Chatham Declares For New Valuation

Great Dissatisfaction Expressed With Present System of Valuation and Assessment and Remedy Proposed

A public meeting in Chatham Town Hall, called by Ald. J. Y. Mersereau, chairman of the Efficiency Committee, was held last night, and over 60 ratepayers attended.

The meeting was called because of the protest of some forty ratepayers against their valuation for assessment purposes.

The meeting was called to open at 8 o'clock, Ald. J. Y. Mersereau in the chair, who explained that the meeting was called to discuss the present system of Valuation and Assessment in Chatham and suggest way to improve the same, which, in his opinion was at present unfair.

The first speaker was A. A. McGinn. Mr. McGinn claimed that the valuation of the town was unfair and unjust, as by the system now in vogue the poor man was paying most of the taxes, while the richer was getting off much too easily. An equitable valuation was needed. In order to get it, legislation was needed. But the expense would be money well spent. To secure a fair valuation, he suggested a Board of three assessors, the chairman to be a resident of Chatham, the other two to be drawn from, say, Bathurst and Chatham, the chairman of the assessors to be afterwards made permanent chairman of the Board of Assessors, the other two assessors to be independent unbiased business men not dependent upon any larger firms.

Another matter of great importance was the unpaid taxes. The town's last annual statement showed $3789.65 unpaid taxes for 1917, and $2479.54 for 1916. For 1914 and previous years $2,658.94 total $15,028.13. It was time for the town to have a thorough housecleaning. There should be a commission, with unlimited powers to investigate the town's affairs. The town should have a survey and plan made and be divided out into business, industrial and residential areas, and each area into blocks. The land in each block should be valued at so much per front foot, corner lots being of more value than the rest and the rest of equal value. Improvements should not be taxed at same rate. Nowadays a man is penalized in taxes whether he paints his house or renews his fence. It was up to the Town Council to apply for legislation to remedy this state of affairs, or the town would get a council that would do so.

L. H. Abbott agreed in demanding a new plan of the town, and a better system of assessment in which every little improvement will not result in extra taxes.

Harry Loggie spoke to same effect, also D. T. Johnstone.

Richard Galloway complained about assessments being unequal.

Ex-Mayor Nicol partly agreed with Mr. McGinn.

A. E. Taylor, manager of the Bank of Montreal, spoke with approval of the taxation system of the west, where improvements are largely exempt and the emphasis in taxation is laid on land values. Improvements should not be penalized.

Assessor J. H. Pallen and Town Clerk P. J. McIntyre said that the assessors had the power and used it of changing assessments at any time during their year of office.

Mayor W. B. Snowball agreed that the assessment system was defective. As in England all should be compelled to give a true statement of all their property. Improvements should not be discouraged. All incomes up to $500 or $700 should be exempt, and on from that to $1500 carefully graduated, married men being exempt so much for each child, to enable them to properly rear and educate their children. He had talked to both recent governments of N. B. about taxation reform.

The following was moved by A. A. McGinn, seconded by Ex-Ald. Edward Gallivan, and carried unanimously:

That this meeting declare in favor of a revaluation of the Town of Chatham, such revaluation to be made by an independent Board of three appointed for same, the chairman of said valuers to be a resident of Chatham, the other two to be men from other N. B. towns of similar population, the chairman of said Board of Valuers to be appointed the permanent chairman of the assessors, the other two assessors to be men in business for themselves and not large property holders.

That the following be appointed assessors: J. H. Pallen, Town Clerk, and P. J. McIntyre, Town Clerk.

That the following be appointed assessors: J. H. Pallen, Town Clerk, and P. J. McIntyre, Town Clerk.

That the following be appointed assessors: J. H. Pallen, Town Clerk, and P. J. McIntyre, Town Clerk.

That the following be appointed assessors: J. H. Pallen, Town Clerk, and P. J. McIntyre, Town Clerk.

Serious Stabbing Affair at Doaktown

Gordon Robinson in Serious State as Result of Being Stabbed by Soldier Named Parker

Blackville, Aug. 22—Miss Margaret Jardine was united in marriage to Mr. John Touchie at the Presbyterian manse, Blackville on Wednesday afternoon. They will reside at the bride's home at Indiantown.

Stabbing Affair at Doaktown

At Doaktown station on Saturday night a short time before the arrival of the express a man named Gordon Robinson insulted a soldier's wife that had come to see her husband off on the train. The soldier's name was Parker. Mrs. Parker told Robinson that she would take the law of him. He replied that there was no man in Doaktown or any other town able to arrest him. Robinson used very obscene and abusive language. Parker told him he had better behave himself. He made a lunge for Parker and Parker told him to keep away but he was bound for to have trouble. Pte. Parker told him he was trained to defend himself and he had the weapons to do so. The soldiers are supplied with a large knife and the soldier told him if he didn't behave himself and leave him and his wife alone he would use the knife. Robinson grabbed hold of him and he got the blade in the side, the point lodging near the hip bone. At last report Robinson was in a very precarious state.

Another matter of great importance was the unpaid taxes. The town's last annual statement showed $3789.65 unpaid taxes for 1917, and $2479.54 for 1916. PREMIER BORDEN WILL NOT RESIGN POST

Despite Rumors to Contrary Sir Robert Will Lead Conservative Party in Coming Election—Union Government Not Possible

Ottawa, August 29—Sir Robert Borden will remain head of the Conservative party. At a prolonged ministerial conference today which lasted until two o'clock the Prime Minister dealt with the recent negotiations for a union government and stated that the western Liberals with whom he had been negotiating were willing to join a union government with himself as a member but not as leader.

