Shelled a Negro Town.

London, Feb. 19. - Information has been received here that the French shelled the negro town Miatoume, near Timbuctoo, and killed 100 of its occupants. None of the French force was hurt.

Hunting for Anarchists.

PARIS, Feb. 19 .- Acting under orders from the Ministry of the Interior the police throughout France are engaged to-day in making raids upon Anarchists. A large number of arrests have been made, among them being Sebastian Faure.

Kaiser and Prince.

BERLIN, Feb. 19. - Emperor William visited Bismarck to-day. The dinner in Prince Bismarck's castle at Friederichsrhue the eleventh course had been served the Prince proposed the toast to the Emperor, | nations. who responded cordially. Each spoke only a few words.

Vigorous Growth of Vegetarianism. LONDON, Feb. 19 .- The London Vegetarian Society has just issued an ambitious report, in which it is declared that the marvelous growth of vegetarianism is conamong the new recruits. There will be some dismay among the membership, however, over the proposition to put tea, coffee and salt also on the black list.

Province of Quebec bonds, which raised in their favor by either a Tory or will probably be shortly put on the London market by the Coates. Coates & Son say that the terms obtained by the Quebec Government show a marked advance on those obtainable last year.

Government Pawnbroking.

Paris, Feb. 19 .- The Government has a monopoly of pawabroking in France, the institution being called Mont de Piete. The capital is not supplied by the State, but it is borrowed on the national credit by issuing bonds. The director has just borrowed $12,000,000 for use during 1894. The money is advanced on all manner of security, not less than 60 per cent. of the value is loaned, and the rate of interest is far less than American small usurers charge.

Austrian Justice (?).

LONDON, Feb. 19 .- During the cholera seare in Vienna some months ago a rule was made forbidding persons visiting restaurants to squeeze small rolls on the tables to test their freshness. One day an army captain went to one table after another, handling the bread before he selected a roll. A master baker, also a visitor, spoke to him about it. The captain gave a haughty answer, waited for the baker outside and stabbed him. The victim died instantly. The baker's death caused a great commotion. The funeral was attended by many thousands, and proved that the people's sympathies were with him. Now the officer has been sentenced to six months' arrest in barracks, and he will be permitted to keep his rank when he has finished his term. One cannot help wondering what the sentence might have a had the baker stabbed the officer.

Cardinal Manning's Dying Message. London, Feb. 19. - When Cardinal Manning was dying three years ago he spoke a few words for posterity into a phonograph which was kept carefully preserved till yesterday by Cardinal Vaughan. A small company of distinguished persons, including Ambassador Bayard, met yestorday on the invitation of the cardinal at the arch bishop's residence to listen to this revival of a voice that is still. The voice was very distinct and clear. There were long pauses between the words. The message was not in itself of great import, beyond showing the predominant thought in the mind of a man just before death. It follows: "To All Who May Come After Me: I hope that no word of mine, written or spoken in my life, will be found to have done harm to anyone after I am dead.

"HENRY EDWARD MANNING, "Cardinal Archbishop." The Obstructive Lords.

LONDON, Feb. 19 .- The House of Lords considered this evening the changes made by the House of Commons in the Employers' Liability Bill.

When the bill went back to the House of Commons Henry Cobb proposed as a compromise that the workingmen having special agreements with their employers concerning accident insurance be exempted from the operations of the bill.

This compromise was rejected in the House of Lords this evening by a vote of 137 to 23. The House also reaffirmed the Earl of Dudley's amendment that the workingmen might exempt themselves by special contract.

This action of the Upper House means that the measure must be abandoned.

England's "Pull" on the Ameer. London, Feb. 19 .- The Ameer of Aighanistan, who in consideration of a big annual subsidy and frequent lavish presents is England's very good friend and trusty ally discovered in another small hotel at 67 against Russian designs in India, is once Fanderg street, Martin. It is believed and more debating whether it is safe to leave bis country a few months, in order to pay a visit to Queen Victoria. It is the English | caused the outrage at the first mentioned

Abdur Rahman knows better and fears to leave his devoted subjects to themselves or to expose them to the probable temptations of Russian agents even temporarily. The truth is that the British Government shares the Ameer's distrust and is by no means anxious to see his Highness in England. Negotiations, therefore, are proceeding to secure in his stead a visit from his two sons, Prince Habbibulla and Prince Mahomed Omar, said to be smart young fellows. At present the princes are devoted to each other, but they will not be Afghans if, when their respected father dies, they do not have a fierce fight for the succession. Then will come Russia's opportunity, as England knows very well.

Not Afraid of Anarchists.

LONDON, Feb. 19 .- In the House of Commons to-day Herbert Asquith, the Home Secretary, replying to questions on the subject of Anarchists, said that in most European nations the Government possessed powers to expel the dangerous persons that were not given under the constitution of England.

Through the exercise of this power on the part of the executives referred to objectionable characters frequently came to England without notice being given to the British Government by the authorities of the country from which those characters were expelled.

The Government was not of opinion that any necessity had arisen to change the law of Great Britain, which is sufficient for her own protection and for the due performance of her international duties. (Cries of "Hear, hear.") The Government, Mr. Asquith further said, was anxious to co-operate in practical measures dealing with Anarchists and similar enemies of society. Inter-national efforts may most fruitfully be taken, not through the exten-sion of the power of expulsion, but by a more constant interchange of inwas informal. All the guests enjoyed ani- formation and combined protective and mated conversation with their host. After punitive action between the Governments and police authorities of the different

Is a British Revolution Impending? Ballard Smith cables from London to the New York World: Three momentous events have marked English politics during the past week. The action of the bishops spicuous to the most indifferent. Some in the House of Lords in vigorously suptitled and other prominent names are porting an amendment which would practically force parish councils to meet in the village tap-room must go very far in aid of the rapidly-growing movement for the disestablishment of the State Church.

The second notable event is the practical repudiation of Lord Salisbury's leadership London, Feb. 19.—The arrangements by his own party in the House of Commons. Unionist member. It is difficult to believe that his prestige can survive such a blow. The third, and perhaps the most important event of all, is the editorial in the Chronicle practically calling upon Mr. Gladstone to resign the leadership, unless he will at once and effectually commit the Liberal party to the movement for "ending" the House of Lords, which the Chronicle holds to be the question now transcendng all other issues in the necessity for immediate settlement. This newspaper is the unquestioned mouthpiec eof the Radical and largest wing of the Liberal party, and the two most prominent members of the Gladstone Government, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Herbert Asquith, Secretary of State for the Home Department, are the leaders

It is generally accepted as a fact that Mr. Gladstone's sympathy, or, perhaps, his better political judgment, is not in favor of this movement against the Upper House, at least in the present condition of the popular feeling. Of course, neither a newspaper nor a section of his party could force Mr. Gladstone to resign, failing a minority vote in the Commons; but that minority vote, it must be remembered. could at any time be effected by mere abstention from voting by 40, or even fewer, Radical members. The tone of the Chronicle's leader is unmistakably that dissolution is preferable to the putting aside of what it declares is the paramount issue of the day. We may, indeed, be upon the verge of a great political revolution in England, compared with which the home rule conflict was but a minor matter. Anarchist Paper Seized.

Paris, Feb. 20.—The police here raided the office of the Review Libertaire, an Anarchist periodical, yesterday, and seized an edition of 2,000. This edition, which was to have been sent out to-day, contained an article glorifying Emile Henry, who threw the bomb in the cafe of the Hotel Terminus, and violently denouncing the Government and the police.

Paris Again Bomb-Stricken! Paris, Feb. 20 .-- A bomb exploded at about 4 o'clock this morning in a small hotel, No 69 Rue St. Jacques. The proprietress of the place, a woman named Calabresi, and two lodgers were injured. Yesterday afternoon two strangers, one of whom gave his name as Rairique, inquired for apartments in the hotel. They got them on the second floor. They went away, saying they would be back in the evening. She examined the room, and was alarmed to find a bomb on the shelf. She ran for the police. As they entered the room there was a terrific explosion which made a wreck of the room and everything in it. Every window pane in the house was blown in atoms. The landlady and the two lodgers with her were badly injured. Had they had time to enter the room they would have been killed. Notwithstanding the early hour the news of the outrage spread, and the streets in the vicinity were soon crowded with people. The greatest excitement prevailed. No clue to the miscreants. The excitement was added to when it was ascertained this forenoon that an attempt had been made to blow up or at least injure the buildings of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on the Quai main object, Mr. Joly said, D'Orsay. A metal tube was found lying at to give his audience some the entrance of the Foreign Office, which it of the general treatment accorded was suspected was loaded with dynamite. The tube was turned over to the police, who will have its contents examined. A bomb similar to the one that exploded in the hotel at No. 69 Rue St. Jacques was all the evidence thus far secured points to the conclusion that the two men who Queen Victoria's Departure for the Protestant resident in Quebec, there was no Continent.

