BREACH OF FAITH ALLEGED

President Issues Indignant Denial That He Promised to Appoint Dewey to Paris.

Washington, April 2.—President Roosevelt characterizes the statement contained in a letter published this morning—purporting to have been written by E. H. Harriman to Sidney Webster, as "a deliberate and willful untruth—by right it should be characterized by an even shorter and more ugly word. I never requested Mr. Harriman to raise a dollar for the presidential campaign of 1904."

The president dictated the following statement:

"After writing certain letters to Congressmen Sherman on Oct. 3 and 4, 1906, the president was assured by Mr. Harriman that he would not make the statements which Mr. Sherman credited him with making. Inasmuch as the same statements appear in the major part in the letter of Mr. Harriman now published, the president deems it proper that the letters he sent to Congressmen Sherman be made public."

The president says in his letter to Mr. Sherman:

"It shows a cynicism and deep-seated corruption, which makes the man uttering such sentiments and boasting of his own honesty, and his willingness to perform such a citizen as Bebs or Moyer or Hayward."

"I would have we have capitalists capable of uttering such sentiments and capable of acting on them that there is strength behind sinister agitators of the Hearst type."

"I was horrified, as was Root, when he said to me to-day what Harriman said to me in the letter which you show him this letter, although of course I must not be made public unless required by some reason of public policy, and then only after my consent has first been obtained."

ROOSEVELT ACCUSED IN LETTER FROM HARRIMAN

New York, April 2.—A sensation was created here today by the publication of a letter written in December, 1905, and addressed to Sidney Webster, a lawyer and political writer of New York, and signed "E. H. Harriman."

The letter, it is said, was written by the president and was directed to the political situation is entirely due to my taking an active part in the election of 1904, at his request, and in the taking advantage of conditions then created to further his own interests.

"About a week before the election in the autumn of 1904, when it looked certain that the state ticket would go Democratic, and I was asked by me a request to go to Washington to confer upon the political conditions in New York State."

"I complied, and he told me he understood the campaign could not be successfully carried on without sufficient money, and asked if I would help."

"I explained that I understood the difficulty here was mainly caused by support Dewey for reelection as United States senator. We talked finally, and it was decided to appoint him as ambassador to Paris, and I called upon an intimate friend of his, Mr. Dewey, and told him it was necessary to raise the amount of $200,000, with the result that the amount was raised."

"In December, 1905, I was told that he did not think it necessary to appoint Dewey as ambassador to Paris for the year, but that he was going to the senate. I had not expected that he was the one (sic) as to what was to happen, and I of course could not help."

"Your sincerely,
Theodore Roosevelt."

"Not intended for Public."

The statement, it is said, was given to the press by a friend of the president in Washington.

"For many years I have maintained a friendship with Sidney Webster," says Mr. Dewey, who says he and what he has said is not intended for publication.

"Three days ago I was told by Mr. Dewey that the president was planning to appoint Dewey as ambassador to Paris, and I called upon him at his home, and he told me that he was going to the senate, and I of course could not help."

"Your sincerely,
Theodore Roosevelt."

SPEAKER ST. JOHN NOT IMPROVED DURING DAY; OUTLOOK UNFAVORABLE

Physicians Issue Disquieting Bulletin at Midnight—May Not Survive the Night.

"Mr. St. John's condition has not improved during the day, and the outlook is distinctly unfavorable."

This bulletin was issued by the physicians in attendance on Hon. Speaker St. John at 1 o'clock this morning. At 3 o'clock this morning the hospital attendants reported that there was no change in the patient's condition. From other sources it was said that it was extremely doubtful if Mr. St. John would survive the night.

The unfavorable reports from the hospital would seem to indicate that there is very little hope for the recovery of the distinguished patient. From the bulletin issued at noon yesterday his friends were led to entertain considerable hope. The bulletin read:

"Mr. St. John passed a fairly good night. His condition this morning is about the same as yesterday. Although very critical, it is thought his condition will hold out much longer."

DUNCAN IN PENITENTIARY.

Former Bank Manager at Ayr Jailed for Kingdon's Speculation.

Kingston, April 2.—(Special.)—The penitentiary's colony of former bankers and loan company men was further added to this afternoon by the arrival of John B. Duncan, formerly manager of the Bank of Commerce at Ayr. Duncan was styled by the court as a decidedly fine looking man, considerably under middle age, with short, wavy hair and a high forehead. He was accompanied by Sheriff Charles Huber and Deputy Tracy, both of Berlin.

After dining at an hotel, the trio sat around the lobby for a short time, smoking, and about 2:30 o'clock proceeded in an open car to the penitentiary. Duncan was not shackled.

HILL PLACES MCGUIGAN.

First Vice-President in Charge of Operating Department.

St. Paul, April 2.—The following statement was given out from J. J. Hill's office to-day:

"At a meeting of the board of directors held here this afternoon the organization of the company was enlarged by the election of a chairman of the board of directors."

"J. J. Hill was elected chairman; L. W. Hill was elected president and first vice-president; Mr. McGuigan will have direct charge of the operating department, and the officials of the board remaining as at present."

"The company's business has doubled in the past five or six years, which makes necessary the increase of the operating staff."

SEEKS MRS. MASON FOR GEMS

Dying Roller Has Claim for $100,000 in Jewels.

Windsor, April 2.—A son of John B. Swindon of the Flying Roller community says that he will apply to Chief of Police Willis for a warrant for the arrest of "Mother Elmer," Mrs. Mason, to recover $100,000 worth of jewelry she is said to be wearing and which is being held by the Swindons.

The rings were obtained by the elder Swindon during his 25 years service in the British army in India, and are valued at $100,000. It is said that Mrs. Mason, a Toronto mining stock broker, would like to find the woman and get back her $300,000, which she lent to her while she was in Toronto last winter, pretending to negotiate a big contract here.

There is no doubt that Mrs. Mason will be caught.

Ottawa, April 2.—(Special.)—The supplementary estimates for the fiscal period ended March 31, 1907, were submitted to the house to-day, and being pretty well scattered over the various services.

One item of special interest is that of $575 to pay J. E. Jus's salary from Dec. 14, 1904, to Oct. 31, 1906, which covers the period during which he was under suspension by W. T. R. Brewster.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE IS LOST IN STATION BEFORE GUIDE COMES

Reaches Toronto in Evening and is Bewildered by Depot Arrangements.

RECEIVED BY MARK H. IRISH

Distinguished Diplomat Will Address Canadian Club on Modern Democracy.

A great man visited Toronto last night—great as an author, an historian and a diplomat.

A few weeks ago he was chief secretary for Ireland; to-day he is British ambassador to the United States.

When the vessel which bears James Bryce arrives in an American harbor a royal salute belches forth from the guns of the forts and the fighting ships, because James Bryce is the representative of his imperial majesty.

To that section of the Canadian public which careth not for these things, and measures a man's importance by the amount of his salary, it may be said that James Bryce holds a government job worth $50,000 a year and expenses.

At 8:55 last night the Right Hon. James Bryce stepped out of the Pullman car "Killarney," accompanied by his wife and servant, and looked around. Three newspaper men stood ready to report the details of the reception. Mr. Mark H. Irish, president of the local Canadian Club, rushed up, shook Mr. Bryce by the hand, and said: "I'm glad to see you. I suppose I'll see you again to-morrow." Mr. Bryce, it may be said, is to address the Canadian Club on "Some Lessons in Modern Democracy" on Monday evening.

Then Mr. Bryce disappeared again into the darkness.

Mr. Bryce Bewildered.

Mr. Bryce and his wife looked around aimlessly and proceeded to walk down the platform among the throng. The newspaper men followed behind to get a glimpse of the ambassador.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce wandered on, not knowing which way to turn, and with only one to guide them.

After they had passed the main arch which leads to the exit and were apparently questioning each other which way to go, a man in a dark suit and a top hat stepped up to them and said: "I am Mr. Irish, the secretary of the club, and I will take you to the exit."

"Thank you," said Mr. Bryce, "I do not know which way to go, but I will follow you."

Mr. Bryce and his wife followed him to the upper exit if I can. My friend, Goldwin Smith told me he would have a carriage waiting for me at the upper exit on Front street, and I do not know which way to go."

The World presented his conference to Mr. Bryce, and the latter, who was very hungry, and it is rather cold down here, left it."

"I don't think there is anything I could say, or I would be glad to give you a few words, but I am not going to address any other meeting but the Canadian Club."

Underneath the big clock in the main hall Goldwin Smith's barter came forward to escort the American ambassador to his carriage.

Mrs. Bryce, it is stated, when it was discovered that the servant was lost somewhere in the crowd, so Mr. Bryce returned to look for the servant and his luggage. He searched for both, but unsuccessfully.

