City Can Secure Large Grants for Elimination of Level Crossings From Dominion Railway Commission—Provincial Secretary Picked for Next Premier, if Conservatives Win—Drunk Rescued From Perilous Bed on Rails of G. T. R.—Graduation of Victoria Nurses.

CITY CAN SECURE GOVERNMENT AID FOR ITS SUBWAYS

By Application to Railway Commission $5,000 For Each of Three Subways Is Available.

PROVISIONS UNDER DOMINION ACT

Sections of Bill Construed Into Allowing Possibility of Great Relief From Present Level Crossing Congestion.

According to information given out at the city hall, there are sections in the Dominion railway act, under which the city of London might apply to the Dominion Railway Commission for relief from its grade crossing nuisances and get at least $5,000 from the Government for each of three subways in London.

The act specifies that $5,000 is the limit on any one crossing, and no municipality shall be entitled to more than three crossings with Government aid.

In the opinion of city officials, who have followed the matter quite closely, London should select three crossings where it is intending to locate subways and proceed with the work of bringing application for the Government aid in such cases, the cost of the subways to the city will practically be reduced to a maximum of about $10,000 for each crossing, these figures being, of course, on the theory that the railroads, and the street railway, where it is affected, will be apportioned their share of the expense.

About Half Cost For City.

Upon these figures it is claimed that subways for London will cost the city only about half of the total amount expended.

There are subways now on Wharncliffe road and Wexford road in London South. Other streets where crossings are needed are Ridout, Richmond, Clarence, Rectory, and Adelaide streets. The C. P. R. has a crossing on Richmond street which it is figured would cost much to change into a subway because it could be easily excavated. The main thing, it is argued, is to have the city agree on three crossings and then push the demand for Government aid.

Sections of the Act.

The railway act providing for Government aid reads as follows, chapter 32, section 7:

The sum of two hundred thousand dollars each year for five consecutive years from the first day of April, 1909, shall be appropriated and set apart from the consolidated revenue fund for the purpose of aiding in the providing by actual construction work of protection, safety and convenience of the public in respect of highway crossings of the railway at rail level, in existence on the said last day of April.

The said sum shall be placed to the credit of a special account to be known as the railway grade crossing fund, and shall be applied by the board, subject to the limitations hereinafter set out, solely toward the cost (not including that of maintenance and operation) of actual construction work.

This applies to London. The total amount of money to be apportioned and directed and ordered by the board to be payable from any such annual appropriation shall not in the case of any one crossing exceed twenty per cent of the cost of the actual construction work in providing such safety, convenience and protection, and shall not in any such case exceed the sum of $5,000, and no such money shall in any one year be applied to more than three crossings in any one municipality or more than one in any one crossing.

A plan for working out the scheme of selecting three crossings and asking for Government aid to build subways may be worked out at the next meeting of the council. Some of the aldermen favored going to the railway commission at the last meeting, but the matter was put over pending a report from the city solicitor. The latter has advised against any action at this time. Alderman W. A. Wilson is chairman of a special committee which is to bring in a report on subways at the next meeting, and it is expected the whole subject will be opened for discussion again.

SIR JOHN GIBSON TO BE AT SCHOOL PICNIC JUNE 4

Lieutenant-Governor Coming to Attend Opening of Byron Preventorium.

TO BE GUEST OF MR. BECK Expect 8,000 Children in Line With Waving Flags to Greet Visitor.

There will be fifteen thousand persons at the public school picnic to be given at Springbank Park on Thursday, June 4, according to figures compiled by Inspector of Schools C. B. Edwards and Trustee W. T. Strong. Of this number eight thousand will be school children, who will be lined up in a long line with waving flags to welcome Sir John Gibson, lieutenant-governor, and Hon. Adam Beck, together with other distinguished visitors who will go to the park in the afternoon.

Lieutenant-Governor Coming. Lieutenant-Governor Gibson and party will be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Beck. Sir John comes especially to attend the opening of the Preventorium at Queen Alexandra Sanatorium across the river from Springbank. Both the school picnic and the opening of the preventorium are to take place on June 4, although the school authorities did not think they would be so fortunate as to have the Lieutenant-Governor at the picnic.

Plan Auto Parade. It is planned to escort him there with a long automobile band. The Seventh Regiment Band will lead the parade at Springbank. The afternoon will be devoted to a long program of sports, under the direction of W. T. Strong, who has successfully conducted these affairs for several years. Inspector Edwards says it will be the biggest thing of the year in school life, and those who don't go will certainly miss something.

SEARCH OF THE PILOT REVEALS A BIG PLOT

[Canadian Press.] Port of Spain, Trinidad, May 27.—Reliable information has reached here that upon the arrival at Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela, of the river steamer Delta from Trinidad, the pilot was searched, and upon him were found secret communications from Gen. Jose Manuel Hernandez, the Venezuelan revolutionary leader, to his adherents there, indicating the intention of forcing the merchants of Ciudad Bolivar to contribute about $250,000 for military operations.

The chief justice and several prominent military officials are said to have been implicated. The justice has disappeared, but several of the others have been imprisoned, pending instructions from Caracas.

Gen. Hernandez, who had been living at Port of Spain, left here on May 24 for an unknown destination, but it is believed he had gone to Venezuela.

Drunk Removed From G.T.R. Tracks Last Night by Station Employees Only a Few Minutes Before Train Passes Over

But for the station employees of the Grand-Trunk, Herbert Chessmith, discharged in police court this morning on a charge of being drunk, would likely have been killed by the 12:05 flier from Sarnia last night. Less than five minutes before the train was due the man was found lying at full length across the rails and ties, insensible from drink, and unable to move.

From his position, he was lying on the north track, beside the Tecumseh House,

GOVERNMENT WILL FIGHT ADMISSION OF HINDUS TO END

Depositors of Banque St. Jean Ask for Same Treatment as Farmers' Bank.

HUGHES REPORT COMING

Hon. William Pugsley Offers Another Protecting Amendment to C. N. R. Bill.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Ont., May 27.—The Government has decided to fight the admission of the ship load of Hindus to the final appeal in the last court. In Parliament this morning Hon. Mr. Oliver asked about the consignment from India. Premier Borden told him that they were still there or thereabouts.

Mr. Oliver wanted to know what the Government proposed to do if habeas corpus proceedings were taken to secure their release from custody, and their admission to the country.

Premier Borden stated that the country would be represented whenever proceedings were resorted to.

Depositors Petition. Depositors of the defunct Banque St. Jean want the treatment which is to be given the depositors of the Farmers' Bank.

This morning Speaker Sproule read a petition from them asking Parliament to pay them. The Speaker stated the petition could not be received, because it was an application for money, and money matters had to originate with the Government.

Hughes' Report. J. J. Hughes, of Prince Edward Island, asked the Hon. Col. Sam Hughes, of the militia department, when he was going to publish a report of his trip to Europe. He said that he did not want any other colonel to get ahead of Col. Hughes, and would therefore call his attention to the fact that Col. Roosevelt was just back from Brazil and was about to publish a report of his exploits.

The Minister of Militia said that the report of his trip would be printed, and that when it was, each member of Parliament and ex-Parliament officers would receive a copy.

Another Amendment. Hon. William Pugsley offered another protecting amendment to the Canadian Northern resolution. The securities of the subsidiary companies has given the Opposition considerable concern.

The Government's resolution provides that none of them can issue more stock without the consent of the Governor-General in Council. The amendment offered by Dr. Pugsley makes it necessary to obtain the consent of Parliament before subsidiary companies can issue more stock.

Proposal Defeated. The committee of 10 o'clock reached a vote upon Dr. Pugsley's proposal, and it was defeated by 25 to 64. W. F. Maclean, R. B. Bennett and W. F. Nickle voted with the Opposition.

M'DONALD FIGHTS IN NEW RIDING

Liberals Cheer Denunciation of Gerrymander That Robbed Him of His Old Seat in County.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Winton, Ont., May 27.—William McDonald, M.P.P. of Chesley, who was gerrymandered out of his seat on the Centre Bruce, was the unanimous choice of the Liberals of North Bruce at a splendid convention held here today.

Delegates from every part of the riding were present and the greatest interest was taken in the splendid fighting speeches given by the candidate and Mr. C. W. Bowman, M.P.P. North Bruce.

Their denunciations to the gerrymander were greeted with rounds of applause. Mr. McDonald is confident of being returned by a large majority.

DECIDING THE BRAZIL AND PERU BOUNDARY

English Officer Reaches New York After Completing Half of 10,000 Mile Trip.

[Canadian Press.] New York, May 27.—Lieut.-Col. A. J. Woodroffe, of the British Royal Engineers, is in New York awaiting the sailing of a vessel for Manaus, Brazil, having completed one-half of his 10,000-mile journey from Lima, Peru. With five other engineers, Lieut.-Col. Woodroffe was sent to Brazil and Peru to definitely decide the boundary between the two countries.

He explained today that the boundary was being defined by sighting the stars instead of the sun.

MEDIATORS OFF TO THE DUCAL GARDEN PARTY AT TORONTO

Guests of Sir John Gibson to Meet the Governor-General.

AN ENCOURAGING SIGN

Washington Thinks This Shows Probability of Rapid, Harmonious Developments.

[Canadian Press.] Niagara Falls, Ont., May 27.—The mediation body, composed of the South American envoys and the American and Mexican delegates, suspended their work here today to attend a garden party of the Governor-General of Canada, his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, the Duchess and the Princess Patricia. Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, is to be the host.

The mediation body, composed of the South American envoys and the American and Mexican delegates, suspended their work here today to attend a garden party of the Governor-General of Canada, his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, the Duchess and the Princess Patricia. Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, is to be the host.

As the party left for Toronto for a day of rest, the first break from almost continuous labor, it was evident that all were highly optimistic and confident of a successful outcome of the conference.

With the land question satisfactorily adjusted, the mediators and delegates were concentrating their attention on the exact manner in which a new provisional government might be set up to succeed the present regime.

That General Huerta has formally indicated his willingness to abide by the program thus far outlined here is no longer doubted. The effort now is to arrange for a change of executives in a dignified manner. The mediation conference, in all probability, will not choose a provisional president. This will have to be done by the Mexico City Government itself.

Withdrawal Possible. Washington, May 27.—Official dispatches sent from Mexico City and received at a diplomatic source here today says, the "withdrawal" of Huerta is "possible," and added that it is being debated by the necessity of arrangements to permit the dictator to abdicate with dignity.