An Opponent of Gladstone on His Present Condition and Future.

[Edmund Yates' Dispatch.] LONDON, Feb. 20.—Arrangements for the Queen's journey to Florence have all been altered, and the Cherbourg-Mont Cenis route has been given up. The Queen will leave Windsor at about o'clock on Monday, March 19, for Port Victoria. She will drive and sleep on board the yacht, which is to start about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning to Flushing, where the royal party will take luncheon and then proceed by special train to Cologne, Basle, Lucerne, Milan and Bologne and Florence, where the Queen is to be received late in the afternoon and a member of the village council, died of Thursday, March 22. It is possible that the Empress Frederick may prolong her stay in England so as to travel with the Queen to Florence, as she intends to be in Rome at Easter, but nothing has yet been settled. It is not true that the Queen is going to visit the Empress at her seat near Cronberg, as her Majesty will travel direct from Flushing to Florence, and on the way home she is to stop only at Cobourg.

ROYALTIES AND THE DRAWING-ROOM. The announcement which has appeared in the papers that the Duchess of York would be present at the first drawing-room is absurd, for members of the Royal family are never publicly presented to the Queen. The royals all assemble by a quarter to three in the sovereign's private reception room, the walls of which are covered with cautiful miniatures of great historical interest, and when the Queen arrives they walk in procession to the throne room, conducted by the great officers and members of the household in waiting.

A PETTY THRONE CRISIS. There is now every reason to believe that in spite of interested denials the Brunswick succession question has at last entered a final and satisfactory stage. The Duke of Cumberland has so frequently asserted his unbending attitude to this question that he could scarcely be expected to eat his own words and accept the terms of Prussia. The acceptance of these terms and the ascension of the throne of Brunswick would be regarded at Berlin for various personal and political reasons, as a great misfortune. At he same time the known, is very desirous to allow the Dutchy to revert to the Guelphs, and so it is believed the Duke of Cumberland has agreed to waive his own rights of succession in favor of his eldest son, who is only 13, but will attain his majority in five years. Such, at least, is the course of policy at

THE GRAND OLD MAN. Mr. Gladstone may or may not resign office before the year is out, but this much is certain, he will even more than heretofore be absent from Parliament. He has come back with signs of increasing age thick upon him. He does not look at all well and his shortness of sight and hearing are more painfully palpable than they ever have been. Last week he was rarely in the House after dinner, and they say he does not intend to be in his place at night except on special reasons. If it were not for the sake of acting as a figurehead there is little question that he would resign immediately. He cannot hope to see home rule passed, and it is his final political ambition to do so. BADLY LOADED CANONS.

The agricultural depression has reduced the revenue of the Chapter of York so considerably that each canon has been cut down from £720 a year to £400. THE NEW YACHT.

Arthur Kennard's beautiful new yacht Christabel, which was designed by G. M. Watson, has just been taken by the German Emperor for three months for a cruise in the Mediterranean. The yacht, which was taken with her skipper and crew, leaves for Fiume as soon as she can be got ready. GETTING BETTER.

The improvement in the condition of Lord Hamilton, of Dalzeil, continues, and he is now able to leave his bed for some hours daily. Unless there should be a return of unfavorable symptoms, it is hoped Lord Hamilton may be removed to the seaside in the course of a few weeks.

Toronto, Feb. 19.—Hon. H. G. Joly de Lotbiniere, ex-Premier of Quebec, was the center of attraction at a very large gathering held to-night under the auspices of the Young Liberal Club of Toronto in the Academy of Music. Mr. Frank Pedley, president of the club, occupied the chair. and Sir Oliver Mowat and several members of his Cabinet were present. Mr. Joly made the only speech of any length during the evening, though when he sat down there were various short congratulatory and complimentary speeches from Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. John Dryden, Hon. J. M. Gibson and

Mr. Jos. Tait, M. P. P. for Toronto. Mr. Joly's reception was of a most cordial character. His speech was of a non-political character and closely followed by the audience. He did not come, however, specially representing the views of the Protestant minority, or representing any political or religious party. He spoke only for himself. He divided his remarks into three heads. First the treatment of the Protestant a visit to Queen Victoria. Gets Through Its Business in a Very Brief Session.

Mr. Joly de Lotbiniere Entertained in the Speaker's Chamber.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) TORONTO, Feb. 19. - The Legislature sat for fifteen minutes this afternoon. Routiue business alone was transacted. At a session of the House, such as that of to-day, when presenting petitions, laying returns upon the table and introducing bills for the first time, constitute the only items included in the menu, the pages have an unwonted opportunity of demonstrating the reason for their existence. About a dozen of them are on the staff, all wearing natty Eaton jackets, and the members, at such a time, keep every one of them-hustling. The public accounts will be placed before the House of Thursday. Mr. Harcourt is expected to make his budget speech next Tuesday. The Ontario Government this afternoon at I o'clock entertained Hop. Mr. Joly de Lotbiniere to a luncheon in the Speaker's chamber. Sir Oliver Mowat presided. QUEER LORD CREWE.

British Nobleman, but a "Crank" of the First Magnitude.

Eccentricities Both Beiere and Aiter Breakiast.

London, Feb. 20 .- A very extraordinary personage passed away recently, when Lord Crewe, of Crewe Hall, Cheshire, died. To say that he was eccentric is to mildly describe one of the oddest of human beings. An American would have certainly classed him among the "cranks" or "freaks," and would not have been entirely wrong in so doing.

In town, if invited to dinner, the guests were received in a very large drawing-room, not play again in America for many months lighted by two candles placed on a center the dinner party, and at that moment was having a peaceful slumber up-stairs or at his club.

After a weary wait Lord Crewe would at last appear with an orchid in every buttonhole, shake hands with his friends, blow out the two candles and lead the way to the dining-room, where a first-rate dinner restored the guests to comparative good bumor.

The lady honored by being taken down by the host had certainly a good opportunity of displaying the tact of her sex, as Lord Crewe would never speak to her unless she asked him a question.

If Lord Crewe was a guest himself he generally arrived late, and could not be induced to part with his hat, a silk one, brushed the wrong way. After dinner, on returning to the drawing-room, he settled himself on a chair or sofa and fellasleep for the rest of the evening, until the host or butler informed him that all but he had departed. There is a beautiful chapel at Crewe, and a daily service was performed there by the private chaplain. The men were shown to seats in the body of the chapel, where the household servants, male and female, also appeared. Ladies were alloted seats in the gallery, the host taking up his position in the same vantage ground, thus being able to detect those who did not answer to the early call to prayer, and to frown upon the luckless female who, not having been warned, appeared with her head uncovered. Breakfast, served in the gallery, a magnificent room, was spread on four or five small tables, but, before sitting down, the game of what a facetious clergyman called "fishponds" was commenced. The company, consisting of about 30 persons, stood in a bunch on one side of the room, while Lord Crewe singled out of the group, by pointing his finger at him, each person whom he considered worthy to breakfast at his table. After these favored ones were "fished out," those left formed parties among themselves to occupy the remaining tables. Fires were never allowed in the grates of Crewe until a certain date in the autumn, no matter what the weather. I remember Lord Houghton causing a good deal of concealed merriment by appearing at dinner in a fur-lined overcoat and skull cap "to keep out the cold," the time for fires not having arrived. The true cause of poor Lord Crewe's eccentricities was the awful shock he sustained when a boy at Eton by his tutor committing suicide in his presence. He was a good-hearted, charitable man, just and lenient to his tenants. He loved Mr. Gladstone and detested the Crewe iron works. He never married, although he was once proposed to and declined, after having read a lectute to the would-be Lady Crewe

POLITICAL POINTS.

North Brant Liberals Renominate SUIT. James Somerville, M.P., for the Commons.

