BRITISH WON AT HEAVY COST

Fort Held by Waziris Taken by Storm and All Defenders Wiped Out.

Simla, India, Nov. 20.—Col. Tonnechy, commanding the fourth column of the British expedition engaged in putting down the uprising of the Waziri tribesmen on the Afghan frontier, found a strong tower at Gumatti held by six outlaws, who refused to surrender. The shells from the British guns made little impression on the fort till evening, when the tower was stormed and all its defenders were killed. The British losses were comparatively heavy.

Besides Col. Tonnechy, who was very severely wounded, Capt. G. White, of the Third Sikhs, was killed while leading the storming party, and Capts. Davies and Houston and Lieut. Airy and eight of the native troops were wounded. The tower was razed.

Gen. Egerton arrived at Shiwa yesterday and captured the headman and several of the villagers. Col. McRae, commanding the first column, signaled from Spinwan Monday that he had surprised and captured the village and had taken 250 prisoners. Some war munitions also fell into the hands of the first column.

200 PERSONS PERISHED!

Disastrous Fire Wipes Out a Town in Persia—Castaways Subsist on Blood.

London, Nov. 20.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs that a fire lasting three days has destroyed the Town of Resht, in Persia. Fifteen hundred houses and many warehouses were wiped out and two hundred persons perished.

LIVED ON BLOOD.

The correspondent of the London Daily Mail at Wellington, N. Z., cables that the eight survivors of the steamer Elingamite, who were rescued on a raft by the British survey steamer Penguin, admit that while their minds were unhinged by hunger, some of them prolonged life by drinking the blood of their companions.

This was mostly done by mutual consent of two parties, incisions being made in their skins, and each sucking the blood of the other simultaneously. Those of the castaways refusing to do this were "tapped" whilst they were asleep, and it is alleged that the stewardess died of exhaustion through loss of blood taken by this process.

The correspondent adds that the story of the survivors has caused a feeling of horror in Wellington, their action being regarded as inexcusable, as the raft was only four and a half days afloat.

REV. JOSEPH PARKER

England's Famous Preacher Who Is Dying.

London, Nov. 20.—Dr. Joseph Parker, who is to England almost exactly what Henry Ward Beecher used to be to America, is hopelessly ill. His yearning to get back to the pulpit of the City Temple, whence he had thundered uninterruptedly for more than 30 years has been almost pathetic. Reports that Dr. Gunsaulus, of Chicago, had been engaged to succeed him wellnigh broke the aged preacher's heart, and in spite of his physicians' orders he got up from his sick bed to appear before his congregation and prove to them that he was by no means ready to go on the shelf. The great church was crowded to the uttermost limit, the enthusiasm was highly emotional in its intensity, and the Grand Old Man of the pulpit, always sensitive to the feelings of his audience, was moved to play on their heart strings with all the old eloquence. But the effort was too much for him, and the inevitable relapse came.

THE EMPEROR A CRACK SHOT

Distinguished Himself on Last Day of His Recent Visit to England.

London, Nov. 19. — Both the German Emperor and the King of Portugal spent the day out shooting, the former with the Earl of Lonsdale, and the latter in company with King Edward in the royal preserves near Windsor. The Emperor distinguished himself on the last day of his present visit to England by bringing down 84 rabbits in 20 minutes.

An authoritative statement is issued this evening saying the German Emperor is highly gratified "at the friendliness with which the English people has everywhere received him, and his majesty will leave the shores of England tomorrow with the most agreeable impressions."

LONGEST SHIPS AFLOAT.

It is expected that one of the two new fast Cunard steamship will be built on the Cylde, and one by Vickers, Sons & Maxim. Calculations by experts show that the horsepower necessary to produce the speed of 25 knots an hour will be greater than had been anticipated. It is likely that the boats will have three screws. They will be the longest vessels in the world and will have greater power than any other vessel afloat.

A Vienna cable says: It is learned that the break of the engagement of Prince Stanislaus Radziwill to the Countess Chotek, sister-in-law to Archduke Francis, was due to the archduke's declination to pay the prince's debts before the marriage. The date for the wedding at Prague had been fixed when the prince declared he would not marry unless the archduke paid these debts, amounting to over a million frances. The archduke declined to pay, and the engagement was broken.

The Countess Chotek has been ill since because of her humiliation.

PLAN TO FORTIFY CITY OF LONDON

Batteries Command the Principal Roads Between London and the South Coast.

London, Nov. 20.—Efforts of a far-reaching character have been set on foot to fortify the metropolis against a possible attack in case of war, from which, judging from statements made tonight, it has hitherto been quite inadequately protected.

An announcement to the effect that the extensive buildings have been completed at Woldingham, Surrey, eleven miles south of London, for use as a mobilizing center in the scheme for the defense of London, reveals for the first time the existence of important war office operations.

It is stated that when Lord Roberts took over his post of commander-in-chief of the British army, he personally investigated the defenses of London, and found them to be very imperfect. Since then powerful batteries have been mounted on elevations commanding the principal roads between London and the south coast. New fortifications are being rapidly constructed along the banks of the Thames, and Woldingham has been fitted up as a center for mobilization.

MEN OF COURAGE NEEDED.

Major Craigie, president of the Royal Statistical Society, urges the view that the problems before the British race make it essential that Great Britain seriously resume the exportation of brave, courageous men, ready to carry British civilization into countries like Canada, rather than be satisfied with the mere placing of colonial towns on the fringe of unoccupied regions.

FAST CRAFT.

In the course of the speeches at the launching of the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Victoria from the Newcastle shipyards of Swan & Hunter, Limited, stress was laid upon the fact that the vessel provided an exceptional equipment and for a speed of 19 knots with a view to a continuous service between Vancouver and Victoria in connection with the main line of the Canadian Pacific.

ATTACKS GOMPERS AS FOE OF LABOR

Shaffer Accuses Federation Leader of Unfaithfulness.

PLAIN STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Committee Likely to Report in Favor of the President—No Old-Age Pensions.

New Orleans, Nov. 19. — The charges against President Samuel Gompers of infidelity to the principles of unionism are sponsored by President T. J. Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, who fought and lost their battle last year under. Shaffer's generalship. Shaffer's charges aver that President Gompers deliberately and willfully refused to aid the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers in their fight against the United States Steel Company. They further aver that he held back the financial and moral support of the American Federation of Labor and tried to force upon it an agreement with the trust that would have been fatal to its existence. So emphatic have his statements been and so injurious to President Gompers have they become that it was decided at a secret caucus, of which Shaffer was ignorant, to bring them before the convention in the form of a resolution.

Shaffer did not mean to push his charges and he was dumfounded when he heard the resolution read, and by a member of his own organization. He has no evidence here to support his claims, yet he took the floor and informed the delegates that he was willing to go before the convention or a committee and prove his case.

Gompers knew of the scheme, and he, too, signified his willingness of sifting the matter to the bottom and settling it once for all. He has been prepared to fight the matter out for several months.

Following is the resolution moved by Delegate P. J. Sheridan, a member of the steel workers and an open opponent of Shaffer:

"Whereas, President T. J. Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, at the last convention of that organization, held in Wheeling, W. Va., made charges against President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, which impeach his fidelity to the principles of unionism; therefore, he it

"Resolved, That this convention appoint a committee to investigate said charges and report the findings to the convention in order that the truth may be known."

When Sheridan finished reading the storm broke. Delegates jumped to their feet yelling and jeering. Some demanded that the resolution be withdrawn, others that they be laid on the table. Many crowded towards the front of the hall, and some, as they neared Shaffer, became threatening in their manner. He coolly watched the turmoil and then rose to his feet.

"I demand, insist," he began, his voice carrying above the roar and quieting the convention, "that this matter be sifted to the bottom. It has been pending for a long time and should be definitely settled. I ask that these charges be heard."

As soon as Shaffer announced his intention of making a fight, President Gompers took the floor. His voice was tense with emotion, for this is the first time in his 21 years as president of the federation that his fidelity has been questioned.

"It is quite immaterial to me," he said, "what course is pursued, my only request being that this resolution be acted upon promptly. Its contents will immediately be spread broadcast throughout the country. I would like the reply of the committee that is to investigate to follow as closely as possible in the wake of the charges. I don't want this matter to drag."

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

A committee was then appointed. Two of its members were selected by President Gompers, two by President Shaffer, and the four chose the fifth man.

The committee is as follows: For President Gompers, J. A. Moffitt, Hatters' Union, from Philadelphia, and E. A. Agard, glass blower, from Cleveland, O. For Mr. Shaffer, W. H. Haskins, a miner from Columbus, O., and J. W. Slayton, a carpenter, from Newcastle, Pa.

The controversy between the two leaders originally included President John Mitchell of the Mine Workers, and Frank Sargent, of the Locomotive Firemen, but President Shaffer has never pressed his charges against them, claiming to be without satisfactory evidence. This he asserts he has in the case of Gompers. He has summed it up in a circular, part of which reads as follows:

"When we had almost completed arrangements with the representatives of the American Tinplate Company for a scale of rates and conditions we were in fairly good condition to win without help, but looked for aid from other labor bodies, and especially relied upon the American Federation of Labor.

"As the strike went on the newspapers lied about us, the federation gave us not a cent. Perceiving that lack of money, loss of public approval, desertions by hundreds of our own people, and neglect of other organization would make it impossible to gain a decision, we endeavored to save what we could.

"I arranged for Mr. Gompers to meet J. Pierpont Morgan to affect a settlement. Mr. Morgan gave up his vacation, went to New York, and waited for Mr. Gompers, who failed to appear, nor has he since explained why he neglected our interests."

GOMPERS ANSWERS SHAFFER.

President Gompers answered President Shaffer in a circular letter, as follows:

"Mr. Shaffer says he especially relied on the American Federation of Labor," reads the circular, "for financial assistance. I assert that he never asked for any. No request, written, telegraphic, or verbal, was ever received from him or his organization. Yet I venture to say that nearly every dollar of financial assistance he received came from affiliated bodies of the American Federation of Labor.

"His version of the Morgan interview is absolutely false. That interview was arranged by Ralph M. Easley, and it was due entirely to Mr. Shaffer that it failed. More than that, Mr. Shaffer is wrong in regard to the miners, for Mr. Mitchell never ordered them out.

"What Mr. Shaffer really wanted and did not get was this: He asked that a meeting of the executive officers of every national and international union of the country be called for the purpose of considering ways and means to help the steel strike. That I would not do. I felt confident that the committee ought not, and would not, break contracts or agreements with their employers throughout the country. Hence, there would not and ought not be a widespread sympathetic strike."

COMMITTEE AT WORK.

The special committee on the dispute between President Gompers and President Shaffer spent an entire afternoon taking testimony, but does not expect to be able to present a report before tomorrow. It is considered almost a foregone conclusion that the report will be in favor of President Gompers.

There is as yet no avowed candidate for the presidency against Gompers, but there is quite an element trying to induce Vice-President James Duncan to make the run. It is admitted, however, even by those opposd to Gompers, that there is small chance for beating him.

The salary of the president of the American Federation of Labor this afternoon was increased from $2,100 per annum to $3,000, and the salary of the secretary from $1,800 to $2,500.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The federation passed a resolution protesting against the bill now pending in the United States Senate requiring the Government to cease issuing revenue stamps on all packages of malt or brewed liquors of the denomination of one-eighth.

The old-age pension resolution was defeated.

Enoch Edwards, English delegate, made a happy address for the other fraternal delegates after he had been introduced by President Gompers.

In replying to the address President Gompers referred to the criticisms, made by him in his annual address, of President Elliott, of Harvard, for calling a strike-breaker a hero. He upheld the position he had taken respecting President Eliott. The strike-breaker, President Gompers declared, was as much a traitor to the cause of labor as any man who betrayed his country in time of war.

The executive council, having under consideration application of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners for the revocation of the charter of the Amalgamated Association of Woodworkers, reported against the application. The application for the revocation of the Piano and Organ Workers' Union was also denied, as was also the application of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners for the revocation of the charter of the Amalgamated Association of Carpenters.

UNABLE TO AGREE.

Just prior to adjournment Mr. Agard, of the committee which is to investigate the Gompers-Shaffer matter, reported that the four members had been unable to agree on the fifth man. President Gompers will ask that the committee be discharged and that the convention settle the entire affair.

Mr. F. H. Clergue has announced that tenders for the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway will be called for in a few days and the work completed within two years.

CAPTURED IN TORONTO

A Clever Counterfeiter Nabbed After Long Chase.

Last of Noted American Gang Comprising Eight Persons.

Toronto, Nov. 20. — Wm. J. Flynn, chief of the United States secret service for the New York district, and Joseph Murphy, his assistant, last night ran to earth here Joseph Gentile, a counterfeiter, who has baffled the detective forces of the United States for a long time.

Gentile must have been the most expert of his band of eight who were operating in New York, for he has been the most elusive, the other seven having already been captured.

Gentile, pursued from New York, went to Chicago. When the scent again got warm he declared that he would never be taken alive and moved to Detroit. When it got warmer in Detroit he moved here. He rented a shop on Spadina avenue, and set up as a fruit dealer. But when the American detectives called there yesterday they found Gentile at work in the kitchen making American 50-cent and 10-cent pieces. The officers captured him peacefully, notwithstanding the fact that he carried a stiletto. His two 38-caliber revolvers were found in his trunk afterwards.

On searching the premises the detectives found nine plaster of paris molds—some for making American 50-cent pieces, some for 10-cent pieces and others for Canadian tens and quarters, four of the molds being capable of making six American 50-cent pieces each. They also found in his cupboard, trunks and other places over 750 counterfeit American 50-cent pieces, 100 counterfeit 10-cent pieces, 42 counterfeit Canadian quarters, and 164 counterfeit Canadian tens.

Gentile was arrested and a warrant sworn out by a local detective. He and his paraphernalia were taken to the cells, and he will appear in the police court in the morning. Gentile would not say a word to the detectives, but there can be little doubt as to his being the chief of the gang. He has served eight years already on a similar charge.

BEFORE BAR OF JUSTICE

Halifax Man Gets Twenty Years for Wife Murder.

Cases on Trial at the Essex Assizes—Cowan vs. Cowan.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 20.—Morton McNutt, found guilty at Telura yesterday of attempting to murder his wife, was sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment in Dorchester Penitentiary. He also received five years additional for shooting at Mrs. Hamilton, his mother-in-law.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Pat Ryan, of Hull, charged with killing Jaques Renaud, was committed for trial by Judge Talbot this morning. Ryan says he does not remember the drunken fracas.

William Stuart, who is charged with circulating counterfeit Dominion bills, and who pleaded guilty, was remanded until Monday.

ESSEX ASSIZES.

Sandwich, Ont., Nov. 19.—The Essex fall assizes are being held here with Chief Justice Falconbridge presiding. An interesting case on the docket today was that of Krolik and Krolik vs. Essex Land Improvement Company, of which Banker John Curry is secretary-treasurer. The plaintiffs are drygoods merchants of Detroit, and at the time of the land boom in Windsor some years ago they purchased some eleven acres of city property for $11,000. It is alleged that the land was overvalued and that misrepresentations were made by R. S. McMath, agent of the company. Banker Curry, James Anderson, manager of the S. W. and A. Street Railway, and a number of prominent Windsor men are involved in the suit.

An important case in which brilliant counsel will figure is the suit of Calvin Cowan, of Leamington, against his brother, M. K. Cowan, M. P. The plaintiff wishes to set aside the will of his father, the late Walter Cowan, on the ground that defendant used undue influence in the preparation of the instrument. Sam Blake, of Toronto, is acting for defendant, and A. B. Aylesworth for plaintiff.

