THE PEACE SESSION.

While the ratification of the peace treaty by the Canadian parliament may be largely a matter of form, it is a definite recognition of the status of Canada as a self-governing nation.

THE BALKANS

Before the great war, the Balkans were the scene of turmoil and strife; after the great war they are abase again, with Montenegro the particular theatre.

It is asserted that the Montenegrins are of too independent character to merge their nation in that of either Serbia or Jugo-Slavia.

The only talisman which the Supreme Council appears to possess against Serbo-Croat-Montenegrin disintegration is the sword. The means of sentiment and of reason have been quite exhausted.

THEIR FIRST SCHOOL DAY.

Hundreds of children, nearly a thousand of them, today entered upon the public schools of the city to embark upon the great adventure of seeking an education.

The fact that, in the ordinary course of events, less than one tenth of the pupils recorded today on the school rolls will complete the course provided for them and that a large proportion will leave school just so soon as the law permits them to do so, may be accepted as an indication that the system does not measure up fully to its greatest possibilities of service to the young people of school age.

all could pursue the course as outlined in the school curriculum and then specialize on studies which would fit them for the vocations they were destined to follow.

If the choice lies between a semi-classical course designed primarily to fit the student for entrance to the universities, and entry into the world of industry or commerce with no special training, it would appear that the schools are not giving the young people destined for the latter activities an even chance with their fellow-students whose aim is a university course.

Much has been written of the success of the "Gary" system and other systems of education which make school work so interesting that it is harder to keep the pupils away from school than to keep them at it.

There were two Browns in the village, both fishermen. One lost his wife and the other his best about the same time. The vicar's wife called, as she supposed, on the widower, but really upon the Brown whose boat had gone down.

Labor Day was a pleasant holiday, and possibly a rest from work is a fitting tribute to the cause of labor, but comparisons between the way in which the occasion was observed in St. John and in other places may leave the question open.

France is about to resume commercial relations with Germany. Vaulting ambition sent the latter nation to war. She would rule the commerce of the world.

An interesting political report is that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, will likely run in Prince county, P. E. Island, in the by-election of October 27.

Matters political are stirring in England. A feature is a new press campaign which recalls the overthrow of the Asquith government.

TRADE ORGANIZATION GOING ON IN BELGIUM

Trade organization is proceeding rapidly in Belgium. As Great Britain has its Federation of British Industries and France its formidable industrial groups, so Belgian industry has been divided into a well-organized system of 18 main divisions.

The inventor of the famous "tin hat" used successfully by the British and American armies in Buffalo, N. Y., is J. L. Brodie of London, Eng., and is in Buffalo with his wife to take long rest after a return to England in connection with the ministry of munitions.

SCHOOLBOYS HAD THEIR TROUBLES 4200 YEARS AGO

Professor Langdon of Oxford, England, has discovered that one group of the famous Nippur tablets stored at the University of Pennsylvania are in reality the oldest schoolbooks known to exist, the children of 4200 years ago were taught arithmetic, geography, history and grammar.

THE WOMAN BUYER AND THE PROFITEER

Whatever the result of the nation-wide scouting after big profiteers, a shop-to-shop campaign conducted by responsible women is indispensable. The amount of buying which women do has been estimated at as high as 90 per cent. of the total purchase of goods out of sight.

Strategy Required to Arrest James W. Ryan, Charged With Aiding in Fleeing of Michael Connolly

Luck and strategy played the leading parts when Detective Thomas O'Grady captured James W. Ryan, alias the Postal Kid, who is accused of being the brains of the gang alleged to have fleeced Michael Connolly, Montreal millionaire, of $125,000 on a fake race track scheme.

"We knew that Ryan's money would mean that he would never be brought to Buffalo unless he had the most thorough knowledge of certain officials there and our reckoning was correct."

ARTILLERY STABLES
The plans for the erection of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery stables in Fredericton are now being prepared, and it is expected that the building will be started in the near future. The stables will accommodate about 180 horses.

IN HANDS OF MILITARY
John Hayes, who has figured in recent cases, has been apprehended by the military police on a charge of desertion. It is not known yet whether he will be tried by court-martial or by a civil court.

ON DUTY IN MONCTON.
C. N. R. Policeman Wm. Roberts returned to the city last evening from Moncton, where he had been detailed for special duty yesterday helping handle the holiday trade.

ATTENDING CONVENTION.
J. P. Clayton, superintendent of Ferry Hill, left last evening to attend the annual convention of the Association of Cemetery Officials of Canada, which will meet in Toronto on Thursday.

PICNIC YESTERDAY.
The members of the girls' choir, Sunday school teachers, and altar boys of St. Peter's church enjoyed an outing to Chapel Grove yesterday. They went up and back aboard the steamer Albatross. The picnic afforded much pleasure.

TRANSFERRED TO MONCTON.
H. G. Ashford, formerly a captain in the 26th Battalion, who has been on the local staff of the D. S. C. R., has been transferred to Moncton, where he will be in charge of the office established there. He left at noon today to take up his new duties.

AGAIN AT POST
The many friends of Major S. S. Wetmore, deputy acting adjutant and quartermaster-general at local military headquarters, who has been in an extended sick leave at his home at Gondola Point, will be pleased to hear that he is again on duty and is quite recovered after a recent breakdown owing to his strenuous duties during the last year.

OVER NEW LINE.
F. P. Brady, general manager, and L. S. Brown, general superintendent of the C. N. R., eastern lines, were in the city yesterday and left early yesterday morning on a special train on a trip of inspection over the Valley Railway.