Sir George Foster was one of those suggested as the new leader. Sir Robert expressed his willingness to retire but this met with no favor. Sir George Foster, who was present at the caucus, declined to accept the responsibilities of the leadership and maintained that Sir Robert's continuance in the position was essential to the efficient conduct of the war.

The caucus unanimously approved of Sir George's position and pledged their loyalty to Sir Robert Borden and their co-operation in his efforts to bring about a government presenting all elements favorable to a vigorous war policy.

The Conservative members of Parliament today adopted the following resolution:

"We the supporters of Sir Robert Borden's government in the parliament of Canada, record our emphatic approval of that government's policy and achievements during these three years of war.

"We endorse the earnest and patient efforts of the prime minister to bring about a union of all the war forces of Canada and to give to this Dominion in these days of ever-increasing stress, suffering and peril, the advantage of an administration which would typify that union and speak to the world the unwavering resolution of our people to see this war through to victory.

"For the purpose of such union we are one and all prepared to make any personal or party sacrifice that the occasion may demand.

"We record unanimously our profound admiration of the great work and splendid leadership of Sir Robert Borden. We sincerely believe that no other man can discharge with like capacity the tremendous task of prime minister during this crisis and that now, of all time, his continuance in the premiership is indispensable to the nation, and to his support we pledge our unalterable devotion."

More Reforms For India

Responsible Government for That Country is the British Aim

Edwin S. Montagu, Secretary for India, will go to India next winter to take up reforms of the Government there. The policy of the British Government is of an increasing association of Indians with every branch of the Indian administration and of gradual developments of self-governing institutions with a view to making a responsible government in India an integral part of the British Empire. It has been decided that substantial steps in this direction shall be taken as soon as possible. The Government has recommended nine Hindoos for commissions in the army.

Society May Interfere at Any Time

(The New York World)

It is said from time to time by apologists for Prussianism that we have no right to dictate the kind of government under which the Germans shall live. That is not true. When any form of government becomes a proved menace to the world, society has a right to protect itself.

Swedish Hospital for Wounded Soldiers

Under the heading of "Swedish Gratitude," The London Times, in its issue of the 24th July, paid a generous tribute to the efforts of the Swedish residents to alleviate the sufferings of wounded British soldiers. Our great contemporary, in writing of the Swedish War Hospital, stated "that more than 18 months ago a number of Swedish residents in Great Britain conceived the idea of establishing a hospital in London for the care of wounded British soldiers, as a token of their appreciation of a great nation's hospitality." Two months later the premises of the Central Institute for Swedish Gymnastics, in Paddington Street, W., were taken over and opened as a hospital at a cost for equipment of £16,000, all of which was provided by Swedish merchants trading here and in Sweden. They also supply £4,000 a year for running expenses. The hospital, which was attached to the 2nd London General Hospital, originally gave accommodation to 30 or 40 soldier patients. Later it was re-arranged as a hospital for officers, with 24 beds, and afterwards it received its patients direct from battlefield. According to a report by Dr. Westman, the resident medical officer, the Swedish manual treatment has been used in suitable cases, and in a number of instances the time of healing of wounds has been considerably shortened and the ultimate scar much reduced in size. The Swedish colony in London and the friends of England in Sweden have cause to be proud of the success of their humane undertaking. —Journal of the Swedish Chamber of Commerce for the United Kingdom.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL!

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called frezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of frezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader, who wears high heels.

GIVING SERVICES TO THE COUNTY FREE OF CHARGE

Sir George Perley and Mr. F. B. McCurdy Show a Fine Sense of Public Service

(Ottawa Journal, Aug. 8, 1917) A striking illustration of the patriotism of some of our Canadian public men was given in the House last evening during the discussion upon the resolution moved by Sir Robert Borden to provide for the creation of the portfolio of Minister of Militia overseas and the offices of Parliamentary Secretary for the Militia Department and the Department of External Affairs. It developed that while there is to be the usual ministerial emolument of $7,500 for the Overseas Militia portfolio, Sir George Perley had written the Prime Minister that he would not accept it. It also transpired that for all the onerous ministerial duties that have fallen to the lot of Sir George Perley since the general election of 1911, he has not received one single cent.

There is another example. Attached to the office of Parliamentary Secretary for the Militia Department is the salary of $5,000, but the Premier made the statement that when Mr. F. B. McCurdy was appointed he would not accept the office unless it was understood that he would accept no money for his services. The work that Mr. McCurdy has done has been enormous. He has given his whole time to assisting Sir Edward Kemp, and morning, noon and night he has been constantly at duty. It is also a tribute to the spirit of Sir George Perley and Mr. McCurdy that it had not been known before that they had been giving their valuable services without monetary compensation.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE SESSION

Written Specially for the Ottawa Journal By the Corridor Patrol

Written Specially for The Ottawa Journal by the Corridor Patrol.

It is characteristic of men like Sir George Perley and F. B. McCurdy that it should only leak out in a casual way that they have been giving their services to their country in time of war without remuneration.

