PROFESSIONAL HOCKEY FOR NEW BRUNSWICK?

Sackville Tribune Says League May be Formed

Interesting Report Which, if True Will Further Complicate the Situation This Winter—Players to be Professionalized.

Sackville, N. B., Nov. 30.—(Special)—That a definite movement for the formation of a professional hockey league is well under way in New Brunswick, is declared to be the case by the Sackville Tribune today. The local paper states that rumors of the movement have been in the air some time, but that it is definitely known now that an attempt to form a league is being made. Both Fredericton and Moncton people have had a hand in the movement, it is said, but a hitch has been caused by the refusal of several well known players to turn professional players in professional league games.

The plan is to obviate this trouble by using evidence, which other players profess to have, to show that those standing out, have themselves violated the amateur rules in the past, and in this way to have them professionalized and forced to play in the professional league or not at all. These revelations if they come, might concern not only players now in New Brunswick, but others in Nova Scotia as well, for it is claimed that interested people have an abundance of evidence affecting members of quite a number of teams. The Tribune also refers in connection with the professional league story to the Montreal Star's assertion that a New Brunswick man has lately been signing players in upper Canada. The local paper intimates that it expects denials of its story, but asserts that the article is, in essential points, correct.

Pittsburg, Nov. 30.—Eighty-two bodies had been recovered from the Marianna Mine of the Pittsburg Buffalo Coal Company at 8 o'clock this morning and these bodies now lie in the improvised morgue. Thirty more bodies have been located in the wrecked mine and these will be brought to the surface by an early afternoon. Twenty three Americans have been identified.

MR. CLINCH'S HORSES WILL BE HELD UP LIKE OTHERS

Embargo Because of Hoof and Mouth Disease Will Affect the Shipment of Horses Purchased in Kentucky for Local Government.

"No American animals from any state in the union can be shipped to Europe through Canadian ports, neither can Canadian animals be allowed to be shipped in vessels carrying American live stock. Vessels sailing from American ports carrying live stock are forbidden to touch at Canadian ports." This is the latest order passed by the Canadian government as a result of the outbreak of hoof and mouth disease in the United States. One effect of this new order will be to shut out the horses purchased in Kentucky by Peter Clinch for the New Brunswick government. They will probably be hung up for some time as the embargo stays in effect for six months from the appearance of the last case of the disease. Canadian cattle which have hitherto been shipped through Portland, Maine, via the Grand Trunk, will now have to come through St. John or Halifax.

I. C. R. EMPLOYEE MET WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN YARDS THIS MORNING

Albert W. French, Foreman of Shunting Engine Crew, Had His Foot So Badly Crushed That Amputation Was Necessary.

A serious accident occurred in the I. C. R. yard about 8 o'clock this morning when Allan W. French, foreman of the crew of shunting engine No. 41, whose home is at 58 Winter street, had his right foot crushed between two cars, resulting in its amputation later at the General Public Hospital. French, who has a wife and two children, is the second oldest foreman of shunting crews in the yard and has always been considered a very careful man. The crew of No. 41 was made up as follows: Engineer Edward P. Hayward, 50 Winter street; fireman, Ross McPherson, Curran road; brakeman, Francis Curran, Paradise Row; and Wellington K. Harrington, 479 Main street, North End, with Allan W. French as foreman. At the hour mentioned the shunting operations were in the vicinity of the car

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Has Returned From the South and a Cabinet Council Will be Held Tomorrow

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 30.—(Special)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was at his office this morning and received a number of callers. A cabinet council will be held tomorrow and His Excellency will be in Ottawa during the week when doubtless the situation created by Mr. Templeman's defeat in Victoria will be straightforwardly discussed.

MONCTON NEWS

Derailed Freight Train Holds up Traffic on the I. C. R.

Moncton, Nov. 30.—(Special)—Lord Northcliffe of London, England, and the owner of a dozen newspapers and three times as many magazines, passed through Moncton this morning en route to Newfoundland, from New York. Lord Northcliffe is on a pleasure trip and has been in several upper Canadian cities, where he has delivered addresses. He is accompanied by Lady Northcliffe. Number 16 freight train, from Halifax, became derailed two miles from here about four o'clock this morning. Three cars leaving the rails and one going over the embankment. The accident caused a delay of several hours and in and outgoing trains were obliged to remain on both sides of the wreck until the track was cleared. The Maritime Express had to wait one hour at Moncton station. The wreck occurred on the new track which was recently laid.

MONCTON STOCKS

Moncton, Nov. 30.—(Special)—The bulls were again to the fore on the local stock market today, with Dominion Steel, Montreal Power and Gros Reserve the most active features. Steel rose to 21.12 in early trading, but later lost a fraction of the gain. Preferred sold at 72.12 and bonds at 70.12. Power rose to 108.34, and Crown Reserve to 288. Other strong features were Dominion Steel, Scotia 55.14, 54.14, Pacific 116, MacKay 76, Montreal Street Railway 204, and Lake of the Woods 96.12.

Number three storm signal was ordered hoisted at 2.30 this afternoon, indicating a heavy gale from an easterly direction.

Whether an increase in cattle shipments through this port will result or not, remains to be seen, but it is claimed that there are not a great many Canadian cattle available for export.

Wm. Downie, general superintendent of the C. P. R., said he had received word as to their shipments through Maine, and could not say whether it would affect them or not. Dr. J. H. Pirak, government inspector of cattle, said he was kept informed of the new regulations by the authorities in Ottawa, but he was not at liberty to discuss the matter.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Under the closest restrictions the east Buffalo stock market resumed business this morning, but at noon very few cattle had been received and it is expected that the receipts will continue light. Among the stock to come in were twelve cars of lambs from Canada and some cattle from the middle west. Yesterday 120 condemned cattle on the Wheatfield farm near Lasalle were impounded. They are being slaughtered today.

The unfortunate man's cry brought the other members of the crew to his assistance and he was taken from his position between the cars. He was at once carried to the car cleaning shed where he lapsed into unconsciousness. While the ambulance was on the way he regained consciousness and talked with those present. At the hospital it was found necessary to amputate the foot just above the ankle. French is reported to have stood the operation well and is resting easily this afternoon.

cleaning shed. Some box cars were being coupled and Foreman French standing on the ladder at one end, seeing that the drawbar to one of the patient couplers would not work, attempted to kick it into position but before he could pull his foot back it became caught between the two drawbars. As the other car was closer than he thought he was aware of and the foot and ankle were crushed.

Mr. Watson—Understand the marine and fisheries department had apparatus of its own for this work? Q. We do the work when their own plant is not available. Q. Who superintended the operation? A. There was no necessity for superintending as the work was done at our risk. Q. Have you ever made payments to the crew of the steamer Lady Laurier? A. Yes.—"Produce the books with the payments in them." (Here a search was made for the books.) Mr. Watson—Is he just in your ledger under date of April 23rd, 1908 a payment to Captain D. C. Johnson of $100. Who gave him that $100? A. My brother Henry. Q. Have you a personal knowledge of that payment? A. I have. Q. How was it paid? A. By cheque. (The cheque stub was produced.)

