Britain to Make Extensive Drafts on India's Man Power

BRITAIN PLANS WIDER USE OF INDIAN TROOPS

Lloyd George Makes Statement in Justifying Increased Cotton Duties

GOVERNMENT UPHELD

Asquith Willing to Accept Measure as War-Time Expedient Only.

London, March 14.—Via Reuter's Ottawa agency.—A special despatch from Delhi says: "In order to conserve the man-power of India for the purpose of labor in connection with the war, the government has prohibited all migration of labor except to the extent necessary for Ceylon and the Malay states. This new measure under the India Act, comes into force immediately."

London, March 14.—The government successfully resisted the strong attack of the Lancashire cotton interests by carrying the Indian cotton duties restriction both in the house of lords and house of commons tonight, and securing the defeat of the Lancashire amendment by the substantial majority of 140, after Premier Lloyd George had conceded that the whole question should be reconsidered at the termination of the war.

This result, the outcome of a strong plea made by the premier that the government policy was only fair to the great assistance already given toward the prosecution of the war, would supply further man-power for military operations and on the other side of the Atlantic, where it is agreed that it would be inadvisable to go back on the decision already taken because it would have disastrous effects on India. Mr. Asquith proposed an amendment to reconsider the matter after the war, which the prime minister accepted.

Hints at Grave Matters. J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India, alluded to grave matters in the recent government of India, which would only be revealed when the archives gave up their secrets. The Lancashire members, realizing that the chance of defeating the duties was gone, held a hurried meeting and decided to carry the question to a division as a formal protest.

Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, in a speech winding up the debate, denied that this proposal was the thin end of the wedge of tariff reform. The victory of India had said it was impossible to get a loan of $100,000,000 unless the duties were imposed. They had to choose between trouble in India and trouble in Lancashire.

Premier Lloyd George's reference to India supplying more troops is considered on page 10, Col. 5.

Dutch Protest to Britain Over Detention of Vessels

New York, March 14.—An Associated Press despatch from Washington tonight Holland has protested to Great Britain against detention in British ports of dutch vessels, and has demanded that the government charter and some of them are to be delivered to the dutch government. Virtually all the detained vessels belong to the Holland-American Line. Six were understood to be in Halifax and eight or more in Falmouth.

Duchess of Connaught Dead at London Home

Attack of Broncho-Pneumonia Proves Fatal as Result of Long Weakened Condition—Duchess Endeared to Canadians by Unselfish Endeavors.

London, March 14.—The death of the Duchess of Connaught is announced. During the last few days the relatives and friends of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught were aware that the case of the duchess was hopeless. In the latter stages of her illness oxygen was frequently administered. It is thought that the complication of broncho-pneumonia would probably have been successfully overcome but for the drain on the patient's strength caused by an operation in London in 1914. As late as this afternoon the duchess was conscious and able to recognize the members of her family who were gathered at her bedside.

LONG IN ILL-HEALTH.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, March 14.—The Duchess of Connaught died at 8.30 tonight. The King and Queen were constant in their enquiries during the past few days, and Sir Robert Borden and other Canadian ministers also made solicitous enquiries. The bulletin which announced her illness as supervening on that of four years ago only confirmed what had already been made known privately. Since returning to England the duchess took part sparingly in public engagements, although within two days of her arrival she made a call on the Canadian Red Cross. A number of Canadian officers were entertained at Christmas at her royal highness's country house at Bagshot Park, the duchess sending a personal card of greeting to every wounded man in the Canadian hospital here. During January the duchess visited the Canadian hospital at Bushey Park and Kingswood.

ANOTHER BRITISH SHIP SUNK WITHOUT WARNING

Crew of Forty-Five, Including Two Americans, Reaches Shore Safely.

Washington, March 14.—Torpidoing without warning on March 9 the British steamer East Point, London for Philadelphia, with two Americans in her crew, was reported today in despatches to the state department. All on board were saved. The steamer was sunk at 5 p.m. off the English coast, about fifteen miles west of Eddystone lighthouse. She carried one gun and an armed patrol boat was nearby. The crew of forty-five left the ship in small boats. The two Americans, John Wheeler of Buffalo, fireman, and Edward Ellis of Brooklyn, seaman, have made affidavits to Consul-General Skinner at London.