Perils of a Great Depot

During the search he was almost run into by a hand-truck loaded with bundles. In the confusion of the entanglement he did not hear the shouts of the men to get out of their road. Fortunately, a horse fell from the truck and the men slowed up. This gave the ambassador time to get out of their way.

Escorted by the newspaper men, Mr. Bryce walked up the track a little way and reentered the main hall by way of the outside iron staircase.

Walking up the staircase, Mr. Bryce again remarked upon how cold it was. Whether he had any doubt-entendre in this, Mr. Bryce did not say. The World man also is a great diplomatist.

"I will spend all my morning with my friend, Goldwin Smith," said Mr. Bryce. "You know, I learned my history from him at Oxford forty years ago."

Mr. Bryce did not seem in the slightest degree perturbed, and thanked the newspaper man very cordially before he stepped into the carriage and drove away.

BUSSE DEFEATS DUNNE IN CHICAGO FOR MAYORALTY

Ordinances Granting Twenty Year Street Car Franchises Also Approved at Polls.

Chicago, April 2.—The most intense campaign in municipal politics that Chicago has experienced in many years closed to-night with the election of Frederick A. Busse, the Republican candidate for mayor, over Edward F. Dunne, his Democratic rival and a candidate for re-election. Busse's plurality was between 15,000 and 16,000 votes.

The issues in the campaign have been largely based upon the improvement of the local traction system. Both parties agreed that present conditions are intolerable, but differed as to the best method of reviving them.

The Democratic party, headed by Mayor Dunne, stood for immediate municipal ownership, street car companies, the city retaining the right to purchase the systems for $50,000,000.

Mr. Busse, and 55 per cent of the five-cent fare and 55 per cent of the months' notice being necessary for the immediate rehabilitation of the lines; six months' notice to be given to the property owners to acquire the property.

The ordinance also provide for universal transfers through the city, and the amount to be spent for the profit of the companies to be paid to the city. These ordinances were approved to-day by a majority of about 6,000.

British Papers Declare Laurier's Speech at Bryce Banquet Will Be Welcomed.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, April 2.—The Post, commenting on Laurier's speech at the banquet to Mr. Bryce, says he seems to have expressed sentiments which will be welcomed throughout the empire as an indication that the Canadian government, after all is not indifferent to imperial ideas.

In Quebec, says The Post, there is much enthusiasm for active imperialism, such, for example, as might be indicated in any scheme for the partition of Canada in imperial naval defence.

This sentiment Premier Laurier seems to recognize when he refuses to be drawn into the vortex of European militarism.

Referring to Laurier's declaring that Canada is no longer begging for favors from her neighbor, The Post says: "This declaration is a timely rejoinder to the report circulated in the American press that Secretary Root had declared the intention of his government to negotiate commercial union with Canada."

The Times says the most striking feature of Laurier's speech was his emphatic declaration concerning the preference doctrine which must gain all the more significance from the circumstances in which it was made. Laurier's singularly outspoken endorsement of the preference shows it was no want of government. Bryce must have been rather taken back by this affirmation of policy which his late colleagues have rejected.

DIES FROM KICK ON HEAD.

Fannie Catoe Succumbs in Jail From Injuries Received in Fight.

Fannie Catoe, aged 59, who was committed to Toronto Jail a few days ago, died at that institution last night.

When sent to jail Catoe was suffering from a kick on the head, received in a fight with a woman named Long. Both were intoxicated at the time, and the victim was given a bloody nose in jail.

In this connection Jennie Long, 292 West Adelaide street; Joseph Clegg, shoemaker at the same address, and Robert Kenner, engineer, 128 Parliament street, were arrested last night. Joseph Watson, 125 Spadina-avenue, who was also present at the drinking bout, when Catoe was injured, is held as a material witness.

Accused say that Catoe was not kicked nor struck, she was simply jostled from the house.

HYMAN MUST EXPLAIN BEFORE HE RETURNS TO THE MINISTRY, LAURIER ASSURES PARLIAMENT

Member of Cabinet Retires to Free the Premier From Embarrassment on Eve of Conference.

"ARE THERE NOT OTHERS?" HE ASKS

Sir Wilfrid Reads His Colleague's Letter and Replies, and Emmerson Then States His Position.

OTTAWA, April 2.—(Staff Special.)—When Mr. Hyman was on the carpet his mere denial and a second denial at that, abundantly satisfied Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Emmerson's denial of a less serious rumor about him apparently has availed him nothing. He has ceased to be the minister of railways and canals.

There was sympathy with him this afternoon as, struggling with emotion, he delivered a long address fraught with human interest, brightened here and there by epigrams suggesting revelations which might be felt hereafter upon either side of the house.

He had intended to confine himself to a brief written denial of the charge against him, coupled with a statement that writs had been issued against three newspapers.

That he has some bitterness, not only against the opposition, but also against some of his own political friends, is quite apparent. That, if pushed too far, he may explode some dynamite not less destructive than any carried about by Mr. Fowler is more than apparent.

Thru it all was the feeling that the minister was dealt with harshly by comparison. He pleaded guilty to weaknesses and foibles, and he asked:

"Are there no others?"

It is evident that his retirement is final. Premier Pugsley, who will stand for the seat vacated by the death of Dr. Stockton (city and county of St. John), it is said, will succeed him.

It is understood that, until Sir Wilfrid Laurier returns from England, Mr. Fielding will be acting minister of railways and canals. Mr. Pugsley is to be the successor of Mr. Emmerson.

E. M. MacDonald to Succeed Borden.

Sir Frederick Borden is to retire as minister of militia and defence, perhaps by translation to London, succeeding Lord Strathcona.

In any event, upon the premier's return from England, E. M. MacDonald (Pictou, N.S.), will be gazetted minister of militia.

Before the orders of the day were called, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: "I have a communication to make to the house. For some time past, my hon. friend and colleague, the minister of railways and canals, has been subjected to insinuations and rumors of a most injurious character—rumors and insinuations hitherto implausible and intangible, but which have at last taken the form of a very injurious newspaper article. The article, I have no doubt, is familiar to members of the house."

"My hon. friend, the minister of railways and canals, absolutely denies the truth of the allegations set forth in that article and, in order better to vindicate his character, has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted. The correspondence, which has taken place between my hon. friend and myself, is as follows:

Office of the Minister of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, April 1.

Dear Sir Wilfrid,—You and I, and indeed the whole country, have been aware that the attention of the parliament has been interrupted by certain insinuations against members of your cabinet. Mere gossip is difficult to meet, but when the medium of the press has been sought to name me as one of your colleagues in a slanderous article, I have decided that proceedings be taken against certain newspapers for the purpose of vindicating myself, not only against the direct charges, but also against the insinuations involved therein.

I am conscious that I am in a position to be exonerated in the eyes of the country and yourself.

Emmerson Seeks Only Vindication.

My object in taking these proceedings is to vindicate my character against all political considerations. It is expected that you will leave on Thursday for England in the interests, not only of Canada, but of the empire, and I would be very sorry to prove to be in any way an obstacle to that departure.

Of necessity, the decision of the courts will not be in time to make you feel free. Feeling as I do that it would be unfair to you, such an imposition, while occupying a place in your cabinet, I have therefore to ask you to accept my resignation as minister of railways and canals.

Assuring you of my personal esteem and of my gratitude for the many kindnesses shown by you and of my belief in and adherence to the policy of your government, and of the hope that my sincere vindication will in the end be a matter of satisfaction to you, I have the honor to be, dear Sir Wilfrid, (Signed) H. R. Emmerson.

To this communication I sent Mr. Emmerson the following reply:

Ottawa, April 1, 1907.

My Dear Emmerson,—I have come to the conclusion that the course which you take is, under the existing circumstances, in the public interest. You owe it to yourself, to your colleagues and friends to clear your character of the charges levelled against it. You could well ignore mere insinuations, but direct and specific charges, you do well to face as soon as uttered.

The Minister Praised by Sir Wilfrid.

I will place your resignation in the hands of his excellency. Let me assure you that I, as well as your colleagues, appreciate the efforts and zeal with which you struggled to advance the public welfare in a most arduous department.

Believe me, my dear Emmerson, yours very sincerely, (Signed) Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The premier abruptly took his seat, but Mr. Emmerson at once rose and addressed the chair. He spoke as follows:

"It will, perhaps, be necessary for me to add a word to the announcement made by the prime minister. I want to be definitely clear as to what my statement should be and, with the indulgence of the house, I shall read it so that there need be no misapprehension as to the words."

