash of color on the tumbler costume that attracts the attention of the women-buying public.

This dash of color is usually given by the girle or sash which has become an indispensable part of the gown of today. They are even seen on some of the tailored suits.

Wide ribbon in attractive Roman stripes, are frequently announced and silk sales, from which these dainty confections can be made.
