Kraal, 15 Miles Southeast of Bloemfontein, on Sunday Night-Fighting Day and Night at Jammersburg Drift-Canadians in the Thick of the Operations Under French and Pole-Carew.

London, Tuesday, April 24-5 a.m.- | ceeding throughout the day, the Brit-The strong body of reinforcements which Lord Roberts sent to assist the relief of Wepener and to endeavor to envelop and cut off the Boers from a retreat northward furnishes further evidence that the Boers are assembled in much larger forces around Wepener than had hitherto been supposed. The Times, in an editorial this morning, remarks: "Whatever may be the difficulties of roads and rains, the Boers always appear to have guns, and sometimes big ones, where they want them."

A Boer dispatch, dated Thabanchu, April 20, says that a fresh supply of cannon and ammunition has reached Gen. Dewet and Jammersburg Drift. It also asserts that one of Col. Dalgety's guns has been smashed. Karriefontein, mentioned in Lord

Roberts' message to the war office (given below), is 15 miles southeast of Bloemfontein. Leeuw Kop is two miles further south. Apparently the British captured Paarde Kraal Sunday night. The Boers evacuated Leeuw Kop during the night, removing the gun, and the British occupied the kop the next

They can scarcely delay further their retreat northward without incurring the risk of being cut off, Us. ally they have been well-informed regarding the British plans, and they are not likely to run such risk, especially as they have partially accomplished their object in drawing large forces

from Bloemfontein on long marches, and have thereby delayed the advance to Pretoria. The Morning Post, commenting upon the difficulty Lord Roberts is experiencing, asserts the wisdom of arrang-ing for a steady flow of reinforcements. The report that a Boer commando was at Frankfort proved to be with-out foundation; but evidently there is a large force opposing Lord Methuen. A Maseru dispatch, dated April 23, says: Gen. Brabant's forces outflanked the Boer position at Bushman's Kop dusk British forcs, apparently infantry, were seen approaching from two directions, with a view of surrounding the kop. The Daily Telegraph has the following from Boshof, dated Monday, April 23: The Boers are closing in on Boshof. Their nearest laager is five miles dis-yesterday, but the movement had not

2:50 a.m.: 'Yesterday I dispatched the 11th division, under Gen. Pole-Carew, and two brigades of cavalry, under Gen. French, from this point, to assist Gen. Rundle. The force reached Karrie-fontein without much opposition.

"Gen. Rundle reports that 25 men of the First Worcesters are missing. Fifty-three were sent with Wood to an outpost after dark. Only 18 returned. Their numbers and names will be reported today, as well as four wounded yesterday."

[The war office has given no explanation of the apparent discrepancy in the figures as to the men of the Worcester Regiment.] DALGETY HOLDS FAST.

Aliwal North, April 23.—Col. Dalgety is holding out at Wepener. It is reported that all the Boers have crossed to the north side of the Caledon River. to the north side of the Caledon River.

Maseru, Monday, April 23.—Fighting began early this morning at Bushman's Kop. The Colonial Division, under Gen. Brabant advanced eautiously, followed and supported by Gen. Hart's infantry brigade. It was found that the Boers had evacuated their position on Bushman's Kop during the aight. A running fight has been pro-ish gradually advancing and the Boers losing ground. Gen. Brabant is mov-ing in a northeasterly direction, keeping Basutoland close on his right flank. Thousands of Basutos are watching the operations. Our casualties so far are 25 wounded. The British are bivouacking tonight, according to the latest report, eight miles from Wepener, and the Boers, who are besieging Col. Dalgety, appear to be preparing to retire. stubborn fight is believed to have oc-curred in the direction of Dewet's Dorp, where the Boers are in strong force, with a lot of guns, and where also there is a relief column, apparently Gen. Rundle's. Wepener, how-ever, is already practically relieved by the withdrawal of a large portion of the besiegers.

NO LET UP.

Boer Camp. Thabanchu, Orange Free State, Sunday, April 22.—Fight-ing continues day and night at Jam-mersburg Drift. The English trenches have been so full of rain that the men have been obliged every now and then to clamber to the banks, only to be shot down. The Boers were so drenched on Saturday that they were unable to sleep, so they started a debate on the subject of the good to derived from virtue and courage. The discussion lasted most of the night, shells at intervals interrupting the speakers. Robertson's lower mill is reported to have been captured April 21, and it is said that the Cape Mounted Rifles have lost during the siege 120 out of 500 men. The British prisoners defy the burghers to capture

Col. Dalgety's camp, even if the British are not reinforced. A surprising number of relatives are Ighting on opposite sides at Wepener. London, April 23 .- Dispatches from Wakkerstroom, dated yestersay, say the British are greatly extening their lines. Their position is now most advantageous and within easy striking distance of the Boers, who are clearly visible in great force.

The Canadians.

HAVE HOT WORK.

Bloemfontein, Monday, April 23 .-Col. Alderson's corps of mounted infantry, consisting of the First Battalions of the First and Second Canadian Regiments and Strathcona Horse was engaged in the operations of Gen. Pole-Carew and Gen. French. Alderson had undertaken to drive the Boers from their line of defense, south of the waterworks. The Canadians sustained a heavy fire. The Boers shelled Alderson, who made a marching movement around Leeuw Kop, on the extreme left of the Boer position. When the British battery opened fire the Boers removed the gun. Leeuw Kop was found evacuated this morn-Gen. Dickson's cavalry brigade, which made a wide detour to the left, found its further progress barred by a strong Boer position. London, Tuesday, April 24.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The resistthis evening issued the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, Monday, April 23, contemptible, considering the strength contemptible, considering the strength of their position. They escaped in an easterly direction, the Guards failing to get quite around them."

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times says: "The British cavalry were checked. Col. Alderson worked partially round the flank of Leeuw Kop, but was not supported. The move checked the enemy, but fear of nightfall precluded the possibility of a mate.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Standard, describing the opera-tions at Leeuw Kop, says: "At an early stage the cavalry came under a heavy fire from a 'pom-pom' on a ridge adjoining the kop. Unable to continue its march to the southeast, Gen. Dickson's brigade fell back to the north to avail the infant. to the north to await the infantry ai-"Gen. Pole-Carew's mounted infantry seized Leeuw Kop, a high hill a few miles north of their last night's position. The enemy evacuated hurriedly, leaving some rifles and ammunition.

Sheltered by the rocks, the enemy opened a heavy fire from rifles and 'pompoms.' Our men advanced over the open ground in splendid style by a succession of short rushes, falling prone while pouring in their volleys. The approach of darkness threatened to leave the Boers in possession, but just before sunset the Essex Regiment gailantly pressed forward and drove the last of the enemy from Paarde Kraal, a bold spur of Leeuw Kop.

ed here from Pretoria with the ban-ner of the corps. He expressed him-self as 'disgusted with the whole proceedings.' ' MADE A GUN The Lorenzo Marquez correspondent of the Times says the foreign ordnance experts in the Boer war department have succeeded in equipping a big gun foundry at Pretoria. The first gun has been sent to the Free State. IN NATAL A dispatch from Elandslaagte, dated Monday, says: "Boer messengers who arrived in camp this morning were identified as Reus, a solicitor from Boskorg, and Edwards, notorious Jameson raid. They brought a letter from the Boer general to the commanding officer here. The messengers were finally escorted to the outpost." MAFEKING. London, April 24.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says that Gen. Carrington's force is for his anti-English speech after the only one going to the relief of Mafe-king, and that no force of any kind is operating from the south.

