Kerensky Leads Loyal Russ Forces

Maximalist Revolt is Near Collapse as Premier and His Supporters Approach Petrograd--Korniloff and Others Form Government in Moscow

By Courier Leased Wire.

Premier Kerensky, at the head of 200,000 loyal troops, is marching on Petrograd, where the Maximalists rapidly are losing power.

The Bolshevik uprising in Moscow was abortive apparently and the loyal troops have driven the revolutionaries into the Kremlin.

General Korniloff, leader of the recent futile revolt; General Kaledines, former hetman of the Don Cossacks; Michael Rodzianko, president of the Duma, and Prof. Milukoff, Constitutional Democrat leader, are reported to be forming a government in Moscow.

Apparently there have been no further defections to the Bolsheviks from the army and garrisons and Petrograd and Moscow appear to have been the only large cities affected by the uprising of the followers of Lenin.

Loyalist troops now control the chief wireless station, one report from which says that the overthrow of the revolt is "only a matter of days or hours."

The radical element in Finland has seized the opportunity to attempt to set up a separate government. Governor-General Nekrasoff has been dismissed and his place taken by a sailor and a state of war has been proclaimed.

The Finnish Diet has voted to give supreme power in the province to a state directorate.

Petrograd, Sunday, Nov. 11.—3 p.m.—Street fighting is proceeding constantly. Junkers loyal to the Kerensky Government regained possession of the telephone station this morning.

Fighting is in progress in the Grand Morskaya between Bolshevik infantrymen and junker forces in armed cars.

Petrograd, Saturday, Nov. 10.—The Congress of Soldiers and Workmen's Delegates has issued a decree abolishing the rights of land owners and handing over all estates forthwith to agriculture committees which are to hold them until the Constituent Assembly.

The council got into telephonic communication with Moscow, the message adds and learned that the Bolsheviks attempt to seize power there, was defeated by the garrison, which drove the Bolsheviks into the Kremlin.

Korniloff in Moscow. The Telegraph's correspondent says that he hears that General Kaledines, former hetman of the Cossacks and Prof. Paul N. Milukoff, former foreign minister, are associated with Michael Rodzianko in forming a government in Moscow.

Two Wounded. Pte. Geo. Melkie of Brantford is reported wounded in this morning's official casualty list. Pte. E. E. Fisher is also wounded.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN 2 BRANTS

The position of affairs in the two Brants is once again as you were.

Following upon the telegram of Col. Harry Cockshutt to Mr. Harold in Brant Riding, offering to withdraw in favor of Hon. Mr. Rowell and Mr. Harold's refusal, Mr. Cockshutt announced his opening meeting in Paris on Saturday night.

On arrival there it was announced that the Liberals had proposed another conference, ten men a side, to meet in this city on Tuesday night and matters looked well for an arrangement, the Riding of Brantford to be included in any possible terms, but on returning home Harry Cockshutt found this telegram awaiting him from Ottawa:

"Other arrangements have been made regarding Rowell. His name not to be further considered."

Mr. Harold also received a message as follows: "I cannot possibly be a candidate in Brant County as I have already agreed to be a candidate in another constituency. I hope therefore my name will not be further mentioned in connection with the Brant situation. I thank you for the very

Austro-Hungarians Included in Compulsory Service Measure

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Nov. 12.—The Evening World to-day publishes the following:

London, Nov. 12.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff are planning a further development of the German resources of the civil man power for a great effort which undoubtedly will be made during the winter to increase the output of war material.

A further committee was formed consisting of Gordon Scarfe, G. C. Scott, A. Aitken, J. Coleman, E. Tenth, and C. A. Waterous. Their function will be to arrange through each factory executive a local factory organization and give their help and assistance wherever required.

These committees are already at work. Merchants Also. A meeting of the merchants is called for Tuesday night at 8 o'clock to discuss the proposed measure.

SPLENDID RED CROSS WORK DONE

War Veterans' "Save-a-Soldier" Canvass a Big Feature

RESPONSE GENEROUS

Total Proceeds of Campaign Will be Well in Excess of $30,000.00

TO VICTORY. (The Song of the Canvassers) Armed with a pen, ink and paper, clad in the armor of right, hearing the call of the country, taking our part in the fight.

Not ours to cause devastation, not ours to maim or destroy, aims that we hope for in protection, persuasions the arms we employ, we beg you then promptly surrender, nothing shall harm you, we swear, just sign this approved application, and do what is needed, your share.

Triumph results we shall see, The Queen of the Empire all glorify, And crowned by true Victory, H. U. Skie...

While returns from the British Red Cross campaign are not yet complete and contributions and results from the different teams of workers are still coming in, the last count places the total slightly in excess of $30,000.

The teams have worked indefatigably and their earnest efforts combined with the generosity and patriotism of the citizens generally were responsible for the gratifying result.

Yesterday "Save a Soldier Sunday" was observed when G.W.V.A. and A.R. men canvassed the entire city and collected the envelopes that had been distributed through the mails during the week.

In seventeen city districts, under the supervision of the postmen and their captains, war veterans and army rejects called on every house and met with general hearty response. The outlying districts, including Cainsville, Parkdale, Farrington, Echo Place and Grand View were all called on also by the workers.

Automobiles to convey the workers to their different territories were supplied through the Rotary Club, and great assistance was given in this way. At the commencement of the afternoon there was a distinct shortage of workers, but as each team finished its territory, the members were placed where they were needed and in this way some men covered two, three and even four districts during the afternoon.

An amusing feature of the afternoon was the manner in which some canvassers were received owing to misconception on the part of the householders of their object. Some thought that the returned men were calling to round up the draftees who were being sent to the front.

Resistance Stiffening Along Piave River Which the Enemy is Unable to Cross -- Fate of Austro-German Offensive Now at Stake

Italian resistance is stiffening along the Piave line and in the Sugana Valley the Austro-German progress is slowing up.

The invaders have not been able to cross the Piave from around Feltrino to the Adriatic. The Vidor bridgehead, on the eastern bank of the river, was defended stubbornly by the Italians who manly retired across the river after blowing up the bridge.

Violent fighting is in progress around Asiago and the Setti Comuni to the west. Berlin reports some progress on the Setti Comuni and in the Sugana Valley, but against strong Italian resistance. East of Asiago the Italians in a desperate charge were able to recapture positions from the invaders and in the Sugana valley near the Austro-Italian border they captured an enemy advance guard.

MUCH HANGS IN BALANCE. The permanence of the Piave line depends most on the success or failure of the Austro-German blow in the Asiago region, military observers think. If the invaders can be held in the north, the Treviso Hills along the middle Piave will help the Italians in checking an advance across the river.

Further Austro-German advances from the north might make the Piave line untenable and Venice and Treviso probably would have to be given up to the enemy with further retirement either to the Brenta or the Adige. However, the Italians are fighting hard and the German progress Saturday and Sunday apparently was appreciably slower.

LITTLE FIGHTING ON WEST FRONT. In France there has been little fighting activity of moment. The Germans have failed to counter-attack in an attempt to regain the Passchendaele ridge, whose capture has been completed by the British.

In Palestine the British advance continues. More villages and additional prisoners have been lost by the Turks.

ITALIANS TRAPPED. Berlin, Nov. 12.—via London.—The Austro-German forces in Northern Italy have cut off 10,000 retreating Italians in the Upper Piave Valley, the war office announces. The Italians are said to have surrendered.

The German statement says the Teuton forces have advanced from Belluno down the River Piave and are standing before Feltrino.

Italian headquarters in Northern Italy, Sunday, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The enemy's operations on the north and east in an attempt at encirclement of the Italians, have not succeeded. The menace on the Italian left wing also is practically past.

The reconstruction of the Italian army along the newly chosen line of defense is now virtually an accomplished fact. The troops have taken up their positions in trenches, the gun emplacements have been made ready and the whole vast organization is preparing for the battle that is not so far off. The men are in good spirits, and a feeling of determination prevails in all ranks.

Retirement of that part of the Italian force in the Carnia district of Northern Venetia has shortened the Italian main front, which now presents a compact line extending about twenty miles along the new river defenses to the sea.

Aid From U.S. Rome, Nov. 12.—Major Grayson P. Murphy, European commissioner of the American Red Cross, and a party of assistants has arrived here to arrange for immediate assistance to be given the expatriated citizens of Italy. Major Murphy conferred with Baron Monson, the British Red Cross commissioner, concerning co-operative efforts of the two organizations.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Half a million dollars was appropriated by the American Red Cross to-day for general relief work among the Italians driven from their homes by the German invasion, but reports received to-day of conditions among the refugees and their increasing numbers caused the amount of $250,000 previously set aside to be doubled.

FIRE ON WATER FRONT. By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Nov. 12.—New York city's water front was the scene of another fire on Sunday when the factory of the Washburn Wire Company which was working on large war orders for the United States was destroyed with a estimated loss of nearly $2,000,000.

