BUDGET BILL PASSES WITH 230 MAJORITY

ONLY TWO LIBERALS NOT VOTING

Nationalists Did Not Take Part, But 528 Members Out of 587 Were Present For Division.

WHERE'S ALTERNATIVE? ASQUITH ASKS BALFOUR

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The house of commons passed the third reading of the budget bill to-night by a majority of 230, the vote showing 379 to 149.

As the Irish Nationalists had decided not to take part in the division, 528 members of parliament thus attended out of a possible 587. Allowing for pairs, there was thus a very full attendance. The present standing of parties is: Liberals 374, Unionists 159, Labor and Socialist 34, Nationalist 33, in all 600.

The scene in the house was a memorable one. Seldom has there been a larger attendance of members and peers, and the diplomatic galleries were crowded to their utmost capacity.

Chancellor Lloyd-George, Premier Asquith and Mr. Balfour, leader of the opposition, all spoke during the evening, and there was tense excitement throughout the session, all present appearing to be imbued with the historic character of the occasion.

Mr. Asquith, in a brief speech closing the debate, said that it was incumbent upon those who objected to the government's taxes to provide some alternative scheme to meet the nation's needs. Where was this scheme? asked Mr. Asquith.

Sooner or later Mr. Balfour must show his hand, and it would have to be a hand that would quit the game of tax reform.

The government, continued the premier, might well be content to rest themselves in patience, there were only two issues before the house—the taxes proposed by the budget or tariff reform.

The division was then taken and the announcement of the vote, showing the government's majority to be larger than had been expected, was greeted with prolonged ministerial cheering.

The Conservative opposition, who were in good faith and that he was merely acting as an agent. He also charged that the whole prosecution was due to political jealousies and the sorrows of a discharged employe.

Commissioner Walthers said in refusing extradition that Russell had made a clear explanation of his dealings with the Canadian complainants, and he could not see any criminal intent in the evidence laid before him.

Hon. J. J. Foy, attorney-general, said last night that he did not know what further steps would be taken in the case.

Redmond Explains Why Party Didn't Vote on Budget. LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Liberal papers this morning are pleased that the budget has left the house of commons backed by a solid majority representing the whole strength of the party, including the Labor members.

The only matter of discontent is the refusal of the Nationalists to support the budget. Their support, however, could hardly have been expected, in view of the fact that they opposed the government on the second reading.

The abstention of the Nationalists is a declaration of war against the house of lords, when the struggle is carried into the country at the general election. Timothy Healy, Nationalist member of parliament, declared that nothing has yet occurred that can be taken as defining the lords' attitude.

$14,000 STEAL BY THUGS AT THE FALLS

Express Cashier Is Slugged, and Package of Old Bank Notes Taken—Three Suspects Are Arrested.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Nov. 4. (Special.)—On the pretext of looking for a trunk, a man went into the Canadian Express office at five o'clock to-night, and while the cashier was looking up the records, struck him over the head with a loaded pipe, knocking him out, and disappeared with a parcel of money containing $14,000. The money came from the banks in this city, and consisted of old bills which were being sent to headquarters for cancellation.

William Dobson, the cashier, was alone in the little brick office situated a few feet west of the G. T. station, making up the parcel of money for the 435 pm. Grand Trunk train, when the man entered and asked if a trunk was there for him. A companion stood on guard at the door.

Dobson had just come out of the money cage with the money, intending to take it to the express car on train 25, which was just about ready to leave. He placed the packages on a back counter in the office and asked the stranger his name.

He asked the name a second time, and still being unable to make it out, he stooped down behind the public counter to get the record book in the hope that it would assist him. This was the opportunity the stranger sought. The ruse had worked perfectly.

With a movement like lightning he drew from his overcoat a piece of inch steel pipe about a foot and a half long, bound with insulating tape, and looked at the top, and struck Cashier Dobson a terrific blow over the head. The cashier sank to the floor without a groan and the stranger jumped over the counter, picked up the packages of money and walked leisurely out of the office. Dobson's scalp was split open, and he was rendered unconscious.

The pair strolled nonchalantly up the tracks and disappeared. Outside the office were a number of railroad men and attaches of the express office, but were done in good faith and that he was merely acting as an agent. He also charged that the whole prosecution was due to political jealousies and the sorrows of a discharged employe.

THREE BULLETS INTO MATCH BREAKER

In Jealous Rage, George Neilson Shoots Esther Hazel, Who Sought to Estrate Sweetheart—Victim Will Live.

Uxbridge, Ont., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—After to-night's session the coroner's jury, investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Archie McLaughlin, and her two children last Friday night, in the burning of the McLaughlin home, the origin of the fire and the cause of deaths remain as much a mystery as ever.

Coroner Hascom examined only four witnesses to-night regarding the fire, and devoted the balance of the evening to McLaughlin himself.

Less than a dozen witnesses were called, but there are about twenty to be heard to-morrow.

The location of the fire away from the kitchen or any stove, the conduct of McLaughlin after the fire when questioned by spectators, the position of Mrs. McLaughlin on the bed with arms folded across her breast when found, notwithstanding that McLaughlin claims that she had gone to bed some time before, were brought out.

Mrs. Norman Beal said the attention of herself and husband was directed to the McLaughlin home by seeing smoke, while they were on their way home about 11.30. As they approached the house, they saw McLaughlin coming out of the door with a baby carriage, in which was his five-year-old daughter.

Said He Didn't Know. McLaughlin seemed dazed, and to persistent inquiries as to whether his wife was in the building he returned the answer "I do not know." Witness and her husband, with another woman, entered the house and found it full of smoke, but saw no flames except the fire in the stove. A lamp was burning on the table. The little girl was dressed in a night shirt and wrapped only in a piece of blanket and a towel. She told friends later that she had been in bed, and had been taken out by her father, thereby contradicting McLaughlin's evidence to the effect that the child was sick, and that he was sitting up nursing it.

Other persons soon arrived and rushed thru the lower rooms, trying to find Mrs. McLaughlin and the children, and thru it all, McLaughlin stood outside the door.

Later, after the bodies had been removed from the building he was seized by a trembling spasm, and wrapped in a fur coat.

Fire Under Stairway. C. E. Lee said he was roused out of his bed at 11.55 pm. by cries of fire, and had rushed to the scene. Flames were then commencing to appear near the stairway, and he was of the opinion that fire had been started. A large fireman, Graham and Crawford testified that there were no marks on the bodies, and the bedclothes had not been disturbed. Mrs. McLaughlin was stretched across the bed, and the little boy, aged 7 and 4, were under the front of the arm a bullet lies just under the skin. At the back, immediately below the right shoulder-blade is a hole showing where another bullet entered and a few inches forward is the hole where it emerged. Neither of these wounds is serious, but at the back of the right hip another bullet has entered.

Clerks and police tried to get Dobson to describe the man, but he could not do so. "Two men" were the only words.

Analysis to Determine Cause of Death of Three Victims—Coroner Probes Husband's Conduct.

FAKE CONFESSION BY STEINHELL

Sensation-Crazed Actor Creates Stir—Accused Woman Withstands a Rigorous Cross-Examination.

Eighteen months ago M. Steinhell, first story of the house he occupied with his wife, in the Impasse Ronain, Paris, Mme. Japy, was discovered in a neighboring bedroom, and Mrs. Steinhell, who was sleeping in the bedroom of her daughter, Marie, was found attached or tied to her bed, gasping for breath. As soon as she had been attended to she stated that three bearded men, accompanied by a red-haired woman, threatened and bound her. M. Steinhell and his wife were taken to the police station and placed in the police hospital. Mme. Steinhell even gave a rather important role in the political history of the last few years.

