GERMAN BRIDGE-WRECKER CAUGHT REDHANDED IN CANADA--OFFICER SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

C.P.R. BRIDGE DYNAMITED IN N. BRUNSWICK

Alleged German Officer Is Arrested and Said To Have Confessed.

ONLY ONE SPAN DAMAGED

Dynamite Evidently Explosive Used in the Attempted Destruction.

PRISONER IS IN MAINE

There Is Possibilty of Fight Against Extradition to Canada.

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 2.—An attempt to destroy the railroad bridge spanning the St. Croix River, which forms the international boundary line between Eastern Maine and New Brunswick, was made early today. One of the three spans of the structure was blown up by dynamite. The bridge is the connecting link between the Maine Central and the Canadian Pacific tracks, the Canadian Pacific having traffic rights over the former road from Mattawamkeag to the boundary. This is the through route from Upper and Western Canada to the Maritime Provinces, directly connecting Montreal with the ports of St. John and Halifax.

An Arrest.

The attack on the bridge caused great excitement on the New Brunswick side, where rumors of a German plot spread rapidly and resulted in the immediate investigation by the provincial authorities.

Inquiry was also begun on this side, and this led to the arrest at a local hotel of a man who gave his name as Werner Van Horn. According to the police the prisoner claimed to be an officer in the service of Germany, but refused to divulge his rank. The police assert that he admitted that he exploded the dynamite under a section of the bridge, and that a dynamite cap and a plan of the bridge were found in his pockets.

Canadian Officers Present.

Van Horn, according to the police, described himself as 37 years old. He is 5 feet 11 inches in height, and weighs about 200 pounds. He is smooth-shaven.

The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff George W. Ross, who was accompanied by a Maine Ceneral Railroad detective and two Canadian officers from McAdam Junction, N. B.

He was removed to the United States immigration rooms, where he was closely guarded. Deputy Sheriff Ross notified the United States marshal and the United States district attorney at Portland, asking for instructions.

Came From New York.

When taken into custody at his room in the hotel, Van Horn made no resistance, but is alleged to have told the officers the circumstances of the dynamiting. He did not appear to be able to speak very good English. There were no papers found to identify him. In a coat pocket he carried a German flag. Asked why he had dynamited the bridge, the prisoner, the police say, made the simple explanation that his country was at war with Great Britain and that Canada was a part of the enemy's country. He said, according to the officers, that he came from New York, having left that city on Friday night, and arrived here Saturday. Immediately after discharging the explosive he returned to the hotel. As evidence of his experience, he displayed a frost-bitten thumb. His clothing had been encrusted with ice, and was soaked through.

Peculiar Situation.

The arrest of Van Horn has aroused special interest because of the fact that he was taken into custody on American territory, and was made a prisoner of the State of Maine. To avoid possible complications the local authorities made no further move pending advice from the Federal Government. The Canadian authorities indicated that they would immediately make representations at Washington with a view to extradition, on the ground that the dynamiting had been done on the Canadian side of the border. On the other hand, it was said that Van Horn would be defended against extradition, basing his claim for the protection of the United States on his assertion that he had committed an act of war, and that his offence was political.

SAID TO ADMIT ATTEMPT.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—According to the official report issued on the dynamiting of the railway bridge near Vanceboro this morning by the C. P. R., the structure is only slightly damaged. The report says the alleged German officer under arrest is said to have admitted trying to blow up the bridge.

The C. P. R. official statement follows:

"At 2 o'clock this morning an explosion of dynamite slightly damaged the bridge over the St. Croix River, near Vanceboro, the joint property of the Maine Central Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway. Only a slight delay occurred to traffic, number 16 train, Montreal to St. John, being 20 minutes late. Passenger trains are crossing the bridge, passengers not requiring to leave the cars.

Seen Hanging Round.

"A suspicious-looking stranger has been hanging around the neighborhood for the past few days, and a full description of him was put into the hands of the police of the United States and Canada, who captured him at 7:30 o'clock. He proved to be a German officer, and is said to have admitted that he committed the deed.

"The bridge is located at the international boundary. A middle beam, six bridge ties and six bolsters were damaged.

OUT OF THE MUD AT LAST

Advertiser Illustrations.

This photograph, sent to The Advertiser by London members of the A. M. C. shows three Londoners, Sergt.-Major Prikler, Sergt. Ruddick and Staff-Sergt. Barney Dunlevy in the mud before the sleeping quarters of the Londoners at Salisbury. On the card Sergt. Dunlevy has written: "Leading a Tenderfoot Through the Mud Sea." The anxiety of Canadians to cope with Germans rather than these conditions can be understood.

All Foodstuffs Contraband

Washington, Feb. 2.—Great Britain notified the United States today, although not in official form, that foodstuffs of any kind destined for Germany, Austria or Turkey, will be regarded as contraband of war.

DISCOVERED PERFIDY OF NATURALIZED GERMAN

Alderman Wilson, Returned From Trip to Maritime Provinces, Tells of Splendid Service to Country Done by Berlin, Ont., Man.

Ald. W. A. Wilson, who returned yesterday from a trip to the Maritime Provinces, has an interesting story to tell of the perfidy of a naturalized German by the authorities at Halifax, thanks to the co-operation of a German-Canadian whose home is at Berlin, Ont.

The German was boarding at Halifax and was arrested when war broke out. He produced his naturalization papers and was released. Later the lady with whom he boarded became suspicious of him, because of the fact that he had a wireless plant in her home, which was close to the shore of the Atlantic.

The owner of this boarding-house went to the captain of the Boy Scouts, who is a German-Canadian and whose parents reside at Berlin, Ont. It was arranged that this scout captain, who could speak German should take a room in the house, returning as the son of the couple who kept the house. Accordingly, he came to the house, was welcomed as a son who had long been absent, and met the naturalized German. The two became quite friendly, and the scout captain was shown the wireless apparatus, though he never saw it in operation. While the suspect was absent from the house, frequently the captain entered the room and investigated. What he found made him suspicious. On one occasion he moved the wireless mechanism, and on his return the German noticed this, and complained that someone had been tampering with the mechanism. The arrest was made immediately after, with the result that the German was taken charge of by the authorities, and is now, and will be while the war continues under lock and key.

"I talked with the people who were concerned, including the boarding-house lady," said Ald. Wilson to The Advertiser. "They were loud in their praise of the young Berlin man. I saw his parents later on, and told them all about it. Both his father and mother were greatly pleased that he had served his country in this way. They were loyal to Canada, and expressed mistrust of native-born Germans. These wireless plants are scattered over the country. I have heard it whispered that we have one or two of them here."

"WATCHFUL WAITING" IN THE GLAUBITZ AFFAIR

Pro-Glaubitz Members of Utilities Won't Make Move Till Report Is In.

Watchful waiting. That is an expression that is being overworked these days, but it could well apply to the Glaubitz case in London. Since the city council last night "passed up" the question of a probe into the charges against the former manager of the city public utilities commission, pending an opinion from City Solicitor T. G. Meredith, both sides have adopted the "watchful waiting" expression. Both are waiting for the solicitor's report, and both are marking time until it is forthcoming.

Today City Clerk S. Baker forwarded to the city solicitor the questions asked by Controller J. F. White at Monday's council meeting anent the cost of appealing to the supreme court and so on. It is hardly expected that the report on these questions will be ready within a week—it may possibly be a fortnight before it is ready—and in the interim there is no change in the status of the case and no settlement possible.

It is hardly a possibility that even the pro-Glaubitz members of the utilities commission will make any move pending the solicitor's report. Therefore, the whole situation remains in relatively the same position that it has occupied for the past two months.

GERMAN SUBMARINE TRIED TO TORPEDO HOSPITAL SHIP

Paris, Feb. 2—2 p.m.—"A German submarine yesterday made an unsuccessful attempt to torpedo the British hospital ship Asturias," according to a communication given out today by the ministry of marine, "thus violating the formal clause of the Hague Convention of 1907 regarding the attacking of hospital vessels."

The Asturias, the minister explained, was 15 miles north-northeast of the Havre lightship when the attack was made.

What holds me back? I do so want to go.

"SEA IS FREE" SAYS CHURCHILL

Tells French Editor No Such Security Was Ever Before Known.

GERMANY MUST GIVE IN

Britain, If Alone, Will Carry War To the Bitter End.

NAVY AN EFFECTIVE GAG

Its Action Necessarily Slow, But Terrible, Unrelenting and Irresistible.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Feb. 2.—"For the first time in history Britain can say 'The sea is free,'" declared Winston Spencer Churchill, Great Britain's first lord of the admiralty, in an interview with Hughes Leroux, editor of the Matin. "In the days when you and we fought each other," he continued, "our most important victories never caused security compatible with that which we enjoy today. Even after Trafalgar we knew nothing like it.

U. S. Sympathy.

"Supposing Germany has friendships and relationships in South America, how can help reach her from them now? There remains the United States. Public opinion there hesitated, perhaps, in bestowing its sympathies, but at the present moment it is fully unified. We shall arrange to take precautions fully compatible with the rights of belligerents and the respect due to neutrals.

"Our adversary perhaps can obtain a few supplies from Turkey and Asia-Minor. I cherish no illusions, for as long as there are neutrals a complete blockade must be a chimera. Germany will continue to receive a small quantity of that whereof she has considerable need, but while you and we breathe freely, thanks to the sea we have kept and can keep open, Germany is like a man threatened with a heavy gag.

Gag's Effect.

"You know the effect of such a gag when action is necessary. The effort wears out the heart, and Germany knows it. This pressure shall not be relaxed until she gives in unconditionally, for even if you of France, and if our ally Russia should withdraw from the struggle, which is inconceivable, we British would carry on the war to the bitter end.

"The action of a navy necessarily is slow, but the pressure it exercises on an adversary is unrelenting. Compare it to the forces of nature, to the inexorable grip of winter, and remember that it is a stress nothing can resist."

RUSSIANS FORCE ENEMY BACKWARD

Capture Many Officers and Men On Right Bank of Vistula.

GERMANS TRY OFFENSIVE

Succeed In Causing Some of Czar's Troops To Fall Back.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, Feb. 2.—An official statement issued here today says:

"On the right bank of the Lower Vistula, on January 31, our cavalry made a sudden and successful assault upon the German line along the front between Brezun and Lake Orejelow, fifteen versts (10 miles) north of Sierpeo, capturing many officers and soldiers.

Enemy Thrown Back.

"The attempt of the Germans on the 30th to open an offensive movement in the direction of Lipno and Dobrzyn, supported by artillery fire, was checked.

"On the left bank of the Vistula front, at the villages of Makow and Dyblin, the enemy was thrown back to the line of the villages of Weleze and Nasigenewo, northwest of Wloclawek. The Germans abandoned at Makow many of their dead.

Some German Success.

"In the course of the day of January 31, the enemy, after having concentrated in the region of Sochaczew,

BUCHANAN SAYS GLAUBITZ IS NOT STILL USING AUTO

Ald Wilson Brought Matter Up at Last Night's Council Meeting.

The report that Mr. H. J. Glaubitz is still using the auto provided for him by the city when he was general-manager is incorrect, according to Mr. E. V. Buchanan, who is acting-general manager, and Mr. Glaubitz himself.

Ald. Wilson brought the matter up at last night's meeting of the council, and asked for a report on the matter.

"Mr. Glaubitz has not been using the car since December 26," said Mr. Buchanan to The Advertiser today. "I have not been using the city's car at all," said Mr. Glaubitz when asked regarding the matter.

BRITISH OCCUPY NEW TERRITORY

After Being Forced Back They Return and Win Ground.

ARTILLERY VERY ACTIVE

German Cannonading Round Ypres and Yser at Times Very Violent.

FRENCH BOMBARD NOYON

Shells Caused Explosions Where Germans Were Re-provisioning Forces.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Feb. 2—2:45 p.m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the war, which reads as follows:

"The day of February 1 was marked by redoubled activity in the artillery fighting on our part, as well as that of the enemy, and by a series of German attacks, of relatively secondary importance, all of which were repulsed with serious losses for our adversaries, when compared to the numbers of men engaged. In Belgium, the German heavy artillery gave evidence of its greatest activity on the front of the Belgium troops, and particularly against the various points of support which these troops have been occupying for some time past, in the region of the Yser. Around Ypres the cannonading was at some places exceedingly violent.

British "Came Back."

"Between the Lys and the Somme, a German regiment attacked a British position near Cuinchy, and at first drove the British soldiers back. After a series of counter-attacks the British troops reoccupied the ground they had lost and then advanced into new territory, taking possession of trenches of the enemy.

"The engagement reported in the announcement given out the night of February 1, which took place along the roadway between Bethune and La Bassee, was particularly brilliant for our infantry. It seems that the Germans had at least one battalion in this engagement. The two first attacks were broken by our force. The third was successful in that the Germans entered one of our trenches, but an immediate counter-attack at the point of the bayonet resulted in our overcoming the enemy. Only a few Germans succeeded in regaining their trenches. All the others were killed or taken prisoners.

Noyon Bombarded.

"Between the Somme and the Oise, and along the front of the Aisne, there is no important development to report, with the exception of a German attack on Beaumont Hamel, which was not renewed. Our heavy artillery bombarded the railroad station at Noyon, where the Germans were reprovisioning their forces. Our shells caused two explosions, the smoke from which could be seen for more than two hours and a half.

"Our methodical progress in the region of Perthes continues. We have occupied another small force west of this village.

"In the Woevre district the enemy delivered an attack on the western side of the Bouchot forest (northeast of Troyon), which was at once driven back.

"There is nothing to report on the front in Lorraine and in the Vosges."

GERMAN CHARGES.

Berlin, by wireless to Sayville, Feb. 2.—Today's headquarters' report says that the French war reports during the past few days have contained grotesque distortions of the truth to the disadvantage of the Germans, as well as what is characterized as "free inventions." The staff declines to go into details in this regard, simply saying that the value of these French statements is apparent to anyone who will examine them in the light of the German official reports.

LIQUOR INTERESTS MAY MAKE WAR

Will Endeavor To Prove Irregularity of Petition and Illegality of Bylaw.

TEMPERANCERS TO FIGHT

If Legislature Throws Out This Petition, New One Will Be Ready Next Year.

After a "watchful" calm of some weeks, a whole month, indeed, following the civic elections, there are today once more rumors of war between the liquor interests and the supporters of temperance movements in the city.

Last night, some fifty members of the license reduction committee and a good representation from the Women's Christian Temperance Union, gathered in the council chambers at the city hall, as the occasion would be the latest on which the council might deal with the license reduction bylaw. The bylaw had its third reading as scheduled, and, to the gratification of temperance workers, the passing by the council was practically unanimous, as was the carrying of the motion to incorporate it in the city of London bill.

The first suggestion of possible opposition on the part of opponents came through Controller Moore, who hinted it

RAILROADS, TRACTION, TELEGRAPH, TELEPHONES TIED UP BY THE STORM

Worst Blizzard in Years Hits London and Vicinity—Trains Into and Out of City Unable To Move at All—Cars Trying To Go, But Finding It Mighty Hard Task—Country Roads Are in Fearful State.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO RAILROADER AT JARVIS EARLY TODAY ON WABASH

Busses to Bring In Passengers Can't Get Through Drifts

At an early hour this morning a sleigh and team were sent by the London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company to bring in eight passengers who were in one of the company's cars stalled near Evans.

The driver of the bus found the road before him laced with wires, hydro, telephone, telegraph and broken poles. The road was piled with the heaviest drifts, and after proceeding some distance on his five-mile journey, he turned his team about and returned, finding it impossible to reach the car. As all telephone communication was down, the condition of the passengers was unknown.

General Manager Warburton immediately hired fifty men to take a car and cut their way through to Scottsville at any cost, and to bring in the eight passengers. The car was to start out as soon as it could be equipped.

"We must get those passengers back if it takes every man in St. Thomas," said the manager. "This is the worst storm of many years. We will not get our line into running order for at least forty-eight hours. The storm is blowing like a blizzard, and as soon as we get the passengers in we will tie up until the storm slackens. Then we will attempt to find out what damage has been caused. We fear that it will be very heavy."

Blinded By Storm, Brakeman Killed

P. H. Beatty, of Windsor, Dies Attempting To Flag Engine of His Own Train After the Freight Cars Are Wrecked.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Feb. 2.—Blinded by the blizzard that swept over the countryside, P. H. Beatty, of Windsor, brakeman on the Wabash Railroad, was struck by the engine of his own train and killed near Jarvis at 4 o'clock this morning.

VICTIM OF HIS OWN TRAIN.

Thirteen freight cars on the train to which Beatty was attached were wrecked by a derailment, and the engine went ahead to keep the line open so that a wrecking train could reach the scene from St. Thomas. Beatty went after the engine to flag it as it came back so that it would not foul the wreck. It was returning when the brakeman was struck. Neither he nor the engineer could see for the storm. The engine had to be jacked up before his body could be removed.

AN UNMARRIED MAN.

Beatty was unmarried, and 28 years of age. His home was in Windsor.

