THAW COMMENCES HIS FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

The Fight in Habeas Corpus Proceedings to Secure His Release from Mattawan Begins Today.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 4.—Public interest in the case of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, is revived today when Thaw begins a fight in habeas corpus proceedings to secure his release from the Mattawan State Hospital for insane criminals.

The writ was issued by Judge Morehouse, at White Plains on April 22 on the application of James G. Graham, an attorney from Newburgh, and formerly secretary to former Governor B. B. Odell, who figures for the first time for the Thaw case in these proceedings.

The first step in the court proceedings will be a motion by Mr. Jerome to have the trial transferred to New York County. Mr. Jerome thinks it will be most convenient for witnesses to have the trial in New York.

If Mr. Jerome carries this point, it will be a departure from the usual custom at most habeas corpus proceedings involving patients confined in Mattawan as tried here.

Thaw will be brought to Poughkeepsie by Dr. Baker, acting superintendent of the institution and two attendants.

Dr. Baker will testify that detention is mentally fit for Thaw.

Other insanity experts who have examined Thaw will be put on the stand. Among the experts retained by Thaw's attorney to testify as to his mental condition are Dr. Charles W. Pilgrim, superintendent of the Hudson River State Hospital and Dr. Charles H. Lane, of Poughkeepsie.

New York, N. Y., May 4.—Mrs. Wm. Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw, now an inmate of the Mattawan State Hospital, has issued a statement relative to the rumors that she was opposing her son's release. The statement which comes from her solicitor is as follows:

"I am authorized by Mrs. Wm. Thaw to say that the stories to the effect that the Thaw family is opposed to Harry Thaw's release, are without foundation. While it is not necessary for them to take any active part in the matter, nevertheless, they are all in full sympathy with him. At no time has Mrs. Wm. Thaw been repugnant to her son's detention in Mattawan, but she has been in full sympathy with the summary order of the court was so swiftly carried out that there was no opportunity for remonstrance against the decision. It is true that she has been in the hospital since the opening of court today. Young Mrs. Thaw, who has begun suit for the annulment of the marriage, has not seen her husband for more than two months. Mr. Peabody said, however, that Mrs. Thaw has offered herself as a witness in her husband's behalf should testimony be necessary to obtain his freedom. He did not know whether it would be necessary to call her to Poughkeepsie, he said, but if he believed it necessary as the case develops she will be summoned. Thaw himself undoubtedly stands on the stand in his own behalf. Mr. Peabody said he declared that the prisoner is willing to submit to any examination the court or the district attorney may desire as proof of his sanity.

SINGS TO JURY TO PROVE HER CASE

Little Portland Girl Has to Sue Manager for Small Stipend

Portland, Me., May 4.—Standing before the twelve jurymen who had been selected to hear her suit for the collection of her salary as a soloist, in the jury room of the Superior Court, Ruth F. Fuller, a girl of 13 years, sang several of her most effective selections.

According to the story of the girl and her parents, she was engaged last October to sing at the Savoy Theatre in connection with the moving pictures.

The contract was made by her mother with Mr. McGuinness, the manager of the theatre. After hearing her sing once or twice he sent for her mother and agreed, she the mother claims, to pay her $1 a week, and then if she made a hit she was to get more.

The first Saturday night Mrs. Fuller sent up for the money that was due for the first week, but it wasn't paid, and before the next Saturday Mr. McGuinness went away. After he returned they were unable to get any money, and so the mother refused to let Ruth sing any more.

Mr. McGuinness claims that Ruth was to sing the first three months for nothing except that she was to receive training and instruction from Mr. Bishop, who was in the employ of the theatre, for which Mr. McGuinness was to pay, and then for the next three months $1 a week, and for the next three months $1 a week.

JOHN D., JR., TALKS TO HIS BIBLE CLASS

The Predatory Rich Arraigned by the Oil King's Son—The Curse of Tainted Money Dealt With.

New York, May 4.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., addressing the Bible class of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church yesterday, arraigned the rich man who destroyed good reputations and took advantage of those weaker than himself in order to achieve riches.

He warned young men to refrain from envying such a man and his wealth. He took the text from the fifty-second Psalm, wherein just such a rich man is described.

There is no sin, said Rockefeller, in accumulating wealth in an honest and legitimate manner, and using that wealth rightfully. But this man, the Psalmist speaks of had taken advantage of others. Not only was he given to fraudulent practices, but he loved evil.

"He loved lies. A man who tells lies puts upon himself the greatest possible burden. It is difficult to remember to-morrow the lie told today. With the power and influence he must have had, this man was cruel and false at heart. Suppose that you and I are prone to envy him. We may have extended to him the power that man has."

