BRITISH PREMIER REPLIES TO LABOR CRITICS

METHODISTS OF LONDON AND HAMILTON CONFERENCES NECK AND NECK IN DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Two-Million-Dollar Mark Has Been Passed by Methodists of Canada—Excellent Progress Reported in Securing Funds in Connection With Forward Movement—Expecting To Exceed Objective.

Toronto, Feb. 11.—Encouraging reports continue to pour in to the various denominational headquarters conducting the inter-church forward movement here today, and despite the ravages of the influenza epidemic, which has practically halted campaigning in many rural sections of Ontario, the totals are mounting to levels which warm the hearts of the organizers. In some of the Toronto churches the epidemic is working havoc, having stricken over half the working staffs. In the Anglican offices, Mr. Evelyn MacRae, Toronto organizer, is the only officer left of a staff of six to carry on the work for the Dominion. Dr. Gould, Dominion organizer, is ill with the influenza, but will attempt to address a meeting at Oshawa this evening.

Methodism has passed the two million mark, half way toward its first objective of four million dollars in the national campaign. Returns received from the conferences up till noon today total $2,092,963, made up as follows:

Toronto	$776,684
London	229,480
Hamilton	227,110
Bay of Quinte	180,500
Montreal	276,[illegible]9
Nova Scotia	81,741
New Brunswick and P. E. I.	54,444
Manitoba	71,200
Saskatchewan	116,500
Alberta	18,000
British Columbia	60,215

London and Hamilton conferences are running neck and neck, the last-named doing particularly well yesterday.

OTTAWA IS DOING WELL.

Ottawa, Feb 11.—Returns for the first day of the financial drive in connection with the forward movement show a total of over $17,000 for the Methodist churches of the city and district. The returns, however, are by no means complete, and the actual sum collected is greatly in excess of this amount.

No large individual subscriptions have yet been received, the collectors not having canvassed the richer members of the congregations. By Saturday night it is confidently expected that the objective of $100,000 for the city and district will have been reached.

WAR OFFICIALLY ENDED ON TENTH OF JANUARY

Date Has Been Fixed by British Royal Order.

London, Feb. 11.—Announcement was made today that January 10 was the official date upon which the war with Germany terminated. This date was fixed by a royal order.

WILSON HAS CABLE FROM CROWN PRINCE OFFERING SURRENDER

Frederick Wilhelm Says He Is Willing To Be Victim.

Washington, Feb. 10. — President Wilson had before him tonight the cablegram from Frederick Wilhelm, former crown prince of Germany, suggesting that the Allies take him as a "victim" instead of the 900 Germans demanded for trial. The official attitude of the president was not disclosed.

The text of the message which was sent to the rulings of Great Britain, Belgium and Italy, the Emperor of Japan and the president of France and the United States, is as follows:

"The demand for the delivery of the Germans of every walk of life has again confronted my country, morally tried by four years of war and one year of severe internal struggles, with a crisis that is without precedent in the history of the world as affecting the people. That a government can be found in Germany which would carry out the demanded surrender is out of the question; the consequences to Europe of an enforcement of the demand by violence are incalculable; hatred and revenge would be made eternal.

"As the former successor to the throne of my fatherland, I am willing at this fateful hour to stand up for my compatriots. If the allied and associated government want a victim, let them take me instead of the 900 Germans who have committed no offence other than that of serving their country in the war.

J. F. ORDE SWORN IN AS ONTARIO JUDGE

Toronto, Feb. 11.—J. F. Orde, K.C., of Ottawa, who was recently appointed to the Ontario bench to succeed Mr. Justice Britton, presented his patent to Chief Justice Sir William Mulock in the appellate division at Osgoode Hall this morning. The patent was read by G. S. Holmstead, K.C., and the oath was then administered to the new judge. Mr. Justice Orde then took his place on the second divisional court. He will return to Ottawa at the end of the week, and on Monday will commence his duties as a member of the high court division, probably taking over the appointments made for the late Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge.

METHODIST CHURCH LEADS IN CAMPAIGN; OTHERS FACE DELAY

Illness Is Hampering Those Working for Forward Movement.

ANGLICANS DOING WELL

But Presbyterians Must Postpone Canvass For Some Days Yet.

The Methodist forward movement seems to be the most progressive so far in the united campaign for funds, there being fewer sick in this denomination than in any other.

The London conference boasts of $217,000 up to midnight on Tuesday, but amounts have come in this morning which have not yet been recorded. The First Church has in hand $22,000, Dundas Centre Church $12,000, Wellington Street $2,600, Colborne Street $3,000; the Centennial Church has so far only $55, many of the canvassers in this district being sick; Hyatt Avenue $1,200, Methodist Memorial $2,500, Hale Street $702, and Askin Street $5,000. Some individual subscriptions have also been sent to the central office.

In the Anglican churches, Chairman Clair Jarvis reported things progressing very favorably in this deanery, and reported $74,000 for the Huron Diocese.

The Presbyterians are obliged to postpone the canvass in some of the districts, there being so much illness, but it is hoped that for a day or two at the end of this week and a few days of next week will see the objective of the London Presbytery reached. Dr. D. L. McCrae reports that things are progressing better in the outlying districts, where there is not so much sickness.

The Congregational churches and the Baptist churches both report success in the canvassing, and state that the objectives will be obtained by the end of the week.

EX-PREMIER ASQUITH SAYS KING'S SPEECH A COLORLESS DOCUMENT

Declares Government's Policy Has Strengthened the Bolshevik's Hand.

London, Feb. 11.—By Canadian Press.—Ex-Premier Asquith last night declared the king's speech a colorless document, but selected one topic for remark—that normal conditions should be restored to Russia. He admitted the prime minister had always been opposed to the intervention, and disposed to welcome efforts for settlement but had been overborne by more adventurous and reactionary colleagues.

The Government's Russian policy, he said, had only strengthened the power of the soviet, and if continued would lead to the establishment in Russia of a military regime, as after the French revolution.

ASQUITH'S DAUGHTER PREDICTS ELECTION IN A. B. C. ORDER

London, Feb. 11.—Canadian Press.—Lady Bonham Carter, daughter of ex-Premier Asquith, says it is as easy as A. B. C. to forecast the result of the Paisley election. It will be in alphabetical order as follows, she says: Asquith, Biggar, Coalition.

WILSON WILLING TO ALTER PART 10 OF LEAGUE

Ready To Compromise On Article, According to White House Report.

CONSIDER IT SOON

Hopes Satisfactory Readjustment Can Be Effected When Treaty Reaches Floor.

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wilson is willing to accept a compromise on article 10 of the League of Nations covenant. This was stated at the White House today. Furthermore, the president is hopeful that the Democrats and the "mild reservationists" may reach a compromise on all reservations and it is learned that the president would favor such action, based on the Hitchcock reservations.

President Wilson's letter to Senator Hitchcock, which was read at the Democratic caucus last Saturday, has been misinterpreted, it was stated at the White House. The president intended to inform Senator Hitchcock that he was agreeable "to the substance" of the Hitchcock reservation to article 10 and was also in support of the reservations put forth by Senator Hitchcock in the bi-partisan conferences.

Wilson Expects Compromise.

The president believes firmly that a satisfactory compromise will be reached between the Democrats and the "mild reservationissts" when the treaty reaches the floor again, it was learned.

President Wilson is not altogether pleased with the way in which his letter was handled, it was learned. He sees no reason why the letter, written on January 26, was withheld until last Saturday. The Grey letter was written and made public in the meantime and the president believes that this has led to confusion. He has been at a loss to understand why his letter was "misinterpreted" by the Democratic senators.

Consider Treaty Monday.

Senate leaders agreed today to postpone further action on the treaty by the Senate until Monday.

Illness of a number of senators, several of whom are suffering from "bad colds," symptomatic of the "flu," caused the leaders to decide it would be inadvisable to take the treaty up again in the Senate until a full attendance was assured.

The Senate foreign relations committee voted unanimously to report the treaty back to the Senate with the Lodge reservations.

Herbert Hoover, in favoring reservations to the peace treaty, placed himself on the side of the senatorial "irreconcilables" opposing unreserved ratification. Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, declared in the Senate this afternoon.

HUNGARY IS TO ASK DELAY IN EXECUTION OF TREATY CLAUSES

Peasants Endeavoring To Obtain Gold for Products.

Budapest, Feb. 11.—The value of the dollar here has reached 250 Hungarian crowns. The peasants are endeavoring to obtain gold or dollars in exchange for their products. Roland Hegedues, the financial expert of the Hungarian peace delegation, said before leaving for Paris:

"We will ask for a postponement for five years of the execution of the economic clauses of the treaty. Conditions might improve during the breathing spell and enable us to pay."

HUNGARIAN PEACE DELEGATION ARRIVES IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Objections To Treaty Will Be Submitted To Allies.

Paris, Feb. 11.—Hungary's peace delegation, headed by Count Apponyi, arrived here this morning. Brig.-Gen. H. H. Bandholtz, American representative on the inter-Allied military commission in Budapest, accompanied the Hungarian representatives. A large volume containing the delegation's observations on the Hungarian peace treaty will be presented to the secretariat of the peace conference by Count Apponyi tomorrow morning.

Answers Matrimonial "Adv.", Meets Attractive Widow, Experience Costs Him $2,000

Detroit, Feb. 11.—Lajos Negey, Hungarian, read in the classified columns of a Hungarian newspaper an attractive advertisement citing that Mrs. Julia Balogh, widow, owned a fine farm in Milan, Mich., and desired a working partner for it. Also that a proposal of marriage would be considered if the applicant so desired.

Negey wrote to the woman from his home in Toledo, advising that he was in the market for a farm and a wife, too, and desired more information. He received a reply asking him to go to Milan. That trip cost him nearly $2,000, according to his testimony before United States Commissioner J. Stanley Hurd Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Balogh, claimed to be the writer of the advertisement and enticing letters, is charged with using the mails to defraud on complaint of Negey, who says he never received a share in any farm and, also that Mrs. Balogh is not a widow, but has a husband living. Dzo Gassi, brother of Mrs. Balogh, is made co-defendant.

Negey spent two hours on the witness stand at the preliminary hearing, telling how Mrs. Balogh met him in Milan and, with her brother, drove him to a fine farm and showed him a horse, several cows, a pig, two cats, a house, a barn and farm equipment, all of which he said she claimed to own. Negey said it looked fine to him, and when she asked only $1,500 for a half interest, and also consented to become his wife, he was elated.

Negey said he was so pleased that he bought clothes for her two children, entertained them at dinner, and paid $800 to Gassi for some of the live stock on the farm, which, it developed, he testified, belonged to Gassi and not Mrs. Balogh. The witness said that he and Mrs. Balogh started for Cleveland to be married, but during the trip Mrs. Balogh remarked that many persons were being robbed or losing money. After that, he testified, his companion left him for a short time to go to the women's room.

When they arrived in Cleveland and discussed the wedding details, Mrs. Balogh suddenly discovered that she had lost the $1,500 Negey gave her, according to the witness. Negey said he began to get suspicious then, and more so when Mrs. Balogh informed him she could not get married because she was not divorced from her husband.

Still later, Negey said, he found that the farm Mrs. Balogh showed him belonged to someone else and that she had no property of her own. Then he decided to go to law.

Shoots Boarder, Then Kills Self

Domestic Troubles Supposed Motive of Pontiac Man.

Pontiac, Mich., Feb. 10.—Domestic troubles, said to have arisen over the presence of Dee Tripp in his home as a boarder, is the motive ascribed for the attempted murder of Tripp and suicide of Herbert Stanley late Monday.

Tripp was employed by a local coal dealer. Stanley fired while he was driving a wagon and seriously injured Tripp. He summoned help and fainted, whereupon Stanley fled. When a pursuing officer approached him he drew the gun again and fired through his heart, dying a few minutes later in the office of the sheriff.

Stanley some time ago was sent to the county farm to live. Tripp's home is at Rochester, and he has been living at a boarding house conducted by Mrs. Stanley. He probably will recover.

ITALY PROPOSES TAX ON LAZINESS

Persons Who Refuse To Work Will Be Subject To Levies.

Rome, Feb. 11.—All able-bodied citizens of Italy between the ages of 20 and 65 would be required to work by the provisions of a bill introduced in Parliament by Giovanni Lombardi, Independent Socialist deputy, who calls the measure "a tax on laziness." Persons able to work, who fail to do so, are subjected to heavy levies under the provisions of the bill.

Money acquired from this source would be used to maintain those unable to work and keep up agricultural colonies to which able-bodied persons who fail to work would be sent.

FOCH AND MILLERAND LEAVE FOR LONDON

Paris, Feb. 11.—Premier Millerand, accompanied by Marshal Foch, Frederic Francois Marsal, minister of finance, Gen. Weygand and M. Thoumyre, under-secretary for food, left for London this morning.

TRADE EXPANSION IS ONLY WAY TO ASSIST POUND STERLING ABROAD

London, Feb. 11.—The conference of manufacturers and producers summoned by the federation of British industries today passed a resolution declaring that improvement in the pound sterling abroad could only be assisted by expansion of trade. The resolution said that manufacturers should set aside some portion of their output for export purposes.

Sir Arthur H. Steele-Maitland, Unionist member of the House of Commons, said that expansion of Great Britain's trade in the east and in South America where there is a wide field for British products, would go a long way toward ratifying exchange rates.

EVERY EFFORT BEING MADE TO PREVENT A STRIKE ON RAILWAYS

Conference Is Being Held Today Between Hines and Railroaders.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Union Men Refuse To Discuss Strike Order or Wage Controversy.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—The result of the railway wage conference this afternoon between Director-General Hines and the representatives of the unions probably will determine whether the rail transportation systems are to be tied up by a strike before the Government surrenders control. The strike call has been issued for Tuesday next and the conference is being held here in an effort to avert the big walkout.

The situation was regarded as critical by the railroad administration and union officials.

The committee of ten representing the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees arrived here this morning from Detroit and immediately went into conference with J. B. Malloy, vice-president of the union and its other representatives in the negotiations with Mr. Hines.

Members of the committee refused to discuss the strike order or any phase of the wage controversy.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF C. P. R. VISITS CITY; NO ANNOUNCEMENTS

Here For General Inspection, That Is All.

Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is in the city today on a tour of inspection. This is the first visit he has made to the city since his appointment to the position two years ago.

Businessmen of the city entertained him and members of his party at a luncheon in the Tecumseh House. This was purely of a social nature, and no business was discussed.

Nothing to Tell.

Mr. Hall stated to The Advertiser following the luncheon that he had no announcements of an important nature to make in regard to this district. He would add nothing to President Beatty's statement regarding the necessity for a general increase in rates, declaring that it was a matter for the railway board to deal with and that outside opinion would not be advisable.

Just Inspection.

He emphasized the fact that his visit was nothing more or less than a regular inspection tour and had nothing to do with any contemplated business here.

Accompanying Mr. Hall were F. L. Wanklyn, chief executive of the district; Alan Purvis, general superintendent of the Ontario division, and M. R. Brown, general freight agent, as well as members of the local staff.

LLOYD GEORGE TAKES A SLAM AT LABORITES

Blames Union Regulations For Unemployment Among Soldiers.

Canadian Premier Tells Correspondent He Is Feeling Much Better.

London, Feb. 11.—(By Canadian Press).—Premier Borden, walking rather feebly but looking well in the face, was in the distinguished stranger gallery at the House of Commons last night when the prime minister replied to the Independent Liberal and Labor leaders' address in the Commons.

"I am getting on very well indeed," remarked Sir Robert to the Canadian Press correspondent.

Premier Lloyd George had none of the haggard appearance which he has often been observed to wear when he has addressed the House during the last three years. He was in the best of spirits and his reply to the strictures uttered just previously by Labor Leader Adamson on the record of the Government were received with delighted shouts from every part of the House.

Mr. Adamson and Donald MacLean, Independent Liberal chief, were moved to laughter at some of the premier's thrusts at themselves. Premier Lloyd George got his first blow in concerning Sir Donald MacLean's reference to the by-elections.

"So far as the right honorable gentleman's section is concerned," rapped out the premier, "they have been forced into third place, and he had much better, therefore, have left it for his Labor neighbor to have mentioned the matter."

Union Regulations Prevent.

The premier proceeding seriously, referred to soldiers looking vainly for work and drew loud cheers when he declared there was nothing, but trade union regulations standing in the way of their getting it.

"When these regulations are suspended; when national need comes first, then you can ask questions of the Government, why these men are not at work, but in the meantime, I ask this question of the Labor party."

The premier proceeded to say he had no fear of the judgment of a British jury when they had the real record of the Government. "That is temporary, though our time will come," continued the premier. "I am longing for it. You go down into the constituencies," he proceeded, indicating the benches opposite, "and you say nothing is being done. If you only took the trouble to attend the House of Commons you would know more of what is really being done. I have no fear of by-elections; no more of general elections. But I am afraid of growing controversial," added the premier, as if by an afterthought which drew the biggest burst of appreciation of all.

Mr. Lloyd George went on to describe Mr. Adamson's "pleasant fortnight in Ireland," an ironic reference to the recent visit there of the Labor leader and his colleagues. "Are we to withdraw our troops and leave assassins in charge?" dramatically asked the premier.

There was some comment by members that the premier made no reference in his speech to the League of Nations or to the temperance program, both of which found a place in the King's speech.

LIQUOR QUESTION IS BRIEFLY DISCUSSED IN BRITISH COMMONS

London, Feb. 11.—The drink question was briefly discussed in both Houses of Parliament yesterday.— Earl Curzon told the Lords that the bill on this subject to be introduced would contain provisions for shorter hours of sale. The experiment of state management certainly would not be dropped, he said.

In the House of Commons, the subject was alluded to by Sir Donald MacLean.

"The fact that America has gone dry is an economic fact of the gravest importance to Great Britain," he said. He declared the British expenditure for drink absolutely staggered him. The country spent more than £164,000,000 for drink in 1914, he said, and this expenditure increased steadily until it was £259,000,000 in 1918, while it was estimated that the expenditure for the year ending March 31 next would be nearly £400,000,000. He was unaware what the duty on consumption for the last-named period would produce for the public revenue, but the duty of 1918 was £48,500,000. It was a form of revenue that all chancellors of the exchequer would be pleased to be able to dispense with, he said. He hoped the measures proposed by the Government would prove to be a serious attempt to grapple with the evil.

The liquor question will be debated in the House of Commons during the present week, when according to a lobby report, Lady Astor will speak on the topic, in which she is much interested, and upon which she has addressed several meetings during the parliamentary vacation. It will not only be her ladyship's maiden speech in the House, but the first occasion for any woman to be heard in Parliament.

MOVES AMENDMENT.

London, Feb. 11.—William Brace, president of the South Wales Miners' Federation, speaking in the House of Commons in behalf of labor today, moved an amendment to the reply to the speech from the throne, expressing regret for "the absence of any proposal to nationalize the coal mines of the country along lines recommended by the majority of the members of the royal commission on the coal industry, which was appointed to advise the Government as to the best methods of reorganizing the industry."

BALTIMORE MANUFACTURERS FORCE GERMAN CARGO TO BE LOADED AT NORFOLK

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 11.—The steamship Lake Forsby, the first freighter of the new Wilbur F. Spice & Co. Line to Hamburg, Germany, must load practically half her cargo at Norfolk because Baltimore manufacturers and exporters are unwilling to deal with the Germans under trade conditions.

FIRST MEETING OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS BEING HELD TODAY IN HISTORIC BRITISH PALACE

Arthur J. Balfour Will Preside Over Afternoon Session—Nations Represented At Gathering Are Great Britain, Belgium, Brazil, France, Greece, Italy, Japan and Spain.

London, Feb. 11.—The meeting of the council of the league of nations occurs today in the historic picture gallery of St. James Palace, which was built by Henry VIII. Immediately below the portrait of this monarch a large table has a place for the accommodation of the members of the council, before whom Leon Bourgeois, leader of the French delegation, delivers the opening address.

The remainder of the gallery was apportioned to seats for the 160 invited guests, including all the ambassadors and ministers of the Allied, associated and neutral powers, together with other distinguished public men and the representatives of the press.

The opening meeting at noon was planned to be of a more or less formal nature, to deal with the programs of the proceedings of the subsequent meetings, which will occupy Thursday as well as today, some of the sessions being public and others private. This afternoon's session, over which Arthur J. Balfour, the British representative will preside, is one of private sessions.

The nations represented at the meeting are Belgium, Brazil, Great Britain, France, Greece, Italy, Japan and Spain.

Organized Labor Threatens Life Of American Govt.

Bishop Quayle Sees Danger in Unionism's Attitude.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 11.—"The very existence of our republican form of government in this country is seriously threatened because of the attempt of organized labor to dominate the halls of Congress," declared Bishop William A. Quayle of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in an address at Mount Vernon Place Church last night.

NAKED MAN BREAKS INTO HOUSE; BATTLES WITH THE OCCUPANT

Had Been Running Long Distance in Snow.

CAME FROM BARRACKS

And Managed To Smash Furniture Before He Was Overpowered.

Running down the C. P. R. tracks at lightning speed, Friday night, a stark naked man stopped at the little railway station in the Asylum grounds, and rushing into the house, grabbed a cane belonging to the stationmaster, Patrick O'Neil, and proceeded to break dishes and furniture.

Mr. O'Neil, although handicapped by not having full use of his arms, rushed at the crazed man, whom he thought had escaped from the Ontario Hospital, and kept him busy while his wife ran to the hospital for help. By the time a guard from the institution arrived, Mr. O'Neil had his man pretty well under subjection.

The naked individual told the officials at the hospital, who did not know him, that he had come from Wolseley Barracks, where he had had his teeth taken out that morning. He thought he had been given too much gas. This was believed by his hearers.

The barracks when communicated with said nothing was known there of the man, and finally the patrol from the police station arrived and took His Nakedness to the nice warm cells at the Carling street bastile.

The military authorities acknowledged later on that the man came from the barracks, and he has been placed under observation by the authorities, who have some doubts as to his sanity.

MONTREAL BROKER SAID TO BE IMPLICATED IN PLAN TO STEAL BONDS

New York, Feb. 11.—It developed this morning that a Montreal broker is alleged to be implicated in the plot which the police here claim was concocted by a "syndicate" of messengers in the financial district to steal five million dollars worth of bonds. The name of the Montreal man is being withheld by the police, who announce that further arrests are likely to be made in connection with the case.

Deputy Police Commissioner Lahey this morning told the Canadian Press that his men were working on the Montreal end of the case, but that no action had yet been taken towards the arrest of the suspected man.

BRIG.-GEN. D. M. ORMOND, D. S. O., who has been appointed superintendent to command the Ottawa division of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

CROWN PRINCE'S OFFER MERELY "PLAY TO GODS"

Dutch Newspapers Amused at Frederick Wilhelm's Message.

WAS SUDDEN IMPULSE

Von Lersner's Return Prompted Ex-Kaiser's Son To Move.

Amsterdam, Feb. 11.—Former Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm of Germany sent his telegram to the heads of allied governments offering to surrender in place of Germans demanded in the allied extradition list, almost on the impulse of the moment, according to an interview with Major von Muinheim, the former crown prince's adjutant, published in the Telegraaf.

"The former heir to the German throne," said the major, after confirming reports that a telegram had been sent, "took his resolution without thinking long about it. The return of Baron von Lersner from Paris and the serious situation which has arisen in Berlin in consequence, prompted the prince to send his telegram. He hopes by this to avert serious difficulties for Germany."

Dutch newspapers describe William's action as "a beautiful gesture."

WANT LEGISLATURE TO ALLOW CITY TO BUILD NEW BRIDGE

Council Will Include It in London Bill.

Authority to replace the Ridout street bridge will be asked in the city of London bill. No. 2 committee of the city council has decided this is the only way to deal with the matter. A special committee, consisting of Ald. C. Moorhead and Mayor G. S. Little, interviewed the city solicitor. He told them that the only way to get the money was to secure the assent of the legislature to issue debentures.

Special attention will be paid to the present bridge to forestall trouble from ice in the spring.

The police commission may be asked to watch the bridge more carefully to see that all vehicles comply with the speed law.

FLIERS WHO MADE MANY TRIPS OVER LONDON LAST YEAR TRAVEL TO MEXICO IN THEIR MACHINE

First Tramp Airmen To Make Flight From Canada to Land of Unending Wars—Had Amusing Experiences—Is Returning Here in Summer.

Ex-Lieut. J. T. Ringland, well known locally because of the many flights he made in this city under the direction of Thomas Logan of the Majestic Theatre last summer, and who expects to repeat his performances here next summer, has won fame for himself by making the first trip ever made by a tramp flying machine from Canada to Mexico. He was accompanied by his groundman, F. J. Routledge.

Swinging across the United States from Canada in long or short flights, just as the fancy struck them, they took one month to reach the Mexican border. Stops were made at all the larger towns along the route. Many of the natives were given their first opportunity to see a plane at close quarters, and according to Ringland, who has written an account of his trip, it would take a book to record all the funny remarks and questions asked.

Started From Detroit.

The start was made from Detroit on November 3, 1919. The first stop was made in Monroe, Mich., where Ringland had many friends, because of former flights made there. On leaving Monroe on the following morning, they headed south, with no particular destination in view. Through mishap the map of the country was left behind, and for that reason they soon lost track of their bearings.

After an hour and a half of flying, they selected what looked like a likely-looking town and landed to find their location, replenish their gas supply, and incidentally to do some passenger carrying. They got their bearings and some gas, but they made no exhibition flights, because the farmer into whose fields they landed was "afraid of them there things," and did not approve of the operations on his land, so they moved on.

All Wanted Rides.

A little later a stop was made at Prospect, Ohio. The school which was near the landing place of the machine was let out for the occasion, and they were soon surrounded by children. The crowd of people who desired rides were so great that it was found necessary to remain over a day to accommodate all. At Richwood, in the same state, they discovered a fall fair in progress, and so reaped a harvest before night.

With a new map in their possession, they started for Troy, Ohio, the birthplace of Ringland's mother, and then went on to Dayton, which place the Wright brothers made famous in the aviation world, by their early experiments. The next stop was made at Lebanon, Indiana, where a number of people asked to be taken for rides. Near Kansas, Illinois, the pilot visited the farm of his uncle.

Not far from this place, on the Illinois River, the two men went on a duck-hunting trip, and in two and a half hours shot 25 ducks, which they carried suspended from the cockpit of the machine. These they used as bribes wherever stops were made, and needless to say they received a welcome on the strength of a promise of a duck dinner for the host.

Across Country.

Day by day they worked their way across the remaining states of Missouri and Arkansas, stopping at every promising-looking town, where many natives were given their first "flaunt" through the clouds. Fewer stops were made in crossing Texas, and the last stage of the trip through the treacherous air currents of that state did not take long.

On sighting the border of Mexico, the adventurers turned and made their way back to San Antonio, Texas, where an uncle of Ringland's lives. They are staying at this place during the winter, and have acquired a landing field from which they make flights.

Mr. Ringland claims that the trip has added greatly to his experience gained while flying in the Government service. He said it takes long experience and real aptitude to make a finished flier, but that getting in and out of small country fields and some of them rough at that, aids greatly.

The two men will return to London next summer and will again give many trips.

GAVE YOUNG GIRL LIQUOR SO MUST PAY $50 FINE

William Restrick's Headache Cure Not Approved by Court.

William Restrick this morning was fined $50 and costs, with the alternative of spending two months in Jail, for supplying liquor to Ada Conn, a minor.

On Tuesday, the couple spent an enjoyable evening at a local dance hall. On the way home, Restrick, who is 21 years of age, drew a flask of whiskey from his pocket and took a "snort." Immediately his companion complained of an extremely violent headache. Just water was suggested as the only relief for the pain. An overdose taken by both of them caused them to see things.

At last they arrived at an East End ice cream parlor and decided that a little frozen cream would refresh them. Once more they were on the street meandering homewards. The meandering was not of long duration, for P. C. William Middaugh put in an appearance, and with the assistance of the police auto had them pursuing the most direct route for the police station.

This morning the girl was remanded for a week. She said that her mother was in town, but that she did not live with her as she, the accused, worked out.

LEGISLATURE MEETS MARCH 4.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 11—Nova Scotia's provincial legislature has been called to meet March 4th.

PROTESTS WILL AND WANTS IT DECLARED NOW NULL AND VOID

Eva Bartlett Enters Action Against Thompson Executors.

Bartlett vs. Thompson, et al, the first case to be entered for the spring assizes, which open at the courthouse on March 22, was set down this morning. Eva Bartlett of Souris, Manitoba, is plaintiff in the case, and J. B. Thompson, William Thompson, John H. Thompson and Wilbur Thompson, as executors of the estate of the late John Thompson of Ingersoll, are the defendants.

The plaintiff is asking that the court make a declaration that the will which the executors entered for probate be declared null and void and that the probate be cancelled.

