NEW YORK NOW HAS 'MOVIE CITY'

World's Largest Film Under One Roof Built in Heart of Manhattan—5,000 Inhabitants Cost Over $2,500,000

New York is to have a 'movie city' in the heart of that city of wonders. It is being built by William Fox, president of the Fox Film Corporation, and will cover four acres, nearly a block from 65th to 66th streets, Tenth Avenue. It will be a city of 5,000 people under one roof.

It is estimated that the studio alone will cost upwards of $1,000,000. The stars and other actors will be accommodated in well appointed rooms and the extras will have big rooms. Every facility will be provided for the comfort of the 5,000 employees.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN. A six weeks' conference of women physicalians from nine countries, beginning September 15, will be held in New York under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association.

German statistics have given birth during times of war, the record showing 1,036 girls for 1,000 of boys in the past four years.

A bill has been introduced into the British House of Lords by Earl H. Champ to provide for women appointed and serving as justices of the peace without being disqualified by marriage.

The British Ministry of Labor established a free training school for girls who have been displaced from their positions in munition factories. The length of the course varies.

NEW YORK NOW HAS "MOVIE CITY"

World's Largest Film-Plant Under One Roof Being Built in Heart of Manhattan—3,000 Inhabitants—Cost Over $2,500,000.

New York is to have a "movie city" in the heart of that city of wonders. It is being built by William Fox, president of the Fox Film Corporation, and will cover four acres, nearly a city block from 65th to 66th streets on Sixth Avenue. It will be a city of 3,000 people under one roof surpassing in size those in Los Angeles. Its cost is to be over $2,500,000 and it will have a capacity for turning out 3,000,000 feet of finished motion pictures every week or enough adventure, love and wells to make a celluloid carpet from New York to Cleveland. It is expected to be ready for occupancy by October first.

The building, for it is three stories, will be divided so that the making of pictures will be in one part, the clerical offices in another and the physical handling of films in a third. The studio occupying the top floor will have accommodations for twenty companies to work at once. There will not be a pillar or post throughout the floor so that directors can put up their sets wherever they please.

Every convenience has been thought of. Revolving and stationary stages, a wealth of dressing rooms to accommodate 3,000 persons, private consultation rooms, a restaurant, twenty dark rooms, prop rooms, sewing rooms, carpenter shop, artists' studios, everything the heart of a director could desire.

It is estimated that the studio lights alone will cost upwards of $150,000. The stars and other actors will be accommodated in well appointed dressing rooms and the extras will have two big sunny rooms. Every facility to increase the comfort of the 3,000 employees has been thought of. As an adjunct to the big laboratory there will be a special department for chemical research work where experts will devote themselves to improvements.

On the first floor there are twelve projection rooms or miniature theatres with every convenience for the comfort of an audience. Each theatre has a piano and provision for other music.

It was found that while projection was carried on in Los Angeles it increased costs to have the administration end in New York and there has been a growing tendency to bring production closer to the business part of the industry.

Interesting films of the building will be seen shortly on the screen of a St. John theatre.

IN A HALL BEDROOM.

"In the long border on the right,
I shall plant larkspur first," she thinks,
"Pinks and chrysanthemums
And the sweet-scented maiden pinks.

"The border on the left shall hold
Nothing but masses of white phlox.
Forget-me-nots shall edge this one,
The one across be edged with box.

"The sundial in the centre stands,
There morning-glories bright shall twine
And in the strip at either end
Shall grow great clumps of columbine.

"There is no garden in the world
So beautiful as mine," she dreams,
Sitting she walks the little space
To where her narrow window gleams.

She gazes through the dingy pane
To where the street is noisy still,
And tends with pitiable care
A tulip on the window-sill.
—Alma Kilmer, "Candles That Burn."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

A six weeks' conference of women physicians from nine countries, beginning September 15, will be held in New York under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, says The New York Tribune.

Health, the psychological aspect of the sex question and legislative measures as they reflect the present status of sex morality will be the programme intensively studied by the conference. The final week will include a more general discussion, and representatives from national associations of women have been invited to attend.

Sir Arthur Pearson recently announced in London that arrangements were about to be obtained at a place about 19 miles from London for the higher education of blind girls.

German statistics have upset the theory that more boys than girls are born during times of war, the birth record showing 1,086 girls for every 1,000 of boys in the past four years.

A bill has been introduced into the British House of Lords by Earl Beauchamp to provide for women being appointed and serving as justices of the peace without being disqualified by marriage.

The British Ministry of Labor has established a free training school for girls who have been dispossessed of lucrative positions in munition factories. The length of the course varies.

McLEAN KILTIES TO HAVE REUNION IN BOSTON

The Kilties Will Gather from All Sections of Canada and United States for the Event

The famous McLean Kilties, who were organized by Lieut.-Colonel Percy A. Guthrie, formerly of Fredrickton, New Brunswick, but now a resident of Boston, are to have a reunion and parade in Boston on Labor Day. Of the 1084 Killed Warriors, who joined the fighting ranks in Canada and the United States, only about 300 have returned, and many of these are wounded and broken because of their service in France. The Pipe Band of forty pipes and eleven drums, the largest in the world, has dwindled to less than a dozen, and these dozen, some of them wounded, will be in the parade in Boston.

The Kilties are coming from all sections of Canada and the United States to participate in the reunion, the primary object of which is to organize an Association for mutual benefit, and which will hold gatherings in some city each year. Most of the McLean Highlanders will wear their own clan kilt, but some will appear in the Black Watch and Seaforth tartans, for many were transferred to those units after their arrival overseas. Among the officers who are coming to Boston are Maj. Hugh McLean, who was second in command of the Battalion; Maj. Frank Bacon, the Adjutant; Major Frank Hyder, Lieut. Budd, D.O.M., and Lieut. J. E. Kerr, now a resident of Boston, and who after the Kilties were distributed among other fighting units, was sent to the Royal Air Force.

The Killed Veterans are to meet at Faneuil Hall at 11:15 o'clock on Monday morning, September 1, and the parade will start from there. Lieut. Kerr and other officers will be at Faneuil Hall to meet the veterans. After marching through the principal streets of the city the Kilties will take the train for Caledonian Grove, where they will be the guests of the Order of Scottish Clans, which is to hold a picnic there. Col. Walter Scott of New York, who presented the Battalion with a set of colors before they went overseas, will review the survivors. The colors of the 25th will be brought to Boston for the occasion from St. John, New Brunswick. In the evening a banquet will be held at one of the Boston hotels, after which a Veterans' Association will be formed.

Among the cities which will send Kilties to Boston to take part in the celebration are Lynn, Lawrence, Lowell, New Bedford, Providence, Fall River and Brockton.

"HINDY" ASSUMES ROLE OF ACCUSER

Goes After Von Bethmann-Hollweg, Crediting Him With Weaknesses and Failures Which Led to Pessimism.

Berlin, Aug. 27.—(By The Associated Press).—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, assumes the role of accuser in a letter to the former Chancellor Dr. George Michaelis, written August 17, and published today in the Twentieth Century.

In the communication the Field Marshal rails lengthily at Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, who preceded Dr. Michaelis as chancellor, enumerating a number of alleged failures and weaknesses on the part of Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, which Von Hindenburg says led to demoralization and pessimism.

RED ROSE TEA is good tea

ABOUT 170 years ago tea there in England for $14.60 a pound. It was a luxury which only the wealthy could afford.

Thanks largely to the great increase in the area of tea plants under cultivation in India during the past fifty years, there is enough tea grown to-day to supply tea to the world at a price even the poorest can afford.

A cup of "good" tea—Red Rose Tea—costs only a fraction of a cent. There is hardly anything sold in the grocery store that gives more value or more pleasure for the money.

Consisting chiefly of ASSAM teas—the richest and strongest of Indian teas—Red Rose is exceedingly fragrant, flavory and economical. It is a tea of real quality and real value.

Sold only in sealed packages.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1919.

THE HOUSING FIZZLE.

Commissioner Bullock is inclined to discredit the statement of The Standard that the Federal Housing Loan is available for the erection in this community of houses containing two flats and to be occupied by two families. On August fourth The Standard published an editorial paragraph expressing regret that the interpretation of the Act had been accepted by the Commissioners and that St. John was not in a position to take advantage of the government's generosity. This paragraph was forwarded to the Housing Committee of the Cabinet and brought to the attention of Mr. Thomas Adams, the Town Planning Advisor, who is in entire charge of the administration of this fund. Mr. Adams replied to The Standard as follows:

"I have received a clipping of an editorial from your issue of August fourth. Although it has reached me somewhat late in the day I would like to take the opportunity of removing a misunderstanding which appears to exist regarding the Federal Housing Scheme and which caused you to express disappointment in your editorial.

"You say that flats are the most popular form of residences in St. John and are reasonably satisfactory, and you add: 'Yet for the erection of houses or one or two flats the Federal Loan may not be applied.' If such an interpretation has been given it must be due to local action, because the Federal Loan distinctly provides for money being loaned on houses known as cottage flats so long as these are restricted to two stories. It is true that they do not encourage or make provision for the erection of three-deckers. In that sense it is possible that the scheme fails to meet a local requirement in St. John. At the same time it is surely meeting a local requirement to some extent by permitting the erection of two-story flat dwellings, and if such dwellings are erected in rows they not only afford more privacy but are nearly as economical as the three-flatted houses which have so many serious disadvantages.

"Following the receipt of this letter, The Standard telegraphed Mr. Adams in order that there might be no mistake in the interpretation of his letter. Our wire read:

"Have your authority for stating Federal Loan available for erection of houses containing two flats suitable for accommodation of two families? What is limit of proportionate cost of land for construction under your scheme?"