The fire started in a series of buildings extending from 117th to 118th street and a half a block deep on the East River front in Harlem.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN IN U.S. New York, Nov. 12.—An army of 250,000 workers in every important city and town in the United States to-day began a week's campaign to raise $35,000,000 for the war work of the Young Men's Christian Association. A number of corporations have announced that they will give generously to the fund.

THE MERCHANTS CORNER. An Inter-Relation of Interests. Advertising became legitimate only when legitimate business took it up. It has improved as business has improved. Moreover, it has helped business to improve, pointed out the way and led the procession. Having built up business, advertising must keep it up. Of course, advertising is but an instrument of business, but the advertising man has very largely to create his own job and then improve it in order to preserve it. His employer has to do the same thing and thus a community of interest prompts co-operation. If that co-operation does not exist the result is generally failure.—Women's Wear.

REINFORCED ITALIAN TROOPS RECAPTURE LOST POSITIONS

Teutons Admit Being Checked on Trentino. Front—Enemy Guard Captured in Sugana Valley—British Batteries Are Now in Position and Shelling Teutons.

On the Italian front the Italians' line in the north has stiffened under the reinforcements it has received from the British and French. Even the German official communication does not mention any further retirement by the Italians, but, on the contrary, admits that east of Asiago, where the Austro-Germans made gains last week, the Italians, in strong force, attacked the invaders, recapturing lost positions. The Italians took about one hundred prisoners. In the Sugana Valley an enemy advance guard was captured. Along the middle and southern reaches of the Piave the Italians are holding their line tenaciously, although they have been forced to give up the Vidor bridgehead, northeast of Treviso, after having fought a delaying battle in which they had time to blow up the bridge crossing the stream.

(Canadian Press Despatches.)

Italians Resist the Foe.

Rome, Nov. 12.—The announcement of the War Office yesterday on the progress of the campaign reads:

"At dawn yesterday, after artillery preparation which began the evening before, the enemy, having passed our line of observation in the neighborhood of Asiago, attacked our advanced posts on Gallo and on Mont Serraglio—Hill 111 behind that line, and after a bitter struggle, succeeded in taking them."

"The 16th Storming unit and units of Elisa (Pisa)—the 29th and 20th Regiments—and of Tuscania—the 7th and 75th Regiments—of the 5th Bersaglieri, by a resolute counter-attack, recaptured the positions, driving the enemy back and taking about 100 prisoners."

"The enemy vanguard, which had reached the village of Tezze, in the Sugana Valley, was promptly attacked and captured."

"On the Piave our covering troops, after having repulsed enemy parties which attacked them on the heights of Voldobladene, passed to the right bank of the river and destroyed the Vidor bridge. On the middle and lower reaches of the river there were reciprocal cannonades and machine gun firing."

bank of the Piave, which was stubbornly defended by the enemy."

Belluno is Taken.

The day official communication follows:

"Strong Italian forces threw themselves against detachments advancing eastward beyond Asiago and pressed them back somewhat at one point. Belluno has been taken."

"The enemy has made a stand on the lower Piave."

British Guns in Position.

Italian Headquarters, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—British batteries have taken their position along the front line prepared to give support to the heroic services heretofore chiefly borne by the Italian rearguards in the effort to stay the Austro-German advance.

"The re-formation of the Italian army along the established position is progressing in good order, and there has been no material change for the past day or two."

"The agreement for a Central Military Council for the entire Western front for the first time recognizes and incorporates the Italian as part of the Western front, thus terminating the Italian front as a separate entity. It also establishes reciprocal control, in which not only the French and the British have a voice in the Italian campaign, but Italy has a voice in the French and British campaign."

Huns Admit Trouble.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—The supplement report from German Headquarters to-night says:

"In Sette Commune and in the Sugana Valley (Italian front) ground has been gained by fighting. Our troops have taken by storm the Vidor bridgehead, on the eastern

FINANCIAL OF PARIS RESIDENT

Late Mr. Amada Davidson Laid to Rest Yesterday Afternoon

OTHER NEWS OF PARIS Red Cross Campaign, With Objective of $5000 Starts To-day

Paris, Nov. 12.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—Dominion Office Gazette contains the announcement of a new company known as the Bonner-Heddie Co., Limited. The authorized capital is $100,000. The factory is erected at St. Catharines and will manufacture carbonized wool. They are now waiting on their machinery. Mr. O. R. Whitby of this town is secretary-treasurer.

Another highly and an old esteemed resident was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the person of Amada Davidson, relict of the late Stephen Davidson. Deceased was in her 83rd year and was born at Plainfield near Simcoe. She came to Paris when a small child with her parents, and over fifty years ago she was united in marriage to Stephen Davidson, late Town Clerk and Treasurer, who predeceased her in 1900. The late Mrs. Davidson was one of the oldest members of the Baptist church and attended all the services regularly. Her death was a great loss to the community.

The Misses Astle of Bonfield St. received their father, Mr. Henry Astle that his little nephew Kenneth was dying and later word came that the child had passed away. The family only moved there from Paris three weeks ago. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the community in their trouble.

Another Paris young man has given his life in this great war. Word was received from the Office of the War of West River street that her youngest son, Corp. Machie Ogle Stewart had died from wounds on Nov. 1st in a casualty clearing hospital in France. The deceased soldier was engaged on the Ochoa front of the Western front in 1916. He was a fine type of young manhood, a member of the Presbyterian church and also took a very attractive part in all the local churches yesterday strong and earnest appeals were made from the pulpits, on behalf of the Red Cross Campaign that starts here to-morrow. There is every indication that the objective of $5,000 will be more than reached.

No Food Agreed, and Fast Wasting Away, But Soon Cured By Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

Mrs. Jarvis, Box 286, Penzance P.O., Ont., says: "When only five months old my baby fell ill, and in spite of medical treatment wasted away till he seemed just skin and bone. I tried special foods, but none of them would stay on his stomach, and we never thought we should rear him. But one day I read about Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and got some for baby, and I am thankful I did, for they quite cured him. He is a bonny boy now."

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are the supreme remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Troubles, Sleeplessness, Anaemia, Nervous ailments, and Nerve paralysis, and for weakness in children. Especially valuable for nursing mothers and during the critical periods of life. Price 50 cents per tube, six tubes for the price of five, from druggists and stockists throughout Canada. Don't waste your money on imitations; get the genuine Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

Three Canadian Historic Spots

(1) Inside the old fort at Annapolis Royal. (2) Martello Tower, West St. John, N.B.

(3) Evangeline's well. THREE unique and interesting historic spots are to be found in the Maritime Provinces of Canada. Each tells its own story of a romantic past as it links us up with generations that have long since passed away.

The three are: the old French gate and barracks at Annapolis Royal, the ancient Willows and well-sewn tower overlooking the Bay of Fundy from the heights of West St. John.

Each of the trio is worthy of a pilgrimage, and no better objectives could a tourist have in this delightful maritime land than to visit each in turn.

Let us, in the meantime, visit them in imagination. The Annapolis of to-day was the first Royal of the golden times. It was one of the first European settlements in America, the only habitations of civilized man on the great continent on the fringes of a vast wilderness, stretching from Florida to the North Pole. Champlain and de Monts visited Annapolis Basin in 1604, as did many another hero of the French days.

So the little settlement was formed and for a century and a half thereafter it tells the story of attack, capture and recapture. It witnessed many a baptism of blood, did this ancient French stronghold, until in 1710, England won it at the hands of a force of New Englanders. Aerially, in 1781, it was captured by an American force, but to-day it is a picturesque corner of Canada, situated in one of its garden spots and facing a long arm of the sea.

Next let us go to Evangeline's land, where the apple blossoms make a beautiful world in the summer time and where a glamour still rests over the valleys in memory of an Acadia maiden who was only the dream child of a poet. Here is the site of the old French farmstead, there the ancient well near the older French willows where real Acadian maidens drew water; while hard by is the smithy's forge that figures in the poem, as well as the little church. What a story the willows could tell if they had the power of speech, of the days when France ruled half of the continent and England was challenging her supremacy.

And finally there is the old thick-walled Martello tower perched on a high rock above the City of the Loyalists, as St. John is known. These miniature fortresses still carry an aspect of strength and dignity, as they remind one of the old Napoleon era, when they were built in England as means of defence and later in Canada. Similar specimens are still to be found in Quebec, Montreal and Kingston.

THE SITUATION.
 Late developments on all of the fronts are looking distinctly better for the allies. The fact, it hardly seems likely that there will be another such dark period as that which last week-end undoubtedly proved.

In Russia Premier Kerensky, who escaped from Petrograd in a motor ambulance, is reported to have gone straight to general headquarters, and is now said to have 200,000 men at the back of him and to be marching on Petrograd. It would also seem to be clear that the Cossacks are not in favor of the Maximilians and it is said that they are getting the better of street fighting in the capital that the career of the Bolshevik Government is likely to be ended inside of twenty-four hours. It may be that recent events will result in Kerensky coming back as the strong man after all. One of his weak points has undoubtedly been that he has sought to temperize with too many elements, and to refrain from harsh measures. It is quite likely that the experience of having hurriedly flee in order to avoid imprisonment, will give him some needed stiffening of the dictator brand.