STORM BREAKS DOWN CARS; 20 PASSENGERS COMPELLED TO RETURN IN HAY RACK

After having left the London and Lake Erie transportation station here at 5 p.m. yesterday, part of a carload of passengers who spent the night in a traction car on the Scottsville siding returned to this city shortly before noon today in a sleigh, after a trip they will long remember.

The car left here on time, and everything went well until some miles the other side of Lambeth. Here the tracks were buried in snow, and after a number of attempts to go ahead the car came to a complete standstill. One of the company's snowplows was dispatched to the rescue. When it arrived on the scene the stalled car was taken to Scottsville, where the snowplow broke down, and both cars were still there until late today.

Some Able to Sleep.

When the passengers aboard the car found they were there for the night they made the best of it under the circumstances. It was a case of the crew putting on a good fire, and the people aboard who could sleep cuddled up on a seat and went into blissful dreams while those who did not feel so disposed stayed awake and chatted away the long hours.

Early today a number of the men prevailed upon a farmer in the neighborhood to hitch his team to a hayrack and drive them into the city. A couple of women passengers came along with their husbands. It was "some trip," according to members of the party. For a short space the road would be in a fair condition, and then they would hit a spot where all would have to get out and shovel. In some places the snow was drifted over four feet deep, and it had frozen so hard that a crust had formed over the top of it, which made it possible for a person to walk on the top. It was after hours of tedious work that the hayrack and its passengers arrived in the city.

Two Busses Sent Out.

Two busses were sent from here to Scotsville early today, and word was received at the Traction headquarters that they arrived at their destination shortly after the noon hour. They are expected to arrive in the city late today.

According to some of the passengers who returned on the hayrack, a few of the passengers who were on the car made arrangements to stop with some farmers until the storm had abated and service was renewed on the Traction Company's line.

Trains tied up, telegraph wires down, traction cars held, and the local street car service in a muddle. Farmers refusing to come to market with their produce on account of the feet-high snowdrifts in the roads. Homes of citizens of London rocking and swaying to the terrific force of the gale—all in all, one of the worst storms that ever visited this city and vicinity began yesterday afternoon, continued throughout the night, partially worked off its choler about 11 o'clock today, and then began again with redoubled vigor. It was more like a March than February gale. The wind whistled and sang and bellowed; the snow scurried and drifted and banked; the sleet stung faces of humans and hides of animals. Women setting out for meetings and to visit friends last night poked their noses out of the doors, took a few steps in the direction of their going, then wheeled about and returned to their firesides. The wind was too bolsterous to allow of their venturing far. Broad-shouldered men and healthy boys said it was "great," but withal took the first street car that hove in sight.

Car Service Demoralized.

The car service in the city was practically demoralized from 6 o'clock last night on until late this morning. Cars would start only to be brought to a standstill by power failing, or too much snow on the rails. The men in charge of the service worked valiantly to keep the service decently open, but their utmost endeavors failed to be productive of anything resembling a regular schedule.

The element of comedy entered frequently, and although many were late for work today, good nature prevailed everywhere. Coming down Richmond street this morning, on the rear platform of an Oxford car, the crowd, although motley, was representative. Laborers, clerks, businessmen and some few girls, huddled together and laughed, and made fun of their predicament, if such it might be called. Two or three more eager for work than the others, would jump off the car as the power failed, but would not have gone 20 yards before the trolley recommenced its drive towards Dundas street. Then the slippery scramble to retain footholds on the rear platform. The streets were very slippery. A heavy fall of iced water had preceded the snow last evening, and when the heavy fall did come the wind kept clear the sidewalks. The rain had frozen, however, and the walk thoroughfares were smooth as glass and slippery as eels' backs.

The wind was cold, cold. It bit into the face and penetrated the close-woven ulsters. Houses were hard to heat. Timorous wives and daughters were frightened as the walls inclosing them swayed and rocked to the tempestuous buffetings of the angry elements.

One terrible mishap has been reported from Jarvis. A brakeman of a Wabash train had gone down the track in the blinding storm to flag the engine which was backing up on thirteen derailed cars. The snow in his eyes made it impossible to see the engine. He was struck and instantly killed. It was necessary to jack up the engine before the body could be recovered.

Snowplows Shattered.

Steel snowplows twisted and shattered by the weight of the snow, forty passengers and the crews of five motors were forced to remain on the line all night, wires down and five feet of solid "sand" snow, extending in places for miles, were the conditions that faced the London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company this morning, after what the officials describe as the worst storm with which the company has ever had to contend.

Although the passengers had a most uncomfortable experience, none of them had suffered, as the cars were well stocked with coal, and everything possible was done for their comfort. Livverymen in the city refused to send out busses last night to bring in the stranded passengers. In the first place, they said there was no chance of getting through, and again, their men would not face a storm which seemed to have the power to lift a sleigh and hurl it in the air. The company sought in vain to secure vehicles and until 3 o'clock this morning General Manager Warburton was endeavoring to open the line. There were three cars stranded on the line at that time—one near Scottsville, one at the town line, and another at Evans, below St. Thomas. The two plows were both stalled near Scottsville.

Plows Forced Through.

These plows were sent out on the line at 5 o'clock, and forced their way through rapidly-piling drifts. Gradually the weight of the heavy, granulated snow became leaden, and the plows could move very slowly. A short time later and the plows had to be raced at each bank in order to clear the line. Later, the heavy steel flanges crumpled and twisted under the pressure, but the men in charge continued to press on, finally passing Lambeth and reaching a point near Scottsville. There they were forced to stall. Heavy drifts, many feet deep, lay over the line, an immovable barrier to traffic. At some points between London and Lambeth the snow lay five and six feet deep over the line.

Manager Warburton said that the wires were down at several points, and that the telephone service was also out of commission. While the hydro service was intermittent, it stood up well, considering the force of the wind. None of the power lines came down, though the contrary was reported.

1,000 Passengers Held.

Railwaymen this afternoon estimate that over 1,000 passengers for eastern and southern points were temporarily stalled here as a result of the tie-up occasioned by the storm which has been sweeping the entire district for over 24 hours.

Every available snowplow has been pressed into service, but as fast as the lines were cleaned the terrific gale picked the snow up in clouds, and in a few seconds all cuts were filled deeper than ever. In several instances the snowplows themselves were stalled

SCARE IN LONDON IS ONLY REHEARSAL

No Foundation For Rumor of Zeppelin Raid On Dover.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Feb. 2.—1:00 p.m.—London's Zeppelin scare of last night now appears to have been in the nature of a rehearsal. No foundation is discoverable for the rumors that German aircraft were travelling over Dover. The firing by the Dover forts is said to have been a warning to ships, which omitted to comply with port regulations.

The German submarine raiders, although not known positively to have been in the Irish Sea within the last 24 hours, still hold up a majority of the coasting steamers and fishing boats. Liverpool insurance men are quoting rates approximately four times the former figures.

SMALLPOX NOT DECREASING.

Medical Officer of Health Dr. T. V. Hutchinson is authority for the statement that smallpox is not on the decrease in this city.

"If anything, it is a trifle on the increase," declared the M. O. H. today.

Free vaccination, offered by the board of health to all who care to come to the health department in the city hall, is going about the same as usual. There has been no record rush to secure smallpox "insurance" via the vaccine route.

MORGAN AMUSED AT LABOR INVESTIGATION

Laughs When Some Questions Are Put To Him As Witness.

[Canadian Press.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—J. P. Morgan, testifying today before the inquiry being conducted by the federal commission on industrial relations into the great philanthropic foundations and the cause of industrial unrest, denied that his banking firm dominated a half of the railroads in the United States, as was alleged by Samuel Untermeyer, when he was a witness. Mr. Untermeyer said that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and J. P. Morgan controlled practically all the railroads in the country.

"We certainly do not control half of the railroads," Mr. Morgan asserted. The idea seemed to amuse him, for he laughed and continued, "I should like to think that we did."

It was Mr. Morgan's first public appearance as spokesman for the vast financial interests of the Morgan Company.

He was in favor of the "open shop" and considered that in labor disputes the employer should "play the part of any decent man." Philanthropic foundations had done considerable good, he believed.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering, At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa.—"When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Frank Clark, 3146 N. Tulip street, Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

GERMANY GIVES UP HOPE OF KEEPING ITALY OUT OF WAR

New York, Feb. 2. — A special dispatch to the World from Berlin, dated Jan. 30, by courier to London, says:

"Although her diplomatic agents are still working day and night to preserve Italian and Roumanian neutrality, the German Government has abandoned all hope of keeping those two countries out of the war. Information just received by the World correspondent from a most trustworthy diplomatic source reveals the fact that Germany and Austria-Hungary, by a secret agreement, recently began to prohibit export to Italy of certain classes of oils and other commodities not hitherto barred, and of which Italians stand in need. There has been no public announcement of this move, but the Roumanian Government is believed to have got wind of it, for it has held up all shipments of petroleum to Germany and her ally."

MILITARY PRISONER NEARLY DRAGS GUARD UNDER TRAIN WHEELS

Raymond Kelly, Wanted in London for Desertion From Second Contingent, Makes Struggle for Liberty at St. Thomas.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 1. — Great excitement prevailed as the St. Thomas quota of the third contingent was entraining for London this morning, when Raymond Kelly, one of the enlisted men, tried to break away.

It appears Kelly had enlisted in the second contingent and deserted from the training camp in London. He came to St. Thomas a few days ago and enlisted with the third contingent. Being recognized, the matter was reported to the military headquarters in London, and as a result he was placed under arrest Saturday night. During the rumpus the train started to pull out, and several times it looked as if either the prisoner or his captors, military police from London, would roll under the wheels. However, Kelly was overpowered and pushed into the moving coach.

The St. Thomas body left for the training camp at London at 10:45 this morning. The company was 123 strong. Two or three hundred citizens gathered at the station, and when the train pulled out, amid cheering and waving of handkerchiefs, the men sang "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." The men were in charge of Lieut. Harry Colter, son of Judge Colter, of this city.

DEMOCRATS BOLT ON SHIPPING BILL

Pandemonium Breaks Loose in United States Senate As Result.

REED SCORES BOLTERS

Accuses Them of Being in the Employ of the Shipping Trust.

[Canadian Press.]

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 1.—Like a bolt from the blue, in the Senate late today, nine Democrats joined an alliance with Republicans in an effort to send the Government ship purchase bill back to the commerce committee. The result was as unexpected as it was sudden, and turned in a twinkling an administration advantage into a defensive position which tonight seemed almost hopeless to many Democratic leaders.

Forced to fight for the life of the measure, the Democrats succeeded in adjourning the Senate with the motion to recommit pending, and a party caucus was called for tomorrow morning. Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, Democrat, and president pro tempore of the Senate, revolutionized the situation which has held the Senate in deadlock for many days. He rose while Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, was concluding a long speech against the shipping bill, and asked him to yield for a motion. The senator yielded, having learned the nature of the motion to come, and Senator Clarke, introducing his remarks with an appeal for consideration of other legislation, moved to send the pending bill back to committee.

Pandemonium Breaks Loose.

Such pandemonium as followed this development has not been witnessed in the Senate in many years. Senators poured from the cloak-rooms to the chamber like bees from a hive. Republicans, forewarned, were the first on the scene.

As soon as administration leaders could catch their breath, Senator Fletcher, in charge of the bill, made a point of order against the motion, which Vice-President Marshall sustained. Senator Clarke appealed from the decision, and the chair was overruled by a vote of 46 to 37, nine Democrats joining the Republicans. After some further parliamentary manoeuvering, Senator Reed took the floor and, denouncing his Democratic colleagues for their defection, accused the opponents of the bill of being influenced by the "shipping trust." Both sides seemed to be willing to declare a truce to take stock of the new situation, and when Senator Fletcher moved an adjournment until noon tomorrow, there was no opposition.

No Threat From Britain.

Insistent statements today by Representative Mann and other Republican leaders in the House of Representatives that the State Department has in its possession a note or letter from Great Britain regarding the pending ship purchase bill, brought forth denials from both Majority Leader Underwood and Secretary Bryan. The note was alleged to have been from Sir Edward Grey, declaring the proposed purchase of German or Austrian ships an unneutral act.

AGED KINCARDINE RESIDENT IS DEAD

KINCARDINE, Feb. 1.—Another old resident has passed away in the person of Mrs. Joseph Cook, aged 81 years. She was a native of Kildare, Ireland, and came to Canada when about 16 years of age in the year 1857, with her husband who entered into the merchantile business and predeceased her 28 years ago. J. C. Cook, druggist, is a son.

The funeral of the late Elizabeth Layton Harrison took place Saturday to Kincardine Cemetery. Also that of Annabell Grant, relict of the late Robert Moneylaws.

Mrs. Young, a former resident of this town, died in Toronto last Friday. The body came to Kincardine on Saturday and was interred in Kincardine Cemetery today. She was a sister-in-law of John Young, of this place.

Germany Plans To Strip Churches To Secure Copper

Can Find Enough Lying Around to Last 30 Years, Says Dr. Schuster.

AMSTERDAM, via London, Feb. 1.—9:17 p.m.—"So far as copper is concerned, by making use of all the bronze monuments and copper cupolas of the churches and collecting all the copper we have used for other purposes in the last few years, Germany will be able to hold out for thirty years more."

Thus spoke Dr. Schuster, secretary of the German Iron Founders Union, at the annual meeting of the union in Dusseldorf, according to a dispatch received by the Tijd. Dr. Schuster is reported as having added:

"If necessary, in the conquered parts of Belgium and France we shall seize everything made of copper."

$25.00 FOR A LETTER

CAN YOU WRITE ONE?

Thirteen Prizes to be Awarded in a Letter Writing Competition.

Some years ago the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, of Brockville, Ont., offered a series of prizes to residents of the Province of Ontario for the best letters describing cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of letters were submitted in this competition, and yet there must have been thousands of other users of the pills who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to win a prize. To all these another letter-writing competition is offered. Thousands of cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never been reported. These will furnish the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts, and facts only.

THE PRIZES.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before the 1st day of March, from residents of Ontario, on the subject, "Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter, and ten prizes of $2.00 each for the next best ten letters.

THE CONDITIONS.

The cure or benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case, or one that has come under his or her personal observation.

More than one cure may be described in the letter, but every statement must be literally and absolutely true.

Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the cure of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must also be signed by the person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statements made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement.

Five writing will not win the prize, unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation, and not the style of the letter, will be the basis of the award.

It is understood that The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest if they desire to do so, whether it wins a prize or not.

The contest will close on March 1, 1915, and the prizes will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know of a cure, write your letter NOW. Observe the above conditions carefully, or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows:

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company,
Brockville Ont.

NO BRITISH ELECTION UNTIL END OF WAR

LONDON, Jan. 21 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—It is expected that when Parliament reassembles on February 2 the Government will be asked to state the intentions with regard to the next general election, which, under the Parliament Act, as it now stands should take place this year.

There appears to be little prospect that arrangements for an election will be found practicable. An appeal to the constituency during a time when the nation is engaged in war is considered by most persons to be unwise. Moreover, many members of the House of Commons are at the front and could not take part in the contest.

It is thought likely therefore that when Parliament meets an agreement will be reached that there shall be no further appeal to the voters until next year, or possibly until the end of the war.

What little business is being transacted, however, is believed to be at the lower figures.

RULES OF HEALTH FOR DYSPEPTICS

DIETING UNNECESSARY

There are two ways by which people who suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, flatulence, etc., can overcome the trouble. First, as practically all cases of the above are directly or indirectly traceable to acidity and fermentation, they can eliminate from their diet all foods which ferment and form acid, such as all starches and sugar and foods containing them, thus prohibiting breads, potatoes, fruits and most meats. About the only safe foods are gluten breads, spinach and small quantities of white meat of chicken or turkey. This diet is almost a starvation one, but it is sometimes quite effective. The second way, which appeals especially to those who like to eat hearty meals of good foods, is to eat whatever is reasonably digestible, neutralize the acid and stop fermentation by the use of a good antacid such as bisurated magnesia, a teaspoonful of which in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt, instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work without pain or hindrance. Owing to its simplicity, convenience and effectiveness this latter plan is now being adopted, instead of the old-fashioned, expensive, weakening starvation process. In this connection it is interesting to note that since the widespread use of bisurated magnesia was established, many druggists have arranged to supply it in 5-grain tablets 2 to 3 of which are equivalent to a teaspoonful of the powder form and are much more convenient to carry. "PATS" HURL BACK GERMAN FORCE AND TAKE NEW TRENCHES

Canadians Again Bear Brunt of Furious Assault and Came Out of Ordeal With Colors Proudly Flying as Before.

[Special to The Advertiser by Henry Wood.]

Paris, Feb. 2.—The Princess Patricias, Canada's crack regiment, bore the brunt of another furious German charge west of La Bassee, according to the dispatches from the front today. The Canadians fought brilliantly, hurling the enemy back with severe losses. Then they counter-attacked and captured a position along the canal to Bethune, which was occupied by Germans in last week's fighting.

Bloody Engagement.

Renewal of the bloody infantry engagement between La Bassee and Bethune, and the violent cannonading of a Belgian position near Ypres, were the principal features in today's dispatches from the front.

These advices said that the Germans, who were beaten off in an infantry attack near Ypres at daylight yesterday, are now shelling Belgian trenches. Another series of infantry charges is anticipated.