NO INTERVENTION. The Vienna correspondent of the Times says: The Boer peace missioners will not be received either at Vienna, Berlin, St. Petersburg or Rome. It is as well that the United States should know how the mission has fared in Europe, and the temper of Europe toward the United States. The widespread hostility to the United ed States, which is constantly manifested on the continent, is a factor to be reckoned with, as the United States will doubtless discover at the hext renewal of commercial treaties. BUGLE NOTES. Gen. Sir Charles Warren has been appointed administrator of Bechuana-

The Transvaal government has asked Lord Roberts to be allowed to send a clengyman to St. Helena, and also a neutral consul to watch the interests of the prisoners in the same manner as Mr. Adelbert S. Hay guards the interests of the British at Pretoria.

Among the Canadians in South Africa reported as being dangerously ill is Lorrimer McGiverin, of Hamilton, son of Mr. W. F. McGiverin, "Lorrie" joined the first Canadian contingent at Toronto, he having been a member of the Queen's Own for three years. He was wounded in that terrible Sunday engagement of Feb. 18, in which the Canadians did so nobly, and which led to the capture of Cronje and his army. His wound was slight, and he was reported better. The news, therefore, of his dangerous illness, was received with much serrow by his Boers Lose Ground and the British Advance.

Pole-Carew's Disposition of His Troops Puzzled the Enemy.

Leeuw Kop, Monday, April 23 .- The Boers retired from their positions here so hurriedly that they left a quantity of ammunition and many rifles behind them. When the Warwickshire Regiment took the farm house at the foot of the ridge, the Boers' pom-poms, inflicting no damage, the Welsh Regiment advanced along the Warwickshires' left, and approached the ridge, experiencing a cross fire. When the Boers fled they were obliged to move for some distance along the sky-line, and the artillery planted a shell with great accuracy. It burst just above the Boers, rolling over three horses.

It appears that Gen. Dickson met with opposition, the Boers firing their rifles at long range. Their position was one of great natural strength.

Gen. Pole-Carew's admirable disposition of his force thoroughly puzzled the Boers, who were unable to see the diretion of the attack owing to a deep spruit.

The British artillery was unable to join the right in time to reply to the Boer gun, which was shelling the mounted infantry vigorousiy. The shells, however, burst 300 yards high, and did no damage. It is stated that Gen. De Wet holds the waterworks, with a strong force.

The Boers who held Leeuw Kop trekked to the eastward. Gen. French sent out a body of cavalry to the south and a few shots were heard, but apparently the Boers do not hold strong positions anywhere in close proximity to Leeuw Kop. Warrenton, Monday, April 23.—Shelling was resumed this morning, the fire being directed at the British river redoubts, which are steadily being pushed forward. The Boers appear to be in Temperance People Protest Against That part of the City-Resolution Asking for the Abolition of a Shop-License in Ward Three.

A meeting of the board of license tain licenses for 1900 were received.
In London West Mr. James James asked for a license for the Riverside Hotel, and Mr. Jerry Collins made a The latter, though, was given the support of a large number of petitioners. The advocates of temperance were opposed to the license, although their spokesman, Mr. J. Merritt, admitted that the petition had the requisite number of signatures. Resolutions were presented from the West London Methodist Churches, protesting unani-mously against both the licenses. The opinion was expressed that West London had improved during the time the licenses had been withdrawn. Mr. Hubert Dignan, solicitor for Mr.

Collins, contradicted the statements concerning alleged rowdyism. He said that the Collins property was built at London, April 24.—All attention is centered on the interesting though complicated situation in the southeastern signed by 200 of the 280 persons who were entitled to sign for or against it.

These Favorite Minstrels Give Their Annual Entertainment - A Crowded

House and a Splendid Performance. The Orient Minstrels appeared at the London Opera House last night and presented their "big show" before a crowded house. The annual entertainment of the Orients always draws well, and last night was no exception to their past successes. The setting and costuming of the first part were very handsome. The customary chorus by the company opened the performance. The eight end men in "black face" were well supplied with up-todate wit, and gave some clever local hits. The performance was far in advance of any previous entertainment given by the club, and evidenced much hard practice on the part of the mem-bers. It was one of the best laughmakers of the season, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience. Every number in the first part was enthusiastically encored. The specialties worked in during the second part were novel and clever, especially the musical "mix-up" of Messrs. Ashplant Irish Chinee." The following was the the Queen.

Mr. Flint Introduces His Prohibition Resolution in the House of Commons-The Late Mr. Haley.

Ottawa, April 63.-The House of the Reopening of the Hotels in Commons this afternoon was again called upon to mourn the loss of another respected and esteemed member, Dr. Haley, to whose memory a tribute of esteem was paid by Sir Wilfrid A meeting of the board of Meense commissioners was held yesterday afternoon in Inspector Henderson's office, when a number of petitions and protests for and against certain deceased member, utterly broke down when he endeavored to pay his tribute to Mr. Haley's memory. The debate upon Mr. Flint's resolution favoring provincial prohibition was not concludsimilar request for Collins' Hotel. The former was not backed by a sufficiently signed petition, nor did any person support the request before the board. The latter, though, was given the declaring that the vote on the plebiscite did not warrant a prohibitory law.
The following bills were passed through the first stages:

Respecting the Ontario Power Company of Niagara Falls—Mr. Fint.
Respecting the National Sanitarium Association—Mr. Maclean.
To incorporate the Canada Steel Company-Mr. Calvert.

Respecting the St. Clair and Erie Ship Canal Company—Mr. Tisdale.
Respecting Lake Erie and Detroit.
River Railway Company—Mr. Mo-Dr. Montague's bill for the relief of Edwin James Cox was given a second reading. After recess Mr. Flint moved his prohibition resolution, as follows:

"That this House has affirmed the principle that the prohibition of the liquor traffic is the right and most effectual legislative remedy for the evils of intemperance, and has also declared that as soon as public opinion would sufficiently sustain stringent measures it was prepared to promote such legislation. That the plebiscite of 1898, wherein a majority of the votes polled throughout the Dominion, in-cluding substantial majorities in all the provinces but one, were ascertained to be in favor of such legislation as well as satisfactory evidence from other sources, show that such measures will be thoroughly supported by the people of Canada. That this House is now of the opinion, in view of the foregoing facts, that it is desirable and expedient that parliament should without delay enact such measures as will secure the prohibition of the liquor traffic for beverage purposes in at least those provinces and territories which consent, was shortly to be married to have voted in favor of such prohibi- Lord Kitchener of Kharteum, shows Mr. Flint then entered into a lengthy explanation of the resolution, the principles of which are much the same as submitted by him last year.