Bernstorff Greeted With Marked Coolness by Press

London, March 14.—The German press has greeted Count von Bernstorff with conspicuous coolness, according to an Amsterdam despatch to the Exchange Telegraph. The papers point out that he granted interviews that he should not have done without consulting the German government. Bernstorff, the despatch adds, spent the day in conference at the foreign office, and was also received by the imperial chancery. He requested an immediate audience with the emperor, which, it is expected, will take place tomorrow.

U. S. SOLDIER ARRESTED.

El Paso, Texas, March 14.—Sgt. Alexander Frucher of Co. K, 11th U.S. Cavalry, is being detained at the Port pass guardhouse on charge of desertion. Frucher is of German birth, and an investigation is said to have resulted in the finding of a number of German letters and other papers in his effects.

Further Stage of Open Warfare is Developed Directly West of Bapaume.

London, March 14.—A Reuter despatch from British headquarters in France says: "The British advance, which was resumed on a front of nearly four miles directly west of Bapaume on Monday, resulted in developing a further stage of that open warfare which the British troops so welcome after the wearisome monotony of trench life. The Germans covered their retreat with a strong screen of reservists and, although the British patrols came into contact with these at many places, their object apparently was to avoid action as far as possible. This sometimes led to the Germans being doing their utmost to husband their strength for the future."

BRITISH ADVANCE BEYOND BAGDAD

Gen. Maude Announces Recapture of Gen. Townshend's Guns.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. London, March 14.—The British have advanced 30 miles beyond Bagdad, and the Russians have occupied Kermanshah, 90 miles to the east of Bagdad on the Persian frontier. The British have recovered the guns captured from General Townshend at Kut-el-Amara. The report of the Russian capture at Kermanshah comes in an unofficial despatch.

SEVENTEEN STEAMERS LOST IN PAST WEEK

British Official Statement Shows Proportion of Losses is Small. London, March 14.—Thirteen British vessels of more than 1600 tons were sunk during the week ending March 11, says today's official announcement on shipping losses. Four British vessels of less than 1600 tons and three fishing vessels were also sunk.

Ships to Resume Traffic Between U. S. and Norway

New York, March 14.—The Associated Press tonight indicated an agreement to be resumed between Norway and Great Britain relative to passenger traffic. Passenger service on Norwegian ships from the United States to Norway is to be resumed immediately. This traffic was interrupted by Germany's submarine warfare, which was reported to have been resumed by Norwegian steamships sailing Feb. 1. The ships will sail at Halifax instead of Kirkwall.

Sir Stephen Collins Enquires About Wet Canteens in Canada

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, March 14.—In parliament, Sir Stephen Collins asked whether the military department permitted no wet canteens in the training camps in Canada, and who was responsible for the introduction of them in Canadian camps in England. The under-secretary replied that he was having an enquiry made, and he would have to communicate with Canada.

French Minister of War Resigns Owing to Friction

Paris, March 15.—Gen. Louis Hubert Gonzales Lyautey, minister of war in the French cabinet, has resigned as the result of incidents in the chamber of deputies. For several days past attacks by the opposition in parliament against the French ministry on its economic policy, have been in progress. No specific attack, so far as has been reported, was made on Gen. Lyautey. Gen. Lyautey gained fame for his operations against the Moroccans. He was the resident French governor in Morocco for a number of years. He was appointed minister of war and member of the war council in the French cabinet last December, and virtually became the war dictator of France.

CAPT. McDONALD HONORED.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, March 14.—Capt. George McDonald, Canadian infantry, was invested with the Military Cross at Buckingham Palace.

BRITISH ADVANCE RESUMES ON FRONT OF FOUR MILES

ENEMY HALTS RETREAT ON STRONG NEW LINE

British Prosecute Advance Thru Clinging Mud—Haig's Gunners Pound Germans From Strong Positions.

London, March 15, 3 a.m.—Newspaper correspondents at British headquarters in France describe the operations of Wednesday as being carried out with a heavy rain beating in the faces of the British troops, who sometimes were unable to see more than a few yards. The British were unable to register their retreat with a strong screen of reservists and, although the British patrols came into contact with these at many places, their object apparently was to avoid action as far as possible. This sometimes led to the Germans being doing their utmost to husband their strength for the future."