The leaving of French and British help is commencing to work on the Italian front. The Austro-German forces have taken Asiago and a range of heights from which they were driven by a counter-attack. At another point on the Trentino they were also forced back. The foe in this area has not yet been stopped, but he has been checked and it is not too much to expect that his onward rush has been definitely halted.

In Palestine the British still have the Turks on the run. Another extended advance has been recorded together with the capture of Askalon. The losses for the sons of Islam total over ten thousand and they have also lost heavily in munitions and supplies.

The Canadians have strengthened their hold on the Passchendaele Ridge and their retention of it is now secure.

THE ISSUE
 The people should not blind their eyes for an instant as to what the attitude of Sir WHIRLIE Laurier involves in connection with the war.

There are no doubt many Liberals who have had a life-long admiration for the "plumed knight" who find it difficult to break away from him but there are times of crisis when all personal feelings must be set aside as weight in the balance and this is most emphatically one of them.

When Sir WHIRLIE opened his campaign in the City of Quebec on Friday night, thousands of his compatriots almost mobbed him in their excess of joy. In the opening portion of his speech, in referring to the division which had taken place in the ranks of his party, he exclaimed:

"Men with whom I have fought for Liberal principles, side by side, for fifteen years, have differed from me. They believe in conscription. I do not."
 Upon that declaration it is announced that the vast throng cheered for several minutes.

Then when he went on to say "I stand for voluntary service" and to plead for that, it is recorded "The people heard him in silence."
 Their only desire is to get the selective draft out of the way and then the cause of the empire, and the boys at the front can go hang. Not all the persuasive eloquence possessed by Laurier can prevent that.

regade and pro-German forces. There can be no mistake at all about this and the fact has to be faced by every loyal man and woman and ACTED UPON.
 Former political feelings and allegiances must go into the discard, just as these insidious friends of the foe would place all of Canadian honor and loyalty and self-respect there.

SECOND MANIFESTO
 Sir Robert Borden has supplemented his statement of the platform of the Union Government by issuing a manifesto to the people of the Dominion. On behalf of the new administration, he says:

"The Government thoroughly realizes that in this national emergency there is imperative necessity for fulfillment of its policies with the least possible delay. It pledges itself to prosecute the war with ceaseless vigor, to strive for national unity, to administer the public departments with economy and efficiency, to devise measures of taxation which will regard social justice and to neglect nothing that may be required to sustain the soldiers on service or to comfort those of their households whom they have left behind. Firmly convinced that these objects can best be achieved by a Government representing all parties, classes, creeds and interests, I appeal with confidence on its behalf for the sympathy and support of the Canadian people."

The Premier amplifies these resolves in a most earnest and solemn manner, and the whole production breathes anew the earnestness of the man and the patriotic purpose of himself and colleagues in this great crisis.

VICTORY LOAN.
 The great Victory Loan has been launched in Brantford with an organization and a set of men at the head of it without parallel in this community for any previous flotation. They are giving their services without any fee. The only paid men are the canvassers, who receive a rate fixed by the Finance Minister.

It is now up to the people to give their wholehearted and unstinted backing on behalf of an offering which means so much of vital importance to the Empire, to Canada and the cause of human liberty. And from a cold-blooded commercial standpoint the investment has all of the resources of the Dominion for a backing and the fastest return is of a most handsome nature.

The sum of $150,000,000 is asked, but it is to be hoped that it will be doubled or even better than that. Success is generally assured, but the extent to which the amount is over-subscribed will undoubtedly have its effect upon the credit position of Canada and her ability to handle business from Great Britain and the other allies which must be accepted on deferred payment basis. Canadians owe it to themselves as a matter of loyalty and as a matter of business to subscribe largely to the loan. The money will all be spent in Canada. Not only will it mean another lease of life in many lines of industry, but it will permit those supplies going to the allies of which they stand so much in need.

For every reason and on every ground it is up to the people of this community to give their unstinted help and The Courier will be much surprised if the response fails to fully measure up to the glorious cause.

BULGARS FEARED FOR THEIR LIVES Were Told By Germans That British Killed All Prisoners

(Associated Press)
 London, Nov. 12.—As evidence that the Germans have taught the Bulgarians that their lives will be forfeited if they are taken prisoner by the British, the following extract from a letter by a British officer on the Saloniki front is published by the Daily Telegraph:

"When we rounded up sixty Bulgarians in an attack recently the poor wretches were utterly terrified. Two or three dived to drown themselves in a pool, while others knelt on the ground making the sign of the cross and waiting an assassin's bayonet thrust or worse.

"One who was a real sportsman kept his head and made a desperate effort to escape, very nearly getting shot, until he saw it was useless, and flinging down his rifle, surrendered to an officer. Beside this officer a Tommy stood watchfully in case the Bulgarian was up to any nasty tricks, and the latter seeing this attitude, and taking him for his appointed murderer, with a dramatic gesture threw back his head and bared his chest. He opened his shirt with both hands, then faced the soldier with the bayonet whom he supposed to be waiting for the officer's word to run him through.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S ANNUAL MEETING IN PARIS

OTHER NEWS OF PARIS

Pte. W. E. Bell Wounded in the Right Shoulder.

(From our own Correspondent)
 Paris, Nov. 10.—Yesterday afternoon and evening the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. held a comfort shower at the residence of Mrs. John Lilley, Walnut St. A splendid lot of comforts were received and will be sent to the members of the Y.M.C.A. who are overseas. The guests were received by Mrs. Lilley and Mrs. Mitchell. The tea-room made a very pretty appearance with its decorations of cut flowers and flags of the allies. Mrs. J. Inkster and Mrs. H. Redner poured tea and the Misses L. Waldron of Brantford and E. Lilley assisted. Mrs. L. Thompson was in charge of the home-made cooking booth. Other assistants were Mrs. Springate, Mrs. Snell, Mrs. J. Sinclair and Mrs. B. McCannan.

On Thursday evening the Horticultural Society of Paris held their annual meeting in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. A splendid report of the work done during the past year was read and it showed that the rose show held in June and the flower show in September were very successful as regards the number of entries and quality, but the attendance was not as large as former years. The society have over 400 members now, and would still be glad to receive new ones.

The receipts for the year were $896.62, and expenditures $713.73, leaving a balance on hand of $182.89.

It was moved by Messrs. F. Inkster and John Lilley, "That the Horticultural Society hereby expresses its strong endorsement of any legislation which the government of the province may enact for the extermination of the San Jose scale, which has become a pest in the province, and is rapidly destroying all orchards and shrubbery, that we feel that such legislation should be enacted as soon as possible. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. N. Bell; first vice-president, Dr. W. J. Legie; second vice-president, Miss S. Ahrens; secretary-treasurer, O. W. Whitty; directors, Mrs. R. Turnbull, Misses Martin, Burnall, Capron, Messrs. C. E. Walker and D. R. Brockbank; auditors, Dr. Dunston and J. H. Inkster.

Paris has the largest Horticultural Society of any town in Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bell were notified yesterday that their son, Pte. W. E. Bell, had been wounded in the right shoulder on Oct. 28th. Another son, Charlie, was reported missing in June, 1916, and later a notification was received saying he had been killed.

Last evening the formal opening of the new Young Women's Christian Association was held. Hundreds took advantage of going through the building early in the evening, and one and all spoke in high terms of the building and furnishings. As previously mentioned the association was erected by the Penman Co. and cost with fittings, etc., some $20,000. In handing the same over to the national council of the Y.W.C.A. the Penman firm have performed a very generous act and one that will fill a long term of years in Brantford. The structure is a substantial three-story building and contains on the ground floor, reception hall and

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS
 Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and cruetate undigested, food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin, and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.
 Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.
 If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

FIFTEEN YEARS USE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS
 Thousands of mothers keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house as long as there are little ones about. Among them is Mrs. Marcel D. LeBlanc, Memramcook, West, N.B., who says: "For the past fifteen years I have never been without Baby's Own Tablets. Whenever any of my children are ailing the Tablets promptly relieve them. I have such faith in them that I never hesitate in recommending them to any of my friends who have little ones in the home." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Winnipeg Board of Trade is in receipt of a telegram from Leslie H. Boyd, chairman of the Board of Grain Supervisors, Fort William saying that steps are being taken to increase the wheat movement to the lake front.

That any accidents and all inconveniences may be avoided, the Chief suggests that automobiles be parked on the Gore opposite the armories, if not left in nearby garages, where cars and contents will be safe.

POLICE COURT.

An entirely different story from that repeated in the police court earlier in the week was told by James O'Donnell on Saturday afternoon when he again came up for hearing on a charge of being intoxicated and another of having liquor in an unauthorized place. He spun a marvelous fairy story on his previous appearance, but toned it down somewhat on Saturday. He was fined $10 and costs for being drunk, and the other charge was dismissed.