Mr. McClure moved an amendment which, after setting forth the evils of intemperance, declared that the right and most effective legislative remedy, therefore, was the enactment and en-forcement of a law prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes and this House is prepared to promote such legislation as far as the same is within the competence of the parliament of Canada. Mr. Parmalee, from an analysis of Barce justified in the belief that the provines moved an amendment that "Whereas, at the plebiscite of 1898 only about 23 per cent of the registered voters voted in favor of prohibition, that in the provinces and territories excluding Quebec only 27 per cent voted for it, that these results show that there is not an active prohibition sentiment sufficiently pronounced to justify the expectation that a prohibitory law could be successfully enforced, and therefore, in the opinion of this House, such a prohibitory law should not be enacted at the present time." Mr. Casey seconded this amendment. Mr. Godbout, at 12:40, moved the adjournment of the debate and the house

DIED FROM THE RESULTS.

Blood poisoning is a frequent result of picking pimples, a practice at once so common and so dangerous.

Only a few days ago a young man in Toronto picked a pimpleon his face. Some deadly germ was given entrance to the blood, the sore became worse, he was removed to the hospital, and in spite of all the best physicians could do for him, he died within a week. Nearly everybody has had the experience of a small pimple becoming a large and aggravated sore because of being picked, but it seems to need a death occasionally to warn people of the danger of picking pimples and sores. The only safe way is to apply an antiseptic, such as Dr. Chase's Ointment, which at the same time kills all germs that may exist, and heals promptly any and every form of pimples or other skin disease, such as eczema, salt rheum, tetter Mothers frequently say that they could scarcely keep house without Dr. Chase's Ointment, because it is used almost daily by some member of the family for pimples, blackheads, stching eyelids, barber's itch, chilblains, scalds, burns or bruises, ulcers or poisoned flesh. It prevents much suffering by instantly relieving itching of the skin and curing every form of piles.

Generally speaking, the aldermen are fairly well satisfied with the result of their work of last night. The members of No. 1 and No. 2 committees are confident they will run their departments with the money allowed. The only fear of overdrafts are from bodies over whom the council have no control, the hospital trust and the school board. James Murphy had helped him to attend to the birds, and he adthere, and perhaps more. The magistrate said that a prima facie case had been made out on all except Gough. The other men, when sworn, said that they had not witnessed nor taken part in any cock-fighting at Watson's on the day in question. They were discharged. In view of Watson's unsatisfactory evidence, he was not dealt with as len-iently as might otherwise have been the case. His birds were confiscated, and a fine of $10 or one month in jail was imposed upon him. Murphy was also fined a like amount. The fines were paid. ## Note This Trade Mark.

In these days of imitations it is well for everyone to be careful what he buys. Especially is this necessary when a matter of health is involved.

There are so many imitations of Doan's Kidney Pills on the market-some of them absolutely worthless—that we ask you to be particular to see that the full name and the trade mark of the Maple Leaf are on every box you buy. Without this you are not getting the original Kidney Pill, which has cured so many severe cases of kidney complaint in the United States, Australia and England, as well as here in Canada.

Great Britain and Canada.

Recent references to Canada in the British fournals show that there is not only increased interest in the life of the Dominion, but also a more intelligent interest. We have also to remember that any comments on our political life made in a sympathetic spirit by intelligent Englishmen have the advantage of being given from a a non-partisan point of view. Our friends at home have no desire to interfere in the details of our politics, but they have a perfect right in a friendly spirit to note its general lines, especielly in those aspects which bear upon the life of the empire at large.

These reflections are suggested by remarks made recently by the British Empire Review, After referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's great speech, as follows: "Few persons indeed could have remained unmoved by such a display of eloquence as that which we have partially quoted in another column, and Sir Charles Tupper himself seems to have been generous in his praise;" this journal goes on to trace any notual hostility that may exist to British connection in French Canada to the influence of a few European Frenchmen, and then makes the following sensible statement, which is quite in touch with warnings we have given in this journal: "We fear, however-and the view is one which has been pressed upon us by well-informed Canadian correspondents-that a section of the British population has not hesitated to utilize the materials of race antagonism for purely partisan ends, by bringing against the French-Canadians a general charge of disloyalty. Englishmen at home, it 4s certain, find something more than difficulty in regarding Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose popularity in this country is exceptional, in such a character, which they would summarily dismiss as mere caricature."

The article then goes on to show how important it is that there should be "a common effort to make renunciation of those disentegrating elements which threaten otherwise to prove fatal to the realization of her ideal as a united nation."

This is an outside view of our position. It is friendly, and while being written from the imperial standpoint, surely recognizes our local point, purely recognizes our local eed, which is to sink all minor difrences in the aim after a common citizenship.

Obstruction in Parliament. The Montreal Gazette (Opposition)

"Another week of the weary session has drifted by without the work parliament was called to do being visibly forwarded. The Government's idea seems to be that when the country is tired watching it will have a chance to get its jobs through.

How very fair! Is it not the fact that the long speeches being made in the budget debate and on all sorts of side issues, though the misapplication of motions to adjourn by Opposition members, are the causes for the delaying of the business of Parliament? Who makes the large majority of these speeches? Not members of the Government or their supporters, but politicians of the calibre of Mr. Davin, Mr. Bergeron, Mr. Prior and Mr. Taylor. These men might be choked off by the influence of their own leaders, but unless the rules of the House are changed we know of no means whereby their disposition to waste the time of Parliament and to cause great expense to the taxpayers, can be effectively combatted. Nor does the obstructive tactics seem to be ended, for the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto World, another Opposition journal (whose editor is a supporter of Sir Charles Tupper), makes this an-

"Next Tuesday the Conservatives will hold a caucus to decide on a plan of action during the remainder of the session. It is likely obstruction will

The fact seems to be that the Oppoeltion in Parliament are afraid of an early general election, and as they know they have no chance of success as their party is at present led, and in the present splendid circumstances of the Dominion, they desire to so squander the time of Parliament that their inevitable discomfiture may be postponed as long as possible. Moreover, a number of these obstruction-1sts know that they will never come back with a Government at their back; 'two of the obstructionists whom we have named barely managed to squeeze in. One was elected by a majority of 3, and the other by the casting vote of the returning officer. Little wonder that with a free election they are now fearful of the coming contest, and desire to keep it off as long as possible.

again essays to criticise the progress of business in Parliament let it, in fairness, condemn the prodigal waste of time in making buncombe motions to adjourn in order to get a chance to talk at large, and in speaking when the speaker has nothing to say that has not already been said by another. If it does so, and its advice is taken by its friends, the Government business which has been on the paper for weeks awaiting the convenience of these long-winded gabsters, will be proceeded with without delay.