BAND CONCERTS WILL COMMENCE NEXT WEEK

When the board of control meets on Friday the members will undoubtedly map out a program for the band concert this summer. Appropriation has already been made for the concerts and there will be as many this year as last. The question was scheduled to come up before this, but was crowded out by other matters.

The first concert will probably be given in Victoria Park on June 2nd, although no dates have been fixed as yet.

PANKHURST "HUNGER STRIKE" SUCCESSFUL

[Canadian Press.] London, May 27.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, was again released from Holloway jail today suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike." She had refused to eat from the moment of her arrest during last week's strike by the suffragettes on Buckingham Palace, when they tried to carry a petition to King George.

HANNA WILL BE THE NEXT PREMIER IF PEOPLE AGAIN ELECT WHITNEY GOVT. DEFEATS ADAM BECK IN FIGHT FOR POST

Tried to Shriek; Forgot Peanut and Then Choked

Little Louise Tull, aged two and a half years, 193 Central avenue, went last week to visit some friends in South London. The friends had a little girl about the same age, but she did not have a dolly like Louise.

Louise was fondly cuddling dolly in her arms and eating a peanut. The little hostess took no notice of the peanut, but wanted with all the might of her little girl's heart, the beautiful dolly that her visitor had.

"I don't have your dolly for a minute!" she pleaded. "No," said Louise firmly, catching her doll closer. And then the mothers don't know just how it happened, but the little girl who wanted the dolly made a grab for it. Little Miss Tull gasped an intake of breath for a shriek, and then started to choke. She forgot the peanut. A piece of it got far back in her throat, and the doctor says if it has not gone yet, it will not be dangerous, but it scared Louise and Mrs. Tull for a while.

CARPENTERS MAY START GENERAL STRIKE JUNE 1

Demand for Increased Wages Has Not Been Met—Masons Affected, Too.

Although the 1st of June, set by the carpenters and masons, as the final day of acceptance of their demands of increased wages, is only several days away, there are few indications, if any, as to whether these demands will be met by local contractors and other employers. Both the carpenters and masons have been steadily improving their organization and will, it is claimed, be in a position to effect a pretty general strike if their demands are not met or a compromise is at least effected with them.

According to organizer P. H. Phillipin of the carpenters and secretary H. Rymill of the masons, no understanding has as yet been reached between the men and their employers. Whether next Monday will see a general walkout or whether peace will be patched up between now and then remains to be seen.

ROCKEFELLER PLEADS PHYSICAL UNFITNESS

Considers Attempts to Bring Him Before Interstate Commission an Annoyance.

[Canadian Press.] New York, May 27.—William Rockefeller has returned to Tarrytown from Fairfield, Conn. Through friends it was said today that Mr. Rockefeller insists that he is not physically able to testify before the Interstate Commerce Commission; that his voice will not permit him to go on the stand, and so he considers attempts to gain his testimony an annoyance. If anyone is to be subpoenaed for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, Mr. Rockefeller believes that it should be the auditors and bookkeepers, who know the details of the questions asked under inquiry by the commission.

Provincial Secretary, Whose Conduct Had Much to Do With Illness of Sir James, Forces Way to Honor.

ON SPEAKING TOUR TO TRY TO SQUARE SELF WITH ELECTORS

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, May 27.—If the Conservatives are returned to power at the next election, Hon. W. J. Hanna, at present provincial secretary, will be the next premier.

A return to power will give the Government so much confidence that Mr. Hanna will be placed in succession to Sir James Whitney despite the protests of Hon. Adam Beck. While Mr. Beck is not on speaking terms with Sir James, Hanna is known to oppose the Provincial Secretary, he is about the only cabinet man in the House who is not in complete accord with the Sarnia lawyer. Sir James finds he must favor Hanna also, although he has been greatly chagrined because of the unsavory charges made against the Provincial Secretary.

In His Dilemma. While Sir James was ill in New York, the newspapermen who were in the same hotel, learned from the physicians and those in attendance on Sir James that the Premier in his delirium constantly referred to the Proudfoot charges, and in some measure his illness was attributed to the manner in which these charges preyed upon his mind.

Sir James Whitney was anxious to bring his Government through to the end without scandals being revealed. While he was in the hospital, the charges made against him in the Proudfoot matter, the Proudfoot incident, and the matter of his connection with the Imperial Oil Company, which is a branch of the Standard Oil Company in Canada.

When challenged with his connection with Standard Oil, Mr. Hanna publicly declared that the company had no connection whatever with the Standard Oil Company. A few days later in a suit brought in the State of Ohio to dissolve the Standard in that state, it was made a matter of record that the Imperial Oil Company was one of the subsidiary companies of the Standard Oil Company.

Force Party Take Him. Mr. Hanna has failed to inspire confidence on any issue he has touched. But he has the personal strength to force himself upon the Conservative party as the next premier unless the Liberals are able to win the battle.

AVIATOR HAMEL IS SAFELY IN BRITAIN

Given Up by Admiralty, He Is Picked Up by Fishing Boat, Driven Out of Her Course.

[Canadian Press.] Newcastle, Eng., May 27.—The Evening Mail says that Gustav Hamel, the British aviator, who had been given up for lost in the English Channel, landed today from a fishing boat at South Shields.

The fishing boat which saved Hamel was a foreign vessel, which had been driven out of her course, and this caused the delay in information as to rescue of the aviator.

Hamel left Le Crotoy, France, on Saturday morning in a new machine, flying to Hendon, England. As he did not arrive, it was supposed that he had met with an accident while crossing the English Channel, and a swarm of torpedo boats spent several days in searching for traces of the missing aviator.

Last night the British admiral announced that it had reluctantly suspended the search and had abandoned all hope for Hamel's safety.

Hamel, a few days ago, had announced his intention of attempting to cross the Atlantic in an aeroplane next fall.

VICTORIA NURSES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Graduating Class of '14 Have Annual Exercises in the Normal School.

WELCOMED TO ALUMNAE Graduates Received Into Membership—Eighth Annual Meeting.

Twenty-seven nurses of Victoria Hospital received their graduation diplomas this afternoon at the hands of Lieut. Col. W. M. Cartshore, chairman of the Hospital Trust, after they had taken the famous Florence Nightingale pledge, couched in the following words: "I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug.

I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession, and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping, and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling.

With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

MAKES A PLEA FOR INDIGENT

T. G. Turnbull Wants Government Aid For Discharged Hospital Patients.

The question of providing for indigent patients after they are discharged from Victoria Hospital will be brought to the attention of the county council at its session next week by T. G. Turnbull, of Komoka, the county representative on the hospital trust, and he will urge that the Government be asked to increase its grant.

"When a prisoner leaves the prison farm at Guelph," said Mr. Turnbull to The Advertiser, "he is given $5 and a suit of clothes. In many instances these men who receive this aid are, comparatively speaking, undesirable. At Victoria Hospital there are scores of cases where a little money given to those who have been in for a long time, are destitute and unable to work and have no money to reach friends, would be real charity. I have known in many cases where the members of the trust have helped unfortunate cases of this kind. There are so many that all cannot be assisted, but if the Government can provide for the prison farm it certainly ought to be able to provide in such worthy cases as these. If the present grant were increased, the trust could make most excellent use of the additional money in aiding these unfortunate. We could at least give them a start or assist them to reach relatives."

"I intend to bring this matter up before the county council and ask that the Government be requested to increase its grant. It costs far more to conduct a hospital now than it did a few years ago, but the Government grant has not been increased. If it is we can do splendid work with the additional funds."

CONTROL BOARD GRILLS KING AT LIVELY MEETING

"The People Are Laughing at Us," Says Mayor of Street Railway Situation.

BIG STICK BROUGHT OUT Service and Cars Called "Lemons" and Will Be Checked Up.

OLIVE BRANCH IGNORED Local Street Car Service Was "Knocked" for One Hour and a Half.

Mayor Graham and the board of control bitterly arraigned Manager C. B. King and the London Street Railway for an hour and a half last night, declaring the "service and the rolling stock" were "lemons," and that the whole equipment would have disgraced any city 25 years ago. The session ended by the board voting to check up the service throughout the city, and hold the London West complaint in abeyance in the meantime.

Manager King came to the meeting, as he has come many times before, with the olive branch of peace, but there was no peace, and when he left the meeting, Mayor Graham's big stick had dented his disposition on several places.

The battle opened. Some citizens, who are willing to come forward as reputable witnesses, checking up your service on Dundas street, and I don't see how you are going to improve matters when the crews reach the end of the line, sit down and smoke, and tell the passengers that the reason they can't give better service is because Mayor Graham won't let the company do it.

Manager King: If you have any information like that you ought to help us correct these wrongs. It is a public duty. We can't be everywhere at the same time on the system.

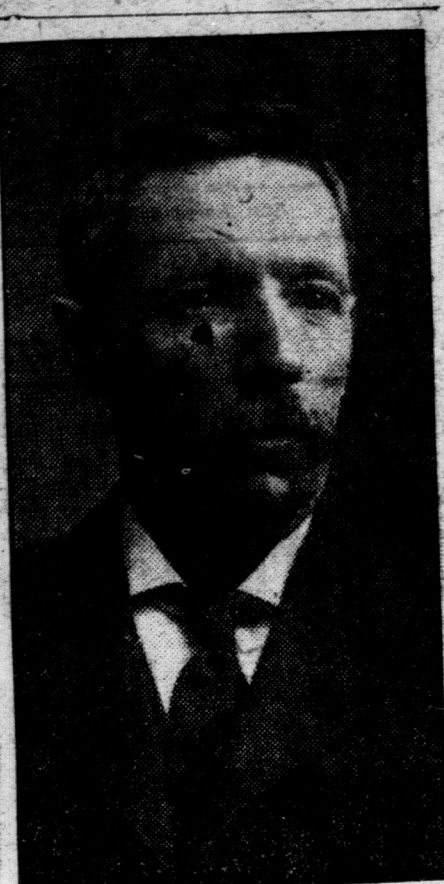

Mayor Graham: Why don't you run your company in a business-like manner? Let the crews run it. I think the way it is being run now is simply for the purpose of aggravating the people.

Manager King: The business we get on the Dundas street line won't justify a ten-minute schedule. Why don't you give us a chance to try out this twelve-minute schedule to see if it won't satisfy all the people?

