TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE FROM FLOODS

Seventy Thousand People are Homeless in Dayton - Twenty Feet of Torrential Current Rushes Through Main Streets of City - Families Separated, Hundreds Cut off from Flood - Distressing Views, but Rain Ceases and Outlook is more Hopeful.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
DAYTON, O., March 26.—The crest of Dayton flood passed about midnight, but the next few hours allowed no appreciable lowering in the water. Morning brought no hope of immediate relief to those who had spent the night in horror, however, and it is feared that the number of the wounded has been greatly increased during the twelve hours of darkness.

The rescue work looked as hopeless as on yesterday, however. No one in the city attempted to sleep. Among the known dead are: Anton Sactell, grocer, Vine and Main Sts., killed in an explosion; his wife, drowned.

Unknown woman found nearby hanging on wire.
The Fish family wiped out with the exception of son, John Fish; his mother, aged 65; sister Florence, 27; niece Viola Fish, and Muriel, wife of John Fish, all being victims of the flood.

It is not believed the rescuers will be able to make any advance into the flooded district to-day, but will have to content themselves with saving those who were marooned within a few doors of the water's edge.

More than seventy thousand persons, either were unable to reach their homes or held in the water-locked houses were unable to reach land. Inundated district is estimated as more than fifteen square miles, most of which is under from six to eighteen feet of water.

No communication could be established with those in the commercial district and any attempt to say whether any or all of them were drowned is mere conjecture.

It is thought most of the fatalities occurred on the west and north sides of the river, where the wall of water rushed in suddenly with the breaking of the levee.

The early breaking of the levee will keep the loss of life in commercial section lower than was first estimated.

By 8 o'clock yesterday the business streets were impassable and many of the employees in the stores reaching their places of employment. Many were driven to the outskirts of the city far from their own homes, however, and were unable to communicate with friends. The immediate pressing need to-day is for food and medical supplies. The great demand for food exhausted the emergency supplies in the outskirts of the city and survivors now are depending entirely on what may be brought in during the day. Fear is anticipated that typhoid fever may result from the use of the river water.

The breaking of the Farleton reservoir immediately shut off the usual supply of filtered water.

One fact that brightened the outlook was that the torrential downpour which had continued for 48 hours had ceased.

Francis Appeals for Help.
INDIANAPOLIS, March 26.—The break of day found anxiety in Indiana centered in Brookville and Connersville on the White Water river where frantic appeals for aid were received by Governor Ralston late yesterday. While the appeal was being made wire communication to Connersville failed.

The person who was talking with the governor said that a break in the White Water River levee had flooded the valley, sweeping hundreds before it. Since then, it has been impossible to re-establish communication, but for a few minutes, and the governor fears the worst there. Militia was ready all during the night to hurry to the town, but no train was operated in that direction.

The whole state is stupefied by the enormity of the disaster which in 24 hours drowned hundreds of persons and destroyed property valued at nearly twenty-five millions of dollars. Work on repairing the telephone lines and repairing the telegraph lines and railroads was started early.

Practically every railroad and traction company operating in the state has lost one or more bridges, with several miles of track washed out or made shaky by the flood waters.

Indianapolis awoke to find the waters higher than ever appeared before, with a property loss that two days ago would have been unbelievable.

It is hard even yet to bring the full realization of the damage to the people, who had no thought of the unimportant aidings only in beautifying the city's parks and boulevard driveways.

During the night the water advanced upon the exclusive residence section along Fall Creek. It tore away one bridge, destroyed the city's most pretentious driveway and forced the families living along its banks to desert the homes.

A few hours before they had no idea they were in any danger and were awakened by the militiamen to be ordered to find every hotel in the city full. They were cared for at the homes of friends.

The Washington street bridge over the White River that connects Indianapolis and West Indianapolis which was closed for traffic late last night, early to-day was torn apart by the waters, the floor of the structure being carried away.

With the breaking of day also came the proposition of feeling the refugees to the number of 10,000. The city had appropriated enough to pay the expense to-day, but more will be needed to-morrow. A fund has been started and it is believed this will solve that problem.

It was believed by telephone and telegraph officials that they soon would be able to establish a more certain communication with Peru, where scores are reported to be dead, and where many persons are suffering for food and clothing.

Indianapolis faces another day without water, and it is without fire protection. Drinking water is at a premium while water for the use of baths and washing is not obtainable.

Brantford People in Flood Zone

Brantfordites are anxiously awaiting definite news from the stricken city of Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Tom Mann has a son, John R. Mann, resident in that city. He is employed with the National Cash Register Company. A telegram has been despatched inquiring for his safety, but no answer has been received, and it is thought the delivery of such messages would be effected under present conditions.

Dr. Nelles, Jr., nephew of Mrs. John McGeezy, Park avenue, is also a resident of the stricken city. He has many relatives here. So far the latter have been unable to receive any communication from him.

J. T. Byers, in charge of a horse belonging to Mr. H. T. Westbrook, is left in the flooded district. No word has been received from him.

Richard Bursnell, also David and Alex. Wilson, well-known horse breeders of Paris, are also at Dayton.

The situation is doubtless a perilous one.

From Lake Line to the Ohio River Today Towns are Submerged—Worst Flood in History of States - Whole Towns Washed away, and it is Estimated there are a Quarter of a Million People Homeless.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
COLUMBUS, O., March 26.—From Lake Erie to the Ohio River, and from the Indiana to the Pennsylvania state lines, Ohio to-day is experiencing the worst flood the state has ever known.

With an appalling loss of life at Dayton, estimated to-day to run over 500, almost every city and village in the state follows with a death toll that cannot be tallied until the raging waters subside.

Although reports had put the loss of life at Dayton as high as 5,000, refugees arriving in Xenia from the flood-stricken city said that it would be below 1,000. The most serious news early to-day was that the town of Miamisburg, with a population of 4,000, had been washed away.

Heavy rains continued through most of the state last night, and all flood records in most sections of the state have been broken again to-day.

Bridges have been washed away, railway and interurban traffic is at a standstill, and in many cities there is grave danger of fire loss due to the shutting down of plants supplying water.

250,000 Homeless.

Governor Cox estimated that more than 250,000 people have been rendered homeless. The state is unable to cope with the situation in its entirety, and the governor has called upon the National Red Cross Society and the adjoining states for aid. The immediate need is for tents and for food for the homeless. Every militia company has been ordered to report for duty to-day, and the troops will be sent to the points of greatest emergency. The state commissary department is making every effort to rush supplies to the many points which need them.

The property damage cannot at present be estimated, but will run far into the millions. This includes actual loss by fire and flood and prospective loss where farming lands have been inundated and in many cases washed away. No immediate relief from the flood-bound conditions is in sight, as rainy weather is promised for the state to-day.

Harrowing Tales.

Harrowing tales are beginning to filter in from various sources of families who spent the night in a drenching rain in tree tops or on the roofs of their flooded homes. Many of those marooned in tree tops are believed to have been worn out from cold and fatigue and to have dropped from their perilous positions to death in the flood below.

Thrilling rescues are reported without number, as are also unavailing efforts to rescue persons seen to be drifting by in the ruins of their homes or on chance driftwood. The list of missing is also swelling, but it is believed that this will be materially reduced when scattered families have the opportunity to reunite.