Gown for Methodist Minister.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—By a vote of 17 to 7, the official board of the Dominion Methodist Church has asked Dr. Rose, their pastor, to wear a professor's or teacher's gown in the pulpit. The Ladies' Aid Society of the church is supplying the gown. The opposition is not likely to prove factious.

RUSSIA HAS RECORD CROP

Germany's Cereal Product Less Than That of Last Year.

Harvest in Austria Is Satisfying—French Rye Crop Is Small.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The department of agriculture has received the following from its statistical agent at London, under date of Nov. 4:

"Owing to the unusual lateness of the harvest throughout a large part of Europe, and partly also to unfavorable weather for field work, the autumn sowings have been much delayed in a number of countries."

That Russia has a record cereal crop this year is indicated by both the semi-official estimate published a month ago and the more recent estimate of the Russian Ministry of Agriculture, the latter showing a total wheat crop of 60 pounds each in European Russia.

Official estimates just made public give the total area under wheat in Germany at 4,725,429 acres, and under rye 15,206,501 acres. While the condition of each of the winter grains is above the average, all three show conditions inferior to those of three preceding years.

The cereal harvest of 1902 in Austria is satisfactory, despite unfavorable results in many instances. Wet weather also largely affected the cut grain still lying in the fields. The maize is far below the average. The total cereal production in 1902 in Hungary, including Croatia-Slavonia, as officially reported, is: Wheat, 181,289,749 bushels; rye, 57,993,339; barley, 63,286,104; oats, 88,989,870. All these figures are largely in excess of last year's production.

In France rye is the only cereal crop that falls below the crop of 1901, the year being a good one for all other grain. There is general complaint in France regarding the yield of wine and cider. The official estimate of the Italian wheat crop is 131,101,740, a reduction of 16 per cent. from 1901. Unofficial figures for Great Britain indicate on the whole fairly satisfactory crops, though the quality of the cereals undoubtedly has suffered considerably from the wet weather.

AN INTERESTING DECISION

In Re the Will of the Late D. T. O'Sullivan.

Libel Case Growing Out of the Dispute Regarding Asphalt.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Chancellor Boyd yesterday gave judgment in a peculiar case, disagreeing with a previous judgment on the same point. The late D. T. O'Sullivan willed a plot of land to his nephews, and provided that "neither of my said nephews is to be at liberty to sell his half of the said property to anyone except to persons of the name of O'Sullivan, in my own family. This condition to attach to every purchaser of the said property." Ellen Phelan, a married sister of one of the nephews (both O'Sullivans) applied to be registered as owner of the lands under the Land Titles Act, and the master of titles asked for instructions from the court. The chancellor declares the provision against alienation is void, and in this he disagrees with the judgment in the case of O'Sullivan vs. Phelan. The matter must therefore go to a divisional court.

The Warren Bituminous Asphalt Company has issued a writ for $10,000 damages for alleged slander against Ald. O. B. Sheppard. In council on Monday last, it is claimed, the alderman called the plaintiff company a huge combine. The plaintiffs deal in California asphalt.

The Dominion syndicate some time ago acquired several canning companies, among others the Strathroy Canning Company, the price for this company being $300,000. A dispute arose as to the condition of some $18,000 worth of corn of the Strathroy company, and in accordance with the purchase agreement arbitration was commenced. Now the Strathroy company is seeking at Osgoode Hall to continue an interim injunction against proceeding with the arbitration, on the ground that a subsequent agreement was made.

SUPREME COURT CHANGES.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The changes in the composition and organization of the Supreme Court of Canada will not come into effect until next week. Sir Elzear Taschereau must be sworn in before His Excellency in council as chief justice, and it is not yet certain whether Lord Minto will come to Ottawa for the purpose or whether a quorum of ministers and the clerk of the Privy Council will proceed to Montreal and the ceremony take place there.

Steamer Disabled.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 20. — The steamer Dolphin, which arrived last evening from Alaska, brought news regarding the Dutch Harbor steamer Newport. Just before the Dolphin's departure from Juneau, the passengers and crew of the Newport were brought in on the steamer Excelsior, which had sighted her in a disabled condition. The shaft having broken, the Newport was towed to Valdez.

Death of a Liberal M. P.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 19. — Geo. R. Maxwell, member of the Dominion Parliament for Burrard, died at his residence in this city at midnight Tuesday after a lengthy illness. Deceased, who was a Liberal in politics, was returner as first member for Burrard in 1896 and was re-elected at the last general election.

Salmon Supply in Danger.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20. — The secretary of the treasury yesterday gave a brief hearing to parties in the interest of the question of closing the salmon fishing season in Southeastern Alaska until about July 1 in each year. Agents of the Government heretofore have reported that at the rate of killing salmon for canning purposes now in progress, especially in the spawning seasons, there was grave danger of depleting the supply, and have recommended that during the spawning season which extends into July, the streams should be kept clear of all obstructions. After the hearing today the secretary announced that the matter would be held in abeyance for some time in order to allow other parties interested to be heard. Some of the largest canneries in Alaska favor the proposition and others object to it. A decision will not be reached for some time.

JUNIORS WANTED TO WED

Gypsy Children Were Refused a Marriage License.

Queer Party at Detroit County Clerk's Office Were Disappointed.

Detroit, Nov. 20. — When they filed into the county clerk's office, says the Evening News, it looked like a chunk of a Frank Daniels opera. The big fellow in the lead looked like an imitation of big Joe Miron, singing his "War Is a Wandering Jade" in the "Princess Chic"—big sombrero, fierce mustachios, lowering brows, top boots and all.

About sixteen others brought up the rear. They were inoffensive, shambling-gaited, out-at-the-elbows and ragged of heel. In the midst of the party a little girl was tightly clutching the hand of a still smaller boy. On their immediate right loped a tall youth with a fiddle under his arm.

"Brother Jim" McGregor, left alone to face the black-browed gentleman, threw the pen-wiper into the mucilage pot, swallowed a stamp and braced up against the counter. In a mixture of gipsy and American cuss words the leading bandit roared that he wanted a marriage license. "Brother Jim" looked helpless, and meekly asked: "What name, please?"

"Zxxystuxzysszxtusxz," bawled he of the fierce mustachios.

"Say it again," gasped "Brother Jim."

But with a threatening scrowl and a swish of the big whip against the top boots, the gentle-voiced bandit turned on his comrades, yelled something at them and then everybody broke loose at once. The little girl and boy stood stolidly at one side, holding hands and gazing at the big fellow with the whip. The big spokesman turned to the counter once more.

With a winning smile Mr. McGregor gently persuaded his haughty friend to explain the exact state of the case. A few minutes' talk, then:

"You can't get a marriage license here," exclaimed "Brother Jim." "That girl and boy are no more of age than I'm less than 7, and it's against the law in this county to marry children.

The big fellow was ready to swear that the girl was 18 and the boy 17, and all the others, including the would-be bride and groom, were willing to swear to it also. But "Brother Jim" stood pat.

The real genuine disappointment in the crowd came from the youth with the fiddle.

"Can't play no museek for da wedding," said he disgustedly, giving a few parting rasps, and stalking off.

The little would-be bride and groom wandered off hand in hand up to the market, where they stopped at a candy stand.

Frog Business Booming.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Frog farming in Canada is said to be assuming large proportions, owing to the great demand for frogs' legs in the United States, and in the centers of population in the Dominion. One frog farm in Ontario last year produced 5,000 pounds of dressed frogs' legs, and 7,000 frogs for scientific purposes. It is said by those who have studied the question that in the near future much idle land will be stocked with frogs, as the market is so extensive and so remunerative.

The Dread of An Operation

Stares Many Pile Sufferers in the Face—The Safest and Surest Cure Is

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Possibly you are a sufferer from piles and have been disheartened and discouraged because your physician has told you that nothing short of an operation will cure you.

You dread the thought of a surgical operation, for, besides the expense and strain on the nervous system, there is the risk of life itself. It is only a few months since a member of the Ontario Legislature lost his life as the result of an operation for piles. The risk of an operation is too great, and, besides, it is unnecessary.

Dr. Chase's Ointment has frequently cured piles after surgical operations have failed. It is every-day curing cases which physicians have stated to be incurable by any treatment short of an operation.

If you could read a few of the letters we receive from persons who have been cured of piles by using Dr. Case's Ointment you would soon be convinced of its wonderful control over this frightfully common disease.

Rev. S. A. Duprau, Methodist minister, Consecon, Prince Edward County, Ont., states: "I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years, and they ultimately attained to a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses formed so that it was with great difficulty and considerable pain that I was able to stoop. At this severe crisis I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but I had little or no faith in it, as I had tried various remedies before and to no purpose.

"Now, imagine how great and joyous was my surprise to find that just the one box cured me so that the lumps disappeared, and also the external swelling. I feel like a different man today, and have not the least doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation, and many years of suffering. It is with the greatest pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Dr. Chase's Ointment has done so much for me. You are at perfect liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

HER FATHER WAS A DRUNKARD

STORY OF HER SUCCESS.

A portion of her letter reads as follows: "My father had often promised mother to stop drinking, and would do so for a time, but then returned to it stronger than ever. One day after a terrible spree, he said to us: 'It's no use. I can't stop drinking.' Our hearts seemed to turn to stone, and we decided to try the Tasteless Samaria Prescription, which we had read about in the papers. We gave him the remedy, entirely without his knowledge, in his tea, coffee or food regularly, according to directions, and he never knew he was taking it. One package removed all his desire for liquor, and he says it is now distasteful to him. His health and appetite are also wonderfully improved, and no one would know him for the same man. It is now fifteen months since we gave it to him and we feel sure that the change is for good. Please send me one of your little books, as I want to give it to a friend."

FREE SAMPLE and pamphlet giving full particulars, testimonials and price, sent in plain sealed envelope. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Inclose stamp for reply. Address THE SAMARIA REMEDY COMPANY, 23 Jordan Street, Toronto, Canada.

LIVE MEN PACKED IN ICE

Three Chinese Found by U. S. Officer in Refrigerator Car.

Detroit, Nov. 20.—Chinese Inspector Plummer arrested three Chinamen in Howell on Tuesday and locked them up at Lansing. They are supposed to have entered this country unlawfully. They were found in the ice box of a condensed milk car, so closely packed in that it was impossible for them to move. They had been placed in there at some town on the Canadian side, and must have been in that uncomfortable position at least 24 hours.

SOUSA'S MOTHER-IN-LAW

By Matrimonial Alliance She Is Only 18 Years Old.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 20.—Henry Bellis, a wealthy retired photographer of this city, is married to Miss Mathilda Farthing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Farthing, who live in St. Charles Place, the fashionable thoroughfare. The groom is 74 years old, vigorous mentally, and as spry as a college graduate. The bride is not more than 18.

Through this marriage, John Philip Sousa, the famous bandmaster, who is a son-in-law of Bellis, has been provided with a mother-in-law 18 years old, who is the grandmother of his several grown-up children, two of whom are as old as their grandmother.

A GREAT LIFE-SAVER

The Inventor Navigates His Globe Through a Tempest.

London, Nov. 20.—Another test has been given the life-saving globe invented for use in shipwrecks by Capt. Donvig, a Norwegian. While the waves were running extremely high the globe was towed by a tug from Dover harbor into the channel.

Several times the tug was caught in the trough of the sea and her decks completely swept, so that it was necessary to batten down all the hatchways, but the globe rode over the waves like a cork. After tossing about for ten or fifteen minutes Capt. Donvig and one of the sailors emerged from the manhole and, lashing themselves to the outside of the globe, set a small sail, which they pulled through the manhole with them. The air funnel was used as a mast and the queer craft was navigated back to harbor, a distance of several miles.

A True Nerve Tonic.

will act, not so much directly upon the nerves as upon the digestive functions and the abundant formation of red, vitalizing blood. Nerves can't be fed on medicine. They can, however, be restored and strengthened by assimilated food. The marvelous action of Ferrozone arises from its action over the digestive and assimilative processes. When you take Ferrozone the blood is purified, strengthened and grows rich and red. Then you grow vigorous, healthy and beautiful, ready for work, because you have the strength to do it. No tonic for the brain, blood or nerves compares with Ferrozone. Price 50c, at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

TRAIN KILLED A SQUAW

And Indian Braves Sought the Brakeman's Life.

New York Doctor Mistaken for Game and Shot by Hunter.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 20. — Advices from Crow Wing agency say the death of a squaw there nearly caused an uprising. The Indian, on her cayuse, was struck by a freight train yesterday and instantly killed. A brave who accompanied the woman summoned a number of his followers and they captured the brakeman.

The Indian police were summoned and when they reached the tepees the excited braves were holding a war dance about their victim, who was bound to a tree, while the Indians were preparing to torture and burn him. The bucks objected to interference for a time and a clash was threatened, but the police succeeded in rescuing the man.

MISTAKEN FOR GAME.

Catskill, N. Y., Nov. 19. — A New York physician, whose name was refused, and who was one of a party of five from that city, who have been shooting partridges at Squire's hall, a hunting lodge at Cairo, was brought here tonight on a litter, having been accidentally shot in the head by one of his companions last Monday. The doctor was said to have been standing at the time in a thicket, talking with a woman of the household, and concealed from the view of the other gunners, one of whom fired, as he supposed, at a partridge. The injured man was taken aboard the night boat for New York.

SHOT HER OWN SON.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 20. — Mrs. A. A. Clark shot her son Alan Orford, killing him instantly, Tuesday night. She then shot herself, causing instant death. Temporary insanity is assigned as the cause.

Toledo, Nov. 20. — Col. O. J. Hopkins, of Toledo, a noted artillerist and authority on Gatling gun tactics, was killed by a street car at Columbus on Tuesday night. He was employed in the office of the adjutant-general. Col. Hopkins served through the civil war under Gen. James A. Garfield as an infantryman. Later he became lieutenant-colonel of the First Ohio Artillery and was regarded as an authority on the Gatling gun. The tactics that bear his name have been adopted by the United States army and many of the European armies.

GRAVE ROBBERS HAD SIGNS

Burial Places of Undesirable Bodies Marked for Others.

Indianapolis, Nov. 20. — Mayor Bookwalter and Rufus Cantrell, the grave robber, had a conference in the grand jury room yesterday. The mayor went to see Cantrell in answer to an appeal from a mother, Mrs. Minnie Weddell, of St. Louis, who feared that her son's body had been stolen from Mt. Jackson Cemetery. Before he left Cantrell made a confidant of him.

"If what Cantrell told me was true, half of this grave robbing business has not been disclosed," said the mayor.

Cantrell immediately recalled the date of the lad's burial and the location of the grave.

"But we did not take that body," said he. "It was too small. I could only sell four bodies of children in a year, for the colleges only needed that many."

"Are you sure of this case?" the mayor asked.

"Sure? Well, I should say I am," answered the grave robber. "If you will go to Mt. Jackson you will find a lump of coal at the head of the grave. That is to notify anyone in the business that the body is undesirable. The night after the boy was buried, I went to Mt. Jackson to get another body. I took the coal along as a marker. It is a sign understood by all grave robbers."

Nothing in the Story.

Washington, Nov. 19. — Chief Wilkie, of the United States secret service, in speaking today of Mrs. Lena Doxheimer's story of a plot to kill President Roosevelt, said that a searching investigation by operatives of the secret service prove conclusively that she was mistaken as to the facts. Chief Wilkie is convinced that there has been no plot against the life of the President such as Mrs. Doxheimer describes.