Mayor Graham: You have had that chance long enough now, and never made good on it. The most disgraceful thing we have in London is to show visitors in the cars you have on your line. What did you do Monday but withdraw cars from Dundas street. Why did you?

To Help Out Springfield.

Manager King: We took some cars to help the crush at Springfield, believing

T. G. TURNBULL.

it was important to get the people home from there.

Controller Ashplant: You didn't have any cars at the ball ground either. Why was that?

Manager King: We couldn't handle them.

Mayor Graham: My contention has been all along that your company is going how much it can get out of London and how little it can give in return. You have no right to run the cars you do. Why don't you paint some of them occasionally? You should never have been allowed to put trolleys on those old trailers.

Manager King: We are overhauling our cars every day. They cost about $5,000 each. The high voltage of Hydro power crippled two of our cars on Monday and it made quite an hour. We are doing the best we can. Our business depends on serving the public.

Mayor Graham: I am surprised you got any business.

Manager King: You are prejudiced. Besides, that is not what we are here to discuss.

Board Will Show Its Power.

Mayor Graham: Well, it is what we are here to discuss. We want to find out what power we got as a board, and do something to get better service and run these old cars in the barn where they belong. Everyone is laughing at us, including the present board of directors of the company. Your efforts to give us better service is the worst case of bluff ever showed down the city's throat.

Manager King: There is no doubt, but you are prejudiced. Leave this to any fair outsider; I don't care who it is.

Mayor Graham: It's your service, your rolling stock with their flat wheels, that are prejudiced. We don't need the manager of the street railway to come up here and tell us what we want and how we are going to get it.

Controller Ashplant: I move we have the service all over the city checked up.

An insinuation of Bribery.

Manager King: If you check up the service why not do it with one of our men. Your man and our man can go out together.

Mayor Graham: That would never do. Our man might be prejudiced when he went out with yours, but he might not remain so.

Manager King: What do you mean?

Mayor Graham: I don't think we ought to surrender any employee of ours into the hands of those self-edged diplomats of your company.

After a further parley it was agreed that the board should check up the system any time, and make a report to the council, and the members indicated to the company that they would under the company's operations would be brought out and perhaps effectually amended.

Manager King was willing to submit to anything that meant a square deal for the company.

DOMINION FARM EXHIBIT

Western Fair Will Have Striking Exhibit From Experimental Farm.

Secretary A. M. Hunt, of the Western Fair, has just received definite word from the Dominion Experimental Farm that an exhibit will be placed by it at the exhibition in September. Mr. Hunt has been quietly working on this for some time, and considerable correspondence has been carried on regarding the matter. Blue prints have been sent as to space required and the exhibit will be located in the agricultural hall. The exhibit will be a large one and will occupy one side of the building. It will consist of a display of models, specimens, sheaves of grain, grasses, fruit, vegetables and various other branches of the different industries of the farm. The exhibit will be a distinctive feature of the exhibition this year, and the management will do everything in its power to make it as attractive as possible. The space in this great building is being allotted very rapidly, and the indications at present are that this year's exhibition will be the very best yet.

Nervous Trouble Followed By Locomotor Ataxia

Treatment From Doctors Proved of No Avail - Was Fully Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It has been said that "nervous people are the salt of the earth." You only have to ask the nervous, high-tensioned, active-brained men and women in the highest positions in the land.

The enormous expenditure of nervous energy made by such natures too frequently leads to nervous breakdown. Worry, excessive mental work and shock such as referred to in this letter are often the immediate cause of nervous collapse. Recovery is often slow and tedious, and doctors, as well as the sufferers, lose patience.

There can no longer be any doubt that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective of nerve restoratives. There are many thousands of cures on record similar to the one described in this letter:

Mrs. F. F. Tweedie, Brighton, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with the stomach, and have always been of a nervous temperament. The death of my husband was a great shock to me, and a few months later I was prostrated by nervous trouble. Locomotor ataxia developed later, and I was in a bad condition. "I took treatment from different doctors, but did not gain until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. When I had used five boxes I was fully restored and that I was like a different person. I am sure that the Nerve Food is a good medicine, and it has made many people about the remarkable way in which it has restored my health."

MORE CASES SET DOWN FOR JUNE COURT SITTING

Percy James Is Suing Employer for $500—Real Estate Tangle To Be Aired.

Three more cases have been set down for the June sitting of the County Court.

Percy Edward James is suing Alexander Henderson for $500 and costs, alleging that on July 11, 1913, he suffered severe injuries as a result of a piano falling on his legs and crushing them. James states that he was in Henderson's employ at the time, and alleges that the injuries were caused by negligence on the part of defendant, who did not have enough men on the job.

Henderson claims that he is not responsible for any injuries James may have received.

Real Estate Mix-up.

Two cases held over from the last session will be tried at the June sittings.

The case of E. S. Hunt, who alleges that J. T. Emerson owes him $5,000 for selling Port Arthur real estate, will be tried as will also the case of Robt. W. Nickleson, of Strathroy, who alleges that the Grand Traffic, John Mills and J. C. Scott, are responsible for the filling up of a drain. The plaintiff alleges that as a result of the water not being able to gain an outlet from his premises, his building was flooded and much damage done to machinery, furniture and lumber, and that the building was undermined. He also alleges that he had to stop the manufacturing of furniture for over a month, and claims $5,000 damages.

The tenth jury case of the County Court sittings in June is that of Harry R. Hunt, who through his father, George R. Hunt, is suing Thos. F. McCracken for unstated damages.

The plaintiff who is sixteen years of age, alleges that while operating a circular saw for the defendant on June 2, 1913, his hand was caught in it owing to the saw being insufficiently protected and that he lost the third and fourth fingers of his left hand as a result and received other injuries of a permanent character.

Mr. McCracken alleges that the accident was due to negligence on the part of the lad.

Thrown on Head.

In the non-jury cases, Richard Neathway is suing Chantler Bros. for $500 and costs. Neathway alleges that while driving one of the defendant's coal wagons on May 29, 1913, the reach broke, throwing the plaintiff out on his head. He alleges that he received many painful injuries about the head, and claims, in addition to $500, the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

The International Harvesting Company is suing H. Werdon, of Lambton County, for $110. The company alleges that this amount is due them on the sale of a binder to the defendant.

MAJOR W. A. MCCRIMMON MADE LIEUT.-COLONEL

Gazetted by Militia Orders But Will Not Command Seventh Regiment.

According to militia orders just issued, Major W. A. McCrimmon, of the Seventh Regiment, is given promotion to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. His staff appointment as organizer and inspector of cadet corps, however, will prevent him from succeeding Lieut.-Colonel A. Campbell as commanding officer, and he therefore will be transferred to the list of field officers actively employed and Major Campbell's successor to the command in his stead. The latter will be gazetted shortly.

The present commanding officer, Lieut.-Colonel Campbell, completed his term of office on May 1 and is now transferred to the general service list of field officers.

Today's Moving Picture Story

"THE DEATH WARRANT."

This Two-Reel Film Will be Shown at the Majestic Theatre Today and Thursday.

CAST. George Routh, Helen Baxter, Veina Whitman, Franklin Cross, W. W. Campbell.

Joseph Baxter and Franklin Cross were business partners until a dispute arose over a deal made by Baxter, which so infuriated the other man, and made them enemies. Cross had a son George, who was brought up from childhood with Baxter's daughter Helen, and from playmates they became sweethearts.

The dispute between the two fathers did not separate the lovers, and they were wont to meet clandestinely. One night old Baxter caught young Cross in his grounds wooing his daughter, and ordered him out. George stated the circumstances to his father, who correspondingly opened a tirade about the Baxter girl. George resented the language, and in the quarrel seized a war club from the wall to protect himself.

Father overcame the old man, and, dropping with heart failure, he struck his head upon the table. Baxter, who had come over to the house next door, saw when event through the window, and when young Cross was accused of killing his father, refused to exonerate the boy.

George was found guilty and sentenced to be electrocuted in ninety days. Shortly before the execution day Baxter is attacked with a mortal disease which means death within a week. His conscience begins to prick him over the lax testimony at George's trial. He rushes Helen to the executioner, while he hurries to the governor and is successful in obtaining an appeal. Two days later George is pardoned, and goes with Helen to her father's home, where they find that Joseph Baxter has passed away.

HINDUS INSIST ON RIGHTS AS BRITONS

Have Not Attempted to Carry Out Immigration Regulations—Launch From Shore Causes Excitement.

VANCOUVER, May 26.—That an attempt will be made to get some of the Komagata Maru's Hindu passengers ashore seems indicated by an incident which happened last night, and which threw the immigration and customs patrol into great excitement.

An darkness came on the guards noticed that the Hindus on the Japanese steamer did not turn in, but remained on deck fully dressed, and were evidently watching for something. Just before midnight a launch carrying a number of Hindus appeared, and circled around the ship, the occupants shouting to their countrymen on the steamer. The immigration department's launch gave chase, and ordered the Hindu craft away, but considerable argument ensued.

The Orientals in the launch were not disposed to heed the instructions of the patrol, and while this dispute was in progress, the Hindus on the Komagata Maru talked excitedly. Eventually the Hindu launch retired, and immediately she disappeared the detained passengers on the steamer turned in. It is believed that the semaphores messages exchanged between ship and shore on Saturday had some bearing on the appearance of the launch last night.

Examined in Detail.

A detailed examination of the Hindus was commenced today. One by one the men will be tested by Medical Officer Dr. Munro, as to their physical fitness to become citizens of Canada. The examination is likely to last several days. As a matter of fact very little attempt has apparently been made by the Hindus to comply with the Canadian regulations. They simply stand on their rights as British subjects to enter Canada. In his early examination Superintendent Reid naturally addressed himself to making the usual inquiries of intending immigrants.

"Have you come direct from the land of your birth?" he asked, as provided in the regulations. "No," they all agreed. "We have none of us come directly from India. Some shipped at Hong Kong, others shipped at Shanghai, and so on, but what matters that? We are citizens of the Empire."

None of the party had the necessary $200 each.

Gurdit Singh, the leader, was quite emphatic on the point that his men were farmers and not ordinary laborers.

PLOW TEAM RAN AWAY.

MURDER VERDICT IN CHATHAM CASE

Jury Finds That William Donnelly's Death Was Not Due to Fall Into River—Doctor Suggests Steel Knuckles.