Building permits were issued at the office of the city engineer at the city hall this morning to Edward Crook, 216 Brant Ave., for the erection of a frame summer kitchen to cost $150; to James Fraser for a motorcycle garage, costing $25; and to Thomas Slack, 21 Strathcona Ave., a frame garage to cost $50.

RAIDED FOREIGNERS.

In two raids executed by the police department on Sunday night, eleven Russians were garnered into the fold on charges of gambling on the Lord's day. They were bailed out and will appear in the police court this afternoon. Receiving information that a house at 29 Albion St. was in disorder, Sergt. Wallace, H. C. Boylan and C. C. Taylor visited the place, and, making a hasty entrance into the house, discovered Adam Dirkaater, Steve Tinon, Alex. Gorchum, Steve Kosgak, Fred Solka, Anton Loka, John Dobe in the midst of a nice little game of cards. Deeming the occupation a trifle inconsistent with the principles guiding the observance of the Sabbath, the police officers took the past-board fields into charge. Later in the evening about nine o'clock a house at 12 Balfour street, also occupied by Russians, was raided and five more Sunday breakers taken into custody. Sergt. Wallace, P. C. Howling and C. C. Taylor were in charge in this raid, and arrested Isadore Solovet, John Muroski, Andrew Marcin, George Czukan, and Kazimir Sira.

SPLENDID RED CROSS

One war veteran, a hero of the Battle of the Marne, and the retreat from Mons, and who while crossing the ocean was on vessels torpedoed four times, was refused a contribution at one house, and the explanation was given that if the government refused to exempt her boy, she would not contribute toward the Red Cross. Another canvasser was somewhat discouraged and down-hearted when he returned from a trip out the Hamilton Road as far as Cainsville, where after calling at thirty-nine houses he came back with 25 cents.

While the workers met with discouragement, there were also bright incidents that livened up the afternoon's work. Miss Van Allen, Dufferin Avenue surprised the war veteran who called at her home, by presenting him with a handsome check for $1000 while Mrs. R. D. Cookshutt gave a check for $500 to the canvasser who called at her residence.

Among those giving their autos for the Sunday collection were:

- Gordon Houlding, Allan Houlding, Gordon Scarfe, Leslie Watt, Ralph S. Williamson, Fred C. Harp, Franklin Grobb, Ernie Monte, Fred W. Ryerson, J. A. Ogilvie, A. E. Day, J. M. Young, J. S. PRICE OF MILK

Letter Received From Food Controller Hanna

A milk producer wrote to Hon. Mr. Hanna, Food Controller, asking what would be the fair price for milk sold by producers in Brantford. His answer is as follows: Dear sir,—In reply to your letter of the 7th inst., permit me to state that the price of milk to the distributor, as agreed upon in Toronto on September 1st, 1917, was $2.50 for 80 lbs. or $3.12 1/2 for 100 lbs. This seems to be an equitable price. Very truly yours, W. J. HANNA.

The above means that local dealers will have to charge 12 cents per quart for raw milk and 13 cents for pasteurized milk. Present prices are 10 and 11 cents.

Seven Hundred Not Registered

On Saturday night at ten o'clock the last opportunity for draftees under the Military Services Act to register at the postoffice was withdrawn and had they not either reported for service or claimed exemption on Saturday or before that date, to-day they face a jail term of five years, with no opportunity of claiming exemption. Since the Medical Board at the Armories commenced its work on the 24th of September, 1,818 men have been examined and of this number 1,118 only have appeared at the postoffice, leaving 700 who have not, unless they have appeared in person before the tribunals, complied with the terms of the proclamation. Of the 1,818 men examined about fifty per cent, 916 were placed, 168 in Category B, 353 in C, 9 in D, and 372 in E.

When the totals were added up on Saturday night at the postoffice, preparatory to forwarding the returns to Ottawa, it was found that 1,118 had registered in all, 1,054 had claimed exemption and 54 had been willing to serve without filing exemption claims. Saturday was the busiest day experienced during the past few weeks, when 144 were reported. Six were ready to fight, and 134 wanted exemption.

LARGE NUMBER OF APPEALS HEARD

Many Applicants Before Exemption Boards Saturday and Today

The proportion of exemptions allowed by the four tribunals in operation in the city under the Military Service Act on Saturday and this morning was very small, and on only the best grounds were the applicants successful in securing freedom from military service. A large number of farmers were among those who applied and in these cases, unless a large amount of land was dependent upon the applicant for cultivation, and if a substitute could not be procured, a claim was sustained, otherwise it was disallowed.

Where men engaged in work in the different factories were concerned, only cases of real and proven importance were considered liable for exemption, and the men were forced to prove indisputably that they were really indispensable to a necessary industry.

Business men and clerks appeared among others, and only in exceptional cases were their applications granted. On domestic grounds the percentage of those allowed exemption was equally low.

"SO LONG AS THERE IS SIN, WE ARE ALL IN DANGER"

Evangelistic Campaign Formally Inaugurated in Tabernacle Last Night—Rev. J. R. Hanley Powerful and Forceful Speaker.

Worshippers in attendance at the first of the series of the services to be held in the tabernacle on Brant Avenue last night crowded the building to capacity when the campaign which is to continue for the next five weeks was inaugurated by the Hanley-Fisher party. At half-past six there was scarcely a vacant seat to be obtained in the structure and by seven o'clock standing room was at a premium. Rev. J. R. Hanley proved himself quite equal to the expectations of the members of the twenty-three Protestant churches of the city that united in bringing him here, while Mr. F. G. Fisher, who is to be the director of the singing during the campaign clearly demonstrated his ability in a few minutes of song service prior to the address of Mr. Hanley.

The choir were in their places at an early hour, and before the service had commenced, although there were many more singers than the different choirs of the city, further accommodation for them could not be found. The scripture lesson was read by the Rev. G. A. Woodside, and the Rev. D. E. Martin led in prayer. Mr. Fisher took charge of the choir and introduced some of his famous campaign songs which are splendidly adapted to evangelistic services. Organizer Ernest of the party then introduced his fellow-members, and a fitting reply was made by Mr. Croft, who will have charge of the publicity arrangements. He emphasized the fact that the people of Brantford should not look to the evangelistic party for desired results, but only for leadership, and only insofar as leaders might be successful in having good followers, in an equal measure might success be achieved in this coming campaign. It was only under the leadership of Jesus Christ that men could be saved, and in this way only might victory over sin be gained.

W. H. Whitaker, chairman of the committee, welcomed the people of Brantford to the tabernacle, and hoped that for the duration of the campaign, all would take advantage of the opportunity afforded them of attending the inspiring services that would be held. He introduced Mr. and Mrs. Hanley and three children, and referring to the audience said that one of such proportions on the first evening could not but augur well for the campaign. He looked forward to much good being accomplished during the coming five weeks.

Mr. Hanley
Stated in reply that he had been in Canada for the past three years, since the end of the war.
"I was with you before your crisis came," he said, "and have seen you rise from comparative obscurity as a nation, into the blazing pages of history. I am one of the men who believe in war. I believe absolutely in the justice of God, and while there may be a long time ahead of us, the victory is sure."
Outlining what his attitude would be while here, Mr. Hanley said: "I am not going to try to run your town. I will have nothing to do with your politics but will be guided solely by the motto, 'In Christ we are safe,' and by the principle of salvation through Christ." He explained the terms of the agreement under which he had come to the city.

The story of the two foundations was Mr. Hanley's subject for his opening sermon, and in a clear and effective manner, with a calm and penetrating analysis, a piercing voice that reached to the uttermost corner of the huge frame structure, he related vividly the stories of the two men who built houses, one on sand and the other on bed rock. He had heard many and famous great preachers speak on this subject, and while their interpretation of the story and their delivery of the sermon had been wonderful, there was something lacking—they overlooked the Man of the Sand.

"The Man of the Rock, while I am interested in him, I am also interested in the Man of the Sand. There are just two classes of people in this world, those who are saved and those who are not. By those who are saved, I do not mean the church members, and while I would not say anything derogatory of the churches, they are doing a great work, but bear in mind that all church members are not saved."
"You are either on the sand or on the rock. There is no such thing as neutrality in the Kingdom of God. You are either with God or against him. At the present time the devil is in the midst of a great upheaval and period of readjustment of ideas and ideals, and when the war is over not the least change that will be made will be that in religion. There will be less of creeds and more of Christ. Canada has had too much Churchnanthy and not enough Christianity."
"There is considerable misconception of the trials that afflict the man on the rock, and he on the sand. They are both subjected to the same tests. We have underestimated the power of the Devil, just as we underestimated the power of Germany. It is a grave mistake to underestimate the power of our adversaries. I am a believer in the power of the devil. I have done business with him—so have you—and as long as there is sin in the world, we are all in danger. We are all subject to the power of the devil."
"I know sin and to-day carry scars on my soul from my experience with it. I have never been a down-and-outter, thank God, or an ex-pugilist, but an ex-ball-player, but I have only lived the ordinary business man's life. I know nothing of theo-

TRAVELLERS ORGANIZING

Preliminary Arrangements
Made by Local Knights of the Grip

Preliminary arrangements toward the formation of a Brantford branch of the Commercial Travellers' Association were made at an enthusiastic meeting of the representative "Knights of the Grip," held at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon, followed by a banquet at the Belmont Hotel in the evening.