Other insanity experts who have examined Thaw will be put on the stand. Among the experts retained by Thaw's attorney to testify as to his mental condition are Dr. Charles W. Pilgrim, superintendent of the Hudson River State Hospital and Dr. Charles H. Lane, of Poughkeepsie.

Although the government circles on Friday night when it was rumored that the insurgent leader, Dr. Durand, with two hundred of his men, attempted to cut the wires of the electric lighting plant that supplies the current for the lighting of Lima and the suburbs.

Soldiers are now moving both north and south and they have found quantities of cartridges and dynamite along the railroad lines. It is believed that a railroad bridge has been blown up. The troops have been ordered to take the utmost precaution in order not to give the insurgents any opportunity to take them by surprise.

BATTLED FOR LIFE WITH WATER SNAKES

Professional Diver May Die as a Result of Attendant's Blunder

Chicago, May 4.—A despatch to the Tribune from Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "William McNeil, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a professional diver, had a narrow escape from death yesterday in a battle under water with a dozen big bull snakes and a man die from the bursting of a blood vessel. McNeil is showing at Chester Park, his exhibition consisting of a diving feat, accomplished with the aid of a weighted belt around his body, and a mimic battle with snakes that are let into the water after he has released the belt. THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

There is a lot of trouble about those new uniforms for the ferry employees, which Admiral Glasgow has had in cold storage since last fall. They were ordered out for inspection last week, but it was found that several of them would not fit, and the ferry tailors were called in to mend them. But another difficulty, which had not been foreseen, arose. It will be remembered that when Wm. Long recently broke down the Ludlow had to be placed on the ferry route before her spring trousover had been properly fitted and completed. The Ludlow was not disposed to keep company with men in nice new uniforms while her own Easter suit was still unaltered. Therefore she took the bit in her teeth on Saturday evening and refused to cross the harbor. It was a protest against the new uniforms.

THE LOVELY GUARD, BY NORMAN INNES.

"Don't! whom have we here," growled a voice as I caught sight of a shadow in the mist. Then a hand clutched my shoulder and a bearded ruffian looked full in my face, crying, "The Austrian, by the Pope! Aha, comrades, morning brings us a goodly prize."

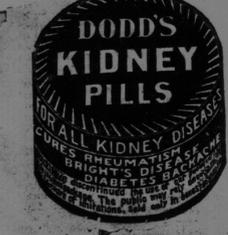

CHAPTER XIX. A DAUGHTER OF THE FOREST.

"Pinned, with that keen-edged knife three in the grip of the grimace of my captors, I was hurried through brush and thicket, over moss-grown stones and rotting tree-trunks, deep into the sunless woods. Did I blunder, did a twig snap beneath my feet, I got an angry look for my carelessness, and now and again a blow. Noisily these children of glade and grove picked their way amid the trees, so noiselessly that their fall of hoofs upon the which we fled sounded the tramp of a horse. It had wandered as or was startled, for I heard it neigh, caught the ring of its hoofs in the track and I groaned at the thought that for me that good steed must go riderless."

ELECTIONS DISCUSSED

Said to be the Subject of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Sunday Conference at Montreal.

Montreal, May 3.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Sydney Fisher and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, arrived from Ottawa by the noon train to-day and shortly afterwards the premier minister and his principal Quebec lieutenant were closeted with Premier Kenehan of Quebec, the conference lasting for some time. It is generally understood that the interview had to do with the fixing of the date for the Quebec elections, the desire of the federal authorities being to have a date arranged that will serve their interests in connection with the coming federal elections. Later the premier had an interview with Mr. Hays of the Grand Trunk and there is a good deal of speculation as to the reason for the conference. It is an open secret that there is considerable dissatisfaction with the location of the Trans-continental railway, far from the chief producing centres of the dominion. When the project was before parliament it was pointed out that a grievous mistake was being made in locating the route of the new railway hundreds of miles north of the big cities, instead of arranging that it should pass Montreal, Toronto, and the other main centres. The government, however, was in such a hurry to rush the project through that no attention was paid to the objection, but it seems that it is now realized that the error was made and it was reported to-day that the conference between the premier minister and Mr. Hays had something to do with the matter, in fact it is even stated that the matter may again be brought before parliament.