London, March 15.—The official report from British headquarters in France tonight reads: "North of the Ancre valley our line advanced on a front of over 1 1/2 miles southwest and west of Bapaume. We also made further progress on a front of over two thousand yards south of Achiet-le-Petit, and occupied 1000 yards of a hostile trench southwest of Essarts, northeast of Gommeourt. "During the day an enemy raiding party northeast of Arras failed to reach our lines. Last night a party of our troops raided enemy trenches east of Armentieres. "We carried out effective bombardments today against enemy positions north of the Somme and east of Arras, where two explosions were caused by our fire. There has been considerable artillery activity east of Armentieres and in the Ypres sector."

Effective Bombardments Carried Out and More Progress Made at Many Points.

Reserve in Interior. The writer believes that Von Hindenburg's great strategic reserve is still in the interior of Germany owing to the severe winter having impeded transport. Therefore, he says, the Germans have been compelled to postpone their plans. "With at least 700,000 more men in the field than he had a year ago, the enemy is capable of hitting hard, physically and morally, the necessary, however, is subordinate to the initiative we may assume. On this matter nothing can be said."

CAMP BORDEN MEN REFUSE TO WORK

Returning Laborers Say Strike is on as Result of Intolerable Conditions. Bitterly complaining against the treatment and the intolerable conditions under which they have worked, 100 laborers who quit their jobs at Camp Borden, where they have been employed under Col. Robert Low in construction work for the establishment of a training camp for the Imperial branch of the Royal Flying Corps, were in the Union Station in Toronto last night between trains on their way to their homes in Ottawa. "These men represent a small part of the force of 1400 laborers who went on strike Monday morning and refused to resume their work until the management acceded to their demands of time and a half for overtime, double time for Sunday work and regular pay every two weeks. "The men have been quitting in crowds of 100, 150 and 200 and have been passing thru Toronto on trains bound to Montreal, Ottawa and other eastern cities."

Canadians Are Eager For Open Field Test

Hindenburg's Reported Desire for Abandonment of Trench Warfare Meets Cordial Response—Repulse of German Raid Incident of Dull Week.

Canadian Headquarters in France. quiet. One attempt to raid our trenches was made by the enemy. In the semi-darkness of the early morning two of our sentries perceived a party of about 20 Germans stealthily approaching. Waiting until the enemy were within 20 yards they opened fire and threw six bombs. The leader of the Germans pressed forward, firing his revolver, but was shot down. The rest of the party, after throwing a few live grenades, which did no harm, retreated, dragging with him the bodies of several of their number who had been hit. "Rule No. Man's Land. There have been a few encounters between patrols, but generally speaking "No Man's Land" has belonged indisputably to our men. "Severe weather conditions continued and there were light falls of snow. A visit was paid to the corps by Sir Robert Borden, accompanied by the Hon. Robert Rogers and Hon. J. D. Hazen. They spent a busy day visiting a number of the brigades and saw some of them carrying on their regular training. They also had an opportunity of seeing a portion of the Canadian battleship."

Wages Were Lowered.

When they arrived at the camp they were told that thirty-five cents an hour would be paid them, the same for overtime and time and half for Sunday. Even this agreement was broken, the man declared. The foreman said he had hired for fifty cents an hour, but received only thirty cents an hour when he was paid off yesterday. "The men maintained that they stood in line from 2 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock waiting to be paid. Some of them, the foreman said, had not been paid when he left the camp, but they had stood in line for hours. One of these men had been very ill for several days and, it is stated, sought by every means in his power to receive his money to return to his home for proper medical attention. The men also complained bitterly of the quality and condition of the food served at the camp. "Twenty-one minutes in which to come from their work, eat and return was allotted to the men. It was declared that the foreman, supported by his workmen, also alleged that the hardest and harshest language was directed at the laborers by the overseers of the work and was in the majority of instances wholly undeserved and unwarranted."

Teamsters Will Strike Unless Companies Accede to Demands

Unless a settlement is arrived at by tonight, there is a great possibility of the railway teamsters going on strike. Some time ago the teamsters working for the Dominion Transport Co., the Sheddin Forwarding Co., and Hendrie & Co., Limited, asked wage increases from $59 to $70 a month, and the date set for a settlement is tonight. The Dominion Transport Co. have offered an increase of $2 a month, which has been refused. About 400 teamsters will be affected, and with the freight situation in its present condition a strike would cause great trouble in the city.

GERMAN RAID REPULSED.