Mr. Emmerson then read as follows:

"I desire at this time to repeat my denial explicitly and unequivocally of the charge which has been made against me by The Frederickton Gleaner, and to say I have taken steps to secure vindication before the only tribunal having jurisdiction in the premises, the established courts of the land."

"To this end, I have given instructions for the issue of writs for libel against The Frederickton Gleaner, The Halifax Herald and The Toronto World, and I have been advised of service in at least one of these cases. It is but a question of hours now as to the other two cases, if, indeed, at this moment service has not yet taken place."

REMARKABLE EXHIBITION OF PHOTOGRAPHIC ART

Dr. Dixon Lectures on the Poetry of Picture Making and Shows
Queen's Kodak Work.

An exhibition of remarkable photographs, enlarged to the size of ordinary paintings, was opened last night in Massey Hall, which was thronged with lovers of the photographic art.

Dr. Joseph K. Dixon, B.A., gave a lecture, with the aid of lantern slides, on the "Poetry of Photography."

The doctor explained the romance of photography as being able to carry away with you things which it would be impossible to describe in a diary.

Among his collection of antiques he displayed the chest in which the Domesday Book is kept; the oldest sun dial in England; the Bell of Moscow, that chimed out the victories of the Russians over Napoleon, when he was forced to retreat from Moscow; the London Milestone, built about A.D. 60, from which all the old Roman roads radiate; the Dublin Egg Market, from which the City of London is supplied with 3,000,000 eggs daily.

Among the famous historic chairs, reproduced, are the coronation chair, in Westminster Abbey; St. Augustine's chair, in Canterbury Cathedral, and John Bunyan's chair, in which the Pilgrim's Progress was written.

In the romance of photography, as applied to literary photography, he introduced the homes and haunts of the world's most noted authors, Shakespeare, Burns, Scott, Milton, Goldsmith, Dickens, Robert Louis Stevenson, etc.

Different from the ordinary travelers, who content themselves with snapping large buildings and public squares, Dr. Dixon has made a remarkable collection of the people in their unique and characteristic pastimes, and what Dr. Dixon is to Ellen Terry's play, "Captain Brassbound's Conversion," Dr. Dixon's camera is to London and Paris—a true portrayer of typical peasantry.

Fascination of Photography.
The pleasing feature of the lecture was its simplicity. Without a single technical term, the doctor showed the fascination of photography as a delightful intellectual and moral stimulant. His discourse ran from grave to gay and covered about 20 studies—without doubt, the best slides ever shown in Toronto.

One of the most interesting of the screens in the exhibition of enlarged photographs, which completely bound the main auditorium of the large hall, is No. 18, filled entirely with pictures taken by the hand of the good Queen Alexandra. She is an ardent devotee of the camera and snaps almost everything of interest which comes under her notice.

That the Queen has extraordinary propensities is shown in the clear-cut prints, taken under varied atmospheric conditions. One enlargement shows the Queen deck of the royal yacht, as it is plowing thru the lochs of Scotia, with the highlands clearly outlined in the distance. In another picture she has caught the salute of the flagship Caesar, under Lord Admiral Beresford. The salute was fired at the royal yacht was passing.

The collection also shows a splendid photo taken by her majesty of the funeral cortege of the Duke of Devonshire, as it filed past Buckingham Palace. This picture is said to be in the possession of the Duke of Devonshire, as it filed past Buckingham Palace. This picture is said to be in the possession of the Duke of Devonshire, as it filed past Buckingham Palace.

One of the most striking pictures in the exhibit is the "Turnip Gatherers," No. 110, on screen No. 20, which has a striking resemblance to the "Angelus" by Millet, the celebrated French artist.

urns and gateway fronting the palace are seen in the foreground and the historic old abbey in the distance. The panel also shows two snapshots of the children of the Prince of Wales playing in the gardens of Sandringham.

Another shows the King conversing quietly in the same gardens with his friend, Lord Suffield. Others, taken by judicious posing, capturing and cleaning, telephone Main 2370, and one of my drivers will call for and deliver your parcels.

DEVOID OF COURAGE. Sir Wilfrid Laurier could have saved the country from scandal-mongering had he removed from office the men that he is said only to have warned.

It was a duty he owed to the people. It was a duty he owed to his party. That there are not sufficient Liberals in his following at Ottawa to force a purging is probably due to what Mr. Bourassa stated in parliament a year ago, namely, that NINETEEN OUT OF EVERY TWENTY OF THEIR REVENUE ALL OR A PORTION OF THEIR ELECTION EXPENSES, OUT OF A PARTY FUND.

There was not one Liberal member of the legislature, not one Liberal newspaper that had the courage to warn Geo. W. Ross when he was riding to destruction, and the same is true of Sir Wilfrid to-day. The one member from Western Ontario credited with saying that he intended to go to Sir Wilfrid and protest against a neighbor and a minister who were none the less active in voting against the Bloor viaduct on an investigation into the charges.

IN THE GREAT CRISIS OF HIS POLITICAL LIFE Sir Wilfrid has found himself without courageous advisers. BUILD THE VIADUCT. There must be no compromise in the matter of the Bloor-street viaduct. This improvement has been already too long delayed. It is an improvement of vital importance to the north-east end of the city, and for that matter, to the city as a whole.

AS THE GOVERNMENT DECIDES. Undoubtedly the representatives of the city took proper ground when they declined to withdraw the application for power to expropriate the Toronto Electric Light Company's franchise. To have given way in the hope that satisfactory terms for its acquisition could be privately arranged would simply have been an unconditional surrender of the strong position the city council now occupies. Besides the conditions attending the conference were unequal.

Mr. Frederic Nicholls apparently was not authorized to speak for the company, and no guarantee existed that his action would be homologated or would be in any way binding on the franchise holders. The time for the discussion of terms is after power to expropriate has been granted—to negotiate without that compulsion would be futile.

THE WAITER: Excuse me, sah, but I has to wait on some Colonial Conference gemmen now. Does yo' desiah anything me? THE CUSTOMER: I got more'n I waat right here.

of agreement, would have no remedy except the renewal of its request for expropriatory powers. Meantime the company would have marched off with the spoils in the shape of authority to issue $1,000,000 of new stock at par, and to present its shareholders with the difference between that amount and the value of the new stock at the market price. The mayor and controllers rightly declined to sacrifice the interests of the citizens in return for a vague and illusory suggestion that a satisfactory agreement might be reached by mutual conciliation and concession.

HOME RULE AND BRITISH POLITICS. British politics are about to enter upon a phase which may easily carry with it developments of equal importance, imperially and nationally. For some little time there has been a lull in the parliamentary field, such as only occurs when a new ministerial departure is awaited, involving crucial issues that may easily mean a fresh alignment of parties. After twenty years and under changed conditions, the Liberal government are again about to tackle the reform of Irish administration—a problem which has lost none of its difficulties since Mr. Gladstone sprung his first home rule bill in the face of the British public. While the composition of the existing Liberal majority, and the nature of the pledges given by many of its members, renders it highly improbable that the measure soon to be introduced in the house of commons will follow the lines of the proposals that kept the Liberal party out of power for almost a generation, it is openly avowed it will be a step towards home rule. Less than this would have sufficed to excite the opposition of Ulster, which, indeed, is again in arms and appealing for the support of British Unionists. Their appeal has already been answered by Mr. Balfour, who has promised in behalf of his own party that the aid asked will be given ungrudgingly and zealously. The opposition leader declared that he did believe the feeling of Great Britain in the matter of home rule had weakened by one hair's-breadth since 1886 and 1888, and certainly the manner in which the question was treated by many of the Liberal candidates during the general election campaign showed that they were by no means certain public opinion had materially changed.

Much, of course, depends on the nature of the bill to be introduced, and till that is seen the character of the opposition can hardly be gauged. As was pointed out during the electoral campaign, the position assumed by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman on home rule was closely kin to that adopted by Mr. Balfour towards fiscal reform. Both leaders accorded their followers wide latitude, and the same difficulties that beset the path of the one now threaten the other. The present government have a delicate and hazardous task before them in attempting both to placate the Irish Nationalists and to enable Liberals who took the ground that home rule was not in issue, to redeem their pre-election pledges. How he intends to do this is meaningless as yet, and the prospect is evidently disquieting Liberal-Unionists, who, on the question of fiscal reform, had found themselves once more in closer touch with their old party. To them the choice will be between two evils whose relative gravity it will be well-nigh impossible to distinguish. Their dilemma would be less acute were it not for the avowals of adhesion to home rule, in a form satisfactory to the Irish national demand, made by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and the majority of his cabinet, who favor its concession. This knowledge will necessarily compel the Unionist free traders to scrutinize with unusual care the proposals to be submitted by the government for the reform of the Irish administration, and it will be a wonder if the cloven hoof is not detected in some one or more of its probably numerous clauses.

