EXPLOSION SOON ON BILINGUAL QUESTION

Ultimatum Demanding That French Be Sole Language Sent to Two Leaders, and Claim Made That Rowell Agreed to Support It While Whitney Refused.

Something akin to an explosion is expected today when the details are learned of the French-Canadian ultimatum to the Ontario Government on the matter of bilingual schools. This ultimatum, it is understood, has been laid before the government and Mr. Rowell within the last few days, and the demand is far-reaching. The vital clause is, that in bilingual schools, French must be the sole language of instruction and communication.

The storm is likely to centre about the fact that it is claimed there is proof to show that the circular, signed by leading French-Canadian authorities through Ontario, inspired the speech of N. W. Rowell at Cornwall on Saturday last, an act that whereas the Whitney government in the words of Messrs. Lucas and Pyne have declared that they will stand by the present regulations, Mr. Rowell has agreed to support the advocates of the French language.

"There is going to be a three house-cleaning over this," said a member of the Orange order last evening when acquainted with the details. "Now that we know where Mr. Rowell stands, every Orangeman is bound to stand firm by the Whitney government. Rowell is plainly counting on gaining the French-Canadian ridings by his adoption of their appeal."

Educational Rights.

To show that the opposition leader was not being misjudged he quoted from the address of a French speaker at the Cornwall meeting (delivered in French) wherein he had called upon the assembly to support the Liberal party, for then they would gain their educational rights. Immediately following came Mr. Rowell's speech containing the statement that if French Canadian parents desired their children to study French in the schools he could see objection from no citizen in the province.

Sir James Refused.

The letter sent to the government contains two other clauses to which violent exception is taken. Sir James Whitney in repeated declarations had refused to countenance. It demands that in all two-room schools the attendance be divided, and that French be taught in one room and English in the other. The same idea is applied to one-room schools, where the class would be divided and French be used for one group and English for the other. This in a single room a double system of teaching would be instituted.

The placing of these demands before both government and opposition has been done with the utmost secrecy, and the fact that the outcome was to be considered an ultimatum in the present election was emphasized.

SUFFRAGETTES TO SEE ASQUITH

Premier Will Receive Deputation Because of Dramatic Threat of Sylvia Pankhurst.

LONDON, Friday Morning, June 19.—Premier Asquith has capitulated to the suffragettes. He has consented to receive a deputation of east end working women in Downing street Saturday morning.

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst's attempt to carry out her threat of a hunger strike at the entrance to the house of commons unless the premier yields to the demand that he listen to a delegation of women, was largely responsible for the prime minister's decision. The efforts of James Keir Hardie, the socialist independent member of parliament, and George Lansbury, an ex-member, with the premier, helped the militant suffragette leader to bring him to his knees.

The victory is a distinct one, because Sylvia Pankhurst was arrested about a week ago for attempting to lead a procession of east end women to Westminster to demand the audience which Mr. Asquith has now promised.

Holloway jail opened its doors tonight to Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, who was arrested and pale after her eighth successive hunger strike, but still determined. She drove to Westminster immediately in a motor car with a woman friend, and rebuffed Mr. Keir Hardie, who was sitting on the steps of the central entrance to the House of Commons, propped up with a cane and supported in the arms of a woman friend. Mr. Lansbury came out with the premier. Premier Asquith had been waiting.

EMPRESS FAULTY WITH STEERING, SAYS SAILOR

Wheel Jammed Few Hours Before Collision, Declares Quartermaster at Inquiry—Statements Denied by Other Member of Crew, Who Relieved Him.

Canadian Press Despatch.
QUEBEC, June 18.—Assertions by James Francis Galway, a quartermaster, that the Empress of Ireland did not steer well, that her wheel jammed only a few hours before the collision which sent her to the bottom of the St. Lawrence on May 29, that she swerved badly in the river and that the crew of the steamer Alden could verify these statements, and the denials of these claims by responsible officers of the lost liner made today's session of the Dominion commission enquiring into the wreck one of quickly changing and gripping interest from start to finish.

Lord Mersey seemed alone among those in court in his decision not to be excited by the promise and the ultimate production of Galway's evidence. He began by stating that he did not attach much importance to it, and wound up by putting questions to the witness who was in charge of the wheel of the liner just a few hours before she went down, which seemed to indicate that the current of the St. Lawrence was responsible for the Empress' misbehavior, as his lordship styled Galway's description of the ship's disobedience of the helm.

Rebuttal Evidence.

Evidence to rebut Galway's story and also the suggestion made during the day that the C. F. R. had tried to get him to leave the country before testifying, was supplied by John Murphy, the quartermaster who relieved him, and who contradicted his statement about warning him that the ship was steering badly, and was also supplied by Adelard Bernier, the pilot in charge of her when the jamming was said to have occurred, and several of the Empress officers.

Galway got a severe grueling from Lord Mersey and Butler Aspinall, K.C., counsel for the C. F. R., but the very much flustered, as might be expected, he stuck to the main part of his accusations against the Empress' steering gear.

Lord Mersey Sarcastic.

The springing of Galway's evidence by C. S. Haight, New York, counsel for the owners of the Stordard, caused Lord Mersey to lose that equanimity which has, up to now, been a distinguishing feature of his conduct of the proceedings. He made biting remarks about Galway, forgot his name, and referred to him as the man from the Neptune Inn, where the witness was staying, and continually jabbed at him questions as to why, when he considered the steering gear of a ship the "main asset in life saving," he had not mentioned the alleged defect in the Empress' apparatus in giving his story to the C.P.R. lawyers and to a Montreal newspaper. His lordship also developed a sarcastic line of argument while he read Mr. Haight a lesson on his duty to the court, severely condemning what he thought was an attempt on the part of the Stordard legal battery to keep the Galway testimony up their sleeves.

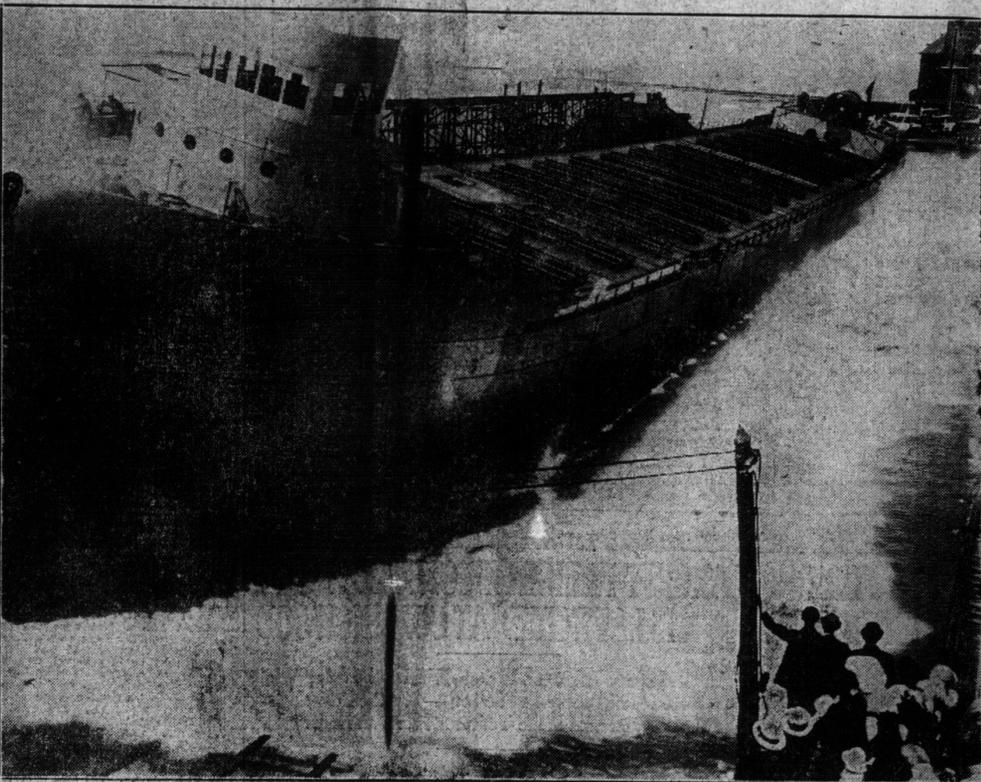

His lordship, however, regained his equanimity towards the end of the afternoon when he initiated a conference among the lawyers who came out of it convinced that the charges of cowardice lodged against some of both the Empress and Stordard crews were unfounded.

Before the question of the vessel's steering qualities came up the C.P.R. lawyers had introduced Robert Henry Brennan and Robert Liddell of the engineering staff of the Empress to corroborate Captain Kendall's statement that after leaving Father Point the ship had been ordered "full speed ahead," "stop and full speed astern," and then "stop." Haight, in cross-examination, indicated a skepticism about the officers' statement that the ship was put from full speed ahead to full speed astern in three minutes, the engineers were emphatic in claiming that it had often been done before.

