Rare Chance to Secure a College Education.

We have made arrangements that enable us to place within the reach of a limited number of deserving students, opportunities for securing, on easy terms, a classical or commercial education. A little work during the vacation season will secure this for the one worthily striving for such a boon, but who may not be in possession of sufficient money to realize his heart's desire. The facilities at our disposal enable us to offer a year's board and tuition at

St. Dunstan's College

to any three young men who will fulfill the necessary, easy conditions required. These may be beginners, or former students of the College who have not been able to complete their course. In addition to this we have at our disposal four scholarships at the

of Charlottetown. A full course in this excellent Commercial College may be won by any four young men or women, in town or country, who will fulfill the easy conditions we require. Whenever anyone satisfies the requirements in either of the cases enumerated he or she will be given a certificate entitling the holder to the educational advantages offered. A rare opportunity is here placed within reach of those desirous of acquiring a good education, and no time should be lost in taking advantage thereof. Only a little work is required in order to secure the coveted boon, and all can easily be accomplished during this summer's vacation, so that the winners may enter either college at the opening of the next academic year.

CHARLOTTETOWN.

The Faith in the Hebrides.

Thursday, the 8th of November, was a red-letter day in the annals of Barra. People assembled from all parts of the island, as well as Brackay and distant Mangulay, to assist at the solemn opening by his Lordship the Bishop of Argyll and the Isles of the new chapel, which is dedicated to St. Bar, the patron saint of the island. Near by are the hallowed ruins of old St. Bar's or Kilbar, where still may be seen the remains of the old altar, and in a recess near the entrance, the holy water stoup, which tradition affirms was never known to be without water through the changing years and times and tides, bearing silent yet eloquent witness of the unchanging faith in Barra. New St. Bar's, in every way the worthy successor of the old, was filled to overflowing by a congregation of well over 300 people. Pontifical High Mass was sung, for the first time on record in Barra, by his Lordship the Bishop, with Father M'Donnell, of Dalibrog, as assistant priest, and Father Cameron, of Beubeaul, and Father M'Neil, of Brackay, as deacon and sub-deacon respectively. Father McMillan of Bigg, acted as master of ceremonies. A select choir of priests from Glasgow, under the leadership of Dr. Rogan, gave a masterly rendering of the Gregorian Mass for the Octave of All Saints, the whole ceremony being followed with the deepest devotion and interest by the pious island Catholics. The preacher for the occasion was the Very Rev. Archibald Campbell, S. J., of St. Joseph's Glasgow, as well known both for his biding interest in the welfare of his fellow Highland Catholics in Glasgow and his missionary labours in the Hebrides.

