SUGAR REFINERS EXPECTING A D FROM THE GOVT., BUT PROSPECTS OF HELP ARE NONE TOO BRIGHT

Manufacturers Confer With Sir Henry Drayton—Difficulties in Way of Rendering Assistance Are Admitted—Appeals To Administration To Take Some Action To Avoid Closing of Plants Are Received by Officials.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—(By the Canadian Press).—Sugar refiners were in conference with Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, for some time this morning, but decision as to a definite line of action was not reached. There is now opening a mild campaign of communications in favor of some assistance being given to the refiners. When the board of commerce passed the sugar order, subsequently suspended by the Government, there was a flood of denunciatory letters and telegrams. Today, members of the Government are receiving appeals that something should be done to prevent the entire closing down of the refineries and the consequent throwing out of work of the employees.

In Government circles, admission is made frankly that the refiners are entitled to consideration, but the way out of present troubles is obviously difficult. Neither the proposal of a loan nor that of a remission of duties in raw sugar is likely to be accepted, and there is much questioning if the Government will be able to give any effective assistance. The refiners themselves apparently are none too optimistic over their prospects.

KEENEST DEMAND IN HISTORY OF CITY FOR BUSINESS SITES

Score of Firms Attracted by London's Steady Growth Are Seeking Locations Here—Steady Expansion Looked For With Increase in Real Estate Values.

Never before in the city's history has London experienced so keen a demand for business and manufacturing premises. A score of firms are coming to the city for suitable buildings in which to start immediately manufacturing operations in various lines. The scarcity of building materials is responsible for the failure of several big enterprises to start building operations on large new factories at once, and in the meantime they are anxious to secure temporary premises. Several big companies which had planned to erect new factories here this year have postponed building until next spring and are making the best possible use of smaller premises in which they have been obliged to accommodate themselves at present.

One of the growing industries of London is the phonograph industry, and in this line a large plant will eventually be established here by the Starr Company of Canada. This firm was recently incorporated by the purchase of the Edison Company of Orange, N. J., of the plant operated in London by a firm known as the Starr Company of Toronto had secured property on Talbot street, and plans and regulations, and made applications that when looked into cannot be considered at all.

OHIO POSSES SEARCH FOR BANK ROBBERS; ONE BANDIT KILLED

$50,000 Taken by Criminals Is Recovered After Fight.

STAGE GUN BATTLE

Slain Bandit Was Wanted On Charge of Murder.

Cleveland, Oct. 22.—Three counties were searched by posse today for the remnants of the bandit gang who late yesterday engaged in one of the most spectacular machine gun battles in Ohio. Amid volleys of bullets, that resembled a machine gun engagement, one and only recently was released from the Cleveland branch bank of the Cleveland Trust Company at Bedford of $50,000.

Two of the captured bandits and the dead one have long criminal records. Lester, an associate of John Grogan, now serving a life sentence for murder, was wanted for the murder of a man during a bank robbery, and of Patrolman Patrick Gaffney, who was killed during a gun battle. The death of Joyce automatically annulled a murder indictment that stood for four years. In connection with the robbery of the Illinois Loan Bank last August, Joyce was charged with the escape of the Toledo Jail last Christmas after a deputy had shot and the jailers immediately released him.

Harry Stone, another of the captured bandits, has served several prison terms and only recently was released from the Leavenworth Penitentiary. The fourth man captured refused to reveal his identity, and police early today had been unable to identify him.

DEAD BANDIT IDENTIFIED.
Altogether, Oct. 22.—That Albert Joyce, alias Howard, alias Johnson, who was killed in a battle at Bedford, near Cleveland, yesterday, was one of four men who escaped from the county jail here last Christmas morning, was declared by police here after receiving from Cleveland a description of the bandit. Joyce was awaiting sentence for a post-office robbery.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—Premier Meighen starts tonight for his western speaking tour, and opens his campaign in Winnipeg on Monday evening. He will touch at almost every important point in the west, proceeding by the south route to British Columbia and returning by the north.

It is the intention of the premier that practically every constituency in which there are voters shall have an opportunity of hearing him. He will be accompanied by Mr. R. M. Macdonald, M.P., at Fort William, and waiting for him at Winnipeg he will find Hon. J. A. Calder, president of the privy council. Along the way he will be joined by local members.

The last date announced is November 18, so that the tour will occupy at least a month. Mr. Meighen set forth his plan for the tour in a speech at the House of Commons last night. He is returning after a trip quite as extensive as that planned by the premier.

The Mexican trade in records is very considerable and arose largely through the London firm name are being supplied throughout all Canada, and are also being shipped extensively into Mexico, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

Although not officially announced, it was reported today that the Harris Abattoir Company of Toronto had secured property on Talbot street, and plans and regulations, and made applications that when looked into cannot be considered at all.

There are twelve more applications to be considered, though a day seldom at intervals, and the applications are made in the order received, and investigations are made in the same manner.

THE STRIKE THAT OUGHT TO TAKE PLACE

QUEBEC DEALS BLOW TO RUM-RUNNERS' TRAFFIC

Montreal, Oct. 22.—At a meeting held yesterday between the wholesale liquor importers, of whom there are ten in the province, and D. R. Murphy, K.C., general administrator of the Quebec prohibition law, an arrangement was made whereby the wholesalers agree to ship outside the province only by steamer, railway, express or through a transportation company. This means the end of shipments by automobile, one of the most serious means of abuse of the liquor law and of rum-running either to other provinces or to the United States.

LEGISLATURE WILL BAN ALL SPECIAL DEBENTURES

Only Expenditures Approved by Ratepayers at the Regular Municipal Elections Will Be Passed—Earlier Session of Parliament Is Expected.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
Toronto, Oct. 22.—Intimations that the next session of the Legislature may commence early in January instead of February, as usual, are being sent out to a number of the municipalities from here. The cities are advised that municipal bills for the coming year will have to be guided to some extent by the Legislature. Matters to be taken up with the Legislature will have to be passed earlier than usual. The desire of farmer members of the Legislative Assembly to get back to their farms for the time for spring work is said to be the reason for the change.

TWO SOLDIERS ARE KILLED WHEN LORRY AMBUSHED NEAR CORK

Military Forces Are Dispatched To Scene of Attack.

Cork, Oct. 22.—An officer and a private were killed and five other soldiers wounded this morning when a military lorry was ambushed fourteen miles from Cork. The attackers numbered about 20 and were armed with rifles and machine guns. The lorry was carrying military supplies and was returning from a mission. The attack was described as a "wet" vote in the British Columbia election.

UNIVERSITY MAN IS SOUGHT ON CHARGE OF MURDERING PAL

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—A continuous search was instituted today for William P. Brines, the University of Pennsylvania freshman, for whom a warrant was issued yesterday charging him with the murder of Elmer C. Drewes, the Dartmouth College student slain here last Saturday night. The young man was said by the police to have been close friends. Although the authorities admitted they have discovered no motive for the killing they declared they have "a large quantity of evidence which directly points to Brines as being responsible for the death of Drewes." One theory of the police is that he was killed in a dispute over the purchase of an automobile.

POLICEMAN'S EVIDENCE

Declares He Found Prisoner in Port Dalhousie.

Welland, Oct. 22.—The courtroom was crowded when the trial of David McNeal charged with the murder of Margaret Bouccock, was resumed this morning. Myrtle Dunn, 9-year-old daughter of Constable Dunn, testified that between 1:30 and 2 o'clock on the day of the disappearance, she noticed David McNeal near Dr. Puhlov's, across from the library, Margaret Bouccock held of McNeal's hand and they were going away from Margaret's home and toward the canal. UNEMPLOYMENT INCREASES IN BRITAIN AS MINERS' STRIKE CAUSES INDUSTRIES TO CLOSE

Lloyd George Expected To Answer Ultimatums Delivered by Railwaymen and Transport Workers' Unions—An Election May Be Forced On Country As Result of the Industrial Crisis.

London, Oct. 22.—British labor and the country as a whole waited anxiously today for the Government's next move in the deadlock over the coal miners' strike, following the strike ultimatum delivered by the railwaymen yesterday and an almost equally pointed threat from the transport workers.

The representatives of the National Union of Railwaymen were in session, and it was understood that they expected a reply from the premier to the communication they sent him yesterday, giving him to understand that the railwaymen would quit work Sunday at midnight unless by Saturday the strike was settled or negotiations which would effect a settlement had begun.

Meanwhile the Government and some of the miners' leaders were exploring the ground in an effort to find some basis for an adjustment.

This afternoon it was announced that the Parliamentary committee of the Trades Union Congress had called a conference for Wednesday next of the executives of the affiliated unions to consider methods of helping the miners in their efforts to settle the strike.

The conference of the National Union of Railwaymen, it was also announced, decided today to invite the miners' executive to meet the railway conferees tomorrow afternoon. The miners' executive has been summoned to London and will meet tomorrow to consider the railway union's invitation and the general situation.

Robert Williams, general secretary of the transport workers, announced in their behalf, with regard to the enrollment of volunteers in the Government, which has been going on, that the transport men "look upon the danger of the country as being a real one, and that the middle class and white guards of the community, as of more provocation, are using the use of troops."

Consequently, continued the announcement, the transport men are in a position to make a contribution to the Government, and the members of the cabinet were consulting informally but earnestly during the morning with a view to finding a chain for a settlement. Opinion generally expressed in Government circles was that a definite view of the situation would be found before any serious development arose from the threats of the railroad men and transport workers.

In the House of Commons this afternoon, Edward Shortt, the home secretary, gave notice of the presentation of a bill to make exceptional provision for the protection of the community in cases of emergency. The contents of the bill have not yet been divulged, but the announcement is interpreted by the press as meaning that the measure is intended to bear upon the strike situation.

THIEVES TAKE 600 POUNDS OF BUTTER

Burglars in Auto Make Clean Getaway At Centralia.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
Centralia, Oct. 22.—Unknown burglars, who apparently operated in an automobile, made a fairly rich haul in a burglary at Centralia, Pa., last night, and got away without leaving a clue of any kind. They first entered the Shamrock creamery by forcing a door, and took away 600 pounds of the finest butter. The thieves in their hurry overlooked a large number of envelopes filled with money, which were to be sent out to the patrons of the factory daily.

WILL NOT BUY COAL
UNLESS CITY AGREES
TO COVER ANY LOSSUtilities Manager Says Fuel
Cannot Be Sold Below $20.

STRICTLY CASH BASIS

Paving of Roads At Queen's Park Thought To Be Unnecessary.

No coal will be purchased and sold by the utilities commission unless the city council is willing to make good any deficit that may result, the commission decided at a meeting Thursday afternoon. General manager E. V. Buchanan said that he believed that the three cars of coal which had been ordered could not be sold for less than $20 a ton. The Central Veterans' Council has guaranteed that it will be sold before it arrives here. The price of $20 a ton will not allow for any loss in connection with the unloading. All sales will be on a strictly cash basis.

A request from the Western Fair Board that the roads at Queen's Park be paved was referred to the city council. Manager Buchanan pointed out that the roads have been graded and are only last year and that there was no necessity for the work from a park standpoint.

"I do not see that there is any reason for paving the roads when the grounds may be abandoned," said Commissioner Vining. "Paving is the worst thing you can do for a park, although it may be all right for exhibition grounds."