Captain Walsh of the C.P.R. said that he had heard, rushed to his room to get his belt and not to the boats, as it was his duty to do. He was the only man who had fallen.

Mr. Haight said he was informed that Galway went to his room to awaken his companions.

ROWELL GIVEN GOOD RECEPTION

Other Speakers at Peterboro Rally Severely Heckled—Leader Avoided Bilingual Issue.

PETERBORO, June 18.—The opera house was crowded from pit to dome tonight by a crowd anxious to hear the Liberal leader, who was given a respectful, and at times enthusiastic, reception. The other speakers were heckled and many present were evidently Whitney supporters, but Mr. Rowell was not interrupted at any time.

Mr. Rowell's address was almost entirely confined to the temperance question, which he declared was the main issue between the parties at the coming election. He justified his policy as going as far as the churches and the temperance people had requested, even though it did not do away with existing shop licenses. The bilingual school question was not referred to.

SUSPENSION LEAVES COMPANY IN BAD WAY

LONDON, Friday Morning, June 19.—The suspension of the Canadian agency has placed the Messina Transvaal Development Company in a serious position. A statement issued yesterday gives as the principal item on the side of the liabilities as $295,000, representing the "acceptances by Canadian Agency discounted by the Messina Company, and payable to holders." On the side of the assets is the item of $215,000 under the head of "loans to the Canadian Agency."

HOSPITAL SHIP MAINE IS STILL HARD AGROUND

GLASGOW, Scotland, June 18.—The hospital ship Maine, which went ashore yesterday in the Firth of Lorne, on the west coast of Scotland, was still fast today. She is badly damaged.

The entire crew, together with the patients, all of whom were sailors of the British navy, were picked up by other vessels from the ship's boats, in which they had been placed after the accident.

FIFTEEN LIVES PROBABLY LOST WHEN TRAIN FELL INTO RIVER

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, June 18.—Three women were drowned and it is feared that a dozen other persons perished today, when a passenger train went thru a culvert and into a torrent at Carr Bridge, 23 miles south of Inverness, Scotland.

A thunderstorm that ravaged the north of England and Scotland was responsible for the accident. The train from Perth was crossing the culvert and became derailed, and the culvert, which had become undermined, collapsed and the passenger coaches fell into the water. It is feared that besides the known drowned a dozen other persons were caught in a submerged coach.

BOY IN WAGON WAS RUN OVER

Leslie Matton Was on Wrong Side of Street When He Was Struck by Motor Car.

While pushing his express wagon up Lansdowne avenue, near the intersection of the street with the railway tracks, Leslie Matton, 10-year-old, was run over by a motor car and so badly injured that his recovery is despaired of at the Western Hospital, where he was conveyed in the police ambulance. Kenneth Sinclair of 209 George street, who was driving the motor car, was placed under arrest on a charge of criminal negligence.

The lad was kneeling in the cart and pushing at the same time with one foot. He was proceeding north on the wrong side of the road, and the motor which struck him was driving south.

Sinclair, who is a Jamaican, told the police last night that he was travelling 16 miles an hour when the accident occurred. He said he expected the lad to keep to the right, instead of which he cut across to the curb.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR SALVAGING EMPRESS

Canadian Press Despatch.
QUEBEC, June 18.—The contract to salvage the Empress of Ireland has been let to the Canadian Salvage Association.

It is expected that the salvaging will take two months, and it is not yet decided whether attempts will be made to raise the hull after the valuables and bodies have been removed from her.

NEW EDITOR FOR WAR CRY

Lieut.-Col. Bond, London, Eng., Appointed Editor-in-Chief of S. A. Canadian Publications.

Commissioner McKie of the Salvation Army made an announcement to the headquarters staff yesterday to the effect that Lieut.-Col. John Bond, now editor of The British War Cry, has been appointed by Gen. Booth as editor-in-chief of the army's publications in Canada. Col. Bond has held this position for seven years previously, and was appointed to London, England, in December, 1912. He was succeeded by the late Brigadier Henry W. Walker, who lost his life in the Empress disaster. Col. Bond is expected to arrive in Toronto in the middle of July.

Mrs. Brigadier Potter, widow of the late Brigadier W. Scott Potter, is taking the oversight of the army's women's social work in Hamilton, a position which was left vacant by the late Adjutant Anna Price, who was also lost with the sinking of the SS. Empress of Ireland.

CROP PROSPECTS FINE IN PRAIRIE COUNTRY

Canadian Press Despatch.
WINNIPEG, June 18.—"I have just returned to Winnipeg after a tour of the western prairie provinces reaching into districts far removed from travel," said J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration, and find that with the copious rains during the latter part of last week there is every reason to believe the crop prospects to day are better than they were at this season last year, or even for many years. Wheat is looking unusually well, roots are strong and healthy, and the plants growing up with amazing rapidity."

BELFAST CIVIC RULERS NOT TO VISIT DUBLIN

Canadian Associated Press Cable.
LONDON, June 18.—Belfast Corporation this afternoon decided to decline the invitation of the Council of Aberdeen to attend the civic exhibition in Dublin on the grounds that the intensity of the political situation precluded those holding different opinions from attending the meeting without such an action being misinterpreted.

CRUISERS WILL ARRIVE TODAY

OTTAWA, June 18.—The arrival of the two Japanese cruisers at Vancouver tomorrow is awaited by the government with no small degree of anxious expectancy. The government is firmly resolved that the Hindus on the steamer Komagata Maru shall not be allowed to land, and also that there be no violence or disorder if it can be avoided. The fact that the Hindus, however, are in an ugly mood, not only towards the immigration officials, but also towards the Japanese captain and crew of the ship, and to some extent towards Gurdit Singh, the charterer of the vessel, makes a serious situation.

The government cannot very well do anything, but will be very glad if the arrival of the Japanese cruisers leads to some arrangement by which the troublesome ship will leave Canadian shores.

Hon. W. J. Roche, minister of the interior, who is delaying his departure for the west pending the passing of the trouble, was quite hopeful today that the affair would soon clear.

NEW DISTRICT CHIEFS APPOINTED ON MERITS

The appointment of the new district chiefs, Gunn and Sinclair, is regarded in civic circles as an important step in the direction of increasing the efficiency of the department, the demand for the reorganization of which has been insisted. The appointees are recognized as excellent disciplinarians, who have never in their long careers in the city's service had a mark recorded against them.

TEMPERANCE ACT WAS DEFEATED IN MUSKOKA

Incomplete Returns Indicate That "Wet" Majority Will Reach Four Hundred—Vote Close in Towns, But Townships Showed Marked Hostility to Measure.

Special to The Toronto World.
BRACEBRIDGE, June 18.—The defeat of the Canada Temperance Act in Muskoka seemed certain tonight, when returns from about half the polling places indicated a majority of 400 in opposition to the measure.

In Bracebridge the vote was 217 in favor, 213 against, a majority of 4. In Port Carling the temperance forces had a majority of 34. Incomplete returns in Huntsville and Gravenhurst showed a majority for the act of 42 in the former and 16 for the anti in the latter.

BIG ORANGE GATHERING AT LONDON IN AUGUST

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Ont., June 18.—London Orangemen are preparing for one of the biggest Orange gatherings ever held in this country, when 5000 members of the order of the Black Knights will gather in this city on July 12. Already a guaranteed attendance of 700 alone has been promised from Toronto, while from all corners of the province there will be substantial delegations. It is expected that some of the greatest orators of the order will be present on the occasion and an elaborate program of entertainment is to be arranged.

TWO MEN CAUGHT AFTER A CHASE

Ran Different Ways When Policemen Appeared, But Were Captured and Landed in Cells.

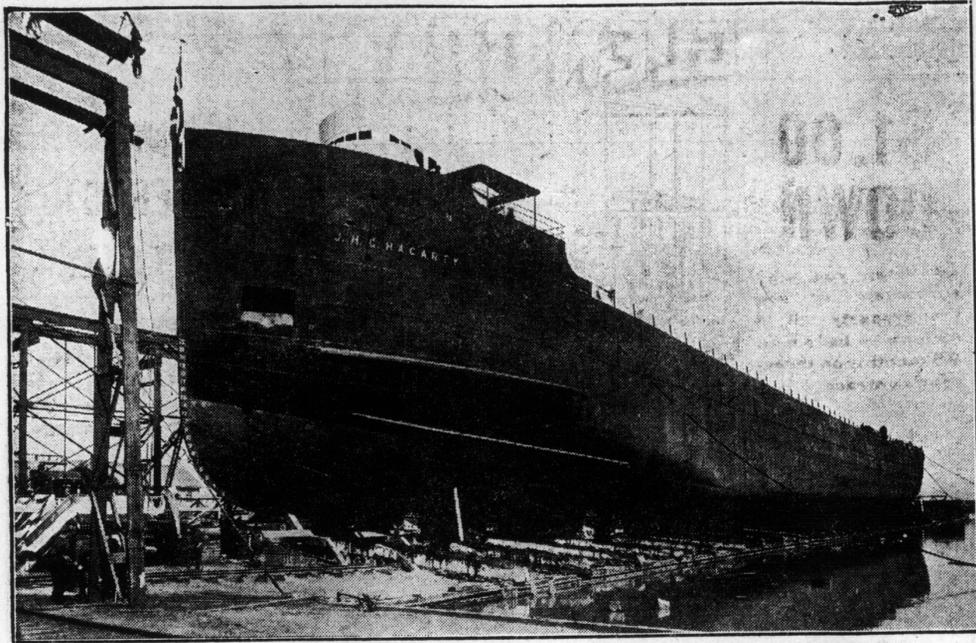

Following a chase extending over half a dozen city blocks, in which three constables and half a dozen citizens participated, Michael Docherty, 67 Duchess street, and Joseph Montague, 113 Sherbourne street, were arrested last evening, charged with having assaulted and robbed Fred Woolington of 56 Knox avenue of $3.35. The hold-up took place on Front street, near the market, at 6:30 last night.