Life in the Yukon and at Nome. Mr. A. R. Fraser, who is described by the Ottawa Citizen as one of the best known men of the Lower Ottawa Valley, is on a visit to the capital after an absence in the Yukon for two years. Mr. Fraser, intenviewed by our contemporary, speaks highly of the mineral wealth of the district surrounding Dawson City, and believes the region has a bright future. The Cape Nome district, about which so much has been written, Mr. Fraser believes will prove very disappointing to the crowds who have gone there. His reasons for reaching this conclusion are important, in view of the attacks which have been made on the Canaian management of the Yukon in certain quarters. Mr. Fraser

"The conditions there are vastly different, as the work has to be done in three months of the year, the climate for the other nine months preventing any attempts at successful mining. Besides it will be a genuine American mining camp where law and order will not be respected as it is in and around Dawson. Why, in the latter place life and property are as safe as in Ottawa, owing to the excellent administration by Commisioner Ogilvie. Everything in connection with the administration is all that can be desired, and every man gets a square deal from Ogilvie."

This is not the evidence of a Livernash or of one of the alien adventurers who accompanied him to Ottawa, to lobby for an anti-Canadian scheme. but the testimony of a loyal Canadian-a successful business man. It is calculated to afford small comfort to those Canadian politicians who have been endeavoring to cause dispeace on the Yukon and to injure its interests in order that they might bring the officials of the Administration into disrepute. It is all the more necessary that it should have wide publicity. though it cannot be assured that the evil done the Dominion, through the dissemination of falsehoods with regard to the management of the country, can ever be overtaken.

Busy Day in the Ontario House-Mr Latchford's Labor Bureau Bill Gets a Second Reading-Many Other Measures Advanced.

Toronto, April 23.—This afternoon's session of the legislature was taken up in advancing and passing of government measures. The premier's motion calling for morning sessions after Wednesday was concurred in, and those bills were read a third time To incorporate Ottawa and Dundas Railway; respecting the town of Prescott and Imperial Starch Company: to incorporate the Queenstown, St. Catharines and Port Dalhousie Electric Railway; respecting the Pacific and At-lantic Railway Company.

The Attorney-general moved a number of statute law amendments. One particularly related to the insurance act, and provided that in the case of mutual fire insurance companies the non-payment of any fixed payments subsequent to the first should forfeit or void the policy, if such assessment remained unpaid 30 days after

The house went into committee on another bill of the attorney-general's to amend the statute law, and after some discussion the committee rose and reported progress.

Mr. Harcourt's bill respecting Upper Canada College; Mr. Stratton's bill, respecting extra provincial corpora-tions, and Mr. Latchford's bill, respectbureau of labor, were read a

The house then went into supply. Regarding the item of $40,000 for exploration in New Ontario, Mr. Matheson asked how it was to be spent. Mr. Ross replied that the government were going to send out ten or twelve different parties headed by provincial land surveyors, and containing scientists. They proposed to explore Ontario from Quebec to Manitoba, to gain full knowledge of its mineral and other resources. The house adjourned at 10 o'clock.

For 1900 Will Be 24! Mills on the Dollar.

Many Reductions Were Necessary to Make It Possible.

School Board's Demand for $17,400 for Repairs Refused.

Hospital Trust Will Have to Manage With $12,000-Committees' Funds Will Be Limited-Protest From the Real Estate Owners' Association-Sewer Contracts and Pavements.

The tax rate for 1900 is 241/4 mills on the dollar. It was so decided at last night's special session of the council. Many reductions were made to allow of this rate. The bylaw fixing it was given its third reading and passed. The first clause in No. 2 committee's report was a recommendation to have the members of that committee go to

Hamilton to invistigate the tar macadam roads and the method of sewage disposal in that city. Its reading occasioned the expression of various opinions in regard to this matter, some of the aldermen favoring the scheme suggested, while others thought that brick or macadam should be laid. The tar macadam could be put down for 76 cents per square yard. The discussion ended in the passage of a mo-tion to leave the matter over until the costs of the different roads is ascertained

The committee's award of contracts for sewers was confirmed, with the exception of the contract for laying the sewer on York street, between Colborne and Burwell streets. It was awarded to Harding & Leathorn, in-stead of John Walters, who claimed to have made a mistake of $100.

A delegation from the Real Estate

Owners' Association, consisting of Messrs. Charles Taylor, Wm. D. Buckle, John Christie, George Taylor, Wm. Hayman, John M. Parsons, W. H. Ferguson and others, was present to urge economy in city expenditure. Ex-Mayor George Taylor impressed the fact upon the council, and said that in his opinion a rate of 23 mills would be a serious blow to the city.
The aldermen should put their shoulder to the wheel and bring the rate down to 21 or 211/2 mill.

Mr. Buckle expressed the opinion that the city was over-policed, a matter into which Mayor Rumbell should look; and also that the hospital was a white elephant. Expenses in both departments should be curtailed. At the commencement of the consideration of No. 2 committee's estimates, Ald. Jolly said that the mayor's action in holding the meeting in the afternoon was, in the speaker's estimation, a slur upon No. 1 committee; and he was informed, in re-ply, by Mayor Rumball, that he had a perfect right to consult any aldermen he saw fit. In answer to a statement previously made, Ald. Winnett explained that even if the rate were 241/4 mills the taxpayers here would still be paying less than those of Hamilton or To-ronto, although the latter's rate was In these places everything was done by frontage tax. As an evidence of his committee's economy, he pointed out that its expenditure for the months past was $2,047 less than was paid out last year in the same time. Ald. Winder asked if the chairmen of committees were not getting a percentage, and he was scathed by the mayor in reply. It was a disgrace, he said, for any alderman to ask such an insinuating question. He was surpris-

So Bad that Water Would Ooze Out and Drop on the Floor. Hands Full of Water Blisters, Doctor Could Not Relieve. First Application of CUTICURA Stopped Itching and Induced Sleep. Cured in

I had eczema on my hands so bad that when I shut them, the matter would coze out and drop on the floor. My hands were full of water blis-ters of a white color. I was under the care of a doctor for about a month, but he did me no good. I was advised to try Cuticusa remedies, and did so, and it was wonderful what effect they had. The first application stopped that dreadful itching. I slept at once, was cured in four weeks.

London Adbertiser. ESTABLISHED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1863.

Managing Director John Cameron

London, Tuesday, April 24.

Great Britain and Canada. Recent references to Canada in the British journals show that there is not only increased interest in the life of the Dominion, but also a more intelligent interest. We have also to remember that any comments on our political life made in a sympathetic spirit by intelligent Englishmen have the advantage of being given from a a non-partisan point of view. Our friends at home have no desire to interfere in the details of our politics, but they have a perfect right in a friendly spirit to note its general lines, especially in those aspects which bear upon the life of the empire at large.

These reflections are suggested by remarks made recently by the British Empire Review, After referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's great speech, as follows: "Few persons indeed could have remained anmoved by such a display of eloquence as that which we have partially quoted in another column, and Sir Charles Tupper himself seems to have been generous in his praise;" this journal goes on to trace any actual hostility that may exist to British connection in French Canada to the influence of a few European Frenchmen, and then makes the following sensible statement, which is quite in touch with warnings we have given in this journal: "We fear, how- the latter place life and property are ever-and the view is one which has been pressed upon us by well-informed Canadian correspondents-that a section of the British population has not hesitated to utilize the materials of race antagonism for purely partisan ends, by bringing against the French-Canadians a general charge of disloyalty. Englishmen at home, it 4s centain, find something more than difficulty in regarding Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose popularity in this country is exceptional, in such a character, which they would summarily dismiss as mere caricature."