This city is completely cut off from the rest of the country by rail, and almost completely so by telephone and telegraph, but reports received show the greatest loss of life at Dayton, which may run from 300 to 1,000; Piqua, where 54 are reported drowned; Delaware, where the loss will be over 30; Hamilton, 16, or more, and Troy, where great loss of life has been reported, with no definite figures available.

In his city three are known to be dead and eleven more are reported to be. These last were either seen to pass the city clinging to drift or reported to have fallen from boats. As the city is without lights and the whole west side is flooded, nothing definite could be learned early to-day.

Worst Flood Ever.

The flood is the greatest ever known in Columbus, and business activities are practically paralyzed. The waterworks shut down last night, and will not be in condition to furnish water for a week, as two large mains have been washed out by the flood, which took away every bridge in the city. Last night the city was in darkness, as the municipal electric light plant was flooded. Gas pressure is low, and little hope is held out that it will last throughout the day.

The flood in the Scioto and Olen-tangy rivers came so suddenly yesterday that workers of all classes who had crossed them early in the day were unable to return to their homes in the west side where the torrents tore loose the bridges connecting both sides of the city. All available state departments were thrown open to refugees, and thousands of dollars have been raised to care for them.

A bill will be introduced in the legislature to-day as an emergency measure, providing that $250,000 be appropriated for the relief of the flood sufferers.

The street car system is operating under crippled conditions, and many lines are not running at all. The failure of the water supply is most keenly felt, and the state health department, together with the local health department, have made preparations to cope with any situation which may arise from this cause.

Clinging to Roofs.

PERU, Ind., March 26.—(Via telephone to South Bend)—Death faced hundreds of persons who at dawn to-day were clinging to the roofs of buildings, where they sought refuge from the flood which last night swept in from overflow banks of the Wash-bash River, drowning within a few minutes probably sixty persons.

The prospect at daylight was distressing. Currents of muddy water from ten to twenty feet deep were racing through the main streets at twenty miles an hour. The water, however, was then believed to be receding slightly.

Among those marooned was Mayor John J. Krutzer. He was sick at his home when the flood rushed in on the city, and was unable to escape before the water surrounded his home to a great depth. He delegated the functions of the Mayor to Thomas Kreuger, superintendent of a lumbering plant. Food and clothing for five

FINE PICTURES FOR COLLEGIATE

Copies of Celebrated Classics Secured By Mr. E. B. Crompton in England

When Mr. E. B. Crompton was recently in the Old Country he had a commission from the Collegiate Board to purchase for them some pictures for the halls of the new Collegiate. He purchased the same with his usual good taste, and they are now on exhibition at Mr. Pickett's news store, Market street, where they were framed. There are 19 in all, and they are very beautiful. "The Doctor," the famous picture by Luke Fields, which first brought him fame, shows a doctor looking with delight while the mother of a critically ill child, while the mother has her face buried in her hands, and the husband stands by with his comforting hand on her shoulder. "Now Come Still Evening," by Joseph Farquharson, R.A., is a striking study of a well-wooded and winding road at twilight. "When the stars are twinkling Glows," by the same artist, constitutes a remarkable reflection of sunset upon people and objects. "Lions in the Enemy's Country," by Herbert Dicksee, R.A., is another notable replica. "The Last Furrow," by the same artist, and "The Shadow," by E. Blair Leighton, R.A. The whole collection is an iridescent exemplification of the best in modern art, as manifested by some of the most noted British knights of the brush.

Insurance Placed.
Insurance on employees and public liability in connection with Hydro-electric construction was placed by the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Co. of which Mr. Thomas Henry is the agent. The amount is a big one.

Swimming Demonstration.
Mr. G. H. Corson of the Toronto University will give a swimming demonstration in the Y.M.C.A. pool on Thursday afternoon and evening of this week. Mr. Corson is one of the foremost aquatic artists in Canada and his demonstrations will doubtless be very interesting.

Death List Proves Very Heavy One

(Canadian Press Despatch)
CHICAGO, March 26.—Day-break upon the desolation brought by flood throughout Ohio and Indiana, with a slight hope that the estimates of the loss of life of the night before might be somewhat reduced when it was undertaken revealed the fully the situation of the stricken cities.

At daybreak, as yet unverified reports from the flood-swept cities in the two states showed the following revised estimates of the loss of life, based upon an apparent reduction in the figures from Dayton, according to refugees, and upon a possible diminution in the reports from Peru, Indiana:

OHIO
Dayton, 500 to 1,000.
Piqua (rumored), 540.
Delaware, 50 to 100.
Sydney, 23 to 50.
Hampden, 50 to 100.
Hamilton, 12.
Tipppecanoe City, 3 to 5.
Scattered, 16.
Total for Ohio, 1,194 to 1,695.

INDIANA
Peru, 60 to 250.
New Castle, 3.
LaFayette, 2.
Noblesville, 2.
Port Wayne, 3.
Fort Indiana, 73 to 250.
Grand Total, 1,264 to 1,945.

In contrast to the slight hope held out of a possibly reduced list in the cities named, the possibility that other places not yet mentioned as having been visited by disaster had suffered was indicated in early reports.

SPLENDID YEAR AT ST. PAUL'S

Annual Vestry Meeting was Held Last Evening—Good Work by Rev. Millar.

The annual vestry meeting of St. Paul's Church was held last evening, and was very largely attended. The rector, Rev. Hubbard Millar, presided, and the reports showed that the church had had the most prosperous year in its history. Plans were made to beautify the interior and enlarge the church during the ensuing year. A pleasing event took place when the stipend to the rector was raised $200, in recognition of his faithful and devoted service. Splendid reports were submitted by the Ladies' Aid, Sunday School and Girls' Friendly Societies, all indicating much progress. The officers for the church were chosen as follows: People's warden, William Hutton; select vestry, A. Ginn, William Liddle, John Vaux, Norman N. Henderson, E. Owen, Moore, Vaux; lay delegate, John R. Vaux; substitute, Alfred Ginn; vestry clerk, J. R. Vaux; auditor, John Creaser.

CHURCHILL'S NEW SCHEME

A Naval Holiday for a Year Among the Powers is His Suggestion

(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, March 26.—A naval holiday for a year, as far as a construction is concerned, was the offer made to the world to-day by Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, when he submitted the British naval estimates to the House of Commons.

In this way, he says, the peoples of the world would obtain an almost instantaneous mitigation of the thralldom in which they have been involved by the evil and insensate folly of the present existing rivalry in armaments. Scores of millions, he declared, were being squandered year after year, without making any real difference in the relative naval strength of the nations. His proposal, he argued, would involve no alteration in the relative strength of the world's navy, and added:

"We address this proposal to all nations, and to no nation with more profound sincerity than to our great neighbor over the North Sea."

Mr. Churchill concluded with a graceful recognition of the sensible improvement that had taken place in Anglo-German relations.

Bring Complaints to Assessors.
Assessor A. G. Ludlow stated this morning that he would consider it in favor of any property owners who have any grievances in connection with assessment rolls which are being published if they would come to the office and state their complaints he would only be too glad to try and straighten the matter out.