Both the culprits were finally landed by Officer 331. Woolington first laid complaint to Officer 379, on duty at the market, and the two set out to locate the suspects. As soon as they saw the officer coming towards them, however, they took to their heels, one going east and the other west. Officer 331, going north on a Yonge car, saw the chase and alighted just in time to grab Montague. With the other officer he then traced the other man and got him a few minutes later on Duchess street.

KILGOUR STABLE WELL TO FORE FIRST DAY OF HAMILTON SHOW

Toronto Horseman Captures Five Firsts, Two Seconds and Seven Other Prizes — E quine Exhibit Was Opened by Lieutenant - Governor and Large Crowd Attended.

HAMILTON, Friday, June 19.—The first Hamilton horse show opened yesterday afternoon at the H. A. A. grounds with a grand pageantry of impressive ceremonies presided over by Lieut.-Governor Sir John M. Gibson. Over five hundred prominent horse fanciers from all over Canada assembled to pay tribute to the "noblesse servant of man." Canadian society was well represented. In the royal box with the lieutenant-governor were Lady Gibson and the Misses Gibson, together with Col. and Mrs. J. S. Hendrie. The following prominent visitors occupied adjacent boxes: Mrs. William Hendrie and Miss K. Wilks, patronesses of the show; Col. Mewburn, Col. William Hendrie, Sheriff Middleton and Mrs. George Vallance. The big grand stand was a veritable riot of color. The national red, white and blue, intermingled with the show colors, yellow and black, provided a picturesque background for the pretty red and white riding habits of the contesting riders. The crowd gathered around the ring gave the show every appearance of a regular race meet. The track was surrounded by a wall of white canvas, surmounted by a brilliant blaze of color. The rain, which fell in torrents just before the close of the afternoon's program, did not in the least dampen the enthusiasm of either the big audience or the exhibitors. Famous horses from well-known Canadian stables were among the large list of entries in all events. The entry list included the names of the most noted Canadian exhibitors. The largest number of cups and prizes were won by the Joseph Kilgour stables from Sunnybrook Farm, Toronto. Their record for the afternoon was five first prizes, two seconds, four thirds and three fourths. The Yeager entries, from Simcoe, also made a good showing. Opened by Lieutenant Governor. The big show was officially opened when Lieut.-Gov. Sir John Gibson took his seat in the royal box, to the accompaniment of the strains of "The Maple Leaf Forever," played by the Royal 12th Band, which provided music during the entire program. The field was rather short, and the

LARGEST FREIGHTER ON LAKES IS LAUNCHED AT COLLINGWOOD

J. H. G. Hagarty Takes the Water Without Mishap, While Hundreds of People Look ed on — Has the Latest Safety Devices and Will Make Thirteen Knots an Hour.

(By a Staff Reporter.) COLLINGWOOD, Ont., June 18.—More than 10,000 persons witnessed the launching here this afternoon of the steamer "J. H. G. Hagarty." Amid the screech of whistles and cheers of spectators the giant freighter slid slowly down the ways and plunged with a tremendous splash into a dock containing 10 feet of water. The vessel, which is the largest inland waterway craft in the Dominion, was built by the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company, Ltd., for the St. Lawrence and Chicago Steam Navigation Company, to replace the S.S. Carruthers, which was lost in Lake Huron last November. Mrs. Mary Morton Jones of Toronto, niece of John H. G. Hagarty, also of Toronto, after whom the vessel was named, officiated at the christening. The program was carried out without a hitch. At 12:30 o'clock sharp Mrs. Jones cracked the bottle of champagne against the bow, and the great hulk slid down into the water. With Mrs. Jones upon the stand were Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lindsay of Collingwood; Mr. Hagarty, A. A. Wright, Mrs. Casey Wood, and Robert Kerr of Toronto. Cheers and Whistles. As the vessel plunged into the water hearty cheers arose from the crowds which thronged the yards of factories and machine shops, wharves and the shipbuilding company's yards. When other, Morpeth, was given the white ribbon. The cup presented by Mrs. William Hendrie in class 2 of heavy harness mares and geldings was captured by "Royal Fashion," owned by A. G. Bain, Hamilton. "Lady Selkirk," owned by Alfred Lamb, and son of Selkirk took second money. The yellow ribbon prize went to "Lady Warwick," owned by T. H. Smith of Delhi. Fourth prize was taken by "M.P.," owned by Richard Palmer of Toronto. The Lawrence Munroe Cup for saddle horses was won by "Faugh a Ballough," owned by Joseph Kilgour of Sunnybrook Farm, Toronto. Kilgour entries also took second and third money, "Sunny Boy" and "Sunny Girl" winning the red and yellow ribbons respectively. Col. Sir Henry Pellatt's "Indian Chief," took fourth place. Won 'Em All. Every prize in the ladies' hunters' class, including the cup presented by James McSloy of St. Catharines, was won by horses entered by Joseph Kilgour of Sunnybrook Farm, Toronto. "Dare" took the cup. "Dictator" got the red ribbon; "Eglinton" was given third money, and "Sunny Boy" came fourth. The A. G. Bain Cup for the best ladies' saddle horse was captured by "Fairchild," owned by Hugh S. Wilson of Oakville; second place was taken by "Bonnie View," owned by George Harvey of Guelph. "Cumber-

OFFICIALS AT "HAGARTY" LAUNCHING

the ship struck the water whistles from factories, boats and railway locomotives responded with a series of notes, which drowned the cheers. The shallow dock was nearly emptied of water as the vessel settled down in it, spreading its contents over a large area, which scattered the crowd. Examination showed that not a part of the large ship was damaged in sliding into the dock, although the chains and ropes on the land-side snapped as she started down the ways. Shippers on the scene declared the launching the most perfect ever witnessed on the Great Lakes. Not once did the ship turn from her even course down the grassed timbers. It had been thought that as the vessel was so large she might strike the water with one end foremost. This was not the case, however, because she came down into the water evenly, and quickly settled in the dock. Although the vessel has been built greatly in excess of the requirements of the great lakes register, officials declared today that she embodies many features for safety. The hold is divided into six watertight compartments and the cargo is received through sixteen hatches. The crew's quarters and navigator's accommodation is fitted forward, and the deck-houses are fitted with circular headlights and are of increased strength. The engine-room and galley are made entirely of steel, instead of pine, as has been customary in vessels of the same class. Another innovation is the adoption of solid teakwood doors for all deck-houses. Has Good Speed. The motive power of the new ship is supplied by one triple expansion engine, having three Scotch marine boilers, the whole being capable of developing 2200 horsepower. The average speed is estimated to be 13 miles an hour, loaded. The owners today declared the vessel the last word in the construction of bulk freighters, and said they had spared no expense to make her the best of her kind, and so to assure the greatest amount of safety possible. The keel was laid in November and it is expected the vessel will be completed the first week in July, a period of less than eight months in building. Following the launching guests of the owners and builders adjourned to the Globe Hotel, where dinner was served. That Canada should develop more rapidly her marine service in the construction of vessels was the subject of addresses. Many persons from Toronto were present at the launching and dinner. Among those at the banquet were the following: Rev. J. G. Broughall, A. E. Hagarty, W. H. Holland, S. Casey Wood, C. T. James, J. W. Aston, G. F. Harmon, H. J. Hagarty, W. S. Hodder, M. G. COUNTY COUNCIL AT NEWMARKET

Inspected New Industrial Home — All Well Pleas-ed With It.

WILL GET BUSY TODAY

May Deal With Tax Rate on York Township's Appli-cation.

After inspecting the additions and improvements to the Industrial Home at Newmarket yesterday afternoon, the county council expressed satisfaction with the work done and de-cided to take it over from the con-tractor. The council left for New-market by a special car at 1.30, re-turning to the city at 6.30.