She claims that the will entered was not the last one of the deceased, and at the time of the signing of the said will, the late Mr. Thompson was not in a state mentally or physically to understand the purport of the same. It is alleged, also, that undue influence was used by the defendants.

The case is a non-jury one.

Kept Low Note Even If Dignity Went by Board

Basso Shows What Devotion To Art Really Means.

Nothing must stand in the way of perfection in note-production, so far as the Musical Art Society is concerned, and, whatever the sacrifice, members must sing their best. At a practice last night this fact was impressed on all by the efforts of one basso. He and his fellow-rumblers were singing away below the staff, and it was with difficulty they maintained it. Eventually, one (nameless), in a last effort, slid from his chair to the floor, keeping his "growl" going. It is reported that the leader is holding him up as an example to the rest, as a result.

STAR REPORTER GOES TO SOLVE MYSTERIOUS MAN PROBLEM; FINDS PALE-FACED ONE ON CAR TRACKS

Clings To Him and Gets Him On Car For City, Only To Find That He and His Captive Both Suspect the Other Of Being One Wanted.

(By the Demon Reporter.)

As "old 27" trundled on her way westward bound for Springbank on the evening of February 10, 1920, I was a passenger. Excitement ran high through my veins for I was seeking to solve a mystery that had troubled the minds of the crew of the old car and of many who daily made the trip.

In an awed whisper, I confided my mission to the conductor, but as he was a new man he knew nothing, except by hearsay, of the pallid-faced man who nightly haunted the tracks in the vicinity of Woodland Cemetery. He advised me to go forward and interview the motorman, as he was reported to have seen the man (or ghost) every night for two weeks.

Main Topic.

As I staggered forward through the rolling car I could hear people on each side talking of the mystery, and it seemed that many were making the trip out of curiosity, hoping to get a glimpse of the stranger as the car wended its way. I found the motorman anxiously scanning the track before him, and peering into the shadows lurking behind posts and bushes.

In a few words he explained, in a hollow voice, what he had seen, how on the previous Saturday night the object, caught unawares by the headlight of the car, had hidden behind a post, and how when the car was stopped, and John Ashton, the conductor, had interrogated him, he answered nothing.

Pointed Out Spots.

On approaching the haunted ground he slowed the car and pointed out the spots where the man had been seen previously.

After cautioning the motorman to look for me on the return trip, I alighted at the gates of the cemetery, and after the car had disappeared around a curve, I retraced my steps through the darkness. I peered into each shadow and stop to listen at each sound which usually proved to be the wind sighing through bare-limbed trees. The wet snow clung to my feet and it was not long before my shoes were sodden and my feet cold.

Saw Nothing.

On reaching the eastern limit of the ill-famed district, I turned and retraced my steps and then made my way westward from the cemetery. There was a point, somewhere about 200 yards from the western limits where the stranger had been seen more often than in other places, and the place I examined with care. I saw nothing.

After about a half-mile tramp westward I turned discouraged, started back, making up my mind that the whole story was a hoax, and determined to give up the hunt.

There He Is.

Then as I rounded a sharp curve in the very spot the motorman pointed out stood a man, silent and black against the ghostly grey light of the winter night. My heart gave a leap—at last I was to solve the mystery.

I carefully approached the figure so as not to scare it, then in as casual and as natural voice as possible, I remarked: "Bad walking, isn't it," just to camouflage my real purpose. My heart sank to my boots as he answered "Yes." This could not be the man, for did not the crew of the car say he remained silent when addressed?

The Man-Sure.

On approaching closely I regained assurance that I was on the right track for a more pallid face I had never seen, and as he spoke his voice had a peculiar tremor in it.

"Going to the city?" he inquired. "Aha!" I thought as I answered in the affirmative, "He's trying to find out, so he can elude me. I'll keep my eyes on him."

"Do you live in the city?" I asked.

"No, at the cemetery." Then, I was sure of myself. He was demented as I thought. I determined to humor him, and to induce him to come to the city on the car with me, and then I would have an opportunity to learn something about him.

Proposes Ride.

He confided that he intended to go to the city, too, and to my relief he proposed that we ride on the car, instead of tramping through the wet snow. He informed me that the car would come in a few minutes. As we made our way back to the cemetery I kept close to him, for I was afraid he would try to escape, as I felt quite sure he did not intend to go to the city.

To my intense satisfaction the light from old 27 was already reflected around the corner, and in the few seconds before the car blinded to a standstill he had no chance to make a getaway.

At Last.

The motorman must have grasped my predicament in a second, for he immediately threw open the front door, and I almost dragged my captive up the steps.

"Hello, Lou! Did you see anything of our wildman?" I turned; I gasped; then I feel sure my mouth slowly opened, for the motorman had addressed the man I had so carefully stalked and captured. As I looked at him in the bright light of the car he did not look so terribly pallid or unnatural. As he laughed and talked, I saw my mistake.

"Why," I stammered, "I thought he was the man."

"O! ho! ho!" laughed the motorman, "that man lives on the other side of the cemetery. We pick him up nearly every night. He has a girl in London."

My victim shot out his hand laughing, then said; "Shake, the joke's on me also. I, too, thought I had solved the mystery."

The whole car laughed, and "Old 27" weirdly screeched as she rolled Londonwards.

NO. 1 COMMITTEE IS TO HAVE AFTERNOON OF PUZZLE SOLVING

Many Problems Before It At Today's Meeting.

MANY FIREMEN ARE SICK

Chief Likely To Ask For Substitutes in the Meantime.

One of the busiest meetings on record is scheduled for No. 1 committee this afternoon. Some action must be taken on the street railway situation. The shortage of men in the fire department due to the flu must be dealt with, the city of London bill will come up for preliminary consideration. Applications for increases in salaries of city employees, application for $500,000 grant for a new Women's Christian Association building, playgrounds, hydrant charges and estimates, are only a few of the more important items.

Shortage Is Worrying.

The shortage of men in the fire department is causing considerable worry. The holiday season for the firemen has begun. A number of them are off duty because of this. Many others are ill. Fire Chief J. Aitken is likely to ask that a number of extra men be engaged.

An application for an increase in salary is expected from the temporary assessors. This will likely be laid over for consideration with detailed estimates.

City Bill.

Consideration of the city of London bill will occupy considerable time. All city business which requires the consent of the legislature must be placed in this. It is probable that among the items will be a provision to authorize a new Ridout street bridge. Another likely will be to have the date of election changed to the first Monday in December. Another election change will be to make provision for railwaymen and commercial travelers voting at an earlier date when they will be out of the city on the legal election date. Another will ask amendment of the act which prohibits members of city council being on other commissions. All these matters are likely to be brought forward by various members of the council and other additions may be made.

Novelty Voiles for Summer Dresses

Bright sky effects, dreams of coming balmy days—colorings of orchids, spring posies, thoughts of springtime in "ye olden days"—all these are reflected in the new display of flowered voiles.

And the exclusiveness of the assortments which all women like, a feature and part of the charm of these new fabrics.

The first showing of spring and summer novelties in this department is one of the most interesting announcements. We have opened up during the past few days a large and well assorted range of the very latest, in pretty voiles. Last summer literally crowds of people were disappointed because the really pretty voiles were gone early and could not be replaced. Everybody knows that deliveries this last few months have been even more difficult, therefore you will be wise to see these tempting fabrics while the range is so good.

DIED IN TORONTO.

Edward Roberts of Broughdale, a veteran, son of Thomas Roberts of Hamilton road, died in a Toronto military hospital this morning.

Mr. Roberts served with the C. E. F., and was badly wounded. After returning from France he suffered with his wounded arm and underwent several operations. On Saturday, January 31, he was called to Toronto by the military authorities, and on February 7 his wife was called by long-distance phone, and informed that he had contracted influenza. She inquired on the following evening as to his condition and was informed he was progressing favorably. Last night, too late to catch an evening train, she was called and told to hurry to Toronto if she wished to see him alive. She left at 5 o'clock this morning, but word came while she was on the way that he had died.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his father and mother, his wife and three small children.

MILITARY FUNERAL.

A very impressive military funeral was held this morning for Bugler Charles Royle of the P. P. C. L. I. at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Bugler Royle was one of the original Pats, and after serving all through the war, succumbed in the military hospital after a short illness.

The military authorities tried to get in touch with his parents, who reside in Vancouver. They were unsuccessful, however, and the burial had to be carried out here.

Capt. Pursley of the Pats conducted the service. The firing party and buglers were supplied from his regiment. No band was in attendance.

DANES SECURE VICTORY IN SCHLESWIG PROVINCE

APenrade, Schleswig, Feb. 11.—Overwhelming victory for the Danes in this zone of the province of Schleswig, the future status of which is to be determined by the plebiscite held today, is indicated in incomplete returns received here. Country districts showed large majorities for Denmark, while the vote in towns showed larger figures than the Danish estimates.

Donder, Apenrade and Sondenborg, however, have been carried by the Germans.

THOMAS GILLEAN DIES AFTER AN ILLNESS OF BRIEF DURATION

Was One of London's Oldest Jewelers.

NATIVE OF LONDON

Was Prominent Athlete in Younger Days—Five Brothers Survive.

Thomas Gillean, a lifelong resident of London and for many years a well-known jewler in the city, died last night after an illness of only a few days from pneumonia. He was the fourth son of James Gillean, who for a long time was connected with The Advertiser, and who at one time kept a bookstore on Dundas street. The late Mr. Gillean's father was a prominent member and an usher of St. Andrew's Church, and the son remained a member of the same church all his life.

Thomas Gillean was born in London about 64 years ago. He was educated in the common schools of the city, and after leaving school learned the jewelry trade, later entering business for himself. As a boy and young man, he and his brothers, of whom there were five, were all keenly interested in athletic sports, and Thomas was a baseball and cricket player of considerable renown. He was a member of the Snake Island Club, which numbered among its members at one time or another most of the prominent men of London.

The late Mr. Gillean married Emily Ward, a daughter of the late John Ward, and a sister of William Ward, the well-known cigar manufacturer. There were no children of this union. Mr. Gillean's father and mother both lived to extreme old age, and his death is the first break in the family since their death. The four brothers who survive (there were no sisters) are: William of Montreal, John of the Grand Trunk Railway staff in this city, who also, unfortunately, is ill at the present time; James and Alexander.

The funeral will be held on Friday at 2 o'clock from his residence, 417 Dufferin avenue, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

WILL RECOMMEND A $50 INCREASE FOR SCHOOL JANITORS

No. 2 Committee of Board of Education Decides On This.

A fifty-dollar increase for public school janitors was recommended by No. 2 committee of the board of education Tuesday afternoon. This brings the highest monthly wage to $116. Last year the janitors received an increase of ten per cent, followed by another similar increase. They were given a further increase of $50 and an additional $50 has now been recommended.

It is expected that this will be acceptable to them. There has been considerable dissatisfaction and several janitors have left. Night work was one of their grievances, and the committee will recommend that in future they be paid $2 for each night they work, instead of $1.

Mothers' Clubs asked the use of Chesley Avenue School every Tuesday night for home nursing classes. This was left with the chairman of the board and the chairman of the committee. Provision of janitor's services, lighting and heating are some of the obstacles in the way of granting this request. The coal supply of the school is barely sufficient for the winter. School Inspector C. B. Edwards suggested that the grates in the kindergarten rooms could be lighted. This would provide sufficient heat without heating the whole building.

The committee will recommend that the Grand Avenue, Cheapside and Richmond Street North School properties be advertised for sale. The Grand avenue property is assessed for $4,240. It is suggested that a street could be put through here and the property cut up for building lots. The Cheapside School property, 100x122 feet is valued at $1,400, while the building on it is valued at $2,000. Richmond street north property is 155x241 feet, and is valued at $6,860. The building is valued at $3,000. It is suggested that these buildings could be torn down, and the material used in the building program of the board this year.

Members of the committee stated emphatically that Colborne Street South School will not be closed. In fact, it is planned to spend a considerable amount of money in improving this building. A rumor was current in that district that the school would be closed.

CLEANING UNPAVED STREETS LAST YEAR COST CITY $6,003

Oiling and Watering Amounted to $26,003.

Cleaning London's unpaved streets last year cost $6,003. This included labor, material, teaming and interest charges. A surplus from 1918 reduced the net cost to $5,464.

This amount must be collected by local improvement taxation this year, and will require a rate of 1.1 mills. Property owners will be charged with $4,098 and the corporation will pay $1,366.

The amount of money spent is considerably less than in most preceding years, but is more than in 1918. In 1912 the expenditure was $14,694; 1913, $12,693; 1914, $12,740; 1915, $16,575; 1916, $8,970; 1917, $8,802; 1918, $5,362; 1919, $6,003.

Street oiling cost $24,292, street watering cost $1,710; a total of $26,003. A surplus of $1,992 from 1919 leaves the amount to be collected this year $24,010. To obtain this, there will be required a frontage rate per foot of 7.6 for heavy oil, 4.5 for light oil and 3.1 for heavy oil and broken stone.

BELMONT BOY HONORED BY KING; GETS HIS D. F. C.

Lieut. H. G. Thompson Distinguished Himself in Flying Operations in Caspian.

News lately received from England says that Second Lieut. H. G. Thompson, son of the late James D. Thompson of Belmont, Ont., formerly a student of London Collegiate Institute, and now completing an engineering course at Toronto University, and Lieut. F. R. Bicknell have been awarded by the British authorities the D. F. C. (Distinguished Flying Cross) for services rendered during the war in the Caspian Sea operations.

The former was a pilot in the Royal Air Force, and the latter his observer. Along with R. G. Morrison, they also received previously the honor of "mention" in naval dispatches for some work in an action off the coast of Turkestan.

VETERANS DEMAND PROBE OF CHARGES RE SANATORIUM

Statement Is Made That Sir Adam Beck Promised Investigation When Election Was in Sight, But Failed To Keep Promise.

The G. W. V. A. will ask that an investigation be held into the charges made by several soldier-patients and ex-patients during the last provincial election, against the management of the Byron Sanatorium. A resolution to this effect was passed practically unanimously at a general meeting of the association held in the Hyman Hall last night.

The question was brought up by P. Welsh, an ex-patient of the institution, who was responsible for most of the charges made during the election campaign. He claimed that Sir Adam Beck promised that an investigation would be made, but that it never had taken place. Among the charges made by him were, that parcels and goods addressed to soldier-patients did not reach them, but that many of them were given to the civilian patients, and that goods from the Daughters of the Empire bearing Red Crosses were found in the civilian stores. He informed the meeting that he could substantiate all his claims, and promised to make them in writing.

He also asked that an investigation be made into the reason why no man who at that time was a patient in a sanatorium, regardless of the fact that he had been passed as perfectly well by a doctor, could get an insurance policy with any insurance company in Middlesex. A resolution that the matter be taken up at the provincial convention was passed. Lieut.-Col. Coles said that the Government was to be asked to insure all returned soldiers at a minimum cost, and that the matter was to be pushed.

Chester Butler was elected vice-president in succession to Major Baron Osborne, who recently went to England.

WILL TRY TO BUILD UP SOUTH BANK OF THAMES NEAR VICTORIA HOSPITAL

Another attempt to build up the south bank of the Thames opposite Victoria Hospital may be made this year. An effort to do this last year by dumping ashes from the incinerator there was prevented by one property-owner, who refused to permit hauling the material through his property.

As a consequence all the ashes from the incinerator have been piled on the north bank of the river. This has had the natural result of making the river change its course, and it now said to have risen sixteen to seventeen feet on th south bank, compared to its original level.

Ald. Harry Wheatcroft declares that the residents of Front street will be in great danger in the event of a flood, as there is no protection whatever. He will endeavor to have the matter investigated again. It is possible that the property-owner may withdraw his objection, or other plans for conveying the ashes to that side may be made. A light aerial railway to carry loads of ashes across the river is one suggestion.

INFLUENZA REPORTED IN LAST WEEK OF JANUARY

Health Reports Show There Were Then Ten Cases.

The board of health weekly reports from December 13 to January 31 have been received, and show that it was not until the last week in January that any cases of influenza were reported. During the last week of the year Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health, was notified of ten cases of flu in the city.

Mumps showed up every week except the first seven days in January as the king pin in communicable diseases. On December 20 there were 23 cases reported, while on January 3 there were but three. A week later the total was swelled to 35, but gradually diminished until at the end of the month there were but ten cases of mumps reported.

Diphtheria cases averaged from five on December 13 to eleven on January 17, back to nine at the end of the month. There were three cases of chickenpox on December 13 and ten on January 31. There were two cases of smallpox in the city on the last day of the year, and four of scarlet fever, as well as five cases of pneumonia.

HOPES IMMIGRATION WILL SUPPLY WOMEN WORKERS

Employment Bureaux Superintendent in City Today.

H. C. Hudson of Toronto, general superintendent of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau, was in the city for a few hours this morning inspecting the local Government employment bureau, where he found things running most satisfactorily.

Mr. Hudson stated that throughout Ontario the demand for women workers far exceeded the number of applicants for work. However, he hoped that now that large numbers of British women were coming to Canada the situation would be helped out. A scheme is being devised whereby the different employment bureaux will be notified when there are women coming to their district, so that they may be placed immediately. As yet none have been announced for London, although another shipload of immigrant women has come to Canada.

The local bureau reports a great scarcity of women applicants for any work except office jobs. During the past week, however, many practical nurses have been placed by the bureau and demands are still being made for this form of help.

JEWISH CHILDREN ARE DYING BY THOUSANDS

New and Dreadful Diseases Caused by Malnutrition and Hunger.

New and dreadful diseases, previously unknown to medical science, have developed to a great extent throughout Poland, and malnutrition and hunger are responsible, according to Bernard Horwich of New York.

How the lack of proper food has affected the morals, as well as the physical condition of the Jews is interestingly commented upon by Mr. Horwich.

Within the past two years, he says, great numbers of little orphaned children have died throughout Poland, although in spite of the high death-rate there are still some 40,000 fatherless and motherless little folks. During the past two or three years infant and child mortality have been so heavy that few under six years of age have survived. Typhus and other diseases are claiming thousands of victims. Mr. Horwich makes this observation as to the moral and mental effect of this life of constant hunger and disease:

"Among the Jewish population I failed to notice an increase in crime, accusations against them being largely political in nature. There is an unduly large number of men, women and children begging on the streets.

"Few suicides have occurred in Poland to my knowledge, which fact is probably due to the influence of the Jewish religion. Insanity is reported on the increase.

READER QUESTIONS DRURY GOVERNMENT RE A WET ONTARIO

To the Editor of the Woman's Page:

There are busy days for expressmen. Never in history have citizens stood in such popularity with shipping houses. Never has money been so freely forthcoming, or expressmen so cheerfully paid. One peculiarity about it all is the similarity in the packages delivered. Their contents are all of one nature.

One beautiful October day last fall seems to have been but an idle dream—a day when earnest men and women worked tirelessly, when even feeble, ill and aged women at risk to their health, made their way to the polls in order to help along a good cause. And the result was an overwhelming majority from Ontario's people — perhaps its women in particular—in favor of the death of John Barleycorn. Yet today it seems to have been held all in vain. Wet goods are being shipped and stored in homes where one would least expect the stuff, and once more tipsy men and women are seen. Still, no one in authority seems to raise a protesting voice while a "dry Ontario" rapidly becomes a drunken people. We are assured that the Drury Government will suppress all this and restore order out of chaos, but where is the Drury Government in the meantime?

Let us pray that those in authority may speedily get busy.

DUNDAS CENTRE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY HOLDS MEETING

Dundas Centre Women's Auxiliary met for its usual monthly session on Monday afternoon, the Rev. C. Deacon leading the devotional exercises.

The convention recently held was subject of comment and discussion, the proposal to establish a school at Radway being a live issues among the members. The Ruthenian settlers are pressing for advantages for their children. Mrs. Kidds gace a resume of the chapter on medical missions in China, as presented in the study book, Mrs. McMechan following with a few notes on work in the home field.

Mrs. Deacon's presentation of her department of Christian stewardship was also interesting. The treasurer reported a surplus of $34 after the expenses of the district convention were paid.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS IN OVERSEAS CHAPTER

At a meeting of the Overseas Chapter, I.O.D.E., it was decided that the chapter should endeavor to raise $1,000 for the Children's Memorial Hospital to be erected here by the order next spring. Already one-third of this amount has been raised by the chapter, and the members are now planning fresh means of raising money.

The officers for the new year were elected as follows:

Honorary regent, Mrs. W. J. Brown; honorary vice-regents, Mrs. R. M. Graham and Mrs. Hindson; regent, Mrs. A. H. Galbraith; vice-regents, Mrs. A. Clinger and Mrs. Croden; recording secretary, Miss Elsie McQueen; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. A Fitchett; treasurer, Mrs. R. Heard; Echoes secretary, Mrs. J. J. Dyer; educational secretary, Miss Gladys Picot; standard bearer, Mrs. Collyer.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. W. H. McFarlane of Walkerton and Mrs. McDonald of North Bay are visiting Mrs. A. P. Todd, 12 Hayman Court.

The 'teen age girls at St. James Anglican Church are holding a Mother and Daughter banquet this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Small announce the engagement of their only daughter, Margaret G. Small, to W. Walter Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Mt. Brydges, the marriage to take place early in March.

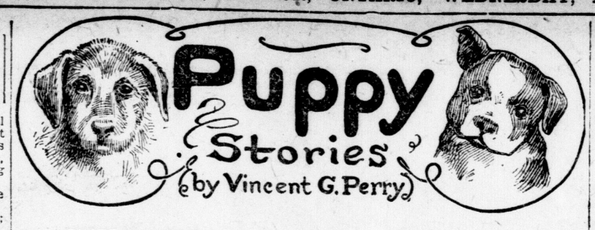

At the monthly meeting of the Daughters of Zion on Sunday, in addition to the regular routine of business, a report was submitted by the treasurer, Miss Bertha Jackson, showing that about $50 would be realized from the dance given in Hyman Hall last Tuesday evening. This money will be used to assist the destitute in Poland and Palestine. Owing to the illness of the president, the chair was taken by the vice-president, Miss Leah White.

SNOWFLAKE.

Have been a reader of the Mail Box for over a year and can say that I enjoy it so much these dull wintry days. I have a childless home, so you see I am lonely. I always have house plants. It's wonderful to watch plant life grow, but still more wonderful to watch child life develop, but the unfortunates have to be content with their life. Am afraid my first visit will prove too long, so will ring off by asking if I may have the famous S.-F. pattern. Inclosed you will please find 10c per hospital aid. JUNE ROSE.

BUSTER IN DOGLAND.
Part Eight.

Buster and the captain were so surprised by the wolf-hound's sudden appearance, they were struck dumb for the minute.

"So you thought you had escaped," the bandit smiled evilly. "It would have been better for you if you had. My band will tear you limb from limb." He was addressing this to Buster.

The captain was standing back, and Buster could see he was trembling all over. "Was he so afraid as all that?" the foxterrier asked himself. If so, he was disappointed in his old friend. But the captain was not afraid. No, indeed!

"At last we have met, Wolf-Hound," he spoke grimly. "You stole my castle and my wealth when I was sick, but I am well now, and you must deal with me, or lose what you have stolen." There was something in the old bulldog's tone that caused fear to come to the wolf-hound, for, like most cruel bandits, he was a coward at heart. He showed his teeth threateningly, but Buster could see he was terrified.

In one spring he captain had the wolf-hound by the throat, and then what a tussle began. The wolf-hound gave up almost at once. He screamed miserable for mercy, but the old bulldog kept his hold until the bandit was fully punished for his many crimes. When at last he did let go he gave the wolf-hound a push and down the mountain side the cruel tyrant rolled, down, down and down, until he fell with a crash over the great cliff.

"That ends the bandit of Dogland Mountains," cried the captain in triumph. Now to reclaim my castles and wealth!"

"I will go with you," Buster declared stoutly. "You have rescued me from my enemies, so I will follow you to the ends of Dogland."

"Very well," the captain agreed, proud of the confidence Buster had in him. "We will go together; but, if I am not mistaken, ye have a hard task before us. I hear the shouts of the bandits now. They have found the body of their late chief. Great adventure and strife is in store for us."

Together the pair started toward the captain's castle, the castle that housed the wicked dog-bandits. What was to befall them there? Read tomorrow's story for the answer to this question.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

What It Is and How It Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force In Two Weeks' Time In Many Instances

SHOULD BE PRESCRIBED BY EVERY DOCTOR AND USED IN EVERY HOSPITAL

SAYS EDITOR OF "PHYSICIANS' WHO'S WHO."

Take plain bitro-phosphate is the advice of physicians to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, if we judge from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Clinical tests made in St. Catherine's Hospital, N. Y. C., showed that two patients gained in weight 23 and 27 pounds, respectively, through the administration of this organic phosphate; both patients claim they have not felt as strong and well for the past twelve years.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Physicians and hospitals everywhere are now recognizing its merits by its use in ever increasing quantities. Frederick Kolle, M. D., editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Joseph D. Harrigan, Former Visiting Specialist to North Eastern Dispensatory, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anaemic, or rundown, take a natural, unadulterated substance such as bitro-phosphate and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve energy, strength of body and mind and power of endurance."

Bitro-Phosphate is made entirely of the organic phosphate compound referred to in the National Standard Dispensatory as being an excellent tonic and nervine and a preparation which has recently acquired considerable reputation in the treatment of neurasthenia. The standard of excellence, strength and purity of its substance is beyond question, for every Bitro-Phosphate tablet is manufactured in strict accordance with the U. S. Pharmacopoeia test requirements. Bitro-Phosphate is therefore not a patent medicine and should not be confused with any of the secret nostrums, so-called tonics or widely advertised "cure-alls."

CAUTION—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties it should not be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

PLANS FOR MERGER OF TWENTY-TWO PROTESTANT BODIES

Name United Church of Christ in America.

COMPLETE AUTONOMY

To Form a Council Through Which United Organization Will Act.

New York, Feb. 10.—An outline of the plan for a merger of approximately twenty-two evangelical Protestant church bodies, under the name of the United Church of Christ in America, which was recently acted upon by the Inter-Church Council on Organic Union at a three-day conference in Philadelphia, was made public at the headquarters of the Presbyterian Church, the originators of the movement.

The plan approved by an ad interim committee of 50 Protestant clergymen of various denominations appointed last December, carries a preamble declaring faith in God and other fundamentals of Christianity, as "a common heritage of the evangelical churches." It provides (1) complete autonomy in purely denominational affairs; (2) formation of a council, a representative body, meeting biennially, through which the united church will act; (3) representation to be on the basis of two ministers and two laymen for the first 100,000 communicants and two ministers and two laymen for each additional 200,000 or major fraction thereof; (4) that constituent churches except as limited by the plan, "shall continue the exercise of their several powers and functions as the same exist under the denominational constitution"; (5) that the council shall harmonize and unify the work of the churches, including missionary activities, evangelism, social service and religious education.

Ecclesiastical Entity.

It is pointed out that the recommendations of the ad interim committee are but steps in a movement for creating "a real ecclesiastical entity, with ecclesiastical powers, holding and administering ecclesiastical property and funds of such united church." This, it is said, may require a trying out period. "After the plan shall have been in operation for a term of years," the announcement states, "the importance of divisive names and creeds and methods will pass more and more into the dim background of the past, and acquire, even in the particular denomination itself, a merely historical value, and the church then will be ready for and will demand a more complete union."

The form of union advocated, it is declared, "does not interject into the deliberations of the council any disputatious topic, any question of the validity of orders or of the modes and subjects of baptism or of the formulation of a specific or comprehensive creed." The hope is expressed that "the evangelical churches may give themselves with a new faith and ardor to the proclamation of the gospel which is the only hope of our stricken world, and to all those ministries of Christian love and leading for the community, the nation and the nations, by which they shall reveal to men the mind of Christ and hasten the coming of his kingdom."

Federal Union Feature.

Emphasis is placed by the committee on the "federal union" feature of the proposed amalgamation. "It is an organic union," the report says, "that has the vital principle of growth and development. The council has definite functions and duties, and these functions and duties may from time to time be developed in like manner as the functions of our federal government in the United States may from time to time, by constitutional amendment, be modified or enlarged."

The proposed constitution of the United Churches of America, as revised, sets forth the following as its article of faith:

"The United Church of Christ, not adopting any symbol or creed, recognizes in the historic creeds of the evangelical communions varying expressions of their common Christian faith. It avows their common belief in God the Father, infinite in wisdom, goodness and love; and in Jesus Christ his Son, our Lord and Saviour, who for us and for our salvation lived and died and rose again and liveth evermore; in the Holy Spirit, who taketh of the things of Christ and revealeth them to us, renewing, comforting and inspiring the souls of men; in the Holy Scriptures, by which the will of God is revealed; in the Church, the living body of Christ; in the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper, instituted by Christ and committed by him to the church; and in life eternal beyond the grave. It accords its members, both as groups and as individuals, in all lesser matters that broad liberty 'wherewith Christ hath set us free.'"