Fell on Street.
Charles Lindsell, who hails from Toronto was walking along Colborne street when he reached the corner of Queen street. Here he suddenly took a fit. P. C. Stanley, who was near at the time, took the victim into a drug store and later to the police station, where he was held for an hour, when he was able to go alone.

GLADSTONE'S VIEW OF IT

The following from Premier Borden's great speech on the navy question is worth repeating:

"When Mr. Gladstone, then Liberal Premier of Great Britain, introduced a closure bill in the House of Commons in 1882, he said in part—

"It is not a very easy matter to define obstruction, and I will not attempt to define it for any one but myself. I will only give my description of it. To me it appears to be the disposition either of the majority of the House or individuals to resist the prevailing will of the House otherwise than by argument.

The Premier also noted a definition of Speaker Borden of this House on obstruction as "the abuse of the privileges of the freedom of debate for the purpose of defeating the will of Parliament."

Continuing, the Premier stated: "We do not desire to depart from the constitutional tradition of this House, or take any steps that may not be absolutely necessary. Hon. gentlemen opposite on more than one occasion have boasted of their ability to force us to dissolve and go before the public, but what has been the constant boast through certain elements of the press of the Province of Quebec. If it were possible for an opposition to do this session, it would also be possible for them to do it next session, and the session following; the result that instead of the dissolution of Parliament being demanded, as it always has been in the past, by the Crown, on the advice of responsible ministers, it would be determined by the opposition minority in Parliament."

LORD WOLSELEY.

The passing of Field Marshal Viscount Wolseley removes a notable figure from the world's stage. Like Lord Roberts he had lived to be an octogenarian, although the year of each contained many fighting incidents of great personal danger.

As so many other great soldiers he was born in Ireland, and in early life went through the Burmese war, the Crimean war, the Indian war and the Chinese war.

His name has always had a special prestige for Canadians as in 1870 he was given command of the troops which went to Fort Garry to quell the Red River rebellion led by Riel. It is of this date that might not be like a very great exploit, but with it was quite that under the existing circumstances. At that period there was not a line of railway beyond Thunder Bay and from that point onward it was a case of boats and portages or else road and bridge building. For instance it took Wolseley's troops with their heavy equipment many weeks to reach Fort Snary—now Winnipeg—a point now reached by train in a little over twelve hours.

The control of the expedition demanded much skill and resource and both these qualities the deceased possessed to a marked extent.

After that event he commanded troops in the Ashanti war, in Zululand, in the Egyptian war, in the Gordon relief expedition and so on. He was commander in chief of the British army 1895-1900. He more than once received the thanks of parliament with money grants added and he was deservedly crowned from time with a long array of honors.

"If science can evoke the stingless bee, why not the voiceless cat?"—Chicago Tribune.

"Or the crowless rooster."—London Free Press.

Or the scentless onion.

Lord Robert Cecil expresses the view that the only way to deal with the militant suffragettes is to put them on some far distant island. If the noble lord will add to that "with not a man among them," this great family journal will second the scheme.

It would cost $75,000,000 for plant before Canada could build even one Dreadnought, and then the construction of three of them would cost very much more than the $35,000,000 for which John Bull will do the job. Any schoolboy can see the assinnity of such a proposal.

THE BRITISH PRESS ON THE BORDEN POLICY.

Daily Mail, London:

"No policy could be more statesmanlike or patriotic than this, nor could it have been proclaimed in nobler or more moving words. They will ring throughout the world as a declaration that the Dominion stands side by side with the Mother Country in the great task of assuring the command of the sea—that in this new era of intense and ever-growing naval competition, they are ready and willing and proud to join in bearing the burden of Imperial defence."

Westminster Gazette, London. (Liberal):

"The word epoch-making is often used without justification for quite trifling events, but it has a real significance when applied to the announcement which Mr. Borden made in the Dominion House of Commons. We need not say that the people of this country will gratefully welcome this proposal, both for the handout for the generous loyalty to the Empire which prompts it."

The Graphic, London:

"A thrill of pride will run through the veins of every Englishman as he reads Mr. Borden's speech announcing the determination of his government to ask Canada to give three fully equipped super-Dreadnoughts to the Mother Country. It was a great occasion and a great speech. The need for this aid to the Mother Country is made clear by the Admiralty Memorandum showing other navies which have compelled us to withdraw a large number of vessels from Colonial waters and from the Mediterranean so as to concentrate our naval forces in the North Sea."

The Standard, London:

"The speech of Mr. Borden in the Canadian House of Commons marks an epoch in the history of the British Empire, in the history of the world. Canada, as we expected, has risen to the height of her great argument, and through the mouth of her prime minister answers in thunder tones the challenge of those who seek to deprive the British peoples of the supremacy of the sea. The speech in which Mr. Borden introduced his motion was well worthy of the subject and the occasion.

If the Canadian Parliament accepts as no doubt it will, Mr. Borden's proposition, we shall enter upon a new era of hope and security and can face the perils of the future with a confidence born of the knowledge that it is not the island kingdom but the world-empire with which the adversaries or assailants of Britain will have to reckon. The mother of the lion-line will indeed be vindicated in her children."

Pall Mall Gazette, London:

"Britain looks on them (Canadians) to-day with the loving pride with which a mother beholds her three fully equipped super-Dreadnoughts. It is the uniform of his regiment or of an Osborne cadet. Mr. Borden's glowing, yet business-like speech, made clear the reason, the purpose and the aim of the emergency proposals which he laid before Parliament."

"Mr. Borden is himself the most striking example of the untold advantage which the Empire will derive when the wisdom of every Imperial statesman is held at the service of the Empire as a whole. His clear outlook, his imagination, his grasp of essentials, and his driving power were never better displayed than in the speech which moved Parliament to enthusiasm and in the proposals which he so lucidly unfolded to it. We sometimes bewail the lack of a real forceful personality who, in days of peril, would lead the Empire. Perhaps it does not occur to us sufficiently often that the Pitt or Canning of the future may be found, not in these islands, but in Canada or

WIND JAMMERS ARE STOPPED

Argument About Duties of Speakers of the Commons

Result was Victory for Premier Borden and His Party.

OTTAWA, March 26.—The promised attack of the Opposition upon the Speaker of the House for intervening during the jocosities of Saturday, March 15, occupied the most of the time of the House yesterday.

The question on the motion introduced by H. R. Emmerson on the subject of the Speaker's duty to intervene in the House, the consequence being that when the discussion ended, at midnight, the House went into supply without a division, and without any position being recorded as to the propriety of the Speaker's action.

The Liberal contention was that the Speaker had no right under the rules to take the chair in the case of grave disorder in Committee of the Whole without a report from the committee unless to adjourn the House. Against this contention it was shown that ample precedents existed for the action of the Speaker.

The Minister of Finance declared that not only did the Speaker act properly and with dignity, but that the thanks of parliament were due him for terminating an unprecedented session.

Rights of the Speaker.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, when he made his order, recalled that he had purposed to give the right of Mr. Speaker to take the chair while the House was in Committee of the Whole, except upon the report of the chairman, or in certain cases to adjourn the House. The rule of the Canadian House, he said, provided that the chairman of the Committee of the Whole should maintain order in the committee and decide on questions of order, subject to the appeal to the House. Disorder in the committee, Mr. Emmerson said, could only be censured by the House on a report thereof.