FINE ROSES AND IRIS EXHIBITED AT WESTON

At last night's meeting in the Town Hall of the Weston Horticultural Society, John Dicken presiding, prizes for the best exhibits grown by the members were awarded as follows:

Class 1, roses—1, Mrs. Adam; 2, Mrs. Harrison; 3, Mrs. R. Longstaff.

Class 2, iris—1, Mrs. Adam; 2, J. L. Moffat; 3, Mrs. Galbraith.

Class 3, peonies—1, Mrs. Lyons; 2, Mrs. Adam; 3, Mrs. Gray.

A large number of flowers were ex-hibited, and a most interesting address on horticulture and arboriculture was delivered by H. J. Moore of Victoria Park, Niagara. Mr. Moore depre-cated insufficiency of watering for lawns. "A slight sprinkling of water," he said, "is worse than none." The fine fibrous roots were injured when the slight sprinkling of water was drawn up by the sun, leaving the lawn with a parched appearance. He advocated plenty of water, even to the leaving of sprinkler playing on the lawns all night.

Band Concert.

A very large number of the citizens of Weston attended the inaugural performance of the town band last night. The bandstand in town hall park had been specially decorated and lighted, and seating accommodation provided. Reeve Dr. E. F. Irwin, who was chair-man, gave a resume of the history of the band and referred in glowing terms to the pleasure in store for the citizens during the season. Six years ago the band started with Geo. Salms-bury as bandmaster, who was suc-ceeded by Robert Barker, and now under the leadership of Albert Dohney, it is composed of 35 uniformed members, playing 17 instruments of the best class.

Last night a two hours' program was gone thru and a small debt, an incu-bus which the members hope to rid them-selves of before the end of the season.

A performer who has given twice a month throughout the summer, and a large number of engagements have been booked for the season. On July 12 the band will play at Britannia Lodge.

FEWER CANDIDATES SIT FOR ENTRANCE

Method of Recommendation is Reported to Be Reason for Decrease.

NEWS OF WARD SEVEN

Socialists Taking Active Part in the Election Campaign.

The number of candidates for the entrance examinations, which are now in full swing at the Humboldt Col-legiate Institute, is this year only 130. This is a considerable decrease from the number who wrote last year, the rea-son given being that the method of re-commendation is now being followed to a greater extent by the senior fourth teachers in the various ward seven public schools than in former years. Last night a special meeting of the staff of the collegiate was held and the results of the recent exams for the lower forms of the school announced.

Socialist Meeting.

While as yet no Socialist candidate has come forward to oppose Dr. Forbes Godfrey, the Conservative and Liberal candidates for the riding of West York, street corner meetings addressed by Socialist lead-ers have of late been frequent occur-rences in ward seven. Last night Max Armstrong, a Socialist candidate for ward seven aldermanic honors last year, spoke from a chair to a crowd at the corner of Dundas street and Pacific avenue. He denounced both sides of the house as politicians who were working only for their own good. He claimed that the Liberal party was striving to win the support of the clergy and the moral reformers by formulating their "abolish the bar" policy.

The inf. n. classes of St. John's Anglican Sunday school, numbering nearly 100 held their annual picnic yesterday afternoon, commencing with a trolley ride around the city and ending in High Park where a program of races and games was carried out, and supper served.

The death occurred yesterday in Grace Hospital of Mrs. Helen Fleming of 56 Scarlett avenue, North Runnymede. The late Mrs. Fleming was 50 years of age and is survived by her husband and grown up family. Interment takes place on Saturday afternoon.

W. Bro. A. K. Moffatt P. D. M., assisted by W. Bro. W. J. Conroy, W. M. of L. O. L. No. 2149, and Bro. Good-win, county lecturer, conducted the initiation of ten candidates at a suc-cessful meeting of Golden Star, L. O. L. No. 300, in St. James' El Paso Club, last night. M. W. Bro. H. A. Fish, grand chaplain of the Supreme Grand Orange Lodge, assisted by the county master and district lodge officers con-ducted an organization meeting in Lambton Star L. O. L. No. 1872, when seven candidates were initiated.

"BABY JACK" WITH ONE OF HIS SMALL EL PASO PLAYMATES

Compare the Size of the Baby Burro Offered as Second Prize in the Great Burro Contest With That of the Baby Feeding Him.

In preparation for the arrival in Toronto Saturday night of the delegation from the El Paso Ad Club to the big Ad. Club convention to be held in this city next week, "El Paso Jack," first prize in the great burro con-test, yesterday visited the horse barber shop and had his coat clipped and trimmed up. This has certainly made a vast improvement in his appear-ance, as instead of rough, shaggy hair, he now has a sleek, shiny coat. He says he wants to look his very best, when, along with his baby brother, he leads the El Paso ad men in the big parade. The delegates from the El Paso club will certainly present a unique appearance that will be worth going a long way to see, with their genuine Mexican costumes and som-bros, and with El Paso Jack and Baby Jack trotting along in front. Now girls and boys, what do you think of "Baby Jack"? The picture above will give you a splendid idea of how he looks. Don't you think he will make some Toronto youngsters a splendid pet? He has not yet reached the age when he can live on the same food as El Paso Jack, and has to be fed from a bottle. Baby Jack is at present on the way to Toronto, traveling in one of the two special cars in which the El Paso delegation are en route. In another part of today's paper appear two pictures show-ing El Paso Jack making friends with the children at the Elizabeth street playgrounds yesterday afternoon. Notice how the children are crowded around, some even having their arms thrown around him. They certainly did hate to have him leave the playgrounds for The World office, and Jack and his attendant were followed all the way to Queen street by an admiring throng.

FAIRBANK TORIES HELD A RALLY

Addresses Delivered by W. F. Maclean, M.P., and Dr. Forbes Godfrey.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Mr. Maclean Urges Electors to Support Progressive Government.

"I have no hesitation in coming here and asking you to vote for the election of Dr. Godfrey, because he is a progressive," said W. F. Maclean, M.P., last night when addressing the members of the Toronto Rights Club at Fairbank.

"What the people want is representa-tive progressive and better government. We want government for the people and by the people, and you have been getting that now for the past nine years. Sir James Whitney has improved the election laws of the province and he has made good every promise he made."

Mr. Maclean considered the hydro-elec-tric policy the most progressive that has ever been inaugurated in this country. He showed that the Liberals had entered into contracts with two American firms and one of the Liberal candidates for the people, and this contract prohibited each firm from competing against the other in the development of the power. Nevertheless the Conservative govern-ment had developed the hydro under difficulties. He contended that the agree-ment could be broken if the crown so de-termined. Still today they were unable to get the power at a low price and consequently cheap power was being distributed through the province at a low rate.

Minor Questions.

The policy was being worked out be-cause it was on the lines of public own-ship, "Are those people who gave you this policy," asked Mr. Maclean, "to be put out of power because of the minor questions of government you will find the people a public service at a reasonable cost."

Mr. Beck was entering on a policy of radicalism and operated by the people and it was being driven home to them. The development of the province and in the progress of its people. "If you have a gov-ernment appealing to you on that record that I have just mentioned it is your duty to support it to still develop and complete its work."

"I would like to see," continued the speaker, "the City of Toronto own its railroads and link up the different municipalities, and I have no doubt that when this election is over you will see a great progressive policy being im-plemented in this province."

Referring to the Good Roads system, Mr. Maclean said it was another great policy in developing Ontario, and if they wanted better roads, they should sup-port the government that was prepared to improve the thoroughfares of the province. Once the province had good roads and cheap power it would have a system that could only mean progress.

Telephone System.

Mr. Maclean drew forth great applause when he said that there was no reason why they should not take over the tele-phone system and operate it for the benefit of the people, and the day was not far off when Mr. Beck would intro-duce a provincial system. He could not start too soon on such a propo-sition. When you study those prin-ciples of government you will find the credit belongs to the Conservative party," he said. "Words speak better than words."

AGINCOURT

The L.O.F., S.O.E. and L.O.F. lodges of Agincourt will hold the annual excursion to Toronto and Niagara Falls, on Wednesday, June 24, via C. P.R. from Locust Hill and Intermedi-ate stations, to Toronto and by boat to Niagara.

WANTS SALARY INCREASED.

At the morning session, Major T. H. Brunton, county police magistrate, requested the county council yester-day to grant him an increase in salary. The finance committee will take the matter into consideration. The county commissioners presented their report and contemplated the council on the reasonable tenders received for bridge building. They recommended a grant of $200 towards building a roadway at that point is straighten-ed. The bridge will be 22 feet high and have a five per cent. grade on the road leading to the bridge, and also provided that the Township of Mark-ham agree to settle all claims which may arise thru a change in the road-way, and relieve the county of any further liability.