WEDDINGS

Lloyd-Winter. St. John's (Stones) Church was the scene of an interesting and pleasing nuptial event on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Amy Winter, eldest daughter of Charles F. Winter of this city, became the bride of Henry Gardiner Lloyd, son of the late Rev. W. H. Lloyd, vicar of Bishopsmead, Gloucestershire, England. The church was decorated for the occasion, and filled with friends of the bride, who has been a prominent worker in the organization of the parish and whose popularity was manifested by the interest displayed. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Kuhn, the rector, the service being fully choral. The bride, who was given away by J. Willard Smith, wore an embroidered veil and was beautifully attired in white silk trimmed with lace and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a bouquet of red roses. The bride and groom were accompanied by the bridesmaids, who were Miss Mary Winter, daughter of the bride, and Miss M. J. Fox, who presided at the organ. Lead Us, was then sung by the choir followed by the chanting of the Psalms and the conclusion of the ceremony the choir sang a special wedding hymn by A. C. Benson (son of prominent architect) with music composed by Mr. Fox, Mrs. F. G. Spencer singing the solo. LESS DRUNKENNESS IN MONCTON NOW

Strict Enforcement of Scott Act Has Had a Good Effect. Moncton, N. B., May 3.—In a vigorous temperance sermon tonight Rev. H. Gratton Dockrell strongly commended Chief of Police Ridout for the way he had been enforcing the Scott Act. He praised Magistrate Kay, saying he had done much to enforce this law. A great triumph had been gained for the Scott Act in Magistrate Kay's decision being sustained by the supreme court last week. Reference was made to the repeal of the act in Westmorland and Rev. Mr. Dockrell said he understood the election was delayed until July for the reason that it was thought the electors would be more thrifty then and more likely to vote for the house. There has been a marked decrease in arrests for drunkenness during the past month. Only fifteen were before the court which is a remarkably small number, compared with some other months. Rev. Father Converse of St. John's Church, Toledo, Ohio, who is to have temporary charge of the Mission Church, St. John Baptist, arrived in the city Saturday and took the services in the church yesterday. He preached both morning and evening, delivering eloquent and powerful discourses. Father Converse is considered one of the ablest preachers of the American Church and created a most favorable impression. This was his first visit to the city and he has been heard in the Mission Church some years ago when Rev. Father Davenport was priest in charge. He is a man of great magnetism, using graceful gestures with an excellent delivery. Mr. Parks the new organist of the church presided at the organ for the first time and his playing received very favorable comment. "The closer a girl can manage up to you, the surer she is not to be married."

THE BRINSMEAD Is the Piano of Royalty

Made in England—you know what that means—built to stand much usage, to last long and to give the correct service for which it was built. It is the standard of Piano Excellence of Great Britain. It is the Piano of the King of Great Britain, King of Italy, Queen of Great Britain, King of Sweden and Norway, King of Bavaria, The Shah of Persia. A significant tribute this, surely, and one which illustrates better than columns of explanation how the Brinsmead is regarded in the Old World. And this Piano of so great a merit is to be heard and is for sale at this music store. They are built to stand the climate of whatever country they may be sent.

FIRE NEAR FAIRVILLE

Steeves House on Manawagonish Road Burned Saturday Night. Fire thought to have been incendiary origin last evening destroyed the dwelling house on the Manawagonish road owned by Mrs. J. F. Steeves, of Robesay, under lease to Wm. A. Quinton. The fire started from the inside and as the house was unoccupied it is suspected that the fire was set. The flames were discovered about 10 o'clock, and in two hours the two-story ground. There was no water supply and the fire could be made against the blaze, though a number of Fairville firemen were sent out to see what they could do. The house was built some thirty years ago by Dr. J. T. Steeves and was worth about $800. It is situated on the farm owned by Mr. Quinton. During his speech he denounced the trusts, commended the President's recent measure outlining measures for relief, spoke of the removal of the trusts, and said to have demanded the whole assembly and by whom? By the trusts wearing masks. "Ah, sir, newspapers make a man, if my political career be marked, let here at the appointed hour and while here only God can stay my voice in behalf of organized union labor and the yeomanry of America." THE QUESTION OF FLOUR.

Not the least of the many problems which puzzle the young housekeeper, is which brand of flour to buy. It is often indefinite, one recommending a brand you cannot conveniently obtain; another neglecting the point of insisting on one flour you have found unsatisfactory. Have you ever tried blending flour? The Ontario millers are now making a blend of Ontario fall wheat with Manitoba flour, and in such a way that the best of both are combined scientifically to make a perfect flour. Ontario fall wheat has the flavor and softness, but not sufficient strength and elasticity, while the Manitoba flour has the strength and elasticity, but lacks the flavor and softness. The delicate favor of Ontario wheat, and is a superior grade to what one alone it gives the best blend of flour for bread, cake and pastry. SENATOR JEFF DAVIS ROASTS NEWSPAPERS