MOTOR TRIP.
A. C. Smith, Mrs. H. Colby Smith and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith returned home yesterday after an enjoyable motoring trip through the New England states to Montreal. They went via Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont and with fine weather all the way and good roads had much pleasure in the tour.

PLEASANT OUTING
The Progressive and Enterprise (girls and boys) Club of St. Matthew's church, spent their last outing of the season at Grand Bay on Labor Day. They entertained several of their friends, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves. They are looking forward to having still better times next summer.

VISITING FRIENDS HERE.
Mrs. Arthur Reicker, formerly of the North End, who has been for the last twelve or fourteen years residing in Gulfport, Mississippi, is visiting friends in the city and attending to business. During the war, her husband, Captain Reicker, was actively engaged in connection with the operation of large American shipping interests out of Gulfport.

Y. M. C. I. ACTIVITIES
The Y. M. C. I. bowling alleys were re-opened yesterday in the eager anticipation of the game for resumption of the pastime was shown in the large numbers on the alleys. There was a lot of good bowling for the opening day. A weekly Monday roll-off has been instituted, all making ninety during the week being eligible. The first day saw many with ninety or more to their credit. William J. Stack is again in charge of the alleys, and under his management a fine season is anticipated.

MUST HAVE PERMISSION.
The military authorities announce today that clubs and others have been using the Barrack Green for baseball matches and other purposes without permission and a certain amount of damage has been caused by unorganized persons. The authorities wish it to be known that recognized clubs and societies desiring the use of the Barrack Green should apply for permission to the D. A. A. and Q. M. G., Military District No. 7, but that unauthorized persons will not be allowed to make use of the grounds.

STAFFS REDUCED
It was announced at local military headquarters this morning that Sergeant I. marked a considerable reduction in the clerical staffs throughout Military District No. 7.

During July a very careful examination took place to ascertain the number absolutely necessary to the carrying on of the work, and only those necessary have been retained on duty. Owing to this investigation about twenty-five per cent of the working staff have been cut off strength, and in the near future it is expected a further reduction will be made.

Major G. R. Turner has resigned his position in the C.R.C.E., and his duties have been taken over by Captain E. A. Bennett.

A PAT ON THE BACK

Letter From One of The Newspaper Men on Prince's Tour Has Praise For St. John

Walter H. Golding, who looked after the publicity during the recent celebrations in St. John, has received a letter from Toronto, written by C. M. Beyer, of the New York World, in which the writer pays a neat tribute to St. John and the province. He says in part—

"Dear Old N. B.—We are still chasing royalty and have commenced to speak (and write) with an Oxford accent. The prince is proving himself to be the same old little chap that stepped on the wharf that drizzling morning in your city, and we newspaper boys have had several pleasant informal chats with him. All the Canadian stopping places so far have used us nicely, but to the credit of St. John be it said that they have started a pace for hospitality which even your big wealth cities have not yet outdone. The same goes for Premier Foster and his up-to-date government."

Miss Newburn and get into my "Albert" and "topper" for there is to be some indoor stuff this afternoon that I am supposed to report. Regards from all the gang.

GOVERNOR BRINGS WORD FROM PRINCE TO THE PEOPLE OF PROVINCE

"His Royal Highness told me while I was in Ottawa that he had been very well pleased with his reception and visit in this province," said Lieut. Governor Wm. Pugsley today. He is receiving a hearty welcome in all cities where he is visiting and is strengthening the popular impression which he made here upon his first landing in Canada.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor returned today from Ottawa, accompanied by Mrs. Pugsley and his military escort, Major Wm. Vanise, M. C. Governor Pugsley said that the ceremony of laying the corner stone in Ottawa yesterday was most impressive.

THE LAST OF THREE GALLANT BROTHERS

Sergt. Thomas James, formerly of the military staff here, left St. John on Wednesday evening for Montreal en route for Liverpool, England. Sergeant James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel James, formerly of this city and now in Liverpool. He is the only one left of three gallant brothers who all enlisted at the outbreak of the war. One brother, Corporal Ernest James, was killed at the Dardanelles on Aug. 9, 1915, and another, Sergt. James James, was killed on the Somme on Oct. 9, 1916, the same day that his twin brother, Thomas, was wounded, and rendered unfit for further active service. The best wishes of a host of friends follow Mr. James to his new post. Mrs. George Northrup of Watson Street, Charlottetown, is a sister.

MISS CAROLYN STOCKTON RETURNING TO TORONTO

Friends in St. John will be interested in the following from the Moose Jaw Daily Times:

Miss Carolyn Stockton, physical director at the Y. W. C. A. in this city for the year just closed, has tendered her resignation to the board of that institution and will be leaving Moose Jaw about the middle of September, as she is planning to go from Saskatchewan to her home in Toronto. The board has accepted her resignation.

Miss Stockton expresses much regret at leaving the prairies, as she has keenly enjoyed her association with the people of western Canada. Their kindness and hospitality, and the feeling of goodwill and sociability that has always prevailed in her social relations with the people of the city, has created a most favorable impression in her mind, and she declares that the year spent in western Canada among Moose Jaw people has been a most enjoyable period.

The good response of endeavor and enthusiasm that has marked all the work in her chosen vocation, has been work in her classes, due to the efforts put forth by the pupils has been a gratifying feature of the year's work. Miss Stockton looks forward with pleasure to the prospect of renewing her friendship with local people some time in the future.