JEWELS TAKE PLACE OF HEAVY BEAD NECKLETS

The insistence with which the 1890 period asserts itself in the trend of fashions is quite wonderful. This is evident with regard to evening gowns and street costumes alike. Dame Fashion's fair devotees are going to be 1880 in all but one respect—they will wear clear of the 19-inch effect considered the only one possible at that period, and the waist line will fortunately remain natural.

One charming evening gown shows an attractive sash drapery, which is 1880 in outline. The under dress is a blazing flame shade, and the picturesque sash a sapphire blue. It is trimmed with a dainty taffeta frock— which this year makes or mars a gown—is formed by two large butterfly wings worked in sapphire beads and filletted on blue tulle.

The heavy strings of beads which received marked favor this spring, have been discarded for more sumptuous neckties, whose weight is due only to the size and quality of the precious stones employed in their design. Pearls are more in demand than ever before, and the strings, consisting of pearls only, are most favored for evening wear. Set of every description is favored by the blonde, but for the strictly fashionable woman, nothing less than diamonds and platinum will suffice.

It is well to remember that the baby's earliest impressions should always be of the most gentle and simple nature. Undue excitement or an attempt to stimulate the mental mechanism of a baby can only result in harm.

When the baby first begins to talk, its perfectly natural desire is to ask questions. When we go to a strange place or among new people, we have exactly the same wish to satisfy our curiosity about our unusual surroundings. The child's demand for information is perfectly just, and its simple faith in the truth of the answers it receives should be met with equal honesty.

Who Sails Your Boat? Success Lies with You

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

THE water was very, very blue, and so was the sky. The hills and the fields were very, very green, and at the edge of the water, along the line of green, there was a little curling of white lace foam.

And the wind blew over the rose garden, and it was all beautiful. What was it that gleamed so white, so white against the sunlight?

A little speck far out on the blue water—a goldfinch sang in the vines—how red his head was when he looked out from among the leaves.

Was that an airship high, high in the clouds? A sea gull—do they know, I wonder, what nest, precisely winged pictures they make of themselves—those sailing gulls? There's the white again—closer now—yes, it is a sailboat.

Such a little sailboat; how she rolls in the trough of the sea; but swiftly, swiftly, for she is sailing with the wind.

Why, she isn't so little, after all; quite a sizable affair now that she isn't so far away. How clean and seaman-like is the line of her saucy bow, and who could help liking the cut of that job!

Now she's tacking—how mysterious it is to see a boat sail east and west—by the same wind. Whoever is sailing that boat knows his business.

Who is he, I wonder? Some sprig of a college boy out for a day's lark with a lot of good company? A blue-eyed Norak, sailing so close to the wind that even the tiller shudders? A brown Italian from Capri, out to look to his brown nets?

How Simple It Looks. Whoever he is, he's busy, in that wind. And yet how simple it all looks from the shore.

It always does look simple and easy from shore. Slip, slide, gleam, glance, the boat dances over the blue. Like a dream, like a whisper, like a vision, it comes—and is gone again.

But somebody has to work to make it sail. Luck—what's luck but the wind that blows? It will sail your ship—or drive it upon the rocks.

It all depends upon you, and whether you know how to trim your sails to the wind. There never is a great success made anywhere, any time, anyhow, in any line of any human endeavor, but there was somebody behind that success pulling on a rope somewhere and setting sail at exactly the right angle.

Did you ever go into a smart cafe and wonder why it was so crowded, when one directly across the street was almost empty? You never wondered, after you had your dinner in the cafe that was not a success. Why is this little milliner putting money in the bank every Saturday night, and why is that one afraid to go home—and meet the landlady?

There's an answer, a perfectly simple one, and there's no such word as luck in that answer either. Do you care for clothes, smart ones? Well, then, you must put your mind on them, or you'll never get them in the world.

That woman you know who is always so beautifully gowned—she pays for her clothes, pays for them in a coin you would not be willing to give. Pays for them by putting every nerve in her body and every thought in her mind into those clothes.

That's how she gets them. It isn't an accident. Nothing is an accident—that really counts.

What Will You Pay? What is it you want in this world? How hard do you want it? Will you pay for it—yourself? Pay for it in the coin of your blood and your brain and your heart? You shall have it—in full measure pressed down and running over.

Sell on, sail on, sweet ship of gleaming white. It is a joy to see how lightly you skim the blue and brooding sea. When you are anchored tonight in some calm harbor the man who sailed you, he who kept you out of the breakers and off the rocks, will light his pipe and lean back and rest—for he will be very tired.

He sailed the boat. Who sails your boat? Some hiring—who does it just for the money you pay him? Some "friend" who tells you what to do and when to do it, to please him?

Or is that boat of yours sailed by the cruel master we call self-indulgence? Or does laziness sit at your helm? Who's pulling on the sails of your boat right now—he's a poor-looking specimen—I'd throw him overboard, if I were you, and get at those ropes—myself!

Oh, yes, it looks easy from shore. But you aren't ashore, you know—not yet. You're aboard—who's sailing your boat?

ALL WHITE COSTUME LATEST FAD

Tunic and Coatee Remain in More Conservative Cut

NOW that the summer sun shines down upon us, the rainbow colors that dominated the spring have faded before the conquering white. White from the wings of her tilted sailor to the tips of her tango ties, the summer girl of 1914 is the same adorable and alluring vision her sister has been since time immemorial.

The newest white gowns seem, in some miraculous way, to have escaped the freakiness which made many of the earlier gowns more grotesque than becoming, and have evolved a sanity of the features which the spring gowns presented in so glaring and sometimes so offensive a manner.

The tunic and the short coatee remain, for they are worthy a long life, but they are not exaggerated.

Paris has a new outbreak of black and white. Here in America we are using black wings on white hats, and reversing the combination, and we have our black cloth or satin capes lined with white and set off with white collars.

For the woman who has many dress demands upon her in the summer there is a place for the all-white costume. It bridges the gap between the strictly tailored suit of white serge or taffeta and the flimsy, flimsy wrap of organdy or mull known as the lingerie frock.

Such a costume is shown in the illustration. It is intended for a yachting suit, but it will be found quite as desirable and useful for many other occasions on land, such as the races, the tennis meet, the shopping morning in town.

The material is ratine, which shows both an uneven check and a dot. The skirt follows the close lines of the season, and is slightly draped at the side. The tunic, shorter than many of its kind, has the short front line sloping downward at the sides. It is one which will prove becoming to all figures, whether they meet the ideal specifications or not.

Heavy, broad Russian lace edges the tunic, and narrower lace finishes the little coatee, which is loose and short, reaching only just to the hips. It also shows the upward front slope, and is fastened at the bust line with a crocheted button and two loops and ornaments.

The sleeves are three-quarter length and finished with cuffs of the lace, underneath which the long sleeves of the lingerie blouse are permitted to show. One edge of the lace has the points reversed, and is applied in the form of a shawl collar, which the softer collar of the blouse comes well above the coat.

The hat is one of the very popular white chip sailors, with direct front trimming of tall, white wings. White buckskin pumps with white buckle are worn.

Ratine and the cotton crepes are splendidly adapted for this kind of suit, and are being used by the most exclusive designers. They are easily cleaned, and more stylish than some of the fabrics, as, for example, linen, which they have displaced to a large degree. They have one distinct advantage over linen in that they are waterproof, and dampness or sunshine is alike to them.

White from Her Hat to Her Tango Shoes.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Danger Signals in Hands; What Cold Palms Mean

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

YOU come into the world like brother and brother; then you go hand in hand, one beside another. Children go hand in hand to their play; lovers and their lesser hands in semi-solenn silence; aged couples crouch away their closing lives, each clasping the other's palm.

Fingers are said to have been made before forks, and hands before knives, but no one alive today may honestly say that their hands were.

Human hands, like all vital tissues, are magnetic and electrified. That is to say, each squeeze of the fingers, every little movement of the palm, each twist of your wrist, sends electric sparks outward and inward.

If you doubt this, scrape your soles along a thick carpet and raise your hand to the nearest metal chandelier. A flash and a spark will leave your hand, leap across the chasm between and enter the chandelier.

The romance between pretty Phyllis and bold Rodney dies aborning, if either is so much modest as not to hold hands. If, however, the two lovers ones walk lovers' lane hand in hand, the magnetic currents flow from one to the other and the romance is crystallized.

Moreover, the temperament of the individual not only is reflected in the hands, but is easily transmitted and thus becomes known to the other link in the clasped paws. Robert Browning, with true poetic instinct, phrases this in, "let my hand—this hand, be in your own—my own true friend! Hand in hand with you."

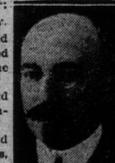

A hand white, delicate, dimpled, warm, languid and bland, is one worth holding only if you have an affection for the proud possessor.

The prevalent colloquialism, "cold hands and a warm heart," has a little and as much truth in it as most platitudes and proverbs. True enough, ill health and a poor, deficient circulation or flow of blood to the distant extremities, often cause cold hands and a feverish heart.