London, March 14.—The following communique has been issued by the Canadian war records office: "The past week has been unusually

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

BRITISH pressure against the strong German positions on the Bapaume ridge, north of the Ancre, in France yesterday, brought about further modifications of the German line. The British troops advanced this time in three sections on fronts of 2,500, 2,000 and 1,000 yards. Their movement on the 2,500 yard front brought them more gains on the slopes southwest and west of Bapaume, their movement on the 2,000 yards front brought them closer to the southern outskirts of Achiet-le-Petit, and their movement on the 1,000 yards front led to the capture of a trench southwest of Essarts and northeast of Gommeourt.

For one thing these advances will considerably assist Field Marshal Haig in his spearheading of the large Arras salient, preparatory to its reduction. As the British whittle away the German defensive system on the Bapaume ridge they throw the right wing of their new flank further north so as to tend to place it in a line due east of the point where the German line curves round from the north above Gommeourt. The complete ousting of the Germans from the Bapaume ridge will give the British the last valuable high ground on the watershed for a considerable distance north of the Ancre. The less thoughtful among the correspondents at the front are insistently dwelling on the value of Bapaume village. It is represented as the British objective, as the point where something big will happen when the British enter it. As a matter of fact Bapaume is no greater an objective than Thiepval was; Achiet-le-Grand Junction had far greater importance.

Stomach Was Deranged By Chronic Constipation

Got So Bad That Hospital Treatment Was Resorted to—Cure Finally Effected by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Eganville, Ont., Feb. 14.—In this letter is well described the important place taken by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in many thousands of homes where their value as a regulator of the vital organs is known and appreciated.

Constipation of the bowels is usually accompanied by sluggish liver action, and sooner or later by derangements of the kidneys. The digestive system is entirely upset, and pains and aches result from the consequent poisoning of the system. On this account it may be said that constipation is the cause of the great majority of human ills, and by keeping the bowels regular by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills these many ailments are avoided.

Mr. D. J. Maney, Eganville, Ont. (R.R. No. 1), writes:

"Allow me to tell you what Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have done for me and mine. For years I was

WILL AGAIN DIRECT PROHIBITION MOVEMENT

George A. Warburton has once again assumed the reins of the prohibition water wagon. He has been appointed general secretary and executive head of the Dominion prohibition committee. This is virtually a new body to the one on which he was formerly chairman of the executive. While there is no union of the cities, representing the city, and the Dominion prohibition movement, there is a new form of co-operation established.

Mr. Warburton's original idea in connection with Dominion-wide prohibition was to get the individual vote, the new plan is to get the vote of numerous public bodies and present these at the coming session of the Dominion Parliament. In the meantime the members of parliament will be approached on the subject.

THE FORMAN MYSTERY

By GEORGE HUGHES

A few moments sufficed for him to learn that it had been found in a ditch on a concession line near Trenton the day before. Was it badly damaged? No; the machinery was still intact, tho' it had suffered somewhat thru wind and weather. Would he come over to the office and get the car, or should they drive it over for him?

Warrenner decided he would fetch the car himself.

He found it exactly as explained over the wire. Never a thing of beauty, it now appeared to be in the last stages of dilapidation. The few pieces of brasswork he had boasted prior to its sudden departure were now covered with verdigris and its blackened body was hidden by a lavish coating of mud. The hood was somewhat awry, as tho' it had tried conclusions with a train or some other equally weighty fabric.

Warrenner regarded his sorry-looking steed with a reflective eye.

"Looks as tho' it had been in the wars," he observed humorously to the officer who had come down from headquarters with him.

"It sure does," he said, "but it may be all right. Try the gasoline tank and see how it is—do I suppose it'll be dry?"

Which supposition was correct. The tank was empty, no dry, in fact, as to be absolutely innocent of the smell of gas. So Warrenner secured a quantity of gasoline from the civic garage, climbed aboard, and gingerly tested the mechanism. It worked first-rate, save for a little stiffness in the joints. However, he decided that he had better save future breakages by having it overhauled, and, with that purpose in view, he ran the machine out of the court yard at the rear of the city hall to a motor repair shop a couple of blocks away.

Then, his car hauled, he wended his way along the street to the city hall square. This brought him opposite the broad, arched entrance of the civic

There, at the foot of the wide, stone steps which led to the entrance of the building, he saw the police motor patrol. It was drawn up to the steps. On the front was a uniformed policeman, while another was in the act of assisting a man to alight from the dilapidated vehicle.