Her father's habits and contradictions were remarked in Mme. Steinhell's depositions, so much so that people began to think she might be guilty of or an accomplice in the crime. For a year past she has been detained in jail awaiting trial.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Dramatic situations followed last night upon another to-day in the assize court, where the trial of Mme. Marguerite Steinhell, who is accused of having murdered her husband and her stepmother, Mme. Japy, was continued.

In the midst of her inquisition by the presiding judge, her attorney, M. Aubin, with extraordinary effect, pushed to the forefront a man who said he wished to confess that he had taken part in the murders of which Mme. Steinhell was accused.

M. Aubin read a letter signed "Jean Lefebvre," asking that he be permitted to confess, and then he pointed at the accused woman and said "Lefebvre" Mme. Steinhell gazed at him in pity, and after he had made a rambling statement, in which he said that she guided as a woman and wearing a wig of red hair, he had helped her to commit the murders, she declared she could not identify him as one of the murderers whom she had previously described.

The presiding judge promptly ordered Lefebvre's arrest, and an investigation of his statement, and warned the jury that the man might be an actor, and attempt to baffle justice. A search of the man disclosed two photographs, one of Mme. Steinhell and the other of her husband, which were committed. Lefebvre was locked up as a vagabond.

On further examination before a magistrate Lefebvre said that his name is Rene Colard, and that he is an actor. He admitted that he had not the slightest connection with the crime, merely acted on a chivalrous impulse to save Mme. Steinhell, who he thought was convicted. He was detained pending specifications of his identity.

As on the opening day of this sensational case, Mme. Steinhell was brought to a high tension over the promised disclosures, and, although it was known that but few could pass within the precincts of the court, hundreds remained outside to watch and discuss in excited tones the progress of the case as it came to them thru the newspaper extras that flooded the streets.

Mme. Steinhell was again on the stand, dressed in a mourning gown, a dramatic the pathetic figure, fighting hard for life.

Her replies came with lightning rapidity as she looked the judge full in the face and spoke with a well modulated, musical tone of voice, high pitched, clear as a silver bell, but not too strident. She is a born tragedienne. She defended herself with such absolute self-assurance and cleverness as to cause an impression which on the whole was not in her favor.

Mme. Steinhell's dress, her demeanor and in fact her theatrical make-up could not help but be better arranged even if it had been devised by Sarah Bernhardt. She wore a simple black gown in exquisite taste, which fitted her to perfection, disclosing her thin, clear as a silver bell, but not too strident. She is a born tragedienne. She defended herself with such absolute self-assurance and cleverness as to cause an impression which on the whole was not in her favor.

RUSSELL NEEDN'T COME EXTRADITION REFUSED

Evidence Presented by the Ontario Government Was Not Conclusive Enough.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—W. Lockhart Russell, the rich Lima, Ohio, promoter, won't have to go to Toronto, Ont., to face a charge of fraud in promoting and exploiting certain Cobalt mines while a member of the firm of Law & Company of Toronto. Law is now in a Canadian penitentiary.

The fight against the extradition put up by Russell's wife and brothers has been successful and Commissioner Walthers discharged the prisoner.

Russell, on the stand, denied that he had fraudulently advertised, and claimed that whatever attempt he made to sell stock, or any promises he held out, were done in good faith and that he was merely acting as an agent. He also charged that the whole prosecution was due to political jealousies and the sorrows of a discharged employe.

Commissioner Walthers said in refusing extradition that Russell had made a clear explanation of his dealings with the Canadian complainants, and he could not see any criminal intent in the evidence laid before him.

NEW GOLD "DIGGINGS"

Discovered Not More Than Fifty Miles From Victoria.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Rich placer diggings, not fifty miles from Victoria—diggings from which coarse gold, in grains like wheat, with occasional little nuggets is being taken—are reported.

The mining field will be shipping its clean-up to Victoria banks in the next six months, reports Railway Contractor M. B. Carlin.

The camp is at Sombrio River, a mysterious stream midway between the Jordan and the San Juan, which debouches into an unexplored cavern of Titanic magnitude. The gold is found in magnetic iron sand. The "pans" run up to 40 cents each.

WORLD SQUARE. How convenient it is when passing to and from the courts thru "The World Square," said a prominent lawyer yesterday. "The idea of opening the street is an excellent one, and The World is now located in one of the best corners in Toronto."

Such remarks as these are heard only by those who are becoming familiar with the new rapid transit thoroughfare. World Square is ever ready, but has not yet been opened to avoid the heavy traffic on Yonge-street.

World Square indicates the effect of the remarkable development which has taken place in late years in down town real estate.

GREAT IRON FIND

Thirty Feet Wide Vein on Nova Scotia Mines Property.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—News of a remarkable find of ore by the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co. reached Halifax to-day. It is the biggest in the history of the company and means millions of dollars for that concern.

The company has struck a 30-foot seam of solid iron ore, on their Wainona property. This makes sure of a supply of ore for two or more generations. The company has been looking for a new seam for the past two years. Tunneling work has been going on all that time. The tunnel to the new seam is one and a half miles long and extends that distance under the sea.

The Dominion Iron and Steel Co.'s areas extend one mile under water, and to reach the new seam the N. S. Steel and Coal Co. had to tunnel thru their property, the lease of sale giving them that right. At present both companies are working leads on land. The seam on land being now worked by the N. S. company is 15 feet thick, and the one on the new seam is two feet of solid ore, two feet of broken ore and then 30 feet of solid ore of the best quality.

WANT OF CONFIDENCE. Australia's Federal House is in a Bad Way.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 4.—(C.A.P.)—During the debate in the committee of the federal house of representatives to-day, Harper (Victoria) moved an amendment to the government scheme for per capita payments to the states, and declared there was a general want of confidence in the government. The amendment was carried by the chairman's casting vote.

HARE SKINS MAKE GOOD FUR SETS

There isn't anything on the catalogue much better for a rich looking and comfortable fur set than the dyed hare. It is really something new on the list. Looks very like fox skin or lynx, and the best feature of it is the price. Dyed hare doesn't cost as much as much as the other fur sets. The Dineen Company have on sale to-day some splendid designs in this new skin. They are particularly good for young ladies' costumes.

"The Barrier."
In Klaw & Erlanger's production of Rex Beach's "The Barrier," which will be presented at the Princess next week, the audience is keenly made to feel the breath of the far northwest; the spirit of the days in Alaska when lawlessness in the mining regions of that section had begun to sit up and take notice that law in the shape of the United States army men had begun to take a hand in affairs there. Picturesque, pathetic, powerfully drawn is the typical grizzled trader, John Gale, to be played by Mr. Theodore Roberts, who treats all with even-handed justice, but who has a past. In the company supporting Mr. Theodore Roberts is Miss Florence Rockwell, so well remembered by her charming performance of "Elsie" in "The Round Up," Mr. W. S. Hart, for many seasons playing "The Virginian," Mr. Alphonz Ethier, the recognized "Ben-Hur," and Mr. Richard Thornton, Mrs. Leslie Carter's leading man during her last New York season.

Madame Nazimova.

Madame Nazimova, who created the most favorable impression upon her previous visit in this city, will be seen at the Royal Alexandra theatre on next Monday night, in "The Passion Flower," by Brandon Tynan. The play is said to be of the new realistic school that calls for surprises, having many opportunities for excellent work, all of which will be brought out. The marked versatility Madame Nazimova has shown in other plays upon her previous appearance here is ample proof that she will fill the leading part with her characteristic fidelity. The other roles are in competent hands. The support includes Brandon Tynan, Henry Kelm, commencing Monday, Wallace Eskine, Wallace Hassen, Grace Reals, Norah Lamson, Zeffie Tibbary, Grace Gibbons, Carmen Nesville.