The advantage of such an organization, the possibilities and obstacles that might be expected, were thoroughly considered, and addresses were given by members of the "Toronto and London Associations who were present. Although fully cognizant of the difficulties that would inevitably be encountered, the salesmen were heartily and unanimously favorable toward proceeding immediately with the organization on a careful and substantial but progressive basis.

D. T. Williamson, who has been active in engineering the preparatory organization, explained the nature of the gathering, and outlined briefly the many advantages that would accrue to its members. There were over 300 commercial travellers in the city and he thought that a strong and flourishing club could be formed. Different local travellers voiced their opinions of the undertaking, and while all advised caution and care all were cordially favorable toward the proposition. It was pointed out that a club such as was proposed, would add greatly to the prestige of the knights of the grip—would be of mutual benefit to the members from both a social and business aspect—and would not only be a potent factor in actuating the members to boost Brantford and Brantford-made goods on the road, but would provide a common ground on which to discuss grievances should any exist.

Vice-President Grant of the London association, spoke briefly, outlining the career of the Forest City branch, which had not achieved the success expected of it because of its being founded on too elaborate a scale. He could see no reason why a Brantford branch should not prosper if operated on a safe and sane basis.

Secretary Hitchcock of the London association, emphasized the importance of having a travellers' club. He was unqualified in expressing his approval, and wished the Brantford men every success.

The banquet.
When the business in connection with the organization had been concluded the gathering adjourned to the Belmont Hotel, where nine hosts Fraser provided a sumptuous dinner. Assisted by the Beatty Orchestra an enjoyable program will

Mr. Milton Wilbee presiding was given, comprising a toast list, including "The King," "The Commercial Travellers' Association of Canada," "The Commercial Travellers of America," "Our Guests," an address by A. K. Bunnell, chairman of the Victory Loan Committee for Brantford county, recitations by S. A. Burnley and songs by Messrs. Hill and W. Gives.

The toast to the Commercial Travellers' Association of Canada was proposed by Mr. Harner and responded to by E. O. Zimmerman of Hamilton, one of the oldest commercial travellers on the road, and a director of the association. He described the work that was being accomplished by the National Association and made a strong plea to the members for greater interest in their organization. He referred to the Victory Loan that was about to be launched and urged all travellers to assist as far as lay in their power.

"The Commercial Travellers of America," was proposed by Mr. Scruton, a veteran traveller, and responded to by Mr. Phelps. Fred Chalcraft proposed the toast to "Our Guests," which was responded to by Mr. Sherwood of Woodstock, a director of the Western Travellers' Association.

A. K. Bunnell outlined briefly and concisely the provisions, necessities and benefits of the Victory Loan. He explained the terms on which it would be issued, emphasized the absolute necessity that it be a success, and made a strong plea for both the financial and moral support of his hearers. The club will consist of members resident in the city and holding commercial travellers' certificates. There are about 320 men in the city who would, under these circumstances, be eligible for membership.

The election of officers was proceeded with, and the following men returned to office:

Honorary President, D. T. Williamson; President, Chas. G. Secord; 1st Vice-President, W. J. Duffin; 2nd Vice-President, E. J. Piffier; 3rd Vice-President, S. Sanderson; Secretary, R. F. Mason, Treasurer, R. J. Ryerson; chairman of finance, Chas. M. Thompson; chairman of entertainment, Geo. Temple; chairman of sick and visiting, M. C. Apps; membership, Chas. S. Kitchen; railway and transportation, E. D. Goetz; auditors, A. Tomlinson, Geo. Miller.

CANDIDATES TAKEN BY THROAT IN QUEBEC

Have to Sign a Traitorous Document or Go in Peril of Their Lives—Hon. Mr. Sevigny Upon Refusal Has to Fly for His Life.

Quebec, Nov. 11.—Henri Bourassa, leader of the Nationalist party, was in Quebec today and conferred with his lieutenants here. It was decided not to oppose the candidacy of Lucien Cannon, a Laurier Liberal, in Dorchester county after Mr. Cannon had signed the following statements:

"I, the undersigned candidate for the Liberal deputation, by these presents, agree, if I am elected, to exact the immediate suspension of the Military Service Act of 1917, and of all its effects, until the Canadian electors have been consulted by a plebiscite, and, should the majority of the people condemn conscription in this referendum, I agree to require that it (the Military Act) be considered void and without effect from its very origin, and that in consequence the conscripts be liberated from service and discharged.

"I also agree to vote against any Government that would refuse to adopt the above mentioned policy."

Lucien Cannon has signed this engagement, but Mr. Sevigny flatly refused to affix his signature to it. It is understood this statement will be presented to every candidate in Quebec.

Sevigny Refused Hearing.

Firing revolver shots and smashing every pane of glass in the Hotel Anquet at Saint-Anselme, where the Hon. Albert Sevigny had retired after being refused a chance to speak a single word at the meeting of some 15,000 electors of Dorchester and surrounding counties, the population of Dorchester county manifested warmly against the Union candidacy of Mr. Sevigny this afternoon. This evening the trouble had subsided, but everyone was hot in the determination of keeping Sevigny out of the riding, not only during the campaign but on ballot day also.

Both Messrs. Lucien Cannon (Liberal candidate in the riding) and Ernest Lapointe, M.P. for Kamouraska, were heartily applauded by the meeting at St. Anselme, and, considering the fact that St. Anselme has always been the Conservative stronghold in the county, one may easily gauge public sentiment there in the present electoral campaign.

There were at St. Anselme at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the meeting was called, fully fifteen thousand people. In all, six Liberal speakers took part, and each one was warmly applauded. Armand Lavergne, the Nationalist, was also one of the speakers, and he stated that in this campaign he was, in the name of the Nationalist party, in favor of the candidacy of Lucien Cannon.

When the Trouble Started

The trouble started at the very opening of the meeting, George Dussault, Prefect of the county, was chosen to preside. The meeting opened in front of the Audest Hotel, the Conservative headquarters in the town. It was there that Mr. Sevigny attempted to speak, but the crowd would not hear a word from him. His very appearance at the railing was the signal of a spontaneous outbreak of cries: "Judas!" "You can't cheat us any more!" "Isacot!" "You have sold the blood of your own!" "Down!" Outsiders declare this was the spontaneous cry of thousands of men, and that it could not have been caused by a set or organized interrupters.

Appealing for Hearing

Lucien Cannon, the Liberal candidate, when the trouble broke out, came to the railing and asked the people of Dorchester to at least hear Mr. Sevigny, but the people would not have it. Mr. Lapointe, another Liberal speaker, asked the crowd to keep silence, but they kept on shouting "Down with Sevigny! He has sold the blood of our sons!" After the tumult had lasted twenty full minutes, Mr. Cannon again rose and asked the populace if they would listen to the Liberal speakers. The cry of all was: "Speak, speak; but we won't have Sevigny!" Mr. Cannon then started to speak, but Mr. Dussault and the proprietor of the Audest Hotel told him that they would have no Liberal meeting at their place, so the assembly moved over to another place.

The Liberal speakers included Lucien Cannon, Ernest Lapointe, L. J. Gauthier, late M.P. for St. Hyacinthe, J. N. Francoeur, M.P.P., for Lotbiniere; Lacture Roy, advocate, Onebaco City; Eugene Dussault, Alderman, Quebec city.

From what is heard in other centres of Dorchester county, Mr. Sevigny stands no more chance of being heard elsewhere in the riding. After the window smashing at the Hotel Anquet, it was said the Hon. Mr. Sevigny had escaped by the back door and motored to Quebec city, but late inquiries at all local hotels and in St. Anselme failed to locate him. It is surmised he will leave St. Anselme some time to-night and will proceed to Ottawa.

GUELPH TOOK FINAL GAME

Defeated Galt by Closest Score of Rugby Season.

Galt, Nov. 12.—Guelph College Saturday afternoon at Dickson Park won a hard-fought game from G. C. I. A. and thereby are winners of this district of the Interscholastic League and the Hamilton cup, and are now in line for the Junior O. E. F. U. semi-finals. The score was 7 to 1, and the feature of the game was the splendid exhibition of the locals after their recent bad defeat at Brantford.