They have made no parade of their patriotism. They simply got down to business and told the Premier they would accept no emolument for the work they were called upon to do. In the one case Sir George is compelled to stay in London; in the other Mr. McCurdy is obliged to be at Ottawa almost constantly. The additional expense to these men is very great. Financially it is a serious loss.

Sir George Perley is an Ottawa boy, although he happened to be born in New Hampshire. He was educated at the old Ottawa Grammar School.

His first political contest was in 1900 when he had the courage to face Hon. W. C. Edwards in the solid Liberal riding of Russell. Although beaten he gave Mr. Edwards the right of his life, reducing his majority of 1,603 to 566. Mr. Edwards went to the Senate after that.

Next year he entered the bye-election contest against Thomas Christie but with a Liberal Government in power it was almost hopeless. Yet he held Mr. Christie down to 191 majority, and in 1904 beat him by 176. He increased that majority to 259 in 1908 and 597 in 1911, the largest majority ever got by any federal candidate in that riding.

Sir George will be sixty years of age next week, and it is remarkable that his hair is as black as it was at twenty, or at least there was not a grey hair to be seen when he was in Ottawa last year.

Fleming B. McCurdy Fleming B. McCurdy is a youth so far as Parliamentarians go. He is 42. His wife is a daughter of B. F. Pearson, of Halifax. He is the father of two boys.

Mr. McCurdy has had a remarkable career. At 14 years of age he became enterprising, and left the farm to enter the office of the Halifax Banking Company. That was in 1889. In 1901, when he was just 28 he had the courage to leave the bank and establish the firm of F. B. McCurdy & Co. There wasn't very much of a company about it; it was mostly F. B. McCurdy.

That was the beginning. The firm has played a large part in the development of Nova Scotia industry.

His political career began in 1911, and he went gunning for the biggest game he could find. It was no less a person than Hon. W. S. Fielding. He beat Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Minister of Finance in Shelburne and Queen's. J. M.

HYMENAL

JARDINE—FERNALD (North Andover, Mass., Paper)

A charming horse wedding was solemnized Wednesday at 7.30 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Fernald, 45 Pleasant St. when their younger daughter, Miss Myra Pauline Fernald became the bride of John Forsythe Jardine of Wallaston. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridal party stood under a beautiful arch of asparagus ferns and goldweed. The bride presented a most charming appearance, her bridal gown being a beautiful creation of white crepe de chine, hand embroidered with white beads. She wore a tulle wedding veil caught with clusters of white swansons and carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. The bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Marion who wore a handsome gown of pink taffeta silk and carried pink roses. The best man was Sidney Hoyte of Wallaston. Rev. T. C. Atchison pastor of the Presbyterian church of Lawrence officiated and the double ring service was used. The rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow daisies and golden rod and asparagus ferns.

A dainty collation was served by Caterer Rhodes of Andover. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the bridal party entered the parlor, by Miss Hazel Crandall of Worcester, a classmate of the bride at Framingham Normal school.

The wedding gifts were numerous and elegant and testified to the high esteem in which the young couple were held by a host of friends. They included a substantial check from the bride's parents, several gold pieces, silverware, cut glass table linen and pictures.

The bridal couple departed amid a shower of confetti and rice for a wedding journey to New Brunswick where they will spend several weeks before taking up their home in Wallaston. Guests were present from Lynn, Revere, Lowell, Haverhill, New Haven, Worcester, Lawrence, Wallaston and North Andover. The bride is a graduate of the Johnson High school and the Framingham Normal school where she took the Domestic Science course.

(Mr. John Forsythe Jardine is the son of Mr. John C. Jardine of Boom Road, North Esk, N. B., and are spending part of their honeymoon at Boom Road.)

CRAWFORD—UNDERWOOD

An interesting event took place in Blackville on Wednesday Aug. 22nd, when Ethel Barbara, daughter of Mrs. Isabella Underwood, became the bride of Mr. Harold Crawford.

The bride looked exceedingly charming in a suit of nigger brown chiffon taffeta and carried a bouquet of carnations and sweet peas. Rev. L. Beaton tied the nuptial knot in the presence of immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

After the ceremony supper was served and the happy couple left on the 10 o'clock train for a short honeymoon, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends. The presents which included money, silverware, china, etc., testified to the popularity of the young people.

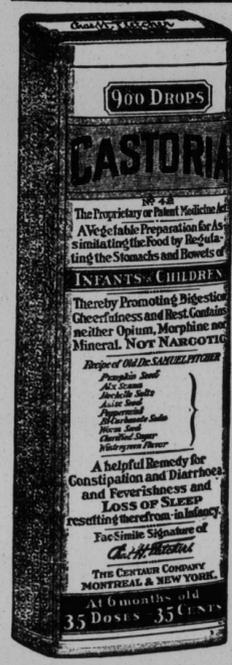

Calgary, Alta., Aug. 27—Fred Johnson, a farmer living in his vicinity, committed suicide Saturday by hanging. He first erected a scaffold for the purpose.

London, Aug. 21—By a vote of 1,234,000 to 1,231,000 the Labor party members today decided to participate in the Stockholm peace conference of Socialists called by the Socialists of Russia.
The vote was by card. The scant majority of only 3,000 was a surprise.