The article then goes on to show how important it is that there should be "a common effort to make renunciation of those disentegrating elements which threaten otherwise to prove fatal to the realization of her ideal as a united nation."

This is an outside view of our position. It is friendly, and while being written from the imperial standpoint, surely recognizes our local point, purely recognizes our local eed, which is to sink all minor difrences in the aim after a common

"Another week of the weary session has drifted by without the work parliament was called to do being visibly forwarded. The Government's idea seems to be that when the country is tired watching it will have a chance to get its jobs through."

How very fair! Is it not the fact that the long speeches being made in the budget debate and on all sorts of side issues, though the misapplication of motions to adjourn by Opposition members, are the causes for the delaying of the business of Parliament? Who makes the large majority of these speeches? Not members of the Government or their supporters, but politicians of the calibre of Mr. Davin, Mr. Bergeron, Mr. Prior and Mr. Taylor. These men might be choked off by the influence of their own leaders, but unless the rules of the House are changed we know of no means whereby their disposition to waste the time of Parliament and to cause great expense to the taxpayers, can be effectively combatted. Nor does the obstructive tactics seem to be ended, for the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto World, another Opposition journal (whose editor is a supporter of Sir Charles Tupper), makes this an-

The fact seems to be that the Oppoedtion in Parliament are afraid of an early general election, and as they know they have no chance of success as their party is at present led, and in the present splendid circumstances of the Dominion, they desire to so squander the time of Parliament that their inevitable discomfiture may be postponed as long as possible. Moreover, a number of these obstructionists know that they will never come back with a Government at their back; 'two of the obstructionists whom we have named barely managed to squeeze in. One was elected by a majority of 3, and the other by the casting vote of the returning officer. Little wonder that with a free election they are now fearful of the coming contest, and desire to keep it off as long as possible. When our Montreal contemporary again essays to criticise the progress of business in Parliament let it, in fairness, condemn the prodigal waste of time in making buncombe motions to adjourn in order to get a chance to talk at large, and in speaking when the speaker has nothing to say that has not already been said by another. If it does so, and its advice is taken by its friends, the Government business which has been on the paper for weeks awaiting the convenience of these long-winded gabsters, will be proceeded with without delay.

Life in the Yukon and at Nome.

Mr. A. R. Fraser, who is described by the Ottawa Citizen as one of the best known men of the Lower Ottawa Valley, is on a visit to the capital after an absence in the Yukon for two years. Mr. Fraser, intenviewed by our contemporary, speaks highly of the mineral wealth of the district surrounding Dawson City, and believes the region has a bright future. The Cape Nome district, about which so much has been written. Mr. Fraser believes will prove very disappointing to the crowds who have gone there. His reasons for reaching this conclusion are important, in view of the attacks which have been made on the Canaian management of the Yukon in certain quarters. Mr. Fraser

"The conditions there are vastly different, as the work has to be done in three months of the year, the climate for the other nine months preventing any attempts at successful mining. Besides it will be a genuine American mining camp where law and order will not be respected as it is in and around Dawson. Why, in as safe as in Ottawa, owing to the excellent administration by Commisioner Ogilvie. Everything in connection with the administration is all that can be desired, and every man gets a square deal from Ogilvie."

This is not the evidence of a Livernash or of one of the alien adventurers who accompanied him to Ottawa, to lobby for an anti-Canadian scheme, but the testimony of a loyal Canadian-a successful business man. It is calculated to afford small comfort to those Canadian politicians who have been endeavoring to cause dispeace on the Yukon and to injure its interests in order that they might bring the officials of the Administration into disrepute. It is all the more necessary that it should have wide publicity, though it cannot be assured that the evil done the Dominion, through the dissemination of falsehoods with regard to the management of the country, can ever be overtaken.

Busy Day in the Ontario House-Mr Latchford's Labor Bureau Bill Gets Second Reading-Many Other Measures Advanced.

Toronto, April 23 .- This afternoon's session of the legislature was taken up in advancing and passing of government measures. The premier's motion calling for morning sessions after Wednesday was concurred in, and those bills were read a third time:

To incorporate Ottawa and Dundas Railway: respecting the town of Prescott and Imperial Starch Company; to incorporate the Queenstown, St. Catharines and Port Dalhousie Electric Railway; respecting the Pacific and Atlantic Railway Company. The Attorney-general moved a number of statute law amendments. One particularly related to the insurance act, and provided that in the case of mutual fire insurance companies the non-payment of any fixed payments subsequent to the first should for-feit or void the policy, if such assessment remained unpaid 30 days after the notification.

The house went into committee on another bill of the attorney-general's to amend the statute law, and after some discussion the committee rose supplementary revenues of the pro-vince, was also given a second read-Mr. Harcourt's bill respecting Upper Canada CoMege; Mr. Stratton's bill, respecting extra provincial corporations, and Mr. Latchford's bill, respect-second time.

Mr. Ross replied that the government were going to send out ten or twelve different parties headed by provincial land surveyors, and containing scientists. They proposed to explore Ontario from Quebec to Manitoba, to gain full knowledge of its mineral and other resources. The house adjourned at 10 o'clock.

For 1900 Will Be 24! Mills on the Dollar.

Many Reductions Were Necessary to Make It Possible.

School Board's Demand for $17,400 for Repairs Refused.

Hospital Trust Will Have to Manage With $12.000-Committees' Funds Will Be Limited-Protest From the Real Estate Owners' Association-Sewer Contracts and Pavements.

The tax rate for 1900 is 241/4 mills on the dollar. It was so decided at last night's special session of the council. Many reductions were made to allow of this rate. The bylaw fixing it was given its third reading and passed. The first clause in No. 2 committee's report was a recommendation to have the members of that committee go to Hamilton to invistigate the tar macadam roads and the method of sewage disposal in that city. Its reading oc casioned the expression of various opinions in regard to this matter, some of the aldermen favoring the scheme suggested, while others thought that brick or macadam should be laid. The tar macadam could be put down for 76 cents per square yard. The discussion ended in the passage of a mo-tion to leave the matter over until the costs of the different roads is ascertained. The committee's award of contracts for sewers was confirmed, with the exception of the contract for laying the sewer on York street, between Colborne and Burwell streets. It was awarded to Harding & Leathorn, in-dead of John Walters, who claimed to have made a mistake of $100.

