MALLOWE'EN was very quietly observe ed in Watford. There was none of that sough play and property destroying that charactized the night last year. Several masquerade parties were given in private homes and two of the churches had social gatherings. The youngsters in most families were kept at home celebrating in the time-honored fashion of roasting chestnuts, pulling taffy, etc., and only a few paraded the streets in small groups to show themselves off in "grown-up" clothes and masks. Nigger and hooligan characters seemed most popular with the boys and some of the girls thought their brothers' clothes appropriate now that the ladies have votes. A comparatively the ladies have votes. A comparatively small amount of mischief was in

With the approach of the municipal election season the civic councils of Ontario have to consider whether the rate-payers shall vote on the reducing of assessments on small dwellings. The enabling Act was passed at the last session of the Legislature, but in few cities or towns in the Province are there indications of eagerness to tackle the question. The Act provides that, on the approval of electors qualified to vote on money by-laws, the council may inaugurate exemptions on dwellings on the following scale: Not more than 50 per cent. up to $4,000. 70 per cent. up to $4,000. As the partial exemption applies to the dwellings only, not the land, the inclusion of houses assessed up to $4,000 gives the scheme a very wide sweep. The object of the permissive legislation was to encourage the building of small houses. One objection is that the benefit would go into the pockets of landlords who own about half of the small houses. but go into the pockets of landlords who own about half of the small houses, but if building were encouraged, the shortage would disappear, and rents might tend to easier levels automatically.

ON SUNDAY, Oct. 26th, in the Presbyterian church here, Mrs. R. A. Mitchell M. D., gave a most interesting address on the educational and evangelistic work being done in Weithwei, one of the six stations of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission in Honan Province, China. In her 25 year's experience Mrs. Mitchell has seen great changes, and she urged upon her hearers the necessity for going forward and improving the opportunity lying beyond the "opened door" which is already being entered by those who wish to exploit that great land for mere selfish interests. The British nnd American Tobacco Trust has agents travelling over China, and are importing into that country cigarettes—not by degrees or hundreds—but by carloads for free distribution, to create a taste for them among these people who so recently drove from their land the infamous opium trade. Then, too, the Brewers' and Distiller's Associations, when there saw the trade. Then, too, the Brewers' and Dis-tillers' Associations, when they saw the downfall of their trade on this continent imminent, repaired to the Eastern world, and are now distributing freely thy flasks of spirits, among a people to whom drunkenness has hitherto been unknown. Already a number of breweries and distilleries are being operated there and strong drink is being largely imported, not only into China, but also into Japan, Korea, India, Formosa and all these eastern lands. In the Committee of eastern lands. In the Committee of Missions, agreed upon at the Edinburgh Conference a few years ago, when the work of evangelizing the heathen world was divided among the heathen world was divided among the churches of Christendom, 15,000,000 was the number apportioned to the Presbytertan church in Canada. Of these 8,000,000 are in China. Mrs. Mitchell urged that in view of our recent great deliverance from the trade of strong drink, the people make greater efforts than ever before to carry christian influence to this land so wonchristian influence to this land so wonderfully opening to Western ideas and improvements. The annual thankoffer-ing of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary was received at this service which amounted in all to about $106.

Boy Accidentally Kills Companion and Ends His Own Life

Alvinston, Nov. 2—While out hunting Saturday afternoon two boys were killed. Russell Barnes was accidentally shot by his chum, John Horsepool, and instantly killed. Horsepool, in the excitement and remorse over the accident, shot and killed himself. Coroner Dr. Newell of Watford decided that no inquest was necessary. The boys were about 16 yrs. old. The town is overcome at the news of the tragedy.

Barnes and Horsepool, who reside a short distance from here, accompanied by several other boy chums, started out on a hunting trip. A short distance in the woods they sighted a squirrel and armed with .32 calibre rifles stood one on each side of the tree, awaiting its descent. When the squirrel came down Horsepool fired. The bullet lodged in Barnes' brain, causing almost instant death.

PREMIER DRURY MAKES FIRST SPEECH

Tells Barrie Meeting Time of Depression Coming and Recommends Purchase of Loan

Barrie, Nov. 3.—Without heroics patriotic superlatives or any appeal to sentimentality, Ontario's Premier designate, Ernest Charles Drury, delivered here tonight his maiden speech since receiving his call to form a Provincial Government.

He appealed for the support of the Victory Loan.