On the other hand, warm hands are often the rule in men and women with shallow, colorless dispositions. In contrast to this, cool, near-by hands grip yours with a firmness that amazes and flabbergasts you.

They are at times associated with strong, virile, ardent temperaments that make for great happiness and deep feelings. Such as are thus equipped will never be found among those who, when they hold your hand, allow the finger to lie loose in another's paw.

Flabby, fatty hand shakes point to a selfish, bigoted, unfeeling, non-sympathetic disposition. Moist, perspiring hands usually indicate a high strung, neurotic disposition.

Answers to Health Questions

L. G.—My feet are soft and blister easily. What shall I do? Bathe them in alcohol, glycerine and alum water equal parts every night.

JOHN F. L.—What is good for severe headaches and pains around the heart? The pains around the heart are due to disturbances in the stomach. Charcoal and oxide of magnesium should stop this. The headaches are possibly due to this, together with constipation. Bran bread and petroleum should remove much of this.

J. E. M. A.—How can I gain weight? Eat every three hours. Also eat at 9 P. M. and 12 P. M. Butter, cream, sugars, pastries, fats, ham, pork, gravies and oils will help. Sleep 10 hours daily.

Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

Special arrangements have been made with Senorita Lucrezia Bori, the famous prima donna soprano, who has created a wonderful impression in Europe and New York on account of her remarkable beauty and artistic attainment, to write for this paper a series of articles on beauty. There is probably no authority her equal in giving the newest and most approved methods of attaining and preserving "the divine right of woman."

If there is a yellow ring around your neck, or if the skin of the neck is dry and coarse and far from white, don't please, call attention to it by wearing beads or any of the thousand and one alluring necklaces every woman longs for.

Make the neck worthy of the face. The face before you assume it. Until the neck can face the world unafraid, wear a flare collar which partially conceals, or one of the thin, high-collared net gimpes, for necks are judged critically now that they are so fearlessly displayed.

Isn't it queer, when you think it over, that so many of us will patiently care for our faces, using hot baths, cold baths, tonics, lotions, creams, powders, rouge, and treat our necks so unkindly? And it is upon our necks that our faces depend for their position in life.

How many times we see a lovely flower-like face, fresh as a spring blossom, pink and white and soft, poised upon a grimy, roughened neck. Let's treat our necks as well as we do our faces for a month and see how gratefully they will respond to care and consideration.

Let's try to make them match the faces above them. Or, if it happens that some of us have fine necks and bad complexioned faces, let's reverse the order of treatment. Anyway, just let's try to see how well we can look.

First, scrub the neck with warm water and soap and rinse with cold water, and then rub with a bit of ice held in a piece of gauze. But before you give it the cold water and ice treatment use some good cleansing cream to remove every particle of dirt.

At night, after the cleansing process, pat cold cream or skin food into the pores with enough energy to set the blood in circulation. It will be easy to see how much the tissues need feeding from the way in which the skin food will be absorbed.

Use always the upward stroke, with the start in the middle of the underchin. This will brush away the double chin. When you retire, if there is any tendency to flabbiness, bandage the neck with a soft pad wet in alcohol.

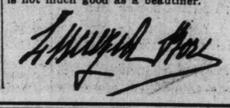

I am going to give formulas for two simple creams. Both are good, and from the ingredients and the needs of your skin you will be able to tell which one best suits your purpose.

SIMPLE COLD CREAMS. Four ounces almond oil. Four ounces elder flower water. One ounce white wax. One ounce spermaceti. One drachm tincture benzoin.

You can easily make it yourself. But the second cream I think you will have made at the druggist's unless you have plenty of idle time, for the mixture should be kept at an even and gentle heat for 24 hours. It is a very whitening preparation.

Three ounces oil of sweet almonds. Ten grammes oil of bitter almond. Two grammes of benzoin. Two grammes of balsam of tolu. Two drops of essence of lemon. When you powder your face, powder your neck also, and don't leave any unpowdered spots under the ears and on the nape.

Sour milk is a good whitening agent. Slightly remove the stubborn yellow ring. Cucumbers are splendid bleachers. But persistence is the secret of a lovely white neck. Care is demanded every day and every night. Spasmodic effort is not much good as a beautifier.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as best fiction.

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with interest.

No. 100. Mary's Luncheon. FOR days ahead Mary was planning her luncheon. There were to be 20 covers, she said. Every night she was tired. She made some little water-color gimpes with impossible boats and lakes and castles on them. Mary can't paint, but her mother had made her think she can.

While these 20 boats and lakes and castles were being built out of a box of water-color paints and a pad of paper, my meals were suffering.

I slid back into a diet of cold meat. Sometimes I'm going to write a heart-felt essay on cold meat. I hate it. When I see cold meat awaiting my domestic butchery my heart sinks and it takes me half an hour or so to feel right with the world. And when we have cold meat we always have stewed tomatoes. Why? Simply because cold meat means that everything else must be done in a hurry. And the quickest vegetable under heaven is the sort you pour from a can and carry to the table five minutes later. Cold meat always suggests stewed tomatoes to me—and stewed tomatoes always suggest chocolate eclairs. The trial constitutes what I term a five-minute meal. And when your wife's busy building water-color castles to impress her luncheon guests, she can't always take more than five minutes for you. If I could trace back 50 per cent of my fits of temper and depression I know very well the fundamental cause would be cold meat.

"Cold meat!" I exclaimed at last, frowded by the sight of the roast on the kitchen table. "My Lord, Mary, I hate it."

"But, Peter," she said, "I've simply got to use up the meat, haven't I?" "Can't you buy a smaller roast?" "Well," confessed Mary, "I could, but I buy a big one purposely so it will last over. I—I knew I'd be busy this week—and—"

"You're tired out," I said. "Yes," she admitted. "You see, Peter, there really is a great deal of preparation necessary for a luncheon for 20 girls. I'm just about all in. You don't mind eating supper by yourself, do you?" "I simply couldn't eat a thing."

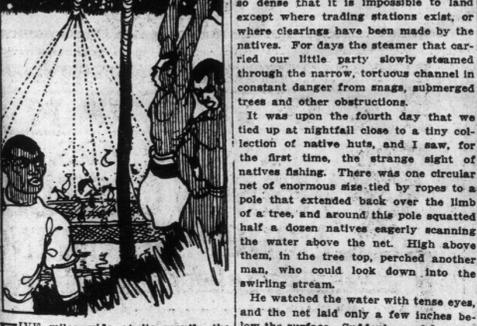

"There's lots left," she said, "and I did mind, but I said nothing."

"Peter," she said, "I'm glad to say I was decent enough again to say nothing, but I did wonder if Mary's pleasure in entertaining had been sufficient to repay her for her days of preparatory or her absolute exhaustion."

Three Minute Journeys

How They Fish on the Niger

By Temple Manning

FIVE miles wide at its mouth, the river Niger, which gives its name to the West African British Protectorate of Nigeria, empties into the sea at the town of Forcados. Mail steamers ply regularly to this port from Liverpool, but the up-country traveller, when he arrives at Forcados, has only made about a third of his journey.

For the first hundred miles up the Niger the river banks are thickly populated with oil traders, but above, the dense jungle creeps down. The land is low lying, and the tropical foliage grows so dense that it is impossible to land except where trading stations exist, or where clearings have been made by the natives. For days the steamer that carried our little party slowly steamed through the narrow, tortuous channel in constant danger from snags, submerged trees and other obstructions.

It was upon the fourth day that we tied up at nightfall close to a tiny collection of native huts, and I saw, for the first time, the strange sight of natives fishing. There was one circular net of enormous size, tied by ropes to a pole that extended back over the limb of a tree, and around this pole squatted half a dozen natives eagerly scanning the water above the net. High above them, in the tree top, perched another man, who took down into the swirling stream.

He watched the water with tense eyes, and the net laid only a few inches below the surface. Suddenly, as fish swam over the net, he let out a wild shout. The man below flung himself on the pole, pulling it down and lifting the net into the air. Hauling it ashore they regained the catch and set the net again. I noticed the peculiar care with which the men sorted over the fish with sticks before they touched them; an old man told me the reason. Sometimes electric eels are caught, whose shock has been known to kill a man, but the most dreaded fish is the sting-ray, whose stings contains deadly poison.