Seat sale opens to-day at the theatre and down town ticket office, at the Bell Piano warehouses, 146 Yonge-street.

The Prince of To-Night.
Henry Woodruff, late star of "Brown of Harvard," will be seen at the Grand Opera House, beginning Monday evening next in "The Prince of To-Night," the latest musical play by Adams, Hough and Howard. The piece is a musical comedy inasmuch as it begins as a musical comedy of ingratiating sentimental interests and then for the consolation of the heartbroken heroesses from the realms of lyric reality and the latest musical play by Adams, Hough and Howard. Welsh Ladies' Choir Program.
The Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir will present a very interesting program at the first of the monthly dances to be given by the Eventful Club, which will be held last evening in Old Orchard club-rooms and proved very enjoyable.

Bohemian Burlesquers.
It is seldom indeed that any burlesque show has made such a hit in the city as have "The Tiger Lilies," at the Star this week, but a greater success is predicted for the New York Burlesquers, next week's attraction, which this season present the biggest and best show they ever carried. The company is full of features, one of the principal ones being a heavy rollicking, jolly show girls, twenty in number.

"Havana" Coming Soon.
In "Havana," the only musical comedy which ran all last season in New York, there is one song which will cause the memory of "Till Me Pretty Maiden," the famous sextette number from "Florodora." It is "Hello, People, Hello." Comparison is made an account of the fact that Lee-Ho Stuart wrote the music for both pieces.

"Going Some."
An attraction which has been a great success in New York and in other large cities is "Going Some," a comedy by Rex Beach and Paul Armstrong. The company will be seen at the Royal Alexandra soon.

String Quartet.
More than usual interest is being shown in connection with the first concert of the Toronto String Quartet, which will be given on 13th instant, at Conservatory of Music. Frank S.

"Fads and Follies."
Inhof, Conn and Corinne, Ed. Dorning and Denny Sisters, Lewis & Dorning.

Homer Lind Coming.
Homer Lind, the eminent baritone, presenting the musical playlet "The Opera Singer," heads the bill at Shea's Theatre next week. The Six Musical Cutty (brothers and sisters) and the world's greatest musical family and Harry Linton and Anita Lawrence presenting the "Piano Score," will be the special attractions. Other acts included in the big bill are the Three Ernesto Sisters, Magnonetti, Kollin, Hatten and Hayes, Gillett's Baboons and the Kinetograph.

Cecilia Loftus Next Week.
The sale of seats to the Majestic for week of Nov. 15, for the Cecilia Loftus engagement opens to-day at the same popular prices. Miss Loftus is without doubt the highest salaried woman on the stage.

In addition to Miss Loftus Wm. Morris will offer nine other big vaudeville feature acts, all new to Toronto, and seldom seen outside of New York, London and Paris. Mail orders for seats for Miss Loftus this week will be carefully attended to. Make cheques payable to Manager Majestic Music Hall.

Madame Nazimova

One of the favorite poses of the most-talked-of dramatic star of the American stage, who will be seen at the Royal Alexandra next week in a play by Brandon Tynan, entitled "The Passion Flower." She is a revelation in the art of dramatic realism. She is possessed of a remarkable personality. In appearance she is striking without being absolutely beautiful, but she uses every atom of a remarkably rich and pliant personal equipment in behalf of the character she portrays.

Young. May Walsh and May Sork, are the solo numbers of the "Fads and Follies Company," which opens for a week's engagement at the Gayety theatre to-night, commencing Monday, "The Green Sod Club," written by Roger Inhof, who is the author of many things in and out of burlesque, is considered his masterpiece from a screwing comedy standpoint. The support of the entire company is enlisted.

Wesman, conductor of the Symphony Orchestra, will assist at the concert, and a large number of subscriptions have already been received. The plan will open to subscribers on the seventh of this month, and as the capacity of the hall is limited those interested are invited to send their subscriptions to the secretary, Toronto String Quartet, 46 King-street West.

The interest in the concert by the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir at Massey Hall on Saturday evening is becoming very keen, in view of the very remarkable reports which have been received of their singing wherever they have appeared. Their choral singing is well liked, and members of the city's numerous choral bodies are on the qui vive to observe the interesting vocal effects they obtain. Their humming accompaniments are said to be exactly like muted strings. The sale of seats begins on Saturday morning.

Coming attractions at the Princess are: week Nov. 15, Fanny Ward, Nov. 22-24, English Grand Opera Co.; Nov. 25-7, "Paid in Full"; week Nov. 29, May Robson.

MOVING AT CITY HALL REARRANGING OFFICES
Insurance Amounting to Over $3,000,000 Placed on Municipal Buildings.

The property committee of the city council decided yesterday to move the civil electrical department from the northwest ground floor corridor of the city hall to the south ground floor corridor. The latter position now comprises the board of education's storeroom, the bicycle room and the office of the city relief department. The relief office will be moved to the present suite of the electrical department, and the board of education will be asked to vacate. The committee had no objection in ordering this, as it is intended by the board of education to move out anyway when the new technical school is built.

Automobile Show.
Permission was granted the Ontario Motor League to use the St. Lawrence Market Arena for their annual automobile show. The city gets $1900 for the consideration. The show will run from Feb. 24 to March 3.

Commissioner Harris is instructed to report upon the advisability of moving the butchers' section of the St. Lawrence Market from the south to the north of the building, as has been advocated. It is not likely that the move will ever be made, however, as Mr. Harris says it will cost upwards of $40,000.

City's Insurance.
Insurance to the extent of $3,012,000 was placed upon the city's property for the next three years, at a premium of $67,500 a year. The city's rate is three-quarters and one per cent. The buildings and property are insured at about half their estimated value. Three years ago—the last time the insurance was adjusted—the total amount recoverable was $2,334,570. The reason for the increase is that there have been three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of new buildings erected.

The insurance is placed as follows: Property department, city hall and contents, $1,027,500; public markets, $153,500; fire halls and equipment, $24,845; police and patrol stations and morgue, $54,975; Harrison Baths, $18,200; weigh houses, $2100; freight and passenger sheds, $85,120; free bathing buildings and shelters, $2220; cattle market (main) $118,307, (annex) $38,670, (outside buildings) $14,250; city jail, $27,800; miscellaneous, $47,600.

Parks department—Exhibition bull-finch $95,110; High Park $12,995; Riverdale Park $16,475; Allan Gardens, $11,785; Island Park, $17,395; Hanlan Park, $3125; western sandbar, $2265; Island, general $2390; Alexandra, Queen's, Ketchum, Bellwoods, Stanley, Kew Gardens and Simcoe Parks, $5590.

Works department—Bridges, $15,450; waterways, $15,150; miscellaneous, $119,325; asphalt plant, $35,993; Prince-street yard, $22,450; waterworks, $183,825.

Street commissioner's department—Western yard, $24,200; Front-street stables, $23,900; miscellaneous, $23,735. Board of health—Buildings and contents, $66,865.

Total $2,012,400.

Not Burton Rapley.
The man who succeeded near the St. Lawrence market Sunday night was not Burton Rapley, who travels for a Montreal firm and has been missing since Oct. 12.

So declares a Toronto man, who knew Rapley intimately. The body of the unknown is too stout for Rapley and his features do not bear the slightest resemblance, while Rapley was always better dressed than this man was. The body of the unknown is now at Harry Rank's undertaking parlors, where it will be kept for a couple of days for the purpose of identification.

The popularity of Edward Howard Griggs as a lecturer is shown by the large number of course tickets taken for his course of nine lectures on Shakespeare. The plan is at Gerhard Heintzman's new warehouse, on Queen-street, opposite the city hall.

FRENCH IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS
Concession That is Desired in Ontario by French-Canadians.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—About six hundred delegates are expected to attend the French-Canadian Congress here in January. It is denied the gathering will have any political significance. It will be exclusively for Ontario and mainly for the promotion of the educational movement.