I want you to bear in mind first, that there is coming inevitably a time of deflation of prices. Secondly, I want you to fiation of prices. Secondly, I want you to-realize that the only thing we need to fear is an economic condition where it takes-too large a share of our products to pay our foreign interest. There is nothing to fear about the amount of money we owe-ourselves at home. The thing we have to fear is our foreign borrowings, and the interest on those borrowings, that it does not become so great that it requires does not become so great that it requires too large a proporation of our labor to pay our interest on them. "Our foreign indebtedness is not so

"Our foreign indebtedness is not so great that it many way affects the stability of Canada, Work on our resources wan pull us through. We could conceivably raise a foreign loan in the United States, but what happens? We are committed to pay interest to that country, and our credit is affected, and the value of the Canadian dollar goes down. But if we raise that the home the down. But if we raise it at home the money doesn't come out of business al-ready invested. We do not expect men to take money out of their farms or their factories to invest in Victory bonds. They could not do it and it would not be sound business. "In raising our Victory Loan at home the money comes out of the current spendings of citizens, who, instead of spending, are retrenching and saving.

'The safest investment that can be made by any Canadian at the present time's, of loaning that money to the nation. It is good business for the individual; it assists to maintain the credit of the nation, and it provides work for the national industries. It is in the nature of an insurance policy, of spreadnature of an insurance policy, of spreading losses over a large number of people until it becomes negligible. It is an investment not backed by any single industry of the nation. One per cent. of the industries may fail; ten per cent. of the industries could fail, and still the investment would be gilt-edged. The safest investment you could possibly make in Victory boyds and it is the biggest is in Victory bonds, and it is the biggest thing you could possibly do for your country at the present time. "The time will come, not very far off, when wages will have dropped and the value of a bushel of wheat will have dropped to one half the value it is now. In that day your bonds will have twice the present value. It will be worth while in those years to own $1000 worth of Vectory bonds.

"There is one feature about this issue most highly to me, and that is that they are taxable. Every bond we issued should have been taxable, because it is to be feared that former issue of non-taxable bonds are drifting into the hands of men with big incomes who wish to avoid taxation. It was not needed, this non-taxibility teature, because the small consum-er, the man who invested his savings, did not need a tax remittal to get him to

"I give to you my sincere conviction that the best thing we can do at present for ourselves and for our country is to lend our money to the nation. It is urg-ently needed. The Government must

CANADA'S FUTURE DEPENDS ON LOAN

teady Employment and Prosperity Hangs on Victory Loan.

Canada's future prosperity depends to a great extent upon the success of the Victory Loan. No country can exist upon trade within its own boundaries. Canada counts on the trade with Great Britain and other allied countries to keep the flood of good times in the country.

The surplus products of the farm and the factory find their way across the seas. The revenue of the farmer and the manufacturer is dependent on this trade relationship being sustained. The employment of many hands depends on the orders that come to the firm. The pay envelope only comes with steady employment. Great Britain and overseas countries are still desirous of continuing trade relations, but, overwhelmed with war expenses, they must be given credits for the time being. The farmer and the manufacturer mustbe paid for their products and manufactured articles in cash. Therefore, Canada must finance the proposition to keep the tide of commerce coming this way. But in order to have the money on hand to do this great thing, Canada must borrow from her people.

The Victory Loan offers bonds to subscribers paying 5 1/2 per cent. interest. The guarantee behind the bonds makes them an absolutely safe investment. Victory Bonds are accepted as collateral at any bank, and can easily be turned into money at a profit. It is then to the interests of every Canadian to subscribe for all the Victory Bonds he can, for it is profitable, it is patriotic, and it is necessary for the continued prosperity of the country.

CANADA NEEDS MONEY

War Expenditures Still to Be Met From Proceeds of Victory Loan.

The war is over and won; but Canada's main expenditures for war will not be complete until well on into 1920. The $610,000,000 raised has year has all been spent, $400,000,000 having been largely devoted to soldiers—to maintaining them bring. diers—to maintaining them, bring-ing them home, providing the neces-sary medical services, training them. Most of the balance of the loan was lent to Great Britain to enable her to buy our surplus products. And money is still necessary — for soldiers, for providing markets, for our surplus products, for the needs of reconstruction. And that is why an-other Victory Loan is necessary. Canada still needs money, and needs

MAKING CORN SILAGE

Fill the Silo So as to Avod Silage Ferme-tation.

Much Depends Upon the Stage of Growth—The First Two Weeks In the Silo Largely Decides the Matter of Fermentation—The Use of Lactic Acid Recommended.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

HE quality and preservation of silage is largely depen-dent upon the character of the fermentation which takes place mostly during the first ten days or two weeks after the corn is filled into the silo. In order to control the character of the fermentation so as to get the best results several factors have to be taken into consideration

1st. The silo should be well con-structed and have no air leaks. Wherever air penetrates it will cause rot ever air penetrates it will cause for in the silage.