"To this Mr. Adams replied, his message as received being published elsewhere in this paper. That reply was as follows:

"Federal Loan available for the erection of houses containing two flats suitable for accommodation of two families. Question of limit of proportionate cost of land is matter for Province, as Federal Government merely made recommendation regarding what limit should be and imposed no condition in respect of this matter."

In the face of this declaration from the one man responsible for the administration of the Federal Loan, the local committee still insists that it has no authority to authorize the construction of any but self-contained or semi-detached houses. Individual members of this committee refuse to accept the only authoritative ruling on the subject and are quite content to abide by their own opinions. The real difficulty is that our local committee has not energy enough to get out of its own way, which is a rather blunt way of saying things, but conveys the meaning. The ordinary human being would have anticipated that realizing how other cities have gone ahead with construction under the terms of this loan our local committee would have displayed some interest in the matter and taken steps to ascertain why these other communities were able to adopt methods which St. John is not inclined to accept. Instead of following this obvious course those who are in charge here are content themselves with the declaration that these other cities are violating the terms of the Act. All of which is merely another reason why St. John does not seem to be going ahead very rapidly.

THE UNION CABINET.

In their desperate efforts to make capital against the Union Government which they have declared ever since it was organized, The Telegraph and Times seize greedily upon the circumstance that at the present time there are in the Federal Cabinet members formerly attached to the Conservative party than there are former Liberals. And they proclaim that the promise of Premier Borden of a fifty-fifty division of the administration has not been carried out, that the Liberal party has been treacherously deceived and that all pretence of fairness has been cast to the winds. It is held up as an argument that the present Union Government in reality a Conservative Administration, and this cry is being used in an effort to secure the return of those broad-minded Liberals who still adhere to unionism.

In 1917, when the ablest men of Canada were able to realize the danger overshadowing this country, Sir Robert Borden, leader of the Conservative Government, adopted a policy which under any other circumstances would have been considered disastrous from the standpoint of party politics, when he offered to the Liberal leader an equal share in the organization of a union administration. Sir Robert Borden and the party which acknowledged him as leader were then prepared, and have since been prepared, to carry out the letter of the terms of that proposed agreement, but unfortunately for Canada, the generous offer then made was not accepted. There were found to be in the ranks of the Liberal party many men sufficiently broad-minded to appreciate the generosity of the suggestion made by Premier Borden, to comprehend the crisis which Canada was facing, and to perceive that a coalition government, such as proposed, was the one thing needed to insure Canada's best effort for winning the war. These men allied themselves with the Conservative Administration and Union Government was organized, not with the cooperation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the majority of his followers, but in spite of their bitter partisanship and unyielding opposition.

In the election of 1911 the Liberal Party returned a total of eighty-six members. Sir Robert Borden's proposal to Sir Wilfrid Laurier for a truly Union Government on a fifty-fifty basis was not intended to apply to a small group of the Liberal Party. Yet it did so apply, for in the union campaign of 1917 the Liberal Opposition which might have participated in the fifty-fifty offer succeeded in electing eighty-two representatives, or only four less than in the straight party fight of six years previous. Thus for a reduced Liberal representation of four members, Sir Robert Borden was prepared, and actually did carry out his promise of an equal division of ministerial authority. The Conservative Party unanimously endorsed union. Accepting the result of the 1917 election, although that is perhaps not altogether a fair way of looking at it, The Telegraph and Times would have the former Conservative Party hand over fifty per cent. of the Liberal vote of Canada. The thing is utterly absurd, and if today there are in the Federal Government eleven former Conservatives and eight former Liberals then, on the basis of such representation, the Liberal Unionists enjoy far more than their support entitles them to.

THE PRICE OF BACON.

Prime breakfast bacon manufactured in Canada is sold wholesale in St. John at from sixty to sixty-one cents per pound. There are certain local products sold cheaper. One ton of smoked bacon from Toronto will cost the retailer in this city $1,265.00. Corresponding bacon manufactured in the New England States where hogs are equal in quality of meat to those used for the Canadian cured article, can be landed in St. John for whole sale distribution for $1,000.00 per ton, or $50 per hundred pounds. On a shipment such as this the purchaser will pay $45.00 exchange on his Canadian remittance, $40.00 in duty on the two thousand pounds of bacon and say $5.00 for freight, a total outlay of ninety dollars, which should be deducted from the $1,000.00 purchase price for competitive purposes. Thus, Canadian bacon delivered in St. John is today bringing $365.00 per ton, or 17-1/2c. per pound more than New England bacon which is equal in quality. This is too much of a difference, for, without doubt, packing houses in the Eastern States which are able to deliver goods at the price quoted, are not depriving themselves of a reasonable profit. Indeed, on the contrary, the contention is that they are seeking too large a profit, but, whatever the case may be, it is fair to suppose that Canadian packers should be content with a net gain on their turnover equal to that enjoyed by their United States friends. That they are not so satisfied is evidenced by the fact that a difference of more than seventeen cents per pound exists between the wholesale price of Canadian bacon and that of a corresponding American line. And, indeed, if the figures in connection with the production and sale of hogs were taken into consideration an even more marked difference might be found to exist.

WHAT THEY SAY

A Growing Impression. Boston Transcript—There is a growing impression that the railroad men are on the wrong track.

"Moral" Obligation.

New York Herald—Was the War Department, through its agent, under a moral obligation to pay over the $16,000 to the bandits? Certainly there was no legal obligation; but was there a moral obligation "superior to a legal obligation"? If so, the other $7,500 should at once be sent to the bandits, and the War Department should also accompany the money with an apology.

Stern Cure for Overstorage. New York World—Whether food has been stored in excess of requirements is a matter of cold arithmetic. There seems to be evidence that it has been. In addition to the regular warehouses, the Government has built a number of other buildings not so used hitherto have been pressed into service. If overstorage has been resorted to for purposes of price fixing, the stern cure that can be applied in mitigation of the cost of living.

An Absurd Contention. New York Tribune—To say that the European nations would tear the whole document up rather than tacitly recognize our insupportable domination abroad. In the first place, they want the treaty discussion ended. In the second place, they want the United States as a member of any kind of league. They will not cavil, and predictions that they will may be deemed born of a desperate desire to scare the President into a decision to which it cannot be brought by honest argument.

More Pay for Army Officers. New York Times—It should be plain that officers who can look forward to retired pay at the end of a definite period would not be trying to get out of the army and navy if civil life did not offer them the "square deal" they ask for. It would be a wrench for many of them to abandon the careers in which they have taken so much pride. It was the fashion but a short time since to call officers of the army and navy heroes for the brilliant services they had rendered in the war. The word will have a new ring if their just claims to better pay are to be disregarded.

Janus Faced. New York Sun—Having induced the European governments to accept his covenant on the ground that America passionately demanded it, the same President Wilson, now facing the obvious way, is planning in August an appeal to his fellow countrymen for every mandate and those very instructions which he maliciously presented to Europe in January last as the reasons for his presence in Paris. He is impugning the American people to the neglect of his own obligations.

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAER.
 Mary Watkins had a birthday yesterday, being 9 going on 10, getting so many presents that she put them on on a table for people to see. Some of them almost fell off, and today I wrote a poem about it as follows:
 Hurray hurray hurray hurray!
 Lots all ask merry and dance around gay!
 A girls' look in history happened yesterday!
 Mary Watkins was 9 years old
 And in all sorts of weather hot and cold
 Weather she studies or weather she plays
 She will stay that age 94 more days.
 A year ago yesterday she was izakly 8
 And to stay that way for 12 months she couldn't escape her fate.
 One year from yesterday she'll be izakly 10
 And if you think she's pritty now just wait to see her then!
 She's had a birthday every year since when she first began
 So she'll probably keep on having as many as she can.
 And if she lives 96 years more
 She'll be izakly 104
 And all who see her then will pline—
 "How different she is from when she was 9."

THE EDITOR'S MAIL

The Editor The Standard, St. John, N. B.
 Dear Sir:—In your news columns today you quote from an interview with some gentleman who has visited P. E. Island, conveying the idea that the Island farmers are very much ahead of their New Brunswick confreres. The gentleman in question is evidently not informed on New Brunswick agriculture, else he would judge the Province from a casual glance at the country along the railway from Shediac and Cape Tormentine to St. John. The matter of course is not of any great importance, but as it seems only fair to your readers, who are not informed in regard to New Brunswick conditions, permit me to state that this part of Carleton County and many farms along the St. John River from the south, having been practically finished in July and today numbers of farmers have all their grain cut and have hundreds of car loads of potatoes on their way to market, so that our Island friends are not quite so far ahead of our confreres as might be concluded from your interview.

Even in the Fredericton district a considerable portion of the grain crop is cut and soon threshing done. On the lower intertines and the Bay of Fundy marishes, having in of course yet in progress, as it is every year this season. In fact, much of the Bradley Marsh is cut late in September and some in October, but this class of hay nor the land on which it grows is in no way comparable with the arable lands and cultivated grasses on P. E. Island. I am also glad to add that crop reports now coming in indicate that New

DIAMONDS

A Diamond Is Its Own Bargain Today

There are really no bargains in diamonds—in the way of price cutting, because no one cuts the price on goods that have "intrinsic value" and that are advancing in value all the time.

In the last ten years Diamonds have advanced over 100 per cent, and are still going up. That is the reason why a Diamond investment is its own bargain—and furthermore Diamonds cannot depreciate in value, at least until new Diamond fields are discovered. "As a gift—or for a personal investment"—you cannot go wrong if you make a purchase of one of our Diamonds.

The Coming By-Elections—Will History Repeat Itself?—The Quebec Cabinet—Time to Stand and Time to Sit—Sir Lomer for Ottawa.

The Coming By-Elections. (Ottawa Journal.)