About 100 of the leading men of the riding were present as duly elected delegates. The presdent, Dr. F. Patten, presided. When nominations wire called for the only name presented was that of James Somerville, M.P., who has represented the riding for the last three parliaments.

In accepting the honor for the fourth time, Mr. Somerville made a rattling speech, declaring for tariff reform and full Liberal platform.

Short addresses also made by Hon. Jas. Young and Dr. Lundy, of Galt, A. Pat-tullo, of Woodstock, and others. Resolutions were also passed expressing confidence in the Liberal leaders, denouncing the extravagance and corruption of the Dominion Government, and demanding a tarig for revenue only.

QUEEN Elizabeth used to carry about with her, suspended to a chain of pure gold, a book called "The Golden Manual of Prayer," a dainty volume of 300 pages bound in "hammered virgin gold." SAVED JUST IN TIME!

Thrilling Ice Bridge Incident at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 19 .- What came near being a fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the Canadian end of the ice bridge. Near the boat pier was a small shanty standing on the ice and containing a variety stock. The place was run by James Le Blend and his 12-year-old son was in charge. Suddenly the ice on which the shanty rested was thrown up in a mass and scattered, the pressure of the water causing it to boil up like a geyser. In an instant the shanty, its contents and the boy were in the water. The little fellow struck out bravely for solid ice. As the detached pieces rapidly filled in the new place broken by the undercurrent he crawled up on them, only to fall into the water again. A stranger was finally able to reach the lad and draw him, exhausted and nearly unconscious, on to the firm ice. He was carried to his home, at the foot of the Maid of the Mist roadway. It is a miracle that more did not share the same fate or worse, for fully a score of women and children were standing about the spot five minutes before. They were warned to move away and did so just in time.

The Sting Within.

It is said there is a rankling thorn in every heart, and yet that none would exchange their own for that of another. Be that as it may, the sting arising from the heart of a corn is real enough, and in this land of tight boots a very common complaint also. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is a never failing remedy for this kind of heartache, as you can easily prove it afflicted. Cheap, sure, painless. Try the genuine and use no other. WRONGED WOMEN.

Thousands Are Kept on in Suffering, and Many Die Owing to False Treatment.

Paine's Celery Compound is Woman's Best Friend.

A WINNIPEG LADY CURED.

It is a sad, melancholy and gloomy fact that so many women are wronged when sick and suffering. Thousands are kept on beds of languishing owing to false treatment, and we are inclined to believe that Milton thought of this class of dying women when he said:

The angelic guards ascended, mute and sad. The common-sense treatment of to-day for weak, run-down and suffering woman is Paine's Celery Compound, nature's true restorer. This marvelous remedy is spoken of in every quarter of Canada, and men and women of all ranks and conditions are using it and finding a new life. It is folly to adopt any other mode of treatment when Paine's Celery Compound is doing such

A glorious example of the curing powers of the great compound comes from Winnipeg, Man. Mrs. H. Harbour writes as follows for the benefit of all women: "It is with great pleasure that I write to thank you for your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. A month ago I was very sick and happened to see one of your publications, in which I read of others being cured. I concluded to try Paine's Celery Compound myself, and I now thank God for the wonders it accomplished for me. I was suffering from heart disease, kidney trouble and general weakness, and some days was not able to stand without experiencing great pain; my appetite was also very poor. Since I used the Com-pound I am able to get about the house and work, and can now eat anything put

There was a good-sized crowd present besides Crown Attorney Magee, Messrs.

The charge against Col. Wheate of practicing medicine in direct contravention of the Ontario Medical Act was first ticket nor check, but he showed great in-dignation, saying: "I have had trouble like Toothe pleaded guilty, and a fine of $25 and costs was imposed and promptly paid.

Mr. Magee then asked that the charge of false pretenses be then proceeded with, but Mr. Toothe stated that he appeared for a party which had not heretofore represented. It was the company which had the sole right to manufacture the medicine. He asked that an adjournment be made for another week. Mr. Magee said that he could not recognize the company at all. The charge was not in regard to medicine, but one of fraud. Counsel for plaintiff had no objection to the pos'ponement providing that the bail was renewed. After a time an agreement was reached and bailed furnished for Col. Wheate. Col. Meagher was given time in which to secure bondsmen.

Our contemporary certainly interprets our views correctly. We want to see the farce at an end, so do the farmers, the large majority of the wage-earners and independent citizens of every class. But nothing short of annihilation as a legislatwhile the show is on the company might as | ing force. The end may be delayed, but well be kept at its full strength.

-High tax newspapers laud manufacturers when they go to Ottawa and ask for have to come if the Lords do not resile from special taxation privileges; but they have nothing but contempt for farmers when they meet in their institutes and discuss the bad effects of "protective" tariffs. The monopolists subscribe handsomely to the election funds that have kept the present Administration in power at Ottawa; the farmers are not able to contribute. Hence the difference in the treatment of the two

-A correspondent informs us that he paid 30 cents duty on a Christmas card sent to him from England, and 30 cents duty on some old music from the same place. Such treatment of recent arrivals has most damaging effect upon immigration. There will be no change for the better while the "protectionist" bosses are allowed to dictate the public policy. We need an independent government at Ottawa, bound to get rid of all taxation meanness, and to collect no more taxes than are necessary to economically conduct the business of law-making and law-

-The Conservative Association of Stormont have adopted a resolution denouncing the P. P. A., while at the same time the Conservative Association in Lincoln have indorsed and adopted the P. P. A. candidate for the Legislature. Can Sir John Thompson do nothing to reconcile these members of his happy family?-[Ottawa Free Press.

Our contemporary should know that the policy of the opponents of Sir Oliver is "double-back-jointed." Where there are few Catholics it is "P. P. A." up to the hilt: where, as in Stormont, the Catholic population is large, it is the strongest opposition to the "P. P. A." tactics! How different from the policy of the veterar. Ontario Premier. His platform is the same no matter in what portion of the Province it is laid down-fair play, equal rights, strict observance of the constitution, and good government for all.

-The British ballot, which is used in all Ontario elections, municipal and provincial, is caviled at by some opponents of the Ontario Government. But neither in Great Britain nor in Ontario has it ever been truthfully alleged that the ballot is not a perfectly fair one. The British authorities recognize the importance, when election trials take place, of being able to let the court separate fraudulent from good votes. The Ontario legislators entertain the same view. But until such time as the fudges so decree, it is impossible for anyone to compare the ballots polled in any election. The British and Canadian

WHERE SEAT-STEALERS ARE SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

At New York John Y. McKane has been found guilty of stuffing the voters' lists, and will have to stay in Sing Sing Penitentiary for a long term of years. His assistants in the seat steal will also sojourn in jail for various terms.

Over the border neither of the political parties will stand any tampering with the voters' list or the ballot box. Whether a man is a judge or a common ward politician, it is all the same to public opinion; and John Y. McKane, the Gravesend voters' list stuffer, is as ardently condemned by his former political friends as by his enemies. Our neighbors regard the despicable fellow who conspires to give his friend or patron a seat to which he has not been elected as a pariah that deserves no consideration at the hands of his fellows, hence the exemplary punishment extended to this seat stealer. No newspaper man takes his part, or argues that the seat being stolen bygones should be bygones. No one suggests that his exposure should be avoided because it may cause "bad feelings." All are agreed that seat stealing cannot be too severely condemned and punished, the more so when the culprit is a man of pretentious virtue, and who takes advantage of his position to rob over one-half of his fellow citizens of their dearest rights as

HOW THE LORDS CAN BE ENDED. In 1832 the Duke of Wellington proved a candid friend of the British House of Lords when he advised them to desist making further resistance to the will of the people as contained in the famous Reform Bill. The Duke of Devonshire, the Dissident-Liberal follower of Lord Salisbury, is now figuring in a similar role with regard to the opposition of the hereditary chamber to certain provisions in the Parish Councils Bill and the Employers' Liability Bill. That the Duke of Devonshire has good reasons for this cautious regard for the privileges of himself and brother peers is shown by the fact that the Dissident-Liberals in the House of Commons have sided with Mr. Gladstone's followers in refusing to accept the amendments made by the House of Lords to these important measures.