2nd. The corn should be well developed with the cobs at least in the dough stage. If the corn is immature the resultant silage is liable to be too high in moisture, poor in consistency and sour. Its feeding value will be much less than that of mature much less than that of mature

3rd. In filling the silo the corn should be well scattered around and evenly packed. If steps are not tak-en to ensure this the heavier parts of the corn, such as the cobs and stalks, will be liable to settle in one place and the lighter leaves be blown around to the outer edges, thus causing the development of a hard core where the heavier pieces settle, and a soft, spongy, air-infiltrated area where the lighter pieces fall. Such a condition will ruin the fermentation and induce rot.

The fermentation commences practically as soon as the silage is in the silo, and will be good or bad according to the prevailing conditions as described above.

The fermentation is induced by plant enzymes, which are within the plant tissues, and various species of bacteria and yeasts which are present on the corn when it is filled in

These bacteria, yeasts and plant enzymes act on some of the starch and sugar that is present in the corn changing the starch first to sugar and then to acids, alcohol and carbon di-oxide, and various other products of fermentation of somewhat minor significance.

The acids, more particularly the lactic acid thus produced, constitute the preservative substance ensuring good silage. It is desirable to get the maximum amount of lactic acid produced quickly with the minimum amount of alcohol and carbon di-oxide as these two latter pass off as gas and thus mean loss of the sugar content as they, as well as the lactic acid, are made from the sugar.

Lactic acid bacteria are responsible for the production of the lactic ible for the production of the alcohol and much of the carbon di-oxide. Lactic acid bacteria and yeasts as some undesirable kinds of bacteria and molds are usually present in and molds are usuany process. considerable numbers on the corn at the time it is filled into the silo. the time it is filled into the silo. The problem is to induce the lactic acid bacteria to get ahead of the other kinds of bacteria and yeasts that are present, as when sufficient lactic acid is produced it prevents the other kinds of bacteria and yeasts from developing, otherwise they would cause loss through undesirable type of fermentation.

The lactic acid bacteria which cause the desirable fermentation in silage are the same as those which cause the souring of milk. Consequently, if freshly well-soured milk, which will have millions of the lactic acid bacteria present, is scattered evenly over the cut corn from time to ime in the silo as it is being filled, this will ensure the presence of an abundance of lactic acid bacteria ready to act right at once so that the requisite lactic acid will be rapidly gradually settles and the air that was present in the mass gradually gets used up in the fermentation pro-If more air penetrates into cesses. the mass through defective silo walls it will enable various molds to grow and these use up the lactic acid and develop, thus causing the silage to rot.—Prof. D. H. Jones, O. A. C.,

When to Cut Corn for the Silo. Corn cut when the grains have eached the glazed stage contain almost twice as much digestible matter as corn cut at tasseling time; corn cut at glazing time, therefore, is best for silage. These statements, says Andrew Boss, vice-director of the Minnesota Experimental Station, are based on analyses made by chemists of the Dominion of Canada at Ottawa, which show that the corn from an average acre cut at the glazing period contains 7 308 prompts of directions. od contains 7.308 pounds of digestible matter as against 4.220 pounds when the corn is cut at tasseling

"Samples of corn were analyzed," says Mr. Boss, "that had been taken at all stages from tasseling to silk-

ing, early mist and rate mist, and glazing. These analyses show strongly in favor of allowing the corn to reach that stage of maturity when the kernels are well dented or glazed before it is cut. At that time the lower leaves are usually beginning to turn yellow. The figures show that while there is a larger amount of green corn on the acre when the corn is in the tasseling stage, the total amount of dry matter is not nearly so great then as when the corn has glazed.

"The dry matter per ton amounts "The dry matter per ton amounts to 285 pounds at the tasseling stage, 323 at the silking stage, 389 in the early milk, 444 at the late milk, and 522 pounds at the glazing stage."

BULBS FOR BRIGHTENING

Outdoor Culture of Hardy Spring Flowering Bulbs.

An Open Situation Desirable and Reasonable Care In Planting With Protection During the First Winter_Fall Pasture for Stock.

Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

HERE is probably no class of plants that gives more satisfaction and are more thoroughly appreciated by the flower lover than a collection of spring flowering blubs, flowering as they do from quite early in spring, even before the winter covering of snow has entirely left us, until well on into the early months of summer before but very few of the other border plants are in flower. Their bright flowers are doubly acceptable bright flowers are doubly acceptable on this account.

