The uterus, I sur-fered like a martyr and thought often of death. I con-sulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doc-tors said I must submit to an oper-ation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. No boy, no girl, can ever come to be utterly bad who remembers only love and tenderness and sweetness as associated with father and mother in the old-time home. Give them manly and womanly example, give training, give them the inspiration of devoted lives, give them these higher, deeper things. Do not care so much as to whether you are accumulating money, so that you can leave them a fortune. We really believe that the chances are against that being a blessing for a boy. But leave them an accumulated fortune of memories and inspirations and examples and hopes, so that they are rich in brain

It is pleasant to hear of occurrences that show the better side of numan nature. It is not worth while to hate anyone. Life is too short to cherish ill will or hard thoughts. What if that man has cheated you, or that woman played you false, or some friend · forsaken you? Let it all pass. What difference will it make to you in a few years when you go hence to that undiscovered country? All who cheat you wrongly will be more sorry for it, than you in your deepest grief. A few more smiles, a few more tears, some pleasure, much pain, a little onger hurrying and worrying in the world, some hasty greetings and abrupt farewells, and life will be over, and injured and uninjured will be laid away and forgotten. It is not worth while to hate each other. This is our advice, and like salvation, it's free.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N.S.,

Avoid the Blues. The temptation to yield to the blues often assails people when they are weak in bodily health. Often it at-tacks them when they are incumber-ed by mental troubles. A wise elderly woman once said to a young girl: "Anybody can cope with real trouble. It is the vague, intangible trouble. It is the vague, intangible trouble that gets the better of one and clouds the gay spirits until one walks in the blackness of a fog." Whether trials are real or simply imaginary, a good rule for every one is to seek the sun-shine. If there is the least derange-ment of health trust in God with all your might and apply to the best phy-sician within reach. It Doesn't

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The country laments the high cost of living, and yet it goes on educating its youth into the professions and away from the agricultural and other productive occupations.

Laura Jean Libbey says that this year even the shyest maiden may express her thought on matrimony and even hint at a proposal without being considered immodest. This will be good news for the ministers.

Is it not rather significant and at the same time remarkable that of the two most outstanding figures in China to-day, viz :---Dr. Sun Yat Sen and Yuan Shih Kai, the former is a professing Christian and four sons of the latter attend a Protestant mission school?

For a good every day household angel, give us a woman who laughs. Home is not a battlefield, nor life one long unending row. A trick of always seeing the bright side, or, if the thing has no bright side, of shining up the dark one, is a very import-ant faculty and one of the things no ments made that I determined to give them a fair trial. They have regulated my stomach and bewels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medi-cine." cine." For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing con-stipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c, a box. 2 It's not this playing at billiards that tires a man most to death, but it's bring-ing up coal from the cellar that takes away his last breath. And it's not the curler's hard sweeping that will knock him all of a heap, but it's sawing a few sticks of wood that will give him a grave long and deep. And it's not through the midnight caronsal that so many give up the strife, but it's walking the floor with the baby that deprives a poor fellow of the baby that deprives a poor fellow of life. A cut finger is not benefited by pulling off the plaster and exposing it to some-body's eye. Charity covereth a multi-tude of sins. Things thus covered are cured without a scar; but once published and carried to meddling friends, there is no end to the trouble they may cause. Keep it to yourself. Troubles are transfent; and when a sorrow is healed and passed, what a comfort it is to say, "No one ever knew it till it was over."

"No one ever knew it till it was over." IGNORANCE IS A CURSE.--"Know thy-self" is a good admonition, whether re-ferring to one's physical condition or moral habitudes. The man who is acquainted with himself will know how to act when any disarrangement in his condition manifests itself. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a chief and simple remedy for the eradication of pain from the system and for the cure of all bronchial troubles. m troubles. In Take a wide-mouthed bottle of good clear glass and fill it with fresh water. Then put into it two teaspoonsful of finely powdered alnm. In fair weather and when it is likely to continue fair, the liquid will be clear, but at the approach of cloudy or rainy weather the mixture will become teathery looking. This barometer will indicate a change of weather 36 hours in advance.

No matter what a girl's accomplish-ments may be, her education is incom-plete if she has not some knowledge of bake-ology, boil-ology, roast-ology, stitch-ology and mend-ology. Even if she should never be required to do the work herself, she ought to know whether it was done in a proper manner. it was done in a proper manner.

If you trade in Watford you go home satisfied.