Local Church Authority.

Each local church belonging to the United Church will have authority over the following: (a) Control of property held by it; (b) the terms of admission of members on confession of faith; (c) the times and modes of administering the sacraments; (d) the initiative in the settling or dismissal of a pastor; (e) the forms of worship used; (f) discipline of members; (g) the causes to which it shall contribute, and the amounts to be given.

In the interest of "fraternity, order and union of effort," each church also decides (1) to receive into its membership, without other condition, any person bearing a certificate of dismission from any church of the United Church; (2) it will maintain the stated observance of the sacraments of baptism, the Lord's Supper, and administer baptism by immersion for those who desire that form; (3) it will recognize the authority of a district council, and participate in its meetings through statedly chosen delegates.

Grouped Geographically.

Local churches, according to the plan, will be grouped geographically into district councils of varying sizes. Each church will be represented in the council by its pastor and one delegate, with an additional delegate for each 100 members or major fraction thereof. The district council's duties will include the ordination of ministers, and it will have "the power of discipline or expulsion under conditions prescribed by the national conference." It also will have the power to "terminate the membership of any church refusing to meet its obligations." Each church will be required to pay a per capita tax of 25 cents a member, the same to be known as "council dues," and which will be used for administrative expenses.

A state synod, composed of churches in each state, and consisting of five delegates from each district council and five additional delegates for each 25 churches or major fraction thereof, will hear and pass upon appeals from the district councils, support the bishop or bishops, superintendent or superintendents chosen by it in the prosecution of their duties, and have supervision of missionary, educational, Sunday school and corporate administration.

The central authority in the United Church, it is proposed, will be vested in a national conference. It will meet annually, and will be composed of two delegates chosen by each synod, with two additional for such number of churches in each synod as shall make the conference membership not less than 500 nor more than 1,000 at any time.

EDUCATION AND HEALTH.

Some interesting statistics have been issued by the authorities of Bryn Mawr, one of the leading women's colleges of the United States, with respect to the health of women students in residence and in answer to charges recently made that the colleges were lowering the health standard of their students by setting too great tasks and driving girls to overstudy. The figures issued by Bryn Mawr indicate pretty clearly what the faculty claim, namely, that the only time there is sickness is when the students come back from holidays at home and that their health is really at the highest point at the end of the year's work. The number of girls who left this college because of ill-health during the last seven years was ten, and in three separate years not one student had to give up work. Careful examinations by the director of physical training shows that of the senior students of the last seven years, twenty-five to forty per cent show marked improvement in their health as a result of regular hours, plenty of exercise and the discipline of study. The number of those showing any deterioration in their general health is but small and furnishes evidence that college life tends to the strengthening of body as well as mind.

There is a growing disposition today to attend to matters of health in all schools, elementary schools, high schools and colleges. There is work being done in the public school of London today that will repay a thousand fold in future well-being all that it costs today. Children who are started in life with some knowledge of the elementary principles of health, who care for their teeth, keep clear, know how to avoid colds and other common diseases, will grow into men and women who will suffer less from ordinary ailments than does the present generation of adults. In London we might well do more of this work in our collegiate institute were the facilities what they should be, for it is at the collegiate that boys and girls pass through a critical period of their lives, both morally and physically.

In the university much attention is being given to the health of students. Western has a faculty director of athletics and physical training, and credit is given in the curriculum for the work done in the physical training classes. The university is a place where some students, if left to themselves, would spend too much time at their studies, while ignoring the need of exercise to keep up their bodily health. With every student in Western expected to give certain hours of the week to physical training, the same as certain hours are given to mathematics or languages, there is less danger of turning out graduates all brains and no body. When statistics are available, as they will be, it will probably be found that the young men and women who are in attendance at Western University are gaining in health during their four years as a result of the stated hours of exercise, and this would be found even more true were there many of them in residence living under a special regimen.

THE RED-TURK ALLIANCE.

From sources that are authoritative comes news of an alliance between the Russian Bolshevists and the Moslem for the purpose of driving against the British in India, middle Asia and the Near East. The Reds have reached the shores of the Caspian and the Indian borders of Afghanistan. Lenine and Trotzky know they cannot hope to convert the millions of Asia and India to their doctrine until British influence is removed. So, as a first manoeuvre towards this end, they link up with the Turk. Nothing so vividly illustrates the ruthlessness of the Russian Bolshevists as this combination, for, of course, it will mean that the Moslem will be urged to start a holy war. If the Mohammedan world can be inflamed against the Christian to the point of general massacre it would be a situation almost impossible for the British to cope with. Lenine is a past master with the sword and the torch, but his most lurid deeds of murder and destruction would appear colorless alongside the anarchy that would engulf the entire eastern world were the Moslems to launch a jehad. Lenine and Trotzky care nothing for religion themselves and they would have no compunction in using the religious fanaticism of another race to secure the ends they seek. This diabolical conspiracy should convince those who are in favor of "giving the Bolshevists a chance," that Bolshevism as interpreted by Lenine and Trotzky, is not possible of acceptance by decent men.

NEW HOME RULE MEASURE.

Speaking at the opening of the British Parliament yesterday, Premier Lloyd George announced that he would place before the House a revised version of his home rule measure. No doubt the recent happenings in Ireland, especially the result of the municipal elections, explains the revision. It was made clear in the Irish voting that no one faction could claim sufficient strength to be considered the dominating party. The Sinn Feiners, the elections show, especially, were far from possessing the country as they had boasted. And the Labor party, too, no doubt, has had to be considered. It has declared the Irish question must be settled as soon as possible, and with his ear to the ground Lloyd George knows Labor's wishes dare not be ignored. English Laborites are not particularly concerned with the rights or wrongs of Ireland's case, but they realize that their own plans for social, political and industrial reforms cannot be advanced while the Irish question obstrudes.

DEATH OF THOMAS GILLEAN.

The death of Thomas Gillean will be heard of with the deepest regret by the citizens of London and of Western Ontario. He was the fourth son of the late James Gillean, for many years connected with the London Advertiser. He was born in London and lived all his life here. There were six brothers, all of more than average ability, and all fond of athletic games. Tom, as he was known to every one, was equally at home in cricket and baseball. His name and that of his brother Jack, bring back memories of the old cricket field, now Victoria Park, and call back the names off Jim Jury, Dick Southam, Frank Love, Tom Browne, Billy Hunter, Frank Cooper, Jim Brown, Watson Griswold, Tom Phelan and many others among the old popular baseball players who constituted a very important part in the life of London some years ago. Tom Gillean was a good cricketer, too, a good bat, but Jack was the best bowler London ever produced.

There's something in a noble boy,
A brave, free-hearted, careless one;
With his unchecked, unbidden joy,
His dread of books and love of fun;
And with a calm and ready smile,
Unshaded by a thought of guile.

Tom Gillean was a manly boy and manliness distinguished him throughout his life. There will be especial sorrow among the members of the Snake Island Club, to which he has belonged for many years. "Death has thinned their little band," a band held together because of good fellowship and a love of healthy sports.

In business circles he will be mourned. He learned the jewelry business and has been prominent in that line for many years. Always honest, straightforward and obliging, he was sure to secure a steady reliable trade. His life as boy and man is one that leaves the world better than he found it. One that did good to all with whom he came in contact.

There will be universal sympathy with Mrs. Gillean and with all his brothers. It is the first death in the family.

Love of the Wild

By Archie P. McKishnie.

"A man by the name of Watts, who was supposed to be a ferryman, lived on the Detroit River somewhere near Sandwich. A crippled sister kept house for him, and he, according to the report, was a bad one all round. One night he brought across from the American side a woman and her baby. They had come a long distance, it seems, and the woman was sick—in fact, she was dying. This Watts saw she had money, and he took her to his home, where she died that very night. Before the end came she consigned the baby to the care of Watts and obtained a promise from him that he would try and find a man—the sailor couldn't remember the name—and place the baby, along with a certain parcel she was carrying, with him."

Smythe laughed uneasily.

"Of course, he never intended to keep it," said Halibut. "She gave him money with which to seek out her friends. The sailor says he put it in his pocket and let the county bury the poor woman."

"And the baby?" queried Smythe, his face twitching.

"I'm coming to that. It seems this Watts' hunchback sister was a good woman at heart. She wanted to keep the baby. But he sent the child away into the forest with an Indian on a wild-goose chase and kept the parcel."

Smythe made five dots on the paper before him.

"What was in the parcel?" he asked, wiping his eyes.

"The sailor didn't know, but it was reported to be money. You'll make me wish I hadn't told you this harrowing story, Smythe."

"Poor mother; poor little orphan," sighed the storekeeper.

The Colonel stared at him.

"Did I say the baby's father had died?" he asked. "You're right though, its father was dead. The woman told Watts as much."

Halibut rose and stretched his long arms. He was a man far past middle age, with iron-grey hair, a large face, and deep, kindly eyes. He stood over six-foot-two, was broad of shoulde, and straight as an arrow.

"That's the story the sailor told me," he said grimly. "I've been thinking of that poor woman all day. Poor little thing—sick and dying amongst strangers. And that man—think of what he did, Smythe. Could you imagine any man being so inhuman?"

Smythe sat huddled up in his chair.

"How long ago did this happen?" he asked.

"It was nineteen years ago; maybe twenty. There's no doubt about the baby being dead long ago. Of course, the Indian would reason that it was less trouble to let the baby die than it was to keep it alive."

The Colonel locked his hands behind him and paced up and down the room. He paused before Smythe at last and looked down upon him with misty eyes.

"I guess I'm not very well," he said with a short laugh,"—why, this thing happened twenty years ago; and maybe after all the sailor was lying."

Mr. Smythe raised his head.

"Sailors have a habit of lying," he agreed.

The door opend and Sambo burst into the room.

"I put de hoss in der stable, Massah Smiff," he cried.

"Why who had your horse, Smythe?" asked Halibut.

Smythe's weasel eyes shifted from the big man to Sambo.

"I loaned her to—to Alexander Wilson this morning," he faltered.

MOTHERS! NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way bring on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate B.C. writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Locals Tie Welland 3--3 on Own Ice anal Town Made Great Come-Back After Locals Slipped in Two Quick Ones—All Team in Form.

WELLAND, Feb. 10.—The game here tonight between the London and Welland Juniors was a tie at the end of the third period, with the score standing three all The game was fast from the first ting of the bell, and was one of the hardest battles that the London team has yet encountered. With the score standing 1 to 0 in favor of London at the start of the third period Welland did a come-back. They were unfortunate enough though to allow the visitors to score two goals in the first minute of play. The tieing score can be attributed to the London team laying off, and taking things a bit easy, after getting the lead. The first period opened with both teams going at top speed. Things continued in that way all through the period, although both were taking hard and numerous shots on the goals.

One Missed.

London missed a goal in this period, when Quennville made a beautiful rush the entire length of the rink. He got through the Welland defence and up to the goal, but Upper came out and saved it, although at the time it looked a bit doubtful, as the puck was covered by Upper's body as he lay in the goal.

Both teams seemed to forget their combination, and individual work was the order of the period. May and Quennville doing most of it for the visitors, and Scott and Whally for Welland

The teams started to play a great deal more combination in the second period. Most of the play at this time being in the visitors' end. Wood took the puck at the London end, and making a nice trip along the boards took a shot at Upper. Logan was right on the job following the rebound, and pushed in the first score of the evening, after Upper tried in vain to clear woods' shot. May and Woods both managed to get a penalty in this period for tripping. Most of the Welland men seemed to be light on their feet. This accounted for both of them, as the Londoners were not trying to mix things in any way.

Woods again came into the bright lights in the third period by notching the second counter for the visitors in ten seconds. The shot was made from the boards after a lone rush, and was a wicked shot that Upper had a great deal of difficulty in seeing. A Welland defence man was really responsible for it, as it hit his stick and took a bound into the net. Pring shoved in the last of the London goals after a half minute of play. The puck was faced off in front of the Welland net, and, with Logan doing his old stunt of getting the puck back, Pring was given a shot from the centre of the ice.

Scores by periods—First, 0—0; second, 1—0, London; third, 3—3.

Summary of goals—Second period: Logan 6½; third, Woods 10 seconds, Pring ½, Lambert 15, Scott 19½.

The line-up:

London.		Welland.
Smith	Goal	Upper
Quennville	Defence	Wick
May	"	Davis
Logan	Centre	Maloney
Pring	R. Wing	Scott
Woods	L. Wing	Lambert
Cooney	Subs	Minor
	"	Whally

Steve Vair of Toronto handled the bell in a very fine manner. Play was kept clean, and there should be no kicking, as he got most of the stuff that was pulled by both teams.

MANY PITCHERS LOST SHUTOUT CHANCES THROUGH HOMERS

Thormahlen Was Greatest Sufferer From Circuit Decrees—Beaten Twice and Lost Two Shutouts.

By Ernest J. Lanigan.

Many useful home runs were made by the Yanks last year, and the opposition made a good many useful four-baggers, too, for four of Huggin's pitchers figure on the list of American League boxmen who suffered cruelly more than once through grand tour drives. Herb Thormahlen was beaten twice and euchred out of two shutouts on homers, Bob Shawkey was beaten once and deprived of three kalsomining jobs in the same way.

A pair of Georges—Dauss, right handed, of Detroit, and Mogridge, left handed, of New York—each got in trouble thrice on four-furlong smashes. Men who were injured twice through homers were: Sam Jones of Boston; Urban Faber and Claude Williams of Chicago; Jim Bagby of Cleveland; Bernie Boland of Detroit; Ernie Shore of New York; Bert Gallia, Urban Shocker and Dave Davenport of St. Louis; Jim Shaw of Washington, and Carl Mays of Boston, New York and the law courts.

Games and shutouts lost by American League pitchers on home runs were:

Pitchers.	Games Lost.	Shutouts Lost.	Total.

Western U. and Y. Basketball Teams Clash Tomorrow

Is Tit-Bit of Season So Far—Two Preliminary Games On Bill.

Tomorrow night, the real classic of the basketball season will be staged, when Western U. and the Y. O. B. A. teams clash in their first meeting. There is a lot of rivalry between the two clubs, and a great exhibition is in store for the basketball fans. The Red Triangle outfit are one game behind the Varsity crew, and are out to make it up. The possibility of their doing so, may be better on the floor than it is on paper.

Two preliminary games are on the bill; a game between the Owls and Aces, and a gender exhibition between the Shamrocks and St. C. I. girls.

Locals Lose After a Great Struggle

Had Seaforth Blanked 6--0 At Early Stage On Killing Pace —Northerns Do Great Come-Back.

For 28:40 minutes of last night's game, the London Intermediates had six goals to a blank count, Seaforth's wind-up a mile and over half the game to go yet. A few minutes later, they and their hopes of chopping down an eight-goal lead, faded away into the smoke of the rink. The game ended 7—6. From the first gong, the London gang went in and surprised both the fans and the Seaforth crew. Five men were down in the mouth of the net every minute, and there were three striped shirts on every play. It was an awful pace. Only once did the Seaforth crew get past centre ice. They were completely blanketed by the furious checking and back checking of the Cockneys McGeoch stopped half a hundred shots and as many more went harmlessly past. The least the London team should have got out of the bombardment was ten or a round-dozen goals. They managed two in the first period.

They commenced the second with the same style of play and ran in four more. Davey Reid came on the ice just as the last one was scored, and while not the Davey of old, he galvanized the northerners into action, and they started the come-back and fall and decline or topple or whatever happened after that. From that until Ferguson took a dive into the ice with his head and shoulder, and was carried off unconscious, and Gillies was stretchered out with a badly gashed leg, when things were absolutely hopeless, the Seaforth crew came into their own and gave one of the prettiest exhibitions of unselfish combination that was ever displayed in a London rink. After Gillies went off they played five-man hockey. Dot Reid was playing defence at this time, but like brother Davey, his was not the old form, and Reg., the brother, took it on himself to save the family name by finishing a game, marked by real talent throughout. Referee Jacobi was good, but slowed up the parade with awfully close offsides.

The Line-ups:

Seaforth.		London.
McGeoch	Goal	Hynd

TIGER SEASON ENDS WITH 21 GAMES AT HOME

Will Prove Big Help, Should Team Be in Running For the Pennant.

Detroit, Feb. 11.—So far as the schedule is concerned the Tigers have as good a chance for the pennant this year as they ever have had.

A glance at the list of playing dates, will convince the fans that Jennings' men have been extremely well treated by the schedule makers, both from the sporting and from the fiscal point of view.

This is particularly impressed upon one when he inspects the long list of home games that come after the 1st of September 21 Home Games Come Late.

Detroit will be at Navin field for 21 contests in September and the portion of October into which the schedule extends. Pennants are not always on the home lot, it is true, and the Tigers always have been noted for their ability to play before hostile crowds, but, at the same time, any manager, if given his choice, would prefer to make his final drive on his own grounds.

This advantage of a long stretch of home games at the close of the season is shared practically equally by the four western clubs, so if Detroit's rival for the flag should happen to be Cleveland, Chicago or St. Louis, the schedule will help little. Cleveland has 20 home battles after September 1, St. Louis, 21, and Chicago, 19.

Yanks at Disadvantage.

But should the Yankees fulfill the promises of their admirers and make the pace, they will be at a decided disadvantage, as they will have only six games to play at the Polo grounds after September 1, and none later than September 26. The figures given do not include postponements, several of which probably will have to be played off in the final four weeks.

Detroit's long stand at home in the latter part of the season is in some measure offset by the fact that the club will be almost a stranger to its home adherents at the start. Between the opening of the season, April 14, and the 1st of June, Detroit will be at home for but 13 games, and abroad for 31. Should the clubs happen to get off to a poor start, it will have hard work making up in the last month the ground that may be lost during this early period of touring.

Thirteen Sunday Games at Home.

From the box office point of view, the Detroit club has no complaints to make. It is given 12 Saturdays and 13 Sundays, and also will be at home to the White Sox July 5, which is the day upon which the Independence celebration will take place this year, the Fourth coming on Sunday.

Washington, which only recently came into the joys of Sunday ball, gets 16 Sabbath dates this year. It also gets July 5 and Labor Day at home, so Griffith ought to be able to make some money. New York, the only other eastern club playing Sunday ball, gets 12 of these dates on its own lot

The Tigers will open the season with Chicago on the South Side Park April 14 and, after playing a four-game series there, move over to Cleveland for four more contests. They come home April 22 to make their bow with Chicago in the first of a quartet of games. The western clubs invade the east before entertaining their seaboard neighbors this year, opening in Detroit's case, at Washington May 11. Western fans must wait until June 8 to see the eastern clubs in action, New York appearing here on that date.

154 Games Scheduled.

The schedule has been drawn for 154 games, instead of the 140 played last year. This will be the first time since 1917 that the full list of games has been played, as the season was halted after Labor Day in 1918. With the exception of a few variations to bring things out even, each club will make three trips to the other cities, playing four games twice and three games once. St. Louis appears here five times, playing only one game on one appearance. The White Sox also comes four times, a four-game series, two three-game engagements and a flying visit for one battle making up their portion of the entertainment.

OWEN SOUND 'SPIEL SEES 58 RINKS IN COMPETITION

Seaman of Owen Sound Comes From Behind With Eight-End.

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 10.—Fifty-eight rinks are competing in the largest bonspiel ever held in Owen Sound. Twenty of these are representing the local club, and they were chosen by lot, giving the advantage very much to the visitors. Three trophies are being played for, and each is being run off as a separate event. The games so far have been fairly close.

A game that probably constitutes a record was played this afternoon between Brisbin of Harriston and Seaman of Owen Sound. At the seventh end the Harriston rink was up by a score of 8 to 3. Then Seaman got the first eighth end ever recorded in the Grey rink, making the score 11 to 8, with Seaman up. At the twelfth end the score was a tie, and Brisbin won the play-off by one shot. It is probably the first time the winner of an eight end ever lost the game in the annals of Ontario bonspiels. Bob Emslie, the National Baseball League umpire, is here with his St. Thomas rink, and won handily from Stevens of Markdale. Thorburn of Brampton had some difficulty in putting Lemon's rink away after one of the best games of the day

SPORT BRIEFS

(Western Ontario.)

WESTERN U. WINS.

Western U. won from Woodstock Y in an intermediate O. B. A. game by a score of 37 to 22 last night at Woodstock. It was more rugby than basketball on the small floor. Cline and Peever were the London stars; Sedgestellaring for the homesters.

LOSE CAREW CUP.

Guelph, after successfully defending the Carew Cup five times this season, were ten shots down against the Toronto rink which played there yesterday.

A TIE.

Guelph and Stratford juvenile O. R. A. teams playing at the former place, finished a tie game 26 to 26.

INGERSOLL DEFAULTS.

Owing to the illness of four regular players, Ingersoll will default the game to Welland scheduled for tomorrow night. Cline, Henderson, Grieve and Petrie are all confined to their homes, more or less seriously ill.

BEAVERS LINED UP.

Reports from Kitchener state that Manager Jack Beattie is pulling a team together. He is sending contracts to Andy Kyle, Ross and Maloney, and may sign Johnston to pitch.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, tennis champion, does not want to come to America, but Molly Bjurstedt Mallory, while on a trip to England next June, will attempt to change her decision.

A bill to restrain President Frazee of the Boston Americans, from selling his interests in the playing end of the club was filed yesterday. Frazee owes a note of $252,000 jointly with H. J. Ward of Sydney, N. S. W., and rumor of the home of the club being sold has brought the action.

George Burns, returned his contract unsigned to the Giants, stating that he did not consider the raise sufficient to justify his signing.

WARD OFF INFLUENZA BY KEEPING IN BEST PHYSICAL CONDITION

Persons Who Catch Cold Easily And Who Are Weak and Rundown Are Earliest Victims.

DANGER IS TOO GREAT TO TAKE ANY CHANCES

Build Up Your Bodily Powers of Resistance by Taking Tanlac, and Fortify Against Attack.

Much of the difficulty experienced by health authorities in checking the spread of Influenza lies in the fact that it spreads with almost lightning rapidity. Although state and city authorities have succeeded in keeping under control in some sections, the disease has gotten entirely beyond control in others.

It is universally agreed by all well informed persons that the surest preventive is to get the system into the best possible physical condition, in order to be able to throw off the infection. It has been stated that it is possible to perfect the powers of human resistance so that it can throw off almost any infection, not excepting Spanish Influenza, which is generally supposed to be one of the most contagious diseases known.

Medical authorities agree that people who are weak and rundown are the earliest victims of the Influenza epidemic. If you find yourself weak and losing flesh, or if you are in a generally rundown condition you are really in danger if you should come in contact with the Influenza germ.

As a powerful reconstructive tonic and system builder Tanlac is without an equal. This is a statement of fact, and is fully supported by recognized authorities. According to all accepted reference works, including the U. S. Dispensatory, Encyclopedia Britannica, and the leading textbooks used in the schools of medicine, the principal ingredients of Tanlac possess the most powerful reconstructive properties known to science. This statement is further proven by the fact that millions of persons who have actually taken Tanlac have testified to its extraordinary powers as a medicine.

Tanlac restores health and strength to the weak and rundown system by enabling every organ of the body to perform its proper function in the way nature intended. It creates a good, healthy appetite for wholesome, nourishing food, and is an ideal strengthening tonic for persons who are in a rundown condition and who are suffering from the after-effects of hard winter colds, grippe, or bronchial troubles.

Irrefutable evidence of the reconstructive powers of Tanlac is shown by the fact that it was used by tens of thousands during last year's epidemic with splendid results. One well-known Texas physician stated that he had never found anything to equal Tanlac for building up his patients who had had influenza, and that he had treated over fourteen hundred cases in one month.

In connection with the Tanlac Treatment, keep the bowels open by taking Tanlac Laxative Tablets, samples of which are inclosed with every bottle of Tanlac.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

CONSTIPATION POISONS

Physician Cannot Prescribe More Than That Amount For One Person.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—Constitutional prohibition, effective at present, and the enforcement legislation enacted by Congress, made the following provisions:

Advertising of liquor by any method prohibited.

Permit manufacture of alcoholic liquors for sacramental and medicinal uses, under restrictions.

Permit manufacture of alcohol for industrial and scientific uses.

Permit possession of liquor in home if purchased before prohibition became effective.

CAUGHT IN BELT; THOROLD MAN KILLED

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 10.—Wilfrid Mills, an employee at the Ontario Paper Mills, Thorold, was instantly killed today by being caught in a belt while at work.

GUELPH MAN PAYS $19.80.

PRESTON, Feb. 10.—Early on Sunday morning Chief Crawford arrested a man whom he found prowling round the residence of Cyrus Dolphis in a drunken condition. The man claimed to have come from Guelph, and when brought before the magistrate yesterday pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $19.80, including costs.

Leaders in the local Inter-Church Forward Movement campaign are confident that Preston will exceed the objective set for the thankoffering canvass by a considerable amount.

The parks board is planning a number of improvements at Speed Park this year, which it is claimed will make it one of the finest and most up-to-date parks in Western Ontario. The work will be begun as soon as the weather permits.

FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF $12,000 AT GALT; ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN

M. O. H. Orders Schools, Churches and Theatre Closed As Precaution.

GALT, Feb. 10.—Fire of unknown origin broke out in the Henry block at Hespeler early today caused about $12,000 loss, made up as follows: The building and stock of groceries of Geo. Henry, $5,500, partly covered by insurance; Hespeler Herald, owned by G. Hudson, $4,000; J. C. Kreig, tobacconist, $2,000; I. O. O. F., $400, and G. Wilson, tenant, $300. The blaze was discovered when an electric motor in the Hospeler Herald plant on the third floor crashed through to the second floor, awakening Mr. Wilson, who sent in the alarm. The firemen did splendid work in saving the block from total destruction.

CLOSE PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

On account of sickness Dr. Hutchison, M.O.H., of Hespeler, has cancelled all church meetings and societies, and closed the only theatre in the town for the balance of the week. The public school has also been closed.

The Methodist congregation of Preston is preparing plans for the construction of a new church and Sunday school, and work on the latter is expected to be undertaken within a year. The congregation has outgrown its present accommodation. A canvass to raise funds will likely be held next month.

FRACTURED SKULL.

Thomas Ballantyne, principal of St. Andrew's school, is in the hospital, suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull sustained when he fell on a slippery sidewalk and struck his head on the hard surface.

The Preston light and water commission has written the local public utilities commission, suggesting the amalgamation of the Galt and Preston waterworks systems. The local commission will take the matter up with the underwriters.

Word was received here today of the death in Windsor of Andrew Mathewson, a former well-known Galtonian. He left here shortly before Christmas to go into business in the border city. He was born near Galt and spent practically all his life here, being an employee of the Goldie & McCulloch Company for a great many years.

SERIOUSLY HURT BY RUNAWAY AT BLYTH

BLYTH, Feb. 10.—Robert Powell was seriously injured today when he was knocked down and dragged about 25 feet by a runaway horse. His apparent injuries are a severe cut on the head and a broken rib, but the doctor called to his aid also fears internal injuries.

The runaway horse, owned by Joseph Truman, was standing at the C. P. R. depot when it was frightened by an incoming train and bolted down the main street, part of which it traversed on the sidewalk.

Mr. Powell was struck by the runaway just as he was coming out of the butcher's store. Two plate glass windows were also smashed by the swinging cutter as the horse dragged it along in its wild career.

MEMORIAL HALL FUND.

As a result of a return to active canvassing for the memorial hall fund $2,000 was collected during the past week, bringing the total now subscribed to over $10,000. The bad condition of the roads tied up the work of canvassing for several weeks. Tenders for the work will be asked for shortly, and it is hoped that voluntary subscriptions will make an appeal to the council for aid necessary.

Plan To Educate Sex in Inter-Church World Movement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—One million "minute women" will be sent through the country to acquaint women with the program of the Inter-Church world movement, it was announced today at the closing session of the national conference of church women, which has been meeting here with the delegates from 21 denominations and 40 mission boards.

The Inter-Church World movement, with a $1,000,000,000 fund to support its program, plans the biggest advertising campaign ever launched by a religious organization, A. E. Cory, field director announced.

Part of a $200,000,000 fund set aside to carry out the women's program will be spent on the children of Europe orphaned by the war. Institutions and schools will be established in line with a report of the committee headed by Mrs. Raymond Robins of Chicago, adopted today, urging a program of organized motherhood for the children of the world.

COLDSTREAM U. F. O.

Society Celebrates Its Third Anniversary—Many New Members.