Location.—Bulbs are best planted where there is good drainage and where no surface water lies in winter or early spring. When planted in masses or beds, it is best to have the soil in the centre of the bed a few inches higher than the margin, so as to pitch the water off readily. Bulbs succeed best planted in an open situation and not too close under buildings or under the dense shade of trees. For the later flowering of trees. For the later flowering kinds of bulbs, however, that flower about the end of May, such as the Darwin type of tulip, a little shade prolongs the length of the blooming season considerably.

Soil.—The best kind of soil for bulbs in a moderately rich light.

Soil.—The best kind of soil for bulbs in a moderately, rich, light, loamy soil. They will succeed fairly well in a sandy soil, but do not give as fine blooms as in soil of a loamy nature. If the soil is of a clayey nature, dig in some sand or black soil from the bush, or both, to lighten it. Fresh strawy manure should never be dug into the soil when plant-If manure is applied at planting time, it should be well decayed, barnyard manure, almost the nature of the soil itself, even then it should be dug in an inch or two underneath the bulbs so as not to touch them. When to Plant Bulbs.—The best time for planting outdoor bulbs is about the second or third week in October, although bulbs may be planted until the ground is frozen over for the winter, even as late as the end of November or early in December. Later planted bulbs do not, as a rule, however, give as good results. The soil should be thorresults. The soil should be thoroughly dug and raked fine before planting.

Depth to Plant.—All of these smaller growing bulbs should be planted from two to three inches under the soil and quite thickly to-gether, an inch and a half or two inches apart, to give a good effect. The Tulips, Dutch Hyacinths and Narcissi grow about twelve to eigh-teen inches in height and can be dotted in masses or blocks in flower beds, or in groups more towards the back of a perennial border. They are also very effective planted in groups among or around shrubs. Tulips and Narcissi should be planted about four inches under the sur ed about four inches under the surface of the soil and about six inches apart. A group of these of a circular or oval shape, fifteen to twenty inches in diameter, especially Narcissi, has a very pleasing and bright effect in early spring, dotted here and there over the perennial or mixed Protecting Bulbs in Winter .-- All bulbs, especially late planted ones are best protected during the first winter, as it prevents the bulbs from heaving and lifting. Bulbs that have become well established in the border require very little if any protection in winter. Long, strawy manure, straw or coarse grass about three or four inches in depth, make a good winter covering. Green pine boughs laid covering. Green pine boughs laid over the manure prevent unsightliness. Pine boughs alone make a good winter protection. Dutch Hyacinths especially need some protection in winter, as they are not as hardy as Tulips and Narcissi. The covering should be taken off about the end of March or early in April, when the weather has become settled. Remove the covering part at a time, taking away the wet underneath part first and replacing an inch or so of the lighter part for a week or so until the top growth of bulbs becomes hardened to the weather. Hot sun is often as injurious to bulb growth as late spring frosts late spring frosts.

Pasture Necessary for Stock In Fall,

One of the essential factors in keeping live stock in good condition through the fall and early winter, which is highly important, is good fall pasture, says AndrewBoss, vice-director of the Minnesota Experiment director of the Minnesota Experiment Station. Nothing excells the grasses for pasture, though nixtures of the grasses and clover are better than either grasses or clover alone and furnish the best kind of feed for all kinds of stock. Where an abundance of cultivated grasses can be obtained for pasture no further attention need be given the subject. Meadow aftermath containing clover, or timothy, and clover, makes good fall feed. Clover growing in the stubble field is also an excellent fall pasture.

Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what! is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache. headache, weakening pains, irregularities, inflammations, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root and Oregon grape root. Dr. Pierce knew when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedies. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it, in liquid or

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Toronto World urges that a seat in the Legislature be opened up for Sir Adam Beck in Toronto. "Since London was so apathetic to her greatest benefactor." says The World, "it would be entirely fitting if Toronto provided him with a seat. Toronto owes Sir Adam as nuch as to any man, and Toronto would be honored by being able to number him among her representatives."

The Canadian dollar which is worth only from ninety-five to ninety-six cents in the markets of the United States today is worth one dollar and fitteen cents in the British markets. The exchange value of a dollar has, of course, nothing to do with its intrinsic value. The production of any country is its gold in the markets of the world. The wealth of a country can be gauged by its capacity for production. The fact that Canada's money is below par in the market of the United States, means that Canada is buying too heavily from and selling too little to her neighbor in the south. Purchasing American goods by Canadians is bad business on the face of it, and the moral is to buy at home where the dollar buys a dollar's worth, or buy from Britain where the dollar buys $1.15 worth. But the producer who in that way is doing his part, can do most to recover the balance of trade, for the remedy lies in increased production, by farm, by sea fisheries, by mine and by factory. In increased production lies the crux of the matter. The value of the Canadian dollar will expand in direct proportion as Canada ships more goods than she imports.

