DRISCOLL SWEENEY DROWNED
WHILE BATHING IN LOWER COVE.

M. Driscoll Sweeney of the firm of McLean and Sweeney, was drowned this afternoon while swimming off Lower Cove beach. Mr. Sweeney was a powerful swimmer and was in the habit of going away out. He did this today and met his fate.

The tragedy occurred off the beach where the St. Joseph's Society have a bathing house. Mr. Sweeney is thought to have taken a tramp for as stated by those who were watching at the time he threw up his arms with a cry, and at once went down. Immediately the alarm was given and a number of boats put out from the Ballast wharf. Grappling irons were procured, and at four o'clock the work of trying to recover the body is still going on. News of the tragedy spread very quickly and a great crowd of people are now at Broadview beach watching the boats.

Owen Coll was in bathing with Mr. Sweeney at the time, but being unable to swim, he did not go to his companion's assistance. Mr. Sweeney is very well known in the city.

MORE EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS
ALARM THE PEOPLE OF CHILE.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 23.—(Delayed in transmission).—The news received here from Valparaiso continues to confirm the worst impressions formed of the situation there. As a result of the strong measures taken to preserve order at least one hundred and fifty persons have been shot. Bodies are still being taken out of the ruins and thus far about 700 men have been buried. It is said that an epidemic is almost certain to occur at Valparaiso as a result of the unsanitary conditions existing there. The houses here are being more and more damaged by the continuing earthquake shocks. In addition to the one which occurred at about 10 o'clock this evening there was another shock this morning.

VALPARAISO, Aug. 24.—There were two slight earthquake shocks here last night. Rain began falling increasing the sufferings of the thousands who are living in tents. Many of them sought refuge from the rain in houses whose walls are in a dangerous state of ruin. It is believed that if the rain continues much longer a serious epidemic is sure to break out here.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court this morning George Brown, John Connolly, drunks, were fined $4 or ten days each. Robert Forrest, drunk on Brook street, was remanded.

Wm. Hayes, the old man who escaped from the alms house, was sent to jail for two months.

The case against Eliu Sally, charged with enticing Mrs. Shannon's house on the night of the 7th inst. and assaulting her, was resumed this morning. Dr. W. W. MacRae for the prosecution, E. R. Ritchie and E. P. Raymond for the defense.

George Bisham, called for the defense and said he owned the Erin street house in which the Sallys and Lizzie Moses reside upstairs. Witnesses live downstairs. On the night in question he saw Eliu Sally and Mrs. Moses going upstairs. He saw them at 10.30 o'clock. A half hour later witness said he went upstairs for a piece of ice and saw defendant in bed and his brother Fred making preparations to retire.

Mrs. Mary George Moses, who lives with Lizzie Moses, said that she saw the defendant and Lizzie come home at 10.30 o'clock on the night in question.

Mrs. Lizzie Moses proved a very interesting witness with a great deal of language, and explained that the defendant was her nephew and was with her all the evening in question. He went to his bed about 10.30 o'clock. When the police came for the boy they met Fred Sally on Brunswick street about 10.35 o'clock on the night in question and told him about a quarter of eleven.

The case was adjourned until two o'clock.

Fred Sally, brother of the defendant, testified that on the night in question he came home at a few minutes before eleven and found Eliu, his brother, in bed. Some time afterwards the police came and took his brother away. When they visited the Shannon house Mrs. Shannon and others were fully dressed.

George R. Morry testified that he met Fred Sally on Brunswick street about 10.35 o'clock on the night in question and told him about a quarter of eleven.

The case was adjourned until two o'clock.

ASSAULT AND ROBBERY
IN THE NORTH END.

An assault and robbery occurred about eleven o'clock this morning on the Shamrock grounds, when James Forsythe, a young man of the North End, was beaten and robbed by his companion, James O'Brien.

During the morning O'Brien in some manner enticed Forsythe to go down to the Shamrock grounds with him. Hardly had they reached the grounds when O'Brien assaulted his companion, knocking him down and relieving him of ten dollars, which he was carrying on his person. O'Brien then made his escape, while Forsythe, with some difficulty, made his way to the police station and entered a complaint against O'Brien. An officer was immediately dispatched to arrest the accused. The officer soon located O'Brien and placing him under arrest took him to the North End police station.

EQUITY COURT.

This morning a number of judgments were delivered in the equity court. In the matter of Walter Plummer, lunatic, an order was made as asked for in the petition made by L. A. Curry on Tuesday, August 14th.

In Bishop vs. Walsh, a foreclosure writ, an order was made as asked for in the petition made by M. G. Tedd and R. W. Haven of Moncton for plaintiff, W. B. Chandler of Moncton for defendant.

In the case of Sears vs. Hicks judgment was given dismissing the plaintiff's bill. The plaintiff, who was a daughter of the late John Hicks of Sackville, shortly after her father's death gave a deed to her brother, thereby transferring her interest in her father's estate. She asked to have the deed set aside on the ground that she made the transfer improvidently. Jas. H. Friel of Dorchester for the plaintiff, H. A. Powell of Sackville for defendant.

In the matter of Mary Estelle Arsenau of Tracadie, Gloucester Co., an infant, M. G. Tedd moved to have the referee's report confirmed, thereby appointing the stepmother of the infant, Mrs. Helen Arsenau, guardian and granting the infant $300 for the year ending September, 1907, $450 a year from that time until she shall become 15 years of age, and $500 a year from that time until she shall attain the age of 21 years.

In the case of Thibideau et al vs. LeBlanc argument was heard on the exception to the referee's report. J. A. Friel for plaintiff; H. A. Powell and W. B. Chandler for defendants.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Aug. 23.—Yesterday the minister of railways inspected the eastern sections of the Prince Edward Island railway and attended a meeting of the Kings County Liberal Association at Montague, where he spoke for over an hour with excellent effect, dealing with charges by the Conservatives at the last session, progress of the country under Liberalism, railway development and work of his department. He was determined to show the people of the West that the government eastern railways could be run on business principles. The day will come, he said, when the I. C. R. and P. E. I. railway will be the best asset Canada has ever had. Today he will inspect the Murray Harbor branch and tomorrow will leave for Moncton.

A meeting of the R. K. Y. C. sailing committee was held last evening when it was decided to hold a motor boat race on the harbor Saturday afternoon, September 8th. The course will be from a point opposite the McLeod wharf around the beacon light, the course to be gone over twice.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—The Turbiner Virginian has made the fastest passage yet recorded on the mail route, Liverpool to Rimouski. She left Friday at 8 p. m. and landed mails at Rimouski at 6 p. m. last night, time 6 days, two hours, or from Inishrahull (Montreal) in five days, 13 hours, 30 minutes.

POLICE HAVE LOST TRACK OF COLLINS,
BUT WILL LIKELY CAPTURE HIM TODAY.

The Suspected Murderer Trying to Reach Maine by Boat---All Charlotte County Arcused, and He Cannot Escape--How the News Was First Received.

At dark last evening Detective Killen was within five miles of the murderer Collins. No trace of the fugitive had been found up till one o'clock today. It is thought he is endeavoring to reach Maine by boat. The country is aroused, and every resident is on the lookout for the fugitive. The officers are watching every road, and it would appear that the capture of Collins is only a matter of a few hours.

minutes before Capt. Tufts saw him. The Martin family, of whom Collins inquired, keep a road house at Spruce Lake, and the suspect probably learned of this on the train, and intended to put up there for the night.

Collins is said to have been a sailor on the bark Edna M. Smith, from which vessel he deserted. The different stevedores give Collins a bad name.

It was just noon when Chief Clark and Detective Killen arrived in Musquash, only to learn that their man had left, and was travelling in the direction of Charlotte county. The St. John officers without a stop, continued on the trail.

The next place where the suspected murderer was heard of was at Mac's Bay, through which he is supposed to have passed at four o'clock, going by the shore road in the direction of Saint George. Chief Clark and Detective Killen were about six miles behind the fugitive at this point, but they were travelling by the other road, known as the Lepreau road. It was thought they should come up behind the man before reaching St. George, providing he kept straight on, which is quite probable, if he had no heading for the fugitive.

The officers, upon hearing the description of the man who had come down the Shore road, were satisfied that he was Collins, and proceeded on their way full of confidence.

A man who also answered the descriptions given was seen four miles outside of St. George on the road from St. John about half-past seven last night by T. R. Sheridan, who lives about five miles out of St. George, and who was driving into the town. Mr. Sheridan was not aware that the suspected murderer was in the neighborhood, but gave a similar description, including the cap and handkerchief around his neck, as has been given of him before.

Detective Killen and Marshall McAdam, of St. George, after visiting Lake Tropic returned last evening to St. George, where they spent the night. They watched the roads from St. John, but no trace was seen.

After another look over the country between St. George and Lake Tropic, Detective Killen, accompanied by Dr. Magee, as guide, drove towards the shore. Marshall McAdam was left at St. George to watch the roads there.

He is able to get it. It is the opinion of St. George today that Collins is heading for the United States and that he will attempt to get there along the coast, probably by bringing some fisherman to take him along. In order to prevent this Detective Killen will scour the country along the shore.

The people within a radius of fifteen miles of St. George are all aware of the pursuit of the suspected murderer and many of them are in it with- out doubt be at once reported to the officers. Last night was very dark, and there is a fear that Collins may

ANOTHER STRIKE ON THE F'TON SEWERAGE WORKS

A Cool Wave at the Capital—Police are Chasing Men Suspected of Theft

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 24.—About twenty-five of the men brought from Boston to work on the Fredericton sewerage went on strike this morning and the contractors are again in trouble. The cause of the strike is that two of the foremen were dismissed today and as the discharged officers are popular with the men the latter refused to go to work unless the foremen were re-instated.

RE-AID. Wm. Rossborough has been appointed an inspector in place of ex-Ald. Stockford and entered upon his duties this morning.

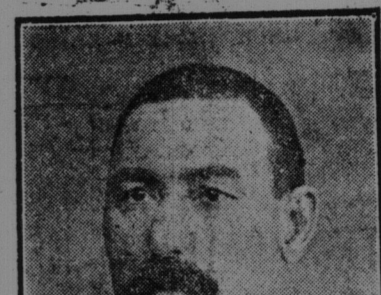

Most of the horses which took part in the Fredericton races were shipped this morning via the I. C. R. for Moncton where the next meeting takes place.

A brother of Harry Vail the well known carman, was brought to Fredericton this morning and taken to Victoria hospital. He is suffering from pleurisy.

The Fredericton police are on the track of the men suspected of committing the robbery here on Wednesday. They have been seen in the upper section of the county and are evidently making their way towards the boundary line. The Woodstock authorities have been notified and as the men are easily recognizable it is expected that they will be captured.

Reports from all sections of the county received this morning are to the effect that the forest fires have been practically wiped out by the recent rains.

Fredericton today is experiencing regular fall weather. The mercury is reaching but 60. After the recent hot wave the contrast is great.

DETECTIVE KILLEN.

ORDERS THE PAPERS TO STOP PRINTING EVIDENCE.

Magistrate Ritchie Says It Is Not Right to Publish the Facts in Connection With Assault Cases.

About 12.30 o'clock today, William Hanley, the barber charged with rape on an eleven-year-old girl named Baker, in a Gormain street lot, on the night of August 5th, was taken up in police court. Hanley was brought into court from jail and is being defended by Daniel Mullen, K. C.

Before the case was opened Magistrate Ritchie ordered the court room cleared. He said that in previous cases the newspapers had printed portions of the evidence, and on each occasion when an arrest had been made for such offences the facts have been printed in the papers. He had been approached by clergymen, doctors and other citizens in this case and they stated that the publication of such news was not good, that the children who read them asked questions regarding the charges made, and he had been asked if he could not interview the editors of the papers in an endeavor to have these articles kept out. He said that it had been suggested to him that the reading of such cases by depraved persons might act as suggestions to such persons to make a similar assault. He therefore quoted the law regarding holding of such cases behind closed doors, and forbade that the reporters attend any of the evidence. The testimony of the little Baker girl was all that was heard this morning and was the same as she told some days ago to her mother.

MIXED DOUBLES.
Second Round.
Mrs. Jones and Mr. Stewart vs. Mrs. Ward and S. W. Babbitt. 6-4, 7-5.

At two o'clock this afternoon there was little or no change in the water famine situation, and up town residents and others might be seen on Charlotte, Union, King Square or other sections carrying water in pails, pitchers and other vessels. A report from the water and sewerage office says that it is thought that the cause is air in the pipes out the road, and men were engaged this morning in opening the air valves in an endeavor to locate the real trouble. In the meantime many citizens are being put to a great inconvenience, and a fear of a large fire is dreaded, as the up town water supply might not be available.

MAYOR OF HAILEYBURY MUST RESIGN AT ONCE

Citizens Indignant Over His Carelessness in Reference to Recent Fire

HAILEYBURY, Ont., Aug. 23.—At a mass meeting of the citizens of Haileybury, held last night, it was decided to demand Mayor Farr's immediate resignation. As the mayor has already intimated his intention to resign in any event it is probable that he will meet the wishes of the people without delay. It has been discovered that when the conflagration broke out there was only a gallon and a half of gasoline in the town. The consequence was that the gasoline fire engine was out of business, in a few minutes. The revelation of this state of affairs has caused great indignation. The origin of the fire is strongly suspected to have been caused by incendiaries.

SUPREME COURT CHAMBERS

Temiscouata Railway Co. (vs. Leave to Appeal in Clair Case.

A rather interesting case from a legal standpoint came up yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice McLeod. The case is that of Clair v. Temiscouata Ry Co. The defendant company, who are represented by L. A. Curry, K. C. and J. M. Stevens, K. C., are asking for leave to appeal from the supreme court of Canada.

Thane Jones contended for Clair that more than sixty days had elapsed, and that as his extension of time has been previously granted, his honor could not be accused of the practice of the court, grant leave to appeal.

His honor said that the point was worthy of consideration and said that he would deliver judgment on Monday.

William Hayes, who recently escaped from the alms house and was recaptured, was examined yesterday by Dr. Berrymann. As he was found to be in good physical condition, it was decided that he should be sent back across the bay. An alms house team driven by a boy was sent in the city to take him out. Hayes started out, but his long-ing for liberty again proved too much for his respect for the law, and when the foot of Erie street was reached, the prisoner leaped out of the wagon and faded away into the darkness.

CHARLOTTETOWN VS. HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 23.—The golf competition between Halifax and Charlottetown players opened on the Halifax golf club grounds today and at the close of the day's play the home players had a good lead.

In the men's singles, 18 holes up, Halifax scored 23, and Charlottetown 6. In the Ladies' singles, Halifax scored 16 and Charlottetown 8. Halifax scored 27 and Charlottetown 9 in the mixed foursomes. Competition will be resumed tomorrow.

BASEBALL

KID McEACHREN'S WORK.

McEachren continues to make good with the Paterson team. In a twelve inning game last week between Tri County and Paterson he pitched his team out ahead. Up to the 13th the score stood 1-1 but Paterson won out by three runs.

The guardian of that city, in reference to McEachren's playing, says: "McEachren, known as the 'curlew wonder,' was on the firing line last week when he pitched his team out ahead. He kept them popping up in the air, and when they came down they invariably fell into the hands of one of the fielders. In the second round he pitched Frank Osborn to two hits and these, with the only free pass he delivered, gave Tri-County their only run. He was well served by his team on base, and several times pulled himself out of bad holes."

The Paterson team, by the way, are the leaders of the league, being fifty-three points ahead of Poughkeepsie. The league will run for about another month yet.

GOLF

CHARLOTTETOWN VS. HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 23.—The golf competition between Halifax and Charlottetown players opened on the Halifax golf club grounds today and at the close of the day's play the home players had a good lead.

In the men's singles, 18 holes up, Halifax scored 23, and Charlottetown 6. In the Ladies' singles, Halifax scored 16 and Charlottetown 8. Halifax scored 27 and Charlottetown 9 in the mixed foursomes. Competition will be resumed tomorrow.

BASEBALL

KID McEACHREN'S WORK.

McEachren continues to make good with the Paterson team. In a twelve inning game last week between Tri County and Paterson he pitched his team out ahead. Up to the 13th the score stood 1-1 but Paterson won out by three runs.

The guardian of that city, in reference to McEachren's playing, says: "McEachren, known as the 'curlew wonder,' was on the firing line last week when he pitched his team out ahead. He kept them popping up in the air, and when they came down they invariably fell into the hands of one of the fielders. In the second round he pitched Frank Osborn to two hits and these, with the only free pass he delivered, gave Tri-County their only run. He was well served by his team on base, and several times pulled himself out of bad holes."

The Paterson team, by the way, are the leaders of the league, being fifty-three points ahead of Poughkeepsie. The league will run for about another month yet.

PLOT TO DISHERIT

SULTAN'S TRUE HEIR.

Abdul Hamid, Dying, Said to Convince at Succession of Favorite Son.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—A communication emanating from the reform party at Constantinople will appear in the newspapers here tomorrow asserting that the health of the Sultan of Turkey, although momentarily improved, is gradually failing and that a fatal result may shortly be expected. It is added that Abdul Hamid is fully aware of his condition and desires to secure a successor who will follow out his liberal, which view is supported by his majesty's entourage. The communication also says that Abdul Hamid's advisers and the religious chiefs of the Mahometans are plotting the disinheritance of Mahomet Rehad, who will be declared incapacitated by illness from succeeding to the throne, and that the Sultan will proclaim as his fourth son, Mahomet Burhan-Eddine, born in 1885, as his successor. It is pointed out that the latter is in complete accord with his father's policy, which the reformers claim "would mean a continuance of the present regime of terror and massacre."

It has long been known that the Sultan has been extremely anxious to change the order of succession in favor of his fourth son, and he is credited with having been encouraged to take this step by the Kaiser, who took a great fancy to Burhan-Eddine when he was in Constantinople. Last February the Sultan conferred upon the prince the title of "Nahim," which means coadjutor, associate or viceroy. The act was considered significant at the time, and the conferring of the title has been very rare in Turkish annals. The prince is a very bright and attractive young fellow. Brought up in the most careful way by the best German, French and English tutors obtainable, thoroughly up to date and modern in his ideas, and of solidly and manly appearance, he has travelled extensively in Europe, has frequently been the guest at Potsdam of the Kaiser, with whom he is in terms of warm friendship, and presents the most striking contrast in every possible way to his father, the Sultan.

Prince Rehad, the 62-year-old younger brother of the Sultan and legitimate heir apparent, of whose death the heir apparent, practically nothing is known. For the last 30 years, indeed ever since the present Sultan came to the throne, he has been to all intents and purposes a prisoner of state, condemned to an existence of complete isolation in the Palace of Dolma-Baghtche, surrounded by spies and by guards.

The Larcher Lightship is not on her station at present, having gone out to Yarmouth for repairs. She will be replaced as soon as the repairs are completed.

HARBOR HORSE SHOW.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 23.—The annual horse show closed today at Bar Harbor, Pa., with a large attendance and great interest in the championship class, in which Edgar L. Scott, of Philadelphia, captured the red, white and blue rosette with his horse Reginald.

The blue ribbon winners of the day were General Edward Morrell, of Philadelphia, three firsts; Edward T. Scott, of Philadelphia, three firsts, and W. R. Cockeran, Jr., and Philip Livingston, both of New York, one each. The result of the track events were as follows:

Half mile dash, won by Longbrook, owned by J. A. McKenna, of New York. Time, 54 4/5 seconds.

One and half mile hurdle race, won by Richard, owned by H. S. Stalder, Bar Harbor. Time, 2:10 1/2.

Half mile dash, won by Little Dawn, owned by J. A. McKenna, of New York. Time, 55 seconds.

Christian Scientist Todd Resents the Statement of Juror and Demands Retraction.

PETERBORO, Ont., Aug. 23.—At the adjourned inquest into the death of Arthur H. Handlett, who died in a Christian Scientist's house, there were some stormy passages between the coroner and members of the jury and
the Christian Scientist demonstrator,
the latter declaring that medicine killed
more people than pestilence, war or famine, and that the doctors were endeavoring to overthrow the principles of Christian Science.
There were a number of Christian Scientists in the court room and they applauded the statements of the demonstrator.
The inquest was adjourned for three weeks, no verdict being reached and Todd, the Christian Scientist, expressed confidence in his ability to clear himself from any blame. As a result of statements made at the inquest by one of the jury Todd demanded a retraction, failing which he threatens to enter an action for criminal libel.

NEW ONTARIO.

Within a few years a tenth province will be added to the confederation. The first announcement of the desire felt by some citizens of north-west New-Ontario has been made, and while it is unlikely that this movement will in the near future result in the creation of a new province, still the idea will grow, and with the development of the territory involved will come the wish for separation. There is no more reason why North Ontario should be indefinitely attached to old Ontario than
there is why Nova Scotia should be regarded as a portion of New Brunswick.
The two sections are scarcely more than connected, they are widely different in their natural resources and the development of the new country must be along lines not altogether in accordance with the methods pursued in the older portion of the province. The people who make homes for themselves in that land and, as a rule, work
earnestly towards its advancement.
Thus the settlers in North Ontario, feeling that they are citizens of a younger
district, will naturally desire freedom
from the apron strings of the older
section.

This talk of a distinct organization
has not taken only the form of a request to leading citizens to meet in convention for the purpose of discussing the advisability of outlying such a policy. It is of interest, however, to consider what this district can boast
of in connection with its claims for recognition. North Ontario consists of the districts of Rainy River to the west, Thunder Bay, Algoma, and Nipissing. It lies to the north of Lake Huron, Lake Superior and the state of Minnesota, having Quebec to the east,
and Keweenaw to the north. A portion
of the district of Nipissing extends
south-easterly, but is not included in
that part of the province commonly known as North Ontario.

In the westward movement of population New Ontario has been brought very prominently before the eyes of Canada, and there is a steady
flow of settlers to this section, people
being attracted by the forest and mineral wealth and by the existence of excellent wheat growing lands. The
district as a whole contains 140,000
square miles, or roughly 90,000,000 acres
of which 16,000,000 are now known to
be suitable for agricultural purposes,
although only 4,000,000 acres have actually been surveyed. For years there have been settlements of varying importance along the southern portion of New Ontario, but it is only within the past five or six years that colonists
have been thinking farther north. Much of the increase in population is due to recent developments of mineral wealth in which the country abounds and which promise to make it before many years have passed, one of the richest sections of Canada. Railroads have been constructed, others are projected,
and as the climate, while severe in winter, is not unbearable, there is every reason to believe that this country,
heretofore regarded as a wilderness,
will show a remarkable growth. In view of the fact that it is probably the richest timber section of Canada
and that it abounds in minerals, no
other future is possible.

THE SAND POINT DREDGING.
The aldermen have decided to take it for granted that there is nothing the matter with the Sand Point berths
other than can be remedied in plenty of time by the city dredge, now at work.
It would seem to the average man to be the wiser policy to find out defen-
itely and precisely what is wanted.
Then, as the capacity of the city
dredge is known, it would be a simple matter to ascertain if it could really accomplish the task before it. If its weakness were thus demonstrated,
there would be a chance of getting other assistance. Under the decision of the Board of Works the little old machine will dig away and do what it can and if it is discovered later that the work is too great for it, the time
will be then too late to do anything
but curse the aldermen; but as a relief sometimes, but a poor substitute
for lost trade and injured prestige—
Sun.

A picturesque institution went out of existence a few days ago when by order of the British Government the Bank of England military guard was cancelled.

The provincial board of health has decided that the sewerage from Fred-erickton must not be emptied into the St. John river. No other decision could in fairness have been made.

The two citizens who have the contracts for the West Side wharf state
that the work will be done in time.
Their words may be relied upon and
the assurance given is a most gratifying one.

HE GOT A WIFE.

The hired man whittled the kindling
with a great big pruning knife,
And he said to the good old farmer:
"I reckon I'll get me a wife."

The farmer felt for his blackstrap
plug,
And said, as he winked at his comely
wife:
"It's the best thing you could dew."

The farmer's wife looked up and said:
"No daniel could I refuse."
Then the farmer he straggled away to bed,
And soon was involved in snooze.

At four a. m. he went downstairs
To light the cook stove fire,
Then yelled aloft at the top of his voice:
"It's time to get up, Marlar!"

He thumped upon the hired man's door,
And cheerfully roared "Hello!"
"Git up and milk the critters, Bill,
Why art thou slumbering so?"

Marlar she came not down the stair,
The hired man answered not;
The farmer smelt a rat, and then
He humped himself and got.

He searched the house from end to end;
The air with gloom was rife.
"B'ingoes, Bill was right!" quoth he.
"It's gone and got a wife."

"He's also got my Sunday suit,
Now the critters in North Ontario, feeling that they are citizens of a younger
district, will naturally desire freedom
from the apron strings of the older
section.

IN CUT GLASS.

With reference to the humors of Minneapolis, having Quebec to the east,
and Keweenaw to the north. A portion
of the district of Nipissing extends
south-easterly, but is not included in
that part of the province commonly

SOMETHING TO GUESS AT.
Ostend—Say, pa, what is food for evil wealth and by the existence of excellent wheat growing lands. The
district as a whole contains 140,000
square miles, or roughly 90,000,000 acres
of which 16,000,000 are now known to
be suitable for agricultural purposes,
although only 4,000,000 acres have

NECESSARY ADJUNCTS.
In a discussion of expensive health
resorts and watering places Bishop McVickar of Providence said the other day:
"A friend of mine, a very stout fellow, once went to Marienbad to get his weight reduced. He had heard great things about it, and hoped to lose 100 pounds or so with no inconvenience to himself.
"But he found the rates excessively
high and the regime excessively severe, and after an interview with the hotel physician he said pettily:
"Spare diet, long walks—I could have managed all that without coming to this expensive place."
"Yes," said the physician, "but you forgot the annoyance induced by your high prices. That of itself will go a long way toward reducing your weight."

HAD SEEN IT IN PRINT.
Dr. Edward Broderick, the noted teacher and author of Philadelphia, described at a dinner the great strides that popular education had made in the past fifty years, says an exchange.
"Smaller and smaller," he said, "becomes the percentage of the illiterate.
Of those who cannot read or write. It won't be long before a thing that once happened in Sullivan County will be quite impossible.
"When I was teaching school in my youth in Sullivan County, a boy one morning undertook to go through the alphabet.
"He stumbled along and finally came to a full stop before the letter X.
"Dunno that un," he said.
"Oh, yes you do," said I. "Think a minute."
He thought. Then he brightened.
"Why," he said, "that's dad's name."

IN THE NATURAL STATE.
Andrew Carnegie once delivered a little homily to the pupils of a public school in Washington, wherein he endeavored to demonstrate that the judgment of men is apt to be warped
by sentiment and feeling.
"In Scotland," asserted Mr. Carnegie,
"the people abominated hymns simply
because the Episcopalians used them.
The Presbyterians sang only the Psalms of David. The Episcopalians used stained glass in their church windows, and for that reason the Scotch looked upon stained glass as something
of unholy origin."

Concluding, Mr. Carnegie told a story of a Presbyterian minister who had been bold enough to introduce this hated innovation. He was showing it in triumph to one of his parishioners
and asked her how she liked it.
"Ay, it is handsome," said she, sadly,
"but I prefer the glass just as God
made it!"

TO THE RIGHT SOURCE.
"Are you sure the sick man wanted
me?" asked the physician, reaching for his hat.
"He didn't mention your name, but
he's screaming for some one that'll put him out of his misery, and I thought of you right away."

BOOM IN MINING.
Many Discoveries in White
Horse Region.

Claims in the Watson and Wheaton Districts Purchased as Soon as Staked—Report of Supt. of the Mounted Police.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Superintendent
Snyder of the Mounted Police at White Horse, Y. T., reports that the month has witnessed a continual boom in quartz mining, discovery after discovery
being located and samples of ore
brought in which are claimed to run from $200 to $800 to the ton. The discoveries were made in the Watson and Wheaton River districts, at points
from fifteen to twenty-five miles southwest of Robinson Sliding on the White Pass & Yukon Railway. Although rich float has been found in these districts since 1888, it is only this year that anyone has claimed to have discovered any ledge. Claims are purchased as soon as staked, there being
a good demand for them at prices ranging from $250 up. Applications have been made for two town sites, one at the mines and one at Robinson Sliding
at the point where the railway is left to go to them.

Work is being actively carried on in the neighborhood of Conrad development, the work being done in about 40
claims, employing in all about 600 men.
The Conrad Consolidated Company employ from 200 to 225 men in their various claims and will begin shipping ore
to the southern smelters early in August, after which shipments will be continued at short intervals. This company have about completed a second aerial tramway to their Venus
mine.

Extensive mining is being done at the Pueblo copper property, five miles from White Horse, from which the manager expects to ship a thousand tons the summer and fall. The ore will have to be sacked and hauled to the railway station here in wagons.

Encouraging reports are received
from various placer fields in the district, 1,025 ounces of gold being taken from Livingstone Creek in one week.

Miss Jessie Darling, of Providence, R.

WHITNEY PRAISES THE SALVATION ARMY.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Hon. J. P. Whitney, the Premier of Ontario, speaking at Bath, gave two reasons why he supported the Salvation Army, both in his individual and representative position:
First, because he believed in the good influences of the Army; and second, because of its emigration work. Instead of dumping immigrants down on the docks, the Army saw them straight into situations. The Army had a smaller percentage of failures than any other organization engaged in the work.

This being the truth, it was right that the truth should be told. Premier Whitney referred to the importance of the work as it affected Canada, which he described as the great auxiliary
nation of the British Empire. Hon. Dr.
Fayre accompanied Premier Whitney
on his visit to Crewe and Bath.

MAINE FARMER WAS KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

KENNEBUNKPORT, Me., Aug. 23.—
During a severe electrical shower tonight, William Hutchins, a farmer living on the Goose Rocks road, was struck by lightning and killed. He was 32 years old. Hutchins was sitting in the hallway of his house when the bolt struck. The house was not set on fire
but was damaged greatly by the lightning.

A large barn belonging to Charles Stene was struck by lightning during the same shower and burned with its contents which included a horse. The loss was $2,000.

SCHOOL SHOES!

Past experience has proved to hundreds of parents that our School
Shoes wear about twice as long as other shoes sold at the same price.
The reason is that we personally select the material used in the manufacture of our Shoes. Our profits—it's true—are small on a single pair, but, by shoeing half of the school children, it pays us in the end.

EVERY PAIR GUARANTEED.
For Boys—Stout Vici Kid or Calf, Laced, Heeled or Spring Heel.
Sizes up to 6 1/2, $2.00.

For Girls—Buttoned or Laced, Heeled or Spring Heel, Kid or Calf—
sizes up to Ladies' 6, $1.50.

LIGHTER SALMON PACK.

Four Hundred Thousand Cases
Less of Sockeyes.

Some Lucky Fishermen Made Money at the Higher Price—Season Extended
by the Government.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 23.—That delicious lunch delicacy, the British Columbia and Puget Sound sockeye
salmon, will be dearer this year than usual, as the salmon were coy and hard to catch. The total pack of the Fraser River canneries for the season
is 156,107 cases, which is 200,000 less than it was four years ago, that being
the year when comparisons are made regarding sockeyes, which are supposed to run about the same quadrannually. The total pack on Puget Sound is estimated to be about 150,000 cases, and that likewise is 200,000 less than in 1902. In other words, there are 400,000 cases
less this season than in the year just named. For a few lucky fishermen who tolled nights and caught more than the average the season has been a good one, for the high price, ranging from 25 cents to 40 cents per fish, made up for the scarcity, but the canneries
talk of it as a season without profit, while some say it has been one of serious financial loss.

The Dominion Government has extended the season to September 15
in order to give the canneries a chance to make up by catching cohoes for some of their losses in sockeye fishing.
The mere fact that the extension of time was asked for shows what a poor season it has been. A number of can-neries are much averse to this action, they declaring that even if a few sockeyes are caught between now and September 15, it will be at the expense of fishing four years hence, as the females will lose the opportunity of getting to the upper waters of the Fraser.

Another unfortunate feature of the season has been the comparative failure of the traps on the Vancouver Island shore of the Strait of Juan de Fuca. It was hoped that many of the Fraser River salmon would be caught in the traps before they reached Puget Sound waters, but that did not happen
to any great extent this year. There were 23 traps in operation, and as each represented an expenditure of at least $5.00 the investment is $114,000. A good deal of this will be lost, because traps
have to be practically rebuilt every season.

Dan J. Britt, the popular captain of the New Aberdeen Baseball club, who has left for his home in St. John, was presented on Monday evening with a handsome alarm clock by his friends and admirers at New Aberdeen. The presentation was made by Neil A. Mc-Kenzie. Mr. Britt made many friends while here, who will regret to learn of his departure. He expects to return here to play ball next season.—Sydney

HEAT IS INTENSE IN NEW ENGLAND.

A Number of Fatalities Occurred Yesterday
—Many Prostrations.

New Englanders are suffering with excessive heat, and yesterday Alfred E. Tidale, of South Framingham, fell dead on the gang plank of the steamer
City of Bangor. The cause of death was given as heart failure, brought on by the heat.

In Boston the thermometer registered 90 yesterday afternoon, the humidity being 79 per cent, 9 per cent
above the normal. A cool wave visited Boston last night and gave great relief to the residents. In the early evening a severe thunder storm swept
New England, causing a number of fatalities, and doing great damage. A resident of Kennebunk was struck
and killed by lightning.

The cool wave closely followed the thunder storm, and in an hour the thermometer at most places had dropped ten degrees.

At Portland, Me., there was also intense heat, and although a number of people were prostrated, no fatalities occurred.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve, increased £1,638,000; circulation, decreased, £72,000; bullion, increased £84,213; other securities, increased £1,631,000; notes reserve, increased £1,604,000; Government securities, unchanged.

The proportion of the banks reserve to liabilities this week is 93.26 per cent. as compared with 93.07 last week.

$554,000,000 IS SUM DEPOSITED BY THE PUBLIC.

Record Breaking Figures Shown in Canadian Bank Report Issued Today.

The Canadian bank statement for the month of July came out today, and shows another big increase in public deposits.

The banks are now carrying $544,100,000 on deposit, which is several millions above the previous high record.

Mid-summer dullness was reflected by a slight falling off in circulation and current loans as compared with June, the month previous.

The principal items in the statement compare as follows:

	June.	July.
Capital paid up ..	$1,914,555	$1,781,790
Circulation ..	68,365,555	62,182,979
Deposits, notes ..	578,777,888	570,030,511
Do. demand ..	157,922,133	165,077,730
Do. outside of Canada ..	47,344,212	50,838,444
Specie ..	20,108,117	20,880,454
Domestic notes ..	37,909,452	39,418,861
Call loans in Canada ..	56,024,697	58,288,627
Do. elsewhere ..	53,476,979	54,261,216
Current loans in Canada ..	501,621,979	500,932,335
Do. elsewhere ..	33,189,245	34,379,778

It is noticed that there was a little more demand for call money in July, both in Canada and elsewhere.

THOUGHT DIVIDEND A JOKE.

Wall Street Broker Curs Up a Notice Worth a Fortune.

Robert Wrenn, an extens champion of the United States, and one of the best known members of the New York Stock Exchange, has just received a notice to discover the announcement of Union Pacific 10 per cent. dividend placed on the Union Pacific stock at the opening of the market on Friday.

Drawing the attention of a friend to the typewritten announcement of a 5 per cent. dividend for Southern Pacific and a 10 per cent. rate for Union Pacific, Mr. Wrenn asked who it might be that had planned that joke, and to emphasize his belief that the announcement was a bogus one, he drew down the bulletin and threw it on the floor.

Neither he nor any of the other brokers in the Union Pacific stock exchange realized that Union Pacific common had actually been placed on a 10 per cent. dividend basis.

It was really not until the news agencies sent out the information that the Union Pacific stock was to be placed on a 10 per cent. dividend basis that Mr. Wrenn realized that he had given up his policy of paying out actively low dividends on Union Pacific stock and had placed the stock on a 10 per cent. basis.

GOLD IN LONDON IS LIMITED.

The supply of gold in London is limited. The London Statist points out that owing to the low condition of the Bank of England's reserves, the amount of gold in London is limited to $15,000,000 of gold could possibly be spared for export. This limit, which will have to be shared not only by the United States, but South America, India and Egypt. While the extended bull movement in the gold market, the manipulators will no doubt strive to keep money rates reasonably low, but whether they will be able to succeed for many weeks more is questionable. The railroads are urgently in need of more funds, and the telephone companies are anxious to increase their capital stocks, at $7,000,000 each, and the need for gold is increased by the earthquake has wiped out, it is estimated $150,000,000 of property, Japan is reported to be opening negotiations for $40,000,000 for business purposes in Manchuria and, lastly, a continuance of the gold market speculation will aggravate radically the money situation. It is true that South Africa is producing more gold each succeeding month and that the Australian supply keeps up, but the demand appears to have overtaken the supply.

ANOTHER FAILURE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The suspension of the firm of Franklin D. Sullivan, members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange was announced on that exchange today. The suspension is reported to be due to the inability of the firm to collect additional margins from customers after the upward movement of the market last week. A member of the firm today estimated the liabilities at $100,000 and its assets at $30,000 to $40,000 and said they would compromise with the creditors and resume business.

WALL STREET.

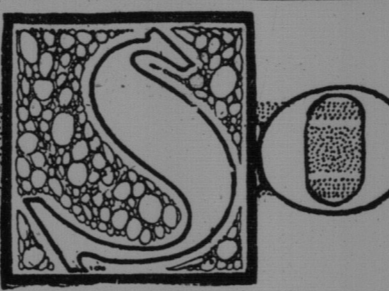

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The stock market opened with the recent familiar rise in the prices and with activity on a large scale. There were a few wide openings, that in U. S. Steel being at from 46 7/8 to 46 1/2 on transactions of 15,000 shares. Blocks of 5,000 to 8,000 shares of other stocks were purchased with Amalgamated Copper in heavy demand. St. Paul, Atchafalpa, Canadian Pacific, Reading, Louisville and Nashville, Amalgamated Copper, Locomotive and Pressed Steel Car rose a point. Northwestern Pacific 2, Great Northern, C. I. 2-12 and Anaconda 4-1-2.

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 24.—A man who in every way answers the description of the man Collins, the alleged murderer of Miss McAulay, was employed for three weeks with Joseph B. Steeves of Coverdale, Albert county. He left Steeves' employ on the sixteenth of July. Steeves describes the man as being one of the most vicious and most ill-tempered persons he had ever met, and on one occasion in a fit of rage he had threatened to burn down Steeves' house. On numerous other occasions he had threatened Steeves with bodily injury and was finally discharged for refusing to work. While in Steeves' employ the man said that he, with one or two others, had left the schooner Edna M. Smith at Albert. He carried with him a bag of oilskins, such as Collins is reported to have carried, and in the minds of several of the men who worked for him he was a poor writer, which knowledge had fallen to disprove him during his stay.

Joseph Steeves the man worked for a week in the employ of Squire Full, more, Coverdale, and later with Judson Steeves, Upper Coverdale. Three weeks ago Sunday he was still employed there, but as the place is beyond telephone communication it cannot be ascertained if he is still working there. It is said that Collins was a runaway from the Edna M. Smith, and Whiteley said he had left this vessel last week. In his movements

THE WONDERS OF THE WEST.

High Authority on Western Gives His Impressions of Farming in Canada.

A telegram from Winnipeg says that Herbert Myrick, of Orange Judd & Co., the Phelps Publishing Company, editor of the American Agriculturist, the Orange Judd Farmer, the New England Homestead, and the Farm and Home, after making a combined tour of several hundred thousand, after making an extended tour through Western Canada, gave his impressions of the country.

"I have made it my custom," said Mr. Myrick in an interview, "to visit, personally, every state and territory in which our papers circulate, and each year, and to make a very careful examination of these districts. In pursuance of this custom I came to Canada several weeks ago. Before coming, I had the reports of a number of my associates, who had visited Canada on many occasions. Among these were Professor Thomas Shaw, statistician and crop reporter, and Otto H. Hubbard, manager of the land advertising of the Orange Judd Farmer and the Farm Home. I conceived that I took the right way to see Canada properly in going, first to Alaska, and making the long journey of 1,200 miles through the inland seas. I saw the evidences of the great influence on Northwestern Canada of the Japan currents in Alaska. At Skagway I picked the finest strawberries I ever saw, and saw a field of the finest potatoes that ever grew. "When I remembered that the mountain ranges of the South entirely disappeared as one travels north, and when I recollected the great influence of the Japanese ocean currents, I at once understood why the climate of Western Canada should be such as it is."

"How did British Columbia impress you?"

"I was generally struck with the terminal facilities in Vancouver and by the splendid harbors found along the coast. The undeveloped mineral resources, the lumber, and the water powers of the province also made a strong appeal to me."

"Prior to my own visit to Canada I had thought that the reports from our men were too enthusiastic, and that even Prof. Shaw had his judgment influenced by hospitable treatment. I am now free to confess with pleasure that they did not put the case a bit too strongly. The Orange Judd Farmer and the Farm Home have endeavored to tell the truth about this country, and we believe that we have sent many thousands of people to it, but I am proud that we have understated the case for Canada. In Southwestern Alberta, dry farming, by the Campbell system, will produce crops in such quantities and at such low cost as to enhance greatly the value of vast areas now considered suitable only for range purposes."

"What will the value of irrigation be to the Calgary district?"

"With reference to the C. P. R. irrigation project in Alberta, I desire to say that I consider it the most rational in America. This enormous ditch has been constructed with such economy, and the intake water is obtained so economically, that this land can be sold at less price than irrigated by the settlers than any other irrigable land in the continent. The annual cost of water for irrigation (50 cents for each acre irrigated) is much less than prevails elsewhere. Between Calgary and Edmonton there are immense areas of splendid land, which can be bought at the present time at low prices. Edmonton itself is the metropolis of the inland empire of the Canadian Northwest. By this inland empire I refer to the immense area extending 100 miles south, 200 miles east, and stretching away to the north and west indefinitely. Few people in Winnipeg realize the magnitude and richness of this empire. It may be compared with the inland empire of the American states, between the Cascade and the Rocky mountains, consisting of 150,000 square miles, of which Spokane is the centre."

"Further north I found the country rich and fertile, more rolling, more wooded, with a climate equally good, if not better. The finest crops I have seen anywhere were average crops in the Edmonton country. Between Calgary and Edmonton there are immense areas of splendid land, which can be bought at the present time at low prices. Edmonton itself is the metropolis of the inland empire of the Canadian Northwest. By this inland empire I refer to the immense area extending 100 miles south, 200 miles east, and stretching away to the north and west indefinitely. Few people in Winnipeg realize the magnitude and richness of this empire. It may be compared with the inland empire of the American states, between the Cascade and the Rocky mountains, consisting of 150,000 square miles, of which Spokane is the centre."

"I am in no mood to bandy words," he continued coolly. "I know the condition of your business affairs, Mr. Reppier. At present you are on the verge of ruin. The return of the gem before the night is over means the rehabilitation of your business credit and the preservation of your financial honor. If I put that gem in your hand in four hours, have I your personal assurance that the letter will be destroyed and in my presence?"

"You are a race adventurer, sir," Reppier said hotly. "If you know where the gem is, and refuse to give me the information that will lead to its recovery, you are in guilty collusion with the thief and are no better than he is."

Sloan smiled again calmly.

"I am no thief, sir," he said quietly.

"I am simply a desperate man who stands to lose the opportunity of a lifetime through your meddling officiousness. Left alone, the bank will gladly accept the return of the gem, and the securities which I have to offer, and which you know are amply sufficient to fully protect me."

"It was the detective who spoke next."

"If you really know where the gem is," he began.

"I would prefer to put the matter differently, I think," Sloan said coolly. "I haven't an exaggerated opinion of the importance of your calling, Mr."

"That's all right," Brown said, turning red and looking awkward. "Your sentiments do you credit, sir. Frankly, I agree with you. I am not roling to make a mystery out of the affair, or to muddle any more than need be over it. To my mind, the business lies between the man-gazing chat of the foot of the table and the fellow on your right. Did any one touch the stone, do you know?"

"I am almost sure that no one did. The gentleman had been discussing gems, and that he was a gem."

"Think of 'The Sleepless Eye'." The devilish thing had a fascination for me somehow, and it had not been in the house twenty-four hours."

"And no one leaned across the table to get a better look at it?" said the detective, taking out his note-book.

"No. You see, it was only about ten minutes—possibly not so long—between the time when I laid the box upon the table and the time when I telephoned. I felt sure that I had not once lost sight of the box, but I must have done so."

"Will you give me an accurate description of the stone?" The detective was busy with his note-book.

"It was a diamond. I believe that I have already told you that. It was smeared on one side with some rude pigment or dye, and I judge from the scum of paper that was pinned upon it, containing the words 'The Sleepless Eye,' that it was set in the forehead of the idol of which Gorman speaks, and was intended to represent the organ of vision."

"Of course, I knew all the time that it possessed a financial value, but I hardly thought it could be as valuable as Gorman's words have suggested it may be."

Brown closed the note-book with a little snap.

"I dare say," he said.

He had just begun the sentence when some one knocked at the door.

Reppier looked at him a little helplessly, then nodded.

"Come in," he called.

Sloan entered a little hurriedly. He looked hurried and anxious.

"I hoped that I would be in time to find you here," he said, addressing the detective. He then turned to Reppier.

"Judge for the first time Sloan shows traces of nervousness—traces which vanished instantly as Gorman entered the room and peered about him in his usual half-indifferent, near-sighted fashion through the disfiguring glasses."

Have you discovered anything?" he asked Reppier at once upon entering the room. "By Jove, it's deuced good luck if you have!"

He spoke to Reppier, but he looked neither at Reppier, who was regarding him curiously, nor to Sloan, who was leaning lightly against the door which he, Gorman, had just entered. It was a full minute before any one spoke.

"I think that, just before you sprung that surprise upon us, Reppier," said Sloan indifferently, "I made this remark: 'Gorman is a sensitive devil. As an example—'"

He stopped for a moment. "As I remember it, my remark ended there. What I was about to say was, 'Yes, Gorman is a sensitive devil. The loss of his right eye—'"

Gorman's face turned ashen, and his hand crept to his side.

"It's no use, Gorman," said Sloan evenly. "The game is up, my good friend. Your skill as a slight-of-hand performer, and the fact that your shaded glasses hid an empty socket when you entered the room and a Gorman's hand dropped away from the pocket of his loose coat, and a drift of color crept back to his thin, awarthy face."

"It was a very pretty trick, and I think that it deserved to succeed," he said regretfully.

"And would have, no doubt," said Sloan, "had I not remembered your reputation of old, and been on the watch. It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, Gorman."

Gorman made another movement and glanced furtively toward the door, but Brown was on his guard. A little metallic click sounded ominously in the silent room.

"Come, come," said the officer persistently. "You must have it, you know, if you do not behave as you should."

Sloan did not hear him. He had forgotten the others, and was staring idly at an envelope which Reppier had laid on the table before him. The snap of the handcuffs made him look up, however.

He leaped forward and laid the paper upon the glowing coals in the tiny grate. A smouldering flame leaped suddenly into view, and he read the name upon the scorching envelope. It was the name of John Dabridge, President of the First National Bank of Keseyville.

"I haven't an exaggerated opinion of the importance of your calling, Mr."

"It's a better job than I thought," he said, "and more than one in it, or I miss my guess. I'll hear about these guests of yours now, sir, if you please. Who are they?"

"Gorman, who sat at my right, I don't know very well. I take it that he is a rich man—and he certainly is a roving sort of a chap. Plenty of money, you know, and a bit of a rascal. The town seems to have gone a little mad over him. I met him first—"

"Never mind now about that, sir. Plenty of money, you say? Was it Gorman, sir, who gave you that song and dance about the African idol?"

"Yes. I don't like him, you know. He is a surly lot, and I have heard more than one nasty thing about him. But if he got the gem—"

"We haven't accepted him of that, sir—not yet, at least," said Brown, with a grin. "Next, please."

"Graham was next. He is a brother-in-law of mine."

"In good circumstances?"

"Fairly. And he has no bad habits. I know him like a book."

"Bless you, they are the ones to look out for sometimes," said Brown pessimistically. "Next."

"Sloan sat at the foot of the table, and Lattimer and Sullivan to his right. Sullivan and Lattimer have all sorts of money and, Sloan is a moon-gazing, harmless sort of fellow."

"And the servant?"

A change passed over Reppier's mercenary features.

"He has been with me for twenty years," he said. "And understand once for all, Brown, that that don't work—that don't. We won't make a scapegoat out of Barger."

"That's all right," Brown said, turning red and looking awkward. "Your sentiments do you credit, sir. Frankly, I agree with you. I am not roling to make a mystery out of the affair, or to muddle any more than need be over it. DROPPED DEAD WHILE AT WORK

David Milligan, an Employee at the Portland Rolling Mills, Succumbed to an Attack of Heart Failure.

While working in the Portland Rolling Mills yesterday afternoon David Milligan dropped dead. He was at work on the scrap iron heap with several other employees of the firm, and suddenly, without a cry, fell down. His fellow workmen, thinking he had fainted, rushed to his assistance, but were unable to revive him.

They notified the manager that Mr. Milligan had taken seriously ill and he telephoned for a doctor. In the meantime it was seen that Mr. Milligan was dead, and Coroner Berryman was also summoned.

Dr. Lunney, who was summoned with the coroner, made an examination of the body, and they decided the man had died from heart failure. It is not likely that an inquest will be held.

Mr. Milligan was sixty-eight years old and lived at 85 Marsh road. He had been in the employ of the rolling mills for a little over a week, and the work assigned to him was not very hard. During the day he had complained of being tired, and it was learned at his home that for the past week he has not been feeling extra well, and told some of his friends that his heart was weak.

A very sad phase of the case is that his daughter, Luthara, is very ill with fever, and it was thought inadvisable to let her know of her father's death. The body was accordingly taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Dixon of Fort Howe, and the funeral will be from her residence. Miss Milligan will be taken to the hospital today, as her case is very serious. Besides his daughter, who is seventeen years old, Mr. Milligan is survived by a son, Fred, aged about twelve years. Mrs. Milligan died last December.

NORTH END GIRL DRANK AMMONIA

Lena Raymond is Now in Critical Condition as a Result—Cannot Take Any Nourishment.

Lena Raymond, daughter of Peter Raymond, 286 Sheriff street, is in a very precarious condition as a result of swallowing a quantity of ammonia. She has not taken any nourishment since Monday and is gradually growing weaker. The little girl is but five years of age.