Announcement that by-elections in vacant parliamentary constituencies are to be held toward the end of October, will be welcomed by the country. For, quite apart from the undeniability of constituencies being long without parliamentary representation—in England by-elections must be held within a short limited period after vacancies take place—a series of by-elections at this time, embracing six provinces and constituencies of mixed character and composition, will afford an excellent opportunity of testing the public mind upon a number of important issues supposed to be agitating the country.

Will History Repeat Itself? The Ottawa correspondent of Le Devoir does not appear to entertain a very high opinion of Hon. Mackenzie King's fitness for the post into which he has been hoisted. The correspondent regards the Gleggery fiasco as significant. Mr. King is advised "to go slow" and to make himself acquainted with the "various parties of the Frog" and their problems justified or "reasonable." The correspondent advises to "be wary" of quoting George Graham, in a rather enigmatic manner. In effect Mr. Mackenzie King, according to the Le Devoir writer, had better look around among the "various parties" and by so doing find a real ally for the sale of his parliamentary foot-prints.

"He's a Fighter." (Toronto Telegram.)

"He's a fighter" is the junior organ's heading on a three-column eulogy of Hon. W. Lyon Mackenzie King, and a careful reading of the rhapsody reveals the fact that he so exhausted himself in a political battle in North Waterloo that apparently he had to rest up during the entire war.

The Quebec Cabinet. (Montreal Gazette.)

The re-organization of the Quebec Government has been made. At the late election Mr. Jerome Desjardis, after ten years of ministerial service during which he won wide personal regard, found himself without a seat in the legislature. He now accepts a position on the Court of Sessions Bench and drops out of active political life. Mr. Jules Allard, who has held ten years of ministerial life to his credit, also takes an office. The new men are Mr. Athanase David, who becomes provincial secretary, and Mr. Antonin Gagnon, who takes the portfolio of public works and auditor. Both Mr. David and Mr. Gagnon have won reputations in the public life of the province, and it may be said of each that his advancement is justified, the expectation being that such will prove himself to be a strength to the cabinet. Mr. L. A. Taschereau, who has been minister of public works since 1907, has taken the attorney-generalship. Sir Lomer Gouin assuming the position of president of the Executive Council. Some may be inclined to think that this latter change means that Sir Lomer will give more time to federal public affairs than he could while holding an important portfolio in addition to the premiership. At the Liberal Convention at Ottawa he was quickly recognized to be one of the foremost men in attendance and of national size. If the situation developing at Ottawa should necessitate a general parliamentary election there is no doubt that he would enter the greater arena and be an influential figure therein. The next changes at Quebec would make easy his transfer.

A Time to Stand and a Time to Sit. (Toronto Telegram.)

The Globe is surprised and shocked that an exhibition audience did not rise to its feet when the band played "O Canada." But does the crowd rise to the music of "Rule Britannia" or "Scots Wha Hae"?

Diver Nearly Lost Breath, He States

Could Hardly Digest Anything—Gains Fifteen Pounds—"Tanlac Was a Godsend to Me," He Says.

"Well, sir, this Tanlac has overcome my troubles completely and I have gained exactly fifteen pounds in weight since I commenced taking it a short time ago," said John Gregoire, a short stout man, who lives at 4 McDonald street, Halifax, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

Mr. Gregoire is well known in and around Halifax, and for the last thirty-eight years has been employed by the Dominion government as expert. In speaking further about his experience with Tanlac, he said: "For the past three or four years I have suffered something awful with stomach trouble and indigestion. During the entire time my appetite was very poor, and what little I did manage to eat just seemed to form into a lump in my stomach and would cause me all sorts of pain and suffering; for hours afterwards I would have the worst sort of cramping spells and very often I would be so nauseated I could hardly retain what I ate. Then there were times when gas would form so bad that I would almost lose my breath from it, and often at night I would have to get out of bed and walk the floor in order to get a good breath. I was badly constipated all the time and had to take a laxative nearly every day. All my strength and energy just seemed to leave me completely, and I finally got so weak and run-down I was hardly able to do any work at all.

"Then I decided to give Tanlac a trial, as I had heard so much about the good it was doing other people, and it is the first and only medicine that has done me any good at all. I have taken six bottles of this wonderful medicine so far, and now I can eat three square meals every day, and I never have any sign of indigestion or sour stomach afterwards. I sleep like a log every night now, and can do as much work in a day as the best of them. My entire system has been greatly built up, and I have gotten back all I lost, both in weight and strength. Those awful cramping spells are a thing of the past, too, I am never bothered with constipation any more. In fact, Tanlac has put me square on my feet again, and I just feel fine all the time. I never lose an opportunity to say a good word for Tanlac, for it has certainly been a godsend to me."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., and F. W. Munro, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.

Sir Lomer for Ottawa? (Ottawa Journal.)

Changes in the Quebec Government whereby Sir Lomer Gouin relinquishes the post of attorney-general, would appear to strengthen the opinion, held by many trained observers, that the Quebec Premier is preparing to enter federal politics. In the course of the last provincial election such a possibility was hinted at by a number of his colleagues, notably Mr. Taschereau; and the shuffle now announced certainly makes it more easy for Sir Lomer to bring about such a change. In the recent Liberal convention Sir Lomer was a predominant figure, and whether one agrees with him or not, it must be conceded that his presence in Ottawa would bring strength and dignity and ability to the consideration of Dominion affairs.

Canada Needs a Protective Tariff Now More Than Ever Before in Her History. (Toronto Telegram.)

Sir Auckland Geddes, British Minister of Reconstruction, has politely intimated to the United States that the depreciation of the pound sterling on the American Exchange will result in American manufacturers being forced to find a market at home.

The rate of exchange, which will increase if Reconstruction is approved, will make prices prohibitive to the impoverished European peoples.

And with the European market closed, what is more assured than that our American cousins will make Canada a dumping ground for her surplus stocks. The downward trend of the tariff encouraged by both parties in the House of Commons in their bids for western support, will help the floods of Yankee goods across the border.

What is going to be the effect on Canadian factories? And how are cheap American goods going to help the working man if he has no job and consequently no money to buy them with?

WOMEN CURED AT HOME

Women's disorders always yield from the very beginning of the treatment to the mild but effective action of Orange Lily. Within two or three days after commencing its use the improvement becomes noticeable, and this improvement continues until the patient is completely cured. Orange Lily is an applied or local treatment, and acts directly on the woman's organs, removing the congestion, toning and strengthening the nerves, and restoring perfect circulation in the diseased parts. In order to convince all suffering women of the value of this remedy, I will send a 40 cent box, enough for 10 days' treatment, absolutely free to each lady who will send me her address. Enclose three stamps and address Mrs. Lydia W. Laid, Windsor, Ont.

STANDARD'S SPORTING SECTION

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

Andrew Bonbeka, the famous Indian runner, died on Wednesday at his home in Oxford, Maine. He had competed in many of the long distance events of recent years and was regarded as one of the best. He was twenty-eight years of age and the cause of his death was tuberculosis meningitis.

Everyone is looking for fine weather on the holiday, so that they can have a pleasant time in the country. Out at Fair Vale a fine programme of aquatic and athletic sports has been arranged. There will be several four-cared crews who have been training hard for the great event. There will also be a single scull race between the boys who competed in the Joy Day regatta in Courtenay Bay. The last race ended in a tie between Holysa and Braxley. The question of superiority of crewmanship will be decided on the noble waters of the Kennebecasis, where so many famous races have been held. Among other features at Fair Vale will be a canoe race in which an Indian crew will compete. The Indians will also compete in the bow and arrow contest.

A fine collection of prizes for the sports at Fair Vale on Labor Day is on exhibition in the window of Manchester, Robertson, Allison. The events will be as varied as the games and there is no doubt that the committee and officials will be kept busy.

The old Mill Pond at West St. John will be the scene of a single scull race this afternoon, when the youngsters, Holysa, McAvoy and Braxley will compete. It is expected that the race will start at 4:30 o'clock. There should be ample opportunity for spectators about the pond and all who are present will certainly see some pretty rowing.

But Wiser, one of the smoothest quarter backs that ever donned the moleskins in Canadian football, will be seen with Ottawa this fall. Wiser was a sensation with the 30th football team. He was recently demobilized from the air service and is spending to get back into the game. Wiser was a star with the Yale freshmen team, and when he played with the Ottawa soldiers was rated one of the best in the game. His specialty was running through a broken field and he was an adept at picking a hole in the line. The Prescott boy has expressed a preference to play in Ottawa.

Horses are beginning to arrive at the local speedway for the races here Labor Day and it promises to be one of the best days racing yet held. Naturally, nearly all interest is being centered on the Free-for-all with all the fast ones lining up. Peter Parren, Fern Hall, John A. Hal and White Sox all have their respective backers but there may be a surprise in store for the track followers as it is rumored that a new horse to the Maritime circuit will start Secretary Belliveau is now in Boston and it is said that he will return with a fast one. —Moncton Times.

Gerald L. Patterson of Melbourne, Australia, learned much of his tennis from his fellow townsman, Norman E. Brookes, former world's champion. Although Patterson is only 23 years old, his playing was the sensation of the English and Continental tournaments where it won him the nickname "Hurricane". He possesses a fast service of the type that distinguished McLaughlin and remarkable ability at the net. The English critics found some fault with his groundstrokes, but judging from his victories abroad these did not constitute a serious weakness.

Ask Horsemen To Organize

Fredericton Writer Suggests Action on Part of Horse Owners to Protect Sport.

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, August 29.—A movement is being initiated here to have the horsemen of the Maritime Provinces organize to save the harness racing sport in the approaching crisis. The Gleason today carries the following on its sporting page:

Horse racing as a legalized sport is about to go on trial. Upon an investigation which is soon to be started the future of horse racing in Canada depends.

While the investigation is aimed largely at the runners the harness horses' future in the Dominion will rest just as much on the report of Dr. Rutherford, the well known Ojawa official, and parliament's action in regard to it.