AN INTERESTING SESSION OF MARINE DEPARTMENT ENQUIRY AT HALIFAX THIS MORNING

Captain Johnson of the Government Steamer Lady Laurier Was Given $500 by a Halifax Contracting Firm for Services Rendered in Connection with the Floating of the S. S. Mount Temple—Mr. Watson and Witness in Sharp Exchanges.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 30.—(Special)—There were few unprepared witnesses at the marine and fisheries inquiry this morning. The session of Saturday had been well taught, and the merchants attending had taken time by the forelock and arrived early with their business books. When the court opened shortly after 10 o'clock there was a large and interested audience present. Judge Cassels took his seat at 10.15 o'clock.

William F. MacKenzie, of New Glasgow was called. He did not respond. Mr. Watson said that in view of some special data he had secured, he was of the opinion that the business of the court in Halifax would be somewhat protracted. Ferguson & Cox was called and Mr. Ferguson responded.

Watson—"We find your business with the marine and fisheries department during the past four years has been quite extensive. Have you your books here?" "Yes," said Mr. Ferguson.

Mr. Ferguson explained that the books prior to 1908 were placed in a building destroyed by the fire which broke out there some time ago. "Who is your partner?" "I have got no partner."

Q.—"Who is Mr. Cox?" A.—"He is my bookkeeper." The partnership ceased in April, 1908. Mr. Cox told of putting the books in the building that was burned. He had seen the books a week before the fire. The stuff in the loft was mixed up after the fire. Everything was checked out and put in the dump. There was nothing there of any consequence.

Watson—"Now, Mr. Ferguson, we will not pursue that any further, but I want you to make a search and try and produce those books." "I will." Q.—"You haven't forgotten what work you did for the department."

"Well, please bear it in mind well, said Mr. Watson. Q.—"Who looks after your business?" A.—"Mr. Cox keeps the books and I get a yearly statement from him. I place trust in him as a practical man. I am outside a great deal of the time." Q.—"Was anyone else interested in the business during the last five years?"

Q.—"Did anyone else (besides Cox) receive a portion of the profits of the business?" A.—"No." Q.—"Do you know to what I refer?" A.—"No, sir." Watson—"Books and books were produced and examined. Mr. Ferguson said some of the cheques were still in the bank. Q.—"Let us look at those books." A.—"I will do my best, but I do not expect to find them."

Watson—"I have more hopes than you have." A.—"You may." Mr. Cox retired. H. C. Stevens, bookkeeper for W. W. Howell & Co., was called to the stand. Q.—"You were quite familiar with the business?" A.—"I am more interested in mechanical work as to their business transactions for cash or its equivalent." Watson—"Have a further look for some of the missing books, they were not destroyed?"

A.—"No." Q.—"Is Mr. Howell at the office?" A.—"No, he is ill." Q.—"Beasley of Beasley Bros. was called." Q.—"In what other names do you carry on business?"

A.—"The firm of Beasley Bros. is interested in the Halifax Salvage Association. Q. And some other name. The business of Beasley Bros. is general contracting, lightening, dredging, etc." Q.—"The bookkeeper has entered it as a loan."

Q.—"The bookkeeper has entered it as a loan." Judge Cassels her remonstrated with Mr. Beasley who said it was lagging over nothing. Q.—"Your brother did not write the $100 as a loan?"

A.—"No." Q.—"It was quite incorrect to designate it as a loan?" A.—"It would seem so." Q.—"What motive or purpose was there in describing it as a loan when according your evidence it was not a loan?"

A.—"It was immaterial if it was described as a loan or not. If it had not been deducted it would have been collected from Captain Johnson." Q.—"Is there any entry in the books in regard to that $400?"

A.—"None, at all." Mr. Watson—"I had a list of men who were rewarded. It is customary in salvage matters to reward all men who render services and we were following the usual custom. The captain of the Mount Temple was given $400, and others got sums of money. Captain Johnson was given $400 for advice and services in towing from Lunenburg." Mr. Watson—"Did he pay the expenses of the trip?"

A.—"No." Q.—"Does he not get $1,000 a year for his services?" A.—"What did he do outside his duty as an official of the department?" A.—"He was always willing to offer suggestions." Q.—"Did you inform Mr. Parsons, Mr.

Q. Where was he when he got the cheque? A. He was probably in the office. I was away but my brother told me of giving him the money. Q. What is the Mount Temple? A. She is a ship floated by the Halifax Salvage Company in Lunenburg. She was stranded in December at Iron Bound Cove. Q. Capt. Johnson was light inspector in April, 1908. A. Yes. When we laid him for the advice he was the captain of the Lady Laurier. It was at that time the Mount Temple went ashore. Q. You find it necessary to get advice from others in connection with your business? A. We are always looking for advice and are willing to pay for it. Q. You do not need outside assistance in the management of your company? A. No, we got wireless messages from the Lady Laurier while Capt. Johnson was in charge. Q. That is a government ship, and the duties of the staff are to give information to the public as quickly as possible? A. No, at all. Q. What was the message? A. It was advising me of the position of the Mount Temple. He was anxious that we should get the job to float her. We paid him for this, he is a friend. Q. Who went out to look after the operations? A.—"My brother Henry looked after most of them. He went to the eastern shore last about three weeks ago. He was at the eastern shore all summer. Q.—"Was not it last week that he left?" A.—"Yes, to see to the eastern shore. It may be necessary to recheck your memory." Q.—"He is about three weeks ago." Q.—"Was not it Wednesday?" A.—"Perhaps it might have been. He left on a Thursday on the Dufferin. I can remember the date better than the week. About the time my brother went away was three weeks ago. I won't answer any more questions. Here Judge Cassels asked a few questions with a view to fixing the date, and Mr. Beasley promised to get the information.

Q. What else did Capt. Johnson do for you in connection with the Mount Temple? A.—"When the Mount Temple was floated, she was taken into Lunenburg and Capt. Johnson was asked to accompany her up from Lunenburg on account of danger. Capt. Johnson was still captain although inspector of lights." Q.—"How much was paid to the government for the use of the Lady Laurier on that occasion?" A.—"Nothing." Q.—"The ship was engaged 15 or 18 hours with the crew." Q.—"Did agent Parsons become acquainted with the use of the Lady Laurier being put?" A.—"I do not know." Q.—"Who applied to Captain Johnson for the use of the Steamer?" A.—"A member of the firm of G. S. Campbell and Company and our firm. The bargain about the $100 was not made until the $100 was paid to Captain Johnson after the ship was floated."

Mr. Beasley wished to make an explanation but he was not allowed to do so. Q.—"Was your previous answer that the $100 was for advice correct?" A.—"Yes, but I want to add something to it. Captain Johnson got $400 in all in connection with the Mount Temple." Q.—"Why did you not tell me of that?" A.—"You knew it."

Mr. Beasley was allowed to explain. He said the first $100 was an advance to his brother and it was deducted from the $400 paid by the Halifax Salvage Company after the ship was floated. A.—"Yes, but I want to say it is better for you to tell the facts as they are. Q.—"Is it correct to call that $100 a loan?"

A.—"The bookkeeper has entered it as a loan." Judge Cassels her remonstrated with Mr. Beasley who said it was lagging over nothing. Q.—"Your brother did not write the $100 as a loan?"

A.—"No." Q.—"It was quite incorrect to designate it as a loan?" A.—"It would seem so." Q.—"What motive or purpose was there in describing it as a loan when according your evidence it was not a loan?"