THE RESTORATION OF HOME RULE HAS AN IMPORTANT bearing on the fiscal reform movement, whose supporters are not slow to see the strategic advantage which must accrue to them if the question of severing the legislative union with Ireland be again submitted to the vote. Recent events have shown more explicitly than ever that the great majority of the Unionist party favor revision of the British tariff arrangements, and this, indeed, was admitted the other day by the Duke of Devonshire, when presiding over the annual meeting of the Unionist Free Trade Club. During his address as president he referred to the determination of the Unionists to resist any proposal which, either directly or indirectly, either at present or in the future, threatened the existence of the legislative union between Great Britain and Ireland. In closing he referred to the dissenters in the front opposition benches, caused by the tariff question, and added that "Unionist free traders were in the continued, 'have to differ with the bulk of the free trade party on the question of the maintenance of the legislative union with Ireland, and he was not sure that they would not succeed, always provided the official Unionist party could be induced to return to a condition of something approaching sanity." Contrariwise, the leaders in tariff reform insist that a bold constructive policy along that line will of itself carry the country to their side. Unquestionably, the fiscal reformers look to another home rule agitation as their opportunity, and, as the Duke of Devonshire declared, it is certain that this parliament will leave behind it controversies which cannot be settled without another, and perhaps more than one, election. Last week Lord Rosebery created a political sensation by a strong protest against home rule, and his somewhat premature explosion will not strengthen the hands of such of his Liberal imperialist friends who are in the cabinet.

SPLIT ON A NAME. Baptists and Disciples' Still Far From Union. The second meeting of the committee of Disciples and Baptists to consider the question of union was held in the Baptist Mission rooms on Tuesday, Dr. J. M. Van Horne, pastor of the street Disciple Church, occupied the chair and Rev. W. E. Morton acted as secretary. The committee discussed doctrinal positions and the question of a name. As was stated in the report of the last meeting, the two bodies were found to be very close to each other in most respects and yet the points of divergence were felt to be of a somewhat serious character. On the question of a name for the united churches no apparent progress was made, as neither party seemed to be willing to make the necessary concessions. It was decided to adjourn until after the Disciples' convention in June, when it is hoped that some new light might come to the committee which would open the way to the union which has been so long hoped for. On the whole the meeting could not be said to have accomplished any real advance toward the union of the two churches.

OFFER TO SELL LIGHT PLANT BUT CITY WARILY DECLINES

However, the Expropriation Bill is Again Delayed by Electric Light Company's Move. The city will not learn the fate of its bill for power to expropriate the Toronto Electric Light Company to-morrow; possibly, not next week. The latest move in the company's policy regarding the proposed expropriation of the plant, was the bringing of the mayor and board of control before the government yesterday to limit the number planned, by the Hon. Frederic Nicholls that the city should drop its expropriation proceedings and negotiate instead with the company for the purchase of the plant. The board of control, with a decision that deserves credit, declined to be taken into camp in the manner planned, but the company obtained further delay, which was, perhaps, all that was hoped for. The proceedings were conducted in the council chamber and were private. Mayor Costar and Controllers Hubbard, Hocken and Harrison, with Corporation Counsel Fullerton, represented the city, and Hon. J. P. Whitney, the prime minister, and Hon. Meares, Roy, Beck, Macleod, Hanna and Roseme were the government representatives present. The premier and his cabinet were careful to avoid any expression that would show any leaning one way or another. "The government will assume all the responsibility necessary in the case," was the assurance given by Hon. Mr. Whitney, which might be construed to mean a great deal or a very little. The case apparently some-what incensed at the suggestion that the government was being swayed by the petitions of the persistent lobbyists representing the company, on occasion to announce that none of these individuals were "getting in their hooks," and that the government "wouldn't budge."

MORE DELAY FOR BILL. The premier also intimated that it was unlikely the cabinet would be in a position to take up the expropriation bill on Thursday, and that it would be next week or later before the matter could be disposed of. The mayor said last night that the board sought to make it absolutely clear to the city that it would not entertain Mr. Nicholls' proposal for a moment, and that the expropriation bill should be delayed one hour on that account. As there seemed to be some misunderstanding among members of the cabinet, the mayor has arranged to provide a copy of the agreement between Sir Henry M. Fellatt, when asked whether Mr. Nicholls' overtures were the result of a conference among the directors, said that the subject had not been discussed at all. "If the mayor and board of control want to buy us out, they must come to us with a proposition," he said. The way in which the price should be determined was a "question of negotiation."

Mr. Nicholls posed in the light of a friend of the company, rather than as a representative of it, and his proposal came at a somewhat inopportune time. Mr. Nicholls said that he was in a position to announce that the company would be willing to sell for a reasonable offer. Mr. Nicholls, with all his flow of eloquence, dealt almost entirely in generalities, and the matter was not discussed. The mayor said he was not prepared to make a definite statement. Nothing was said as to the means to be employed to determine what the city should pay the company, but it is given any rough estimate as to the amount. Staggered Board of Control. The mayor and board of control were fast staggered by Mr. Nicholls' proposition, coming as it did only 48 hours before the time set for the hearing of the city's expropriation bill. It was realized that it meant that the city should drop its proceedings and enter into negotiations with the company, which would then be in a position to dictate its own terms. The company could set a price upon the plant, that the city would have to accept, or, taking it over, and in this way the company would gain another year, as the city could not go on with its expropriation proceedings until the next session.

One of the civic deputations last night expressed the wonderment at the clamor and transparency of the methods of the Electric Light Company in having Mr. Nicholls broach such a proposition to the city. "They must think the city's representatives are indeed men of low mentality," was his decided comment. Would Scare Investors. Mr. Nicholls made a general plea for private rights. He asserted that, if the city's expropriation bill were allowed to proceed, it would be established that would be a menace to the rights of investors all over the country, and, however binding an agreement might exist with a municipality, it would be in the hands of any enterprise. Mr. Nicholls claimed that it was on the understanding that the city was bound by a sacred agreement for thirty years with the company that investors had purchased its bonds. The reply of the city's representatives was that the company had forfeited its contract by amalgamation with the Incontinent Light Company. The conference lasted over an hour, and at its conclusion Mr. Nicholls had nothing to say.

MORE NEW CITIZENS ARRIVE. Two hundred new citizens came in by C.P.R. yesterday, the majority of whom elected to take town work in preference to farming. Forty-two, presumably foreigners, are expected to-day via New York and Buffalo.

WESTERN MEN COMPLAIN OF TARIFF ON REAPERS

Schaffner Amendment to Customs Act Defeated by Liberal Majority. Ottawa, April 2.—(Special).—After the Emerson statement and the Hyman enquiry the house took up the tariff.

They had, it is true, brought down a bill embodying changes in the Customs Act, but the changes were those of form; they were not changes in substance. It would seem as if the Liberal, being unable to improve on the tariff as re-enacted on the 10th inst.

Both parties were committed to a high protective tariff. Nevertheless, he hoped that members on both sides of the house would be almost unanimous on agricultural implements.

Mr. Staps (Con., Man.) supported the amendment. Dr. J. C. Walsh (Con., Que.) said that he spoke for Eastern Canada. His constituents and farmers generally demanded relief. He preferred to go further than the amendment and to reduce the duty on all agricultural implements.

Mr. Lake (Con., Qu'Appelle) pointed out that farming implements were appreciated more highly in this country than formerly, that, as a matter of fact, the custom duties increased, instead of being lowered, as the Liberal proposed. He denounced the dumping clause. It bore with special severity on the farmer who had to buy agricultural implements.

Mr. Henderson (Halt) pointed out that more agricultural implements were imported than in former years. This showed how strong was this industry. It needed an excessive protective duty!

Mr. Knowles (Liberal, Assiniboia) preferred the high tariff on farming implements. He thought that the Conservatives were not sincere in supporting the amendment.

Mr. L. Borden said the farmers of Canada were complaining and that more to manufacture these implements in Canada than it does in the United States. He pointed out that the tariff was much higher in this country than in the absence of information as to the cost of production, the prices charged abroad at that time, he could not support the amendment.

Mr. Turill (Liberal, Assiniboia) made the startling suggestion that Premier Roblin's cabinet members should be allowed to resign on account of the tariff were properly a legislative function, and should not be delegated to the executive.

On the reading of the bill, Mr. Borden moved to amend the clauses giving the governor in council power to extend the intermediate tariff to any country.

Upon division the bill was defeated by a vote of 58 to 26. Among those who voted with the majority were Messrs. Sproule, R. L. Borden, Foster, Taylor and Daniel.