Should these Conservative privileged ones persist in thwarting the decrees of the chosen representatives of the people, it has been made clear that their fate will be after the declarations of Mr. Gladstone's confreres in the Government, at Ports mouth and elsewhere, the end will soon the untenable position they have taken up How is the blotting out to take place ? The British constitution is made up of a bundle of precedents. It is not a written instrument like the British North American Act, under which we are ruled, which may be altered by the Imperial Parliament, with the consent of all the ties to it, through petition from the minion Parliament. The unwritten British constitution is amended every time that an act of Parliament is passed, and since the passage of the Reform Bill in 1832, the House of Commons has been regarded as the final arbiter in that regard. Indeed, as long ago as the time of the Long Parliament, the House of Commons pronounced the House of Lords a useless and obstructive body. and refused longer to acknowledge its existence. It would be unconstitutional for the House of Commons to so declare at this day; it would be a revolutionary move in the eyes of the law, but who is there in England that would side with the Lords against the House of Commons in such a

All that the House of Commons needs to do is to go to the people with a proposal to abolish the hereditary chamber, and have it indorsed by a substantial majority. Then the House of Commons would pass a resolution refusing to send up any bills to the Lords, and ordering the Speaker to submit all measures passed by the popular chamber to the Crown. What would the Crown do about it? Refuse to accept the mandate of the people? We hardly think so. If it did it might extend the struggle to endanger its own existence, and the Crown is not likely to act with so little foresight. The opposition of the Crown would bring about the suspension of the civil list. and the appropriation for sustaining the army and navy provided for by the annual mutiny bill, which must come from the elected House. In such a struggle, we would not expect the Crown to tie up its fortunes with a moribund institution, which has been voted out of existence by the populace; if it did so, it would endanger its very existence, whereas by bowing to the national decree it would add to its prestige and popularity. Thus a decisive vote at the ballot box will end the House of Lords in spite of all precedents, red-tape, and kickings of the men shorn of privileges that are anomalous in this age of democratic

-Our city contemporary still argues that the old system of controlling the licenses by means of the ward politicians should be reverted to. That dog is too dead to be galvanized into life. The discussion of ballot is absolutely secret until well- this long settled matter at this stage of founded allegations of fraud are made in a the temperance question is a mere waste

HOW LIBEL SUITS ARISE. Most of the libel suits of the present day grow out of the publication of anonymous letters by newspapers. This is another ceason why our contemporaries who value their own peace of mind and desire to avoid vexatious and ill-founded actions, should ask every writer to have the courage necessary to put his name at the foot of his con-

KEEP IT OUT OF CANADA. On Saturday the committee on agriculture of the United States House of Representatives had laid before it some remarkable statements in favor of the proposed national egislation to exterminate the Russian thistle. It was strongly denied that farmers regard the weed as a blessing because sheep eat it. Gov. Shortridge, of North Dakota, said that the weed had been brought in by emigrants a few years ago, and had spread until it covers 70,000 square miles. It grew to a height of three feet, completely choking out grain. Unless war could be successfully waged against this weed many farmers would be compelled to abandon their lands entirely. State legislation had been directed against it for its destruction by town and county agencies, but this proved insufficient. He advocated a liberal appropriation from Congress. A letter was read from A. H. Mohler, superintendent of the Great Northern Railroad. He wrote: "Unless united action is taken by the farmers in different communities and the railroads, the damage to the land will be infinitely greater than anv of the worst grasshopper plagues these districts have ever experienced." Farmers were discouraged because the weed completely choked the growth of grain. Its spread has been within three years, and there was danger of further extension to Minnesota and North Dakota by shipments of grain. Another letter from Gov. Sheldon, of South Dakota, stated Chills and Fever, Fever and that the weed has had lodgment in the southern counties of the State for years, and was just making its appearance in Northern Dakota, where the people were much alarmed. He had been surprised to learn that some of the people preferred the Russian thistle to foxtail grass. In answer to questions from Representative Simpson. the Governor stated that 21,000,000 acres of the 25,000,000 of land in North Dakota belongs to the Government. Russian agricultural officers had told him that large tracts of land in Russia had been absolutely abandoned because of the weed.

From these statements it is made evident that the weed is extending its ravages to perilously near the borders of Manitoba. It is to be hoped that every effort will be made to keep it outside this country. Prevention is always easier than cure.

-Governor McKinley, of Ohio, has nominated himself for the Presidency of 1896. He may live to discover that he has been too previous. Only one President in a dozen starts in to work for his election two years ahead of time, Hayes, Garfield and Harrison were all "dark horses."

AS WAS TO BE EXPECTED.

We understand that the Catholics of Petrolea have decided to establish one or more separate schools in that town. This has been forced upon the Catholics of the town by the fact that, since the visit of Mrs. Shepherd, their children attending the public schools have been subjected to insults and petty persecutions which have been intolerable, and to avoid this they will withdraw from the public schools and organize schools of their own. Heretofore the children have grown up together in friendly companionship and the minority were content with the situation. All this has been changed by the mischievous agi tation set on foot by political firebrands and fanned into fury by the falsehoods of an abandoned woman, who lives on the credulity and excitability of her dupes.

HOCKEY.

BEATEN BY AYR. At the Princess Rink last night the London and Ayr hockey clubs played off in the finals for the championship of the western district before a crowd numbering between 300 and 400 people. It was 8 o'clock when the C. P. R. train bearing the visitors pulled into the station, and before proceeding to the rink they were driven to their hotel. It was 8:30 p.m. when the first player on the Ayr team-Goldie-put in an appearance on the ice. Goldie is about 6 feet 2 inches and weighs probably 190 pounds, and when the spectators caught sight of him they thought the home team's chances were pretty slim. When Mr. Hume Cronyn (the referee) blew the whistle for play all started out to win. The visitors had everything their own way for a few minutes, but could not succeed in getting the puck past J. Brown, who played a faultless game. Lind, by good passing, succeeded in scoring the first goal, and when he did so the cuthusiasm of the audience knew no bounds. Ayr's bers. turn came next, and with good play by Goldie and R. Elliott, they put the puck through the goal. Then followed in quick succession a goal for London and another for Ayr, and half time being nearly up the home team made a spurt and scored another goal, thus leaving the score 3 to 2 in favor of London.

The second half was hardly as exciting as the first, Lind securing the only goal for London, while before the half hour was up Ayr managed to tie the score by getting two goals. This necessitated another ten minutes' play, Ayr proving the better team and securing the winning goal amidst a round of applause. Following were the teams:

No Vote on the License Reduction Bylaw,

Because Aldermen Left the Board Without a Quorum,

Although Everyone Was in His Place During the Evening.

The Port Stanley Railway Appropriation Cut Down From $1:5,000 to $110,000-No Exemption for the Cold Storage Concerns-Proposal to Revert to the Old Method of Paying Taxes Voted Down.

Last night's meeting of the City Council attracted a large attendance of the element interested in the liquor business, and to judge from the number present and remarks that dropped, something was "brewing," It was just 11:25 when the "brew" materialized to the evident satisfaction of the element mentioned.

All the members were present at one stage of the proceedings, but there was a manifest desire on the part of some to go visiting around the halls and the corridors. Several times members had to be called in so that the business of the evening could proceed.

When the head "bylaws" was reached there was just a quorum present-10 members. A couple of financial measures were dealt with, while the crowd in the hall and ante-rooms grew more and more interested, and almost pressed themselves into the council chamber, Then City Clerk Kingston went on to read the title of the bylaw dealing with the proposed reduction of the number of liquor licenses. As he did so Ald. Robt. Carrothers, who had been sitting talking with Ald. Joseph Judd, got up hurriedly and made a beeline through the crowd that surrounded the chamber, making straight

"There's no quorum" cried several mem-And so the matter was balked.

Ald. Parnell moved that the names of those present be recorded on the minutes and printed in the daily papers as the statute provided.

Ald. Judd-I don't think the statute provides for any such thing. Ald. O'Meara-If I was Ald. Judd I would walk out like the rest of them.

The record showed the following alder-

John Heaman. Stephen O'Meara, J. W. Jones, Wm. Heaman. Jas. Fitzgerald. Maurice Scarrow, John Nutkins, Joseph Judd, Ald. Parnell.