Batteries Silenced.

French shells set fire to a German supply depot near Noyon. Along the Aisne, French gunners silenced several German batteries and effectually broke up sporadic infantry charges.

Slight progress has been made in the Perthes region. Elsewhere there was a lull in the fighting in the last 24 hours.

WHY THE BIG OVERDRAFT FOR LOCAL HOSPITAL?

Mayor Wants Facts and Figures at This Afternoon's Meeting.

Mayor H. A. Stevenson and the members of the board of control will conduct a searching inquiry today into the $25,000 ovedraft of Victoria Hospital last year. The mayor has summoned the hospital trust to a conference with the board of control, and the whys and wherefores of the overdraft will be gone into in minitest detail in order that the 1915 administration may have the fullest facts of this legacy of a $25,000 left it by the last regime.

Must Know the "Whys."

"We are going to find out who is to blame in this connection," declared Mayor Stevenson, discussing the "probe" today. "We do not propose to accept the mere statement that there has been an overdraft. We want to know why. If the hospital trust has been negligent, then it will be up to it to extricate itself from the financial hole in which it has placed itself."

When the fact that the hospital trust was to have such an overdraft in its year's accounts was made public members of the hospital trust laid part of the blame on the 1914 board of control. That body, they claimed, had cut the year's estimate by a considerable figure.

They also made the assertion that the war was directly responsible for another considerable portion of the overdraft. The financial situation that followed as a sequel to the war increased the number of non-paying patients with the result that the anticipated and estimated revenue had fallen off, leaving the difference as an unaccountable overdraft.

Facts and Figures.

All these facts will be aired again this afternoon, but according to the mayor, mere statements will not be accepted. Facts and figures will have to be forthcoming to satisfy him.

LONDON WILL NOW HAVE 77 POLLING DIVISIONS

Assessment Office Is Rushed To Rearrange Precincts For Voting.

London's increased population, and the consequent adition to the voters' list, is giving the city clerk's and the assessment department one of the biggest tasks that he confronted either department for yers. The increased population has necsitated the addition of half a scoremore polling divisions.

Under the Ontario statutes as soon as a polling division as more than the specified number of electors, it must be subdivided. Electrs are, therefore, the basis on which to additional divisions must be creati, and the result has been a change in every one of the 67 polling divisions in London.

Under the new pollin division system that goes into effect ext year, there are 77 divisions or precints. As assessment returns are made y divisions the 1916 assessments, to be nde this spring, will be under the 77 system. This new system has made a change in every one of the existing subdivisions and the 1916 assessment will practically have to be made independently of those of previous years.

The task of transferring property registrations from the old subdivisions to the new is one that will keep the assessment department busy.

In the city clerk's office all voters in the old subdivisions will have to be transferred to the new ones. The preparation of the yearly voters' list is, therefore, just that much of an increased task.

DIED IN THE WEST

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Feb. 2.—A prominent resident of Portage Plains, Joseph H. Roberts, who came west from Parkhill, Ont., in 1882, died last night in Portage la Prairie, after a long illness. He was born in Parkhill in 1852, and was one of the wealthiest farmers in Manitoba. His widow and seven children survive, including Harold, with the first contingent, now at the front.

TWO SQUADRONS NOT YET HERE

B. and C. From Toronto and Alvinston Overdue in Reporting For Service.

OFFICERS DISAPPOINTED

Major Reason and Three Company Commanders Not On Revised Draft.

B. and C. squadrons, of the Seventh Regiment, Canadian Mounted Rifles, have not yet reported at their mobilization base in this city, and it was stated today that the reason was that the officers in the original slate were not to be appointed.

On the original slate Major C. H. Reason was named as major. Major McCall, Capt. Balfour and Capt. Abel were named as captains of the three squadrons. According to the draft forwarded to Ottawa by Col. Leonard, none of these officers are named.

Lieut.-Col Leonard has nothing to say until his list has been made public and considers the letter printed in The Advertiser and written by one of the enlisted men as not worthy an answer.

Want Their Officers.

It was stated in some quarters that unless Balfour and McCall were appointed their companies would not report to London, and that they were overdue at the present time. It was also said that the London company might refuse service unless Major Reason, Capt. Abel and local lieutenants were appointed. Some of the men say they cannot be forced to perform service. None of the officers who have served in the First Hussars will accept commissions unless Major Reason and Capt. Abel are given places. This was stated definitely to The Advertiser this morning by one of them.

A Company of Catholics.

It was also said that unless Captain Balfour, who is a Roman Catholic, received his commission, his men would refuse to come, as it was recruited among Catholics in the Alvinston district, and the men were determined to have their own officer. Captain Balfour has been for twenty years in service, and fought in South Africa as a cavalryman. Major McCall's men are said to take the same attitude.

Whether the men could be held to their enlistment is not known. Friends of Lieut.-Col. Leonard say that he is doing the best in the interests of the regiment and that officers on his draft will be among the best in Canada.

It is said the matter is being taken up at Ottawa.

GUEST OF THE GOVERNOR.—Philip Nee sauntered into the bar of the Duke of York Hotel last night, and upon being refused a drink he hurled a bottle through a large mirror. He was promptly arrested. In court today Nee was given the option of paying a $5 fine or spending 15 days as a guest of Governor Carter. Nee had 16 cents in his possession.

RAILROADS, TRACTIONS

and one is at present helpless in a nine-foot drift near Glanworth, and another is tied up on the Bruce line near Ilderton.

The morning Grand Trunk train from Wingham was cancelled altogether, owing to the big drifts. The train from London got stalled north of Lucan, and a plow which was sent up got stalled too. The railwaymen have been shovelling their way through some of the worst drifts, and expect to get their train back late this afternoon.

Work All Night.

Most of the railway officials worked all night in their efforts to keep everything moving. Today they said the storm was one of the worst they have had to fight in years.

The switchmen in the various yards had an endless task in trying to keep the switches cleaned out.

The passengers who left St. Thomas for London via the M. C. R. only got as far as the big cut near Glanworth. When the train stalled they were taken back to St. Thomas on a special sent out, and the first train is still in the snow.

Traffic Maintained West.

West of the city, the traffic is being maintained fairly well, but the trains are running hours late, as it is impossible to make any kind of time with the rails covered with sleet.

G. T. R. express No. 13 was reported six hours late, and the Chicago express was stalled near Brantford, and it is not known when it will reach London.

The electric lines suffered worse than the steam roads, especially the London and Lake Erie Company, whose schedule was demoralized.

The street railway kept its big plow going all night, and was able to maintain a very fair schedule in the downtown section. In spots where the tracks were exposed to the sweep of the wind it required continual work to keep the lines open.

All the G. T. R. and C. P. R. branch lines north of London were blocked, and many of the trains were cancelled.

No Farmers In.

For the first time this year there were absolutely no farmers in to attend the market.

One wholesale butcher arrived fairly early, but departed in a couple of hours, declaring that it was the slowest market he had ever seen.

The dairy hall was deserted, not an egg or a pound of butter being on sale.

"The country roads must be in an awful state, to keep all the farmers away from market," declared Market Clerk Maker about noon.

The market Monday was extremely small, and in consequence it is expected that there will be a good demand for all commodities for the rest of the week.

Drift at Lambeth.

The roads around Lambeth, while not drifted to any extent, are extremely heavy according to reports. Several cutters from London managed to get through to Lambeth this morning, but the horses were pretty well exhausted when the trip was over.

The rural mail driver arrived at Lambeth just 45 minutes late from Komoka. He reported that the roads were in a very heavy condition all the way.

Street Cars Demoralized.

London street cars had to contend with the worst weather so far this winter, and until after 3 o'clock this afternoon all lines were running far from schedule time.

Since 7 o'clock Monday night, two sweepers and a snowplow have endeavored to keep the line clear.

Ridout and Normal cars experienced the greatest difficulty of any in the city, on account of the numerous switches into which the sugary snow drifted and packed hard.

By noon, all lines in the city were reported to be open, and cars were being run on some sort of schedule, over all parts of the city.

ENGINE TURNED ROUND.

[Canadian Press.]

Seaforth, Feb. 2.—During a blinding snow and sleet storm a bad accident occurred to train No. 219 last night about two and a half miles east of Seaforth on her regular trip between Buffalo and Goderich. The train, which was in charge of Conductor Lewis, was drawn by two engines. The first engine jumped the track, turning completely around, facing the second engine.

John Ross, of Goderich, engineer on the first engine, was badly scalded, but will likely recover. His fireman also was somewhat bruised. None of the rest of the crew or passengers were injured. A storm prevails still.

BAD ALL OVER.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Feb. 2.—From all over the territory in Ontario west of Toronto today comes the same story of a gale, with snow and sleet, with a relatively low temperature. The snow drifting has blocked steam roads, trolley lines and highways. Several minor accidents are reported.

ENGINES IN DITCH.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Listowel, Feb. 2.—Two G. T. R. engines lie in the ditch near here as a result of an accident last night. They will be left there till Sunday. Both engines were attached to the train due here at 8:15 o'clock last night. One mile north of town they ran off the track, and were badly smashed up.

Three coaches also left the tracks, but kept erect and the 70 passengers were uninjured. They were kept waiting five hours for the wrecking train from Palmerston to arrive.

The only known injury was to Engineer Mooregate, of Palmerston, who had three ribs broken.

Traffic here is absolutely at a standstill.

WEDDING BELLS

BARNARD—DALTON.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Peter's Cathedral Monday morning, when Florence May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dalton, of 570 Maitland street, was united in marriage to Charles Barnard, son of the late Peter Barnard, of London. Rev. Father McKeon officiated at nuptial mass. Appropriate music was provided by the organist, Miss Keating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a smart suit of navy blue broadcloth, with black picture hat, trimmed with pink rosebuds and white plume. She was attended by her sister, Miss May Dalton, who also wore a blue suit, with black velvet hat, rose-trimmed. Albert E. Dalton, brother of the bride, assisted the groom. The latter's gift to the bride was a handsome brooch, set with pearls, to the bridesmaid, bar pin, and to the groomsman, gold cuff links.

Following the ceremony, the guests partook of a dainty wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Barnard will reside in London.

Later, he was for some time city clerk of Kingston before taking up military life as a profession. He formerly was a major in the Fourteenth Regiment of Kingston.

ARCHITECT QUESTION TO BE SETTLED TODAY

Supply of Free Text Books to Public Schools To Be Looked Into Also.

Settlement of some of the most important questions confronting the board of education this year is expected to materialize at the trustees regular meeting this afternoon. The employment of a school architect, to supervise the construction of the four new schools it is proposed to construct this year; the supply of free text books to the public schools, and the building program for the year will all come under discussion.

Feeling on the architect question has been running high, and some interesting developments are expected. Opposition from certain quarters to the plan of retaining an architect to do nothing but school work is assured. This alone insures a warm fight over the question.

Whether, in view of the policy of economy that is being insisted on in all civic boards and the fact that the resources of the board will be strained to the limit to provide the new schools, the free text books—the dream of the Trades and Labor Council for many years past—will become an accomplished fact this year is, to say the least, most problematical.

COUNTY ORANGE LODGE OF MIDDLESEX MEETING

Doubt exists at present as to the man who will be elected to succeed him. Dr. W. J. Wilson, Y.S., present deputy county master, is the one who is regarded as the most likely candidate.

This evening the County Black Chapter of the Black Knights of Ireland holds its annual meeting also. Joe Murray, of this city, is present deputy master. Henry Mann, Evelyn, present county master of the county lodge and deputy preceptor of the county chapter, is expected to fill the chair for the ensuing year.

SOLDIER GETS LIBERTY.

Gordon W. Wilder, arrested by Detectives Robert Egelton and Harry Down at the fair grounds yesterday when the military men stated he had attempted to set fire to the guard-room, was allowed his liberty by Police Magistrate J. C. Judd today when he paid a $3 fine on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Wilder, in court, stated that he was crazy drunk and did not know anything he did at all, and as the military authorities did not appear in court to press or lay any charge against him he was tried on the minor offence.

In speaking to the detectives, Wilder stated that as his train was pulling out of St. Thomas a man gave those aboard a case of whiskey, and that he drank considerable of it, which he guessed must have affected him pretty bad, according to all the things he was told he had done yesterday.

After the court session Wilder left for the fair grounds, where he said he would ask for another chance to make good.

LONDON, TUESDAY, FEB. 2.

AFTER THE GRAFTER.

GEN. HUGHES declares that he is going to make war on the contractors who supplied paper-soled boots to the Canadian soldiers. In doing so, he will have the hearty support of everybody. There is no more contemptible form of crime than the adulteration of supplies for an army in time of war. It is bad enough at any time, but when the efficiency of an army as a fighting force depends so largely on what they wear and what they eat, no punishment is too severe for the grafter.

In selling imperfect foot-wear to the Government for the use of the Canadian contingents, the criminal has cast a slur on the honesty as well as the patriotism of the people of the Dominion. He has struck a foul blow at Canadian manufactures, for it has become a matter of notoriety that the British Government has had to forbid the use of Canadian shoes in the army, and now requires the Canadian soldier to wear a British boot. And this, fortunately, prevents a greater evil. Had the use of these Canadian boots been allowed, the men who wore them in the long marches at the seat of war would have been incapacitated for their work, and the death of many would have been justly laid at the door of the dishonest manufacturer.

The Minister of Militia will do a good stroke of business for his country if he proceeds vigorously against any grafters. There will not only be the contractor to investigate, but the inspector will have to clear his skirts. It looks as though there may have been something defective in this branch of the department. The laxity of inspection in the matter of boots is in striking contrast with the action taken in the case of a local cap factory. In this latter, it would seem that the officials had gone to the other extreme. There is neither sense nor justice in this sort of thing. Laxity in inspection in Montreal is no excuse for zeal without discretion in London.

In the letting of these government contracts there should be a fair field and no favor, irrespective of persons or politics. And any corporation or individual attempting to unload defective supplies on the Government should be punished with the utmost rigor of the law, no matter whether he be of high degree or low. Some people's business morals are so loose that they think it is no sin to cheat the Government. There is too much of that kind of crookedness. But in cases like those under consideration, it is not simply the Government that suffers. It is not simply the public treasury that is robbed. The crime is against the men we are sending to the front to fight our battles.

A TIMELY TRIBUTE.

IN HIS report of the North Sea fight Admiral Sir David Beatty declares that the rapid manner in which his fleet overhauled the Germans was due to the fine steaming, made possible by the efforts of the splendid fellows in the enginerooms and stokeholes. Down in the bowels of a battleship going into action there is nothing to stir the pulse as is the case on deck. To engineer, fireman and trimmer there is lacking the thrill that comes to the gunner and his mates. And if disaster comes, as it did in the South Pacific, they are likely to be shut off from hope of escape. To fight blindly, as it were, unable to see the enemy, requires the highest type of courage. To keep a monster fighter, such as the Lion, going at the top of her speed for hours at a stretch, means nerve-racking alertness for both engineroom and stokehole staffs. Beatty's tribute to this section of a warship's crew, that is seldom mentioned in accounts of battle, is both timely and well earned.

WHO SHOULD ENLIST?

Complaint is made that the young men in rural Ontario and Quebec are not volunteering. If these young men are engaged in farm work, why take them away when many are idle in the cities?—Montreal Daily Mail.

REPORTS from various rural localities in Western Ontario show that many farmers and farmers' sons have enlisted, but it is well to remember that a general movement for the enlistment of those who produce foodstuffs would seriously affect the entire population.

While there is much talk of increasing production at the present time, and while there is a good intention behind it, it should be remembered that a farmer cannot make two bushels grow instead of one if he has not the labor for the work required. There is much advice given the farmer; especially do the manufacturers urge him to increase his output and to continue his prosperity. The farmer is anxious to be as prosperous as possible, and to add to the general prosperity, but he cannot do much more than he has been doing unless he can secure competent laborers.

Possibly many farmers say there are no men to work on the farm because few men apply for work; possibly 90 per cent of those who take work on farms are not competent in the trade. One farmer, who advertised in The Advertiser recently for a farm hand received 62 replies, and surely among all these there would be found a competent man. Of course, no farmer would have time to interview them all, but among the replies he would no doubt find one that on the face of it indicated special knowledge of the work. Perhaps the newspaper could aid many more farmers in securing competent men, but, until more men are secured, it would not be wise to make the appeal for recruits too general, as concerning farmers and farmers' sons.

Many able-bodied men will be required of Canada before the war has been brought to a close, more by far than have been offered. It is not proper that any particular class of men should be appealed to especially. The man out of work in the city is no more called upon to fight than the man in an office. It may be that his circumstances will lead him to enlist, but they are no reason for his enlistment.

While the call of his country sounds just as loudly for the farmer and his son as for the city man, the country can ill-afford to spare the man on the farm. He is doing a necessary work, just as important as fighting. In fact, while he works and produces, he is fighting against the German farmer who is working and producing, for his produce will, or should, find its way into the mouths of some one of those concerned on the side of the Allies. Every farmer who keeps working in Canada strikes a blow at Germany. And the same applies to producers of another kind, men who work with their hands, but not to such a great extent.