The Miller bill legalized racing with stipulations under certain restrictions and there seems to be a very general impression in political circles at Ottawa that there will be further tightening of the restrictions when the present flurry of excitement is all over.

The purpose of this article is to make the suggestion to the horsemen—track managers, campaigning horsemen and breeders—that they should all get together during the Fredericton Exhibition races next month and take some steps for the protection of racing in the Maritime Provinces. Self preservation is as necessary in racing as it is in anywhere else in these unparalleled days and it is up to the horsemen to take united action.

Let there be a general meeting called for furthering the cause at which a permanent organization could be formed and officers elected who would place the case of harness racing and the breeding of standard bred horses in the Maritime Provinces squarely before Commissioner Rutherford. His possession of a fast service of the type that distinguished McLaughlin and remarkable ability at the net. The English critics found some fault with his groundstrokes, but judging from his victories abroad these did not constitute a serious weakness.

The free-for-all trot purse $400 has six entrants, 2.14 class has eight entrants, 2.16 class ten entrants, 2.17 class eleven entrants, 2.20 mixed ten entrants, 2.30 trot eight entrants, 2.34 trot ten entrants. The 2.36 class, which does not close until the night before the race already has seven entrants and the stakes race will have six good starters. These races are from the Maritime Provinces, Maine and Massachusetts and lovers of good racing everywhere can consistently pin their faith to seeing the very best at St. Stephen fair.

THE NEW OVERLAND 4.

Toronto, August 28.—The new Overland 4—the car which there has been so much speculation among motorists—is being made in Canada today. It is going to be completely built in Canada, too, an announcement that has excited many of the motorists at the head office here of Willys-Overland, Limited.

The fact that motor cars will be manufactured in their entirety at the completely equipped factory is industrial news of importance, as the Willys-Overland company is the first to work on the principle of quantity production.

Willys-Overland, Limited, is heavily financed by Canadian capital, and is managed by more widely experienced in Canadian enterprise. Behind this organization, and closely allied with it, are the resources and time-proven manufacturing methods of the great Willys-Overland institution in the United States. The energies of the Canadian Company are to be devoted exclusively to the production of motor cars for Canadian consumption.

The new Willys-Overland plant at Toronto contains 280,000 square feet of floor space, with a workshop area of more than 100,000 square feet in the rear. Detailed plans for quantity production of the Overland 4 are already complete. More than a million dollars is being invested by the Willys-Overland Company in new mechanical equipment and tools, etc., all necessary to the successful production of the new car. Even more than this is being invested in materials, practically all of which is of Canadian origin.

Several hundred skilled workmen and a number of expert executives are being added to the personnel of the organization to assure high standards of manufacture and more efficient production.

Mr. T. A. Russell, President of Willys-Overland, Limited, in announcing that the Overland cars would be completely built in Canada, by Canadian workmen, for Canadians, told of the many months of preparation for the successful production of the new car. He said that the Overland 4 is being offered to the Canadian public only after tests which cover a period of more than two years. In this period the test cars have travelled a distance of approximately 250,000 miles over the roughest trails that could be found by the Willys-Overland engineers. These cars were put through every conceivable condition during their tours from one end of the continent to the other.

Those who have seen and ridden in the new Overland Four declare it established a new standard in riding comfort. This may be attributed to its Three-Point Cantilever Spring Suspension, an exclusive feature which does away with the usual improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

The Three-Point Cantilever Springs have made it possible to combine the Overland Four the riding ease of a car of long wheel-base and the drive-

Aroostook Track Record Smashed

Five Thousand People Saw Great Races at Houlton—New Brunswick Horses Did Well.

Special to The Standard.

Houlton, Me., Aug. 29.—Five thousand people saw the Aroostook track record smashed in the first heat of the 2.17 trot and pace, today, when Zom Q. went under the wire several lengths to the good, and in the second heat he won a second better, with the Sussex horse a close second. Thomas Earl got away in third position and could not seem to better it.

At any time Starter Bob McKee had promised during the week that the 2.13 race would be a real "hoss" race and he said something. "Everybody was feeling rather set up to be able to run a horse like Zom Q. who today seemed to have barrels of speed, with some in reserve. Driver Novera had another winner in Peter Setzer in the 2.30 pace, who went the race in straight heats, never being headed. In the named race the Woodstock entry had it easy, going the race away ahead of the field.

ENGLAND'S GREAT "HALF-BRED" RACER

Members of the English Jockey Club voted in 1913 that "in the interest of the 'English Stud Book' no horse or mare can after this date be considered as eligible for admission unless it can be traced without flaw on both sire and dam's sides of its pedigree to horses and mares themselves already accepted in the earlier volumes of the book." These pre-famous professors of horse breeding must have been terribly shocked the other day when Irish Elegance, with 137 pounds on his back, won the Royal Hunt Cup, beating twenty-six thoroughbreds of spotted pedigrees, to every one of whom he was givingumps of weight. And at the Royal Ascot, too!

NOTHING HE...
Said to be...
Somewhere North

Seattle, Aug. 24.—Bound North Pole, Harold Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, at present drifting in his schooner, the Maud, somewhere west of Greenland or Melville, which lie in the Arctic Ocean of Canada. Should he reach the pole, he probably would sail to Nome, Alaska or to Dawson, Yukon Territory.

Two airplanes, it is believed, part of the Maud's equipment, flew north from the schooner. After taking the oil she east into the rapidly freezing of the Arctic Ocean.

From White Sea Amundsen is believed to have drifted east with the New Siberian Islands, which

NOTHING HEARD FROM AMUNDSEN SINCE SEPTEMBER 1ST, 1918

Started Out in Quest of the North Pole, and at Present is Supposed to be Drifting in His Ice-Locked Schooner Somewhere North of Western Siberia.

Seattle, Aug. 24.—Bound for the North Pole, Roald Amundsen, Norwegian discoverer of the South Pole, is at present drifting in his ice-locked schooner, the Maud, somewhere north of Western Siberia, according to beliefs held by the Seattle Norwegian Vice-consulate and Vilhjalmar Stefansson, Canadian Arctic explorer.

In planning the trip, the explorer said he expected, after reaching the pole, to return either to Greenland, west of Greenland or Melville Island, which lies in the Arctic Ocean north of Canada. Should he reach Melville Island he probably would journey by sea to Nome, Alaska or overland to Dawson, Yukon Territory.

Two airplanes, it is believed, formed part of the Maud's equipment when she left Norway last fall and sailed through the White Sea bound for the icy north. The final dash to the pole may be made in one of the planes, Amundsen, it is believed, may also try back to civilization in one of the machines.

Nothing has been heard from Amundsen since Sept. 1, 1918, nearly one year ago. At that time the Maud was reported taking off for her motors at Dixon Island, a White Sea point. After taking the oil she sailed north-east into the rapidly freezing waters of the Arctic Ocean.

From White Sea Amundsen expected to drift east with the ice to the New Siberian Islands, which lie in the Arctic of Siberia. At the New Siberian Islands, it was believed, the drift would carry the boat toward, if not across the pole. Amundsen intended to use the airplanes if he found the drift would not carry him across the "top of the earth."

Amundsen in a degree, followed the footsteps of his countryman, Ezzik of Nansen, in 1895-96. Nansen in the Fram started on a drift across the pole but left his boat and tried unsuccessfully to reach the goal on foot. Later the Fram drifted as close to the pole as Nansen got.

The Maud carries wireless sending apparatus but no receiving instruments. Amundsen said he would not install the receiving apparatus because he did not want to be worried by news from the outside world.

The Norwegian government this summer arranged to establish several food depots on Grant Land, from Cape Columbus to Robinson Channel, for the use of Amundsen in case he comes out by his eastern route.

If he comes toward the west and strikes Melville Island he will find himself on familiar ground for he passed near Melville Island when he discovered the Northwest Passage in 1902-03.

Amundsen expects to obtain scientific data at the pole. He will take soundings, observe the ocean drifts, study the ice conditions and bring back reports.

Wireless Telephone Success

The Successful Application of the Alternating Current, Just Announced, Aurgas Splendid Future for Wireless Communication.

New York, August 27.—The successful application of the alternating current to wireless telephony, which will make it possible for any person to "plug in" a pony wireless panel into an ordinary lamp socket, and talk through space from house to house, or city to city, was announced today by Dr. Lee De Forest.

The "hum," which has made the alternating current objectionable for this purpose in the past and had caused the use of direct current, necessitating high powered generating stations, has been eliminated by his new device, the inventor asserted.

Successful experiments in the use of the new apparatus have been made between High Bridge, in Westchester County, and Downtown, New York, according to the inventor. The few requirements in the way of operations are no more difficult than calling central, Mr. De Forest said. In fact, with the new pony wireless, there is no need of disturbing central. One may call the other party with wireless in person.

Amundsen expects to obtain scientific data at the pole. He will take soundings, observe the ocean drifts, study the ice conditions and bring back reports.

NEWCASTLE GIRL DIES FROM RESULTS OF VACCINATION

Had Only Recently Moved to the Town for the Purpose of Attending School and Submitted to the Law Prescribed Preventive for Smallpox.

Newcastle, August 23.—The death of Helen Harris, the 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris, occurred on Thursday afternoon under very sad circumstances. The deceased young lady had only recently removed to town from Redbank and preparatory to attending the town school, was vaccinated by a local doctor. A few days later she began to suffer with a pain in her arm which was somewhat swollen, but little was thought of the matter at first until her condition became alarming and a physician was called and although everything possible was done she passed away on Thursday. Much sympathy is felt for the parents of the deceased as she was the eldest member of the family.

Why This Mighty

Thousands Know, But Do Not Appreciate The Extent of Its Leadership Respect for Essex

It is like reminding the average reader of something he already knows to speak of Essex leadership.