COLDSTREAM, Feb. 10.—The Coldstream U. F. O. opened its third year with a boom. A contest was held between the January and February meetings to increase the membership, which resulted in enrolling many new members. The meeting on February 3 was the largest ever held. Music, readings and debate formed the program, and refreshments and a social time diversified the evening. The result of the debate was that statute labor should be abolished.

At the business session it was decided that a U. F. W. O. should be started.

During last year the L., C. and D. (Lobo, Caradoc and Delaware) Co-operative Company was organized, with John E. Campbell, president, and John W. Graham, secretary. DISORDERLY HOUSES RAIDED BY POLICE IN ST. THOMAS Both Cases Are Adjourned by Magistrate For Further Investigation.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 10.—Two cases of keeping disorderly houses came before the city police court today. The police raided the homes late yesterday, but no particulars were disclosed until today. In one case a city fireman who is married and has several children, is charged with being a frequenter, and a woman who recently left her husband and who had been residing in Station street, is charged with being the keeper. The other case is that of a woman who with her son, both face charges of obstructing the police, together with a charge of keeping a young girl for immoral purposes. The names in both cases are withheld pending further investigation, and the cases have been adjourned until next Monday morning.

CHARGED WITH STEALING.

CONVENTION BGINS.

The fifth annual convention of the Lake Erie Fishermen's Association opened today with about 200 fishermen in attendance. The greater part of today was taken up in various executive matters. The business of the session will begin tomorrow when Mayor Brinkman will welcome the fishermen to the city. Delegates are in attendance from all parts of Ontario and a number of prominent United States fishermen are in the city. Addresses by prominent men will be a feature of tomorrow's program. Several Government men and experts in the fishing industry will be in attendance, and some of the leading hatchery experts will give addresses.

WATER COMMISSION MEETS.

The water commissioners met today and among other matters decided to enter into an agreement with F. P. Lewis to bore several new wells on his farm. One of the present wells will be increased in diameter by five feet. Several of the employes applied for increases in pay, but this matter was referred to the special meeting to be held within the next week or so to discuss the wage question.

TO SPEAK IN LONDON.

Several local speakers will attend the social gathering of the London Horticultural Society on Thursday evening next. The society has been asked to provide three ten-minute speakers. The event will be held in the public library.

EPIDEMIC NOT SERIOUS.

The flu epidemic in this city is not serious, according to a report issued at the medical offices. There are a number of cases in the city, but none are serious. Many people are suffering from severe colds and this is said to be causing much alarm among the sufferers. With present precautions medical men do not anticipate any serious outbreak in this city.

NUMBER OF TRUANCY CASES.

County Magistrate Hunt has of late been dealing with a number of truancy cases in various parts of the county. He says that the number of late has been unusually large.

WINGHAM, Feb. 10. — The flu epidemic so far as this town itself is concerned is of a mild form, but in the surrounding country it seems of a more serious nature. All the doctors for 30 miles round are reported, despite the assistance of a large staff of volunteer nurses, to be working day and night. Several families are reported with four, five, and even more members suffering from the disease, but no deaths have so far been recorded. The doctors are anxiously looking for warm sunny weather, which they believe will prove the most effective stop to the disease.

ROOSEVELT'S LONGEST LETTER ON KHARTOUM TO LONDON JOURNEY

The Former President Made Searching Comments On Kings.

BRITISH RULE IN EGYPT

Praised It On the Whole As Task of Putting Twentieth Century On Seventh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Col. Roosevelt's "longest letter," a 25,000-word personal account of his trip from Khartoum to London in 1909, and which is described by his biographer, Joseph Bucklin Bishop, as "a human document of exceptional character," appears as the first of two installments in the February issue of Scribner's Magazine.

"Soon after retiring from the presidency," explains Mr. Bishop, "the colonel went to Africa on a hunting trip. He had arranged before his departure for several formal addresses, which he was to make in Germany, England, France and Norway on his return. When he reached Khartoum in March, 1910, on his way home, he yielded to urgent appeals and made two addresses on Egyptian affairs, one at Khartoum and the other at Cairo, which aroused much controversy and led later to a speech on the same subject, also by urgent request, at the Guildhall in London.

Khartoum To Rome.

"From Khartoum he went to Rome, Vienna, Budapest, Paris, Brussels, The Hague, Copenhagen, Christiania, Stockholm, Berlin and thence to London. At the close of his tour he paid a long visit to his long-time correspondent and friend, Sir George Otto Trevelyan, at the latter's estate at Welcombe, Stratford-on-Avon. During the visit his narrative of his experiences in Egypt and Europe so strongly impressed Sir George that he urged him most earnestly to put it in writing. This Roosevelt did the following year, in the form of a letter to Trevelyan, under date of October 1, 1911."

The former president, in the missive, made "frank and searching comments upon the characteristics and personalities of kings, emperors and other eminent personages with whom he came in contact," and in the opening paragraph requested that it should not be made public "until long after all of us who are now alive are dead." Trevelyan, in authorizing its publication, said: "I do not hesitate to say that it should be published, and the sooner the better. The world would be much the richer for it. The times are such that the human interest and solid value of this wonderful paper would be very great indeed now."

Intimate Picture.

The colonel drew an intimate picture of British rule in Egypt, praised it on the whole, and declared that the task of "super-imposing the twentieth century upon the seventh" was a mighty one "which only a great and powerful nation could attempt, and which it is a high and honorable thing to have attempted." Nearly 3,000 words are devoted to "The Vatican Incident" and the reason Roosevelt was not presented to Pope Pius X. A certain Methodist clergyman in Rome had been conducting an attack upon the head of the Catholic Church and when Vice-President Fairbanks, some time before, visited the Holy City, the supreme pontiff stipulated that he would not receive him in audience if he addressed Methodist gatherings. Roosevelt took the same attitude as Fairbanks, that he "must decline to submit to any conditions which in any way limit my freedom of conduct."

The colonel said in his letter to Sir George that one of his volunteer secretaries at that time was "anxious to prevent the vatican from committing what he felt would be a great blunder," and while the colonel was at Naples went to Rome to see the then papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val. The stipulation by the Pope was not withdrawn and Col Roosevelt adhered to his resolution of making no agreement to refrain from speaking before Methodist meetings. "Accordingly," he wrote, "it was not presented at the vatican."

Public Statement.

In a public statement at the time, the colonel declared that "the respect and regard of those of my fellow Americans who are Catholics are as dear to me as the respect and regard of those who are Protestants," and he expressed the hope that the incide it would be treated as a merely personal matter without rancor or bitterness.

While in Rome the colonel visited King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena of Italy whom he described as "faithful, conscientious and wise," as well as a lovable couple. Later he saw in Vienna the aged Franz Josef, emperor of Austria, who said he was "the last representative of the old system, whereas I embodied the new movement."

"I shall always bear testimony to the good manners, and the obvious sense of responsibility and duty, of the various sovereigns," the colonel wrote. "I thoroughly liked and respected almost all the various kings and queens I met; they struck me as serious people, with charming manners, devoted to their people and anxious to justify their own positions by the way they did their duty."

BEST MOTHERS ARE JEWISH, BIRTHRATE COMMISSIONER SAYS

London, Feb. 10.—The best mothers in London's east side, the poor district, are Jewish, in the opinion of Dr. C. W. Saleeby, chairman of the National Birthrate Commission, as expressed in an address at University College. Dr. Saleeby added that Irish mothers were not a bad second, and that the English ranked as a very bad third.

He explained that in the case of the Jewish and Irish mother this was a direct result of race ethics. Breast feeding was virtually universal among them, and there was a minimum of that dreaded disease arising from immorality. He declared that infant mortality was not really a medical problem, but a social problem of motherhood and a question of racial morals.

During his address, Dr. Saleeby quoted figures showing that despite bad housing, bad sanitation, and virtually no child welfare efforts, infantile mortality in Western Ireland was only about 35 per thousand, as compared with 135 in 1,000 in Bradford, England, which has the best equipment for infant welfare in the world.

GERMANS HAD PLAN FOR MAKING RAID BY AIR ON GIBRALTAR

London, Feb. 10.—A German scheme for an air raid on Gibraltar in conjunction with the Italian and Austrian fleets in 1914 has just been disclosed, says the Evening Standard.

In the summer of 1914, an aviation exhibition was promoted at Malaga, Spain, but was suddenly abandoned on the eve of hostilities. German competitors had entered, ostensibly for show purposes, the Standard states, but really in order to be close at hand for an air attack on Gibraltar. They hoped to secure the co-operation of the Italian and the Austrian fleets in this venture.

The British authorities had previously learned of this plan and, as all hope of participation of the Italian fleet failed, the coup had to be declared off, much to the chagrin of the Germans, who had reckoned on Gibraltar as an excellent place for a submarine base.

Borah Terms Treaty Murderous

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 10. — Although it was laid aside for further discussion in the Senate next week, today the peace treaty "would not down." Some of the irreconcilables among the senators insisted upon expressing their views of the pact after it had been decided to place the document in storage for a while.

"Cruel" and "murderous" were among the adjectives employed by Senators Borah and Knox to describe the effect of the treaty on Germany and Austria. They declared its effect would be to impoverish Germany and destroy the cornerstone on which rested the financial stability of Europe.

"We are asked," said Senator Borah, "to agree to a treaty that will impoverish millions, and then we are asked to appropriate money to feed the people we have impoverished."

Senator Hitchcock, Democratic leader, suggested that Mr. Lloyd George had been led to make "impossible exactions" from Germany by promises given in the heat of a political campaign. He said the United States could best exert its influence for alleviation of the peace terms by ratifying the treaty and accepting membership on the reparations commission.

CLAIMS POLICEMEN DEMANDED GRAFT

Hotel Owner Sues To Restrain Officers From Raiding Place.

DETROIT, Feb. 10.—Accusing two policemen, whom he mentions only by number, of demanding that he "come across" with money to obtain immunity from raids on his place of business, Albert Kutske, proprietor of the Wisconsin Hotel, 352 Brush street, began suit against James W. Inches, commissioner, and other officials of the police department, Monday, asking that the police be restrained from molesting him.

The alleged raids, according to the bill of complaint, were begun October 1,1919. Kutzke says that his place was also visited January 28, 1920, by two policemen, who demanded money, and when he refused it, he alleges they struck him about the face and head. He was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, but declares that in the recorder's court, where he appeared, Judge Edward J. Jeffries directed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

Another policeman, Kutzke said, came to his hotel at a later date and "threatened to break his neck."

VENDOR OF LIQUOR MAY BE CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

WINDSOR, Feb. 10.—Charges of manslaughter are expected to develop from the inquest to be held in the Sandwich Town Hall Wednesday night into the death from wood alcohol poisoning of F. J Barry, who claimed the wide world as his home, in an ante-mortem statement, and J. Calhean of Montreal, who died in the Salt Block Boarding House, Sandwich, Sunday, from drinking the poisonous fluid. According to a statement made tonight by Assistant Chief of Police Gordon Pillon of Sandwich, the man who sold the alcohol, and the man who actually gave it into the possession of the victims, will be put on the witness stand, and in the meantime are being kept under close suvveillance.

WINDSOR PREFERS TUBE TO INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE

WINDSOR, Feb. 10.—Construction of a tube for pedestrian traffic only under the Detroit River, linking Windsor and Detroit, is the proposal favored by the Border Chamber of Commerce, according to Industrial Commissioner F. MacLure Sclanders today in discussing the invitation of the Detroit Board of Commerce for the joint conference on the proposed bridge over the Detroit River.

Advices from the headquarters in Toronto will decide whether the Windsor Liberty League will send speakers to East Wellington to stump that constituency against Hon. W. E. Raney.

Small consignments of coal arriving here for the Canadian Salt Company have postponed, at least for a few days, the total suspension of service on the S. W. and A. system, which derives its power from the salt company's powerhouse.

WILL MAKE INVESTIGATION.

REGINA, Feb. 10.—His Honor Lieut.-Governor Lake yesterday signed the order-in-council referring the matter of investigation into the dismissal of the four professors at Saskatchewan University to the court of King's bench. The court will now name the judges who will hear the evidence at the investigation on behalf of the lieutenant-governor, who is the official visitor to the University of Saskatchewan.

GREAT DEMAND FOR GOLF BALLS IN U. S.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—An unprecedented demand for golf balls indicates there will be a record-breaking play this year, according to manufacturers here, who reported today that all factories are operating at full capacity and a number are working two and three shifts for the first time in their history.

Improvement in construction has been made in a number of standard brands, it was said, and it was predicted balls would wear better. Heavy demand last year necessitated a speedy output, and it was found that quick-drying paints did not stand up well. This defect has been done away with this year in the drying of the balls.

FIGHT IN AMERICAN LEAGUE ENDS WITH JOHNSON A VICTOR

Concessions Submitted by the League President Are Accepted.

REINSTATE CARL MAYS

Suits Against Ban Johnson Are Dismissed.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Factional strife in the American League vanished early today, when after an all-night session concessions put forward by President B. B Johnson and his five "loyal" adherents and the insurgent presidents, Comiskey of the Chicago club, Frazee of Boston, and Ruppert of New York, were accepted. President Johnson found his authority as league executive altered so far as major disciplinary actions were concerned, an arbitration board—reviewing committee of two members—being appointed to investigate all punishments ordered in excess of ten-day suspensions and $100 fines, while on the other hand it was agreed to dismiss three suits brought against him by the New York club.

It was also agreed to reinstate Pitcher Carl Mays of the New York club, whose purchase from the Boston Red Sox last summer started the trouble.

Reconciliation Program.

With Johnson's victory over the insurgents, it was agreed to dismiss three suits pending against the American League president instituted by the New York club; to reinstate Carl Mays of the New York Club, whose purchase from the Boston Red Sox last summer started the trouble. The other items in the reconciliation program were:

Dismissal of all litigation instituted by the New York Club.

Recommendation to the national commission to award third place in the American League race to New York, and third prize money to the players of the New York club.

Appointment of a committee on arbitration for two years.

Col. Jacob Ruppert of New York and Clark Griffith of Washington were appointed to the arbitration board, which also will act as a reviewing committee. In case the reviewing board is unable to agree, it was agreed to submit the disputed question to a federal judge in Chicago.

The National League owners, at a peaceful session, adopted a schedule of 154 games for the 1920 season, and accepted the new rules formulated at a meeting of the joint rules committee of the two major leagues.

Relations Suspended.

A meeting of the National Association of Minor League drafted legislation to be presented at the joint meeting of major and minor leagues, and at which it was hoped an agreement for resumption of relations between the majors and the minors would be reached. Relations were suspended three years ago.

Western League Club owners agreed on a schedule for 1920, but did not formally adopt it. A special meeting will be held in Kansas City, Mo., Monday when the schedule will be adopted and other league business, left over from the November meeting, transacted.

The Three-I League adopted its schedule late last night, and the American Association virtually finished its business yesterday.

The fight in the American League started last summer following the purchase of Pitcher Carl Mays by New York from the Boston Red Sox and harmony has been missing from the American League ranks since that time. Efforts to effect a reconciliation between President Johnson and his adherents and Ruppert, Frazee and Comiskey were attempted at the schedule meeting yesterday, but it was not until early this morning that it appeared that the "dove of peace" again occupied a place in the room with the magnates of the junior organization.

Bell Tels. and Standard Drugs Blank Opponents in Mfrs.

Bell Telephone blanked Public Utilities 6 to 0, and Standard Drugs gave Perrins a 3 to 0 beating at Westminster Rink last night in the Manufacturers' League.

EBER DEFEATS BUZZA.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 11.—Bobby Eber, bantamweight champion of Canada successfully defended his title here last night against Percy Buzza, the local scrapper, the Hamilton boy having matters all his own way after the second round, and downing Percy for the count in the eighth round of a scheduled twelve-round bout. Billy Cole of St. Louis had a slight edge over Muff Bronson of Winnipeg, lightweight champion of the Pacific coast in their twelve-round go. The bout was tame.

ON THE ALLEYS

In the City League Tecumsehs took three straight games from the Brunswicks. Tecumsehs scores 832, 829 and 954. The Brunswicks rolled them for 829, 805 and 815.

Dowlers took two out of three from Oak Hall, and Postoffice repeated against Public Utilities in the Forest City Five Pin League.

KING STREET ACES WIN.

The King Street Aces won their second game in the Junior A Church League by defeating the "Y" Mohawk group at Queen's Park on Saturday morning. The score at the end of the first period was 5 to 1, and though no more scoring was done, the Y. M. C. A. team was at no time dangerous. McCausland, Black and Wilkinson were best for the winners, while Barber starred for the losers.

TO ENTER COMPETITIONS.

'COULON STARTS FOR PARIS.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Johnny Coulon, former bantam-weight champion, matched to box twelve rounds with Charles Ledoux in Paris March 3, left for New York today. He will sail Saturday. If Coulon defeats Ledoux he will remain in France until Jimmy Wilde returns to England, he announced.

What Happened At the Chicago Baseball Meeting

In adjoining rooms of the same hotel, the National League was all harmony; the American League squabbled, and had to go into extra sessions.

National League accepted new rules, but will allow all spitballers to be used instead of limiting the clubs to two, as in the American.

The spit-ballers carried will be: Boston, Rudolph, Fillingim, Keating; St. Louis, Doak, Goodwin, Tuero: New York, Douglass; Brooklyn, Mitchell, Grimes; Philadelphia, Hogg; Cincinnati, Fisher; Chicago, Hendrix; Pittsburg, none.

The National Leagues accepted a 154-game schedule.

The waiver price is raised from $1,500 to $2,500.

Murphy's suit against the league filed yesterday charging breach of contract in connection with the lease of Cubs Park, will be left to the courts to decide.

LORD HALDANE HAS NO REGRET BECAUSE OF HIS PRE-WAR STATEMENTS

London, Feb. 11.—By Canadian Press—Lord Haldane, who has been mercilessly criticized for pre-war leanings to Germany, said, speaking at a Cambridge University debate on the pre-war Liberal policy, if he had tried to persuade the Germans, Great Britain was not jealous of them he was not sorry. The people of England did not understand the widespread belief in Germany that the British wanted to ring them around and the Government told Germany in the strongest language diplomacy allowed that if she attacked France she must not reckon on British neutrality. The great purpose was to obviate war until Britain was able to sustain its burdens. In the main, he was proud of the record of the Liberal Government.

STOKER IS SENTENCED FOR TAMPERING WITH VALVE ON CARMANIA

Liverpool, Feb. 11.—John Riley, a stoker on the steamer Carmania, has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for tampering with a check valve on the voyage from New York. It is stated that if this had remained undiscovered there was a possibility of an explosion and the sinking of the ship.

U. S. PROHIBITIONIST 'BOOED' IN COPENHAGEN

Copenhagen, Feb. 10.—Rev. Dr. David Oestlund, a prohibition worker from America, held the second public meeting of his prohibition campaign at the Copenhagen Y. M. C. A. last night. A large crowd attended the meeting. When it was announced that no discussion would be permitted there was considerable "booing" and a large majority of the audience left the hall. The remainder listened with few interruptions. Rev. Mr. Oestlund lectured on "The Blessings of Prohibition."

SENDS IN CHALLENGE.

Regina, Sask., Feb. 11.—The Alberta Amateur Hockey Association has sent in a challenge for the Allan Cup, according to advices received last night from Secretary Bettschen of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

BRITISH SHIPPERS ARE SUFFERING BECAUSE OF HEAVY EXCHANGE RATE

London, Feb. 11. — (By Canadian Press).—Ship brokers, the Times says, have had ample evidence of the effect of the adverse exchange in killing trade. Incidentally, it adds, the rise in the cost price of dollars in Europe is proving a bad thing for the new American merchant marine. European countries cannot afford now to charter American tonnage on a dollar basis. A short time ago the pound sterling in London would buy about $4 in New York, so that the rate of freight for American tonnage of a $40 ton from New York to Europe would represent a payment of about 200 shillings, but now, with the pound sterling only buying $3.40 the cost in sterling for the same rate of freight of $40 has made the cost of American tonnage practically prohibitive. The cost of remitting freight at $40 would now be 235 shillings, a rise of 35 shillings a ton, although the rate of freight has not increased. Until quite recently the merchants in Europe were chartering American tonnage for the importation of grain, but now many cannot afford the cost, owing to the increased price of exchange.

JACK DEMPSEY'S WIFE BEFORE FEDERAL JURY

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 11.—Maxime Dempsey, former wife of Jack Dempsey, appeared before the federal grand jury here yesterday to be questioned regarding alleged charges she made, and afterwards repudiated, to the effect that Dempsey falsified his selective draft records. Frank Spellman, representative of a moving picture company employing Dempsey, also was summoned to appear before the jury.

WRONG HOUSE PLACARDED.

WATERLOO, Feb. 10.—One more case of small-box developed here today, and through an error the wrong house was placarded, causing considerable confusion and annoyance. The clerk sent to placard the house misunderstood instructions and placarded the home of Mrs. Heller. It was some hours before the mistake was noticed, and in the meantime the family was avoided by callers.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

EXPECT WILSON WILL MOVE TO AVERT STRIKE

Entire Railroad Employees' Situation Was Placed Before President.

SITUATION CRITICAL

Administration Officials Show Anxiety—Renewed Conferences Today May Help.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 10.—President Wilson is expected to make an effort to avert the threatened strike of railroad employees of the country who are pressing the railroad administration for further wage increases. The entire situation was placed before the president today in a long memorandum from the director-general of railroads. It is expected here that he will back up Mr. Hines.

Officials of the railroad administration felt tonight that the situation was extremely critical; not only as regards the shopmen, who have decided to go out on strike February 17 if their demands are not met, but also with respect to 2,000,000 railroad employees throughout the country.

Renewed conferences tomorrow with union leaders are expected to have some definite result.

Brotherhood President.

Most insistent among the union leaders here is W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, who has impressed upon officials the imminence of a trainmen's strike if a settlement is not reached. The administration has been given notice of cancellation of their present contract by the trainmen February 23. A strike vote is said to have shown a large majority in favor of drastic action.

If the trainmen walk out, it is feared here that an almost complete tieup of traffic will result. In many states "full crew" laws forbid operating employees to work unless all required trainmen are on duty. Officials of the other three operating unions are said to be not supporting Lee aggressively in his stand although he kept them advised of his action.

PLANS GOING AHEAD FOR STRIKE

DETROIT, Feb. 10.—Failure of the railroad unions and the government to reach an agreement at the Washington conference may result in a general walkout of railway workers, according to Allen E. Barker, president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, who on Monday called a strike of his union for February 17. A message received at headquarters here late today, Mr. Barker stated tonight, indicated that heads of thirteen railroadmen's organizations now in Washington would "stand pat and act as a unit" in pressing their wage demands.

Many Would Go Out.

"It is my belief," he said, "that even should officers of unions not call strikes, many thousands of railroadmen in other departments will join hands with the maintenance of way and shop laborers."

Mr. Barker reiterated his statement that the resources of the union would be used in fighting any possible court action to prevent the strike. His comment on word from Kansas that officials there planned to invoke the new industrial court act was:

"They will need a lot of jails. I believe the law is unconstitutional. We shall disregard any power that tells us we are not free to strike."

Plans Going Ahead.

Meanwhile plans were going ahead for putting the strike into effect. In sending out the call it was found the union numbered 887,000 members, and all but 28,000 employed on Canadian roads, it was said, are affected. Numerous messages were received at headquarters during the day, officers stated, asking whether protection would be afforded by the union to non-organized crafts which wished to join the walkout. The reply to these queries was not made public here.

No word had been received here from Washington tonight indicating that the railroad administration would again call in representatives of the section-men's union, and officials saw in today's developments only the possibility of a flat refusal of their demands.

Two Solutions, Says Millerand

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Premier Millerand told the Chamber of Deputies Foreign Affairs Committee today that the Turkish problem, which still remains to be settled, was capable of two solutions. The first, he said, provided for the taking of Constantinople from the Turks; the second would permit the Turks to retain control over the city under certain international guarantees. The premier declared that France preferred the second arrangement.

GRATIFYING REPORTS AT HEADQUARTERS OF CHURCH CAMPAIGN

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Highly gratifying reports were received at national campaign headquarters here tonight of the subscriptions so far obtained in the Inter-Church Forward Movement, and the church leaders feel greatly encouraged thereby.

Five denominations, Presbyterians, Methodist, Anglican, Baptist and Congregational, have set out to raise $12,000,000 this week, each of the five having its own allotment, and each working separately, but all working under one general organization.

So far as reported tonight, thirteen out of twenty-five Anglican dioceses had contributed $436,000 of the $2,600,000 objective. The Baptists, with an objective of $700,000, had raised $286,275. The Congregationalists, whose objective was $300,000, had raised $286,275. The Presbyterians have subscribed $502,199 of their $4,000,000. The Methodists of Ontario had leased $1,801,752, and subscriptions from other sections of the Dominion amounted to $58,759, the objective being $4,000,000.

DEATH TAKES THREE FROM SAME FAMILY WITHIN SEVEN DAYS

WINDSOR, Feb. 10.—Death, in carrying away Ernest Morris at 57 Niagara street today, took its third victim from the home in one week. The mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Howden, succumbed to the disease on Monday, while the step-father, John C. Howden, passed away Wednesday.

Mr. Howden was the first to be stricken, his wife and step-son being taken ill at the time of his death, and both passing away within eight hours of each other, the son, not knowing that his mother had predeceased him.

EXPECT FIVE WILL LEAVE NITTI CABINET

ROME, Feb. 10.—At least five members of the Nitti cabinet will retire late this month, following the return of the premier from London, according to the Giornale d'Italia. The newspaper says that this is due to Nitti's attitude on the Jugo-Slav situation.

CROSSING OCEAN TO MONTREAL FUR SALE

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—Over five hundred buyers are coming here from the United States and Europe for the fur sale, which begins on March 22, and will last for six days. The furs, most of which are marten, mink and beaver, are all very high in prices.

LIEUT.-COL. MOSS DIES

Commander of Mississaugua Horse Expires in Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Lieut.-Col. John F. Moss, K.C., officer commanding the Mississaugua Horse, died here this morning.

OPENS CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Opening the political campaign of the American Federation of Labor, President Gompers in an address today before the shipbuilding trades convention here asked the aid of the unions represented in electing members of Congress and other officials favorable to organized labor. He promises every assistance of the federation in obtaining for the United States "the greatest merchant marine in the world," through continuance of the war-time production campaign.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Anchor Assists.

I, too, am so glad to see so many letters on the page lately, as I do enjoy the Woman's Page of helps and interest. About one or two months ago one of the readers wanted help for an eczema on her face or neck; it was red blotches. I am sorry to be so late in offering help, so if she will write me I am sure I can help her, as I had the same trouble, and a specialist gave me an ointment which cured, and I'd be glad to help her. A day or so ago someone wanted a cure for cholera or blackheads in turkeys. So will send help, which is said to be good. I will also send in the butter substitute, which I have used. It makes butter last longer now when it is so dear. Also a pork cake recipe. Usually a lamp with a deep bowl gives a poor light when the oil is low down on the wick. Try filling the bowl quarter full of beans, wheat or stones, and see the better light you have. Now I wonder if some mother with little ones could send me a good romper pattern for a little boy one year old, as they say some patterns fit so much better than others. Also have any of the readers any of the old-fashioned green and white stripe ribbon grass? I would love to get a root of it and would pay postage. I will send a stamped envelope, Miss Grey.

Butter Substitute.—Take about equal parts butter and milk; break the butter in pieces into the milk into a deep dish you can set in hot water, and set in a warm place till butter is just soft enough so you can beat over beater, and stir till all in one soft lump. First add salt and butter color.

Pork Cake.—Pour one pint boiling water over 2 cups of finely chopped fat pork, add 1 pound chopped raisins, 1 cup molasses, 2 cups sugar, about 7 cups flour or as stiff as fruit cake; 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, soda, 1 tablespoon vanilla, salt, baking powder.

Cholera in Fowls.—Mix ½ pound smoking tobacco in a dry ground feed, soften a little, then feed. If fowl is sick put some down their throat. Feed twice a week or oftener if necessary. This is sufficient for 50 fowls. Also iron oxide is good for chickens. A druggist would need to give directions to feed it, as I haven't directions in full.

ANCHOR.

Beaver Converses.

It interested me very much to read of community kitchens. I always wanted to know about them, and they would be a splendid idea to my way of thinking, especially if you could arrange a certain price for grown folks and soup or puddings for the younger children, for they would not need the same. But a workingman doesn't like to pay more than 50 cents a meal, and he doesn't want a lot of fancy dishes, but a well-cooked, plain meal, and lots of it. Isn't that correct?

It would be a relief to a woman if she were sure the meal would be ready to serve, no matter if she went to market or for a drive, or sewing, which needs all your attention, and also to a man to be sure of a substantial meal one a day, and a variety, which comes hard to inexperienced housekeepers, and which appetites crave for. You say you do not know how it would plan out in the country. It would be a problem, especially when the roads are so bad.