Save the Children
Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets cure these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PUBLIC SERVICE

(Ottawa Evening Journal)

It is fashionable nowadays, particularly among that class of persons who do not even bother to go to a polling booth on election day, to sneer at politics and politicians. The country has heard so many cheap sneers at our politicians, that the term, which in the minds of our young men should stand for patriotism and service, has got to be held in contempt; public men, thanks to an unthinking, ignorant crusade, are regarded as a lot of scheming demagogues and parasites living upon the taxes of the people. Because of this false impression, an impression which in Canada, is seriously militating against our public life, The Journal is glad to avail itself of every possible opportunity of showing that as a class our public men represent as high—if not higher—a degree of patriotism as can be found among any other class in the community. Such an opportunity is afforded by a discussion in the Commons yesterday which brought out two of our well known parliamentarians, Sir George Perley and Hon. F. B. McCurdy, have, for the past couple of years, been giving their time and their energy to the service of the country without a cent of material reward in return. Mr. McCurdy, one of the brightest and ablest of the young business men of Canada, has by his acceptance of the position of Parliamentary Secretary for the Department of Militia removed himself from activity in business which must have meant the loss of many thousands of dollars. Yet he declines to accept a cent for his services. If Sir George Perley were to devote the time and energy that he is giving the country to his private affairs, his material income would be increased by many thousands of dollars. Yet, for the honor, exacting service that he is giving the country as Overseas Minister of Militia he declines material reward.

Nor are such cases of disinterested service remote in our political life; they have their counterpart in many instances that too often go unappreciated by a cynical, ungrateful public. We venture to say that in that section of the nation which howls loudest and oftenest against politicians, particularly among that comfortable class of political aristocrats who hold aloof from our politics except to denounce politicians and to demand "business government" there is not to be found an equal measure of sacrifice for national service. And we would like to see instances such as those of Mr. F. B. McCurdy and Sir George Perley, brought to the attention of all the people of Canada, particularly to

A POLITICAL PUZZLE

Numerous investigations have been held and some are being held at present. Various political scandals have been unearthed and politicians condemned, guilty, criminally and politically, by undoubted proof. Some have been punished, others exonerated by the so called "Whitewash" method. Among the investigations held into the actions of the late local government will be remembered one into the Public Works Department, at which one, H. Blair, was a star witness, who with two co-partners, constituted the so-called Concrete Construction Co., Ltd., the stock of which Company being found worthless after many Provincial Steel Bridges had been painted on a 30% basis was thrown into the fire. Perhaps because the alien chief partner had absconded with the profits. The people of New Brunswick by their honest vote condemned the late Government and turned it out of office on February 24th, 1917, with the intention of electing a clean honest government. The Public Works Department of the present clean honest Government shows its appreciation of the services of Mr. H. Blair, whose services while in office of the late Government brought on the condemnation of the Public, thereby helping the present Government into office. At the present time every member of the famous Concrete Construction Company has been rewarded by the local government, except the one who absconded with the profits and perhaps if he can be found he also will be provided for, though we hope he may not be in want. Is this not the proper way for a Government to reward its friends—is it?

The student of politics who can solve this puzzle is worthy of reward.

MISS CLARE RYAN

The death of Miss Clara Ryan of Chatham, occurred on Monday afternoon after a lingering illness. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan and had many friends. She is survived by her parents, one brother, Ernest of Arlington, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Campbell of Chatham, and Miss Katie at home. Another brother, Leonard, was killed in France a few months ago.

The attention of our young men who are too frequently misled into the habit of scoffing at what is, after all, the noblest profession in our national life.

The list is a long one of Canadians outside of the army who are these days devoting their time and energies at considerable sacrifice to the public service without remuneration and without hope of reward other than the personal satisfaction of accomplishment in something worth while.

Annual Methodist District Meeting

After earnest addresses by Rev. Dr. Steele, Rev. J. L. Dawson and others the following was unanimously adopted:

That this District, having heard Dr. Steele, Supt. of Missions, and Rev. J. L. Dawson, Pres. of Conference, present the forward movement of the Methodist church of Canada, having as its objective the raising of $500,000 as well as to educate and stimulate our people along Missionary and spiritual lines, agrees with the principles and purposes of the movement and would pledge itself to do all in its power to attain the desired goal, $1100 being the Chatham District's share of this amount.

Rev. Messrs. Steele and Dawson addressed a large public meeting in the evening.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR

The British operations east and northeast of Ypres, uncertain for a few days, were reported on the 23rd inst. as being completely successful. The French objectives north of Verdun last week appear to have been attained. If the offensive were continued fresh artillery preparation would be necessary.

The German counter attacks Thursday against dominant positions such as Dead Man Hill and Hill 344 proved to be costly failures, leaving the French masters of the points they held before the beginning of the great battle of Verdun last year.

The German sea raider, See Adler, in South American waters last winter, is reported sunk after a battle with a British warship. Only a few of her men were saved.

Canadian troops on the 25th pressed continuously against Lens, capturing a short trench and an enemy post with a few prisoners and a machine gun.

The French last week, by the capture of Hill 304, recovered the last of the Verdun forts captured by the Germans in 1916. They have advanced still further, practically clearing that corner of France of the enemy. In the Verdun contest recently the French captured 8,000 prisoners. The Italians last week made important gains towards Trieste, taking over 25,000 prisoners.

After two weeks fighting, General Mackensen has advanced 4 1/2 miles in Roumania, and he is about brought to a standstill.

The Germans are still unable to reach Riga on the Baltic, although many of the Russian regiments remain disorganized.