The preliminary arrangements were made at a meeting of the general committee on October 13th at which it was decided to call the Congress. The committee, which was presided over by Judge Constantineau was attended by members from Eastern Ontario and points in Ontario as far west as Sudbury. At the meeting of the general committee a report of the school system of Ontario in regard to the teaching of French, which question has been thoroughly studied by a sub-committee appointed for the purpose by the general committee, was presented to the members present.

This report was unanimously adopted by the meeting which expresses its appreciation of the work of the sub-committee. The report refers to the necessity of having all children of French origin taught in their mother tongue through the different branches of the school system on Ontario and in any way interfering with the teaching of English.

JACK LONG SOUL MIND IN A SOUND BODY, SAYS DR. PAKENHAM

Upholds Technical Education in Germany—Physical Inspection Would Cost $250,000.

Dr. Pakenham, dean of the faculty of education of Toronto University, addressed the District Trades and Labor Council last evening on "What the School Should Do for the Young Craftsman."

He upheld the system of education in Munich, Germany, as opposed to the American idea. There, careful and scientific attention was paid to the physical needs of the boy. "The boy should be equipped with a sound body and a thought that would keep the body sound. Too much attention was paid to physical display in Toronto."

"Military drill in school does not belong to warfare Germany; but it goes with peaceful Canada," the speaker observed. "If there was to be a lockstep in any branch of our education, it should be in physical training. 'What shall it profit a man to have power and knowledge, and not health?' was the Munich principle."

It would cost Ontario $250,000 a year to look after a proper medical and physical inspection of her schools, but what was that sum compared to what was squandered on horse races? The principles of the workman's education should be based upon religion, moral and spiritual development; a broad general knowledge; patriotism and good citizenship; and after these, the training in mathematics, commercialism, etc., should come in."

Dr. Pakenham's address was received with hearty show of appreciation. He was followed by John B. Lennon, treasurer of the A. F. of L., who said the professor's subject was the great question of the workers of the world. To unionism generally he advised that they give less advertisement to "unfair" houses and more to the employers who were fair.

MRS. STETSON EXONERATED Special Board of Enquiry Diamis 38 Charges Perferred.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, formerly the wife of the first Chief Justice of the State, in this city, was completely exonerated today of twenty-eight charges of "mental impropriety" in the report of a special board of enquiry, which was presented to the congregation at a long and stormy meeting in the church on Central Park West.

Dr. Bruce Smith, on a recent inspection of the Bradford Jail, reported that unsanitary conditions existed and that there was lack of attention on the part of jail officials. The county council has passed a report resenting the remarks of the inspector. They say the inspector is prejudiced against the jail.

William Brabba, corporation treasurer, had a narrow escape on a level crossing in this city to-day on Oak Street. A train, which was about to pass, was stopped by the crossing, killing one. He was thrown off his wagon, but was uninjured.

Brantford Trades and Labor Council will endorse a procession for the election of the ensuing municipal election, and candidates in every ward are now being urged to endorse the cause. The council has asked Lloyd Harris, M.P., to favor a Dominion referendum in the matter of a Canadian navy.

Brantford South Dunfree, Burford Township and Brantford City will vote on local option in January next, the necessary petitions having been presented to the council of the city of Brantford. Onondaga and Ontario Townships in this county are already dry, and with the exception of Paris, the whole county is a general one throughout the county. A twenty-five cent stamp may also be presented to Paris town council.

Virgil O. Strickler, her successor as reader, who had appeared in Boston as a witness against Mrs. Stetson, was referred back to the board of enquiry for further consideration. No direct reference was made to a charge that Mrs. Stetson "adulterated Christian Science with spiritualism," in that she acted as a medium, thru which she said the thoughts of Mrs. Eddy reached those practitioners in the First Church favorable to herself. That Mrs. Stetson had come from Brookline to sit in the chair, was one of the elements of this charge.

Asked as to the theory that the growth of tobacco caused a deterioration in the quality of the tobacco, O'Brien stated that his experience did not justify such a claim, as the crop he was now harvesting was the sixth successive one off the same land, and each year showed an improvement in quality and yield. O'Brien's claims are well justified by the plants we saw being gathered, the leaves measuring in size to 15 x 3 inches, or an average of over three inches in area. The cultivation and enrichment of the soil requires great care, and in this Mr. O'Brien stated that he used no artificial manure. The grower is well rewarded for the care he gives to the land.

The harvesting of a tobacco crop is, however, no child's play, nor is the husbandman rewarded with returns from his industry as quickly as in other branches of agriculture. The tobacco after being out in the field is left for about a week on the ground, until the leaf becomes withered and flexible, as otherwise it would split and break if housed green, each plant is strung on long pieces of wood and hung down, or "racked," as it is called, and is thus left for a period of four months, after which it is stripped from the stem, sorted as to sizes and conformity of the leaves, and packed in cases and thus left till nature ferments it and even the colors, which takes about a year and a half, when it is ready for manufacturing.

Asked as to the comparative yield of the higher grades of tobacco, he are now growing with the heavy grades, previously grown. Mr. O'Brien said they were quite equal yield, as they could plant 1500 more plants of the same acre than the other grades, which more than counterbalanced the weight of the heavy grades. When properly cured Mr. O'Brien said the Canadian grown tobacco was superior to the Connecticut, York State or Wisconsin binders.

Ontario's Tobacco Industry

A new impetus to the development of the tobacco-growing industry in Canada is lent by the success now being attained in the production of superior grades of binder-leaf tobacco used in the manufacture of cigars and high-grade cut smoking varieties, says an Essex, Ont., correspondent.

Experiments along the line of the cultivation of these grades have been carried on for some years, and with such marked success that there no longer remains any doubt as to the immense possibilities in the development of this line of agriculture, if it may be so termed.

Also the tobacco leaf has been successfully grown in various parts of Canada for some years, farmers in the Counties of Kent and Essex, in Ontario, may be said to have advanced the industry to a higher plane of perfection than elsewhere in the Dominion, so much so that the value of its production in these counties, although even yet in its infancy, outrivals that of any other branch of agriculture. The possibilities are so great and its successful growing now so well established in these counties and elsewhere in the Dominion that it may be well assumed that in other parts of the Dominion the same cultivation has not yet been attempted and it may be successfully grown and thus another branch of agriculture developed, confirming the proud distinction which Canada holds of being the peer of all nations in the variety and quality of her farm products.

O'Brien Plantation. Your correspondent a few days ago visited the plantation of O'Brien Bros. in the Township of Harwich, in the County of Kent, where a large portion of the tobacco crop of this year's record-breaking crop. This plantation may be said to be one of the oldest and largest in the district, and is indeed claimed to be the largest on the continent. Thru the courtesy of Mr. Jerry O'Brien, we were enabled to gather much information concerning the culture, care, harvesting and curing of the leaf and of its importance as an agricultural product of these districts.

Questioned, Mr. O'Brien said that he commenced the growing of tobacco here some fifteen years ago. The varieties grown consisted principally of those known as the Burley, Zim-merman, Blue Pricer and Twist Bud, used principally in the manufacture of chewing and cut smoking tobaccos. The product of these now amount to many millions of pounds annually, and the value per acre of the product is much greater than that of any other line of agriculture.

Mr. O'Brien's success in growing these heavy grades led him to the belief that the highest grades of Connecticut Havana seed binders might be grown, and some years ago he began experimenting along these lines. His expectations have been more than justified by the magnificent crop just harvested, and confirmed by three years' successive crops of this variety, each rivaling its predecessor in quality and quantity.

This year's product will average over 1500 pounds to the acre of matured and cured tobacco, and of magnificent quality.