Both teams played their best. Guelph scored in the first quarter on a drop-kick, while Galt did not tally until the second quarter, when a kick to the dead-line gave the locals their only point. A kick to the dead-line and another drop-kick by Carroll gave the visitors four more points in the second half. Both lines were about the same weight and both teams tackled well. Meyers, of Galt, had his knee strained, while Hunter Wilson, also of Galt, had his arm broken. The teams:

Guelph—Half-backs, Sleming, Nunn, Carroll, Smith; quarter-back, Creelman; wings, Charlesworth, Buckland, McNally, Wilkinson; Co. halfbacks, Hays, McKel, Pequegnat, McNeven.

Galt—Half-backs, Herbert, Kress, Wilson, Meyers; quarter-back, McFadyen; wings, Gardiner, Fink, H. Sneyde, MacKendrick, Risk, Lunn, Moss, A. Sneyde and Kress.

Referee, P. Munro, Toronto. Umpire, J. Carley, Galt.

WORKERS DEMAND REPRESENTATION IN PEACE COUNCIL

Report of American Federation of Labor is Submitted To-day.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 12.—Demand for "adequate and direct" representation of wage earners at the world peace conference is made in the annual report of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, submitted to-day to the Federation in convention here. The report declares that the world war "must wipe out all vestige of the old conceit that the nation belongs to the ruler."

Questions raised by the war occupy virtually the entire report. No room is left for doubt that the United States Government has the unanimous support of organized American labor in the war, and it is asserted with equal emphasis that the vital interests of the average citizen demand that he have a voice in the readjustments to come with the dawn of peace.

Optimism over labor achievements of the last year is tempered with a warning that benefits obtained from emergency opportunities must be based on principles of human welfare and not the result of taking advantage of the nation's necessity. Freedom of expression is upheld, but the report says those who abuse the freedom of the press to undermine the nation's free institutions should be "punished as traitors."

President Wilson's war address to Congress is included in the report, with the declaration adopted by a meeting of union officials last March when it was seen to be inevitable that the European conflict would spread to America. Under the heading "Labor and the War," the report says:

"Under all circumstances it is the duty of any Government to protect its people against wilful and wholesale murder. . . . A people unwilling to make the supreme sacrifice in support of the Government which undertakes to make that principle good are undeserving to live and enjoy the privilege of free, democratic Government."

The duty of wage-earners in the war is emphasized particularly in the section of the report devoted to "Peace Terms," which advocates an international agreement to secure peace and the settlement of the present war without "vindictive indemnities or territorial changes. The section says:

"It is an imperative duty from which there is no escape that wage-earners as well as all other citizens of this Republic and our Government in its righteous effort to defend principles of humanity and to establish democracy in international relations. Because we desire permanent peace it is our duty to fight and sacrifice until these purposes can be achieved.

"When nations can send representatives to negotiate peace terms in accord with this concept, we maintain that the basic provisions of the peace treaty should be formulated with regard to the rights and welfare of the men, women, and children constituting the nations rather than the Governments of the nations. The Government should be only an instrumentality of the people instead of dominating and actuating their lives. This terrific war must wipe out all vestige of the old conceit that the nation belongs to the ruler or Government."

"We hold that the same principles should apply to relations between nations and that secret diplomacy should be replaced by diplomatic representatives responsible to the people of their own country and received by either the Parliament or the country to which they are accredited or by a representative of the people, responsible to them. "Working people have never been properly represented in diplomatic affairs. The future must be constructed upon broader lines than the past. We insist, therefore, that the Government of the United States provide adequate and direct representatives of wage-earners among the plenipotentiaries sent to the Peace Congress, and urge upon the labor movements of other countries to take like action.

"We urge the adoption of the following declarations as the basis upon which peace must be negotiated."

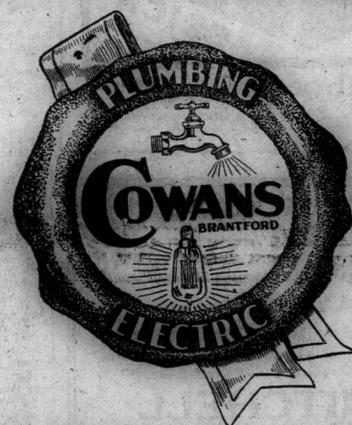

"1. The combination of the free

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once when Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular in passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them into activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorder. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

U. S. STRIKE-BREAKING PLAN.

(Associated Press)

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 12.—American strike-breaking methods were used for the first time in Australia during the general strike of 50,000 men against the "American Taylor System" which marked the month of August in New South Wales. But there was this difference, here it was done not by a corporation but by the government of the state, and the strike-breakers were volunteers—men and women—some of whom refused to accept the pay offered. Rural residents flocked to Sydney by hundreds and the situation presently became practically one of the country against the city.

Leaders of the strike were prosecuted by the National Government headed by the Acting Premier, George W. Fuller. Some of them are awaiting trial on charges of conspiracy or sedition. Fifty odd Industrial Workers of the World were arrested and most of them were sent to jail for six months. This is the extreme penalty under the Unlawful Associations Act lately passed by the Federal Parliament.

CHURCH IS DESPOILED

(Associated Press)

Mexico City, Nov. 12.—Properties the value of which will reach several million dollars, held in the names of private individuals, have been taken over by the government on charges that in reality they belong to the Catholic church and that the persons in whose names they stand are pretended owners. Under the new constitution, all church property becomes property of the nation. The properties are located in the state of Puebla, Durango, Michoacan and Jalisco.

GERMANY MUST TAKE ALL THAT SHE REQUIRES

"CAN BE HINDERED BY NO PUSILLANIMOUS SCRUPLES AFTER THE WAR"

London, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Germany must not be hindered by "pusillanimous scruples" in taking what she wants for the establishment of a colonial empire in America and elsewhere overseas, declares the "program" of the German Colonial Society as translated by the British African Society. The German Society believes the treaty of peace should provide such an empire for Germany in South America.

The German Colonial Society has 250 branches in Germany, and is headed by W. S. Wolf, the German Colonial Secretary, the Duke of Mecklenburg, and Dr. Bernhard Dernburg. Its "program" is a kind of colonial creed for the German Empire. It demands that any possible settlement must, above all, provide Germany with adequate territories capable of white colonization. The three main points are:

"First, an adequate outlet for German emigration and German white industrial activity; second, stepping stones across the Atlantic and Indian oceans, to the New Germany overseas third, the restoration of Germany's tropical and sub-tropical colonies. One of the sub-tropical sections also demands "suitable strategic points in the Pacific."

The preamble says: "Extra-European and Colonial possessions are indispensable, whether regarded ethnically, politically, economically, or ethically. The German people desire to be, as heretofore, a world-directing people, with the German Empire as a great power.

"A colonial empire is essentially African should not suffice us. Besides a fleet, the military and economic security of our foreign and colonial territories requires the possession of strategic points, notably a sufficient number of coaling stations, submarine cables and telegraphs, and fortifications as required.

"The available coaling and cable stations on the route to South America and the African colonies are the Portuguese Canary Islands, the Portuguese Cape Verde Islands, the Portuguese islands in the bights of West Africa, British St. Helena, and the British West Indies, protecting the route to Panama and South America. It is noted that the demands outlined in this respect cover almost all the territories which have never been under German control, and which, in order to meet this program, must spell changes of sovereignty on a very large scale. But, explaining the program, "the great needs of Germany and her allies require the possession of a great colonial empire, and it means the not being hindered by pusillanimous scruples, the more so because a favorable opportunity will not recur for many a long day."

Good Night Stories

Happy Giggles and The Three Brothers

Once upon a time as Happy Giggles wandered through the forest he saw a gold and silver stick and a weeping man. Happy Giggles asked the cause of his grief, and the old man told him he had fallen asleep and that some one had stolen his cane, without which he couldn't walk, and he didn't know how he would get home.

"There, now!" Happy Giggles cried. "Perhaps I can find it for you."

In a breath Happy Giggles was gone, and before you could count two he was back with a silver stick under his arm.

"That's my stick," the old man exclaimed, and he wouldn't take it. Happy Giggles again disappeared returning with a stick of gold studded with wonderful gems, but the old man shook his head.

"That's indeed a wonderful cane, but it belongs to one wealthier than I ever hoped to be," answered the old man. With a smile Happy Giggles again disappeared for the third time, returning with an old twisted stick made out of wood. This the old man packed lovingly and thanked Happy Giggles.

"Friend!" exclaimed Happy Giggles, "you've proved yourself honest and truthful. For this I give you both sticks. Sell them and they'll bring you money enough to live on the rest of your days." Then Happy Giggles vanished from the old man's sight.

The old man hobbled home, and the gold and silver sticks followed him into the house. His two brothers who were very selfish and believed their brother had told them a falsehood, decided to try their luck in the forest.

He had scarcely seated himself on the stone when Happy Giggles appeared and asked why he was weeping. He repeated his brother's words, and Happy Giggles brought a silver stick and a golden one, and without even thanking Happy Giggles he hobbled away.

But the further he went into the forest the hotter the stick grew in his hand, until, crying in pain, he threw it from him. But unseen hands caught the stick and beat him black and blue. Without the stick he could not walk, so he sat down by the roadside to weep, and Happy Giggles turned him into a stump.