During the present year the allies have regained 1,000 square miles of France. There is no hope, however, of them breaking the German western lines this fall or winter.

The determining factor of the war if peace does not come by agreement will be the entry of the American army into France next year.

A report to the American state department says that the German scientists have compiled statistics which show that if the war continues for another two years the condition of the world as regards foodstuffs will be the same as that of Germany today. The communication received by the state department says that the German government is therefore informing its people that all military preparations to continue the war for another two years must be made, stating that if this is done Germany cannot be defeated, because the people of the countries now at war with Germany will not endure the hardships which the German people are continuing fresh artillery preparation willing to undergo.

The Iron Cow

A most amusing slip was made the other day by an attorney, who was retained to defend a farmer, whom a late servant sued for wages alleged to be owing to him by defendant, who refused to pay on account of the servant leaving his employ without proper notice.

The attorney wound up a grandiloquent speech, by informing his worship that the plaintiff had left his client in a fix by absconding himself from his duties when there were forty-one cows to milk, thus requiring "All hands to the pump!"

78 Lees Ave., Ottawa, Ont., August 9th, 1915. "I think it my duty to tell you what 'Fruit-a-tives' has done for me. Three years ago, I began to feel run-down and tired, and suffered very much from Liver and Kidney Trouble. Having read of 'Fruit-a-tives', I thought I would try them. The result was surprising. During the 25 years past, I have taken them regularly and would not change for anything. I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using 'Fruit-a-tives', and I know now that I haven't known for good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain."

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' I bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLAUDE MORRIS, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a safe and pure remedy made from roots and herbs, much suffering might be avoided.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. (confidential) for free advice which will prove helpful.

Resolution of Condolence

The following resolution was passed at a recent meeting of Northumbria Lodge, No. 17, A. F. & A. M. Mrs. S. W. Miller, Newcastle.

Whereas it has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe in his inscrutable wisdom to remove from labor in this Terrestrial Sphere, our late Right Worshipful Brother Stanley W. Miller, who for a score of years had been an earnest and energetic member of the fraternity and one who was always ready to assist with his council to advance the principles of Freemasonry.

And whereas the members of Northumbria Lodge No. 17 are desirous of recording the loss they have sustained and of expressing their deepest sympathy with you and the other members of the bereaved family in their present sore affliction.

Therefore resolved, that while we bow in humble submission to the Divine Will we deeply mourn the loss of a Brother whose journey through life was marked for charity and brotherly love and who evinced a very deep interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare and advancement of his native town and the lodge in particular.

Every Women's Right

To every woman belongs the right to enjoy a healthy, active, happy life, yet nine out of every ten suffer years of agony, usually from some form of bloodlessness. That is why one sees on every side pale thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures—sure signs of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. All weak, suffering women should win the right to be well by refreshing their weary bodies with the new, rich, red blood that promptly transforms them into healthy and attractive women. This new rich, red blood is supplied in abundance by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which reach every organ and every nerve in the body.

Through the use of these pills thousands of women have found a prompt cure when suffering from anaemia, indigestion, heart palpitation, rheumatism, general weakness, and those ailments from which women alone suffer. There is no part of this broad Dominion in which you will not find some former sufferer who has regained health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and this is the reason why these pills have been a favorite household remedy for more than a generation. If you are ailing and will give the pills a fair trial you will find renewed health and happiness in their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for 2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Silos In Western Canada

Up-to-date Silo and Barn in the West.

FOR many years Western Canada has been short of a silo country. The enormous areas of unoccupied land, on which cattle roamed at will, or the settler cut his year's supply of native hay, to a large extent met the fodder problems of the country. With closer settlement and more intensified agriculture, however, a change is coming about. Particularly on account of the rapid advance of the dairy industry the farmers are becoming more interested in the various means of caring for their herds, especially during the winter months. The silo has been found to solve one problem, and is making its appearance in many parts of the country.

From experiments that have been undertaken at the various experimental farms it would appear that the silo method of feeding dairy stock is one of the very best. Superintendent G. H. Hutton, of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lacombe, Alberta, claims that winter silage is one of the best means of keeping the farm stock well fed during the winter and has solved the problem of securing succulent feed for the dairy cattle.

Piles

PILES, or hemorrhoids, are the cause of keen distress to thousands who do not yet know Dr. Chase's Ointment.

There are three kinds of piles—itching, bleeding and protruding. The itching, burning sensations usually increase at night, and the misery which many people endure is beyond description. The bleeding is sometimes so profuse as to cause death. Protruding piles are most dreaded because it is commonly believed that a surgical operation is the only means of cure.

If you will read the letters quoted in the daily press there will be little chance for scepticism as to the certainty of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for every form of piles. Or, better still, ask your friends about it, for Dr. Chase's Ointment is recognized among doctors and druggists as well as by the public generally as the only real cure for this wretched disease.

FOR VIOLATION OF MOTOR VEHICLE LAW

Five local men were before Police Magistrate Lawlor on Saturday morning charged with violation of The Motor Vehicle Law and a fine of $10.00 and costs was registered in each case, but allowed to stand as these were the first offences under this act.