DR. COLAHOUGH'S ADDRESS. Last evening A. H. U. Colaugh, deputy chief of police, presided at a gathering of the teachers in Convocation Hall. "Educational Administration" was the theme.

There were two phases of the school question with which the government were called upon to deal, that of political representation and the expert knowledge. Parent discipline was slackening, and the influence of the church and the school teachers of the country.

The meeting was presided over by the president, William Scott, who was in the chair.

WEAK HEART SYSTEM WAS RUN DOWN

When the heart is healthy and performing its functions naturally, it should beat regularly seventy-two times a minute without causing its owner the slightest inconvenience or distress.

When it begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

The least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through unnatural action of their hearts.

To all such sufferers MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

can give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. E. Fletcher, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled for four or five years with weakness and run down system. My feet were always cold and I felt almost dead. My heart was weak and I was so nervous I could hardly walk across the street. I started taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using three boxes I felt much better. I continued the use until I had taken twelve boxes and I am now well."

CONGRESS OF SCHOOL HYGIENE

Dr. William Oldright Chairman of Local Committee. Amongst the indications of the great interest that is being taken in the saving of life and maintenance of health, one of the most important is the forthcoming International Congress of School Hygiene. The first congress was held at Nuremberg two years ago, and was such a success that a second congress has been organized, under the patronage of his majesty and the presidency of Sir Lauder Brunton.

The local committee is composed of the following: The Hon. the Minister of Education, honorary chairman; Dr. William Oldright, chairman; James L. Hughes, secretary; Principal Scott, Principal Auden, Dr. MacMurchy, Principal W. H. Shaw, Dr. McPhedran. It is to be held in London, England, from Aug. 5 to 10.

CANADIAN INVENTOR'S EXPERIENCE

Mr. Wm. Wilson of Craigie Villa, London (Ont.), the inventor of the Wilson Fruit Case, now adopted by the Canadian government, tells an interesting experience which shows the healing and antiseptic value of Zam-Buk, the herbal balm. He says: "I had two poisoned wounds on my leg, which were very sore and inflamed. They caused me much pain and suffering, and although I tried several salves they refused to heal. Zam-Buk was recommended, and I applied some. It acted splendidly and in a very short time healed the wounds."

At another time I sustained a nasty cut. Zam-Buk took away the soreness almost instantly and soon closed and healed the wound. I have also used Zam-Buk for other injuries, and I have no hesitation in expressing my high opinion of its value. It is, without doubt, a splendid household balm.

Ten More Rooms Required for Increased Pupils This Year. Senior Principal L. E. Embree reports that in 1906 171 more pupils attended Jarvis, Jameson and Harbord colleges than in the year previous. At the same ratio of increase 1720 more will be the increase this year, requiring five more rooms to accommodate. Adding two and four rooms to relieve the overcrowding at Jarvis and Harbord, respectively, and deducting one vacant room at Jameson, the total additional accommodation required is ten rooms.

ARBITRATORS TO CONSIDER PRANKS OF ELECTRIC FLUID

Manager Fleming Would Avoid Costs of Litigation—Gas Company to Await Results. CITY HALL, TO-DAY. 11 a.m.: Board of Control. 2 p.m.: Island Committee. 4 p.m.: Local Board of Health.

The suggestion that a board of arbitration should decide on the issue between the city and the street railway, touching the damage done the city's water mains by the electric fluid from the company's wires, was made in a letter from General Manager Fleming, read before the board of control yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Fleming's letter, addressed to the mayor, was in this wise: "The litigation, commenced by the city against the company for damages by electrolysis must necessarily be prolonged and expensive, and fought through the courts in the regular way, and as all litigation on its part has given rise to charges against the company of unduly promoting litigation, I now write to suggest that all questions relating to damages by electrolysis, if any, in respect of which the company is liable to compensate the city, and all questions relating to the precautions which ought to be taken to prevent any damage in the future, be referred to the arbitration of experts, one to be appointed by the city and one by the company, and these two, if they are unable to agree, to appoint a third."

The company is quite willing to join with the city in this way to prevent litigation, and it appears to me that the result of such an arbitration board would be at least as satisfactory as the judgment of the court after a prolonged and expensive trial.

The purchase by the city of the property from Queen-street to Stephanie-place, facing on John-street and running back to St. Patrick's square, as a means of enlarging the square, was suggested in a letter, from G. Van Koughnet, manager of the Farmers' Bank.

Major Collins again appeared in the role of a complainant, he this time protesting in a letter against Dr. Sheard's hanging his street-cleaning corps at work on Good Friday, on the ground that the statutes provided that all civic employees were entitled to have the statutory holidays. The major also asserted that some of the horses purchased for the work of the department, at a cost of from $200 to $300, were blind.

Dr. Sheard will report upon these charges. A contribution by the city towards a fire proof museum and library on Queen's-avenue, where books of reference, relics, and other articles of value belonging to the Canadian Military Institute could be stored, was suggested in a communication from the secretary. It was stated that there were more than 4000 valuable books, and that the city's half of the $7000 needed to erect a proper building.

The delegation from the Institute will wait on the board on Friday. Local Manager Dunstan of the Bell Telephone Co. has fallen into line with the law that restricts the carrying of the city's permission before the company carries out any work on public highways. In his latest request for power to erect poles on certain streets, Mr. Dunstan assents to city supervision of the work.

Manager Fleming of the street railway promises that as soon as possible the work of laying new rails at the King and Yonge-street intersections will be begun. The General Buses Works are seeking a permit for a brass foundry on Sterling-road. The Toronto Glass Blowers' Association are asking a grant of $250 from

FRENCH PREMIER READY FOR BRIBE, SAYS PAPER

Figaro Publishes Three Papal Notes, Indicating Clemenceau Would Enter Into a Deal. Paris, April 2.—The Figaro to-day publishes three of the documents that came into the possession of the French government at the time of the expulsion from France of Mgr. Montagnini, the former secretary of the Papal Nunciature here. The paper says these documents are all in its possession and it purports to print separate papers from time to time as seems suitable.

The first document is a report to Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state. It begins with reciting the visit of a lady who desired to sell compromising letters from an archbishop to whom the Nuncio had given a little good advice, which the archbishop had promised to follow. It then goes on to rehearse the substance of conversation with M. Jacques Plou, president of the Liberal League, including a statement of the readiness of M. Clemenceau to be bought.

M. Plou came to this conclusion after a two hours' conversation with M. Clemenceau at a lunch party in the house of an American woman, who acted as an intermediary. The second document, also a report to Cardinal Merry Del Val, takes up many subjects, but principally the opposition to the Liberal League met with in religious circles. An interesting portion of this document refers to efforts to secure the appointment of Bellamy Storer as American ambassador to Paris, in succession to Gen. Porter.

The third document is a letter from Cardinal Merry Del Val to the Archbishop of Lyons, instructing him to interfere with the league of French women, a royalist society which was supporting the royalist candidates instead of the Catholic Republicans. Referring to the Liberal League, Cardinal Merry Del Val says: "If they want to spend money in electioneering, let them hand it over to the archbishop, who will consult with M. Plou on the choice of candidates and the best use of the money."

The Figaro considers this letter, upon which the government relies to prove interference by the Pope in French politics, simply shows the Pope was acting in the interests of religion, as was his duty, and in no way supporting anti-Republican ideas. The Figaro concludes with a threat to publish certain documents containing alleged conversations with diplomats, unless it is sure the government will not publish them.

TEACHERS TO UNIONIZE TO BETTER CONDITIONS

Ontario Educational Association Commences Three Days' Session in University.

The forty-sixth annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association opened yesterday morning in the university. The sessions will continue for three days.

While the chief point of interest throughout the day centred in the public school sessions, there were numerous sections of the general association at work in different parts of the university. The outstanding feature of the gathering was a proposition to organize a teachers' association, or union, for the improvement of the teaching community.

Teachers' Salaries

W. D. Spence presented a draft constitution before the public school teachers, and declared that the salaries paid to teachers, especially rural teachers, were only comparable to the wages of workmen.

He declared that the rural teacher was an object of the commiseration of his more fortunate brethren in the town and city schools. A committee was appointed to perfect organization arrangements. A number were disposed to bar out the high school teachers, but it was decided to welcome these members of the profession. The whole matter will be further discussed at to-night's meeting of the general association.

The Amended School Act and the Rural Schools' was the subject of an address by J. Craig, M.L.A., in which he outlined briefly the proposed changes and defended the law passed last year respecting minimum salaries. Unaccustomed surroundings. Dr. Waugh declared that the lady teacher who went into the country district to teach found little that was congenial in company and endured difficulties which, if suffered in the missionary field, would merit her being canonized.