CHATHAM, May 26.—The inquest into the cause of death of the late William Donnelly, whose body was found floating in the creek under the C. P. R. bridge, near Princess street, last Wednesday morning, was held to-night before Coroner Dr. C. R. Charteris. At the conclusion of the evidence the jury came to the decision that Donnelly came to his death by being struck on the head by some person as yet unknown.

The murder is supposed to have been committed last Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock. Jacob Libertus, a colored man, stated that he had passed in the vicinity of the tragedy about 10 o'clock Tuesday evening and saw the outlines of three men on the bridge. They were evidently engaged in an altercation, and loud and angry language was being indulged in.

Dr. R. V. Bray, who conducted the post-mortem, testified that there was a gash on the victim's head, back of the left ear. This could not have been caused by a fall from the bridge and striking stones near the bank, nor by falling against the girders of the bridge. It had the appearance of a wound caused by a pair of steel knuckles.

The police will investigate the murder immediately.

OLD GUARD LIBERALS AGAIN IN THE RING

MR. J. C. ELLIOTT.

WEST MIDDLESEX READY TO RETURN ITS OLD MEMBER

Liberals Unanimously Renominate J. C. Elliott for Legislature—Presence of Young Men Was Feature.

[By Staff Reporter.]

MOUNT BRYDGES, May 26.—At one of the finest conventions ever held in West Middlesex, J. C. Elliott, M.P. of Glencoe, was this afternoon unanimously chosen to bear the Liberal standard in the coming election. The candidate was given a most enthusiastic reception, and in a splendid fighting speech, made an arraignment of the Whitney Government, and especially its stained record during the session just closed, which brought rounds of cheers.

Mr. Elliott's name was the only one placed in nomination, it being proposed by Charles McFie and seconded by W. H. Watterworth and carried by a standing vote.

A feature of the meeting was the large number of young Liberals present from all parts of the riding, and this was favorably commented upon by several of the speakers, who urged the young men to continue to take a deep interest in the important matters now before the electors.

Ten automobiles present from every subdivision, and when the meeting was called to order the hall was packed to its capacity.

HON. WM. PUGSLEY GIVES A GOOD TIP TO GOVERNMENT

Offers Amendment to Resolution Regarding Aid for the Canadian Northern Railway.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 26.—An arrangement by which the Dominion may secure the completion of the Canadian Northern without the Government going into partnership with Mackenzie & Mann was proposed in Parliament tonight by Hon. William Pugsley.

He offered amendments to the resolution of the Government which have made the administration pause to take them into their serious consideration.

He proposed that the capital stock should be reduced to $30,000,000, of which $25,000,000 is to represent bond holders. He proposed that the Government should have the stock deposited with the receiver-general, and that at any time within five years, the Government should have the option to take over the whole system by taking up this stock at par.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley, who is recognized as one of the most capable business men of Canada, proposed this bargain to save the road and to save Canada from an objectionable partnership.

Hon. Arthur Meighan said that Mackenzie & Mann would laugh at such a proposal.

Hon. Frank Oliver asked who those gentlemen were to laugh at the Government. While they might deride the Government, they could not do so with Parliament.

PORT ARTHUR, May 26.—The level of Lake Superior here fell 18 inches in less than an hour today.

WILLIAM PROUDFOOT, M. P.

WM. PROUDFOOT IS AGAIN NOMINATED FOR CENTRE HURON

Only Name Mentioned at Sea—He reiterates His Charges—Liberal Policies Indorsed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SEAFORTH, May 26.—At the most enthusiastic Liberal convention ever held in this riding William Proudfoot, M.P., was acclaimed again as the standard-bearer of the Liberal party for Centre Huron. Strong resolutions were adopted indorsing the federal and provincial party leaders.

Two hundred delegates came by train, automobile and carriage from all parts of the district, and as an evidence of the harmony that prevails in the party ranks the usual precaution of demanding credentials was dispensed with. It was known that the choice of Mr. Proudfoot would be unanimous, his clean fighting record having impressed his constituents as being all that could be desired.

Ten automobiles carried the Goderich delegates, but Mr. Proudfoot did not come by this route, and arrived some minutes after the convention had started. His appearance was marked by a remarkable demonstration, every delegate rising to his feet and cheering as he entered the hall carrying one arm in a sling, as a result of his recent accident. With his good arm he waved back an acknowledgment of the kindly reception.

He was greeted with another splendid ovation when he rose to speak, following his unanimous nomination, and this was favorably commented upon by several of the speakers, who urged the young men to continue to take a deep interest in the important matters now before the electors.

Reiterates Charges.

In accepting the nomination the member for Centre Huron fully explained the Liberal policy, and reiterated the charges made in the Legislature against Hon. W. J. Hanna, Premier de facto. He created a great deal of laughter and applause by telling the delegates what they might expect to hear in the way of an apology from the Dominion Secretary when he appears in this town next Monday.

Mr. Proudfoot came out positively on the temperance question and to remind all who would hear that he had moved some resolutions in the House on the question himself. He severely criticised the present administration for extravagance and loose principles. His remarks were frequently interrupted by applause.

Addresses were also delivered by Thomas McMillan, of Hullett, W. H. Kerr, of Brussels, and Dr. Shaw, of Clinton.

Endorse Rowell Policy.

The following resolutions were carried amidst enthusiasm:

Moved by James Smith, Clinton, seconded by H. A. Naim, Gerich, "that we, the delegates assembled at this convention, desire to express our entire approval of the policy and conduct of the Liberal party, and to endorse the Liberal party leader, Mr. Rowell, and we further approve of the able support given by our members, Mr. Proudfoot, believing, as we do, that if this policy were adopted it would ensure very greatly to the progress and prosperity of the province, and we pledge ourselves to do our utmost to return Mr. Proudfoot, who will support this policy."

Approval for Sir Wilfrid.

Moved by Dr. J. W. Shaw, Clinton, seconded by H. H. Hill, Hullett, "that, representing the Liberal party of Centre Huron in convention assembled, we desire to express not only our approval of the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party in the Dominion parliament, but also our admiration for the splendid fight being put up in parliament by that party against the retrograde and reactionary legislation which the Government tried to force upon the country for the benefit of the Big Interest."

That the printers intend to demand still higher wage scales in the future was indicated during a discussion of the eight-hour day clause.

The delegate from Galt stated that next year's scale would probably be a maximum for some years to come, and that the local union would consider, instead of demanding further increase, an eight-hour day five days in the week and a half-day on Saturday.

"Don't you believe the maximum has been reached?" said Mr. Webb. "The cost of living is going steadily up, and we are going to ask—and get—more money. It is a question of shorter hours or more pay, we are going after the money part of it."

This view met with general concurrence.

In Unorganized Districts.

In a recommendation by the secretary it was decided to ask the International union executive to assist the conference in obtaining information as to the number of printers and the conditions of work in the unorganized districts of Ontario.

He pointed out that in many of the smaller towns it might be possible to organize the printers if this information could be obtained. A motion by Mr. Simpson to re-affirm and re-emphasize the necessity of securing an organizer in the province, to obtain data for the compilation of a census, was carried.

The present officers were reappointed for the ensuing year, in spite of a proposed motion to elect a new set of officers.

The president, T. H. Stephenson, of Toronto, pointed out that the men themselves were responsible for a very large extent for unsatisfactory conditions. They spat on the floors and threw garbage into corners, and he believed the spitting was particularly responsible for the prevalence of tuberculosis among printers.

Another common cause of disease, according to several of the delegates, was the lack of proper provision for protecting linotype men from the effects of the fumes emanating from the stereotyping room.

Secretary Obermeyer voiced the opinion that where these two departments of a printing establishment were on the same floor they should be separated by vestibule doors. He declared that a man who was employed as a linotype operator on a Hamilton paper was seriously ill in a hospital with what the doctor diagnosed as plumbism, or lead-poisoning, from this very cause.

Another delegate, from St. Catharines, stated that in his home town, also, the dangerous nature of the fumes from the stereotyping room had been demonstrated in one of the newspaper offices. In this case the stereotyping room was on the floor below the printing room, but was situated right at the foot of the stairs, so that every time the front door was opened the fumes were wafted into the printing room. He said two men had collapsed and had to be carried out in one day not long ago through inhaling these poisonous gases.

Factory Inspector Promises.

The president announced that Chief Factory Inspector Burke, who was to have been present today, but who had been prevented from coming, had assumed that any report made him as to unsatisfactory conditions or lack of proper ventilation in any print shop would receive immediate attention from the department, and that any such report would be treated as confidential.

A representative of the Galt union was not inclined to put much faith in the inspector's promises. In Galt, conditions were fairly good, but that was because the men had gone direct to the bosses with demands for improvement, not through any action of the building inspectors.

The department found a champion in Delegate Webb, of Ottawa. In the capital, he said, his experience was that the department did everything in its power to enforce needed changes when they were asked for by members of the unions.

On a motion by James Simpson, of Toronto, the conference decided to send Secretary Obermeyer to Toronto to see Inspector Burke, and to call to his attention all the conditions which had come to his knowledge.

Benefit of Unionism.

The president, in his report, gave some remarkable figures to show what unionism was doing for the printers. During the last twelve months the aggregate increase in wages in North America had been $2,592,351.44, while only $5,000 had been expended in strikes. The average minimum wage on the continent now was $1.00 a day.

A peculiar point of union law was raised by the secretary. He stated that a union typesetting firm in Hamilton was setting type for a non-union printing shop, and he wanted to know if, under the regulations of the International Union, this was permitted.

Opinions differed. Mr. Webb thought the typesetting firm was entirely in the wrong, while a delegate from Toronto stated that the firm was within its rights so long as no strike was in progress in the non-union concern, or until the union or the conference declared it to be an unfair shop.

In this view Delegate Simpson concurred. Moreover, he maintained that to forbid the union concern to supply the type for use in a non-union shop would be bad policy, since it might have the effect of causing the latter to get its own machine and do its own typesetting by non-union labor.

Mr. Webb expressed an entirely opposite view. He thought the union could countenance a union firm supplying type for use in a shop which might be in competition on unfair terms with union shops.

Will Ask Higher Scale.

That the printers intend to demand still higher wage scales in the future was indicated during a discussion of the eight-hour day clause.

The delegate from Galt stated that next year's scale would probably be a maximum for some years to come, and that the local union would consider, instead of demanding further increase, an eight-hour day five days in the week and a half-day on Saturday.