BAD MIX-UP ON THE BRIDGE

There was a mix-up on the Morris Bridge the other night in which serious consequences were very narrowly averted. Two young men of the wireless staff in a motor cycle and car with a friend were crossing the bridge from Newcastle to Chatham Head with an auto coming the opposite way. The headlights so blinded the young men that they could not see the team ahead of them. Just as they passed the auto they found themselves right on to the wagon. They had to turn sharply to the right, the dangerous side for a motor cycle to turn to, but caught the wagon wheel in spite of their caution, and tipped three young men out of the wagon. In doing so, they upset and broke their machine and were all pitched out onto the bridge. Fortunately no one was badly hurt. It is felt by many that autos should be compelled to dim their lights when approaching other vehicles.

Ptes. Bert Fenelon, Everett Black and Walter Colford Writing Interestingly of Their Life in France and England

Mr. and Mrs. John Fenelon have received the following letter from their son, Pte. Bert Fenelon, in the Convalescent Hospital at Epsom, England.

Epsom, England, July 31st 1917 Dear Father and Mother:—I have not had a letter from you for a long time but I expect my mail will be forwarded to me from France. Of course it will take time as it will have to go to all the different hospitals I have been in. I suppose you received my letter from France saying I was wounded. My wounds are just about healed now but my hand and arm are a little stiff yet, but I will soon be all right again. I am having electric treatment now to take the stiffness of the cords of my hand and arm out and am getting my teeth fixed. Well I have seen some fine places in France. I have fought over ground that the French fought on in 1870-71 at Monte St. Eloy. There is an old tower there that was partly blown down in 1870 and last March I saw another piece blown off it. I guess father has read of Monte St. Eloy in history. The largest city that I have been into in France was La Havre. I have been through Arras but it is pretty well knocked down as it was close to the trenches. Some of the towns that are close to the front line of trenches are nothing now but a heap of ruins. The pictures you see in the papers are exactly like the towns are. I will get some post card views of some of the villages that I have been in and send them to you. Well it has been raining now for over twenty four hours and doesn't look as though it intended to clear up. This is an awful country for rain. Last winter it used to rain for three or four days every week. I have often waded through parts of trenches with the tail of my tunic trailing in the water and the soft mud was always up to our knees. You could hardly credit it, but we used to get stuck in the mud and have to get he'ped out, but I don't think we will have to put another winter in France. I think Germany is just about licked and I am sure everybody will be glad. Well I never was lucky enough to see Earle Macdonald in France. I am going to look up Con Gormeloy now that I am in England. I know he must still be here for they wouldn't send a man as old as Con to France.

Well I must close for this time but will be able to write often now. Give my regards to all the old friends of mine. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain, your loving son, BERT.

Aug. 7, 1917 To the Editor of the Union Advocate:

Dear Sir: I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know that I am quite well all around only for my leg.

I just had my sick furlough to London. I had a fine time there. I was all through Westminster Abbey, House of Commons and the House of Lords. I saw the 132nd colors there that our officers put there. When my leave came to an end I was sorry but I will get another one pretty soon. Well I have seen quite a lot of 132nd boys and officers. I was talking to Capt. Barry and Lieut. McKnight Sunday. They were glad to see me and I was glad to see them too. I also saw George Johnston, Carey Brooks and Major Sterling. They want me to get transferred over to the 13th Reserve. There are a lot of the 26th boys here too. I saw Sam Craig also. I was surprised to see him. It is a nice camp here and they use you pretty well. Johnny Doucett is here with me. He got two slight wounds. I am up before the board Friday for my leg. I have not got much use of it yet. I hope I will be back pretty soon if it does not get better. George Johnstone and Kelly Murphy are going back soon and Andrew Crocker. I saw George Miller at Shorecliffe, he is looking fine.

Well I think this is all for this time. Best regards to all from 75337 Pte. E. L. Black, 52nd Batt 20th Reserve, Shoreham by the Sea, Sussex, England.

Letter From Sgt. Walter Colford Miss Annie E. Colford has received the following letter from her brother Sgt. Walter D. who enlisted in the 132nd Battalion, was unit for medical service and enlisted again in 265th Battalion at Halifax, N. S. Shortly after going overseas he was drafted in the 10th Battalion and sent to France and is now on the front line:

Somewhere in France, July 14, 1917 My dear sister Annie:—I received your most loving letter and was glad to hear from you and to hear that you are all well as it leaves me at present. What is the news down home now? The same old thing over here. Do you ever try to stir up a dance at all now?

It looks like conscription in Canada to me, what will all those young fellows do? I suppose they are beginning to shiver with fear.

Well, I am getting on fine, so far. The Kaiser is trying to do all the harm he can, but I guess he is beginning to shake too. I was sick in the start so they put me in the hospital for a while, but I am all right now. Do I guess I will stand a few rounds now.

Believe me, this is some country over here. I tell you I saw some wonderful sights since I came here. I have been all through Scotland. This was the first place I ever saw a peacock or a brown sheep. I saw a lot of Ireland, most all the cities of the coast, and I was through London, but I don't care much for London. I will write to her soon. Also to Stella, Earle and Harrison. I receive quite a lot of mail and I write a lot. Well, Annie, I suppose you over home don't realize what this war is. One sees some wonderful sights.