Floral Tribute From Kitchener For Assassination Victim. TOKIO, Nov. 4.—Followed by representatives of the Emperor and Empress of Japan, ambassadors and others directed to personally represent their governments, the body of Prince Yi was conveyed to its resting place. The burial, conducted with the Shinto rites, was made at the mausoleum erected at the late country residence of the prince in Omeri, a suburb of Tokio.

The state funeral was conducted with magnificent solemnity. It began with simple ceremonies at the city home at 7 o'clock this morning. Only members of the immediate family and the closest personal friends were present. At 9 o'clock a procession formed and headed by the imperial band playing Chopin's funeral march moved to Kiyba Park, a mile and a half distant, where public services were held. The park was crowded with men in evening dress and women gowned in black. Many of these were foreigners. A special shrine had been erected and in this the catafalque rested during the ceremonies, which occupied three hours. Floral offerings were made in the name of their governments by British Ambassador Macdonald, Count Montegias, German chargé d'affaires, and representatives of the governments of France, Russia, Austria and Italy. There were also floral tributes from Field Marshal Lord Kitchener in the name of the British army and from the delegation of Koreans now in this country.

On the conclusion of these rites the catafalque was again placed upon the gun carriage and at 2 o'clock the march to Omeri, where the interment was to be made, began. Along the route of six miles thousands looked on in silence. The interment was made in dusk in the immediate presence of the family and a few personal friends, representatives of the emperor and empress and others of royalty.

CIVIC REUBENS.

Unstable as water, thou shalt not excel, was the prediction about Reuben, the patriarch. The board of control of the City of Toronto did a good deed Wednesday, but repeated it overnight. Two of them were Reubens and one who had not been on the job when the decision was made was unable to judge of its merits but adopted a petty personal attitude. But it was the Reubens on the board who wobbled.

PUBLIC MEN ON CORPORATION BOARDS.

In accepting a directorship on the board of a big insurance corporation as a newly appointed president of the United States University has done, he has parted with a larger measure of the influence that properly belongs to his office than he can ever be compensated for as a commercial manager.

Educationalists, men of letters, politicians, theologians and the like cannot take places in the ranks of the capitalistic buccaners, and continue to hold the confidence of the people or direct public opinion.

Grover Cleveland undermined his great influence and sacrificed his character as a public man when he sold out to Bryan. The people honor those who strive their cause with an eye single.

THE WHITE PLAGUE.

Fifty days till Christmas! During that time about 500 people will die in Ontario of tuberculosis. If it were stated that 500 horses would die of glanders or 500 cholera, the government would have an army of men at work. It is only people who are going to die of this preventable disease, and most of us are apathetic.

There is much good work being done to fight the White Plague. One of the channels of assistance that everybody may utilize in this cause is the Red Cross stamp fund.

Buy some Red Cross stamps and have the consciousness that you have done a little to dispel the horror of this shadow of death.

CLEVELAND AND THE LATE MAYOR.

After carrying four successful elections as mayor of Cleveland, including that against Senator Burton, who stood with the backing of President Roosevelt, Tom L. Johnson failed of return at his fifth essay. During his eight years of office he accomplished many notable civic reforms and waged a long and persistent battle against the traction interests that sought to bring the city under their uncontrolled domination.

As the state laws of Ohio do not permit of municipal ownership and operation of franchises, the late mayor was heavily handicapped by his inability to make this a direct issue, and the electors did not sustain the franchise to the private company he organized under conditions which made it a public trust.

But he continued his efforts and early in October last he secured a settlement of the traction question, which made him the ultimate victor. As The Cleveland Plain Dealer editorially remarked at the time: "Patient in the face of the most tedious and discouraging difficulties, persevering through innumerable setbacks and temporary defeats, Mayor Johnson has brought the city a sane and sensible street railway arrangement that will long be considered the best attainable. Neither his most ardent supporters nor his bitterest enemies can with justice deny him the honor of accomplishment and victory."

The traction companies and the city agreed on the value of the traction property and the maximum rate of fare being fixed by Judge Taylor, and it is understood that practically a three-cent fare will be imposed.

The last election turned largely on the manner of making the quadrennial reappraisal of property for taxation. Mr. Johnson urged that this should be done according with a uniform rule and stated that there was property in the city assessed at not over five per cent. of its value. "Combinations of property," he said, in a press interview, "have kept their valuations from 10 to 25 per cent., while property outside the combination is assessed at from 40 to 110 per cent. of its value."

With the traction question at an end, the Republican organization carried its candidate, but Tom L. Johnson will keep up the contest and has already intimated that he will stand again in 1911. Constancy and courage are needed these days in United States cities.

THE MAN ON HIS FEET.

The east is east and the west is west. Each has its problems, neither can wholly sympathize with the other. In solving its salvation the west may take measures too generous to win the approbation of the east. But then the east is east and the west is west. The west knows what it wants. The east doesn't know the west, yet.

It is with the Province of British Columbia—the farthest west, so far that it has created an atmosphere as if of another Canada, even as California until a few years ago possessed a similar distinction from the rest of the United States. No province is more jealous of its geographical distinction, no province has more individuality, personality, soul than British Columbia. It has long been the plaything of certain corporations grown fat with federal favor. But British Columbia has now reached man-size, and its personality is asserting itself.

This is shown in the railway policy of Premier McBride, who typifies the British Columbia individuality. It is significant that he is the first native son of British Columbia to rise to the premiership, not, it must be admitted, without creating chagrin among some of the manor born. His rise is due to his native abilities. He is gifted with a magnetism that buckles followers to him. He has shown his fitness to man-handle the affairs of his native province. His opponents have not always gone from the field victorious. Dick McBride gives an account of himself every time.

In his recent railway policy he has focused the need of an unattached railway for British Columbia. The full-blown and full-blooded C. P. R. that has manipulated British Columbia through many tortuous years is overlooked. British Columbia thinks its interests no longer lie in posing as the gold-egg-goose for a railway that raffles two dominions. Nor is British Columbia in love with the federally-owned railway to force Prince Rupert on nature, and that connects up with the G. T. R., that is as much a part of the United States as the G. T. R. Hence the Canadian Northern Railway comes into the McBride railway policy as an unattached line, distinctly Canadian and absolutely necessary to the development of British Columbia.

Premier McBride's life record shows him to be a man of sterling integrity, a fair dealer, a square player of politics, and a son devoted to the interests of British Columbia, first, last and always. His administration has been capable, honest and enterprising. He took office at a time when the finances of the province were in a critical condition. He delayed announcing his railway policy until the financial emergency was at hand. Then he comes to the people with a clean-cut, comprehensive, co-operative policy that everyone can understand. He can be trusted to carry it thru.

As to his railway policy, it is strange that it is opposed by the C. P. R., the G. T. R. and the G. T. P. Their opposition is most natural, dictated as it is by their self-interest. All the pandered advocates of the C. P. R. and the G. T. R. now abuse the McBride railway policy. Richard gains by the economies he has made. Then the guarantee of $35,000 a mile is much less than what it will cost to build a mile of the road.

Well-informed railway men say the McBride railway bargain is a better bargain than the Liberals drove with the G. T. P. Unalterably opposed to railway grants, as The World is, and the circumstances in British Columbia may be pleaded as an extension for Premier McBride. And, besides, the west is west and the east is east. A prophet of the future, this need not worry even the C. P. R. and G. T. P. for any deficit in revenue is guaranteed by the C. N. R. Hence the province need not feel fearful of the commitment, even if for the first two or three years, under the railway agreement, there should be a deficit.

From this distance Premier McBride looks like a man on his feet. He is

British Columbia. Premier Whitney was magnific for his power policy. Yet Premier Whitney is Ontario. British Columbia can trust Dick McBride to give it a fair and square deal in railways. And for the east it may be necessary to repeat the west is west.