In some parts of Australia the telephone is regarded as an amusement rather than a necessity. Horse Distemper

"After fifty years' experience in rais-ing horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Welling-ton, P. E. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps de-veloped. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different re-medles, but was unable to relieve my horse of his baln and suffering till 1 started to use Nerviline, I mix-da bothe of Ner-viline and sweet of not and chest three times a day and you would nearcely believe the way that horse picked up. For strains, spains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs, and colds, no lini-ment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. In Fruit Growing. The District Representative has been holding courses and classes on the various branches of farm practice in several places during the winter. Class-es have been held at Inwood, Brigden and Petrolea. During the present week a five days' course devoided wholly to fruit-growing is being held at Forest. A similar course will be held at Wat-ford in the Music Hall from March 5-8. This course is intended to be especially for the benefit of Fruit Growers in the vicinity of Wattord and will deal with the special problems of the district. In these days of profitable prices for fruit and of empty orchards where no care is taken of the trees a knowledge of some of the principles of fruit culture will often make the difference of several hundred dollars a year to the income of the farm. This course will give to every.

The Parkhill Council are considering one of the sanest propositions for the good of the home town which we have yet heard. This proposition which originated in Goderich and will soon be debated on the floor of the Legislature, aims to place a business tax on departmental stores, who send in catalogues and do business in our town. That such a bill will be allowed to become law without fierce and powerful opposition, cannot be expected. But it strikes right at the root of an evil which has sapped the strength of the small town to an alarming degree and should be supported by every town council in Ontario. We tax the pedlar who with his little boy or little wagon goes from door to door. We tax'the man who opens a store and sells goods. We tax our blacksmith, our baker, our railways, our telephones and who-so-ever tries to do something to build up the town. But the man who sends in his expensive catalogues, who does business here large enough to rival our local merchants. who never pays one cent toward running our local institutions, goes scot free. Will the small towns stand together in this? If not they deserve to become the prey of those whose motto is not "Live and let live."—Gazette.

KINGSCOURT

KINGSCOURT Mr. James Sayers returned from England on Friday last after a two months' visit to his old home. He brought back with him some interesting relics of by-gone days, among them being some London papers published over one hundred years ago. He kindly loaned these to the editor for perusal. The papers are small four page sheets printed on hand-made paper, the price per copy being 6½d. and the government revenue stamp of 3¼d. appears on each Some of the advertisements and news items appear very odd for this age. The quack medicine advertisers were to the front then as now, and "The Nut of the Sassafras Tree" and other spring reme-dies held out just as alluring induce-ments to the sick as some of the so called remedies of the present day. One ad, that attracted our attention was the announcement that 1141 persons im-prisoned for debt had been released Trade differences with France are dis cussed in one issue, stating that "Buonaparte" had issued a decree ex-cluding British commerce from the con-tinent. Lotteries are openly advertised cluding British commerce from the contiment. Lotteries are openly advertised and both the literary and advertising columns make exceedingly interesting reading. The papers are certainly valu-able for their oddity and antiquity. No doubt Mr. Sayers will be pleased to show them to supers an interested

POST OFFICE AND ARMORY

Ratepayers Meeting in the Town Hall. Friday Night.

(Report by Secretary)

The citizens' meeting called for the purpose of discussing the best method to be pursued for securing for the town a post office, custom's office and arm-ory, was held in the Town Hall, Friday evening, and attended by a representative audience of a few score of the citizens. Mr. A. E. Brown occupied the chair while S. Rivers acted as Secretary.

Mr. Brown, in outlining the wants of the town, said, that every town was asking for a postoffice but he believed that the wants of Watford would appeal to the department. Believed we should have both postoffice and armory, but if we couldn't have both, the post office and custom's office were the preferable He understood Mr. Stapleford had received much encouragement while in Ottawa. Mr. W. E. Fitzgerald, Reeve, was next Mr. W. E. Fitzgerald, Reeve, was next asked to address those present. He reviewed what had been done up to the present, read considerable correspon-dence from members of several depart-ments and felt that we might secure a dual building; believed the prospects were bright for securing these buildings, but it behoved every citizen to put forth a personal effort, much lies with Mr Armstrong, but not everything. The Government has all statistics and it remains for us to press our claim. remains for us to press our claim.

In comment Mr. E. A. Brown thought a dual building would not be acceptable to the Government.