A.—"It was immaterial if it was described as a loan or not. If it had not been deducted it would have been collected from Captain Johnson." Q.—"Is there any entry in the books in regard to that $400?"

A.—"None, at all." Mr. Watson—"I had a list of men who were rewarded. It is customary in salvage matters to reward all men who render services and we were following the usual custom. 700 WERE DROWNED

Meagre Report of Awful Accident Off Chinese Coast

Two Japanese Steamers Collided and Great Loss of Life Followed.

Che Foo, China, Nov. 30.—Two Japanese steamships collided off this port today. Details of the accident are lacking, but it is reported that 700 persons have been drowned.

Treasure or the Deputy Minister of the Department of paying $400 to Captain Johnson? A. Notified no official whatever. Q. Was anything paid to the department in connection with the matter? A. Not to my knowledge. Q. What other payment did you make to Captain Johnson? A. We paid him $100 on account of advice given in 1906. The cheque stub of the cheque June 22nd, 1906, was produced. It was made out by Mr. Beasley himself. Q. Have you no cheques for 1906? I presume they were destroyed. Q. Why? A. I guess they had undergone their usual fate. Q. Mr. Watson—Have another guess. A. I know they were destroyed. I do not know what ever you want. Mr. Watson and the Judge—Oh, just the facts.

A.—"Divergence was then made to the wreck of the Herald of the Donaldson line. For this work $3,200 was received by us. Captain Johnson was given $100 for wireless advice of the wreck and for sleeping accommodation on the Lady Laurier." Q.—"Is that your full justification for paying Captain Johnson?"

A.—"We paid Captain Johnson in proportion to the value of the advice. We paid him only the two sums mentioned. Q.—"Did you ever have any correspondence with the department or its officials about the matter?"

A.—"None whatever. Mr. Watson produced a copy of a letter from Robert Reford, of Montreal, to the Hon. Mr. Beasley, bearing on a complaint from the Lady Laurier about receiving nothing for its services. The department saying that nothing could be done until the matter of Captain Johnson and his crew receiving $1,500 for services rendered. The department knew in May, 1907, of Captain Johnson receiving $1,500. Q.—"Was he ever suspended as far as you know?"

The department according to letters read by Mr. Watson claimed $2,500 for the use of the Steamer with the Herald. It did not recognize the payment of $1,500 made to the captain, officer and crew. The department said that the authorization of the department and asked the Donaldson line for payment of the actual cost of the wreck and for the Lady Laurier for 15 to 18 hours. John or not have to pay for her use." Q.—"No." Memorandum from the deputy minister of the department said that it was the most extraordinary affair in the history of the department. It was entirely unprecedented to have compensation made to the officers and crew of the steamer while the government (the employer) got nothing. The department made many valuable services to ships but the officers were not entitled to compensation. Instructions were issued to collect $400 for ten days' services of the steamer. It was a standing rule of the department that no officers should receive compensation. He was of the opinion that Captain Johnson was working on the assumption that he could do this because of his political standing. Captain Johnson said that he would have billed the ship for $250 and collected it. Captain Johnson had a misconception of his duties. These startling facts were in a memorandum from the deputy minister. Captain Johnson was asked to refund the money and he said that he had only received $500 from Pickford & Black the agents. This had been divided among the officers and crew. The Salvage Association of London sent $150 and the chief officer and chief engineer received 225 each. He expected $250 the amount he could have got had he billed the Herald.

Messrs. Pickford and Black protested against paying anything further, as they believed the $1,500 paid had been adequate. They did not think it was the practice for a government to exact payment for help rendered distressed vessels. Judge Cassels—Did you hear that the government objected to the refunding of the money? Mr. Watson—As far as the correspondence goes that would appear to be the case. The court adjourned at 12.45 till the next day.

WESTERN COUNTRY IS FLOODED WITH WHEAT

Grain Blockade on Line to Calgary is Very Severe

Hundreds of Thousands of Bushels Held Up and Farmers Resort to Various Expedients to Store Their Grain Pending Shipment.

Calgary, Alb., Nov. 30.—(Special)—The grain blockade on the line south from Calgary continues very severe. Three hundred thousand bushels are stored at High River and half a million are yet to be marketed. Everything is filled with wheat. The same conditions exist in all towns between here and MacLeod. Farmers have recourse to various methods to store their grain. In one instance a farmer erected a six-foot enclosure, piled his wheat in it, and, trusting to nature, left the bin exposed to the weather. This enclosure stored three carloads which sufficient to fill three more cars is lying out in stacks. In another instance a farmer erected a building capable of holding ten carloads. This meant a great amount of extra labor, as it will be necessary again to move this grain.

BOYS CHARGED WITH SHOOTING

Quarrel Over a Football Game May Result in Murder.

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 30.—John Shinnis Charles Reese, and Joseph Godita, were arrested here yesterday charged with shooting and probably fatally wounding Daniel Burke, 12 years old, and John Hinesy, aged 9, of Milnet, Illinois, while they were playing football at Latimer. The men, who were returning from a hunting trip stopped at the playground and it is alleged, demanded that the boys char their football in the air as a target for the gunners. The boys refused, whereupon it is charged Godita shot at them. Burke was struck in the side and abdomen with a large number of shot, and Hinesy was struck in the face and neck. Both are in the hospital. Joseph Sommer, a companion was also struck in the back with scattering shot.

A BURGLAR KILLED

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 30.—An unidentified man, said to have been a burglar, was shot and killed yesterday by Irving W. MacKay, a civil engineer at the latter's home in a fashionable residence quarter. Awakened by muffled footsteps on the porch, MacKay saw the man crossing the lawn to an adjoining house. A pistol fight followed, all of the bullets of the intruder going wide of their mark, while the aim of MacKay was more accurate, two of his bullets inflicting mortal wounds.

GEORGE THOMAS, OF MISPEC, SHOT HIMSELF IN THE HEAD

Despondent He Took His Own Life Last Night—Medical Aid Arrived Too Late to Save Him.

George Thomas, a farmer and fisherman from Mispec, shot and killed himself in his home last evening. News of the tragedy reached the city in Ottawa to try and arrange for taking over the funeral of the deceased. The funeral of Louis Connell took place from his late home, Cliff street, on the morning of 8.30, to the Cathedral, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father O'Brien. Interment was in the New Catholic Cemetery.

The man was apparently still alive and a telephone message was immediately sent to Dr. Daniel asking him to come out at once which he did, only to arrive too late to find that the man had passed away. The matter has been reported to Coroner Berryman who is looking into the case. Mr. Thomas was a respected resident of Mispec and leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters. The sons and one daughter resides at home and the other daughter, Mrs. Cormier, resides in Charlottetown, Mass. The only reason assigned for the rash act, is despondency. It was about 9.30 o'clock last evening when Mr. Thomas shot and the sound of a falling body in the living room, adjoining the bedrooms. They immediately rushed out to find the husband and father lying on the floor, mortally wounded. A revolver was in his hand and a bullet hole in the back of his head.

THE STEINHEIL MURDER CASE MAY SHAKE PARIS TO ITS FOUNDATIONS

Libre Parole, an Anti-Semitic Paper, Claims That Motive for Crime Was the Recovery of Letters Written by Late President Faure Compromising Many Prominent Public Men.