Its position as a popular car-filling a heretofore unoccupied field, is accepted as a matter of fact. By word and attitude all motordom acknowledges its position.

But let us consider the reasons for Essex prestige. You will probably say it is because of its performance. You compare its general appearance and performance with the admirable qualities of other cars. You place no price limit on those cars to which you compare the Essex.

It is because the Essex so nearly matches the standards you hold as your ideal that it is a leader.

Essex Matches All Requirements. There is ample evidence in every locality to account for what people are saying for the Essex. It has spoken for itself, just as we announced it would have to do at the time it was put on the market.

It isn't necessary for us to say how fast an Essex can be driven. We don't need to speak of its performance on hills or its comfort and riding qualities. The car has proved itself.

SPEND LABOR DAY AT THE UNIQUE. Just a word about our big holiday programme at the Unique Labor Day.

We are presenting A. H. Woods' Broadway success, "THE GUILTY MAN," based on Charles Klein's translation from the French L'Homme Complice, and it is safe to say that you will like this picture. Its extraordinary chain of circumstances forms a plot that for sheer dramatic intensity has few equals. You will agree with us when we say it is one of the most destructive elements in human nature.

We are inclined to look upon bad temper as a very harmless weakness, but the Bible again and again condemns it as one of the most destructive elements in human nature.

STOCKS PRESENTED AN ENCOURAGING FRONT FRIDAY

London Exchange Rate Made a Further Forfeiture—Federal Court Decisions Aided Oil Interests—Rails Take a Jump.

New York, Aug. 29.—With the exception of foreign exchange in which the London rate made further forfeiture of its recent recovery, events affecting the stock today offered decided encouragement to the long account.

The firm attitude of the railroad administration in dealing with the Pacific coast strike situation, and the Federal Court decision favoring the Southern Pacific Company in the long pending oil land case imparted a buoyant tone to the list at the opening, which ruled to the very active close.

The Southern Pacific decision was most influential, not only because it effected an extreme advance of nine points in that stock, but because of its effect upon the entire oil division, where gross gains ranged from three to twelve points.

Steeles were again in a class by themselves on the further activity of Curbite, which sold considerably over yesterday's high record and scored a net gain slightly in excess of ten points.

Allied shares made more moderate headway, although Bethlehem and United States Steel were especially prominent in the final hours with Baldwin Locomotive, Metals, Tobacco, and food issues, American Can also profiting by the general demand.

Sales amounted to 900,000 shares. Conditions in the bond market, where trading was also relatively light, were very mixed, rails as a whole showing irregularity, aside from the stronger tone of transcontinentals. Foreign bonds were firm, but Liberty issues continued to lag around and the second four's making a low record at 92 1/2.

Total sales, par value, were $9,850,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

SHORTS GET UNDER COVER AND PRICES ADVANCE SLIGHTLY

(Published by McDougall & Cowans.)

New York, Aug. 29.—Despite the day's advance in prices, the volume of trading was not extraordinarily large and it appeared that the advance was largely the result of hasty covering by the shorts who had been more or less taken by surprise by the overnight improvement in the looks of the labor situation. Early reports of the Southern Pacific decision were fully confirmed by the text thereof published in the Street in the afternoon. The stock nevertheless hung around or below 103, the level established soon after the opening. Gossip in the Street had it that Samuel Gompers' Labor Day address to the workmen of the country would contain a strong endorsement of President Wilson's position on wages and an appeal for a concerted effort to bring down the cost of living before attempting to force further wage concessions.

AROUND THE CITY CLEARING.

THE STANDARD will not be published Monday, September 1st, (Labor Day).

ABLE TO BE OUT. Commissioner Fisher, who has been confined to the house with a cold, was out yesterday at city hall.

VETERANS' NOTICE. The regular Monday meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association has been postponed until further notice.

PROPERTY PURCHASED. W. F. B. Paterson of the Paterson Printing Company, has purchased the Fairweather-McCarthy property at Hampton.

THE POLICE COURT. Two drunks were before the police magistrate yesterday and both pleaded guilty. One said he had no money but that he usually carried about $1,500. He was remanded.

FAIRVILLE PLAYGROUNDS. The Fairville Playgrounds closed for the season yesterday afternoon. The grounds have been under the supervision of Miss Turner, assisted by Miss Hemmings, and have proved most successful, the supervisor reporting an average of one hundred children a day.

HIS ANNUAL INSPECTION. B. M. Armstrong, of Ottawa, controller of the railway mail service, arrived in the city yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Armstrong, and is spending a few days at the Royal. Mr. Armstrong is making his usual annual inspection of the Maritime Provinces.

DOG DAY SEEN. "Dog day" is the police court, the day when those who have failed to take out licenses for their dogs must appear before the magistrate to say why they have not done so. It was set for Sept. 5. Between 240 and 250 summonses have been issued but it is expected that many of these cases will be settled before the date of hearing arrives.

Visiting Editor. William R. Rankine, editor of the Pittsburg, Mass., Sentinel, is visiting the city en route to his home. He is here for several days and is expected to leave for his home in the afternoon. He is accompanied by his wife and family.

RUN DOUBLE HEADER. On account of the exceptionally heavy travel to Labor Day celebration at Moncton, N.S. train, due to leave St. John at 7.10 a. m., will be run as two trains. The first train will leave St. John at 6.45 a. m., and the second will leave St. John at 7.10 a. m., as usual. The return train will leave Moncton at 11 p. m. for St. John.

APPOINTED BOATSWAIN. Captain Kennelly, of the sailing ship Bosphorus, which is loading at Halifax for Queenstown, has made George Miller of this city boatswain on the ship. Mr. Miller was an apprentice on one of the pilot boats in St. John and is now making his voyages across the Atlantic before he is able to take the examinations for a pilot.

CONSIDERABLE EXCITEMENT. Considerable excitement was caused in the Union Depot last night prior to the departure of the Boston train, when an American lady became hysterical over the apparent absence of her four-year-old son. The lady was greatly perturbed over the matter and required the attention of several members of the train staff to calm her, but the son was only a few yards away, in the company of relatives, calmly watching the excitement "rather down the train shed."

AWFUL ONSIGHT. A picture in the newspapers shows the Prince of Wales addressing some of the 5th Battalion in peaceful St. John. Our Mr. Stewart, standing beside the late Col. A. E. McKenzie, addressed the full battalion just before the battle line in France, where shells from long-range German guns or bombs from aeroplanes might fall at any time, but no picture of the scene has been published. Editors keep princes in the limelight and themselves in the shade—Chatham World.

NEW CUBAN CONSUL. Senator Jose Mariano de Ferrer, the newly appointed consul for Cuba at this port, is expected to arrive and take up his duties within the next few weeks. Senator de Ferrer comes to this city on the completion of three years' service at Calcutta, India, where he did valuable work in cementing the friendship of that Empire with his republic. Senator de Caevas, the present consul, will shortly leave for his home and then proceed to Antwerp, Belgium, to which post he has been appointed by President Menorah.

FALL SUITINGS. A very extensive line of Fall Suitings can be seen at Dykemans. The most popular goods for this Fall will be the Velours and Broadcloths, which are selling from $25.00 to $35.00 per yard. Besides all the standard colors they are showing the new shades, such as Blue Devil, Morocco, Kangaroo, Redwood, Dove and Peacock Blue and Emerald Green. These new goods are going at a rapid rate, and it is advisable to look over their stock at the first opportunity while there is still ample to pick from.

On Monday, September 1st, Steamer Champlain will leave James at 1 p. m. due in St. John at 7 daylight time.

WANTED — Person with some knowledge of bookkeeping. Opt. of town office. Apply, Box 83, care Standard.

Housing Problem Most Important

L. P. D. Tilley Gives Some Interesting Views Regarding the Present Conditions — Suggests City Should Erect Groups of Houses.

"What do you think of the housing problem in St. John?" a representative of The Standard asked L. P. D. Tilley, M. P., yesterday. "It's the most important problem we have to deal with at the present time," said Mr. Tilley. "People are lining up looking for houses. The situation is not creditable to an up-to-date community. I am glad to see that the city Housing Commission is working on the problem and that they will presently make a start. It is a big problem, but the people of this city ought to make up their minds to solve it. Otherwise we might as well say that St. John is finished, and tell the young people who grow up and get married that there is plenty of room for them somewhere else."

"What is the solution of the problem in your view?" asked the reporter. "Some form of municipal enterprise seems to be necessary at the present time," said Mr. Tilley. "I believe Mr. Bullock and his commission are trying hard to get some house construction underway, but I don't think it will obtain any important results under the Dominion Housing scheme. Under present circumstances, with prices of materials and fittings so high, I made some inquiries for plumbing material the other day and found prices had taken a big jump in about a week—with prices as they are, very few will want to borrow 60 per cent. of the cost of a house under the Dominion scheme, and build, because the charges would be more than the average wage-earner expects to pay or can afford to pay in rent. The older men will prefer to hold on to the houses they now occupy to building on their own account at the present time, even though they would doubtless like to have better accommodation. As for the younger men they are not particularly content with conditions in the city at the moment, and while they are in an unsettled state of mind few of them will think of investing in a home. That is the situation, and if we want to make our young people content to stop at home we have got to tackle the housing problem as a community."

"My idea is that the city should erect groups of houses of varying sizes, equipped with modern conveniences, and a central heating system. Then the city should sell or rent its houses at as easy terms as possible. It should not seek a profit and at the same time it should not use a building, but I don't profess to be a practical builder, but I have had some experience handling house property, and I am satisfied that it is entirely possible to build individual houses, offering decent accommodation at reasonable rents to the wage-earner at the present time. The city, however, by building groups of houses, and a considerable number, might effect certain economies permitting a reasonable rent."