The man who should enlist is the man who feels that he can and should enlist, and by his act serve his country better than at home. It may be that the personal interest has not come home to all Canadians, but before the Canadians have been many weeks at the front there will be a new interest in the war in this country. When it is felt that the Kaiser is striking down the sons of Canadian mothers and fathers, there will be thousands ready to take up the high mission laid down with the lives of our boys in France.

ZEPPELINS FAIL.

WHILE it may be a little early to put the Zeppelins down as an all-round failure, up to date they have failed to live up to their advance notices. The Kaiser's "terror of the skies" has failed to bring about that reign of terror which had been so confidently promised the enemies of the war lord. That night raid over Norfolk demonstrated that as an offensive arm the Zeppelin has been greatly over-rated. Now, no less an authority than Waldemar Kaempffert, the noted American scientist and managing editor of the Scientific American, declares that the Kaiser's aerial dreadnoughts have done nothing, and can do nothing. Considering the speed, radius of activity and armament of the Zeppelin, the little execution it has done by bomb-dropping is too trifling to be taken seriously, he asserts. Used in the manoeuvres of the German army they appeared to possess immense possibilities, but they have failed to pass the test of actual war conditions.

According to Mr. Kaempffert, the Zeppelin's main handicap is its huge size. Although he has been working on the problem for years, Count Zeppelin has failed to devise a way of keeping his aerial giants in leash close to the ground. In the smallest kind of a gale they become unruly. Before a Zeppelin can be launched on a "baby killing," or any other kind of expedition, special weather conditions must prevail, and Germany has yet to raise a wizard who can sidetrack a tempest or conjure up a favoring breeze. The result of this unwieldiness is that immense steel sheds are required for the housing of the Zeppelins, which accounts for the fact that there are, at the present time, but fourteen Zeppelins in commission. As it would require several hundreds of the big dirigibles to make an invasion of the British Isles worth while, that contingency becomes too remote to be a source of worry.

And for scouting purposes, the German dirigibles have also proved a fiasco. Here again their immense size tells against them. They make too grand a target. That is why we continually hear of the exploits of the little aeroplanes while little is heard as to the operations of the Zeppelins. The only chance the Zeppelin has of earning its pay, so to put it, is by night raids, such as was made over England. To make such an attempt during the daylight hours would be extremely hazardous. How little can be accomplished under cover of the darkness has been shown.

One of the best evidences that the Zeppelin's destructive powers have been overestimated is shown in the fact that no attack has been made on the steamers that conveyed the British troops to Belgium, nor upon the regiments themselves, as they took the march in close formation to the nearest railway station. Here were exceptional opportunities for execution by bomb-dropping dirigibles. No doubt the German general staff full realizes the limitations of the Kaiser's pets, and has decided that the risk of meeting disaster was not worth the trifling execution that might be done. Despite the Kaiser's congratulatory message to their inventor, the Zeppelin has yet to "make good."

KULTUR AND CULTURE.

A PRINCETON professor says that the Germans mean something different by their "kultur" from the sense of our "culture". In a general way that has been made abundantly obvious of late, if we suppose that the Germans honestly believe their conduct of the war to be a part of their kultur. However, it is more than probable, and charitable to think, that their present practice and principles hardly do conform to the ordinary, normal idea of "kultur", while at the same time the professor is doubtless right in distinguishing that idea from the connotation of our word "culture."

There seems to be two main points of difference. First, kultur is more intellectual and mechanical; culture is rather moral and aesthetic. Secondly, culture is individual in its reference, while kultur has a more national significance, is a national system or type of culture. Kultur is nearer in meaning to our "civilization", representing a stage of communal advancement in mechanical equipment, business, social and political organization, and the complex development of scientific co-operation, conservation and education, without so immediate a reference to art, manners, religion and morals.

Among animals, that brain is called highest which shows the most numerous convolutions. So among nations, the most advanced civilization or "kultur" is that which is most complex. Germany has boasted that her specializations, her co-operative, systematized work in science and research, her application of science to industry, her laboratories and schools, her scientific publications and societies, have made her the focus of the civilized world. This is what the Germans mean by their kultur, a scientific and mechanical organization, and one thing more, its concentrated and aggressive national character, the subordination or suppression of the individual in the beehive of the school, the industry, the specialized society, the army, in fine of "Germany Over All!"

So far as morals enter into kultur, the test of conduct is the welfare of the state to glorify Germany and enjoy her forever is the chief end of a German. Our notions of civilization, as well as of culture, here diverge, the former towards the cosmopolitan standard of morals, the latter towards an individual standard.

Individualism, the disease, let us say, of the Renaissance and early modern times, is choked down in Germany by a socialism, which is not revolutionary, but forced upon the nation from above, with a uniform as its final symbol. We British cling to our individualistic "culture" and to a stage in which civilization is not pushed to the absurdity of kultur, with its national or colorless morals, its vulgarity, bad manners and inhumanity. We refuse to become mere wheels and pins of a machine, and we can prefer kultur neither to culture nor to a civilization in which a human brotherhood overrides a narrow nationalism, in which the individual still holds a value for his own sake, and in which sweetness and light and beauty are something at least.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When charged by the Germans, the rats" stand pat.

Mexico City is once more in the hands of Carranza. "Carramba!" hisses Villa.

Perhaps that German submarine that was raiding in the Irish Sea was on the way to Tipperary.

London financiers predict that the war will end in May. We are glad they didn't decide on April, as April is such a fickle month.

One story from the trenches says a British soldier killed four of the enemy, all the time smoking an old pipe. Perhaps that explains it.

British soldiers fighting with their fists when at close quarters in the trenches of Flanders proves that John Bull still has plenty of "punch."

Von Tirpitz has started his long-promised war on the British merchant marine by means of submarines. Now watch Sir John Fisher come back at him and outscore him three to one.

David Ker, a famous writer of boys' stories, has just died. With R. M. Ballantyne, W. H. G. Kingston and G. A. Henty, for many years he turned out adventure yarns depicting wholesome activities and brave endeavor of the young Briton the world over. They were clean, inspiring tales of the open, and are decidedly worthy of a permanent place in libraries of the empire.

It is reported that the Hapsburgs are investing in American securities. Now is the time for other royal families to hedge gracefully.

FOR ME.

[Laura Sheldon, in New York Times.]

Who, who would have life's stretching sea
A sheet of tame tranquility?
No winds to blow, no rock, no shoal,
To lure one's vessel from her goal!

For me the bounding billows high,
The angry wind, the frowning sky,
And just one beacon, far or near,
Toward which, lone-handed, I must steer.

For me the richly-freighted ship,
The valiant start, the risky trip;
A well-trained nerve, a well-strained mast,
That I may welcome port at last!

MATRIMONIAL.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

A couple who contemplated matrimony by "correspondence" met at Grafton, W. Va., and the first query by the bride was "show me the $50,000." The groom-made-good and peace was established probably until the time comes to settle the question who will control the $50,000. But $50,000, or $500,000, or $5,000,000 is not a first-class basis for a happy marriage.

PRESS COMMENT ON THE WAR

WARNING NOTE.

[Calgary Herald.]

The German Minister of War has lost his job because he failed to stand well with the people. Which suggests that as a result of the war experience he is getting, Emperor William is finding that it pays to give heed to public opinion occasionally.

IN GREAT DANGER.

[Montreal Gazette.]

Freiherr Von Zeedlitz, leader of the German Free Conservatives, demands that the public be permited to know and discuss the terms of peace when the war ends. Von Zeedlitz, in thus speaking for the rank and file, is veering dangerously near socialism. If he is not careful he will find himself in the Kaiser's blacklist.

PROTECTORATES.

[London Daily Mail.]

The Turks have done us a service which partially redeems their insensate folly in declaring war and the trouble it is likely to lead to. They have given us an opportunity of making an end of the heartbreaking complications and ambiguities and restrictions that have hampered Egyptian progress for the past three decades. The protectorate we have proclaimed does not imply and ought not to imply annexation in the future. What it does imply is a freer hand for educating and developing Egypt, materially and politically, in the interests of the Egyptians.

BLESSING TO VAGS.

[Victoria Colonist.]

The war has been a blessing in disguise to London's vagrants. Even the criminal in the great city has turned patriot, for there has been a remarkable decrease in crime. Before the war the number of outcasts, women and men, rescued from the streets and given food and shelter by the Salvation Army, averaged 2,000 a night. Since hostilities broke out, not more than a hundred or two are nightly swept into its shelters. The explanation is found in the casually employed being now able to earn enough at steady work to pay for their accommodation. The small, utterly helpless and hopeless class at present alone comprises those who find refuge in the Salvation Army shelters.

A NEW WEEKLY.

A new weekly, to be known as the Chatham weekly Tribune, and which will be devoted to the interests of the colored people of this continent, has just been launched by Mr. C. K. Skales, who is both editor and publisher. If the promise shown by the first issue is carried out, we predict a successful, useful career for the new journal. The Advertiser extends a warm welcome to the Weekly Tribune. In stating his objects and policy, Editor Skales writes as follows:

"The aim and object of the Tribune, first and foremost, is a race paper in every sense of the word. It will ever champion the cause of the colored people throughout the North American continent, and, if possible, it will defend their rights across the seas. It will fight every kind of racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants, theatres, etc. It will meet the issues squarely and as they actually exist. It will urge every colored man and woman to stand up like men and women, and combat that awful race prejudice that now exists throughout the North American continent. It will, through a thorough campaign of education, instill in the minds of the colored men and women manly self-respect, race pride, and a degree of independence that will assure their being treated as human beings. It would place them on their honor as men and women, a medium that will undertake the diffusion of all the news all the time, that will be helpful to the race as a whole; a source of reliable information, a fearless advocate, a staunch friend. Our position will always be such that we can come to the unswerving support of any colored man or woman in their fight against injustice. We will be free to act at all times with an honest determination that will command respect. We will not betray any trust that may be reposed in us. There is no part of this paper for sale except the advertising columns. No man of body of men or any organization, political or otherwise, can ever buy or persuade us to stop our fight for justice, for a new abolition, for a new freedom.

"Secondly, we will seek through organization, employment for young colored men and women; will try to open up some of the avenues of industry that are now closed to colored folks, through systematic organization will improve the condition of the race from within."

WANT RADIAL LINE FROM TILLSONBURG TO LONDON

Delegation Comes to City to Interview Sir Adam Beck On Project.

Twenty-two representative men of the town of Tillsonburg, Dereham Township and Brownsville, met Sir Adam Beck informally, at the Tecumseh House, Monday afternoon, to discuss hydro matters, and to get information on the cost, etc., of building a radial line from Tillsonburg to London, branching at Lyons to Aylmer.

The men, headed by V. A. Sinclair, M.P.P., South Oxford, seemed to be impressed with Sir Adam's address, and left for home with a number of points cleared up, and new ideas formulated. The talk was an informal one, Sir Adam explaining at some length the workings of the hydro system. He stated that he would be glad to address a meeting in Aylmer or Tillsonburg at any time, and that an engineer would be sent to speak at meetings all over the district, if so desired.

"Where you can get two or three customers per mile, we can get you power," said Sir Adam. "Power will be just as cheap at one end of the township as it will at the other. I think that the Government is bound to grant us a subsidy. We can finance the proposition for two years easily without a subsidy and we can borrow after that. If the Traction Company can float their bonds, so can we."

A vote of thanks was passed Sir Adam at the conclusion of his address, Philip Pocock and E. C. Mitchell's names being included.

Mr. Mitchell stated that he was sorry that the London Board of Trade did not know of the coming of the deputation from Tillsonburg, as the board would have entertained them. The few minutes before train time were spent in a trip to the Horton street sub-station, where Sir Adam showed the deputation through the building.

UTILITIES BOARD ASKS FOR $92,000

Electrical Department Wants $62,000 of This Amount.

At a meeting of the utilities commissions on Monday afternoon it was decided to submit to the council for ratification debentures totalling $92,000. Of these $62,000 will be fore the electrical department and $30,000 for waterworks construction.

The board plans to expend in the coming year $12,000 for meters and devices, $28,000 for putting all wires down-town underground, $4,500 on services, and sub-station equipment $5,340.

The general figures in the estimates are:

The general figures are: Total construction, $45,318.67; balance of debentures, proceeds of 1914, $15,318.67; debenture issue required for 1915 is $30,000.

GAS EXPLOSION CAUSES FIRE IN A CHURCH

Damage Amounting toApproximately $300 Done Last Evening.

Damage amounting approximately to $300 was done to the Hale Street Methodist Church in two fires, the first of which broke out shortly before 6 o'clock last night. The second alarm was turned in soon after 8 o'clock, smouldering wood having become fanned into a blaze by the high wind.

The fire originated when the heat from a stove melted the solder on a feed pipe connected with the gas meter, which was placed above the wall and near the stove.

An explosion occurred, the flames shooting across the building and catching immediately onto the joists above. Before the apparatus from the East London fire hall had arrived the fire had gained a good start and had run up between the partitions into the roof.

The second blaze started out of sight of the firemen, but was quickly extinguished.

Rev. J. M. Keyes is pastor of the church.

LABOR MAKES PROTEST TO PREMIER BORDEN

Make Plea That London Recruits Should Have Local Officers.

Answers to their protests that officers from outside points were in command of corps of soldiers mobilized in this city were received by the officers of the trades and labor council yesterday from Hon. R. L. Borden and Hon. Thomas Crothers, minister of labor. The letters promised immediate attention to the grievances voiced by the labor men of the city.

The labor council executive met Thursday night to discuss the question, and to voice their sentiment for Londoners to be appointed to the positions of command at the head of the units concentrated here. The result of the meeting was the sending of communications to the premier and the minister of labor, stating the wishes of the labor men of the city.

License Reduction Bylaw Gets Final Council Reading

May Try to Keep It From the Legislature—H. J. Glaubitz Again.

At last night's meeting of the city council the bylaw to cut off six licenses was given its third and final reading, and will now be sent to the Legislature with the request that it be validated. Controller Percy Moore intimated that litigation may be attempted to prevent this being done.

A large delegation of temperance workers, including a number of women from the W.C.T.U., was present and took a keen intereat in the discussion.

Mr. Glaubitz Again.

Ald. Wilson asked Mayor Stevenson if it were correct, as had been reported to him, that Mr. H. J. Glaubitz is still using the big auto provided for the general manager of the utilities commission. The mayor did not know, and the matter was referred to the utilities commission.

A motion by Ald. Donnelly, seconded by Ald. Cooper, that the services of Publicity Commissioner Gordon Philip be dispensed with, was not voted on, pending another session at which a delegation from the board of trade and Commissioner Philip himself will be asked to be present.

Object to Expense.

Both aldermen objected to the expenditure of $6,109 in this department last year, on the ground that there was nothing to show for it and that it was a needless waste of the public money.

Controller White said that if Ald. Cooper had been present at the recent board of trade banquet he would have heard a report of what the commissioner has been doing.

"You can't buy me with a banquet," said Ald. Cooper.

Ald. Merryfield said he had felt the same way toward the industrial department as Ald. Donnelly and Ald. Cooper until he had got in touch with the work that was being done. Now he thought that the commissioner should be given every help.

Ald. Wilson declared he would vote with Ald. Cooper and Donnelly.

Aid Emigrants.

A motion, introduced by Ald. Lerner, that the Government be asked to give more aid to emigrants, was referred to No. 4 committee.

A motion, stating that the council views with favor the efforts of the school board to save money by employing its own architect, was, after a good deal of discussion, carried.

The council decided to ask for $1,000,000 three-year 5 per cent debentures to meet current expenses, and send the request to the Legislature for ratification.

The council sustained a recommendation of the board of control that the application of Charlie Lee for a laundry license at 172 Wortley road be not granted.

New Stockyards.

It was decided to include $7,000 in the city of London bill for the establishment of a civic stockyards. Alds. Daly and Cooper were the only members voting against the proposition.

The council decided to take up the option on the available land for the stockyards at once.

A motion, introduced by Ald. Ashplant, that the property qualification for holding office in the city council be abolished altogether, was lost.

IS 83 YEARS OLD

And Her Heart Does Not Bother Her.

Thanks to MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills

Mrs. J. McLaren, Commanda, Ont., writes us under date of February 9, 1914: "Sixteen years ago I took bad with my heart and nerves, and was not able to do anything. I tried a good many doctors, but they did me no good; in fact one doctor gave me up to die. I heard about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I thought I would give them a trial, and after using a couple of boxes I saw that I was improving. I kept on using them for quite a long time. I am 83 years old and my heart does not bother me at all.

"I am raising a little girl who was never very strong, and the doctor said that she had palpitation of the heart, so I started to give them to her. She is now 12 years old, and they are doing her more good than I can possibly tell you. I would advise anyone who has a weak heart to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, as they have done wonders for us."

Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25; for sale at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MOTHER! IT'S CRUEL TO FORCE OIL OR CALOMEL INTO A SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "physic" that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing give "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow. It should be the first remedy given, as it always does good, never any harm.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

DAILY PAGE FOR ADVERTISER WOMAN READERS

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

A Dog's Age.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you mind answering a few questions for me?