Mr. Buchanan reported that an abutment on the Hunt Mill dam had been repaired at a cost of $500, as it was feared surrounding property might be injured if the dam was swept away. Further reports on making sulphur water fit for general consumption will be made at the next meeting by an American firm of engineers.

COLLEGIATE PLANS ARE APPROVED BY
NO. 3 COMMITTEETudor Style of Architecture To
Be Used—Swimming Pools Included.

WAGE INCREASES ASKED

Recommend That Teachers of Evening Classes Get $5 Per Night.

Tentative plans for the new central Collegiate Institute which will replace the one destroyed by fire were presented to No. 3 committee of the board of education at a meeting held Thursday afternoon. The plans were fully approved by the committee after they had been explained by L. E. Caruthers, architect for the board.

The building, composed of the central building and two wings, will face Waterloo street, instead of Dufferin avenue. According to the plans, it is to be two stories high, with a basement, where the gym, the cafeteria, the lockers and separate swimming pools will be located. The front of the building will measure 271 feet, and the two wings 185 feet deep. The central building will be 50 feet shorter than the wings.

The beautiful Tudor style of architecture which was found so suitable for scholastic institutions will be used throughout. The style will give the building quite a dignified appearance without great severity. The building will be erected of brick with stone trimmings.

Twenty-six classrooms, all of standard size, and modernly equipped, will be provided. Besides these, an auditorium, which, with the galleries, will give a seating capacity of 1,000, will be included.

The gymnasium is to be 60 by 90 feet, providing ample accommodation for all students. The cafeteria will be square room of 60 feet in dimensions.

Every member of the committee expressed satisfaction regarding the plans. They will be next brought before the board of education and on being approved they will be sent to the department for approval.

The question of salaries occupied much of the time of the committee. The members of the staff conducting the evening classes applied for a general increase. On a suggestion moved by Mrs. R. Harris the committee will recommend that the salaries be increased to $5 a night. This will bring them to the level of those paid for like work in other Canadian cities.

The increase was opposed chiefly by T. Coleridge, who argued that wages were on a downward trend, and so no action should be taken.

Mrs. Harris said that she believed that it might be true that wages were coming down, but that it was not the case with salaries. Salaries had never been inflated like wages, so they would not experience a like slump. They were none too high at the present time.

Principal Mooney was instructed to bring in recommendations in his November report bearing on certain alleged irregularities in salaries said to exist at the present time in the collegiate institute. The heads of several departments made the claim that they were receiving less than their assistants, because of the minimum salary fixed last year. At least three teachers will be affected.

FRESHMEN MEDS
OF WESTERN GIVEN
ANNUAL INITIATIONTalcum Powder, Putty, Fish

Ceremony.

FLY PAPER NOT ABSENT

Banquet, Which Ends in Disorder, Puts Finishing Touch To Evening.

The Freshmen Meds of Western University, numbering 48, were the victims of the Sophomores of the same institution last night, the occasion being the annual initiation ceremonies which went off without a hitch. Following the custom inaugurated last year the "atrocities" were carried out in the Medical School Building, the Freshmen kindly volunteering to put in an appearance for the ordeal.

The embryo doctors were led singly into a large room, having previously been blindfolded, and were first paraded before the student body for inspection. Following this "once over" the unfortunate ones were given into the hands of the Sophomores, who, with a fittingly garbed. After being anointed with talcum powder, putty, carbon bisulphide and fish oil, the recruits were led to an improvised altar, where they were prostrate and fly-paper liberally applied, and they were allowed to be seated, thus clinching the bargain.

Further applications of various substances of the clinging variety were in order, and the final details of the ceremony were completed with the "Meds" who are rather reticent regarding them. James Balfour of Meds 46, a boarding house, and members of senior classes were present, in case the victims rebelled, but no minor instructions being quelled by the Sophs, with added punishment for the Bolsheviks.

Thanks Sophs, ordered each Freshman was allowed to view the plight of his comrades, after which President McCabe of Meds 25, on behalf of the objects of the attack, thanked the Sophomores for bestowing upon his class many tokens of esteem. James McGeech, president of the Meds student body, then welcomed the newly-initiated ones into the fold, and the merry-makers paraded in a body to the Royal Cafe, enjoying the atmosphere en route by school yell.

Upon arrival there they indulged in a banquet, after which an impromptu program of songs and speeches was run off.

Included in the entertainment were several recitations by Beverly Baker, and songs from members of the various classes representing broke up in disorder at a late hour, and the freshmen hiked to their respective homes and boarding houses to rid themselves of decorations. They were told to be advised to do so. Residents of the vicinity, who await the old-time initiation, were disappointed this year, the ceremony being pulled off inside the school. This was decided upon in order that the public should not be disturbed, and any disorders are confined to students only. These plans were inaugurated last year in deference to the wishes of the Medical Faculty, and will likely become a common institution in future.

MAY BAN ALL WINDOW LIGHTS

Acute Power Shortage Is Expected During the Winter.

London's night life will assume a war time appearance shortly as a result of "penalty rates" on power, which will force the elimination of all sign and window lighting. This move will coincide with the move to stop the use of electric heaters by making the cost of power prohibitive. The plan which is being considered to reduce the consumption of power for window and sign lights will allow each merchant 100 hours use of his connected load or his maximum summer consumption, whichever is the greater. This will be sufficient for all business purposes, but it will not permit the use of brightly-lighted signs throughout the night, except at a prohibitive cost. The step is to be taken because of the power shortage, which is expected to become acute as the winter progresses. Penalizing the use of electric heaters was one of the first measures suggested. It was felt that this restriction was not fair while hundreds of lights were allowed to burn which were not actually needed for street lighting purposes. Announcement of the date on which the new rates will become effective is expected from the head office of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

GAS CHARGES TO BE CONSIDERED AT MEETING NEXT WEEK

Special Committee Will Endeavor To Decide What Will Be Done.

Negotiations in regard to increased gas charges will be reopened next Monday or Tuesday. The special gas committee of the city council will hold a meeting on one of those two days, its chairman, Ald. Cameron Wilson, said today. The tactics to be pursued have not been decided upon yet. City Solicitor T. G. Meredith will be interviewed in the meantime as to the exact powers of the committee and the discussion will be along the lines suggested by this interview. When increased prices were first proposed by the gas company the special committee was appointed to confer with them. It was finally discovered that the city had no power either to authorize or forbid an increase, the matter resting wholly with the Legislature. As that body was not in session no authority to increase the price could be obtained. "Ready-made" charges were instituted instead, although this did not meet with the entire approval of the committee. In fact, it was so unsatisfactory that the council asked them to take up the matter again, and to make some better arrangements could be made. The committee agreed to do this if it could seek the assistance of the city solicitor.

"NIPS" ON STREET WILL COST $200

Magistrate Says He Will Stop Bottle Passing by Big Fine.

Magistrate Graydon again issued a warning today that if men persist in drinking liquor on the street when a bottle is offered to them by a chap, he will impose a fine of $200 and costs. They would either have to stop taking "nips" or tell who gave them the liquor. These statements were made during a lecture which he gave to a man who had been arrested in an intoxicated condition. The man was able to forget the name of the friend who supplied the liquor. He was fined $10 and costs. One other inmate who has been charged several times with being drunk was given one more chance. The magistrate told him the next time he was convicted he would be imprisoned without the option of a fine. He was assessed $10 and costs. Robert Burr was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to the offence of breaking the motor vehicle act. R. W. Shaw was assessed $2 and costs for a breach of a bylaw. A similar charge against Charles Summers was dismissed.

SAYS PLUMBING IN LONDON IS A DISGRACE

Bylaw Is Needed Here and in Every City, Says Edwin Newsome.

"Why did a number of the plumbers buck the plumbing bylaw in this city?" asked Edwin Newsome of Toronto, editor of the Sanitary and Heating Journal at a meeting of the plumbers in the Technical High School last night. "Because deep down in their hearts they knew they could not do the work. Many of them could not even read the bylaw intelligently. That was why they bucked it. Plumbing in London is rotten, and it is in every city. That is why there is the need for a plumbing bylaw. A poor bylaw is better than none."

"The public objected to the increased prices they would have to pay for their plumbing work. Plumbers who have been doing these cheap jobs are barely able to pay their debts and are living from hand to mouth. What we want is a uniform bylaw. Manufacturers can then produce goods that are standard, without having to look up whether a certain place has a bylaw in force. The places which do not have bylaws receive the poorest quality of the manufacturers' goods."

No Guarantee. "Doctors visit you and feel your pulse and prescribe for you, but will they guarantee they will cure you? No! But when a plumber goes to a house he is asked if he can do the necessary repairing and naturally says 'yes.' That is why a plumber, or to use a better term, a sanitary engineer, is a practical man and the doctor a theorist. "It was not the doctors cleared out the sewers and generally cleaned up the city were responsible for the small-pox disappearing."

Scores Vaccination. Sanitary engineers try to keep the public healthy with good plumbing work while the doctors at the slightest scare of smallpox order everyone to get vaccinated, the fittest thing in the world. To fill man, God's masterpiece, with vaccine taken from dead cows, putrid, is vile. Medicine men cannot prove that diphtheria is not a direct result of vaccination."

The problem of securing apprentices is acute in the sanitary engineering business, and in discussing the future Mr. Newsome said: "The apprentice is looked upon as a possible competitor by many plumbers throughout the country. That why they do not give the boys a chance to get ahead. The Toronto master journeymen plumbers have taken a strong stand in the apprenticeship problem. The apprentices go to the Technical School, and the examining board composed of three master plumbers and three journeymen, they examine the boys every three months, and if the candidate fails in an examination the board finds who is responsible. An employer must give a boy steady employment and actual experience in the work. If each master plumber turned out a plumber from his shop every five years it would take 25 years before there would be enough real plumbers to carry on his business. There are 100,000 houses needed in Canada today. This alone will keep the plumbing trade busy."

A Responsible Position. "The plumber holds a most responsible position. From what he is forced to know in order to carry on his business, it is not a trade, but a profession."

"We want good apprentices. We want to raise the status of the profession. We need intelligent boys to learn the business from the beginning. James R. Haslett, plumbing instructor at the Technical School, gave a lecture last night. He stated he was sorry to see the number who failed to answer the questions relating to his demonstration when writing their examination before they could be issued a plumber's license."

James E. Charlton presided. A hearty vote of thanks was given the speakers by the meeting.

BROTHERHOOD ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

George Dicks Chosen President of Ridout Street Church Organization. Last evening forty members of the brotherhood of the Ridout Street Methodist gathered in the schoolroom of the church for their annual social evening and election of officers for the ensuing year. After supper a sing-song was enjoyed. The pastor, Rev. J. A. Agnew, then took the chair and proceeded with the election of officers. After a very lively contest, owing to the large number of candidates, the following were elected: Honorary president, Rev. J. A. Agnew; new president, F. George Dicks; first vice-president, R. P. Taylor; second vice-president, C. A. Mann; third vice-president, George Bridge; fourth vice-president, R. Court; fifth vice-president, W. B. Sparling; secretary, A. J. Ramer; treasurer, A. W. Ramer; pianist, J. C. Smith.

The election was followed by a talk by the pastor outlining some of the work that should be taken up in the coming year. It was unanimously decided that an advertising campaign should be started, also a plan for community visiting to further the spirit of the brotherhood movement. The enthusiasm of the pastor since his return from the Washington brotherhood convention has spurred the whole of the brotherhood members of this church to increased effort to further the cause of brotherhood throughout the district.