N. B. DOGS WIN HONORS

Added to the other local prizes, winners at the recent Sherbrooke dog show is "Hieland Black Douglas," a notably good Scotch terrier, bred and owned by Wm. W. Laskey, of Fredericton, N. B. It was placed on top in his breed, was awarded first in the open class and prize to its owner and breeder. Another terrier that did well was a very nicely marked Boston, a young dog of much promise, under twenty months and owned by Arthur Crowley of Fredericton. This recent purchase, a junior dog of much promise, will surely do the fancy here some good.

R. A. Ross, the Judge of the Sherbrooke fixture, will be seen here going over the local dogs and is assured of a big entry of the dogs in St. John, including not a few new ones that are being talked about in the city.

FREDERICTON BRIDE AND ST. JOHN GROOM

Miss Mary Marguerite Shea, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Shea, of Fredericton, and Joseph P. Gallagher of St. John, were united in marriage at half past six o'clock this morning in St. Dunstan's church, Fredericton, by Rev. F. L. Carney, pastor. Nuptial mass was celebrated. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen Shea, and W. Doherty of Montreal was groomsmen. The bride wore a navy blue taffeta suit with black picture hat and black lynx furs and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The bridesmaid wore a brown suit with pink furs and carried pink roses. The bride and groom motored to St. John and will spend their honeymoon in New York, Boston and other American cities. They will reside at 114 Douglas avenue, St. John.

The Late Mrs. Joseph Reicker.
Gondola Point, Kings Co.—Death came suddenly on Thursday, August 28th to Mrs. Joseph Reicker at the home of her daughters, Mrs. Frederick Kerstead. Mrs. Reicker was eighty years of age. She leaves to mourn their loss, two sons and six daughters—Melbourne, Mrs. Annie Wheaton, Mrs. Eldridge Sabine, Mrs. James Greig, Mrs. James Neaves, all of St. John; Mrs. Frank Mahoney, Lawrence Mass.; Mrs. Frederick Kerstead of Gondola Point; also twenty-six grand-children and eighteen great-grandchildren. Three brothers survive her—Jacob Morrell, Albert Co. Joseph Morrell, Auburn, Maine, and Levi Morrell, Fredericton. Mrs. Reicker was born at Kings Co. Her husband pre-deceased her twelve years. The funeral was held on Sunday 31st Rev. E. A. Allaby officiating.

BIG LABOR FAIR IS OPENED IN ST. ANDREW'S RINK

Mayor Hayes Speaks With Approval of Plan to Erect Labor Temple

REFERS ALSO TO LACK OF HOUSES

Rink Prettily Decorated and Fine Music of City Cornet Band Proves Attraction — The Committees in Charge.

The Trades and Labor Council fair in St. Andrew's rink was officially opened yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Mayor R. T. Hayes. There was a large crowd at the opening and the fair promises to have a most successful run. The City Cornet Band was in attendance at both the afternoon and evening and provided most delightful music.

At 2:30 o'clock sharp yesterday afternoon His Worship Mayor Hayes took his place on the bandstand, which had been erected in the centre of the rink, and officially opened the fair. In his address his worship spoke on the great progress that organized labor has made in the city during the past few years. He pointed out that advantage of organization of labor and how in union there was strength.

Mayor Hayes also touched on the housing conditions and pointed out how greatly housing accommodation was needed by all classes in the city.

His worship also spoke favorably on the erection of a labor temple in the city. He said that during the war the need of a large building where public meetings could be held had been keenly felt, but if a large temple were erected in the city in the near future it would certainly help matters along. His worship also spoke warmly on the laboring conditions in eastern Canada, and pointed out that there was practically no labor unrest in the maritime provinces.

The fair was then opened to the public and all the booths, which line the walls, immediately began to do a humming trade. The rink itself is very artistically decorated with red, white and blue bunting, and with the flags of the Allies. The bunting is stretched along the rink for its full length, and is secured to the cross beams, thus producing a very pretty, wavy effect. The sides of the rink and the booths are also very prettily adorned with bunting of all colors, and with the different national flags. It is very evident that a great deal of time has been spent on the decorations, and much credit is due the following committee in charge of the decorations: F. A. Campbell, C. G. Langbein, George Metvin, M. J. Donovan, John Kemp and John O'Brien.

In the centre of the rink a bandstand has been erected. The stand is very tastefully decorated in red, white and blue, which produces a very pleasant effect. The City Cornet Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Frank Waddington, was in attendance during both the afternoon and evening and proved to be one of the drawing cards of the day.

The booths are arranged all around the walls of the rink and all did a record business yesterday. The familiar chocolate booth and wheels of fortune are in places of prominence, while the old bean toss, and the time honored "hit the coin" have not been forgotten. There is also a tea and ice cream parlor where the thirsty and hungry are provided with refreshments, and needless to say, a record business was done yesterday. The tea parlor is situated at the right of the entrance, and has been very tastefully decorated with bunting.