A delegation from the Real Estate

Owners' Association, consisting of Messrs. Charles Taylor, Wm. D. Buckle, John Christie, George Taylor, Wm. Hayman, John M. Parsons, W. H. Ferguson and others, was present urge economy in city expenditure. Ex-Mayor George Taylor impressed the fact upon the council, and said that in his opinion a rate of 23 mills would be a serious blow to the city. The aldermen should put their shoulder to the wheel and bring the rate down to 21 or 2116 mill

Mr. Buckle expressed the opinion that the city was over-policed, a matter into which Mayor Rumball should look; and also that the hospital was a white elephant. Expenses in both departments should be curtailed. At the commencement of the consideration of No. 2 committee's estimates, Ald. Jolly said that the may-or's action in holding the meeting in the afternoon was, in the speaker's estimation, a slur upon No. 1 com-mittee; and he was informed, in reply, by Mayor Rumball, that he had a perfect right to consult any aldermen he saw fit.

In answer to a statement previously made, Ald. Winnett explained that even if the rate were 2414 mills the taxpayers here would still be paying less than those of Hamilton or To-ronto, although the latter's rate was lower. In these places everything was done by frontage tax. As an evidence of his committee's economy, he point-ed out that its expenditure for the months past was $2,047 less than was paid out last year in the same time.

Ald. Winder asked if the chairmen of committees were not getting a pe centage, and he was scathed by the mayor in reply. It was a disgrace, he

You who suffer from indigestion, just realize what your condition is. Your food ferments and decays, filling you up with impurities and noxious gases, which hasten forward age and decay. Any practised eye recognizes your condition by your dull eyes, with their yellowed whites, your muddy skin and pimples, unwholesome fips and fetid breath. Try Karl's Clover Root Tea, and see if you will not feel new life surging in your veins! Your eyes will brighten, the whites clearing up and the fris sparkling; your headache and your pimples disappear—and why? Because you are all clean within! Messrs. S. C. Wells & Colourn St. Toronto, Ont. Gentlemen: I used three packages of Karl's Clover Root Tea with eminent success. My face was covered with red pimples, my complexion was yellow and skin ofly, caused, I believe, by long chronic constipation. I entirely recovered, and now have a clear, brilliant complexion.

of his injuries. His face was badly cut, one eye was injured, and four teeth knocked out.

-Charles Johnson, of the famous Johnson family of counterfeiters, died at the Columbus, Ohio, prison Satur-day. Johnson was 63 years of age. His remains were taken to the home of his sister-in-law, in Detroit, whence the funeral took place yesterday after-noon. The arrest of the Johnson gang, the principal members of which were captured in Toronto, created a great deal of interest all over the continent at the time.

-Mile. Antoinette Trebelli, the renowned soprano who will sing in the Auditorium on Friday evening, created great enthusiasm at the grand concert given in Massey Music Hall last even-ing. The Mail and Empire of today says the following: The pure woman-liness of Mlle. Trebelli's singing, as much as her exquisite flexible voice, and her charm of expression, makes her the great artist she is. She wins instant sympathy and liking by her unaffected bearing. By request she sang "A fors a lul," from "Il Travi-ata," and as an encore she gave a laughing song. Her laugh is as de-lightful as her singing, and the audience laughed with her, and applauded and laughed again. In "My Dearest Love is Far Away," another encore, Mile, rebelli chose a song perfectly adapted to show her voice to the best possible advantage. Her warbling is as musical and unrestrained as that of a bird, and, to carry the simile a trifle further, like a bird hopping from bough to bough, her voice leaps from octave to octave.

THEY ARE DENTISTS NOW.

The board of directors of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ontario met in annual session last evening at Toronto, and the results of the senior examinations were handed out. The following Londoners have been admitted to the degree of Licentiate of Dental Surgery: Messrs. O. I. Cunning-ham, Roland Jarvis, Fred Percy Moore, Alfred E. Santo and C. Windsor. TENDERS TOO HIGH.

A committee of the separate school board met last night and opened tenders for a new two-room brick schoolhouse at the southeast corner of Cathcart and Duchess streets, South London. The committee decided not to award the contract, as all the tenders exceeded by $1,000 or $1,500 the anticipated cost, which was in the neighborhood of $3,000. The committee will not do anything in the matter for some months, when they hope to secure more favorable prices for the erection of the building.

"LA TOSCA" THURSDAY. To that portion of the theater-going community who still retain some appreciation for good plays and good acting, the announcement of the appearance of Melbourne MacDowell and Blanche Walsh, in Sardou's great play, "La Tosca," at the Opera House next Thursday evening, is sure to excite pleasurable anticipation.

"La Tosca" may justly be regarded as a typical production of modern French dramatic art, and a notable example of the work of the great artist who created the play. A characteristic feature, belonging both to art and artist, is the intellectual courage, not to say rashness, which permits the human emotions, complicated by events, to work out to their logical and appalling conclusion.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT

Wm. Turville Passes Away, Aged 90

Year-Sketch of His Busy Career. This morning the death occurred of Wm. Turville, who was one of London's oldest and most widely known residents. Mr. Turville had been in failing health for some time, and his death was not altogether unexpected. He was born in Hartley Mauditt, near Alton, Hampshire, England, on March 20, 1811. and was in his 90th year. In 1832 he married, and a yea rlater came to Canada with his wife and brother Daniel. He first settled in St. Thomas, where he entered the employ of the late Judge Ermatinged, and later he followed the occupation of a miller first built and carried on a mill in Malahide township, then came to London township, where he built two mills, one the Medway mill and the other the Hartley mill. He continued in the milling business till his retirement in 1875. When Mr. Turville first came to London railroads were unknown in Canada, and the journey was made by ox teams. His wife died in 1876, and he returned to England, and in 1878 married Miss Alexander, of Hampshire, who survives him. He leaves three sons, Daniel, William and George, a num-ber of grandchildren and four greatgrandchildren. Mr. Turville constant attendant at St. Paul's Cathedral for over 54 years. He was a man of kindly, estimable character, and his death will be a matter of sincere regret to all who knew him

LONDON'S ARMORY

Quartermaster-General Foster, of Ottawa. Will Look Over the Praposed Sites Today.

There is every prospect that the erection of the new armories will be commenced at no very distant date. Quartermaster-General Foster, of the C. P. R. at 5:10 o'clock tonight. He will stay over until 8:25 o'clock. His purpose is to look over the proposed sites. The building of armories is under the control of his department, and it is to satisfy himself of the suitableness of the location and lot that he is making a personal inspection. At present Col. Holmes, D. O. C., is taking a holiday, and in his absence Gen. Foster will be met by the acting D. O. C., Major Galloway. In company with Lieut.-Col. Smith they will look at the properties suggested. Gen. Foster has been out west on leave of absence.

BUSINESS SESSION

Work of the Ecumenical Conference on Foreign Mission.