Chas. Taylor, J. H. Pritchard, R. A. Carrothers, W. C. Coo, Thos. Jones, Joshua Garratt, H. Dreaney, F. J. Fitzgerald,

G. Shaw. The bylaw should have been passed last night, as the Liquor License Act requires that the commissioners be notified of any proposed change in the number of licenses petition from James Slater et al. re cold-March 1. It is understood that a special meeting of the council will be called port progress on the petitions of Parke & to deal with the matter.

The Hospital Trust handed in their estimates for the current year, placing the figures at $7,500. The Free Library Board also asked for $7,450.

THE CITY OF LONDON BILL. The city solicitor was present to lay before the council the proposed city of London bill to borrow money by debenture and for other legislative power. The third clause dealt with brought up the amount to be borrowed for waterworks expendi-

Mr. Meredith said that by law the clause would have to be submitted to a vote of the people. Ald. Parnell objected to the commissioners having power to go ahead and spend the amount out of their revenue when the bylaw might be defeated at the polls.

Ald. Scarrow moved that the clause be struck out entirely, and Ald. Parnell sec-

Ald. J. W. Jones objected to a slip-shod way of doing business. He did not want the commissioners to be placed in the same position as last year, and believed they should be granted the amount. Ald. O'Meara thought the object worthy life-size India ink portrait free to all cash but the amount large. He moved in purchasers of $10. Come and get one at amendment that only $25,000 be asked for. Ald. Taylor seconded. Ald. Heaman moved in further amendment that the clause pass. Ald. Pritchard

On the division the last motion carried, and the full amount of $50,000 will be inserted in the bill. The other motions were only supported by their movers and sec-

Clauses 4 dealt with the amount to be borrowed for renewal of wooden Port Stanley railroad bridges. Ald. Judd and Ald. Shaw moved that the amount be placed at $135,000. Ald. O'Meara and J. W. Jones wanted the amount placed at $110,000, as based on Engineer Jennings' report, and an amendment to that effect carried, the original motion being defended only by its pro-

Clause 8 asked for power to exempt J. W. Cook's cold storage building. Ald. Judd read the following clause of No. 1 committee's report dealing with the

"That the exemptions from taxation on the proposed cold storage warehouses of Messrs. Hodgson Bres. and J. W. Cook be referred back to the council with the information that the C. P. R. company are constructing the buildings on its property west of Richmond street, and that J. W. Cook has leased the same from the railway company and will be responsible for the taxes if the exemption is not confirmed, and that J. W. Cook's storage business will be entirely independent of that proposed by Messrs. Hodgson Bros." Mr. Judd further read a petition signed by Messrs. Slater, Tanton, Shuttleworth, Saunby and Pritchard, commission merchants, protesting against granting exemption on the grounds that they were in the same business and always paid their taxes. Ald. Parnell spoke against the exemp-tion and so did Ald. J. W. Jones.

The motion to strike out the clause carried on the following division: Yeas-Ald. Pritchard, Taylor, O'Meara, J. W. Jones, Coo, W. Heaman, Scarrow, Nutkins, Judd and Parnell-10. Nays-Ald. J. Heaman, Carrothers, T. Jones, Garratt, James Fitzgerald, Dreaney, F. J.

Fitzgerald and Shaw-8. The next clause was for a similar faver for Hodgson Bros., and met the same fate without any talk.

The bill as amended was then carried. COMMITTEE REPORTS. No. 3 committee's report was presented by Ald. Scarrow, chairman. It recom-and is the best Cough mended: 1. That the communication of Sold by W. T. Strong.

Henry Barnard re dog tags be filed. 2. That no action be taken on the communication of Jessie Simpson for permission to erect a frame addition to house on Hope street. 3. Referring back for action the communications of Chas. Maker and J. Doty for privilege of selling on market before the hour of 1 p.m. 4. Submitting the specifications for lighting the city with electric light for term of one, three, five or eight years. 5. That tenders be asked for for public weigh scales in No. 5 ward similar to contract made with the late weigh clerk, Henry Childs. 6. Progress on the communication of Daniel Bacon re value of lambs of R. Quick killed by dogs; Chas. McMillan, re damages for loss by fire, and petitions of John Kemp and W.

H. Claris for electric lights. The report was adopted without change.

NUMBER TWO COMMITTEE. Ald. Thos. Jones, chairman, read the report of the board of works. It recommended: 1. On communication of Henry Poole re damages for accident caused by alleged defective street, that Mr. Poole be allowed $10 in full of claim, without prejudice. 2. That the communication of A. Mountjoy for alterations in store be referred to your No. I committee. 3. That the communication of Isabella Allan, asking council to pay medical expenses incurred in consequence of a fall through alleged defective street, be filed. 4, That the construction of a tile drain on Waterloo street, to run 300 feet northerly from Dufferin avenue, be advertised as provided by Local Improvement Act. 5. That your committee be empowered to have 500 copies of its specifications for tenders for annual work and supplies printed. 6. Recommending that a stone crusher be purchased at an early date, so that it might be used in the approaching season's work. This it was said would ultimately save the city a large amount of money. The last clause was referred back and he report adopted as amended.

NUMBER ONE COMMITTEE. Ald. Judd (chairman) read No. 1 committee's account which recommended: 1. The passage of accounts amounting to $6,538 58. 2. On the petition of Wm. Slater et al., re exemption on account of premises being used as a place of worship, your committee begs to submit guarantee of landlord as requested by the council. 3. That the clerk be instructed to acknowledge receipt of letter from J. J. Hawkins, stating that we are not in receipt of his favor of the 22nd referred to, and, therefore, require further information to understand Mr. Hawkins' communication. 4. That the communication of W. D. Buckle, secretary, re salaries, be filed for reference. 5. That the petition of Benj. A. Hubbert and H. J. Gorman re remission of statute labor tax, wrongly assessed, be granted. 7. That the petitions of Helen Harris, a deaf mute, Marry Norris, Sarah Johnston for remission of 1893 taxes be granted by remitting $10 95, $8 55 and $8 respectively. 7. That the petition of Mary Long for remission be granted by charging the taxes of 1893 against the property.

8. That the petitions of Caroline B. Clarke,
Alicia Wigmore and W. J. Stirton be filed. No power. 9. That the account of Messrs. Anderson, Robinson & Co. re interest on deposit check with tender for electric plant be filed. 10. That the application of Mr. A. B. Powell for insurance on fire hall boilers be referred to your No. 3 committee. 11. Your committee begs to submit bylaw to extend the time for the payment of notes on account of 1893 expenditure. 12. Your committee begs to submit Purdom, Fitzgerald & Fitzgerald and C. W. Cottrell, re L. and P. S. R. syndicate ac counts; memos, from council re school moneys; A. Talbot & Co. re advertising; No. 1. Simon Mitcheltree et al. re annexing certain property to the city; the circular of Alex. Brown et al. re single tax privilege: Mrs. Moran and Mrs. Ryan re remission.

In connection with the second clause came the question of granting a remission of $38 to the Christian Workers. Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald moved that the prayer of the petition be granted. Ald. J. W. Jones objected because the taxes referred to were of 1893. The place had been assessed as a place of worship

Ald. Pritchard moved that the petition be filed. Ald. J. W. Jones seconded.

The report was then adopted. INQUIRIES.

Ald. Parnell wanted to know when the committee elected to deal with the curtailment of estimates was going to meet. The mayor explained that the Free their co-operation was asked they would probably meet in a week or so. Ald. Pritchard gave notice of motion to the council submitting the question of bor- Filed. rowing $50,000 for waterworks purposes to the people.

Ald. O'Meara moved that bylaw 775 be repealed. This bylaw deals with the recently introduced system of paying taxes in two installments with a 3 per cent. bonus to those paying at the first call and a fine of 5 per cent. on the taxes not paid by the expiration of the second call. Ald. O'Meara held that this was discrimination against the poorer taxpayers. Aid, Judd championed the present system. It effected a saving of $2,500 bank interest during the year of its intro-

Ald. Charles Taylor took the same view as Ald. O'Meara and Ald. J. W. Jones took an opposite view. The latter wanted no better proof of its popularity than the amount paid in during August last. He also advocated the compilation of the assessment roll in the same year in which the taxes are levied.

Ald. O'Meara replied, again holding that the system discriminated against the poor man. He was applauded from the hall. Ald. O'Meara's motion was lost.