F. A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor Council, is in charge of the fair, and is ably assisted by John Kemp, and C. G. Langbein. The following are in charge of the different booths at the fair:

- Beer counter—Mr. Caldwell, Typographical Union; R. Graves, Teamsters' Union; and Gordon Campbell, of the Teamsters' Union.
- Aluminum booth—B. Neelan, Roy Neelan and Jack Powers, of the Street Railwaymen's Union.
- Percentage wheel—John O'Brien.
- Chocolate booth—Charles Whittaker, of the Nail Makers' Union, and J. Wilcox, of the Machinists.
- Coin Board—N. Mercer and John Wilis, of the Cigar Makers' Union.
- Chocolate booth—George Melvin, Nail Makers; Mr. Hamilton, Street Railwaymen's Union.
- Kilkenney cats—R. Whittaker, of the Nail Makers.
- Negro dodger—J. Harley.
- Candy and cider booth—Miss Kemp.
- Punch board—Mr. Duval, Nail Makers.
- Fish pond—Miss Smith.
- Doll wheel—F. W. Smith and M. J. Donovan.
- Percentage wheel—C. H. Stevens, Junior Cigar Makers.
- Spindle No. 1—James Sugrue, of the Carpenters' Union.
- Spindle No. 2—C. H. Stevens, Sr., Cigar Makers' Union.
- Ice cream booth—Mrs. F. A. Campbell and Mrs. C. H. Stevens.

WORK AVAILABLE FOR THE SOLDIERS

Many Vacancies on Farms and in Mines Are Reported

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Returned men who are willing to go on the land or engage in mining occupations have the best opportunities today, according to reports received from officials connected with the information and service branch of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. Lieutenant J. M. Bell of Calgary, reports that it is now possible in that province for any returned man desiring to obtain the same, as he has calls for farm help at $70 and $75 a month, with board.

The same thing applies, he says, in regard to the mining industry. Mines in Alberta are opening up again, and there is a big demand for help. Men who returned a short time ago state that they started work at between $4 and $5 a day and after a short time were successful in making $8 to $9 a day.

Word from several western provinces brings news to the same effect, that returned men could be more quickly placed if they would make up their minds to leave the cities. Country districts offer an abundance of work and any returned man wishing to try out in any of these districts may get information at the nearest office of the information and service branch of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

The total number of returned men placed up to date through the employment office conducted by officials of the information and service branch is 57,253. Of these, 3,919 were placed during the past week.

FIRST CANADIAN AERIAL EXPRESS

Semi-Ready Makes Record in Actual Merchandise Delivery.

(From Montreal Gazette.)
Right in front of the New Sherbrooke Hotel, just around the corner from the Semi-ready Store in the city of Sherbrooke, the clothing parcel from the Semi-ready Shops came down in a parachute, all properly addressed to J. H. Poupard & Co.

Lieut. Wilshire left the aviation grounds at St. Lambert at 9:30 on Monday morning, and while in the air he decided to have a look at all the mountains and towns on the way. He hovered over St. Hyacinthe, and past Richmond, and almost as far north as Danville before striking up the valley of the river to Sherbrooke, where the Magog and Francis rivers become one.

Mr. Poupard immediately wired the Semi-ready Company:
"Suit delivered O.K. Thank you."
"This is the first aerial express delivery of actual merchandise recorded in Canada."

The Sherbrooke Fair this week has attracted a great many people. It is the meeting time and place for the whole Eastern Townships.

Whilst there have been few changes in the city in the past five years, the new Semi-ready Store on Wellington street is a commercial acquisition since the last Fair.

Though so near the city where Semi-ready clothes have been made for the past twenty-one years, this is the first Semi-ready Store established in Sherbrooke.

Los Angeles claims the world's heaviest band. It is the police band of thirty-two members, the lightest weighing 300 pounds, total weight three and a half tons.

BRITISH STAR ON IMPERIAL'S SCREEN

H. B. Warner in Splendid Play "The Man Who Turned White" — Stirring Victory Films, too.

"The Man Who Turned White," the first of a series of pictures now being shown at Imperial Theatre, and starring H. B. Warner, the noted English actor, is a spectacular and vivid drama of the great Sahara desert.

In order to realistically portray the big scenes with their Bedouins, Der-vises, Mohammedans, Oriental dancing-girls and Arabian atmosphere, particular care had to be taken in selecting the proper types.

Camels, too, had to be secured, for a caravan is shown traversing the desert with Bedouins in wild pursuit on horse-back.

Jesse D. Hamelson the producer and his assistants rounded up every "desert" character in southern California for the production, among them a bunch of real Mohammedans with tongue-twisting monikers.

In order to direct this heterogeneous congregation of humanity, interpreters were pressed into service and stationed with megaphones at different points on "location," to shout orders in Arabic, Persian, Hindi, and other Oriental tongues. When the scenes were in action, the weird concatenation of alien tongues, mixed with the neighing of horses, the peculiar whine of the Asiatic ruminants, and the yells of the Mohammedans and Hindus, would drown out any "Streets of Cairo" cacophony ever perpetrated.

The result of so much preparation is a most engrossing story of a cashiered British Army officer, an intense love element interwoven and a wealth of scenery and accessories seldom surpassed.

The Imperial's show was of the highest order throughout, the feature being artistic to an extraordinary degree and the miscellaneous reels most interesting indeed. This is especially true of the marvellously stirring Victory Pageant and Parade in Paris and London when the armies of the Allies were so splendidly represented. The cheers and applause that greeted this feature and the inspiringly patriotic music, terminated with the National Anthem—the King and Queen walked across the curtains, made the big theatre ring. It was a most charming touch to a delightful programme. In laughing matter the programme included those sprightly Topics of the Day from the Literary Digest and Mutt and Jeff the irrepressible.

ADMITS $45,000 THEFT

Brokers' Messenger Boy to be Sentenced Sept. 4

New York, Sept. 2.—Harry J. Millham, eighteen years old, of 127 West 127th street, a broker's messenger boy who began a sightseeing trip on August 12 with Liberty bonds valued at $45,000, taken from his employers, Simmons & Slade, at 5 Nassau street, pleaded guilty in General Sessions to grand larceny.