Speaking of the retirement of Hon. Dr. Cody from the position of Minister of Education the Mail and Empire says, "He turned out to be an ideal Minister. He had the right conception of the mission to which he was called by Sir. Wm. Hearst." He has done a great service to this Province, and his retirement from office will be a serious public loss. His work, however, will not be lost. In the comparatively short time he was in charge of the Education Department he did work that was not only very considerable in quantity, but was of the very highest quality. It is work that will prove enduring. Whoever his successor may be, he will scarcely be so unwise as to touch the grand reforms that have been established by Dr. Cody. We hope for the sake of the Province, that the faext Minister of Education will be a man of the same lofty views of the function of Education in promoting the good and the happiness of society and will have the same practical ability to draw up and apply reforms springing from those views. The new Government will find it difficult indeed to replace Dr. Cody with a minister possessing a like degree of public confidence.

BUYS A BIG PLANT

A ten-acre plant comprising ten large buildings and covering more than 235,000 feet of factory space right in Toronto, is to be devoted to the manufacture of Columbia Grafonolas and records. The Columbia Graphophone Company has beight from the Imperial Munitions Beard, the plant of Canadian Aeroplanes Limited, on Dufferin street, north of Lappin avenue. With one exception this is the largest plant under one roof in Toronto.

This extensive purchase was made, according to officials of the Columbia Graphophone Company, to take care of the rapidly and consistently expanding demand in Canada for their product. Both Grafonolas and records are to be made under the same roof, and the company will take advantage of the drying kilus installed for the manufacture of aeroplanes to make their own cabinets for the Grafonolas. The company officials state that the support of the trade in Canada has justified this big development and made it possible.

The New Motor Car

THE CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since the Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car, built in Canada by Canadians, for Canadians. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large, heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small, light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads: they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All viral parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed driving gears and shafts are made of alloy steel.

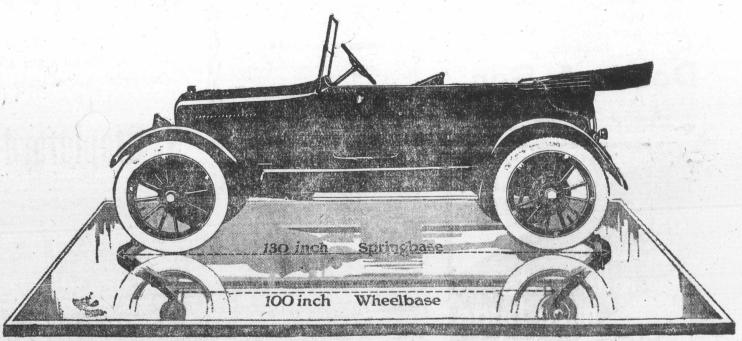

The equipment list of Overland 4 is like that of expensive cars: Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System, Electric Horn—Specially Resilient Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor, and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick, sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces,

The bride wore a travelling suit of brown serge with hat to match. The happy couple left amid showers of confett, and motored to Sarnia where they took the train for Detroit.

Economy of Ford Service

WEAR is unavoidable even in the VV best car, but certain parts wear out more quickly than others. There is no need of scrapping your car because the piston rings have seen their day, because the platinum points of the vibrators are worn out. Probably the rest of the car is as good as new.,

Medical men agree that the human body is renewed, cell by cell, every seven years. You can do the same with your Ford Car and prolong its life at minimum cost by replacing worn parts from time to time.

> Ford service has been the means of doubling the lives of hundreds of Ford Cars, and cutting down the cost of motoring. The fact that a Ford Touring Car, which costs $690, f. o. b. Ford, Ont., can be purchased part by part separately for $917 is ample proof of the economy of driving a Ford Car.

It will pay you to have your car overhauled during the winter months. 700 Canadian Dealers and over 2,000 Service Garages supply genuine Ford parts and prompt repair service.

When buying, choose a Ford, and take advantage of the economy of Ford service.

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWING INFLUENZA

Strength Can Only be Regained by Enriching the Blood.

Following a wide spread epidemic of influenza, general debility is on the increase, and its effects may be noticed in the worn listless appearance of so many of the upen and women you meet. Influent of the men and women you meet. Influenza always leaves behind it impaired vitality, and with the modern conditions general debility becomes one of the most common maladies. The symptoms of debility vary, but weakness is always present. There is poor digestion, langour weak, aching back, wakefulness at night, often distressing headaches and a feeling of fatigue. These symptoms indicate of fatigue. These symptoms indicate impure and impoverished blood. It is significant of nearly every attack of influenza that it is followed by anaemia and debility.