"Considering the fact that the people of this province own extensive timberlands we ought to be able to provide homes for the people," added Mr. Tilley. "The city government should cut timber and supply it at cost for building purposes. Men organized for this work could be utilized, when not cutting timber, to reconstruct work, work we have got to undertake sooner or later, and the sooner the better. Let the big lumber operators cut for export and general commercial purposes, but why should we not take advantage of our timber resources to help our people obtain homes at cost?"

"What is the reason private companies in St. John have not put up large apartment houses such as are found in large numbers in Montreal and other cities?" the reporter asked. "Some years before the war, when prices of material were very reasonable, I went to Montreal and got plans and estimates from an architect there," said Mr. Tilley. "On taking up the matter with local architects, I was told it would cost very much more to build in St. John than it was doing in Montreal. At that time St. John we could not have commanded the rents to justify the expenditure which the local architect estimated would be necessary to put up a large apartment house here. We converted the Prince William into an apartment house, but for various reasons it was not a success, financially."

"In Montreal, where there is a great deal of building going on, everything is done by specialists, and the contractors can quote lower figures than were obtainable in St. John."

"I don't see much hope of private enterprise meeting the need for housing, and the city must take action on larger lines than those laid down by the Dominion scheme, if we want to keep the young people from leaving the city. I am strongly in favor of the city building a considerable number of houses to sell or to rent or both, and it might also encourage the formation of co-partnerships, such as have been fairly successful in England, though they have not met the need for houses; co-partnerships, such as have built a number of so-called garden cities, the men who occupy the houses forming the company, which does not seek to make money, and which undertakes to buy back the house if the occupant has to move to some other city."

"Another consideration is that there are certainly some landlords who are taking advantage of the high demand for houses to charge high rents. If the city puts up a considerable number of houses it will relieve the congestion, and rents generally will return to a more reasonable basis, which will benefit a good many citizens, and will not hurt those landlords who have been content with fair rents."

With the Temple Band at Fair Vale on the sports and dancing on Labor Day, and visit the Great Pike. A crew of Indians will take part in the canoe race.

Don't forget about the Masquerade at the new pavilion at Belyea's Point on Saturday evening. Good music and food.

What Some People Canadian Trade Commissioner Here

When They Can't Obtain Real Booze They Partake of Lemon Extract, Black Liquid Shoe Polish.

With the government taking over alcoholic beverages, the road to ruin for bootleggers is widening if they will thereby have a better chance of getting wealthy than the present system of licensed vendicators.

"My money is up on the statement that they won't get money any faster than they are getting it now," said a man about town yesterday, "for the bootleggers are the real capitalistic barons in this town at the present time."

"The time used to be, right after prohibition set in, that you could go to a man, give him $4.00 and a Wink and he would supply you with a bottle of the real thing, with the tin still intact on the bottle. Today the bandits demand $5 and $6 a bottle, and most of the stuff they sell is home made."

"I am on the fence. I don't drink and am not fussy whether there is a state of prohibition or not. At the present time there may be an admission of prohibition in this province, but there certainly is no total abstinence. Men who formerly drank a slight beer or two and then went home in a sober mood, now mix in a decoction of lemon extract, elder and bay rum, and if it doesn't put more light into them than Jack Dempsey's heavy fist, they leave them on the street corner with as much life in them as a wet diaphragm."

"I saw one chap coming down the street the other night, and he had decided to starboard and carry a breath that surely never did breathe 'er Eden. His favorite drink was black shoe polish in the liquid form, and he got it into a bottle. He was a bartender pass off shoe polish as a drink, or would any person have used it in the days before prohibition?"

"Another man I know uses a mixture of horse liniment and water as his joy juice, and I don't think the drink has a kick that will lift one clear across the street. After each drink he usually retires to his innermost chamber for a gay or so to make repairs that are needed to his system."

"The cognoscant of the crooked elbow clan have been endeavoring to meet the high cost of living by making their own 'bootch'. They claim that ordinary beer, raw potatoes, raisins, yeast and a dash of molasses, properly blended, will make a liquid as smooth as Johnny Walker and with a hangover that John never dreamed of having."

"Others, of course, rely on the good old reliable lemon extract, and the manufacturers are very kindly turning out a nice six-ounce bottle for a dollar and a half, guaranteed to contain at least ten million kicks per bottle. Those who desire variety mix their lemon extract with beer, cider, pop or any other suitable companion, and when their eyes begin to hang out on their cheeks they know that they are sufficiently primed for the day's run."

"Where a decent respectable jag, at small price, is desired, the demand is for port or sherry wine. Once a chap begins seeing things from a port wine jag, he can repeat the effect at will by simply drinking ordinary water. When this fact becomes known generally either the price of wine or water is bound to go up."

"With these home-made substitutes for the schooners of any which way to cross the bar in the pre-prohibition days, and the great amount of intoxicants which are brought to this city from outside points, the whole liquor question is in statu quo ante, as a lawyer would say. There may be less drunkenness apparent in the streets, but there is also the danger of a quiet morning at the police court, with men and women who drank before the days of prohibition are drinking now, and if it is not the same grade and quality of stimulants that they used to get, it is something that will eventually lead them over the bridge to the psychopathic ward of that red stone building."

"A railroad man told me the other day that there is not a week that does not see the arrival at the Union depot of a full carload of whiskey for local consumption. And if you would ever watch the passengers alighting from the trains from Montreal and Boston and see how tenderly some of the men carry a suitcase which must weigh at least fifty pounds, while the porter carries the lighter grip, one would naturally wonder if the prohibition law is any good, or if the inspectors are any good either."

FOUND GUILTY IN BROOKVILLE COURT

Frederick Robert Hickey Fined One Hundred Dollars for Speeding on Loch Lomond Road and Injuring Marion Crawford.

Frederick Robert Hickey, of Big Salmon River, appeared before Magistrate Adams in the Brookville court last evening on three charges, viz., speeding his automobile on the Loch Lomond road last Sunday, with striking little Marion Crawford and badly injuring her, also with not returning to the scene after striking the girl.

The defendant was found guilty and fined fifty dollars on each one of the first two charges, and was dismissed on the third charge. It is possible that further proceedings will be entered against Hickey. The little girl in question was very badly injured and is reported to yet be in a critical condition.

Canadian Trade Commissioner Here

W. A. Beddoe, Whose Headquarters Are at Auckland, Visited Some of Local Manufacturers and Exporters Yesterday in Interest of Trade With New Zealand.

W. A. Beddoe, Canadian trade commissioner to New Zealand with headquarters at Auckland, paid a visit to the city yesterday for the purpose of calling on some of the manufacturers and exporters located here with the idea of interesting them in trade with New Zealand.

In the afternoon accompanied by R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the Board of Trade, Mr. Beddoe called on some of the brush makers, fish packers, meat manufacturers and confectioners and W. S. Fisher, vice-president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. He was received very cordially by all and it is probable that as a result of his visit trade with New Zealand will be stimulated. He gave them some valuable information as to the classes of goods most in demand in that country and offered many suggestions which will enable them to extend their business in that part of the Empire.

In talking of the possibilities of trade development with New Zealand he pointed out that that country had many things which we needed here in Canada and they wanted and were quite willing to buy many of the articles manufactured here. There had been a great increase in the amount of business in the past few years, the exports from Canada having grown from $10,000,000 a short time ago to over $3,000,000 yearly, and this could be largely increased by going after the trade. The business was there and Canada could have it if the manufacturers and exporters would get busy and cater to the market.

Mr. Beddoe left last night for Montreal.

TOURIST EXODUS IN FULL SWING

Express Trains Have Extra Cars to Accommodate the Heavy Travel — Eastern Line Steamers Have Full Passenger Lists.

The tourist exodus is now on in full swing. Last night's Ontario train was made up of thirteen passenger coaches, with eleven standing room in the aisles at a premium. The outward Montreal train was being comfortably crowded and the crowds waiting for a train looked somewhat like the days when troops were leaving or expected at the Union Depot. The C. P. R. train Halifax being delayed 25 minutes, and ten minutes were lost on the Boston train while extra accommodations were being secured.

THE POLYMORPHIANS MET LAST EVENING

Decided Could Not Participate in Celebration at Moncton — Committee Appointed to Arrange for Meeting Place and Secure Athletic Field.

Following an invitation to participate in the Labor Day celebration at Moncton, the Polymorphians met last night in the Victoria bowling alley to discuss the matter, but finally decided that for various reasons they could not attend as a representative body.

What the time has come for the Polymorphians to again take their place among the leaders of sport and entertainment in the city, was the general opinion at the meeting, and it was suggested by R. J. Wilkins, chairman, that the club affiliate with the East End Improvement League, secure the Rockwood Park grounds for an athletic field and form an entertainment committee for the purpose of holding the old time minstrel shows during the winter.

CUBAN OFFICIALS RECEIVE MEDALS

According to advice received by the Cuban consulate here, Senator Mario Menorah, president of the Republic of Cuba, and Dr. Sanchez, a prominent journalist there, have been presented with medals which commemorate their attendance at the peace conference. These decorations are being sent to all representatives of the Allied powers who attended that important gathering.

The consulate has also been informed that legislation will be provided at the next session of the island congress which meets in November, fixing the price of the 1919-1920 sugar crop of Cuba at not less than 6 1/2 cents a pound.

Havana, the capital of the republic, is taking great steps to make itself one of the world's attractive winter resorts. New hotels are being constructed, cabarets are featuring attractive bills and the natural attractions of that sunny land are being featured to their best possible advantage. The winters of Cuba are rarely more severe than the summers of this section of New Brunswick, a temperature of 68 or 70 being considered a cold day in that fortunate land.

Miss A. M. A. MacDonald, of Boston, who has been visiting at her old home Boleston, is spending the week-end at the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Currie, and will leave for her home in Boston on Labor Day.

THE OPENING OF HOGAN BY CHARLES E. VAN LOAN

"And five better than you again!" "Handsome Harry" McGarrett, some times known as the Dayton Adonis...