Shoe Manufacturers Will Use More Leather

On account of the scarcity of paper, there will be more leather used in the shoes in the future. This we will all welcome, as we despise substitutes or imitations. It's no wonder that John A. GIRLS' CANADIAN CLUB TO AFFILIATE WITH MAIN ORGANIZATION

Members Hear Fine Paper on Canadian Literature At First Meeting.

The dining-room at the King Street Y. W. C. A. and the adjacent room were filled to overflowing last night for the first meeting of the Girls' Canadian Club, which was organized recently under the direction of Mrs. John Crawford, the extension secretary. The need of time, and the ready in the city and its popularity already, was shown by the very large attendance at the first meeting and the manner in which the club eagerly sought to enroll their names for membership. The club is to be shortly affiliated with the organized Canadian club of the Dominion, and Mrs. Frank Leonard, president of the local Women's Canadian Club, carried an eloquent message of welcome to the young organization last night. On the occasion was Mrs. D. C. MacGregor, more popularly known as "Marion Keith," who gave an instructive address on "Canadian Literature."

Are Too Near. "We are too near to tell just what it is the most valuable," said the speaker. "We have yet of Father Time, I shall be a librarian, to do his work, picking out the best and discarding the poorest."

"All our Canadian literature has three distinctively Canadian marks. First, it has shown originality. Second, it has always breathed the spirit of freedom strongly. And thirdly, it has within it that essential quality of all truly great literature, the flavor of the soil or the eternal spirit of the soil."

"Of all the Canadian writers who have that essential quality—the flavor of the soil—our French-Canadian writers have it to the greatest extent. And it is a shame that the division existing in our country makes it impossible for us all to enjoy this writing. The man who has bridged the Gulf is William Henry Drummond, and he gives French-Canadian life, but as we see it and not as it really is."

Developing Rapidly. "However, the Canadian people are writing. A member of a great Canadian publishing house told me that every day something really good comes into the office. It would seem that at every country corner and every village and town in Canada, somebody is writing something good, and when this is the case, there is no doubt that some day the great singer will come. "One of the great difficulties confronting the Canadian writer is the lack of adequate criticism."

Canadian Poets. Mrs. MacGregor mentioned but few names in her talk. Of the poets she referred to Charles Mair, Isabella Crawford and Drummond. She mentioned the one dramatist, Heavyseide, the author of "Gaul," and the one native writer, G. D. Roberts, Fraser and Seaton-Thompson. The chief Canadian living novelist, was Gilbert Parker, and she pointed out his "Sons of the Mighty," and Kirby's "Golden Dog," as the greatest Canadian historical novelists. Judge Haultborn, who created the immortal character of Sam Slick, the clockmaker, was spoken of as the first great Canadian novelist.

"And we do not seem to have made much progress since his day," said the speaker. "The year 1880 was mentioned as the beginning of a great chorus of Canadian writers and poets, and at the time when Gilbert Parker first sprang into prominence. "Canada is without a humorist," said Mrs. MacGregor, "and that is natural, as northern peoples are always serious and so far, our life has been too hard for much levity. Stephen Leacock is the only one to be mentioned and he is rather a wit than a humorist."

Canadian writers are apt to be spoiled by too severe adverse criticism. Our universities are trying to overcome this today by establishing some sort of authoritative criticism in Canada. Another difficulty is the habit of our Canadian writers of moving across the line into the United States, where they can earn a splendid living, when they would starve at home. It seems that the divine gift of wit is subject to the customs officers, and the writer goes into the United States, and must pay a high price, for almost invariably does he lose that first capture, that essential flavor of the soil, which would have made him great. And it is for such clubs as this Canadian Club to insist to it that our Canadian writers do not need to cross the border, so as to live, and to see to it that there will arise a competent criticism that will save our writers from faults. "I believe that great Canadian writers are coming just as soon as our young people, living in the years of the great war, had had time to contemplate. There is still to come a great singer, a great novelist, a great historian, and a great biographer. As yet there has been no great historical novelist, who has taken as its background the history of the fascinating land of the Canadian West, and Northwest Mounted Police. Agnes Laut has come nearest to it. Perhaps our best biographies, so far as to be found in the artless pen of our Canadian explorers, writing in their diaries. Vocal solos by Mrs. H. E. Westland, who also gave the address of welcome, and by Mrs. E. J. Jenkins, an outline of the club's aims by Miss P. Kennedy, and selections from the club orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Jas. H. Smith, completed the program, after which refreshments were served. Miss G. Baldwin, the president, was in the chair.

POST TOASTIES — says Bobby

Magistrate Will Endeavor To Find Someone To Care For Her.

After hearing the sordid tale of a young white girl, who turned King's evidence, and the statement of Police Sgt. Wm. McCullough and P. C. Jas. Oakley, Gladys Wilson, colored, was fined $25 and costs for keeping a house of ill-fame, at Front street, Leonard Berry, 1 Front street, and Frank Clinton, 173 Horton street, also colored, were fined $10 and costs each, for being frequenters.

The white girl, who is 18 years of age, was dealt with leniently by Magistrate Graydon. He gave her some good advice at the end of the court, and will endeavor to find someone to care for her.

Sgt. McCullough and P. C. Oakley had been watching the house since the last week in September, when complaints had been received from neighbors. On many occasions the police had seen men and women going into the house, and had seen evidence of drinking, card playing and indecency.

Watched the House. In telling of what happened Thursday night, Sgt. McCullough said he had first seen the white girl go into the house, and later saw Henry and Clinton arrive. One other man went in later, accompanied by the constable, McCullough went to the back and by looking through the window of a bedroom saw things which established beyond a doubt the nature of the house. The white girl was in the room with Berry.

Mr. McCullough knocked at the front door, Mrs. Wilson turned the lights on the veranda, before peering through the blinds. When she saw the police she yelled to the girl to come out, wild scramble followed. In the house cars were discovered on a table along with a bottle of whiskey and some glasses. Whiskey was also discovered in the bedroom. Two of the inmates were not properly dressed.

The young girl said she had gone to the house as the result of an arrangement made with Leonard Berry, whom she met previously in the evening on Charles street. She admitted that there had been drinking, and that she had acted in an immoral manner. She said that she had been there once before in the company of another man.

Was Indignant. Mrs. Wilson was quite indignant about the charges. She swore that all the statements made by the police were absolutely false, and she charged them with sending strange men to her house by eight or nine men every night, to create a case against her. She had been bothered to death she told the police by eight or nine men every night, whom she did not know.

Denied Police Officer. Emphatically denied that they had sent men to the house at any time. The magistrate told her that he was quite satisfied that she was guilty. He said that he needed no evidence to convict her and her son that which police officers had told him.

Hardware Markets ARE MORE STEADY. Hardware markets this week have been fairly steady. The chief advances have been in some lines of pumps and woodenware. Among the declines are metals, tin and lead, saws, Hardware and Metal.

Lined oil shows a further decline to fall in price of kerosene in sympathy with other grain. Business on the whole is fair, though not so good as it was a few weeks ago. Present buying is generally in smaller quantities.

Pittsburgh markets in pig iron and in unfinished iron and steel show a weakening with little buying. A few lines show an improvement in the futures, but there are still many shortages.

CAR OVERTURNED.—While returning home Thursday after spending the day in the country, James Francis, Price street, an employee of the G.T.R. shops, met with a serious accident, caused by the overturning of his automobile on the Hamilton road, east of the city. Four other members of the family were in the car, but none were hurt. Francis will not be around for a few days.

TO TEST SPRINGS.—Whether or not the sulphur springs can be used to augment the city water supply will be known this week. General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the public utilities commission said today. The Bureau of Chemistry, filtration engineers, of New York, have been asked to make a report on the situation. Their experiments are expected to arrive early next week. They will carry out their experiments immediately, and report at the next meeting of the public utilities commission.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.—London reports to Bradstreet's say that the sale and retail trade is showing a little better tone if anything. The general condition is considered satisfactory, and it is to be expected here on account of the resources of Western Ontario, which are so varied and so extensive. From this year on the whole have been satisfactory, and the returns have been good. Farmers are now preparing for the next year, and are getting on with the crops well. But at the moment, however, that the market will come back and that good butter is a good thing to hold. Cattlemen are fair to good.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.—A Halloween and masquerade party will be given to the members of the Y. M. C. A. and their lady friends next Monday evening. The office has arranged an excellent program. Major Fred J. Smith, national physical director of Y. M. C. YOUNG WHITE GIRL FIGURES IN SORDID POLICE COURT CASE

Magistrate Will Endeavor To Find Someone To Care For Her.

After hearing the sordid tale of a young white girl, who turned King's evidence, and the statement of Police Sgt. Wm. McCullough and P. C. Jas. Oakley, Gladys Wilson, colored, was fined $25 and costs for keeping a house of ill-fame, at Front street, Leonard Berry, 1 Front street, and Frank Clinton, 173 Horton street, also colored, were fined $10 and costs each, for being frequenters.

The white girl, who is 18 years of age, was dealt with leniently by Magistrate Graydon. He gave her some good advice at the end of the court, and will endeavor to find someone to care for her.

Sgt. McCullough and P. C. Oakley had been watching the house since the last week in September, when complaints had been received from neighbors. On many occasions the police had seen men and women going into the house, and had seen evidence of drinking, card playing and indecency.

Watched the House. In telling of what happened Thursday night, Sgt. McCullough said he had first seen the white girl go into the house, and later saw Henry and Clinton arrive. One other man went in later, accompanied by the constable, McCullough went to the back and by looking through the window of a bedroom saw things which established beyond a doubt the nature of the house. The white girl was in the room with Berry.

Mr. McCullough knocked at the front door, Mrs. Wilson turned the lights on the veranda, before peering through the blinds. When she saw the police she yelled to the girl to come out, wild scramble followed. In the house cars were discovered on a table along with a bottle of whiskey and some glasses. Whiskey was also discovered in the bedroom. Two of the inmates were not properly dressed.

The young girl said she had gone to the house as the result of an arrangement made with Leonard Berry, whom she met previously in the evening on Charles street. She admitted that there had been drinking, and that she had acted in an immoral manner. She said that she had been there once before in the company of another man.

Was Indignant. Mrs. Wilson was quite indignant about the charges. She swore that all the statements made by the police were absolutely false, and she charged them with sending strange men to her house by eight or nine men every night, to create a case against her. She had been bothered to death she told the police by eight or nine men every night, whom she did not know.

KILLED BY WIRE. Cow Swallowed Four-inch Piece, Which Finally Pierced Heart. Kingsville, Oct. 22.—Fraser Taylor lost a valuable milch cow in a peculiar manner. On opening the door to ascertain the cause of death it was found it had swallowed a piece of No. 11 wire about four inches in length. This had worked its way forward out of the stomach and pierced the heart. There was a cavity fully an inch deep in the heart, as large around as one's little finger, made by the wire. The cow was thoroughly caloused. The wire, however, worked back out, and pierced the heart at another point, causing the animal to bleed to death from the new wound.

