The Idols of India. Dr. Butler came, he said, from a land where the sun shone brilliantly and constantly, where everthing was fair and perfect to the eve : but amidst all the cultivated loveliness he did not remember a single flower, except the rose, that emitted any fragrance, and though the birds were gorgeously appareled, there was not one that sang. It was a sad thought, but might also be applied to the people. He had never heard dark and dreadful idolatry had taken the joy from heart, and sunk her to the level of the brute. He was once on a journey from Benares to Calcutta, and went to see a "dhurbar," or court, held by Sir John Lawrence. A native prince, during rebellion, had given shelter to a number of Europeans who had escaped from the Sepoy murderers; and Sir John had been to invest the Rejah with the order of the "Star of India." Sleep.

For the real cause of sleep, learned physicians and wise philosophers have been unable to account. When night, with its silence and darkness, comes on, the wearied mind and muscles voluntarily exclude the operation of the sensesthe fibres of the brain collapse to throw off a superabundance of blood, and we sink into repose, more or less refreshing, depending on other influences to which we are subjected to

The senses locked in healthful slumber, the mind bears nothing, sees nothing, and the brain and whole system is refreshed thereby. The mind and the muscles are at rest; but the heart continues to propel the blood through the system -digestion, insensible perspiration, and respiration continue, and the senses awaken to renewed invigoration and activity. But do all experience this vigor from sleep? No; for refreshing sleep depends upon many influences.

Their distance and continued steadfast in the service of her from the proposed basis of Fenian operations prevented this. But in the eye of an Englishman British America is one. We on this side of the Atlantic know but little of the local divisions of that vast territory over which Queen Victoria holds her benign and equitable sway. Of course, we are well aware that there are separate provinces each under its own governor: but in an Englishman's apprehension the name Canada is a comprehensive term by which he is accustomed to denote the whole possessions of his nation on the American Continent. Lord, and when invited by those she believed to be his ministers, most readily united in that mericans were willing enough to enjoy the advantages of their connexion with England, feebling, but her continued religious experience just what might have been expected from her previous course; all was peace, and sometimes those advantages. It was thought that the sonextatic joy, which was at times almost too much stalwart and strapping fellow as he is-was a for her feeble and exhausted nature. I spent little too ready to put his hands into the old the last Sabbath night of her life in her house, gentleman's pocket, and to expect his parent to and although the " earthly tabernacle " was near do for him things which he was very well able opinion was universal in England; still it prevailed to a wide extent, and was openly propounded both in the newspapers and in Parliament. Now, however, the tide is turned. Public opinion has undergone a complete transformation. The Canadians have had an opportunity of showing themselves in their true character, and they have embraced that opportunity in such a manner as to render England proud of her connexion with them. We can hardly judge on this side how far it is probable that the Fenians may continue their threats. For the present Fenianism in Ireland seems to have entirely collapsed. Thus far the existence of this absurd conspiracy has been the means of accomplishing much good. It was worth while to have endured the threats and temporary alarm, for the sake of the enthusiastic demon strations of attachment and of loyalty, which have been called forth. For we are well persuaded that had the same necessity existed, the same spirit of loyalty, courage, patriotism and love for the mother country, which has been displayed along the Canadian frontier, would have been displayed with the same fervour in every nook and corner of British America. I now proceed to note down a few matter ore especially interesting to Methodist readers. Looking forward to the coming Conference there seems little or no reason to doubt that Mr. Arthur will be elected President. He was se cond on the list last year, and no one appears -now in progress on the American Continent. likely to be a successful rival. Mr. Arthur is at "In several parts of the United States the present in Italy, where from his perfect knownome and as much at his ease in preaching and talking to all sorts of people as if he were in England. He is equally at home in the French language. The other day, when in Paris, he preached a very effective sermon to a singular congregation-a congregation of French jockeys, grooms, hostlers, and coachmen. He also speaks up his acquaintance with the Canarese, a language which he acquired when in India, and continued for six and even eight taken from a cession. These accounts are all taken from a single number of the weekly Methodist paper of America. Within could get up any moment and preach a sermon in that oriental tongue. Mr. Arthur has be come a thoroughly public man, and a power in this country. It gives voice to a feeling somewhat widely prevalent, that we are getting as a body that Circuits are blessed with harmony and to be too rich, too respectable, and too much tranquility. Sydney Circuit.