Last Monday afternoon the girl's sister got a bottle of ammonia from a drugist to clean a skirt. She used but half the contents and left the bottle on the window sill. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Raymond was called out to a neighbor's house and left Lena with two other little girls alone in the house. While she was away Lena drank the remainder of the ammonia, which would be about three dessert-spoonsful. When Mrs. Raymond returned she found her little girl leaning out of the window and appeared to be choking to death. Dr. Gilchrist was summoned and did all he could to alleviate the little one's sufferings. He ascertained from the drugist that the lotion was one-third ammonia and the rest water. Since the accident the little girl has taken nothing but water. The doctor ordered her to take milk, but so far her mother has been unable to induce her to take any. Mrs. Raymond said yesterday afternoon that unless she took some nourishment soon she would not recover, as she cannot get any rest at night and is beginning to grow very weak.

STREET RAILWAY MAY BE TIED UP

Sympathy of Hamilton People is Largely With the Men—Want to Arbitrate

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 23.—Everything points to a tie-up of the city street railway, the Dundas line and Burlington and Oakville railway on Saturday. The officers of the union have refused to allow the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, which is here, to deal with the matter. They claim that their verdict in the London street railway case was a travesty on justice, and that Kitchin, one of the board, expressed his opinion on the local case yesterday before having heard evidence. Mr. Kitchin said the company could not be expected to deal with three lines at once, although the same company owns them. The union sent a letter to the company this morning proposing arbitration, but no answer had been received up to one o'clock. The sympathy of the people is largely for the men on account of the poor service the company has been giving and for other reasons.

FOR DELIVERANCE FROM EARTHQUAKES.

ROME, August 23.—It is reported that the Pope, impressed by the frequency of earthquakes in the new world, intends ordering special prayers to be said after mass for deliverance from similar visitations. The Archbishop of Santiago, Chile, cabled to the Vatican reporting loss of life among the clergy, and the Pope in reply sent his apostolic benediction, assurance of prayers and profound sympathy.

MUCH BUSINESS FOR GOVERNMENT

Meeting of the Cabinet on Monday Next

Dates for By-Elections Will Probably be Decided—Other Matters of Importance to Come Up.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Earl Grey, Lady Grey, their two daughters, Earl Howick and bride, left Ottawa this afternoon for a two-months' trip to Western Canada, which will take them as far as the Pacific coast.

A constable of the mounted police will leave for England on the Empress of Britain to bring back Westley Upson, who has been arrested in London and who is wanted for embezzlement in Western Canada.

On Monday there will be a meeting of the government which will be attended by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Messrs. Fisher, Aylesworth, Hyman, Lemieux, Brodeur and Patterson. At this meeting it is probable the government's programme of autumn work will be arranged.

There are a number of important matters to be attended to, arrangements have to be made for the provincial conference which is to take place at and at which a number of questions of the provincial and federal authorities have to be discussed. Then the government has to get to work upon the tariff which is to be prepared. There are a number of constituencies open where by-elections have to be held. The dates for these elections will doubtless be decided. There are also a number of judicial vacancies on the supreme court bench to be filled. It is possible appointments will be made.

EVIDENCE IN THE YARMOUTH BANK MATTER

HALIFAX, Aug. 23.—The preliminary examination of Senator Lovitt and Samuel A. Crowell, president and vice-president respectively of the Bank of Yarmouth, who are charged by J. Lyons Hatfield, a shareholder of the bank, with making false returns to the government, was begun Thursday afternoon. The defendants were willing to waive examination and have the case referred to the supreme court, but this was not agreed to and the examination was proceeded with.

Thomas Lavigne, clerk in the finance department at Ottawa, was the first witness and was followed by W. E. Stavert, curator of the bank; his brother, E. E. Stavert, who was placed in charge after the bank suspended business, and Henry G. Parfah, the bank's accountant. The evidence given was a repetition of that given at the preliminary examination of the cashier in 1905. Parfah was on the stand when the court adjourned.

If the young men who are thinking of going into business would look around a little they would find that the opportunities here are just as good as in the west. In another column will be found an advertisement offering a grocery business for sale. This is a prosperous business, paying good dividends to present proprietor and the expenses are small. Any man with a knowledge of the grocery business and a small capital would find this an exceptional opportunity.

AWFUL MYSTERY COMES TO LIGHT

Eight Skeletons Found Near Valencia's Lifeboat.

Fate of Those Who Left Wrecked 'Frisco Liner Last January is Now Clear—Discovered in Cave.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23.—Eight skeletons lying beside an undamaged Valencia lifeboat in the cave near Caranagh, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, dumbly tell what is undoubtedly the most awful tragedy of last January's wreck, when the Frisco liner Valencia pounded to pieces on the treacherous coast. It will be impossible to identify the remains of the eight victims except by the removal of tons of rubbish.

Lightkeeper Daykin says: "If the men got into the cave alive, as it is evident they did, they must have starved to death. It is a veritable man trap." Finding this boat, from the Valencia removes the mystery that until now has imperiously surrounded the fate of lifeboat number two, which it undoubtedly is. That the lifeboat got safely away from the wrecking up steamer and was seen at some distance from the steamer making fair headway seawards was a distinct and positive during the examination of witnesses at the inquiry.

FELL OVERBOARD BUT GOT ASHORE

Willard Davis, aged eight, and Philip Davis, aged ten, the sons of E. R. Davis, were rowing in the Market ship yesterday afternoon in a boat they had borrowed from a schooner.

After rowing around for some time the boys became venturesome, and stood up in the boat. Willard fell into the water, but managed to catch a log which was in the slip, and crawled along until he came to shallow water, when he waded ashore.

His brother waited for him, but the other boy, as soon as the boat was returned, ran away. Mr. Davis thought the boy might have received an injury from his ducking, so he sent for Dr. Walker, who found the boy to be none the worse for the accident, except that he was slightly nervous from the shock.

INQUEST INTO CAUSE OF HEWITSON'S DEATH

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 23.—The inquest in the drowning of Chas. Hewitson was held this evening before Coroner McNally. Evidence was given by Miss Ladd, Chas. Harris, Arthur McSorley, Officer King and Havelock Coy. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that death was accidental, and that the drowning occurred at or near the Star Line wharf. In the strongest terms the jury recommended that both the city and Star Line wharves should immediately be properly lighted, and that the authorities should be compelled the owners of the wharves to have them placed in proper repair.

A BAD SMASH.

Whyte—That concern was pretty well smashed up, wasn't it? Brown—I should say it was! Brown was appointed receiver last month, and he told me yesterday that as yet he hadn't found anything to receive.

LEWIS LABRACK TERRIBLY SCALDED

Seized With Fit and Overturned a Kettle of Boiling Water on His Arms and Legs.

A few days ago Lewis Labrack of 88 Portland street, north end, met with a very painful accident, which will incapacitate him from work for several weeks. Labrack, who is subject to fits, was alone at the time, his wife having gone down cellar to get an armful of wood. While she was away Labrack went up to the stove and was in the act of placing the kettle, which was full of boiling water, from the front to the back of the stove when he took a fainting fit and fell, upsetting the kettle of water over himself.

Mrs. Labrack was horrified on coming into the room to find her husband lying insensible in a pool of steaming water. She immediately summoned help and the unfortunate man was removed into a bedroom, but not before his left arm from the shoulder half way down to the elbow was almost cooked. Dr. Pratt was summoned and dressed the scalded parts. Besides being severely scalded on the arm, both hands and legs were quite badly scalded also. Labrack is now being nursed by his wife and has been every morning to have his wounds dressed.

The injured man, who is fifty-five years of age, formerly followed the sea but of late years has worked as a laborer in the city.

CONFERENCE OF THE PROVINCIAL RULERS.

Question of Increased Subsidies Will Be the Main Topic.

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—It is expected that the date for the conference of provincial premiers will be fixed shortly after the return of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the capital. The chief question to be discussed, of course, will be the demand by the provinces for more generous subsidies. But there will be other matters of joint interest to the fore. For instance, an effort will be made to reach a better understanding as to the respective jurisdiction of the federal and provincial authorities in the granting of railway charters. There were several struggles over the question of provincial rights in the Railway Committee of the house of commons last session. The Ontario government, since the appointment of its provincial railway commission, has manifested a determination to prevent the Dominion government from granting charters to lines wholly within the province. Scores of such charters have been granted in the past and Ontario is likely to be supported by other provinces in its fight to reserve for provincial control all railways which do not touch more than one province. This, next to the question of provincial subsidies, will probably be the most important question discussed, and the probabilities are that it will be agreed to leave purely provincial railways more under the control of the local government than has been the practice in the past.