The following is the substance of the very able Gaelic sermon delivered by Father Campbell on the interesting occasion:—Twenty years ago last autumn, said the rev. preacher, the restored Hierarchy of Scotland met in a General Provincial Council in the Benedictine Abbey of Fort-Augustin. There were present the two Archbishops of St. Andrews and Edinburgh and of Glasgow respectively, with the four Suffragan Bishops of the Province of St. Andrews and Edinburgh along with the principal clergy of the country. The Fathers assembled raised their voices in grateful thanksgiving to God and to the Visar of Christ for having again restored the Church of Scotland to its place among the Churches of Christendom, after a widowhood of three hundred years. They expressed a sincere hope, despite the ravages of the Reformation, that better things were in store in the centuries to come for this Church which was in ages past the "special daughter of the Holy See," and while they deplored the general destruction of the faith throughout the kingdom, they were cheered with the thought that there were still spots in our benighted country where the faith was as pure and as lively, and even more so, if possible than in the days of St. Columba, St. Brendan, and St. Bar. These places all knew were Banffshire, Glenlivet, and Braemar, Strathglass, Glangarry, and Lochaber, Arislag, Moidart, Morar, and Knoydart on the mainland; the Isles of Eigg and Ganna, Beubeaul, South Uist, and Brackay, and last indeed, but not least, this island of St. Bar, and of St. Brendan, and the island of Mingulay. You, my dear Catholics, have heard of this so-called Reformation; to you this word has no meaning, neither its nor so-called civilization in its worse meaning has ever tainted the faith handed down to you from generation to generation in our dear country. That your faith is a very lively one is proved in your daily lives, and within the last twenty years you have given a practical proof of the liveliness of your faith. Within the recollection of almost the youngest amongst you there was but one Catholic Church in the civil parish of Barra. Now, however, we find no less than four beautiful Catholic churches in this district. The Church of Our Lady Star of the Sea at Castleby rears its head as a thing of beauty to all who enter the bay, and its congregation has every right to be proud of it. The church in the lonely island of Mingulay is dear to its Catholic-hearted inhabitants, and today we are gathered together in God's name; headed by our dear and respected chief pastor, to open a House of God in this northern portion of the island. You, my Catholic Brethren, have reason to be proud of this beautiful edifice, and your beloved pastor will find himself a hundredfold repaid for the energy and devotion which he has shown in this undertaking. Here in your very midst is a house built for the indwelling of Almighty God—"for My house is a house of prayer." The royal bard said: "I love the beauty of Thy house and the place where Thy glory dwelleth." Not indeed an old shall His glory dwell herein, but in His hidden life in the Tabernacle. Here will the Holy Sacrifice be offered up, as it is offered up today for the first time. Here will the Sacraments be dispensed, and here will the Word of God be preached unto you. "At the same time I must not deceive you; this cannot be called the House of God until every farthing of the debt is paid. Nothing saintly, nothing worthy of the Lord, can be offered unto Him—the gift must be unspotted and without blemish."

"The new church stands on a slight eminence at the head of North Bay. The following are the dimensions—64 feet in length and 25 feet in width, internally 16 feet in height. It is built in a very handsome and substantial manner, of native grey stone. The building presents a very pleasing aspect to the eye with its tall lancet windows, six on each side, and a large triple window in the south gable. There is a very commodious porch, with a companion building which forms a neat and serviceable society. The building is from designs kindly supplied by Mr. Wolfe Brennan, architect, Oban, who was likewise the designer of the Church of Our Lady Star of the Sea, Castleby, whose massive Norman tower with its handsome clock, commands the approach to Castleby, and excites the admiring comments of all who call there—Glasgow Observer.

The Lives of the Popes.

(Sacred Heart Review)

We take pleasure in announcing the publication of the third volume of the "Lives of the Popes" by the Rev. Horace K. Mann of England. The present book contains the lives of the seven pontiffs who occupied the papal chair from 1858 to 1914. St. Nicholas I., Hadrian II., John VIII., Marcius I., Hadrian III., Stephen (V.) VI. In this work Father Mann displays the keen discernment and the accurate expression of the true historian. As a sample of his clear and forcible style we give the opening paragraph:—

"In Nicholas I., the Saint and the Great, we have not only the greatest Pontiff of his century, but one of the greatest of the very long line of grand characters who have in every age adorned the Chair of Peter. It is a saying no less true than trite that of those few to whom men have accorded the title of Great, still fewer, if their claims be weighed in the balance of reason and not of sentiment, have been worthy of it. But to very few indeed have any large body of men ever given the combined titles of Great and Saint. Nicholas I. is one of that rare company who have been so honored, and in this case the distinction has been conferred on very solid grounds. In the troublous and stormy times in which his days were cast, he was the pharos to which men, buffeted about by the angry waves of life, looked with eager hope. It mattered not what was the grief under which they were groaning; it was all one whether they were strong men or helpless women; whether they were in authority or in subjection, whether they were bishops or simple clerics, peers or peasants they all in their distress turned to Nicholas; they all flocked to him as to their common father. For he did not raise his voice merely in commanding tones to warn men from the ways in which they should not tread, or to point out to them the narrow road which led to life, eternal, but in encouragement also to help them faint, weary, or wilful, along it."