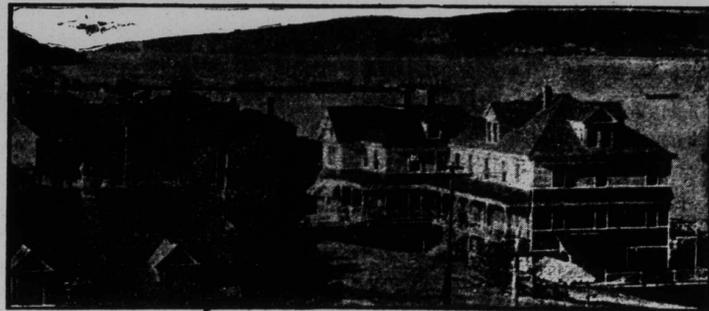

I hope to be back by this time next fall and have a good old dance. Is Frank working in Millerton yet? I wrote to Jack Vickers and some more boys around home, but haven't received any answer yet. Tell them all to get busy and write. How is Trout? Do you ever go up Blackbrook fishing at all?

Well, Annie, believe me I am not using the Huns a bit too good. I suppose you all read the papers and you can see what great work we are doing. I would like to be home for a week hunting, but I tell you: we get all the hunting we want here. But there is great excitement in it. I wrote to Frank and Will and Papa, and I hope they will get them all right. I have a lot of souvenirs to send home when I get time. I have had some pretty hard scraps since I came here, but I don't mind it a bit. I feel a little lonely some times, but not very long. We don't get too much time to think here. I got the box O. K., and the chewing tobacco was no insult. So many thanks for it.

Well, Annie, as it is bed time, I must close for tonight. So good-bye. Answer soon. Tell them all to write. From your loving brother, Sergt. Walter D. Colford, 753703 C Company, 10th Battalion No 9 Platoon, B. E. F., Canadian Base Depot

A Haunt of Legend and Romance

Digby Basin and Long Pier, Nova Scotia.

PARBROBORO Shore with its rock bound coast of lofty crags and high walled jagged islands washed by mighty tides, the scenes of Indian legends and the struggles between the French and English, and the residence of a more modern race of hardy voyageurs, is a name little known to the tourist, but one that has an ineffable charm for him who has visited this nook of Nova Scotia.

This was the home of Glooscap, mighty god of the Micmacs. Here one finds the Five Islands, lofty and steep-sided islets in the Basin of Minas, pebbles dropped by the mighty Glooscap, so says the folk lore of the simple Redman. Attracted by their isolation, it is believed that Capt. Kidd, the infamous and successful privateer, buried here his treasure trove; and many are the deep yawning holes to be seen in these wild and eerie islands where the bold have braved the guardian spirits of the dead pirate chieftain to find out this gold and jewels, bathed in the blood of gentle women and brave men.

Spencers Island, the Indians tell you, was formed when Glooscap overturned his melting pot; and the smaller islands near by are not common islands—they are Glooscap's dogs, turned to stone as guardians of their master's melting pot. Many are the Indians still to be found here and they believe that some day the great spirit of Glooscap will return to them; and then his chosen people will again rule over the land.

And here is Partridge Island—like Gordly Blomidon opposite, rich in the beautiful amethyst—once the home of Kitpoosagunow, the mighty fisherman of the Micmac legends here. He it was who embarked in his huge stone canoe, harpooned the whale, tossed it into his craft as if it were a trout; and when he landed, he it was who split the Leviathan of the deep with one blow of his great stone knife, tossed one half to Glooscap, and himself ate the other.

It was from the lofty cliffs of Partridge Island that a French warrior, pursued by the English, leaped to his death on the rocks hundreds of feet below. And later, it was here a blockhouse was placed when England feared the raids of Yankee privateers in the stirring days of 1812.

With such traditions, little wonder is it that here was developed a hardy sea faring folk. Sometimes the wife and her children accompanied the sea captain as he sailed his tiny schooner to the four quarters of the earth; but more often, he sailed away alone and for months the mother reared his children alone and superintended the farm. Here one finds beautiful farms, thick forests, save for here and there a clearing where one can get a view of the magnificent sweep of the Basin of Minas, of the islands of Blomidon, and of the shores ten miles across the sea of silver, shores dotted with orchards and the white roofs of the farm buildings.

Men who have travelled the world over have come to Nova Scotia and declared the scenery along the Basin of Minas the fairest of it all, have marvelled at the mighty surge of those wonderful tides with their unique rise and fall of sixty feet, and have spent their summers in its cool, invigorating climate. A comfortable steamboat service operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway connects St. John, New Brunswick, with this land of legends, bold and noble mountains, and with the land of Evangeline.

MASONS AT BATHURST

Representatives of all the Masonic Lodges of the North Shore, chiefly officers, met at Bathurst on Thursday and Friday for instruction in degree work and other purposes.

The Chatham delegates were Messrs. R. A. Logie, G. H. Harrison, F. M. Tweedie, Harry E. Loggie, Ernest S. Jack, Jas. Shields, A. W. Wilbur, R. A. Snowball, Ernest Hutchinson, Chas. Spurr, Isaac Hoffman, Col. Mackenzie and Dr. Jones. There were nearly seventy in the meeting. The three degrees were exemplified by different Lodges. Grand officers Twining Hart, George Ellis, Francis Burpee and Edward Cairns of St. John criticized and instructed the degree teams. Most of the work is unwritten, and such a meeting goes far to ensure uniformity in the different Lodges.