The member for Westmoreland argued that where the Canadian House was not governed by special provisions in its own rules, it was amenable to the rules of the British House of Commons, as they were, on July 1, 1867, but that rules adopted in Britain after that date could not be operative in Canada. On Saturday, March 15, Mr. Emmerson said, the Speaker had taken the chair and ordered the chairman to rule that the debate go no further. The Speaker ruled that he had the right to take the chair in cases of grave disorder, and had cited the rule of the British House. Under that rule, the member for Westmoreland, member of the committee, had only two courses of action open to him, either to adjourn the House, or to suspend the sitting for a specified period.

At the same time, Mr. Emmerson continued, that rule could have no force in the Canadian Parliament because it had been adopted in Britain since 1867. In the Canadian House of Commons the Speaker could not act without a report from the chairman of the committee; he was a Sphinx, a stone dummy, until he received such report. It was an interference with the committee and with the chairman if the Speaker took the chair and demanded a ruling on a point of order on the ground that it had already been too long discussed. Mr. Emmerson said that conditions in Canada were quite different from those in the British House of Commons, where the Speaker was a permanent official.

A Difference Noted.

Mr. Arthur Meighen (Portage la Prairie) pointed out that the Committee of the Whole House never took the chair, but that it was only reported after the Speaker had taken the chair. There was a difference in a report of disorder for repression and a Speaker taking the chair to repress disorder.

The member for Portage la Prairie contended that the Speaker could not

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Dr. Pugsley, in the House, blamed Borden for forcing continuous day and night discussion. Bosh. It was the Doc and the other gabsters upon whom that fool blame must rest.

It's a sure sign that the Laurierites are going to cave in on the navy question now that the Toronto Globe is seeking to make the silly pretence that Borden has come round to the Liberal view.

The story of that awful flood in the State of Ohio is simply one more illustration of how absolutely puny is the best and most ingenious work of man when the mighty forces of Nature get busy.

GIN PILLS Brought Relief

Larder Lake, Ont., March 26th.

"I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night.

I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief.

In two days the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again."

Rights of the Speaker.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, when he made his order, recalled that he had purposed to give the right of Mr. Speaker to take the chair while the House was in Committee of the Whole, except upon the report of the chairman, or in certain cases to adjourn the House. The rule of the Canadian House, he said, provided that the chairman of the Committee of the Whole should maintain order in the committee and decide on questions of order, subject to the appeal to the House. Disorder in the committee, Mr. Emmerson said, could only be censured by the House on a report thereof.

The member for Westmoreland argued that where the Canadian House was not governed by special provisions in its own rules, it was amenable to the rules of the British House of Commons, as they were, on July 1, 1867, but that rules adopted in Britain after that date could not be operative in Canada. On Saturday, March 15, Mr. Emmerson said, the Speaker had taken the chair and ordered the chairman to rule that the debate go no further. The Speaker ruled that he had the right to take the chair in cases of grave disorder, and had cited the rule of the British House. Under that rule, the member for Westmoreland, member of the committee, had only two courses of action open to him, either to adjourn the House, or to suspend the sitting for a specified period.

At the same time, Mr. Emmerson continued, that rule could have no force in the Canadian Parliament because it had been adopted in Britain since 1867. In the Canadian House of Commons the Speaker could not act without a report from the chairman of the committee; he was a Sphinx, a stone dummy, until he received such report. It was an interference with the committee and with the chairman if the Speaker took the chair and demanded a ruling on a point of order on the ground that it had already been too long discussed. Mr. Emmerson said that conditions in Canada were quite different from those in the British House of Commons, where the Speaker was a permanent official.

A Difference Noted.

Mr. Arthur Meighen (Portage la Prairie) pointed out that the Committee of the Whole House never took the chair, but that it was only reported after the Speaker had taken the chair. There was a difference in a report of disorder for repression and a Speaker taking the chair to repress disorder.

The member for Portage la Prairie contended that the Speaker could not

GIN PILLS Brought Relief

Larder Lake, Ont., March 26th.

"I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night.

I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief.

In two days the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again."

WIND JAMMERS ARE STOPPED

Argument About Duties of Speakers of the Commons

Result was Victory for Premier Borden and His Party.

OTTAWA, March 26.—The promised attack of the Opposition upon the Speaker of the House for intervening during the jocosities of Saturday, March 15, occupied the most of the time of the House yesterday.

The question on the motion introduced by H. R. Emmerson on the subject of the Speaker's duty to intervene in the House, the consequence being that when the discussion ended, at midnight, the House went into supply without a division, and without any position being recorded as to the propriety of the Speaker's action.

The Liberal contention was that the Speaker had no right under the rules to take the chair in the case of grave disorder in Committee of the Whole without a report from the committee unless to adjourn the House. Against this contention it was shown that ample precedents existed for the action of the Speaker.

The Minister of Finance declared that not only did the Speaker act properly and with dignity, but that the thanks of parliament were due him for terminating an unprecedented session.

Rights of the Speaker.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, when he made his order, recalled that he had purposed to give the right of Mr. Speaker to take the chair while the House was in Committee of the Whole, except upon the report of the chairman, or in certain cases to adjourn the House. Dr. Pugsley: "Does my right hon. friend mean that the Government should keep us here twenty four hours a day?"

"My hon. friend has said that the Government is trying to stop debate," replied Mr. Borden, "and in the same breath has declared that there was a most illuminating debate on the question." The Prime Minister said that when a scene of great disorder was in progress great latitude should be allowed to the Speaker. A condition of grave disorder had it had been called to the attention of the Speaker. The Speaker had to intervene to restore order. Common sense and the rules of Parliament would dictate that the Speaker should do just the same attitude that he did. The Prime Minister thought that the course pursued by the Speaker was in the interest of the House and of the country, and was sanctioned by precedent and by the dictates of good sense.

This ended the discussion, and the

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM QUICKLY VANISH.

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After a Few Doses Are Taken.

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak, inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause.

The new discovery, Croxone, cures these conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the tender membranes of the bladder and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth to compare with it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed to cure you.

GLADSTONE'S VIEW ON

The following from Premier den's great speech on the navy is worth repeating:

When Mr. Gladstone, then Premier of Great Britain, introduced a closure bill in the House of Commons in 1882, he said in part:

"It is not a very easy matter to define obstruction, and I will attempt to define it for any of myself. I will only give my description of it. To me it appears to be the disposition either of a minority of the House or individuals to resist the prevailing will of the House otherwise than by debate."

The Premier also used a definition of Speaker Bland's in the British House on obstruction—"the abuse of the privileges of the House or individuals to defeat the will of Parliament."

Continuing, the Premier said: "We do not desire to depart from the constitutional tradition of the House, or take any steps that are not absolutely necessary."

gentlemen opposite on more one occasion have boasted of their ability to force them to do it before the public. That has been the constant boast of certain elements of the present Province of Quebec.

were possible for an opposition do this this session, it would be possible for them to do it session and the session following with the result that instead of dissolution of Parliament being terminated, as it always has been the past, by the Crown, on the advice of responsible ministers, would be determined by the position, a minority in Parliament.

LORD WOLSELEY.

The passing of Field Marshal count Wolseley removes a not figure from the world's stage.

Lord Roberts he had lived to come an octogenarian, although career of each contained many fine incidents of great personal achievement.