New York, April 24.-The first business session of the Ecumenical Council Conference on Foreign Missions began simultaneously yesterday at 9:30 o'clock, in Carnegie Hall and the Central Presbyterian Church, when addresses were given on the work in various mission fields, and methods discussed. At Carnegie Hall, at 10 o'clock today, the regular morning service of the conference was begun by Bishop E. G. Andrews, of New York. Bishop M. Thorburn, of India delivered an address on the subject of the "Character and importance of evangelical work and the conditions for success.' Then followed a symposium on evangelistic work, in which the Rev. W. Oldham, of Malaysia, N. L. Gordon, M.D., D.D., who has for many years been conducting evangelistic work in Japan; the Rev. Henry B. Richards, and the Rev. Dr. J. lor, Hamilton, took part. Following these addresses there was a discussion of the different topics by the dele-

DEATH OF DR. HALEY, M.P. Ottawa, Monday, April 23. — Dr. Haley, M.P., died at the Russell House at 1:50 a.m. Allen Haley was born at Yarmouth, N. S., in 1844. He was a ship owner, insurance agent and bro-ker. From 1882 to June, 1896, he sat in the Nova Scotia Legislature, when he resigned, and was elected to parliament for Hants county in the Liberal interests, at a general election in 1896, by a majority of 35, over the Conservative candidate, Alf. Putnam.

Sir Charles Tupper Against the Pref erential Tariff. [From Events.]

The fact is Laurier has done something, Sir Charles recognizes that he has done something, and that what he has done is appreciated. Therefore Sir Charles is anxious for party reasons to discredit all that Laurier has done, and try to make the people believe that he could have secured something better. I do not believe he could, and I think that it is the knowledge of his own limitations in this direction that makes him so bitter against the preferential tariff.

Her head dropped, her voice lost its hauteur; for once the woman's true heart spoke from her kips. She had married the man she loved, she had attained the position her heart desired, and yet her soul was heavy within hert. the greatest and sweetest of all gifts was denied her—she had no child.

The whole soul of the woman she had wronged softened toward her; the plaintive sadness of those few words disarmed her. "I have no children." She, the mother, dead in life, could even afford to pity her, for she had a healthy, noble

Then, with gracious words and adieus, Lady Beatrice took her leave. Mrs. Rivers was becoming used to these interviews now, and the shock of them was not so great. There came a day when her strength was even yet more severely tried. Visitors at the Castle wished to see Lady Selwyn's model school, and she, nothing loath to receive the praises she knew they would elicit, gladly arranged for the whole party to drive over in the morn-

It was the first time Mrs. Rivers had seen Lord and Lady Selwyn together. Despite her own sorrow and her own prominent part in the tragedy, she "We are all so pleased," he said.
Lady Beatrice has a beautiful little son, so that I have a brother now, and I mean to love him with all my could not refrain from watching them. Before the unfortunate coldness arose between them which led to their separation, her husband's manner had been to her all that was most tender and kind. He had used sweet, caressing words in speaking to her; he liked to have her near him; he liked either to clasp the little white hand in his own, or to feel it resting on his arm. He called her Violante, and the name used to fall like usic from his lips. Plainly enough saw that his conduct to Lady Be rice was very different. He never 'aid "Beatrice," or "My Wife;" he gave her always her full title; he did not linger by her side, or use pretty, caressing names to her; he did not seem anxious that her hand should be on his arm. He was scrupulously polite, attentive and deferential to her; but there was no love either in his eyes as they rested upon her, or on his lips as they spoke to her. Remembering what he had been to her, Mrs. Rivers could not help seeing the truth, and the truth that, kind and attentive, polished and deferential as was his manner to Lady Beatrice, he did not love her. He stood by and looked pleased while the visitors praised the schools; he seemed proud of his wife, and of the good works she had done; but the watcher saw where his heart lay-it was with his son. She saw that all the love he had once felt for her had fallen on their child. His heart shone in his eyes at every word he addressed to the boy; the smile, that made his cace so beautiful, came over it every time Rupert addressed him.

The visit was a long one; the children were required to exhibit all their accomplishments. They had to sing and to recite. Lord Selwyn stood in silence, watching the soft, graceful movements of the dark-robed figure watching the tender, caressing touch of the white hands on the curly heads, wondering much about her, and the silent sorrow of hers. Once, looking up suddenly, he found her eyes fixed upon him, and he wondered again at the crimson blush that seemed to burn

Long after they, the visitors, had gone, she stood leaning out of the window where the woodbines saying over and over again to herself "He has married her. He has put her in my place; but he does not love her as he loved me."

Then came a long interval, during which she saw nothing of Lady Beatrice. My lady was not well. Selwyn 'thought a change would be beneficial to her. So they went away to the pretty estate in Scotland, Hudson Hall, the boy Rupert remaining with his tutor at the Castle, for Lady Beatrice declared herself far too unwell to bear any noise.

And during that time Rupert went often to the cottage. He could not explain how or why, but he grew warmly attached to the gentle, patient lady, who always seemed so delighted to see him; who petted him and coaxhim as no other woman had ever done; who listened with loving eager-ness by the hour together of his studrecreations and his father They did not often mention Lady Beatrice; neither of them liked her, but would not speak evil of her, only that at times Rupert, who was gifted with a grand sense of humor and talent for mimicry, would give a smar epecimen of my lady in one of "tantrums." So the summer and the autumn passed, and she, sweet, simple was so happy with her son that a faint color returned to her face, and

I have had inquiry as to the manner It in which we conducted our canvass. It cent prattle, the amusing ways. It in which we conducted our canvass. It was a delight to him to think that was as follows: I asked the ministers more he should hold a baby boy of the churches to announce a meeting in his arms, once more teach baby and to attend it; a number of leading lips to speak. And if he was pleased men in the district took the trouble to be present, and after an address or two She had not the tenderness that they discussed the best way of gaining distinguished Violante; her heart did the sympathy and help of the public, not overflow with love for the help-less, innocent child in her arms. Many a man who seldom enters a church will give to this She could never endure to see Rup-cause liberally. Fair contributions ert near the child. If he went to kiss come from those from whom least is expected. Every dollar available, but the little face, or stroke the tiny hand, unasked, means the death of a child; would invariably find some preevery heart untouched a spring of life though Rupert noticed it, he inherited unopened his mother's generous disposition, and

I appeal to my breathren in the ministry, as those to whom, in a matter of this sort, the community generally looks to take the initiative. I appeal upon no other authority than greatness of the need, the willingness of the people, the practicability of the canvass, and the belief that hand is in the movement. Whether as men, subject of the empire, Canadians or Christians, let us bend ourselves to the task of saving men's lives by the gathering and the faithful use of the unrighteous mammon. Then the toiler shall eat his bread and sow his grain with a lighter heart; and a better conscience; and "God, even our own God, shall bless us."

In conclusion, let me again commend the organized canvass to public consideration. It means a day's hard work for a few, but the result is sure and speedy; $400 for two-fifths would mean $1,000 for the township. How much for the county? Whatever is done certainly ought to be taken in hand immediately. This is one of those cases in which "he gives double who gives quickly." Mrs. Wm. Day's case is one more positive proof of the permanency of the cures struction Skinner. this remedy makes.

The country is full of dyspepsia cures. They're like Jonah's gourd—spring up in a night and vanish in a night. There's nothing of a permanent or stable character either about these remedies themwelves, or the cure they make.

Now Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market more than twenty years. It has cured thousands of the worst cases of dyspepsia and cured them to stay cured.