His curiosity aroused, Warrenner approached. As the man mounted the wide steps, the police escort and a bluecoat who had emerged from the city hall portals to help guard the prisoner, Warrenner saw that he was slightly built, almost of effeminate statures, with pale, intellectual face, and attired in a sober blue suit and black derby. He looked neither to the right nor left, but marched with head erect and eyes forward up the steps until he finally disappeared from ken thru the doorway leading to the interior of the building.

For fully a minute Warrenner stood still and gazed at the spot where the prisoner and his escort had vanished. He wondered who the man could be. Certainly he had none of the earmarks of the ordinary criminal; he had more the appearance of the scientific, recluse rather than a workaday man. For the life of him he could not bring his mind to the belief that the man could be guilty of a criminal act.

A voice within bade him follow the trio. For a moment he hesitated. He argued that it was none of their business, anyhow, and that he would do better to keep his eyes on his own interests. But the voice would not be still. It was insistent. So at last he capitulated and entered the building.

He reached the detective office just as the door to the chief's sanctum moment later it opened again and the escort left.

But Warrenner was not the only one interested in the case. Where a motor car had been detected now added a small stream of humanity, all of whom cast curious glances toward the glass partition where the prisoner was within, which could be plainly seen against the surface.

Two men emerged from an ante-room and knocked on the door of the chief's office. A voice cried "Come in," and before the door closed again Warrenner heard a name that electrified him.

"It was 'Marden'!"

Rupert Marden—could it be possible? Rupert Marden, the man he believed by the police to have been guilty of the Forman tragedy, and who had been missing for the past three months. What had led to his arrest and confinement in the police, or the hunted man's inability to withstand the fear and suspense occasioned by the awful prospect of at any moment feeling the heavy hand of the law on his shoulder and the authoritative voice say, "Rupert Marden, I arrest you in the name of the law" and consequent surrender?

That night the public of Bellingham were reawakened to remembrance of the Forman tragedy by the printed declaration in the local newspapers that Rupert Marden had surrendered himself to the police.

Rupert Marden came up in the police court the following morning for preliminary hearing, and was committed for trial at the assizes. To the crown he stoutly maintained his innocence in connection with the death of Ethel Forman. Concisely, and with apparent sincerity, he related to the court his movements on the night of, and since the tragedy. He had waited upon the object of his love, Ethel Forman, as promised in the note found by the police. The front door was open, and he had entered the room within he heard the voices of two persons, a man and woman, raising in dispute. He had instantly recognized the woman as Ethel Forman, the girl of his choice. But he had not recognized the man's voice.

BUSINESS and CHESS

Mr. Employer

Have many points of resemblance

Not the least of these is the need to look ahead, to make what may seem a sacrifice for the present, in order to achieve a larger triumph in the future.

We are not going to say any more about sacrifice. You know the word well enough. But we do want your co-operation in the effort to raise 250 r from Toronto for the Front.

ONE MAN FROM YOU!

—that is, from each of the important employers in Toronto—is a small thing to ask, and yet would fill up the ranks of this volunteer company quickly. We request you, first, to do with at least ONE man less on your staff. Second, to consider which of your eligible men you can spare best. Third, to make it possible for him to go by allowing him some part of his pay (if you can see your way clear to do so) and by assuring him that his position will be ready for him when he returns.

Please give this matter earnest thought. We know it is not easy for you to do these things. You have already been generous, but—what profits it any man to refuse—to keep his staff complete—to save a little money now, if in the hour of victory this Empire fails?

Guilt of Motor Car Theft Will Be Sentenced Today

Cecil Anthony, a young man who has a record of four police court convictions and has served a jail sentence, was found guilty of the theft of a motor car owned by Mrs. Janet Gosette by a jury in general sessions yesterday afternoon. Judge Coatsworth will impose sentence this morning.

The machine was taken Feb. 24 from the corner of Jarvis and King streets, and recovered by the police several hours later. Anthony, who was driving, claimed he had been hired by a man, whom he later identified as William Dunlop, to drive him around. Dunlop established an alibi, proving that he was working during the time the machine was stolen.

YOU have read in the newspapers of the big fire in our premises on the sixth of the present month.