THE LATE OLIVE THOMAS COMES TO THE GRAND IN "THE FLAPPER" NEXT MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

Olive Thomas, whose recent death cast gloom throughout the entire picture world, will be screened at the Grand next Monday and Tuesday in one of her greatest photoplay successes, entitled "The Flapper." Miss Thomas in "The Flapper" is cast as Ginger, the 16-year-old daughter of Senator King, and is sent to a boarding school. She is attracted by the appearance of a mysterious stranger who rides past the seminary. Ginger makes the acquaintance of Bill Forbes, cadet in a boys' military academy, and they go sleigh-riding together and become separated when the horse runs away. Ginger meets the mysterious stranger. She tells the latter she is twenty, and he takes her to a dance at the Country Club, but the school mistress arrives and spoils her plans. On returning to school they find a robbery has been committed by a girl crook who posed as a pupil. Ginger goes to New York, is persuaded by a crook to accompany them to a cabaret. The crooks have to make a quick getaway, and leave Ginger in possession of jewels and other loot. She attires herself gorgeously and returns to her home town and boasts of her experience as a woman of the fast world. The mysterious stranger appears and suspicion falls upon him as the man supposed to have led Ginger astray. The crooks come to recover their loot. Ginger confesses the whole affair as a joke and joins her admirer from the military academy at an ice cream fountain and adores the world and its wickedness.

A rip-roaring domestic squabble with those two eminent stars of two reels, Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven, will take care of the laughs, while Pathe's Topics of the Day will have some mighty interesting news in pictures. Big Time Vaudeville will conclude a classy bill for Grand devotees for the first two days of next week.

AT THE GRAND.

In these days of syncretized jazz, society dramas and vampire plays it is a relief to strike a production like "Silver Threads Among the Gold" which opened at the Grand Theatre Thursday and will play there the remainder of the week. Jane and Katharine Lee, two of the smallest but brightest of all the stars in the movie firmament, play prominent parts in it, while the leading role is taken by Doris Keane.

Touching old-time melodies form a suitable accompaniment to the long story which is packed with generous shares of both comedy and pathos. Particularly appealing is John Morrison's singing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold" as an introduction to the picture.

One hundred per cent comedy is delivered by Larry Semon in "The Sultana." News reels and Clifton and Morrison in a clever vaudeville skit featuring Irish songs make up the remainder of the bill.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold" has all the characteristics of a story by the late Horatio Alger, Jun. Doris Keane, as the village vamp, steals the heart of the handsome hero. Of course she is loved by an equally handsome villain. In a weak moment the hero goes to a bar dance and almost wrecks his career. The villain with deep laid cunning pinches the heroine's purse and leaves it in his pocket. Naturally when it is discovered that the hero's bold assertion that "some one must put it there" brings forth cries of "old stuff." In spite of this awkward situation his sweetheart and mother still believe in him. He sets out for New York to redeem his shattered reputation. The shattering process continues, however. Finally he unwittingly falls in with a gang of gangsters. Police raid the joint, and he is almost knocked for a goal by a bullet from a sleuth's trusty six shooter.

Then he gets a job as a waiter. Once again the truth of the old maxim, "All that glitters is not gold," is proven. The judge from the old home town drops in for a ham sandwich, and discovers the hero. He introduces to an influential friend who in a few short months makes him manager of the Pine Hill branch of a factory. The hero busts a week's pay, comes home on Christmas Eve, and stuns them all with a silk lid and a claw hammer coat. He and the heroine are then happily married.

AT THE ALLEN.

Like a pure white gem shining in dazzling purity amid the passion of deeper hued stones comes to Booth Tarkington's story of "The Tenth Muse," adapted to the screen in a little play, filled with human interest. It is one feature of a double program presented at Allen's Theatre during the last half of this week. Although the picture is but two reels in length, it is safe to say that no picture of five or seven reels produces on the theatrical stage, has ever delighted an audience more. It appealed to everyone, to the grown-up boys and girls, as well as to their children. The play was put on by the management of the theatre for the primary purpose of entertaining boys, but there is in the picture the mysterious force that makes everyone as boys and girls for the space of many minutes. Back over the years, with many a chuckle and perhaps a tear or so, those who had taken themselves so seriously that they had grown up were turned, and once again they felt all the exultation of youth as they went through the common, every-day adventures they remember so well.

Booth Tarkington knows boys as no other author knows them, and none of this great quality was lost in adapting the story to the screen. He knew types as well as nature, so Booth Tarkington was allowed to pick his own characters. For the boy who was neither the best in town nor the worst he picked Johnny Jones, and his friend as his name would suggest. All the juvenile characters were excellent. The story was a clever portrayal of the events of an ordinary day in two little boys' and one little girl's life.

The other feature was good. It was a striking contrast to the Booth Tarkington story, for it was the sordid tale of the unhappiness of a beautiful girl when she made a fatal mistake in the fields of matrimony. Beautiful Violet Hemling was the leading lady in "The Court." It was a rapid moving story with scenes shifting speedily from a Western home to a great university, and then to New York.

It was a tale of youth, blinded by the first taste of love or while in love with love takes the irrevocable step. The story is elaborately produced in many strikingly different scenes. The costumes worn by the ladies were beautiful at times, while the settings were always rich. Some excellent acting carried the play to a rather common denouement. The author made the same mistake as others have done, of killing these who stood in the way of the happiness of the hero and heroine.

The musical program was designed to counteract the heaviness of the big picture. It was light and fantastic throughout. The overture was a lilt selection called "So Long, Lefty." The Mutt and Jeff cartoon was unusually good. They are improving with every production. A new film showing the great race between Sir Barton and Man-o-War completed a program, which will be repeated today and tomorrow.

AT LOEW'S THEATRE.

The big feature of an attractive variety program at Loew's Theatre the latter half of this week is an interesting photodrama, "Jack Straw," featuring Robert Warwick. It is another one of those increasingly frequent pictures in which Los Angeles culture and refinement takes a savage slap at New York smugness by painting Gotham characters as vulgar and impossible, but newly-rich bores. But "Jack Straw," as a play, is cleverly constructed and unusually fascinating. Anyhow, New York being a bigger city, no doubt does contain more rude and snobbish plutocrats than any other American city. While at times, the literary and artistic war to decide the comparative culture and ordinary good breeding of these two centres of population, divided by the rest of the United States, waxes a bit tedious to the rest of the world, yet in this case it is pardonable in view of the excellent picture that has been produced. It really looks as if Los Angeles came out on top, because far more people see the California movies than the number who read the New York magazines.

An archduke of Pomerania, an exceedingly refined and amiable sort of chap, exiled for his democratic ideas, and not a bit snappish like the poodles which have done most to advertise his country, happens to be in New York studying social conditions; so the play opens with him climbing the stairs in a Harlem flat to deliver a chunk of ice, the dumb-waiter being out of commission. He has fallen in love with the voice which hitherto has daily resounded down the elevator shaft, and this eventful day he catches a glimpse of his American queen and overhears her hard-worked papa tell her ambitious mother that oil has been discovered on his California. The family fits across the continent and leaves the palatial residence of an aristocratic California widow left without funds at the death of her husband. The widowed landlady is promptly snubbed by the socially hopeful New York matron, and the landlady's lover vows vengeance. They plan to introduce the ice-man, turned waiter, as the Count de Kamschaitka, but he prefers to be introduced under his own title, which the conspirators are not aware of. The plot is cleverly handled, and as might be expected, make a splendid drama.

News and travel films and an entertaining comedy are included in Loew's offering, which drew highly pleased crowds on Thursday. Clean, snappy vaudeville of very good quality is presented in the military review, the Scotch and ice dancing features are excellent, and the whole act is a fair offering. Reiff Brothers, song and dance artists, got a lot of applause yesterday which they well deserved, and W. and M. Moore provided a pretty dialogue, enlivened with singing, dancing and bright repartee.

AT THE PATRICIA.

A story, throbbing with human interest, of the great Canadian Northwest, which ends in a happy romance after months in the toils is that portrayed in "Under Northern Lights," at the Patricia. The story is taken from a few facts culled from the splendid records of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police.

Throughout the Northwest it is necessary to have the Indians and half-breeds kept in control, the latter being harder to handle than the Indians themselves, and Leonard Clapham as a corporal in the Northwest Mounted Police is appointed to this duty. He makes his home in an old log cabin between some of the larger settlements, and his sole companion is a southern dorkie, who is very much devoted to him. But in one of the nearer settlements he has learned to love one of the prettiest of the little half-breed maids. The love affair is progressing favorably until her brother is one night playing cards in the home of an Indian, who refers to his sister in an insulting way. To keep her name clear he fights the Indian, and in self-defence shoots him dead. The Northwest Mounted Police come to the scene, and the poor fellow is promoted to a sergeant, is bound to arrest the brother of his sweetheart or break the splendid record of the Northwest Mounted Police for doing their duty under any circumstances. This causes a breach in the love affair, but after a few months and springtime comes again things are forgotten and the sergeant is married. The story is one which holds the audience breathless to the end.

The vaudeville act is a high-class one. The musical soloists sing some good popular songs, play various instruments very cleverly and are exponents of something entirely new in dancing. A Strand comedy, and the Ford weekly complete the program, which will be shown again today and on Saturday.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh of the Ears, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Eucalypti (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Eucalypti used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Advt.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores, so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acid in urine, so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

NewsLONG SHOT PLAYERS HAVE PROSPEROUS
DAY AT CLEVELANDPunch Bowl and Gilbert N.
Among Good Prices
Coming In.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 21.—Santa Claus arrived at Rockport racetrack this afternoon more than two months ahead of schedule, and distributed presents generously among race fans, who visited mutuels in search of long shots.

Split heats, big mutuels prices, summer weather and big fields featured the day's events and afforded excellent entertainment to the largest crowd that has ever visited the oval.

Favorites didn't have a very good day. Louis De Lopez was one of the best. He captured the first division of 2:19 trot by taking first two heats. He trotted a good race despite the fact he was a little lame, and finished fourth in third mile after he had the race sewed up.

The second division of 2:19 trot was "finished" when the setting sun made further racing impossible. Col. Mohel had won the first mile in this event and Fred M. the second. The third heat will be run as first event Friday afternoon. The mutuel fireworks started in the first regular race, when Punch Bowl romped home winner in the 2:18 pace, and made it possible for holders of $5 winning mutuel tickets to cash their pasteboards for $14.60. Place tickets brought $5.80.

Gilbert N. was the sweetest thing of the afternoon, $2 tickets cashing for $42.60. As Homer S. had won the first heat, a fourth mile was necessary. Spleen didn't do so much looking around in this heat, and was able to bring Punch Bowl home winner, of the race by a neck.

T. N. T. was the loud explosion in the 2:20 pace, and Edith Burns brought $50. T. N. T. finished seventh in the first mile and winning tickets on Trent, the winner, paid $3.40.

T. N. T., however, captured the second mile, and $2 mutuel tickets cashed for $65.80. Barney Burns, who had finished ninth in this mile, won third heat. Barney placed in the first heat.

MAJOR OR MINOR NEXT YEAR?

Hugh Duffy, manager of the Toronto Leafs, may be a major league manager next year if he sticks with Toronto and if Toronto makes a berth in a new circuit, loudly prophesied. Just yet Duffy hasn't even made the first "if" are. Until a few days ago Duffy had not communicated with the Leafs' president, and it turned out that he had been suffering from blood-poisoning ever since the team disbanded practically. When he did write, it was to steer clear of the question of next year and point out to the Toronto Prexy that the Leafs were in great shape to get going next spring with the addition of three pitchers and an outfielder.

of Fans.

