AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR CITY

INITIAL COST OF NEW METHOD IS $250,000

Board of Directors, N. B. Telephone Co., Decide on Change

START IN SPRING

Increased Demand for Service Results in Adoption Modern Equipment

DECISION to commence the installation of an automatic telephone system in Saint John was reached this morning at the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the New Brunswick Telephone Company, Ltd., held in their offices in Prince William street.

The building alone will cost in the vicinity of $70,000. Preliminary plans are now well under way and the expectation is that active construction operations will commence as soon as the weather permits next spring.

BUSINESS PHONES FIRST.

It is estimated that the installation of the first group of automatic telephones will be completed in one and one-half to two years, so that the first operation of the improved equipment will likely start late in 1928 or early in 1929. This space of time is required on account of the intricacy of the plans for engineering, construction and installation.

THE first unit in the new system will consist of about 2,000 lines and telephones, which will take care of the bulk of the business hours of the city. The remainder of the instruments will be changed over to automatic as the central office equipment wears out. In other words, all the replacements made after the first unit is installed, will be of the improved type. At the present time telephones will remain in manual operation at central, the new plans of the company will not seriously affect the employment of operators, Mr. Robinson said.

INCREASED DEMAND

The decision of the Telephone Company, he added, had been brought about by the increased demand for telephone service in the city, and will put the company in line with modern thought in telephone development. He said that it was anticipated that within five years half the phones in Canada would be operated under the automatic system.

THE exchanges in Edmonton, Calgary, Winnipeg, Montreal, Toronto and Halifax are now operated either wholly or in part with automatic instruments.

HOW IT WORKS

In the use of the automatic telephone the subscriber gets the number he is calling without having to ask central. On the base of each telephone is a dial on which the calling party works out the number he desires before lifting the receiver. When the receiver is taken off the hook, the mechanism at central automatically connects him with the number dialed and keeps ringing at set intervals until answered or the caller hangs up his receiver. If the number is busy a signal, heard in the receiver, warns him to this effect.

THOSE PRESENT

Considerable routine business also was transacted at the meeting. Among the directors present were Senator F. B. Black, Sackville; Senator Irving R. Todd, St. Stephen; R. O'Leary, Richwood; Angus McLean, Bathurst; F. R. Sumner, Moncton; J. E. Macpherson, Montreal; E. H. Sinclair, Newcastle; E. W. Blair, Woodstock; R. B. Hanson, Fredericton; and J. M. Robinson, H. P. Robinson, W. C. Allison, J. L. McAvity and A. P. Barnhill, of Saint John.

Following the meeting Senator Black entertained the directors at a luncheon at the Union Club.

7,000 Young People at Toronto Meeting Favor Prohibition

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 18.—Resolutions repudiating "the propaganda carried on by those interested in the return of the free sale of liquor, which has represented the young people of this province in most unfortunate terms," and calling for whole-hearted support of the Ontario Temperance Act, were the tangible results of three meetings held here last night, which 7,000 young people from Toronto and district attended.

G. B. S. Wants Jack Dempsey As "Villain"

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Jesse Lasky is dickered with George Bernard Shaw for the film rights of "Castel Byron's Profession," in which he wishes to star Gene Tunney, says the Daily Express. To Mr. Lasky's offer of $75,000, made through a London agent, the Express says Shaw replied that he thought the novel worth $250,000, but that he would think Mr. Lasky's offer over. Mr. Shaw then cabled his New York solicitors, instructing them to ask $100,000 for the work, and coupled with it the suggestion that Jack Dempsey appear as the "villain" in the film story.

DELIVERS LECTURE ON EARLY INDIANS

James Vroom, St. Stephen, Speaks Before Fredericton Science Club

Special to The Times-Star FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 18.—James Vroom, town treasurer of St. Stephen, lectured before the Fredericton Science Club upon the early Indian inhabitants of New Brunswick, and also upon the plant life of the same area. He stated that the discovery of occasional instances of the occurrence of plants of more southern type might indicate a gradual moderation in climate. Mr. Vroom regretted that more of the natural beauties of the country was not given in the schools. The name Acadia, he stated, was given to the province in error, the latter name having been given by an early Spanish explorer. Tradition holds that the Indians displaced earlier inhabitants, he said.

Imperial Conference To End Deliberations Next Tuesday

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 18.—The elected and official members of the legislative council have rejected the proposed change in the Jamaican constitution offered by the British government. This was that the elected members should have a permanent majority in the legislative council with the appointment of five members on the government executive council.

'Gloomy Dean' Says Englishmen Are Lazy

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Dean Inge, the "gloomy dean," of St. Paul's Cathedral, has about arrived at the conclusion that Englishmen generally are lazy. A tendency to sloth and to arrogance, and a certain indulgence in eating and drinking, were faults other nations saw in Englishmen, asserted the Dean before the Bishops' Institute, and, in a way, he said he agreed with this. "On the whole," he added, "I think we are a lazy people—not only our workmen, but the employers, fight on down through the nation."

ANTHRACITE MADE FROM SOFT COAL IS FUTURE POSSIBILITY

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 18.—A low-priced artificial anthracite coal, manufactured from soft coal under heat and pressure, may become available to the public in the near future, C. V. McIntire, of the Consolidated Coal Products Company, New York, declared today before the international conference on bituminous coal at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

The process, developed at the experimental plant of the company at Fairmont, W. Va., has reached the stage where the owners are now ready to proceed with the erection of a commercial plant, McIntire said. It is his belief that the development will help solve the smoke problem.

"Anthracite in an earlier stage was bituminous coal," McIntire explained, "but under centuries of heat and pressure, brought on by geologic changes, the volatile portions were reduced, and the density increased. Obviously, the best method of converting a smoky

LAND PROGRAM

Conservative Headquarters Anxious With Baldwin Criticized

By HERBERT BAILEY British United Press

LONDON, Nov. 18.—An additional expense on the income tax and other indirect taxation is expected in political circles here to be the effect of the coal stoppage on the next budget. This is causing some anxiety at Conservative headquarters and has already created some adverse criticism inside the House of Commons which is directed chiefly against Premier Baldwin for what his opponents call his "do nothing" policy, which resulted in an increased activity in Labor and Liberal circles.

COME BACK BY LIBERALS

Lloyd George believes that the Liberals will come back with the next election and hold the balance of power between Conservatives and Labor and for this reason he is sticking to his land campaign. Labor admits they can not win enough seats to form a government unless it can capture some of the rural vote, but Lloyd George has anticipated this with his land program.

CHINESE PLANT FOR POISON GAS IS THE LARGEST

Y. M. C. A. Official Tells Frederickton Audience of Conditions

FREDERICTON, Nov. 17.—A startling statement that China has the largest standing army in the world with 1,500,000 men, and that she also has the largest poison manufacturing plants in the world and that she is turning out great quantities of the gas and storing it for future use, was made here today in a lecture by Capt. A. J. Brace, of Toronto, Y. M. C. A. Secretary in the Orient. Capt. Brace has delivered two addresses to the U. N. B. student body in the interests of the student forward movement. He leaves tonight for Acadia where he will also address the students of the University.

CHINA'S PROBLEMS. Speaking of the China today in relation to other parts of the world, the speaker claimed that the problems of the country at the present time were very serious from a racial standpoint. He also stated that all foreigners in that country the British were hated the most, and he credited this in a great measure to the fact that the British had been exploiting the country. The fact that Hong Kong was a British port was a sore point with the Chinese, he stated.

EDUCATION ADVANCES. Education in China was advancing rapidly, the speaker said. The student has been considered highest in the social order and the salaries which accounts for her poor army in the past. Since the war, however, the Chinese have realized that in order to save further exploitation of their country they must have adequate forces to protect themselves, and consequently they now have the largest standing army in the world, consisting of 1,500,000 men.

YARMOUTH OVERDRAFT

YARMOUTH, Nov. 17.—During the recent council meeting W. A. Godfrey was appointed an assessor to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Charles R. Vickery. Coun. Hopkins, chairman of the finance committee, submitted a statement of the financial standing of the town at the end of October. He stated that although there was yet a large amount of taxes unpaid, the collections were considerably ahead of last year's up to date. For the period ending October 31, 1925, the total expenditures amounted to $145,749.47, and the receipts $144,120.97, which makes $1,628.50 over-expenditure.

W. M. S. ORGANIZER SPEAKS OF WORK

Miss E. Mitchell Reaches City to Address Series of Meetings

Miss E. Mitchell, organizer for the W. M. S. of the United Church in Canada, arrived in the city last night and is the guest of Mrs. R. A. Jamieson, Queen street, for a few days while she addresses a series of meetings in this district. Miss Mitchell was for ten years organizing and field secretary of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and has travelled throughout the Dominion visiting both the far distant outpost settlements in the western provinces and the older districts of the east, but with the exception of her overnight stay in the city a few days ago, she has never visited Saint John before. Since September she has been visiting Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia points and she commenced her tour in New Brunswick three weeks ago. She has met with much success on her present trip and has already organized several new branches of the W. M. S. as well as several C. G. T. groups.

It is part of her duty to organize and part to stimulate the work where it has already been established.

Miss Mitchell spoke of the great variety of work which the church offered for women today and said there was a large number of women present at the meeting and to follow which they would not find included in the church program at the present time. She speaks tonight in Carleton United church.

NEARLY 500 ATTEND RAINBOW BAZAAR

Big Crowds at Afternoon and Evening Events in Aid of Orphans

The afternoon tea held yesterday by the North End W. C. T. U. members in connection with the Rainbow Bazaar in the Temple Hall, Main street, in aid of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphan Asylum, was a most successful one. During the evening, there was another big crowd of people present at the tea table and were assisted by an efficient staff of members of the North End W. C. T. U.

Many Attend Fair At Stella Maris

The Stella Maris parish tea and fair last night enjoyed bumper patronage. There were 225 served at supper and all of the games and special attractions also did a hustling business. Excellent prizes were given and the fortunate winners were as follows: Bean board gentlemen, Harry Flood; ladies, Miss A. Butler. A very attractive box of candy representing a big duck with two tiny dolls seated on its back, was won by Miss Rose Morgan. The supper and fair closes tonight and there are to be very fine prizes and special attractions to round out the last evening.

He was a resident of this town the most of his life. He served many years in town office and was long owner of a general store, and was postmaster, being active until past 80 years of age. His death was due to general illness, as he was able to receive many relatives and friends on his 100th birthday. He was the son of John N. Gilmore and Mrs. Dora Ripley, of this town. There are two grandchildren, several great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

It is expected that the competition will be staged in June instead.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 18, 1926.

BLESSED ARE THE PEACEMAKERS

AFTER registering disapproval and apportioning blame it is extremely pleasant to do the opposite. Mr. J. M. MacDonnell has done the Maritimes and Canada an immense service by his after-luncheon speech to the members of the Advertising Club of Montreal, and one hopes that his words will be read with as great, if not greater, attention than some of those of opposite tenor.

THE WATER OF THE GREAT LAKES

THE case for the complaints brought by six of the Great Lake States against the Sanitary District of Chicago and the State of Illinois in the United States Supreme Court to restrain the defendants from abstracting water from the Lakes is almost completed. The defendants must be ready by January 10 to present their evidence.

An interesting development in Ontario is the announcement that Hon. W. F. Nickle, formerly Attorney-General in the Ferguson cabinet, will oppose the Government and its liquor policy in the coming elections. Party lines are badly broken in this campaign. There are "wets" and "drys" in each of the old parties, and many of them are breaking away from the party alignment in this contest.

Rt. Hon. S. M. Bruce, Prime Minister of Australia, indicated a valuable barometer of national financial stability when he spoke at the annual meeting of the Commonwealth Bank in 1925. He said that the time is approaching when Australia will finance herself entirely.

We have another illustration of the value of Boards of Trade in the matter of St. Rose's Hospital. But for their activity, the Lake City would not have been settled to the satisfaction of the business interests of the Maritime Provinces.

Now that the deposed Maharajah of Indore has been discovered incognito in Salt Lake City one may expect the moral turpitude blood-hounds to be hot on the scent of that ex-ruler's nose too soon.

According to a New York newspaper, Pilsudski is destined to face a hostile diet. The Polish patriot dictator may be trusted to gobble it up only of a friendly people but of great districts of its own country is so monstrous that it ought not to be tolerated.

Monstrous indeed it is. And somehow one cannot but feel that those who suffer from Chicago's utterly selfish, inconsiderate and illegal action have by overlooking acquiescence been guilty of almost condoning a crime. No wonder the felicitous of Chicago flout the enforcement of law and do battle with machine guns in the open street, when the city itself shows not the slightest respect for the rights of others.

THE QUESTIONNAIRE THE New York Times Notes with satisfaction and applause that the American Engineering Council has undertaken to dam the flood of questionnaires by the United States, in common with other civilized countries, is periodically and all too frequently ravaged. The undertaking is compared with Ashokan and Assuan, for the questionnaire has become a calamity.

Mr. Hoover gave one instance where "a low estimate of the cost to the citizen of making the returns would be $50,000,000 in bookkeeping alone." Statistics have developed into a virulent disease, and their use induces a destructive dementia with a craving for more and more of the stuff.

In questionnaires the government clerk of ultra-bureaucratic tendency finds the diversion in which he revels. Questionnaires are the brood-stock of statistics—and the marshalling—and moulding—of all the little statistics is the bureaucrat's delight. "Questionnaires," says the Times, "fairly pour from State and Federal bureaux, uncouth, motley, disordered, to the endless discomfort of business."

One firm stated that a reply would cost it $20,000, a country doctor complained that it would cost him $100. This particular questionnaire carried every earmark of peremptory demand, as a matter of fact no citizen was required by law to furnish the information asked for. Such activities, as Mr. Hoover remarked, are a definite form of oppression, lending themselves to "doubtful constitutional practices of search and inquiry."

STOVES BURN SAWDUST

MR. LADISLAV ZAVERTAL, whom music lovers and dancers will recognize as bandmaster for many years of the Royal Artillery Band, writes as follows to the London Times: "At the present crisis, when coal is scarce and dear, it is surprising that sawdust stoves have not yet been sufficiently introduced to the public in England. They are clean, efficient, and labor-saving. A good-sized one only requires filling once in the morning, and gives an even, steady heat throughout the day without further attention. In Northern Italy these stoves have been in use during and since the war, and are so popular not only in private houses but also in offices and factories that the price of sawdust, from next to nothing, has risen to almost the price of other fuel. I have had more than seven years' personal experience of the efficacy of these stoves."

Has anything along this line been investigated in Canada, with a view to utilizing wood wastes? The fighting spirit of the British Merchant Marine has been once again exemplified by the amazing fight put up by the chief and second officers of the "Sunning" against Chinese pirates. Those who rush across the ocean in the comfort of a passenger liner are apt to imagine that the romance of the sea is a thing of the past; that the polite, gold-laced, mess-jacketed officers of today are something apart from that race of rough and ready adventurers who have carried the "red dust" into every kind of haud of the world has to offer.

Romance is not dead, nor are the masters and mates of our time one whit different from those of past generations. Perhaps opportunity to exhibit their mettle comes less often than of yore, but when it does—God have mercy on those who seek to interfere with a British seaman upon his lawful occasions.

The more we hear about the cost of repairs to the ferry steamers, and the dwindling patronage in summer, the more obvious it becomes that a change of some kind is urgently needed. Of course there will be a large patronage during the winter, but advantage should be taken of that period to consider the next best thing to be done. The taxpayers on both sides of the harbor are interested in this matter.

Prince Edward Island has been moving its potato crop very rapidly during the last few weeks. The Canadian National Railways have rendered good service by operating the ferry in a twenty-four hour service to get as many of the tubers as possible out of the province before winter sets in. The world shortage of potatoes and the effect on prices have been of great benefit to the Maritime Provinces.

News and Views From The British Capital

LONDON, November 4, 1926—The London newspapers are quite excited over the fact that the great big gun crews were heard in quiet country parishes all over the South of England, and by the Prime Minister of England and General Dreyfus for the dead Queen Victoria was heard at Petersborough, 123 miles out. The famous torpedo was untraced of, and Mr. Edgar Wallace never wrote anything better than his description, during the War, of smoking one quiet evening at his South Downs cottage door, and counting the beat of the drum-fire 150 miles away in Belgium, when there was "something doing on the Western Front." The old muzzle-loading guns of Waterloo were heard in Brussels. In English literature there is nothing more dramatic than Thackeray's poem, in "Vanity Fair," of Jos Sedley, setting down his glass at lunch in his hotel, white-faced, while his valet, rushing to throw open the window, exclaims hoarsely: "Mon Dieu! C'est cannon!"

Apologies of guns, stirring memories revive at the news that General Dreyfus, former High Commissioner in Syria, has just died. This distinguished artillery officer was the inventor of the famous "75," with which the French field batteries were equipped in 1914. Clemenceau declared that Paris ought to raise a statue to the "75." And certainly this marvellous gun was what mainly saved the French capital in August 1914. Thanks to its ingenious recoil-adjuster of compressed air and oil, which brought the weapon back after each round to precisely its original position, the "75" could fire almost like a machine-gun discharges bullets. The historic cannon of the Przewalski case arose through the efforts of the German Secret Service to obtain the plans of this gun, but Colonel Dreyfus returned from Dreyfus's mission to command his batteries against the foe. To command "over the top" with a "75" barrage was a luxury for British troops; but not to those who seek to interfere with a British seaman upon his lawful occasions.

A number of important changes in Navy commands take effect from today. In the first place, the late Sir Doyton Sturdee, concludes his period, and he will be succeeded by Rear-Admiral Sir Cecil B. D. Norton, best known as the Commander of the Allied Fleet on the Caspian Sea in the latter part of the war. Captain James H. M. S. Vernon, although it is now housed on the Great Eastern, will be relieved by Captain W. K. Kilton being succeeded by Captain N. E. Archdale, who had command of submarine flotillas in the Mediterranean. Mr. Goldsmith, who made a lucky attempt to sail single-handed from Plymouth to Malta, is due to begin work there. The Canadian National Railways have rendered good service by operating the ferry in a twenty-four hour service to get as many of the tubers as possible out of the province before winter sets in. The world shortage of potatoes and the effect on prices have been of great benefit to the Maritime Provinces.

An interesting development in Ontario is the announcement that Hon. W. F. Nickle, formerly Attorney-General in the Ferguson cabinet, will oppose the Government and its liquor policy in the coming elections. Party lines are badly broken in this campaign. There are "wets" and "drys" in each of the old parties, and many of them are breaking away from the party alignment in this contest.

Rt. Hon. S. M. Bruce, Prime Minister of Australia, indicated a valuable barometer of national financial stability when he spoke at the annual meeting of the Commonwealth Bank in 1925. He said that the time is approaching when Australia will finance herself entirely.

We have another illustration of the value of Boards of Trade in the matter of St. Rose's Hospital. But for their activity, the Lake City would not have been settled to the satisfaction of the business interests of the Maritime Provinces.

Now that the deposed Maharajah of Indore has been discovered incognito in Salt Lake City one may expect the moral turpitude blood-hounds to be hot on the scent of that ex-ruler's nose too soon.

According to a New York newspaper, Pilsudski is destined to face a hostile diet. The Polish patriot dictator may be trusted to gobble it up only of a friendly people but of great districts of its own country is so monstrous that it ought not to be tolerated.

Monstrous indeed it is. And somehow one cannot but feel that those who suffer from Chicago's utterly selfish, inconsiderate and illegal action have by overlooking acquiescence been guilty of almost condoning a crime. No wonder the felicitous of Chicago flout the enforcement of law and do battle with machine guns in the open street, when the city itself shows not the slightest respect for the rights of others.

THE QUESTIONNAIRE THE New York Times Notes with satisfaction and applause that the American Engineering Council has undertaken to dam the flood of questionnaires by the United States, in common with other civilized countries, is periodically and all too frequently ravaged. The undertaking is compared with Ashokan and Assuan, for the questionnaire has become a calamity.

Mr. Hoover gave one instance where "a low estimate of the cost to the citizen of making the returns would be $50,000,000 in bookkeeping alone." Statistics have developed into a virulent disease, and their use induces a destructive dementia with a craving for more and more of the stuff.

In questionnaires the government clerk of ultra-bureaucratic tendency finds the diversion in which he revels. Questionnaires are the brood-stock of statistics—and the marshalling—and moulding—of all the little statistics is the bureaucrat's delight. "Questionnaires," says the Times, "fairly pour from State and Federal bureaux, uncouth, motley, disordered, to the endless discomfort of business."

One firm stated that a reply would cost it $20,000, a country doctor complained that it would cost him $100. This particular questionnaire carried every earmark of peremptory demand, as a matter of fact no citizen was required by law to furnish the information asked for. Such activities, as Mr. Hoover remarked, are a definite form of oppression, lending themselves to "doubtful constitutional practices of search and inquiry."

This is a matter that will bear watching.

The announcement that 400,000 bushels of grain are en route over the Canadian National Railways as the initial shipment from Saint John is a hopeful indication. To this is added General Manager Appleton's remark that the prospects are bright for a busy winter port season at Saint John and Halifax. The C. P. R. has also been pouring grain into its elevators.

Queer Quirks of Nature

THIS IS AN ANIMAL, NOT A PLANT. By AUSTIN H. CLARK. THINGS are not always what they seem to be. For instance, this is an animal and not a plant. It has a long stem which raises its flower-like top high above the sea floor. But among the branching arms it has a mouth into which continually flows a stream of the little microscopic creatures of the sea.

How does it catch these? Each of the feathery-like arm branches has on the upper side a little groove lined with little sails always beating downward toward the mouth. These catch the microscopic creatures and pass them on to others until they reach the mouth. These creatures, called sea-lilies, have a jointed lily skeleton of more than two million separate bones. They are so brittle they can only live where it is very quiet and the action of the waves is very slight, that is, in deep water. This type of sea-lily I have dredged in great abundance on the south coast of Japan in water from 800 to 912 feet deep. They are found southward to Tasmania, and very similar ones are abundant at certain places in the Caribbean region, especially near Havana, Cuba.

After Dinner Stories THE thin man darted across the platform, gasping: "Will you let me take a moment for my wife, conductor? She is coming now, and is just crossing the street." "Can't do it," snorted the conductor, as he raised his hand to signal the engine. "I-but, conductor, she's going away stay six months," cried the man. "If she don't go now, she may change her mind!" "I'll hold it," replied the conductor.

AN old dandy got up one night at a revival meeting and said: "Brothers and sisters, you know an I know that I ain't been what I oughter been. I've robbed widows and every shamed folks w' mah razor, an' shot craps, an' cussed 'n' swore; but I ain't neber done a one thing I ain't neber done: I ain't neber lost mah religion."

THE southern lady saw old 'Rastus' setting out with his fishing tackle for a day on the river, and she deemed it a fitting time to rebuke him for his notorious illness, since she and every body else knew that the entire family was supported by the industry of 'Rastus' old wife, a washerwoman. "You think it's right to leave your wife hard at work, and the washin' done by 'Yassum, mamam," replied the old dandy earnestly. "It's all right, Mah wife don't need any watchin'. She'll wuk jes' as hard as I wud."

Who's Who IN THE DAYS NEWS. GARRARD B. WINSTON, Under-Secretary of the United States Treasury, is classed by authorities as next to President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon in the management of the war financial operations of the government. Winston is a comparatively young man for the position he holds, being just 44. He was born at Chicago, Ill., July 25, 1882, and was graduated from both Yale and Northwestern Universities. He received the B. A. degree at Yale in 1904 and the LL.B. at Northwestern in 1906. He practiced law in Chicago until 1923, with the exception of the Treasury Secretary's office, where he was chief assistant in carrying on the work of the treasury in 1923 and he continues in that position.

Winston left his law practice in August, 1917, and was commissioned major of artillery in the Officers' Reserve Corps. He later saw service over work in commanding an artillery battalion. After the war he went back to Chicago to his law practice and continued until Secretary Mellon issued his call for him during the summer of 1922.

Winston has had an important part in carrying out the two outstanding achievements of the present administration of the Treasury—the reform of the tax system and the funding of the foreign debts. As secretary of the World War Foreign Debt Commission, of which Secretary Mellon is chairman, Mr. Winston has taken part in the difficult and long-drawn-out negotiations leading to the settlements which have been arrived at with debtor countries. Winston made a flying trip to Europe early in the summer and visited London, Paris and Rome, where he conferred with various government leaders, including Mussolini, about their war debts.

Reporting The Crops (London Free Press) THE federal bureau of statistics, in its latest bulletin puts the Canadian wheat crop at 405,814,000 bushels, which is only about 5,000,000 in excess of its forecast at the beginning of August. This was at the time held to be altogether too low and little attention was paid to it in grain circles. That the criticisms then offered were well founded must now be admitted, for the damage that has occurred since that time has been greater than there was any reason to anticipate in early August. This year's experience emphasizes how imperative is the need of improving the crop reporting methods that are employed at Ottawa.

MISSION SEEKS TO BOOST TRADE WITH WELSH

Two at Montreal See C. G. M. M. and Rail-ways

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—With the object of developing the trade in foodstuffs between Canada and the Welsh ports, Messrs. Ronald L. Jones and T. B. Williams arrived in Montreal today and spent the day in conference with officials of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and the foreign freight traffic services of the Canadian National Railways.

The mission is representing the Cardiff Development Company. Mr. Jones is the son of Sir Thomas Jones, wood commissioner for South Wales and Monmouthshire.

"There is a large market for Canadian foodstuffs in the territory served by the Welsh ports," the two members of the mission declared. "Within the territory contiguous to these ports is a population of 10,000,000 people. They have sampled Canadian food products and are impressed by them. A regular continuity of shipments, both in cattle and other food products, is desired in order that Canada may secure full advantage of this market, and in order also that the people at home may be able to depend upon Canadian produce."

TO PROCEED WESTWARD Messrs. Jones and Williams will proceed westward, first to visit Ottawa and later to visit actual producers of live stock and food products.

Canadian meat, butter, cheese, eggs and bacon are already consumed in large quantities by the people of South Wales and the Midlands, but the bulk of these commodities has been reaching the people through other ports than the Welsh. Extra charges for handling the extra cargoes have resulted with higher prices to the consumer. The additional length of time required for their handling has had an effect on quality at times. It is felt by the Cardiff development committee that the building up of shipments between Canada and the Welsh ports direct will tend to overcome these difficulties which have previously existed.

Canadian apples have become popular with people in the area served by these ports, the members of the mission stated. Five years ago direct importation was started with 5,000 barrels. This trade has developed largely and last season the total reached 200,000 barrels. South Wales is also largely dependent upon imported meat supplies during six to eight months of the year, and this fact indicates the importance of the market to Canadian meat producers. The removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle, with the consequent allowing of imported stock, has also had an important effect in popularizing Canadian meat and direct shipments and a continuity of supply, the Canadian cattle trade with South Wales can be greatly increased.

TO LIFT "WET" LID

Glasgow to Relax in Honor of Overseas Premiers Nov. 25

GLASGOW, Nov. 18.—Glasgow's lid on "wet" banquets will be lifted Nov. 25, in honor of the Dominion Prime Ministers attending the Imperial Conference in London, when they will be guests of the city at dinner. There will be cocktails and plenty of wine and cider for those preferring non-alcoholic. All functions of the Glasgow City Council have been dry for more than a year.

Millions Extra By Taxing Foreigners

PARIS, Nov. 18.—In deference to the sugar "Make the foreigner pay," the finance committee of the chamber of deputies has added an article to the finance bill, which by making identity cards of foreigners valid for one year, instead of two years, will bring at least another $200,000,000 francs into the treasury coffers annually. In addition, identity cards must be applied for within 21 days of the arrival of a foreigner in France, instead of two months as previously. The price of the cards, however, is left at the existing figure, 375 francs.

SHOOT HIMSELF.

MONTREAL, Nov. 18.—A man, so far unidentified but thought to be a sailor on board the S. S. Belcher, now in port, entered a shooting gallery in the East End last night, picked up a rifle and shot himself in the head. He died at the Montreal General Hospital. "To show you how I can shoot," said the man to the proprietor, "place some matches on some of the birds and I'll light them." The proprietor went to the rear of the gallery to prepare the targets, when he heard a shot. He turned and saw the man collapsing.

MEN ARE CODDLED

Noted Physiologist Advises Less Wearing Apparel

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Men are more coddled than women, when it comes to dress, and it would be a great advantage if they would shed their colorful and elaborate attire, Professor Leonard E. Hill, noted physiologist, said today in advising an assemblage of women "to wear as little as you can." Prof. Hill, speaking on the hygiene of dress, said that the reason Gertrude Ederle and Mrs. Clemington Corson were able to accomplish their channel swims was because they had trained themselves to stand cold better than men by wearing short skirts.

Memories of Two Queens Are Given By Lady Haig

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Lady Haig, before her marriage in 1905 the Hon. Dorothy Maud Vivian, daughter of the third Baron Vivian and now wife of the Field-Marshal, gave some recollections of Queen Victoria and Queen Alexandra in a speech in Edinburgh the other day. In the course of her address, Lady Haig said: "I have been maid of honor to two Queens—Queen Victoria and Queen Alexandra. There are some people today who, taking their ideas from certain books, look back on Queen Victoria as a hard, domineering woman. I should like to picture to you three instances in which I have personal knowledge how great was her care for humanity and her thoughtfulness for others. "I went to her as a very young and very shy girl, but the Queens sent for me and put me at once at my ease, expressing her desire for my comfort and telling me she had herself inspected my room to see that all was as she wished it to be. My room was high up, and the Queen in those days had, with considerable discomfort, to be carried about.

"The second picture I should like you to see is of the Queen during the last years of her life. It was the time of the South African War. Night after night, wearing four or five pairs of spectacles, one on top of the other, she would sit in a chair, and her eyes would be fixed on the map of South Africa. She would knit 'comforters' for her men, though her eyesight was so bad that each day the stitches had to be undone and secretly reknitted.

"Now I come to Queen Alexandra. I was with her for five years, and my sister was with her for over 30 years. The Queen became to us as a mother—'My twins,' as she always called us. We saw her in the zenith of her beauty—a woman of 46, looking like a girl of 20. She seemed to have everything that she could possibly desire. I will remember her cupboards, full of the most beautiful clothes. "After my marriage, she honored me by asking me to stay with her and to bring my children. Then I saw her in the sad years of her widowhood, thinking only of him she adored. Think how she suffered, remembering how her sister was the mother of the late Czar. She had to bear her trouble alone to a great extent, owing to her deafness. She had only one thought about her money, and that was to give it away to the poor, and her clothes were in holes and there were only two dresses in the cupboards."

REACH QUEBEC

QUEBEC, Nov. 18.—The French-owned freighter Leopold L. D., loaded with grain for Dunkerque, France, and the collier Hochelaga, of the Dominion Coal Company, bound for Montreal from Sydney, N.S., with 7,000 tons of soft coal, which collided at Traverse De St. Roch, in the St. Lawrence, about 42 miles from here, early yesterday morning, have arrived in this port. The Leopold arrived yesterday afternoon, while the Hochelaga arrived early this morning. Both ships negotiated the forty-two miles under their own steam. An investigation will be opened in a few days by Dominion Wreck Commissioner Demers.

STUDIED CASUALTIES.

"She studied the casualty list of all ranks in great detail and communicated with the bereaved mothers and widows. I was with her at the time of Spion Kop, and I cannot express to you how much it affected her. The South African War killed Queen Victoria because her feeling for others was intense.

"I have been maid of honor to two Queens—Queen Victoria and Queen Alexandra. There are some people today who, taking their ideas from certain books, look back on Queen Victoria as a hard, domineering woman. I should like to picture to you three instances in which I have personal knowledge how great was her care for humanity and her thoughtfulness for others.

YOUNG DUBLIN MEN RUNNING CITY WELL

Succeed in Unique Experiment in Municipal Government in Irish Capital

DUBLIN, Nov. 18.—An unique experiment in municipal government has proven a great success for Dublin. More than a year ago the Free State Government summarily ousted the elective "Dublin Corporation," consisting of the Lord Mayor and aldermen, on the ground that it was incompetent and spent most of the time in factional quarrels.

Three young men, all below the age of 28, were selected to govern the city—James Murphy, Dr. William O'Dwyer and William Hernan. None was active in politics. They were given full power. The young triumvirate tackled the job with a vim. They have already done more in one year than the old corporation did in ten. Despite the fact that vast number of public improvements have been made, including the building of 1,200 city-owned houses and a new circular Highway across the north end of the city, the local taxes have been reduced 20 per cent.

How Can a Young Man Penetrate a Girl's Company Manners?—By Getting a Close-up of Her at Home—Watch How She Treats Her Parents, Brothers and Sisters, for Only a Good Daughter Makes a Good Wife.

A YOUNG man tells me that he is engaged to be married to a very beautiful and attractive young girl, but that she is always quarreling with her family.

DOROTHY DIX

AND he wants to know if I think she will treat him, if he marries her, the way she treats her mother and father and sisters and brothers.

IT DOES not turn a nervous and irritable girl into a placid and easy-going wife. It puts no honey on a shrewish tongue. It makes no pacifist out of a born fighter.

WHAT a girl was before marriage, she will be afterward, only more so, because after marriage she feels that she can let herself go.

IT is very hard for a young man really to get any line on a girl's temper and temperament before marriage. All girls put on their company manners as well as their company clothes when a youth comes a-courting.

NATURALLY, a girl who is trying to annex a meal ticket for life isn't going to call a man's attention to her faults and weaknesses. She isn't going to let him know that the angelic disposition that he admires so much is camouflage, not the real thing.

AND the only possible way in which he can do this is to get a close-up of her in the family circle. That will give him a prophetic vision of the future.

FOR the girl who cannot get along with her parents will not get along with her husband. If she "sasses" her mother, and talks back to her father, she will use her tongue as a two-edged sword upon her husband.

FOR the wife has far more things to vex her than the young girl has. She has more responsibilities, more work to do, is called upon for more sacrifices.

IT TAKES self-control. It takes usefulness. It takes philosophy. It takes a sense of humor. It takes all the good qualities of head and heart to enable us to live peaceably in the close quarters of domestic life.

THERE are plenty of girls who rule their families with a rod of iron. As soon as they get home from school they route their parents out of the comfortable old home in which they have lived for twenty years and make them move into a cramped little apartment in a fashionable street.

WHENEVER you hear a father muttering under his breath about "new-fangled ways," or see a mother look furtively at her daughter before she expresses an opinion, or when you hear one begin every sentence with "Bessie says" or that, flee from her if you value your personal liberty.

IF YOU want to find out if a girl will make an extravagant wife or not, observe how she treats papa's pocketbook in time to save your own.

IF SHE dresses beyond her means, and is willing to work her poor old father to death to gratify her craving for fine clothes, you may rest assured that she will have no mercy on a mere husband and that the man she marries will spend the balance of his days as a bill payer.

IF FURTHERMORE, you do not need to be a Sherlock Holmes to deduce what sort of a working partner a girl will make if you cast an eye upon her in her own ballroom. If mother's hands are work-worn and on a couch and reads novels while mother does the cooking and the washing; if daughter looks like a fashion-plate and mother like something that was fished out of the rag bag, you may safely bet that daughter's husband will have to get up and get his own breakfast and walk the baby with the colic and wear his last year's suit, while his wife takes life easily and dresses like Solomon in all his glory.

A GOOD daughter makes a good wife. Marry the girl who is sweet and lovely in her own home and she will bless yours. DOROTHY DIX.

By HENRI BENDEL

NO item of a woman's wardrobe approximates in importance her fur coat. Once a symbol of wealth and luxury, to day it is a necessity.

Where once only a favored few could be obliged to winter winds, wrapped in their fur coats, now comparatively few women feel they can be without them.

But the really lovely fur coat is never ordinary. Nowhere is quality more apparent or inferior quality and bad workmanship so noticeable.

Gone are the days when a fur coat was worn for years without an alteration. In this swift moving generation lines change with every season.

IT'S CUT THAT COUNTS. I consider the cut of a fur coat infinitely more important than the fur that is that a well-cut, slender looking coat in an inexpensive fur will be infinitely more effective than rare and consequently costly pelts made into a garment which has been cut with no feeling for line.

Beautiful effects this year are gained by dyeing. Take, for instance, the ermine model illustrated. The virgin white of the fur has been dyed a light gray, soft and dove-like, which because of its novelty is much more interesting than the original white.

Other fashion points of this wrap are the deep cuffs and the wide collar which frames the face so beautifully and closes in a deep V-line.

Undyed ermine this season is often trimmed with a contrasting fur to heighten its purity, as in the evening wrap with the sable collar and stole. This has a deep V in the back and is cut to give the close narrow line so desirable this season.

For the opera, theater and for all evening affairs, this type of fur wrap is exceedingly desirable.

COLLARS CHANGE MOST. Another model which may be worn by day and also for evening is the model of broadtail with the collar and stole of sable.

These three models feature the faring standing collar that is known as the Vionnet collar because it has been introduced and exploited by that famous designer.

The most startling changes in fur coats this year have been made in the collars. They are more a logical part of the wrap and lose an obvious addition than ever before.

Breakfast is a meal that is generally eaten in a hurry and very often with little appetite. It should be made as attractive as possible, and the food, while not heavy, should be nourishing and well cooked.

COOKED CEREAL—The best way to cook cereal for breakfast is to boil in double boiler the previous night and warm thoroughly the next morning.

SOFT BOILED EGGS—Wash the eggs thoroughly the night before if you intend to slip them gently into the boiling water and boil the requisite number of minutes to suit the taste of the individual.

TOAST—To be palatable toast must not be burned and on the other hand it should be well browned and crisp. Young housewives should get in the habit of toasting their bread.

Color vogues may come and go, but the color that seems always ideal for the junior school girl is navy blue. Its smartness never wanes, and it never fails to enhance the charm of the fresh complexion of youth.

POLA NEGGRI. Pola Negri, exotic motion picture tragedienne, has no fad. Or it might be said that she has many if a love of things beautiful, of the best of art, and music and jewels can be considered a fad.

But this, with this woman who remains remote, aloof, lonely more than any other in the public eye, is not a passing fancy. It is her nature.

MISS NEGGRI, when asked by United Press to make known her fad first asked to have the word defined. To her it was not a word of common use. When it was made clear what was wanted the famous Paramount star answered the question with a graceful sweep of her hand.

SWEETEST WORDS. The baby is asleep now. Here's that book I borrowed. You gave me too much money, here's your change.

When I was a small boy, I was left an orphan. "What did you do with it?"

For real elegance, none surpass this coat of broadtail with sable stole and collar. This undyed ermine is trimmed with a contrasting fur to heighten its beauty. This ermine model has been dyed a light gray and is interesting in its novelty.

MENUS For the Family

HEALTH SERVICE Many Factors Enter Into Effect of Liquor on Man. Breakfast is a meal that is generally eaten in a hurry and very often with little appetite. It should be made as attractive as possible, and the food, while not heavy, should be nourishing and well cooked.

See-Sawing On Broadway. NO SECTION of Manhattan is spared the inroads of the skyscraper and the lavish, glittering gesture.

Do You Know How to Buy "B" Batteries. Out of the multitude of "do's" and "don'ts" which tend to confuse the radio owner, three simple rules for buying "B" Batteries may be followed with confidence.

EVEREADY Radio Batteries. On 1 to 3 tubes—Use Eveready No. 772. On 4 or more tubes—Use the Heavy Duty "B" Battery No. 770. On all but single tube sets—Use a "C" battery.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

IT is not often that villainy and stark brutality triumph in the films. Yet, such is the art of Nosh Berry, villain; William Powell, assistant villain; and Herbert Brenon, director, that the grim setting of "Beau Geste" and the vivid cruelty of Sergeant Lejeune will be remembered long after the beautiful gestures of heroes and inspired love sequences have been forgotten.

LITTLE HOKUM. Only here and there has he compromised with lokum for the purposes of "comedy relief." Take or leave the war mystery story conceived by Percival Wren, which enjoyed a best seller's fortune!

BODIES DISAPPEAR. The mystery increases as two of its own and its cafes were essentially native.

FROM the Bronx to Brooklyn to Second Avenue the playhouses flourish.

ROYAL GEMS ON WAY TO STATES FROM RUSSIA

Collection Includes Wonderful Nuptial Crown of Catherine the Great

MOSCOW, Nov. 14.—Some American woman soon will have the chance to wear the crown of Catherine the Great of Russia—if she wants it and can afford it.

This famous ornament and others of the collection of Russian crown jewels now are on the way to New York, having been purchased from the Soviet Government by Norman C. Weiss, diamond merchant of New York and London. The price paid for the crown has not been made public.

The "nuptial crown," as it is described to distinguish it from the great imperial coronation crown used by all the Russian sovereigns since Catherine's time, which is valued at $2,000,000, was worn by Russia's gayest and most beautiful Empress when she married Peter III in 1745. It contains 1,620 diamonds and is surmounted by a superb cross of huge jewels.

Unique among the items purchased by Mr. Weiss, however, is a baby's rattle of solid gold and ivory, which was used by the late Czar in his babyhood. This imperial toy is valued at $8,000. At one end of the rattle is a round of ivory, with which the Prince rubbed his royal gums; the other end terminates in a whistle.

Another article of exceptional historical interest is a diamond-studded three-edged sword which belonged to Paul I, the "mad monarch," who was assassinated in 1801. The hilt of the sword is a massive affair of silver, set with 1,000 diamonds of the first water and ancient cutting.

The sword was used by Paul in all his reviews of the Russian troops, it being the practice to single out whole regiments with this sword for Siberian exile if they failed to gratify his caprices.

There is also a hat of pure gold embellished with diamonds, rubies and emeralds, intended for Paul's pet monkey. Other gems include several Easter eggs of gold and diamonds, which the late Empress Alexandra once presented to her royal husband.

A gold and diamond snuffbox used by Empress Elisabeth, daughter of Peter the Great, is done in Louis XV. style and contains 2,000 diamonds. This regal gem is covered with diamonds and encased in gold on blood-colored jasper. It is valued at $15,000.

Among the jewels which are going to America is a magnificent bodice ornament worn by Catherine the Great at her coronation in 1762, consisting of huge clusters of many-hued Brazilian diamonds, Indian emeralds and other stones.

All these gems are soon to be placed on the American market. If there is no American woman rich enough to purchase Catherine's crown and the other gems, Mr. Weiss intends to sell the stones separately.

The Soviet Government still has more than $200,000,000 worth of imperial jewels which it intends to turn into cash for plows, machinery, locomotives and other practical needs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Rudolph Oblatt, jeweler, 827 Fifth avenue, a partner of Norman C. Weiss, jeweler, of London and Paris, in the purchase of important items of the collection of Russian crown jewels, explained that there were four jewelers associated in the Russian purchases, but he declined to identify the other two members of the syndicate.

HELIUM USED BY DEEP SEA DIVERS

Salvage Worker Can Attain New Low Levels With Its Help

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—Helium, that rare gas which floats airships, is now being put to the novel use of aiding deep sea divers in their struggles at ocean bottoms. Experiments by the Bureau of Mines indicate that helium's utility will be as great in the depths as it is in the heights, and considerably more workaday in practical value. With its assistance, new low levels may be attained safely by the salvage worker under water.

Divers who work with the usual equipment suffer from what is known as "the bends" when their stay and exertions under water are prolonged. The cause of this sometimes fatal ailment is the absorption by the diver's tissue of nitrogen which causes bubbles in the arteries. Helium, like nitrogen, is so inert and transmutable that it may be mixed with oxygen, forming a synthetic atmosphere, compressible for supply to divers and very nearly free of the tendency to produce the infernal bubbles for which nitrogen is responsible. Many long experiments were made by the miners' bureau with animals and then the bureau's apparatus invented for the divers was turned over to the navy. Its first extensive utility was proven in the raising of the submarine S-51, which was sunk near Newport, R. I.

LABOR DOUBTFUL OF COAL PEACE VOTE

Prospects Favor Majority For Acceptance of Terms, However

British United Press. LONDON, Nov. 18.—While the great majority of votes from the mining districts are in favor of acceptance of the terms of peace, it would not be a surprise to Labor if the final vote is against acceptance.

Labor, however, is prepared for this for it will be found that a vote against acceptance, even at the most optimistic predictions, will not amount to two-thirds of the ballots cast and leaders will then claim they cannot continue the strike without the two-thirds majority which is necessary under their by-laws for declaration of the stoppage. They will say that a failure to secure a two-thirds majority against acceptance amounts to a mandate for acceptance and will proceed with ratification of the peace terms. For this reason everybody is anticipating peace and is making preparations for it.

CORPORATIONS GOOD CITIZENS, SAYS BEATTY

C. P. R. Chief Talks on Development of Canadian Industry

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—"Canadian corporations are good citizens and so long as they are guided by men of ability and with ideals, they will not only continue to be good citizens but will develop from within themselves thousands of men whose standards of citizenship are unconsciously elevated through that association," said E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, during the course of an address before the Electrical Club here today.

The enormous impetus given industry and commerce by the inception of the limited liability system of establishing companies which took place in the last century was one of the most remarkable things in economic history.

Mother Bequeaths Daughter In Will

The filing of the will of Mrs. Fred McKinney reveals that she bequeathed her "most valuable possession," her daughter, Margaret, to Mrs. E. F. Shank, wife of a Wichita, Kansas, Baptist minister.

and more than justified its inception, said Mr. Beatty. While the operations of a company were legally limited to the terms of its charter, the fact that such charter was granted by the state involved the responsibility of the company to the state and its interest in the state's welfare.

WELFARE CONSIDERED. Public sentiment as well as a broader conception of business and civic responsibility had brought about genuine consideration for the general welfare.

Would You Like to be Forever FREE from ASTHMA. ASTHMA-GERA, a wonderful new medicine, softens and soothes the bronchial passages, restores gland activity to normal and QUICKLY and FOREVER banishes Asthma, Hay Fever and all bronchial troubles.

equally outstanding because their character matched their mental abilities. When the last of these three men retired eight years ago, his duties devolved upon me and in thinking over what I could do which would in a measure continue the work of the men who had gone before, it struck me that I might make an earnest effort to convince the people of Canada of a fact of which I myself had been convinced for many years, namely, that while the Canadian Pacific was a very successful railway, steamship colonization, hotel and development agency, it was and would continue to be one of the best citizens of Canada.

PUBLIC SERVICE GUIDES. Although the syndicate which took over in 1881 the responsibility of completing the Canadian Pacific was a private syndicate, and the company is a limited liability company," said Mr. Beatty, "the conception which has governed the policy of its directors was from the first a conception of public service. It was essentially the Confederation railway, since it was built and operated so as to make possible traffic from the Atlantic to the Pacific and then to establish commercial foundations for the new Dominion. The same spirit that animated the fathers of Confederation inspired the presidents of the Canadian Pacific, Lord Mount Stephen, Sir William VanDorne and Lord Shaughnessy—who, if not the fathers, were surely the children of Confederation. Ever since Canada had a good citizen, it was the late Lord Shaughnessy.

C. P. R. WAR RECORD. Mr. Beatty referred to the war record of the Canadian Pacific and what it had done to meet the menace of those days, and also its record in assisting education, community work and hospitals. It was his opinion, he said, that the company in its personnel had gained, and would gain, by the public service the assisted institutions were rendering.

COMPANY NOT IN POLITICS. "Every citizen of this country and the company can claim to be a fairly sizeable one, is naturally concerned to exert the influence which emanates from one political party or another, and the company because of its tremendous stake in the country and the fact that it is a trustee of hundreds of millions of British, Canadian and American capital, jealously guards these interests against unfairness or the adoption of any policies calculated to destroy the value of those investments. When I say that, however, I have said it all. The company is not in politics, and, if I am any judge, has little if any, political influence. No officer or employee of the company has, in my recollection, and certainly not in recent years, ever been asked or requested to discharge his public duty according to his own belief."

DOMINIONS' STATUS WILL BE REDEFINED

Canadians Feel Satisfaction in Progress of Imperial Conference

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The proposed statement on the constitution of the Empire, on which the Premier's Committee on Inter-Empire Relations has been working, is now taking definite shape. The statement, it is believed, will do the following:

- 1. Define more clearly than at present the status of the dominions of the Empire.
2. Recognize dominion autonomy, not only in purely domestic matters, but also in questions of foreign policy primarily concerning such dominion.
The Premier's Committee of the Imperial Conference has not yet concluded its work and some changes may yet be made in the statement outlined above. Among the Canadian delegation tonight there was evident a feeling of satisfaction at the way things are progressing at the Imperial Conference. "We have every reason to be pleased," said one influential member of the delegation. "We did not, of course, get everything we should like, but we made a greater advance even than we expected."

POLICE CHIEF LIFTS VEIL ON CRIME METHODS

Sir W. Notts-Bower Gives His Reminiscences

LONDON, Nov. 17.—For all that is known to the contrary, "Peter the Painter" is alive and well. When a high police official chooses to retire and tell the world what he knows, there are inevitable surprises of this kind. When the story-teller is one whose intimacy with celebrated criminals extends from the time of Charles Peace to the present day, there is rich anecdote as well as thrill.

Sir William Notts-Bower, commissioner of police of the city of London until a year ago, when he retired at the age of 76, gives a rare life story in his recently published book, "Fifty-two Years a Policeman." In a life of thrills he found the most thrilling chapter in activities of the armed and organized anarchist burglars of Houndsditch. Sir William states quite definitely that "Peter the Painter" and two others escaped to France. Gardstein, the leader of the gang, and an intimate associate of Malatesta, the notorious Italian anarchist, was accidentally killed by his confederates when firing on the police, while Jacob Peters, who was acquitted at the Old Bailey, became an active member of the Cheka, the Soviet terrorist organization.

But of the later history of Peter Plakon, alias "Peter the Painter," there is no word, official or otherwise. If he is dead, he carried his secrets with him; if he is alive, he has chosen a veil of anonymity which the police and secret agents of the world have been unable to penetrate.

ARTILLERY USED

Two squads of Scots Guards, it will be recalled, took part in the siege of the houses in Sidney street, which followed the police murders, and a battery of Horse Artillery arrived, but was not required. Mr. Churchill, then Home Secretary, also turned up, and Sir William says that Mr. Churchill's presence gave the members of the force a feeling of support and of confidence which was highly valuable at such a time.

Sir William was chief constable at Leeds when the life-long burglar, multiple murderer and arch-hypocrite, Charles Peace, was brought to the scaffold at Armlay Jail. Whilst in custody in the police cells under the Leeds Town Hall, Peace never seemed to lose his vitality or his hypocrisy. He constantly gave advice to his warders, pointed to his own horrible example, beseeching them to take warning by it and lead good lives—in fact, he preached far better sermons than are often heard in church.

He had a most extraordinary power of facial expression, and a favorite amusement of his was to put his head out of the cell, saying to his warder: "Now take a good look at me so that you can be sure of identifying me." He would then withdraw his head, looking out again a moment later, his face completely changed, and saying: "Now as an honest man, will you swear to me?"

POLITICS DOMINATE ITALIAN PAPERS

First and Second Pages Mostly Devoted to Lengthy Articles on State

ROME, Nov. 17.—Political editorials and editorial-news stories are the chief item of newspaper diet in Italy. American news usually comes second or third hand, through London or Paris, in the form of clippings from old American newspapers. No regular telegraphic correspondents are maintained in the United States, and ramifications of American politics and the details of American politics and the state government, apparently mostly, are a mystery. When Charles E. Hughes visited Rome he "the illustrious vice-president of the United States."

LIKE FREAK STORIES

Preference is given to freak and feature stories. Great disasters or other events putting the United States in the position of the hearth of stupendous occurrences are good for a paragraph or two. Italian newspapers rely for well over half of their pictures on clippings from American newspapers. In some cases the original captions are frantically changed. In others, they are dropped altogether and replaced by odd substitutes. A picture of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford showing them visiting a children's asylum, holding two infants in their arms was captioned: "Movie stars with their two lovely children." After a recent disaster, a picture read: "Showing the damage in the flourishing town of Loo King West."