The first time in our 45 years of business history that the fire fiend had entered our portals. For hours the brave firemen fought for victory, and when they had conquered, thousands of dollars' worth of goods had fallen a prey to the devouring elements. For days now the Insurance Companies have had their appraisers here making their adjustments and casting aside all unsaleable goods. They have handed over to us the balance of the immense stock which amounted to over $100,000.00. Tomorrow, promptly at 10 a.m., we open the doors again, to give you an opportunity to share in these unprecedented bargains. Such bargains as the people of Canada have never had before—never will again. Hundreds of rich, opulent furs and fur garments that we've made up on our own premises—made according to the high standards and quality that have for nearly half a century marked us as leaders. The greater portion of this fine stock has not been touched by the flames; others, where the tongues of flame have merely licked a spot, or taken off a button. But every dollar's worth MUST GO! No sacrifice will be too great. It is not a matter of profit now—it means the complete clearance of everything that has been saved from the fire fiend—discounts, reductions that will test your credulity—that will amaze you in their prodigality.

Come, Then, Tomorrow—Do Not Wait For Price Quotations! We Tell You Honestly That You Have Never Had the Like of This Sale! Hundreds of These Rich, Opulent Furs and Garments At Less Than the Linings Cost!

ALLEGED THEFT OF WHEAT.

The trial of Thomas Calladine and Alex. Christie, who were arraigned before Judge Coatsworth in general sessions yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing four bags of wheat from the Union Stock Yards Jan. 17, will be continued today. Robert Hollands, who declared he was in hiding under a platform to see what happened to the bags of wheat, testified that a man driving a horse and buggy was met by another man standing near the wheat, and the two picked the bags in the buggy. Hollands said he struggled with the men, whom he identified as the defendants, but they escaped, and were later caught by the police.

One shows "gap" Other fits close

You know, by experience, that the ordinary collar soon spreads and shows an unsightly "gap" at the top.

On the other hand, a W. G. & R. collar retains its close fit for the following reasons:—

- 1st—Because the inside buttonhole (see 1 in illustration) is a fraction of an inch higher than the outside buttonhole. This makes the collar button act as a lever and exert a steady upward pressure on the hook end (see 3) making a tight lock at the top of the collar.
2nd—Because it has our "Slip-On" buttonhole (see 2) on the outside tab. Thus, when buttoning the outside tab, the collar slides easily into place, the post of the collar button coming to the top of the "Slip-On" buttonhole, making it impossible for the collar to spread. It must stay close at the top.

These exclusive features of W. G. & R. collars are sure to be appreciated by you and other particular dressers.

Also W. G. & R. Fine Shirts, Pyjamas, Summer Underwear and Boys' Blouses.

SUBMARINE SINKS AMERICAN VESSEL

Ten Americans Were Aboard Algonquin—No Lives Reported Lost.

New York, March 14.—The American steamship Algonquin, with ten Americans aboard, was sunk by a German submarine on March 12, with a loss of vessel and cargo valued at $1,700,000. A cable message received here today by her owners, the American Star Line, and despatches from London, told of the apparent safety of all the officers and crew, 27 of whom have been landed. The message told the owners that the vessel was torpedoed, but that the Algonquin, the Algonquin's captain stated his ship was sunk by shell fire without warning.

SUNK BY BOMBS.

London, March 14.—According to advices from Plymouth, the German submarine opened fire upon the Algonquin from a distance of 4000 yards, firing about 20 shells. These were not sufficient to sink the steamer, so she was boarded by men from the submarine, who placed four bombs and the Algonquin was then blown up. The vessel was given plenty of time to leave the vessel. U. S. Consul Stephens, at Plymouth, reported the sinking of the Algonquin in the following despatch: "Steamer Algonquin of New York, from New York for London, with foodstuffs, sunk by German submarine, 45 miles west of Bishop's Rock, March 12, 6 a.m. Captain reports vessel not warned and sunk by shell fire. Crew of 27, all saved. Submarine refused assistance. No other boats in sight."

WAY BEING PAVED FOR NEW WAR LOAN

New York, March 14.—Heavy importations of gold are in progress, but Wall street is growing so accustomed to seeing gold pour into its coffers that huge movements are taken for granted. It is worth while noting, however, that the arrivals of the last four business days have totaled $58,700,000, and that since the beginning of the year this country has imported $220,000,000 of the precious metal. This is the basis for a credit of a billion dollars. It predicates further heavy inflation. The great movement of gold is believed to foreshadow another British loan, which would be easier to float owing to the Federal Reserve Board's altered attitude towards foreign loans. When Great Britain floated her loan here it was commented upon as likely to last her just three months. More than one-third of that period has elapsed already and it is likely that the public will soon have an opportunity to buy new British war bonds. The accelerated pace at which gold is coming in is realized when it is recalled that only $21,000,000 was received during the entire first three months of 1915.