No scholar who is interested in the history of the Church can afford to be without this valuable work. Published by B. Herder, St. Louis, Mo. Price $3.00.

Items of Interest.

Protestantism in Germany is evidently something different from Christianity. The "Frankfurter Zeitung" says that at least one-half of the theological professors and doctors in the Protestant faculties of the German universities deny in toto the doctrine concerning Christ's miraculous birth.

Dromore, County Down, Ireland was a scene of great rejoicing the other day, when the Right Rev. Mr. McCartan, P. P.; V. G., celebrated the golden jubilee of his ordination.

The death of Dr. von Stablawski Archbishop of Gessen and Posen, will probably give rise to a good deal of discussion, as the Poles will be anxious to secure a Polish successor, and the Germans, as already evident, will strive to prevent the appointment of any one but a German. The Archbishop, whose death has evoked expressions of deep regret from the Holy Father and from the people of the archdiocese, has been represented in some of the papers as a very combative pro-Pole and an active promoter of the present strife of Polish school children. But our Catholic contemporary of Gologny, the "Vollzeitung," whose words may be taken as reliable, says that his death was due to an ague, just and despatch chief pastor for the members of both nationalities—"ein gleich gerechter und furchtloser Oberhirt—für die Angehörigen beider Nationalitäten." The appointment of Mr. von Stablawski to Gessen and Posen was all the more noteworthy, since the last Polish prelate, Count Ledochowski, who had held the see of St. Adalbert, was imprisoned by Prince Bismarck. His successor Dr. Dinder, was a German, who died shortly after his appointment. Mr. von Stablawski as Archbishop showed sympathy with the Polish fellow-countrymen, but although he habitually styled himself "Prince Primate of Poland," he maintained a studied reserve in his public utterances. He will be remembered by his fellow-countrymen as a true patriot.

The young Queen of Spain has become a Child of Mary. "El Universo," of Madrid, says: "Last Friday her Majesty Queen Victoria, accompanied by the Duchess de San Carlos, visited the convent school of the Sacred Heart for the purpose of being enrolled in the Congregation of the Children of Mary. The august visitor was received by the Bishop of Sion and the superior of the convent, with many ecclesiastics and persons of distinction. The ceremony was performed with great solemnity in the beautiful chapel of the convent. The young Queen, who is the daughter of the school, many of whom wore their medals of Children of Mary. Hymns were sung in Spanish and English, and many tasteful gifts were presented to the "Flower of the North," as the Spanish people call their new queen. Her Majesty accepted them with pleasure and left wearing her medal conspicuously on her breast. Her piety had much impressed her new subjects, and has been a crushing and eloquent rebuke to those who desire to win distinction for themselves by persecuting the religious orders."

Here is a sad instance of how the campaign against Christianity is being carried on in France. The Prefect of Le Lozère has demanded the secularization of the lying-in hospital at Mende, and, pending that event, has decided that no infants born at the maternity hospital shall be baptized under any pretext whatever. Even should the newborn child be in imminent danger of death, the mother is forbidden to ask for its baptism. Yet the law of separation in its first article makes this declaration: "The Republic assures liberty of conscience." "It guarantees the free exercise of religion." We see from this what the promises of the French Government are worth.

Through the death of Archduke Otto, his widow, Archduchess Maria Josefa, is compelled to relinquish her high position as first lady at the Austro-Hungarian court. There has been much speculation in aristocratic circles as to which of the Archduchesses would succeed her. After much consideration, the Emperor has decided in favor of his niece, Archduchess Maria Annunziata, half-sister of Otto and abbess of the famous Theresian Convent of Noble Ladies at Pagan. The position of first lady at court is one of great honor and dignity, its occupant virtually playing the role of Empress.

With reference to the threatened closing of the world-famous shrine of Lourdes, an important session is about to be taken by the Catholic medical faculty of France. With the approval of the Bishop of Montpelier, Dr. Vincent, a proponent of Lyons, is organizing an appeal, to be signed by the entire medical faculty of France, to the French Government against such an outrage on Catholic sentiment.