In the trustees' department Rev. Thos. G. Wallace declared that the trustees of high schools and the members of county councils generally were too parsimonious in their dealings with the high schools. Fully 50 per cent. of the high school in towns of 2000 or less, and local municipalities were losers by their presence. In the kindergarten section, where Miss Grace Johnson of Stratford presided, Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, spoke briefly during the morning session. "Our Provincial Outlook" was the topic, and in welcoming the teachers Dr. Pyne spoke of the great importance of the kindergarten studies, the rapid expansion, and the necessity for increased enlargement of the scope of the work.

The inspectors' section gave an address. Mrs. J. L. Hughes gave an address by a large attendance, and a number of interesting addresses. W. E. Tilley and F. W. Sheppard spoke on "Grading School Premises." The election of officers will take place this morning.

THE BATTLE OF BADAJOS

To Be the Title of This Year's Spectacle at Exhibition. A number of details regarding next year's show were agreed to at a meeting of the exhibition board yesterday. It was decided to make a number of alterations in the poultry building, providing more accommodation for the pigeons and pet stock should occupy the old press building. It was also resolved that henceforth all cattle exhibited must be entered in their respective Canadian herd books. A dark room is to be provided for newspaper photographers. A thousand dollars was added to the prize list of the speed department and it was agreed that the spectacle should be the Battle of Badajos, the barrier broken through that was stormed and taken from the French by the British exact 95 years ago on Saturday next. The horse prize list was gone over and the stations cut out of the roster and carriage classes the money, thus saved being added to the standard-bred and hackney classes, which are representative types.

Weak Men! Try This

DRUGS CURE ACUTE DISEASES, BUT FAIL TO CURE CHRONIC TROUBLES. Drugs cure acute diseases because the latter are of poisonous origin, and the poison in drugs counteracts or neutralizes the poison in the body. They fail to cure chronic diseases, as you know who have tried them. Chronic ailments are caused by depletion of the nerve tissues, lack of recreation, of fresh air and of exercise, the non-assimilation of food, and often by excesses in eating, drinking and numerous other excesses and violations of the laws of nature, which result in the various poisons of the human body. It goes without saying that the taking of poison into the body will not cure these conditions, for poisons do not give nourishment. What must be the means of cure? It vitally must be something which replaces and reinstates the lost or wasted vitality. It must be a natural element of the body, not an unnatural one. No one will claim that poisons are natural elements of the human body, for it revivifies every time they are taken.

An experience of more than 20 years with drugs and Electricity has confirmed me in the belief until it has become fully grounded knowledge that Electricity alone, without any other material aid, will replace and renew lost energy and vitality. Thousands of grateful letters from cured people tell me that drugs failed to cure, and that Electricity as given by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is the only successful means of cure.

These people will tell you they have been cured by this Belt of weakness, nervousness, backache, rheumatism, sciatica, stomach troubles, constipation and liver and kidney ailments, after spending large sums of money fruitlessly in drugs and other treatments. Electricity cured them by exercising the relaxed nerves, muscles and organs, and putting back into them the element which was lost, and which is the foundation of strength.

Dr. McLaughlin: Dear Sir, I am pleased to be able to tell you that I have derived great benefit from your Electric Belt. I started to wear it I was very much run down, and felt weak, but after using it for three months I must say that I feel perfectly restored to my usual health and vitality. COBALT --- Liquidation of Foster Weakens Other Mining Issues --- COBALT

FOSTER LIQUIDATION AFFECTS OTHER STOCKS

Large Line of Foster Sold by Leading Brokerage House on a Declining Market.

World Office,
Tuesday Evening, April 2.
Liquidation was the predominant feature of the markets for Cobalt shares to-day, although this was largely confined to one stock. Foster was the centre of disturbance, one of the leading Toronto exchange brokers selling the shares throughout the day. The price of this issue opened at about three points at 187, and it was steadily forced on the market up till the close when the price reached 185, a decline of twelve points for the day. The selling was attributed to a large holder in need of funds, and it was estimated that upwards of 10,000 shares were disposed of by this investor. The absence of shipments from this property, together with the delay in the declaration of a second dividend has weakened the outside support for the shares, and to-day the offerings were far too heavy for absorption, except at considerable concessions. The action of Foster to-day shows a similar reaction to that which showed no response to the annual meeting, put a damper on the rest of the market, and it was steadily forced on the market. Nipissing, Silver Queen, Peterson Lake and Green-Meehan all sold lower, and the markets closed with an all round weakness. Cobalt Central was strong at New York, at an advance of about 4 points, but the transactions in the stock were largely confined to the higher market, there being only 500 shares dealt in at the Toronto exchange.

GOOD ORE SAMPLES

As Obtained From the Gilpin and Ontario-Quebec Properties,
E. S. Gilpin has returned home after a short visit to the Cobalt camp. Mr. Gilpin met Prof. Shumaker at Halesbury and together they inspected the Wonderful, Ontario and Quebec and Gilpin properties. Samples of ore from the Ontario and Quebec and the Gilpin were found to be practically identical, and give splendid assays. Owing to the fact that the Gilpin property it has been found necessary to deepen the shaft to 100 ft before encountering the same vein which shows up on the Ontario and Quebec at a depth of 40 ft. Mr. Gilpin is highly pleased with the outlook of his three properties, and says they will attract much attention when development has proceeded to a greater length.

MAKE PORTAGE EASY

Engineer Will Facilitate Transport to New Camp.
Latchford, April 2.—(Special)—The only serious obstacle to navigation between Latchford and Mountain Lake, except Indian Rapids, three miles south of Mountain Lake, is at Port Rapids, where a portage over one-quarter of a mile has to be made.
Mr. G. O. Hayne, a civil engineer of Cobalt, formerly of Toronto, is largely interested in the Elk Lake district and for the convenience of himself and associates and the benefit of the public has acquired surface right, and will lay a log tramway or skidway over the portage. A couple of tracks, which will run on smooth iron rails, similar to those frequently used in lumber camps, he will utilize to transport supplies. This will be a great benefit to prospectors and owners of properties up the Montreal River, where an enormous amount of development work will be done this summer.
Only a nominal charge will be made. Mr. Hayne's interests in Elk Lake are such that the development of the means much to him and it is with this in view that he has undertaken this skidway scheme.

Plan of Larder Lake.

Messrs. Blair, Sinclair & Smith, engineers and surveyors of New Larder Lake, have published a very complete plan of the Larder Lake district, showing the claims struck up to the present time.
Will Adjust Mining Claims.

STEADY IMPROVEMENT MADE IN THE STOCKS

Irregularity Marked by Tendency to Higher Prices—Domestic Securities Are Also Firmer.

The fact that gross earnings were $75,000,000 more than the previous period shows an increase of 5 per cent, and a decrease of 18 per cent—Town Today.

London, April 2.—American houses today secured about two-thirds of the gold available in the market. The total amount offered was $4,500,000. The Bank of England got the balance. The price was unchanged. Later it was ascertained that the exact amount of gold purchased by the American houses in the market here today was $2,500,000 of the $4,500,000 offered. The Indian secretary secured an option on $750,000 of gold.

Up-Town Sentiment.—The White House statement was variously interpreted last night and this morning. There is considerable difference of opinion as to whether the whole thing should be regarded as a re-orientation of policy, or whether it is plain to be seen that the sentiment of the street as a whole was more truly hopeful than had been generally supposed, and for that very reason not a few observers expressed the opinion after the close that the exact amount of gold purchased by the American houses was unable this morning to decide whether the sharp decline in American London contracts was due to attempts of foreign interests to take accumulation profits on a relatively narrow market, or whether they represented a genuine selling and liquidation on fresh apprehensions regarding the attitude of the president toward the tariff. It is generally believed by conservative banking interests that some new disaster arises in the active issues struck bottom a week ago yesterday, and that the tendency for a time at least will be toward higher prices. An official of a large western railroad, when asked for his opinion as to the probability of these general business conditions, said that he does not look for a material falling off during the present year.

Railway Earnings, Decrease.

Can. Nor., 4th week March	$13,320
Hill, Central, February, net	187,919
N. Y. & P., February, net	262,212
Pennsylvania, February, net	300,450

On Wall Street, Marshall, Spack & Co. wired J. G. Besty at the close of the market: "The decline in time money rates is a most important and favorable development at this time. It is regarded as a wise step to public speculation and investment operations, and so long as an active and healthy condition exists in the commerce and industries of the country, it should form a basis for the good market for our securities. The market for stocks is generally favorable and the market should be favorably influenced by these considerations. The present financial conditions, said that he does not look for a material falling off during the present year."