Ald. J. W. Jones followed up his notice of motion of last meeting by moving that steps be taken to act in conjunction with the City Council of Toronto to ask the Local Legislature to abolish all exemptions. Carried.

OURSELVES. Complimentary Letter from the Wells & Richardson Company. Proprietors of the Famous

Paine's Celery Compound. The ADVERTISER has received the following commendatory letter from the now celebrated firm of Wells & Richardson Company, of Montreal: Proprietors of the London ADVERTISER, Lon Gentlemen,-In many large and populous centers of Canada business men are crying out about "hard and dull times" and a "decreasing trade"; and not a few look with dread and fear into the dim future. If we can judge aright these fearful and grumbling men have themselves to thank for their poor and decreasing business; in a word, they are not believers in the mighty power of advertising.

Our large experience in the past has proved conclusively that advertising-liberal advertising-pays in business; and in this stage of keen competition men who cannot and will not advertise freely had better keep out of business altogether.

Notwithstanding the cry of dull times we are busy-very busy-because we advertise freely and largely the best goods. It pays to be liberal in letting the people know that you have the best thing on earth. We rank high among the highest advertisers on this continent at present, but we have decided to spend more money from to-day in newspaper work than we have ever spent before, and your excellent advertising medium will have its share; your bright and largely-circulated paper deserves it. Yours very truly, Benjamin Fisher on Trial.

This morning, before Squire J. B. Smyth, the trial of Benjamin Fisher, for alleged robbery of the Mount Brydges postoffice, was begun. There was a large crowd of spectators present, a majority of whom were from the prisoner's home. Messrs.
McEvoy and Wilson appeared for the prisoner, Mr. J. B. McKillop for the Crown, and Mr. E. Meredith for the Government. Several detectives, including Officer O'Leary, of Ottawa, were also present. The only witness examined in the morning session was Mr. T. Pearce, the postmaster at Mount Brydges. He described the building to the magistrate and said that on the night of the burglary there were $59 in stamps, $58 in cash, a registered letter con-$550. There were also 90 5-cent registered stamps. Two days after the robbery Pearce said he met Fisher on the street, whom he told that if he (Fisher) brought back the box in which were the stolen goods nothing more would be said about the money. The reply Fisher gave to this was that he would return the box in a few days. The safe, the witness said, was never locked, although a small vault inside in which the stamps and money were kept was always fastened. Mr. Pearce was cross-examined for two hours, and the court adjourned. There are upwards of 40 witnesses to be examined.

ALD. PARNELL'S SEAT.

The Motion to Deprive Him of It Argued

Before Judge Wm. Elliot-The City Has Nothing to Do With County Contracts-Decision Reserved.

The motion to unseat Ald. E. Parnell, jun., of South London, because he sells bread to the county jail, was argued before Judge Wm. Elliott in his chambers this morning. Mr. Parnell was represented by Mr. J. Macpherson and the nominal plaintiff, Gavin Park, by Mr. R. M. C.

Among those in the room beside the judge and lawyers were Ald. Parnell, Gavin Park, County Clerk Robson, County Treasurer McEvoy, Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald, Ald. John Heaman, Ald. Joshua Garratt and B.

Mr. Toothe wished to take the testimony of Messrs. Robson and McEvoy. Mr. Macvoce evidence, and he quoted the statutes in his support. Judge Elliott overruled the objection.

Thomas E. Robson, county clerk, sworn -Knew of an advertisement published early in December by the county for tenders for the supply of bread for the jail. Edward Parnell, jun., was one of those who responded. Witness had looked for the tender, but it was mislaid. Mr. Macpherson here objected to the reception of secondary evidence, in view of the absence of the tender. Objection over-

Mr. Robson, continuing-The tender was at 31 cents a loaf for one year. It was submitted by witness to the jail committee, composed of members of the County Council only. The committee accepted the tender and their report was adopted by the council. The contract between Mr. Parnell and the council had not yet been properly

Mr. Macpherson-Mr. Parnell has been

Mr. Robson, examined by Mr. Macpherson-The jail committee is composed of members of the County Council only. Q.—Has the City Council any part in the management of the jail? A.—Not in this

The Judge-No member of the City Council had anything to do with the letting of this contract? A.-No. Mr. Macpherson-Has the City Council anything to do with the letting of any contract for the jail? A .- No. Mr. Robson, in answer to another question, said the contract for the court house furnace had been let by the city engineer and the county commissioner.

County Treasurer McEvoy, sworn, said Mr. Parnell had rendered his account of $19 53 for bread supplied the jail in January. The money came out of the county fund. There was an agreement whereby the city paid 60 per cent. of the maintenance of the jail. (Witness produces the agreement.)

Examined by Mr. Macpherson-I never knew the city to interfere with the jail expenditures. To the judge-City Treasurer Pope comes to my office quarterly and verifies my accounts by reference to my vouchers. That is the only supervision exercised by the city.

To Mr. Macpherson-The handling of tenders is wholly done by the County Council; the City Council take no part before the letting of tenders to my knowl-

This closed the case, and Mr. Toothe argued it for his client. He based it on the section which says that no alderman may have any part in any contract "with or on behalf of the corporation." He maintained that the words "on behalf of" sustained his contention. The city had an interest in this contract, because it was bound to pay 60 per cent. of the outgoings of the jail and this created for the city the position of trustee. In view of this when the county contracted for this bread its conscience was bound to make as good a bargain as possible in justice to the city. Ald. Parnell was sitting in the council and voting to pay 2 cents on each loaf.

Jadge Elliot commended the speaker for his argument.

Mr. Macpherson rebutted the assertion that the City Council had aught to do with the letting of this contract. The County Council was the corporation to do all things in connection with the building or maintenance of a court house, and the County Council was the only corporation with which Mr. Parnell had contracted. The words "on behalf of" were popular words and must be given their popular meaning. If the County Council canceled this contract could the city enforce it? No; Mr. Parnell did not look to the city for his

Mr. Macpherson cited a taining $4 and another letter containing number of references and precedents to be taken into consideration and pointed out that in the case of any doubt the sitting member should have the benefit of the doubt. The judge reserved decision until Saturday next.

THE POLICE COURT.

Sad Sights-Venerable Sinners-Mrs. Hastings Gets 13 Months. Magistrate Parke's reception this morning was short, but not sweet. There were some pitiable object lessons in the dock. A young man evidently dying of consumption, and who could scarcely speak above a whisper, admitted he had been drunk. It was the first time he had been out of his bed for three weeks, and judging by his appearance he ought to be back there. His companion, with bloodshot eyes and shaking hand, confessed to the same offense. As it was the first they were discharged. Two brothers, sons of a prominent business man, sat side by side in the iron cage and seemed to bear the disgrace with great resignation. They were charged with vagrancy and confessed to having been strangers to work for some time. One, who has been in prison before, was remanded for a week, and the other, who has had a good reputation hitherto, was advised by the magistrate "to leave town as soon as he knew how." Catharine Hastings and Samuel Henderson, gray-headed both of them, bobbed up again serenely. Catharine has been bobbing up this way for fifteen years with unfailing regularity, but the police will miss her for a couple of years now. P. C. Smith says he found her drunk with two men, also drunk, in her house. Her character was bad and so was Henderson's. Mrs. Hastliving with Henderson, who supported her. The Magistrate-Mrs. Hasting, you have been coming here as long as I have. I will sentence you to 23 months' imprisonment ing to a formal taking of the field against in the Mercer. It is the best thing that ever happened to you. You may live through that time, because you will be kept from liquor. If you were here with liquor you could not live.

Tears stood in Catherine's eyes and her face contracted with spasms of anguish, which her mouth vented when the police led her gently away. Henderson was sent to the Central Prison, and will emerge when the July sun in shining.

Joseph Cake and Albert Broughton were again brought up, this time on the charge of stealing two hams. Cake pleaded guilty to stealing them and his partner to receive ing them. They were remanded for a week pending judgment on the previous charges.

The Supreme Court Gives Judgment on Questions.

Non-Binding Judgment on the Long-Drawn-Out Dispute.

OTTAWA, Feb. 20-In the Supreme Court to-day, Chief Justice Strong delivered a long and decisive answer to different questions submitted to the court by the Dominion Government in regard to the Manitoba school case.