Before a small crowd of Rugby fans, London C. I. fourteen were beaten by Woodstock Collegiate, 8-7, out at Queen's Park. Dunlop's unconverted touchdown in the fourth quarter, dead-line kick and two goals kicked from try in the first period, was Woodstock's method of scoring.

YANKEES WILL
OF GIANTS' PARK

New York, Oct. 21.—The New York Yankees will continue to play their local baseball games at the Polo Grounds, the home of the New York Giants, at least through the 1922 season. An agreement to this effect by the managements of the two teams was announced today, reversing an earlier announcement that the Giants' management had decided to terminate joint use of the park after 1921.

The Yankees' plans for building a new baseball park here have been temporarily abandoned.

MAJORS IN RACE FOR MINOR LEAGUE FAVOR

Heydler and Eleven Stand
Pats Want Ear of Minors and Ban and Faithful Five
Must Fill Up Three Vacancies
With Minor Clubs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—In the hurried dash for the support of the minors, John A. Heydler and the eleven club owners who follow him seem to have won them over to their idea of new baseball.

At present only two courses are open to Ban Johnson and his "faithful five." They must either join the Heydler faction before November 5, or start on a quest of three new clubs to fill their league.

Without the support of the minors this would be almost hopeless. Three new clubs would require at the very least 45 players, and the five clubs remaining with Johnson in the present controversy are not sufficiently fortified in power and members to divide the minors.

It therefore seems that the odds in a fight to a decision will go up on the team that the minors fall in behind.

Two of the minor league heads have aligned themselves with Heydler in his campaign for a change in baseball's government in messages to the writer. "The majority of the minors favor the Loecker plan with a few reservations. I am strong for Comiskey and clean baseball," J. W. Morris, president of the Texas League, wired today.

"I do not believe the American League should be disorganized or disrupted," wired William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, who is fighting "crooked baseball" in his own league. "But do strongly advocate a get-together policy which will eliminate the differences of the past and produce a plan, whether it be the Loecker of the present agreement changed to remedy whatever ills exist. This is no time for splitting hairs. The future of baseball should be the only consideration."

Minors Meet Nov. 9.

"Concerted action will be taken by the minors when the major league committee presents its plans at our annual meeting in Kansas City, November 9, 10 and 11," said J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association.

The radical stand taken by Heydler and his eleven clubs in giving Johnson and his five an ultimatum with a time limit to "see the light" may have been caused by evidence that the minors were with them.

The National League chief has been assured of support by other minor league heads, including Walter Rose, Florida State League; M. A. Cantillon, South Dakota League; Frank Miley, Western League; J. V. Morrison, Blue Ridge League, and J. C. Leichter, Western Association.

THE JENNINGS NICHE

The Cleveland Plain Dealer says of Jennings' departure from Detroit: "He left, Henry Ford and 'Ee-yah'!"

Detroit's three claims to fame. And now there are but two.

For "Ee-yah!" will resound no more as Detroit's slogan. Hugh Jennings, whose name has long been synonymous with Detroit, passes into the cold outer world.

Jennings possesses one of those individual personalities which make men notable in a world where most of us are prone to do what the crowd does. It was Jennings' way to chew grass, to stand on one leg and holler "Ee-yah!" Nothing remarkable in any of these exercises. But no one else had done them. No one else could do them with the verve and sincerity of Jennings. Were any other manager or coach to holler "Ee-yah!" he would be set down as a weak and futile copyist.

The antics of Jennings were not the substance of his originality, but merely the outward symptoms. Jennings' way of leading was all his own. Never a "scraper" or a "grouch," Jennings possessed all the requisite aggressiveness. Thrice he led Detroit to victory, and many other times he fell but a little short of the goal. He added much to Detroit's fame. Belle Isle and Henry Ford will be lonely without him.

There is much sentiment in baseball, but there is no mitigation of the punishment of a loser. Lately Hugh Jennings has won no championships. And so Hugh Jennings must step aside to let someone else try. There is enough sentiment in baseball to make thousands of non-Detroit fans hope that in some other field of baseball endeavor Hugh Jennings will recover his prestige. For Hugh Jennings is a fine man and a fine leader, and the Americans who like baseball like Hughes.

I. O. D. E. OFFICERS TO SIGN AGREEMENT
WITH NEW TRUSTEESConcerns Immediate Transfer of $20,000—Col. Gart-shore Present.

The principal business dealt with at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., held in Crown Hall, was the reading of the agreement between the I. O. D. E. and the building committee of the Sick Children's Hospital. The result of the meeting was a motion to the effect that the regent, Mrs. E. B. Smith; the treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Campbell; and the secretary, Mrs. Allen McLean, be instructed to sign this contract, which will also in turn be signed by the building committee, Col. William M. Gartshore, Brig.-Gen. H. A. Panet, W. F. D. Jarvis, Charles E. Hunt, C. R. Somerville and Dr. W. J. Tillman. When the signatures have been completed the building committee will at once let the contract, and the foundation of the hospital will be put in before the winter. The agreement immediately concerns the transfer of $20,000 from the bank account of the

I. O. D. E., who are trustees of the hospital fund, to the building committee. The agreement reads as follows:

(1) The said parties of the first part (Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E.) agree to use their utmost endeavors to raise as much money as possible for the erection of said hospital, and as soon as possible.

(2) Said parties of the first part agree to transfer to said parties of the second part (the building committee of six men), or to such party or parties as may be designated and duly authorized in writing by the said parties of the second part, the sum of $20,000, now standing to the credit of the said Municipal Chapter, and such further moneys as may be raised for the said purpose from time to time by the said Municipal Chapter and the primary chapters of said order.

(3) The said parties of the second part agree to act as the building committee, to let contracts and supervise the erection and construction of said hospital, and to act as trustees of all funds placed at their disposal for said purpose.

(4) The said parties of the second part covenant and agree to expend such moneys in the erection of said hospital, and to give full and detailed accounts of all moneys so expended to the said parties of the first part, but the parties of the first part will not be responsible for any sum or sums of money expended in excess of the actual amounts of money collected and handed over to the parties of the second part.

Col. William Gartshore and J. M. Watt, the hospital architect, were present at the meeting, and pointed out the advisability of commencing the hospital building this fall, before enthusiasm in the project would wane.

Mrs. E. H. Johnston made the motion that the contract should be signed and Mrs. Butler seconded it. Other speakers at yesterday's meeting were Rev. Mr. Campbell of Toronto, who spoke in behalf of the Serbian relief, and Miss Wood, also of Toronto, who spoke regarding the I. O. D. E. paper, "Echoes."

Mrs. E. B. Smith announced that a citizen, wishing to make a thank offering, this year had given over $100 to the hospital fund. The Royal Arch Masons' campaign for $5,000, a dollar a companion throughout Western Ontario, was also referred to Mrs. F. J. Greenway, and a letter was read stating that the London chapters would be permitted to make an appeal to the Western Ontario I. O. D. E. chapter on behalf of the hospital at the provincial meeting, to be held shortly in Ottawa.

Miss Jean Arnoldi, the Dominion regent, who is to be in London to open the Mocha Temple Shrine's Circus on November 15, will be entertained by the order at luncheon.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Broncho-Pneumonia.

The name applied to broncho-pneumonia by the older doctors was better than the modern name. They called it capillary bronchitis, meaning that it is essentially an inflammation of the smallest bronchial tubes. And a still older title is halfway descriptive, too—the disease was once known as "suffocative catarrh." Suffocative was right, but we need not apply the meaningless name of "catarrh" to anything unless we are not sure what we are talking about.

Unlike ordinary pneumonia (lobar pneumonia), lung fever, pleuro-pneumonia, which has been discussed in recent issues, broncho-pneumonia is usually secondary to some other illness, and it usually develops gradually or insidiously without the sudden chill of onset commonly noted in the ordinary lung fever. It is likely to occur in the course of or as a sequel to measles, whooping-cough, diphtheria, chickenpox, scarlet fever, influenza, or acute enteritis (protracted diarrhea) in infants. Notwithstanding the fears of parents, seldom follows ordinary bronchitis in children, and this fact perhaps accounts for the great faith some parents place in various remedies applied in bronchitis to ward off or prevent pneumonia.

I do not mean to say that external and internal remedies are without value in bronchitis or in broncho-pneumonia. Much may be done to increase the patient's comfort or diminish discomfort. But it is the great mistake to imagine that any known internal or external remedy will prevent pneumonia, or break it up. It is the veriest chicanery for any healer to pretend that he can abort or break up pneumonia. All such assertions are founded on nothing more substantial than a happy agreement between Old Doctor Nature and Trained Nurse Coincidence.

Whenever a child with measles, whooping-cough, chickenpox, or other disease shows a noticeable increase of fever, increased coughing, more rapid pulse and more rapid breathing than usual, parents should immediately summon the physician to determine whether broncho-pneumonia is developing. Here someone rises to ask why call the doctor to settle the question—break up the pneumonia? Good medical treatment aims to help the patient weather the illness, and when I say medical treatment I do not necessarily mean plying the patient with medicines, for that is but minor feature of skilful treatment, though often a vitally important feature.

In ordinary pneumonia the danger is failure of the heart and the nervous system from the poison of the pneumonia germs. In broncho-pneumonia this poisoning feature is usually secondary and is usually indicated by an increasing drowsiness or lividity, mental stupor or drooping of the head, cessation of the previously frequent coughing.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MACDONALD COLLEGE.

"Mother, what's a dinner wagon?" said my little 10-year-old girl one day. She had heard the name, and thought it was a traveling wagon from which you could buy your dinner ready-made. When I explained to her that it was really a tray on four wheels which could carry a cooked dinner from kitchen to dining-room without the usual many trips, she suggested that a discarded baby carriage should be robbed of its wheels to help us make a dinner wagon.

We called into council the man of the house, and after getting a picture from an advertisement, with much planning and discussion we decided to use the two smaller wheels of the carriage and two large-sized rubber-tired casters. When finally it was finished and put into service we determined to get all the value we could from the effort we had put into it. As I had no servant, the dinner wagon piled three times a day between kitchen and dining-room. All the dishes needed to set the table were put on it at once. If I had to make more than one trip, we would say, "We must plan that better next time."

When the meal was ready the wagon waited by the kitchen range, and as only one trip was necessary, we were able to announce dinner wheel in the wagon when the family was ready to sit down, and serve a steaming-hot meal.

When the plates were to be changed they were placed on the wagon, which then made the return trip, bringing the tea, the dessert, and the necessary dishes.

No single piece of furniture in the house has given us such satisfaction, has had such good results in causing us to plan details, and in training the little daughter who suggested it, as has the dinner wagon.

Ninety Tess.
Dear Miss Grey.—Allow another new

Like the multitude, I am asking for the S. P. P., for which find inclosed my mite.

As there are just 90 tess to be covered here you can see how we need it.

To take the color out of flour sacks—When putting the sack to soak rub the color well with good laundry soap and let stand for about ten minutes, then by rubbing well between the hand and adding a little more soap the color all comes out, and it can be washed with the other clothes. This is by far the best method I have tried, and as I bake 100 pounds of flour every three weeks I have a few to do.