I am also interested in Mrs. E. Kent's Home Economics. It is a splendid topic, and one can learn a lot from these articles.

Do the Boxites have a convention once a year, like the Beavers of the Toronto Daily Mail used to? They did till last year. If it had been convenient at that time I would have gone to their convention, for it must be jolly to meet the different correspondents, old and new ones, once a year. We would perhaps meet Miss Grey, who is a puzzle to us all, even to outsiders. I like to read the different opinions and the arguments of the page. Perhaps some of the men readers would open a discussion to argue upon—in a friendly spirit, of course. They do fine at the meetings I attend, very instructive and interesting. It livens the corner and makes us all sit up and take notice.

Now, Mrs. M., your baby is just the age to want to find out if she can have her own way. I have two, aged 2 and 3½ years. You can be kind, but firm. Always let her know mother means what she says. Don't give in if you say no, and if she cries too much put her in a corner till she stops. My little fellows forget what they have been crying for, and we help them forget. They are just babies yet.

A BEAVER (nee Sunbeam)

The Pattern and the Fund.

This will acknowledge with thanks contributions from the following kind Box people—some have been sent in without requests to be filled, some in exchange for patterns, some for patterns received some time ago—I appreciate them all—the response is splendid. It is impossible with our limited space to print all the nice little messages received with the contributions, but be sure that Cynthia duly loves and appreciates them one and all: Mustnot tell, Peggy, Rosebud, G. O., A. B. C., Dere Mabel, Merry Mother, a Bunch of Ignorance, Pluggy, Mrs. J. R., Mrs. C. R. G., Cordia, Wallace Lamb, Mrs. Preston, Betty, Jimmie, Ima Canuck, L. J., H. G. Ura Kidd on Community Kitchens.

I have been eagerly awaiting the response to your invitation to discuss community kitchens, but guess the folks would rather fight over who has the most work to do. I sorto' hesitate to air my views on the subject, feeling there are others older and wiser than I who ought to be able to write on this matter.

In some cases I would strongly advocate the community. The working girl, bachelor, and where the mother is forced into being the bread winner this scheme would be a godsend. But in the homes I think the housewife ought to do her cooking, for good food makes good citizens, and after all there is nothing can equal the "food that mother used to make," eh! I'm afraid the food of the community kitchen would soon taste like restaurant food. Why not have a community laundry and dish-washer, and thus give mother more time for cooking? All in favor say "Aye."

I'll tell you the tale of how I discovered vinegar to be good for the hands again. It is rather a painful story, but I'm always willing to oblige, Scottie says he is going to write to the Mail-Box some day soon.

URA KIDD.

Ans.—Many thanks for the inclosed patterns Ura Kidd. That was lovely. I appreciate your letter on community kitchens and laundries.

To Dye Hair.

Dear Miss Grey.—I do enjoy "visiting" with you all, reading the letters, questions and answers, and get a great deal of helpful information from them, and now am glad to see the opportunity to help a little myself.

If the lady wishing to dye her hair switch will use the following directions carefully the color will neither fade nor rub off.

Wash the switch clean with soap and water, rinse all the suds out of it and let it become perfectly dry. Make a quart of strong green tea, add a tablespoon of pulverized copperas (sulphate of iron), then put in the switch and let simmer for half an hour, leaving the tea leaves in the pan. If not dark enough when you shake it out, add more copperas and simmer again. When the desired color is obtained, let the switch become thoroughly dry, wash in soap suds and rinse until the water is clear. Switches may be dyed from light brown to jet black by this method.

All mothers dread scarlet fever, but how many know that saffron will prevent this ofttimes fatal disease? Just put a spoonful of saffron in a cup, fill the cup with boiling water, cover and let stand until cold, strain, sweeten and take a generous swallow five or six times a day. Of course, one should use every precaution against exposure to any contagion.

Honey B., I hope you get the reading about the bag of beans in time for the bean supper. Have heard my mother say it, but could not recall it all. Would it be asking too much if you get a copy? Please remember me, and when you have time leave a copy with Miss Grey.

Am sending a stamped envelope and also small donation for Sick Children's Hospital. Please send a stocking-foot pattern.

MARCELLA.

Cosy Corner Chats.

You will notice I am very much taken up with the cosy corner since I got acquainted. Hope I don't wear my welcome out. As I promised to send some more S. F. patterns I am doing so, and I noticed where Margery wanted to know how to cure turkeys of cholera. I have never failed yet by giving them one teaspoonful of mustard, one of ginger, mixed with fresh lard, and make a pill size of hickory nut and put down; repeat again the next day, but don't neglect them too long before giving it to them. Now, Miss Grey, what do you think of Grandma's writing?

ONE WHO LIKES TO HELP.

Ans.—I think its pretty and that you are lovely to send all those patterns ready for mailing. Many thanks.

How many of the "Flower Lovers" know that if their plants get frozen to sprinkle them well with cold water and leave covered for a few hours in a cool place, that it will take out the frost and leave the plants as good as before they were frozen. Cover them with an old sheet or something not heavy enough to break the plant. To prevent glasses from steaming over after coming in from the cold, clean with vaseline and polish with a silk handkerchief.

JOHNNY CAKE.

I received the songs and was very pleased to get them. The reason I wished them was because we had a Victrola and we could not understand what they were saying, but now it is very easy. I received the copies of "The Holy City," one sent by String Beans and the other by Sal[illegible]e, and I hope to be able to supply [illegible]m with something sometime, but I [illegible]ve very few recitations and songs. [illegible]ase accept 10c for the children's hospital.

MIRIAM PARKE.

Ans.—Thank you, Miriam, for the donation. You have cleared up a mystery for me. I have often wondered why, when songs and music are available at music stores, so many requests have come in for popular songs when in this way only the words can be secured. Now I know. This should teach us, too, to sing and talk distinctly, shouldn't it, Miriam?

For the hospital fund I will send you my mite, as I think the idea is but just and right. And I am one of the many to whom you have sent the famous foot pattern without asking a cent. So now I will send in with this my dime. And perhaps tell you more some other time. I like to help on every good thing, you see, so now I will close this from

X. Q.Z.

1. How old should a girl be before she learns dancing?
2. Also before she attends ball dances?
3. What age should she be before she keeps company with a young gentleman?
4. How old does a girl have to be before she can take a position as a stenographer and bookkeeper?

I would like to correspond with a young girl in her teens if she will write first. Will leave my address with Miss Grey.

IRISH LASSIE.

Ans.—(1) I don't know. (2) Eighteen. (3) Eighteen. (4) Depends on at what age she is competent to do so.

Queries.

Dear Miss Grey.—I enjoy your page so much that I can't keep silent any longer.

1. Do you think a girl 15 years old is old enough to have a suit?
2. If a young man asks for the pleasure of seeing you home, and you are desirous of his company, what should you say?
3. Do you know which of the western provinces would be best for homeseekers to go to, and about what place in the province?

If you can answer me these questions it will be a very great help. I will send you some help next time.

CONNY HEATH.

1. Yes. 2. Say "Certainly" or some such natural expression of acceptance, for all the world as if you were quite accustomed to the proposed company of young men. 3. Upon inquiry am told the Peace River District in Alberta is perhaps most desirable, as to climate and soil and lack of drought.

For Eight Years.

Dear Miss Grey.—This is my first letter to the Mail-Box, although I have been an interested reader for about eight years, so I hope I am welcome.

Westminster Presbyterian Church, Toronto, coated with ice after the fire which practically destroyed it. The loss is over $100,000.

I used to live in London, but about two years ago we moved to Sarnia, but we still continue getting the "Tiser. I would like to see printed a good bread recipe; also directions for making Devonshire cream.

Thanking you in advance and wishing you and the Boxites the best of luck.

DOLLY.

Ans.—Devonshire cream is made by placing a pan of milk on back of stove and allow to heat slowly to about 150 degrees Farenheit, or practically scalding point. Then allow to cool and skim cream.

White Bread — One cake compressed yeast, 1½ quarts lukewarm water, 2 tablespoons lard or butter, 1 tablespoon salt, 4½ quarts sifted flour, 2 tablespoons sugar. Dissolve the yeast and sugar in 1 quart of the lukewarm water and add to it 1½ quarts sifted flour; beat well. Cover and set aside to raise for about 1½ hours in a warm place. When well risen, add to it the pint of lukewarm water, lard or butter, the remainder of the flour or enough to make a firm dough, and lastly the salt. Knead thoroughly, place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise for from 1½ to 2 hours. When light mould into loaves and place in greased baking pans. Cover and let rise again for about one hour. When light, bake 40 or 50 minutes, reducing the heat of oven after first ten minutes. This makes four loaves. Requires about 5½ or 6 hours, and if followed will produce excellent results.

Attention, "Little Good-For-Nothing."

Dear Miss Grey.—It is certainly nice weather we are having, just fine for skating and snowshoeing, but rather cold, although we young people should not mind that.

Well, Miss Grey, as we have a nice big confectionery store I am going to send you a nice box of "goodies" as soon as I get chance to do so, and hope you will enjoy it immensely.

I must certainly thank you for sending me "An Aspiring Dishwasher," and hope to be of some better use soon again. I remain as before,

THE LITTLE GOOD-FOR-NOTHING.

Ans.—Thank you, Little Good-For-Nothing, for your kind thought for Cynthia Grey and for returning the reading. But please send me your name and address. Neither of your letters have given me this information, so I cannot send it to Pansy. If every Boxite would just take the little extra trouble to always sign name and address when writing just for Cynthia Grey's use, it would simplify many matters very much.

THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Just fifty years ago this winter Dr. Pierce gave to the world his famous "Favorite Prescription" for the distressing weaknesses and complaints of women. For many years he had been in the active practice of medicine and his specialty was the diseases of women. Later he desired to give this to the public, and he received a trade-mark protection from the United States patent office for this medicine, which is an herbal, "temperance" prescription with all the ingredients printed on the bottle wrapper. In his every day practice in the early days he also used a tonic and alterative for the blood, which was so universally beneficial that he determined to place this medicine in the drug stores of the United States and Canada where it could be readily procured. This he called his "Golden Medical Discovery," which he had prescribed many years for the stomach, liver and blood. Both these medicines met with instant success, and during the past half century have sold in greater quantities than any other proprietary medicines. Neither of Dr. Pierce's medicines contain alcohol and both are herbal extracts of native medicinal plants. For the past fifty years forty-eight million bottles have been used by the American public, and they are today the standard tonics for men and women. They are now put up in tablet as well as liquid form, and sold by every druggist in the land. A trial package can be obtained by sending 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. MIDDLE CLASSES ON THE ROAD TO RUIN

Sir Rider Haggard Tells of Their Condition in the Motherland.

Associated Press Cable.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Sir H. Rider Haggard, the author, believes the middle classes of England are on the "road to ruin." This opinion he expressed in a letter to the general secretary of the Middle Classes Union, regretting that other work prevented him from assuming the presidency of a branch of the union.

"I sympathize fully with your movement," he wrote. "The middle classes, by which I take to mean all beneath the rank of peers who do not actually earn their living by the work of their hands are, without doubt, on the road to ruin. Owing principally or at any rate very largely to the incredible expense of rearing and educating children their birth rate is decreasing in a most alarming fashion and probably is now exceeded by their death rate."

He declared that against these classes the profiteer is given a free hand and that "under pretence of a nebulous anti-dumping bill, they are now threatened with the loss of the blessings of free trade, which alone enables many with fixed, or dwindling incomes, to live at all." He said that only combination to protect themselves and their interests could save them.

"If the middle classes remain disunited and in consequence are bullied and plundered to death, as happened to the Curiales before the fall of the Roman Empire, I am sure that with them will disappear the wealth and the ancient greatness of our country," he concluded.

TRADE UNIONS REJECT FORMER SOLDIERS

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Considerable dissension has been aroused in the ranks of disabled and demobilized sailors and soldiers by the attitude of several trade unions in declining membership to them. The Amalgamated Society of Engineers has been marked for special condemnation by former service men, and such epithets as "tyrannical" and "dog in the manger" have been applied to their action. Sam Bradley, secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers London committee, stated recently that he had addressed three or four mass meetings convened by the National Federation of Discharged and Demobilized Sailors and Soldiers, and explained the position and, in some instances, had received expressions of approval from the former service men. "At the moment," Mr. Bradley said, "we have approximately 5,000 members of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers alone who are out of work, and some thousands in the army, awaiting release. As the pre-war average of unemployment in our organization was about four per cent., that fact should prove sufficient argument in favor of proposing that occupations not so overrun as the engineering trade should be put forward as warranting suitable compensation for the man 'who has done his bit.' It is not fair, or honest, to place a disabled man in a trade already overrun with competition. We are convinced that many disabled men have educational qualifications which, combined with a period of training, would enable them to enter the higher professions and become doctors, solicitors, architects, chartered accountants, auctioneers, and so forth. So far," Mr. Bradley added, "we have not heard of any schemes of training that allow for disabled men entering them."

INOCULATION.

In order to get legumes to thrive where they have not previously grown, it is necessary to inoculate the soil with the particular bacteria which cause the nodules on their roots. The commonest way to do this is to spread from 300 to 500 pounds to the acre of fresh soil from a field where the legume is well established, as shown by the proper development of root nodules. As different legumes require different kinds of bacteria, it is essential that soil is taken from a field where that particular kind has been growing.

As sunlight is a powerful destroyer of bacteria, it is necessary to keep this transferred soil protected. Inoculation is done on a cloudy day, and the soil is quickly incorporated with the new field by harrowing. As can be imagined, transferring soil for inoculation is not very easy when a large acreage is to be planted or when it must be transferred a long distance, so chemists sought an easier way. They have now developed culture solutions which can be purchased in bottles for the various legumes. With this method the seed is treated before sowing, and the same results are obtained as with inoculated soil. Some of the state experiment stations make a specialty of supplying these cultures.

Every time a widow hears of a man who has been disappointed in love she makes it her business to get him away from the crowd and sympathize with him.

"Pussyfoot" Nosey From Across the Sea—Shall He Pro-Boss Us?

A poster spread broadcast by anti-prohibitionists in England as propaganda against the crusade begun by American dry forces led by "Pussyfoot Johnson."

WOMAN BILLY SUNDAY TO APPEAR SHORTLY IN CITY OF WINNIPEG

Believes in Old-Fashioned Gospel and Preaches a Literal Hell.

An intensely interesting woman's figure will appear on the Canadian horizon in Winnipeg this month. It is Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, often referred to as "the Woman Billy Sunday," who is regarded as one of the most successful and eloquent woman preachers in America. She comes to Winnipeg to open a revival campaign there.

While only 28 years of age, she minces no words in her attacks on the vices and frailties of the age. She preaches an old-fasnioned gospel, and those behind the campaign predict that Winnipeg will experience a real heaven-born revival.

Vast Crowds.

Vast crowds have turned out to hear her in the American cities, and in a recent campaign in New York she preached to 2,000 people afternoon and evening.

Mrs. McPherson believes in the old-fashioned religion, and takes every word of the Bible to be the word of God. She believes and preaches a literal hell, which can be averted only by the acceptance of Christ, and contends that it is a woman's privilege and duty to bring such a message. Her ministry, however, has been of a practical character, and frequently she has gone down into the dives and preached and prayed to the pleasure-seekers. She took the "Barbary Coast" in San Francisco by storm in this manner and won many converts.

A Writer Also.

A year ago she drove her car from New York to her home in Los Angeles, stopping along the way to preach to soldiers and farmers.

Besides being a highly successful preacher, Mrs. McPherson has won considerable recognition as a writer. She edits a magazine of her own, the reading matter being of an evangelistic character.

SIMPLE AS A B C; TRY IT TONIGHT FOR YOUR NERVOUSNESS

It's blood nourishment that vitalizes the nerves. Your blood is thin, weak, watery. It's filled with poisons that hang on because your kidneys don't filter properly.

See here, fix up your kidneys, put new life in your liver, and you'll feel like new in a short time.

Worn out, tired in the morning, you lack the energy and ambition to work as of old. This means nerve decay—nerves that are starved for the want of good, rich blood.

To do this, you must use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They make life look bright and pleasant because they restore harmony and vigor to the organs that need repair.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills warm the blood and fill it with nutriment that's bound to build you up, that's sure to lift your weakness, that invariably does make joyous, robust Good Health.

Think of it, youthful strength, lots of nerve force, plenty of red blood surging through your veins—isn't this reason enough for your using Dr. Hamilton's Pills? Sold in 25c boxes by all dealers.

PLAN SIMILAR TO THE I. O. D. E. MEMORIAL UNDER WAY IN U. S.

British University Women in United States To Arrange For Exchange of Professors, etc.

In view of the I.O.D.E. war memorial campaign, the return visit to this continent of Dr. Caroline Spurgeon is especially interesting, says the Toronto Telegram. This week Dr. Spurgeon is in Boston. It will be remembered that this distinguished British university woman visited Canada as a member of the British Educational Mission. In her eloquent speech to Toronto university women she pleaded for an interchange of scholarship between the two countries.

As the result of such a plea in the United States, a delegation of American college women, including Miss Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard and Dean Helen Taft of Bryn Mawr visited Great Britain last summer.

Head of Delegation.

Now Dr. Spurgeon has come over as the head of a delegation of three British women scholars who have accepted the invitation of the committee on international relations of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae to visit the United States to further the plan of the formation of an international organization of university women. The plan includes an exchange of professors and lecturers between American and European colleges for women, the extension of women's colleges generally and the establishment of bureaus abroad for American college women and others here for those of European colleges.

Fellowship This Year.

The results are bound to be far-reaching and a factor in promoting international understanding. One fellowship allied with this great program has already been established this year at Columbia University, and named the Memorial Rose Sidgwick Fellowship, in honor of Dr. Rose Sidgwick, member of the British Educational Mission, who died in New York City last spring on the eve of sailing for England.

I. O. D. E. Plan.

Under the I. O. D. E. plan, for the first time college women, as well as men, will be eligible for a scholarship that will give them a year's study at a British university. Moreover, this chance, which is different from the Rhodes prize, because it is open to women, is open but to the children of Canada's soldiers.

Next fall, it is expected, will see one student from every province in Canada go to England under the I. O. D. E. auspices.

Cannot Canada's patriotic women be proud of having seen so big a plan materialize even before all the U. S. wealth and learning could be mobilized?

Reports from Anglican headquarters at noon today indicated a total of $561,000 received from fourteen out of 25 dioceses throughout the Dominion. Reports arriving at headquarters this morning were as follows:

Calgary	$11,000
Fredericton, N. B.	19,000
Ottawa	21,000
Nova Scotia (in part)	24,000
Toronto	50,000

These amounts added to last night's figures bring the Anglican total to above the half-million and the organizers believe that were reports from all the diocese available they would show that nearly forty per cent of the objective has been received.

ped hard-boiled eggs, with seasoning of salt and pepper. Take sufficient stock to fill the mold; dissolve in it enough gelatine according to size of the mold to make stock a thick jelly when cold. Pour the stock over the rabbit and put in a cold plate until set. This is fine for those that like rabbit. BEAVER.

Lemon Cookies.—Two and a half cups of white sugar, one cup of butter, one cup of lard, two cups of sweet milk, 10 cents of oil of lemon, 5 cents of baking ammonia; enough flour to make good and stiff. Put the baking ammonia in the sweet milk to dissolve. VIOLET.

Carrot Marmalade.—Wash, scrape and grate two pounds of full-grown carrots; add the same amount of ripe pared peaches; measure the mixture, and to each pint allow one-half pint of sugar; put the carrots and peaches mixed in a kettle; stir constantly until it reaches the boiling point, then cook slowly for twenty minutes; now add your sugar and the juice of two lemons, and boil slowly until transparent. This is one of Mrs. Sarah Rorer's recipes. She used to be one of the editors of the Ladies' Home Journal. It is splendid. B. B. B.

Macaroons.—One cup brown sugar, half cup shortening, two eggs well beaten, half teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon almond, half teaspoon baking powder, 1¾ cups flour; mixed well, then add four cups corn flakes. Thanking you in advance for your trouble and patience with us all, I will sign myself MAUDE.

Belfast Cake.—Beat half a cup of butter to a cream; 1½ cups sugar, one cup raisins, one egg, one cup sour milk, two cups graham flour, one-third cup white flour, one small teaspoon soda, half saltspoon salt, half teapoon cinnamon, half teaspoon nutmeg.

Spice Cake.—Three-quarters cup white sugar, half cup butter, two eggs, two tablespoons molasses, three-quarters cup buttermilk, one cup chopped raisins, one teaspoon each of nutmeg, cinnamon, allspice, three cups flour, one large teaspoon soda dissolved in a little boiling water. Ice with caramel icing.

Cabbage Salad.—Three cups chopped cabbage, one cup of chopped apples, three-quarters cup chopped walnuts, one small teaspoon salt, dressing, one egg, two tablespoons brown sugar, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour stirred in half cup of water, half cup of vinegar, half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon mustard; mix all together and boil until thick, stirring constantly. Add a cup of whipped cream when cool.

Potato Salad.—Take a pint of cold potatoes (boiled), and cut in dice; two hard-boiled eggs cut fine, teaspoonful finely-minced onion, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley mixed together; dressing may be made same as for cabbage salad, with a little vinegar to suit taste. MARGARET.

Maple Syrup Tarts.—One cup maple syrup, one cup water, one teaspoon of butter, two eggs, two tablespoons cornstarch, half teaspoon salt; beat yolks, mix corn-starch in a little water and butter which has been heated; cook in double boiler until thick; use whites of eggs for meringue; bake crust first. I find this a very good recipe. LILY OF THE VALLEY.

Nut Bread.—Two and a half cups of flour, half cup graham flour, quarter cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, four teaspoonfuls baking powder, one cup walnuts or raisins, 1½ cups milk, one egg. MRS. JIGGS.

Beef Loaf.—Three pounds beef, trimmed and ground, one teaspoon black pepper, one teaspoon salt, one egg, tablespoon butter, one cup milk, one cup rolled crackers; form into loaf, put on a saucer in a deep crock or basin, cover and bake two hours. Nice hot for dinner or cold for supper.

Coffee Cake.—One cup coffee, one cup molasses, three-quarters cup shortening, half cup sugar, one large teaspoonful soda, spice to taste; adding fruit makes a nice fruit cake.

Honeycomb Pudding.—Three cups flour, one cup beef suet, one cup syrup, one cup sweet milk, one cup raisins, half cup salt, one teaspoon soda; steam 2½ hours. Serve with sauce. ECONOMICAL ELLEN.

Potato Scones.—Boil and mash three potatoes, add one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon butter; beat well; add two beaten eggs, half cup milk, flour to make a drop batter (one teaspoon of baking powder sifted in flour). Bake on hot griddle in greased rings. This is the recipe that appears in cook book, but I prefer adding a little more flour and baking them in greased gem tins in the oven. HONEY B.

Crumble Pie Crust.—One cup flour, pinch of salt, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons brown sugar, two tablespoons lard; crumble all together dry; put apples or mincemeat in pan and put crust on; sprinkle not quite half cup of water on top of crust. This is fine. BUSY MOTHER.

Here is a recipe for cheese biscuits: Four cups of flour, one level teaspoon of salt, four level teaspoons of Egg-o baking powder, two tablespoons of shortening or dripping or lard, one cup grated cheese. Directions for cooking same: Mix the whole to a soft dough, cut to shape; bake in very hot oven for five to seven minutes; watch the oven closely or the biscuits will burn. NURSING SISTER.

Here is a nice recipe for oatmeal drop cookies. They are very good. One and a half cups sugar, one cup Crisco or lard, 3½ cups rolled oats, two eggs, half cup sour milk, one teaspoon each of cinnamon and ginger, one cup dates or raisins, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, two cups flour. Dot on tins and bake in hot oven till well browned. ELEANOR.

I am inclosing a good recipe for stuffed potatoes: Five medium-sized potatoes; bake in their skins, and when done cut off a small slice from one end, scoop out the inside and rub through a wire sieve; add to it half an ounce of butter. One tablespoonful of grated cheese, pepper and salt, and the yolk of one egg. Mix well, refill the skins, put on the slices which were cut off, and put in the oven again for ten minutes before serving. ONLY ME.

Here is a recipe for a dark layer cake which is splendid: Two eggs, one cup brown sugar, half cup blackstrap, half cup butter, one teaspoon each of soda, cinnamon, nutmeg, half cup sour milk, 1½ cups flour. Bake in layers, put raisins in for filling. CINDERS.

Johnnie Cake.—One cup cornmeal, one cup wheat flour, half cup sugar, one beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls shortening, a little salt, one teaspoonful soda dissolved in one cup sour milk. Mix dry ingredients first, and bake twenty minutes in fairly hot oven. May be used for muffins if wished, and is quite good without the egg if a little more cornmeal and flour are added. Serve hot with syrup, or split open and toast.

Sugarless and Eggless Pudding.—One cup suet, one cup raisins, 1¼ cups sour milk, three-quarters cup molasses, one teaspoonful each of cloves, cassia, allspice and salt; two small teaspoons soda dissolved in the milk, and one tablespoonful baking powder stirred in with enough flour to make a stiff batter; one tablespoon of orange or citron peel improves it, but may be omitted. Steam 1½ hours or longer, and serve with your favorite sauce. If a tablespoonful of lard is used instead of the suet the pudding will pass for cake if cut when cold. ALPARATA.

"FLU," GRIP, COLDS,

Pneumonia, Fevers, Hard Coughs, Tonsilitis.

Read this plain statement.

First, This whole brood of wicked enemies of health may be kept at bay, the medical authorities say, by keeping up high quality of the blood, and observing the ordinary laws relating to sanitation and health.

That is why Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended as a preventive of "flu" and other diseases—it is the standard blood-purifier and vitalizer.

Second, for a definite case of any of the prevailing complaints, it is wise immediately to call a physician.

Third, for that weakness and prostration following the "flu," grip and other diseases, Hood's Sarsaparilla by renewing the red blood corpuscles wonderfully restores health, builds up the whole system, creates an appetite and "makes food taste good." If a cathartic is needed Hood's Pills are recommended.

Magnificent Eruption Unsurpassed Since 1868.

TREES WERE SET AFIRE

Were Carried Along Upright in Flow of Lava Like Giant Torches.

Hilo, Island of Hawaii, Jan. 10.—Kilauea volcano, which during the closing months of 1919 produced an eruption surpassing anything of its kind in recent years, opened 1920 with another magnificent spectacle, which had not been paralleled since 1868.

On December 22 lava from Kilauea forced its way up through the floor of the Kau Desert, six miles distant from the fire pit of the crater, and by New Year's Day observers were watching a flow of molten lava, six miles long and 100 yards wide, traveling southward through the forest of ohia trees at a rate of three miles per day. An inner channel of the flow was making as high speed as twelve miles an hour at the source, and welling from springs twelve feet across.

Forest Trees Afire.

As the molten lava cut into the forest the trees were set afire, many of them being quickly burned through at their bases and carried along upright in the flow like ranks of giant torches.

The location of Kilauea's most recent outbreak is along the rift-line of 1868, left by the terrific earthquakes which rocked the Island of Hawaii in that year. The rift, clearly defined, runs from the southern rim of Halemaumau, the "house of fire," or firepit of Kilauea, through the south wall of the main crater and thence to the sea, twenty miles away, in a series of wide, parallel crevasses. The new flow, however, has not made its appearance along the rift at a point closer to the firepit than six miles, where it has welled up through the thickly lava-coated desert floor of Kau.

Molten Fountains.

From the rift-line many molten fountains could be seen spouting thirty feet in the air. Heavy fumes were emanating from the earth along the entire line of the rift.

Kilauea's latest outbreak is the culmination of a long period of tremendous activity, caused, says the volcano observers, by underground pressure of lava, which was not relieved by the recent discharges from the crater proper.

As the desert flow increased, the lava level in Halemaumau continued to sink, until vulcanologists prophesied that the pit might be drained.

VIENNA A CITY OF CURIOUS CONTRASTS; PROFITEERS REIGN

Great Shops Are Filled With Rich Furs, Diamonds and Other Luxuries.

FOOD IS RATIONED

Practically None of Things Needful To Comfort To Be Seen.

Vienna, Feb. 10.—The authorities recently authorized the population to cut and take from the municipal forests that surround Vienna as much wood as could be borne on the back three times weekly. The plan was meant to meet the pressing need of people who could not buy or obtain from the public ration enough fuel to cook with.

A fortnight's experiment showed that, with the complete destruction of one superb forest park of 150 acres, only a fraction of the wood went as intended, while organized bands of profiteers cut and sold 20,000,000 crowns' worth.