The British Delegates.

Ottawa, Nov. 20. — The ten British delegates, representing the London Chamber of Commerce, who arrived yesterday, spent the afternoon visiting industries at the Chaudiere. They were shown over the E. B. Eddy paper and pulp works and the carbide works. At night they were banqueted at the Russell House by the board of trade. John Coates, president, presided, and the distinguished visitors spoke to the various toasts, lauding the loyalty of Canada and expatiating on the possibilities of trade. The changed attitude of Britain to Canada was also referred to, and the hope expressed that the intimacy would prove to mutual advantage and profit. This morning the Secretary of State will show the visitors through the Parliament buildings, after which they will leave for the west.

The Better Way With a Cold.

When a slight cold fastens on you in early winter you are apt to regard it merely as an annoyance—not a thing worth serious consideration. You usually feel like taking something syrupy, with perhaps a touch of spirits in it, to warm you up and stop the cough. But there is a better way.

The cough, the red eyes and uncomfortable head are not the cold. They are only the symptoms. They are like the leaves of a weed sticking above ground. The surest way to get rid of them and prevent their sprouting again is to pull up the root.

You sometimes say, "This cold is all over me." Every cold you have is, to a certain degree, all over you. It is evidence of a slight general weakness. It usually steals in on you at a time when the body is a little below its normal tone and the surest way to get rid of it is to bring the whole system up to its right level.

You may need some medicine. Your doctor will know. But a mere expectorant will do nothing toward restoring the body to a healthy standard. At the best its action is merely local and gives only temporary relief. Scott's Emulsion does this and more.

A small quantity of the emulsion taken regularly for a few days will supply the lack of proper nourishment in ordinary food. It is rich in the substances of which healthy blood is composed, and makes itself quickly felt in the throat and bronchial tubes. It starts the flow of mucous and relieves an obstinate cough sooner than any expectorant will do.

The emulsion does more than rid you of a cough. It rids you of the cold which is the root of the cough. Still more, it helps to protect you against a return of the trouble and against its going deeper.

Scott's Emulsion is aptly termed a food-medicine. It contains the nourishing properties of the whole cod liver oil, emulsified and combined with the medicinal qualities of hypophosphites, of lime and soda. It is probably more widely recommended by physicians for use in coughs and colds than any other preparation.

So-called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil do not contain the value of the whole oil and are worthless in cases where a pure reliable cod liver oil preparation is needed. Scott's Emulsion has been the standard for over twenty-five years.

We will send a sample free to anyone on request.

HIDING WILLIAMS RETURNS

Former Manager of Masonic Temple Makes a Clear Breast of the Whole Affair.

Chicago, Nov. 19. — Capt. Edward Williams, former manager of the Masonic Temple, who returned to the city yesterday after having been three weeks in hiding, following his conviction in the Masonic Temple tax scandal, took the stand this morning as a witness for the state in the trial of President James H. Gormley for conspiracy.

He testified that he had entered into an arrangement with Luke Wheeler and a man named Storm, presuming them to represent the county treasurer's office, to secure a receipts in full for the temple taxes amounting to $25,770 17 for $20,000, and that he had done so with the full knowledge and consent of President Gormley and of Director Rush, of the Masonic Fraternity Temple Association, then its secretary and treasurer.

"I said to Gormley," asserted Williams, "the country treasurer's office had offered to give me a receipts in full for the taxes for $20,000. Gormley asked if I had said anything to Dr. Rush. I said 'No,' but told him if he wished me to do so, I would see him. He said, 'You better speak to Dr. Rush.'

"I conferred with Rush on the 16th or 17th of April and went into complete details. He wanted to know how it could be done, and I said that that was a mystery to me, but that I had investigated and was satisfied it was with the full knowledge of and the approval of the officers of the country treasurer's office. I was satisfied that it was bona fide so far as the receipts was concerned. I told him of my own knowledge there were two ways it could be done. One was by certificate of error in the county treasurer's office, and the other was to make it up from the delinquent personal property taxes.

"Dr. Rush said: 'What does Gormley say?'

"I said: 'I do not know. I first want to know if you, as treasurer, wish me to do this?' I said it was a very general practice to fix taxes for reduction. Then he said: 'Since we are in Rome we had better do as the Romans do.' I said: 'Do you want this done?' He said: 'Yes.' The matter was then thoroughly discussed with Gormley. Gormley asked it there was enough money in the treasury to pay the taxes and said if not to borrow some.

"'See what is wanted,' he said, 'and if there is anything to sign send it over.'"

Williams testified that he had nothing to do with the drawing of the money for the $20,000 check. It was given to him a day or two after the conversation detailed above, and he paid it over to Luke Wheeler and received the tax receipt in exchange. The payment, he said, was made in his office in the Masonic Temple.

He was not satisfied, he testified, with Wheeler's explanation of his ability to secure the receipt for that amount, and Wheeler agreed to bring one of the principal officers of the county treasurer's office over. He appeared later with a man whom he introduced as Mr. Storm, who said he was authorized to make the arrangement and that it was done by rearranging the personal property taxes.

Peter Storm, who is presumed to be the man in question, was an employe of the county treasurer's office at that time, but has since committed suicide.

TRIAL OF A DIVING BOAT

A Holland Craft Makes Fifteen Miles Under Water.

Did Not Rise Till End of Trip—Most Severe Test Yet Made.

New York, Nov. 19.—With eleven men in its hold, the Holland submarine torpedo boat Adder went through the most severe test of all its trials in Peconic Bay. It traveled under water fifteen miles without coming to the surface. It also fired a torpedo, which struck an imaginary ship square amidships. It was officially designated as a three hour submerged trial, and the boat and crew went through it with flying colors.

The crew gave a demonstration of excellent training, for when the Adder touched the bottom while going at seven knots speed there was no confusion whatever. One of the amidship tanks was quickly blown out and two men were ordered aft. The boat responded immediately. Its bow rose and the vessel shot to the surface in a few seconds. It remained up only two minutes, then, diving again with its tank refilled, it continued the trial.

"The discipline of the crew was splendid," said Naval Constructor J. J. Woodward, who had been down in the boat. "It was the longest trip that has ever been made under water in this country. The air during the run was all that could be desired. It might have been what you would call 'stuffy' in the last half hour, but no worse than the air in any room with the door shut for the same length of time."

The submerged trial today began at 2:39 p.m., when the boat had reached clear water midway between New Suffolk and Cow Neck. Fifteen minutes after sinking below the surface, and after rising twice for observation, not more than 40 seconds each time, the Adder's bow shot to the surface like the nose of a whale and the torpedo was discharged straight at the target. Had the target been a ship it would have been struck fairly amidships in the wake of the engine room. The torpedo, after it had traveled about a quarter of a mile, was picked up by the tender Kelpie and towed in.

The Adder dived again and continued on its course, remaining under water for two hours and five minutes. In this time it traveled fifteen miles, including six turns. Capt. Cable handling the boat by means of the periscope and the compass. After taking a brief observation the boat continued under water until the end of the three hours. The speed for the first two hours was 7.1 knots.

THRILLING STORY OF PRISON LIFE

Roland B. Molineux Gives His Experience.

LIFE IN SING SING DEATH HOUSE

Dreary Months in His Cell Lightened by Odd Games of Checkers and Chess.

New York, Nov. 19.—Roland B. Molineux has told the story of his experience while a prisoner in the Tombs awaiting trial and while in the death house in Sing Sing awaiting execution.

It is a grim story of suffering and patience that has no parallel in fact or fiction.

"It is impossible to give any idea of the suffering, the agony, one has to endure in such a place," said Molineux.

"I hope to be able to blot it all out of my mind—the awful experiences of the four years past. Is it not almost enough to make one lose faith in mankind?

The death house was the worst of all. It was on Thursday afternoon when I entered that place, and the following Monday morning an Italian was taken from his cell to be placed in the electric chair, where he was executed.

"He seemed to be out of his mind. He was calling out aloud, and his shrieks were practically the first sounds which reached my ears when I myself became an inmate of this cell. His cries filled my ears night and morning up to the moment he was taken away.

"I could hear talk at times, but I could not see the people who were confined there. I could talk to them, even play with them at games by calling off numbers, but could never converse with them face to face nor shake them by the hand.

"I read a great deal, and I wrote letters, and I studied and I went over my case and I communicated with my counsel.

"For pastime we played games. I love to play chess, and I made the figures that are used to play that game myself. I made them with my hands. I used some of the mush that was served for breakfast, and I mixed it with paper that I chewed, and then with my fingers I formed the figures, and in that way I was enabled to play for hours.

"We drew a checker board on a sheet of paper and used slips of paper for checkers. We numbered and then called off the moves across the hall. In that way quite a nice game can be carried on, but it takes time to learn it."

"I remember when I went to Sing Sing, and when I was at the gate of the death house my father shook me by the hand and said to me, 'Roland, my boy, don't worry; I will be here again and take you home with me. And when I was taken from the death house, after the papers from the court of appeals had arrived at the prison, there was my dear old father waiting for me, just as he had promised he would wait. We came to New York, and then came that long delay, nearly a year, before the second trial commenced.

"I will not talk of the events of this trial nor of the first trial, which resulted in my unjust conviction. I will never talk about that again. The one thought that fills me now is, how glad I am that at last this awful stain has been wiped from my name; how glad I am to be back with my family; how glad I am that I have so many dear friends left—friends who have stood by me throughout all the long months and years of my sufferings."

Stirred by the persistence of rumors concerning his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Blanche C. Molineux, Gen. E. L. Molineux came out courageously today in defense of the young woman.

"Roland's wife is as pure and as good a woman as ever breathed," said he. "She has been maligned cruelly."

"Stories which have been circulated about her I have investigated and run to earth, and not a single one of them had the slightest foundation in fact. They were all plain inventions. Most of them originated with a certain clergyman and his wife, and these persons have since admitted that the stories were made out of whole cloth. Their motive; I don't know.

"I heard the widely circulated story of a photograph. A police officer told me that a photo was in existence which was very damaging, and I told him to procure it long enough for me to be satisfied and I would hand over to him $1,000 in cash. He finally came to me, saying, 'General, I would like to get the $1,000, but I can't, for the picture isn't in existence.' The stories told of its existence are false.'"

STAMPED WITH SATAN'S INITIAL

Fancy Stockings Make Trouble in the Church.

PASTOR DISAPPROVES OF THEM

Says They Are the Invention of the Devil—Congregation Dissents—Shepherd Leaves.

New York, Nov. 19.—The Sun says: The Rev. James C. Hume, of the Old Bushwick Reformed Church in Williamsburg, has resigned. All spiritual relations between the pastor and the flock have been severed, but there is still a little business entanglement, a matter of $300 of back salary due Mr. Hume.

It was $600, but the Rev. Mr. Hume thought it good business to throw off 50 per cent, and agree to take $300, with the understanding that it should be paid within a year in four installments.

The Rev. Mr. Hume and his congregation couldn't get together on the subject of hosiery. He couldn't abide anything but solid colors woven plain, and thought that a lady's ankle was no place to display her monogram. And he wasn't afraid to say just what he thought about it.

Mr. Hume began his series of hosiery talks on one hot day last summer when he arrived unexpectedly at a meeting of the ladies' sewing circle. Everybody was having a lovely time when the pastor came in. The members were seated in a circle and each one had her left foot thrown over her right knee or her right foot thrown over her left knee.

"Will you offer prayer, Mr. Hume?" asked one of the ladies as she laid aside her workbasket.

"I will not pray," replied the pastor. "This is not the atmosphere for prayer. I would say, rather, that the ladies of this circle should set an example for modesty. They come here to sew for the naked. They should come clothed themselves. To be perfectly frank, ladies, I am speaking of openwork and immodestly striped stockings."

Seventeen feet slipped off from seventeen knees and there were seventeen sharp taps on the church parlor floor.

"It would be far better," resumed the pastor, unmindful of the interruption, "for the ladies of this church and of this clime to wear the good old-fashioned knit stockings and to send these modern abominations to the heathen."

Then the pastor went away.

The second hosiery talk was in Sunday school. Mr. Hume told a lot of little girls in the presence of several young women teachers that he hoped when they grew up they would not wear openwork or striped stockings.

"They are the invention of Satan," he said, "and bear Satan's stamp."

Now, one of the young women thought that that was a direct allusion to herself. Her name begins with "S." Only the day before she had been over to Sixth avenue, Manhattan, shopping, and found a pair of pale blue stockings, nearly all openwork in front, except for a little circle of solid fabric big enough to hold an embroidered "S" in black.

Miss "S." wore those stockings to church the next morning. As she went in late, when they were singing the first hymn, the Rev. Mr. Hume saw that black "S" on a background of pale blue and stopped singing. Miss "S." saw he saw. That's why she resented his reference to the brand of Satan an hour or so later in the Sunday school.

She wouldn't teach any more. She resigned and got others to resign. What she did for the Sunday school the ladies of the sewing circle did for the attendance at church.

The congregation dwindled so much that the pastor was asked to resign. He wouldn't do it until a day or two ago, when he got the promise of $300 in four installments.

NUCLEUS OF CANADIAN NAVY

Important Suggestion by Minister Prefontaine—Marine School Proposed by Others.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Lord Dundonald was the guest at a complimentary banquet given to him by the officers of the Montreal district last night, and in replying to the toast of his health, made an eloquent speech, in which he advocated more training for the Canadian militia, which he highly praised. He urged greater comforts for the private soldiers in camp.

Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine, delivered an important speech, in which he advocated the establishment of a naval school at Montreal, and said he would bring the matter up at the next session of Parliament, and urge a grant. He hoped Canada would before very long have a nucleus of a navy—a remark that was loudly applauded.

NATIONAL MARINE SCHOOL.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Hon. Mr. Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was waited on yesterday afternoon by a deputation from the Chambre de Commerce, which presented to the minister a series of resolutions urging the establishment of a national marine school. Mr. Prefontaine said he would consider the matter, and promised to become a patron of the marine school to be inaugurated at the Monument National next week. He believed the commencement of such a school would result in a national navy.

LAKE NAVIGATION.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 20.—Warehouse Commissioner Castle was interviewed yesterday in regard to the closing of lake navigation. He says: "I wrote to Mr. Sifton, asking that the lights be left on the lake route until Dec. 21, instead of being removed on Nov. 25. Mr. Sifton has replied, assuring me that the lighthouses will be kept up until Dec. 12. He has communicated with the insurance men, placing the facts before them. The underwriters always close their lake business within two or three days of the closing of navigation, and generally insure up to December. They are asking them to insure so long as the lights are left on the route. If the insurance men agree to alter their plans and place insurance until the new date of the closing of navigation, it will mean a great deal to the farmers of the west. It will mean four or five millions more of wheat carried out before the close of the season than would otherwise be the case."

SAVING SERVICE.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The general superintendent of the life saving service has rendered his report for the year 1902. It shows most gratifying results. The number of disasters to vessels within the scope of the operations to the service during the last year were greater than before, with the exception of the years 1898 and 1901, yet the number of lives lost from documented vessels—those of five tons burden or over—was only 19, while 6 were lost from smaller craft, sail boats, rowboats, etc., making a total of 25, a number far below the average. The amount of property imperilled was greatly in excess of that of any previous year in the history of the service, owing to the unusual number of large vessels involved.