When making applesauce always cook the apples rapidly and you will find it much easier to mash.

Have found many useful hints in your corner.

TALLMAN SWEET.
Ana.—The stocking-foot pattern has been mailed to you. I am sure it will be very useful with all those toes that are kept covered. Thank you for the recipe and the useful hints.

Attention, Tiger Lily!
Dear Miss Grey and All.—May I come again for a chat? I enjoy all the letters so much and I am sure I will find my Mail-Box in it then it loses all its charm. Well, I am again living among the spruce and pine, and it is just lovely. I have a fine fall weather. Mrs. Hopeful, did you get parcel I sent you?

Ana.—The Mail-Box in the Mail-Box where you said you had garden huckleberries. Would you mind sending me a few? I would be so glad to get some and would return favor any way I could. My address is with Miss Grey.

Are there any seeds in the Mail-Box yet? If so, I would like some—any kind you have on hand. I will enclose a wee bit now and will try and do better next time. I cannot think of anything useful to tell, so will say good-bye and best wishes to all the Mail-Boxers. PINE LIMB.

Ans.—Yes, there are still plenty of seeds, so have forwarded them to you. Thanks for your mite.

Attention, Teasing Sis.
Dear Miss Grey.—Have intended writing you, for I don't know long, but have neglected it. I was wondering if Teasing Sis would mind sending me

"When Huldry Specter Her Beau," or if she has any other good recitations. If you, Miss Grey, have any in the Mail-Box please forward them to me. Probably some of the boxites would give me some, as Christmas will soon be here, and we must all know our pieces.

Yes! I have made some Christmas presents. I crocheted a blue yoke and a Dresden ribbon bag with a crocheted top. I just love fancy work. And if going to learn to skate? Am in hopes anyone is caring to have new patterns some person may send me some recitations, or even dialogues. It doesn't matter if they are long, because I will like them all the better.

Hoping you, Miss Grey, boxites and all will enjoy your Thanksgiving holidays. CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S WIFE.

Ans.—Your request is referred to the boxites.

YOUNG Mothers in the midst of bringing up a family of small children should consider it a duty to investigate the action of the various remedies for constipation. This is the ailment most common among children, and it often leads to serious diseases. It is important for the mother to know the right remedy to give, for they differ widely in action.

Children do not take kindly to drastic drugs, salt waters, calomel, physics, castor oil, cathartics, mercurials and such things, and they find difficulty in swallowing these harsh medicines even when disguised in sugar-coated tablets or pills. It is not only that the child doesn't like the taste, but these drugs are so violent that they wrench the little system. They should not be given to children.

Thousands of wise mothers, after having tried many things, give only a combination of simple herbs with pepsin, known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

The formula is on the package. It is a mild, gentle remedy, free from all narcotics, that relieves constipation and its symptoms, such as headache, biliousness, colds, fever, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, and it does it without griping or weakening. A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for sixty cents and is enough to last an average family many months.

Last year over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were sold in drug stores, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and as the preparation has been on the market over thirty years the second generation of mothers are now giving it to their babies. No careful mother can afford to be without a bottle for a mild, safe constipation remedy like this may be needed by someone in the family any minute. Every bottle is guaranteed to do exactly what is claimed for the ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels or your money will be refunded.

TRY IT FREE!

There are heads of families who will want to prove to their own satisfaction that my Laxative Syrup Pepsin is as effective in constipation, as mild and gentle in action, as pleasant-tasting and safe, as I claim. Let such write me for a free sample. It will be sent postpaid. Simply say "Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 19 Front Street, Bridgeburg, Ont." MEDICINE HAT GIVES LIBERAL LEADER OVATION

Mackenzie King Guest of Honor At Civic Luncheon.

MEDICINE HAT, Oct. 21.—The reception of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and his party today was in line with that accorded throughout their trip through the West. Mr. King's trip was a success, and the Liberal leader emerged to be met by a number of prominent local Liberals who had given him opportunity to have breakfast before they had him and his lieutenants in cars bound for a tour of the city and vicinity.

The trip ended at the hotel, where over a hundred prominent citizens sat down to luncheon at which Mr. King and his lieutenants were the guests of honor. Among prominent guests at the top table, in addition to Mr. King and W. C. Kennedy, M.P., were the Hon. J. R. Boyle, attorney general of Alberta, and Capt. Pringle, speaker of the Alberta Legislature.

Following the luncheon, the leader of the Liberal party was conveyed to a reception tendered by the ladies of the city. In the evening the big new theatre was packed to the doors, but owing to the fact that Mr. King had lost the assistance of Mr. Ernest Laflamme, and Mr. Duff M.P., who was confined to his bed with a cold, the overflow meeting which was planned for the evening was Mr. King, W. C. Kennedy, M.P., for North Essex.

References to the peculiar problems of Southern Alberta, notably the matter of irrigation, evoked a responsive echo from the large audience. Mr. King expressed the opinion that the federal and the provincial authorities must co-operate in a constructive way to settle the problem of the farmers, who had been allowed to settle and build homes in the wide belt of territory in which year after year there had been serious droughts. He stated that it was not sufficient for the federal government to seek to throw the onus of the solution of a national problem wholly on the provincial authorities.

M'NEAL VISITOR AT GIRL'S HOME, FATHER ADMITS

Boucock Swears Prisoner Had Been Entertained At His House.

LAST SEEN WITH MAN

Witness Tells of Seeing Child Pass His Residence, Going Toward Canal.

WELLAND, Ont., Oct. 21.—A feature of the trial of David McNeal on a charge of murdering Margaret Boucock, a four-year-old child of Thorold, Ont., which opened at the assizes here today, was the questioning of the murdered girl's father, Reuben Boucock, by the prisoner's counsel, as to whether he knew the boy before the body of his child was found, where it was hidden, and Reuben Boucock's emphatic denial of any previous knowledge. The child disappeared on July 13, and her dead body was found three weeks later hidden in brush wood near the new Welland canal excavation at Thorold.

Reuben Boucock, in the witness box today, admitted that McNeal had been an unwelcome visitor to his house. He said he objected to the boy because the latter was given to casting aspersions on his conversation and boasting about his knowledge of the law. He asserted that McNeal never was in France, though he had claimed to be a returned soldier.

Drove Truck Nightly.
Boucock testified as to his movements on the thirteenth of July last, the date of his daughter's disappearance. He said he drove a truck nightly to Toronto, and brought back ice cream for distribution among dealers in Thorold and St. Catharines. He was in an ice cream factory when he learned of the disappearance of his child. He had had no trouble with his wife that day, he said. He searched for her and then returned home, passing within a hundred yards of the body of the child, which was found on August 4. He went in search of McNeal, Boucock testified, and located him at Port Dalhousie, Ont., on the night of July 14.

Boucock, proceeding with his evidence, said he questioned McNeal as to his (McNeal's) movements on the previous day, the day of little Margaret's disappearance. McNeal told him, the witness said, that he had been in Toronto street, about 2 o'clock, and had walked along Albert street. When he was near the public library he noticed Margaret. She ran across the street to him and took hold of his hand, saying as she did so, "I like ice cream." He offered her some, which she refused. Thereupon he gave her a nickel. They proceeded along Albert street, and he heard the English church corner. Margaret was following him from there, but he told her to go home.

Entertained McNeal.
Questioned by G. F. Peterson, counsel for the prisoner, as to Boucock's relationship with McNeal, and as to whether he had entertained McNeal at his home, the witness replied: "My wife has; I have not."

Two 10-year-old boys, Arthur Noble and Gordon Porter, testified to having seen Margaret Boucock walking hand-in-hand with a man on the afternoon of her disappearance. They were going toward the canal, the boys said. Noble did not know the man, but Porter said he knew it was McNeal. Porter, under cross-examination, admitted that he had stated at the coroner's inquest and at the preliminary hearing before a magistrate that he did not know the man who was with the child.

Was With Man.
A witness named Fitzgerald, whose residence is in the last house at the canal end of Mill street, told of having seen Margaret Boucock and a man passing his house between 2 and 3 o'clock on the afternoon of July 13.

Dr. Publow, who had made a post-mortem examination of the body of Margaret Boucock, testified that her death was due to strangulation. He was closely cross-examined by counsel for the prisoner, and admitted that he could not state positively that the child did not die from natural causes.

"Then your evidence regarding strangulation is only theory?" Mr. Peterson asked.

"Yes, it has to be partially theory," was the doctor's reply.

They Dehmar and Alfred Jones told the court of their having found the little girl's body, while searching for a water valve, and the body was covered with weeds and grass, they said.

The trial was adjourned at this juncture, and will be resumed tomorrow morning. It is probable that it will be concluded by tomorrow evening.

Eight Hon. Bonar Law epitomized the cabinet's attitude in declaring that he did not intend that the soldiers and police should have any doubt as to their being supported. Commentators generally admit that the rejection of the motion for an inquiry by 346 votes to 79 was a foregone conclusion.

TOBACCO GROWERS OF KENT ARE AFTER ENGLISH MARKET

Enthusiastic Meeting Held At Chatham To Discuss Drying Problems.

CHATHAM, Oct. 21.—The need for special co-operation between the tobacco growers and the buyers was the main subject of discussion at an enthusiastic meeting of tobacco growers held in the office of the Kent County Agricultural representatives this evening.

The advisability of erecting a tobacco dryer in the county of Kent and near this city came in for a good deal of criticism from the growers present, who were of the opinion that this dryer should have been erected some years ago.

The English market today is importing a large quantity of fine-cured tobacco from the United States, and the growers felt that the time has now come when the tobacco grown in Canada should be the choice of the English buyers, and not tobacco as is at present grown in the state of Virginia.

It was believed by a number of the growers that for the past few years there has been an over-production of the White Blenheim variety. The market for fine-cured tobacco is one of the best that this part of Ontario can supply, and it was generally conceded by the growers that the growing of the latter variety of tobacco will be one of the undertakings they can possibly carry out.

The growers were still in session at a late hour tonight, and it is safe to say that they are confident of erecting sufficient dryers in this locality to enable them to compete with markets on the other side of the line, and thus "get a finger in the pie" of the English buyers.

ELECTION LIKELY TO FOLLOW WET VOTE ON COAST

Oliver Will Probably Seek Mandate From People, Says Report.

TO OUTLINE SCOPE

Government May Then Secure Electors' Opinion On Details of Bill.

RECORD VOTE.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 21.—(By Canadian Press).—Approximate totals show that 125,189 votes were polled in British Columbia yesterday—easily a record. The latest returns show 75,864 for prohibition and 49,225 for prohibition, giving a net moderation majority of 26,735.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 21.—The extent of the victory for government control was a surprise not merely to the prohibitionists, but to many of the moderationists.

On Vancouver Island and throughout the interior, all the way from the Buckley Valley south to the boundary line, voters expressed their overwhelming desire for government control.

Although government sale of liquor has carried by a great majority, the British Columbia prohibition act with its eight-ounce amendment must be passed by the legislature before the law for the province until the legislature meets and enacts a new law.

The present law cannot be repealed, nor a new one enacted, without calling the legislature together. A cabinet meeting, it is known, has been called by Premier Oliver to take place at Victoria on Saturday, at which presumably the referendum result will be discussed and a decision made as to the government's policy in bringing in new legislation.