1. How long do St. Bernard dogs usually live; also Maltese poodles?

2. What is a good recipe for Turkish Delight candy?

3. How much should a girl of twelve weigh, and what is her average height?

I remain, PIXIE.

Ans.—1 Never having possessed a specimen' of either dog, I cannot say. Perhaps some kind reader, who knows all sorts of dog lore, will come to the rescue. Several "dog" books to which I turned, gave weight, color, traits, etc., but not a word about probable age.

2. This recipe for Turkish Delight is a really Oriental formula, quoted from Grant's book, "Peasantry of Palestine." "The first essential is a perfectly clean cooking dish, as the secret of good Turkish Delight is to prevent burning or sticking. One-half pound of cornstarch, 3 pounds sugar, and 10 cups water are to be used. The cornstarch is to be dissolved in two cups of water, and strained. The remaining eight cups of water, hot, and the sugar, are to be made into syrup. When the syrup is almost at the boiling point, clear with the white of an egg, skim off, add the juice of half a lemon, and strain through a cloth. Pour the cornstarch solution into the hot syrup, stirring continually and allowing the mixture to boil until very thick (it may take a long time), stirring all the time to prevent sticking at the bottom. This constant stirring during the cooking is very important. Blanch almonds and the flavoring, either more lemon, rosewater, essence of peppermint, etc., are put in just before taking the dish from the fire. The whole is poured into a large shallow tin into which fine sugar has been sifted. When the paste is cool, it may be marked into squares and cut.

3. It is entirely a matter of constitution. Some girls at 12 weigh from 110 to 120 pounds, others are just as healthy who have small frames, are slight built, and weigh less than a hundred. You see, it is a query impossible to answer in pounds and ounces.

Egg and Beef.

My Dear Miss Grey,—Here are four questions that I would very much like to have answered:

1. Could you give me the name of an instructive and illustrated art magazine?

2. What is the average height for a boy of 16, also for a girl of 15 years?

3. Is there as much nutriment in one egg as there is in a pound of beefsteak? I have a small bet with a friend that there is.

4. What do you think of my writing, and how old would you imagine I am judging by it?

Thanking you in anticipation. I am, INQUISITIVE.

Ans.—1. The Craftsman, Craftsman Building, New York City, is an excellent art publication; another is the International Studio, published by John Lane Company, 116-120 West 32nd street, New York City. Both these magazines are taken by the public library, and you could see copies there, if you live in town.

2. I do not know. Suppose about five feet, four, and five feet, two, would be average heights.

3. No. The same weight of eggs and lean beef, however, run a pretty close race as to nutritive value, with perhaps the balance on the side of the eggs.

Equal quantities of egg and lean beef estimated in 100 parts contain the following: Beef—Water, 69.4; nitrogenous matter, 19.5; fat, 9.7; mineral matter 1.4. Egg—Water, 71.7; albumen and casein, 14.0; oil and fat, 11.0; membranes and extractives, 2.0; mineral fat, 1.4.

4. Personally, I do not care for the "backhand" style, although some like it.

Must Admire Augusta J.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been greatly interested in your page for some time, and sincerely hope you will kindly answer a few questions for me.

1. On what day did January 28, 1835, come? What would be the birthstone?

2. What is the meaning of "Infelice?" The words "Vashti" and "Macaria?"

3. What is the meaning of the word "Tiberius," or was it once the name of a person? If so, where did he live?

4. What is the meaning of the following names—Beryl, Beulah, Inez, Anson, William, Fred and Oliver?

5. Is the author A. J. Evans Wilson still alive? If so, where is he living? What is his nationality?

6. Is the real Buffalo Bill still alive?

Thanking you in advance. I remain, yours truly, SANDY.

Ans.—1. Wednesday. The ruby, whose significance is "discovers poison, corrects evils resulting from mistaken friendship."

2. You are evidently a devotee to "Augusta J.," as your queries are mostly about her book titles. "Infelice" has, I suppose, the same meaning as "infelicity," or "without happiness." "Vashti," I should think you would recognize as the name of Ahaserus' deposed queen, in the book of Esther." As to "Macaria," I have never read the book; presume it is the name of a person.

3. Tiberius was Emperor of Rome from 42 B.C. to 37 A.D. The beginning of his reign was fairly prudent, but in later years, under the influence of Sejanus, his favorite, the natural severity of Tiberius developed into extreme cruelty. Towards the last of his reign, the Emperor gave himself up to dissipation and debauchery, leaving affairs of state pretty much to Sejanus. But in A.D. 31, the hitherto favorite fell from his position in the Emperor's court, and Tiberius had Sejanus and all his family destroyed.

4. Beryl is one of the gems names: it is supposed to stand for everlasting youth and happiness: Beulah, land of rest; Inez, pure; William, protector, or defender; Fred, abounding in peace; Oliver, an olive tree.

5. A. J. Evans Wilson is not a man, as you seem to suppose, but an American woman author, born in Columbus, Georgia, in 1835, her name being Augusta J. Evans. In 1846, her parents removed to San Antonio, Texas, and again in 1849 to Mobile, Ala., where she wrote her novel Inez in 1850; it was not published, however, until five years later. In 1868, Miss Evans was married to L. M. Wilson, of Mobile. She died in 1909.

6. No.

He Is Jealous.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have a very dear girl friend. She goes steady with a nice young boy. Nice, I may say, in several ways, but jealous. She never has a minute's peace. Wherever she goes, if another boy says a few words to her, or takes here for a skate at the rink, he gets so angry he scarcely speaks to her. Now, candidly, Miss Grey, don't you think that boy ignorant and bad-tempered, and what would you kindly advise that poor girl? Please tell us what you think.

2. What day did Jan. 25, 1898, come on?

3. Don't you think it is silly for a couple to keep company with each other ,of they are quarreling on trifles all the time?

Hoping I have not bothered you too much. IGNORANCE AND BLISS.

Ans.—1. If he is really like this, I think she should tell him that the intimacy had better cease until he becomes more agreeable. She will be much happier without such a jealous friend.

2. Tuesday.

3. Yes, if they are really quarreling. Some couples delight to "bicker," simply for the fun of making up again.

A Pimple Remedy.

Dear Miss Grey,—I would like to know if any reader would send some remedy for pimples that they have tried and that has proved good. There are so many willing to help that I felt sure I would get some good remedy. Wishing you and your mail-box every future success, I remain, AN OLD READER of THE ADVERTISER.

P. S.—What was the skin recipe sent by "Sweet Fifteen"?

Ans.—1. Doctors have recommended taking half a teaspoonful of epsom salts in water every morning, as a fine thing to clear the blood. Of course, for anyone with very thin blood, it would probably be injurious if persisted in.

2. I think it was "Kentucky Nell," not "Sweet Fifteen," who sent in the "beautifier." She advised making a paste of rolled oats and lemon juice; rub this in after washing with warm water and soap; dry and let paste remain on all night. In the morning use warm water, followed by cold.

Presses the Button.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is the first time I have pressed the button to your Mail-Box to ask admittance. I read your column with much interest, and would you kindly tell me how to remove a fruit stain from a brown serge dress? I am so afraid I will spoil it. I thought I would ask you for your kind help, which is given to so many. I must not make my letter too long, so as to leave space for someone else. I am one of your most delighted readers. LOUISA.

Ans.—It is pretty difficult to know how to remove a fruit stain, but you can try this; Place a little lukewarm, soapy water in a basin, add some household ammonia; spread the stained part on a smooth surface, having the material wrong side up; now sponge freely with the water; then with a fresh rag apply clean water; leave the dress as it is until the spot begins to dry; then press, using a clean piece of cloth between the iron and your skirt.

Solace for Sensitive.

Ans.—No, you were wrong, and I am sure no slight was meant at all. At affairs of the kind in the city the accompanist is generally asked beforehand to play, by the soloist, or by a member of the committee in charge. When the number is called out by the chairman, the accompanist and soloist at once proceed to the platform, the accompanist seating herself at the piano without more ado. Her name is very seldom mentioned. When there are printed programs, the accompanist's name usually appears on the bottom.

If another occasion arises similar to this, rest assured that it is the correct thing just to take your place at the instrument, without waiting to be called on publicly.

Advantages of Conservatory Training.

ADVANTAGE NO. 7.

Dramatic Training.

Miss Georgia M. Newbury is the head of our elocution department. Every year she conducts classes in Dramatic Training. Plays are read, and plays are performed in public. These classes are entirely free to our elocution and vocal pupils desiring to take up dramatic work.

Vocal pupils preparing for opera and elocution pupils intending to go on the stage, will be fully alive to an advantage of this sort.

"Not in the least; take your time. Let me see what the tickets look like. That's all right—say, Masters, before you go, do you know that big duffer with a black beard in the front line?"

The other gave a quick glance down the faces.

"I've seen him before; dealt faro at the Poodle Dog a while; said to be a gun-man. Never heard his name. Oh, yes, come to think about it, they called him 'Reb'—Confed soldier, I reckon. Ain't seen him before for a month. Got into some kind of a shootin' scrap up at Mike Kelly's and skipped out ahead of the marshal. Why?"

"Nothing particular—looks familiar, that's all. Who's the soldier behind him—the thin-faced runt?"

"Connors. Some river-rat the recruiting officers picked up in New York; in the guard-house most of the time. Driver for Major McDonald when he happens to be sober enough."

"That is where I have seen him, then, driving the ladies. Knew I had see that mug before."

Left alone, except for the infantryman at the other side of the entrance, and with nothing to do beyond keeping back the little crowd of curious watchers thronging the steps, Hamlin interested himself in the assembly, although keenly conscious of those two men who continued to linger, starting into the brilliantly-lighted room. That the two were closely involved with Mrs. Dupont in some money-making scheme, closely verging on crime, was already sufficiently clear to the Sergeant's mind. He had overheard enough to grasp this fact, yet the full nature of the scheme was not apparent. Without doubt it involved Gaskins as a victim; possibly Barrett also, but Hamlin was not inclined to interfere personally for the protection of either of these officers. They could look after themselves, and if they succumbed to the charms of the lady, and it cost something, why, that was none of his affair. But somehow the suspicion had come to him that he had accidentally stumbled upon a more complicated plot than mere blackmail. Mrs. Dupont's intimacy with Molly, and the use she was making of her distant relationship with the Major to further her ends, made him eager to delve deeper into her real purpose. At least these two, apparently ignorant of their guest's true character, should be warned, or, if that was impossible, protected from imposture. Their open friendliness and social indorsement were the woman's stock-in-trade at Dodge, and whatever the final denouement might be, McDonald and his daughter would inevitably share in the ensuing disgrace of discovery. Even if they were not also victimized, they would be held largely responsible for the losses of others. Had Hamlin been a commissioned officer he would have known what to do—his plain duty as a friend would have taken form in a frankly-spoken warning. But, as it was, the chains of discipline, of social rank, made it seemingly impossible for him to approach either the Major or his daughter openly. He did not actually know enough to venture such an interview, and mere suspicion, even though coupled with his former intimacy with the woman, was not sufficient excuse for his interference. The Major would treat the revelation with indifference, even disbelief, and Miss Molly might even resent his meddling in the affair. Besides, he was not altogether convinced that the girl had not been actually present at and in some manner connected with the attack on Gaskins. The memory of that face, sniniking behind the corner of the barrack wall, remained clear in his mind. He might be mistaken, but perhaps it would be best to go slow.

It was a huge, bare hall, although the walls were concealed by flags, while other draperies were festooned along the rafters. The band was stationed upon a raised platform at the rear, and a hundred couples occupied the floor. The men present were largely officers attired in dress uniforms, although there was a considerable sprinkling of civilians, a few conspicuous in garments of the latest cut and style. Evidently invitations had been widely spread, and, considering time and place, liberally responded to. Among the women present the Sergeant saw very few he recognized, yet it was comparatively easy to classify the majority—officers' wives; the frontier helpmates of the more prominent merchants of the town; women from the surrounding ranches, who had deserted their homes until the Indian scare ceased; a scattered few from pretentious small cities to the eastward, and, here and there, younger faces, representing ranchmen's daughters, with a school teacher or two. Altogether they made rather a brave show, occasionally exhibiting toilets worthy of admiring glances, never lacking ardent partners, and entering with unalloyed enthusiasm into the evening's pleasure. The big room presented a scene of brilliant color, of ceaselessly moving figures; the air was resonant with laughter, and trembling to the dashing strains of the band. Primitive as it was in many respects to Hamlin, long isolated in small frontier posts, the scene was strangely attractive, his imagination responding to the glow of color, the merry chime of voices, the tripping of feet. The smiling faces flashed past, his ears caught whispered words, his eyes followed the flying figures. For the moment the man forgot himself in this new environment of thoughtless pleasure.

From among that merry throng of strangers his eye soon distinguished that one in whom he felt special interest—Mrs. Dupont dancing now with McDonald, the rather corpulent Major exhibiting almost youthful agility under the inspiration of the music. The lady talked with animation as they circled among the others on the floor, her red lips close to her partner's ear, but Hamlin, suspicious and watchful, noted that her eyes were busy elsewhere, scanning the faces. They swept over him, apparently unseeing, but as the two circled swiftly by, the hand resting lightly on the Major's shoulder was uplifted suddenly in a peculiar, suggestive movement. He stared after them until they were lost in the crowd, feeling confident that the motion of those white-gloved fingers was meant as a signal of warning. To whom was it conveyed. He glanced aside at the jam of figures in the doorway. Both the black-whiskered man and Connors had disappeared. It was a signal, then, instantly understood and obeyed.

MITTS PLEASE MEN OF EIGHTEENTH

Mrs. W. E. Hodgins, regent of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., is in receipt of the following letter from Lieut.-Col. E. S. Wigle:

"Dear Madam,—I desire to extend to you and all members of your local chapters, and especially Mrs. A. A. Campbell and the Seventh Regiment Chapter, I. O. D. E., the sincerest thanks of myself and the men of the Eighteenth for the generous donation of a pair of mittens for each man in the battalion. They are much appreciated by the men during the cold weather, and they give greater comfort in handling rifles during the drill than they get from the Government issue. I cannot say too much in praise of the good work which the loyal Daughters of the Empire in different parts of the division are doing.

"Your generous donations enables us better to discharge our duty, and my hope is that when the time comes, the men of the Eighteenth will so acquit themselves that it will bring credit to our Canadian people and make them feel proud of the part we are taking in the great struggle for the British Empire.

"Convey to all the members of your primary chapters my thanks. Yours sincerely,

"E. S. WIGLE.

"Lieutenant-colonel, O. C.

"Eighteenth Battalion, C. E. F."

The Seventh Regiment chapter, headed by Mrs. A. A. Campbell, conceived the idea of providing each man of the battalion with these specially warm and durable mitts, and with the aid of the members of the other local chapters, and kind donations from outside, this end has now been attained.

SHE'S ONLY A BIRD IN A GILDED CAGE.

(Copy sent by "Comic Bill."

The ballroom was crowded with fashionable throng,
It gleamed with a thousand lights,
And there was a woman who passed along,
The fairest of all the sights.
A girl to her lover then softly said:
"She has riches at her command—"
"But she married for wealth, not for love," he cried,
"Though she lives in a mansion grand."

CHORUS—
She's only a bird in a gilded cage,
A beautiful thing to see,
You may think she's happy and free from care;
She's not what she seems to be.
'Tis sad when you think of a wasted life,
For youth cannot mate with age;
Her beauty was sold for an old man's gold,
She's a bird in a gilded cage.

One evening when the sunbeams adorn the west,
I went to see the people who came to grieve
For loved ones laid at rest.
A tall marble monument marked the spot
Of the one that had been fashion's queen,
And I thought how much better
She was there at rest,
Than to have people say when seen:

Bobs' Prayer

The regent of the Lord Roberts Chapter, I. O. D. E., Mrs. Ernest Smith, has received the following clipping from an English newspaper, in which the soldiers' prayer of the late Field Marshal Lord Roberts is commented upon:

"I wonder if all our Home Club members know the beautiful prayer which Lord Roberts had printed and gave to his men in Africa. He did not write it, but his soldiers, who loved him and thought of it only as the prayer he had given them, called it 'Lord Roberts' Prayer.'

"Some of the mothers in our club may like to clip it out or copy it for their boys at the front, who will appreciate it all the more for its association with the beloved 'Bobs,' whose loss the whole nation mourns as man and soldier. It was written by Archbishop Alexander at the request of Lord Roberts, for the use of the troops in South Africa.

"'Almighty father, I have sinned against thee. O wash me in the precious blood of the Lamb of God. Fill me with thy Holy Spirit, that I may lead a new life. Spare me to see again those whom I love at home, or fit me for thy presence in peace. Strengthen us to quit ourselves like men in our right and just cause. Keep us faithful unto death, calm in danger, patient in suffering, merciful as well as brave; true to our Queen, our country, and colors. If it be thy will, enable us to win victory for England; but above all, grant us a better victory over temptation and sin, over life and death, that we may be more than conquerors, through him who loved us and laid down his life for us, Jesus, our Saviour, the Captain of the Army of God. Amen.'