The incident is typical of profiteering conditions in this capital. The papers daily report the frustrated or successful smuggling out of the country of contraband articles and commodities. A band of Spanish smugglers recently were caught on the southern frontier with large quantities of gold, silver and platinum which they were trying to take out in automobiles. The low exchange value of the Austrian crown makes smuggling a tempting game and men take desperate chances. The frontiers are guarded closely and everyone searched, but the left hand trade is unchecked.

Masses Go Hungry.

Money can still buy any necessity or any luxury here. While the mass of the people are hungry and cold and ill-clad, the splendid hotels and restaurants continue so crowded that it is impossible to be served unless a reservation is made for a table. In crowns the prices are fabulous. A simple meal costs the month's salary of an office man, yet profiteers and alien speculators throng them as well as the cabarets and night amusement places of all kinds.

On the one hand is luxury and reckless spending and on the other starvation. The swarms of street beggars increase, men, women and children with their insistent appeals. The cheaper coffee houses are filled from opening to closing with those drawing their 15 crowns daily of out-of-work subsidy. Strikes and threatened strikes bring enormous increases of pay, and, prostrate under it all, is the middle-class, the professional and clerical ranks who have neither organization nor resource. They are not entitled to out-of-work pay nor enabled in any way to increase their incomes.

Curious Contrasts.

Vienna presents curious contrasts. Nearby is a shop once famous for its delicacies. Its windows are dressed with tinned salmon, a few sardines, both to be had only on a fat ration card, some imitation liquors and scaly-looking bonbons.

In the great shopping streets of the inner city the windows are filled with magnificent furs, works of art, tailored costumes, dainty silks and other women's wear, jewels and other articles de luxe. But for sturdy clothing, for shoes and woolens, for those things that a populace needs in a hard winter clime, for fats and flour and sugar, one can search Vienna in vain. A diamond or rare painting, tapestry or sable coats, dainty glassware or exquisite leather and porcelain things can be found in the Karnestrasse or the Graben or the smart shop streets that radiate from them, but the owner of any one of them will sell you more readily for bacon, flour or sugar than for crowns. Recently many shops have refused to sell except for established foreign moneys, although such a procedure is in direct violation of the law.

The Government daily quotes the official rate of exchange at which foreign money will be cashed in its own bureau, but this means nothing as affecting private transactions in banks and with money changers. Some days these will give from ten to twenty points more or less than the official rate, according to their own judgment of conditions. There are daily raids on illicit money changers in cafes, hotel corridors and in the side streets of the Bourse, often netting millions of crowns, but the game goes on.

CHURCHILL FEARS MENACE OF RUSSIA TO BRITISH EMPIRE

Something Dangerous Will Emerge, He States.

Sunderland, England, Feb. 10.—Winston Churchill, British secretary of state for war, declared, in an address he delivered here, that while no one can tell what will emerge from Russia, "it will be something very menacing to civilization and especially dangerous to the British Empire."

"Bolshevist fanatics are determined to destroy civilization, democratic parliaments, and the liberties of free peoples," declared the minister.

"Europe and Asia are in a desperate condition. The Allies may abandon Russia, but Russia will not abandon them. The ghost of the bear will cross the snows and menace them.

"New forces are springing up in Asia-Minor, and if Russian Bolshevism and Turkish Mohammedanism should join hands the situation for Britain would be grave. Kolchak and Denekine have protected British interests in the past, but the armies of Kolchak are almost gone, the armies of Denekine are in jeopardy, and if they were to disappear serious danger would immediately arise.

"It is possible that there may be a combination between kaiser militarism and German Bolshevism to destroy the German republic. We must see that that does not happen. We are continually being told that we should not trade with Germany again, but how are we to get our indemnities unless we trade with her? France and America are taking all steps to trade with Germany, and we should not be called on to stand aside."

PILES

Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and as certainly cure you. 60c a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

TRAVELING COURT.

Liverpool, Feb. 10.—A traveling division of the industrial court, appointed for the purpose of dealing with differences between employers and employees, is reported to be doing good work. One day it was at Crewe, the following day at Sheffield, the next day at Liverpool, where disputes were fully considered and promptly settled.

EVERY SHIP BRINGS LOAD OF IMMIGRANTS TO ARGENTINA NOW

Majority On Dutch Ships Are Germans.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 10.—Every steamer arriving here from Latin ports of Europe and from Holland is loaded with immigrants coming here to settle. Most of those on the Dutch ships are Germans. They are attracted by the facts that Argentina is prosperous, unscathed by war and belief that it gives promise to rapid development.

A great increase in the foreign population of the Argentine is expected, owing to this immigration. Air ady nearly one-half of the population of Buenos Aires is foreign-born, and a majority of these have failed to become citizens, although only two years' residence is required. Many have long been residents of Argentina and are large property owners.

The influx of new immigrants has prompted a proposal by Dr. Juan Carlos Garay, professor of law in the University of Buenos Aires, to propose enactment of a law making naturalization obligatory without renunciation of citizenship in the country of birth. Professor Garay hopes in that way to solve the problem presented by failure of so many foreign-born persons to become citizens and take part in the affairs and politics of the country. He admits that this is a revolutionary doctrine, but contends that for Argentina its advantages would outweigh the disadvantages.

SAYS MILES STANDISH WAS A MANXMAN

Douglas, Isle of Man, Feb. 10.—Evidence that Miles Standish was a Manxman and born into the Manx family of Standish of Ellanbane, has been discovered by the secretary of the Isle of Man Antiquarian Society.

The family of Standish probably came to Man with the Derby family in the fifteenth century, it is stated, for there is a record that they held property in the capital of the island in the year 1511. This was 73 years before Miles is supposed to have been born.

DUTCH "GLOBE-TROTTER" TRAVELLING AFOOT THROUGH ARGENTINE

Carel Dericks On Way To San Francisco.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 10.—Carl Dericks, a Dutch "globe-trotter," who is traveling afoot from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, to San Francisco, U. S. A., as representative of the Handelsblad of Amsterdam, arrived here today from the Brazilian capital, which he left on October 20.

From here Dericks crosses the continent over the Andes Mountains to Santiago, Chile, whence he will make his way north through that country and the other west coast countries, Central America, Mexico, and thence into California. He hopes to arrive in San Francisco before June 1, completing on foot a journey of about 12,400 miles.

For defence while traveling through wild sections he carries a hollow cane containing a rapier. While journeying through Santa Catarina Province in Brazil, he was threatened by Botokude Indians, but their hostility was changed to curiosity, he said, by the sudden transformation of his stick into a sword.

BUSINESS HAMPERED BY UNCERTAINTY OF PUBLIC POLICIES

Nicholas M. Butler, Aspirant for Republican Nomination for President.

COURSE OF WISDOM

Public Opinion Would Be Sufficient To Enforce Recommendations.

Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—An attack on the federal trade commission was made before the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the Columbia University and an aspirant for the Republican nomination for president.

Discussing the necessity of clearing away uncertainties in public policy that hamper business, he said:

"We have at the present time a federal trade commission appointed pursuant to the provisions of a statute which might easily be so administered as to do great good. The federal trade commission, however, utterly misconstrued its proper functions and has preferred to persecute business rather than to protect and develop it. The cheaply won applause which is sure to follow the violent denunciation of somebody or something for an alleged wrong has been preferred to the much more solid and lasting approval of an intelligent people that would follow upon constructive acts which should indicate how the busines of the country might be better and more wisely developed.

Almost Pathetic.

"It is little short of pathetic, after some of the best brains in all the nation have organized and set on foot a great industrial undertaking which engages the co-operation of thousands of men and women, reduces the cost of production of some staple article, and begins to extend American trade in new lands, to find them summarily brought to book as criminals by the attorney-general of the United States or by the United States district attorney in some judicial court.

"The course of wisdom and of progress would be for the commission to hear the plans of those who propose to develop an undertaking of this sort; to point out in advance what would be considered unfair business practices and what would not; to indicate the line wherein monopoly would be held to begin, and which therefore must be crossed; and then to send the new undertaking on its way with the full knowledge and co-operation of the federal trade commission, with which, thereafter, the undertaking should stand in the closest possible relations."

Such a policy by the commission, Dr. Butler said, would simply repeat in the field of industry the precise policy which the Government has followed with extraordinary success in the case of national banks.

Confronted With Uncertainty.

Besides doubt as to what might be done without prosecution under the Sherman or Clayton act, he added, business was confronted with uncertainty as to labor. To remove this he suggested the establishment at Washington of a commission on industrial relations to represent the public alone, which should make findings and recommendations in labor disputes. The doors of this commission, he said, should be open to wage workers, employers, or to any body of individual citizens or to the attorney-general of the United States.

Arguing that public opinion would be sufficient to enforce the commission's recommendations, he said, the United States Supreme Court could not enforce its decrees against a state, but nevertheless such decisions had been obeyed, and that the rules of international law except in time of war had wide application.

He expressed a warning note against the building of "huge political machines in order to maintain and increase the points of contact between government and business."

"The unchecked development of such a tendency," he said, "would in time completely alter the American form of government and revolutionize American business. It is perfectly easy by following such a course as outlined to transfer a democracy into an autocracy of office holders and inspectors. Nominally this autocracy would represent and carry out the wish of the people, but actually it would be a tyranny of an office holding class."

INDIAN IS REVIVING AFTER DECADENCE, POPULATION GROWS

North American Natives Show Substantial Increase.

NO LONGER DYING RACE

Probably Now Scarcely Less Numerous Than At Time Columbus Came.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Despite the popular belief that the civilization forced upon him by the white man means his ultimate extinction, the North American Indian, reviving from a long period of decadence, has shown such substantial increase in population in recent years that he probably is scarcely less numerous today than when Columbus discovered America.

Startling as this assertion may be to those who have pictured American forests in the discoverer's time as swarming with red men, it is freely advanced by experts of the government's Indian bureau, who maintain that the Indian necessarily formed an exceedingly scant population, which probably at no period materially exceeded the total of 333,702 Indians reported by the bureau for last year.

No Longer Dying.

"The Indian is no longer to be thought of as a dying race," declared Dr. Lawrence W. White, an Indian authority of the bureau. "In support of that statement it is necessary, in the first place, to disabuse the public mind of the tradition handed down by discoverers and early colonists that American forests in their day swarmed with the dusky figure of the red man. As the Indian neglected agriculture almost completely, it is highly probable that this country, considering its latitude, could have supported more than several hundred thousand of his race."

On the other hand, Dr. White continued, the Indian in the present day, after periods of sharp decrease following as a natural reaction to sudden contact with the civilization of the white man, is seen to be making substantial gains in population.

Estimates Or Guesses.

"While many estimates or guesses of the Indian population were made during the past century," said Dr. White, "ranging from less than 100,000 to 400,000, the first reliable census was made by the Indian bureau in 1870, when the population was placed at 313,712. So figures demonstrate that in the last fifty years the Indian population has made a substantial net gain."

Pointing to statistics, which show an excess of births over deaths of 1,522 in 1916, and almost as great an excess in 1917, normal years which were not affected by the epidemic of influenza, Dr. White declared that these figures "fully reflected the generosity of a government that has increased its Indian health appropriation alone from $40,000 in 1911 to $350,000 in 1917 and subsequent years." They demonstrate, he said, that with the schools, hospitals and other advantages now provided for him, the Indian, be he tribesman or freed man, is "not a dying race, but rather a flourishing one." Had he been treated as other nations have treated savage tribes, Dr. White concluded, there probably would not be a "vestige of the race within our republic today."

The Haldimand Society was formed at Selkirk 20 years ago, and now boasts 25 branches, one at Dunn being formed last year. The chief work being undertaken at present is community and child welfare. The members hope to secure a children's shelter in the near future, and intend beginning their efforts in this direction at the meeting to be held in Caledonia in March.

DIVIDEND OF 8 PER CENT.

A meeting of the shareholders of the Cayuga Square Deal Co-operative Creamery Company, Limited, was held in the town hall on Saturday, at which the first dividend of eight per cent was declared. The question of enlarging the factory was then discussed. It was decided not to purchase a new site, but to enlarge the present factory, and not yet to enter into hog-raising in connection with the creamery. In enlarging the premises, it is intended to install cold storage and other improvements. This cannot be done without more workable capital, and it was decided that a canvass would be made this week to secure the same, returns to be made by February 14. It was felt that there would be no difficulty in securing the required funds, as several hundred dollars were subscribed at the meeting, and a strong inclination shown by all to increase the number of shares held.

STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLE

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal state, you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp, and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advt.

USE OF GAS IN WAR MORE HUMANE THAN SHELLS, SAYS EXPERT

No More Reason To Prohibit It Than Rifles

ARRANGEMENT POSSIBLE

No Gas Should Be Used That Would Cause Unnecessary Suffering.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—There would be no more reason to forbid the use of gas than to prohibit the employment of rifles in the next war, says Major-Gen. Sir Louis Jackson of the Royal Engineers, formerly in charge of offensive gas production. There were gases he declared which killed painlessly, and it was easy to conceive cases in which it would be more humane to use gas than explosive shells. It might be possible to come to some arrangement whereby no gas should be used that caused unnecessary suffering.

In a recent address before some of the leading lights in the military world he stated that the world was on the eve of the most extensive modifications in the art of war known to history, and the changes made in the recent war were only the beginning. It was necessary to develop new arms with the knowledge that the nation which best did so would have a great advantage in the next war.

Likely To Be Used.

The tanks were not likely to be used in future wars, but they had shown that mechanical transport was not dependent on highways, and that, therefore, the whole transport of an army could be carried by vehicles with caterpillar wheels independently of the roads.

Air fighting would be enormously developed. The short rifle would be replaced by a short carbine, which would be accurate up to a range of 500 yards.

Artillery More Mobile.

Artillery would be much more mobile and if they were to allow for an advance of twelve miles a day the guns must be capable of an effective barrage up to 18,000 yards. He thought that a short 4.2 gun with an accurate range of 12,000 yards, and a long 4.2 gun with a range of 20,000 yards, might meet the requirements of the future.

He said that the future soldier must be absolutely different from his predecessor. The days had gone by when initiative was considered not only unnecessary but dangerous. In addition to his rifle the soldier should be able to handle a Lewis or machine gun, and to help the artillery. He should know something of explosives, have a knowledge of uses, understand signalling, and be able to handle a ground wireless set. He should receive intense training.

ODESSA UNDER REIGN OF ANARCHY SINCE CAPTURE BY REDS

Thousands of Refugees From Russian Port Are Arriving in Turkish Capital.

CONSTANINOPLE, Monday, Feb. 9.—Anarchy prevails in Odessa (recently captured by the Bolsheviki), according to the latest advices from that city received here. Street fighting occurred on February 7, between various armed factions. Cable communications between here and Odessa is suspended at present.

Three thousand refugees from Odessa arrived here on Sunday.

Referring to the situation at Odessa, a Bolsheviki communique received by wireless from Moscow today says:

"In Odessa our troops were stopped temporarily by the fire of warships and artillery which was particularly fierce in the streets. Armored cars were used and field artillery fired point blank. The enemy was finally driven from the town on Sunday.

"In the direction of Mozyr we occupied Ananieff."

QUIETNESS PREVAILS IN KENTUCKY TOWN AFTER ATTEMPT AT LYNCHING

Mountaineers That Were to Attack the Troops Did Not Show Up.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 10. — There was no further disturbance here this morning, following the killing of five persons yesterday during an attempt to lynch William Lockett, a negro murderer of 10-year-old Geneva Hardman.

Squads of armed soldiers patrolled the streets during the morning, and all approaches to the city were guarded by military pickets. This precaution was taken because of a report that 1,500 mountaineers were on their way here to attack the troops and lynch Lockett. They did not appear, however.

MAJOR TIMMINS TELLS OF WORK OF CAVALRY

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Major R. S. Timmins, D.S.O., of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, delivered an interesting lecture at the Canadian Military Institute last night on the work of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade with the Third Battalion Cavalry Division during the period of the Fifth Army's retreat on the Amiens front from the 21st to the 30th of March, 1918. Major Timmins vividly described the operations in which the cavalry, by a daring but costly series of charges, finally checked the retreat in co-operation with the French. Lieut.-Col. William Hendrie presided.

CARDINALS IN ROME ASK MORE SALARY

ROME, Feb. 10.—The Giornale d'Italia says that the cardinals living in Rome have asked the pope to raise their salaries, as they cannot make both ends meet, owing to the increased cost of living. With the exception of the papal secretary of state, the chancellor of the church and the archpriest of St. Peter's, the cardinals, it is pointed out, receive only what is called a "cardinal's dish," amounting to 21,500 lire yearly, plus 2,000 lire for privy expenses. At the present rate of exchange this amounts altogether to $1,175 yearly.

FLU IS RECEDING IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—There were 1,066 influenza cases reported today, or 428 less than yesterday, and 426 pneumonia cases, or 70 less than yesterday. Influenza caused 122 deaths today, an increase of 81, and pneumonia 227, an increase of 92.

Would Steal $5,000,000 in Bonds

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—After the arrest today of three young men charged with theft of $2,500 in securities from a messenger, the police gave details of a plot to steal $5,000,000 worth of bonds in a single clean-up to be followed by a flight to Canada and lives of luxury for the plotters.

The plot involves a "ring" of dishonest Wall Street messengers. The plotters were to wait until large sums of securities were entrusted to their care, pool them, and then dash across the international line. How all the dishonest messengers were to get large amounts of securities into their possession simultaneously was not disclosed. The detectives declared the plotters had spurned one opportunity to get away with $500,000.

PROPOSAL OF NEW PARTY INDICATION OF COMING BREAK

Borden's Continued Absence Adds To Uncertainty.

SETS OTTAWA AGOG

Idea of National Party To Oppose Farmers Widely Discussed.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—(By Canadian Press.)—Proposals to form a new national party to offset the farmers' movement have set the political world agog. Among Liberal-Unionists in Ottawa there is a tendency to discount the importance of the proposals. But it is pretty generally admitted that they indicate the lines of a coming cleavage, although what the effect of that cleavage on the coming session will be, none profess to prophesy.

Continued Absence.

The continued absence of Sir Robert Borden adds to the uncertainty of the situation. Whether he will return to active politics or not indeed is problematical. The question is entirely one of his health. "What Sir Robert's intentions are is not definitely known," it was authoritatively stated today. "Whether he returns to politics depends entirely upon his health. But it may be taken for granted that if his health is not re-established he will not again assume the active premiership."

In any event, it is not likely that Sir Robert will be back in Ottawa till towards the end of the session.

Financial Proposals.

Admittedly, financial proposals will be the main difficulty of the Government. Mr. Crerar's recent strong speech in Russell, Man., is taken here as indicating his intention to strike for tariff reductions when the budget comes before the House. On this score there is apparently little fear in official circles as to the outcome. While sweeping amendments might secure the adhesion of some of the western members, it is thought their votes would probably be offset by those of Opposition members who do not look on free trade with too kindly an eye.

NO KNOWN VACCINE THAT WILL PREVENT SPANISH INFLUENZA

Dr. J. W. S. McCullough Declares No Regulation To Enforce Innoculation.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, provincial health officer, says that there will be no regulation from the provincial board of health to compel travellers from United States to be inoculated against the "flu." This reply was made to Dr. W. M. Logie of Sarnia, regarding a petition from that place. The note says there is no known vaccine that will prevent influenza, though some doctors are using an inoculation to prevent complications following the "flu."

MANY IMMIGRANTS FROM EUROPE SETTLE IN SOUTH AMERICA

Half of Buenos Aires Population Is Now Foreign.

BUENOS AYRES, Feb. 10.—Every steamer arriving here from Latin ports of Europe and from Holland is loaded with immigrants coming here to settle. Most of those on the Dutch ships are Germans. They are attracted by the facts that Argentina is prosperous, unscathed by war, and believe that it gives promise of rapid development.

A great increase in the foreign population of the Argentine is expected owing to this immigration. Already one-half of the population of Buenos Ayres is foreign-born, and a majority of these have failed to become citizens, although only two years' residence is required. Many have long been residents of Argentina and are large property-owners.

The influx of new immigrants has prompted a proposal by Dr. Juan Carlos Garay, professor of law in the University of Buenos Ayres, to propose enactment of a law making naturalization obligatory without renunciation of citizenship in the country of birth. Professor Garay hopes in that way to solve the problem presented by failure of so many foreign-born persons to become citizens and take part in the affairs and politics of the country. He admits that this is a revolutionary doctrine, but contends that for Argentina its advantages would outweigh the disadvantages.

GET DOWN ALMOST TO BARTER, STATES BRITISH FINANCIER

Suggestion To Relieve Exchange Situation.

LONDON, Feb. 10. — (By Canadian Press.) — Two weighty opinions were offered the Leeds Chamber of Commerce regarding the exchange position. The Hon. Rupert Beckett, a member of a famous banking family said:

"All the gold from South Africa for the next 20 years cannot settle the present conditions between the United States and Great Britain and her allies. We must get down to barter. This country also needs a chancellor of the exchequer who will plainly discuss the incidence of the various subsidies, piercing their camouflage, and telling the people exactly for what amounts they are liable."

Sir Algernon Firth, ex-president of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, declared that this country, as the clearing house of Europe, would have to carry the burden of Europe so long as the whole continent continued to issue paper money not representing valid assets. He believed the shipping, banking and insurance services would realize £650,000,000 against £540,000,000 estimated by the board of trade, and the surplus would go some way towards reducing our trade balance.

GT. BRITAIN'S EXPORTS FOR LAST MONTH THE GREATEST ON RECORD

Shipments of Manufactured Articles Is Increased 100 Per Cent—Imports Are Confined Largely To Food and Essential Products.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The recent efforts to stimulate the export trade of Great Britain to assist in righting the exchange position, are indicated in the Board of Trade figures for January. These figures show that the exports, for the first time on record, totalled more than £100,000,000, or in exact terms, £105,879,000, this being an increase of £58,000,000 over January of last year.

Exports of manufactured articles increased 100 per cent, including an advance of £15,000,000 in cotton textiles, £6,000,000 in woolens and £4,000,000 in iron and steel products.

While imports are still large, totalling £183,000,000, or £48,000,000 over January of last year, these were largely essential products, food imports showing an increase of £18,000,000 and raw cotton of £22,000,000.

Negro, Not Dead, Asks Court For Proof He's Alive

Detroit, Feb. 10.—Newton Nelms, a negro, appeared before Judge Durfee in probate court Monday for legal proof of some kind that he is alive. Judge Durfee, looking Newton over carefully, agreed that such was the case and issued the necessary papers.

Nelms explained that inasmuch as a petition had been filed to the effect that he was dead and that probate court action had been taken to dispose of his estate, he really felt entitled to something to offset these rather depressing facts.

According to Nelms, his daughter, Lillian Stephens, filed the petition to have his estate probated, and he added that she also obtained his $200 from the bank. He said he did not wish to see her punished.

"The $200 is gone," said Nelms, "but I don't want anything done to my daughter. It's worth $200 to be alive."

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

BAVARIA, SAXONY, OPPOSED TO WIPING OUT LINES OF STATE

Object To Unified German State Proposal.

PRUSSIAN SUGGESTION

Introduced in Diet, Would Tend To Obliterate Provincial Prerogatives.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The suggestion originating in the Prussian Diet that the National Government sound the sentiments of the federated states on the question of creating a unified German state has aroused opposition in Bavaria and Saxony. The proposal was introduced by the Coalition Bloc of the Prussian Diet.

The press dispatch from Munich says the majority of the Bavarian people are unanimously opposed to any scheme that tends to obliterate the time-honored prerogatives of the state.

In a general debate on the issue in the Bavarian Diet, the parties, with the exception of the majorities and the independents, opposed the scheme. The Ultra Left Radicals, however, declared that they unconditionally favored it and requested the Bavarian Government to direct their efforts in that direction.

The Saxony ministry president, Herr Gradnauer, expressed the belief that the present moment is not the time for the execution of a plan which purposes to wipe out the political frontiers of the federated states. He said he believed that the Berlin official quarters were inadequately posted in respect to the South German opposition to the hasty centralization of all authority in Berlin and that such disinclination would serve as a check to the aspirations of Berlin.

ASKS PERMISSION OF GOVERNMENT TO RAISE NATURAL GAS PRICE

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—A deputation representing the natural gas companies of Ontario waited on Premier Drury this morning to urge that an increase in the price of gas be permitted, or they would have to go out of business. Additional cost of piping and labor was the reason advanced for 100 to 200 per cent increase.

"We are not making enough money to make explorations or pay sufficient dividends," said D. A. Cost, of the Union Natural Gas Company. If they could not carry on their customers would have to buy artificial gas at $1.25 per thousand feet.

BOTTLED MOTE MAY BECOME PROHIBITION DRINK IN STATES

South American Beverage Known As Paraguay Tea.

IS MAKING INQUIRIES

One U. S. Manufacturer Trying To Find Out About Importation of Drink.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 10.—Bottled mate or Paraguay tea, the famous South American beverage, may become a prohibition drink in the United States. One North American manufacturer of beverages is making inquiries in Buenos Aires to ascertain whether to import the mate herb from Argentina and introduce it to North Americans.

Drinking mate through the bombilla is a national custom not so much practiced in South American cities as formerly, but is still common in the "camp," or agricultural districts. The bombilla, a metal tube about six inches long, with the thickness of a pencil, is fan-shaped at the end, and dotted with small holes like a sieve, through which the liquid is drunk from a sun-dried gourd about the size of a large apple.

The liquid is prepared by filling the gourd with the herb, then boiling water is added. The host takes the first drink and the gourd is refilled and handed to the guests in succession. The supply of mate is renewed as is required. Silver and even gold gourds are now used by wealthy families.

Mate is grown extensively in the extreme northeastern section of Argentina, Paraguay and Brazil, where large tracts of land are given over to its cultivation.

The herb possesses astringent qualities which makes it an invaluable beverage among the farming people who consume large quantities of meat daily, this, together with hard biscuits, in some parts of the republic, being the only articles of food.

WHISKEY SMUGGLER'S AUTO AND CARGO DROP INTO DETROIT RIVER

Border Residents Claim To Have Seen Tragedy Happen Yesterday.

WINDSOR, Feb. 10.—Whiskey runners, operating between Canada and the United States, it is reported, went through the ice to their death near Amherstburg today, and as a result License Inspector M. N. Mousseua, provincial officers, and the Windsor and Amherstburg police are investigating rumors of a regularly organized system for smuggling liquor into the United States across the frozen river.

Eyewitnesses claim to have seen an automobile loaded with liquor leave the Canadian shore, and when half way across, sink through the soft and rotten ice into the river. None of the occupants of the car were seen again, though rumors are current that the driver escaped by jumping from the car when the ice cracked.

People residing along the river front tell of often seeing signal lights on both sides of the river at nights, and automobiles without lights, and apparently heavily loaded with liquor. It is believed that a well-organized system has been in operation throughout the winter months in this vicinity, and the Border police are determined to break up the alleged liquor ring.

Motorists of the Border have been warned by Chief of Police Willis of Windsor that a crusade is to be commenced against all offenders of the motor vehicles act in an endeavor to cut down the number of accidents here.

TORONTO ORANGEMEN WELCOME MEMBERS OF ULSTER DELEGATION

Rev. E. M. Hart Says Not Opposed To "Home Rule."

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Prominent members of the Orange Order in this city welcomed the Ulster delegates on their arrival in this city tonight. One of the members of the delegation, Rev. E. M. Hart, of Donegal Square Church, Belfast, said he and his fellow-travelers were in this city to "correct misapprehensions which had been created about Ireland and to show that not everybody in Ireland wants a republic." He said the mission of the delegation was to expose the evils of the Sinn Fein in Ireland and he declared that they were not opposed to "home rule."

The chairman of the Ulster delegation is William Coote, M.P., for South Tyrone. The other members are: Rev. A. Wylis Blue, minister of May Street Presbyterian Church, Belfast; Rev. William Corkey, Townsend Street Presbyterian Church, Belfast; Rev. Louis W. Crooks, rector of Knockbreda Episcopal Church, Belfast; Rev. Edward Hazelton, and Rev. C. W. Maguire, ministers of Donegal Square Methodist Church, Belfast.

Mr. Griffin joined the staff of the parliamentary library in 1885. Prior to that time he was engaged in newspaper work and was for six years editor of the Halifax Express. RANEY CHARGES THAT LIBERTY LEAGUE IS OUT TO DEFEAT HIM

Attorney-General Opens Campaign in Wellington at Fergus.

FAVORS TEMPERANCE ACT

Will Support Measure to the Limit—Outlines His Duties.

FERGUS, Ont., Feb. 10.—Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general, accompanied by Premier E. C. Drury opened his campaign in the bye-election in East Wellington here tonight. Both ministers received a hearty greeting.