Paris, Nov. 30.—The Libre Parole, an Anti-Semitic paper, is still keeping up the cry that Felix Faure, who died in this city in 1899, was the victim of a political murder because he intended to refuse the request for a retrial of the Dreyfus case. It claims now that Adolphe Steinhil, who was found dead in his residence in Paris last May, was murdered with the connivance of his wife and the political police. The object of the crime was to obtain possession of certain letters written by M. Faure, which the paper alleges, compromise men now active in public life.

Continuing the Libre Parole says that Steinhil was fully conversant with his wife's manner of life and that he had possession of papers for which he demanded $200,000. This sum was considered exorbitant, and consequently an arrangement was perfected with Madame Steinhil to burglarize the house, she to take the advantage of the occasion to rid herself of her husband. The paper gives the name of the detective who it alleges arranged the plot and the name of the actual assassin has been disclosed by Marie Wolff who was a cook in the service of Madame Steinhil.

No documents, however, were found as Steinhil had confided them to a friend. The whole house was ransacked, only to find that the papers had been removed to Switzerland.

SEALSKIN COAT WITH HAT TO MATCH.

Sealskin has such a soft, velvety texture and is so supple and pliable in character, that it is a particularly satisfactory fur for combining with silk and wool fabrics in whole costume effects. With this rich imported gown of darned net over satin comes a Directive coat of sealskin cut to carry out the long, sweeping lines of the skirt. The coat, with its long tails, big revers and close sleeves, is essentially a garment for dressy wear, and the rich effect of the whole costume is completed by a sealskin hat which shows at one side a huge mass of fluffy fur.

of the Museum of Natural History, after reading the toast of Ahab, the like of which probably will never be given on the quarterdeck of a modern steam whaler out of Norway.

And again he said that there was no real white whale.

"That is the nearest thing there is to a white whale," he said, pointing to a big white specimen mounted in the whale section of the museum, and he is not a dolphin but a whale."

It surely wasn't Moby Dick. Beluga, as big as the largest of the fish, he said, he caught on a bent pin, compared with the white whale of Ahab.

Perhaps the mistakes of the scientists will be as scarce as the white whale of fiction before long. They are being rapidly exterminated, according to Andrews, and the museums of the world are sadly lacking in specimens.

"There isn't a collection in this or any other country," said Dr. Harmon C. Bumpus, director of the American Museum, "that has a complete specimen of the right whale."

Several years ago Dr. Fred W. True, head curator of biology in the National Museum at Washington, secured measurements of many whales in the Atlantic. Mr. Andrews' data covers 100 individual whales of the Pacific, including four specimens of the humpback, the finback, the albatross bottom, and the sperm. These two sets of figures will be compared.

"We shall make the study, part for part," said Mr. Andrews, "with reference to eyes, fins, heads, and tails. The work will be done on a percentage basis; that is, the measurements of the humpback will be 100. Then, for instance, the distance between tail and fin might be 10 per cent, if the percentages of the Atlantic set differ uniformly from those of the Pacific measurements, then we will know the whales in the two oceans are of different species.

MINERS MEET DEATH IN A PENNSYLVANIA MINE

LOCAL OPTION WILL KILL RUM TRAFFIC

This is the Prediction Made by Senator Ross at Sons of Temperance Banquet in Toronto.

(Toronto News.)

That local option would wipe the liquor traffic out of existence in Ontario was the prophecy made by Senator G. W. Ross at the jubilee banquet of the Ontario division of the Sons of Temperance, held at Orr Ross' restaurant last evening. This, he said, was undermining the citadel that temperance workers were storming before they fell.

Senator Ross declared that he had been a member for 47 years, and although he had passed through eleven political campaigns he had never broken his allegiance to the Order.

Controller Spence took a view that was not so hopeful of present conditions. The temperance movement needed some of the vitality of twenty years ago. There had been a steady falling off in the membership of temperance societies due to the formation of Young People's Societies, but these had not taken up the work so vigorously. There had, as a result, been a greater consumption of liquor and a falling off in church work, and a revival was needed.

While expressing appreciation of the law enforcement carried on under the Provincial Secretary's Department, the Grand Worthy Patriarch, Rev. A. P. Bruce, of Richmond Hill, at the business session, urged the continued pressing for the abolition of the three-fifths clause.

"We are gratified at the good practical effect of the amendment to the law compelling the submission of local option by-laws on a demand of 25 per cent. of the electors," he said. "We also appreciate the fact that reports cannot be thus made, thus implying that local option is intended to be made as permanent as possible."

He suggested that greater vigilance be shown in the unorganized districts, and that a clause be inserted in the Act, allowing the carrying of local option by-laws in large cities. He believed that in Toronto a wonderful vote would be polled on January 1st.

During the year twenty-five new divisions were formed, and 500 new members added.

The oldest member present was Mr. Edward Carwell, P.M.W.A., of Oshawa. He wore a medal that had been presented to him in New York 25 years ago.

Gas Explosion in Coal Mine at Marianna, Penn., Claims 138 Victims—Many Bodies Already Recovered.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 29.—Twenty-five bodies, all but two of them horribly mutilated and a number of them dismembered, were taken today from the mine of the Pittsburg-Butte Coal Company at Marianna, forty miles south of here, where an explosion occurred yesterday, killing many men and causing gloom dread what was until then considered the model mining town of the world.

There is no doubt that the death list will reach 138 men. Officials of the company, who said last night that not over 125 had been killed, admit tonight that 138 men went down the shaft to work yesterday morning. According to miners and others familiar with the number of men generally employed in the mine, the death list will exceed the company's estimate by at least fifty.

As in nearly all mine disasters there seems no way at present of knowing how many men went to work. The number check-off system has again proved defective and from no source can an accurate statement as to the fatalities be secured. It is possible that the exact number of men killed will never be known. Up to darkness tonight twenty-five bodies had been brought to the surface in an iron bucket. Arms, legs or heads were missing from some and the trunks of others were burned, bruised and cut.

Two of the men taken from the mine today were suffocated and their bodies were not even scratched. One of these was John Ivill, a cousin of John H. Jones, president of the Pittsburg-Butte Coal Company, owner of the mine, who was employed as head timekeeper. Ivill's body was found beneath a coal digging machine and it was apparent that he crawled there in a vain effort to escape the deadly fumes.

The body of the other man was found near Ivill. The unfortunate man had placed his face in a pool of water which all miners are advised to do when an explosion occurs in a desperate attempt to fight off suffocation, until rescued.

Early today a small fire broke out in the mine. Several fire hoses, properly equipped, were hurried into the mine and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before any serious damage was done.

Reports have been circulating all day that a second and more terrific explosion is likely to occur at any moment. The company officials assert this is not true. There is considerable gas in the mine, however, and there is undoubtedly danger of a second explosion.

Many relatives of the victims stood all day close to the ropes around the shaft, but there were few of the harrowing scenes usually associated with a mine explosion. Most of the relatives are English-speaking people who bear their grief in silence. It is estimated that one-fourth of the victims are Americans.