MR. EDITOR.—It is now about thirty-three years since Methodism was introduced into this part of Cape Breton, now known methodistically. as the Sydney Circuit. Since its first establish ment here it has had to contend with opposing forces of various kinds, which need not be named; yet Methodism still lives, and is now giving

The bads on the lilacs are swelling With the joy that lies deep in their breast And the blithe little robins are telling Their rapture from east unto west-

As the beautiful spring times comes tripping-Over the hills from afar, Her locks with the tender rain dripping, Her countenance bright as a star.

The north winds go sighing and sobbing To their bleak, icy caves by the seas; While our pulses with pleasure are throbbing At the soft cooling touch of the breeze.

Escaped from its chains cold and icy, The brooklet goes singing once more; While odors, so sweet and so spicy, Float up from the South's sunny shore.

The east skies are glowing in splendor, The west skies are gleaming with gold ; While murmurous voices, and tender, Steal up from each woodland and wold.

The grass and the flowers, long sleeping, Are springing in beauty again ; While light, fleecy cloudlets are weeping Soft, musical showers of rain. No vestige of gloom or of sadness, Lies darkly on nature's fair face; But joy, and hope only, and gladness, With many a magical grace. Sweet season of life and of beauty !

Sweet season of hope and of love ! With hearts loud-exulting in duty We thank the good Father above ases: 1st Case.—Infammation of the Bowels. John C lat Cass.—Inflammation of the Bowels. John of Chapman, aged thirty-four, was selzed on the night the 22nd of October with inflammation of the bowel was called at 10 F.M.; he had then been suffering out have hours; had not a passage for six days; I gain mix of your Pills, and applied the Ready Relief the abdomen; in a few min utes the pain ceased, he fints a calm sleep; at $a.M. he had a free evacuation at 9 a.M. eat his breakfast; at 11 A.M., gave him more pills; and for five days gave him three pills; day; he is now well and hearty. In all cases of daymention of the howels I succeed in removing possible, they are nevertheless highly beneficial cially by parties having gardens, as their appliinto a calm sleep; at $ A.M. he had a free evacuation; at 9 A.M. eat his breakfast; at 11 A.M., gave him six more pills, and for five days gave him three pills per day; he is now well and hearty. In all cases of in-fiammation of the bowels, I succeed in removing all danger by a single dose of from six to eight in six hours. In lead cholic, I give the pills in large doses—six to eight, and a teaspoonful of Relief to a windlass of water every three hours—it aways cures.

2nd CASE—David Bruce, aged twenty-six, and a stacked with billious fever for twenty-two hours. I gave him six of your pills every four hours, and gave him warm drinks of bonset tea. In twenty-four hours he was convaloscent; is now at work and perfectly healthy. 3d CASE—Sarah Burna, aged six years, seized with scarlet fever; gave her two pills every four hours for twenty-four hours; applied the Ready Relief to her throat, gave her lemonade with haif a teaspoonful of Relief as a drink. In thirty-six hours she was playing with her brothers and sisters. I have prescribed your Pills in cases of Dyspeptia, Indigestion, Costivenees, Siuggiahness of the Liver, or Torpidity, and have witnessed the most astonishing cures. I believe them the only true purgative in use; they are invaluable, having a greater controlling influence in Liver and Spleen derangements than calomel or blue pill. Your Pills are the only purgative that can be administered with safety in Erspelsa, Typhoid Fever, Scarlet Fever, Small Fox, and all Eruptive Fevers; their soothing, tonic, and mild aperient properties reader them invaluable. vegetable crops, but also on berry-bushes, shrubs, border flowers, and even window not plants ; while if poured or syringed over roses, cabbages, for egg-laying qualities; but most of all is in good treatment, making the hen feel herself at home. Dr. Radwat: Your Pilis and Ready Relief have saved my daughter's life, In June last she was eighteen years of age, and for three months her menses were suppressed. She would frequently vomit blood, safer terribly from headache and pain in the small of the back and thighs, and had frequent fits of hysteries. We commenced by giving her six of your Pilis every night, and rubbed the Ready Rehef on her spine, back, when to our joy she was relieved of her difficulty. She is now well and regular, and has been so ever since.

AS A DINNER PILL,

To promote digestion, sweeten and strengthen the stomachs of the weak and distressed Dyspeptics, they are invaluable. Six days' use of Radway's Regulating Fills will enable those, who, from their strength weakness and indigestion, are obliged to sacrifice their appetities, to enjoy the most savary meats and hearty food. No such powers were ever possessed by medicine as these Fills exercise over the weak stomachs of the Dyspepties, for in six days they or prepare the stomach to receive, relish, and digest such food as it crayes for. No Heartburn, no Zalphtation, no Distress, no Tomitings follow the use of these excellent Fills. BOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS
