Grand Trunk Bill on its Way in Upper House

POINTS MADE BY OPPONENTS

Senator Fowler of New Brunswick
One of Those Against The Measure—Intended to Limit
May Go

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—By a vote of 39 to 45, the senate at half-past one this morning rejected an amendment of Senator Ross of Halifax, providing for the postponement of consideration of the Grand Trunk bill until next session. Second reading was then carried on the same division. It is not expected that the bill will pass the senate before Saturday.

Former German Foreign Secretary
Creates Mild Sensation at Investigation Berlin

Berlin, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, secretary for foreign affairs during the war, caused a mild sensation during yesterday's session of the National Assembly committee investigation of the war, when he admitted that the German authorities had been surprised that the code, which had been made known to the American authorities, was betrayed to the Entente by the United States government.

ARREST CUE EXPERT
IN CASE OF MESSENGER
BOY WHO WAS SLAIN

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 7.—Ralph Greenleaf of Philadelphia, pocket billiard expert and near champion, was arrested last evening on a coroner's warrant in connection with the murder of Benjamin Binkowitz, of New York, messenger for a New York broker, who disappeared with $178,000 in liberty bonds. The youth was killed at Milford, Conn.

"AS YOU WERE"

The St. John Globe, when all the facts regarding the patriotic potato transaction had been laid bare, declared that Hon. James A. Murray should resign his seat in the legislature. The Globe said further:—

"Unless political parties clean house after such exposure as the timber fraud and the potato scandal there can be no improvement in conditions which have made New Brunswick the by-word of Canadian politics."

Hon. James A. Murray did not resign. Yesterday he was re-elected leader of his party with 18 votes, "only a few dissenting voices from the St. John district." One of these dissenting votes was that of Mr. Tilley, who is thus reported by the Standard:—

"Could we who sat in the House sit by idly and swallow the condemnation of our leaders when those leaders had brought the trouble on themselves. If we will the same sort of leaders in the next election, get them, but there will be some of us among those missing under such leadership. The people want a change and the people will rule. The great mass of our citizens are watching the result of our work tonight, and they will decide the future of this party."

As the press was excluded from the evening meeting, at which the real fireworks were displayed, we have only the Standard's censored account of what really took place, but in open meeting in the morning it was Mr. Mercereau of Chatham who said:—

"The Conservative party is as dead as Julius Caesar and it was killed from the inside. The sooner we throw over the old conceptions and adopt new ones, the sooner will the party have a chance."

But the reformers had no chance. Murray, Baxter, B. Frank Smith, and George B. Jones, the four men who figured so prominently in the revelations made in sworn evidence (including their own) before royal commissions, had the meeting well enough in hand to overcome the opposition of those who wanted a new party name, new leadership and a fighting chance before the people. It is the same old party (so far as yesterday's convention can make it so), with the same leaders in the saddle. The Foster government has been given a longer lease of power, for the people will not trust the administration of their affairs to these other men. Mr. Tilley was absolutely right.

We may dismiss without comment the attempt at solemn vindication of himself by Mr. Murray, and the denunciation by Mr. Baxter of critics in his own party as well as of the press favorable to the present government, and refer them to their own evidence taken before royal commissions. That record stands.

One of the odd and unexpected features of last evening's secret and exclusive entertainment was the spectacular act of Mr. Potts, who responded to the crack of the stage manager's whip and proceeded to stall himself. According to the Standard's censored report Dr. Landry introduced a strong resolution deprecating certain speeches having a tendency "to wish to suppress the free use of the French language in this province," and Mr. Mercereau pointedly referred to "men like Potts, a member of the legislature, who had made speeches of an objectionable nature." Dr. Landry's resolution expressed disapprobation of all such speeches.

And Mr. Potts seconded the resolution.

But Mr. Potts did something more. According to the Standard's censored report:—

"Mr. Potts, who said that he had unwillingly voted for the motion of censure, still maintained that under the leadership of those involved in that resolution it would be difficult for the present members to face their constituents and this in spite of the fact that none of those so condemned have ever profited one dollar by their conduct. Mr. Potts regretted that Mr. Murray is not now leader, but urged that the party secure one whom all could follow to victory."

It is difficult to glean from this report what may have been in the mind of Mr. Potts. He had voted unwillingly to censure Mr. Murray, but felt it would be difficult for opposition members to face their constituents if they failed to do so, or failed to repudiate Mr. Murray and the other leaders involved in the resolution of censure; yet he was sorry Mr. Murray had now resigned the leadership. Did he mean that he would like to get the party go on under Mr. Murray and see what it would do?

It is understood that the secret session in the Seamen's Institute was followed by a more secret secret session in the Standard office. The machine, having sent the delegates home, "soothed and sustained by an unflattering trust" in Murray, Baxter, Smith and Jones, was free to plan the next move. The Standard says the convention was the greatest on record. Let it go at that.

Will Mr. Tilley and Mr. Potts quit the party? How can they go on under leaders they know the people do not want? And Dr. Campbell, who was hurt by some remarks made by Mr. Baxter—who also supported the vote of censure in the house—what will be his attitude?

OPPOSITION PLATFORM.

The opposition platform as a vote-catching device will not appeal very strongly to the people of this province. A lot of consideration is to be given to the farmer, but he has shown that he is quite able to take care of himself. The glad hand is also extended to labor, in the hope that the promise of a department of labor may win the support of the labor organizations. The policy of "introducing technical education in all public schools as far as possible" is the policy now being carried out by the Foster government. That relating to a survey of water powers is the policy now being carried out by the Foster government. The longest plank in the platform relates to harmony between the two races in the province, which members of the opposition party have done so much to disturb. A resolution relating to by-roads is inserted in the hope of creating prejudice in some sections of the province. The whole purpose of the platform is too transparent. It is not put forward in the interests of the province, but of a discredited party. Moreover, the finest platform ever framed would not appeal to the people of New Brunswick when they knew that upon it stood the men whose record as administrators is spread upon the records of royal commissions.

PITIFUL CASES.

A case just investigated by the agent of the Children's Aid Society is that of a woman with two young children living in three small rooms for which she pays eight dollars per month. There is almost no furniture, and behind the kitchen stove is a large hole in the floor through which the ground below may be seen, and through which also the cold may enter. The husband of this woman has left the city and has not for a long time contributed anything to her support. She has in the past received assistance from the municipal authorities. She has now been warned to move or have her little furniture seized. Arrangements must therefore be made for her relief.

This is by no means a solitary case. Those who know assert that the housing conditions in St. John are rapidly going from bad to worse. There are many tenements which should be closed, but that would merely mean turning families into the street with no hope of getting better shelter. There are also families who, because of extreme poverty, sickness or desertion are ill-fitted to face the rigors of the winter. Behind the bright lights and gay costumes and laughter of the most frequented streets are conditions such as wring the hearts of the few to whom the facts are known. There is need of more houses, but also of a very much larger and more sympathetic social welfare work.

In its list of pictures of statesmen in attendance at the tory convention the Standard uses that of Mr. Baxter, and under it the following:—"Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, prominent member of convention whose name was enthusiastically received when proposed for leader of the party." Another is the picture of Dr. Campbell, and under it the following:—"Dr. Campbell, M. L. A." Mr. Tilley also appears, as a "live wire," but Mr. Potts is omitted from the galaxy of stars.

Premier Foster, in St. Stephen, yesterday, again declared himself in favor of government ownership of water powers, and added that the report of the commission making the survey would soon be submitted to the government, after which measures would be taken to develop those powers. This is a very necessary progressive step of the highest importance to the province.

The Grand Trunk bill has passed its second reading in the Senate. The fight is now on and an Ottawa despatch intimates the bill is expected to pass its third reading, perhaps this week. One new senator has been appointed, and it is said another appointment will be made. It is interesting to note that Toronto is apparently as strong for the bill as Montreal is against it.

Hon. B. Frank Smith once more proclaimed himself yesterday to be the undying friend of the farmers. In spite of what they did to his candidate the other day he loves them still. There has seldom been a sadder case of unrequited affection.

It is an open secret that a number of influential men threatened to bolt if the opposition party did not get a new leader. They will doubtless keep their word.

FARM AND CITY.

The hours of night bring calm repose upon the quiet farm; the weary husbandman then knows sweet slumber's fullest charm. Refreshed in spirit, brain and brawn, he rises, wearing bells when dippy roosters greet the dawn with idiotic yells. How different it is in town, where weary people weep in vain the laborer lies down to have a slice of sleep. The streets are full of strident noise that jars the eardrums, and giddy girls and buoyant boys sing ragtime serenades. And hatty speedsters whiz along in whirling motor cars, and greet with yells and ribald songs the pale, disgraced stars. Belated plugs, with noisy hoofs, to stables galling, and vagrant cats on metal rooms attempt a bughouse chant. And to the man who needs his sleep becomes a ghastly wreck; and in the morn'g he cannot keep from muttering, "By heck!" A night of sleep would soothe his soul, and heal life's sores and stings, but morning finds him in the hole, and he exclaims, "By jings!"

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Dominion Happenings of Other Days

RIOTS OF 1937.

November 7, 1937, witnessed the culmination of a season of trouble in Montreal in which conditions were serious and rebellious. All summer conditions had been growing more dangerous in Lower Canada, and feeling was running very high. The first blow in the drama was struck in Montreal on Nov. 7, between the members of the Doric Club, supporters of the government, and the Sons of Liberty, as the Patriotic party called itself. There was a clash between the two parties that day and some stone throwing in St. James street, St. Francis Xavier street and also in Notre Dame street in the heart of the city. The news of the affair spread rapidly and in a short time a crowd had collected ready for anything that might happen. Repeated struggles between the two factions occurred and the offices of "The Vindicator," a patriotic journal, were assailed, the type scattered around and the presses smashed. So violent did the fight become that it became necessary to summon the troops under Colonel Maitland to parade the streets and maintain order. Warrants were at once issued for the arrest of the rioters. Papineau, Nelson, O'Connell and Morin, four of the leaders in the agitation then in the province, but these men had hidden themselves securely at the first sign of the fighting. Two other warrants for arrests were given to Captain Montreal to be served. These men were residents of St. John. They were captured by the military powers but as the captain was bringing his mail to Montreal along the Chambly road a mob assailed him and released the men. This open outbreak occurred in spite of a mandate that had been issued only a few days before by Mr. Stannus, Archbishop of Quebec, urging the people to be calm and to obey all properly constituted authorities. It was the beginning of an upheaval in Montreal which ended a few weeks later in the city being placed under martial law.

FALLEN LEAVES.

I cherish Autumn as my oldest friend— I came into this splendid world with him. Some year, when all his pagent is at end, I, too, may see the splendid world grow dim.

I love his red sun lamping misty days. His frost-set moans and glittering great-straw eyes; How, as a child, I loved the drifted ways.

Wish, when I walked ankle-deep amid the leaves!

Then, my light footsteps, like the very Ran scudding through their restless, amber drifts— But now I find A pleasant voice in place its warning.

Some spirit born of place its warning laffs.

If more it warns—or grieves, I cannot know; But, ankle-deep amid the fallen leaves, I stay my feet, or onward swiftly go.

While I read me ancient necromancy weaves.

A voice! It is from far, and yet is near; "Hush, hush—" it rises, ebbs away, is still;

A voice once passing sweet, now grown austere, A voice had made it querulous and shrill!

A voice of many—out of other-time, When happy sighs breathed through Summer boughs, With twittering bird-note and cicada's drone.

None such had forest-ratters nor can rouse!

"Hush, hush—" I hear the gathering sound repeat: It is command, with sharp monition blent; For all that sound I hear my own heart beat— It is to me the message has been sent!

"Hush, hush—and heed!" the hoarse surrus runs. I heed. No more young heart did I heed. O fallen myrindoms! Your word I heed. O fallen myrindoms! The race of man is as the race of leaves! —Edith M. Thomas.

"Frances," said the little girl's mamma, who was entertaining callers in the parlor, "you came downstairs so noisy that you could be heard all over the house. Now go back and come downstairs like a lady."

Frances retired and after a few moments re-entered the parlor. "Did you hear me come downstairs this time, mamma?"

"No, dear; I am glad you came down quietly. Now, don't ever let me have to tell you again not to come down noisily. Now these ladies here you managed to come down like a lady the second time, when the first time you made so much noise."

"For the last time I slid down the banisters," explained Frances—Philadelphia Bulletin.

He Heard the Truth.

Little Eleanor gazed long and thoughtfully at the young man who was calling on her grown-up sister, Kate. "I climb up on your knee, Mr. Greene?"

"Yes, of course, dear," smiled the young man, and she made a bit with the family. "Want to pull my hair, eh?"

"No; I want to see if I can find that sign of the fighting."

"Word? What word?" asked the puzzled visitor.

"I heard our Kate say this morning that if ever a man had the word 'idiot' written all over his face it was you."

THE PARTNERSHIP MUST BE A REAL ONE (Canadian Finance.)

In the discussions which have resulted from the present industrial crisis, one of the most frequently urged by labor representatives that labor is no longer a commodity. It is asserted by these men that the employee must be recognized by the employer as a partner and treated as such—in the distribution of profits. Much as the employer would like to see such a mutually beneficial combination as an industrial partnership, he is, nevertheless, somewhat doubtful of the intention of the worker in this respect—and in recent years have justified his doubts to a considerable degree.

Partnership is the relation which subsists between two or more persons carrying on a business in common with a view to profit. The fundamental test of such a relation is the recognition of a community of interest. Having these basic requirements in mind, the employer is dubious as to the extent of the employee's readiness to assume not only the benefits but also the responsibilities of partnership in industry. It is well understood that one-sided bargains are un sound and reactionary in effect, and there is room for doubt whether labor's present attitude of partnership is not just one-sided as the conditions are not such as should be expected in a proper partnership.

When the employee is ready to accept partnership in its entirety, the employer will be ready to consent to such an arrangement. Such a condition would mean the substitution of co-operation for industrial warfare; the recognition of a community of interest; due regard for the rights of capital as well as of labor; the adjustment of wages to the concern, and the creation of that spirit of comradeship which marks a true partnership.

ACRES OF ROSES.

(Philadelphia Ledger.) During the last of May and the first of June there is an annual insect scare in a district of Bulgaria that is without parallel in the rest of the world. Here, at this time, hours before sunrise, groups of young maidens and boys, all dressed in beautiful, brightly colored native costumes, daily scatter with songs through the open fields, while still wet with the early dew. With the melodious nightingales fitting between the gaily attired peasants, dotting here and there the spreading sweep of rose-blossoms, it makes, indeed, the author of the "Near East" assures us, a captivating sight.

This unique rose-crop, the support of 178 villages, and amounting to some 25,000,000 pounds of rose-flowers, is for the production of the world's supply of that rare perfume, attar of roses. From all these millions, of pounds of blossoms, however, the average yearly distillation of pure attar amounts to only about 120,000 ounces, so concentrated a derivative is this most precious essence. It takes from 160 to 250 pounds of rose flowers to

HOUSING IN ENGLAND.

Sir Charles Rubens, in a paper read before the Society of Architects, estimated that if the housing problem is to be handled in any degree satisfactorily during the next five years a grand total of 1,044,000 houses must be erected, or well over 200,000 per annum. Calculating 25,000 bricks per house, this will mean that 5,000,000,000 bricks will be required per annum. To secure this output all other work must cease for the time being, or two and a half times the number of workmen engaged in pre-war days upon house building must be found to meet the demand. Even so, it is likely that fifteen or twenty years will be required before the actual housing shortage is overtaken. Present figures prove that more than 7,000,000 persons are improperly housed.

TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE AND THE GRAND TRUNK

Toronto board of trade, by a unanimous standing vote at their general meeting last night, endorsed the policy of the dominion government with regard to the proposed absorption of the Grand Trunk Railway as explained by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways and canals, who presented the case in favor of the measure. The meeting was well attended and representatives, including in its numbers Sir Edward Kemp, J. D. Allan, Col. Henry Brock and many others. The speaker was applauded at intervals throughout his address and there did not appear to be one person present not in sympathy with his remarks.
Text of Resolution.
Following is the text of the resolution moved by Hugh Blain, seconded by W. H. Alderson and adopted by the board:
"Whereas, this meeting has heard and considered the statement of the Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways and canals, of the position of the several railway systems of Canada;
"And whereas it is manifest that the present Canadian Government Railway System, owing to its having no feeders, in Ontario and Quebec, must either take over the Grand Trunk Railway system or incur large expenditures for terminals and connections, thus paralleling the present lines and increasing the cost of operation, which in the end must be borne by the public.

"And whereas it has been made quite clear that the taking over of the Grand Trunk will save such expenditure and keep in the hands of the public the protection in the future of our freight and passenger transportation;
"Therefore be it resolved, that in the opinion of this board the government should absolutely refuse to release the Grand Trunk system from its guaranteed bonds, and give assurances to the Grand Trunk Pacific, and that the policy of the government to compel the Grand Trunk to join up with its government railway system be discontinued."
"And that a deputation from this board be sent to Ottawa to urge these views, and give assurances to the government of our loyal and unwavering support of the policy proposed."

FAINT AND DIZZY SPELLS Weakness And Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitations, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, wear, sinking all-zone feeling, choking sensation, etc.—connection with many men and women becomes run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.
No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain vigor and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.
Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes: "I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could scarcely sleep, once sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully and I have improved very much."
Price 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MARINE NOTES

The S. S. Cape Premier sailed from Glasgow on Wednesday for this port to load a cargo of lumber for Stetson, Cutler & Company.

A wireless message was received at the local office of the Furness Withy Line this morning from the captain of the S. S. Walker D. Munson stating that he expected to arrive in port on Sunday. He is bringing a cargo of raw sugar to the Atlantic Sugar Refineries.

The Furness Withy Company have announced approximate sailing dates of two of their lines as follows—St. John to London, S. S. Cornish Point on December 20. St. John to Antwerp, S. S. Messina on December 5, and the S. S. Castellano on December 12.

Captain Lyndon, marine superintendent of the France and Canada Steamship Corporation, was in the city this morning in the interests of the S. S. Lake Stobi, which is loading sugar for a port in France. He left on the noon train for Halifax. The Lake Stobi will complete loading this evening and is expected to sail tomorrow.

The Furness Withy Company expect to have eight more boats sailing from Montreal before the close of the season, five for Manchester, one to London and two for Antwerp.

A new steamship company, owned and operated by Boston interests, has just opened offices in Boston. It is the Inter-Coast Steamship Company, of which Capt. Arthur L. Crowley, former vice-president and general manager of the Coastwise Transportation Company, is president and general manager. The new company has a fleet of six steamers, three of which are in the offshore trade. The company will engage in general cargo carrying.

SECOND READING IN SENATE BY MAJORITY OF FOUR

Senator Power of Halifax said that the estimate of the debt that would be added to Canada by the Grand Trunk purchase ranged from three to five hundred million dollars. There was the alternative proposal which he had made in October that the government relieve the Grand Trunk of the burden of the Grand Trunk Pacific. It could then be operated profitably and could make a traffic and terminal agreement with the Canadian government railway systems, as had been suggested by President Smith of the New York Central and as had been proposed last spring by President Kelley of the Grand Trunk.

Senator Robt. of Halifax predicted that the debt of Canada, as the result of projects already entered upon, would be a hundred and fifty millions a year. He was against adding to the charge by taking the Grand Trunk.

Square Deal Lesser assures each and everyone a square deal on their clothing at his store, either for Cash or Credit. All the newest styles as shown in the larger cities are shown here in his store at a saving price to all!

Thousands find their way to Lesser's and are satisfied. Why? Lesser has the advantage over the regular store by having branch stores. This requiring larger purchases and big purchasing in quantity saves his customers extra money on their purchases. Lesser guarantees his merchandise; makes a customer always a customer by giving full satisfaction in wear and the easy payment system in paying.

Senator Lynch-Staunton announced that in the committee stage of the bill he would offer an amendment limiting the amount that the arbitrators might give to $20,000,000 sterling. He had arrived at this figure by taking the average of the annual payments for the ten years prior to 1913 on the first, second and third preference and the common stock of the Grand Trunk, which was $1,338,021 and capitalizing it.

Senator Fowler of New Brunswick declared himself against the measure on the ground that the price was out of proportion to the value, that the success of government ownership had not been established, that the present financial condition of the country did not warrant it, that the government had no mandate, that it infringed on the principle of Canadian routes for Canadian trade, that it was not desirable to spend Canadian money for the purchase and maintenance of railways in the United States, that it would lead to discrimination against Canadian winter ports in favor of Portland.

Senator Mitchell expressed himself against the bill because he did not see why three arbitrators should be brought in to perform a duty which should be performed by the government and parliament. (Special to Times.)

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functioning of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloating away, neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. The excess acid prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form, never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."
—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

WHY SWEEP IN A CLOUD OF GERM-LADEN DUST?

'Way back in your grandmother's girlhood days, broom-sweeping, with its dust, backaches and drudgery, was one of the hardest and most dreaded duties of housekeeping and, with all the toil, the carpets and rugs became worn and shabby sooner than in these days of easier, better sweeping with the

LOCAL NEWS

WHIST AND DANCE At the home of Miss Marguerite Fitzgerald, King street east, last evening, an enjoyable time was had by the members of the Seldon Inn Club in their weekly whist and dance. Prizes were won by Miss Gertrude Callaghan and J. Harrington.

HERE FOR MEETING. Dr. J. G. Shearer of Toronto, secretary of the Dominion Social Service Council, arrived in the city today. He will confer with members of the local branch at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building.

SERVICE RESUMED. Normal service has been resumed by the Western Union and C. P. R. telegraph companies after the damage done by yesterday's storm. Some of the wires along the north shore of the province were still down this morning.

ON THE RIVER. The up-river freights have been very heavy during the last few days and it is expected they will continue good until the close of navigation. The steamer Premier has discontinued her service to Chipman, on the Grand Lake, and is now running to the Range wharf.

ROBINSON-HILL. Many friends in this city will be interested to learn of the marriage, on October 6, of Miss Charlotte G. Hill, formerly of St. John and now of Montreal, to Guy T. Robinson of the customs staff of that city. On return from Ottawa and other cities they will reside in Montreal.

CONSTABLES HERE. First indications of the approach of the opening of the winterport season here might be taken today in the arrival of six constables from Montreal for the C. P. R., for special duty on the west side. They will go on duty on the arrival of the steamer Batavia from Glasgow. She is due today.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY. An attempt was made to break into the store of Charles Magnusson, Dock street, a week ago. The offenders cut out a pane of glass and endeavored to make entrance that way, but did not do so. The reason presumed is that the iron bars across the windows prevented them.

NOT UNTIL NEXT YEAR. On account of the lateness of the season and the fact that the work might interfere with the usual Christmas department has decided to postpone the work in King street until next year. The work provides for the repairs on the twelve-inch main on the northern side of the street with a sixteen-inch pipe.

POLICE COURT. In the police court today Samuel McBeth was charged with collecting and obtaining money under false pretenses from several persons in this city. The accused was remanded until this afternoon.

ONE BROUGHT HOME. Sergeant Detective John T. Power arrived home on the Boston train today, bringing with him Edward McGuigan, who was brought before the police court charged with assisting in an unlawful escape, and remanded to jail. The case will come up later.

THE STANDING TODAY. The standing in the voting for the most popular school child in connection with the Cathedral high tea today was as follows: 1.—Madeline Dunlavy, St. Joseph's Grade IV, 1,276.

MAY SIT IN LORDS. Lady Rhonda, widow of the late British food controller, she has declared her intention of taking a seat in the House of Lords, and it is believed that she is entitled to do so if she wishes. Lady Rhonda expects to visit Canada soon.

HELD JUSTIFIED IN SHOOTING DOG

Case Against Roy Clayton, Fernhill Official, Dismissed in Magistrate Adams' Court

Judgment was given last evening by Magistrate Adams at Brookville in a case of general public interest. Some time ago Roy Clayton, assistant superintendent of the cemetery, was charged with the murder of a dog which was not under leash in the cemetery grounds. The dog belonged to Beulah DeBow, who brought action against Clayton under the criminal code. The evidence showed that DeBow had gone to the cemetery in his automobile to see one of the men employed there, taking with him his dog, which was in the car, and while the men were in the barn Roy Clayton saw the dog running around and shot it.

For the defence it was contended Clayton had acted under instructions from the superintendent to shoot dogs found in the grounds as they were a nuisance and the regulation and by-laws of the cemetery company, approved by government-in-council, gave authority to abate nuisances and there was a regulation against dogs being allowed in the cemetery.

The magistrate held that there was no malicious intent, that Clayton had authority to do what he did and consequently he must dismiss the action with costs. Mr. DeBow gave notice of appeal. Cyrus Inches appeared for Clayton.

In a case against Isaac Hamm of Little River for selling beer on Sunday, the defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs.

A young man from Albert county was charged with being a defaulter under the military service act. The case was adjourned for further evidence.

Robertson, dominion commissioner, who presided. The conference was called at the request of John A. Stiles, B. A. Sc., assistant dominion commissioner, who has lately taken over the work at Ottawa headquarters. Every phase of the work was discussed.

SHUNTING ENGINE AND MOTOR TRUCK COLLIDE

In a collision between a shunting engine of the C. N. R. and a motor truck owned by T. McAvity & Sons Ltd., about nine o'clock this morning at the Ballast Wharf, the chauffeur of the motor truck, William Lawler, had his right foot quite badly injured and the truck was badly wrecked. Lawler was taken to the General Public Hospital in the morning and was reported this afternoon to be resting easily. The accident occurred at the so-called Canadian Oil Company siding. Driver Smith was the locomotive engineer.

Great Business Boom In Empire Capital

Enormous Floatations Announced Daily—Industries All Over England Busy—Criticism of Government Control

(Special Cable to Times by F. A. McKenzie. Copyright.) London. Nov. 7.—The movement against the continued official bureaucratic control of industries steadily gains ground here. Business men declare excessive government control means increased costs. The blundering incompetence of the London telephone system, which is easily the worst of that of any English-speaking city in the world, demonstrates to Londoners how bad government administration can be.

Tuesday's parliamentary debate over the appointment of Andrew Duncan, a lawyer, as coal controller, brought out this feeling. Mr. Bruce, a provincial labor leader, who raised the matter, ridiculed the absurdity of putting a lawyer without experience in charge of a business which it is difficult for any outsider to understand. Member after member spoke to the same effect.

The government's coal policy continues to meet severe criticism. The Daily News bitterly attacked the recent government rise of six shillings a ton, declaring working since the increase shows colliery owners who made big profits before the war now are able to add an additional margin of ten per cent excess profits despite the handicap of government control.

Many signs indicate the arrival of a big business boom here. The city has never been so active since 1910. Enormous floatations amounting into millions of pounds are being announced daily. Reports from all over the country show that most industries are busily engaged. Skilled workmen are in great demand. Unfortunately large numbers of men left over from the war without trades can find no openings, and thus have the remarkable spectacle of unparalleled prosperity here among certain groups, great business activity in many lines and simultaneously considerable bodies of men unable to obtain work.

Peace Terms Must Stand. Paris, Nov. 7.—In a covering letter of the Allied reply to the Bulgarian delegation's representations regarding the peace terms presented Bulgaria, it is pointed out that the work that has meant a great deal for the support and well-being of Alexander Temple of Honor and its Temple home.

In addition to this most commendable work of assisting in the provision of a neat and comfortable home for many of the North End fraternal organizations, they were able through their individual members to contribute very materially to the needs of our soldier boys during the last four or five years, a large number of whom were brothers, sons or husbands of the respective members.

The list of officers elected at the close of last season is as follows: President, Mrs. Wm. F. Roberts; first vice-president, Mrs. Wm. H. White; second vice-president, Mrs. W. H. OUTLOOK FOR BIG OUT OF LUMBER

Heavy on Both Crown Lands and Privately Owned Tracts, is Report

(Special to Times.) Fredericton, Nov. 7.—Indications point to a very heavy cut of lumber in New Brunswick this winter. It will be heavy on both crown lands and private owned lands. The decision to cut more lumber is said to be the result of indications in the world market that there will be a tremendous demand next year. France and Belgium are expected to have heavy requirements for construction and the United States and British markets are expected to be under supplied.

Formerly the United States had a compulsory grading law for potatoes. A law exists in the United States at present but it is not compulsory. However, to avoid having their stock turned down across the line Canadian shippers grade approximately to the American standard.

FURTHER EVIDENCE IN FUR COAT CASE TODAY

In the police court this morning the case of Mrs. Kenneth Raymond was resumed. Thomas A. Annon, a clerk employed in the store of F. S. Thomas, produced the books of the store, and said he remembered a transaction with Mrs. Raymond, and that regarding this he wrapped up a parcel, which contained a Hudson seal coat, addressed it to "Mrs. Kenneth Raymond, Prince William Apartments, Prince William street," and gave it to the parcel boy, Ralph Munroe, in an automobile in which also Dr. F. C. Thomas. The witness said that Mrs. Thomas allowed the coat to be sent on approval, but that it had never been returned.

Same Old Leader, Murray, Is Chosen By Opposition

Others Decline With Emphasis—Secret Session Closes Convention—The Platform

The provincial opposition at the close of their all-day convention here yesterday, decided to do business under the same old leader, Hon. J. A. Murray.

When the assembly adjourned it was announced that another secret session would be held in the Standard office and from there an official statement would be issued.

Many of the delegates left in disgust long before the convention adjourned at 12:30 a.m. Several who left early announced, to those waiting outside for news of the proceedings, that the convention had decided to adopt the new name recommended by the organization committee—that of "The People's Progressive Party."

Afternoon Session. When the convention resumed in the afternoon, Hon. J. A. Murray, leader of the opposition, in a speech lasting about half an hour, tendered his resignation as leader of the opposition and announced that he would not be a candidate for the position again.

He returned to the part played by New Brunswick in the war and then went into a lengthy criticism of alleged actions of the present provincial government. He contended the government on several counts and accused it of over expenditure.

He deplored the fact that the Grand Falls power was being developed by a private concern instead of the government, but was emphatic in the statement that practically every scheme carried out successfully by the present government, had been launched by his party.

Hon. Mr. Murray blamed the Foster government for some of the delays in the construction and the operation of the Valley railway. He saw nothing but disaster ahead of the province if the present government were not put out of office.

In closing, Hon. Mr. Murray said he had carried on as leader of the opposition party since the last election, but he felt that the party should select another leader. He gave up the office and would not be a candidate for re-election.

The old party and he had caused much trouble for the government. He favored Dr. O. B. Price, of Moncton, was not in favor of the idea. It would be no good politically to pass such a resolution.

Water Powers. A resolution in respect to the taking over by the province of the water powers was next considered.

Frank L. Potts, M.P.P., saw a great future for the province if its water powers were developed. In fact he felt that the future of the country depended upon its water powers.

After much discussion an amendment to the resolution was adopted as follows: "This convention recommends that the eight water powers of the province be developed."

For Free School Books. The next resolution was: "That in the opinion of this convention school books should be supplied free to the government of the province to all pupils."

Want Labor Minister. A resolution regarding the establishment of a department of labor was next introduced and carried, but several delegates intimated that they did not know what they were voting for.

Mr. Logan arose to a point of order, but was told that his motion was not seconded. He announced that F. L. Potts, M. P. P., was the seconder.

Mr. Potts said—"Mr. Potts was not the seconder."

Mr. Logan then called upon Roy Campbell, M. P. P., to second his motion, but Mr. Campbell only shook his head.

The motion for a private session was then put and carried. Mr. Logan then reported to a roll call of the delegates as he thought others than accredited delegates might be in the meeting.

The following is from the Standard's report of the evening meeting: The succeeding resolution, deprecating any attempt to create an objectionable English and French speaking people of this province. Dr. Landry felt that the original wording did not specify clearly enough the attitude of the convention and offered a more carefully worded one.

Mr. Mesereau of Chatham phlegmatically declared that certain speeches had been made which certainly had not created anything but harmony between the two races.

He deprecatingly spoke of the resolution in support of Dr. Landry's resolution in support of a more cordial and friendly feeling. Men like Mr. Potts, a member of the legislature who had made speeches of an objectionable nature toward the English speaking people, but were merely creating a bitterness much harder to overcome than to create.

Every French child wants to learn English but some men are trying to force this on them. Why not leave the matter alone and let those of French descent follow their own inclinations?

Mr. Potts in reply to Mr. Mesereau defended his course in commenting on the French race. His remarks had been caused by the course followed by Peter Veniot who had repeatedly insulted Hon. Mr. Baxter for his friendship toward the French race.

Such conduct as was apparent on the part of Mr. Veniot was enough to make any man feel annoyed.

Personally Mr. Potts has nothing whatever against the French race as such. But if the people of that race desire better things let them throw out those who now so grossly misrepresent them and choose honest, fair minded men who will maintain in public those standards of citizenship of which the French race are so proud.

When the time came to elect a leader there was considerable discussion; some wanted the job done right away, others were in favor of deferring the great event. It was finally decided to get along with the work.

The name of Albert E. Reilly, of Moncton, was first submitted, but he declined to accept the nomination of J. B. M. Baxter, proposed by Col. F. B. Black, was met with applause.

Mr. Potts who said that he had unwillingly voted for the motion of censure, still maintained that under the leadership of those involved in that resolution it would be difficult for the present members to face their constituents, and this in spite of the fact that none of those so condemned have ever profited one dollar by their conduct.

Mr. Potts regretted that Mr. Murray is not now leader, but urged that the party secure one whom all could follow to victory.

Mr. Tilley following said that in his term of service he had done what he considered his duty in office, but when the time arrives when he can no longer do this he will be more than pleased to retire.

He fights in the open and feels that whatever differences may exist in the St. John constituency at least have been due to lack of sympathy between members. As a government we have been censured and condemned by our voters.

The report of the organization committee, consisting of chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, treasurer and a duly elected representative from each county and the cities of Moncton and St. John, was formed.

Second—That the chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer be appointed by this convention.

Third—That the provincial executive committee appoint an organizer and two assistants.

Fourth—That challenges of county and city organizations proceed to call meetings immediately.

Fifth—That a general provincial convention be called every two years.

People's Progressive Party. Sixth—That the name of the opposition party be changed and be recognized as known as the People's Progressive Party.

Mr. Logan then called upon Roy Campbell, M. P. P., to second his motion, but Mr. Campbell only shook his head.

The motion for a private session was then put and carried. Mr. Logan then reported to a roll call of the delegates as he thought others than accredited delegates might be in the meeting.

THE JEFF METHOD OF MENDING THE CLOCK

(Uncle Dudley in Boston Globe.)
 Yesterday there was something wrong with the clock in little Jeff's lodgings. The clock was all wound up, but it would not go. Jeff shoved the pendulum back and forth for a while and then a bright idea struck him. If the pendulum declined to wuz there must be something wrong with the pendulum. Jeff ripped off the offending member and took it to the clock repairer, saying, as he met the inevitable Matt: "The clock's all right. It's the pendulum that won't go."
 All of us saw the joke on Jeff. Some were so pleased with it as to allow the lady of the house a look at the paper before taking it to the office. But there is a bigger joke than the joke on Jeff and one much harder to see. It is the joke on ourselves. Most of the world spends a large part of its energy trying to get perfectly good pendulums repaired, when the real trouble is somewhere in the works.
 A man who had burned the candle unwisely at both ends went to his doctor. His head was aching. He wanted something for it. The doctor looked him over, asked a few questions and wrote on his little blank. The patient hurried to a drug store. The prescription clerk read the paper. Then he read it again. He was angry. "Do you take this for a hotel?"
 The paper read, "Two weeks good food and rest."
 The doctor had ignored the pendulum and addressed his attention to the clock. Jeff's first cousin had expected headache powders.
 That is the everlasting dilemma of the doctor. Patients expect him to treat symptoms, and science has taught him to eradicate the disease.
 The son and heir is irritable and stupid. At home he has a continual grouch. At school he usually does one year's work in two. The rattan touches the boy but not the problem. And then, one happy day, the poor little fellow's eyes are examined. All the stupidity is explained. With glasses his temper becomes sweet and his habits studious.
 Society is learning—very, very slowly—that beating men does not make them good. Until recently prisons were maintained chiefly for suspected pendulums. But now there are jails which have clock experts in charge. It is wonderful the effect they have on the pendulums which seemed so hopeless. It is more wonderful still what better conditions for clocks and people have already accomplished outside of prison walls. The wide open town manufactures criminals wholesale. Shut down the lid and seat a man of honesty and energy upon it and the jail population falls off. All the prisons and fines and scoldings since saloons first opened have done nothing compared with the change which has taken alcohol out of the reach of the clocks.
 Legislation is potent only when rightly directed. Laws which aim to reach pendulums, to curb discontent, and the horrid evils which flow from it, fail. There is a reason for a state of mind. In the slang of the Navy some vessels are called "hell ships" and others "happy ships." On one ship the enlisted men are discontented. Aboard the other, they are true to the Navy motto: "For the good of the ship." But the men in both cases are exactly alike. The difference is higher up. Men respond to treatment—both ways. The men in the rest of the country are fathers and brothers of the boys in the Navy. It does no more good to put pendulums into the brig than to shut them up in prison.
 The head should be used for something besides a hat rack. But the people who run about with pendulums under their arms do not seem to understand it. Fortunes have been spent and careers wasted trying to devise cures for effects instead of causes. Far from being a joke, this pendulum credulity is one of the great tragedies of the world.
 Jeff is a figure to be laughed at, but he is also one which should be taken as seriously as a looking-glass.
 Is there a pendulum under your arm?

A RECORD OF FAMILY BUDGET
 Statistics Show Average Working-man's Family Unable to Procure Adequate Food or Clothing to Insure Health

The average workingman's family in the United States is unable to procure either adequate food or adequate clothing to insure health, and the fact is not due to extravagance along other lines. This is the situation shown by a county-wide investigation of the cost of living in 1918-1919, conducted by the bureau of labor statistics of the U. S. department of labor, which received itemized budgets from approximately 13,000 families.

 Detailed dietary analysis of the food of 983 families selected at random from eleven representative cities indicates that 20 per cent of the families are purchasing food entirely insufficient for nourishment, and 30 per cent are on the border line where their needs are scarcely satisfied. These figures are borne out by a study of the total yearly income of a similar number of families, 22.7 per cent of them receiving a wholly inadequate income or less than $1,200, and 32.7 per cent an income of between $1,200 and $1,500, which would mean that the food supply for an average family would be seriously curtailed. Many dietaries which showed a proper number of calories were deficient in milk, eggs, green vegetables and fruits.

 Examination of clothing expenditures shows an average of from $38.33 to $75.29 per year for the husband and from $55.75 to $62.08 for the wife. A study of housing conditions shows that a considerable proportion of the families are overcrowded and that many live in houses without bath rooms. The average yearly expenditure for amusements is from about $10 to $35, for education and uplift from $9 to $28, and for medical attention from $31 to $93—certainly not extravagant figures when one considers that the average size of these families is 4.9 persons.

A meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Temple of Honor was held in the Temple rooms yesterday afternoon with Mrs. W. F. Roberts, the president, in the chair. Plans were made for the winter work, and a very successful season is anticipated. A rummage sale will be held the latter part of November, with Mrs. Herbert Roberts and Mrs. Lang as conveners. A home cooking sale, to be held at the same time, will be under the convenership of Mrs. Frederick Miller. Mrs. Herbert Roberts will entertain the auxiliary at her home in Victoria street next week when plans for future activities will be made.

The Young Man's Opportunity

"If you want to know if you are a success, ask yourself this question—'Can you save money?' If you can, you are a success. If you can't, drop out."

That's plain talk, but it's true.
 That's something for the young man of Canada to think over. If you are not saving money—you are not getting anywhere.
 You are lifting your feet and putting them down on the same spot day after day, marking time.
 No man ever succeeded that way.
 Take a grip on yourself and cut out those careless, useless expenditures you make day after day.
 Victory Bonds are your opportunity.
 Buy a "big block" of Victory Bonds.

Buy them on easy terms—under the instalment plan.
 Grit your teeth—and pay for them! You can do it.
 And think what this money saved may mean to you later in life. It may mean an interest in some business; it may mean the making of a home. It will mean that you can avail yourself of some investment opportunity that will ensure your financial or business success. The possession of some "ready money" has often been the foundation of a fortune.
 Begin saving to-day.

CLEANLINESS IS HEALTH
By the use of Gillett's Lye, house cleaning is made a pleasure instead of a drudgery. It softens the water and cleans thoroughly whether the dirt is visible or invisible. Destroys all bacteria and infectious germs, removes obstructions from drain pipes, closets, sinks, etc. Refrigerators are made delightfully fresh and clean by using one teaspoonful of Gillett's Lye dissolved in two gallons of water.

TRIBULATIONS OF ALMANAC EDITORS

"Internal Convulsions Caused by Events" Makes Gathering of Data Difficult—What The Upheaval in Europe Has Done
It has been said in the past that whenever the end of the world arrives the last institution to acknowledge it will be the Almanach de Gotha, observes the New York Times. But that assertion will have to be revised. The 1919 edition of this ancient and honorable compendium of information is now at hand, an edition compiled while the greater part of the world with which it was concerned was going to pieces. And it seems probable that when the heavens are rolled up like a scroll and the earth is dissolved into nebulous vapor the Almanach de Gotha will come out the next year with as full information as can be obtained about whatever universe may have succeeded this one, together with polite apologies for any unavoidable deficiencies.

Articles Out of Date.
The editorial preface this year declares emphatically that never in its existence of a century and a half has the Almanach de Gotha been faced with such difficulties as beset the editors in the preparation of this, its 1919 edition. To the interruption of mails, making it impossible to get news from countries with which Germany was at war, was added "internal convulsions caused by events."
"After inserting three new articles—Poland, Finland, Ukraine—we found it necessary to do almost everything over again, events in the theatre of war having changed once more the aspect of almost all of Europe as it once was." Further, the dismemberment of Austria and the transformation of the 22 States of the German Empire into republics came just as a great part of the Almanach was going to press, an inconvenience to the editors which the revolutionists would surely have avoided if they had thought of it. Apologies are offered for "inevitable inexactitudes" and the only thing that consoles the editors is the fact that no other annual in the world could have escaped the same difficulties.
"Hear Us Crow!"
Nevertheless, they have done what they could, and point to their accomplishment not without pride. "We have even been able to add an article on the traffic through the Panama Canal, which will serve hereafter for comparison with the traffic through the Suez Canal, another great ocean route, though in another hemisphere." And so, "with the coming of peace a new era begins. The Almanach realizes this and sees new duties laid upon it. We hope that the future will be propitious for our work."
More power to the Almanach, as colloquial persons would say. And it begins well by correcting an apparent inconsistency of past editions. The distinguished William Hohenzollern has hitherto appeared in the Almanach as Emperor of Germany, a title wholly unknown to the Constitution. Now that his glory is departed, he is set down as "formerly German Emperor, King of Prussia," and so on.
The reason for this belated conformity to a provision of the German Constitution forced into it by particularists of the smaller states is uncertain, but the principal thing about William is the "Emperor." And this same word qualifies all the other ex-sovereigns of the German States; the history of each family is brought to a conclusion by "The monarchical mournful line." Abolition of the dynasty, November, 1918.
The Editors' Difficulties.
The difficulties under which the editors got out the issue during the turmoils of last winter may be judged from the article on the Ukraine, which gives the functionaries of the government under the Hetman, Pavlo Skoropadski, but adds in a footnote: "According to news abstracted and the cabinet has been dismissed." And it is the same old Almanach, with the same old passion for exactitude where exactitude is humanly possible. For the statistical section, in its comments on Belgium, contains this paragraph:

"JUST TELL THEM TO CALL ON ME"

Mrs. Julia A. Barlow Says Tanlac Helped Her Wonderfully.

"Just tell anybody that doesn't believe what I say about Tanlac to call on me or write me and I'll tell them myself how wonderfully this medicine has helped me," was the statement made to the Tanlac representative a few days ago by Mrs. Julia A. Barlow who resides at 811 Rockland road, St. John, New Brunswick.

"The flu left me in such a weakened, run-down condition last winter that ever since then I haven't been able to walk any distance without giving completely out," continued Mrs. Barlow. "I had almost no appetite at all, and everything I ate gave me indigestion and caused so much gas to form on my stomach that it kept me nauseated and weak all the time. I was so nervous that I was never able to sleep well and I would get up every morning feeling so tired out, I could hardly drag myself out of the bed. I had rheumatism in my arms and hands and some days I would have pains all over my body, and at times my hands were swollen so bad that I could hardly use them."

"I decided to try Tanlac when I saw a statement in the paper from a woman troubled like I was and who said that Tanlac had entirely overcome all her troubles. I am certainly thankful to her for telling about her experience with Tanlac for now since I have tried it I can say just what she did and I want to make a statement myself and tell everybody what Tanlac has done for me. My appetite is simply fine and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly and I am not troubled with indigestion or gas in the least. The rheumatism has entirely left me and my nerves are in good condition and I sleep sound every night. I don't have that worn-out feeling any more and I take long walks now and never feel tired one bit. As long as I live I will never miss an opportunity to praise Tanlac for it will certainly do everything they say it will."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—(Advt.)

INVEST NEST-EGG IN VICTORY BONDS

You Will Be Losing Money if You Leave Your Savings in Bank

What about that $100 nest-egg you have in the bank? Do you realize that if you leave it there for the next five years you will be depriving yourself of $12.50 which you might have? Because if you leave it in the bank, at the end of five years it will have yielded you only $15. Whereas if you invest in Victory bonds it will have yielded you $27.50. You might say, "Well, when it is on deposit in a bank I can use it at any time."

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments, which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Healthy, Happy Boys and Girls

Is your child healthy? Is he or she up to standard weight, of good color, with plenty of rich, red blood to nourish the growing tissues?

For children who are thin, pale, anaemic, under weight, nervous, restless, sleepless, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of the greatest benefit imaginable.

Being mild and gentle in action, and yet wonderfully potent as a restorative, it soon makes the blood rich and builds up the feeble nerves.

Overseas Nurses Guests of Local Association

The New Brunswick association of registered nurses, last night, tendered a bridge, supper and dance to seventeen of the nurses who have returned from overseas service. The entertainment was most heartily enjoyed by guests and hostesses. It was held in Bond's restaurant, with the orchestra supplying an excellent programme of music. There were fifteen tables of bridge and the game was keenly entered into, some experts being discovered among the players.

WRESTLING. Discussing Rules. Lack of uniformity in wrestling rules was one of the important matters discussed at a conference of promoters and experts in New York the other day, and from this it is likely that something will develop. Wherever this has been tried, especially among the heavyweights, it has been found to result in faster work and with an absence of stalling that has been of direct benefit to the sport.

WILLIS OPPOSITION LEADER IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Nov. 6.—At a well attended convention at a Conservative party here today, W. G. Willis, of Boissevain, was unanimously chosen provincial leader. The name of Sir Robert Borden was taken from the list of patrons and that of W. J. Bulman substituted. This was done in such a manner that some of the delegates did not appreciate the significance until the meeting was over. Much enthusiasm was shown and victory at the next election was confidently predicted.

"There is no doubt," said Mr. Willis, interviewed on the subject, "that Manitoba's next legislature will comprise a great many more Farmers than it does at present. There are only seven at present, and I confidently expect that this number will be more than doubled." Mr. Willis would not predict what the political color of these Farmers would be in the majority. "They may be Conservative, Liberal or Independent farmers," he declared, "but they will be farmers first of all."

SCHOLARS STRIKE AT MILO HIGH SCHOOL

Controversy Arises Over Subject of Football and Maine Student Body Leaves School

Milo, Me., Nov. 7.—A sensation was created in this town when 150 students of the Milo High school walked out on strike because they declared the principal had forbidden them to play football this season. Bad feeling was degenerated in the first place when the Milo team recently was to play Millinocket High school and in the line-up of the former was a returned soldier, Frank Mellroy, to whose playing on the High School team the principal objected on the ground that he was not a regular student. The boys then decided to play as the Milo town team against Millinocket high, this point being understood by everybody concerned. The principal, however, still objected to the arrangement and when Millinocket High scored the first touchdown he is said to have declared that he hoped the team (Millinocket) would score every five minutes.

This alleged remark started a small-sized riot. Milo won the game after all and that night students and prominent townspeople paraded, stopped outside the principal's house and accorded him an unfriendly serenade. Later an attempt was made to patch up the differences between principal and students,

MAYOR A MUCH WORRIED MAN

Providence Chief Magistrate in a Pickle

IT'S ALL OVER A BEQUEST

Rich Count Leaves Yearly Legacy For Girl to be Selected, Marriageable and "Daughter of The Common People"

Count Paul Bajnotti of Turin, Italy, who died several times a millionaire on March 14 last, probably never had read Mark Twain's story about how an ideal community was disrupted by a legacy left to the most honest man in the town. For if he had, he doubtless would have hesitated about including in his will a provision which reads:

"I bequeath to the city of Providence, in the state of Rhode Island, United States of America, the native country of my dear wife and her conspicuous family, the sum of $10,000, equal to about 50,000 Italian lire, for the creation of a trust, the interest of which shall annually be donated about July 17 to the young lady in that city that, being 20 years old, marriageable and a daughter of the common people, will best deserve it by her conduct and family virtues."

The evident purpose of Count Bajnotti in providing this award was to do something of a unique and kindly character for the people of Providence, where during the course of a diplomatic career in the United States, he met and married Miss Carrie M. Brown, daughter of Nicholas Brown, whose enormously wealthy family founded Brown University and sponsored so many philanthropies.

Already, however, the very persons who are temporarily commissioned with the task of carrying out this and other wishes of the dead count, fear that in the awarding of the legacy each year no person of sufficiently Solomon-like judgment can be found to adjust all rivalries and arrive at a decision satisfactory to all concerned.

State Senator Salvatore A. Cotillo, who is attorney in the United States for the royal Italian government, says that upon the mayor of Providence will devolve the duty of naming the judges who annually are to decide what young lady in their community best exemplifies the picture of maidenly goodness painted in the will. With seemingly no intent to be facetious, Senator Cotillo, who, with Remolo Tritoni, Italian royal consul-general, will supervise the awards, recalled that the Trojan War resulted from an unwise decision as to the beauty of one goddess over two others. Beauty, however, not being an essential qualification in the present instance, Providence's division will not require a "judgment of Paris."

Wants the Mayor to Decide

Senator Cotillo's reason for imposing upon the mayor of Providence the burden of determining each year to whom the count's bequest shall go is founded on a provision of the will, which states: "The proceeding with regard to the prize shall be similar to those by me delineated in my analogous bequests to the city of Turin, which proceeding I desire to be eventually communicated to the city of Providence, wherein the fund shall be called 'Carrie Brown Rosiere Fund' and the winner shall be called 'Rosiere.'"

The particular provision referred to establishes a fund of 30,000 lire (about $6,000 under the normal rate in exchange—the lire is now considerably depreciated in value), "the income of which shall be donated yearly as a prize and dower, about the middle of June, to the young lady of Turin whose birth and residence, 20 years old, marriageable and belonging to a family of working or common people, that deserves it for exemplary conduct and home virtues, in the opinion and by the unappealable decision of a commission appointed by the or who are otherwise acceptable to the commission.

"I suggest that the prize be given with some solemnity, that the winner be crowned with roses and be called 'Rosiere,' and that the prize be designated as a prize to virtue. I thus follow in my country's old and pretty custom of some places in France."

To some extent this provision of Count Bajnotti's will setting forth the manner in which the dower shall be awarded conflicts with another, which, if adopted by Providence, might give the aldermen in that city a hand in the matter.

The other provision reads: "I leave the Comune Volvera a registered bond yielding an income of 700 lire, to be given as a prize and dower to the young lady of Volvera, there residing, marriageable, 20 years old, in poor circumstances, that is adjudicated in Memory of Carrie Mathilda Bajnotti, my beloved wife."

Mayor Gainer of Providence is in a pickle. "The task of selecting annually a daughter of the common people, who by her conduct and family virtues is the most deserving of the interest on the $10,000 bequest by Count Paul Bajnotti of Turin, Italy, will be the most difficult part of my work as mayor," he declared. He was quite distressed over the necessity of choosing the most "marriageable girl" in Providence each year.

The mayor declared himself open to suggestions as to the best method of making the selection, and as Providence is a city of 280,000 people I shall have no mean job on my hands. Many examinations will have to be given, and many family histories will have to be read. I shall not have time to do it alone.

"It is fine for Count Bajnotti to pay such a tribute to the home city of his wife, but I personally wish that I were not mayor. If a commission is allowed to help me, I shall choose young, unmarried fellows, and I shall leave them alone to fight it out among themselves. "Applications have already commenced to come in. A number of telephone calls have been received from applicants and I expect to receive many more."