LATE BUYING IN HARGRAVES STOCK

Caused Sharp Advance in Price—Market Steady, Fairly Active.

Trading in the mine stocks yesterday was more active than on the previous day, with a slightly larger volume of business.

The publication of the McIntyre report, which compared very favorably with that of the preceding month, seemed to cause a firmer feeling in the stock market.

Newray was another feature of strength, making further gain to 152, which constitutes a new high record since the beginning of last month.

Explanation of the recent advance in Thompson is a broker's office in a wire received from the north yesterday thru a brokerage house.

Some excellent samples of ore taken from the Hargraves came down from the north yesterday, and these were on view in a broker's office.

Advances in price to a gain of 1 1/2 points for the day. Heavy buying came in late in the afternoon, and over 15,000 shares changed hands on the top price.

ONTARIO GREATEST METAL PRODUCER

Leads All Other Provinces By Substantial Margin, According to Report.

An analysis of the recent report by the department of mines on the mineral production of Canada is most instructive. The report shows that Ontario has a long lead over the other provinces in the production of metals.

Ontario produced $46,762,921, while all the metals of the other provinces, including the Yukon, are worth only $40,237,114.

Ontario is, therefore, by far the greatest metal mining province of Canada. In gold, her output in 1916 exceeded by 11,000 tons the total production of British Columbia and the Yukon.

The 1917, $37,454, the output of the Dominion for 1916 is a very high record, and shows marked progress over earlier years. It is still very far from our great possibilities.

The 1917, $37,454, the output of the Dominion for 1916 is a very high record, and shows marked progress over earlier years. It is still very far from our great possibilities.

ACTIVE PROGRESS AT HARGRAVES MINE

Aggressive Policy Being Followed by Manager Shaw.

John T. Shaw, manager of the Hargraves silver mines of Cobalt, was in Toronto yesterday, and reports conditions at the properties as very encouraging.

He has some 28 to 30 men now working, and four machines. Work is pushed at every possible part of the mine, including both working shafts and the dump.

The Hargraves mine has two shafts down, No. 1 being down 125 feet and No. 3 down 375 feet.

Ontario produced $46,762,921, while all the metals of the other provinces, including the Yukon, are worth only $40,237,114.

BOSTON CREEK TO GET ELECTRIC POWER

To Tap Kirkland Lake Line—To Make Shipments Soon.

Boston Creek, March 14.—Managing Director Harry D. Symmes, who has been absent in Arizona for some time, is back at the properties here, directing building and underground operations.

The sinking is proving up the ore continuity, values holding splendidly all the way down to the surface.

OPENING UP BIG VEIN AT DAVIDSON

Efforts Being Concentrated On Development of Second Level.

Operations on the Davidson mines are centring on the 200-foot level once more. Advice from the consulting engineer is to the effect that the body at this depth carries high-grade milling ore over a considerable distance.

The 1917, $37,454, the output of the Dominion for 1916 is a very high record, and shows marked progress over earlier years. It is still very far from our great possibilities.

ONTARIO GOLD OUTPUT

The preliminary report by the Ontario Bureau of Mines shows that in 1916 there was produced in Ontario 497,830 ounces of gold, worth $10,323,259, an increase over 1915 of 58,242 ounces, or $1,837,858. The production according to localities or sources is appended herewith.

GEOLOGISTS LOOK TO PORCUPINE FOR GOLD SUPPLY OF FUTURE

Northern Camp Has the Metal and Costs of Mining it Comparatively Low—Capital Needed.

Within the last five or six years enormous sums of money have been spent in Alaska in developing and equipping low-grade gold mines.

There are now two plants each capable of crushing 2,000 tons of ore per year. One of these, owned by the Alaska Gold Mines, earned only $278,771 last year.

The Rand mine in South Dakota, the Homestake, an important gold mine in the United States. Its total production is over $200,000,000 and its dividends $41,000,000.

The Crown Mines of the Rand crushed 2,501,450 tons of ore in 1916 on which a profit of $1,205,000 was obtained. Costs here were $4.70 and tenors $6.16 per ton.