"The Pones worked at professional baseball for a living; but the only national pastime they recognized was the ancient and honorable game of draw poker..."

"Women make trouble," said Monk when expounding his views to the owner of the Pony franchise...

"And now, having stilled long enough to give the old Mississippi River gambler a chance to figure out the two-to-the-six straight, we return to the poker game..."

"I'm out on a limb," said Bush, adding the chips toward McGarrett. "I was trying to get my wet feet dry and you went and hooked up a straight on me. I'm ruined."

"Hogan Preferred Not To Play." The young man addressed as Hogan, who was perched upon the back of the seat across the aisle...

"Not until you've seen me work," paroled the stranger. "Give me a few days to limber up in, and then try me out against your regular team..."

"Any chair warmer can't tell you how to play a hand," said Bill Craig, "just the same as my newspaper reporter up in the press stand can't tell you how to play ball. Barrin' Sam Crane, I never see any newspaper reporter, yet who could catch a pop fly; an I once see one of 'em steal second with the bases full!"

"It was Hogan's first year in professional ball, yet in a short space of time he had acquired an unenviable reputation as the stagiest player on the league..."

"The Pones were a body of young men who spent their salary checks riotously—spent them upon each other like champagne and most of them were like champagne..."

"If a club of very young men can be said to have a tradition, Hogan had violated it. He did not fit in with his associates because, as McGarrett expressed it, he never spent anything but the evening."

"Toward the end of August it was a foregone conclusion that John J. Hogan would win his reckless game..."

"There's a reason why I must have a certain amount of money as soon as possible," he said. "If I had some of it now..."

"You'd blow it," said Monk. "Well, kid, you savvy your own business best?"

"Hogan had often wondered about this phase of the situation, and the mystery which attached upon evening when the manager called upon Hogan at his quarters in the hotel while the team was at home..."

retort articles, none of which had ever been seen on tour. "Lots of class to you, kid," said Monk. "You've got enough silver junk there to start a store."

"That was always the way when Law tried to dig into Hogan's mysterious past. He ran his inquisitive nose into a stone wall."

"Not all the money-burning youths hall from the Atlantic coast. The West also has its spendthrift sons. Probably the most notable case of prodigal extravagance which California has known in recent years is that of young Lafayette Durand Chatterton..."

"My Dear Father—I told you that you would not hear from me until I had made good. Inclosed you will find a certified check, to my order, for twenty-five hundred dollars..."

"The Pones drifted away from the clubhouse dismissing the mystery of the loosening up of Hogan, and were all on hand at seven o'clock..."

"Class!" ejaculated Bush. "The National Commission never saw as well a layout as Bush's!"

"When, five days later, the Pones arrived in Chicago, the clerk handed Hogan a whole letter to be taken to his room at once. Perhaps he choked a bit as he read them. It would have been no disgrace if he had thrown them away..."

"Forget it, Harry!" he said. "The ghost of ball player, so little attention was paid to him, so little notice taken of his presence."

And they led the Dayton Adonis to the washbasin.

soon's over. You come down to the Argyle tonight, and if you don't like me surprising party, we'll put on the gloves and go four rounds to a decision. Are you on?"

"I got you, kid!" he said. "Date me!" "Then the tension broke, and the Pones began to talk."

"The Argyle!" said Bill Craig. "Ain't that the place where they held you eighty cents a pitcher for soup? Why, it would cost a million dollars to feed this bunch at that place!"

"After Hogan had gone, there was an excited buzz of conversation. Monk Lawson took a hand in it."

"You fellows are all away off," he said. "You're barking up the wrong tree. You can gamble that he's picked out his last professional ball game today, so he ain't doing this to get his self in good for next season. It's something about a deal I made with all follow that would astonish you!"

"The old Mississippi River gambler was the only one not openly opposed by the stage stragglers. He sat to the banquet chamber. Bush Hiley, who was in the van and had first glimpse of the magnificent Astor, started back, and roared heavy upon the head waiter's patent-leather shoes."

"The Pones looked at each other covertly every time a cork popped, others attempted to estimate its value by a addition of lives, but lost count in the evening."

"I know the way you felt about it, don't blame me, either, but— to be that way, fellows. I had to work for the first time in my life. I thought I could get more playing ball than by going into office or digging ditches. So I took Monk here for a job, and made a business proposition."

LIFT OFF CORNS WITH FINGERS

Doesn't hurt a bit and costs only a few cents

You'll laugh. Apply a few drops then lift sore, touchy corns right off. No pain. Yes, magic!

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the foot of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the callous on bottom of foot. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

Dear Boys and Girls!— Many are the secrets amongst you all, I suppose, as the holidays draw near. To some of you I seem to see just the two or three weeks since you joyfully carried the book home and threw them on a closet shelf with a big sigh of relief; thankful it stood that school was over. To others you may seem like a long, long time since the closing day and you may be delighted at the prospect of school opening again. In the latter group I imagine there are very few but still I can quite believe there are some who are not so much for their little minds. However, kiddies, no matter just what your personal feelings are in this case you must admit the facts as they exist. The holidays have lasted many weeks and they are over and what the use of fussing or frowning, you know very well that all play and no work is not the best way to spend it. It is up to you to show your good side and be cheerful, thankful for the perfect freedom, the outdoor sports, the pleasant outings, the blessed warm sunshine and the forests of good frolic you have had and make up your mind that now you must settle down a little anyway and prepare for greater work as the term advances. The little school holidays which come at the different seasons give you something pleasant to look forward to all the time. So what's the use of worrying chums, a back to school with happy hearts and faces and show your gratitude for the eight weeks' rest from study by entering into the new grade with fresh vigor and interest. You probably know better than anyone else the weak spots of last year's school work, so they are the things which need your special attention and must be brushed up a little more, than the subjects which you were strong in. Make good resolutions too, and be sure still, carry them through in regard to your department. Always keep behind the one disturber or troublemaker some pupil can ruin the work of the whole school room. You wouldn't want one I am sure, for it would be most unfair to the other pupils who are doing their best in work and behavior. Then most important of all, think of your teacher. Always keep in mind the one disturber or troublemaker who you are a disturber the teacher must do a great deal of extra work to do the school room, because of you. So little boys and girls of mischief this well of these things at the beginning of the term do not allow what you think is harmless fun to enter the serious atmosphere to such an extent that it causes annoyance to pupils and teachers. You would be doing grave injustice to yourself as well as to all those about you, if you do. One of the most important lessons which everyone must learn is to be obedient to laws. No matter how young or how old we are, we are always subject to laws, whether they be health, society, school, home or state. So you cannot expect to be an exception in the world, can you? Just now, I think it is up to you to take the folk to the laws of the school and see how well you can obey them, then as you grow older it will not be hard for you to become a law-abiding citizen. Here's good luck to all the friends who start the fall term of '19. May you be fit and ready to work well and steady. As ever yours, UNCLE DICK.

Answers To Letters

JERRY B.—Pleased indeed to get your nice long letter and to hear all about your good times. The members drift around so much in summer that they have lots of experiences to write about.
MARION G.—Too bad you missed the celebration March, but never mind there are lots of good times ahead for you young folk. Yes, the busy days will soon be here again. Write me again.
GERALD M.—What a fine writer you are getting to be. I am always interested in all the fellows belonging to the C. C. and in the organizations to which they belong. I wish there were troops everywhere so that every boy might be a Scout. Indeed I think the boy living in the country needs it fully as much as the city chap.
GEORGE H.—You seem to be a busy bee alright and I am sure you have not many idle moments so account for a success. It is fine for boys to learn how to use all sorts of tools while they are young for they never know when such knowledge may be most useful.
LAWRENCE D.—So you are enjoying your holidays too, that is fine for a fellow can do all the better work at school when he has had a nice change and better still a nice time during the vacation.
NORAH S.—Thanks for the words of appreciation, it is natural for everyone to enjoy them, especially when given voluntarily as yours were. I am quite interested in your garden, and its success. Perhaps it is better to have the wet weather now after the gardens are so far advanced. Write again some day.

ANOTHER MISS MUFFET

(By Myra Kenton Lowndes.)
Dolores was afraid of the spiders. She called the spinners of the pretty webs "horrid things." Dolores ran every time she saw a spider, just as the rhymus say "Miss Muffet did. You can guess how much Dolores was like her if you will read this verse:
Little Miss Muffet sat on a tuffet,
Eating of curds and whey;
Along came a spider and sat down beside her,
And frightened Miss Muffet away.
One fine summer day as Dolores played in the yard with her dolls, she cried out and ran to the kitchen. "Oh, mother!" she shouted, "there's a something in my hair. Please take it out!"
And what do you guess mother took from her little girl's pretty hair? It was a big brown spider. Dolores jumped up and down because she was afraid.
"Kill him, mother, kill him!" she yelled. "Is he gone? Step on him before he hides."
Mother smiled. Her little girl, jumping up and down upon the back porch like a wild Indian, seemed so funny. Then she told Dolores to sit down and she said "You can trust me, the spider thought your hair was some new silken web. He did not hurt you, and we should not harm him. He has his duty in the world just as we have ours."
Mother had some news for Dolores the next morning. The spider had built a broad web in a corner of the porch. "He has just passed through Wrexhill!"
"That special train will be here in seven minutes now, gentlemen!" he announced; "he has just passed through Wrexhill!"
"Hoary!" responded Farmer Road. Then, addressing the rest of those who waited there—"see it, everyone, that Picketford gives Rupert Grayling a hearty greeting as he passes this way."
There was a murmur of assent. Young George Holker, a lad from the village, laughingly replied:
"You can trust us, we are on our right enough. Mr. Road, seeing that we're come here at eleven o'clock at night for that purpose!"
"Wreath!" agreed the policeman's son, Tom Cotes; "but I can't say that I rightly understand about this Honorable Mr. Grayling who's waiting to see; I don't quite know why he's so famous."
There was a general gush at this avowal of ignorance, but good-humored Farmer Road promptly tried to make the matter clear to Tom.
"Perhaps you've heard of such things as big trusts, my boy," he said, "and whether you understand about 'em or not, you can take it from me that there's no good in any country. Anyhow, there's just come along a millionaire—billionaire, as may be—with a scheme to grab all the English farms he can with a view to forming a big farming trust. What would that mean? Why, to the small farmer, it would mean ruination!"
"That's it, that's it!" chimed in some others.
"But this millionaire," continued the farmer—"whose name is Katterley—Cyrus Katterley—hasn't had his way yet, and if there's one man to stop him it's the Honorable Rupert Grayling, M. P."
"Ay, he's the man—Grayling's the man!" shouted the rest.
"Rupert Grayling's a politician the country might well be proud of," went on Farmer Road. "Directly he heard of the new trust scheme he drew up a cleverly-planned Bill which will make it practically impossible, and this Katterley's Bill is the special train. Meanwhile, he's going up and down the country lecturing—explaining what a rogue's game this proposition is." "Katterley's Bill is the special train." "For the past two months he's been bulled to speak at Exeter tonight, and I'm only sorry that I couldn't go to see him say all that. He's coming back to London will be in the train here in a minute or so now, and—"
The villagers swung round. Something had fallen in the little waiting room behind them—buried in through a window on the other side! What was it? Everyone rushed to see.
"A paper of some sort!" cried the