Judge Wadhams remanded him to the Tombs for sentence Sept. 4.

The charge against two youths arrested with Millham Sunday at Saratoga Lake, where they were paying $100 a week for hotel accommodations with proceeds of some of the bonds, the police said, have not been disposed of. All the bonds were recovered except $4,000. These, it is charged, were cashed to pay the expenses of Millham and his companions in their jaunt through half a dozen states.

Assistant District Attorney Goldstein told the court that Millham last winter admitted stealing Liberty bonds valued at $36,000 from a firm of Wall street brokers and had gone free on a suspended sentence. Goldstein said he would ask Judge Malone to sentence Millham for the old offense and Judge Wadhams will sentence him on the second offense. Confronting on the large number of bond robberies by messengers in the financial district, Mr. Goldstein said he thought it would be wise for bankers and brokers to employ mature and trustworthy men in such work. Inexperienced boys he said, were too easily tempted.

The Canadian Who Bullied the Bolsheviks!

WHEN war broke out, Colonel "Klondyke" Boyle took across, at his own expense, 200 staunch Yukon volunteers. He was sent to Southern Russia, and in six weeks turned the transport system there from chaos into efficiency. He fed the starving Russian and Roumanian armies. He arranged temporary peace terms between Bolsheviks and Roumanians. Aided by twenty Chinese murderers and a brave Canadian girl, he bluffed the Bolsheviks and Austrians, in a tremendous exploit which won for him the title "Saviour of Roumania," and the personal thanks of the Roumanian royal family.

MERCHANT IS ENTHUSED NOW

W. W. Paynter, of North Rustico, Praises Tanlac for Helping Him and His Wife

It is doubtful if there is a better known or more highly respected man in the vicinity of Charlottetown than W. W. Paynter, general merchant and proprietor of the hotel at North Rustico, Prince Edward Island.

While on a business trip to Charlottetown, recently, Mr. Paynter called at Reddin Brothers drug store to make a purchase of Tanlac and stated that both himself and wife are using the medicine with wonderful results. When asked if he was willing for his experience with Tanlac to be published, Mr. Paynter said:

"Yes, indeed, for it was by reading the statements of others that we heard of it and were induced to give it a trial. I had suffered from a bad stomach, poor appetite and a general run-down condition for years. I could not digest anything properly and as a result I lost weight and strength continually. I was extremely nervous, slept but little and had that tired, no account feeling all the time. This condition had existed so long that it was beginning to wear down my whole system. What I would eat nearly always caused me nausea, cramps in the pit of my stomach or some other form of indigestion. I also suffered from dizziness, felt listless and hadn't the energy to attend to business properly. I was not sick exactly; that is, not sick enough to take to my bed, but was just about one half efficient and getting worse all the time."

"My wife was effected practically the same way I was and had gotten into this run-down condition on account of the care and worry of running the hotel. So after reading the high endorsements in the Charlottetown papers we decided to try Tanlac, and while we have only taken two bottles each there is all the difference in the world in our condition already. My wife says she is feeling like a new person and as for me, why, I have my old time vigor and energy back and am just feeling fine. Everything I eat agrees with me perfectly now, for I have no more pain or distress of any kind after meals, and my sleep is sound and restful every night. We are going to continue taking Tanlac for a while longer and I don't hesitate to recommend it for I have never run across a medicine that I consider in its class."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system. Next, it enables the weak worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food permitting the nourishing elements to be converted into blood, bone and muscle.

It overcomes, it is said, that great exciting cause of disease—weakness. It renders the body vigorous and elastic, keeps the mind clear and energetic and throws off the symptoms of nervousness and indigestion. It builds up the constitution weakened by disease and mental and physical overwork, quickens consciousness and is an unending source of comfort to all suffering from such troubles.

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—(Adv't.)

DEEPEST WELL SUNK A MILE AND A HALF

West Virginia Gas Prospectors Revealing Secrets of Earth's Crust to Science

Bottom Temperature 168—May Solve Problem of Tremendous Heat at Earth's Centre—Drilling Still Going on

During the last few years the Hope Natural Gas Company and the Peoples' National Gas Company, both of Pittsburgh, Pa., have been drilling deep wells in Northern West Virginia and Southwestern Pennsylvania, to find deeper oil-bearing and gas-bearing sands, their object being to reach, if possible, the horizon of the rich Clinton sand of Ohio, which, according to Dr. I. C. White, the state geologist of West Virginia, should be found in this region at depths between 7,000 and 8,000 feet.

The first exceptionally deep well thus drilled, the B. A. Geary well, of the Peoples' National Gas Company, is about four miles northwest of McDonald, Pa., and about twenty miles southwest of Pittsburgh. The mouth of the well is about 1,650 feet above sea level. The well penetrates the Gordon gray sand, the last of the usual gas sands in this region, at a depth of 1,671 feet. From this point to a depth of 6,700 feet the strata penetrated are alternately "lime" and "slate," and from 6,700 feet to the bottom, 7,248 feet, they are "sand" and "lime" interspersed with about sixty feet of rock salt. The second deep well was drilled by the Hope Natural Gas Company on the farm of Mr. O. Goff, about eight miles northeast of Clarksburg, in Northern West Virginia. Its mouth is 1,164 feet above sea level. The well begins 200 feet below the level of the Pittsburgh coal and penetrates the usual oil-bearing and gas-bearing sands, the lowest being the Bayard, which lies at a depth of 2,210 feet. The strata in the remainder of the well are alternately "lime" and "slate." The third deep well, the J. H. Lake, of the Hope Natural Gas Company, is about eight miles southeast of Fairmont, W. Va. It is about twenty miles north of the Goff well and about sixty miles south of the Geary well. The mouth of the well is about 1,800 feet above sea level. The Bayard sand, the lowest of the gas sands, was found in this well at a depth of 2,050 feet. The remaining strata are alternately "lime," "slate" and "sand."