General Market in London Opened Strong

Western railroad labor situation still unsettled. B. & O. readjusts its pay-roll, involving annual increase in wages of $5,000,000. Strong demand for Pennsylvania and Erie, also N. Y. & P. in loan crowd. Canadian Pacific more plentiful, also loaning at small premium. Persistent talk of increase in Atchafalaya dividend. John D. Ryan says prospects of copper trade have never been so good as today.

President Roosevelt says his attitude toward railroads has undergone no change. Banks gained less from interior in the last quarter than in any time in the year. Philadelphia.—The market positively that at a meeting of the board of directors of Atchafalaya Company tomorrow, the common dividend will be increased to a 6 per cent basis.

Boreland to R. S. Gougeard: "The market looks very orderly to me. I think that if stocks go a little higher they can be bought for a short rally, but the market will eventually work lower."

Joseph says: "Lawson says 'buy A. C. P. at 85, but A. P. closed at 87. It will pay you to keep long on some B. R. T. specialties.' Steel preferred is still very cheap. Distillers and Cotton Oil also."

Further short covering is likely in the stock market as the market opens today. The day of such operations, professionals of the first class will not neglect return on buying. This procedure is recommended by the bear party is not yet put out of business, and it will be a long time before the market will be able to accomplish much, however, at this time.—Financial News.

Notwithstanding the utterances of the Boston prophet, we want to go on record in advising against the purchase of Amalgamated Copper around the present level. There is little doubt that the heaviest losses in the slump in Amalgamated and Anaconda were Boston people, and consequently it would not be wise to take their judgment without a grain of salt. We have every reason to believe that those who have been so long in control of Amalgamated, and its affairs intend to make the Lawson following pay dearly, if there should be any great response to his advertisement of this morning. We look for very much lower prices for Amalgamated within the next few weeks, and would not buy, except on a very sharp reaction, and then only for a turn. Southern Railway's February statement is about the worst that has been made. Net earnings were a trifle over half as much as they were a year ago, notwithstanding the fact that gross earnings were $75,000,000 more than the previous period shows an increase of 5 per cent, and a decrease of 18 per cent—Town Today.

London Money

London, April 2.—Money was in good supply today, in spite of calls amounting to £1,000,000. Discounts were easier in sympathy with the monetary conditions. Tending on the stock exchange opened with a cheery tone and prices generally firm, but business was slow. Home rules were the feature, being stimulated by the ease of the money market. Foreigners were firm, but which they further improved. But in case of the carry-over rates, which are a good effect. Foreigners were firm, but which they further improved. FOR NEW PROVINCE.

Invitations Sent Out From Rainy River District With This Object. A general invitation from officials of the Conservative and Liberal Associations of Emo, Rainy River District, to the people in that territory was issued to attend a public meeting to be held last Monday. The object of the meeting was the discussion of a proposal for a new province in Northern Ontario. The news was received by the Parliament Buildings, where some thought the date indicated an All Pools Day joke, but generally it was taken as a genuine appointment and further details are expected shortly.

London Stock Market.

London, April 2.—Two more small failures were announced on the stock exchange this afternoon, bringing the total of the recent suspensions up to six. None of them was of any real importance, and the stock exchange reopened after the Easter holidays with operators in a hopeful frame of mind. Prices generally were quiet and steady. Consols were firm at a rise to 85 1/2. America had been under parity, but re-

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

HYDRO POWER ENGINEER FINDS JUNCTION NEEDS

Visits Factories and Will Report to Council—Committee to Choose Pavements.

Toronto Junction, April 2.—The town council met to-night. The clerk stated that Mr. Richards, engineer of the Hydro-Electric Power Company, visited the factories and will report to the council the amount of power required. The dump on Willowby-avenue again occasioned some discussion. Mr. McDowd made complaint and this was backed up by some remarks from Mr. Hall, who lives within a few yards of the dump. Some of the councillors expressed the opinion that the residents in the vicinity were kickers, but it transpired that these councillors had not seen the dump. Mayor Baird said it was not necessary to see it. A person walking with his eyes shut would know when he hit a curb at the dump. The board of works will take the matter up. The proposed Dundas-street paving again came up and the members of the special committee that went to Chatham and Windsor were heard. A committee was appointed to look into the merits of various pavements and report at a special meeting of council next Monday night.

Work will commence to-morrow on the building of the Bank of British North America on the vacant lot west of the postoffice, the building will cost $30,000 and will be completed some time in July.

North Toronto.

A petition was passed and referred to the proper officials for a foot-cement sidewalk on the north side of Sherwood-avenue at last night's council meeting. The board of works committee recommended that a four-foot cement sidewalk be laid on the south side of Sherwood-avenue on the initiative of the petitioners. The petition will not sign the petition for such improvement, which, however, was referred back to the committee. The tender for the Orange Hill property was also referred back to the finance committee. Owing to the increase of population in Davisville, the ward was divided into two separate polling subdivisions. Dr. W. Jeffs was appointed medical health officer, in place of the late Dr. R. S. Richardson, at a salary of $40 per annum, and is prohibited from practicing his profession in any licensed boarding house in the ward.

A burning match thrown unthinkingly into the dry grass on the corner of St. Clair-avenue and Forest Hill-road caused the destruction of a large portion of the fence yesterday.

W. W. Edwards of Eglinton-avenue east, who has been ill for the past week, is improving.

Bill Davey returned to his home in Toronto yesterday after a four-week trip of nearly three months' extension in the United States. Mr. Davey has returned much improved in health, and is looking in the best of condition.

DOCTORS EXCITED OVER OLD THEORY

A "New Theory" That Was Discovered a Quarter Century Ago by Great Scientist.

The Toronto General Hospital has been making a series of tests of a "new theory" in medical science, which they claim will revolutionize the theory and practice of medicine. The system is: Find the germ of any disease, then by a method of increasing the patient's ability to digest or kill off the microbes by increasing the white corpuscles of the blood, and filtering it with a serum that is as effective as possible. This is in reality Dr. T. A. Slocum's theory of thirty years ago. Dr. Slocum devoted his life to the working out of this problem. When, after innumerable experiments thru days and nights and months and years of patient labor, he discovered that wonderful remedy, Psychine, he exclaimed "Eureka." "I have found it." For a quarter of a century this remedy has been doing exactly the work the authorities at the General Hospital are at present racking their brains to accomplish. Psychine is exactly what they are looking for: It enables the white corpuscles of the blood to overcome bacteria and disease of every kind. It quickly cures La Grippe, and all its train of after-effects, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis, pneumonia, chills and fevers, night sweats, insomnia, loss of appetite, dyspepsia, and all stomach, throat and lung troubles, including consumption in its early stages. Speaking of a number of cases that came under their personal observation, J. R. Andrews and Co., of Bishop's Crossing, say:

"The party whose case was most remarkable, having been given up by several doctors, among them consulting experts from Montreal, and who, so far as can be determined, was restored to comparatively good health by the use of Psychine, now which I supplied, I have to direct you to my new home in Edmonton, Alta., formerly Cookshire, Que. This is my past and only speech except a whisper, was only given ten days as a possibility; friends had been to say goodbye, and so forth, only remedy, so far as I know, was used. Well-known case, prominent family, well-to-do also. Yours in haste, (Signed) J. R. ANDREWS & CO., 173 KING ST. W., TORONTO."

It is a certain cure for all stomach troubles, cases. At all times, or "little or nothing" Dr. 173 King

EMMERSON DENIES

"Mr. Speaker, with the indulgence of the house and with your permission, I would like to say one other word. In common with every other member of this house, I recognize the fact that gossip has caused more mischief in the world than have the decrees of tyrants; and while I have been aware, coming to me as they have come from time to time, that slanderous statements were being made against me, yet they were not made in any such tangible way that I could take cognizance of them before my peers and my fellows.

"In a way, I feel relieved to think that this matter has come to a head; that it has reached a point where I will at least be in a position to meet my traducers face to face.

"I do not know, Mr. Speaker, whether or not it be a fact that every man in this house is willing to have his private life exposed. I do not know if there is any man within the sound of my voice, indeed within this country, who is in a position to say that he has done no wrong.

"I have My Follies." "I admit that I have had my weaknesses. I have had my follies. Until this matter reached the point which it has reached, I had not thought that it was a subject matter for parliamentary discussion or for parliamentary investigation.

"I had felt that at least, sir, that the man who was without sin should be the man to cast the first stone; but while I stand here I do before the eyes of public opinion and as within a very few days I will stand before the courts of justice, I must tell the truth and the whole truth. I do not ask to be judged by the standard of 'you're another'—I ask no mercy from that standpoint.