The Pope has appointed as his private physician Dr. Giuseppe Patocci, and as his consulting physician Dr. Ettore Marchisiani, professor of pathology at the University of Rome.

THREE TRYING TIMES IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

There are three periods of a woman's life when she is in need of the heart strengthening, nerve tonic, blood purifying action of—

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The first of these is when the young girl enters the portals of womanhood. At this time she is very often pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption or be a weak woman for life.

The second period is motherhood. The duties of the mother are great and the unaccustomed nerve strain and depleted blood require strengthening. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills supply the elements needed to do this.

The third period is "change of life" and this is the period when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles. A tremendous change is taking place in the system, and it is at this time many chronic diseases manifest themselves. Especially the heart and nerve system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and their life over the dangerous period. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled very much with heart trouble—the cause being to a great extent due to 'change of life.' I have been taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so, for I have ever used for building up the system. You see at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers." Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers, or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MINARD'S LINIMENTS

In a little village there once lived a boy who was supposed to be dull-witted, says a writer in the "Latter." The men of the village used to find great amusement in offering him the choice between a three penny bit and a penny, of which he invariably chose the penny.

A stranger one day saw him choose the penny rather than the three-penny bit, and asked him for the reason.

"Is it because the penny is larger?" the stranger asked.

"No," was the response, "not 'cause it is the biggest. But if I took the threepenny bit they'd soon stop offering it."

"I suppose your late uncle didn't fail to remember you in his will?" said the sympathetic friend.

"You can hardly call it a remembrance," replied the poor relation.

"It was more like a faint recollection!"

There is nothing harsh about Laxative Pills. They cure Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, and Bilious Spells without griping, purging or sickening. Price 25c.

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere.

Little Johnnie had been taken on a round of calls by his mother, and at the house they had visited last he had made some remarkable statements in boasting of the grandeur of his own home.

"Now, Jobnie," said his mother, sternly, as they sat in the car on their way home, "you should never tell fibs, and if I catch you doing it again I'll punish you severely. Now, get well back in the seat and draw in your legs, and try and look as small as you can when I tell the conductor you are only three."

Beware of Worms.

Don't let worms gnaw at the vitals of your children. Give them Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup and they'll soon be rid of these parasites. Price 50c.

MR. MURDOCK KENNEDY, Conservative, was elected in opposition to the Provincial Government in the by-election in the first district of Queen's County on Wednesday last. This district has been a Liberal stronghold for many years, and the election of Mr. Kennedy against the combined force and influence of both the Provincial and Dominion Governments, may fairly be regarded as notice to the Peter's Government that the people have no confidence in them.

The Premier, Mr. Warburton, the Grit candidate for the House of Commons, Captain Joseph Reid, Mr. John M. Clark, and all other available material were enlisted in the campaign in an attempt to win the election for Cousins, the Liberal Government candidate. But the Government record was too bad and its political sins too grievous to be condoned, even by such a strong Liberal constituency as that of the first district, and the electors there pronounced against them.

The Leader of the opposition, Mr. Mathison, and Mr. A. A. McLean M. P. took part in the campaign in behalf of Mr. Kennedy and showed up the maladministration of the Government so effectively that the people were thoroughly convinced and evidenced their determination to punish the Government by turning down Mr. Cousins and triumphantly electing Mr. Kennedy. The principal financial question discussed before the electors was the readjustment of subsidies recently agreed upon by the Provincial Premiers. On this matter, Mr. Mathison Mr. McLean and Mr. Kennedy pointed out in the most convincing manner that Premier Peters made a disastrous bargain for this Province by agreeing to accept $70,000 in full settlement of our claims. Beyond the possibility of contradiction the Leader of the Opposition and his friends showed that this Province did not receive one-half of what it should in this readjustment, and that Premier Peters in agreeing to the argument had sacrificed our rights.