Like so many other great soldiers was born in Ireland, and in early he went through the Burmese and the Crimean war, the Indian war and the Chinese war.

His name has always had a special interest for Canadians as in 1870 was given command of the troops which went to Fort Garry to quell the Red River rebellion led by Riel.

To us of this date that might be seem like a very great exploit, but reality it was quite that under the existing circumstances. At that period there was not a line of railway beyond Thunder Bay and from the point onward it was a case of boats and portages or else road and bridge building. For instance it took Wolseley's troops with their heavy equipment many weeks to reach Fort Garry—now Winnipeg—a point now reached by train in a little over twelve hours.

The control of the expedition demanded much skill and resource and both these qualities the deceased manifested to a marked extent.

After that event he commanded troops in the Ashanti war, in Zululand, in the Egyptian war, the Gordon relief expedition and so on. He was commander in chief of the British army 1895-1900. He more than once received the thanks of parliament with money grants added and he was deservedly crowned from time with a long array of honors.

THE COAL SITUATION.

Next Three Months Coal Will Be Cheap.

Now is the time to order your next year's supply of coal. The price of coal is lowest during April and May than any other time in the year. At present Buffalo harbor is clear of ice and railway companies are busy loading their boats with coal. This is being done to rush the coal to the West as soon as navigation opens on account of the supply getting very low in that section of the country during the past winter. This state of affairs will have a tendency to make coal a scarce article in Ontario. It will pay you to order your coal from F. H. Walsh before May 1st, as after that date all mine-owners advance the prices monthly.

Throughout the past winter several of the local dealers have been buying coal from independent firms in Detroit at an advance in price of $1.00 a ton over what Mr. Walsh has been paying; therefore, he is able to quote you a better price for April, May and June deliveries, especially car lots for employees of factories.

This coal is mined under the city of Scranton, Pa., (guaranteed), and no better coal can be purchased in the world. Mr. Walsh can quote a lower price than most dealers as he is under less expense than any coal merchant in the city. You get coal of quality and quantity, which is full of weight, worth and warmth, when you have Mr. Walsh fill your coal bins. He is already booking orders for next year's supply of coal at prices which will astonish you. If you are not already one of his many satisfied customers give him your next order and be convinced that he sells the best coal in the city and at economical prices and full weight.

He is also sole agent for Beaver Brand Charcoal, F. H. Walsh, Coal and Wood Dealer, Phone 345.

CITY NEWS

Elected President.

Mr. D. B. Wood formerly of Brantford, was elected President of the Hamilton Ad Club this week.

Military Notes.

Recruit class was held last evening which there was a large turnout. The staff course examination will be held next Friday night.

Not Company Funds.

It was recently stated in The Courier that the Trust and Guarantee Company held a mortgage of $800,000 on the Grand Valley Radial road. The statement however, while true, requires some explanation, as was pointed out this morning by a representative of the Company. The mortgage is simply a trust mortgage, held for the bondholders, the issue of the bonds representing an investment of $450,000. The mortgage does not represent an investment of the funds of the Trust and Guarantee Company, which is merely interested to the extent of acting as agent for the bondholders.

Zion Church Young People.

The regular meeting of the Y.P.G. of Zion Church was held Monday evening. In the absence of the president, Mr. Chas. Hall occupied the chair very acceptably. Miss J. Allan, social vice-president, took charge after the opening exercises, and a good program was presented, as follows: Solo, Miss C. Chaves, violin solo, Mr. Earl Gamble; piano solo, Miss M. Tobias, all of which were much enjoyed. It being "Irish Night," the decorations were in green and white, and guesses were made as to the number of eggs in a certain box. After various games had been played a large number sat down to supper. A most enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Health Exhibit Views.

The Provincial Board of Health car which is going through Ontario was in Brantford for the day yesterday. Last evening the officials held a lantern lecture in the Y. M. C. A. About one hundred and fifty young people were present. The lecture was on consumption in its different stages, its development and the means of dealing with it. Many interesting slides illustrating the different forms of bacteria in their growth from the early stages to the most advanced forms, were thrown on the slide. Slides were also shown illustrating the various environments conducive to the disease and the means of overcoming these things. The lecture was very interesting and very instructive. The exhibits in the car doubtless do a lot of good. The car had the appearance of a drug store on wheels, countless bottles lining the car with specimens of various kinds as well as bottles illustrative of the various bacteria in their various stages of advancement.

Sword Fish.

John Shanahan is in receipt of a sword fish given him by Chas. Smith of Port Rowan, which is three feet five and a quarter inches in length and weighs three pounds and two ounces.

Hamilton Grocers Here.

The Brantford Grocers' Association entertained a number of Hamilton Grocers in the Knights of Pythias Hall last night when a eucharist match was held in which the Ambitious city merchants were victorious by sixty one points.

Mr. Coderre

Crawls Over Unsafe Bridge on His Hands and Knees.

MONTREAL, March 26.—Crawling on his hands and knees over a wobbly bridge with a drop of 50 feet to a swirling river beneath him, was the experience passed through by Hon. Louis Coderre, Secretary of State, Monday night, while on his way to a banquet at his birthplace at St. Anne. The train he was travelling on was unable to cross a bridge, which had been rendered unsafe by the floods, and the passengers, among whom was Mr. Coderre, had to walk across it, a hazardous performance at any time, but doubly dangerous in the darkness with a strong wind blowing.

Floods

thousand persons sent from nearby towns during the night had arrived to points within two and three miles of the town. At daylight torrents of the water running between the business-houses were too swift to admit of navigation by ordinary rowboats. Three motor boats had been brought in on interurban trains from Winona Lake, 50 miles away and with these boats it was thought that not only food and water might soon be taken into the city, but also that the survivors might be rescued.

No one was able to estimate the number of drowned, because of the many bodies that had been carried down the river and because of the submerging of whole streets of houses known to have been occupied before the water came up, but the city officials agreed that the fatalities would not be less than three score. All night long the whole city was in darkness because of the cutting off of the gas and electric light supply, men, women and children and in some instances whole families lay flat, where they had crawled to the roof of their homes waiting for daylight to bring relief.

Demands for Hydro.

A Galt despatch says: Each month municipalities are adding to the demand for power from hydro-electric commission. Most persistent among smaller centres is Berlin, which now serves notice upon the commission that the power load on the local plant must be increased forthwith by over 1000 horsepower. Of this the Dominion Tire Company will take 500 horsepower, and will want it by Sept. 1. The outlook is such in Berlin that its commission will wait on Hon. Adam Beck to secure assurance that increased power will be available. Next comes Galt, which means to apply for 1000 more horsepower. Local feeling is that it might be part of wisdom to size up the possibilities of other sources of power, the Grand River for instance.

Pickpockets Active.

As reported in The Courier last night pickpockets have been actively engaged at railway depots, a well-known Brantford man having been cleverly touched on Monday. A Toronto despatch to-day says: Benjamin Ainsworth of Lisle, Ont., lost $200 yesterday at the Union Station, and suspects that his pocket was picked. Mr. Ainsworth was carrying a crate of eggs, and says that he was jostled in the crowd by two men, but did not miss his money until he reached the car. Four hundred dollars which was in another pocket was not touched. A man coming from Hamilton was robbed of twenty-five dollars and his ticket, while Mr. Lorne Mitchell of the C. N. R. had $175 taken from his pocket while on the way to the train a few days ago. Mr. Robert Kinney lost a ticket and thirty-five dollars on the station platform or on the train. From these recent losses it looks as if a gang of pickpockets are working in the vicinity of the station.