"Rupert Grayling's a politician the country might well be proud of," went on Farmer Road. "Directly he heard of the new trust scheme he drew up a cleverly-planned Bill which will make it practically impossible, and this Katterley's Bill is the special train. Meanwhile, he's going up and down the country lecturing—explaining what a rogue's game this proposition is." "Katterley's Bill is the special train." "For the past two months he's been bulled to speak at Exeter tonight, and I'm only sorry that I couldn't go to see him say all that. He's coming back to London will be in the train here in a minute or so now, and—"
The villagers swung round. Something had fallen in the little waiting room behind them—buried in through a window on the other side! What was it? Everyone rushed to see.
"A paper of some sort!" cried the

"Who's 'ot?"
A tall gentleman in morning attire, looking like a country squire, was accosted by a one-armed beggar. He looked the latter over and then kindly said:
"How did you lose your arm, my man?"
"Well, it's like this, sir," was the reply. "The last time I went to sea, we were caught in a cyclone off Cape Ork. The ship went over on her beam-ends, so the captain, 'e orders me and Jim to go out on the yardarm to keelhaul the besprit an' ter splice the jib-boom to the mainmast. I was 'angin' on to the top-gallant ratlines, when Jim suddenly let go 'is end, an' I was pitched forty feet into the hold, an' broke my arm."
The gentleman laughed, but gave him nothing, and said as he went on his way:
"That's a capital yarn. You ought to have been a sailor."
The discomfited beggar watched his late interrogator with a malevolent expression, then saw a crossing-sweeper touch his hat most politely to him.
Going up to the sweeper afterwards, the one-armed swindler said:
"Yes, 'e, when 'e's at home?"
"Him?" replied the sweeper. "Don't you know who that is? Why, that's Admiral B—"

In Moscow (says a traveller) I saw a little child crying miserably one afternoon. He walked slowly down one of the principal streets, and his howls and gestures of despair soon brought a big crowd around him.
"What's the matter, my child? What troubles you?" everyone said.
The boy paused flustered. He looked at the crowd which he had caused to assemble. Then, lifting up his voice, he shouted in a shrill treble:
"I am lost. Will somebody please take me home to Ivan Troubatopov, the champion clothier, who has just got in his new stock of winter overcoats, suits, neckties, shirts, hats, and umbrellas, which he will sell cheaper than any one else in the city."
As Put.
They were as sociable a set of passengers as you could wish to meet, and talking and laughing were going on merrily when they sat down to the first dinner aboard.
Suddenly there came a terrific uproar from the neighborhood of the fore-cabin. The sailors had been a trifle too merry before starting, and were now engaged in punning each other for all they were worth. The first officer rose from the table to go and quell the disturbance, and in a few moments all was quiet again.
"Things seem smoother now, Mr. Parger," said the captain approvingly, when the mate returned.
"Yes, sir," was the reply. "I've just ironed some of the crew, sir!"
Fond Mother: "What do you think baby will be when he grows up?"
Exasperated Father: "I don't know. Town erler, most likely."
Parson: "Always speak well of your neighbors."
Mrs. Gingham: "I do! And yet I assure you she is one of the most detestable creatures on earth!"

He Caught It.
The youth dashed down the street after the retreating tramcar.
Every muscle was strained, his breath came in quick gasps, the beads of moisture stood upon his forehead. His feet were working like the pedals on a bicycle.
"Catch—that—tramcar!" he gasped, "or die!"
Faster went the tramcar. Faster went the pursuer. He knocked down children in his wild career. He collided with a bassinet. He was on the car. He sank breathless into a seat and mopped his brow. The conductor touched him on the shoulder.
"Get off," said the conductor. "We're going to the stables. No more cars tonight!"
"Did you see that lovely young girl waiting there in the lobby, with the pretty brown dress and fur?" asked hubby as he entered their taxi.
"What? That frowsy thing with the false puffs, enamelled face, gold-tooth home-made dress, imitation milk fur, and torn gloves? No, I didn't notice her at all!"

Baby Bear Stories

BY NELL MINOR.
BABY BEAR'S BROWNIE.
The Three Bears lived on Story Book Island and, of course, fairies, brownies, and elves lived on that island, too, but fairies are very shy little people and even Baby Bear seldom saw them.
Mother Bear had a great deal of work to do in the little brown house, but she had time to spare, so she took a walk in the woods and found a brownie. He was very lucky to have a brownie in the house.
"I should like to thank that good little brownie. Will you please find him and tell him that he helped me a great deal and I just love him!" said Mother Bear, and she took Baby Bear in her arms and gave him a big bear hug.
"Yes, sir," answered Baby Bear, with his arms about Mother Bear's neck.
When Father Bear came home that night his chair was drawn up by the fire; his foot stool was waiting and his pipe ready to be smoked. "Who brought all my things out for me?" he asked in his big bear voice. "Was it you, Mother Bear?"
Mother Bear shook her head.
"Do you know who it was, Baby Bear?" he asked.
"It was the brownie," Baby Bear answered in his funny little bear voice just full of laughs and giggles.
"I wish some one would thank that brownie for me. Suppose you hunt him up, Sonny Cub," said Father Bear, patting Baby Bear on the top of his little woolly head.
"That good little brownie just settled down and lived in the little brown house with the Three Bears. Every day he filled the wood box and sometimes he brought in water and swept the floor and he was always on the lookout for jolly little kind surprise jokes to play on Mother Bear and Father Bear."

Main Office and Factory, Toronto

Now Completely Built in Canada, By Canadians, For Canadians

THE thousands of Canadian owners of Willys-Overland cars and the Canadian public generally, will be interested in this announcement—

Overland cars will be manufactured, not merely assembled, in our completely equipped Canadian Factory.

The public appreciation of the Overland product and policy has built up a Canadian demand which makes this necessary.

During the war the great Willys-Overland Toronto plant was devoted to the production of munitions and aeroplane motors.

Today these complete facilities and resources are being devoted exclusively to the production of Overland Motor Cars.

This modern institution is largely financed by Canadian capital and is managed by men widely experienced in Canadian industry. Not only does the Toronto factory offer the Canadian public the facilities, resources and advantages of a complete Canadian institution, but back of it are all the tremendous resources and experience of the great Willys-Overland organizations in the United States.

Since the cessation of war-time production, which absorbed the whole efforts of the Toronto factory, plans have been formed for Overland achievements in Canada far greater than those of pre-war days.

Processes of manufacture, co-ordination of departments and new materials have been studied—

Personnel has been strengthened by the addition of expert executives and many skilled workers—

The floor space of the present factories is 280,000 square feet and is to be increased by more than 100,000 square feet—

To adequately manufacture the Overland 4, we have invested more than one million dollars in special equipment and tools, in addition to large sums in raw materials and parts. The larger part of this material is of Canadian origin. More than a thousand skilled workmen are being added to our force,—all with a view to placing the entire organization on a stronger, more highly efficient basis than ever before so that complete Overland cars can now be built entirely in Canada by Canadians for Canadians.

The Canadian factory, with the co-operation of the complete Willys-Overland organizations, will specialize in the production of a wonderful New Motor Car—The Overland 4. It is the product of the ripened experience of the great Willys-Overland organization.

After ten years of experimenting and 250,000 miles of testing, this new Overland 4 is being manufactured by the Canadian organization in Canada.

See Overland 4 at the Canadian National Exhibition

This remarkable new car, with exclusive improvements and advantages, will be exhibited for the first time in Canada at the Automobile Show of the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, August 23rd to September 6th.

The Overland 4 introduces a new standard of riding comfort made possible by its exclusive new Three-Point Cantilever Spring Suspension, the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

No motor car ride you have ever had serves as an adequate comparison to the greater road comfort of the Overland 4. You must see and ride in this car to fully appreciate what a new era it introduces in motor car history.

The problem that has engaged the efforts of automobile engineers for years has been solved. The combination of the driving-ease of a light weight car with the riding-ease of a heavy, long wheelbase car, has been achieved in this new Overland 4.

In addition to its great comfort, tests show great economy. It is a quality car throughout, fully equipped, beautifully finished.

The introduction of Overland 4, a motor car completely built in Canada, marks a distinct forward step in Canadian manufacture.

See this new Canadian Overland 4 at the Automobile Show, Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, August 23rd to September 6th.