"Don't you believe the maximum has been reached?" said Mr. Webb. "The cost of living is going steadily up, and we are going to ask—and get—more money. It is a question of shorter hours or more pay, we are going after the money part of it."

Another delegate, from St. Catharines, stated that in his home town, also, the dangerous nature of the fumes from the stereotyping room had been demonstrated in one of the newspaper offices. In this case the stereotyping room was on the floor below the printing room, but was situated right at the foot of the stairs, so that every time the front door was opened the fumes were wafted into the printing room. He said two men had collapsed and had to be carried out in one day not long ago through inhaling these poisonous gases.

Factory Inspector Promises.

The president announced that Chief Factory Inspector Burke, who was to have been present today, but who had been prevented from coming, had assumed that any report made him as to unsatisfactory conditions or lack of proper ventilation in any print shop would receive immediate attention from the department, and that any such report would be treated as confidential.

A representative of the Galt union was not inclined to put much faith in the inspector's promises. In Galt, conditions were fairly good, but that was because the men had gone direct to the bosses with demands for improvement, not through any action of the building inspectors.

The department found a champion in Delegate Webb, of Ottawa. In the capital, he said, his experience was that the department did everything in its power to enforce needed changes when they were asked for by members of the unions.

On a motion by James Simpson, of Toronto, the conference decided to send Secretary Obermeyer to Toronto to see Inspector Burke, and to call to his attention all the conditions which had come to his knowledge.

Benefit of Unionism.

The president, in his report, gave some remarkable figures to show what unionism was doing for the printers. During the last twelve months the aggregate increase in wages in North America had been $2,592,351.44, while only $5,000 had been expended in strikes. The average minimum wage on the continent now was $1.00 a day.

A peculiar point of union law was raised by the secretary. He stated that a union typesetting firm in Hamilton was setting type for a non-union printing shop, and he wanted to know if, under the regulations of the International Union, this was permitted.

Opinions differed. Mr. Webb thought the typesetting firm was entirely in the wrong, while a delegate from Toronto stated that the firm was within its rights so long as no strike was in progress in the non-union concern, or until the union or the conference declared it to be an unfair shop.

In this view Delegate Simpson concurred. Moreover, he maintained that to forbid the union concern to supply the type for use in a non-union shop would be bad policy, since it might have the effect of causing the latter to get its own machine and do its own typesetting by non-union labor.

Mr. Webb expressed an entirely opposite view. He thought the union could countenance a union firm supplying type for use in a shop which might be in competition on unfair terms with union shops.

Will Ask Higher Scale.

That the printers intend to demand still higher wage scales in the future was indicated during a discussion of the eight-hour day clause.

The delegate from Galt stated that next year's scale would probably be a maximum for some years to come, and that the local union would consider, instead of demanding further increase, an eight-hour day five days in the week and a half-day on Saturday.

"Don't you believe the maximum has been reached?" said Mr. Webb. "The cost of living is going steadily up, and we are going to ask—and get—more money. It is a question of shorter hours or more pay, we are going after the money part of it."

This view met with general concurrence.

In Unorganized Districts.

In a recommendation by the secretary it was decided to ask the International union executive to assist the conference in obtaining information as to the number of printers and the conditions of work in the unorganized districts of Ontario.

He pointed out that in many of the smaller towns it might be possible to organize the printers if this information could be obtained. A motion by Mr. Simpson to re-affirm and re-emphasize the necessity of securing an organizer in the province, to obtain data for the compilation of a census, was carried.

The present officers were reappointed for the ensuing year, in spite of a proposed motion to elect a new set of officers.

The president, T. H. Stephenson, of Toronto, pointed out that the men themselves were responsible for a very large extent for unsatisfactory conditions. They spat on the floors and threw garbage into corners, and he believed the spitting was particularly responsible for the prevalence of tuberculosis among printers.

Another common cause of disease, according to several of the delegates, was the lack of proper provision for protecting linotype men from the effects of the fumes emanating from the stereotyping room.

Secretary Obermeyer voiced the opinion that where these two departments of a printing establishment were on the same floor they should be separated by vestibule doors. He declared that a man who was employed as a linotype operator on a Hamilton paper was seriously ill in a hospital with what the doctor diagnosed as plumbism, or lead-poisoning, from this very cause.

Another delegate, from St. Catharines, stated that in his home town, also, the dangerous nature of the fumes from the stereotyping room had been demonstrated in one of the newspaper offices. In this case the stereotyping room was on the floor below the printing room, but was situated right at the foot of the stairs, so that every time the front door was opened the fumes were wafted into the printing room. He said two men had collapsed and had to be carried out in one day not long ago through inhaling these poisonous gases.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, MAY 27.

SPENDING THE MONEY.

THE Minister of Public Works had the floor last Government day in Parliament, and passed his estimates to the extent of some thirty millions of dollars. That some items of his huge bill were justifiable is certain; but it is no less certain that much of it represents money that might be used to better advantage by being left in the pockets of the people from whom it has been taken.

A large proportion of the minister's estimates was for the purchase of land and the erection of Government buildings in small villages. Many of these buildings illustrate the influence of the Minister of Militia or his colleagues. The building of armories and drill halls is on a most extensive scale. So far as concerns the larger cities, which are the headquarters of volunteer regiments, there is some excuse for the expenditure. But in small towns where there is but one company, or, possibly, none at all, there is no excuse. If the Minister of Militia has his own way, and it seems likely he will, the whole country will appear to a visitor like a great fortress. It is true the visitor may not see many uniforms on the street; but in every village and at every cross road he will see some towered and turreted edifice—a pasted-board imitation of the castles of old Europe. The doors may be shut, and no signs of life visible, except, possibly, some individual pottering around outside, and cutting down weeds. There will be no signs of war, nor any evidence of a need for the lonely building decorating a bleak lot; and the visitor will be able only to conclude that these are relics of some previous age, when a ferocious enemy swept over the land and the people had to crawl under shelter to escape the flying bullets.

Of course, our new buildings are not all alike. Some are for the accommodation of other departments of the public service. Twenty to thirty thousand dollars will go to house a postoffice where the revenue will not pay the expenses of the service, together with the interest on the capital invested.

The principal argument for this expenditure is not that it is called for by the needs of the public service; but that it will give employment to workmen, and cause money to circulate in the locality where it is spent. Possibly it will go some extent. But the money will go chiefly to contractors and manufacturers of building material, and officials to oversee the work, not forgetting the man from whom the land was purchased, and who probably only owned it for a few weeks, and sold it to the Government for much more than it cost him.

There is no real need for these buildings that are being scattered broadcast through sections where, in the opinion of the Government, they will do the most good to the party. For public works that are required in the interests of the people no one will object to reasonable expenditures. But anything else is a waste, and worse.

THE WOODBINE NO BAROMETER

It requires hardihood to preach hard times, when over 15,000 attended the opening day at the Woodbine races at $1.50 general admission. But the people must be amused. Hamilton Spectator.

If any one were trying to preach hard times this argument would not decide the question. A great proportion of those 15,000 went to the Woodbines to bet, not simply to be amused. Many of the men who paid $1.50 for general admission possibly had a $5 bill in addition and, if that were lost, not enough left to pay street car fare to King and Yonge streets. It is usually the broke or the near-broke who form the large share of the Woodbine's patronage, and if there were no corn in Egypt even to one grain, there would be an attendant at Toronto's favorite humbuggeries. The pawnshop keeper, the woman who runs the boarding house, the wife who is making excuses to the landlord, would be able to tell you that every time there were 15,000 people in Woodbine Park, in Toronto, there was some casting aside of principle and self-respect. Toronto's gambling fraternity must number many more than 15,000 persons. Grant that 10,000 of those present were of the hand-to-mouth class, and you find that there is always an army of hard-timers in the country. Their headquarters are around the race tracks, and the more men out of work, the more will be found at the Woodbine.

STILL MOUNTING.

THE report just issued by the Department of Labor at Ottawa shows that the cost of living steadily advances in Canada. We are told that a weekly supply of food which would have cost $6.95 in 1910 would have cost $7.34 in 1912, and a little more in 1913. The advance in the three years was about 5.6 per cent. Fuel and lighting had gone up 4.8 per cent and rents 3.6 per cent.

And this same report goes on to show that in the United States the cost of living has declined during the past year. Under the reduced tariff, food, clothing, fuel, lighting, implements, lumber and building material had begun to drop in prices. The new scale of duties has not been in force long enough in the United States to justify the expectation of very great reductions in the cost of living. It would need a couple of years to have any marked effect. That it has already shown the results that were expected from it is a clear indication that no mistake was made and that the promises of its advocates will be promptly realized to the fullest extent.

And the same story comes from Australia. Prices are lower there. And in free-trade Great Britain they are below what they are in Canada, and give no indications of an advance.

Conditions generally are the same in Canada as in the United States. Both are new countries; both have great resources; both have fertile fields; both have flourishing factories; both have extensive domestic and foreign trade; both are prospering. Then why should the cost of living be going up in Canada and going down in the States? The answer would seem to be simple. In Canada we have a policy of protection. And while there has been no nominal increase in our tariff, there has been an actual advance, owing to the fact that all customs rules are being interpreted from the point of view of the protectionist. In the United States they have adopted a lower tariff. Many of their imports are now on the free list; many others pay only a small duty. And so, where the protectionist controls, the cost of living goes up. Where duties are reduced the cost of living goes down. Nor has the lowering of tariff bars in the United States had the effect on manufacturers that protectionists always profess to fear. Business in the neighboring country was never so prosperous as today.

Can we have a better object lesson than the experience of our neighbors? The Liberals have been claiming that to facilitate trade with other countries, to get better markets abroad, and give more competition at home, will help the average man to live, by reducing the price of the articles he requires for domestic use. And that while doing this, the manufacturer will not suffer. If his profits on a single article be lessened his total profits will not be materially lessened, because his business will grow. The policy on which the Liberals were defeated in 1911 would have prevented the increase in the cost of living which the people now have to bear. Instead of going up, prices would have gone down, and our manufacturers would have had larger markets and more business. Our trade returns would not have shown a diminished rate of growth; business would not have been as dull as it is; people would not have had to pay so much for their food; there would not have been so many idlers on the streets of our cities.

Natives of the New Hebrides killed and ate six school-teachers sent out to educate them. This is the quickest and most complete method of assimilating knowledge that we have heard of.