The scheme was excellent in every way. Under ordinary conditions it would have achieved success, but the same mind can never take into reckoning the vagaries of the insane, and it is quite certain that Ahab, worn alike by hardship and long brooding over his wrongs, either went stark staring mad at the spectacle of relief being forthcoming, or gave instant rein to the frenzy already consuming him.

At a moment, then, when it was suicidal to attempt an attack which his men had refused to carry out under the much less dangerous conditions that prevailed all day—it was ascertained afterwards that the first shower of bullets fell into the startled camp about ten o'clock that morning—at that moment, Ahab, screaming curses in Italian and Arabic, called out to his nearest to follow him, and rode out from the shelter of one of the small hills. In sheer excitement, a few Hadenowas obeyed his wild command. They had not far to go, but the rocky water-course barred the track and they tumbled cross it slowly. Now, above all else, was the time for the sorely-tried little band under von Kerber to stand fast. They could have shot at their leisure Ahab and each man of the half dozen who came with him. Already three groups of yelling Hadenowas were stirring the dust into life as they scampered to the rescue across the comparatively level floor of the mine. In five minutes or less, the Hadenowas attack would be rolled back into the hills, and neither friend nor foe had any other thought than that the whole of Mr. Fenshawe's ladies was pouring its irresistible power into the fray.

The situation was precisely one of the suddenly-arising and acute crises in warfare which accumulate the difference between peace and war. Von Kerber, and Mrs. Haxton, too, for that matter, saw the urgent need of prolonging the desperate strife for just those few minutes, during which the Hadenowas' ladies, heedless of the Austrian prayers and the Hadenowas' ladies, should beat off the few assailants then perilously close at hand. They should beat off the few assailants then perilously close at hand. They should beat off the few assailants then perilously close at hand. They should beat off the few assailants then perilously close at hand.

He had appreciated the fatal error of the friendly Arabs in deserting their strong hold. Though he and his companions pressed on at a dangerous speed, they could do nothing to stop the Hadenowas from the runways almost charged into them, and seriously interfered with their view of the advancing Hadenowas. That was only for a moment, but seconds are precious when men are shooting at point-blank range, and von Kerber was looking an Arab out of his path at the instant Ahab fired the first shot at the double-laden camel.

The Hadenowas scattered and fled when they caught a glimpse of the white face. Slipping out of their saddles, four of the Aphrodite's crew opened fire, and brought five of the robber tribesmen headlong to earth, while the sixth saved his skin by falling with his wounded camel and skulking unobtrusively to the water-course. As for the remainder, the flanking parties bolted before Abdur Kad'r or Abdullah could get within striking distance, and from two hours no sensible Hadenowas came near the Well of Moses for many a month.

In fact, von Kerber found that his own men were already standing quietly in a group, waiting for orders, and the two detachments of caravan Arabs were coming in from the wings in accordance with his preconcerted plan. Some of the bolting escort were returning. They looked baffled when they passed von Kerber lying dead on the ground. One of them, a Hadji, who wore the green turban and black cloak of a pilgrim to Mecca, began to mutter an explanation to von Kerber, but the giant Effendi gave him such a glance of scorn and anger that the man made off, lest the evil from which he had fled might yet befall him. In the immediate foreground were several prostrate forms, mostly Arabs injured in the fight for the camels, and so gravely wounded that they could not move. A struggling camel or two, screeching and kicking in agony, seemed to be straggling out of place in the peaceful hush which instantly enfolded the desert. The shouting and musketry that made pandemonium there a few minutes earlier had vanished. The tops of the more distant mountains were glowing purple and gold, and the light of the sky was deepening. In that brief hour before the utter darkness that follows sunset the desert has a rare beauty. The lights and shades denied to other landscapes. Titania's bowers can show no more brilliant color effects. It is then a fit background for romance and mystery, and such things wear a sacrilegious aspect when brought forcibly into those fairy-like surroundings.

ARE THE GREAT WHALES ALL OVER THE WORLD RELATED

American Scientist Taking His Cue From the Well Known Story Moby Dick Will Attempt to Solve This Problem.

As soon as he can straighten out a huge stack of notes, figures and photographs, accumulated in the course of five months aboard Norwegian whaling vessels in the Northern Pacific, Roy C. Andrews of the department of Natural History will undertake to determine how much or how little the whales on opposite sides of the world have in common.

He will, thereby, solve one of the still open questions of the biologist: "Do water mammals, when separated, differentiate, and in course of time, form different species?" That such differentiation takes place in land mammals is one of the axioms of the science. If all the elephants for instance, had been found originally in Africa, and then separated by the transportation of a part of them to South America, and another part to Europe, the descendants of the two groups would have constituted, eventually, two species.

Some say that the same thing would happen in the case of whales. Some say not. Until Andrews makes his voyage this year there were no data on the subject. Many of the great whale authorities never tackled it, and even Herman Melville, in that fine old sea yarn, "Moby Dick, or the Great White Whale," never referred to the fact that a bowhead whale in the Pacific might not be the same as a bowhead in the Atlantic.

But there is enough real whale lore in Moby Dick, especially in that classification of the mammal, to make the lover of the book some folks regard it as often as the great white whale was real, too, and actually did snap off Capt. Ahab's leg on one voyage and swallow the rest of him with his crew on a subsequent venture.

But, no, the scientists won't swallow Moby Dick, although they do admit that those fierce critics of all the old Nantucket whalers, say men to all the whale and wonderful details of Capt. Ahab's search for vengeance on the seven seas.

"There really isn't such a thing as a white whale," said Mr. Andrews scientifically, when asked if he had seen anything of the Moby Dick in the northern Pacific, or if he had found in the stomach of any of the 100 whales he had seen the Norwegian cut-up, an ivory leg with a flat surface placed off on the curve of the calf, which Capt. Ahab had used as a tablet for figuring out longitude and latitude or working out his one never-ending problem of where and when he would come more, live the opportunity to throw his harpoon into Moby Dick."

PROPER MEDICINE FOR THE BLOOD

Drives Away That Tired Feeling; Makes You Feel Brisk.

To every one is sure to come that tired, exhausted feeling.

When the blood is weak, thin and debilitated, circulation is slow and in consequence the system is congested with poisons and wastes that should be driven off.

The sensible person acts on the teachings of experience and cleanses his system with a course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur.

No medicine can be more certain to quickly cure. Convenient to take, just one pill at bedtime; safe, because entirely vegetable; unailing, because proved by thousands that Dr. Hamilton's Pills set you up in a few days.

From Chebouque Pt., N. S., comes the following from Mrs. W. A. Reynolds: "A year ago my health began to fail. I lost appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow-cheeked, and had black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the charm of life had been snuffed out. I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and got five boxes at once."

"Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. New life and vigor returned, and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."

Good health means much to you. Success and happiness depend upon it. The maintenance and source of health found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

"Don't Neglect a Cough or Cold."

It can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It is without an equal as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Whooping Cough, Quinsy and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A single dose of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs, the coughing properties of the Norway Pine Tree will proclaim its great virtues by promptly relieving the bad effects, and a permanent use of the remedy cannot fail to bring about a complete cure.

Do not be hurried into buying so-called Norway Pine Syrup, but be sure and insist on having Dr. Wood's. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pipes cross the top, and price 25 cents.