There were in all six questions submitted, but they virtually amounted to one, and that was whether the Governor-General-in-Council has power to make the declarations or remedial orders which were asked for on certain memorials and petitions, fassuming material fails to be, as he states, as therein contained; or, if his Excellency the Governor-General-in-Council had any other jurisdic-

Justice Taschereau said that the court did not decide anything by answering the questions submitted, since they were binding upon no one and determined nothing. The-Man-That-Draws-the-Handcart.

By Edward Eggleston.

"The Dakota tribes believe that the soul, driven out of the body, journeys off to the south, and "to go south" is, among the Sioux, the favorite euphemism for death. George looked unflinchingly at the chief,

"Very well, Old-Man, I will go south, then. But if I go south you have got to go also, and just as many more as I can take with me. But you first. At this the chief quailed. He saw that he was hostage for the good behavior of his whole party, and, indeed, Northrup had given orders that if a movement toward an attack were made by any Indian, the chief should be killed first. The Indians at last succeeded in stealing an old flintlock musket and a bag of pemmican, with which they made off. As soon as they were gone, George pushed off to a grove far out on the open prairie, which grove he had reason to think the Indians were not acquainted with.

Among the Yanktons George had a friend, an influential man. While Northrup was a trader's c'erk at Big Stone Lake, this Indian had taken a fancy to him. After inquiring of the traders whether George was a likely man or not, and whether his habits were steady, he proposed to George a marriage with one of his three daughters. In vain George pleaded that he was too young: the Indian did not know why the handcart man should not have an Indian wife like the other traders. So importunate was this father of a family that Northrup could a white hat that he wore on his first appearescape only by an evasive promise to consider the matter when he got to be older. And though the Indian's hopes of a son-inlaw were doomed to perpetual disappointment, he never lost his friendship for the handcart man. When the latter would sometimes visit the Yankton village his friend made a feast for him of boiled dogmeat and birds' eggs well on toward hatch-George ate heartily for his friend's sake, though he confessed to me that dogmeat had "a domestic flavor he could never quite relish." As for the eggs, he got on weil enough except now and then when there was an appearance of feathers, in which case he would pass the egg to his

Now when Old-Man was forming his party to attack the trappers, George's friend exerted himself vainly to prevent it. Od-Man's party came back, according to the Indian custom, and sat down without speaking of their success or failure. You will find a description of such a return in "Hiawatha." There were the gun and the pemmican, which were enough to excite the worst fears of Northrup's friend, who quickly gathered a few followers and started off in search of George, he trail of the party went out pen prairie, as he supposed, that the open prairie in the eath, he concluded that George confused and gone out into the die. He reported this to the who understood it to be a diplo-way of intimating that Old-Man had lered the party. Whereupon the spapers gave accounts of his murder, old the story of his daring life, repeated once more the history of the handcart expedition, and moralized on the untimely loss of so noble a young man on account of his own foolhardy bravery. But the young man and his companions returned in the spring

Soon after this the stage line was opened through from St. Paul to the Red River of the connection through to the Seikirk Settlement, now Manitoba. Northrup mapped the route for this line. The first coach that felt its way over this unknown road was accompanied by Capt. Blakely. one of the owners, and by Northrup as guide. Among the passengers were an English baronet and his friends going out to enjoy that manly pastime so much affected then by English and American gentlemen. the shooting of a few harmless buffalo cows, that they might have whereof to boast in the c ubs. Besides these there were two Scotch ladies, sisters; one was betrothed to an officer of the Hudson Boy Company, and had journeyed across an ocean and a continent that she might meet her lover in the Selkirk Settlement, whence after their marriage they expected to return to his post in the artic zone. This devoted sweetheart and her devoted sister, who came as companion, awakened great interest in all who saw them. Northrup, always full of a poetic and knightly sentiment, was ready to be their humble friend.

When the stage reached Georgetown the little steamer which should have taken the passengers to the Selkirk Settlement was immovably fixed on Goose Rapids, 35 miles away as the crow flies. Sir Francis —, the baronet, proposed to depart immediately for the buffalo grounds without making the detour to the Selkirk Settlement, and he offered Northrup large wages to move off at once with him. But what was to become of the forlorn ladies? To go back 300 miles would have been bitter; to stay where they were was impossible. Northrup spurned every offer of the gentlemen hunters, and resolved to see the ladies safe at their destination. There was nothing left for the baronet and his friends but to go with them. A flat boat was built and put under Northrup's command, and the members of this party were the first white persons to tr ce the sinuosities of the Red River.

George went to the plains with the English party in a subordinate capacity, but his manifest superiority carried him to the top, and he came back as chief guide. The baronet gave him a pair of ponies and a hunt-ing-coat on parting with him, and sent him from London a fine wire-barrel rifle made to order at a cost of £75. In showing me this gun, George said: 'She hasn't got a speck of silver about her, but I love her. She always goes where I tell her to." A year or ways goes where I tell her to. A year or two later another party came from England with an open letter of directions from Sir Francis, in which he said, "After passing St. Paul, trust George W. Northrup and go

One Sanday some settlers on the upper Red River were chasing a bear which had ventured too near to the site of a hypothetical city, which city contained at that time but one lonesome log cabin. The bear was fleeing toward a wooded ravine, chased and worried by dogs. Oace in the bush the pursuers would have to give it up. But now a second danger appeared in the shape of what seemed to be a party of mounted Indians, who would not hesitate to kill the bear and keep it. One of this party left the rest and came galloping toward the hunters. It proved to be Northrup, returning with the party of Sir Francis. He kept his eye on the retreating hear. on the retreating bear, never giving the sunters on foot so much as a look of recogaition as he galloped past them, whipping his pony to the top of his speed. But the bear made the timber, and was to all appearances lost. North up did not abate his such wonders in my case."

speed, but rode full tilt at the ravine, leaped off the pony, and disappeared in the brush. Coming out in a minute, he remounted and rode furiously up the ravine for half a mile, reigned up, sprang off, and rushed into the brush again. In less than a minute his rifle cracked, and the bear was dead. The next day Sir Francis wished to see a trial of skill in marksmanship. He got together the dozen or fifteen men-French-men, Scotchmen, half-breeds, and what-nots-that were about the Hudson Bay Company's forwarding station at Georgetown, and bade them shoot, he supplying the ammunition. At 100 paces there were many fine shots made; at 200 there were but two or three good ones; at 300 the shooting became wild. There was, however, one little Irishman who could put a builet into a three-inch target twice out of three times at this range. Up to this time George had refused to shoot, fearing to excite jealousy; but now Sir Francis commanded him to take part. Northrup stipulated for his own gun; then he cut a hole in the bark of the tree, inserted a half-dollar piece, turned about, and stepped off 500 paces.

"Now, boys," he said, "if I shouldn't happen to spoil that, the one; who gets it may

But his bullet hit the coin. I have the incident from a trustworthy land-surveyor who participated in the match, and in the foot-race for the half-dollar. It tallies with all that one hears of his shooting. Capt. Shelley of Brackett's battalion of cavalry told me that he had often seen Northrup shoot small birds for fish-bait, but that he always did it by shooting off the bird's head with a revolver.

The ponies given him by Sir Francis were stolen by the Chippewas. I have heard that Northrup recaptured one of them, riding through a village of Indians with two loaded and cocked revolvers in his hands. The Chissewas called him "White Cloud," from ance among them. The winter after my acquaintance with George began he was engaged in the arduous task of carrying the mail from Fort Abercrombie to Pembina, 200 miles land journey over a country without a habitation The journey was made with a dog-sledge and a half-breed assistant. Exposure in winter on the prairies of the Red River Valley is something that the hardiest man might shrink from. The thermometer often touches 40 and sometimes even reaches 50 below zero at the northern end of this journey, and the storms of snow and wind are very perilous. In the mail-carrying he was probably always near enough to the streams to find a shelter in the timber or in a ravine during a storm; but in journeys over the open prairie, Northrup, like other voyageurs, had sometimes to lie down in the snow, with the sledge-dogs close against his body, and keep still under a blanket of snow for 24 or 48 hours until the wind should abate. No living thing can travel and survive in one of these blizzards, as we now call them. I speak of these de profundis, out of my own memory of them. (To be Continued.)

"Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia."-Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville, writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now 79 years of age I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. AGAINST FRAUDULENT MEDIUMS.

Jerome B. Swift, of Chicago, Trying to Clean Out Eastern Resorts.