Mrs. Kate Cunningham, widow of Robert Cunningham, died at her home, Paradise Row, at an early hour this morning after an illness of some months' duration. The deceased lady leaves beside a sister, Miss Lizzie McCarty, one daughter, Miss Hattie and four sons, Walter, Harold, Robert and Arthur, all at home. Interment will take place Sunday, the funeral being from her late residence at 2:30 o'clock.

AND NOW OPERATE PRIVATE FREIGHT CARS.

The Mooney Biscuit and Candy Company, Limited, Stratford, Canada, is the fastest growing business in the Dominion.

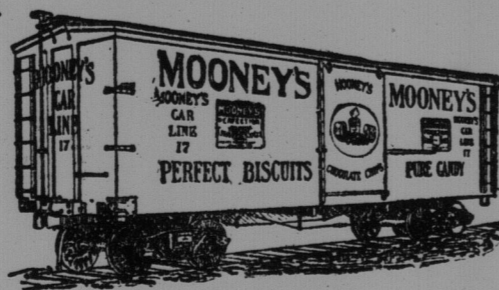

Started in 1903, more ovens were necessary in nine months. In eighteen months, another wing was added to the original building, increasing the floor space by 18,000 square feet.

Building operations now under way will double the size of the Mooney Bakeries and Candy Manufactories, and give a total floor space of from 150,000 to 200,000 square feet. The illustration in the upper left corner shows the enlarged works when the addition is completed.

True to their policy, of adopting latest methods, the Mooney Biscuit and Candy Company, Limited, have had built and now operate, their own private freight cars. This company is the first in Canada to adopt this economical and rapid system of shipments.

Mooney's "Perfection Cream Sodas"

—are now known all over Canada—and this new line of freight cars will still further keep the name constantly before the public.

FORTY INDIANS IN THE VILLAGE ON THE PIKE.

F. G. Spencer Went Up River Today to Gather in the Dusky Braves.

Fred. G. Spencer left this morning for upriver points. He will go as far as Woodstock, and with the assistance
of Louis Paul, the Fredericton guide, will secure the services of forty Indians for the Indian village which is to be one of the features on the pike.
It is Mr. Spencer's intention to get 25
adults and 15 sapooses.
The section of the pike set aside for this Indian village is about 40 feet by 50 feet, and in it the Indians will give exhibitions of their own work and life
in weaving baskets, making axe handles, in the use of the bow and arrow,
and along similar lines, while, as Mr.
Meyer Cohen says, "the little Indians
will handle their war whoops."
The pike is almost completed. The painters will finish today and all that will remain to be done will be the placing of incandescent lights in the soc-
ets. This pike is going to be a big surprise to the people who attend the exhibition, and it will be found that everyone of the 25 shows provided is first class.

ANOTHER LANDMARK IS BEING REMOVED.

The Old Schoolhouse in Waterloo Street is Today Being Torn Down—It
Will Be Remodelled.

Work has been commenced in tearing down the old school building which is situated on Waterloo street, near the entrance to Centennial school. This building, which is one of the landmarks
of St. John, was erected by the people of St. Mary's church, as a benevolent institution, and later passed into the hands of W. C. Simpson, formerly a school teacher.

Many citizens of St. John will remember happy days spent in this old institution. For some years past the building has been used by the school
board, as a place of storage, and desks,
chairs, etc., have been placed there,
after they have been condemned.

The workmen this morning were engaged in clearing out the contents of the building. A number of the desks
at which some of the older citizens of this city sat and puzzled their brains
over questions of arithmetic, etc., are now seen and decayed, and look as if they are ready to fall apart.

The building is to be practically built
over, and when completed, will be used as a manual training school. There is a slanting roof on the building and
this will be taken off, and another story added. It is expected that the building will be ready to accommodate the manual training department when the winter sets in.

BOGABEC CHILDREN

TRAVEL WEST ALONE.

Nephew and Niece of J. Allan Turner
Going to Meet their Father
in California.

The following appeared in the Boston
Globe of Tuesday last:—
Two bright and courageous children,
brother and sister, left the South station this afternoon headed for San Jose, Calif., to meet their father, whom they have not seen for 10 years. They are making the trip alone, and have the liveliest anticipations of a glad reunion at their destination. The boy is Curtis Bowden, aged 14, and his sister's name is Blanche Bowden, aged 13
years old.
The father to whom they are going is Frederick J. Bowden, an electrician
at San Jose. The maiden name of Mr.
Bowden's first wife was Hanson. She died more than 10 years ago in California and Mr. Bowden placed the children in the care of their aunt, Mrs. Bu-fus Outhouse, at Bogabec, New Brunswick. They have lived there the past 10 years, have spent some time with their uncle, D. G. Hanson, at St. Andrews, and the last two summers have been spent with an aunt, Mrs. W. N.
Bucknam, at Eastport, Me.

Mr. Bowden married his first wife's sister, and they are now living in San Jose. He had contemplated coming east to take the children to his California home, but the earthquake in April damaged his house and other buildings
and home affairs have since required
his constant attention. So he decided to send the children by the Burlington
route in a personally conducted party
in charge of Joseph Willet. Mr. Willett has made just such trips about 30 times and is one of the most experienced men in the country. He was delighted to look after the children,
and will see they are safely landed in San Jose on Sunday evening.
The children came to Boston from Eastport alone. They are self-reliant and capable of taking care of themselves in the course of ordinary travel.
They were met by Alex. Stocks and by relatives here, and this morning visited the Globe office, where they were photographed. The boy is somewhat reserved, but the girl is vivacious and showed a quaint curiosity as she inspected the art department of the paper. Each child is a fine type of the honest and lovable boy and girl, and one can imagine the eager welcome
they will receive from the father, who has not seen them since they were mere babies.

SAY THE LOCH LOMOND PEOPLE ARE IN EARNEST.

Resident States That the Threatening
Letter to Mayor Sears May Not Be Altogether a Joke.

Some days ago Mayor Sears received a letter of a threatening nature, from some residents of Loch Lomond, stating that a settlement would have to be made by the city for private ground
being used for the purpose of putting down the water pipes. A resident of Loch Lomond was seen by the Star
yesterday regarding the matter.
He said that certain Loch Lomond
people owned ground where the pipes
are being laid, and they wanted to have a settlement made with the city.
One farmer had engaged a lawyer, and had fully made up his mind to carry the matter to court, but on thinking
the matter over he found that to do
that a considerable sum of money would be required. He was unable to get this money and others who are in the same fix have become desperate,
and in their letter to the mayor
threatened to use dynamite to destroy the pipes. The persons who sent the letter are not definitely known, as no
names were signed.

ESTBROOKS-STEEVES.

The home of Mrs. Elizabeth Steves, at Hillsboro, Albert county, was the scene of an interesting event Wednesday noon, the 22nd inst., when the marriage of her youngest daughter, Edna Jane, to R. Ernest Estabrooks, of Woodstock, N. B., was solemnized by Rev. A. H. McNintosh in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contrasting parties. The bride was waverfully groomed in white tulle with trainings of baby Irish silver and frivolous, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. After a dainty luncheon
had been served the newly wedded couple drove to Moncton and took the train for a short trip. The bride went away in a tailor made suit of light
grey, trimmed with green, broadcloth
and braid, with black hat and gloves.
After visiting parts of Nova Scotia and
New Brunswick Mr. and Mrs. Estabrooks
will reside in Woodstock, where Mr.
Estabrooks is engaged as a teacher.

Warning to Exhibition Visitors.

We are obliged each exhibition year
to turn away hundreds who come to St. John for the sole purpose of having their teeth attended to, but who neglect the main object of their visit
until a few days before returning home.

We would therefore advise all to call
early and avoid the usual rush so that they may not be compelled to return home disappointed at being unable to avail themselves of our SUPERIOR WORKMANSHIP AND ATTRACTIVE FEES.

Parents should remember that the vacations are drawing rapidly to a close and that as they value the health and welfare of their own children and those of others they should see to it that their children's teeth are in proper condition. We can put their teeth in the condition they should be, without affording them any pain and we can do it most readily.

FLANNELETTE THAT WILL NOT BLAZE.

SO MANY ACCIDENTS occur to little children, and often to adults, through the inflammability of nightgown materials that "Non-Flam" was invented to insure safety. It is of excellent woolly warm texture, in pinks, light blues, etc., but is rendered non-flammable by a special and secret process. Parents in buying "Non-Flam" will rest assured their children—or whoever is wearing it—will not be exposed to that ever-existing danger, of winter time particularly.