"The humility and beauty of Lord Roberts' character and his dependence upon prayer was very clearly shown in his protest at a time when by mistake he himself had been quoted as the author of this prayer. Speaking to Mr. Coulson Kernahan he said. 'I very much dislike having attributed to me a prayer which I did not write. It is not, as you know, that I do not believe in prayer. I have humbly asked God's help and guidance in everything that I undertook all through my life, and never more so than now, when I am an old man, and his call may be very near. But——' he hesitated a moment, 'offering up a brief prayer—it may only be the words, "God help me!"—before going into action, or in some time of difficulty, is one thing; and sitting down to write, to print and publish a prayer for others, is quite another thing—for a soldier at least. That was why I asked my friend, the archbishop, to compose the prayer. It was for him, God's minister, a clergyman, not for me, a soldier, to do.'

"As we sit knitting and sewing we will be glad to think of Lord Roberts, and all his life and example has meant to England and her men."

WESTERN DRAWS CLOSER TO SARNIA EVERY GAME

Defeated Stratford Last Night in Northern League Fixture by 13 to 8—Some Good Hockey Dished Up Before Small Crowd.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

TO THE brave few who battled the elements to witness the Northern League hockey match between Western University and Stratford at University Arena last night, the fact that Alf. Hall came to life in the last ten minutes of the pastime was the illuminating feature. Nothing that had previously been dished up by either team awoke as much enthusiasm as when Hall shook off his lethargy. Previous to this part of the game, all that Alf. had contributed to the contest had been a few weary pokes at the puck. He was about as handy as a wooden Indian until the crowd began to wise up to him and hand out a few roasts. Then the big fellow suddenly awoke and electrified the gathering by showing some real speed and stick handling. It was hard to stop him in that last ten minutes and only for great work on the part of "Frenchy" Bart in the Stratford nets, Hall would have scored a "few hundred" goals or so. As it was, he scored one goal and bombarded the nets with shots that looked like goals.

Some Juniors Played.

The big end of the score went to Western University, although the visitors knew a thing or two about scoring themselves. The final count was 13 to 8 with Western leading at the intermission period by 7 to 5. The Classic City seven are apparently holding back for the return game in Stratford on Thursday night, for they sent down four junior players last night. At that, the team looked better than the one that played here last week. The juniors worked had and showed a lot of ability. In the first period, when Western secured a four goal lead on them, they came back and tied the score and kept even with the students until almost the end of the period. In the second period, they were outclassed, combination work and accurate shooting on the part of the collegians doing the trick.

Tendency To Burlesque Game.

The game was not as good as others seen here this season, but it had its strong points. Both teams showed a lot of speed, while the local forwards pulled off some nice combination work on occasions. The visitors apparently did not come with the intention of winning, the fact that they are out of the runing in the district giving them but slight interest in the result. Western also looked upon it as a sort of gift affair and there was a tendency to burlesque it at times. Pletsch, the visiting defence man, seemed to treat the affair as a joke all through, and he did not exert himself to any great extent. Alf. Hall also took it lightly until the crowd goaded him into action. In all fairness to the rest of the players, be it said that they did try to make it a real battle and praise is due Edwards, McAvoy, Ross and Vivian for the way they worked. Vivian, the Stratford rover, showed a world of speed and checked back like a fiend. His forward line was a little shy on team work, however, and that robbed him and the Stratford aggregation of much of its effectiveness. The two Stratford wing men also worked hard, while Lavelle at centre looked good.

McDonald, a junior, on the defence, and Bart also had a busy night, the former getting in a couple of rushes that resulted in goals.

Rueter Starred in Nets.

Morenz and Ritchie for the locals only looked good in spots. Rueter, the junior goal keeper, replaced Chapman in the nets and made some wonderful stops. His work was one of the features. The goals that did go in on him were mostly of the unbeatable order. Western worked some nice combination at the start and Ritchie scored on a pass from McAvoy after three minutes of play. "Rico" secured another one a minute or two later, but Referee Rankin disallowed it, claiming an offside. Gus. Edwards scored on a rush after seven minutes of play and McAvoy and Mushy Ross rushed a few seconds later. Mac making it three on Ross' pass. Western's fourth came as a result of a pretty play by McAvoy. He rushed from the London goal and when near Stratford's nets circled to pass the Stratford defence players, but instead of going ahead he half turned, and with his back to Ritchie made a pass to that gentleman who quickly potted the puck into the twine.

Stratford Gets Next Four.

Then the visitors took a hand and for the next ten minutes had the edge on the Collegians. Lavelle notched two goals in rapid succession and Vivian got another, all three being scored without a play. The fourth and tying goal came after several minutes more of play, Lavelle finally lodging the puck in the nets on a long side shot. With Pletsch decorating the boards, Morenz put Western ahead on a rush and nice shot from the wing, but McDonald evened the count again by rushing and beating Rueter on a wicked shot. Edwards and Morenz got in rush and the latter scored on Gus' pass. Just a minute before half time was called, Edwards got in a rush that ended in a goal.

Western the Best in This Half.

The students started to run up a score in the second period, McAvoy scoring on a long shot about a minute after play had started. Edwards scored another from a mix-up about thirty seconds later, making the count 9 to 5 for Western. McDonald then got in a rush and made it six for Stratford. Hall woke up about this time, and he went the whole length of the rink, only to lose the puck when going to shoot. It was a pretty rush. McAvoy made it ten for London by landing another long shot past Bart, but a minute later Chalmers put Stratford up another notch by scoring on a pass from McDonald, who had carried the puck down. Edwards got the next one for London on a piece of individual work. Hall finally got a goal when he rushed the whole length of the rink, lost the puck for a moment during a mix-up, but located it again and pushed it into the goal. Loud applause from the fans.

Gus Makes It Thirteen.

After the riot had been quelled, the teams settled down and played some pretty good hockey for a time. With just four minutes to play, Lavelle notched Stratford's eighth from a puck-off in front of the London nets. A half minute later Gus Edwards rambled down the wing and scored Western's thirteenth. Gus is not superstitious and does not believe in hoodoos. The game ended without any further scoring.

Sid Rankin officiated, and proved satisfactory, although a few things got by him that were not strictly according to Hoyle. The teams lined up as follows:

Stratford.		Western U.
Bart	Goal	Rueter
Pletsch	R. defence	Hall
McDonald	L. defence	Ross
Vivian	Rover	McAvoy
R. Lavelle	Centre	Ritchie
J. Tobin	R. wing	Edwards
Chalmers	L. wing	Morenz

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread. The water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is a difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and cause no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Kid Williams Invades Higher Division Tonight

Will Meet Eddie Wallace, of Brooklyn, in Featherweight Class.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Bantam Champion Kid Williams today finished training for his invasion into the featherweight division tomorrow night at the Brooklyn Sporting Club. Eddie Wallace, of Brooklyn, is to be his opponent.

The bout is attracting almost as much attention as a White-Welsh affair. The fans haven't had a chance to witness a champion going out of his class to battle a heavier man since the old days, when Bob Fitzsimmons held about all the titles.

Wallace is of the Freddie Welsh style, and should give the little champion an interesting ten rounds.

The winner of tomorrow night's fray will undoubtedly be matched with Johnny Kilbane for the featherweight championship. Wallace has been after it for a long time, and Williams is not adverse to taking a chance at it.

Freddie Welsh and Joe Shugrue today posted $1,000 each for their appearance at Madison Square Garden on February 9. Welsh wired his from Akron, O., where he is to fight Johnny Griffiths.

London Rooters, All Aboard for Baby City Tonight

Big Crowd Will Accompany Juniors to Woodstock for Important Game.

Western University juniors are in fine shape for their game against the Woodstock juniors at Woodstock tonight. They expect to hold the fast Baby City septet down to a small score and are confident of winning out on the round. Walden will play centre in place of McKay and he will strengthen the forward line considerably. The rest of the team will remain about the same. Only wonderful goalkeeping by Childs kept Western's score down on Friday night, and tonight should see the local youngsters make a much better showing. A big crowd will accompany the team on the special train, which leaves the Grand Trunk depot at 7 o'clock sharp. Everybody should be out to root for the "kids." They are playing great hockey and should go far when once out of their group.

SOME BIG SCORES MADE IN CHURCH LEAGUE GAMES

Two Teams Were Whitewashed and the Other was Nearly So.

Two teams were blanked and a third nearly "whitewashed" in the Church League fixtures last night. St. Andrew's went on the ice with only five men. The line-up:

King Street.		St. Andrew's.

Connie Mack's machine is reported to be wicked, but there are about five ball clubs in the American League whose owners would trade outfits with Mack and then claim a pennant.

The court should, in justice, ask Roger Bresnahan if that pitcher he traded for a bird-dog was a left-hander.

Why doesn't Ban Johnson simply notify the federal court that there is no Federal League and, therefore, it cannot bring suit?

GORRIE METHODISTS HAVE LIFTED ALL DEBTS

Mortgage Burned Freeing Beautiful Parsonage—A Happy Event.

GORRIE, Feb. 1. — The Methodist Church at Gorrie and Orange Hill has burned the mortgage on their beautiful parsonage, and all the church property on the charge is now free from debt. Celebrating the event, the congregation gathered and the pastor, Rev. G. W. Rivers, introduced a splendid program of anthems, solos, quartets, violin selections and readings. Toward the conclusion of the program, the presidents of Gorrie and Orange Hill Ladies Aids, Mrs. E. Sparling and Mrs. W. G. Strong, assisted the pastor in burning the mortgage.

The Gorrie parsonage was built about seven years ago, during the pastorate of Rev. H. W. McTavish, and is a fine, red-brick house, presenting a beautiful appearance both within and without. During the pastorate of Rev. J. W. Hibbert, jubilee services of the church were held and arrangements were then made for the paying of the indebtness upon the church property.

JOE JACKSON MAY GO TO YANKEES

Manager Donovan Is Recalled From South To Hold Conference at New York.

New York, Feb. 2.—Announcement is expected to be made here tomorrow at the meeting of the American League club owners of several trades, with a view of strengthening the Yankees. It became known today that Manager Donovan had been recalled from the south to take part in the negotiations.

When Manager Donovan visited Cleveland a few weeks ago it is said he had a long conference with the Cleveland club officials in regard to a deal whereby Outfielder Joe Jackson would come to New York.

The American League, aside from adopting its schedule for the coming season, is also expected to take action on limiting the number of players to be carried during the playing season.

President John K. Tener has issued a call for the reconvened annual meeting of the National League to be held here February 9. The annual schedule meeting will be held also. Mr. Tener said also that the question of eliminating the draft from the American Association would be discussed by his colleagues.

FULLERTON'S DOPELETS

Bill Donovan commenced his baseball career in an undertaking shop, and now has signed to manage a morgue.

If the federal court is going to hear all the cases of crooked work done by organized baseball it will remain in continuous session five years.

The Federals charge that Joe Cantillon traded a ball player for a dog, and probably the other fellow has been sore ever since.

Paul Des Jardien is to join the Chicago Cubs; further proving the value of the higher education.

We thought baseball was some language, but listen to this from the report of the checker championship: "He stewed up a little cook on the old fourteenth." Neither do we know what it means.

AN AVIATORS ARD DUNKIRK

oplanes From Sea In But Little Damage Done.

[Canadian Press.]

ndon, Feb. 2.—The correspondent he Daily Mail in Northern France egraphs:

"Six German aeroplanes made a raid on Dunkirk last night. They approached the town from the sea, and nothing was known of their presence until bombs were dropped at about half past eight o'clock. More than sixty bombs, either explosive or incendiary, were dropped, but the damage done was insignificant.

"The bombs fell all over the town, which is another proof that they were dropped at haphazard. Notwithstanding the darkness, and the fact that French guns were firing at the invaders, several allied aeroplanes got in the way and went in pursuit of the others. One of them chased an aviator to the Belgian frontier."

MINOR EARTHQUAKES

Avezzano Still Affected—One Lowers Level of Lake.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Feb. 2.—Earth disturbances of minor nature continue at Avezzano. One of the most important was the lowering of the level of Lake Paterno by several feet after a vortex had appeared in the centre. This is interpreted as indicating a subterranean eruption, which, subsiding, drew into the earth an immense volume of water from the lake.

Great Regret in New Zealand Over Tokomaru's Loss.

[Canadian Press.]

Wellington, N. Z., Feb. 2—Via London, 10:45 a.m.—The cargo on board the Tokomaru, one of the steamers sunk recently in the English Channel by a German submarine, was valued at $500,000. The Tokomaru was on her way from this port to London, when she was sent to the bottom. There is, of course, general regret here, and much indignation at the loss of the steamer.

LONDON MAN'S COUSIN IS KILLED IN ACTION

Henry Taylor, 140 Ridout Street, South London, Receives Word.

Word that a cousin has been killed in active service in France, was received yesterday by Henry Taylor, 140 Ridout street, South London. His cousin, Lieut. P. G. Chaworth-Masters, of Ansley Hall, England, had been at the front several months with the King's Royal Rifles. No details of how the young officer had met his death were contained in the letter, other than that he was killed while in action with his regiment on the battlefront.

Beside Lieut. Chaworth-Masters, Mr. Taylor has four other relatives serving with the English troops at the front. All hold commissions.

MILLIONS OF POLES IN WORSE CONDITION THAN THE BELGIANS

Misery Is Unknown To the Outer World—Country All In Ruins.

[Canadian Press.]

PETROGRAD, Jan. 1. — (Correspondence.)—In spite of the fact that several commissioners are at work investigating the devastation which Poland has suffered during the German invasions, the acute misery of its millions of inhabitants still goes unrelieved. The destruction is so universal that it hardly seems possible that it was the work of human agents.

Poland normally was a pleasing, rolling country, not unlike the American middle west; fertile agriculturally, developed, productive and prosperous, with its landscapes checkered with well-groomed farms and patches of wood. It is now bleak and scarred, almost every house is in ruins, and the mutilated roads are full of half-starved, half-frozen people, who have no homes and no possibility of escaping from the charred remnants of what once were their habitations. The line of fugitive peasants is like a long, black cord, knotted in places where they have assembled in groups to consider the best way to escape. But at one end escape is cut off by the heavily-massed Russian troops, and the other end of the line recoils from the advancing German army.

Hopes for Assistance.

The picture is drawn by Prince Radziwill, a member of Poland's oldest and noblest aristocracy, who has come to Petrograd from his home in Minsk to devise some practical method of assisting his unfortunate countrymen.

"I am afraid," said Prince Radziwill to the Associated Press, "the world has been so busy giving its help to unfortunate Belgium that our country, which is so far off from the western world, cannot expect a full measure of sympathy. The tragedy of Belgium came first, and that, of course, makes it seem more important; the Polish tragedy is not yet finished."

KRUGER'S GRANDSON CHARGED WITH TREASON

[Canadian Press.]

Pretoria, via London, Feb. 2—10:19 a.m.—Pieter Grobler, a member of the Parliament of the Union of South Africa, and a grandson of Paul Kruger, has been committed for trial on a charge of treason.

Courtmartial For 71.

An official announcement issued here sets forth that 71 burghers who declined to serve against the Germans in the Southwest have been ordered courtmartialed. Five hundred others, who professed willingness to join their commands, but urged various reasons for exemption, will be sent back to their home districts, where local boards will inquire into the facts.

TURKS IN FLIGHT BEFORE RUSSIANS

Division Routed and Staff of Officers Captured, Says Tiflis Report.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Feb. 2.—The Times Petrograd correspondent says the Tiflis correspondent of Novoe Vremya reports great successes on the part of the Russian Caucasian army.

"The only Turkish division which escaped the fate of the three shattered corps has been routed in the direction of Olty," a message says. "At the outset the Russians took the divisional staff quarters by storm, capturing the general and his entire staff of twenty officers, who offered no resistance. In the region of Tabriz the Turks were utterly incapable of checking the Russian advance.

Fought In Blizzard.

"The Russians repelled furious Turkish charges and consummated the defeat of the various units. The battle took place during a blizzard, the Russian troops marching over a snow-covered mountain pass. They seized valuable stores of provisions, ammunition and military supplies, as well as several guns. Almost simultaneously they gained a victory over the Turks in Azerbaijan.

Persians Change Tone.

"The Persian authorities, who had hitherto been hand in glove with the Turks, and guilty of great tactfulness toward Russia, promptly changed tone, after our victorious advent and the flight of the Turks.

"The successful movement of the Russians in Khois is being continued. The situation of the Turkish troops is critical, the Kurds angered by the failure, began to loot their comrades in arms. Panic reigns in Trebizond and the inhabitants are fleeing from the city.

PASSED OVER VETO

[Canadian Press.]

Havana, Feb. 2.—The Senate last night passed over the presidential veto the amnesty bill, designed to effect the release of Ernesto Asbert, former governor of Havana Province, who was convicted of killing Chief of Police Riva in 1913, and sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment. The House previously passed the bill.

After the action of the Senate cheering crowds of Asbert's adherents surrounded the jail in which he is confined. Asbert will be released from confinement today, and is expected immediately to re-enter political life.

BOMBARDING FURNES

[Canadian Press.]

London, Feb. 2.—The Daily Mail's correspondent telegraphs from Northern France:

"The Germans are continuing to bombard Furnes. The Allies' aviators discovered two carefully hidden German guns, which had damaged the town. The Allies' artillery at once destroyed them. So far no monuments have been destroyed."