No less than 54 vessels of over 1,000 tons burden, of which number 33 were steamers, suffered disaster. The loss of property, however, was comparatively light. The number of disasters to documented vessels was 385. On board these vessels were 3,424 persons, of whom 19 were lost. The estimated value of the vessels was $9,923,630, and that of their cargoes $5,139,380, making the total value of property involved $14,393,010. Of this amount $12,125,220 was saved, and $2,267,790 lost. The number of vessels totally lost was 51. In addition to the foregoing, there were 361 casualties to undermanned craft—sailboats, rowboats, etc., carrying 796 persons. The value of property involved in these instances is estimated at $174,120, of which $167,575 were saved and $6,545 lost.

Suicide of Jilted Man.

New York, Nov. 20. — William C. Mahoney, 23 years old, said to be a member of a wealthy Boston family, and a graduate of Harvard, committed suicide here because a woman who had refused to marry him, and had caused his arrest twice recently for persisting in his intentions, had declared her purpose of marrying another. Mahoney called upon her, entered a violent protest against her intended marriage, and then poisoned himself in her presence. Mahoney was known by many in the Back Bay district of Boston. He was the son of John Mahoney, of Waverley, N. Y., owner of a leather manufacturing establishment at that place, with offices in New York City. According to Mahoney's relatives he had been paying attention for two years to a young Frenchwoman engaged in costume designing in New York City.

WHIST

Don't Be a Rubber

On Washing Day.

It is the obstinate dirt that lodges in the pores of the fabrics, and simply won't come out with common soap that makes rubbing necessary.

That's the particular kind of dirt

is after—obstinate dirt.

It does what ordinary soap cannot do—follows the dirt right into the warp and weft of the goods, dislodges it, leaves the garment sweet and clean, uninjured, and all with little or no rubbing. The steeping over-night does the work.

The use of

means cleaner clothes, less wear and no tears, and less frequent washing. It means this to you.

A Silly Argument.

The Stratford Herald says that if the factories of this country were closed our imports of foreign goods would increase by leaps and bounds. Then why not close them up? What's the use of Canadians toiling and moiling when they can get what they want from other good, kind countries without working at all? All that Johnny Canuck has to do is to become a gentleman of leisure, and let John Bull and Uncle Sam keep them in supplies. Wouldn't that be neighborly of them? We know that in a spirit of philanthropy the nations of the earth sent money and shiploads of food to India to relieve the famine. Of course, India's imports went up by leaps and bounds. With our factories closed and our workmen unemployed, Canada could no more pay for such imports than India did; but we have the assurance of the Stratford Herald that the goods would come all the same. Other countries would deluge us with their products from charitable motives. What a beautiful spectacle that would be! Few Canadians suspected the existence of so much benevolence in the world. It must be a comparatively recent growth. The Herald and other newspapers of the same political stripe are fond of telling us that times were very bad in Canada around 1878-79; that many factories were closed down, and thousands were unemployed. It is true that Canada suffered at that time from a world-wide depression. Did the imports "increase by leaps and bounds"? No, they touched the lowest point in nine years. How does this square with the Herald's theory? Does the Herald expect to deceive its readers with such balderdash? It professes alarm because our imports from Germany, France, Great Britain and the United States have increased $87,000,000 since 1897. It is a matter of "grave concern" that we purchased $187,510,456 worth of their goods in 1902. Hard coal, for instance? or raw cotton? or raw tobacco? or millions of dollars' worth of other raw material for our manufacturers? The Herald is talking utter rot, and, as an intelligent journal, knows it. Our imports of raw material and manufactured goods have "gone up by leaps and bounds," not because our factories are idle, but because they are working at high pressure; because the products of Canadian labor, on the farm and in the workshop, are so abundant that we can purchase with them a larger supply of goods from other countries. We are selling and buying more abroad. May the present condition of things long continue!

Caring for the Children.

The action of the Mother Superior of the Mount St. Joseph Orphanage, in asking the Children's Aid Society to assume as wards the children placed by the orphanage in foster-homes, is a tribute to the efficiency of the society's officers and the unsectarian breadth of its work. Under the arrangements entered into between the orphanage and the society, the orphanage children will be visited regularly in their foster-homes by the society's provincial and local inspectors, and will be entitled to the protection exercised over children by the society under authority of the wise legislation passed by the Provincial Parliament. Heretofore the orphanage has had no redress against those who neglected foster-children or those who enticed them from good fostef-homes; but under the new system the society will be always ready and in a position to look after the welfare of these little ones.

The invaluable work being done by the Children's Aid Society, under the direction of the Provincial Secretary's department, is one point upon which citizens of all shades of politics and religion seem to agree. The wisdom of the legislation is now recognized by all, and no greater proof of its efficacy is needed than the fact that other provinces and various states of the American Union are adopting enactments upon almost similar lines.

The Historical Society.

The London Historical Society is doing good work in collecting data relating to the birth and growth of the city. Papers such as those prepared by Dr. Campbell and Hon. Freeman Talbot have a great educational value, and should be permanently preserved. They give a better insight into the pioneer conditions of the country than the regular histories and text-books, which deal mostly with constitutional developments. Canada is not very rich in literature of this class, and there is a wide and attractive field for the antiquary. The Ontario Historical Society deserves every encouragement in its efforts to promote the spirit of historical research, and the preservation of records and materials which serve to throw light on the early days of the country, and on the lives of those who hewed out their homes in the wilderness, and laid the foundations on which Canadians of today are building. Many interesting relics are loaned for the Ontario Society's exhibitions, but a permanent museum is needed. In the meantime local historical societies can do much to help the cause. We hope to see a museum established in London before very long.

The Lambeth-London Line.

We have no quarrel with the Southwestern Traction Company. The promoters have shown their bona fides by the actual construction of the line, which we hope to see in operation at the earliest moment possible. Radial railways are to be heartily encouraged as they will all bring business to the city. We should be the first to condemn any disposition on the part of the council to impede unnecessarily the entrance of the Southwestern Traction Company, but in the public interest the company must be subjected to a number of regulations which should be very carefully framed. While the council is engaged in this a temporary arrangement could be made, to spare the company the loss of being shut out of the city all winter. In fact such an arrangement would be an advantage, as the experience of the radial road in working order, moving traffic over the city streets, might suggest some regulations, the necessity of which the council may not foresee at this moment. The company denies that it is asking for a 25-year franchise. "Franchise" may not be the technical term, but the proposed agreement would amount to the same thing, as it would hold good until the expiry of the London Street Railway Company's franchise 25 years hence.

What He Wanted.

[Philadelphia Record.]

"I desire an audience with the manager," remarked the dignified, smooth-faced person as he approached the box office of the theater.

"Step right in," replied the man in the box office. "I think he's looking for a few audiences himself."

A Genuine Englishman.

[New York Mail and Express.]

Joseph Chamberlain has made mistakes of tact and of policy disastrous enough to have destroyed a lesser man. But he has survived them, and the events of every day disclose him stronger in the opinion of his own countrymen and gradually winning continental opinion to a respect and partial understanding, if not a liking, for his peculiar qualities. Those qualities at bottom are those of all Englishmen, and that is Mr. Chamberlain's strength at home.

If You Look at It That Way.

[Chicago Tribune.]

He: "Your sex is not to be trusted with the ballot, madam. Have you read about that woman out in Denver who was arrested for voting two or three times in one election?"

She: "Yes, sir, and I don't blame her one bit. If you had been deprived of the ballot for more than a hundred years wouldn't you try to make up for it when you got a chance?"

A Threadbare Statement.

[Brantford Expositor.]

At the London banquet, Mr. Whitney repeated the threadbare and wholly untrue statement that the Conservative party polled 7,000 of a majority of the popular vote in the provincial general elections, and Messrs. Foy and Hanna told the same story. The facts are far otherwise, as the Expositor has time and again, from the official figures, conclusively established.

"Tangled in Stars."

[Ethelwyn Wetherald.]

Tangled in stars and spirit-steeped in dew,
The city worker to his desk returns,
While 'mid the stony streets remembrance burns,
Like honeysuckle running through and through
A barren hedge. He lifts his load anew,
And carries it amid the thronging ferns
And crowding leaves of memory, while yearns
Above him once again the open blue.
His letter-littered desk goes up in flowers:
The world recedes, and backwards dreamily
Come days and nights, like jewels rare and few,
And while consciousness of those bright hours
Abides with him, we know him yet to be
Tangled in stars and spirit-steeped in dew!

Depew's Good Advice.

[Chauncey Depew.]

Canada is too large a customer of ours; we buy too little of her to let present conditions remain.

Courage.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

They call that man courageous
Who seeks the tiger's lair;
And he that goes to battle,
Where shells shriek through the air,
Is lauded for his courage
And given praise, because
He faces death for glory,
And hungers for applause.

What of the luckless mortal
Who, bent and pale and ill,
Sees those he loves go hungry,
Yet hopes and struggles still?
Aye, they may be courageous
Who die as heroes do—
But often there is courage
In merely living, too.

The Late Frank Norris.

[London Academy.]

Again and again during the past few years has it been our sad duty to chronicle the deaths of writers who, though famous, were quite young. This year hardly a month has passed without the record of some loss to letters. Mr. Frank Norris, who died the other day in San Francisco, was only 32, and just at the commencement, as it seemed, of a brilliant career. The Octopus, the first volume of his projected trilogy, "The Epic of the Wheat," showed the fine stuff that Mr. Norris had in him, though he had published promising work in fiction before. The Octopus, it will be remembered, dealt with growing wheat; the second volume was to treat of Chicago "deals," and the third was to carry us to Europe and the wheat consumers. We believe that the second story, the Pit, was finished, but the third will have to remain amongst the unwritten things. Mr. Norris lived his life to the full; he saw much and remembered what he saw. From Harvard he went to Paris, where he studied art; he represented the San Francisco Chronicle in South Africa, at the time of the Raid, and he was in Cuba in 1898 for McClure's Magazine. One cannot keep feeling that the rush of such a life had something to do with so early a death.

Harcourt's Ready Wit.

[New York Post.]

Sir William Harcourt's aptness in poetical quotation is famous. It has had frequent illustration in recent Parliamentary debates. Apropos of an amendment to the Education Bill, referring to "the tenor of the provisions of the trust deed" of a given school, concerning the exact meaning of which there was dispute, Sir William cited the lines:

"Along the cool, sequestered vale of life
They kept the noiseless tenor of their way."

He is accurate, it will be observed, as well as apt not having fallen into the ordinary misquotation of "even tenor." Mr. G. W. E. Russell gives several examples of Sir William's happiness in poetical citation. One of them is about the late Sir Rainald Knightley, who was once "expatiating after dinner on the undoubted glories of his famous pedigree." The company was getting a little restive under the recitation, when Sir William was heard to say, in an appreciative aside, "This reminds me of Addison's evening hymn:

'And Knightley to the listening earth,
Repeats the story of his birth.'"

It was Sir William Harcourt, again, who, meeting Tennyson out for a smoke before breakfast, greeted him with an adaptation of the poet's own verse:

"The early pipe of half-awakened birds (birds)."

Literary Notes.

THE DECEMBER CENTURY.

For a year Dr. S. Weir Mitchell had sent to him from one of the clipping agencies all the reports that could be found in the American daily papers of heroism in everyday life. Dr. Mitchell has written an article for the December Century giving the results of this search. One of the surprising facts is the many instances of heroic acts by children. Of 53 trustworthy statements of children under fifteen who have tried to save others from water, fire or other danger, twelve concerned girls who tried to save drowning persons previously unknown to them. In three undoubted instances little boys of four, five and six years of age respectively risked their lives in saving others at fires.

SMART SET FOR DECEMBER.

The Smart Set for December is on the bookstands again. The number is, as usual, simply crammed with good things. The opening story is a bright little tale entitled "Winning Him Back," by Anita Vavanti Charters. Perhaps one of the prettiest and most whimsical bits of verse is Clinton Scollard's "Hanging the Holly," a poem which is highly appropriate for a Christmas number. Among other contributors are to be found such well-known names as those of Nannie Byrd Turner, Mary Tracy Earle, Charles Hanson Towne, Frank Dempster Sherman, Molly Elliott Seawell, Edgar Saltus, Albert Lee, Le Vicomte J. de Beaufort and Charles G. D. Roberts. Taken all in all the number is one of the best the Ess-Ess Publishing Company has so far issued.

Mine Manager Shot.

Denver, Col., Nov. 20. — News has reached here of the shooting of A. L. Collins, general manager of the Smugglers' Union mine at Pandora, near Telluride, Col., by an unknown person, who fired through the window of the company's office at Pandora. The charge struck Collins in the back, making a wound that is likely to prove fatal. Mr. Collins was manager of the mine during the strike of 1901, when a riot occurred in which several men lost their lives. There is no clue to the man who fired the shot.

HALF A MAN.

When a man is sick and can only work half the time he is practically half a man. It requires his whole physical energy to do half a man's work.

In general the weak run down condition which cuts the strength and energy in half is due to disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. You could not expect a half starved man to work more than half the time. The condition of the man with weak stomach is that of the half starved man. He is weak through lack of nutrition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect nutrition of the body and so restores the strength.

"I had stomach trouble from birth," writes Mr. Louis Seaman, of Washingtonville, Orange Co., N. Y., "and suffered with it more or less as I grew up. At the age of 25 I was broken down with dyspepsia. My suffering was terrible. Could not eat without distress. Could only eat a few certain things and was not able to work half the time. Every thing I tried only gave me temporary relief. My wife finally persuaded me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I then felt so well that I stopped taking medicine. Several months have passed and I can do the hardest kind of work, can eat anything that is set before me and enjoy it. I am 57 years old and this is the first time I have ever been well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

MINERS MUST HOLD TOGETHER

Not Possible Nor Desirable to Divide Them.

JUDGE GRAY REBUKES LAWYER

Rev. Peter Roberts Describes the Conditions Under Which the Miners Labor.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 20. — At yesterday's session of the coal strike commissioners, when Mr. Ross, counsel for the D., L and W. road, concluded, Mr. Mitchell was cross-examined by former Congressman Wolverton, for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company. Mr. Mitchell said it would be impossible for him to give in detail the conditions at each mine or even under each company. He also declared that it would neither be possible nor desirable to divide the United Mine Workers into two separate organizations, one bituminous and the other anthracite. "The anthracite miners," he said, "have had independent and separate organizations in the past. They have had several of them. They have gone. They do not want any more of their organizations to go the same way."

Mr. Mitchell's statement excited some interest because of the fact that this was a suggestion made by Carroll D. Wright in his report of the strike to President Roosevelt.

James N. Torrey, of Scranton, representing the Delaware and Hudson Company, followed with a number of inquiries on the subject of the riot at Shenandoah.

Mr. Mitchell was emphatic in saying that the reports sent out were grossly exaggerated and that but one life was lost. The sheriff's appeal to the governor for aid, he said, was overdrawn.

WILL ABIDE BY COMMISSION'S DECISION.

Mr. Mitchell declared with emphasis that the miners will carry out to the letter the decision of the commission "or go out of our union."

Judge Gray announced the decision of the commission in the matter of the application of John T. Lenahen and John T. O'Brien, attorneys for the non-union men, to appear in the case. In the light of all their claims, said Judge Gray, they would be allowed to appear, but the commission could not consent to the withholding from the public the names of the non-union men, as their attorneys had desired.

After Mr. Lenahen assented to this, Judge Gray announced that the commission would see that no unfair use would be made of its names.