Hon. Mr. Raney devoted some attention to the Citizens' Liberty League, which he said, was ready to spend $20,000 to defeat him, and which he declared would require more than $200,000 to do so. In this connection he read a letter, which he said, had been sent to the race track proprietors in Ontario in circular form, signed by T. L. Carruthers, general secretary of the league, dated Toronto, January 28, 1920, and which read as follows:

"In view of the coming election in which Mr. Raney, attorney-general, will seek to obtain a seat somewhere in Ontario this league has taken into account his continuous and uncompromising actions towards race tracks, and his stand on prohibition, and we have decided that we must oppose him at the polls. This will entail an expenditure of about $20,000, and we are asking our friends to help us financially. We will appreaciate it if you can seen your way to contribute."

Much In Same Boat.

Mr. Raney said he had no knowledge whether a similar letter had been sent to the distillers and brewers or not, neither had he any knowledge whether a similar Liberty League letter had been sent out with the object of defeating Premier Drury, but he said the premier seemed to be in much the same boat as himself. He was not vain enough, he said, to suppose there was anything personal in the antogonistic attitude of the Liberty League toward himself.

"The simple question for the electors of East Wellington is," he said. "Does the fact that the attorney-general is in sympathy, very hearty sympathy, with the objects of the Ontario temperance act disqualify him for that office? That is the issue raised by Mr. Carruthers' letter."

Quoting the words in the league letter, "continuance and uncompromising attitude towards race tracks," Mr. Raney said the inference was that he was opposed to horse racing. "This is not true," he asserted. "I am no more opposed to that than I am to baseball, or golf, or cricket, or any other outdoor game or pastime." He said he did not think his opposition to race track gambling should disqualify him from office; on the contrary, he regarded it as rather a qualification.

Attorney-General's Duties.

"My conception of the duties of an attorney-general," he added, "is that he should strive to see that a gentleman in a silk hat and Prince Albert coat carrying on a common betting-house on a jockey club race track should have no more immunity under the criminal code than a Chinaman presiding over a game of fantan in the back room of his laundry. What do you think?"

Touching on the question of Government House, Mr. Raney said:

"On the one hand, we are enjoined by the farmers and some others to economy. On the other hand, we have a more or less ornamental institution that is costing $100,000 a year."

Hospital For Soldiers.

Mr. Raney added that while some people said the province should have a suitable place in which to entertain royal and vice-royalty, others said such an institution was undemocratic. He had been asked by the Government to look into the question of using government house as a hospital for soldiers and see what could be done in the matter. He had discovered that the Chorley Park property on which government house stood had been acquired subject to building restrictions which confined its use until 1929 to the purposes of a government house or a private dwelling. "And so the hospital idea had to be abandoned," Mr. Raney said.

The attorney-general, however, did not abandon the subject at this point, but went somewhat fully into the matter of the cost of government house. The cost of government house on capital account, he said, had been $1,083,108. The cost of maintenance had kept growing from year to year until it had reached $100,000 last year, decorating the building for the Prince of Wales' visit having brought the cost up from $29,960 to the $100,000. In 1918 the cost of maintenance had been $24,357. Besides the cost of the up-keep of the building the province had to pay the lieutenant-governor's salary $10,000 a year, and $3,500 for secretaries and messengers—besides $60,000 a year interest on the investment of Chorley Park, the site of government house.

Hydro-Electric Commission.

Mr. Raney did not make his appeal to the electors of East Wellington on his attude on the liquor question or the betting business but on his qualifications for the office of attorney-general. He outlined the duties of this office, and in this connection said the attorney-general was called on to consider from time to time the relations of the Government to the hydro-electric power commission. "The affairs of the hydro-electric commission," he said, "are of vast consequence, involving many millions of dollars in investments and questions of the greatest importance are continually arising for consideration and determination by the department of the attorney-general."

Mr. Raney remarked that in the former Government there were five lawyers, who decided among themselves the various questions arising in connection with matters of government. In the Drury Government there would be only one lawyer and the duties of the attorney-general would thus be very greatly increased.

OCCUPY RHINELAND FOR LONGER PERIOD

"GRIPPE LEAVES KIDNEYS WEAK

The epidemic of colds and grippe that has been sweeping the country has seemingly left even a greater number of people than ever in a weakened, run-down condition from which there is but a slow recovery. Much of this after weakness affects the kidneys and bladder, making it difficult for them to perform their natural functions. Sufferers have to get in and out of bed half a dozen times a night, their backs are weak and painful, sick headaches and dizziness are common symptoms. No serious trouble may exist, but the time to check such symptoms is at once before matters grow worse. No complicated treatment may be needed if a few doses of a good safe kidney regulator like Solvax is taken right away. Solvax straightens out an ordinary case of weakened kidneys in about twenty-four hours in many instances, sifts out and neutralizes poisonous uric acid and drives the clogged-up, poisonous kidney waste from the body, so that you can begin to feel better right away. Solvax is harmless, contains no alcohol or habit drugs, and leading druggists agree to refund its full purchase price if in any case it fails to give entire satisfaction. If your druggist cannot supply you, write, inclosing 50 cents, to Booth's Hyomei Company, Postoffice Box No. 388, London, Ont.

PROPOSE TWO CIVIC MARKETS TO REDUCE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Dr. C. W. Hoare of Windsor Endows Scholarship As Memorial To His Son.

Windsor, Feb. 10.—Establishment of two civic markets, one in the east and the other in the west end of the city is proposed by Ald. Sam Keyser, chairman of the Windsor market committee, as a means of breaking up the alleged price combine that at present exists in Windsor. Closing of the local market, suggested several times, and seriously considered by the city council, is not favored by Ald. Keyser, who believes much business done by Windsor merchants with Detroiters who cross the river to patronize Essex County farmers would be lost.

Buy Cheaper Outside.

Opening of connections with farmers for the purchase and sale at cost of produce is another method advocated by Ald. Keyser for the reduction of the cost of living in the Border Cities. Foodstuffs, under the proposal, would be purchased at outside points and shipped to Windsor by truck. Figures compiled by the market clerk, David Little, show costs of foodstuffs in other centres to be considerably lower than the rates prevailing here. Ald. Keyser is effecting a substantial saving of from $5 to $6 a week by buying needs for his own household at a point 150 miles from Windsor and having it forwarded here.

$5,500 For Scholarship.

Offer of a $5,500 endowment of a scholarship in medicine at McGill University to constitute a memorial for his son, Lieut. Walter Hoare, who was killed in action overseas, made by Dr. C. W. Hoare, coroner, Walkerville, has been accepted by the Windsor board of education, it will go to the winner with the highest standing at matriculation from the local collegiate, who wishes to enter the medical class at McGill.

To Be Resubmitted.

Defeated on a bylaw vote submitted to the people last year, the proposal of the purchase of an electrically operated street flusher to cost $12,000, is to be again submitted to Windsor electors, the board of works decided at its meeting tonight. The new equipment will replace two old vehicles that have been shaken to pieces by the steel rims on the wheels, and which, according to Mayor Winter, have been in the repair shop oftener than on the streets.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

DISAGREEMENT AT RAILWAY COMMISSION HEARING OVER CARE OF CATTLE IN TRANSIT

Loading of Cattle, Provision of Indemnity For Men Handling Them, Dealt With Under Discussion of New Livestock Contract.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—(By Canadian Press).—The major portion of the afternoon hearing before the railway commission today was occupied by counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railways in discussing various points in the suggested livestock contract on which they were unable to see eye to eye with the shippers.

Adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when it is probable that some of the representatives of the bodies interested in shipping will be heard.

Mr. E. P. Flintoft, counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway, contended that the railways should not be required to place partitions or decks in cars, and in answer to the chief commissioner, he stated that these were only necessary when shippers were desirous to ship a mixed carload. The railways did not provide for the shipment of mixed carloads, and should not be compelled by contract to partition off their cattle cars. The feeding and watering of cattle in transit, owing to some delay, should, argued Mr. Flintoft, be the responsibility of the shipper and not the railway. The railways had no men for this work, and did not consider it part of their undertaking to attend to it.

Objected to Thirty Days.

The Canadian Pacific Railway counsel objected to the clause allowing shippers thirty days in which to file notice of loss, damage or delay. If notice were given within fifteen days the railway company had an opportunity to collect some evidence in the matter. In thirty days this opportunity might be gone.

Counsel for the Canadian National Railways, Allistair Frazer, supplemented the argument of Mr. Flintoft with an argument against the proposal to make the railways entirely responsible for the care of livestock in transit and dispense with the necessity for the shipper furnishing a man in charge.

Difficult and Expensive.

David Cromôle of the same road supported Mr. Frazer with reasons from the point of view of the traffic expert why it would be difficult and expensive for the carriers to furnish complete supervision of livestock in transit. It had been suggested by Mr. Henderson for the shippers that the railways could do this work in a general way with less cost than is now involved in individual handling. It was brought out, however, that shippers only asked at the present time that the sending of a man in charge on behalf of the shipper be made optional, and on this point a statement by W. R. Ingram of the Swift Canadian, Limited, in Winnipeg, set forth the reasons for the attitude of the shippers on the question. That the sending of a caretaker by the shipper should be optional was supported by Mr. Henderson and Mr. Headley.

Released of Responsibility.

Mr. Flintoft defended section 8 of the proposed contract, under which carriers are released from responsibility for an accident to a man traveling in charge of stock. The railways were compelled to carry this man, said counsel, for no benefit of their own on trains not equipped for the protection of passengers.

Mr. R. B. Bennett, appearing for the Calgary Livestock Exchange and the Calgary Protective Association, wanted a clause compelling the railroads to exercise "reasonable dispatch" in shipping cattle inserted in the contract.

Council of Agriculture.

The case of the Canadian Council of Agriculture was briefly stated by F. J. Collyer, their representative. He suggested certain modifications of the proposed contract and emphasized the need for better accommodation of men traveling in charge of livestock and for the provision of return transportation for these men.

Prominent livestock men representing interests which are vitally concerned in the shipment of cattle, representatives of the railways and railway brotherhoods, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Toronto Humane Society were present to assist the members of the railway board in the drafting of the new livestock contract.

PARAGUAY TEA MAY BECOME PROHIBITIVE DRINK IN AMERICA

Drinking Liquid Through Bombilla Is Great Pastime.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 10—Bottled mate or Paraguay tea, the famous South American beverage, may become a prohibition drink in the United States. One North American manufacturer of beverages is making inquiries in Buenos Ayres to ascertain whether to import the mate herb from Argentina and introduce it to North Americans.

Drinking mate through the bombilla is a national custom not so much practiced in South American cities as formerly, but is still common in the "camp," or agricultural districts. The bombilla, a metal tube about six inches long, with the thickness of a pencil, is fan-shaped, at the end and dotted with small holes like a sieve through which the liquid is drunk from a sun-dried gourd about the size of a large apple.

The liquid is prepared by filling the gourd with the herb, then boiling water is added. The host takes the first drink and the gourd is re-filled and handed to the guests in succession. The supply of mate is renewed as is required. Silver and even gold gourds are now used by wealthy families.

Mate is grown extensively in the extreme northeastern section of Argentina, Paraguay and Brazil, where large tracts of land are given over to its cultivation.

The herb possesses astringent qualities which makes it an invaluable beverage among the farming people, who consume large quantities of mate daily, this, together with hard biscuits, in some parts of the republic, being the only articles of food.

CLAIMS STRIKE WAS CALLED TO SUPPORT COLLECTIVE BARGAIN

Counsel At Winnipeg Trial Denies Conspiracy.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—(By Canadian Press.)—Vigorous efforts by R. A. Bonnar, K.C., counsel for the defense, to establish the meaning of collective bargaining and to show that the general strike of last summer was called in support of this principle and not because of seditious conspiracy, featured the afternoon session of the seven strike leaders' trial today.

Counsel's action drew from Mr. Justice Metcalfe a pronouncement as to the duty of the jury in the case. This, he said, was to administer the law as they found it. Public opinion had nothing to do with the case and public discussion as to what was right or wrong had nothing to do with it. Whether collective bargaining in some sense ought or ought not to have been made law, the jury had nothing to do with.

Upon Mr. Bonnar pressing his point the judge said he would not stop counsel from proceeding if it were thought the accused would derive some benefit from his doing so.

"I only want the jury not to be taken off their feet by what they may think was a sense of national justice, his lordship added.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—Propaganda is being launched in Germany which observers believe is designed to arouse enthusiasm for the idea that Germany may rehabilitate herself by becoming a great aerial power.

An organization keeps the government in touch with demobilized pilots and lectures and demonstrations are being arranged in the schools to stimulate interest in aeronautics. An association has been formed by German aircraft designing firms, each undertaking, with governmental approval, the development of a specific type of plane.

BRITAIN'S DRINK BILL.

London, Feb. 10.—Great Britain's drink bill for 1918 is estimated to reach the record figures of £259,000,000 yet statistics just issued show a decrease in consumption and an increase in sobriety.

In 1905 the convictions for drunkenness in England and Wales totalled 207,171; in 1910 they were 161,407, and in 1914 they numbered 188,877, but from then onward the convictions dropped sharply to 135,811 in 1915; 84,191 in 1916; 46,410 in 1917, and 29,075 in 1918.

The number of public houses has also decreased from 103,341 in 1895 to 84,644 in 1918.

PAID FOR CITY HALL.

Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—Payment for building the Philadelphia city hall has just been completed, although construction was started in 1872. The cost was $25,000,000.

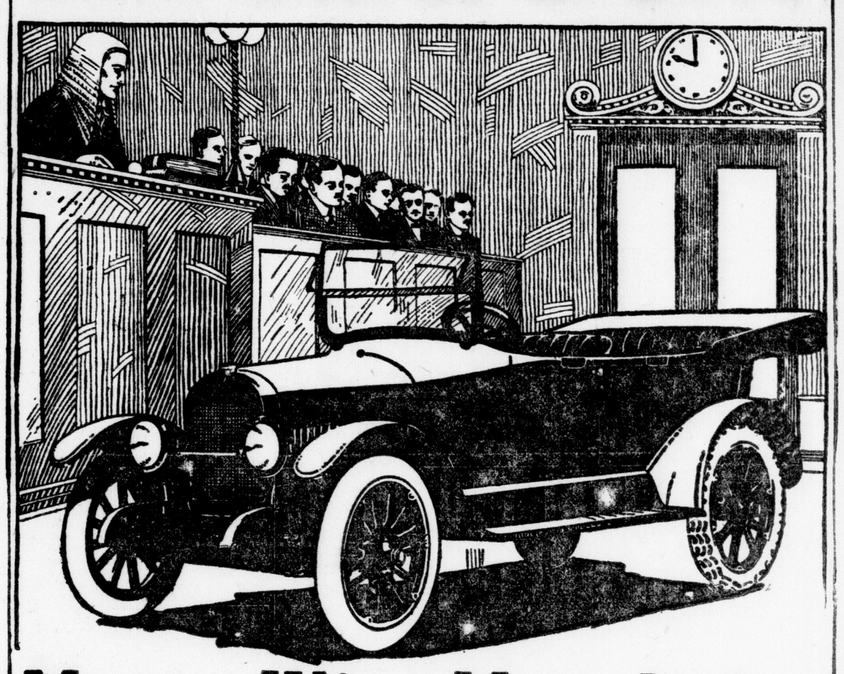

The city hall was built by a public building commission, authorized by the legislature in 1870. A four-mill tax for its construction was levied on all taxpayers in each of the following six years. At that time, however, the city did not have the power of lien for taxes and, as a result, part of the building taxes remained delinquent.

$1365 F.O.B. CHATHAM WAR TAX EXTRA GRAY-DORT

Motor-Wise Men Judge Gray-Dort Value at $1365 (PLUS WAR TAX)

Particularly if he has driven another light car, does a man appreciate these Gray-Dort features at $1365.

The Gray-Dort motor, with its big bore and long stroke—a bigger motor than the light car buyer has been getting—with a much heavier crankshaft, as heavy as in big cars. A motor with a cellular radiator and big water-jackets: with a dual exhaust for greater power; a newly-improved Carter carburetor; Westinghouse starting and lighting; improved Connecticut ignition.

The high-grade Gray-Dort Chassis has for foundation an extra heavy frame of channel steel. A big, sturdy rear axle, designed for the Gray-Dort. A new steering-gear, surprisingly big and strong for a light car. Big brakes, now with Thermoid lining. Long springs, built in Chatham under our inspection—rear springs full cantilever. When you drive, you drive in comfort. A shorter, smarter cowl now gives more room in the driving compartment. A new Gray-Dort feature does the same for the tonneau. The gears can be shifted with two fingers. The emergency brake is now on a lever, as in big cars. And like big cars, the Gray-Dort has side curtains opening with the doors. The new gasoline tank is in the rear, with Stewart vacuum feed system. The seats are tilted at the most comfortable angle.

New beauty has been added to the Gray-Dort. You still get the wonderful Gray-Dort finish, result of 60 years' coach-building. But there is a new and smarter top, hand-tailored in our own shops. A new hood, with many long, narrow louvres. The lamps have been raised, to give size to the front of the car. And there are such style touches as the French-plated upholstery, the flat top-edge of the body, the full sweeping fenders.

At $1365 there will probably not be enough Gray-Dorts to meet the demand. It will be wise to see the Gray-Dort dealer right away.

PRICES

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger car, finished in Gray-Dort green and black with standard equipment is $1365 f.o.b. Chatham. War tax extra.

The roomy 2-passenger roadster is the same price.

THE GRAY-DORT SPECIAL

For the man who wishes something a little extra in his car, we have built the Gray-Dort Special. Maroon body, with brown rayntite top. Plate-glass rear window. Gipsy curtains. Rookie tan wheels. Motometer. Tilting steering-wheel. Real leather upholstery. Mahogany instrument board. Just the touches which lift this car above the ordinary. $150 extra on the standard.

AND THE ACE!

The Gray-Dort Ace—the most beautiful light car of to-day. Sapper green body, with handsome California top to match.

Trouble lamp and bull's-eye flashlight. Electric cigar lighter. Rear-vision mirror. Plate-glass windows. Over-size grooved-tread tires. This is the de luxe car for the man who does not wish to pile up a tremendous operating cost. $255 extra on the standard.

TWO POPULAR STORIES for the PRICE of ONE

TWO OF THE MOST POPULAR STORIES EVER PRINTED.

The London Advertiser is not in the book-selling business to compete with booksellers, but it has been pointed out that thousands of our readers do not have the opportunity to purchase such books.

The London Advertiser has completed a satisfactory arrangement with the publishers and is in a position to offer these two books at less than the price of one.

"Love of the Wild"—A Western Ontario story, vivid with life, color and action. A story of a young man's love for the forest lands, and his fight to hold it. The author's nature depictions are at their best in this story, which carries a sweet romance and tingles with adventure. Regular selling price, $1.35.

"Willow the Wisp"—A Northern Ontario story with a forest setting, having to do with a "Down-and-outer" who was reclaimed, and given old-time health and poise by the forest. A story of vivid interest and strong plot, with plenty of adventure and romance. Regular selling price, $1.25.

N. W. ROWELL MAY RETIRE TO SUPREME COURT OF ONTARIO

Indications Are That He Will Succeed Late Chief Justice Falconbridge.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—That Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council, will shortly retire from the Union cabinet and will succeed the late Chief Justice Falconbridge of Toronto to the position left vacant by him on the high court of the supreme court of Ontario, is currently reported at the capital.

In the face of the widespread agitation to have the Union Government throw off its camouflage and revert to straight Toryism, under the euphemistic cognomen of "National" or "Moderates," it is inevitable that ministers of the Government, who make any claims whatever to Liberalism will have to gracefully retire to save their faces.

The retirement of Hon A. K. MacLean was expected to follow that of Gen. Mewburn, and it is now considered fairly certain that he will get out of the cabinet before the session opens. Hon. Arthur Meighen is anxious to get out into the west on a speaking tour, and wants to talk "Moderate" protection when he is there. But he can't do it while his colleagues number old-time Liberals and low-tariff advocates like Hon. J. A. Calder and Rt. Hon. A. L. Sifton.

Revert to Old Party.

It is fully anticipated that the majority of the Government supporters at the first caucus of the session will come out straight for a reversion to real old party lines on national policy principles. It is further anticipated that caucus will not be content to remain under the leadership of a man who is giving absent treatment premiership to the country from a distance of several thousand miles. The choice of a new leader will likely fall between Hon. Arthur Meighen, Sir Henry Drayton and Sir. Thomas White, the latter of whom is said to be growing weary of obscurity, and whose friends are again booming him for the leadership.

To Be Squeezed Out.

But whatever the result so-called Liberals stand to be squeezed out. Some of them would like to get out before they are squeezed out. Hon. F. B. Carvell anticipated the squeezing-out process, and for a year has been waxing fat and contented on the bench of the railway commission. It may be expected that Mr Rowell will follow his example, and the supreme court of Ontario would be a dignified place to be elevated to. There is at present no vacancy available for Mr. MacLean, but anything may happen before the session opens.

The Government has been anxious to secure French-Canadian representation on the cabinet. It had a chance to run a man in East Quebec, but conceived discretion the better part of valor and refrained from doing so. Kamouraska has been vacant for some months past, and is likely to remain vacant for some time to come. Now there is a vacancy in the St. James division of Montreal, but even in that strongly industrial centre the Government is timid about testing issues.

WINNIPEG EDITOR BECOMES LIBRARIAN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—W. J. Healy, assistant editor of the Grain Growers' Guide, and formerly associate editor of the Free Press, has accepted the appointment as provincial librarian. Mr. Healy will take over control of the library department about March 1. Mr. Healy represented the Mail of Toronto in the press gallery.

URGES TRADING AS MEANS OF PEACEFUL STATE WITH RUSSIA

Lloyd George Tells Parliament Force Cannot Crush Bolshevism—Believes Country Can Be Saved by Trade—Declare No Peace Until Barbarism Ceases.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The speeches with which the new session of the House of Commons was launched today will not make history. Mr. Lloyd George, William Adamson and Sir Donald MacLean spoke for the Government, Laborites and Liberals respectively.

The premier gave a long explanation of the Government's Russian policy, but refused to be drawn by the other speakers to the topic of revising certain "unworkable features" of the peace treaty.

Dealing with the burning question of economy, the premier recommended the familiar specific of increased production. His remarks on Ireland gave no new information regarding the measure which is soon to be introduced.

Colonel Sidney Peel (Coalition-Unionist), who made the reply to the address from the throne, said,

"It will be a grievous disappointment to us if the United States finds itself unable to take part in the work of reconstruction. But she must be master in her own house, as we are in ours."

Urges Treaty Revision.

Sir Donald MacLean, urging revision of the peace treaty, said:

"One of the essentials of the guarantee was the fact, when the Opposition agreed to it, of the signature of the president of the United States. It does not look as if this is going to be honored. I only hope I am wrong," he added as Mr. Lloyd George indicated his dissent.

Replying to general criticisms of the Government's policy made by William Adamson, a Labor leader, Sir Donald MacLean, and others who demanded especially the revision of the Versailles peace treaty, Premier Lloyd George declared in the House of Commons this evening that it would be impossible in a single speech to deal with all the questions raised. He said, however, that he would remark that after the excitement of the great war nobody could expect anything but a period of reaction and discontent, and even a certain measure of disaffection.

Refers to Self-Determination.

Alluding to Ireland, the premier asked whether Mr. Adamson meant by "self-determination" that if the majority of the Irish people demanded a republic he would give it. Unless Mr. Anderson meant that, said the premier, his talk of self-determination was dishonest. There were murders and assassinations "of the most cowardly and despicable kind in Ireland," the premier told his questioner, and he asked whether the member thought the Government should withdraw its troops and leave the assassins in charge in Ireland.

Declaring that the duty of the Government was to maintain law and order in Ireland, the premier turned to the high cost of living, which he said was attributable to the depreciation of money and not to profiteering. The only remedy was to increase production, he declared.

Replying to Sir Donald MacLean the premier said he was glad to be able to declare that the coming budget would balance and more than balance. Dealing at length with the situation in Russia, Mr. Lloyd George said he agreed with the view that Europe could not be restored without putting Russia, with all her strength and resources into circulation. Bolshevism was possibly efficient, said the premier, but it was not democracy, and Russia must be restored under an anti-Bolshevik regime.

Force of Arms No Use.

"Bolshevism cannot be crushed by force of arms," continued the premier. "I held that opinion a year ago, but my advice, tendered on that assumption to the warring factions was declined. It was necessary to give the anti-Bolshevists a chance to recover Russia, but they failed. The failure was not due to lack of equipment, but to more fundamental causes."

The premier contended that the suggested "ring of fire" to crush the Bolsheviki was impossible, because it was doubtful whether Finland would consent, and the Baltic states [illegible] out, were making peace with Russia, while Rumania was ready enough to watching the Hungarian front, and the Japanese were disinclined toward the idea. Moreover, he added, neither France, the United States, Italy nor Great Britain was willing to provide the funds.

Methods of Barbarism.

"Until," added the premier, "they are assured that the Bolsheviki have dropped the methods of barbarism in favor of civilized government no civilized community in the world is prepared to make peace with them. Further, there is no established government possessing the right to speak for the whole of European Russia. We failed to restore Russia to sanity by force. I believe we can save her by trade.

"Commerce has a sobering influence. There is nothing to fear from a Bolshevik invasion of surrounding countries or the middle east, because the Bolsheviki cannot organize a powerful army. I believe that trading will bring to an end the ferocity, rapine and cruelties of Bolshevism more surely than any other method, and Europe badly needs what Russia is able to supply, but cannot supply with contending armies moving across her borders.

"The dangers are not all in Russia; they are here at home. I speak with knowledge, with apprehension and with responsibility, and I warn the House that in the face of things which may happen we must use every legitimate weapon. We must fight anarchy with abundance."

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Premier Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons today that the British were evacuating Batum.

AMERICANS MUST CHOOSE OWN PATH, STATES CHARNWOOD

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Baron Charnwood, seconding the address of thanks in the House of Lords for the King's speech, expressed approval of the recent letter of Viscount Grey, British ambassador at Washington, with regard to the American position on the peace treaty. He said:

"We must allow the American people to choose their own path. I am convinced despite recent misleading appearances that we may confidently anticipate increasing participation by the United States in the world's affairs."

Earl Curzon, secretary of state for foreign affairs, agreed with Baron Charnwood, and said that although Viscount Grey had acquainted him with his intention to publish the letter, it was neither inspired by, nor submitted to the Government.

"I consider that the letter did not savor of interference in the domestic affairs of America, and I feel no sentiment but thanks to Lord Grey," he declared.

Marquis of Crewe Right.

Earl Curzon thought that the Marquis of Crewe was right when he said that a good deal of the peace treaty might have to be rewritten and revised. None of its authors claimed that it was sacrosanct.

"If Germany shows a disposition faithfully to carry out her obligations," he added, "we will do our best to aid her in fulfilling them and resuming her place among civilized communities."

Alluding to the delay in the peace settlement with Turkey, he referred to European anxiety that the United States share in the settlement of these regions.

Unselfish and Sincere.

"This anxiety," said Earl Curzon, "is quite unselfish and sincere. I believe that every one of the great powers would have abandoned the greater part of its individual ambition if it could be persuaded that America would come in and bear her share of the burden as mandatory for the whole Turkish Empire.

"I won't say a word in criticism, still less in derogation, of America's attitude. We may feel disappointed, but America has a traditional policy which we ought to endeavor to understand and respect. She desires to keep free from entanglements, and she is the best judge of her own policy. But her refusal undoubtedly increases the responsibilities of those left.

"If a mandate is confined to Great Britain I think it is too late to talk of limiting our activities in Mesopotamia to the Vilayet of Basra, and bear no share in the future control of Bagdad. I am convinced that any attempt to retire thence would be received with absolute dismay in the country itself."

CLASS GOVERNMENT CAN ONLY MEAN CLASS LEGISLATION

Declares Major J. C. Tolmie in Address To West Elgin Liberals.

HEARST MADE MISTAKE

Franchise Is a Holy Thing That Should Not Be Tampered With.

DUTTON, Feb. 10. — "Hon. N. W. Rowell left the Liberal party to join the Unionists, no doubt thinking that he was doing what was right. I am not going to say whether I think he was right or not, because I believe in letting the dead rest," was the way in which J. C. Tolmie, M.P.P., of Windsor, expressed his opinion of one member of the Union Government at the annual meeting of the West Elgin Liberal Association held at the town hall here today. Mr. Tolmie was greeted with cheers by a representative gathering of Liberals from all parts of the constituency. The crowd was not large owing to the terrific snowstorm that raged, but the hall was almost filled.

J. B. Ferguson of West Lorne occupied the chair, and in his address stated that many changes had come since the last annual meeting. He recalled the time when the Liberal party had decided not to place a candidate in the field. Since then a farmer government had been elected, but he could not say that he had been altogether satisfied with that government and their method of handling the country's affairs.

Officers Elected.