Mrs. A. Ellis, Inverell, Alta., writes: "Last spring I had Typhoid fever and Bronchitis, which left me with a terrible cough. I tried doctor's medicine but got no relief until my husband got me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I had finished the bottle my cough was cured. My husband also uses it whenever he has a cough. I would not be without it."

WILL GIVE $500 TOWARD CAMPAIGN IN THE WEST

Maritime Synod Will Participate in Western Evangelical Work.

Rev. A. A. Graham returned on Saturday from Toronto, where he attended a meeting of the Presbyterian general assembly committee on evangelism. Rev. C. W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, better known as Ralph Connor, is chairman of this committee. At the meeting it was decided to start an evangelical campaign in the Kootenay and the presbytery of Minnesota.

It is planned to start the campaign in the Kootenay at four points and in the presbytery, at seven. The plan for Minnesota is more comprehensive. The aim is that evangelical services will be started simultaneously in every city in the presbytery. It was estimated that $5,000 would be necessary to carry out the work as contemplated. Of this amount the maritime synod will be asked to contribute $500.

ST. JOSEPH'S SOCIETY

There was a very interesting meeting of the Young Men's Society of St. Joseph yesterday afternoon, at which a number of papers on leading English ecclesiastics were read. Rev. W. Duke, spiritual director to the society, spoke on the tractarian movement in the Church of England and the causes leading to it. It was at the period of this movement when the subjects of the afternoon papers, Cardinals Wiseman, Newman and Manning, and Father Faber attained eminence.

Edward Moran read the first paper on Cardinal Wiseman; H. O. McInerney, the second on Cardinal Newman; Joseph Lewis on Father Faber; and Norman L. McGloan on Cardinal Manning.

The papers were listened to with close attention and the association of the company officials assert this is not true. There is considerable gas in the mine, however, and there is undoubtedly danger of a second explosion.

AMBEROL RECORDS for The EDISON PHONOGRAPH

The greatest improvement in sound-reproducing instruments was made when Mr. Edison invented Amberol Records for the Edison Phonograph.

No one thing has added so much to the pleasure of the Edison Phonograph as a Record which plays more than four minutes, and reproduces the melody or voice so clearly and perfectly that the illusion almost defies detection.

Longer selections are now available for the Edison Phonograph than have ever been available before for any sound-reproducing machine, and these selections are better given.

No Edison Phonograph outfit is complete without the attachment to play Edison Amberol Records. You can hear these new Records at any dealer's. Learn about the attachment and equip your Phonograph with it today.

The Hazen government has suffered from another serious blunder. There is disension in the cabinet which it is evident can only be overcome by forcing Hon. Mr. Morrissey out. Best for Bowel Troubles.

They affect people in the winter, too, in the one case due to improper eating, in the other to congested conditions excited by cold. Quite easy to cure these troubles if the right remedy is used. Very small doses of Nerviline repeated every hour or two removes any sense of discomfort. If there is pain, relief is immediate. Nerviline treats causes, that's why it never fails to cure. Not a pain or an ache, not a bruise or uneasy feeling that is not quickly cured by Nerviline. Hundreds of thousands of 25c. bottles sold every year.

Practically Certain That Liberals Will Carry Both Seats Tomorrow

—Size of Burchill's Majority is Now the Only Question

—Upham is a Sure Winner in Carleton County.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 29.—There is consternation in the government ranks here. The signs of a general break up of the Hazen cabinet are many and so plain that it is common talk on the streets. The eyes of politicians are upon John Morrissey and Northumberland, the centre of revolt not only among the rank and file of the party but in the government itself.

Hazen is roundly blamed here for his delay in taking the grip and letting his followers know that he is the leader of his party. Their cry is now "We have no leader and in less than nine months our party is falling to pieces." They also blame him bitterly for the part he played for the plant instrument he proved to be in the hands of the blackmailer and scandal-monger in St. John and now, last of all, they accuse him of running away from the by-election contests and seeking refuge behind a supreme court case in Ottawa and while he was away Northumberland and Carleton counties were slipping away from him, and his supporters throughout the province stood ready for an explanation just as soon as he returned to the New Brunswick. There was no explanation to be given.

The Conservatives of Northumberland had met in convention and repudiated Ernest Hutchinson, the candidate of the Hazen government, and nominated a representative of the enemies of his chief commissioner, who in his turn was supporting John P. Burchill, the candidate of the Liberal convention and independent in local politics.

The face of Northumberland politics had changed again. Swin, the Tory candidate, though antagonistic to Morrissey, the government member for the county and chief commissioner of public works, was favorable to the Hazen government.

Morrissey Defies Hazen

The story goes the pressure on Hazen to recognize Swin was tremendous. While speaking in Carleton county in support of Owens, the Conservative candidate, he found that his non-recognition of Swin was having fearful effect among his followers there. He was sent to the St. John's Herald, to say nothing of Desig Cochet, the weak-kneed Hazen, and did not return until Saturday noon. When his answer was received there was no satisfaction in it. Burchill was satisfied, he said to Morrissey, "Surrender to your enemies and help us to save Carleton county."

This telegram, the outlines of which were given to the government organs, the Gleaner here, and the Globe in St. John, just as soon as it was received by the commissioner, did not reach the latter very soon. It is said he was forty miles down river booming Burton and did not return until Saturday noon. When his answer was received there was no satisfaction in it. Burchill was satisfied, he said to Morrissey, "Surrender to your enemies and help us to save Carleton county."

The question now is will Hazen dare ask Morrissey to support him. His commissioner has thrown down the gauntlet and if Hazen does not take it up he will be discredited far worse than if he had not. Morrissey knows full well that McLeod, Crockett and Maxwell are after him. He knows who are the enemies of his people and he knows full well that he cannot afford to pay but little heed to them for he feels that the Liberals of New Brunswick will be his friends.

The situation from the standpoint of the opposition is bright. C. W. Robinson may count fairly upon fifteen supporters in Northumberland and the possibilities in Kings and Albert, the present quarrel with John and John Morrissey. Count it up, Mr. Hazen.

Only a Question of His Majority

Chatham, N. B., Nov. 29.—The mockery of a coalition has been abandoned by the Hazen government. The party whip has been cracked by the Tory members of the cabinet and warning given to those who fail to respond that they must walk the plank.

The influence of disappointed Tory members has been strong for their vacillating leader, and thus his tardy interference in Northumberland politics is accounted for today. For this reason he is ready to throw down the only fighting independent member of his cabinet, John Morrissey, and to lend support to the intrigues in the Tory ranks in his own county of Northumberland, who thus seek to punish him because he was consistent in his support of the coalition principle which led Hazen to victory.

The chief commissioner would not submit to the insult offered his principal supporters and himself when the Tory Organizer Butler called a convention to nominate a candidate to support the government and a candidate to include his Liberal friends.

No other course than that he pursued was left him. To recognize Swin thus when later the Liberal convention chose a candidate, Liberal in federal politics but independent in local affairs, who gave his assurance that he would give no factious opposition to the government, John Morrissey gave his support to this choice.