The total yield of gold in Australia and New Zealand was under 400,000,000 in 1916. Ballarat and Bendigo in Victoria, Charters Towers, Gympie and Ingham in Queensland were all declining.

In India the wonderful Mysore Mine is now improving at a depth of 6000 feet. Tenors, normally above $20, have been below this for the last two years, but they are now coming up again.

The Central Rand, heretofore the greatest gold field in the world, has passed its zenith, while the great depth of the reef in the far east Rand necessitates an expenditure of about $5,000,000 in making a producing mine.

NEWRAY CROSSCUT NEARING VEIN

Important Developments Are Looked For in Opening Up Fourth Level.

Schumacher, March 14.—The crosscut at the 400-foot level of the Newray has reached the shear zone which holds the Anchor vein.

The drilling in progress at the Newray mines of Porcupine is proceeding systematically, and the results are proving entirely satisfactory.

The management expects to start the mill operating in or before May, and by that time some of the present accumulations of ore have been put thru the mill the crosscutting to the southeast should have opened up.

Of the fact that they have been working under severe handicaps as regards quantity and efficiency of labor and costs of material, and feeling certain well that the influence of the sensible man among the employees would be felt, we have never ceased to be well confident that trouble would be avoided.

We are unofficially advised that increases in wage schedules are about to be announced by the operating companies of the camp.

MARK HARRIS MINES and MINING

A wage earner from Pennsylvania wrote me a unique letter last week asking my advice, and although it was a confidential epistle I am sure my wage-earning client will not object to me quoting from it.

I call the letter unique for two reasons, the first being it defined market conditions better than many brokers could have done, and secondly, because it had a philosophy that would be a credit to the best informed.

In speaking of market conditions, the man said he fully realized that the present was "buying time," and for that reason he had decided to invest a portion of his savings.

He then went on to explain that he was a widower with three children depending on him for support and that although he was now earning large wages he fully agreed with my remarks that these abnormal times could not endure forever.

Although earning a high wage he appreciated the fact that by saving alone he could not hope to put aside sufficient to give his two boys a high school or college education and at the same time do the right thing by his only daughter.

Now, here is the unique portion of the letter which I quote verbatim:

"Now Mr. Harris, I am satisfied that you are an honorable broker and I know you are experienced in mining investments, so I am going to ask you to pick out a good mining stock that you think has more than an even chance to succeed."

"What I want is some mine that has its future before it—one that has passed the prospect stage with its attending uncertainties and is about to enter the producing period of its career."

"I am satisfied to run some risk, in fact, I want a stock with some risk attached to it, for I figure that is the only kind that will bring in an income when it 'makes good.'"

I am sure every reader will acknowledge that there is some capital philosophy in this wage earner's letter and if ever a man deserved to succeed this is the man.

I thought of many investments that should be suitable, but in going over them carefully I found some little fault that caused me to begin with a new one.

Suddenly I thought of "Newray," and I wondered why I hadn't thought of it at first, for this surely was just such a stock as my client wanted.

Newray is the name of a Porcupine Gold Stock that is listed on the New York and Toronto Exchanges and, in my opinion, it is the most meritorious issue of the entire mining list when capitalization, acreage, property and management are considered.

The Newray property consists of eight full mining claims—in all 320 acres—right in the heart of the producing zone of Porcupine and as the management has already uncovered more than eighty feet of surface veins it is only a question of time until Newray is one of the big producers.

I wrote my wage-earner friend the following day and told him how fully and deeply I appreciated the confidence he had reposed in me and how, after giving his letter the consideration it deserved, I was going to advise him the same as I would advise my own brother if he requested it.

I then told him the full story of Newray from the date of its discovery down to the present moment, and I concluded by saying that I considered Newray a stock that met every requirement in his letter.

Newray for months has been selling at $1.40, but like all good securities it has suffered this past two months through forced liquidation and is now quoted at $1.15.

At this figure I look upon it as the "one best buy" on the board and I think many others could well afford to follow wage earner's example and buy the stock for permanent investment.

Newray is capitalized at only $1,500,000, with 300,000 shares still unissued and ample funds in its treasury.

I have more than once made a personal investigation of this mine and I do not hesitate to give as my honest opinion that it will rank with the biggest producers of this wonderful camp, and when that day arrives Newray stock will be worth many times its present price.

Newray is not a prospect—not an uncertainty—it has passed all these dangerous stages and is now on the highway to success, so take my advice and buy some of the stock while the market price is low.