The following officers were elected for 1920: President, J. C. Campbell, Dunwich; vice-president, C. A. Walker, St. Thomas; second vice-president, Duncan Leitch, West Lorne; secretary-treasurer, Wm. Patton, Dutton; executive committee, Alex. Love and Mrs. A. McCall, Aldborough; Dougald Blue and Mrs. Gow, Dunwich; Alex. McLachlin and Mrs. D. Leitch, Dunwich North; Ernest Turner and Mrs. Campbell, Southwold; J. M. McLean and Mrs. A. McGugan, Rodney; John Butler and Mrs. Wanless, West Lorne; Mr. McCallum and Mrs. J. D. Black, Dutton; J. F. Nelson and Mrs. McDonald, St. Thomas West; and James T. Thompson and Mrs. C. H. Goodman, St. Thomas East.

Major J. C. Tolmie, in his address, dealt briefly on the great unrest now being experienced. He declared that even here at home matters are becoming serious. He drew attention to the Government at Ottawa, which he described as "the ship of state," drifting on without a captain and with no port in view. They are just drifting along or marking time, he said. They have done their part, and it is now high time they came back to see what the people have to say.

Laurier's Plan Best.

Speaking of Sir Wilfred Laurier, Mr. Tolmie declared that no one had ever been able to say one work against that wonderful personage, and today many people had learned to realize that perhaps Sir Wilfred's plan in 1917 would have been far better for Canada than that of the other party.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, he said, had stepped out and joined the Union Government, no doubt thinking he was doing the right thing. We have now chosen a permanent leader in Hartley Dewart, who is perhaps one of the most outspoken men in the province. He is perhaps a little too fond of a fight, but "I am not by any means going to criticize our leaders."

The new Dominion leader, Hon. Mackenzie King, Major Tolmie said, is the son of the father of Liberalism, and admirably adapted to lead the party. We have in him a man who is anxious to help the people at all times.

Speaking of the U. F. O., he said he did not agree with the suggestion that the farmers had stolen the Liberal platform. He could not see for the life of him, however, where they got their platform from. It contained two features that he did not agree with, but the Liberal platform, he said, is broad enough for any party to meet on. The speaker declared he liked nothing better than to study the Liberal party's history. Much good had come in present day life, finding its germ in the Liberal party. It is, however, no use living in the past because "a mill will not grind with the water that is past."

The Conservative party, he continued, is willing to let things alone and be satisfied, but the policy of the Reform party is not to be satisfied, but to look ahead and aim for better conditions. The labor problem and that of the returned soldier were dealt with at length by the speaker.

Not for One Class.

"The U. F. O. movement," declared the speaker, "looks forward to improvement and has as its aim a reform of the Conservative Government. No matter what the progressive force is as long as it represents progressiveness I will support it. Liberalism is not for one class of people! a narrow idea is foreign to its principles. I have no confidence in any organization that represents one class, be it a soldier, farmer or labor party. No matter how good or how wise they are, the soldiers, even though they have suffered and 50,000 are lying in Flanders fields, are only one section of the community. The farmers are not in the majority. They say they do not believe in class legislation. But no matter what they say, they are a class, and representing a class cannot give anything but class legislation. We have got to have people representing all the people.

Made Big Mistake.

"Sir William Hearst as a lawyer," said Mr. Tolmie, "made the biggest mistake of his life when he took the position of minister of agriculture. He did not know the difference between a pig and a goat. The franchise act was one of the rottenest pieces of legislation on the books. We don't know what our election cost us, but I would estimate it at over $1,000,000. They had partisan enumerators, and the whole thing was so unfair that I was left off the list myself, although I had lived for 25 years in the city of Windsor. If there is anything holy in our land, it is the franchise, and no one has a right to tinker with it. No man should be allowed to take a seat unless the majority of the people have voted for him.

"I wonder where many of our farmer friends would be if the three-cornered fights had been decided on a majority vote, and where would they have been had it not been for the Liberal party. We are, however, thankful that the people said they did not want the Tories, and they sure did say that."

Major Tolmie declared he was strongly in favor of mothers' pensions and moral reform.

Candidate Speaks.

W. Tolmie, federal candidate for West Elgin, drew attention to the unfair method of enumeration. He declared that the present assessment commissioner would willingly handle the entire list for $50, while it cost thousands in the last campaign. "The recent election in West Elgin," said Mr. Tolmie, "was won, not by the labor men at St. Thomas or the farmers in West Elgin, but by the Liberal and farmer vote. We have got to show the farmers in the next campaign that the Liberal platform is better and broader, and I am speaking as a farmer.

"The labor man is asking for short hours and long pay, while the farmer is just asking for the opposite thing. How can they work together I am going to ask this gentleman, who has never grown a bushel of wheat in his life, to argue the merits of the farmers' case, and I am afraid he will very soon get tied up in somebody's binder."

The retiring president, J. B. Ferguson, declared he purposed supporting the Liberal party in the coming election, and he would, he said, fight anyone who crossed his path at any time. J. C. Campbell, the new president, declared that he was more glad than ever to be a Liberal, and he would work for a victory in the coming campaign.

DON'T BE A SLAVE TO YOUR NERVES

Good Advice To Nervous People.

People who are excessively nervous, tired out and all run down, who get the jumps and fidgets, who can't concentrate their minds on work, have fits of blues, trembling, nervous headaches and dyspepsia and that "don't give a hang" feeling so common to nervous folks, may take it as a certain fact that their trouble is due to impoverished or devitalized nerve force. Their nerve cells are starving, and when they give out entirely complete nervous prostration or breakdown is the result.

A splendid treatment for weak nerves is found in the famous Ferro-Peptine, composed of six of the best nerve vitalizing elements known to modern chemistry. These tablets go straight to the nerve cells and begin immediate action. Take a Ferro-Peptine tablet, wait ten minutes and watch yourself perk up. They feed your famished nerve cells, start healthy blood circulation and normal digestion. Then you brighten up, put on a smile, get some of the old-time "pep" back in your system, and feel as happy as a clam at high tide. Ferro-Peptine is absolutely harmless, contains no dangerous habit-forming drugs, is easy to take, inexpensive, and Standard Drug Company and other leading druggists sell it on a positive guarantee of successful results or money back.—Advt.

ROMANOFFS WERE MURDERED IN A FIENDISH WAY

Bodies of Russian Royal Family Destroyed by Reds.

KILLED IN CELLAR

Women Brained by Heavy Muskets in Hands of Bolsheviki.

Having formed the vicious habit of describing the fate of the late czar and his family, it seems necessary to yield to it each time a fresh account comes to light. This time the version is that supplied by Col. George H. Emerson of St. Paul, formerly general manager of the Great Northern Railway, who recently returned from Russia. Col. Emerson was not an eyewitness, being sixty miles away from the scene on the night of July 17, 1918; but his report was gathered from persons who were present, and whose statements were included in a special report on the subject made by Gen. Dietrichs. There was also an investigation made by some Czech officers, and on the whole one is probably justified in supposing that Col. Emerson's story is not less addicted to fact than the others that have preceded it. Indeed, that there should be any difference of opinion over such a world-famous tragedy a year and a half after it was enacted shows in what a chaotic condition Russian affairs must have been since then. There has been no official statement of the czar's fate from the Bolshevists, which has left open the way for occasional rumors that Nicholas escaped and is now in hiding. There appears to be no reason, however, for doubting that he was foully murdered with his wife and children.

Why Were They Murdered?

Nor is there reason to doubt that his death was determined from the time the Bolshevists got control. The royal family were made prisoners, but at first their confinement was not oppressive. With the members of the court that remained faithful, they were conveyed to Tobolsk. Then came the order that they should go to Ekaterinburg. At this time the czar's son was ill, and he was left with a couple of his sisters and some ladies of the court at Tobolsk, while the czar, the czarina and other members of the family went to the new prison. On their arrival they were subjected to close and unceremonious search, but they appear to have been able to conceal many valuable jewels, which they had sewn in the lining of their clothing. Their guards showed they little consideration, and at times their attitude was intolerable. The treatment of the prisoners became worse as the Czecho-Slovak forces approached Ekaterinburg, and one theory of the murders is that they were committed in a blind panic by the Red Guards, who determined that the czar should not fall into the hands of the Czechs. It is quite as probable that they were ordered by Trotzky and Lenine, who feared that Nicholas might became a rallying centre for the anti-Bolshevist Russian forces.

The Night of the Murder.

Some dozen of the Red Guards were the actual perpetrators, and afterwards boasted of the deed, though one of them named Yakimoff appears to have acted against his wishes, and testified later that at times he was obliged to leave the shambles for a breath of fresh air. Col. Emerson's account does not speak of any trial, such as previous historians have reported, even to going to the length in some cases of giving the questions put to the czar and the answers. The formality was all contained in the chief executioner reading some supposed order to the unhappy Nicholas. The members of the family, including the heir, who, with his sisters, had by this time relolned the father and mother, were awakened between midnight and 1 o'clock and told to dress and go downstairs. They huddled on their clothes and descended. They were then informed that the approach of the Czechs made it necessary that they should be killed. If they protested or pleaded for their lives, the chronicle is silent on this point, and we prefer to think that the czar had at least a royal way of dying with him.

Killed Like Vermin.

In so far as the executioners were concerned, the way they had was the way a man and his terriers would kill a lot of rats. Rifles were leveled and a volley fired. The first to fall, instantly killed, were the czar and his son. The others were wounded. They had to be finished off, according to Yakimoff, with further bullets, with batterings by muskets and stabbing with bayonets. One of the attendants, called the Fraulein, appears to have given trouble. She tried to protect herself with a pillow, and before she was put out of her misery some thirty odd wounds were inflicted on her body. The Grand Duchess Anastasia Nikglaievna at first appeared to be dead, but was only in a faint, and shrieked when the murderers began to examine her for plunder. Bayonets and butts soon put an end to her outcries. The bodies were rifled, and it was then that a great trove of jewels was discovered. Whether it was turned over to the headquarters of the Bolshevists or whether is was divided among the executioners is not stated, for the reason that it doesn't need to be.

Bodies Were Destroyed.

The czar and his son, therefore, were killed before the eyes of the czarina, and we have detail that she had time to make the sign of the cross before she, too, fell. The daughters were murdered as well as the few court ladies who remained with the family, and the servants. The bodies were then piled on motor trucks and taken away. Coming to a disused mine shaft it appears that the guards descended with what remained of Russian royalty, and having started a fire with oil, poured acid on the bodies and consumed every trace of the Romanoffs. Peasants rummaging in the heap of ashes a few days later discovered gems. Splinters of bombs and hand grenades were also found, and articles that were identified as belonging to one or another of the little band that fell. Thus the pious, simple-minded Russians made an end of the Little Father and the women and children who had clung to him. Thus they justified the angry ridicule of the Germans who in the early days of war used to sneer at the Allies' tributes to their great comrades of the Eastern front.

SIMS ENDEAVORED TO CORRECT IDEA U. S. WAS WINNING WAR

American Admiral Tells Senate Committee Some Things.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims denied today before the Senate committee investigation naval awards that in conversation with Representative Byrnes of South Carolina and other members of Congress he had sought to belittle America's efforts in the war.

The admiral said: "Mr. Byrnes must either have misunderstood me, or confused the remarks made to him by the many people he talked to in Europe." He added that he did attempt to correct the idea in the minds of American citizens that U. S. forces were "winning the war," because this attitude was hurting the United States with its allies.

Criticizes Conditions.

Admiral Sims said he wished it understood that his criticisms were directed against the following conditions:

"The policy of placing a premium upon defeat by giving rewards to officers who lose ships, provided their conduct is meritorious in the hour of defeat.

"The changing of relative merit of service in the matter of rewarding officers.

"Injury to the morale of the service by rewarding failure instead of success in specific instances.

Rewarding Defeat.

"The policy of rewarding defeat, which the navy department only supports," he said, "is more detrimental to the fighting spirit of the navy than the worst form of Bolshevism is to organized government."

Just after he made "that awful Guildhall speech" in December, 1910, Admiral Sims said, he submitted a report based on information obtained from foreign naval officers, saying that war could not be averted more than four years, and that Great Britain and France would be found on the same side and Italy would eventually join them.

Admiral Sims said he did not see "how that report could convey the opinion that the man who made it was so hopelessly pro-British that none of his opinions could be trusted."

"Neither do I see," he added, "why, because an American citizens marries a Canadian woman, his children should be branded as pro-British."

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

The name "Bayer" on Aspirin is like 14 Karat on gold. It positively identifies the only genuine Aspirin,—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada.

Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally.

Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

SUFFERED WITH BOILS LAST 5 YEARS

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood, and anyone who has suffered from them, knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation, the real disease is rooted in the blood, and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized, by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robt. Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writes: "I have suffered very much, during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years, and is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ADVANCE IN PRICE OF OIL MAY BRING PETROLEUM SEARCH

Pittsburg, Feb. 10.—The advance in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil to $5 a barrel will result in the widest search for petroleum this section has known since the early days of the "oil excitement," according to authorities in the industry here.

Already it has started, and leases are being taken on territory which was drilled over more than half a century ago and then abandoned for more productive fields. Drilling has been commenced in some of these leases, and results have been so good as to encourage others. One field in Allegheny County, abandoned in the early seventies because the one well drilled proved to be a "duster," has produced a number of wells the past few months.

"The greater part of this development will be in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia," explained the head of a large corporation, which has been developing oil territory for many years. "When oil was only a dollar a barrel one had to bring in a good well before he had a paying proposition. Now with oil at $5 a barrel it pays to drill a lot of wells, even though they only produce a barrel or two a day. We reduce expenses by connecting these small wells to one power plant, and pumping them very thoroughly. While the initial cost of drilling is high, about three times as much as in the old days, economies of operation and the princely price of crude, make hunting for the Pennsylvania grade a pretty profitable investment."

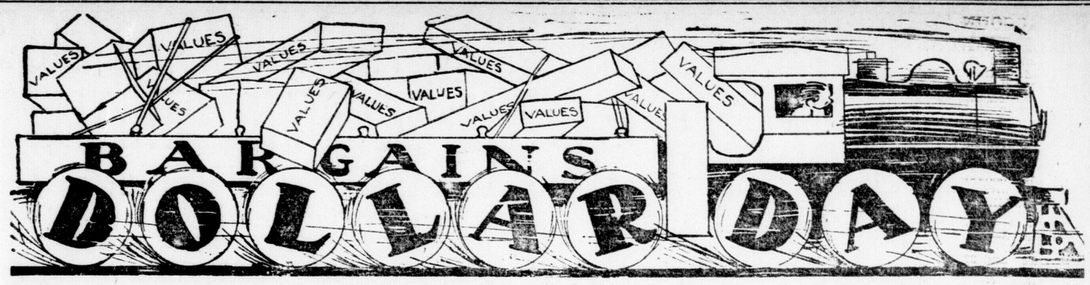

The companies engaged in this work are usually old-time organizations which cover thoroughly with leases all the territory in the immediate neighborhood of their operations.

SO EASY! LIKE ROLLING OFF LOG

Sore, touchy corns stop hurting, then lift right out with fingers

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A quarter ounce of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callous. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. After you lift away the troublesome corn or callous the skin underneath is as pink, firm and healthy as the palm of your hand.

Hogs — Receipts, 600. Hogs were weighed up on former contracts at $12 50 off cars. Sales were made at $19, which is the packers' price at present. More hogs were weighed out on account of the light weight than for some time past. Selects, $19@20 25; light, $18@20 25; sows, $15@16.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 28; July, $1 25.

Oats—May, 76¾c; July, 69¼c.

Winnipeg, Feb. 11.—May oats opened ½c to ¼c lower at 89⅞@89¾c; July, ¼c to ¼c lower at 86@85⅞c.

May barley opened ⅝c lower at $1 44½.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Weakness developed in the corn market today, despite an evident tendency on the part of the country to hold grain back. Differences of opinion as to how the threatened railroad strike would affect grain values appeared to make buyers cautious and to deprive the market of support. Besides, gossip was current that there would be no change in railroad orders to give wheat preference in grain shipments eastward from Chicago. Opening prices, which varied from ¾c lower to ⅛c advance, with May at $1 28½@1 28½, and July at $1 25@1 25⅝, were followed by a material setback all around.

Oats were depressed owing to the weakness of corn. After opening ⅛c to ¼c off, including May at 76¾@77c, the market continued to descend.

CANADIAN RAILWAY EARNINGS.

Toronto, Feb. 11.—Gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending February 7 were $1,545,473, an increase of $42,336 over last year.

Sales to 1 p.m., 982,700 shares.

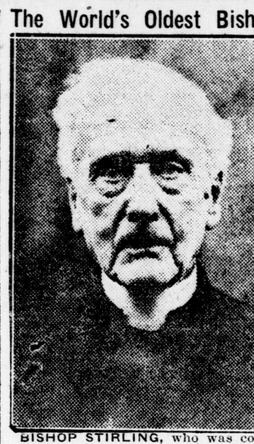

WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 11.—Stocks dropped 2 to 8 points in the local market today as the result of further heavy liquidation. Brokers and commission houses reported heavy selling from interior centres. Heavy enforced selling for account of traders who were unable to meet demands on impaired margins also was noted.

Opening prices were only moderately lower, but the reaction became general before the end of the first hour. Developments which usually govern the price of stocks, as money rates and foreign exchange, apparently ceased to have any direct influence, although the prices rallied somewhat before noon, when call money opened at 8 per cent.

New York, Feb. 11—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Prospects of an extension of the threatened strike of the railroad employees of the country accounted chiefly for the further heaviness of stocks at the active opening of today's session.

The World's Oldest Bishop

BISHOP STIRLING, who was consecrated the first Bishop of the Falkland Islands in December, 1869, and who at the age of 91 is the oldest living prelate, was honored by a brilliant assembly at Church House, Westminster, recently on the occasion of his episcopal jubilee.

Rails, shippings, motors and steels led the decline with the usual specialties. Irregular rallies occurred within the first fifteen minutes, when General Motors and American Woolen rose several points.

Noon.—Gains among representative shares were effaced when liquidation of specialties was actively resumed. The urgent character of the selling indicated further elimination of weakened accounts hastened by inability to meet impaired margins. General Motors not only cancelled its gain, but fell to a new low mark for the movement, the same being true of many speculative stocks. Losses ranged from 2 to 8 points among industrials of various classes, shipping losing 1 to 3 and rails 1 to 2. Temporary rallies ensued on the 8 per cent opening rate for call loans.

EXCHANGE RATES.

New York, Feb. 11.—There was no change in the exchange situation here today. Sterling demand was steady at $3 34½@3 36½. The discount rate on Canadian money was unchanged.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, Feb. 11.—On the stock exchange this morning Asbestos common and preferred each gained a point overnight as a result of the year's business shown in the annual report published today, which indicated earnings of 25.6 per cent on the common stock. The common at the opening of the market sold at 76, and the preferred at 89, the latter being more active. Dominion Iron lost half a point to 70, Canada Cement was up ¼ to 62½, but later dropped the gain. Brompton recovered a point overnight.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Provisions at first reflected the strength of the hog market. Subsequently declines took place in sympathy with grain.

NEWSPAPERMAN SAVES JAPS FROM EXECUTION

Frazier Hunt Enters Hill Country North of Vladivostok.

Vladivostok, Feb. 11.—(By Associated Press).—Frazier Hunt, an American newspaper correspondent, returned to Vladivostok today after an extended trip into the hill country north of here, accompanied by five Japanese soldier prisoners, whom he said he had saved from execution at the hands of "partisan" troops. With an interpreter, Hunt entered the hills for the purpose of investigating the conditions of the Russian people and also the strength, purposes and causes which led for the formation of a self-termed partisan military organization, which is opposing troops under Governor-General Rozanov, who commands the last vestige of the power of Admiral Kolchak.

Hunt delivered the five Japanese soldiers to the American commander here, who in turn handed them over to the Japanese authorities, together with a warning note from the partisan commander.

FLU EPIDEMIC IN CITY MILDER THAN YEAR AGO

Health Officer Says Matters Are Not in a Bad Way.

KEEP SCHOOLS OPEN

Children Better There Than in Stuffy Homes or in Theatres.

At the regular meeting of the board of health, held in the committee rooms at the city hall yesterday afternoon, Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health, declared that the influenza epidemic in London was but one-quarter as serious as it was a year ago.

"There are always lots of deaths at this time of the year from pneumonia," said Dr. Downham, "and things are not nearly so bad as they were last year, in my opinion.

"There is not much voluntary help. The people who helped us out last year have not made any effort to help this year. What little help we have been getting is from the V. A. D.s and the St. John Ambulance Corps."

Mrs. (Dr.) Partridge started the discussion on the influenza question when she asked Chairman John Saunders if anything were going to be done about closing the schools.

Dr. Downham volunteered the information that Inspector C. B. Edwards had called him up and stated that 33 per cent of the pupils were at home ill.

"I hear that in the collegiate some of the classes have been depleted," said Mrs. Partridge.

Mr. Saunders declared that he saw no cause for alarm, and he was opposed to closing the schools.

"In some of the high school classes there are but two and three pupils, so I am told," said Mrs. Partridge.

Better Off in School.

"Well, if that is the case," Mr. Edwards and Principal Mooney should come here and tell us all about it," declared the chairman. "I think the children are better off in school than running the streets, and in and out of the houses, where the ventilation is not as good as it is in the schools."

"If you close the schools, you must close the theatres and everything else, for people will go where there are crowds," declared Mr. Saunders.

"As I said before, I do not think that matters are in a bad way," stated Dr. Downham. "If you shut up the schools the children will simply make a bee line for the picture shows. It is the natural thing to expect of them."

Mrs. Partridge then stated that there were some children in school who should be sent home, as they were ill, and it was decided to let the board of education know of several instances in which teachers did not send pupils home.

The isolation hospital came up for some discussion. It seems that every year there is a fat plumbing bill for burst water pipes and other repairs. Dr. Downham declared that the hospital came well by its name, for it was certainly isolated down near the Coves. It cost $10 to take a patient out there. He thought that it would be better to have a place closer to the city. Chairman Saunders concurred in the remarks of the medical officer of health.

Left To Chairman.

Mayor Little stated that it would be necessary to have some place of the sort to take care of contagious cases that sprang from hotels or boarding-houses. The matter of repairs was then left in the hands of the chairman with power to act. He will be driven to the hospital by the mayor to note the work that will be necessary.

The report from Victoria Hospital showed that during January, 29 diphtheria patients were admitted to the hospital; 25 recovered; three died, and six still remained in the hospital.

In the scarlet fever ward there were no deaths. Ten patients recovered, while there were still three in the hospital. In the tuberculosis ward eight patients were admitted, three discharged, two improved, seven were still there, while one death was recorded.

Five master plumbers have passed their examinations since the first of the year, as well as two journeymen plumbers, now making a total of 24 master plumbers and 56 journeymen plumbers in the city.

FORTY CASES OF FLU.

BELGRAVE, Feb. 10.—Influenza is raging here badly, and Dr. Stewart of Wingham has no less than 40 patients in the village.

RICHARD BOOTH, who was presented with the regalia of a Grand Lodge officer by his own lodge, St. John's, No. 20, A. F. and A. M. He is director of ceremonies of the Grand Lodge. The investiture took place in the Masonic Temple last evening at the regular monthly meeting. District deputy grand master of London District No. 3, A. C. Ferguson, paid his official visit to the lodge, and W. J. G. Stewart, immediate past master, was presented with his jewel of office.

VIEWS VARY AS TO PROPER METHOD OF GARBAGE COLLECTION

Ald. Wilson Thinks Old System Under Contract Was Best.

Garbage collection was the principal subject for discussion before No. 2 committee of the city council last night. Owing to the absence of City Engineer Brazier definite action was postponed until the next meeting.

Widely divergent views on the proper method for improving the present state of affairs were expressed. Ald. W. A. Wilson declared that the old system of collecting the garbage by contract was cheaper.

Ald. Seabrook favored curb collection, and Ald. John Ashton concurred with him. Ald. G. B. Drake thought the present situation was largely due to the citizens themselves. He thought that if the two wheeled carts were replaced by wagons and a full staff of men was secured the trouble would soon straighten out.

Ald. Seabrook said the garbage men would soon likely be getting better wages. More men could then be secured, and the collection improved.

The committee accepted a recommendation of City Engineer Brazier that the garbage rate this year be 1.3 mills.

The communication from the engineer stated that the net cost of collection and disposal of garbage and ashes in 1919 was $54,430. The rate last year produced $3,707 more than required, leaving the actual amount to be raised this year by taxation $50,722. A rate of 1.3 mills will produce this. Of this it is estimated the property owners will pay $48,134, and the city $2,588.

The estimated cost for 1910 was $49,794. The actual cost was $52,964, exclusive of $1,475 overdraft caused by an increase in wages after the rate had been struck.

The rates for this work since July, 1913, were: 1913, .80 mill; 1914, 1.50 mills; 1915, 1.50 mills; 1916, 1.20 mills; 1917, 1 mill; 1918, 1.25 mills; 1919, 1.6 mills; 1920, 1.3 mills. The rate this year, without last year's surplus would be 1.42 mills.

Ald. W. A. Wilson said the cost of collection by contract was only $42,000, or $12,000 less than collection by day labor. "Day labor is sometimes not as good as a contract," he observed.

Ald. Seabrook said the only solution was to have the garbage collected from the curbs in front of the houses. Ald. Drake asserted it would be better to give up the whole system rather than permit this, because it made the streets unsightly.

CANADIAN JEWELERS MEET AT MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—Representatives of the jewelry trade from every province of the Dominion will convene here on Monday and Tuesday of next week, when the Canadian National Jewelers' Association holds its annual convention.

PROCEEDS OF SOCIAL.

DELMER, Feb. 10.—The box social held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lowrie on Friday evening was a very pleasant affair and comrades of the Cross Bible Class were the recipients of $78, the proceeds of the gathering.

AGREE ON WAGE SCALE.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—The local bricklayers' union and their employers of the builders' exchange have agreed on a wage scale of 90 cents an hour until April 1, and $1 an hour for the balance of the year. The weekly pay system will be inaugurated later.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

The theme of "When the Clouds Roll By," Douglas Fairbanks' new picture showing at the Grand all this week, is an unusual one, cleverly handled, and in which "Doug" has many new stunts to do.

VAUDEVILLE FEATURES.

Five Keith acts comprise the vaudeville bill showing for the last time today. The Ten Liberty Girls in a pretentious musical offering is the feature attraction. Supporting Tom Mix in "The Speed Maniac," his latest Fox photoplay of perilous feats, is an unusually large and strong cast, including Charles K. French, Hayward Mack, L. C. Shumway, Helen Wright, clever Georgie Stone, and pretty Eva Novak. The "Western caredevil" is at the Patricia theatre today in this picture, which is one of his most interesting and most thrilling.

NURSE IS CHARGED WITH OMITTING CARE OF WOMAN PATIENT

GUELPH, Feb. 10.—A charge was laid at the police court this morning against Miss Catharine McEachren, a nurse at the Homewood Sanatorium, for unlawfully omitting care and attention to a patient at that institution, thereby causing bodily injury, which resulted in the death of the said patient. Col. MacDonald will conduct the prosecution for the crown and the case will be heard on Thursday morning. The incident occurred on December 23, 1919, when Rebecca Lipofsky, a patient at the Homewood Sanatorium, died while being given a hot bath.

A reorganization meeting of the housing commission was held this afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms, C. L. Dunbar presiding. The various questions that are now giving the commissioners considerable trouble were brought up and thoroughly discussed. It was decided to write the large employers of labor, asking them to meet the commissioners on Thursday in conference to find out just how the shortage of houses is affecting their business, and what steps, in their opinion, should be taken to relieve the situation. Houses which last year cost the commission $2,970, will cost $3,200 this year.

WINDSOR, Feb. 10.—Complaints from points as far west as Saskatchewan and Alberta and as far south as the State of Kansas against operation of the Consumers' Association, with headquarters in Windsor, resulted in the seizure of the papers of the company today and the arrest of the head of the concern, P. V. Martin, of Windsor, coupled with an order to cease doing business.

This action was taken by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

A special sitting of representatives of the Dominion Board of Commerce is to be held here Wednesday morning to inquire into the business operation of the concerns. Membership in the association was offered for a few dollars, the privileges of which included eligibility to purchase groceries below the prevailing prices in retail stores, orders being placed with Martin. INFLUENZA RAMPANT IN KENT COUNTY

CHATHAM, Feb. 10.—Reports reaching the city indicate that influenza is rampant in the southern part of the county, and public meetings of all kinds have been banned by the health authorities. The schools in most of the villages and towns have been closed until health conditions are normal. Dr. T. L. McRitchie, medical officer of health, reports that the health conditions locally are satisfactory.

The board of health are considering a scheme for the erection in the city of a new isolation hospital, the need of which has been felt for a long time.