"Imps of Pelf and Greed" and "Servient Hypocrites" Are Some of His Names. Washington, May 4.—Prefacing his speech by the announcement that he had carefully prepared it and had it typewritten so that he might not use any "inferior language," Senator Jeff Davis, of Arkansas, in the U. S. senate, today discharged from further consideration of his bill to punish trusts. During part of the time the senator had three auditors—his colleague, Mr. Clark, and two Republicans who were engaged in conversation. Senator Davis read from manuscript for two hours and a half. Speaking of the press, he said: "Let scavengers of plutocracy howl; truth, God's living truth—where are its defenders? Miserable obtuseness in its method, pro-graduates in all arts of slander or defamation, I challenge the subsidized press, the people know you designs and spurn your pretenses, when their under show of argument or more servient hypocrites. Invalid Ladies This Is For You.

There are thousands of females who suffer untold misery common to their sex. This is largely due to the peculiar habits of life and fashion, and the improper training of girlhood. Then, too, the physical changes that mark the three crises of womanhood (the maiden, the wife, and the mother) have much to do with her sufferings, most of which are endured in silence, unknown by even the family physician and most intimate friends. To all such women hollow cheeks, pale faces, sunken eyes and feeble footsteps, indicate nervousness, palpitation of the heart, weak, faint and dizzy spells, we would earnestly recommend a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs. J. S. Sharp, Brighton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, weak spells and nervous troubles, and found no relief until advised to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got one box and that helped me so much I now got five more. I am now well and happy." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, O.

MARINE DEPARTMENT ENQUIRY WAS OPENED ON SATURDAY

The Commissioners Who Condemned the Department Stand by Their Report, But Will Not Accuse or Clear Any One Official.

Ottawa, May 3.—The enquiry by Justice Casella, assisted by Messrs. Watson and Perron, into the charge of wrongdoing in the marine department, was begun Saturday afternoon. Two witnesses were examined, Messrs. Fyfe and Bazin, two members of the Royal Commission whose report upon the marine department forms the basis of the present investigations. Their examination was with a view to have the report of the particular officials whom they believed to be guilty, but both commissioners refused to give testimony along these lines, declaring that only report was based upon evidence submitted along with this finding, which was against the department as a whole, and that it was not their function to act as detectives. In the course of his examination, Mr. Bazin made the formal distinct statement that the report had no reference to the minister himself. On the opening of the inquiry Justice Casella outlined the scope of the inquiry. He said the civil service commission's report had contained the statement that some of the officials of the marine department were serving two masters and succeeding with both, scripture to the contrary notwithstanding. No individual was accused in this report, but it was charged that the report had been made on the basis of contracts into which the department had entered. This was a very grave charge and the purpose of the present inquiry was to ascertain what foundation there was for the statements made to free the innocent members of the department's staff from all suspicion of wrongdoing, and to report to the public. For this purpose, they would have to make an examination of all contracts into which the department had entered, either for work performed or for supplies purchased. The statements in the report which should be our sole guide, apparently, to transactions of the past three years, and for the present, at all events, the present inquiry would be limited to the examination of the contracts, from the files of the department and see if the judgment of the commissioners was correct. Mr. Bazin said that they had said which they would alter or withdraw. "Do you realize the gravity of the charge against the whole body?" asked Justice Casella. "Most emphatically I realize it," replied Mr. Fyfe, "and I am sure that the responsibility is mine and mine alone."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

KIRK BROWN TONIGHT

Indications Point to Very Large Business at the Opera House.

Every indication points to a very large two-weeks' business for Kirk Brown and his company at the Opera House starting tonight. Mr. Brown has the very best there is to offer in stock company engagements, and should do record business for large attendance. The first play is Kyrie Belle's famous success, "Raffles," with Mr. Bird as "Bunny" Henry Crosby, "Captain Bedford" and Marguerite Fields as "Gwendolyn." Mr. Fey has the role of the professional burglar, "Raffles" will be repeated tomorrow night. A magnificent scenic production of "The Eternal City" is down for Wednesday and Thursday evenings. "The Man Who Fights The Evil Which Will be elaborately illustrated and particularly effective with incidental realism." The "Christian" Saturday afternoon.

AT THE NICKEL

A pretty story of an old man in Morris England is the Tale The Autumn Leaves Told, as pictured by the renowned Thos. A. Edison Co., and to be shown at the Nickel to-day and Tuesday. This illustrated love-drama breathes an air of the romantic past in the motherland—the days of distasteful matchmaking of duels, of London Tower and elopements on horseback. The tale is deliciously told by the camera, the acting superb, the scenic embellishments remarkable in historical detail and effectiveness. Needless to state the Nickel's presentation of this charming picture (over 800 feet long) will be high-class and with entrancing musical settings. The Unwilling Chaperone is a comedy of a unique character. The Great Bachelor Mystery something to hold one's closest attention. Miss Davis, whose sweet soprano and dainty stage presence are making her a favorite, will be singing songs "I Won't You Be My Honey" and Mr. Maxwell will be heard to very best advantage in the heroic song "The Man Who Fights The Evil Which Will be elaborately illustrated and particularly effective with incidental realism." EVERY DAY CLUB

A Stirring Address and Strong Condemnation of the Liquor Traffic by Rev. J. Harry King.