The people of the first district, heard both sides of the agreement and decided against the Government by electing Mr. Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy's majority is forty-five. At the general election, Mr. Simpson had a majority of thirty-eight. It will thus be seen that there has been quite a change in the opinions of the electors. We congratulate Mr. Kennedy on his victory and the Leader of the opposition on his success in winning one of the enemy's strongholds.

Several cases of suffering, three of which are likely to prove fatal, were reported to the New York police as the result of last Sunday's cold snap. Two men and women were taken to Bellevue Hospital late that night, suffering from exposure. Mrs. Helen Steacy, aged sixty years, was found unconscious on West River Dock. Two men were found senseless in a doorway on the east side. One of them had a card in his pocket bearing the name of William Higgins. There is no means of identifying the couple. Should the men survive they will probably lose lower limb.

Dr. John McDonald, a native of Mount Stewart, and nephew of Rev. Donald McDonald, Tignish, died at Chatham, N. B. on the 15th inst. He had been practicing his profession at Chatham for about twenty-five years. He was highly esteemed professionally and personally. He leaves to mourn a widow, besides an aged mother at Mount Stewart, two brothers and two sisters.

Ottawa, Dec. 15, 1906.

The first division of the Session took place on Monday of this week, on a motion of Mr. Herron, Conservative of Alberta. Some of Mr. Herron's constituents, with the great body of settlers in the North West have suffered much and are in danger of suffering more from the coal famine caused by strikes at the mines in Lethbridge and elsewhere. Eastern people not wholly dependent on coal for fuel can hardly understand what it means to be without a fuel supply in the prairie region during the winter. The mines in Alberta can easily supply the immense unworked coal areas held by private individuals. The Government also owns large coal deposits. Wherefore Mr. Herron moved a resolution declaring that Government coal lands should hereafter only be sold or leased on conditions providing for an immediate supply of coal sufficient for the requirements of the people, at a reasonable price, and that respecting coal lands already granted the Government should impose such regulations as would prevent the loss and suffering of the people for want of fuel.

CALLING FOR ACTION.

Mr. Herron and other speakers pointed out that coal lands had been sold by the government for $7.10 an acre, that coal was shipped daily to United States from Alberta by American mine owners, that one foreigner had bought a productive mine and closed it up, that hundreds of thousands of people living on the open plains, hundreds of miles from fire wood, were suffering from the cold, and that where coal could be had the price was four times what it should be. His view was supported by the other Conservative Members from Manitoba and the West and the conditions of affairs above described is not disputed by the Government.

SHELVED BY PARTY VOTE.

But Mr. Oliver raised many excuses. He said the trouble was lack of transportation and labor difficulties and the Government had no power to do much about it. Finally he put up a private member to offer an amendment setting forth that the suffering in the West did not arise from defects in our legislation but from transportation and labor troubles. This amendment did not go very far to protect the Western people from freezing, but served to shelve the question for the time. It was carried by a straight party majority of thirty-seven.

MR. BORDEN TAKES THE LEAD.

Even though labor troubles brought on the coal famine, it does not follow that nothing should be done by the government which owns coal lands and is constantly selling them to individuals and companies that fail to furnish coal when it is wanted. Mr. Herron's motion showed the way to meet the difficulty even though existing mining companies could not get along with their men.

Moreover, when the Government pleads that labor troubles cause the fuel famine and the suffering some remedy for labor troubles should follow. In the discussion compulsory arbitration was suggested only to meet the sneers and scorn of ministers. Yet, as Mr. Borden pointed out, compulsory arbitration is the law of New Zealand and some other countries, and it might be better to try it in Canada than to have the people perish for want of fuel. Mr. Borden considers the matter so far practical that he has a motion on the order paper for an inquiry into this method. He asks for a committee of nine members to take evidence and consider whether some such system of arbitration may be enacted and operated in this country. They are to report on this question and specify other amendments to the conciliation law that they may find necessary.