The Hamilton Times, through a typographical slip, refers to this journal as the Chicago Morning Advertiser. Well, for breeziness and bustle, London is becoming quite the match of the western metropolis.

The Manitoba Free Press, which wages war on the Roblin Government in Manitoba, in season and out, has compiled a table of election returns for the province, which show that while the Conservatives have a large majority of members in the legislature, their total majority in votes over the Liberals was only 2,405 votes. In the last election there were 20,451 votes unpolled. As in other parts of the Dominion, the Liberal need in Manitoba is to have sufficient organization to get the vote out.

LAW-ABIDING.

THOUGHTFULNESS.

[New York Globe.]
Judge Hanington, when leader of the Opposition in the New Brunswick Legislature, representing the county of Westmoreland, was once delivering a vigorous address in the House against some measure of the Government, then led by the late Hon. A. G. Blair.
"Oh, that my constituents in Westmore-

--and the Worst Is Yet to Come land could hear me now!" exclaimed the Opposition leader in violent tones.

Mr. Blair motioned to an attendant.
"Open the windows," he said.

"NATIVE COSTUME."

[London Times.]
Dealing with the progress of Newfoundland in recent years, Sir Edward Morris, speaking at a dinner in London, recalled that when he last visited England—at the time of Queen Victoria's jubilee in 1837—a lady who invited him and a friend to a garden party asked them to come, if they had no objection, in native costume.

OUCH!

THE CHARITY OF THE POOR.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]
An inspector of the New York department of charities, by posing as a crippled beggar, on a Third Avenue corner, found out that he could collect contributions at the rate of 85 cents an hour. Also that of 11 contributors in 13 minutes, nine were women of the poorer class, which leads the World to say that "of the amount of real charitable work done by the poor, few people have any conception." But is it "real charity" to give money to a fake beggar?

COMPENSATION TO BANK DEPOSITORS.

[G. N. Ducharme, in Le Devoir.]
I do not believe that the Government has any legal obligation towards the depositors of the Ville Marie, the Farmers' or the St. John's banks, but as for moral responsibilities I consider that they are greater in the case of the Banque Ville Marie and the Banque de St. Jean than in the case of the Farmers' Bank. Why not then treat the three banks on the same basis?

LIGHTS AT EVENING.

[By Charles Bancroft.]
Along the coast I see the lighthouse gleaming
As ships at sea keep passing to and fro.
The brilliant stars, the moon in silver streamlets,
Across the waves a tempting pathway throw.
The railroad tracks, where signal lamps are burning,
To nerve the speeding train upon its way.
These are the signs of danger and of safety,
That burn from sunset until break of day.

SARCASM.

[Ottawa Citizen.]
A veteran of the Fenian raid is dead at Winnipeg. This must be the first break in the ranks of the thirty thousand survivors of the gory struggle that saved Canada for the Empire half a century ago, when nearly five thousand took up arms for the flag.

WHEN MOTHER READS ALOUD.

[St. Nicholas Magazine.]
When mother reads aloud, the past seems real as every day;
I hear the tramp of armies vast, I see the spears and lances cast.
I join the thrilling fray;
Brave knights and ladies fair and proud I meet, when mother reads aloud.
When mother reads aloud, far lands seem very near and true;
I cross the desert's gleaming sands Or haunt the jungle's prowling panda.
Or sail the ocean blue;
Far heights, whose peaks the cold mists shroud, I scale, when mother reads aloud.
When mother reads aloud, I long for noble deeds to do—
To help the right, to redress the wrong; It seems so easy to be strong.
So simple to be true.
Oh, thick and fast the visions crowd My eyes, when mother reads aloud.

SCHEME WENT WRONG.

[Boston Transcript.]
"We thought this year we'd rather move than clean house."
"Great scheme!"
"Unfortunately, the same idea had occurred to the people who vacated the house we moved into."

INTOLERABLE.

[Montreal Herald.]
The pitiful plea is put forward that if tipping is prohibited, hotels and restaurants will have to pay wages to their waiters. What a shocking violation of economic principles!

IN THE FASHION.

[St. Louis Republic.]
"My wife is always complaining she has nothing to wear."
"Great Scott, fellow! What on earth is she kicking about? Get to her quick and tell her she's right in style and does not need it."

But winter and rough weather.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND.

[Ridgeway Dominion.]
Certain waiters in the hotels at Ottawa have made formal protest against the bill which proposes to make it an offence for a patron of a hotel, dining car, restaurant or hotel to stand to give "tips." This is not exactly in the order of things to be expected. "Tips" are profitable to the waiters, no doubt, but it would be thought more of them would prefer to take their pay in wages.

ARCTIC EXPEDITION HAS PALATIAL HOME

Americans, Making for Crocker Land, Have Even Electric Light—Wire—Less No Good.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 26.—Although they have tried to communicate by wireless with civilization from the frozen north, the expedition of the American Museum of Natural History's expedition, to Crocker Land. The letter was dated Etah, North Greenland, January 10th, 1914. McMillan said all the members of his party were in good health and spirits and anxious to start their contemplated trip of over a thousand miles in a temperature ranging from 30 to 90 degrees below zero from Etah to Crocker Land. He expected to make the dash about February 10th, and said he would take on the trip 21 men and 160 dogs.

In the letter MacMillan told of the "Castle" he and his men had built at Etah.
"On September 12th we moved into a large comfortable home 34 x 34, eight rooms on the ground floor and a large attic for a storeroom which we had erected. To this we added as a protection from the cold and for quarters for our dog drivers a shed eight feet wide.
"I am quite sure we have the most palatial residence ever put up in the Arctic, with our electric lights and telephone to two Eskimo igloos."

TWO BROCKVILLE TRAGEDIES

BROCKVILLE, May 26.—Two tragedies marked Victoria Day in Brockville. Harold Barton, aged twenty-two, employed as salesman, became entangled in the gearing of a test car of the Atlas Automobile Company on which he was joy riding with four other young men, and received a fractured skull besides other terrible injuries. Barton died at an early hour today without regaining consciousness. The other fatality befell George Collins, a veteran member of the fire department, who was missed last night from duty. Today his body was found floating in the river.

Terribly Afflicted
With Lame Back.
Could Not Sweep The Floor.

When the back aches and pains it is almost impossible for women to do their housework, for every move and every turn means an ache or a pain.

Women are beginning to understand that weak, lame, and aching backs from which they suffer so much are due to wrong action of the kidneys, and should be attended to at once so as to avoid years of suffering from kidney trouble.

On the first sign of anything wrong with the back Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go right to the seat of the trouble. Mrs. Wilfrid Jolicoeur, Nouvelle, Que., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you stating the benefit I have received by using Doan's Kidney Pills. About three years ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back, and was so had I could not sweep my own floor. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I only used three boxes, and I am as well as ever. I highly recommend these pills to any sufferer from lame back or kidney trouble."

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

"You don't want to acquire the habit of paying bills," said she gaily, to gain time. "It is a habit that takes up a person's time too much. You no sooner pay one bill than you have to pay another."

"It was a rare experience," said Algernon, "that I thought I would try again."

"We haven't received any more bills," Joe said the girl anxiously, eagerly. "We really don't need another check."

"A little money won't come in amiss," stammered Algernon, fearful of saying too much lest she guess who he was and yet not saying enough to get the book. He did not want to telegraph his lawyers to forward some money for the bill he did not know where he was, and he did not care to let them know lest somehow the fact reach his mother and through her letters to him, Molly, who would, of course, be the first to receive the letters, would learn of his identity.

Molly had grown white in the dark and when she spoke, she spoke slowly, carefully weighing each word as she sought to keep her rapidly rising emotion under control. Those that seemed to hear the fear she felt trembling in her voice.

"Can't you wait, Joe, just for a week or two?" she asked gently, earnestly. "You see the time is almost up now. When I succeed, as I shall, as I must, I shall pay you back the check you will make it all right. John is bound to come back before long and then it will be all right."

"Don't you worry, Molly. No one will ever find anything wrong with the checks I make out in Todd's name. I perfectly safe to let me have the book. We won't get into any trouble."

"We may," protested Molly, gaining courage as she reasoned. "I know that you have had nothing so far and yet have helped me faithfully, and I am anxious to be rewarded. It is not fair that you should not have anything but risk, and I shall be glad to help you to anything you want. I shall indeed pay you just wait, Joe, until I have—have one more chance."

Algernon lit a cigarette to give him further inspiration. They were thieves together and he had no right to spoil Molly's chances of success by a premature demand for a settlement. And yet, Holmes had been kind to him and was in desperate need of some ready cash.

Molly tried to see the expression of his face in the dark, but the shadows, cast by the light of the lamp, were too deep. She laid her hand on his arm nervously as she pleaded for more time. "You see, Joe, if you don't wait, I shall be put into a position where I shall be unable to help you. I shall indeed pay you just wait, Joe, until I have—have one more chance."

Algernon lit a cigarette to give him further inspiration. They were thieves together and he had no right to spoil Molly's chances of success by a premature demand for a settlement. And yet, Holmes had been kind to him and was in desperate need of some ready cash.

MOTOR BUSES A GOOD SUPPLEMENT TO TRANSIT LINES

New York Engineer Shows Their Advantages as Demonstrated in London, and Their Possibilities.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, May 27.—In his address at the city-planning conference today on rapid transit and the motor bus, John A. McCollum, assistant engineer of the board of estimate and appointment of New York City, held that motor buses in cities are a good supplement to existing rapid transit lines.

"The 3,900 odd motor omnibuses of London, England," he said, "are now carrying an aggregate of about 500,000,000 passengers per annum, a total greater than the number of cash fares collected on all street surface railways of the city of New York City, held that motor buses in cities are a good supplement to existing rapid transit lines."

"Many cities have started. Although London, owing to the peculiar traffic conditions in the narrow, tortuous streets in the centre of the city, has become the most fruitful field for motor bus operation, other great European cities, such as Paris and Berlin, are daily establishing new services, and its sphere of usefulness has been lately extended to New York."

"In this city one company has now 100 vehicles in use, carrying about 90,000 passengers each per annum."

"The motor bus possesses a great advantage over the street railway in flexibility. Delays to other cars do not result from the breakdown of one. Changes of route may be easily made as often as required to accommodate traffic conditions, and passengers may enter or leave at the side of the roadway. The bus system is also independent of any central power plant, wires, poles or rails."