Take this case of Mrs. Wm. Day, of Fort William, Ont. In the year 1894 her kusband wrote the fol-"Two years ago my wife was very God's ill with dyspepsia. None of the many ther as remedies she tried gave her any relief.

Finally she tried Burdock Blood Bitters and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. That is now more than two years ago and she has had no return of the malady. I also have had occasion to use B.B.B. and I cannot speak too highly in its favor. I always recommend it tomy friends and ia every case with good results

(Signed) Wm. Day.
Now the following letter which has been recently received shows how permanent the cure made in 1892 has been: I must say with pleasure that my wife after being cured of dyspepsia in the year 1892 by taking Burdock Blood Bitters, never had the slightest return of it for more than four years, when she thought she had symptoms of the old trouble, and to make sure that there would be no recurrence she took a bottle of B.B.B. That settled the matter, for her stomach never gave her the slightest inconvenience. and to-day she is enjoying the best of health (Signed) Wm. Day.

While engaged in the lumber business, about fourteen years ago, I was on top of a pile of lumber about 86 feet high, when it fell, precipitating me to the ground. Some of the lumber fell on my ankle and sprained it worse than if it had been broken. It has troubled me more or less ever since. When getting in and out of my wagon I had to use my wall foot entirely. I got a bottle of Doyle's Linimens and after using two-thirds of the bottle, my ankle is as wall as ever it was. Furthermore, my horse ras away, and being hitched toe short the axletree hit her heels, and scraped the skin off. I used the Liniment and in a few days they were healed up. Newburn, Hamilton.

After the luxurious spread provided had been disposed of, the toast list was proceeded with. Chairman Essery, in introducing the foast of "The Queen," dirst referred pithiyy and wittily toj the various speakers who were to follow. He then asked all to join in drinking the health of that glorious monarch, that monarch to whom all other great monarchs of the world had to kneet and say, "Grandma, please may we come in the back door?" The toast of "The Queen" was then drunk with great enthusiasm and the "National Anthem" was sung.

The next toast was that of "The President of the United States," and with it was coupled the name of Col. Culver, the popular United States consul to London. In rising to reply, Col. Culver first expressed his pleasure at being present, and assured his hearers that so pleasant had been his residence in London that, if he ever decided to emigrate from the United States, should certainly settle here. He had often thought that if he were not an American, he would prefer to be a Canadian. Wonderful changes had occurred in the world since the last oc-casion on which he had sat with them. Both England and the United States by the United States and England could ADJOURNED VESTRY MEETINGS. not be carried out without criticism, At St. Matthew's Church, East Lon-but despite criticism, such wars must be carried to a completion. Speaking of the American nation as such, and John H. Phillips was re-elected people's tion in saying that they, in common warden and Mr. Richard P. Wright with the president William McKinley were heart and soul with the British Empire in their fight for liberty in South Africa. There were men in the both countries a very inconsiderable part of the population. The speaker then quoted Bishop Hartzel, of the Methodist Church in South Africa, to the effect that the Boers once believed that the natives had no souls, and still believe that they should be kept in slavery. The supremacy of the Dutch system in South Africa means slavery; that of the British system means liberty. "I know that the heart and brain of the United States is with Great Britain," the speaker concluded.

Vice-President Barons introduced the toast of "The Day We Celebrate." Rev. Dr. Saunders, in responding, said that perhaps never were the days of the various patron saints celebrated with more animation than now. When the First Lady of our empire had led the way on St. Patrick's Day by wearing a big bunch of shamrock, the rest of the empire had deemed it an honor to to follow her example, and thereby repire. This celebration of St. George's Day was the celebration of the patron saint of chivalry and bravery. The speaker's memory went back to the days of the first awarding of the Victoria Cross in 1857. General Roberts, he said, had won this coveted decoration no less than three times, while General Buller had won it twice. The world was looking forward to the time when the shackles of slavery

It was unhealthy to tell Press," were heartily drunk, and the a Saxon to get off the earth, and the gathering broke up at an early hour Boers in South Africa were finding it so now. He believed the British were on the verge of final victory, which would establish British supremacy from the Cape to Cairo. The present war had done more than anything else to make a reality the dream of a united empire. Canada was now being recognized in the mother country as a most important part of the "vaster empire than has been." The speaker next spoke are troubled with a tumor, and want in glowing terms of Col. Otter, and the to know if our treatment is equally in glowing terms of Col. Otter, and the brave Canadian boys at the front. There

J. W. McIntosh then sang "Her Majesty," and responded to an en-

Joseph Gibson, of Ingersoll, followed in response to the same toast. Col. Culver had said England had been making history at a rapid rate. When the present war was over there would be two so-called republics less in the world. Imperial federation, which was today so near realization, was once scoffed at as a dream; but what people dreamed about was generally what they were thinking of, and what earnest people thought of they acted upon. The speaker then proceeded to give a birdseye view of the events leading up to the war. In 1884 the Boer parliament had declared that equal rights should be accorded to all, and passed a law granting uitlanders the franchise after a year's residence. Before the year was up they met again and extended the period of residence to two years more, and before this time was reached they again met and made the period fourteen years, clearly indicating that they had no intention of ever granting the franchise. The speaker did not wonder at the war, but at the patience of the British people. In one year the Boer Government had taken from the witlanders £65,000 for education, and gave back to them a pittance of £650 for a separate school, the most of the balance of the money going to buy cannon and guns to fight the British. The speaker concluded by drawing a glowing picture of the British Empire, its resources and the spirit which underlies and makes possible its greatness, and expressed the belief that it would long continue a blessing to its own people and a godsend to mankind. The toast of "The Army, Navy and Volunteers" was introduced by ex-President R. A. Jones, and eloquently responded to by Rev. Canon Dann. The army, navy and volunteers, he said, needed very little reply from him, as they were replying for themselves. He was a minister of peace, but the best way to have peace was to be ready for war, and while tyranny and slavery exist a minister of peace must be ready to call for fighting. He was pleased especially that the speakers of the evening were not talking only of England, but of Great Britain and the British Empire. Ireland and Scotland and the colonies want to be with England in her fights. Speaking of the Canadian boys, he had it on credible authority that when Cronje looked out from his fortifications, and saw the Canadians, he asked his aide, "Who are those fine-looking fellows?" "That's the Royal Canadian Regiment, sir." "Then it's all up! Put up the white flag." Let England but step forward half-way and she would find Ireland and her sister countries ready to step more than half-way. Let all past differences be put aside, and let all go forward as the British Empire. And wherever the cause of truth is to be maintained or liberty espoused, the Anglo-Saxon race will be found hand in hand.

R. A. Galpin rendered a song. and W. C. Coo, in the uniform of the Governor-General's Body Guards, gave a number of interesting reminiscences of Gen. Ofter and Col. Buchan.

"The Senate, House of Commons and Local Legislature" were ably responded to by P. H. Bartlett and J. W. Jones and T. Treleaven favored the gathering with a song.

"Canada, Our Home," was responded to by W. H. Bartram and Philip E. McKenzie, who paid a graceful tribute to the Irish race, and Wm. Wanless,