SMALL GRAFT.

During this week much interesting information has been obtained by answers to questions. Referring to dismissals or suspensions in the immigration department, Mr. Oliver stated that one officer was reported by the Audit Department as having claimed and received since July, 1905, the sum of $285 for pullman expenses that were never incurred. Another received $239 on false claims of the same kind. A third obtained $339, a fourth $349, another $85, still another $136, and the sixth got off with $270. The same officers had charged and received from $200 to $600 each as expenses for meals which the Auditor on examining the vouchers had struck out. This discovery implicating half a dozen immigration officials, who worked and agreed together, simply shows that the system of graft established in high places in the interior department is spreading throughout the ranks.

ANOTHER EASY DEPARTMENT.

The Department of Railways seems to be an easy one for a tired official to work. Mr. Emmerson brought down a statement on Monday, explaining that one of his clerks, whose pay has been increased by 50 per cent since 1899, had been absent 190 days since July 1905. Part of the time he was on leave without any reason given, and for the rest he furnished a medical certificate. The superior officer at Moncton refused to certify his pay roll but the delinquent went to the general Manager, who consulted the Minister and payment for the whole time was ordered. The clerk in question has on other occasions shown that he has a peculiar pull with Mr. Emmerson. It is an influence which does not depend on his efficiency in the public service.

WHERE ARE THE NINE?

It may not be generally known that nine immigration agents are employed in Ontario at $100 a month each and travelling expenses, "to assist in distributing farm help." All of them were active politicians before their appointment, and their connection with the political machine is in some cases retained. In this list is the politician who was returned in 1899 as the Member for North Huron, after the by-election in which Mr. Pritchett's school for ballot switching instruction had been successfully engaged.

GROWING TIME FOR NEW YORK ENGRAVERS.

One of the first acts of Mr. Fielding as Minister of Finance was to terminate the arrangement by which the British American Bank Note Company did the engraving for the finance, post office, and inland revenue departments. A new contract was made with a New York concern called the American Bank Note Company, which has done part of its work in New York. It is believed that certain Canadians, not wholly unknown to Ministers, had some interest in the new contract. Mr. Fielding defended the arrangement with the foreign contractor by claiming that the work would be done cheaper under the new deal. As a matter of fact there were variations in the terms for printing bank notes, postage and revenue stamps, so that it was a matter of dispute at the time whether anything was gained by the change.

HOW THE COST ROSE.

A statement made by Mr. Fielding in reply to Mr. Foster on Tuesday may help the reader to understand how much the Government has saved by going to New York. In the year following the change Mr. Fielding's own Department paid $44,853 for engraving. Last year his payment had climbed to $159,973. In the same period the contractor increased his receipts from the Post Office Department from $27,849 to $70,789. The inland revenue engraving increased in the same eight years from $17,545 to $39,032.

Altogether the American Company received $270,000 last year, whereas in 1898, when the contract was new the payments to that concern were $95,600. It is obvious that the New York parties could well afford to persuade Mr. Fielding that he would make money out of the change, when they had in view the possibility of trebling their income from the Government in eight years.

A POPULOUS OFFICE.

The number of employees in the Ottawa office of the Transcontinental Commission has climbed up to 56, with salaries ranging from $50 a month to $5,000 a year. This does not include the four commissioners themselves, whose salaries are $8,000 and $7,000 a year or the chief engineer, who has $6,000. The list begins with the assistant chief engineer at $5,000, a bridge engineer at $3,000 an accountant at $2,400, purchasing agent at $2,400, a law clerk at $2,500, and no end of stenographers, secretaries, clerks, and local purchasing agents. Each of the four Commissioners has a secretary of his own. The commodious offices of the Transcontinental Commission are the happy hunting grounds for all ranks and degrees of persons otherwise out of a job.

NOT NEEDED AT THEIR POST.