"The operating cost of the motor bus is somewhat higher, but the investment required is less, and grows only in proportion to the traffic requirements."

"The chief sphere of usefulness for the motor bus in America would appear to be as a supplement to existing rapid transit lines," he said. "Most districts might be immediately supplied with a motor bus service that might have to wait the risk of laying permanent street car tracks."

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, May 27.—A London cable says: It is stated that His Royal Highness Prince Alexander of Teck, the governor-general designate of Canada, is greatly annoyed at dispatches published in the New York press, in which it was stated

"I don't, dear, really," he protested, husky with emotion. "But it's not my secret, yet I want to help, and I need that check-book, so I owe it to you to tell you. We are in the same boat and ought to tell each other everything that might in any way affect us both. Still, I owe it to Patterson to get your promise first. I myself would trust you with everything."

"After what you know about me, Joe? I sometimes feel that I am not worthy of you, that."

"Ah, Molly, don't say that, dear."

"But it is true, Joe. Why do you do not really trust me. I have never cared before whether other people trusted me or not. But with you it is different. I can receive will be not to have your trust, and yet, how can I break it?"

Algernon was completely undone. He pressed the hand he held and pulled her nearer to him. "Molly, Molly, you have got it, dear, my entire trust and love."

"I do not think I have. Sometimes, the way you act, the things you say—Her voice lost itself in a whisper of humility and contrition."

"What do I say?"

"I can't tell you word for word. They are little things: the tones of your voice, sometimes, the way you look at me. Oh, Joe, I would give anything to redeem my secret, yet I want to help, and I need that check-book, so I owe it to you to tell you. Bad Nervous Headache Really Very Serious Matter.

The pain of a Nervous Headache is sometimes so acute that the sufferer can hardly be blamed for taking anything to do everything that might give relief, but there is no longer any need to fear the dangerous headache powder. Dr. Stohr, the famous Austrian nerve specialist, introduced Kephaidol and it has proved to be the best known remedy. The medical profession indorses Kephaidol because it is absolutely harmless and has not the slightest ill effect on the heart or other vital organs. If you are subject to headaches be sure to keep Kephaidol in the house. Your druggist probably sells it. In case not, send 50c to the manufacturer for a large tube.

DRAMATIC CAREER

ENDS IN THE DEATH
OF JACOB A. RIIS

JACOB A. RIIS, THE
SOCIAL WORKER, DEAD

Became Famous Through War on Slums and His Work as Author.

BARRE, Mass., May 26.—Jacob Riis, author and social worker, friend of Theodore Roosevelt, and the man who first cleaned up New York, died at his summer home here today after a long illness.

Born in the little town of Ribe, in Denmark, May 3, 1849, Jacob Augustus Riis left his native land when a boy of twenty, equipped with a steamer ticket, $70 presented to him by his fellow-townpeople, and a picture and a lock of hair of his boyhood sweetheart, Elizabeth Nielson, daughter of a rich townsmen.

His Locket Stolen.
Several years later, in New York, while he slept on a tenement stairs, some German street toughs stole his locket, in which he kept the picture and the lock of hair. He complained to a German desk-sergeant in the nearest police station, who ordered him away and scoffed at the idea of his ever possessing a gold locket. When the officer handled him roughly, his faithful dog bit the leg of the former. The policeman, angered by the police beat out the animal's brains on the walls of the station house.

His Dog Avenged.
That moment Riis decided he would be avenged. His time came when as police reporter with the New York Sun, he succeeded in bringing to the attention of Theodore Roosevelt, then police commissioner, the evils of the police lodging houses and various police methods and customs. In his autobiography, "The Making of an American," one chapter is headed, "My Dog Is Avenged."

But how he got to be police reporter for the New York Sun is a long story. Once, when out of work, he walked into the Buffalo Courier office, only to be thrown out when he asked for work. He went to the Express office, and was laughed at when he said he was a carpenter. Then he says he made up his mind to be a reporter.

"Jack of All Trades."
Riis for several years after landing in New York was a Jack of all trades. He made bricks, he peddled fal-iron, he sold books, one of them called "Hard Times," quite appropriate, he said, to his condition at the time. He worked in factories, on farms. He traveled for a furniture factory. He reported on the police in a course in telegraphy, for which he paid $20. Shortly afterwards he became "city editor" of a weekly on Long Island. It was called the "Review." After two weeks' work, without salary, he left. His telegraphy teacher recommended him to a position on a news bureau.

He left it to become editor of the South Brooklyn News. The paper went under. He bought it for six hundred and some odd dollars. He made it a success, but he started a campaign for civic and other reforms that got him in wrong with his party, the Democrats. They tried to kick him with a sentence as court interpreter at $100 a month.

Married His Old Sweetheart.
He did not appreciate it much as he might have, and when the party appointed his successor, he went home and married the little sweetheart of his boyhood days. The fiancée her rich relatives had picked out for her had died, so Riis brought her back to New York with him. He experienced some ups and downs in getting a job on the Tribune, but he succeeded.

War on Slums.
It was the great war against slum conditions that made Riis famous. He describes it in "Ten Years War," published in 1900. His work as a police reporter on the Tribune and the Sun made him familiar with the slums and social conditions generally. Only one official position did he ever hold, although he was the spirit of the whole conflict. That was the secretaryship of the New York small parks commission in 1897. Among his books are "The Battle With the Slum," "1902: Children of the Poor," "1896: The Children of the Tenements," "1903: The Other Half Lives," "1897: The Old Town," "1898: The Christmas," "1893: The Peril and Preservation of the Home," "1903: Theodore Roosevelt, the Citizen," 1904.

His first wife died in 1905, and in 1907 he married Miss Mary Phillips, of St. Louis.

Got Gotham Pure Water.
His agitation and activity secured pure water for New York, prohibited the building of rear tenements, drove bakeshops out of tenement basements, secured playgrounds for schools, and laws restricting child labor.

MAY DROP PROCEEDINGS

Possibility of Slander Suit Against London Township Reeve Being Abandoned.

It is possible that the proposal of the Dominion Abattoir Limited, to institute proceedings against Reeve J. Hodgins of London Township, for an alleged slanderous statement said to have been made by the reeve concerning conditions at the abattoir during the recent conference on the subject of inspection of slaughterhouses, may be abandoned.

The matter was put into the hands of the company's lawyer, Mr. Elliott, K.C. But Mr. Reitzner, president of the abattoir company, said this morning that, in view of the fact that Mr. Hodgins had declared that he did not refer to the Dominion Abattoir at all, it might be decided not to issue a writ.

"However," he added, "before we decide I want to investigate and find out for myself just what Reeve Hodgins' statement was so that we can decide whether any reflection on our company could have been imputed."

WATER BOARD'S REPORT

Annual Message to Council is Twice the Size of Former Books.

The thirty-fifth annual report of the water commissioners for the year 1913 has been presented to the council. It is nearly twice the size of reports previously issued by the board.

All the substantial matter relating to the operation of the waterworks, electrical and parks departments is set forth. A half-tone of the temporary works in the Spencer block, is shown as the first illustration. The new workshop and garage, under construction, is also shown, together with photographs of machinery and scenes in Springfield Park.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

HELPING ALL CROPS

Rain and Warm Weather Offset Late Spring.

Bumper crops for Middlesex county are reported this year according to the statements of farmers frequenting the local market. Fall wheat is coming on well and the prospect for the season crop touching a high percentage of the standard are very good according to J. W. Noble, of the local department of agriculture. Bulletins issued by the Dominion Agricultural Department state that in Alberta and Saskatchewan the percentage of the standard was on May 6th down in the eighties. A higher percentage of the standard, however, is shown in Western Ontario according to recent reports to the Ontario department.

The chinch bug, which in the past two or three years had wrought considerable havoc in Middlesex County, is reported to be getting in its fine work in the meadows and pasture lands around Strathroy. In other districts, affected in previous years, no considerable damage has been reported so far this season.

The improvement in farm crops the last few days following the heavy rains is remarkable. The rain was badly needed in the country and notwithstanding the fact that there is no reason why the farm crops should not overtake the backlog resulting from the long, late spring. Yesterday the thermometer touched 87.5 degrees, the record for this season so far.

IS RECOVERING FROM STREET CAR ACCIDENT

Woman Who Fell Beneath Ottawa Car Reported To Be Improving.

Mrs. McAuliffe, wife of John McAuliffe, a G. T. R. conductor, of 233 Grey street, who was badly injured on Saturday night, when an Ottawa street car ran over her, is reported to be improving.

According to the injured woman's story, the car started to back up before she could step down and the car rolled over her. In some way she fell under the rear platform and could not get out. She was under almost the centre. By a miracle, as it would seem, she was not caught by the wheels, but her back and shoulder were badly strained and at first it was thought that her arm had been broken.

When the crew of the car realized what had happened, they at once took steps to have part of the car flooring removed, and the injured woman was lifted through the opening thus made. She was in a state of absolute collapse from fright and the shock of her terrible experience, but after being attended by Dr. Drake, she was able to be moved to her home.

At present her arm and shoulder are still badly swollen and until the swelling subsides the attending physician cannot tell the extent of the injury. It is thought, however, that no serious after effects will supervene.

YOUNG WOMEN SERVED 9,000 LUNCHEONS LAST YEAR

W. C. A. Shows Successful Work by Annual Report.

Encouraging reports of the work accomplished by the different departments of the W. C. A. were presented at the annual meeting of the association. The boarding home at 510 Wellington street had had a successful year on the whole, and while the high prices of food and the fact that the home was only about half filled brought about a bad financial condition for several months, matters had improved considerably. The home is now filled to capacity and generous contributions had relieved the financial stringency.

Summer Cottage Filled.

"Summerholme," the cottage at Port Stanley, owned and managed by a committee of the members of the W. C. A., had a successful season, being filled during July and August. The receipts, amounting to $68.50, were expended in repairs.

The membership of the Sunday Bible Class was reported to be 57, and the average attendance 20.

The educational department was reported as having been successful in its work. The most important features of its work being a class in first aid, from which had sprung also a class in home nursing.

Miss McBride, who is in charge of the "readers' club," reported that much good work had been done at the depots by the secretaries, Miss Currie and Miss Lang.

Served 9,000 Luncheons.

The luncheon supplied over nine thousand lunches during the year, and was well patronized, as were also the reading and rest rooms.