For all such run-down conditions, new blood is the most reliable cure, sufferers should at once begin to make thin blood rich and red with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Under fair treatment with this medicine they will realize more and more the health-restoring influence of good rich blood; and how this new blood good rich blood; and how this new blood brings a feeling of new strength and in-creased vitality. Proof is given in the case of Mrs. G. Robertson, Wingham, Ont., who says:—"When the Spanish influenza spread over our town I happen-ed to be one of the first attacked, and the attack was a very severe one, and worse still the after effects of the trouble left me in continuous misery. I had severe pains in my left side, felt low spirited. and with no ambition whatever. My head and with no ambition whatever. My head ached almost continually, my eyes felt heavy, and pimples broke out on my face. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them for a time I felt like my old self able to do my housework, and feeling well and strong. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the serious after-effects of influence as I am sure they will.

influenza as I am sure they will restore all sufferers to good health."
You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Kitty, My Pretty White Kitty

By S. B. HACKLEY

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure News-paper Syndicate.)

"De house is full up, sah." The shining, white-aproned embodiment of suavity and importance, on the steps of the high-class boarding house of the Misses Lovejoy, in the little health resort town of Boiling Springs, bowed his clipped head well-nigh touched the elusive pink spider lilies in the flower boxes beside the piazza "I has to ostend to you de intensitest regrets o' my ladies, but eb-buh room is takened. De last one wah bespoke by wiah dis foahnoon."

When a man all his fifty years gets everything he wants and goes 700 miles on his physician's recommendation of the water and baths for a rheumatic knee, he naturally feels vexed when, at his journey's end, he doesn't get the first of his wishes granted.

Terry Alderson's fine dark eyes clouded a bit as he turned away and started across the high sloping street toward the Coppell house, recommended as the second best boarding house in Boiling Springs.

And just then "Miss Nellie," a little, slim, auburn-haired and smiling lady about thirty-five years of age, with the gentlest, softest brown eyes, came up the street. Alderson met her at her gate. His face cleared instantly, and when she stooped to pat the immense white cat that advanced to meet her, with "Kitty, pretty white kitty, are you glad to see me?" on her lips, an unreasoning twinge of jealousy went over him. Why should a beauteous creature like that waste affection on a cat?

That evening Alderson sat on the upstairs porch that opened off his room at Mrs. Coppell's, and in the full light of the moon he watched Miss Nellie Lovejoy as she stood by the row of sweet-scented daturas, whose great, dew-covered white bells made a glory of the Lovejoy side yard. Then he saw her stoop and pat the white cat that followed her.

"I wouldn't mind being that cat," he thought whimsically.

The next afternoon, coming from the bathhouse at the springs, some distance from the boarding place, Alderson overtook Miss Lovejoy going home from her work as a clerk at Framm's store. He spoke to her, and making a pretense of desiring some information, walked along with her as far as her gate.

Ten days of religiously drinking the mineral waters and taking the baths and Alderson's rheumatic knee was nearly well, but he was having strange feelings in the vicinity of his heart.

He had never cared anything for women as he knew them in the North, ed with an auburn-haired Southern lady, with a voice like soft, rippling water and eyes like pools in the forest, Boxes of roses began quite frequently to come down on "No. 11," the late afternoon train, from the nearest big town for Miss Nellie Lovejoy, and fancy wicker boxes of chocolates without number, with "T. M. Alderson's" card inclosed.

And Mirs Nellie glowed and dimpled and smiled until the Framm customers, who had always loved her, fairly worshiped her.

And in the seventh heaven of delight Jonathan received the boxes of candy and flowers, and watched through the front door screen each afternoon the gentleman from Detroit, as he lingered at the gate, loath to lift his hat from his handsome gray head in good-by to Miss Nellie.

About three o'clock one morning of the fifth week of his stay in Boiling Springs Alderson was awakened by a "meowing" in the back yard. For an hour there was a continuous squalling. When the cat finally ceased its noise Alderson, who loved late sleeping, could sleep no more. He rose thorough ly exasperated. The next night there was a repetition of the feline serenade. Alderson bounded from his bed and saw in the yard below the balcony the big, white cat that belonged at the Lovejoy house. He threw a convenient golf stick in its direction and returned to bed, but sleep was gone.