Mr. Darrow, attorney for independent operators, insisted that Messrs. Lenahen and O'Brien really represented the operators and not the non-union men.

"Whether they be here in that way or not," Judge Gray quickly replied, "they represent an important element in the investigation, men who work for their living, and who are interested in the findings of this commission. We have considered that very carefully from all sides."

CHILD LABOR.

After a brief re-direct examination by Mr. Darrow, Mr. Mitchell, in response to a request by Commissioner Watkins as to what should be done respecting child labor, said that a law should be enacted providing that after a certain time children under 14 years of age should not be employed in the breakers. The only way now that the operators could prevent the evil would be to refuse to employ children until they are 14 years of age. It frequently happened, he said, that parents swore falsely regarding the ages of children. The miners' president, after being under frying cross-examination by more than half a dozen lawyers for four and a half days, then left the witness stand.

John J. Murphy, counsel for the union, read the Pennsylvania statutes requiring the measurement of coal by weight, which he said he wanted to put in the record.

The Rev. Dr. Peter Roberts, of Mahanoy City, author of a book on the anthracite coal industry, took the stand just as recess was taken for luncheon.

MOST DANGEROUS WORK.

At the afternoon session Mr. Roberts described the anthracite regions, and then under the direct examination of Mr. Darrow, he described the conditions under which the mine workers labor. He took up the sociological conditions in the anthracite fields and followed this with statistics to show that the occupation of the mine worker is more hazardous than that of workers in any other large industry, not excepting railroading. Mr. Roberts was still on the witness stand when the commission adjourned for the day.

THE SOVEREIGN LIFE

The Stock Being Advanced—Last Opportunity for Investors—A Good Showing.

At a meeting of the directors of the Sovereign Life Assurance Company, held in the Temple building, Toronto, on Saturday, the 15th inst., the remaining capital stock unsold was advanced to a premium of 33 1-3 per cent.

The general meeting of shareholders for permanent organization and for the election of officers will be held early next month, at which time the company will make the necessary deposit with the Dominion Government, secure its license and be ready for business Jan. 1. The actuary of the Sovereign Life has been busy for several months preparing new and attractive plans of insurance and the directors announce that they have adopted the strongest and most solid reserve standard of any life insurance company in Canada.

Absolute security to policyholders has been the first consideration. The management of the Sovereign Life will be vested in the hands of experienced men who understand the business — there will be no mistakes or inadequate rates to apologize for and the shareholders and policyholders will have the satisfaction of a substantial realization upon their investment.

MARKET REPORTS.

THE LOCAL MARKET.

London, Thursday, Nov. 20.

The attendance at the market here today was one of the largest for this day of the week for several months. The farmers report the roads as in a bad condition, particularly between the city and Caradoc Township. The farmers in a great number of cases have about marketed their crop of potatoes. The prospects are that prices will be higher when the cold weather sets in.

Grain—There were fully 25 loads of oats offered, at 94c to 95c per cwt. Very little wheat offered, at prices quoted.

Hay and Straw—Twenty-eight loads of hay on sale, which brought $10 per ton for choice and $8 to $9 for poor and medium quality. Three loads of strew sold at $5 50 to $6 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—The supply was fairly large in butter, and prices ranged mostly at 18c for crocks and 19c for pound rolls. Eggs were plentiful, at 20c at 21c per dozen for crate and basket lots.

CURED ONCE AND FOR ALL

Dodd's Kidney Pills Make No Halfway Work of Kidney Disease.

J. J. McDonald Had Rheumatism and Dropsy. Was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills and Has Had No Return of the Trouble for Five Years.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 19.—It has been acknowledged for some years that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure any case of kidney disease, and of late those interested in medical science have been watching those cures to convince themselves that they were permanent. Gradually the conviction is forced that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure once and for all. One more proof of this is furnished by John J. McDonald, a well-known farmer, now residing at 130 Langlois avenue. Five years ago he was troubled with rheumatism and dropsy. For two years he suffered terribly, and the different medicines he tried failed to relieve him. His legs were swollen and the pains he suffered were most acute. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills, was cured, and his cure caused quite a sensation at the time.

Mr. McDonald, speaking of his cure recently, says:

"I have had no return of my trouble up to the present, and I am not anxious for any. It is with pleasure I acknowledge that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. I found them just as represented, and they did for me far more than I expected they would."

Anarchists Break Up Meeting.

Paris, Nov. 20.—The anarchistic element among the striking coal miners are seeking to prolong the conflict, and at St. Etienne, where the negotiations for a settlement have reached an advanced stage, a band of anarchists broke up the meeting of the miners' federal committee, the members of which were obliged to take refuge in the town hall. A detachment of soldiers has been called out to guard the building. The strike has come to an end at most of the other points.

Quit Work on Vanderbilt's House.

New York, Nov. 20.—A sympathetic strike of unusual nature, involving 600 men, has tied up work on the residence of George W. Vanderbilt, Fifty-first street and Fifth avenue, in which extensive alterations are being made. The strike was ordered by the Building Trades Council on behalf of the Amalgamated Painters' Society, although no painters will be employed in the building for two months. The action was taken in an effort to force the contractors for decorations to discharge their workmen who are members of the Brotherhood of Painters and to employ those affiliated with the Amalgamated Society.

Stairs and Max Aikin, of Halifax; Alexander Gibson, "the lumber king," H. H. McLean, solicitor, Bank of Montreal, and director of the H. Gibson Company, and D. MacLaren, of Jardine & Co., Liverpool, England, who is also a director.

These arrangements include the organization of a new company to take over the Gibson properties, which include the Canada Eastern Railway, 130 miles (the same line that Mr. Blair proposed to buy for $1,000,000), the cotton mill at Marysville, said to be the largest single building of the kind in Canada, the whole town of Marysville, comprising about 200 dwelling houses, three churches, two hotels, a public hall, various shops and a brickyard; also the lumber mills at Marysville, the largest in the province, with a lumber mill and grist mill at Blackville, and about 200,000 acres of freehold lumber lands.

The whole property is to be capitalized at $6,000,000, including preference stock, common stock and bonds, probably $3,000,000 of common, $2,000,000 of preference and $1,000,000 of bonds. Part of the stock will be offered to the public, and the securities listed on the Montreal Exchange.

It was practically decided last night that Alexander Gibson would be provisional president, and that other directors would include John F. Stairs and R. Harris, of Halifax, and H. H. McLean, of this city. Negotiations for the sale of the Canada Eastern to the C. P. R. are suspended, but are not broken off.

New York, Nov. 20. — Nelson Hersh, editor of the Sunday edition of the New York World, was instantly killed near his home at West Brighton, Staten Island, today, by being thrown from a buggy. He was driving home before daylight and ran into a ditch, which he could not see. He was 41 years old, a native of Illinois, and a graduate of Yale, class of 1880. Two years ago he became editor of the Sunday World. He leaves a widow and a family.

Blaze at Elkhorn, Man.—Town Hall Armory and Store Burned.

Elkhorn, Man., Nov. 20.—The Bradley block, a large building owned by the Keewatin Lumber Company, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $5,000; insured.

The building was used partially as a town hall, while upstairs was a room used by the C. M. R. as an armory. The equipment of saddles, bridles, guns, etc., was lost.

A store occupied by C. T. Graves was damaged to the extent of $2,500; insured. Other losers were: R. Walter, E. M. McKim, J. H. Harvey, C. F. Travis and the curling club.

Hooted an Ex-President.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 19.—Riotous demonstrations yesterday marked the departure from the city of the retiring president, Dr. Sampos Salles. Crowds of people hooted the ex-president and stoned newspaper offices. Troops charged the rioters; at least one man was killed, a number of persons were injured and numerous arrests were made.

Smallpox in Maine Camps.

Portland, Me., Nov. 20. — Reports from the lumber camps of Northern Maine show the beginning of a smallpox epidemic. A camp at Noleb is under armed guard. The passenger coaches on the mixed trains running from Brownville to Megantic are fumigated twice each day, and all immigrants crossing the line are detained at the border under quarantine or sent back to Canada.

Boston Has Elevator Girl.

Boston, Nov. 20. — Boston's latest institution is the elevator girl. She suddenly has made her appearance in fashionable downtown stores, luncheon rooms for women, dressmaking establishments and various philanthropic institutions for women that abound here.

It all came about because the elevator man at the Women's Educational and Industrial Union left. Looking around for someone to take his place one of the managers suggested putting in a girl. The idea was adopted at once. A girl was found, and she is now running the elevator, wearing a neat white cap and apron. A week later a girl appeared in the mirror-lined elevator of the Young Women's Christian Association. The idea "caught on," and girls got employment in elevators in other establishments. The elevator girl is fast becoming popular.

EVERY THIRTEENTH YEAR

Michigan Man Gives His Experience Regarding Mild Winters.

West Bay City, Mich., Nov. 20.—P. N. Jones writes to the local paper: "It may seem very strange, but in 1868, when I was only eight years of age, my father came home from his first enlistment in the army. The winter beginning in 1868 was a very warm winter, rainy and soft, with some cold weather the last of February and the first of March. This was in Ohio. In 1878, thirteen years later, I was on the Northern Pacific Railroad in Minnesota. It was very warm until February and March then. There was some cold weather, but not long at a time, two or three days at the longest. Just thirteen years later, 1889, in Ohio, it did not freeze to exceed two inches at any time all winter. The years 1902 brings it thirteen years later. Now, when the sun crossed the line each of these years the winds was in the south or southeast. I have a perfect remembrance of these years. Why it comes every thirteen years is a mystery to me. I think some of the lumbermen will remember some of these dates, as in 1876 there were but few logs banked in Minnesota of Wisconsin. This fall the wind was about two degrees east of south when the sun crossed the line."

DEATH OF ANGUS McLEOD

Demise of Member for North Ontario in Vancouver Hospital.

Bracebridge, Ont., Nov. 19.—Angus McLeod, M. P. for North Ontario, died in St. Paul Hospital, Vancouver, B. C., at midnight on Tuesday. Mr. McLeod, in company with his wife, left Bracebridge early in October for an extended visit through Manitoba and British Columbia. Three weeks ago he was taken ill with typhoid fever, and on Friday last became suddenly worse. Heart failure was the cause, from which he never rallied.

Mr. McLeod had been engaged in the lumber business all his life, and was well and favorably known throughout the Province as a shrewd and successful business man, and was most popular in the town of Bracebridge, where he resided for many years.

Mr. McLeod was a Conservative in politics and was elected to the Dominion Parliament at the last general election for North Ontario, defeating Duncan Graham. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and about 50 years of age. The remains will be brought to Bracebridge for interment.

SOUTH AFRICAN RAILWAYS

Preparation for General Scheme of Construction.

London, Nov. 20.—A correspondent at Ladybrand reports that in various districts of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, survey parties are engaging in preparing a general scheme of railway construction, which will be submitted for the approval of the railway financial board when the Transvaal loan is issued and the sum allotted for the use of the railway department is known. In the meantime construction work will be pushed forward on the Bloemfontein, Thabanchu and Harrismith and Vereeniging lines.

The Times' Paris dispatch says Dr. Loir, of the Pastuer Institute, who has gone to Rhodesia to deal with the outbreak of hydrophobia there, writes a letter to the Temps, describing his journey, in which he refers to a concentration camp which he visited, and which he says enabled the Boers to prolong resistance. Dr. Loir says he asked his fellow-passengers their opinions of the concentration camps, and a Frenchman from Johannesburg, a Dutch lady and a Boer all said the reported cruelties which excited all Europe during the South African war never had an existence. Dr. Loir saw one camp which was built like a hospital. The huts seemed very clean, and looked better than the slight, dingy buildings occupied by the British guarding Buluwayo.

Gens. Botha and Delarey are apparently not going to the United States. The Brussels Petit Bleu prints an interview with Gen. Delarey to the effect that he and Gen. Botha have decided to return to South Africa, where they will meet Mr. Chamberlain, the British Colonial Secretary, at Pretoria, for the purpose of explaining the situation to him.

OTTAWA CLERGYMAN

Suffered From Constipation and Indigestion—He Would Have No Evacuation of the Bowels for Sometimes Ten Days.

Got Speedy Cure From Celery King, Which He Always Keeps in the House.

Men who have heavy brain work sometimes neglect their health to such an extent that nature finds that she has to bring them up with a round turn. Then too few of our thinkers remember that they should take healthy outdoor exercise. Consequently, their system gets run down. Constipation sets in and before they know where they are, typhoid fever or something as serious stares them in the face. A regard for one's physical condition in the matter of exercise, and a judicious use of Celery King, will enable anyone to engage in the most trying of intellectual work.

A prominent Ottawa divine writes us: "Celery King has proved decidedly beneficial in our family. For years I was troubled with excessively severe attacks of indigestion. Many times I have been from four to ten days without evacuation of the bowels whatever, and pain and sense of heaviness has been most intense. I saw an advertisement of Celery King in the Toronto Mail and Empire and secured a package at the drug store and began taking it according to directions. I soon began to have full, regular and painless evacuations. My sleep became sweeter and more resting, appetite increased and within two weeks the trouble left me, and no relapse has taken place, and none is anticipated. I regard myself as being entirely cured by Celery King. Since then my mother has been cured of a similar trouble and by the same means, and I sincerely hope the time will come when every family in the land will learn the value of Celery King."

MORE MINERS START IN

Trouble at Cranberry and Crystal Ridge Settled.

Old Hands To Be Reinstated and Work Resumed Monday.

Hazelton, Pa., Nov. 20. — The trouble at the Cranberry and Crystal Ridge collieries of A. Bardoe & Co., where the employes refused to return to work because they were asked to sign an agreement not to interfere with non-union men, was settled today, and operations will be resumed on Monday.

Instead of signing the agreement individually at the mines, the men decided in a body to abide by its provisions. They empowered a committee of their "local" to make written promise that all of the employes will comply with its conditions. All of the men but three, who are accused by the company of having unduly active during the strike ,will be reinstated.

The only collieries in this district where the differences have not been settled are those of Coxe Bros., & Co., whose men will meet this afternoon to receive a proposition from the company outlining a plan of settlement.

Letters to the Editor.

THE SOUTHWESTERN TRACTION COMPANY.

The Editor of The Advertiser:

In your editorial of the 19th inst., referring to radial railways, you say that the city council should not be censured for moving cautiously in the matter of the application of The Southwestern Traction Company, as other railways might want the same conditions. You further say that the city should not be hurried into granting a twenty-five year franchise. These observations would seem to indicate that The Southwestern Traction Company is applying to the city council for a fran

THE SCHENECTADY BOYCOTT

Said To Be Indorsed by the Albany and Troy Association.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 20. — Another development of the boycott instituted against the Schenectady Railway Company by the local trades assembly, comes to light today in the posibility of action between the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes of Albany and Troy, looking to indorsing the action of the Schenectady labor body. The statement is made that that body will positively refuse to allow the cars of the Schenectady Railway to enter the City of Troy as long as there are nonunion men aboard them. It is also said that if the company insists on the carrying out of the terms of its contract with the United Traction Company to use its tracks, the men will go on strike.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 20. — It is understood here that the indorsement of the boycott of the Schenectady Railway by the Federation of Labor here, which federation includes the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, does not necessarily mean that the men will go on strike if the Schenectady cars are run in Albany and Troy. A leader says this morning: "It means that we are to give them moral support by asking all persons favoring labor and all our members and their families to refrain from using the Schenectady cars."

The cars are running on time today and evidently with as many passengers as usual.