The following ladies were elected unanimously to the board of directors: Mrs. J. M. McEvoy, Miss Gower, Mrs. Robert Wallace, Miss McCall and Mrs. J. H. Chapman.

Receipts and Expenditures.

The receipts and disbursements for the several departments were given as follows:

rapid, harmonious developments at Niagara Falls. The President was encouraged by statements that substantial agreement on many of the cardinal points involved in the settlement of the dispute had been reached by the two missions. Hope for an early solution, expressed in Niagara Falls, was reflected in Washington.

What About Carranza?

Some of Carranza's friends, who have closely followed the Niagara Falls proceedings, have intimated that the northern chief would be ready for representation at the conference after his army took the city. Carranza's capital they take for granted. Carranza remained in close touch with his Washington agents, and an early statement of his intentions was not unexpected.

To Assault Zacatecas.

El Paso, Texas, May 27.—Reports from the south today said that Gen. Villa's forces were making haste in preparations for an assault on Zacatecas City, capital of Zacatecas State. It was asserted that the attack would be made by the two missions. Hope for an early solution, expressed in Niagara Falls, was reflected in Washington.

It was explained that the attack on San Luis Potosi had been postponed because of the destruction of the railroad to the south of Saltillo, while the movement by train against Zacatecas was quicker and easier.

Also Zacatecas, lying northwest of San Luis Potosi, offered an opportunity for a rear attack upon the city.

Coming Around.

Washington, May 27.—Representatives on the Constitutionalists here took steps today to reopen the question of representation at the Niagara mediation conference.

John Lind and C. A. Douglass, legal representatives of the Constitutionalists, held what was termed a neutral conference with the representatives of the state department to take up the subject with Secretary Bryan, who had gone to the capital to confer with senators of the foreign relations committee. Their conference with the secretary was, on account, deferred until later in the day.

Nathaniel Mr. Lind nor Mr. Douglass would disclose under what conditions the Constitutionalists were willing to participate.

Rebels Not Wanted?

Niagara Falls, May 27.—No one of the official party was here to receive the announcement from Washington today that the representatives of the Constitutionalists had taken steps to reopen the question of representation at the mediation conference.

When rumors to similar effect were circulated several days ago the mediators were not at all enthusiastic about the possibility of the Constitutionalists could only be received on terms originally laid down by the mediation board.

Although there have been no declarations of the subject it is known that one of the primary objects of the conference here is to prevent, if possible, the despoiling of the country by a victorious Constitutionalists force.

Audience Arranged.

Toronto, May 27.—At 4:45 p.m. today His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, Governor General of Canada, will give a fifteen minute audience at Craigleigh, the residence of Sir Edmund Osler, M.P., to the A. B. C. mediators and the United States and Mexican delegates. The audience will take place immediately prior to the reception of the foreign party at the royal garden party.

The foreign party arrived in the city shortly before noon and registered at the King Edward Hotel. They were accompanied by a large party of staff representatives of American newspapers.

Diaz Not Invited.

Gen. Felix Diaz, who is in Toronto, was not invited to the function.

There were 2,900 invitations to the garden party, and there have been 2,300 acceptances.

The convention will continue for three days, but most of the local physicians will return to the city tonight.

Is on Sound Basis.—According to officials of the local postoffice, the parcel-post delivery system, inaugurated last February, is now established on a perfectly sound basis. Up to the present the new service has not been utilized to any extent by the farmers as a channel for marketing their wares in the city, although this may be done when its usefulness in this respect is more thoroughly realized.

Heat Kills "Horse".—While the driver was making a purchase in a downtown tobacco store, a valuable horse belonging to Frank Hutchinson, Empress avenue, suddenly dropped dead this morning. The animal had never been sick, and the hot weather is attributed to the cause of its death. The high temperature of the past several days had taken heavily on the dry horses of the city, according to local teamsters.

Rex Pearce, vice-president of the citizenship department, presided. The young people of Memorial Church have recently organized a tennis club, and equipped a court on the church grounds. The club membership is growing.

HYDRO AND LONDON ELECTRIC IN DISPUTE

Former Claims All But One Consumer in Thornton Avenue Block.

The ornamental street lighting on Thornton avenue, between St. James and Grosvenor streets, is being done on the petition of two-thirds of the residents. The petition calls for the removal of poles on the block, and there may be some trouble over this, as the hydro people claim all the electric users on the street as patrons, with one exception, while the London Electric says several of the residents are using their power.

There are twenty-four residents on the street, and they petitioned to have the poles removed and underground wiring done at their expense.

They will be known as "The Canadian." Number 19, westbound, will leave London at 9:33 p.m. and arrive at Detroit at 12:10. Number 32, eastbound, for Toronto, is due here at 9:03 p.m.

The position of commissioner has been vacant since the resignation of G. N. Weekes last fall.

BRITISH PEELED IS SCORED BY JUDGE

FOR HIS GRAFTING

Lord Saye and Sele Tempted Aged Army Officer, Who Fell.

DEFENDANTS SENTENCED

Pathetic Scene When Veteran Officer, Pleading for Mercy, Gets Six Months.

London, May 27.—Some seathing remarks were uttered today by Justice Darling in reference to Lord Saye and Sele, controller of the King's house hold, and a direct descendant of one of the twenty-five barons entrusted with the enforcement by King John of the provisions of Magna Charta.

The incident occurred at the Old Bailey where sentence was pronounced today on the nine British army officers and eight civilians, employees of Lipton's, Limited, who were charged with conspiracy to offer or accept bribes in connection with the allotment of the army canteen contracts.

Col. Whitaker of the second Yorkshire Regiment, the highest in rank of the prisoners was sentenced to six months imprisonment.

A pathetic scene occurred when Whitaker pleaded for mercy. The gray old veteran, who has served in the British army for thirty-eight years, broke down and said he had acted on the persuasion of Col. Flenness, now Lord Saye and Sele, who was then lieutenant colonel of the Royal Scots Fusiliers.

The Denunciation.

"Justice Darling, referring to Flenness' lie which Whitaker declared had led him astray, said:

"The letter shows sad decadence in a great family. I myself, if I belonged to such family, would starve rather than my living by edging for orders for beer."

Flenness' letter had invited Col. Whitaker to use his good offices in behalf of a firm of brewers.

Others Fined.

John Canfield, general manager and director of Lipton's, Limited, and Archibald Minto, formerly head of the military department of the same firm, were each fined $2,500. The other seven defendants were fined $250 each. The other military defendants were bound over to come up for trial at a later date.

The attorney-general, in closing the case for the prosecution, remarked that it was not fair to the Thomas Lipton say that so far as the prosecution knew, there was no document and no evidence which suggested in the slightest that anyone besides those who had been brought before the court should be prosecuted.

ENGLISH AND FRENCH FOR CIVIL SERVANTS

Senator Belcourt Supports Motion to Make Dual Language Compulsory.

Ottawa, May 27.—Senator Belcourt, of Ottawa, has come out in favor of civil servants in all departments being able to speak both English and French. He made the declaration in the Senate, on Senator Choquette's motion that all postoffice department employees in Ontario and Quebec should know both languages. The motion was carried by a vote of 19 to 12. During the evening, speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Elliott and Dr. MacKinnon.

During the discussion, Senator Belcourt declined to support the amendment of Senator Choquette, on the ground that it was too limited and should extend to all civil servants in Canada.

Senator Belcourt also argued against the amendment because it would be a hardship on postmasters in small places in Quebec where hardly anyone could speak English.

DID NOT SAY "NO MAN CAN

CALL ME A LIAR AND LIVE"

Ald. Wilson Takes Exception to

One Version of His Tilt With Controller Moore.

Alderman W. A. Wilson, chairman of the special committee of the city council which was appointed to bring in an opinion of the city solicitor on immediate action for the subway for London, said yesterday that a wrong version was being circulated of the tilt he had with Controller Percy Moore last week in the office of City Solicitor Meredith.

"I strongly resent the statement," said Alderman Wilson, "that when Controller Moore called me a liar, I am alleged to have replied, 'No man can call me a liar and live.' I did not make such a statement as that would put me in the class of a would-be murderer. What I did say was that no man living could call me a liar, when I was stating something that is true."

The tilt resulted when Alderman Wilson, as convener of the meeting, made a reference to a statement by Mayor Graham at the last meeting of the council, when he said that if the subway matter was pushed now it would probably cost London 80 per cent. and the Grand Trunk 20 per cent. of the final cost. Controller Moore took exception to this statement.

LONDON MAN CLAIMS TO

HAVE LARGEST HEN'S EGG

Black Minorca Celebrates Victoria Day by Laying 4 Ounce

8 1-8-Inch Egg.

Claiming it to be one of the largest hen's eggs he ever saw, Gordon Booth, of 11 Rathgar street, brought to the editor of the Advertiser yesterday afternoon a perfect specimen, weighing 4 ounces and measuring 8 1-8 inches the long way, and 6 1/4 inches around.

The egg was laid by a Rose Comb Black Minorca on Victoria day, and, according to the Sabbath, the same hen laid an egg Sunday, measuring 7 7-8 inches the long way. There are double yolks in both eggs. The hen was originally owned by George Young, blacksmith, on Adelaide street, and Mr. Booth says she has been laying steadily ever since he got her in March.

If anybody has a hen which can lay a larger egg than Mr. Booth's black Minorca, he would like to see it. He is not a chicken fancier, and only keeps the hens to reduce the high cost of living.

Blaze, Breaking Out Suddenly,

Requires Firemen to Extinguish It.

A hot box, caused by machine trouble, on Normal car No. 74, westbound on Stanley street, near the Wharfcliffe road, was the cause of a spectacular blaze about 11:30 o'clock last night. The car, in charge of Motorman Turnbull and Conductor Paris, was travelling at a rapid rate, when suddenly a bluish flame ripped out from under the car, and the under framework started to burn fiercely.

Plugging his car, Motorman Turnbull rushed to the nearest fire alarm box at Stanley and Perry streets, and turned in a call. The south-end brigade and the central response.

When the firemen arrived, the floor of the car was burning fiercely, and the flames were already licking the sides. Axes and chemicals quickly extinguished the blaze. The car was towed to the barns by wrecking car No. 52.

Officials at the barns last night would place no estimate on the damage.

Only a few passengers were on the car at the time, and they quickly alighted. Traffic on the south line was tied up for over half an hour.