Gray Hairs

By WALT MASON

"Go up, thou baldhead" cried the boys, who jeered the prophet, shy of hairs; that prophet, weary of their noise, called up his private troupe of bears; the bruins fell upon the lads and at them down, as cows eat hay, suspenders, boots and liver pads; the prophet smiled and went his way. The prophets of these modern times don't take their string of bears along; but boys must pay for all their crimes, must still atone for every wrong. There's nothing meaner than to jeer the ancient man whose steps are slow, who soon will end his journey here, and to the silent twilight go. I used to do it in the days when I was young, and life was sweet; I used to hoot the hoary jays who trailed along the village street. They'd turn around sometimes and cry: "The day will come when you'll regret, with aching heart and streaming eye, this foolishness, already yet!" And now I'm old and bent and sore, and as I through the village walk, the children soak me in the car with snowballs harder than a rock. They do not reverence gray hairs, and every time they play a trick I wish I had a hundred bears all trailled to jump when I say "Sic!"

Pitcher Fred Herbert May Make A Place With Leafs

Canadian League Right-Hander, Has Shown Manager Joe Kelley Something in Practice - Ex-Ottawa Twirler Has a Long, Free Swing to His Delivery.

MACON, March 26.—The left-handed bugaboo is bothering Joe Kelley again. The last man to join the squad here, "Hub" Northern, the former Brooklyn outfielder, is a left-handed thrower and batter. The players now in camp who hit from the first base side of the batter are McConnell, O'Hara, Shaw, Northern, Lush, Herbert, Rudolph, Brian, Kubat, and Hearne. Kelley is using all the influence at his command to land an infielder, now with a major league club. Should he join the Toronto club he will be a further addition to the outside batsmen.

Herbert May Make A Place
Fred Herbert and Frank Kubat are both Chicago boys and where one is there also can the other be found. The Canadian league youngsters are inseparable. Kubat learned the game at the college from which he graduated in civil engineering.
Kelley says that he would not be surprised should Herbert catch a place on the regular flinging staff. The Ottawa is a six-footer, with a striking facial resemblance to Taylor, the Toronto semi-pro player. He has been buzzing the ball through with tremendous speed and says he has never had a sore arm. The manager warned him against using so much speed in training but Herbert seemingly cannot refrain from the use of steam. He is the first of the pitchers to curve the Spaulding. His delivery is a long free swing like Maxwell's and Bob Spade's. He is twenty-one years of age, a reserved sensible chap with all the car-marks of a high class twirler.

Kubat, who is also a youngster, has been exercising more care and has not been asked to show his wares as yet.
Kaiser for .1 Shaw
Kelley is not very favorably disposed to the trade of Kaiser for Shaw suggested by Manager Stallings, of the Boston Nationals. The only advantage in such a swap from a Toronto standpoint would be that the Leafs would be getting a right-handed hitter for a left-hander. Kaiser was with Indianapolis a part of last season and hit .268 in 56 games. Only nine of his 53 hits were for extra bases. He stole ten times.
Shaw was in one hundred and thirty-five games and hit .315. His batting was for a total of 230 bases, including fifteen home runs, six triples and twenty-seven doubles. His stolen bases numbered twenty-nine. It will readily be seen that an even trade of Shaw for Kaiser would be a bad business. Shaw's best performances last year were against the Bufalo Club and Stallings saw him to the best possible advantage.

Northern Another Slugger
"Hub" Northern is destined to be a popular player at the Island Stadium. In stature he bears a great resemblance to George Schirm, the former Buffalo outfielder. Northern is a younger man who covers much territory in the outfield and who can swing like a rifle shot. He stands close to the plate and steps straight into the ball; his long hard swing usually meets the ball fairly and drives it a great distance. Opposing outfielders will have to back up against the right field bleachers for him at the Island.

With Brooklyn last season he was in 118 games, batting for the excellent average of .282. He had twenty-six doubles, six triples and two home runs, with eight stolen bases. He drew forty-one bases on balls and struck out forty-six times. He held .950.
Northern should prove a capable substitute for Benny Meyer.

MILAN NOT AFTER RECORD THIS YEAR
Washington Player Declares He Will Work for Interest of Team First.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va, March 26.—Clyde Milan, champion base runner of the American league last season, has no ambition to equal or excel the mark he set in the last campaign.
Milan does not believe that it is just to his team to have such an ambition, for to run bases for the sole purpose of establishing a record might prove detrimental to the best interests of his team.
"I hope to steal a lot of bases, but I am not going to try for a record," said he. "If it made no difference whether we won or lost I would be able to take a lot of chances, and, of course roll up a great base-stealing record. That might be pleasant for me, but I want to play the game to win, and you can't do that by running wild. I shall certainly take advantage of every opening to steal a base if conditions justify my so doing."

Ode to the Spring.
It gives me pain To see the rain.

There is a certain park in this city which was donated by the Ontario Government for use as a playground. A big piece of this park has been either expropriated or appropriated by a number of grown-ups for bowling purposes, and the kids were chased off the grass because it was complained, there made too much noise for the quiet and peace-loving neighborhood round about. We refer to Dufferin Park. Our contention is that the kids should not be chased away, but kept right on the open lots as long as they desire to linger, despite the protests of the surrounding neighborhood. If they make too much noise they should be supervised, not chased into the streets where all kinds of dangers lurk, speed autoists, etc. Until room was found for the North ward kid for a good sized open park of the Dufferin Park, we contend the Parks Board made a grievous mistake by handing over the rights of the park to any incorporated bowling club of grown-ups who are well able to pay for their sport and would be willing to do so, if they had to. The youngsters are the hope of the city, and of this country, and should be given every chance. No one who will be some who will disagree with our remarks. At the same time, we wish to point out to the Parks Board that the only way to get square for this mistake already committed, is to get additional ground at the O. I. B., enlarge Dufferin Park, and hand it over to the kids. Don't take it away from them, for goodness sake. If they are not there, they will be at the river, or on the street, heaven knows where, and all the worry of their mothers at home. Let's get broad enough to realize that the kids like sport, and need it for the development of their frame and muscles, and let's provide room for them to grow, if they do holler, and shout. Don't take their only chance away to enjoy themselves in a good safe place by giving—yes, giving the land to an incorporated club of professional men, well able to meet their way apparently in any other direction, except their favorite pastime—bowling.

This is the view point of one who has heard complaints of boys chased from the park on St. Paul's Avenue, because some had uttered a "cuss" word one night and offended the neighbors. It's a mighty poor way to bring up the boy by driving him away to the open street or to secluded spots to get rid of his high spirits and energy.
Come on, Mr. Park Commissioners, there's some food for thought in this question. Get the land and give it to the boy.

A letter from McDougall of the Tecumseh received in the city, tells how before he left Vancouver Con. Jones called his players together and told the lacrosse players to be on the co-operative plan this year, he retaining a certain percentage of the gates for expenses of management. Naturally the ultimatum did not arouse any enthusiasm. In fact Harry Pickering and Micky Ions are said to be possessed of a huge hanker to come back east. McDougall, who is now on his Northwest farm, will probably be here to play with the Indians.