NO SHORTAGE ON G. T. R.

The Trunk Line Has All the Cars it Requires.

The shortage of rolling stock on many of the railway lines, which is one of the causes of the lack of coal at the present time, does not apply to the G. T. R. While many of the American lines are tied up to a certain extent for want of sufficient cars and locomotives, this company has all it requires. "We have all the cars we want," Superintendent Costello, of the G. T. R., said to The Advertiser today. "In fact," he added, "in the last few days the through traffic has been considerably lighter than it was."

Windsor Electric Railway.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 20. — The Amherstburg extension of the Windsor Electric Railway has been completed to a point near the line between Sandwich West and Anderdon, and the grading crew have already commenced operations in the latter township. There is no law upon the statute books of Chili relating to the automobile, which is probably due to the fact that there are no automobiles in the country.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT SAN FRANCISCO

Ten Men Missing and a Loss of $500,000 Incurred—Railway Depot Burned.

San Francisco, Nov. 20. — The Southern Pacific depot and ferry slip at the end of the Almeda Mole, which extends far into the bay from the eastern shore, was destroyed by fire early today. A large number of passenger coaches were also burned, and it is said that several lives were lost.

Train Dispatcher Walker estimates the loss at from $450,000 to $500,000. The sides of the slips and buildings, eight broad gauge passenger coaches, and twenty-five narrow gauge coaches, were burned. The number of men missing is ten.

The fire broke out from an unknown cause soon after the ferryboat Oakland had reached her slip on her last trip from this city, about 1 o'clock. The kitchen crew of the steamer had retired to their lodging near the end of the pier. Suddenly the flames burst out, quickly spreading through the depot, a big building of wood and glass. The upper works of the Oakland caught fire and her captain was forced to cut loose and leave her men behind. They may have escaped, but they have not yet reported.

The burning slips were not accessible for fire engines from the Almeda County short, but two fireboats were dispatched to the scene from this city, and succeeded in confining the flames to the end of the mole. Nothing else could be done, however, and everything on the broad extension of the pier was soon totally destroyed.

The depot was the terminal for trains to Santa Cruz, and for trains to Oakland and Almeda, on which latter line the cars are of the most improved pattern. During the year the Southern Pacific expended many thousands of dollars in repairing the approaches to the mole and the wharf proper. The ferry buildings proper covered several acres, and contained the offices of the railroad operatives.

MARTIAL LAW REPEALED.

Pretoria, Wednesday, Nov. 19.—Martial law was repealed throughout the new colonies today. LIVED HALF CENTURY HERE

Mr. John Taylor, an Old and Respected Citizen, Dies.

He Assisted in Erecting St. Paul's Cathedral.

His friends and acquaintances in London, of whom there are hosts, will learn with profound regret of the death on Wednesday of Mr. John Taylor, of No. 123 High street, South London. Mr. Taylor's death was not unexpected. Some three years ago he met with an accident on the market by which he had his leg broken, and he has been in a state of ill-health ever since.

Mr. Taylor was one of London's oldest and most esteemed citizens. He was born in Bristol, England, 86 years ago. In 1845 he came to this city and engaged in building, forming the partnership of Broadbent & Taylor, which firm bought out Contractor Campbell, at the time the leading man in that line. He worked as a sub-contractor on the St. Paul's Cathedral, and also on the Chapter House, as well as on a number of other public buildings in the city, and some 20 years ago he retired from active business. He served as a school trustee in South London, when that portion of the city was a municipality. Mr. Taylor was a member of Christ Church.

He is survived by his wife, to whom he was married in Bristol, England, 63 years ago. Of the twelve children born to them, four are still living. They are Alfred J., of London, and Henry, Oswald and Augustus, all of Redlands, Cal.

The funeral will be held to Mount Pleasant Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, from his late residence at 123 High street, where he had lived for the past 45 years.

Movement of Canadian Wheat.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 20.—Grain Inspector Gibbs at Fort William reports 14,426,000 bushels of wheat have been received at the lake ports this season.

The Skilled Labor Delegates.

Chicago, Nov. 20. — Harmony between employer and employe was the keynote of a number of addresses at a banquet given at the Union League Club last night to the representatives of the skilled labor of England, who are inspecting industrial conditions in America. Most of the British craftsment left at midnight for Dayton, Ohio. They will go to Washington on Monday, and will call on the President.

Cut Down by Engine.

Owen Sound, Ont., Nov. 20.—Yesterday afternoon, shortly after 5 o'clock, a man who was walking on the Grand Trunk tracks, just outside the yards, was run down by the engine of a mail train and mangled almost beyond recognition. The body was subsequently identified as that of William Hubbard, a deaf mute, of Brooke.

COMMERCIAL UNSOUNDNESS

Said to Characterize British Railway Interests—Sir William Preece's View.

London, Nov. 20.—In an address yesterday evening to the Society of Arts, Sir William Preece, consulting engineer to the postoffice department, took a very grave view of the commercial prospects of Great Britain. Especially significant was his contention that the commercial soundness of the railway interests in the United Kingdom was in anything but a satisfactory condition. The true remedy, he said, was to be found in a combination among the great railway lines themselves, and if they did not put their houses in order the financial control of the railways by the state would be forced upon them.

THE NEW IRISH PARTY.

The nine Irish members of Parliament who have decided not to act with the majority of the Nationalists have not yet formed themselves into a new organization. The action of the seceders is by way of a protest against the domination of the Irish Parliamentary party by the United Irish League. Timothy Healy, who wrecked Parnell's party, is believed to be aiming at the leadership of the dauntless nine, but at present he is only their spokesman. As a Parliament an his knowledge and address are unrivaled and he commands the ear of the House of Commons as no other Irish member can pretend to do.

John E. Redmond, M. P., was given a big reception upon his arrival at Dublin last evening, and a torchlight procession was held in his honor. In the course of a speech he referred to the reported formation of a new Irish party with a nucleus of nine members of the House of Commons, including Messrs. Healy and Tully, which he denounced as an attempt to disrupt a united party. He warned the people to beware of this conspiracy.

IS WORSE THAN RAILROADING

Dangerous Nature of Miners' Occupation—Good Word for Operators.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 20.—When today's session of the strike arbitration commission began, Rev. Dr. Peter Roberts took the stand again. Simon P. Wolverton, counsel for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, cross-examined him.

Answering a question by Judge Gray yesterday, Dr. Roberts said today that a comparison of fatalities on all railroads in the United States with those in the anthracite fields, shows that 2.5 per 1,000 railroad employes are killed annually, against 3.5 per 1,000 anthracite mine workers.

The question of arriving at a fair price on rock in connection with coal mining, Dr. Roberts said, was one that could be adjusted only by the mine employes and the companies. He said it was far from the truth to characterize the operators as hard-hearted and unjust, and as seeking constantly to grind men down to the last penny of wages, as had been charged.

HANDED TO TOLEDO POLICE

George F. Dunton Wanted on Several Charges.

Authorities of Altoona, Pa., Were Looking for Him.

The Detroit News of yesterday says: Detective Nickle, of London, Ont., and Detective Nechter, of Toledo, arrived in the city last night with George F. Dunton, wanted in Toledo on the charge of passing a forged check for $75.

A few weeks ago Dunton was sought for in Detroit on request from the police at Altoona, Pa., where, it is said, he worked several prominent people for a large sum of money. He is also wanted in Pittsburg.

The Detroit police learned that Dunton called at Detroit for a day, where he secured mail, and then went to Toledo, where the first thing he did was to win the affections of a Mrs. Scott, a divorced woman, and they were married. Incidentally he secured the $78 on forged paper, it is said, and then the couple left on a wedding trip to London.

He was caught in the latter place while stopping with his wife at a leading hotel. At first he attempted to fight extradition, but finally decided to return to the United States.

DIED AT DRUMBO

Demise of Mrs. Rodgers, Formerly of This City.

Mr. John Ferguson, of Dufferin avenue, received word this morning of the death of his sister, Mrs. Lillian Rodgers, which occurred last night at the residence of her son, Mr. Alexander Knox, stationmaster at Drumbo, Ont. Mrs. Rodgers lived for many years in this city, and has many friends here.

Mrs. Rodgers was born at Stirling, Scotland, 70 years ago, and was early married in Scotland to Sergt.-Major Knox, of the Ninety-Third Regiment. Her husband fell in the Crimean war, and after his death Mrs. Rodgers came to this city in 1856. She was married here to Mr. Rodgers, who died some years ago. After staying in this city for a number of years she went to reside with her son in Drumbo, and had lived there since.

Mrs. Rodgers was a woman of strong intellectual qualities, and had retained her powers until the last. She was seriously ill for only two weeks previous to her death. Besides her brother, Mr. Ferguson, she is survived by one son, Alexander Knox, of Drumbo, and two daughters, Mrs. William Henderson, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Schuler, of Chicago.

The funeral will be held on Friday morning on the arrival of the 11:30 G. T. R. train.

SIX RINKS ACCOMMODATED

Fine Curling Quarters of New Athletic Association.

At Meeting Tonight Plans Will Be Discussed.

A meeting of the new athletic association that is being formed, will be held in the Grand Pacific Hotel this evening. At it, Mr. H. C. McBride's plans for the proposed rink will be submitted for the discussion of some contemplated alterations.

The plans as now prepared allow for a rink 144 feet long, with three strips of ice, separated by platforms running the length of the rink. The center strip will be 60 feet wide, and the two outer ones will be each 16 feet in width. The platforms separating will be 3 feet, and the end platform 10 feet. This will give accommodation for six curling rinks. There is to be a gallery at one end for spectators.

The intention is to have the rink built between the railroad and the Chapter House, which it is proposed to purchase. A connecting passageway would then be built between the two, and the necessity for dressing-rooms would be done away with. It is doubtful whether the rink will be put up in time for this winter.

BASKETBALL.

A game of basketball was played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night between two picked teams, the Blues and the Reds. In their anxiety to win, both teams broke the rules of the game again and again. At the close of the game the score stood: Blues 25, Reds 24. C. W. Horton was the timekeeper and T. C. Benson the scorer. The teams:

Blues—Skinner and Tambling (captain), forwards; E. Nelles, center; McBride and S. Nelles defense.

Reds—Parker and Dale, forwards; Gidley, center; Ash and Corcoran, defense.

A game of basketball will be played this afternoon at the Normal School between the Normals and Models.

FORM III. B WON

On Wednesday afternoon Form III. B. defeated Form III. E. by the close score of 1 goal to nothing, in the L. C. I. series. Cuttell, for III. B. and Gilmore, for III. E., played a strong game. The following was the lineup:

III. B.—Goal, Girard, back, Baker; half-backs, Cuttell and Falls; forwards, Crawford (captain), Scott, Johnson and Kennedy.

III. E.—Goal, P. Williams; back, Ryckman (captain); half-backs, Coleman and Duncan; forwards, Bodkin, Gilmore, Doupe and Aylesworth.

Referee, Mr. Downing.

BASEBALL.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 19.—Vice-President C. W. Somers, of the American League, returned from New York today, where he was in conference with Ban Johnson, John Kilfoyle and others interested in the project connected with the American League in that city. "We have an option on splendid grounds in New York," said Mr. Somers, "but the deal has not yet been closed, and I am, therefore, not at liberty to discuss the matter. I think, however, it is safe to say that a definite announcement will be made within a few days."

PUSHBALL.

ARGONAUTS WILL PLAY PUSHBALL.

The Argonauts, of Toronto, will send a team to Detroit to play "pushball" with the D. A. C. Very little is known about the game in Toronto, but it has taken great hold in Detroit, where the matches are played in the armories by electric light. The D. A. C. team have promised to forward a ball to the Argonauts this week, and the stalwarts of the club will go into training as soon as it arrives. The ball, which is made of tow, is seven feet in diameter and weighs about 60 or 70 pounds.

YACHTING.

CHALLENGE POSTPONED.

At the meeting of the Chicago Yacht Club action on the proposal of sending a challenge to the trial races for the Canada's Cup was postponed until the formal invitation from the Rochester Yacht Club should be received.

THE RING.

YOUNG CORBETT BESTED.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—Crockey Boyle gave Young Corbett an artistic lacing here Monday night. Corbett got into the ring hog-fat, and was unusually slow. Boyle was in fine trim, and had no difficulty in landing.

Corbett rushed like a bull, but Boyle's clever footwork took him out of danger. He landed many punishing jabs.

DRAW SCRAP AT PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Marvin Hart, of Louisville, went six fast rounds to a draw here tonight. O'Brien had the better of the going in the earlier rounds, and in the fifth floored Hart for eight seconds. In the sixth, however, O'Brien himself went down and took six seconds to recover.

McCLELLAND VS. SULLIVAN.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—Jack McClelland, of Pittsburg, and "Brooklyn Tommy" Sullivan, of New York, will meet in a 20-round contest here tomorrow night. Terry McGovern telegraphed from New York tonight that he will meet the winner.

The Druggists Are Agreed that the surest and only Painless Corn and Wart Cure is "Putnam's." It was the first corn cure on the market, and still leads all competitors. Always refuse a substitute.

HARD TIMES IN GERMANY

People Suddenly Plunged Into Midwinter Weather.

Position of Working Classes Is Critical —Bank Forced to Close.

London, Nov. 20.—Europe has been suddenly plunged into midwinter, and from all parts of England, too, come signals of distress from the out-of-work poor, and applications for employment and assistance are pouring in upon the charitable organizations. According to the predictions of the German meteorological authorities, the winter will be the hardest experienced for more than half a century.

Dispatches from Berlin show that with the advent of cool weather the condition of a large section of the German working classes has become critical. The iron and coal industries in Westphalia, Silesia, are far from being prosperous. The workmen continue to be dismissed, apparently with the object of keeping up prices.

Complaints are heard on all sides of the coal owners and iron masters supplying the foreign markets at prices less than the home consumer is obliged to pay. The depression in Berlin is very pronounced. Hundreds of applicants compete for every vacant post, and the refuges for the destitute are overflowing.

In Cologne the bank which was started by the Communal Insurance Institution to insure against lack of employment has had to be closed, owing to the drain on its resources. There are no signs that the condition of affairs will speedily improve, and the Socialist press demands that the state shall take instant measures to relieve the distress by starting public works, shortening the hours of labor and organizing the labor market.

AT WORK AGAIN

Mr. Joseph Boon Spent Seven Months in Hospital, But Is Now Entirely Well.

Cottel's Cove, New Bay, Nfld., Nov. 17.—Joseph Boon, who for eight years was all aches and pains, who had Back Ache and Kidney Complaint, who after seven months in the hospital was discharged as incurable, who had tried electric belts, liniments, oils and other medicines to no avail, is back at his work again, and people of this section are talking of little else.

Dodd's Kidney Pills did it. Mr. Boon read in a paper how Mr. Quirk, of Fortune Harbor, had been cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and gave them a trial. He used 21 boxes before he was entirely well. But he is well today and working at lobster fishing without an ache or pain of any kind.

Sir Oliver's Position.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—The term of five years as Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario of Sir Oliver Mowat expired yesterday, he having been appointed to that position on Nov. 18, 1897. He will continue to be Lieutenant-Governor of the province until his successor is appointed.

ITS POWER GROWS WITH AGE.—How many medicines loudly blazoned as panaceas for all human ills have come and gone since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was first put upon the market? Yet it remains, doing more good to humanity than many a preparation more highly vaunted, and extending its virtues wider and wider and in a larger circle every year. It is the medicine of the masses.