The other brother hobbled into the forest, and after throwing away his stick he began to weep. As before, Happy Giggles inquired of his trouble, and like his brothers he told the same tale. He refused the silver stick, because he knew the gold one was more valuable, and when Happy Giggles came with the golden stick covered with jewels he claimed it and quickly started home.

The sunlight shining on the beautiful gem quickly blinded him, and he wandered away into the forest, where Happy Giggles turned him into an owl.

The first brother, through honesty and truthfulness, had to be old age, doing all the good he could. You can still see the stump shaped like the figure of an old man sitting by the roadside, and folks say that the owl cannot bear the light of the sun, but only comes out at night to bewail the folly of his greediness with mournful cries.

In the centre of the town where they had lived there stands to-day a statue of the man who was loved and honored for his honesty and truthfulness. Each brother had received his just reward.

LOYAL TALKERS

A lot of old fogies who are too gray to fight, sit around and smoke our stogies, and jabber day and night. We tell about the scrapping we'd do if we were young; we'd send the Prussian yapping, with buckshot in his lung. We'd prod foes in the stomachs with gleaming swords and lance, and pile our dead in hummocks upon the plains of France. And how we roast the stripling who does not seek the fray, who's quoting Wells and Kipling while others march away! We skin that German royal, who started all the fuss; we are so doggone loyal the children stare at us. But when we're asked politely to dig up for a bond, and keep things cozy right coming to order and beyond, when asked to give assistance, we suddenly recall engagements in the distance, and hike to beat you all. You cannot tear under the light and for his wand, the miser from his plunder, the gold brick from his god. Oh, talk is cheap and filling; we'll can boost the flag; but ask us for a shilling, and see us wilt the sag!

PRISONERS' TREATMENT.

The Hague, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence)—At the recent conference held here by British and German delegates to discuss the question of treatment and exchange of prisoners, the Germans entered the conference room from a door on one side of the room and the English from a door on the opposite side. The Dutch delegates were already seated at the table in the midst of the room. No conversation took place except upon the business of the conference.

Before the conference ended, the chief of the German delegation rose and insisted upon thanking the British warmly for the way in which their prisoners had been treated. He said no other country had behaved so well. The English commissioner, on his part, bowed, but did not return the compliment.

SIDE TALKS

BY RUTH YERGEN CAMERON
WHAT GUESTS DON'T BRING.

Guests are funny things. Hosts are too, I suppose, but just now I'm looking at the guest's end of the relationship.

Even among well bred people there are many who make queer guests, and one of the most common of their idiosyncrasies is the habit of depending on the host for many things they would naturally bring.

Yet They Had Bathing Suits at Home

Take bathing suits for instance. This summer I have seen at least half a dozen of her guests wearing the bathing suit of a friend of mine. Most of them had suits at home; they all knew they were coming to a place where bathing was the chief diversion, and yet one after another would appear without a bathing suit and then permit themselves to be persuaded to borrow one of the hostesses' suits. To be sure she was perfectly willing to lend but why on earth wouldn't they want to bring their own?

Only One Brought An Apron

Another hostess told me that only one of all her summer guests brought an apron. Yet they all knew that they were coming to a place where they would probably want to pitch in and help. And they all borrowed hers.

And Then They Borrow Stamps

Of course the week-end guest has not room in her traveling bag for everything she might happen to need, but guests who bring trunks and come for a longer period often take it as a matter of course that the hostess should supply such things as:

Writing paper and quite frequently they "borrow" whatever stamps they need.

Common pins.

Safety pins.

Hair pins.

Sewing outfit.

I don't suppose there is a hostess living who isn't perfectly willing to supply any and all of these unimportant articles. It isn't that she isn't willing to give, but she does wonder sometimes that they are so willing to ask.

UNABLE TO WORK FOR SIX MONTHS

"Tanlac Has Brought Me Out of My Troubles Something Wonderful," He Says.

"Honestly if it hadn't been for Tanlac I might have lost my job that I have held now for eighteen years, and my wife is so delighted over my improvement that she has started taking Tanlac too," declared George Shields, a long time employee of the Grand Trunk Railway, and residing on High St., London, the other day.

"When I came down with that spell of typhoid fever some time ago," he continued, "I wasn't able to do a lick of work for six months. My appetite left me and I just had to force down enough to keep alive, and it looked like I never would get back my strength. Anything but the lightest kind of diet would tear me all to pieces and make me miserable all day. My nerves were all unstrung and the least little thing would excite me so I couldn't rest. I would wake up half a dozen times in the night, and felt so wretched it was all I could do to get up in the mornings. I was so weak and run-down that I couldn't even lift a trunk afterwards, and I had so little life and energy left that I just felt like dropping down anywhere and staying there."

"I heard so much about Tanlac that I got a bottle and it has certainly brought me out of my troubles something wonderful. My appetite has increased so I feel hungry all the time and I can eat such things as cabbage and pork without the least trouble. I have gained three pounds and can handle heavy baggage with ease or do any other hard work that comes in my line. My nerves are in fine shape. I sleep as sound as a log all night and get up ready to tackle anything. I never have that tired, worn-out feeling any more and at the rate I am now improving I am sure that Tanlac will soon make me as well and strong as I ever was."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson and Co., Ltd., in Paris by Apps, Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by A. Yeomans, and in Middleport by William Peldide.

"Ugly for the white man you were thrown among!" he cried with rising indignation that half suffocated him. "I always hated the life of cities. Now I am ashamed of my race into the bargain. Nahya, if I could make it up to you in some way!"

"It is nothing to me now," she said quickly.
"Nahya, I've got to tell you how it made me feel," he went on in a low, moved voice. "I couldn't sleep without telling you. It made me mad with rage that things like that could happen to a woman like you."

"You ought to be the happiest woman in the world! And—and there's something else. I wish I could say it right. You don't know how fine you are. Nahya, I wish I could see you who are wonderful! I never knew anybody like you. When I think of myself, what I have been, I feel as if I should go down on my knees to you."

"I suppose every man is born with a dream in his heart of a woman like you, brave and good and true like you, but few men meet her!"
"This was infinitely worse to her than the silence. 'Don't talk! Don't talk!' she murmured in a voice sharp with apprehension. 'It hurts me.'"

Ralph's bursting heart, having found an outlet, was not to be stopped.
"I love you," he said.

A queer little cry escaped her. She instinctively drove her paddle into the water, but Ralph clung to her canoe. She dropped the paddle and covered her face with her hands. Ralph, misinterpreting the cry, was wounded to the quick.

"It's not the same!" he cried. "I am different from those others. I love you truly with the best there is in me. This is for life, Nahya!"
"Me, a red girl!" she murmured.

"You are crazy!"
"I don't care about that," he said quickly. "You're the woman I have dreamed of all my life!"

Her hands came down from her face and gripped the sides of the canoe. Ralph covered one of them with his own. She snatched it away. "Stop! Stop!" she murmured.

"This is madness! You and I! What good could come of it?"
"Come of it?" said Ralph. "I'm asking you to marry me."

"Marry!" she whispered with a piteous catch in her breath. Her hands were twisted together in a way that he knew. "Let me go," she said imploringly. "Please, please let me go!"

"No!" he said grimly. "There's no use running away from it. You and I have got to have it out here and now."

His voice deepened into tenderness again. "I love you," he said. "I ask you to marry me. Why does that distress you so?"

"Wait!" she whispered shakily. "We must quiet down. We must think. There is much to be said. I must say it. Let me be quiet."

"All right," he said in his deepest note. "I'll wait. When it's the real thing a man can be patient." He suddenly leaned toward her again.

"Ah, if you know how I loved you! With every bit of good there is in me! I want to do the best thing for you. I want to take care of you! I can't tell you how I feel. It will take years to show it!"

"Oh, don't!" she whispered painfully and low. "This hurt me more than those things I told you. Nothing can come of it. I have a curse on me!"

"That's nonsense!" cried Ralph quickly. "I'll take care of the curse."
"There is no place in all the world where we could go," she breathed.

"We will stay here," said Ralph. "Don't you understand I am willing to give up everything I have known. It's no sacrifice, because I never set any store by it anyway. There's a good work to be done here. I'll help you."

"You are white," she murmured. "You cannot live here."
"Nahya!" he said reproachfully.

"Wait!" she said. "Let me say it all! It must be said!" Her voice was gaining in strength and assurance. "I must wish I could say it just right. They are happy here now. I have sworn to St. Jean to keep them from the whites!"

"St. Jean Bateese likes me," put in Ralph.
"Why not?" she said. "We think you are a good man. But you are white. You have the white man's strong eye. Oh, if I could say it right!"

"If you come here you do not want it, but you are soon the master. You have many thoughts they cannot understand—white men's thoughts—and your eye is more strong than theirs. They try to be like you and they lose themselves. They cannot be the same as you, and so they are nothing."