The hearing of Bobby Byrne by Joe Wood recalls the wonder that a campaign could ever drift by without at least one ball player being pushed into the League of Last Sleep by one pitched ball.
In the major leagues alone each season there is an average of 1200 ball games played—800 in each circuit.
In these 1,200 games each slabman averages about 115 pitched balls to the game, or 230 for both clubs.
This would nets about 276,000 pitched balls a season, and just why some contender in front of this mighty fusillade isn't killed is one of the marvels of the profession.

Any number have been badly hurt, but in the last ten years, with over 2,000,000 pitched balls to face, no big leaguer has suffered a mishap.
The Wood-Byrne mishap isn't likely to increase the effectiveness of either player. Byrne, as game as he is, will be an exception. If he isn't gunshy for some time to come.
Wood, in his most serene moments is a trifle nervous, with a high-geared personality, and as he happens to be a clean-cut, conscientious young citizen, he is likely to suffer as much as Byrne in the way of depressing effect.
Some time back Russ Ford beamed Corhan, of the White Sox, and the Yankee premier has never ben within 30 per cent of his standard since. From that date on he skidded back along the trail, although Corhan recovered shortly afterwards.
It's all "in the game" of course, but it brings no buoyant feeling in a friendly battle to know that you have come within inches of snuffing out a career.

Charlie Carr and Danny Hoffman were both .300 batsmen. Harry Nickens of Nashville, in an exhibition game tore Carr's nose loose with a fast one, and the Tiger star soon faded from the big corral. Hoffman was also wounded in the Dome of Thought and never recovered from the shock.
Neither Wood nor Byrne is likely to be affected to that extent, but the full effect can only be discovered later on.
After a long interval of love taps and no-injection bouts the old fashioned K.O. seems to be creaking back into the job.
The air, in fact, is full of flying swings and husky uppercuts bearing the Dreamland Message. No one year in history has ever opened with such a flurry of sleep producers as the pugilistic seismograph records for 1913.

Within the last month no less than four knockouts among prominent citizens of the ring have been recorded. Rivers dropped Brown. Cross knocked out Mandot; Smith dismantled Wells and Attell started back by dropping Kirk.
The punch is either returning to its own or the human jaw is growing effete, not to say brittle.
Science still may rule the profession, but the Old Kick is not to be despised.
The New York Yacht Club has suddenly discovered that riding a technically into popularity is quite an enterprise. The real reason for declining the Lipton challenge may have been and probably was from a feeling that the challenger was looking for the advertisement of a certain beverage more than for any trophy. In either case the N. Y. Y. C. has uncovered a terrific panning all over the map. The general impression intended to be conveyed is that the N. Y. Y. C. doesn't represent the sportive spirit of America.
Why is it anyway, that one club should control the destinies of an international championship. And if one else is to have a say in the matter except an exclusive few, how can such a contest be representative of the country at large.
1913 will be a year of test for Russ Ford. The Yankee premier after two great seasons, slipped back in 1911 and almost went to seed in 1912. The old hop to his fast one faded out and another bad year would push him from out of the circle of first rank.
Murphy says that he was offered $35,000 and two good ball players for Bresnahan. To refuse $35,000 for one catcher and to refuse to pay a still better catcher a fair enough salary to get him back is a fairly concrete example of Murphy's wisdom as a

TROUBLES OF HAMILTON CLUB

Games This Year Will Be Played on the Cricket Grounds.

(The Spectator)

At a meeting of the owners of the Hamilton baseball club held yesterday it was decided to lease the cricket field for the coming season with the result that the local scene of Canadian league operations will be transferred from Britannia Park to the west end. Manager Knotty Lee was greatly in favor of transferring the club to the cricket field and in this he was supported by John Burns. Exception to the move was taken at a very reasonable figure. The club is paying $500 more for the cricket field than was paid for Britannia park last year and in return only secures every other Saturday and also loses July 1, while it would have been possible to have Britannia park for all holidays and all Saturdays, if so desired. Arrangements for the coming season were completed yesterday. Manager Lee will again be at the helm and will take up his residence here next week. The players will report on April 25 which will give them two full weeks training before the season opens. Exhibition games will be arranged. Although he has some fifteen players under contract at the present time, Manager Lee is unable to tell what kind of a team he will have as he expects to secure three or four players from the Baltimore International league club. The counting on these "free" players in the "infield" Six pitchers are under contract and four others are new road uniforms have been ordered while the old white uniforms will again be used in the home games.

And yet if they matched Jeffries and Johnson again at $25 a week, what odds are you giving that the receipts wouldn't be above $100,000? It's a fearful thought, but they fall even farther and harder than that when the opening is made.

Think Cross Champion.
Each Cross's admirers are now waiting him for the lightweight championship. There is no denying that as a result of the recent victory over Joe Mandot his stock has boomed. But Leach will never become a champion in the first place. He is allike many another "near champion." Give him a mark and he boxes

Mystery Concerning the Weight of M'Farland

Claims to Be Able to Make 133 at 3 P. M. for Willie Ritchie. Leach Cross as a "Champion"—Bud Anderson a Comer—"Gunboat" and Wells-Dundee and Kilbane in the Lime-light.

(By James J Corbett)

Can Packey M'Farland do 133 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and give a good account of himself in a 20-round bout at a week in the evening? Packey says he can, and to prove it has accepted Willie Ritchie's challenge. Evidently M'Farland adds that he will make weight for nobody but the champion.
Packey's weight has been one of the great mysteries of professional pugilism for several years. He agreed to 133 to get a match with Ad Wolgast when that young man held the title, but as the bout was called off the public remained sceptical of his ability to make it and be in condition to put up a good argument. Evidently M'Farland knows just what he can do and his willingness to accept the terms and conditions of Ritchie's proposal without a kick or protest of any kind will act as a silencer on the critics who have insisted that he is no longer eligible to fight in the lightweight division.
At that I doubt if Packey and Willie ever meet. They would make the ideal match, much better than the proposed Ritchie-Wolgast match or Wolgast-McFarland affair. Both boys are clever and of practically the same school and represent the best there is in scientific boxing. But Billy Nolan is too shrewd to pit Ritchie against a chance to corral an easy purse or two, which is recognized nowadays as one of the privileges to which a new champion is entitled. There are any number of lightweights whose case is not the peerless Packey and as Nolan knows the ropes pretty well he will no doubt find some plausible excuse for avoiding the match. If it ever comes to a showdown—And between you and me, one can't blame him very much from a business point of view, if not a sporting point of view.