"The standard that should be the standard of the people of the country shall govern me and, if I am unclean and unworthy of recognition by that standard in this house or in this country, I am willing to go down.

"But, sir, when and when that question has been fought out and determined, there is one other question that members of this house will ask themselves, and that the people of this country will ask of this house, and it is this: 'Are there others?'

"I want to be understood unmistakably as saying that those charges against me are unqualifiedly false and that anything I have ever done, either in the City of Montreal or under any other circumstances, I did it to protect the innocent, and I have never been, in any way, misled by your words, Mr. Speaker, for I make them with the full knowledge of the solemnity of the occasion and of the dignity of my position. I have never been in a hotel in Montreal in my life with anybody of ill-repute.

"I shall take occasion, sir, to show the accusation to be untrue and the protection which I have at all times afforded to the innocent, I will not abandon in order to build up myself upon anybody else's downfall.

"Mr. Speaker, it must be recognized as a crime in any man's life when statements of this kind are paraded before the country and, while I almost feel a sense of relief and gratification to know that I am now placed where I can and will meet my traducers, I have been in the position during the recent discussions in this house of not knowing whether certain insinuations and innuendoes were aimed at me or not.

"There was nothing tangible, nothing that I could seize upon, nothing that I could take hold of. But the more I think of it, the more I am here, and I hope to be able to seize this opportunity, so that every man who heretofore has been able to grasp my hand as a friend and an equal will be able hereafter to feel that he can still grasp my hand and welcome me as heretofore as a friend.

"So far as my political opponents are concerned, I have no word to say. 'Political life has its difficulties, its troubles and its struggles. I have known it for over a score of years. I have not these difficulties. I have surmounted these obstacles, with all my weaknesses and with all my follies.

"Possibly all other members of the house are free from human frailty. I hope so. I hope they are within the sound of my voice; but with all that whatever may be mine—and I have them in common with humanity—I have a strong element of human nature about me and I think it has been a sympathetic and warm-hearted human nature.

Willing to Sacrifice.

"I would sacrifice myself, tho' it meant eternal sacrifice, in order that my great countrymen should be merely honored by me and not merely great because I say so, but honored by all the people of this country and not only honored Canada among Canadians, but equally honored thru the world—may go to the conference in London in no sense dragged down by any sense besmirched because men have seen fit to make statements with regard to myself, statements I can prove to be untrue; but yet statements that have been bandied about in hope of injuring me.

"Why, sir, I know of devoting their time to the duties for which they are paid, have gone to room No. 4 (the Conservative headquarters) to circulate untruths, damnable untruths, with respect to myself.

"This I can prove out of the mouths of 'men' in whose faces I look at this moment. And this has been going on unfairly to myself, tho' it has not come to my knowledge until a few days since. These things truly are kept from everybody who is particularly affected by them until they have done their work.

"Gossip is the weapon of the coward and the coward seeks out victims whom he thinks to be unclean, and if I am not a saint, I am at least a decent citizen.

"I have said all I should say, and probably more than need to be said, but I speak in justification of myself as a man. I propose to remain here as a member of this house, and I propose to conduct myself as a member of this house ought to do, and, if those who stand against me wish to take action, and they must take action, now that they have gone so far as they have gone.

"In what I do I am actuated by a sense of duty first of all to myself. I am actuated in the second place by a sense of duty to my honored and honored colleagues in the government and to my colleagues, the members of this house.

"But higher and above them all is the sense of duty that I owe to my constituents, that I owe to the people of this country, and to the members of this house one thing—and I think I have a right to ask it, appealing merely to their sense of honor, and to their sense of their judgment, to await the verdict, and, if then I am convicted, and if then these words are proved to be untrue, I shall be glad to go, sir, in life and with my weak humanity, we are apt to think ill of our fellows, we are apt to be accused, and to say it must be true because it has been said, that it must be true because it has been said, and I have never been in a hotel in Montreal in my life with anybody of ill-repute.

"I came into this house a poor man; I go out of this house a poor man; I do not want to live who can say ought to the contrary.

"If I had devoted my life to my profession I think I could have gone on laying the foundation of at least an independence. I have given my life to my country. I have given my life to the discharge of my duties as minister of railways and canals. I have endeavored to treat all men as equals, and to be honest and true.

"I leave the government from a sense of duty. I am here yet as a duty to my family, and I have eliminated them from any remaining duties. I have discharged my duty to the public in the past. I hope I may be able to discharge it in the future.

"Mr. Emerson was frequently interrupted by applause, in which now and then Sir Wilfrid Laurier joined languidly.

"A few moments later E. L. Borden asked the prime minister, 'If there was any further information of the minister of public works, he said the present was not the proper occasion to enter into a discussion of the circumstances, but he thought there should be some statement from the prime minister when there should be some finality about the matter.'

"I have no information whatever to give the house at this time," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier in reply to the communication from Mr. Hyman, either direct or indirect.

OVER 300 NEW CITIZENS LOCATED BY THE BUREAU

Over Twenty Thousand From Old Country Expected in Two Weeks.

New arrivals from the motherland continue to flock into The World Welcome Bureau. Over 300 have been located since the bureau was started. In consequence of the frost of the past few days, unskilled laborers have not been in great demand. There are thirty-six men that require this class of work.

"There is abundant work for women, girls and boys, there being 100 situations waiting to be filled.

"A reader of The World thus expresses himself on the Welcome League: 'For the honor of old England and Canada, here is a dollar for a worthy cause, and my best wishes for its success. It was a long shot, but I wish it along.'

"That is just what citizens are doing. The contributions are coming in, and the committee hope to receive $1000 for this cause during the week.

"Every citizen should join the league. The subscription is but $1 a year; that dollar will help greatly. Over twenty thousand new citizens will arrive within a few weeks. The British Welcome League desires they shall have a good reception, find employment speedily, and get quickly settled in their new homes.

As soon as the membership of the league warrants it, a permanent office will be opened for giving information to new arrivals as to where they can secure work.

The committee also desire to start a home for the temporary accommodation of our friends from the motherland. Those who can afford to contribute more than a dollar should send same to the president, treasurer, secretary, or pay it in to the credit of the league at the corner of the corner of Queen and Yonge-streets. Cut out and fill out the form below and send it along with your subscription.

The committee hope to have the receipt-books from the printers to-morrow, when all amounts sent in will be acknowledged.

I desire to become a member of the British Welcome League, and enclose $1 subscription for the ensuing 12 months:

Name Address Send to Albert Chamberlain, president, 84 Victoria-street; Mayor Conisworth, treasurer, 200 St. George-street; or, Mrs. W. G. Morrison, 83 Yonge-street, Toronto, or Imperial Bank, corner of Queen and Yonge.

CROWN WILL SEND MAN TO UNRAVEL MYSTERY OF ELLIOTT'S DEATH

Inquest on Death of Grand Turk Sectionman Will Be Resumed at Port Credit To-Day.

Port Credit, April 2.—(Staff Special.)—The crown has at last decided to take a hand in the unravelling of the mystery surrounding the death of the English sectionman, Edward Elliott, who met his death two miles west of here early on Good Friday morning.

At the inquest to-morrow a member of the provincial detective staff will be in attendance to watch proceedings and follow up any clue which may be unearthed. It is certain that evidence will be produced to prove conclusively that Elliott came to his death as a result of foul play.

Dr. Sutton, who performed the autopsy, is ready to swear that the wound in Elliott's chin was caused by some sharp instrument, either a knife or a stiletto, and that the gash on the back of the head was in all likelihood inflicted by a blow from a shovel.

County Constable Peer made a trip into the city to-day to subpoena Jas. Batty, the conductor of the way freight who found Elliott alive by the track and brought him into Port Credit.

He arranged with Michael Basso to act as interpreter for the four Italians known to have passed the spot shortly before Elliott was picked up. Harry Gallagher, the man with whom Elliott left the section camp at Clarkson to come into the city, will be brought here to-morrow from Hamilton to testify, and Constable Peer is of the opinion that this man will be able to throw some light on the matter.

Dr. Sutton will open the enquiry at 2 o'clock to-morrow, assisted by High Constable Broddy of Brampton and County Attorney W. H. McFadden of Peel County, at the Wilbur House.

LIKE PORT CREDIT MURDER.

Editor World: I see some account of a murder of a railway workman last week. A similar tragedy took place here at Port Credit some time ago, when the watchman at the railway bridge of the G. W. Railway, three miles west of Toronto, was one morning found dead, evidently murdered. The guilty person was never found. A man arrested as a tramp on suspicion of having been before Mr. R. Cotton, then the resident magistrate at Port Credit, who remanded the man to Toronto Jail, but no result has been ascertained. I was then employed at the G. W. Railway station at Port Credit.