DISPLAY ADS UNKNOWN

The newspapers generally are six pages in size. Foreign news finds little space in them, almost all of it being of a political nature, mostly referring to matters in which Italy is interested or concerned. The typical make-up devotes all of the first and most of the second page to lengthy editorial articles and editorial-news stories devoted to domestic politics. Similar articles about the particular foreign political situation which happens to be important are sandwiched among these. From one-half to a full page each are devoted to local and domestic news. Advertising seldom exceeds one full page. Display advertising is wholly unknown.

On the average, the activities of Premier Mussolini are reported from one-fourth to one-third of all the type used. Events referring to the Fascist Party and Fascist Government politics to between one-half and two-thirds of all the news. This, however, varies greatly, particularly when the premier is doing something important when he is in a party in a number of pages all to himself.

The killing was the outcome of a brawl, following a Polish wedding and a party in a blind pig. Phillips was stabbed twice in the body. Notwithstanding the praise bestowed on "The Domino Club" by book reviewers and demands for film and dramatic rights, Upward decided that he had failed.

BRUCE REPLIES TO LOAN CRITICISMS

Defends Australian Commonwealth's Frequent Borrowings in London Market

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Premier S. M. Bruce of Australia, at a dinner here last night, took occasion to reply to recent criticisms of the Australian Commonwealth and Australian states for frequent borrowings in London. Only one-third of Australia's debt, Premier Bruce said, represented the deadweight of her war debt. The remainder represented valuable assets, whereas Great Britain's debt policy was altogether a deadweight except the money owed by the allies and their full recovery was extremely doubtful. Australia recognizing that borrowing should be on a strictly sound basis, Premier Bruce continued, had brought the various states of the Commonwealth into a loan council. Premier Bruce's speech throughout, was closely reasoned and temperate.

IMPERIAL PARLEY TERMED SUCCESS

Amery Points Out Work by Committees Exceeds That of Past

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The Imperial Conference has not been doing much to attract publicity, said Col. L. Amery, secretary of state for Dominion affairs, in a speech here today. "But from the point of view of mutual understanding among the delegates it has been the most successful of all the Imperial Conferences." Col. Amery said he thought the amount of practical work accomplished by the various committees of the conference was greater than at any previous gathering of the premiers of the Empire. Col. Amery said he believed the delegates to the present conference more fully than at any other conference, had arrived at a frank and clear understanding as to their mutual equality and no question of domination or subordination had entered into their discussion. He expressed the opinion that the future cooperation of the various Dominions was assured by what their delegates were doing today at the Imperial Conference.

7 out of 10 doctors said laxatives are harmful

In a recent coast-to-coast investigation we asked doctors the plain question: "Do you consider cathartics and laxatives harmful?" 64.24% answered unqualifiedly "Yes," 8% more said "Yes, if taken repeatedly." Laxatives make the bowels weak by doing their work for them. If expulsion of waste matter is forced, the bowels lose their power to do their work without help. In other words, laxatives bring on the laxative habit.

SACRIFICE IS LARGED IN AID OR MARITIMES

Montreal Speaker Asks Sympathy of Central Canada

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—
Speaking on the subject of our duty to the Maritime Provinces before the members of the Advertising Club of Montreal at their luncheon today, J.
MacDonnell, of the National Trust Company, urged sympathy and sacrifice by the people of Central Canada in order that the problems of the provinces by the Atlantic be more easily settled, all for the general good of the Dominion.
While the period of pessimism which prevailed in Canada two years ago, in regard to the railway, the western and the Maritime problems, had gently disappeared as regards the two provinces, the speaker, he thought that movements elsewhere had accentuated the difficulties down east.

OUTLINES FACTORS.

The speaker did not pose as an extremist, but gave an interesting outline of the historical and economical factors which had brought about the state of affairs. It was the duty of all Canadian citizens, he advised, to have opinions on the Maritime problems, and it would be well to have an attitude of mind which would serve to solve the difficulties.

Tracing back in history to the year 1871, Mr. MacDonnell reminded his audience of the annexation talk of those years, and of the reciprocity between three provinces, and the economical situation was bright and promising for the future. The people of the Maritimes, while realizing that Confederation was a necessity for Central Canada, felt that they themselves were betrayed into it, this, in spite of the eloquent addresses of men like George Etienne Cartier, Honorable Brown, Sir John A. MacDonnell and Alexander Gault, who prophe-

Feeling Stiff? Try Something Like This

There's nothing like good, strenuous exercise to keep one fit, and Louise Fazenda of Hollywood sets out to prove it. These cavortings, says she, keep the waist line down and the spirits up. Try them before breakfast tomorrow.

their headquarters elsewhere, the tariff had worked against them, and the immigration policy of governments and transportation companies had brought them no new citizens. The Maritimes, like some of the cities in Ontario and in New England, had suffered keenly from centralization.

Although much could be said, it would be inexpedient to be zealous to find fault at the present, said the speaker. Far better to try to help out, in the realization that while such a situation existed it would hamper Canada as a whole.

To illustrate national sacrifice, with ultimate benefit for all, Mr. MacDonnell cited the case of the Transvaal, in the Union of South Africa. The eastern outlet to the sea had always been through Portuguese territory, to Delagoa Bay; but with the creation of the union, the Transvaal agreed to ship 80 per cent of its traffic through Natal to Durban and another 20 per cent, all the way to Cape Town at the extreme south of Cape Colony.

CRAFT WRECKED
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 17.—Two coasting vessels were wrecked in a wind storm that swept Newfoundland last night, but no loss of life resulted, the crews of both vessels managing to reach shore after suffering great hardship. The Marion, of Carmarville, Capt. A. Blundon, was driven ashore at Bacallien and the schooner Prosper, locally owned, piled up on the rocks at Catalina.

MORE GIFTS TO COLLECTION IN MUSEUM HERE

Miss Travis Donates Articles of Serbian Dress—Story of Big Fire

In the number of Serbian curios, which have been received by the Natural History Society as the gift of Dr. Travis, of Hampton, now a missionary in China, are most welcome additions to the museum collections of garments of peoples of other countries and the collections of war relics.

Three pairs of knitted woolen boots or overboots are the most gorgeous of the articles and are very fine examples of color pattern knitting. These knitted footwears are very heavy and are by no means the least elaborate or picturesque articles in the Serbian peasant's costume. Their patterns put to shame the most vivid and brilliant of the gayly patterned sweaters of today.

Other articles in Dr. Travis' gift are a woven belt or sash of bright colors, also part of the native costume, a cow or head covering and an American Red Cross arm band. Dr. Travis served with the American Red Cross in Serbia during the war and the articles were brought by her to Canada as souvenirs.

ANOTHER GIFT.
Another recent acquisition in the museum has a special interest locally and is a loan and not a gift. It is a copy of the Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, published in New York on July 7, 1877, containing a full account of the great fire in Saint John on June 29, 1877, and many illustrations of that memorable conflagration. The heading of the article, concerning the fire, is as follows: "A tornado of fire, 400 blocks of buildings burned at St. John, N. B., 35,000 people homeless." A map shows the portion of the city destroyed but appears to be somewhat in error. The large front picture shows the distribution of food and clothing to the burned out on the city wharves.

Smaller pictures show the Odd Fellows saving their regalia, the firemen working in Union street and shielding themselves from the flames with boards, a view of King street when the fire was at its height, efforts being made to save the shipping at the Market street wharf and citizens fleeing along the railway tracks to escape.

This very interesting paper is loaned to the Natural History Society by C. F. McCuskey and it is the intention of the curator, Dr. William Macintosh, to have it framed with glass on both sides in order that both pictures and the account of the fire can be seen and the paper be carefully preserved.

Dominion Planning To Pass G. T. P. Pact

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, announced today that it is the intention of the Federal Government to bring down legislation at the December session of Parliament to give effect to the arrangement which was reached in London in September last by representatives of the Canadian National Railways and the holders of Grand Trunk Pacific four per cent debenture stock. Over the payment of interest there has been difficulty and dispute since the Grand Trunk Pacific was thrown into receivership in 1919 by the action of the former management.

KINGSTON ENDS FREE PORT.
KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 17.—The Legislative Council today repealed the law making Kingston a free port of call. All vessels calling at this port hereafter must pay two cents per ton. The money thus raised will be applied to improvement of the harbor and for providing extra navigation lights.

KEEPING YOUR SCHOOLGIRL COMPLEXION
By FRANCINE Need Beauty Adviser
Copyrighted 1925 by P. O. Beauty Features

Think Twice
Before "trying" an unproved soap on your face
Use only a true complexion soap; then this way

ONE of the first "don'ts" in skin care, if you wish to safeguard your complexion, is "don't" experiment with untried soaps. Beauty experts urge daily cleansing of the skin and pores with soap and water. That's judged of prime importance. But you must use the right soap. That is, a true complexion soap.