"That woman knows something about my history," he said, conviction flashing from his eyes. "I feel sure of it. She was terribly upset when she first got a good square look at my face—she lost her self-possession entirely; she said that I resembled a friend who had died many years ago. Who was it, I wonder? My father, perhaps." His lips curled bitterly as he spoke the unaccustomed name. She was even more deeply affected when I told her my name," he continued, reflectively. "I thought for a moment she was surely going to faint; then, when I offered to lead her to a seat, how she shrank from me!—told me not to touch her, as if contact with me would have contaminated her! How strangely, too, she appeared about the child, insisting that she belonged to her, and no one should rob her of her. Heigh-ho! If Miss Belle and I were of the same age I could almost imagine that we had been exchanged in our cradles.

"The fact, too, that she sent me the check, is, to say the very least, exceedingly singular; it looks as if her conscience troubled her about something besides the rescue of the girl, and she hoped by sending it to pay off all old scores and be quits with me. Yes, madam," he went on, bringing his hand heavily down upon the desk, "you know something that I don't know, about me, and I am going to get at the bottom of it, if I live long enough.

"Who knows," he thought, growing a shade paler, "but what she may even be my mother? I—hope she is not, for I should not find it easy to love such an iceberg, although she was tender enough with the little one. But if I am not mistaken, she is a woman to be feared where she does not love strongly.

"Can it be possible that that sweet little fairy is connected with me by any tie of blood? It would not be a difficult matter to take her into a warm corner of my heart—indeed, I am already strongly drawn toward her."

Kenneth's eyes gleamed with a softened radiance and his cheek flushed as he recalled the lovely girl.

"She called Miss Kavanagh 'auntie,' but said that her own name was Langford. I should judge by that that she must be a sister's child; maybe," with a bitter laugh, "I shall yet discover her to be my cousin, though I doubt if that proud woman would acknowledge the relationship. The more I think of it the more strongly I am convinced that I am in some way connected with that family, and—I will never rest until I have sifted the matter to the bottom."

He sighed heavily.

"Shall I ever learn the truth?" he said, sadly, feeling discouraged already as he realized how little he really know about himself. "I have not the slightest clew save these two bits of paper, the writing upon which is so similar—rather a weak foundation, I am afraid, to build anything upon."

With another sigh he folded both papers together, put them carefully in the envelope, and placed it in the leather pocketbook, which he restored to the inner pocket of his vest, then he took up his pen again and bent himself to the task in hand.

It is strange how little a circumstance will sometimes encourage a man; but Kenneth was encouraged, in spite of his many doubts and fears, by the trifling incidents of that day, and felt inspired to greater efforts for his own promotion than he had ever yet made.

He longed to go to 85 —— avenue and question Miss Kavanagh, but he felt that the time for such a proceeding was not yet ripe, and he forced himself to wait further developments.

So, as time went on, he devoted himself assiduously to business during the day, while his evenings were spent in pursuing a course of study in Latin and Greek and the higher mathematics under a competent master, to whom he recited three times a week.

"I will make myself worthy of any position," he often said to himself, "so that if I ever find my relatives, no matter who they are, they shall not be ashamed of me personally."

The day following Kenneth's reception and return of the check, Miss Kavanagh might have been seen sitting in a richly-appointed boudoir of an elegant residence located on —— avenue.

She had been reading, evidently, for a popular magazine was lying in her lap, face downward, to mark the place where she had left off a few moments previous. Just now, however, she was leaning back in her luxuriant chair, her head resting against its soft velvet cushions, while a frown disfigured her usually serene brow; her fine eyes were clouded, and her proud lips compressed into an expression of vexation and chagrin.

In one white, jeweled hand, which rested upon the arm of her chair, she held an envelope, to which, after reading it, she had just returned a letter, while upon the table by her side there lay, spread out, a check for one thousand dollars.

It was the same check she had sent to Kenneth Keith only the day before, and the envelope in her hand contained his note of rejection.

Miss Katherine Kavanagh evidently was not pleased to have the money returned.

A feeling of obligation had weighed heavily upon her proud heart ever since he had rescued her niece from her fearful peril, and she had experienced an impatient and uncontrollable desire to at once wipe it out and banish it and him forever from her mind. It was as he had surmised—she wished to be "quits" with him.

She was only too conscious that she had done an indelicate thing to offer him money in return for the life of her idol. She had recognized at once the fact that he was no ordinary character, and she could well understand how his proud spirit would be wounded by making his heroic deed merely a matter of pecuniary consideration.

She knew that she had treated him coldly, even cavalierly, at the time; that she had not expressed a tithe of the gratitude that was due him, or that she had really felt; but, somehow, her tongue had been tied, a terrible and unnatural constraint had fallen upon her when she attempted to address him, and it had been simply impossible for her to do either herself or him justice.

She could imagine just how he had looked when he received her note; she could see how his manly form had straightened with a sense of wounded dignity, how his eyes had blazed with scorn that anyone should offer him money for responding to the noble impulse to save a human life.

Her own face grew crimson, and all her nerves tingled with a feeling of shame that made her exceedingly uncomfortable, even wretched.

"Why need he have been so sensitive? Why couldn't he have kept the money?" she cried, in a tone of irritation. "Why need he ever have crossed my path? Kenneth Keith! how very strange! Why could it not have been someone else, or why need we have gone to Brooklyn that day? Why did Belle tumble into the water? Why was Katherine Kavanagh so careless and unmindful of her responsibility? Why, why, why? One can never answer or settle all the whys and wherefores. It was fate! it was to be, and I was powerless to prevent it."

She sprang from her chair, as if goaded beyond endurance by these tantalizing thoughts, and began pacing the room with a nervous, excited tread.

"Oh, if I could but blot out the memory of that year!" she exclaimed, throwing out her hands with a passionate gesture. "Why need I be so tortured every now and then? I wonder where she is? What has become of her? Is she living or dead? Did she ever suspect the truth? Did anyone else ever suspect? No—no; it cannot be possible—all that is a sealed book to everyone save myself. Why should I fear at this late day? and yet, how can I help it when such a phantom from out of the past so suddenly confronts me? How very like he is—very like!"

She dropped her head upon her breast and fell to musing as she slowly moved back and forth, her hands clasped behind her.

LONDON HUNT A WINNER AT NEW YORK HORSE SHOW

Western District Rifle Association Fires Its Last Match.

City Hockey League Elects Officers—General Sporting News.

THE TURF.

New York, Nov. 19. — Today's attendance at the horse show was very much increased and a record-breaking week is looked for. The honors were equally divided among the various competitors. Of those who failed to win prizes the most notable instances were Alfred G., and Reginald Vanderbilt, who did not gain an award in any of the events in which they competed.

A pretty feature was the class for hunters, in which the riders were required to be attired in the costume of the hunt to which they belong. The prize in this event went to the London (Canada) Hunt.

Class 96—For best three qualified hunters from one hunt to be shown by the master, whips or members of the hunt in hunt uniform—My Fellow, Antelope and Solitaire; owners, London (Canada) Hunt.

Class 117—Gig horses, for the Waldorf-Astoria Cup, $500, for the best horse suitable for a gig, the horses to be judged for their suitability for the work designated, manners, all-round action and conformation; the horses to be driven by their bona fide owners to gigs; professional drivers and dealers not allowed to compete for this prize; the cup to be won three times by the same owners before it becomes his property—Lord Brilliant, ch. g.; owner, Dr. John L. Wentz, of Scranton, Pa. Best performance of hunters of jumpers over six successive jumps, five feet high, carrying a minimum of 140 pounds—Pearl, b. m.; owner Geo. Pepper, of Toronto, Ont.

SEAGRAM HORSES SOLD.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—At the sale of some of Joseph E. Seagram's race horses here this afternoon, Dalmoor, stallion, winner of the Queen's plate in 1900, was bought for $400 by Ed Whyte, trainer for William Hendrie, of Hamilton. Oneiros, mare, the defeated Queen's plater favorite this year, went to T. A. Crow, Toronto, for $310.

JOCKEY MAHER'S WINNINGS.

London, Nov. 19.—Daniel Maher, an American jockey, who sailed on the Celtic today for New York, has the record for the highest average of wins in an English turf season. "I have been more or less restricted by physical conditions in securing mounts, which I believe would have increased my average," said Maher to a press representative, "but I am quite satisfied with 106 wins out of 400 mounts. I must say I cannot always sympathize with the complaints some of my fellow-American jockeys have made against English turf methods. As far as I am concerned, I have always found English racing men to be true sportsmen, and if I have had any trouble at all it has been with Americans quite as often as with English jockeys. My racing season had a number of peculiar features; for instance, the fact that I won five of the most important races on Rocksand and that I never lost a race with him. This is probably without precedent. I had almost equal success with Flotsam, on which I beat my old mount, Rocksand, in the most sensational finish of the season. As these two horses are now the favorites for the Derby in 1903, and as I believe they are the best 2-year-olds in England, I hope to bring one of them home first in that race. My wins in the Eclipse stakes, value $50,000, on Cheers, and the Champion stakes, value $25,000, on Rabelais, both at Sandown, helped to make up the sum of $300,000, which I secured for my employers during the season. I propose to remain the United States until March, when I will return to England to ride for Sir Daniel Cooper, Sir James Miller and Lord Callogan."

THE BENNINGS MEET.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The track at Bennings remained in a sticky condition today, and caused numerous scratches. The chief events were the Vestal stakes for 3-year-olds, and the Bennings special for 3-year-olds and upwards. The Vestal stakes were won handily by Moon Daisy, a maiden, and also the outsider in betting. Scratches left only six starters of an entry of eighteen for the Bennings special. This race was won by the second choice, Andy Williams, in the closest kind of a finish, with Duoro. Long shots captured the first two events, and G. Whitter, the only winning favorite, the closing race. Weather cloudy. Summaries:

First race, 5½ furlongs—Red Dazel, 104 (Minder), 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, 1; Prancer, 99 (Doyle), 40 to 1 and 15 to 1, 2; White Owl, 104 (Gannon), 8 to 1, 3. Time, 1:10⅘.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Mayor Johnson, the even money favorite, won the feature event at Lakeside today. The Don was second and Agnes Mack was third. TURF TOPICS.

It now develops that Frank Hitchcock has second call on Redfern's services. When the boy is not riding for Whitney, Hitchcock will have sole control of him.

It is doubtful if Gold Heels will race again next year. The horse has been fired successfully, but Owner E. J. Arnold is disposed to place him in the stud.

The racing at Bennings thus far has plainly established the fact that the course must now be reckoned as one of the fastest in the States.

Jockey Louis Smith, who is at present under suspension, has just returned to Toronto from a shooting trip to the north woods. He has applied to the Jockey Club for a hearing and expects to go to New York shortly to state his case before the stewards. Smith said yesterday: "I am confident of reinstatment as soon as the stewards have finished their investigation. They will not find anything wrong, and, moreover, I can say that all season I never was even approached by anybody with a suggestion that I should do anything improper."

Otto Wonderly, after an absence of several months, returned to the saddle at Washingtin today, when he rode Geisha Girl in the second race. He also rode Benckart, who finished second, and Sir Faust, the winner of the fifth race. There was loud cheering when he returned to the scales with Sir Faust.—New York Sun.

Redfern is not riding in his true form at Bennings. He has contracted the habit of remaining too far out of a race until it is too late. C. R. Ellison has engaged him to do the riding for his stable at the New Orleans meeting.

HOCKEY.

CITY LEAGUE ORGANIZED.

Last night, at a meeting in the Metropolitan Hotel, the City Hockey League was organized for the coming season. The rules drafted will differ but little from those in force a year ago. The following officers were elected:

Honorary President—Arthur Little.
President—C. W. Smith.
Vice-President—Herman Kompass.
Secretary-Treasurer — John A. D. O'Dell.

Four teams have joined the league so far—St. John's A. C., the Hortons, the Aberdeens and the Memorials—and more are expected to be ready to come in at the meeting on Dec. 17, when the season's programme will be arranged. Beginning the second week in January two games a week will be played.

HAMILTON CLUB IS ACTIVE.

A general meeting of the Hamilton Hockey Club will be held in the Waldorf Hotel this evening. This year the club intends entering an intermediate and junior team in the O. H. A., with Armstrong, Yorick, McKeand, Morden and Guay, of last year's septet, and several promising juniors. Hamilton ought to have a successful hockey season.

An executive meeting of the O. H. A. will be held in the Toronto Telegram building on Monday evening to straighten up matters for the annual meeting on Dec. 6.

BLOODLESS LIPS, BLANCHED CHEEKS

These Sure Evidences of Ill-Health Point the Way to Consumption Which Often Follows an Impoverished Condition of the Blood. IRONIZE THE BLOOD BY

FERROZONE.

Perhaps she is sixteen. Suddenly she seems to lose strength. Her beauty fades because her vitality is steadily decreasing. Dark circles appear under the eyes which become lustreless and dull. Her spirits droop, for no girl can be contented and happy in such a condition.

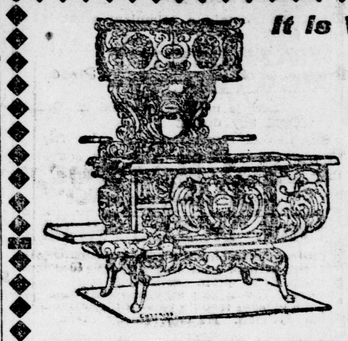

This may be quickly corrected by taking Ferrozone. It supplies what is lacking in the blood, purifies and strengthens it, and keeps it in perfect order. Ferrozone makes plenty of red blood corpuscles that manifest themselves in a healthy ruddy complexion. It aids the stomach to do its work, and creates a natural healthy relish for food.

Every organ of the body is benefited by Ferrozone. It rebuilds the entire system, makes new tissue, strengthens weak flabby muscles, makes thin people fat and sick people well.

No case of Anaemia is too chronic for Ferrozone. It may take time, but if persistently used will cure in the end. It will give you a well developed form, clear complexion, pure breath and will restore the bloom to faded cheeks and color to the lips more quickly than any other remedy.

Every woman who desire a vigorous constitution, and the good looks that come with good health, should take Ferrozone after each meal regularly. It is a wonderful tonic for the brain, the nerves and the blood, and acts also as an efficient but harmless regulator of the menstrual flow. In fact for all diseases peculiar to women and growing girls, Ferrozone has no equal as your druggist can tell you.

Three weeks treatment costs 50c, or three boxes for $1.25. Sold by druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere, or sent by mail if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE TRIGGER.

THE LAST MATCH.

The Western District Rifle Association has fired its last match. Its existence from 1877 to the present has been one continued success, and its breakup is caused by the new system of granting free ammunition to rifle associations instead of cash. Its first presidents were the late Lieut.-Col. Walker, followed by Lieut.-Col. Lewis, Lieut.-Col. Fisher, Capt. Thomas Robson and lastly T. J. Murphy. The treasurers were Lieut.-Col. Moffatt, from 1877 to 1887, and Lieut.-Col. Dawson, since that date. The first secretary was Lieut.-Col. Atwood, for three years, and Capt. Ellis one year, and Major Hayes for 22 years. The association has given 24 yearly competitions. It had a Government grant of $200 per year, and gave a prize list averaging $600 each year, and now winds up its career without a dollar of debt of any kind. The officers of the association carried the business of the association on mainly in love of rifle shooting. Riflemen generally regret the closing up of the Western. The officers simply trust that the new method may do as much or more for rifle shooting than the old association has.