The liquor traffic is a part of the body politic which must be separated from it, and if this cannot be done by milder means it will be done in the end by force of arms; for the traffic must be destroyed, that men may have the fullest liberty to live the higher life of sober and useful manhood. This view was expressed by Rev. J. Harry King at the Every Day Club last evening. He added that he did not believe there would be any need of an appeal to arms in destroying this evil, for public sentiment was constantly weakening it, and there had been very gratifying evidence of this during the last week or two; both in this country and the United States. In St. John the number of licenses had been reduced to sixty-four, but there were still sixty-four too many, and the time was not far distant when it would be announced that they had been cut off. Mr. King took the story of Absalom as the text of a powerful address upon the importance of a right example by parents to their children. The fate of Absalom and the grief of his father David were still a warning to men today. Dealing with the victim of the drink habit, especially the working man, Mr. King expressed deep sympathy for him, and dwelt upon the force of the temptation which many men are assailed. There would be more Every Day Clubs he said, and no saloons to tempt them. There were songs by Miss Vaughan, Mr. Bambury, Miss Lala Colwell and Mr. Mitchell, and a piccolo solo by Mr. White. Dr. Arnold Fox played the accompaniment.

PROVINCIAL APPOINTMENTS

The following appointments have been made by the provincial government and assented to by the lieutenant-governor: John R. Dunn, to be registrar of probates for the county of Queens, in place of Jotham P. Bulley, removed. Charles M. Coulbly, to be commissioner of Consular Affairs, in place of Jotham Daniel Palmer, Jr., removed. Jerome E. Porter, to be commissioner of parish court of Canterbury, York county, in place of Hard H. Edwards, removed. Edward McInerney, to be liquor license commissioner for Kent county, in place of R. A. Irving, removed. Howland H. James, to be clerk of the County Court in Kent, in place of R. A. The provincial government has decided that the only liquor license which can be issued this year in Madawaska county outside of the town of Edmundston will be to Fred. Morneau and Joseph A. Long, of Common station. Twenty-six applications for licenses were made and the commissioners allowed thirteen, but in view of the ordinance by the federal government prohibiting the sale of liquor, twenty licenses on either side of the G.I.P. while under construction, a cut to only two licenses was necessary. The long service in the Seaman's Institute last night was well attended. S. L. Corbett addressed the seamen. H. S. Gregory had donated $30 towards the building fund of the society.

FEDERAL ELECTIONS MAY BE HELD DURING OCTOBER

This is What Dr. J. W. Daniel Expects to See—He is Satisfied With the Outlook for Conservative Victory.

Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P., who came to the city Saturday from Ottawa, talked very interestingly to a Telegraph man of matters that are now engaging the attention of the House of Commons. Hon. Dr. Pugsley, minister of public works has been endeavoring to get his estimates passed while the opposition has been opposing the measure and fighting to force the government to bring down their election bill. The civil service commissioners' report and the appointment of Judge Casella as a commissioner to investigate the department of marine, of opposition side has a word to say. He is thoroughly honest and no one doubts he will do all he can to investigate the existing conditions, but there has been strong condemnation of the legal man appointed to bring evidence before him. Mr. Watson has been for years a partner of the late minister of marine and fisheries and where he is brought to investigate the department of marine, which his late partner was the head, it is only natural to feel that such an appointment should not have been made and is open to criticism. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the house, said he had forgotten Mr. Perron was a partner of the late minister but he didn't change the name. The other man, Mr. Watson, Dr. Daniel pointed out, was employed in a similar capacity before a commission appointed to look into the West Elgin election in which fraud and illegal acts were charged. Mr. McNeil, who was the Liberal candidate and was elected, acknowledged he had been elected by fraud and resigned, yet the commission notwithstanding declared there had been no fraud. Mr. Watson has always been strongly identified with the Liberal party, being head of the organization in Montreal. It is not strange, therefore, Dr. Daniel said, that the appointment of these men has not been received with the degree of satisfaction that others are not open to criticism would be. "With regard to Dr. Pugsley," said Dr. Daniel, "I don't want to appear too critical, but I think he has been open to much criticism in the house." At the opening of the session, Dr. Daniel said, the minister's Fairville speech was brought up and Dr. Pugsley received a strong castigation at the hands of Mr. Kemp, of Toronto. Since then, the minister has been largely occupied with departmental matters and lately has been getting his estimates and supply through. One reason the estimates are passed slowly is that the minister has not been able to satisfy the opposition regarding the need of proposed buildings for the department of marine. Dr. Daniel said, and the minister of militia being absent and unable to explain, much time is spent in getting information. He thought it is far more interesting to collect the pins than expensive walking-sticks. These are two of the cranes of the present day. The latter are very apt to be stolen or mislaid, but with ordinary care the scarf will be properly looked after. There are various forms of protectors sold, but they do not invariably work too well and frequently disarrange the scarf while being worn. The best method is when you have once put the pin into the scarf by one end to take a piece of cord, and pass it up to the middle of the pin before you put the pin again through the scarf. A tag on this in a crowd would invariably give the thief away. It is very difficult to displace the pin that has been put in, and being most awkward to get rid of. It would be about a quarter of an inch long, but should rub and diamond be in the scheme of any form of horsehoe, heart, crown or other fancy design, then a scarf has to be very well selected to show the ornament in a perfect way. On the contrary, pearls and diamonds or small emeralds go well with everything, but it is a thing of beauty or a joy forever. Besides, one is very apt to sink as much hard cash in this direction as would pay for a variety, and thereby ensure a change. Naturally where one is in the position of receiving presents a gift horse must not be looked at askew, but where a man is benevolently extravagant toward himself a little taste is easily scarped by the pleasure of wearing a pin of one's own choice. The intrinsic value of stones is, of course, very desirable, if you have sufficient money, but design and workmanship are the most satisfactory points to aim at, and by cultivating a taste for artistry and design you will soon learn to discriminate between cheap work and that of the highest quality. Opals are usually difficult to get an opal scarf pin unless it is set with other stones and the whole effect of which may be rather vulgar. As a rule, black scarfs show up any shape of pin, but should rubies and diamonds be in the scheme of any form of horsehoe, heart, crown or other fancy design, then a scarf has to be very well selected to show the ornament in a perfect way. On the right is a large living-room, back of which is the library, opening well together with columned archways. There are four good chambers in the second story, provided with ample closets and bathroom and stairs leading to the third or attic story. The first story is finished in hard woods, oak-stained moss green in the dining-room and golden oak in the living-room, white enamel through the central hall and stairs, with red mahogany rail. The library finished in dark Flemish oak. The woodwork of the second story is finished in white enamel. The treatment of the exterior is symmetrical, with the outside chimney carried up in each gable. The central portico has four large Ionic columns. The treatment of the window openings throughout is in harmony with the character of the house. The estimated cost of this house is $20,000, exclusive of the cost of plumbing. The roof is of a dark moss-green color and the house painted either white or a light cream color.

Prescription Valued by Elderly People to Relieve Kidney Trouble is Said to be Easily Mixed by Anyone.

The great majority of men and women at the age of 50 years begin to feel the first signs of advancing age in some form of kidney trouble and bladder weakness. Few are entirely free from that torturous disease, rheumatism, which is not a disease in itself, but a symptom of deranged function of the kidneys which have become clogged and sluggish, failing in their duty of sifting and straining the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc. from the blood, permitting it to remain and decompose, making the joints and muscles, causing intense pain and suffering. The bladder, however, causes the old folks the most annoyance, especially at night and early morning. A noted authority in a recent article has stated that "the best way to get the old-time 'vegetable treatment'." He states: "Of sixteen cases of bladder troubles and rheumatism which have been treated with this treatment, not a single case failed to fully yield to the remarkable influence. It is the most harmless treatment known to clear the system of rheumatic poisons; remove irritation of the bladder and relieve urinary difficulties of the old people. It is a true vitalizing tonic to the entire kidney and urinary structure, reinvigorating the entire system." What he terms "old vegetable treatment" consists of the following simple prescription, the ingredients which can be obtained from any good pharmacy at small cost: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and upon going to bed, also drink plenty of water. This prescription, though simple, is always effective in the diseases and affections of the kidneys and bladder. It had been the government's policy to allow the progress to prepare their own lists, but now they propose that in Manitoba, British Columbia, and in some municipally unorganized parts of Quebec and Ontario they will put the lists in the hands of their own appointees and from their decisions there would be no appeal. As parliament has been in session over five months they feel that this bill was brought down as it is a very important measure. Speaking of the outlook for the Dominion elections, Dr. Daniel said that all through the country the New Brunswick election has made a great impression and is looked on as a foretaste of the great political change that is expected to take place in the Dominion at the next election. The members of parliament in opposition, he said, feel the same way and are making a very vigorous fight for all that makes for honesty and purity in government. He thought they think is the greatest at the present time in the government of Canada, and the conservative party will have great satisfaction in the announcement of a decision which is expected will be in October or November. HINTS ON HEALTH