Named in order of depth, the four deepest wells in the world are the Lake, 7,279 feet; the Goff, 7,286; a well at Czechow, Germany, 7,348, and the Geary, 7,248. The two deepest wells in the world are therefore the Lake and the Goff, the Lake surpassing the German well by the large margin of 251 feet. In comparison with these great depths, other depths reached by wells or mines sunk in the crust of the earth are rather insignificant. The deepest mine in the world is shaft No. 3, Tamarack, in Houghton county, Mich., which has reached a depth of 5,200 feet. Other shafts of the Tamarack Co. and of Calumet & Hecla mine, in the Lake Superior region, reach depths between 4,000 and 5,000 feet. Three shafts in the Pribram silver mines in Austria have reached depths of about 3,200 feet. The Victoria quartz mine, at Bendigo, Australia, is 4,900 feet deep. A number of shafts in the Transvaal gold region of South Africa have been sunk to depths of about 4,000 feet.

The depth to which a mining shaft can be sunk is limited by the heat of the rocks, as the temperature at a depth of a mile in nearly all parts of the earth is so high that workmen cannot live in it, even with ventilation. The depth to which a well six inches in diameter can be drilled seems to depend on skill in drilling and strength of cable. The cable itself is heavy, and besides carrying its own weight and the weight of a drill which weighs one or two tons, it must bear strains produced by vertical movements of the drill, which may be so great as to break it at any moment, so that the drill and a part of the cable may be lodged in the well in such a way that they cannot be removed. Exceptional skill is required, therefore, in operating the ponderous machinery used in drilling a well. The drill, which is a column of steel about five inches in diameter and forty or fifty feet long, beveled to a V-shaped edge at the lower end, is attached to one end of the cable, and at some other point, determined by a driller, the cable is attached to a long beam, which is operated in the same manner as the walking beam of a steamboat. Merely to lift the drill through the height determined by the swing of the end of the walking beam and to let it drop repeatedly would do no drilling. In order to drill oscillations must be induced in the cable, such as those set up by attaching a light weight to a suspending rubber band. A slight oscillation properly induced by the finger at the upper end of the rubber band will produce a very large oscillation of the weight attached to its lower end. In some such way as this the skillful driller produces oscillations in the drill bit, which throw the sharp beveled edge of the drill on to the rock with high velocity. The only means that the driller has of knowing the behavior of the drill is the general behavior of the machinery and the slight impulses or tremors in the cable, which he detects by his hand alone.

The materials and the conditions in the interior of the earth have long been a favorite subject of speculation among scientific men. According to the modern mathematical theory of the propagation of earthquake waves through the earth the outer rocky shell of the earth, which is about two and one-half times as heavy as water, extends to a depth of less than 1,000 miles. Inside of this shell is some metallic, probably metallic, which is more than five times as heavy as water. Estimates of the temperature at the centre of this nucleus range from 3,000 degrees to 180,000 degrees F., but these figures have little or no value, for mathematicians have not yet found the law of the distribution of temperature from the surface to the centre of the earth. The temperature evidently increases with the depth, a fact again confirmed by an elaborate series of observations of temperature made in each of the three deep wells, the Geary, the Goff, and the Lake, by C. E. Van Orstrand of the geological survey. In each of these wells the temperature at a depth of 100 feet is about 35 degrees F., and gradually rises with increase in depth, reaching 142.0 degrees F. in the Geary well at a depth of 6,100 feet, 199.3 degrees F. in the Goff well at a depth of 7,210 feet, and 184.6 degrees F. in the Lake well at a depth of 7,500 feet. The observation at a depth of 7,500 feet in the Lake well was made

The source of the enormous quantity of heat stored in the interior of the earth is not known. Some writers think this heat is due to the disintegration of radium in the rocks, others think that the earth is a cooling globe, radiating heat developed during condensation from the original nebula, and others think that activity chemical reactions, imparted from meteorites, or condensation from nebulous strata.

The strata of lime, slate, and sand penetrated by these deep wells were originally sediments deposited from ocean water. A bed of ocean water was actually found in the Geary well at a depth of 6,250 feet. Dr. I. C. White, state geologist of West Virginia, is of the opinion that this water is a fossil ocean, imprisoned since mid-Paleozoic time. Interesting evidence in regard to the geologic history of the formations was obtained by Charles Butts of the geological survey, who identified a number of fossils from depths of 7,157 to 7,285 feet in the Goff well. The material from the Lake well has not yet been fully examined. It may be possible by examining the fossils to determine the geologic ages and horizons of the beds penetrated, and so to estimate the depth at which the Clinton sand should lie beneath the bottom of this well. The well probably does not pass through more than one-half the total thickness of sediments in this region.

FELL FROM CANOE AND WAS DROWNED

Fredrickton, Sept. 1.—Frank Legere, of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Legere of that town, was drowned in the St. John River Sunday afternoon a short distance west of this city. The deceased was aged twenty-four years and was an employee of the Palmer-McLellan Shoe Pack Company, having recently come here to enter the employ of that company.