JUDGES' DECISION CAUSES NEAR RIOT

When Red Smith Was Awarded Final Heat in Second Race at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, June 18.—The third day furnished the two most exciting races that the meet has yet produced. Only two races were run, but in both the racing was the best seen here this year. In the second race, the 2.20 pace, A. Smith, the judge, created a near riot when he gave his judgment for Red Smith in the fourth and final heat. Victoria Poem and Red Smith both came down the stretch together, but according to Mr. Smith, Red Smith led at the wire, winning the heat and race. The crowd did not approve of his decision, and many uncomplimentary remarks were thrown at him. The race in the whole four heats was of the closest and furnished much excitement. The 2.14 pace for $1000 stakes with ten horses in the running also proved exciting. Little Alfred won the race after four heats were run. In the third heat great difficulty was found in getting the horses started, and in one of the attempts Little Alfred lost a shoe and time had to be called in order to replace it. This furnished some of the best racing every horse fighting all the time. Susie M. won the third heat with her driver applying the whip freely. The fastest mile by Red Smith was 2:11 1/2 by Little Alfred. It threatened rain during the last heat and sprinkled shortly after. Summary

FIRST RACE—2.14 pace, purse $1000—Little Alfred, b.g., by Red Smith, 1 1 4 1; Jack Johnson, b.h., by Earl L. H. Edmonds, Blenheim, Ont. (Peter), 7 4 6 6; Patchen, Mrs. Martin, Waterville, N.H. ADVISE RETRENCHMENT

Board of Control, However, Will Again Submit Scheme for Council's Approval.

Once again annexation is to come before the council with the board of control's approval. Yesterday, residents of Upper Canada College and Russell Hill districts appeared at a conference of the council and asked to be taken in.

Tomdorden residents are to be given a chance to express their views soon also.

In the last recommendation these districts were asked to give 5 per cent. of their 287 acres for parks; this was protested and now the entire city will bear the cost.

It is not yet certain if these annexations will come before the council at the next meeting, June 30.

In connection with annexation, the heads of city departments have completed their reports on its policy.

They do not agree with the board of control and some of the council. They advocated retrenchment and caution in annexation. In part the report reads:

The Tomdorden district contains about 2546 acres, while the Russell Hill and Upper Canada College area covers approximately 268 acres. After thoroughly canvassing the whole situation we are still strongly of the opinion that the City of Toronto has ample lands to cover its requirements for several years to come. There can be no possible benefit to the city from the proposed annexation. We take the stand now as we have on other occasions, that all movements for annexation should come from the city, and not from those who are monetarily interested, for the purpose of enhancing the value of suburban lands by reason of annexation to a metropolitan city.

When our requirements are such that we need additional lands the law is so framed that we may procure it without difficulty, and notwithstanding the suggested stipulations of annexation reported by your board, there will still be a very large financial outlay to be made by the city at large to cover all the needs of these districts, and this outlay will be a heavy burden on the city as a whole.

North Toronto. Your board's report relative to the annexation of North Toronto. It was represented at that time that North Toronto would be a considerable benefit to the city, and that the corporation would be more than reimbursed for its outlay by the collection of additional taxes.

It is at present before the administration covering the sewerage system for this district, which provides for a total outlay of $4,144,256 and that the city at large shall bear as its portion a fine cost $2,781,945. Recommendations have also been made for a sewer main to feed the district at a cost of approximately half a million dollars. The city is faced with large expenditures to satisfy transportation needs. Further annexations will but duplicate the condition precipitated by the annexation of North Toronto. We would not hesitate to account for the expenditure if the proposed area was at present, or is likely to become within the next few years, necessary for the extension of the city.

No Possible Advantage. We can see no possible advantage to the citizens of Toronto in such annexation, and we do not recommend that further territory be not acquired until the needs of the city render it requisite. If council does not acquiesce in this recommendation, we request that the matter be again referred to us in order that we may more thoroughly consider the terms of annexation with a view to submitting a recommendation thereon.

Respectfully submitted, James C. Forman, assistant commissioner; W. A. Littlejohn, city clerk; J. H. Graessl, chief constable; John Patterson, city treasurer; John Thompson, chief of fire department; Charles J. Hastings, medical officer of health; C. E. Chambers, park commissioner; C. E. Wainwright, commissioner; W. W. Pearsa, city architect; R. C. Harris, commissioner of works.

WANTED ANOTHER TRIAL. Angry because Judge Merson in the division court had given judgment against him, Thomas Berry, who was sued by Myatt Emery for $18.45, told his attorney that he had no money and asked for another trial. He was told that he had had better than that if he had hired a lawyer. He said that he had other witnesses in Montreal, but the judge declared that he could not give judgment upon evidence he had not heard.

CASE WAS DISMISSED. Three little boys and two men gave evidence in the women's court yesterday in favor of Fanny Rosenberg, charged with stealing $40 from R. J. Poyntz, and the case was dismissed. Mr. Poyntz stated that he had lost $30 near his stable. The boys found the money and gave it to the accused. One boy said that he was $80, but Mrs. Rosenberg handed only $40 to the police, and this amount was recovered by Mr. Poyntz.

N. TORONTO SEWAGE PLAN IS ADOPTED

Commissioner Harris' Scheme for Surface and Domestic Drainage Passes Council.

INSIDE CITY LIMITS

City's Share of Construction Cost Estimated at Nearly Three Millions.

The North Toronto drainage system recommended by R. C. Harris, commissioner of works, was yesterday adopted by city council. The entire work is to cost $4,144,256, and includes caring for both surface and domestic sewage. It will take some years to establish. The Inhoff disposal system is to be used, and the plant, set somewhere in the upper valley of the Don River—will be built to allow extension.

While there has been some agitation for locating this plant outside the city limits, the idea has not materialized.

Corporation council advised it would be necessary to secure approval of the provincial board of health before locating outside, and the commissioner of works stated a report on outside location would require extensive and lengthy investigation.

Two schemes were first considered by the works department. One in which sanitary and storm flows would be entirely separated; the other combining them. The second was $2,281,500 cheaper, and was adopted by the commissioner.

Of the total cost of the system, the ratepayers are called upon to assume approximately $1,342,311, while the city's share is estimated at $2,781,945, making a total of $4,144,256. The ratepayers are charged with the following: Cost of lateral sewers; cost of proportion of trunks sufficient to serve local requirements; less in each instance the amount which the city is deemed able to pay by taxation.

The city assumes its statutory obligation; the total cost of sewage disposal works and outfall; cost of trunks over and above the size necessary for local requirements.

The sewants for divisions No. 1 and 2 will consist of stand-by tank for treatment of storm water; the plant for the city and the chlorinating devices, sludge drying beds and sprinkling filters, or such other system, units or devices which may be deemed suitable. The sewage, passing thru such a plant, scientifically designed and constructed, will be offensive. The effluent will be non-pathogenic and non-pollutable. While the purchase of sufficient land is recommended to make provision for the construction of two sewage disposal plants, capable of treating the sewage from the watersheds tributary to this system, the proposed plant will be considered for present requirements. Additional land may be added as development demands.

The estimated cost of the plant No. 1 for present requirements, including the site for future development, is $2,000,000. For the plant No. 2 it is $308,500.

COLLEGE PROPERTY FOR APARTMENTS

Old Rumor on Knox College Again Revived in Realty Circles.

There has been a revival of the rumor that Knox College will be replaced by the largest and most extravagantly furnished apartment house in Toronto. Since surveys have been working on the property during the last two weeks, land owners on Spadina avenue and in the immediate vicinity of the college are asking one another what will be done with the magnificent property.

BUILDING MONEY HOLDING OUT WELL

Extraordinary Demand for Funds Reported by Loaning Company Official.

"Building funds are holding out well," said an official of the Canadian Permanent Mortgage Corporation to The World yesterday. "There has been an extraordinary demand for loaning funds within the last few weeks, but money accumulation seems to be taking care of the demand in good shape. Loaning companies are looking for a shortage in funds towards the fall, but during the summer months it is doubtful if any change in loan rates will occur."

RAISING MONEY ON DOWNTOWN CORNER

Bond Issue by King Street Realty Company Against King and Yonge.

Apparently the Dominion Bond Co. and its subsidiary companies are finding a way out of their difficulties in connection with the northwest corner of King and Yonge streets. The King Street Realty Co., Limited, have given a mortgage on the property to the Trusts and Guaranties Co. for $150,000, the amount of a bond issue which the former is floating. As the bonds are purchased the loan will be gradually wiped out. Interest is at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum.

WANT SHARE OF REALTY COMMISSION.

B. Ryan and M. A. Richardson brought suit in the non-jury assize court yesterday against S. Boehm & Company, Ltd., real estate agents, for share in the commission resulting from the exchange of land owned by Sellers Gough at the corner of Wilton avenue and Yonge street. Mr. Ryan claims that Boehm's agreed to cooperate with Ryan and Richardson in making the transaction, and when Ryan had secured an option on the property for $25,000, Boehm acted upon the information gained, made an exchange and pocketed the proceeds. Boehm denied making any agreement, and declares that Ryan never received an option. Mr. Justice Middleton is hearing the case.

RIFLES LANDED FOR NATIONALIST ARMY

Successful Gun-Running Exploit Carried Out on Coast of Connemara. DUBLIN, June 18.—Large quantities of rifles and ammunition were landed during the night on the Connemara coast, in the west of Ireland, for the Nationalist Volunteers. The consignments are supposed to have been brought by mysterious vessels, which had been sighted cruising along the coast for a week past, but had refused to reply to signals.