Boston, Feb. 19 .- Jerome B. Swift, a well-known spiritualist, who frequents Onset and other resorts, a wealthy resident of Chicago, is at the head of a movement to drive out of the business the mediums who practice fraud under the guise of spiritu-alism at these resorts. The weeding out process must begin at once, he maintains, and the battle royal will be fought before the season of 1894 opens.

There are eight places in New England where the mediums, good and bad, exposed and unexposed, congregate every summer, including Onset. They are Lake Pleasant and Harwich, Mass.; Queen City Park, Vt.; Sunapee Lake, N. H.; Æine, Bucksport and Temple Heights, Maine. Cassadoga, N. Y., is also a popular rendezvous for the believers in the modern philosophy. These resorts are frequented largely, according to Mr. Swift's idea, by a class of mediums who have time and again been exposed and in many instances they have been prosecuted in the courts, he claims. The movement to clean them out will assume the form of a remonstrance to the president of each camp meeting found.

"I have been a spiritualist for more than wenty years," said Mr. Swift, "and I am surprised that there are people who call themselves modern believers in this great phenomena who will allow the people who are practicing fraud to continue their Well, I am convinced that this form of membership can be relied on. There may be frauds practicing it, but seeing is believing, and I know for a fact that spirit forms do, through our mediums, come and make themselves manifest to their friends in the mortal."

A Cat in the Pulpit.

The assistant minister of Greyfriars' Church, Dumfries, Scotland, says the Galloway Standard of Jan. 27, had a colleague in the pulpit on Sabbath forenoon which was not observed by any large number of the congregation, but which we may well suppose excited in his own mind some disturbing misgiving. This was a plump gray cat, which had followed one of the lady members to church, and wandering around in search of the most comfortable quarters, or probably impressed with the sanctity which investsits species in some other lands, it climbed the stairs and settled itself in the place reserved for the preacher. To have ejected the intruder when the proper occupant arrived might have provoked a scene, so puss was allowed to remain, and she requited the consideration shown her by slumbering peacefully through the service and abstaining from interference by even a single mew.

CITY VOTERS' LISTS.

Names of Well-Known Citizens Left Off the Lists.

By accident, no doubt, the following well-known citizens have found their names left off the Dominion voters' list:

Thos. Hobbs, sen., 296 King street. Thos. Taylor, 287 Dundas street. Geo. Loveless, sen., 185 St. James street. Rev. W. J. Clark, 307 Wolfe street. Lou Paladino, 464 Talbot street.

John McKinley, 2114 Dundas street. U. A. Buchner, 257 Talbot street.

These gentlemen discovered, by a personal inspection of the voters' lists, now on view daily, afternoon and evening, at the Young Liberal rooms, Oddfellows' block, that they were disfranchised, and they are enabled, under the new Ontario law, to have their names placed on the lists by application at the Liberal rooms without the necessity of going before the county judge.

Is your name on or off the list? No one can be certain unless he person-

The only necessary qualifications are: 1. You are a British subject.

2. You are 21 years of age or upwards. 3. You reside in the city.

This afternoon and evening will e a most suitable time to examine the lists and make the necessary affidavit, which cost the voter nothing. Be sure now, and avoid disappointment on election

He Had a Friend in Canada.

Mr. Chas. E. Smyth, an old London boy, son of Mr. A. G. Smyth, who is now agent for the Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Com-pany, St. Louis, Mo., while traveling lately through Texas, had an interview which shows how little some people know about Canada. In a letter to a friend he says:

"I was in a store in the southern part of this State the other day, and having pretty near talked a man to death, told him several 'side-splitters,' etc., he says: 'Well, you're a good 'un; I reckon you can send me that ere safe; but say, boss, what State were you born in?' 'Well,' I (thinking he had never heard of Ontario). I was born in Ontario, in a place called London in that Province.' Well, I am awful glad I met you, Mr. Smyth, as you probably know my friend Glendecker. He lives in Canada.' 'What part?' I asked. What part, he answered with astonishment; 'why in Canada!' 'Well,' I answered, as Canada covers a greater area than the United States, it would be hard work for one to know everybody.' When I finally proved the truth of my statement he 'set up' the cigars and invited me to have din-

The Horse Show. Prof. Bristol's horse show drew a wellpleased audience to the Grand last night, and his beautiful animals performed feats that would lead one to believe they were possessed of reasoning powers. The entertainment, though literally "horse play," is a delightful one, and the merriment is of the purest kind. The numerous individual numbers proved nearly every equine to be a star, though the children voted that Denver shone the brightest. That facetious mule was very funny, while the more handsome Sultan displayed his cleverness in a more dignified manner. The show will be repeated this afternoon and evening and twice to-morrow.

THERE MAY BE A BIG BOLT, Eut Not During the Early Part of the Session.

(Ottawa Correspondence Toronto News.) Conservative members of Parliament, or I might more properly say, a member of Parliament who was until recently a Conservative, in discussing the outlook to-day, said that he doubted very much whether there would be any bolters from the Government side of the House until after Parliament had been in session for the 30 days which is required to give the members an opportunity of drawing their full sessional indemnity, after which those disposed to "rat" will not be long in finding a pretext to desert the sinking ship.
The gentleman in question remarked that the Liberals would be very foolish to press any important measures early in the session, as if they delayed their nonconfidence motions until after the 30 days were up they would accomplish much more than they would do by bringing them on in the earlier days of the session. CHASED HIM 20,000 MILES.

Government Detective Murray After an Absconder-Had to Come Back Alone.

TORONTO, Feb. 20-After a chase of over 20,000 miles Government Detective Murray has returned to Toronto empty-handed. On September 20 the detective left here in search of Charles Henry Aitken, who absconded from Tottenham, Ont., where he kept a private bank, after defrauding the Bank of Hamilton of about $30,000. It was found that Aitken had left for South America and thither the detective followed Aitken was traced to Lima, Peru, and from there down along the western coast of South America to Valparaiso. From Valparaiso the fugitive had crossed over the continent to Buenos Ayres. Murray followed and had a four days' mule ride over the Cordillera mountains, quite a feat of endurance for a man who is getting up in years.

The detective arrived at his destination only to find that Aitken had left by steamer for Rio Janiero. On account of the blockade at Rio, and with insurrection going on the detective knew that it would be imposanswered, 'now you have nearly got me sible to extradite Aitken, even if captured, so after a consultation with the British consul at Buenos Ayres, Marray decided to return home.

While in Lima the detective had a narrow escape for his life. There was an insurrection in Lima while he was there, and tetally unaware of the trouble he ventured out on the street and found himself in the center of a mob who were being pursued by the mounted police with drawn sabers. Bullets flew thick and fast, and eventually he was surrounded, with others, by a force of officers. Fortunately the chief of police recognized him, and with difficulty he was rescued and escorted to the hotel by a couple of mounted police.

Royal Crown Remedy and Pills.

In every house in this city there was distributed this week little yellow books and circulars containing some really wonderful cures which have been accomplished by that marvelous liquid known as Williams' Royal Crown Remedy. We would direct our readers' attention to their cases in particular and ask their careful perusal, and if they know any friends similarly affected to send them the circulars. You may save their life like Miss Roxie Morden did:

1. That of Mr. John Weir, of Birr, whom four physicians declared could not live over 24 hours. That was in 1892; he took three bottles of Williams' Royal Crown Remedy, and to-day he is as well as any of the doctors who signed his death warrant. Read the history of his case and you will say she was the means of saving his life.

2. Mr. H. F. Hollands, formerly of Mitchell, but now proprietor of King's roller mills, Ingersoll, whom all the town knows suffered for twenty years with rheumatism.

Also the sworn testimony of "a loving wife." Mrs. Sarah Hall, of Brantford, who deceived her husband by pouring out the doctor's medicine, which was bringing Mr. Hall slowly to the grave, and surely saved his life by giving him Williams' Royal Crown Remedy in the doctor's bottle so as to disguise it. These are three of the most wonderful cures ever effected and well worthy perusal, and we can vouch for the truth of all of them. This remedy should always be kept in every home. Take no inferior article; it has saved many a life. Price only $1, pint bottle and Fills 25 cents — lasts a month—or five bottles of Remedy, five boxes Pills, $5. Sent by express by Isaac Williams' Company, London.