With a companion, Rene Bourque, he was canoeing Sunday afternoon. Joseph Bourque, a brother of Rene, was in the party early in the afternoon but came ashore to join a picnic party. The others paddled toward an island in the river. Legere had been having a little fun in the canoe, it is said, and resumed it rocking the craft until it upset and both occupants were thrown into the water. Both men were strong swimmers and at the time thought little of the upset.

Bourque struck out for the shore of the river and looking back saw Legere holding on to the canoe. Later he saw Legere strike out and follow him. Bourque turned several times and looked at his friend. Finally he became tangled in eel grass and extricated himself with difficulty. Upon entering water shallow enough to permit him to watch again, he looked for Legere and was horrified to find that he had disappeared.

Bourque gave an alarm and relatives and others went to search for the body. Bourque could give no direction as to where to search as he had not seen Legere sink. Search for the body was kept up by Charles Fleet and others last night and today but up to a late hour tonight the body had not been found.

The deceased is survived by his parents, three brothers and five sisters. The brothers are John, of Nova Scotia, Walter, of Sackville and Camille, of Fredrickton. The sisters are Mrs. Eugene Galant, of Fredrickton, Mrs. Edward Landry, of Memramcook, Mrs. Fred Bourque, of Brookton, Mass., Mrs. Samuel Landry, of Amherst and Mrs. Clarence Melanson, of Sackville.

THE FIUME PROBLEM

Paris, Sept. 1.—Signor Tittoni, the Italian foreign minister, has decided not to return to Rome until the Austrian Peace Treaty has been signed, according to the Havas Agency.

Signor Tittoni had previously expressed an intention to be present at the re-opening of the Italian parliament on September 3.

It was reported Saturday that Signor Tittoni and the British prime minister, David Lloyd George, would meet Sunday quietly near Deauville to discuss the solution of the Fiume problem looking to making Fiume an Italian city and the Hinterland being leased to the League of Nations.

The treaty of peace to be handed to the Austrian delegation Tuesday next does not solve the problem of the disposition of Fiume, according to the Temps.

The North End fire department was called out yesterday afternoon at 5:30 when an alarm was rung in from box 143, at the Main street police station. The fire occurred in a tenement house at 72 Chapel street. The tenant, George Kerrigan and his family were away over the holiday and the fire had apparently been smouldering for sometime among some clothes and bedding when the firemen arrived. Prompt action on their part prevented much damage being done although the roof of the building was practically destroyed.

SHARP ANSWER TO AMERICAN ATTACK BY LOVAT FRASER

Britain Criticized for Leaving Armenia, But She Cannot Protect Half of Humanity—Always is Blamed

London, Aug. 28.—Lovat Fraser, in an article in the Daily Mail discussing the question of future protection of the Armenians, says that British troops began to leave the Georgian republic and the adjacent territory of Armenia a week ago, and that the evacuation will take two months.

"A tremendous outcry," says Mr. Fraser, "has arisen to the effect that if the British troops go those Armenians who survived the awful massacres during the war will be slaughtered by the Turks and Kurds. The international Socialist conference, which recently met in Bern, has urged us to leave our forces in occupation of the Caucasus.

"From W. G. Smith, American relief commissioner in the Caucasus, comes a far more violent protest. He says: 'A wave of indignation will sweep through the United States when it is known that the Armenians have been left to their fate and that American relief workers, men and women, share the common peril.

"No explanation or excuse will be accepted. The cordial relations between the two great English-speaking peoples will be shattered.

"And then I see in Friday's Times that it is 'certain that the United States senate will refuse to allow the president to undertake responsibilities in Armenia, Constantinople or elsewhere. Could there be a more contradictory position? We have not the smallest special interest in Armenia or Armenians, political or otherwise. It has nothing to do with the defence of India. The wealthy overseas Armenian community dwells chiefly in the United States. Yet when we are up to our eyes in debt, we are unofficially told that 'no explanation or excuse for quitting Armenia will be accepted.'

"It seems to me that impoverished Great Britain is always being handed the hot end of the poker. It is time to talk a little horse sense about Armenia. If Armenians are in danger of extermination, their fate is a matter for the Allies as a whole or for the League of Nations, not for Great Britain alone. If the United States is unwilling to accept a mandate for Armenia, then, however awful the prospect, Armenia and the Armenians must disappear. British taxpayers and British soldiers do not intend to make themselves the protectors of half the human race. We are some way on the road to national extinction ourselves, and our government has still to answer for the folly of going into Trans-Caucasia at all. In that region we are crusading into ruin."

GET $12,000 IN BOSTON ROBBERY!

Daring Daylight Theft From Fidelity Trust Company in Roxbury

Boston, Sept. 2.—One of the most daring daylight robberies in the annals of this city, in which four desperate gunmen made off with $12,000 in cash and securities, the property of the Fidelity Trust Company, took place on Monday in Roxbury. The bandits held up the driver of a taxicab carrying the bank messenger, took the valuables from the messenger and threw both men into the street and made off in the taxicab with the money.

According to the stories told by Ray Scott Gurney, bank messenger for the Fidelity Trust Company, who lives at 7 Sumner avenue, Medford, and Nicholas J. Volpe, the chauffeur, of 1122 Dorchester avenue, Dorchester, the taxi was driving out of the yard of the Greenery Bakery Company at 65 East Cottage street when the first bandit appeared. The man leaped to the running board and brandishing a revolver, ordered Volpe to drive swiftly down East Cottage street toward Edward Everett square.