Morrissey to abandon the Liberal Organization, the organ of the Conservative party in the county, edited by the present member of the Tory Association in Northumberland, had denounced the Hazen government and John Morrissey, in particular, in no measured terms and to Swin, the Tory convention candidate, the members of the government unite in asking John Morrissey to abandon the Liberal candidate and his Liberal friends and to recognize and support the man chosen by his enemies. The plotters against him and his cabinet position. They advised him to take a course that would discredit him not only in Northumberland but in the eyes of his friends and supporters throughout New Brunswick. With the magnificent Liberal federal victory before their eyes they knew the chief commissioner, the only Liberal in the Hazen government, to be the strongest man in provincial affairs in Liberal New Brunswick today. That did not suit Maxwell and McLeod and other ring leaders in the cabinet, and so they least encouragement to the supporters of the defeated Tory candidate in Northumberland, Donald Morrissey. They so they least encouragement to the supporters of the defeated Tory candidate in Northumberland, Donald Morrissey. They so they least encouragement to the supporters of the defeated Tory candidate in Northumberland, Donald Morrissey.

Morrissey knows his county and he knows his men. Respecting the principle of coalition he preferred a Liberal independent to a Tory revoler, a man whose press and supporters were, only a few days ago, condemning his leader and his government.

All day yesterday Swin and his lieutenants were waiting for a telegram from Premier Hazen giving his support to Swin but up to a late hour this position they expected assurance failed to arrive.

The meetings held by Swin's speakers throughout the county were very poorly attended and most of those present were supporters of Burchill, who is recognized now as the candidate of the people, who represents no disappointed party clique like Swin but a Liberal convention regularly called.

Burchill has always been recognized as an independent man even when elected as a supporter of previous governments. He is known today as being of the same independent spirit and the right kind of a man to advocate a government. He will be elected Tuesday in spite of the false position he assumed about Swin's independence.

Hon. John Morrissey will attend the public meeting to be held in Chatham Monday night. W. S. Loggie will address a meeting at Napan and Percy Burchill and Charles Morrissey will speak in Rogersville, where the chief commissioner himself will be on election day.

Over-confidence of Burchill's friends in the safety of his position, which will lead to a reduction in his majority.

A Liberal Victory Sure in Carleton

Woodstock, N. B., Nov. 29.—The outlook in Carleton is most favorable. Last night a great meeting was held in the hall at Hartland presided over by Frank Lager, and addressed by George W. Upham, ex-Sheriff Hayward, Warden Shaw, Hon. C. W. Robinson and Hon. W. P. Owens. The enthusiasm was unbounded.

Brighton parish which last spring gave a Conservative majority of more than 100 will swing again into line with its present unbroken Liberal record.

Mr. Upham has made a whirlwind campaign. He has greatly improved as a speaker since his first appearance last winter and in every locality strong men who then opposed him have this time pledged their support.

It is no secret that the Conservatives are frightened out of their boots. They are frightened out of their boots. They are frightened out of their boots. They are frightened out of their boots.

Mr. Upham will carry the town of Woodstock by more than fifty and that he will secure majorities in the parishes of Northampton, Woodstock, Richmond, Wakefield, and Kent aggregating 300. Their only hope is that Peel, Simonds and Aberdeen may roll up old-fashioned Tory majorities but the coalition so far as Simonds and Aberdeen are concerned the days of Conservative domination are gone forever.

Providing anything like the usual vote goes to the polls, Owens will simply be swamped. He can't do better than break even in his own parish of Weymouth which last March gave the Hazen ticket more than fifty majority.

Hon. J. K. Fleming and Donald Morrissey, Mr. P. P. Keenly realize the unfavorable position in which they will find themselves in the event of Mr. Upham's success. They are resorting to the most desperate measures in order to try to elect Owens. The provincial secretary is making the fight his own but he is everywhere on the defensive and cannot have any hope of securing a supporter.

F. B. Carvell, M. P. who has been much to his regret, been compelled by illness to refrain from taking an active part in the campaign, was able to address a meeting last evening in the Liberal committee rooms and may speak tomorrow night at one of the wind-up gatherings.

Carleton will be redeemed on Tuesday by a majority of at least 200. It may be double that figure.

The song service in the Seaman's Institute last night was attended by many. Rev. A. B. Cobbe delivered an address. The choir of Brasils street church led the singing. The Misses McKay, Irvine, Blanch and McLean sang a quartette and Miss Edwards a solo.

Tomorrow will be the birthday of Her Majesty Queen Alexandra. She was born on December 1, 1844. The day is observed in Great Britain by firing of salutes, etc.

IMPORTANT TO PIANO BUYERS

Certain piano manufacturers whose pianos appear not to be as valuable as some others, are in the habit of employing high-priced salesmen to go around and help the dealers retail their pianos. Their claim is, "I want direct from the factory." The impression sought to be conveyed, if possibly directly stated, is that the purchaser would do better in ordering direct from them. We know for a fact that these travelers get a better price than the local dealers. We have known cases where the customer was charged $100 more for an upright piano than a fair market price. It is quite evident that as the traveler's salary and hotel bills are to be paid, as well as the local dealer's profit, it adds to the cost of the piano to the purchaser.

DRINK PLENTY OF GOOD WATER

Nature's Great Remedy, Also Tells of a Valuable Prescription Anyone Can Prepare at Home at Very Nominal Cost!

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," explained a well-known authority. "The numerous cases of kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking water, nature's great remedy, is neglected."

Stop loading your systems with medicines and chemicals but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain common vegetable treatments, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach.

To cure Rheumatism you must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions you can do no better than take the following prescription: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup, Sarsaparilla, three ounces, mix by shaking well in bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. Repeat the water. Drink plenty and often.

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE FOR SERGT. HIPWELL

It is understood that there is a movement on foot to grant a year's leave of absence at full pay to Police Sergeant John Hipwell and that the matter will be brought up for discussion at the regular meeting of the safety board this evening.

The sergeant has now been on the force for fifty seven years and under these exceptional circumstances there is said to be a feeling among some of the aldermen that he should be relieved of his duties for the time mentioned.

Should this proposal be carried out it is probable that another patrolman would be added to the force at the beginning of next year.

NEW YORK WORLD TAKES IT BACK
American Newspaper Apologizes for Publication of Alleged Hale Interview.

New York, Nov. 20.—The New York World which recently published what it explains it then honestly believed to be a correct synopsis of the interview given by the German Emperor to Dr. Wm. Bayard Hale and subsequently suppressed, has today in a column headed "THE WORLD TAKES IT BACK" published a full and complete account of the interview. The newspaper says that it is sorry to have been misled by the Emperor's spokesman, and that it is glad to have the truth set before the public. The Emperor's spokesman had said that the interview was a fabrication, and that the Emperor had never seen Dr. Hale. The World had published the interview on the basis of the Emperor's spokesman's statement. The newspaper says that it is sorry to have been misled, and that it is glad to have the truth set before the public.

CAME LONG DISTANCE TO MARRY IN ST. JOHN
Miss Pierson, of London, and A. E. Hagger, of Vancouver, Are Wedded Here.