RETURN DATE OF WONDERFUL FEATURE "TOLD AT TWILIGHT"

The above picture was shown at the Happy Hour some two months ago, and received such favorable comments that the management of the Happy Hour has secured same for today matinee and tonight. This feature has been booked again by request of some patrons of the Happy Hour who were unable to see it owing to disagreeable weather when last shown. Those who saw the above production claim it to be the finest picture that was ever shown here, it featuring the world's greatest child actor, Marie Osborne (The Sunshine of the Movies). This town is not the only one that has played return dates on same it having been repeated in nearly all towns in which it has been shown, that being the reason why the management was unable to secure same until today. There will be a special matinee today at four o'clock, admission prices being 5 and 10 cts and every child in town should try and see the picture, as it is one long to be remembered. Tonight the grand Fox Feature "The Scarlet Letter" will be shown making a big double program. Admission prices 10 and 15 cts.

WORKER, HOME-LOVER IS SIR EDWARD KEMP

Reserved, Sky Public Man—Masterful Organizer—Lover of Flowers and Toil

Sir Edward Kemp is a man of very remarkable native and natural dignity. A strong-willed, masterful man, "Kemp," one who knows him well said of him: "He is nothing out of the way as a speaker, but he makes a splendid administrator, and has remarkable executive ability. He is a man of great reticence and reserve. But this reticence and reserve have their origin rather in shyness than in un sociability. He is the last man in the world to court publicity. Nor is he any popularity-hunter."

Not Easy to Talk to
Sir Edward Kemp has not a particularly good manner with strangers. He is not an easy man to talk to. And though not devoid of humor, he is on the serious side. He takes himself seriously, as he takes his politics and takes his business. He is a prodigious worker, and quite unsparring of himself. It is his habit to go to Ottawa on Sunday night and to return to Toronto for the week-end on the Saturday morning following. All the Saturday he spends at his business. Then when Sunday comes he is a pretty tired man.

His Beautiful Home
His beautiful house, Castle Frank, overlooking the Don Valley, is considered by many people to be the loveliest house in Toronto. It is a big house of some twenty-five rooms or so, with fine gardens of about thirteen acres in extent. Everything about the house—all the appointments and arrangements—is the very acme of comfort. It is, in fact, a house which has been designed for comfort, and resembles an English country house more perhaps than does any other dwelling in Toronto. There is plenty of glass, and an abundance of flowers, of which Sir Edward Kemp is extremely fond.

ECONOMY IN PAPER

It is not uncommon an English shop to hear a customer say, "Never mind about wrapping that up in paper; I will take it as it is," and the paper economy will soon be as much a matter of course as the new practice of carrying all small parcels home. It is a great change, for good, that the paper has long been known in Great Britain and France, and always seemed typical of solid British methods, after the crackling yellow-brown wood-pulp or easily-torn tissues of some parts of the continent.

In Bulgaria, one of the poorer countries, where even cheap German wrapping paper is hardly known, parcels are carefully wrapped in a large square of printed cotton, called a bukhta. The bukhta is an institution. The bread is brought wrapped in check cotton; the shoemaker sends your boots home in a gay colored square; even the wedding presents for a bride are sent in a bukhta. It is returned to the sender by the messenger.

STORM WINDOWS VITAL

Fuel Economy Depends Upon Radiation Losses—Saving One-half

The cost of fuel is a large item of expense to the householder. Anything that can be done to reduce this cost without suffering inconvenience from the cold should be welcomed by all. The average household has but little knowledge of the principles and application of heating, and there are many portions of Canada where the saving of fuel by the use of storm windows (commonly known as double windows) is not fully appreciated. Heat is lost from a building in two ways, by (1) radiation, that is, that transmitted through walls, windows and other exposed surfaces by conduction and lost, and (2) convection currents, or leakage, namely the losses through the openings around windows, doors, etc. By the opening of outside doors much heat is lost. This, to a great extent, can be overcome by the use of storm windows. Better still is the storm porch, which allows of one door being closed before the other is opened. This porch may be removable at the expense of the use of all verandah space in summer.

The radiation losses are usually of greater importance than convection. As losses due to radiation from walls, floor, ceiling and doors are determined by the structural features of the house, they are largely un avoidable. The most serious radiation losses are from windows and the saving of heat resulting from the use of storm windows is largely due to the layer of clear air between the outside conductors—between the inner and the storm sashes. Storm windows also prevent uncomfortable drafts. Heat loss from single windows is demonstrable. A square foot of window surface radiates as much heat as 2 1/2 square feet of a 1-inch brick wall surface. Storm windows reduce the loss to nearly one-half of this amount. In addition, they reduce the loss due to leakage and save from 10 to 15 per cent. of the fuel bill.

Most Consoling
A certain clergyman was much grieved to find his "special services for men only" were so badly attended. He expressed his regret to the vergers one evening when, as usual, they were the only two at the meeting.

"I really think they ought to come," he said, sadly.

"That's just what I've sed to 'em, over an' over again," said the vergers, consolingly. "I see 'em, I see 'em, look at me, I see; 'look at me, I see to all them services, I see, 'an' we 'em does they do me?"

The City of N.
Sir Archibald Geikie, the famous geologist, was fond of telling about an Englishman and a Scotsman who went to Egypt together and said "I'll be the Pyramids."

The Englishman was lost, and the Scotsman asked his companion "What's the Scotsman shook his head and said, "Ah, more," he said, "with the Scotsman."