COST OF LIVING IS NOT QUITE SO HIGH

Ottawa, June 18.—The department's index number of wholesale prices stood at 132.5 for May, as compared with 136 in April, and 134.5 in April, 1913. Hogs, sheep, dairy products, fish and metals, fuel and some lines of lumber were lower in price, but grains, cattle and beef, fruits and vegetables, wool and jute showed important advances.

CHEQUE AND PRAISE FIREMEN.

The following letter from the Police Iron Works, Limited, has been received by Fire Chief Thomson: "Enclosed we hand you our cheque for $50.00, in favor of the Firemen's Benefit Fund as a slight token of our appreciation of the prompt manner in which the brigade responded to and the good judgement used in handling the fire which occurred at our works on Sunday morning last."

DAMAGE TO BIG LINER TO BE QUICKLY REPAIRED

BREMEN, Germany, June 18.—The North German Lloyd today issued the following statement concerning the collision between the Kaiser Wilhelm II. and the Kaiser Wilhelm III. "The Kaiser Wilhelm II was struck on the starboard side opposite her third group of boilers. She sprang a leak which, however, could be kept under control. The damage to the Kaiser Wilhelm II apparently is less considerable than was at first supposed. Repairs probably will require only a short time and will be undertaken at Southampton."

ONIONS SCARCE PRICES SOARING

Cabbages and Carrots Are Plentiful - St. Lawrence Market News.

St. Lawrence and Sons were the first of the wholesale fruit and produce merchants to move into summer quarters at the fruit market at the foot of Yonge street, where they were doing quite a brisk business yesterday.

The price of onions is soaring sky high, as they are very scarce, only a few of the Egyptian variety on the market, selling at $6 and $8.25 per 112-lb. sack, as compared with $5 and $5.25 a week ago.

Canadian cabbages and carrots coming on the market in greater quantities. The cabbages are of splendid quality and sell at $1.50 per masher. One fine shipment came from Leroy Irwin of Oshawa.

The carrots are still very small but firm, and sell at 40c to 50c per dozen bunches.

Beets, too, are becoming more plentiful and sell at 40c per dozen bunches. Strawberries were a scarce article on the market yesterday, only 800 to 1000 packages being shipped in, the prices being firm, but stationary, some of the shippers being: F. S. Craine, Niagara; A. Scherer, Aldershot; John Horne, Aldershot; Miss M. Smiley, Aldershot; W. H. Gale, St. Catharines; Geo. E. Horning & Co., Waterdown; F. Bell & Son, Burlington; Thos. Brown, Oakville; H. T. Bowen, Aldershot.

Prices are gradually increasing, although shipments still too light to lower the price any. Some of the shippers are W. G. Banks, Fort Dalhousie; John Maitland, Queenston; Geo. A. Morgan, Leamington. White & Co. again had the best shipment of greenhouses on the market, coming from W. Staples of Aldershot, and selling at $25 per basket.

Wholesale Fruit and Vegetables. Apples—Ben Davis (American), $2.25 per box. Apples—$2.25 per box. Blueberries—174c per box. Bananas—$1.50 to $2 per bunch. Cantaloupes—Standards, $4.50 per case; Ponies, $4.25 per case.

Cherries—Canadian, 70c and $1.50 to $1.75 per basket. Cherries—California, $2.50 to $3 per box. Raspberries—$1 and $1.25 per basket. Grape fruits—64s and 68s, $4.75 per box; 64s, $4.25 per box; 46s, $4 per box.

Limes—$4.50 per hundred. Lemons—$4.50 to $4.75 per box. Oranges—Valencia, $2.75 per box; navel, $3 per box. Peaches—24s and 30s, $3 per box. Plums—$3 per box.

Strawberries—10c to 15c per box. Watermelons—40c to 75c each. Vegetables—Anparagus—$2.75 per basket. Beets—40c per dozen bunches. Beans—Wax, $2.25 per hamper; green, $2 per hamper. Cauliflower—$2.50. Cabbage—Canada, $2.25 per crate; $1.50 per crate. Carrots—$1.50 per crate; 40c to 50c per dozen bunches.

Onions—Bermuda, $1.35 per dozen. Cucumbers—$1 and $1.25 per basket. Lettuce—Home-grown, a drug on the market, although very fine, too much in quantity to cause any excitement. Onions—Egyptian, $1.50 to $2.25 per 112-lb. sack. Parsley—75c per basket. Peas—Green, 60c to $1 per basket. Potatoes—70c per 30-lb. bag; $5.50 per barrel. Radishes—Old, $1.25 per bag; Radishes—10c per dozen. Demand getting better, if quality is first-class.

Tomatoes—10c to 15c per lb. Tomatoes—10c to 15c per lb. Whitefish—10c to 12c per lb. Salmon—10c to 12c per lb. Halibut—10c per lb. Finnan haddock—30c per lb. Codfish—30c per lb. Mackerel—20c and 25c each. Clams—$2.50 barrel, $1.50 per 100. Lobster—25c and 30c per lb. Sea salmon—25c per lb.

WHEAT MARKET SWINGS UPWARD

Closing Prices, Tho Easy, Were Little Higher - Huge Export Sales.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Huge sales for export gave today's wheat market an upward swing. Closing prices, although easy, were a shade to 1-8c net higher. Corn finished 1-4 to 3-8c off to 1-4c above last night and opened with a gain of 1-16 to 1-8c. The outcome in provisions was a rise of a shade to 3/16c to 5c.

It was announced that export sales of old wheat during the last 48 hours amounted to 1,400,000 bushels, and that Lake charters interest in the same period reached a total of 3,000,000 bushels for old wheat quick loading. At first, however, the trade in general was unaware of the magnitude of the foreign business and appeared disposed to look on the increase in the harvest region as the chief thing to be considered.

Absence of Pressure. There was a decided absence of pressure from hedging against the purchase of new crop wheat. Illinois and Nebraska farmers in particular were reported as not inclined to make contracts at present prices, and as holding back until threshing time at least, on account of current bids not averaging within 11 to 12 cents of the corresponding time a year ago.

In this connection bullish estimates were circulated to show that in several important states the demand for wheat to feed might easily become as important as for the purpose of sales to Europe.

PARIS STEADY, BERLIN DULL. PARIS, June 18.—Americans were barely steady in the bourse today. Three per cent, renter $4 francs 72 1/2 centimes for account. Exchange on London 25 francs 13 1/2 centimes for cheques. Private rate of discount 2 1/2 per cent.

BERLIN, June 18.—Trading was dull and prices were slightly weaker on the bourse today. Exchange on London 20 marks 49 1/2 pfennigs for cheques. Money 2 1/2 to 3 per cent.

NEW YORK STOCK TALK. Compiled in New York Especially for The Toronto World. NEW YORK, June 18.—A break of 40 points in sterling exchange following a decline of 30 points Wednesday, led to a consecutive to an early termination of the gold export movement that sentiment in the financial district today assumed a rather more cheerful aspect.

The weekly statements of the Bank of England and the Bank of France recorded a highly satisfactory gain in reserves and indicated that it will not be necessary much longer for these institutions to make requisitions for specie on the New York market.

A cable despatch from Lombard street made the prediction that with the engagement of $27,500,000 in gold in Wall street today for shipment abroad the climax of the movement has been reached. On the declines demand sterling reached $4850, which is almost one cent lower than the extreme high level reached about a week ago.

Of the gold and silver $2,000,000 will go to Paris and $750,000 to London. With these shipments a total of $52,500,000 will have gone abroad by May 4, when the present movement began.

LONDON MARKET OPENED UNCERTAIN. LONDON, June 18.—Money was plentiful and discount rates were weak today. The stock market opened uncertain, but developed strength in the afternoon under the lead of gilt-edged securities on the good bank return and bear covering. Indian stocks and new issues were in strong demand and consols advanced half a point. The improvement spread to other sections, and with Paris buying the market finished buoyant.

American securities were quiet and featureless during the day. Later the list improved on New York and continental buying, and closed steady.

FLAX QUOTATIONS. The flax quotations as supplied by the Toronto Board of Trade are: Winnipeg July, Sept. Oct. Nov. Dec. 14 1/2, 14 3/4, 15 1/4, 15 3/4, 16 1/4.

FAVORABLE DEVELOPMENTS REPORTED FROM HOLLINGER. MONTREAL, June 18.—The report of the Hollinger Gold Mines for the four weeks ended May 20 shows gross profits for the period amounting to $128,987, or just $488 less than for the previous four weeks. A total of 14,608 tons of ore were hoisted and 15,200 tons treated. Earnings of the Hollinger Mine from Jan. 1st to May 20 total $581,594. After payment of the regular monthly dividend of three per cent, surplus at May 20 stood at $220,067.