Mr. S. Stapleford, who had been in Ottawa as Watford's representative, gave a very exhaustive resume of negotiations for some time past; repeated his inter-views with the ministers of various departments at Ottawa, and felt that our claims and offers had created a very favorable impression on the P. M, Gen-eral who asked Mr. Stapleford on his return to have Council collect all data in connection with the matter and forward him the same together with what the town was willing to do, and also what the town desires from the Government. Our work was therefore clearly defined, and we should proceed along these lines without any further delay with the question. He spoke very optimistic and urged personal work in the matter keeping in view the single object of getting those necessary build-ings.

ings. Mr. Harris thought that when we comply with the request of the Govern-ment we might look for results, and not before, thought private communications to the Ministers should be discontinued, and committee composed of the Council and representative citizens should be formed and the correspondence would then be of an official nature, and would then be of an official nature, and would be so received by the Ministers of the Departments. Dr. Kelly, repeated conversations and correspondence he had with the officers of the 27th Batallion respecting the armories, Col. Towers advised him a year ago that it would be a trame structure, which was not at all satis-factory, and as Watford was now the head quarters for two companies (the Thedford Co.'s headquarters being transferred here recently), the D. O. C. recommended the Government to erect a "D" style of armory estimated cost about $7,000 or New the Government to erect a "D" style of armory estimated cost about $7,000 or $5,000, but as no sites had been secured, the negotiations were not advanced. He felt that the armory was an assured thing, but should the Government not make good in the matter he felt disposed to retire, and that the Companies would be disbanded. Watford had the best claim of any town in the county, and thought we would certainly receive the armory if we presented our claim tairly to the department. If Watford provides the site the Government would assume all further burdens.

Those Interested, Please Read Fresh air and exercise, with proper food and a sufficient amount of sleep are the essentials.

Under such a regime of living, germs cannot develop, and many diseases are prevented.

A certain librarian was very absent-minded and also very much absorbed in his profession. As the telephone was out of order his wife asked him to attend to a few errands for her on his way to the library. cles In Europe. The old saying "As happy as a king," has gone out of favor. A twen-tieth century king has to keep a tight hand not only on his wife and chil-dren, but also upon the whole of his wide circle of royal relatives. They may not marry, make a will, even write a book, without his con-sent, and if they break the House Laws, it is the unlucky king's duty to make things unpleasant all round. No one can suppose for a minute that Alfonso of Spain enjoyed pitch-ing into his aunt for publishing her very harmless little book without first letting him see the proofs. But he had to do it. A little more than a year ago the Crown Prince^{*} appeared at a theatre in Berlin without first giving notice of his intention. The house was abso-lutely full, and he was turned away, seatless. He didn't mind, but his august father was furious, and talked a great deal about the thoughtlessness which had brought this "slight" upon the Hohenzollerns.

Farmers' Institute Meeting.

It is a matter of regret that the two sions of Farmers' Institute meetings held in the town on Feb. 14th were not more largely attended. The speakers delegated by the Government to conduct the meeting here, were men of more than ordinary ability, and the limited number who availed them-selves of the opportunity to bear them speak, obtained a rich fund of unusually valuable information. Mr. Silcox, of Iona, spoke on the sub-inct "Unterspine Rearryng" and depicted

Interest was allowed upon an investment of $15,000 at 6 per cent, and the final summing up showed the farmer and his wife received $1,000 net for their labor during the year. In his address Mr. Silcox showed the strong points in the system that was followed, and again the places where the farmer had fallen down, and had only a deficit instead of a bal-ance on hand in those departments. Mr. Silcox also went into the subject of "Alfalfa Growing," and showed that this crop alone was worth more to the Prov-ince of Ontario than the output of all her mines and fisheries.

By statistics he show-ed that the wise and commendable course the several governments had, and are following in protecting our Forest tareas, and solicited the support of every indivi-dual in sustaining them in their endea-vors. He also showed how by fencing in the wood lot and keeping out all stock, nature would in a few years restore nat-ural growth of timber, so that the farmer could cut sufficient for farm purposes without depleting the supply in perpetu-

The very tact that this new order, which is really a development of less than two decades, excites no comment and is a commentary upon the religious liberality of the times. One scans in vain the re-ligious press, and the reports in the dallies of sermons, to find any protest from preachers of the old school against the general adoption of a practice which not long ago would have been called papistry by Presbyterian divines. Nowa-days it is quite the rule, in some parts of days it is quite the rule, in some parts of the country, for special meetings to be held and special addresses made during Lent, while Holy Week is still more widely observed.

widely observed. It formerly was the custom in many denominations to concentrate special activities—variously called revivals, mis-sions and protracted meetings—into the first week of each new year. This was set apart as a week of prayer and is so generally recognized still. But the ten-dency has been noticeable to shift the evangelistic emphasis, so far as the calen-dar is concerned, on to the 40 days pre-ceeding Easter, which commemorate the passion of the Redeemer,