TRENTON POWER AND THE MANUFACTURERS.

Editor Toronto World: Your article in today's World rather disconcerted me about seeking a site for a factory in Trenton, and yet are you sure the company can deprive the town of No. 1 Dam—if the by-law is carried. Why should it do so? Then as to royalty per horsepower. If it is put high by the town, the consumer must pay the advanced price, hence 50 cents is about fair. But if the rate is charged on the extreme limit of power used, say for an hour, and then drops down say 3 horse power, and only for 12 hours per day, must the consumer pay the whole 24 hours at the highest rate? If so, no manufacturer will seek Trenton as a location. Further, if other towns are giving cheaper power that is another reason for staying away from Trenton. Then why should the town transfer their right with the government at all? Why not hold the renewal in their own hands, and give an agreement to renew on terms to be arranged, or else take over the whole business at the end of 21 years. Trenton people say they have the power under the Municipal Act to take over the plant at any time at a valuation. But the offer the terms to the company now, the highest they will have to pay for expropriation.

The position is a difficult one, the town is not in a position to do the necessary work alone, could not raise the money on debentures as they are help themselves along must be accepted and many of them think any offer to help them along must be accepted and many had better do in the matter.

Elmira Interior Woodwork Co. v. Engineering Contracting Co.—F. J. Roche, for defendants on motion to change venue from Berlin, where the plaintiffs reside, to Toronto, where the work in question was put up, the plaintiffs, contra. Judgment: The affidavit in support of the motion is made by defendant's solicitor. It is on information and belief but does not give the source. For these two reasons the affidavit is not strictly receivable. But wanting that it appears that there will be a speedier and, therefore, less costly trial at Berlin than at Toronto, even if the difference in witnesses is found to exist. Motion dismissed with costs in the cause. This will be without prejudice to any application, the defendant may make to the trial judge if the facts as to the number of witnesses called on both sides seem to justify a direction that those costs are to be taxed as if the trial had been at Toronto so far as the witness fees are concerned.

This was an appeal from the mining commissioner, who declared the mining claims of Spurr, Penny and Murphy invalid on the ground that there was no discovery as required by the act by any of them. The appellant contends that the question of his discovery was not before the commissioner, and also that the commissioner's award of discovery by appellant was proved. FATALITY WHILE HUNTING. Companion's Gun Accidentally Discharged, Killing William Dickie. NORTH BAY, Nov. 4.—Robert William Dickie, C. P. R. engineer of Chapleau, was accidentally shot while deer hunting near Puskomung on the C. P. R., 125 miles west of North Bay. The accident resulted from the gun of a companion being fired on the ground. A twig caught the trigger and the contents entered Dickie's back, causing almost instant death. The deceased was thirty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.

The Pembina Valley, Alberta. A gentleman who has recently visited the Pembina River district on the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway about 40 miles west of Edmonton, reports that this territory promises furnishing unusual interesting features. The banks of the river are full of lignite coal, as is the whole country around Edmonton and west, but the coal of the Pembina is the somewhat superior quality. The river abounds in fish, several species being found in its waters.

Another special feature for the scientist and geologist is the large number of petrified stumps of trees on both sides of the Pembina. These stumps have all the appearance of being spruce and the grain is well preserved, but they are real rock. Spruce chips, shells and a great many other interesting specimens are found in a petrified condition.

THE STEINHEIL TRIAL

voice, and her well measured gestures and dignified bearing create a personality such as might well have been chosen by Shakespeare himself to play the part of Lady Macbeth.

The president of the court had gone into the history of Mme. Steinheil's parents, recounting their melancholy fate in a touching manner.

"But I find in the life of your parents," remarked the judge, "much sadness that I need not recall."

"And why was challenged Mme. Steinheil as calmly as a statue given the power of speech."

"Because," the judge shot back in surprise, "I think you have enough for which you are responsible without answering for the faults of your parents."

"But I wish to answer at once," protested this remarkable woman in a voice that rang with defiance.

"I have been a year in prison. I had a drinker. I have read it with a breaking heart. He married a young girl, one very poor, and of that, if they were guilty. But he as a worthy man, loved by all."

"It was Mme. Steinheil's first word in her own defense."

"I am only a woman," she went on, "I do the best I can to defend myself. You have papers, documents, I nothing to say. Please let me defend myself. Until two months ago, I thought I was accused only of telling lies. It was not until then that I learned that the charge was of murder. I was harassed, I was bullied by detectives and reporters, until I didn't know what I said. Please let me defend myself. Do not be vindictive, Mr. President."

First Mention of Faure.

She yesterday refused pointblank to mention the name of the late president of France, Felix Faure, the mystery of whose fatal attack of illness in her home eight years ago is the feature of international interest in the present trial.

"I had one dear, good friend," said Mme. Steinheil, "but I will not mention his name."

"Tell his name! Tell all the names!" she shouted the "Incident De Valle," and the court adjourned.

"No! I should not speak of the dead," she answered, just as calmly as before.

She has been openly charged with having given poisoned wine to Faure when he was her guest alone with her in her husband's mansion.

Just before the close of this afternoon's session came the first direct mention of the late president. Much of the interest in the present case lies in the friendship that is known to have existed between Mme. Steinheil and the late president of the republic, and the late president of the republic, and the late president of the republic, and the late president of the republic.

The direct reference to the president was made to-day in connection with a discussion of the incident of the finding in the subway of an invitation to an exhibition at the Steinheil home, together with pieces of a visiting card of Mme. Maseline, with the name of a customer written on it, which Mme. Steinheil asserts was dropped by the fleeing assassins.

Responding to a question as to whether it was at the home of Mme. Maseline at Harve she met President Faure, the prisoner replied: "No, it was during a trip in the Alps. The judge did not pursue this line of inquiry further."

Story Unshaken.

Owing to the many trying ordeals of the day, and the fatigue which the prisoner showed, her lawyer asked for an early adjournment, and the hearing was brought to a close by the judge, making reference to the accusation against Frederick Harrison, Burlington, an American newspaperman, but the prisoner persisted that she had never definitely accused him, but had only said that he resembled one of the assassins.

A summary of the day's evidence shows that the judge failed to shake Mme. Steinheil's original version of ed and at what depth it lies the doctors are unable to determine.

The girl was assisted home by the doctors, where a further examination was made and it was decided that she should be removed to Grace Hospital.

The police ambulance was called and she was taken there and placed under the care of Dr. H. R. Holmes, who will likely operate to remove the bullets this morning.

Meanwhile the police had been scouring the city to locate Nelson and finally Detectives Moffatt and Tipton found him at the home of Miss Tucker.

The girl had also returned to her room. He was taken to the Esther-street police station, where he is held without bail, charged with shooting with intent to kill.

Policeman Baird was close to the scene and heard the shooting. He was told that the man had run west in the line of Clifton-street, and he pursued him. He failed to overtake him and lost track of him in the darkness.

Nelson says he fired only the three shots and that he threw away the revolver in the lane. The police are now searching for the weapon.

Miss Tucker explained the motive by saying that Nelson and Miss Hazel were at variance because of her friendship for them. The man had been telling her for a long time that she should have nothing to do with Esther Hazel, and Miss Hazel was equally emphatic in her denials.

THREE BULLETS

ed and at what depth it lies the doctors are unable to determine.

The girl was assisted home by the doctors, where a further examination was made and it was decided that she should be removed to Grace Hospital.

The police ambulance was called and she was taken there and placed under the care of Dr. H. R. Holmes, who will likely operate to remove the bullets this morning.

Meanwhile the police had been scouring the city to locate Nelson and finally Detectives Moffatt and Tipton found him at the home of Miss Tucker.