The match yesterday was the second held this season, and was simply a windup affair. Great enthusiasm was exhibited by those attending, and the match was a thoroughly enjoyable one, and passed off without a hitch. The score was as follows:

Pte. R. Fraser	21	32	28—91	$6 00
H. M. Hayes	29	31	26—86	4 00

FOOTBALL.

MONTREAL DEFEATED.

Montreal football team on Tuesday played a second match in Halifax, the score standing 8 to 0 in favor of Halifax, the home team representing the Wanderers and Dalhousie fifteens. The visitors were again handicapped by their comparative lack of knowledge of the rules of the English Rugby game as played there. After the conclusion of the game an exhibition of the Western Canada style was given, and in a couple of minutes the Montreals had scored a try. The play was most interesting to Halifax spectators, who had never seen it before.

TOUCHDOWNS.

It is expected that the Galt Senior Association team will meet the University of Toronto team next week in Toronto.

The Torontos have forwarded an application to Dr. Beattie Nesbitt for permission to play the winners of the Argonaut-Varsity games for the city championship.

Tom Boucher, of the Rough Riders, holds the Canadian record of championships. He has been a member of the team winning the football honors on five occasions.

Johnny Powers stated yesterday that he had decided to go to England with the All-Canadian football team. He is slated to play on the half-back line.

The London Rugby football team will go to Peterboro via the C. P. R., leaving here Friday evening. W. C. Michell, the old scrimmager of the Osgoode Hall team, has been appointed referee for the game.

The Western football championship will be fought out in Detroit at Bennett Park on Thanksgiving Day. Yesterday's results at Chicago and Minneapolis decided this. The scores bearing on the championship race are: Michigan 6, Wisconsin 0. Minnesota 11, Wisconsin 0, Michigan 21, Chicago 0.

Taylor and Flood, who have been picked from British Columbia as representatives on the All-Canadian Rugby team to visit England, cannot go.

"Billy" Michell, the former Osgoode Hall scrimmage, will referee the Peterboro-London game at Peterboro on Saturday.

The final for the Canadian intermediate Rugby championship will be played in Montreal on Nov. 29, when Quebec will meet the winner of the London-Peterboro contest next Saturday.

THE RING.

MIKE WARD DEFEATED.

Harry Nicholson, of Detroit, turned the tables on Mike Ward, of Sarnia, Ont., before the New Delray A. C. Tuesday, Referee Considine giving him the verdict at the end of ten rounds of as fierce milling as was ever seen in Delray. The decision was well received by the 600 spectators. Both principals had worked conscientiously for the contest, and were in fine shape. Ward was installed favorite in the betting, and Nelse Osborne, Ward's manager, was offering $100 to $75, and in the early rounds, 2 to 1, that the Canadian would win. Some bets at even money were made that Nicholson would not last eight rounds.

For the first five rounds Ward got in some telling blows, using a left jab that worried Nicholson not a little. After the fifth round Nicholson appeared to be getting stronger, and cut down the advantage gained in the earlier rounds by Ward. The latter realized this and started for a knock-out in the seventh, but in the hot exchanges that followed Nicholson held the upper hand, having Ward dazed at one stage of this round. Toward the close of the ninth round Nicholson got in three successive heavy swings to the jaw, and when the bell sounded Ward was dazed considerably, but not groggy. The closing round was an even break, Nicholson being content with stalling Ward off. The winner was challenged by "Syracuse Billy" Moore, Foster Walker and Jimmy Duggan.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

B. COMPANY WINS THE FIRST GAME.

The first schedule game of indoor baseball in connection with the Seventh Regiment Athletic Association was played Tuesday night at the drillshed, the contesting teams being A and B Companies. Major Hayes opened the proceedings with a few appropriate remarks addressed to the teams. The umpires were Quartermaster-Sergeant Dunlevy and Sergt. Rider. A number of spectators were present. The game was fast and exciting, B Company winning out. The score was as follows:

A Co.	Runs.	B Co.	Runs.
Jacoba, 2 b	8	Parker, p	3
Erskine, f	4	Gibson, 1 b	1
Hayes, p	4	Donaghy, 2 b	5

Bug originally meant a goblin. The Welsh word bug means a ghost. The Hebrew word, which in Psalms xc., 5, is represented by "terror," was in the early translations rendered bug, the verse being, "Thou shalt not need to be afraid of any bugs by night."

PINEL—MILLER.

A Zanesville, Ohio, paper, gives the following account of the marriage of a former Londoner: A pretty home wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Miller, of Adair avenue, her daughter, Miss Elizabeth A. Miller, and Mr. James A. Pinel being the contracting parties. The ceremony was celebrated promptly at 8 o'clock by Rev. C. E. Chandler, pastor of the Second Street M. E. Church. About forty-five friends and relatives witnessed the pretty ceremony. After the marriage an elegant supper was served at two long tables. The tables were artistically decorated with white carnations and chrysanthemums and asparagus fern. Among the out-of-town guests who attended were: Mrs. Pinel, mother of the groom, and Mr. Geo. Pinel, his brother, of London, Canada; Mrs. Tonge and daughter, Miss Jessie, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Miss Elizabeth Van Wey, of McConnelsville. The young couple were the recipients of many elegant and valuable presents. The bride is a favorite in the circles in which she moves. She is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Miller, of Adair avenue. For some time she has been employed in the office of H. H. Sturtevant & Co. Mr. Pinel, whose home was formerly in Canada, has been living in this city for the past ten years. He is a member of the carrier force of the local postoffice. He is well known and popular throughout the city.

London, Nov. 30.—Rev. Mr. Barr, a Canadian clergyman now a resident of London, has submitted to the deputy minister of the interior a proposition to settle two thousand Londoners on land in Alberta. His scheme is financially backed, so that his people would be able to make a comfortable start in farming. The settlers will come out in the spring.

AT FIRST GLANCE

It Would Appear That Local Remedies Would Be Best for Cure of Catarrh.

It would seem at first glance that catarrh being a disease of the mucous membrane, that salves, sprays, etc., being applied directly to the membranes of the nose and throat, would be the most rational treatment, but this has been proven not to be true.

The mucous membrane is made and repaired from the blood and catarrh is a blood disease and any remedy to make a permanent cure must act on the blood, and when the blood is purified from catarrhal poison, the secretions from the mucous membrane will become natural and healthy.

In this climate, thousands of people seem scarcely ever free from some form of catarrh; it gets better at times but each winter becomes gradually deeper seated, and after a time the sufferer resigns himself to it as a necessary evil.

Catarrh cures are almost as numerous as catarrh sufferers, but are nearly all so inconvenient and ineffective as to render their use a nuisance nearly as annoying as catarrh itself; anyone who has used douches, sprays and powders will bear witness to their inconvenience and failure to really cure.

There are a number of excellent internal remedies for catarrh, but probably the best and certainly the safest is a new remedy, composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar antiseptic remedies and other valuable catarrh specifics.

This remedy is in tablet form, pleasant to the taste and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and anyone suffering from catarrh may use these tablets with absolute assurance that they contain no cocaine, opiate nor any poisonous mineral whatever.

A leading druggist in Albany, speaking of catarrh cures, says: "I have sold various catarrh cures for years, but have never sold any which gave such general satisfaction as Stuart's Catarrh's Tablets. They contain in a pleasant, concentrated form all the best and latest catarrh remedies, and catarrh sufferers who have used douches, sprays and salves have been astonished at the quick relief and permanent results obtained after a week's use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets." All druggists sell full-sized packages for 50 cents. 44-c-ywt

GENEROUS THANK OFFERING

Ladies' Mission Circle Holds Annual Service.

The annual thanksgiving services of the Ladies' Mission Circle of the Talbot Street Baptist Church was held last evening, with the president, Mrs. Sowerby, in the chair, who delivered an address of welcome at the opening of the programme. She referred to the enthusiastic missionary spirit of the ladies of the church and the delightful harmony that existed in all their meetings. She also spoke of the splendid work done by the mission board, and thanked the audience for the interest evidenced by the large attendance.

Mrs. (Rev.) V. H. Cowsert, of Brantford, delivered an interesting address, "Three Reasons for Being Interested in Missions," the reasons being: First, the command of the Saviour; second, the service of love; third, the unsaved condition of the heathen. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Cowsert.

During the evening Mrs. A. E. Brown rendered a solo with violin accompaniment by Miss Sowerby, and Miss Sowerby later sang "Why Should Ye Idle?" The thanksoffering amounted to $80, a very gratifying showing. After the programme refreshments were served and a pleasant half hour was spent in social conversation.

HOSPITAL BAND CONCERT ATTENDED BY BIG CROWD

Proceeds Will Go Towards Furnishing the New Dispensary of That Institution.

The success of the concert given last night at the city hall by the Seventh Band and local vocalists was greater than even the promoters of it had hoped for. This was the much-postponed Victoria Hospital concert, which came so near being given three or four times during the summer. It was put off so often that had it not been the ladies' advisory board which was getting it up, the public would naturally have feared that the pleasure of this concert was to be denied them. In their hands, however, it could not and did not fail. It was indeed very enjoyable, and the attendance surpassed all expectation.

The hall was beautifully decorated, Mrs. Furness having kindly superintended the work, much to the satisfaction of the members of the board, who express their sincere gratitude to her for her assistance.

Trustee Waterman presided, as Chairman McCormick could not be present, and he announced during the evening that a sufficient sum had been contributed to pay for the furnishing of the new dispensary at Victoria Hospital. He thanked the ladies who had arranged for the concert, and also the band and vocalists, and said that considering the number of times the concert had been postponed, it was more successful than could have been hoped for.

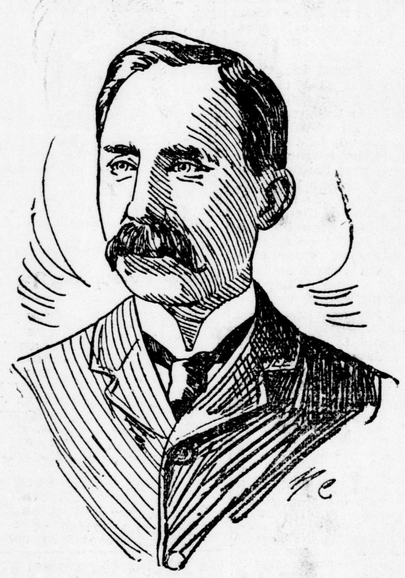

The numbers which were rendered by the band were given hearty encores, as were the solos sung by Miss Gertrude Brock and Miss Myra Pickard, and by Messrs. Arthur Garthwaite and Philip Barter.

Mr. W. Caven Barron conducted the band while it played "Leona," a beautiful composition of his own.

TREES ARE NOT TO BE CUT

Must Not Be Removed Unless Residents Give Permission.

This Is Rule of Tree Committee and Should Be Followed.

It has been reported to the city engineer's department that in at least one instance a man had attempted to cut down a tree in front of a citizen's residence in spite of the protests of his wife, who happened to be at home.

While the work of the tree cutters is a good one, and will be productive of a decided improvement in the appearance of the streets, which will be more noticeable each succeeding year, and while the city has the right to order trees taken out where necessary, the officials have all along been emphatic in the stand that, even where there is no doubt that the trees should come out, absolutely nothing should be done that would be contrary to the desires of the resident at the location concerned.

The notice which is left at the houses where trees are marked is explicit as to that point, and states that the trees which have been marked will not be taken down without the sanction of the resident, and doubt can only arise in a case, as the one mentioned, where no trees were marked, and consequently no notice left.

The committee who are engaged in the marking would be obliged if a greater number of persons who think they have some trees which should be taken out would send in their addresses, as such action will make their work considerably easier than at present.

'SAVED FROM AN UNTIMELY GRAVE"

Deputy County Clerk Anderson, of Burnett, Cal., Cured By Pe-ru-na, of Catarrh of the Lungs.

Mr. Andree Anderson.

A Remarkable Experience With Pe-ru-na After Being Given Up to Die.

BURNETT, CAL.—Mr. Andree Anderson, Deputy County Clerk, Louisabesbro County, Cal., ex-postmaster, writes:

"No one seeing me today would think that I was at death's door a few years ago with pulmonary troubles. I had frequent bleeding from my lungs, my stomach was out of order and when I came here for my health no one thought I would recover.

"My brother in the east had been cured of a very hard cold on the lungs by using Peruna and he wrote me and advised me to try it. I had little faith but thought I would give it a trial. I noticed a change in my appetite the very first week and found that I soon began to sleep well. Gradually I began to feel better and took on flesh. Recovery was slow for I was so far gone, but after seven months' steady use of Peruna I was my old self once more.

"I now weigh 173 pounds, am in fine health and spirit and have been a well man for two years, thanks to Peruna It certainly saved me from an untimely grave." — Andree Anderson.

A Congressman's Letter.

Hon. J. H. Huling, ex-member of congress from West Virginia, writes: "Peruna as a cure for catarrh and a tonic of most serviceable excellence is beyond all question and has been proven by many of my friends who have been benefited by its use."—J. H. Huling, P.O. address, Charleston, West Virginia.

Consumption Often Caused by Catarrh.

Very few understand thoroughly that consumption is caused by catarrh. It may have begun as catarrh of the head or throat. It silently and gradually creeps down the bronchial tubes to the lungs. After the catarrh has reached the lungs, it sets up the disease known as consumption.

Peruna is not recommended as an infallible cure for consumption. It is not likely that any remedy will cure consumption after the disease is fully established, but Peruna will cure catarrh. It will cure catarrh when it is located in the throat. It will cure catarrh after it has reached the lungs, if it is not put off too long.

Many cases of catarrh of the lungs that have been pronounced consumption and given up to die are cured by Peruna. This happens every day. Like Mr. Anderson, of California, many people have been thought to be past recovery and found in Peruna a permanent cure. There are a great many people today who are singing the praises of Peruna that would have been in their graves many years ago had they not discovered Peruna in time to rescue them.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:

Dear Doctor: I desire to express to you my sincere thanks for the interest you have shown in my case, and for the timely aid and advice which has effected a cure of as bad a case of consumption as could be well imagined.

"Peruna and Manalin have done what thirteen of the best physicians in the country have failed to do. For more than three years I doctored for consumption, and spent thirteen weeks in a Pulmonary Sanitarium at Milwaukee, Wis., but finding myself growing worse, as a last resort I came west where I was bedfast for many weeks, and the physicians whom my husband called gave no hope, but said, 'She cannot possibly live more than a few days.' But thanks to Peruna, I fooled them all.

"In an incredibly short time after I began taking Peruna the hemorrhages stopped. I began to mend slowly at first, but the improvement became more marked, and now I can truthfully say that there is not the slightest trace of my old complaint.

"I would have written you a long time ago, but have purposely waited to see if the effect was lasting; and in conclusion I would say, God bless you and keep you with us that you may go on with your work of mercy for many years to come."—Mrs. M. A. Close, Cheyenne, Wyo.

"P.S.—I am going to visit friends in Wisconsin who never expected to see me alive again."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, president of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Will Stand the Most Critical Examination

We know pretty well the Overcoats that are sold in London, Hamilton and Toronto, and we don't know of any that are more worthy than our own, while there are thousands that look well enough on the outside, but when you examine the canvas and haircloth, and wadding that go on the inside and can't be easily seen, you find the reason for our make being so satisfactory, especially as to shape-retaining qualities. We have the long, loose Gray Coats, in Harris Frieze, Scotch Cheviot, Rockford Frieze and Coronation Tweeds. Prices according to quality, from