It is said to be altogether likely that the government will outline the scope of a liquor control bill and seek immediate dissolution, going to the people for a mandate (among other things) on the details of the proposed measure.

VOTED FOR LIQUOR TO KEEP WORKERS DOWN, CLAIM "DRYS"

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—Interviewed today, Rev. Ben Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, said that the "dry" fight will go on, "said Mr. Spence, "no single division of any army is capable of winning a big battle. We have lost this engagement, but we are going to win the war."

The beverage sale of intoxicating liquor is an evil, whether under government control or conducted by private interests. Government control should apply to things necessary and helpful. No government should facilitate the dispensing of that which is hurtful, and intoxicating liquor is.

Rev. Ernest Thomas, a field secretary of the department of evangelism and social service of the Methodist Church, who returned on Tuesday from the Western Provinces, where he helped the men down, said that peculiar conditions prevailed in British Columbia.

They claimed that, with the cutting off of liquor, workmen were buying books instead, and so, improving themselves that a certain class of employers declared that they were altogether too independent, and the employers, he said, are using the liquor issue to keep the men down. The present law is similar to the Ontario temperance act, and was supported by the prohibitionists.

FAMOUS ALLEN SINKHOLE FILLED AFTER TWO YEARS LABOR AND EXPENDITURE

Danger Spot on Toronto-Sydenham Highway is Eliminated.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 21.—The famous Allen sinkhole on the Toronto and Owen Sound road, near Markdale, has at last been filled, and the finishing touches are being made this week. Filling this seemingly bottomless pit has cost the county of Grey several thousands of dollars, and has taken two years to fill. For a long time it was the despair of the county council, because several times, when it seemed to have been filled, the materials put in it started to sink, and again more was required to fill it up. When the roadway was put in condition, which should be very soon, this stretch of road will be one of the best in the district. The Toronto-Sydenham road is a provincial highway, the hills on either side of the sinkhole have been cut down considerably, and instead of the long detour around the sinkhole formerly, a good straight road now leads over it.

BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

contains no alum or egg albumen and is guaranteed to be composed of the ingredients printed on the label—and none other.

HERE has been considerable anxiety regarding the new prices of the Chevrolet. We have just been advised by the Chevrolet Motor Company of Oshawa, that there will be no change in the price for the nineteen-twenty-one season. With this assurance, and in the event of any unexpected reduction in cost of labor and material affecting the cost of and justifying a lowering of list prices prior to May 1st, 1921, we will refund to the purchaser of any model so affected the amount of reduction on any car sold between now and that period.

We wish to thank our many friends for their efforts in this past season.

Our car sales have been remarkably good, and we do not attribute this alone to our own efforts, but to efforts of our satisfied customers, who have recommended their car to all their friends who were considering the purchase of a car. We beg to announce that we have entirely re-organized our repair department. It is now in charge of H. B. FEELS THAT SHE'S DOING GOOD DEED

Toronto Woman Wants Others to Know What a Blessing Tanlac Has Been to Her.

"I am delighted with the results I have received from Tanlac, for I am once more enjoying life and health," said Mrs. Nell McNeill of 65 Crawford street, Toronto, Ont.

"I have been almost a constant sufferer for more than a year from stomach trouble and nervousness. I couldn't eat much of anything, for my digestive organs were so badly upset I was in distress after every meal. It was hard for me to retain anything on my stomach, and I felt nauseated most of the time. Sickening headaches often came on me, and I had to give right up and go to bed. My nerves were unstrung and at night I was always restless, and many times wasn't able to get to sleep until early morning. My strength and energy seemed to leave me, and most of the time I was too weak to do my housework. I did everything possible to get relief and even spent some time in the hospital, but nothing seemed to help me.

"It was my husband who suggested that I try Tanlac, and I began to improve steadily right from the start. The nervousness and indigestion started leaving me, and I commenced to eat things I hadn't been able to touch. Today I call myself perfectly well, and I can do my housework all by myself. I eat just whatever I please and never suffer one bit afterwards. Those sickening headaches have disappeared and my nerves are so steady and quiet I sleep soundly all night long. I've told lots of people about Tanlac, and I always feel I am doing a good deed every time I do it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD MOTHER TO FACE TRIAL FOR MURDER

Mrs. Lena Cassak Shot Man After He Knocked Her Down.

WINDSOR, Oct. 21.—Sustaining objections from the Crown attorney, Magistrate Miles at the Ontario court refused to grant bail to Mrs. Lena Cassak, a Rumanian resident of Ford City, and declined to reduce the charge against her from murder to manslaughter. Instead, she committed her for trial at the fall assizes, which open at Sandwich on November 1.

Barrister Wilson, appearing on behalf of the defendant, made a strong appeal for bail on the ground that Mrs. Cassak is about to become the mother of another child. She is only eighteen years of age, and has been separated from her three-year-old daughter since the shooting affray at her home on September 20, when she fired the shot that caused the death of Andre Wilan. Evidence submitted at the hearing before Magistrate Miles showed that the brawl had commenced when neighbors, who had visited the Cassaks home and demanded payment for a keg of beer, alleged to have been stolen from them. When the invaders produced brass knuckles and commenced to use them with effectiveness, Mrs. Cassak interfered, was thrown to the ground by Wilan and was kicked by him. It was while she was on the ground that the revolver in the hands of the woman went off, and a bullet struck Wilan.

MEIGHEN GOVT. REFUSES TO AID SALE OF WHEAT

Foster Statement Denies Growers' Request For Control of Crop.

MUST SELL IN OPEN

Considers Trade Commission Denial of Blame For Sugar Losses.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—(By the Canadian Press).—The Government is carefully watching the various purchasing systems employed and marketing conditions generally in this and other countries, and is ready to take steps to insure the fair marketing of Canadian wheat should a situation such as last year's develop again.

In these words Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, in a statement issued this afternoon, sums up the attitude of the Government towards plans for resumption of government control on the marketing of wheat. This means that Canadian wheat growers will have to sell in the open market.

Demand Was Made. In this statement, Sir George says: "Demand has been made by the United Farmers of Alberta and the Dominion Council of Agriculture and various associations of grain growers for the re-establishment of control of the Canadian wheat market through a board similar to that which functioned last year. The demand is made because of the drop in current wheat prices and the thought that a wheat board could assure a higher price."

"The law of supply and demand has everything to do with the basic determination of the world price for wheat. Circumstances of transport by sea, or land, financial and exchange conditions and methods of buying may temporarily affect and vary the price, but the determining factor is the relation of the supply to the demand. The price will vary from time to time by greater or lesser pressure to buy arising from the supply temporarily on hand or readily available."

Methods of Selling. "The condition that the fact that prices this year are less than those of last year is due only to different methods of selling will not bear analysis. If the board were to be re-established as last year a Canadian embargo on both the export and import of wheat would presumably have to follow."

With the United States market open and the Canadian market under control the tendency would be to free purchasing in the American market by other countries and the consequent stopping back of the Canadian wheat movement."

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR SUGAR PURCHASE, STATES COMMISSION

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—Clearing up accumulations of business prior to the departure of the prime minister on his western tour, the cabinet council again had a meeting this morning. Wheat and the situation of the sugar refiners are the questions most at issue.

In respect to sugar the Government has not yet taken any action beyond that of maintaining suspension of the order issued by the board of commerce. It is, however, regarded as probable that the refiners will agree to visit Ottawa to present their case. Their proposals of a large loan or of a readjustment of the customs duties on raw sugar are understood to be meeting with considerable opposition, and there is doubt in official circles if the Government will be in a position to lend the refiners any material assistance.

The fact that the Canadian Trade Commission denies responsibility for the refiners' acquisition of large stocks of high-priced raw sugar has brought a new element into the discussion so far as the effect of control is concerned.

SUGAR BEET GROWERS WANT $1 A TON MORE

Proposals Presented To Sugar Refiners At Conference Held Yesterday.

CHATHAM, Oct. 21.—Representatives of the Ontario Beet Growers' Association, in conference with the directors of the Dominion Sugar Company regarding the price of sugar beets, Beets not delivered at the factory, for next year, asked the following prices:

$10 per ton, when sugar is selling at $8 per cwt., and an increase of $1.50 per ton for every dollar increase per cwt. in the price of sugar. This means that if sugar is selling at $8 per cwt., beets will be $10 per ton; if sugar is selling at $9 per cwt., beets will be $11.50 per ton.

For beets delivered at the factory $10 per ton is asked for 12 per cent beets, with an increase of 60 cents for every 1 per cent increase in sugar content, or, in other words, beets testing 12 per cent $10 per ton and those testing 13 per cent $10.60 per ton.

The minimum price this year is $9 per ton, with $1 increase for the same increase in the price of sugar. At the factory $9 per ton for 14 per cent beets and $1 additional for increase of each 1 per cent.

The growers maintain that the high cost of land and labor and the risk involved make the proposed price necessary. The company will consider the proposal.

A City of 40,000 People!

If all our telephone buildings were brought together in one place, and to them were added the homes of all our employees, the result would be a city of 40,000 or 50,000 people.

As a matter of fact, the employees of the Company, with their families and dependents, number considerably over 40,000.

This large body of workers can reasonably claim to be among the more active, progressive and necessary elements in the life of the community. If, every time you used the telephone, you could see all those who make it possible for you to talk over the wire, you would realize how earnest and painstaking telephone workers are.

They have keen personal interest in keeping the quality of the telephone service up to the highest possible standard.

You, as a telephone subscriber, rarely come directly into contact with the telephone employees. They serve you in an intimate though unseen way, and the product of their labor is very necessary to your welfare.

Through the medium of this advertisement, they ask you to co-operate with them in their efforts to keep the service up to the standard they are always striving to maintain.

BECK MAY SEEK NEW MANDATE ON RADIAL PROPOSAL

A Toronto Dispatch Says
Estimates Vary So Greatly
From Former Ones That Commission Head May Resubmit Whole Scheme To Voters.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—A special dispatch to the Montreal Star from Toronto today says:
"An extraordinary situation is developing here in connection with the Sutherland radial railway scheme of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Power Commission. The nature of the evidence, already extending over eight sittings of the commission, given by Chief Engineer Gaby of the hydro, lends credence to a story that Sir Adam Beck is considering the advisability of seeking new authority from the municipalities now being submitted to the Sutherland Commission.
These estimates contain remarkable variations, not only from the figures on which municipalities voted, but also from the data given the Government as recently as last June, when request was made for a provincial guarantee of radial securities for $51,570,221.
"Controller J. J. Hamilton has written Sir Adam Beck, suggesting an early resubmission of the Toronto-to-St. Catharines scheme to popular vote, and this position is endorsed by the Rail and Empire. Mr. Gaby has told the commission that the Toronto-to-London line, voted on four years ago, is not being considered, and will have to go back to the municipalities, largely because some municipalities rejected the bylaws for their share of the cost."

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Testifying before the Sutherland radial commission today, Chief Engineer Gaby dealt with figures in the reports on the Toronto suburban now running to Woodbridge and Guelph.

Under hydro control he expected passenger revenue to jump from $445,000 in 1920 to $553,751 in 1921, and freight revenue from $37,206 in 1919 to $40,000 in 1921. This would result from better service and the fact that the line would be brought into a central Toronto terminal, and $257,500 would be spent on betterment. The line is 64 miles long, and is at present operated by the Canadian National Railway, and is to be purchased for $2,628,000, the amount of the road's bonded indebtedness.