WONT BUY SHIPS TO INVOLVE CONTROVERSY

This Was Forecast in White House Conference Today.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Feb. 2.—A declaration of principle in the shipping bill, announcing the intention of the United States not to buy ships which would involve controversy with European belligerents, was forecast in the White House today after a conference between President Wilson and Senators Kenyon and Norris, Progressive Republicans. The President indicated the administration is ready to make some concessions.

RUSSIANS FORCE ENEMY

Borjimow and south of Borjimow, a large force of artillery developed active operations against our positions with very considerable forces. The German offensive was distinguished by great tenacity, advancing in close ranks, strongly supported from the rear.

"After having concentrated a violent fire in the morning upon that region, the fierceness of the German offensive compelled some of our units to retire to the second line of trenches."

Then Driven Out.

In the meanwhile a counter-attack from another detachment of our forces drove the enemy from all the trenches occupied by him, inflicting upon him enormous losses.

"Simultaneously with this attack on Borjimow, the Germans delivered a series of ferocious assaults against our front between the villages of Goumine, Bourgad and Moghely. These attacks were supported by very heavy artillery fire. Up to midday of January 31 every one of these assaults were driven back by us, some by our rifle fire, and some with the bayonet. But between midday and 2 p.m. of January 31 the Germans were successful in occupying a part of our trenches. In this they were helped, largely by an energetic and sustained artillery fire.

German Success Slight.

"A little after 2 o'clock we undertook a general counter-attack. This was successful, and as a result of it the enemy, the evening of January 31, retained but a little portion of our first-line trenches, together with a certain chateau in the country. It can be said that the successes of the Germans the day of January 31 in the vicinity of Borjimow were relatively insignificant compared to the losses we inflicted on the enemy with our artillery fire, our counter-attack, and our bayonet charges.

Enemy's Loss Heavy.

"According to reports from our military chiefs, the Russian artillery inflicted immense damage on the Germans. Our guns dispersed dense gatherings of German infantry, and it reduced their batteries to silence; this made it possible for us to resist their fierce attack.

"The fighting in the Carpathians continues. In spite of the reported participation of fresh Austrian troops, which up to the present time have not actually appeared on our front, we were successful in repelling every endeavor of the enemy to assume the offensive in the vicinity of Mount Beskid and Mount Wyszkow, and we are continuing to advance with success along the front from Nijnia Polianka to Loudoviski.

Many Killed and Prisoners.

"It should be related that during the night of January 30-31 at a point near Molimow a Russian detachment advanced upon the enemy and dislodged them from certain positions which threatened the heads of our trenches. In this encounter our men used the bayonet freely, and we captured some machine guns.

"Local inhabitants relate that the enemy after the Lipno-Dobrzyn fight used 60 wagons to remove their wounded. German prisoners captured in the region of Borjimow are authority for the statement that between January 24 and January 30, the Germans on a front near Borjimow 1½ versts long (a little less than one mile), lost over 6,000 men in killed. The wounded were numerous.

"In the Carpathians between January 26 and January 29 on the front between Nijnia Polianka and Loudovlski we captured 78 officers, 4,065 soldiers, four pieces of artillery and ten machine guns."

PIRACY.

Petrograd, via London, Feb. 2.—The Government has decided in future to treat the bombardment of unfortified towns as an act of piracy.

BRONCHITIS

If Neglected Will Surely Turn Into PNEUMONIA.

Bronchitis comes from a neglected cold. It starts with a snort, painful, dry cough, accompanied with rapid wheezing, and a feeling of oppression or tightness through the chest. At first the expectoration is of a light color, but soon becomes copious and of purulent character.

You have, no doubt, wakened up in the morning and have had to cough half a dozen times before you could raise the phlegm from your bronchial tubes, and when you do succeed in doing so you find that it is of yellowish or greenish color, and you get some relief right away. When this happens to you, you may rest assured that you have a touch of bronchitis, and if not cured immediately it will sooner or later develop into pneumonia or some other more serious trouble.

Cure the cold, and thereby prevent bronchitis and pneumonia taking a hold on your system.

This can be quickly done by the use of

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

Mrs. Rebecca Have, Mahone Bay, N. S., writes: "My little boy, aged 3, was always troubled with bronchitis, and when he had whooping cough he was worse. Doctors advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It gave him instant relief, and positively cured him."

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Dissolve It, That's Best Way

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work. N17,Feb2

A Great Blessing To Be Freed of Indigestion

r Years He Suffered After Almost Every Meal — Attributes Complete Cure to Use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The experience of many people who suffer from indigestion is like that of the writer of this letter. Stomach machines may bring some relief, but chronic indigestion is almost invariably the result of derangement of the liver, kidneys and bowels and cannot be actually cured until these organs are set right.

When the liver is sluggish there is constipation, and the food ferments in the bowels instead of being digested. This is the source of pain and suffering, and the cause of such dreaded diseases as appendicitis, peritonitis and kidney disease. It is much better to be on the safe side, and prevent such ailments by the timely use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett, Nelson, B. C., and formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., writes: "For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. The least bit of food caused me considerable trouble, and often I could scarcely eat a meal a day. The many remedies I tried proved futile until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using about eight boxes I was completely cured.

"Since that time I have not been troubled with indigestion, which I consider a great blessing. I feel grateful for this cure, and shall gladly answer any inquiries from persons suffering as I did."

ZEPPELIN RAID ON DOVER REPORTED

London in Darkness in Anticipation of a Visit.

LIGHTS OUT ON BRIDGES

Are Also Extinguished At Several of Railway Stations.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Feb. 1—11:31 p.m.—The batteries protecting Dover opened fire tonight on what is thought to have been another German raid, but whether by Zeppelins or submarines, or both, has not been ascertained.

An early report from Dover said that five hostile airships were observed over that town, while a later report announced that they had been driven off by the gunfire of the forts.

Another Dover message declared that the fire had been directed at German submarines.

As a consequence the War Department instructed the London police to make all preparations for an air raid. The city was soon in darkness and everywhere the news spread that a Zeppelin fleet was on its way to the metropolis.

Saw No Air Raiders.

Telephone calls to Harwich, Cromer, South End, Kings Lynn, Yarmouth and other points elicited the reply that no air raiders had been seen. The report of submarines at Dover seemed to explain the gun firing there, but the official press bureau issued no statement.

The extended precautions taken in London indicated the fact that virtually all special constables, under the regulations were required to report at the various stations, even those attending theatres, where in some cases the audiences were greatly depleted.

At several of the railway stations the lights were extinguished and trains passing over bridges did so in darkness.

London's Instructions.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The London police have now received the long-delayed instructions as to their duties in case of an air raid on London. The circular is a rather voluminous document, the more important "instructions" being as follows:

"Any police officer who become cognizant of a bomb explosion, and so forth, will immediately give an alarm, call the fire brigade, and acquaint the nearest police station by the most rapid means available. If many persons have sustained injury, he will summon aid, and proceed to render all possible assistance.

To Care for Injured.

The officer in charge at a police station, on receiving information as above, will immediately dispatch as many police as possible, some with lamps, to the scene, and if medical aid is likely to be required, will summon local doctors, and send all available ambulances. He will also acquaint: First, the chief station; second, surrounding stations, with a view to obtaining aid. If there are many injured, he will notify local hospitals and infirmaries. Motor garages and private persons may also be requested to send motor cars.

"The officer on duty at the chief station will at once wire to headquarters and inform his superintendent. Having done so, he will, if circumstances call for such action, send all available ambulances and police to the scene, and will then apply to hospitals, boards of guardians, metropolitan asylum boards and local authorities for horse and motor ambulances. The earliest possible information is also to be sent to the St. John Ambulance Association and the headquarters of the fire brigade.

Transmission of Messages.

"The telegraph operators at central office will at once transmit the messages received to admiralty and war offices, then to the commissioner, assistant commissioners, chief constables, special constabulary headquarters stations.

"The special constabulary operate with police. Upon a[...] given, special constables in [...] borhood, whether on duty (n[...] ing vulnerable points), or [...] have instructions to proceed [...] scene or to a police station, w[...] is the nearer, and to report the[...] to the senior officer of police. [...] constables on duty at vulnerable [...] are not to leave their posts an[...] to be especially on the alert in [...] tecting them.

"Police officers, off duty or on lea[ve] on hearing that an explosion has tak[en] place, or that incendiary fires hav[e] broken out, should proceed at once to the nearest police station. The officer in charge at each police station will, on receipt of the message notifying an explosion, issue all available automatic pistols to officers qualified to use them. These officers will remain at the station on reserve pending directions."

STORM DOES NOT AFFECT SOLDIERS

Cosy and Warm in Snug Quarters Out at Queen's Park.

LONDONERS ARE HAPPY

33rd Battalion Now Almost Full Strength—Best Men Yet Recruited.

Nearly one thousand men who mobilized yesterday at Queen's Park with the Thirty-third Battalion, third contingent, awoke this morning in the fair grounds "palace" perfectly happy, and warm and cosy. The Londoners are quartered in the east end of the balcony, the warmest and best place of the whole building.

The battalion is now almost full strength, but numerous recruits are being taken on, and it is expected that Major Becher will spend a good deal of the morning's time examining new men. These will make up for the usual "shrinkage" of men becoming medically unfit after they have been in camp.

Although no overcoats have been distributed, those of the recruits who arrived yesterday, many of them in summer clothes, are nevertheless happy and content.

"We have by far the best battalion yet mobilized in London, and for a happy-go-lucky and contented lot of men, the Thirty-third could not be equalled anywhere in the world," one officer declared enthusiastically this morning. It is likely that uniforms and equipment will be distributed this evening or Wednesday morning. Until then men will not be allowed to leave the park after dark.

Furnaces Keep All Warm.

Eight big furnaces keep the main building warm, where the men are quartered, and there is another in the mess room. The furnishing of the men's quarters is now completed, and the large building is cheerful and almost homelike. Partitioning off the non-commissioned officers' quarters is about all there is left to be done in the "palace." The officers have taken advantage of the nicely-furnished compartments in the balcony which were used at fair time for piano and dress goods exhibits. The walls are newly papered and burlapped, and present the appearance of a cosy sitting-room "at home."

Officers of the Seventh Mounted Rifles and the Thirty-third Infantry are quartered in the horticultural building, rooms have been partitioned off with pine boards covered with heavy cardboard. Col. Wilson made a tour of inspection of the building this morning, and declared that he was well pleased with it.

Cooks are plentiful in the ranks of the Thirty-third, which will have 32 on its staff, and a sergeant-cook. One of them is a real French chef.

Up Bright and Early.

After their first night in barracks the recruits to the Thirty-third Battalion were up bright and early this morning, and on the parade ground by 7 o'clock. The first drill performed by them was doubling around the parade grounds, after which they had excellent appetites for breakfast, served shortly after 8 o'clock. Experienced recruits, among whom were numbered several old veterans, thoroughly understood the art of making up their beds, which they found as comfortable and warm as any downy couch at home. The entirely "raw" recruits had still to master the science of getting the three blankets tucked in properly.

The first roll-call was taken in front of the Crystal Palace about 10 o'clock, and organization progressed to the extent of one men being divided into sections with officers appointed temporarily in charge. After this, they were free again until dinner-time. The work of organization, with some drill, will be continued this afternoon. Uniforms will be given out the end of the week, and it is expected all will be equipped by Saturday.

How Catering Is Conducted.

Catering for the soldiers is conducted on the following basis: For each man per day, 1 pound meat, 1 pound bread, 2 ounces bacon, 4 ounces sugar, 1 ounce cheese, 2 ounces butter, 1 ounce jam, 1 ounce oatmeal.

All detachments had arrived by last night, about eight hundred men in all. As the full strength of the regiment will be in the neighborhood of ten hundred and fifty, though recruiting stations have closed, recruits will still continue to be taken on at headquarters.

GAME BIRDS ARE AUCTIONED OFF

Auctioneer Constable Robert Northgreaves Takes in $14 on Market Square.

Although there was no butter or eggs for sale in the market-house this morning, yet at the hour of 11 o'clock it held one of the largest crowds that has congregated there in some moons.

Precisely at 11 o'clock, County Constable Corsaut drove up to the shed, amid much crowing on the part of ten game cocks and vociferous cheers from the owners of the birds that were seized in the raid made early Sunday morning in the cellar of a house on Adelaide street and the 5th concession, London Township, by the county police. Constable Corsaut had the long black wooden boxes that all respectable birds insist on when they are to be transported to a fight.

No time was lost by Auctioneer-Constable Robert Northgreaves. "Don't be backward, gentlemen," said the auctioneer as he mounted one of the benches in the building. "I've got some fine birds for sale, and they must go at reduced prices while the war is on."

Finally when the smoke blew away County Constable Corsaut thumbed over $14, and jingled 45 cents in his pocket, the entire proceeds of the sale of ten live birds and two that departed this life early this morning, being unable to endure the shame of being sold for almost nothing. They might just as well have lived, as they went for 15 cents each; undoubtedly, the cheapest poultry that was ever offered in the market-house.

"Ah! this is the fellow that caused all the trouble," said the genial auctioneer, who went at the business as if he had done it all his life. "Yes, this is the speckled beauty that gave the show away. We heard him crow, and it was all off." The "speckled beauty" was sold for $2.

The whole sale was over in 20 minutes, and was fast work in comparison to the sale of practically the same birds at the police station a few days before Christmas.

Mr. Bragg bought six of the birds; Messrs. Meyer and Silverthorn one each, while County Constable Shaver bought two of the birds for one of the owners that was unable to attend the auction.

NEARLY A THIRD OF BRITISH PARLIAMENTARIANS AT FRONT

House Reassembles Without the Usual Ceremonies and Plunges Into Business.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Feb. 2—3:02 p.m.—Parliament reassembled today after a recess for the House of Commons since November 21, and for the House of Lords since January 8. The members dispensed with ceremonies and plunged at once into the business to which the session will be confined almost entirely, consisting of various matters, chiefly financial, which have arisen as a result of the war.

The political fruce under which controversial measures are shelved has reduced interest in the proceedings.

The House of Commons had an empty appearance. Some 200 of the 670 members are now at the front.

As to Food Prices.

Replying to a question put by George Nicoll Barnes, Labor member for Glasgow, whether the Government was considering the matter of fixing food prices, Premier Asquith said: "All these matters are being carefully reviewed."

The committee now having the matter in hand, the Premier continued, was receiving full information from the various departments of the Government, but he could not say when the inquiry would be concluded.

The Government, however, was fully alive to the urgency of the subject, and the House would have an opportunity of discussing the whole question.

LIQUOR INTEREST

might be well not to include the bylaw in the city of London bill, owing to the possibility of its being thrown out by the Legislature.

From Controller's Moore's suggestion and subsequent conversation with him, it is evident he has good reason for believing the liquor interests will attempt to prove the irregularity of the petition, and hence the illegality of the bylaw. Graydon & Graydon were retained early in the recent license reduction campaign to look after the interests of the liquor people. Marshall Graydon was not in his office today, and Parke Graydon stated his brother was looking after the work.

Mistake, Says Graydon.

"We received the impression from him some weeks ago that no steps would be taken by the liquor interests to oppose the cutting off of the six licenses or to interfere with the bylaw," said The Advertiser representative.

"I think that was a mistake," came the reply. "I think he meant no injunction would be issued to prevent the third reading of the bylaw." The telephone communication was cut off at this point, but the only reasonable interpretation is that the liquor people are adopting as their slogan, "On With the Fight."

The temperance people haven't the slightest intentions of laying down their arms. It is "on with the fight" with them also, and, according to the leaders of the movement, "on with the fight to a triumphant end."

Rev. J. H. Boyd, chairman of the reduction committee, expresses himself today as very well satisfied with the unanimous action and apparent sympathy of the council.

"We are prepared to meet any emergency," he further stated, and adds: "We are satisfied the people of London want reduction, and if the liquor interests make an attempt to thwart the will of the electors, it will be all the worse for the liquor interests."

"But supposing the bill should be thrown out by the Legislature?"

Fresh Petition Ready.

"If by chance the bill is thrown out this year, next year we will have a fresh petition ready, and we will make perfectly sure there won't be any loopholes. More than this, our demands will be much larger. But we are feeling quite satisfied the Legislature won't oppose the people of London who have expressed their views so emphatically."

Professor Bowman, London representative of the Dominion Alliance, is "right in for the fight."

His view of the matter is this: "If the question of the legality of the bylaw gets into the courts, the whole matter will be gone into from the start of the injustice we have suffered from the assessment department, and on every hand from the liquor interests. There is one phase of the subject alone that might be mentioned, the illegality of hiring conveyances for use on election day on the part of the liquor people.

"This statement was unchallenged when it appeared in your paper some weeks ago. We are equipped with a lot of new knowledge for our future fighting. We know all about the tricks of our opponents. The one mistake we feel we made was in not making larger demands of the city. If the liquor people aren't satisfied with having six licenses cut off, why, we'll make it ten. The people have shown it is their will that these places shall be cut off. We count on the will of the people going through. We don't for one moment think the Legislature will throw out the bylaw. The trend in all countries, and in Ontario particularly, is towards more advanced temperance legislation. The temperance sentiment of the people has progressed much more rapidly than the legislation. If another fight is in sight, we're mobilized."