The girl had also returned to her room. He was taken to the Esther-street police station, where he is held without bail, charged with shooting with intent to kill.

Policeman Baird was close to the scene and heard the shooting. He was told that the man had run west in the line of Clifton-street, and he pursued him. He failed to overtake him and lost track of him in the darkness.

Nelson says he fired only the three shots and that he threw away the revolver in the lane. The police are now searching for the weapon.

NOT KEELER AFTER ALL FOR ASSESSMENT JOB

Two Controllers Change Minds Over Night, and One, Not Consulted, is Sore.

Ald. A. J. Keeler isn't to be assistant assessment commissioner after all, thus emphasizing once again that the board of control moves in a mysterious way.

At a meeting of the board on Wednesday Mayor Oliver and Controller Hocken, Harrison and Ward approved the appointment, which was strongly recommended by Assessment Commissioner Forman and County Judge Winchester.

At a meeting of the board on Wednesday Mayor Oliver and Controller Hocken, Harrison and Ward approved the appointment, which was strongly recommended by Assessment Commissioner Forman and County Judge Winchester.

Controller Geary's pique because he wasn't present when the decision was reached is more easily explained than the fact that Controller Harrison and Ward joined him yesterday in objecting to the appointment.

Controller Hocken, speaking of the objections which seem to have occurred overnight to the dissenting members, namely, that it's an unusual principle to appoint a member of the city council to a civic office.

At a meeting of the board on Wednesday, but that on thinking it over he had concluded that it wasn't advisable to select an alderman for the office, although he fully believed in Ald. Keeler's ability.

It is rather unusual for a strong recommendation by a member of the council to be rejected, especially when backed so substantially. It probably means that Mr. Forman, who is keenly disappointed over the outcome, will have to content himself with an appointment in whose capability he has less confidence than in that of Mr. Keeler.

WE WOULD GIVE $10,000 IN CASH

If the people in Old Ontario could be made to realize that the greatest offer that has ever been made in real estate—or probably ever will be made—is embodied in our proposition to sell lots in the City of Port Arthur at $100 each, on easy terms—because if the situation were actually understood by every person in the country, there would not be one single foot of property left twenty-four hours after this knowledge was brought to their attention.

WE are selling lots for $100, some of which will be worth in a few years $10,000 each, if you will take into consideration some of the elements which go to make up the future values in the City of Port Arthur—Canada's greatest fresh-water port; three great transcontinental railway convergences at this city; immense quantities of mineral, timber and farming country, which extends for hundreds of miles, all of which centralize here; immense grain elevators, smelters, factories, ship-building industries, large docks, and, last, but not least, a splendid harbor, of which the Dominion Government think enough to spend several hundred thousand dollars per year in improvements on it. Write us for particulars to-day.

Market Inclined To Sell Off La Rose Again the Feature

Some Declines Are Experienced and Tendency is for Easier Prices in General.

Woods Office. Thursday Evening, Nov. 4. The movement in La Rose was the outstanding feature of the market. Much of the buying continued and the stock maintained an easy tendency throughout the session, the only exception being the record of yesterday.

At the opening of the exchange, the shares fluctuated between that point and $4.80, closing at $4.84. The market was very active, the majority of the transactions were mainly for small lots.

Much of the buying of La Rose at current levels is coming from Montreal and it is reported that the new direction is much in favor of having this issue held largely in the eastern centers, in order to insure a bigger market for the stock at that point.

While considerable criticism is being given the former officials for their policy of working the La Rose property at its fullest capacity and neglecting the other properties, the general opinion of the street is that the action of President McGibbon and his associates in reducing the dividend was, of course, a mistake under the circumstances. It is certain that the policy of the present management will be one of aggressive conservatism, and that operations will be pushed on the hitherto unproductive claims, in order that the original mine will not be burdened with both dividend paying and operating costs of the other properties.

Despite the weakness of La Rose, the remainder of the market remained comparatively steady. Some declines were experienced, but these were offset by higher prices in other sections of the district. Little Nipissing, Chambers-Ferland, Timiskaming, Nova Scotia and Oiseau were all lower; Rochester and Cobalt Central sold higher, the former on pure manipulation. Foster was early in the day, but recovered later.

The market was inclined to sell off throughout the session and closed on the easy side. A lack of confidence in mining issues as a whole has been induced by the late development in La Rose, and an uncertainty tendency will that can be expected for the immediate future.

SIX MEN IN MINE CAGE PLUNGE 300 FT. IN SHAFT

Only One is Seriously Hurt—Bad Accident Providentially Averted at Timiskaming Mine.

COBALT, Nov. 4.—Six men fell 300 feet in the cage down the shaft at the Timiskaming mine but only one was seriously hurt, and one, John Swartz, escaped unscathed. The injured are: William White, bruises on body and head, possible internal injuries, in hospital; Claude McIsaac, broken ankle and bruises; James Davis, leg broken, in hospital; John Smithers, dislocated hip, ugly flesh wounds; John Stevens, injuries to leg and body.

The cage was standing crooked on the tables, but the men had no warning of danger until the cage started to descend. Fortunately the brake was on, otherwise the men would have been killed. The cage was gaining momentum at a great speed when it reached the bottom, and the men believed in their own feet to go they would have been dashed to pieces.

MINTO'S COUSIN IN OPERA

Has Joined the Metropolitan Forces in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(Special).—Miss Christina Hellane, whose father is a cousin of Lord Minto, Viceroys of India, arrived here on board the Canadian Pacific line to begin a season with the Metropolitan Opera Co. She is a lyric soprano, and sang recently in Covent Garden. A contract to sing the principal part of the opera, "The Metropolitan Opera Co.," was signed by her father, but she preferred to come to this country not having been here before.

Miss Hellane, who in private life is Miss Ella Elliot, began her musical career as a violinist. She studied under Ysaye and won a prize and then turned to singing. Her first success came upon her first performance at the Metropolitan opera house, when she sang the role of the violinist. She will sing in new operas to be produced here.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 4.—Judge Marvin of the probate court today declared that the 70-year-old bride of Charles R. Goddard had been offered her recently reached his 21st birthday.

The court said that Mrs. Goddard's changed attitude towards men, her marriage to a young man, together with a picture of weakened judgment, lack of control of impulses, and a general lack of ethical sensibility, indicative of mental impairment and disease.

THE TUNNEL AT WINDSOR

Will Not Be Ready for Use Until the Spring.

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—For another season at least, the Michigan Central car ferries will battle with the ice in the Detroit river. The tunnel, which was announced that it would be ready for use this winter, is now being completed. The tunnel is a 9-month-old infant dead side especially there is still a lot of work to be done.

There is a general belief in Windsor that the Wahash and Canadian Pacific roads will use the tunnel.

WANT TO MAKE MONEY FROM WASTE MICA

KINGSTON, N.Y.—A new industry is on the point of beginning operations at Cape Vincent, N.Y., across the St. Lawrence from here. A syndicate of Watertown men have taken hold of the business of grinding the mica waste or broken mica of the Canadian mines. The reason of the establishment of the mills is the excessive tariff laid on mica, which is now $100 per ton, when sent over, where it must be sold for $40 per ton or even less.

YANKEES' GREAT BATTLESHIP

The North Dakota is Fastest "Dreadnought" in the World.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 4.—The North Dakota is the fastest battleship of the dreadnought type afloat, as well as one of the two most powerful battleships in the world. Her screw shafts and propellers were tested by the Rockland testing machine to-day developed a maximum speed of 22.25 knots a minute, or 41.25 miles an hour, in 10 minutes.