Within four hours of setting foot on Canadian soil, Miss G. Pierson, of London (Eng.) yesterday made the bride of A. E. Hagger, of Vancouver. The lady was a passenger on the Allan line S. S. Victoria, which arrived at noon, and awaiting her was Mr. Hagger, who since his arrival in the city last Thursday to meet his bride, had made all arrangements for the wedding.
The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. G. A. Kuhnring, the rector, took place in the Stone Church at 3:30 p. m. Miss Pierson, who carried a bouquet of white roses, presented to her in token of welcome to Canada, was given away by William Downie, an old friend of the groom. Miss Downie was bridesmaid and a number of friends were present to witness the happy event.
Arnold Fox presided at the organ and at the conclusion of the ceremony played the wedding march.

OPERA HOUSE
Cameraphone Postponement
TILL TUESDAY AFTERNOON
Owing to the shipping office of the Cameraphone Co. in New York, sending the Cameraphone outfit via Montreal, by mistake, the apparatus has unfortunately been delayed, and will not arrive until today at noon, too late for today's showing.
The management exceedingly regrets the necessity existing for above announcement and begs the indulgence of the public, assuring them at the same time that the remarkable Cameraphone performances of Mikado and other big features are well worth waiting longer for, than this instance will necessitate.
A private rehearsal will be held tonight and everything ready for the public tomorrow at 2:30.
MIKADO will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday and change over to 2:30 till 5:30, Evening 7 till 10:30.
Prices afternoon and evening 5c. and 10c.

SPEAKS OF DIFFERENCES OF CHIEF AND MAGISTRATE
Relations Between Chief Clerk and Magistrate Ritchie Subject of Pulpit Criticism.

Rev. J. C. Berrie, pastor of the Methodist church in Maryville, in the course of a temperance sermon in Centenary church last evening, referring to the liquor traffic said many regarded it as too great a problem and were afraid to touch it. This was true of the courts of justice and of officers of law.
He regretted to read in the newspapers that the police magistrate and chief of police in St. John were constantly criticizing each other. It was not in the interests of justice or morality. The same was true of the differences between the Fredericton city council and the police commission. These things were not conducive to the maintenance of law and order.
It was about time that the masters of these men saw that justice was done and that the rights of the people were protected.

Palpitation of the Heart.
One of the first danger signals that announce something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throbs. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all gone" sinking feeling; or again, there may be a most violent beating, with flushings of the skin and visible pulsations of the arteries. The person may experience a smothering sensation, gap for breath and feel as though about to die. In such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart, restoring its normal beat and imparting tone to the nerve centres, is beyond all question, marvellous. They give such prompt relief that no one need suffer.

TEMPERANCE SUNDAY WAS WELL OBSERVED

Addresses and Lessons Yesterday in Churches, Sunday Schools and Every Day Club.

Yesterday was World's Temperance Sunday. In most of the Protestant Sunday schools of the city the international lesson on the subject was studied.

In the Portland Methodist Sunday school instead of the lesson there were addresses by Rev. Neil McLellan, R. T. Hayes and Dr. C. M. Pratt.

There was special music in St. David's Sunday school. Interesting addresses were delivered by Hon. Robert Maxwell and Ald. H. H. Peters.

In the Every Day Club last evening was crowded. Rev. Gordon Dickie was the speaker, and Rev. Messrs. Graham, Crisp, Anthony and McLeod were in the audience.

Discussing the evil of intemperance and viewing it in the large, Mr. Dickie said that there must be sympathy for the drunkard and aid in bringing him back to sober manhood.

Referring to temperance work, Mr. Dickie said there must be sympathy for the drunkard and aid in bringing him back to sober manhood.

MONUMENTS FOR DEAD DOGS AND CATS

Remarkable Cemeteries in London and Paris—"Love Me, Love My Dog."

(London Cor. Detroit Tribune) English people and especially Londoners have a peculiar fondness for all animals particularly dogs and cats. "Love me, love my dog"—or cat—is a motto that might well be placed over most London households. Last year a London society donated a $10,000 necklace made for her pet dog, while in Paris alone two upper floors of a splendid mansion are given up entirely to dogs that are waited on by their own grooms and cooked for by their special chef.

THE FIRST IN THE FIELD

Harry G. Smith Will be an Aldermanic Candidate in Guys Ward

Although the civic elections are as yet several months away, there is already some interest taken in the probable candidates for aldermanic office. The first announcement comes to the Times today, Harry G. Smith, grocer, of Winslow street, who has been in the field for an aldermanic candidate in opposition to Ald. W. D. Baskin, of Guys Ward.

LITTLE GIRL ATTACKED ON A WEST SIDE STREET

A little girl while walking on Tower street, West End, Friday night, was suddenly attacked by a man who emerged from a dark alley, and clutched her in his arms. She strove vigorously to repel the cowardly ruffian, and apparently fearing that the girl's outcries would attract somebody to the scene, the assailant eventually released her from his grip and decamped. To prevent his victim from vociferating for aid, the brute almost strangled her, and in the struggle she was bruised considerably on the body and felled to the ground.

Some attribute this latest attack to the ulster man, who has been terrifying women and children on the west side for several weeks, but who has eluded capture up to date.

THE ARRESTS IN THE MONTH

Ninety-two Unfortunates Gathered in by Police During Month Ended Today.

Of the ninety-two arrests made by the police for the month ending today, the statistics show that fifty-seven were natives of New Brunswick.

The United States representatives predominated in the remainder, the quota of the neighboring republic being nine, followed by England with six, Ireland with five, Scotland with three, Sweden and Quebec with two each, and Nova Scotia, Denmark, France and Belgium with one each.

Forty-two of the New Brunswickers were apprehended for inebriation, and five for theft. Two were taken into custody for assault.

Of the United States number, one was arrested for following a woman, two for theft, two for begging, one for assault and brawling and one for vagrancy.

Four women were placed behind the bars for street walking, assault, vagrancy and intoxication.

Nine individuals over fifty years of age were arrested. Six for drunkennes and one for wandering and one for vagrancy.

Between the ages of forty and fifty the number reached nineteen, connected with being common tipplers, one for assault and one for begging.

CAMERAPHONE POSTPONEMENT

The Initial Production of the Cameraphone Postponed Owing to Late Arrival of the Machines.

The week's engagement of the Cameraphone advertised to open this afternoon in the Opera House has been necessarily postponed until tomorrow afternoon. The circumstances of the postponement being the late arrival of the Cameraphone machines which instead of being ready to place in position Saturday as expected, did not arrive until today. The shipping clerk in the Cameraphone office at New York evidently thinking that all Canada centered around Montreal, expressed the entire outfit via Montreal and this route caused a delay of several days. The management, although exceedingly regretful at today's postponement, prefers adopting this measure rather than to hurry the erection of the machines, to the detriment of the initial performance of the Cameraphone. Mikado will now be given Tuesday and Wednesday, and the other two changes of programme Thursday and Saturday. Afternoons from 2:30 till 5:30, evenings from 7 till 10:30. See adv.

AGED MAN INJURED

As a result of a horse attached to I. E. Smith's delivery wagon running away Saturday night, on Duke street, west side, three boys, Allan Goodwin, Fred Goodwin and a lad named Joyce, were thrown from the team and quite badly bruised, and W. R. Adams, forist, a man of seventy years was knocked down and had one of his knees dislocated and his head cut. The horse and wagon crashed into an excavation near the Presbyterian church, demolishing the wagon, but the horse was uninjured. Mr. Adams was attended by Dr. F. W. Kenny, and afterwards taken to the hospital. It is thought he will be all right soon.