Disinfection of Houses. A very wholesome practice that bids fair to become an established custom is the disinfection of a house before a new family moves into it. This is done now where a case of infectious disease, say, small-pox or diphtheria, has been known to exist but show signs of being sure into and live in has not had it in an unrecognized or a suppressed infectious disease, or typhoid fever? Disinfection after these diseases is of the highest importance. Then, what are not fatal, perhaps, but being communicable, may certainly become infectious. Disinfection, therefore, should be demanded of every landlord by those who are planning to rent the house. Health as We Grow Older. In youth the vigor of the system is often so great that one organ is slightly another party will make demands for the deficiency by acting vicariously and without any conscious damage to itself. In old age the task cannot be thus shifted from one organ to another; the work allotted to each organ and various action cannot be performed without injury. Hence the importance of maintaining as far as possible the vigor of each of all the bodily organs, so that the share of the vital processes assigned to each shall be properly accomplished. For this reason, exercise is an important part of the conduct of life in old age, but discretion is absolutely necessary. An old man should discover by experience how much exercise he can take without exhausting his powers, and should be careful never to exceed the limit. Old persons are apt to forget that their staying powers are much less than they once were, and that while a walk of two or three miles may prove easy and pleasurable, the addition of a return journey of similar length will seriously overtax the strength. Spices and Digestion. Although the use of spices for the purposes of heightening the flavor of food is almost universal, it is generally unrecognized that their influence on digestion is detrimental. Some experiments recently carried out tend to prove, according to the "Indian Lancet" that while spices stimulate the motor functions of the stomach they progressively impair the secretory functions, and in the long run inhibit the production of hydrochloric acid. On the whole, therefore, the use of spices hinders rather than accelerates digestion, though an exception may be made in respect of persons in whom slowness of digestion is due to a deficiency of muscular activity on the part of the stomach, and the possibility of the "stiffness" of hyperactivity. Running Cures Insomnia. There is no doubt that walking is

A GEORGIAN TYPE OF COLONIAL

DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK, ARCHITECT, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. A good exercise, but a gentle run is worth a good deal of walking, and will do what no amount of walking can. The run makes the blood flow, and consequently improves the complexion and digestion. It is very helpful in constipation and will actually cure some cases, besides mending of the attendant headache. If troubled with insomnia do an easy run of about half an hour before retiring (never mind if people do think you are crazy) and see if it does not help you. The runner must handle his feet lightly, stepping mostly on the balls of the feet. He must be careful not to run uphill or on a very uneven surface. He should not be afraid of opening his mouth to breathe if he feels like it. It is quite the natural thing to do. He may also get someone to run with him, but should always avoid racing. Lime Versus Lemon. Now that the hot weather is coming on again attention may be drawn to the health-giving properties of the lime. The use of the lime as a component part of the summer drink is ideal. Men who have long used lemon should take a switch this summer to the lime. Although much sweeter than the lemon, the lime yields a good deal more juice, weight for weight. The average amount of juice from a lemon is 37.50 per cent, and that from the lime 59 per cent. The lime also gives much more citric acid and more phosphoric. Simple Cure for Coughing. There have been now and again several suggestions put forward for the cure of excessive cigarette smoking by boys. One of the most original and simple, yet good in results, has just been told me. It is nothing less than feeding your boy peppermint candy. Tobacco will not blend kindly with the taste of sweet peppermint. Socially the cure may seem worse than the disease, but from a medical viewpoint the sucking of peppermints is far less hurtful. A common peppermint drop will prevent smoking for about an hour, so the amount of candy used need not be great. It is also a good plan when your boy starts to smoke to teach him to make his own cigarettes. Few will smoke to excess if they have to make their own.

EPIGRAMS

A bigot gets more credit for his stubborn nature than the open-minded man gets for his sympathy. Never argue with a fool. Contention is a waste of time. The wise man is pulled down to the level of the fool, but the fool can never be raised to the altitude of the sage. Jealousy is the only passion that can never be reasoned with or convinced. The logic of truth appeals to anger, to envy and even to hatred. But jealousy, the green-eyed monster, looks you straight in the face and calls you liar.