In attaining this surprising speed, the turbine engines of the North Dakota were forced to the development of more horsepower than any other battleship afloat. A maximum of 35,150 horsepower was recorded, while 33,572 horsepower was the mean. The maximum number of propeller revolutions was 286 a minute. It was found that 263 revolutions in this time were sufficient to maintain the contract speed of 21 knots.

The North Dakota by her performance to-day takes precedence over any other vessel afloat as a general first-class battleship.

ELY COPPERS

More records were broken yesterday by the ELY, Nevada, copper issues, which are so aggressive in their leadership of the copper section of the New York Curb toward higher prices.

NEVADA CONSOLIDATED, advancing with irresistible force, sold up to $26 5/8 per share, a new high in the history of the stock, and $3 a share more than the price on the issue two weeks ago.

GIROUX CONSOLIDATED, the great Cole-Ryan property, being developed for an ultimate production of 120,000 pounds of copper yearly, sold up to $9 3/4 on its advance toward the $15 mark.

CUMBERLAND ELY, which is soon to be absorbed by NEVADA CONSOLIDATED, rose to $8 1/16.

ELY CENTRAL, on transactions totaling 25,000 shares, rose from its close Wednesday at $3 7/8 to a new high mark for this movement, with sales at $4 1/8 per share.

In the last two weeks the ELY COPPERS have been the biggest producers of profit by any stocks traded on the New York Curb Market. In the last four months ELY CENTRAL has made a record for producing the heaviest profits by stock market appreciations produced by any New York Curb stock during the year 1909.

We are on record that before the end of 1909 NEVADA CONSOLIDATED will sell at $30 GIROUX CONSOLIDATED will sell at $12 ELY CENTRAL will sell at $7 1/2.

Ritchie finally produced a copy, which was acknowledged by the witness. The letter had reference to complaints from the Picot collieries, on account of the Dominion Coal Co. cutting prices. The agreements in regard to contracts were declared by counsel and witness to be verbal, except for correspondence on the matter.

A BIG SUCCESS

Our first two offerings of shares of the PROSPECTORS' EXPLORATION and DEVELOPMENT CO. were highly successful. This, our third and last issue at the low price, is also meeting with the success it deserves. It deserves success because the total issued capital is only 200,000 shares. The authorized capital is $350,000, in one-dollar shares. The Company owns 1/4 properties on which development work is now being done. In our opinion these shares are more worthy of investment than any of the listed Cobalts.

Full particulars on application. The whole proposition has our seal of approval. Ten thousand shares only are now being subscribed for at 20 cents per share.

CORN LIQUOR A FACTOR IN SPREADING PELLAGRA

Fearing That Live Stock as Well as Human Beings Are Becoming Infected With New Disease.

There are now 22. It was at these that the hopelessness of all treatment, once the disease was established, became evident and it was seen that only preventive measures were of any real avail.

THE HISTORY AND HORRORS OF PELLAGRA.

If, some day last July—writes Mari—on Hamilton Carter, in McClure's—you happened to visit the state hospital for the insane at Columbia, South Carolina, you might have stood by while the nurse loosened the bandages from the hand of a young negro, and as the doctor said, "Now undo the other hand," you might have exclaimed with me, "One-hand is enough, doctor!"

And yet, the whole question was a puzzle of contradictions. In some regions the fall of pellagra ran closely parallel with the fall of the price of corn. In others it rose; in some pellagra fell as the harvest rose, in others it reversed.

H.S. PUPILS ON STRIKE WANT AFTERNOONS FREE

And Also Object to the High Prices of the Midday Lunches—Trouble May Spread.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4.—The strike of the pupils of the West High School against forenoon and afternoon sessions and the high price of lunches continues to-day.

During the meeting the pupils decided to invite the pupils of other high schools to join in the strike.

During the last two years only forenoon sessions were held in high schools. At the beginning of the present school year the double sessions were revived and the school board is in favor of that plan at present.

COTTON MANUFACTURERS MEET To Consider Higher Prices for Cotton Yarns.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—A conference between a committee representing the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association and cotton yarn commission men of this city, New York, Boston and Providence, was held to-day for the purpose of considering higher prices for cotton yarns, because of the advance in the raw material.

The conference is secret. While no higher price is likely to be agreed upon to-day, according to some of the attendees the meeting may have the effect of establishing a higher quotation for yarns in the future.

Realizing in Cotton. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Persistent rumors that the bull leaders were gradually selling what they had in cotton, accompanied by further heavy selling, resulted in a severe break in the cotton market to-day.

Various writers spoke of a disconcerting move in the market to-day to be due to damaged corn. But from that time on no more was heard of it till 1864, when Dr. John Gray, superintendent of the asylum, superintended the state hospital at Columbia, by his report to the legislature in 1860.

Dr. J. W. Babcock, superintendent of the state hospital at Columbia, by his report to the legislature in 1860, raised the question as to whether or not pellagra existed in South Carolina.

At Your Service

The only real rapid transit service in Toronto is the Taxicab.

It transports you rapidly and in comfort, with promptness and precision—any time—night or day.

It is not confined to a rail roadway, and cannot be blocked by the breakdown of the car ahead.

You only wait a few minutes, because the main office and garage are located in the centre of the city.

It has the unqualified endorsement of the principal business men and citizens everywhere introduced.

The Logical Cab

Taxicabs are fast supplanting the horse driven cab in all the cities of the world.

The extinction of the horse-drawn cab is proceeding more rapidly this year, so that in another twelve months perhaps, the hansom, once the typical vehicle, will have disappeared from the streets, except in the out-lying districts, where it may linger for years.

The Taxicab is the only logical cab in use to-day.

The Public Want Modern Methods

Many of the great fortunes of to-day are built up by those controlling public service utilities.

The enormous dividends paid by the companies handling such utilities as the electric light, telephone, telegraph and street car have amassed because of the demand of the public.

The public are quick to appreciate the advantages of modern inventions and methods.

The public are willing to pay for these improvements; thus explaining the handsome dividends participated in by the shareholders of the companies controlling these public service corporations.

Our Offering re Taxicabs

Our offering of the remainder of $100,000 of the capital stock of Berna Motors & Taxicabs, Limited, is still open.

Orders are coming in from all parts of the Dominion. This Taxicab stock $6.00 per share. Par value $5.00.

The results of the operation of the taxicabs in this city for the last seven months have proved that with the present equipment the Company can afford to pay a dividend of 2-1-2 per cent. quarterly, or 10 per cent. per annum.

By increasing the number of cabs, the profits are bound also to increase.

Money and You

The money that has been made by other people you cannot benefit by.

The money that you can make for yourself is of personal interest to you.

You can never make much money without making a reasonable investment.

Money invested in the taxicabs to-day, may be the basis of a large fortune for you in the future. At any rate it promises to earn bigger dividends than the majority of the industrials that are offered on the market to-day.

Mail us your subscriptions for Taxicab Stock at once before the allotment is exhausted.

Women's Club at Quebec. QUEBEC, Nov. 4.—A new club known as the Women's Canadian Club of Quebec, has been formed, and the following officers elected: President, Mrs. B. Benyon; vice-presidents, Mrs. L. Williams, Madame G. Grenier; joint secretaries, Mrs. Routhier, Mrs. Jack Sharp; treasurer, Madame George V. T. Benyon; committee, Mrs. M. W. Dobell, Mrs. J. Burdett, Mrs. (Judge) Carroll and Madame M. Rondin. Before each address there will be an informal conservative shuffle in Ward Six. At the executive meeting of Ward 6 Conservative Association Wednesday A. W. Wright and David Spence suggested that Ward 6 Association, West Toronto Conservative Association, and the Central Association of ward six amalgamate as the Ward 6 Association, all the members of the other organizations in good standing to be accepted into the larger association. It is proposed that the ward be divided into groups of subdivisions and each section will be under a chairman and secretary, who would be members of the ward executive.