That is why Palmolive is so widely urged. It is a unique soap; a soap made of rare cosmetic oils for ONE purpose only, to safeguard the complexion. Before it came women were told "use no soap on your face." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Remember that point when tempted to "experiment."

Use daily in this way—it is Nature's formula. "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

The daily rule that thousands follow now
Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.
Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening: Use powder and fringe if you wish. But never leave them on overnight. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. This should be washed away. Just do this and your skin will become soft and lovely—wrinkles will be less a problem as the years advance.

Get real Palmolive
Palmolive costs but 10c the cake because of great volume and manufacturing efficiency... so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for the face. Obtain a cake today. See what a difference one week's use will make in your complexion. The Palmolive Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto, 3163c.

COMMANDER TELLS OF WARSHIP TOUR

R. N. C. V. R. Company Makes
Plans For Winter Season's Activities Here

The local company of the R. N. C. V. R. have settled down to winter operations. Monday nights have been set apart for gun practice, 12 pounders, Lewis guns, ammunition, with "sight" lectures, control and director firing lectures.

Wednesday night has been set apart for seamanship. Friday night for indoor shooting. Arrangements have been made by the company for a social and dance to be held during the month of December.

Lieutenant Commander Paul Cross, who is in command of the local company, told of his experiences during the recent cruise of the H. M. S. Captown. He recounted the reception given the ship at the Sequoyia celebration in Philadelphia some time ago and then spoke of the recent disaster.

He stated that the wind reached a velocity of 136 miles per hour outside the harbor and it would be a hard job for any ship to live in it. He told of the breaking from her anchorage of the H. M. S. Calcutta and stated that at the time the ship was moored by Lieutenant Hankey in swimming to the Capetown with a line, in a shark-infested sea, saved the ship from disaster.

Commander Cross also stated that the abundance of sharks in the vicinity was probably one reason why more survivors were not alive today from the ill-fated H. M. S. Valerian. He stated that he thought the disaster was caused by the steering gear going wrong, which caused the ship to capsize.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—We think an overbought condition in steel, a condition which is never evident until a stock starts to go down, was entirely responsible for the break in prices yesterday. BILLY EVANS SAYS

COLONEL JAKE RUPPERT, owner of the New York Yankees, says no ball player is worth $100,000 per season.

This in reply to Babe Ruth's declaration that he would demand such a sum from the Colonel for next year's play.

"The House That Ruth Built" is an oft used expression in New York when referring to the Yankee Stadium.

The Colonel also denies this, says it is the house that mistakes built.

WASTE OF MONEY.

The Colonel says it is ridiculous for these two million dollar plants to remain idle most of the year when one of them would have taken care of the baseball situation.

Yet, in the same breath, the Yankees' owner says additional seats are to be added to the stadium, making it possible to seat close to 80,000.

The Colonel needs the Babe to fill the ball park, Llewellyn says. Babe needs the Colonel, only more so, since his theory in life is that money was made to be spent.

DOUBLE VISION.

In all probability "Swede" Oberlander is the greatest forward passer the game has ever produced.

Last summer while discussing the football series recently written by him and generally regarded as one of the best ever turned out on the subject, he made a rather interesting statement to me relative to the art of forward passing.

"Two things are most essential to success in forward passing," he said. "One is an accurate throwing arm which produces perfect rhythm and timing, the other is what might be called double vision."

"Double vision enables the passer to spot at the same instant any eligible receivers who may be free. They might be on opposite sides of the field."

After picking out the receiver he regards in the best position to handle the pass, his accurate arm completes the execution of the manoeuvre."

He defeated Erwin Rudolph, of Chicago, 125 to 62, in the final match of the Round Robin tournament which started at the Elks Club on Nov. 6.

This is the seventh time that Greenleaf has won the title since 1919, and he holds most of the records established in recent years.

At the close of the match it was announced that Rudolph had challenged Greenleaf and that they would meet again in a title match at Washington on January 13.

FRANK GARNETT IS WITH BOSTON TEAM

Local Skater Engaged as Chief Rubber With Bruins Team

The many friends of Frank Garnett, local speed skater, will be pleased to learn that he is at present hooked up with the Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League, which defeated the Montreal Canadiens 4 to 1 in the opening game in the Arena at the Hub on Tuesday night.

Word was received in the city yesterday that Frank was appointed recently as chief rubber for the Bruins.

His work so far has so pleased the manager and players that the Saint John man will be a fixture with the team for the rest of the season.

It is also reported that Garnett is in training and will appear in the States shortly next fall.

During the number of years he has engaged in skating and other athletic events, Garnett took great interest not only in keeping himself in condition, but became an expert as a rubber for other athletes.

Charles I. Gordon, world's amateur champion, has spoken on many occasions in praise of Frank as being one, if not the best rubber, that ever worked on him.

Continued success is extended to the Saint John man in his new position by his many friends.

Says Football Is The Oldest Outdoor Game

Football is the oldest of outdoor sports, says Lawrence White, of Claremont, Cal., Pomona college student who has conducted an exhaustive search into the origins of the pastime.

Digging into the Bible for football lore White points out that Isaiah wrote "He will toss thee like a ball," indicating some form of the game existed as early as 750 B. C.

Leaving ahead a few centuries the student finds one of the first official acts of Caesar Augustus was to demand a revision of the rules of a football game which the Romans had learned from the Greeks.

Augustus contended the game was too effeminate for men accustomed to slaughter their foes with the short sword.

By 1650 football was regarded as a national institution in England. It was played in America colleges as early as 1800. The first intercollegiate game was played in 1869 between Princeton and Rutgers.

NEW CAMERA DEVICE USED FOR MOVIES

Electrically-Driven Truck Provides Unusual Treatment

A new camera device for obtaining intimate photographic "shots" is being used for the first time in Colleen Moore's new picture, "Orchids and Ermine."

It is an electrically-driven miniature truck, just large enough to hold camera, cameraman and the chauffeur, who stands at the back, like a fireman on one of the old-fashioned engine wagons.

The camera itself, also electrically driven, can be raised to a height of eight feet or lowered to within a few inches of the floor while it is running and while the truck is moving. There are no jerks either in starting or stopping the truck and it obeys easily the slightest impulse of its driver.

For making scenes of persons walking, sitting down, running or climbing or descending stairs or other inclines, it is invaluable. Almost uncanny effects have been obtained.

Several unusual shots have been

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts.

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may thank you. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids which make a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

Grim Reminder of Desert Tragedy

NEW WING OPENED

Word received here conveys the news that the new wing of St. Augustine Seminary, Toronto, which was blessed and opened by His Grace Archbishop McNeil on Oct. 28, is now occupied by the philosophers and first year theologians of the seminary. It was owing to lack of rooming space in the main building for the large number who applied for admittance that the new wing was built. It was erected at the cost of $100,000, a gift of one or two of the generous benefactors of the seminary, and is equipped with all modern conveniences.

Rev. Georges Canina, professor of liturgy and French, has received the appointment as prefect of the new building. At the dedication of the new wing St. Augustine's was honored by the presence of several prelates, a number of monsignors, priests and laymen. His Grace Archbishop McNeil, who performed the ceremony of dedication, was assisted by His Lordship Bishop O'Brien, of Peterboro, Ont., who delivered the sermon in the seminary chapel prior to the blessing of the new wing; and by His Lordship Bishop Forbes, of Joliette, representing the clergy and laity of the sister province, Quebec. A banquet and play given by the students were numbered among the festivities of the gala day.

LANGDON A CARTOONIST
Harry Langdon's genius isn't limited to one or even two fields. Besides his talent for acting, the comic has remarkable facility with his pen. He has once a well known cartoonist, and now he is writing stories, too. Langdon evolved the story of his latest First National feature comedy entitled "Long Pants," said to be the funniest he has yet attempted. Frank Capra is directing the production.

Finding new and attractive titles for motion picture plays is becoming a difficult task, in view of the thousands of copyrighted stage and screen productions made yearly. The legal departments of the big film companies are kept busy searching motion picture records and the copyright files in Washington to avoid duplicating a title.

In addition to being original, motion picture titles must be short, as they are generally used in electric sign displays and electricity costs money.

The Paramount studio property department was called upon to find a horse that would be an exact duplicate of a farm horse used in Thomas Meighan's location work in Calgary, Alberta. A horse the same size and general color was finally located but a painter had to put a white spot on the animal's forehead and on one rear leg before it would answer as a substitute of the original.

Russian boots, blouses, caps and shawls will make their way into the styles of the film colonies, Count Hya Tolstoy, who is in Hollywood, predicts. "The girls will even wear the baggy Russian pants," says the Count. "These are made in bright colors and of silk in the majority of cases. The Russian blouse is already in vogue among the film stars and the picturesque Russian turbans should find much favor."