"To whom does the white cat that stays at your house belong?" Alderson asked a bit stiffly of Miss Nellie as he overtook her on her way home that afternoon.

"Snow Darling?" she smiled. "Oh, he belongs to Mrs. Gilman, an old lady who has made her home here so long and we all make a pet of him," she went on in her musical tones.

"If he keeps up that after-midnight noise as he did last night and the night before," Alderson commented, "some body'll make a corpse of him."

"Why, we—we didn't hear any loise," Miss Nellie remonstrated, "you

Three nights went by before the white cat again serenaded the Cornell house. Then two nights togethe: derson's rest was broken. At that the he was the only boarder who slept an that side of the lause, and the one, one who heard the caterwauling. At the end of the second night Alderson went to the Lovejoy house and remonstrated.

Miss Nellie was not at home, but Misses Euphemia and Jessie expressed their regret and promised to try to get Mrs. Gilman to keep "Snow Darling" in at night. Alderson went home somewhat mollified.

Jonathan watched him uneasily as e took his departure. "Ef my ladies knowed what was good fur 'em,' he commented, "dey'd invest in about a dime's wuth o' 'Shoah-death-to-cats' and administer hit unbeknownst! But bein' ole maids, poah thengs, dey don't know dat when you gits a man mad-he'll fuhgit about bein' in de marryin' notion!"

Before breakfast next morning Alderson appeared at the Lovejoy house, tremulous with nervous anger. Miss Nellie opened the door. "I'm sorry if the kitty disturbed you," her soft voice was very sweet, "but Mrs. Gilman loves him so, she can't bear to restrain his liberty and fasten him up at Alderson's exasperation broke out in mild fury. "Loves the pestiferous bunch of fur, does she? I love sleep, too, and I'm going to stay in the house where I am and get it! The next time that cat disturbs me, I'm going to restrain his liberty-with a bullet!"

"That wouldn't be right," quavered Miss Nellie. Alderson turned abruptly and left her without another word. He was not disturbed that night, but he next day he kept out of Miss Nellie's way. The night after, at the usual hour of half-past three, he was awakened by a feline wailing. He rose nstantly. A single shot from his pearlhandled revolver and "Snow Darling" was no more.

Next day a very fat and exceedingly irate lady telegraphed her son to come to her. Jacob came. Alderson was haled into the police court and fined ten dollars for shooting Mrs. Gilman's

"I'll go to jail and dry up before I pay that fine!" he informed the court. "Sixty days in jail or the fine paid!" nswered the judge.

"I'll live on bread and water for the next two months in my cell before I will pay that fine!" Alderson commented.

The town rang with the tale. "De jailer says dat Detroit man's a-gettin' pale and his rheumatism's comin' back on him—not gittin' his mineral baths and de water. He say he plumb oneasy about him!" Miss Nellie overheard Jonathan saying to the cook about a week after Alderson's incarceration. Suppose he died of the heat or something? For three nights Miss Nellie cried herself to sleep. Then she could stand it no longer. She went to the judge's office and paid Alderson's fine. The judge, supposing that Alderson had requested his landlady to bring the money, to spare himself mortification, sent an order to the jailer: "Re-ease T. M. Alderson. Fine paid." "Judge said your fine was paid and to turn you out. That's all I know!" The jailer answered Alderson's remon-

He went to the judge. "Who dared to pay that fine?" he demanded. "Lady brought it. Supposed you sent it by your landlady," answered his honor.

Fuming with anger, Alderson strode off in the direction of the woods across the river. In a thicket of pines lying prone on the pine needles, sobbing like a hurt child, he came upon Miss Nellie. At sight of the little disconsolate fig-ure in the leaves he felt his anger cool. A twig broke under his feet. She sat up, shaking.

"Oh, don't be angry with me!" she begged. "They said you were sick and suffering in that awful jail and I—I couldn't bear it! I went and paid your

With the touch of the wind, sweet with piney fragrance, in his flushed face and Miss Nellie's low sobs in his ears, Alderson's pride and obstinacy fled. Nothing mattered but that little white bundle at his feet. He bent over and lifted her.

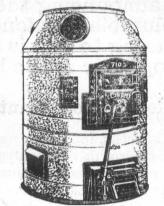

"You were afraid I couldn't rough it out?" he said, very tenderly. "You thought I needed somebody to look after me? I do, and for all time! Won't you do it, little girl?"

Children Cry for Fletcher's

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. ## SKIRTS FULLER ACROSS HIPS

Feature That Is Now Insisted On by Leading Parisian Dressmakers.