Although a report of expenses and revenues of the road for the year 1918 showed net earnings of $53,200, Mr. Gaby said there really was a deficit in that year of $65,100, no account having been taken of fixed charges, amounting at 4 1/2 per cent on the bonded indebtedness to $118,300 per annum. The Niagara Line was to be taken over on assuming $1,098,000 of bonds, payment of $2,416,374, and the hydro commission proposed to spend in betterment $219,450, bringing the total cost to $4,363,820. The interest on this sum would be $214,154.

ARE SINKING SHAFT IN SEARCH FOR COAL

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 21.—Despite unfavorable reports as to the quantity and quality of the coal to be found, workers are still busy sinking the eight-foot shaft on the Lyon's farm at Shelburne, in search of the black diamonds. They are now down 25 feet and expect to reach the rock at an early date.

Two shifts of men are working day and night at the excavation work, and fast progress is being made. A large gang of workmen compose each shift, and at the present rate of progress the rock, which is 25 feet below where the present level of excavation, will be reached within a week or two. Digging began on Monday. The diamond core drill is expected any time, and as soon as this arrives the work will be facilitated and hastened on a great deal. A windlass and bucket serve at present as a means of bringing up the excavated material from the bottom of the shaft.

LARGE STOCKS OF AMERICAN SUGAR IN DETROIT FOR CANADA

Windsor Retailers Expect To Sell Sugar At 17c a Pound.

WINDSOR, Oct. 21.—Coincident with the removal of the ban on the importation of sugar and the lifting of the price-fixing order of the Dominion Board of Commerce, sugar prices on the border today took a steep drop. The effect in retail circles is not expected until Friday. Border dealers say the price will drop to at least 17 cents. The effect will be felt here immediately, owing to the immense quantities of sugar stored in Detroit that will be rushed across the border into Windsor and Western Ontario.

MONASTERY SELLS FAMOUS PAINTING

St. Veronica, Work of Theotocopi, in Hands of Dealer.

TOLEDO, Spain, Oct. 21.—An investigation conducted by the civil governor regarding the reported sale of the painting of St. Veronica, the work of Theotocopi, by the clerical authorities of Santo Domingo Monastery, confirms that the picture was disposed of with the consent of the Government and the religious authorities August 19.

DETROIT MAN MUST STAND TRIAL ON A MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

WINDSOR, Oct. 21.—Cecil Welch, Detroit automobile, arrested Sunday night when the police ordered all automobiles stopped from leaving Canada for Detroit on the ferries in an effort to capture the man responsible for the accident that caused the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, was today committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter at the fall assizes, convening at Sandwich Nov. 10.

Welch was caught in an attempt to slip across the border shortly after the accident which occurred on Riverside Drive. He was arrested when he failed to give a satisfactory explanation as to the damaged condition of his car, plainly evident, and obviously the outcome of an automobile crash. Five other persons sustained serious injuries when Welch ran amuck.

Brown, the father of eight children, three of whom are clergymen, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Sheppard, 2611 South boulevard, Port Huron, at the age of 88 years. Mr. Brown had resided with his daughter several months, and his death followed a lingering illness.

ASKS BRITISH GOVT. TO SECURE RELEASE OF JAMES LARKIN

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Col. Maloney demanded in the House of Commons today whether the Government was aware that James Larkin, former head of the British Transport Workers' Union, serving a three-year term for anarchy, had developed tuberculosis in Dannemora Prison, owing to the nature of the work on which he was employed, and is in a critical condition. He asked whether the Government had made representations to the United States with a view of releasing Larkin for treatment.

Cecil Harroworth, under-secretary for foreign affairs, replied he was aware that Larkin had been sentenced on the charge of advocating the overthrow of the Government of the United States, but had no information regarding his condition. The matter was not one he added, on which Great Britain could make representations.

SAYS LARKIN NOT ILL.
DANNEMORA, N.Y., Oct. 21.—James Larkin, former head of the British Transport Workers' Union, and who is now serving a term in Clinton Prison here for criminal anarchy, is not ill with tuberculosis and is not even confined to the hospital, it was stated by a prison official here tonight, in the absence of the warden and prison physician.

"Larkin is the picture of health. He is a more rugged specimen of manhood than the man you are talking with," said the prison official.

Do you know there are only two methods of Knitting Underwear?

1. One is the method used in the manufacturing of "CEETEE"—knitted on full fashioning machines, which "knit-to-fit"—used only by Turnbull's, and by no other underwear manufacturer in Canada.

THIS IS THE NAME
"CEETEE"
THE PURE WOOL UNDERCLOTHING THAT WILL NOT SHRINK
"The Woollen Underwear without the itch"

2. The other method is that of knitting on circular knitting machines, such as are used by every other manufacturer of knitted underwear in Canada—also by Turnbull's, for their other lines.

Good appearance, wonderful softness, ease and comfort in fit, with quality always first, the best yarns, the most modern process of manufacture—are embodied in all Turnbull's Underwear.

There are two things to remember, when buying underwear—
1—Buy "CEETEE" if you possibly can.
2—If you cannot buy "CEETEE" buy, TURNBULL'S.

For over sixty years Turnbull's have specialized in the making of high grade knitted underwear in Canada.

How the League Issue Is Splitting the Parties

The desertion of the Harding camp by a former Republican National committeeman and a number of other prominent pro-league Republicans after Senator Harding's uncompromising rejection of the league of nations in its present form in his Des Moines speech, convinces many observers that the league has taken its place at the eleventh hour as a clear-cut issue of the presidential campaign. But if the league issue is now rending the Republican ranks, it is also a matter of common newspaper remark that earlier in the campaign it won over to the Harding banner many Irish-American and German-American voters who supported Wilson in 1916. And it will be remembered that it was on this issue that the Hearst papers abandoned their traditional Democratic allegiance.

In the Democratic camp, Senator Harding's Des Moines speech was greeted with every appearance of rejoicing. The New York Times (Dem.) declares that "the election of Cox means a league of nations acceptable to President Wilson, and Republican success apparently precludes American participation in the league," but, affirms the Baltimore American (Rep.), all that Senator Harding has done in this matter has been to "turn his back upon the Wilson league and turn his face toward the Constitution and toward the Senate," and the New York Globe (Rep.) is "convinced that Senator Harding will be compelled to move for the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles."

A most interesting and instructive analysis and digest of public opinion on the league of nations issue will be found in the leading article of THE LITERARY DIGEST for October 23. Other striking news-features in this number are:

HALLAM BROTHERS CLEARED OF CHARGES

Chairman of License Commission
Announced All Suspicion Removed.

WINDSOR, Oct. 21.—Announcement was made today by J. W. Flavell, chairman of the Ontario License Commission, that the charges preferred against the Hallam brothers, special liquor officers stationed on the border to assist Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin in tracking down rum runners, had been dismissed as without foundation.

The fighting parson himself implicated in sixteen affidavits filed with the Toronto commission some few days ago was pronounced a free man earlier in the week. The Hallam brothers were not notified until today that the cloud of suspicion had been removed from them.

Chairman Flavell intimated that personal motives on the part of men convicted under the liquor laws was probably responsible for the bribery charges lodged with his department some few days ago.

TRIP TO WISCONSIN PROVES FRUITLESS IN A. J. SMALL MYSTERY

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—After four days of fruitless investigation in Wisconsin, Detective Sergeant Austin Mitchell, who is handling the Small-Doughty disappearance case, returned here this morning. Detective Mitchell was following up clues contained in letters from a man known as C. E. M. Churchill, at present serving a term in Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun, who claimed he knew something of the whereabouts of the missing man.

As a result of his observations, Detective Mitchell pronounced the man insane on the matter. Like others who have written about the case, his belief arises from an unbalanced state of mind.

BANDITS LOSE IN GUN BATTLE; ONE IS KILLED

Spectacular Fight in Streets of Ohio Town—Three Are Wounded.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 21.—George "Jiggs" Loster, said to be under indictment in many states on charges of murder and robbery, is under arrest at a local hospital, shot through the neck, as a result of a street battle at Bedford, ten miles from here, late today, which resulted in the death of one bandit, the serious wounding and capture of two others, and the probable fatal shooting of a bank clerk. More than 200 shots were fired.

The battle was the culmination of one of the most spectacular bank robberies ever staged in this state, during which eight bandits held up the Bedford branch of the Cleveland Trust Company.

The dead man was identified by Burlington experts as Albert Joyce, alias Johnson.

Victim of Shotgun. William Petric, a bank clerk, was the victim of a shotgun in the hands of a bandit who had answered the burglar alarm, and mistook him for one of the bandits as he emerged from the bank. Physicians say he is dying.

The robbery occurred just as the bank was closing. Six of the gang entered with drawn revolvers and commanded the five employees and three customers to the rear of the building. Their faces and the customers were placed under guard in a room. Seized all the money in sight, said to amount to $50,000, the bandits rushed into the street. Almost simultaneously George C. Flickinger, manager of the branch, touched the burglar alarm, which sounded in every downtown business house of Bedford.

Fatally Shot Joyce. E. W. Porter, a tire dealer, one of those attracted, fatally shot Joyce, who was at the wheel of a waiting automobile.

Unable to start the engine, the other bandits fled, leaving the money intact in the machine. During the ensuing battle, Loster, Harry Stone and an unidentified man were wounded. E. W. Osborne, proprietor of a grocery, bringing down two of them.

OLD LANDMARK OF PIONEER DAYS TORN DOWN AT CLANDEBOYE

Shop Where Early Settlers
Had Their Furniture Made Disappears.

Clandeboye, Oct. 21.—The tearing down of the old cabinet shop of the late Francis Jones removes from the village a very interesting relic of the days of the earliest settlers in this part of Middlesex County. The old frame building, dating from the good old days of the log schoolhouse, when the teachers "boarded round," and all the grain of this section was hauled past it on the long journey along the London-Goderich road to London market. Many a settler's bride got her first chairs, tables, bureaus and bedsteads made at this shop, and many a farmhouse in the neighborhood still has some chairs, and perhaps a solid walnut table, bureau, glass-topped cupboard or writing desk of Mr. Jones, particularly artistic and conscientious workmanship.

In the old shop, too, were made nearly all the coffins required in those strenuous days when this part of the county was in the making.

WILD DEER RANGE IN OSPREY TOWNSHIP

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 21.—Several fine specimens of wild deer have been seen recently in Osprey Township, Grey County. Some of the animals were seen a few days ago quietly feeding in Sam Dale's fields and crossing the Dundalk and Shrigley road toward the dense swamps of Osprey. The sight is an unusual one in Grey County, and the residents are anxious that the authorities shall take steps to protect the animals from hunters.

FACING CHARGE OF INDECENT CONDUCT

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 21.—Percy C. Wilson, president of the St. Catharines Municipal Voters' Association, and a well-known property owner, was placed under arrest at noon today on a charge of indecent conduct, on the sworn testimony of five youths, whom he had charged with breaking into his house and taking it.

The young men, Clayton and Alvin Cornish, James Shannon, Alvin Woods and William Hodgkins, declare that they were entertained by Wilson, and three of them stated that it was not their first visit at his house.

Magistrate Campbell committed the youths for trial on the robbery charge. The case has not yet been accepted for Wilson early this afternoon.