Soon afterward the other three men, who are believed to have been hiding in the vicinity, leaped on to the car. From what the police have been able to learn two of the men drew revolvers. One had Volpe "covered" and the other pointed his weapon at the head of the bank messenger.

According to Gurney's story as told to the police at headquarters, the man who had him "covered" cried, at breakneck speed: "Give us all you've got! Don't make any more money!"

In telling his story to the police, Gurney declared that two men had revolvers pointed at him and that one of them told him to "give up that money quick and don't make any outcry or you will be killed." He said that the hold-up took place shortly before noon. He obeyed the orders of the robbers and passed over the money and securities. The money amounted to about $8,000 and the securities were valued at $4,000.

"Why one of the men even kicked me in the stomach and stole my revolver, which I have a permit to carry," said Gurney. "The men stole the automobile and all I know is that they drove up around Edward Everett square and disappeared."

Gurney has been employed as a messenger for the Fidelity Trust Company about a month. He is eighteen years old.

Following the handing over of the money, Gurney and the driver were thrown bodily from the taxicab, which continued swiftly on its way. The taxicab is said to have been a green one with a yellow stripe, carrying the license number 0812-J.

Volpe, the driver, said that when the first man boarded the taxicab he pointed a revolver at his head and ordered him to "go as fast as you can or I'll kill you."

The police have been furnished with descriptions of the four men, and these descriptions are being widely and rapidly circulated. A taxicab which answers the description of the one stolen by the hold-up men was found in Washington, fully two miles from the scene of the robbery. The robbers are believed to have driven almost into the heart of the city before leaving the taxicab, and once in the city the belief is that they separated.

The description of the men sent out by the police follows: Three of the four wore dark suits. Two of the men wore soft hats, the other a cap. The fourth man was dressed in light clothes and wore a straw hat.

Inspectors Armstrong, Burke and Connon have been detailed to work on the case from police headquarters.

ROOSEVELT'S VIEW OF EX-KAISER AND CZAR IS EXPOSED

Privately Referred to German Emperor as a "Monomaniac and Jumpy Creature"—Nicholas was "Preposterous Little Creature"

New York, Aug. 30.—Joseph Bucklin Bishop for thirty years a personal friend of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, and who, five years before the former president's death, was commissioned by him "to write the history of the period which covered his public career," presents in the September issue of Scribner's Magazine the first of a series of papers which gives for the first time many interesting sidelights on the life of the famous American.

The paper, entitled "Roosevelt—Peacemaker," selected and arranged from the former president's public and private correspondence, amounting to more than 150,000 letters, deals with Mr. Roosevelt's efforts to end the war between Russia and Japan, and which resulted in the Portsmouth Peace Conference of 1905.

For the first time, apparently, is revealed the fact that Japan made the initial overtures for peace. Four days after the great Japanese naval victory over Rojstevensky's fleet in the Sea of Japan, on May 27, 1905, the minister of foreign affairs of Japan, the letters show, cabled Minister Takahira, in Washington, to invoke Roosevelt's aid as a mediator.

"It was amusing," wrote the president, "by the way in which they asked me to invite the two belligerents together directly on my own motion and initiative. It reminded me of the request for contributions sent by campaign committees to office-holders wherein they were asked to make a 'voluntary contribution of ten per cent of their salary.' It showed a certain naivete on the part of the Japanese."

According to his biographer, every step in the negotiations, extending over a period of three months, was taken by Roosevelt without the aid of any of his most trusted counselors, John Hay, his secretary of state, being critically ill, Secretary Root having resigned from the cabinet many months earlier, and Secretary Taft being absent in the Philippines.

"One reads the thick volumes of his correspondence with amazement bordering on incredulity," writes Mr. Bishop. "It is incredible that one man could do so much and so well. In no other task of his life was the abnormal, energetic and physical of Theodore Roosevelt put to a severer test, and from none did he emerge more triumphantly. His activity was as tireless as his resourcefulness was inexhaustible.

The president's activity was directed, he said, to "not only steadily and irresistibly forcing the two warring nations into a conference, but bringing other nations like England, France and Germany to the support of his effort. If Russia balked and showed signs of refusal, he persuaded the Kaiser to bring pressure upon the Czar in the interest of peace. If Japan showed similar signs, England was appealed to, to bring pressure upon her. In the end Germany alone really helped, and Roosevelt gave unstinted aid to the Kaiser ever afterward for what he did them."

In all of this correspondence the colonel wrote "without restraint or reservation."

Millions of Germs

Breed in Tooth Film—Keep It Off

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Film Wrecks the Teeth

THAT slimy film which you feel with your tongue causes most tooth troubles. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. In crevices and elsewhere that film clings. That is why your brushing fails to keep teeth white, free from tartar, clean and safe.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So all these troubles have been increasing despite the wide use of the tooth brush.

Dental science, after years of search, has found a film combant. Able authorities have amply proved this by careful clinical tests. Leading dentists everywhere now urge its daily use.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And we offer a 10-Day Tube free now to everyone for home tests.

See the Results, Then Decide

The results of Pepsodent are quickly apparent. Some are instant. We ask you to see them—watch them ten days—then decide for yourself about them.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But science has discovered a harmless, activating method. The inventor has been granted patents by five governments already. It is that invention which makes possible this efficient film combant.