SOME GIVE PANNIER EFFECT

Startling Novelties, It is Sure, Will Figure in the Gowns for Autumn, but Long-Walsted Bodice Will Be Retained.

The most striking feature of the autumn suits and gowns is the increasing fullness at the top of the skirts. The ways in which the great French dressmakers achieve this fullness are interesting. One point on which mest of them agree is that the fullness must be massed across the hips, leaving both front and back perfectly flat.

Bulloz, however, has departed from this by introducing fullness across the front of his new skirts, thereby differing from the other designers. He makes one skirt with a full front panel gathered across the top. A little above the knee this panel has its fullness joined to a shaped flounce cut so that the greatest fullness of the flounce is at the edge where it joins the panel.

An instance in which Bulloz, like the other designers, placed the fullness at the sides appears in a skirt which has winglike pockets to give the effect of panniers. This is decidedly new and unusual on a suit skirt. The jacket which accompanies it flares from the waist, giving such full-ness about the hips that it approaches the point of clumsiness. But al-though both skirt and coat are so very full at the hips the skirt still remains narrow at the hem.

Mme. Jenny does something novel in the way of achieving hip fullness by making a skirt of very slim outline and applying to it rolled plaits which stand out over the hips. make them even more pronounced she pads these rolls, which swing loose from the belt and disappear gradually into the narrowing fullness of the skirt lower down. The chemise dress, which has held the center of the fashion stage for so long, was originally launched by Jenny. She still makes chemisto dresses, which have been her favorites for the last three years, but she does something which fits them to hold their own among the wider hip models. Now Jenny's chemise dresses have wide panels hung at the sides and turned up in a way that gives the effect of a bunching hip basque.

FOR AFTERNOON WEAR. Dress of cream georgette over flesh crepe de chine. Lace and delicately tinted ribbons make this charming.

also puts bulging pockets on the skirts of her tailored suits and lines these pockets with satin, arranging them to look as if they were turned inside

Side Gore Trimmings.

Bernard's method of adding width and attaining the full effect in the skirts of tailored suits is by side gore trimmings which take the form of ruffled pocket flaps standing away from the figure. This is not an entirely new idea, for these outstanding pockets have been used on the front of skirts, but this creator gives them further elaboration by the ruffled flap. The coats which accompany skirts of this sort are three-quarter length and cut flaring with the fullness failing over the htps. On these coats are placed fringed pocket flaps and some-times dangling button trimming. All of these things are applied to further accentingte the width at the hims accentuate the width at the hips.

Paris dressmakers are vying with one another in introducing startling novelties that are just now having their first showing. A craze of the moment is the frock from Premet shown at the extreme right. Jade green satin is the material used for it and the embroidery is of lade and silver. Premet, in this model, obtains the breadth across the hips by placing double frills of silver lace down the sides of the skirt, bordering a tablier panel; thus creating an entirely new silhouette. The satin bodice is snugly molded to the figure and a sash of the satin placed about the waist disappears beneath the panel at the front. Latest Hip Flare.

The fluted or plaited tunic is another method of producing the fashlongble hip flare now so characteristic of the newest frocks. Taffeta is frequently used for models of this

The long-waisted bodice appears in almost all of these models. A black taffeta day gown, featuring such a bodice and the fluted tunic is sketched today. The half low neck is round in outline and embroidered with claret colored bugle beads. The sash, which is really a continuation of the long bodice, has its ends fringed with deep red bugles,

Evening dresses still have very little in the way of bodices. Black satin skirts topped only by bright col-ored sashes produce some of the new dance frocks. From the house of Brandt in Paris comes such a dance frock. It is simply a black satin skirt attached to a sash. The long, slender train is made of ribbon. A vivid bit of color is introduced by having the sash corsage and train of orchidee pink satin ribben. The ribben used for the train is very much narrower than that which forms the sash bodice. The shoulder straps are of jet beads. Slipners of orchidee satin with stockings to match are worn with this frock. Autumn hats are neither large nor small but of medium size. The Chinese note is conspicuous in them, bright Chinese silk embroideries being used to form round crowns which are completed by small uprolling brims of Hint From Russia.

It is some time since Russia has been looked to as a source of fashion, but that designers are turning their thoughts toward that country is evinced by a high draped Russian tur-ban formed of gray felt and trimmed at the front with full sprays of fancy gray feathers.

Still another hat showing Russian influence has a small crown with an upturned brim curved high in front. Softly draped satin forms both the and brim which are embroidered in heavy threads of blue silk. To correspond with the flaring hip frills of frocks, many of which have wider edges, are bell shaped hats having as their trimming wired ruffles of taffeta which cross the tcp of the