"But you," said Ralph, "you and I understand each other, and you get along here."
"Because I have the same blood in me," she answered. "I know them without speaking. You do not know them."

"I will make myself one of them!" cried Ralph.
"I have seen white men do that," Nahya said relentlessly. "When they come to live in a Teepee Indian way the red people scorn them. The white men hang their heads and look out sideways like beaten dogs. They never forget they white once. That is worse."

Ralph in his eagerness to persuade her scarcely listened to what she said. "If you don't want me here let us go and live outside the valley," he cried. "You have started them right; you could come and see them sometimes. I would not come."
She shook her head.

"It is madness!" she murmured. "Always I am thinking that. If you marry me other white men laugh and call you fool. If all white men think little of you, you never be big man among."
"By and by some white women will come in this country. White women hate me, and hate you for taking me. We always alone. You sicken of me then—oh, I have seen it! If I have children they cursed like me!"

She paused. Passion shook the quiet voice.
"I would kill my children before that come to them!" Her voice rose, impatient at last with too much pain. "I can't say it right. What's the use? Somehow it is wrong. White must mate with white and red with red. Me, I am nothing; I will go alone."
Her last words stabbed at his breast like a knife. He leaned toward her.

"I won't have it!" he cried passionately. "You make me mad when you talk that way. You're crazy on the subject. Oh, I don't blame you! The finest woman God ever made to be wasted!"

"It's not possible! I love you with all my heart and soul! I think you love me back again—you hesitate. What do all these things matter? If you love me you've got to marry me."

"I hesitate—why not?" she said quickly. She had full command of herself now. "I am a poor red girl. A white man, a doctor, ask me to marry him. It is a great thing for me. I hesitate. But I know now. I will not do it."

"Give me a straight answer!" cried Ralph. "Do you love me?"
There was silence for the space of time between the opening and the closing of a door. Ralph hung upon her answer with all his faculties suspended. He heard her draw a steady breath.

"No!" she said.
The soft clearness with which she produced it was horribly convincing. So strong a spell had her honesty cast upon him that he never questioned her denial.

He fell back into his own canoe, and the two drifted a little apart.
He remained motionless on his knees, his hands grasping the gunwales mechanically. His world was tumbling around his ears. The moonlight was flat and garish.

As yet he felt no pain; only an immeasurable disgust of living.
Nahya became alarmed by his silence. "What are you thinking?" she asked sharply.

With an immense effort Ralph pulled himself together. "It's all right," his lips said. The voice that issued from them was strange in his ears.

"I have been a fool, that's all. You have not been to blame in any way." He picked up his paddle like an automaton. "Let us go back," he said in the same quiet, still voice.

Later he said: "I will go away just as soon as I can leave your mother."
"I can dress her arm," Nahya said, "or Ahaiweh can. I have taught her."

"All right," Ralph said. "I'll start to-morrow."

SILVER LOST
Associated Press
London, Nov. 12.—An iron box containing $23,000 in silver, sent for the relief of the Serbian army after its march across country to the Adriatic, fell into the sea at Durazzo when being landed. Announcement of the loss was made by a war-office official in giving evidence before the committee of public accounts. Divers were sent down in an effort to locate the treasure, but failed to find it.

A private cable received at Montreal reports that Lieut. Talbot Peaplaneau, M.C., cousin of Henri Bourassa, and one of the original Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry officers, had been killed in action. He was a Rhodes scholar.

OFFICIAL PROSPECTUS

The Proceeds of this Loan will be used for War purposes only, and will be spent wholly in Canada.

The MINISTER OF FINANCE offers for Public Subscription

Canada's Victory Loan

Issue of $150,000,000. 5½% Gold Bonds

Bearing interest from December 1st, 1917, and offered in three maturities, the choice of which is optional with the subscriber, as follows:

5 year Bonds due December 1st, 1922
10 year Bonds due December 1st, 1927
20 year Bonds due December 1st, 1937

This Loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest are a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The amount of this issue is $150,000,000, exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds of previous issues. The Minister of Finance, however, reserves the right to allot the whole or any part of the amount subscribed in excess of $150,000,000.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold

Denominations: $50, $100, $500 and $1,000

Subscriptions must be in sums of $50 or multiples thereof.

Principal payable without charge at the Office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the Office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria.

Interest payable, without charge, half-yearly, June 1st and December 1st, at any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Bearer or Registered Bonds

Bonds may be registered as to principal or as to principal and interest.

Scrip certificates, non-negotiable, or payable to bearer, in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds, will be issued after allotment in exchange for provisional receipts. When these scrip certificates have been paid in full, and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money, they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached, payable to bearer, or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of interim certificates and of definitive bonds will be made through the Chartered Banks.

Bearer bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, and may be registered as to principal only. Fully registered bonds, the interest on which is paid direct to the owner by Government cheque, will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

Subject to the payment of 25 cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons, will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons, at any time, on application to the Minister of Finance.

Surrender of Bonds

Holders of Dominion of Canada Debenture Stock, due October 1st, 1919, and of bonds of the three preceding Dominion of Canada War Loan issues, have the privilege of surrendering their bonds in part payment for subscriptions to bonds of this issue, under the following conditions:—

Debenture Stock, due October 1st, 1919, at Par and Accrued Interest.

War Loan Bonds, due December 1st, 1925, at 97½ and Accrued Interest.

(The above will be accepted in part payment for bonds of any of the three maturities of this issue.)

War Loan Bonds, due October 1st, 1931, at 97½ and Accrued Interest.

War Loan Bonds, due March 1st, 1937, at 96 and Accrued Interest.

(These will be accepted in part payment for bonds of the 1937 maturity ONLY of this issue.)

Bonds of the various maturities of this issue will, in the event of future issues of like maturity, or longer, made by the Government, other than issues made abroad, be accepted at par and accrued interest, as the equivalent of cash for the purpose of subscription to such issues.

Issue Price Par

Free from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

Payment to be made as follows:

10% on December 1st, 1917	20% on March 1st, 1918
10% on January 2nd, 1918	20% on April 1st, 1918
20% on February 1st, 1918	20% on May 1st, 1918

A full half year's interest will be paid on 1st June, 1918

The Bonds therefore give a net yield to the investor of about:

5.61% on the 20 year Bonds
5.68% on the 10 year Bonds
5.81% on the 5 year Bonds

All payments are to be made to a Chartered Bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation. Subscriptions accompanied by a deposit of 10% of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a Chartered Bank. Any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank will forward subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied toward payment of the amount due on the January instalment.

Subscriptions may be paid in full on January 2nd, 1918, or on any instalment due date thereafter under discount at the rate of 5½% per annum. Under this provision payments of the balance of subscriptions may be made as follows:

If paid on January 2nd, 1918, at the rate of 89.10795 per $100.
If paid on February 1st, 1918, at the rate of 79.46950 per $100.
If paid on March 1st, 1918, at the rate of 69.72274 per $100.
If paid on April 1st, 1918, at the rate of 59.90950 per $100.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank, or from any Victory Loan Committee, or member thereof.

The books of the Loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of this issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Subscription Lists will close on or before December 1st, 1917.

peoples of the world in a common covenant for genuine and practical co-operation to secure justice and therefore peace in relations between nations.

"2. Governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed.

"3. No political or economic restrictions meant to benefit some nations and to cripple or embarrass other.

"4. No indemnities or reprisals based upon vindictive purposes or delinquents desire to injure, but to right manifest wrongs.

"5. Recognition of the rights of small nations and of the principle 'No people must be forced under sovereignty under which it does not wish to live.'

"6. No territorial changes or adjustment of power except in furtherance of the welfare of the peoples affected and in furtherance of world peace.

"In addition to these basic principles which are based upon declarations of our President of these United States, they should be incorporated in the treaty that shall constitute the guide of nations in the period and conditions into which we enter at the close of this war are the following declarations, fundamental to the best interests of all nations and of vital importance to wage-earners.

Heavy Bombardment

River Prelude to Offensive Operations

By Courier Leased Wire. Italian headquarters in Italy, Monday, Nov. 12.—(Associated Press)—A heavy bombardment is in progress along the lower Piave River. The opening stages of operations on this line. The general engagement is impending largely upon the end the Italians are now entrenched in the river and fighting tactics along the stream, a re-established forces check further extension of the Austrian offensive.

The engagements thus consisted of episodes at points, although the shelling almost uninterrupted for miles along the lower Piave crash of some enemy heavy now heard showing that the trians and Germans have to bring up a few of these pieces.

No longer is a secret matter that the Piave is the line to which the supreme has been bending its energy for the last ten days. The front of this line joins the front, making virtually one front, sweeping in a huge Lake Garda to the mouth Piave, near Venice.

Precautionary measures to protect Venice continue, but those long range guns are off, should attempt to bombard famous art centre. The Doges has been covered and the delicate facade has been covered with timbers. The Campanile bags for forty feet around. The Grand Canal is filled with dolos which are being transportation purposes.