Attention has frequently been called to the enormous expense of governing the Yukon with its population of 8,000 people. No one has been able to explain what these high priced officials, whose salary and maintenance costs the people of Canada more than double the total revenue of the district and amount to about $160 a head of the population, can find to do. Some light is thrown upon the subject by an answer which Mr. Oliver gave on Wednesday to an inquiry. The Minister stated that Chief Commissioner Molnes is at present absent from the District. So are Judge Dugas and Judge Craig, F. T. Congdon, legal adviser of the Yukon Government, Mr. Burns, the territory Secretary, Mr. Brown the clerk, and Mr. Laliberte the librarian. The Government is not quite sure whether Mr. Girard the Register and Mr. Dugas were at home or not.

WHAT THESE MEN COST.

It is explained by the Postmaster General that Mr. Hartman, Postmaster at Dawson is also absent, but his departure was caused by domestic affliction. The work of these officials, or of those who have any work, is performed easily by some of the officials who can be so easily spared:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Salary Allowance. Includes Comm'r. Molnes $6000 $6000, Justice Dugas, 5000 5000, Justice Craig, 5000 5000, Mr. Congdon, legal adviser, 5000 2000, Mr. Burns, secretary, 1800 1800, Mr. Girouard, registrar, 4000 1800, Mr. Dugas, 1200 1800, Mr. Hartman, P.M. 5000 900.

IT MIGHT BE SAVED.

Mr. Oliver stated that the salaries of the officers of his department who were away visiting for the winter is $25,000 a year. His calculation is evidently too modest. According to all accounts the public interest of the Yukon would not suffer if two or three dozen other high priced officers would go away and allow their living allowance to drop even if their salaries went on. In the past, however, those who left the District drew their living allowance just the same. It cost over $10,000 to maintain Government House at Dawson in 1905, though during the greater part of the year no one lived in it.

MORE INSPECTORS.

The Minister of Agriculture has introduced a bill providing for government inspection of food canning and meat packing establishments in Canada. So far as can be gathered from the intricate explanations of Mr. Fisher the inspection is mainly for the purpose of satisfying the British importer that Canadian meats are packed under proper conditions. It is not proposed to give a rigid inspection to fish canning operations. These are classed with fruit canning factories as too numerous for official superintendence. Nor does the department intend to be too exacting with regard to food for Canadian consumption. As two opposition members remarked, Mr. Fisher is not troubling himself about the purity or wholesomeness of the food which Canadians eat, but is concerning himself wholly with the customers abroad. Yet while the rigid inspection covers only one class of named goods, and not much with these unless they are to be exported, the army of inspectors is to cost $80,000 the first year, and probably more after the organization is complete. So great is the army of officials to be appointed, most of whom will probably be local political managers, who know nothing about the operations they are to inspect.

A SLOW TARIFF.

Evidently Mr. Fielding has long ago given up the idea of passing his tariff bill before Christmas. The Senate is already on vacation and the house will begin the holidays on Friday next. The ways and means committee, which deals with the tariff clause by clause, has not yet reached the first item in the schedule of duties. There were two Government days this week. Mr. Fielding did not take up the tariff until the evening of the first, and on the second he adjourned the house at the close of the afternoon sitting. It is now pretty clear that the ministers, who have the tariff in charge, are keeping the measure back

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has, after much questioning, announced that his intention is to fill the existing senate vacancies before the session closes. A return brought down shows that the government has paid, or arranged to pay $380,000 for a portion of the land required for the new departmental buildings. The more costly properties to be purchased are yet to be heard from.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

Christmas was dull; the absence of good sleighing precluding much traffic on the streets.

The down-pour of rain for two or three days before Christmas, especially on Monday, took away most of the snow and spoiled the sleighing.

In consequence of the disagreeable weather and bad roads, there was a very small attendance at the market on Monday. Prices were practically unchanged.

Messrs. James A. McNeill, T. B. Grady and John S. Elison, were elected commissioners for water and sewerage for Summerside on Wednesday last.