MASCULE MODES

Scarfpins are coming into fashion again. The ideal form of the perfect pin is a pearl or good in color and perfect in shape as can be secured. The half-and-half article, though not a thing of beauty or a joy forever. Besides, one is very apt to sink as much hard cash in this direction as would pay for a variety, and thereby ensure a change. Naturally where one is in the position of receiving presents a gift horse must not be looked at askew, but where a man is benevolently extravagant toward himself a little taste is easily scarped by the pleasure of wearing a pin of one's own choice. The intrinsic value of stones is, of course, very desirable, if you have sufficient money, but design and workmanship are the most satisfactory points to aim at, and by cultivating a taste for artistry and design you will soon learn to discriminate between cheap work and that of the highest quality. Opals are usually difficult to get an opal scarf pin unless it is set with other stones and the whole effect of which may be rather vulgar. As a rule, black scarfs show up any shape of pin, but should rubies and diamonds be in the scheme of any form of horsehoe, heart, crown or other fancy design, then a scarf has to be very well selected to show the ornament in a perfect way. On the contrary, pearls and diamonds or small emeralds go well with everything, but it is a thing of beauty or a joy forever. TALK ABOUT ELECTIONS

A Montreal despatch to the Sun states that the provincial elections in Quebec will probably be held about the tenth of June, which would be two days after those in the province of Ontario.

It seems evident that preparations are being made for the federal elections. Dr. Daniel, M. P., expresses the belief that they will be held in October or November. In the meantime an election bill is to be brought down, which is believed to materially assist the government in some sections of the country if it can be jammed through parliament in time.

The defeat of the federal government in the elections would not very greatly surprise the country. So many things have occurred to disillusion those who believed a Liberal government could do no wrong, that there has been a revulsion of feeling all over the country.

One more the eyes of England are turned toward the Rhyer Pass, and memories of the famous ride to Kandahar are recalled. The Afghans have assaulted the defences of the Pass, which guard the road to India, and have for the present been repulsed.

The Toronto News gives a list of candidates for the provincial elections already in the field. There are 65 on the government side, in addition to other members who, it is known, will contest their old constituencies, and 53 on the opposition side.

The Canadian Club of Ottawa has 351 members, and is a very active institution.

TRADE REACTION

The business outlook in the United States is still far from satisfactory. The New York Journal of Commerce sets forth the conditions very clearly in the following article: "Stress is laid upon the indisputable fact that business is undergoing a secondary reaction of unlooked for proportions."

The Ottawa Journal says: "Optimistic reports are still coming in from all parts of the Canadian West. Specials from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta state that, generally speaking, seeding is three and in some cases as much as four weeks ahead of last year."

In reference to Mr. Churchill's statement on Home Rule in Manchester, Premier Asquith in a recent speech said: "There has been no change in the policy of the government, which was fully explained by the chief secretary for Ireland and myself in this house on March 30."

Referring to the appointment of Mr. J. S. Leighton as I. C. R., claims agent of the Globe observes: "This will be a disappointment to members of the International staff at Montreal, who were hoping that somebody in the service would be promoted, and thus make way for other promotions."

Judging from reports in this city, Moncton and Fredericton, there is to be a period of more rigid enforcement of the liquor laws. Nothing less should be expected in any law abiding community than such enforcement. A law that is not enforced is a reproach to the people.

"Every city should possess at least one acre of public parks for every hundred of its population," said J. Horace McFarland of Harrisburg, Pa., president of the American Civic Association in the course of his lecture on "The Crusade Against Ugliness" in Toronto last week.

The city council of the past year will bow itself out today. Most of the members will bow themselves in again in a day or two as the council for the current year. Not one member, except Mayor Sears, who offered for re-election was defeated.

FOLDED HANDS

I tell no more—my day is done; How much I wrought I may not know; I watch the dew descending slow. And see the night approaching slow. My day's work as it is must stand, The tools drop from my nerveless hand, My dimming eyes no mark of time.

IN LIGHTER VIEN A FORGET-ME-NOT.

NEW HOTEL FOR HALIFAX

(Halifax Chronicle, Saturday) A big real estate deal was completed in this city yesterday when Mr. N. Doherty, proprietor of the Hotel Ora, at Stellarton, purchased the property on the southeast corner of Hollis and Sackville streets from Mrs. Mary E. McManus.

The property, which is one of the most valuable business sites in the city, includes the Albion Hotel on Sackville street. At the present time the corner property is owned by the L. C. R. ticket office, while on the first floor are the Board of Trade rooms, and the Nova Scotia Mining Society's office. The lease of the present occupants will expire until next May, so no changes will be made in the building until then. The purchase price was private.

While Mr. Doherty has not yet decided on his plans for the future, it is probable that he will have alterations made so that the whole building will be turned into a big hotel, with an entrance on Hollis street.