Think Cross Champion.
Each Cross's admirers are now waiting him for the lightweight championship. There is no denying that as a result of the recent victory over Joe Mandot his stock has boomed. But Leach will never become a champion in the first place. He is allike many another "near champion." Give him a mark and he boxes like a world beater, but put him in front of a good man and he fights more like a dub. If any one will take the trouble to look in the dope books he will find Cross has not been the most consistent boxer in the world. The detailed reports of the Cross-Mandot bout do not make Leach out the great fighter. His press agents represent him. He was on the losing end until a lucky one connected with Mandot's jaw. Of Leach's lifting power there is not the slightest doubt. He packs a lefty punch, and let him once get the other fellow going and he sails in for keeps. He has fought a fairly clever boxer in not a hard hitting, but a combative youngster who can give and take the hardest knocks, and answer the bell for more. He can't hit harder, if anything than Cross, although Leach punches hard enough to bring home the bacon. Joe is not inimitable, he can be knocked out as Johnny Kilbane showed us, but I imagine he is a big tool. I had a proposition for New York's foremost lightweight, if Leach could needs in defeating Rivers. I'll take my hat off to him and admit he's doing a mighty sort, but I am sure he is not and leaving seven him in so many times, he'll be a late victor in the light of his latest victory in the light of his flukes. Concerning Anderson's defeat while on the subject of lightweights, it might not be amiss to call attention to Bud Anderson, the young western "phenom" who gave such a splendid

Lady Marjorie's Love

Lady Marjorie paused, possibly to give her stepdaughter a chance of replying if she would. Majorie could not—she only stared bewilderedly. "I have seen it from the first," the Countess proceeded with tranquility, "and, as I said, my dear, I was pleased to see that you were accepting and endorsing Mr. Barrington's attentions. Now pray don't look so indignant—of course you have encouraged him. And very sensibly so."

your suggestion that I should marry the man who has thought me home! For what is that really is, although I have been foolish enough to almost forget it sometimes. Yes, he is—he is—repeating the words with a fierce little intake of breath. "And now you say this to me—this! Oh, it is horrible of you! You only do it because me a thousand times more miserably than I was before! Yes, you do. And it's all those horrid, ridiculous blowing-up books that you read. And I speak of it while telling you my plans this afternoon," she resumed, "but thought it better not, as I had no doubt that you would yourself confide to him all, or essentially all, that had passed. You have done so, I just as I expected. And I fancied it very probable that your doing so might cause him to speak out. I have no doubt that he only waits a good opportunity. But I suppose he has not done so. Has he?"

"I think you must be crazy, Fenella!" Marjorie gasped out. "You don't know what you are saying, or if you do, you only say it to make me angry, to—to insult me!" she cried, kindling more and more wrathfully as she rallied from her stupefaction. "Mr. Barrington—just because he is attentive to me, because he knows I am lonely, just because I am friendly to him, because there is no one else—the attempt, he even thinks of—of such a thing! And for you to pretend that I— Oh, it is preposterous—it is worse than absurd!"

"You see, you are a girl without a home and without a cent to call her own. I have no wish to hurt your feelings, but when you talk this high-brow nonsense—Do pray, my child, try to exert your common sense. I thought you gave me credit for knowing what is due to myself. And even if you did not, if you thought me capable of forgetting—everything, you might at least recollect that I am engaged to Loftus." "Oh, my good child!" the Countess made an irritated gesture of disdain. "Do drop all pretence of that ridiculous farce, I beg of you! It is really too ludicrous!"

"I fancy it's another phase of the same optimism which makes most of us cheerfully drop the decimals from a price figure, and think of $4.98 as $4 instead of $5, which it actually approximates. You remember the lady who, in making up her expense account, charged all the money which she could not itemize to 'G.K.W.' meaning 'Goodness Knows What.' A still more helpful arrangement for most of us would be to have a G.K.W. column in our budget of probable expenses. We should allow as large a sum as we think we can possibly need for incidentals and then add half as much again. It wouldn't do any harm, you know, if there should happen to be some left over, but there isn't much danger."

Music and Drama

"The Girl of My Dreams" "Refined and charming musical play," as the Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and New York observers declare, is "The Girl of My Dreams," in which Jos. M. Gaites will present John Hyams and Leila McIntyre at the Grand Theatre, Thursday, March 27. It is notable they say, for the infectious lit of its melodies and for the especially artistic performance of the co-stars, Leila McIntyre in the leading feminine role of Lucy Medders and John Hyams, long associated with Miss McIntyre, in their vaudeville sketch, "The Quakeress," as Harry Swift, the bachelor, who is ready to quit and be good.

In presenting "The Girl from Tokio," the management has made a splendid selection. It is a laughable farce, that contains some complications and numerous funny situations, that evoke uproarious and continuous laughter. It is said that it will stand comparison with the best; the settings used are correct in both color and detail, the principals are well selected and make the best of every opportunity offered for producing the latter along purely legitimate lines and the skillfulness of the leading roles is a valuable asset in itself. "The Girl from Tokio" will be presented at the Grand Saturday March 29th.

CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH

By HOWARD L. RANN

CAPT. JOHN SMITH was one of the few Englishmen who came over to this country three hundred years ago and liked it well enough to stay. It was quite a fad with wealthy Englishmen to run over to America, stake out a few million acres of land and then succumb to the scurvy or the native mosquito, but Capt. Smith liked it here and planted a colony at Jamestown, Virginia, which has stayed where he put it ever since. He also planted several thousand Indians by inserting arrows in their mercurous occasions. The historian Macanlay states that he was the only man in England who could wear a high starched ruff, fresh from the laundry, and retain the look of deep piety shown in his pictures. He was once captured by the Turks and would have been drawn and quartered in the coarse and unfeeling manner characteristic of that people had it not been for a Turkish slyph weighing 210 pounds, who interceded for him.

One of the first persons Capt. Smith met on coming to this country was an Indian chief named Powhatan, who was roaming around looking for some new ideas in scalps. Powhatan did not like Capt. Smith's looks, and told him so in his plain, blunt style. Powhatan was a bloodthirsty savage and came within one-eighth of an inch of strutting Smith's brains and a new sharp ruff around the suburbs of Jamestown, when his daughter Pocahontas rushed in and announced that she was about to marry the captive. Capt. Smith had never been introduced to Pocahontas and didn't know what her first name was or what set she belonged to, and when he got a good look at her he told Powhatan he guessed they might as well proceed with the interment, but Powhatan spared his life and Smith escaped soon after without having to take out a marriage license.

The two achievements with which the name of Capt. Smith will always be inseparably connected are his discovery of the domestic codfish in 1614 and his invention of the Smith family. The visible supply of codfish has waned considerably, but there are still plenty of Smiths left to go around.

A CHILD'S WASTE CLOGGED BOWELS

Makes It Cross, Peevish, Restless and Feverish—If Tongue Is Coated Give "Syrup of Figs."

Children dearly love to take delicious "Syrup of Figs" and nothing else cleans and regulates their tender little stomachs, liver and bowels so promptly and thoroughly. Children get bilious and constipated just like grownups. Then they get sick, the tongue is coated, stomach sour, breath bad; they don't eat or rest well; they become feverish, cross, irritable and don't want to play. Listen Mothers—for your child's sake don't force the little one to swallow nauseating castor oil, violent calomel or harsh irritants like Cathartic pills. A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs will give your child smiling and happy again in just a few hours. Syrup of Figs will gently clean sweeten and regulate the stomach, make the liver active and move on and out of the bowels all the constipated matter, the sour bile, the foul, clogged up waste and poisons, without causing cramps or griping.

"With Syrup of Figs you are no drugging or injuring your children. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful. Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna" prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Itching of the ears, or a discharge of catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces, is a sure sign of catarrh.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by the Starbuck Cure. Send for circulars, free.