The Etendale Power Co. of Toronto, an ally of the York County Loan Co., has been sold by the liquidator to the Stark Telephone Co. for $37,500. The bulk of the property is covered by mortgage to secure the bond holders. According to the liquidator about half of the proceeds will go to the York County Loan Co.

The Dominion Government have appointed three members of the new Board of Harbor Commissioners for Montreal. They are: G. W. Stephens, C. C. Ballantyne and L. E. Gouffron. Mr. Stephens' salary as chairman is $7,000, and each of the others $5,000. Their duties begin January 1st.

The whole province of Nova Scotia Saturday and Sunday was in the grip of freshets, the result of which are calculated to prove most disastrous. The result of the two extremes, exceedingly cold and exceedingly mild weather with additional heavy rains have had this effect.

A seven year old boy named Fontaine was burned to death at Sanford, Maine, a few days ago. His mother took two younger children, aged one and three years respectively, and went visiting to a friend's house, leaving the boy alone in the house and locking the door. He is supposed to have been playing with matches.

A line of sleeping cars on the rear of the Montreal and New York night express on the Railroad railroad was derailed a mile and a half north of Shelburne, Vermont, at about 11.30 o'clock last Thursday night, but according to the railroad officials there, no one was killed, and no one severely injured, although both the derailed sleepers tipped over on the track. Several persons are said to have been slightly hurt.

The London Outlook says the reputation of another Lord Eglis not Sir Edward Grey for tactful diplomacy will be enhanced by the correspondence published on the Newfoundland fishery dispute. The Saturday Review says that if the Government had specially designed to irritate Newfoundland over the question of American fishing rights they could not have adopted a style better suited to their object than that used in their despatches.

Nine sailors belonging to the crew of the battleship Hindustan, were drowned at Portsmouth, England, on the 19th, owing to the upsetting of a cutter in which they were returning to the barracks. There were forty men in the cutter and all were thrown into the water. Owing to a heavy fog the boats in the vicinity had difficulty in rescuing 31 of the sailors. Many of the latter were unconscious when picked up.

Late London advices say: It is understood that Bryon's appointment will not take place until the reassembling of Parliament in February. His departure will be signalled by his being raised to the peerage. Inasmuch as his acceptance of the Washington post is now a certainty speculation in the matter of the reconstruction of the cabinet is more active. Nothing new has developed however beyond a rumor that Augustine Birrell, president of the Board of Education, has declined the Irish Secretaryship made vacant by Mr. Bryon's going to Washington.

The members of the Prince Edward Island Club of Boston and their friends, with hold their eleventh annual reunion and ball in Paul Bevere Hall, on Thursday evening, January 25th, 1907. Reception from 7.30 to 8.30; concert 8 to 8.30; dancing 8.30 to 2 a. m. We are indebted to the club, through its Secretary, Mr. E. W. Doyle, for complimentary tickets; but we feel distance and weather conditions will compel us to forego the pleasure. Meantime we trust our Islanders will have a reunion of rare enjoyment.

At St. Dunstan's Cathedral on Christmas Day, Masses began about 8.30, and Masses were celebrated thereafter at 7.30, 9 and 10.30, as on Sunday. In consequence of service being held in the basement, there was no pontifical Mass this year. The last Mass was a high Mass sung by Father Gaudet, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. McLellan. Vespers and Benediction took place in the evening at 7. Masses were celebrated in the convents and in the Hospital Chapel, where priests said the three Masses, that they are permitted to celebrate on Christmas Day only.

Having shot and fatally wounded a new-boy, apparently without provocation, David G. Schnell, a Chicago Board of Trade member, early on Sunday calmly left for his home a few doors away and prepared to take a nap when he was arrested by the police. His victim, fifteen years old, was Bob Thies who was delivering papers in the vicinity of Schnell's home. Schnell thought that he heard footsteps behind him and that he was about to be robbed. He did not wait to see the result of his shot, knowing that it would arouse the neighborhood.