In whatever steps they may be obliged to take, the temperance men of the city have the backing and inestimably valuable support of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which has four representatives on the reduction committee, Mesdames Gordon Wright, Dominion president; H. Ashplant, local president; Thornley and Garner.

ENEMY'S HOLD ON COAST IS BREAKING

Allies' Land and Sea Forces Making Stay In Belgium Precarious.

GREAT BAYONET CHARGE

The French Take Hill After Desperate Hand-To-Hand Attacks.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Feb. 2.—A correspondent, telegraphing to the Daily Telegraph from a point on the Dutch frontier, says:

"Information from Western Flanders indicates that the German hold on the Belgian coast line is becoming more and more precarious. Not only are their positions always subject to a bombardment from the warships off the shore, but in the last few days the Allies on land have pursued an active aggressiveness, particularly in the neighborhood of Nieuport.

Allies' Good Progress.

"From this district, which is the extreme point in Belgium held by the Germans, good progress by the Allies is reported as a result of the severe fighting toward the end of last week. According to these accounts, the principal attacks were concentrated between Nieuport and Lombaertzyde, where the fighting, of which three separate bayonet charges were the main feature, resulted in the capture by the Allies of a strongly-held position on the dunes.

Cold Steel Did It.

"There was desperate fighting on both sides, but the most critical part of the storming movement developed upon the body of French marines. Twice they charged up the height and twice were hurled back, but again they dashed forward. This time, though their ranks had been thinned, they gained the top of the ridge and held it after fierce work with cold steel.

"The German casualties in this engagement included 400 dead and 300 prisoners. One important result of this success is that the Allies' guns now are able to command Slype and other points on the line almost due east from Ostend."

CANADIAN WHISKEY CARRIED THE "PUNCH"

Edward Rodgers, of Brooklyn, N. Y., in Police Court.

Edward Rodgers, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was discharged by Police Magistrate J. C. Judd when he pleaded guilty to a first-time drunk charge.

"As they say in slang," stated his worship, "you hike right back to Brooklyn, N. Y."

Rodgers blamed his downfall to not being used to good Canadian whiskey.

TURKS DESERTING

Tell of Great Hardships on March From Jerusalem to Suez.

[Canadian Press.]

Cairo, via London, Feb. 2—11:10 a.m.—Although there has been no further fighting in the Suez Canal district, a considerable number of Turkish deserters have surrendered. They have given graphic descriptions of the march from Jerusalem. They say they were provided only with a meagre supply of provisions and were compelled to buy food at high prices from Bedouins.

The deserters were under the command of a German officer, whose insistence upon maintaining strict discipline was exceedingly irksome, they assert. A wounded Turkish soldier told of being ordered to climb a telegraph pole and cut the wires. When he refused, saying climbing was not part of a soldier's duty, the officer is said to have struck him with his sword, cutting off one of the Turk's hands.

JUDGE NOT AUTHOR.

Judge Barron, of Stratford, has written correcting an inadvertent error which appeared in The Afternoon Advertiser of Friday and the morning edition of Saturday last, in which splendid lines, "Canadian Boys Are Not Cowards," were credited to him as the author. Judge Barron read the poem first in the St. Thomas Times and admired it so much he had several copies made and sent out to friends that they, too, might appreciate it. A friend of Judge Barron in London who received the poem, knowing that the judge frequently wrote clever poems himself, immediately took it for granted the verses were his and kindly gave them to The Advertiser. It is regretted that the author of the fine poem is not known in order that due credit might be given.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 1.—Both wheat and oats went flying upwards again today. The top figures of the day were: May wheat, $1.54¼; July, $1.55⅛; May oats, 65½c; July, 69⅜c. The final closing wheat figures were ½c under the high points.

Trading in futures was extremely light, very little wheat being offered, but not nearly equal to the demand. In export circles, the situation was irregular and somewhat unsettled. Early cables brought acceptances against the end of the week offers, while later cables were 6d off. The cash demand was quiet in all lines, fed offers being on the market.

Total inspections on Saturday were 353 cars, as against 92 last year, and in sight today were 210 cars.

Wheat futures closed 4c to 4¼c higher; cash wheat closed 4c to 4¼c higher for contract grades; oats closed ⅜c to 1¼c higher and flax 2¼c higher.

Cash grain—Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.49¾; No. 2 northern, $1.48½; No. 3 northern, $1.46; No. 4, $1.41⅛; No. 5, $1.37¼; No. 6, $1.32¾; feed, $1.28¾.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 66¾c; No. 3 Canadian western, 63¾c; extra No. 1 feed, 63¾.

Barley—No. 3, 84c.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $1.61½; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.58½.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Wild efforts to buy wheat today made prices run up beyond the celebrated "corner" in 1909—$1 60 a bushel. Not long after the opening today the May delivery here sold at $1 60⅝. Profit-taking then set in and a reaction of 1c took place, but rallies quickly followed.

Big advances in Liverpool quotations owing to increased war risks because of submarine attacks on commercial vessels were mainly responsible for the excited buying in the wheat pit. After opening 1⅛c to 3¾c above last night, the market scored a material further gain before the severe tension relaxed and the usual swings in prices began.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5,000; slow, unchanged.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—The shipment of cattle to the Union stockyards was blocked by the storm, with the result that there were few cattle in the pens. These were cleaned up at previous prices. REICHSBANK STATEMENT.

Berlin, via London, Feb. 2—10:38 a.m.—The Reichsbank statement, issued today, shows that the stock of gold increased $4,675,750, making the total on hand 2,163,753,000 marks ($540,938,250).

Cash on hand decreased 76,047,000 marks ($19,011,750); loans increased 1,582,000 marks ($395,500); discounts increased 63,854,000 marks ($15,963,500); treasury bills increased 494,000 marks ($123,500); note circulation increased 174,900,000 marks ($43,725,000); deposits decreased 171,976,000 marks ($42,994,000).

WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 2.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Speculation on the bull side was on a light scale at the opening today, partly as the result of derangement to wire facilities by the storm, and the vigorous character of yesterday's late rise, which prompted realizing. Prices in nearly all instances were higher, particularly Steel, which rose almost a point, to 40¾. Reading, which made a striking advance yesterday, barely held its own. St. Paul dropped on its unfavorable December earnings, but met support.

Noon.—Prices reacted all around before the end of the first hour. Canadian Pacific losing 2 points and Reading and Steel yielding on profit-taking. Selling of Canadian Pacific was again ascribed to European sources, that stock being decidedly irregular on the London market. Steel's setback was regarded as natural in view of the sudden recovery from yesterday's low prices. There were advances of substantial proportions in such specialties as Sears-Roebuck, Harvester, United States Rubber and the Petroleums. Another sensational rise in wheat options acted as a partial deterrent to market activity, trading becoming dull at midday. Bonds were steady.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Feb. 2.—Money and discount rates were quiet today.

Business did not expand on the stock exchange, owing to the belief that the minimum prices will shortly be lowered in some directions. Home rails were irregular after their recent advance, but the war loan and other allied bonds and oil shares showed a good number of markdogs.

American securities opened steady and a fraction higher.

A Rousing Meeting Held At Norwich—Selection Is Unanimous.

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 1. — At a rousing and enthusiastic meeting this afternoon in Norwich, the South Oxford Reform Association unanimously nominated for the Dominion election, M. S. Schell, a well-known and popular farmer residing just outside the city of Woodstock, and formerly a member of the House of Commons when he represented the riding.

Besides Mr. Schell the following were nominated, but withdrew in favor of Mr. Schell, who accepted the nomination, and in a stirring speech thanked the meeting, and promised to do his best for the Liberal party: C. H. Denton, Tillsonburg; Col. Mayberry, Ingersoll; President Johnston, Springfield; C. H. Mabee, Tillsonburg; Dr. Rogers and Dr. McKay, of Ingersoll.

Secretary Adams, of the Central Reform Association, addressed the convention on matters pertaining to organization, following which resolutions were passed expressing confidence in the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and N. W. Rowell.

USE NEWSPAPERS TO HELP FARMERS

London Agency To Handle Big Campaign—Extends Over Canada.

[Canadian Press.]

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—The following official announcement has been issued:

"The great need of increased agricultural production this year and methods of meeting that need will be presented to the farmers of Canada in a series of display advertisements in newspapers circulating among farmers. This educational advertising campaign will be conducted by the Dominion Department of Agriculture under the direction of the Hon. Martin Burrell as a complement of the 'patriotism and production' conferences of farmers that are being held throughout Canada under the auspices of the department.

"Upwards of three hundred newspapers throughout Canada will be used in the advertising campaign which will commence next week. In the advertisements in newspapers which have a provincial or national circulation the emphasis will be upon the great need of increased production while the advertisements in the newspapers with a local circulation will in addition direct attention to the local opportunities for increased agricultural production.

"The directing of attention through the educational advertisements to the great need of increased agricultural production will stimulate attendance at the 'patriotism and production' conferences. The advertisements appearing after the conferences will stimulate the farmers and townspeople to put into practical operation the instructions given at the conferences.

To Show Need of Production.

"The educational advertising campaign will be extremely valuable as a means of giving the message of the need of increased agricultural production to the many farmers who for various reasons will not attend any of the conferences.

"The question of stimulating agricultural production through educational advertising in newspapers reaching farmers has been under the consideration of the Department of Agriculture for some time. Recently in view of the pressing need of increased agricultural production on account of the war, there have been several conferences on the subject between the Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, the agricultural commissioner, and the manager of the Canadian Press Association. After careful consideration, the Minister of Agriculture has decided to conduct the special educational advertising campaign outlined above with particular relation to the conditions created by the war. The work of handling the campaign, selecting mediums, etc., has been entrusted to the advertising agency of McConnell & Ferguson, of London. The copy is now in course of preparation under the direction of the agricultural commissioner."

GERMANY'S LATEST PROTEST A FAILURE

Von Bernstorff Objects to the U. S. Selling Hydro-Aeroplanes to Allies.

BRYAN BEGS TO DIFFER

Secretary Does Not Agree That They Are Vessels of War.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 1.—In reply to Germany's recent protest against the building of hydro-aeroplanes by American manufacturers for England and Russia, Secretary Bryan has informed Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, that the State Department does not concur in the contention that such craft must be regarded as vessels of war "whose delivery to belligerent states by neutrals should be stopped."

The correspondence on the subject was made public today by Mr. Bryan. On January 19 Count Von Bernstorff wrote:

"Mr. Secretary of State:

"It has come to my knowledge that a number of hydro-aeroplanes have been ordered in the United States for belligerent states from the Curtiss' plant at Hammondsport, N.Y., and that a part of them has already been delivered.

"An airship named 'America' was delivered in October of last year to England, and five more hydro-aeroplanes of the same type have been delivered since. France has also ordered 25 aeroplanes of the I. N. model (70 h.p.) from Curtiss.

"Curtiss is also building for England twelve hydro-aeroplanes of the K model of 160 h.p.

Also For Russia.

"Russia has also recently ordered a number of hydro-aeroplanes of the K model from Curtiss. How many is not known.

"The motors for the aeroplanes are built partly by Curtiss himself at Hammondspot, partly by the Herschel Spillman Motor factory at North Tonawanda, N.Y.

"The wings are made at the Curtiss' plant, the minor parts by the Autocrat Manufacturing Company.

"The Tonawanda Boat Company furnishes the boat part.

"There is no doubt that hydro-aeroplanes must be regarded as war vessels whose delivery to belligerents by neutrals should be stopped under Article 8 of the thirteenth convention of the second Hague conference of October 19, 1907. Hydro-aeroplanes are not mentioned by The Hague convention simply because there was none in 1907 at the time of the conference. On the supposition that hydro-aeroplanes are delivered to belligerents against the wishes of the Government of the United States I have the honor to bring the foregoing to your excellency's kind consideration.

"Accept, Mr. Secretary of State, the renewed assurance of my most distinguished high consideration, (signed) J. BERNSTORFF."

Bryan's Reply.

Secretary Bryan's reply, dated January 23, follows:

"Excellency:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your excellency's note of the 19th inst., and in reply have to inform you that the statements in your excellency's note have received my careful consideration in view of the earnest purpose of this Government to perform every duty, which is imposed upon it as a neutral by treaty stipulations and international law.

"The essential statement in your note, which implies an obligation on the part of this Government to interefere in the sale and delivery of hydro-aeroplanes to belligerent powers, is:

"'There is no doubt that hydro-aeroplanes must be regarded as war vessels whose delivery to belligerent states by neutrals should be stopped under Article 8 of the thirteenth convention of the second Hague conference of October 19, 1907.'

"As to this assertion of the character of hydro-aeroplanes I submit the following comments: The fact that a hydro-aeroplane is fitted with apparatus to rise from and alight upon the sea does not in my opinion give it the character of a vessel any more than the wheels attached to an aeroplane fitting it to rise from and alight upon land give the latter the character of a land vehicle. Both the hydro-aeroplanes and the aeroplanes are essentially air craft; as an aid in military operations they can only be used in the air; the fact that one starts its flight from the surface of the sea and the other from the land is a mere incident, which in no way affects their aerial character.

Forced to Dissent.

"In view of these facts I must dissent from your excellency's assertion that 'there is no doubt that hydro-aeroplanes must be regarded as war vessels,' and consequently I do not regard the obligations imposed by treaty or by the accepted rules of international law applicable to air craft of any sort.

"In this connection I further call to your excellency's attention the fact that according to latest advices received by this department the German Imperial Government include balloons and flying machines and their component parts in the list of conditional contraband and that in the Imperial prize ordinance, drafted September 30, 1909, and issued in the Reiches Gezetsblatt on Aug. 13, 1914, appear as "conditional contraband" airships and flying machines (art. 23, section 8.) It thus appears that the Imperial Government have placed and still retain air craft of all descriptions in the class of conditional contraband, for which no special treatment involving neutral duty is, so far as I am advised, provided by any treaty to which the United States is a signatory or adhering power.

"As in the views of this department, the provisions of convention XIII of the second Hague conference do not apply to hydro-aeroplanes I do not consider it necessary to discuss the question as to whether those provisions are in force during the present war.

"Accept, excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.
(signed) W. J. BRYAN."

HE SAYS HE TOLD HIS NEIGHBORS

And They Told Him To Try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mike Rudy, Young Manitoba Farmer, Sick for Two Years, Tells How He Got a New Lease of Life.

Camperville, Man., Feb. 1—(Special)—Cured of Kidney and Heart Disease of two years' standing, Mr. Mike Rudy, a well-known young farmer living near here, is telling his neighbors that he owes his new lease of life to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For two years," Mr. Rudy states, "I suffered with a terrible pain in the small of my back and shoulders. I took many different medicines, and was under the doctor's care, but nothing seemed to do me any lasting good. Finally heart disease was added to my troubles.

"Hearing Dodd's Kidney Pills well spoken of by my neighbors, I decided to try them. To my surprise and relief one box cured me completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Rudy because his troubles all came from sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy, pure and simple. If you have pain in the back, rheumatism, lumbago, gravel or diabetes, your kidneys are wrong. You need Dodd's Kidney Pills.

DENIES PLEDGING ITALY'S NEUTRALITY

Former Premier Trying To Discredit Report—Letter Published.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Feb. 2.—Giovanni Giolitti, the former premier, is making an effort to discredit reports that he has agreed with Prince Von Buelow, the German ambassador, that Italy must maintain its neutrality at all costs. To accomplish this purpose a letter written by him to a deputy has been published here.

In this letter Signor Giolitti says he has known Prince Von Buelow many years, and has high esteem for his talents and character.

In closing his letter Signor Giolitti says he considers war a misfortune to be faced only when necessary for honor or the great interests of the country. He does not consider it permissible to drag the country into war because of a sentimental feeling toward other countries. In the present condition of Europe he believes it might be possible for Italy to obtain enough without war.

BERLIN INDIGNANT

Execution of Two Germans in Morocco Makes Press Angry.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Feb. 2, via London, 10:38 a.m. —Indignation is expressed by the newspapers generally over the execution of Karl Ficke and Herr Grundler in Morocco, on charges of treason preferred by the French. The papers term the executions judicial murder in view of the circumstances attending the trial and appeal.

A dispatch from Berlin on January 31 stated it was officially announced there that Ficke and Grundler had been executed in spite of the fact that the French president-general in Morocco had assured the American charge d'affaires at Tangier that the death penalty would not be inflicted until an appeal had been acted upon by President Poincare of France.

"PEACE PRAYER" SEIZED

But Incident In France Was Soon Settled by Explanation.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Feb. 2.—Periodicals containing the text of Pope Benedict's prayer for peace, which he had directed should be read in all churches on February 7, were seized on Sunday by the police of the department of the Seine according to the Figaro. The incident was soon settled, however, after explanations had been given the authorities by Cardinal Amette, Archbishop of Paris, and the embargo was withdrawn.

The motives for the seizure were not announced, but it is believed, the Figaro says, that the Government feared the expression of hope for an early peace might be misinterpreted by the public and have a depressing effect upon opinion.
