HAIR OIL HARRY

DISCOURSES ON THE MONEY-SAVING SYSTEM

That Big Feeling on a Small Salary is All That Holds Off Many a Louse Sponder From Tightening.

BY FRED SCHAEFER.

Sticking anything away for a moist morning" inquired the Prescription Clerk after he had piped the pharmacy cashier start out to make the daily bank deposit.

"Not even an umbrella," replied the Soda Water expert. "Why was you asking?"

"That's where most of us pull up lame," returned Hair Oil Harry. "We can't get along without things that we do get along without when we can't get them to get along with. Do you make that?"

"You mean we try to stretch our income up to our outgo, instead of vice versa?" said the Prescription Clerk.

"You hit the head on the nail that time," approved Hair Oil Harry. "You and I have our next week's spendt spent before it's even in the pay envelope, just by trying to play like we were getting more than the boss knows we're worth. If we were to hit the hat or peddle shoe-strings. Yet if we'd only tighten up for a few weeks we'd have some velvet to fall back on when we get pushed. Maybe all of it. But we don't."

"Six bones is a piker's pile," murmured the Prescription Clerk. "There you are!" chirped Harry. "We've got the Crosses spirit grafted onto a nickel nucleus. Rather than be a two-bit tightwad we spend the two bits, little wishing that our strongest plunger isn't but a real highlighter's white chip. Now if we'd play it the other way and make like we're sitting in with the bank back of us, we'd feel grouchy at letting go. We'd at least want the percentage."

"Lately like good medicine," said the Prescription Clerk. "I'll pretend that my wages—salary—is $400 a month and I'm trying to freeze to as much of it as I can."

"Fine!" said Hair Oil Harry. "Can you spare me a century out of it till Saturday?"

HEAVY GRADE S OVERCOME

FIELD, B. C. May 18-In a few weeks the famous Big Hill at Field, with its terrific grade, safety catches, and banks of half charred cinders, will be a thing of the past as far as the C. P. R. is concerned. For twenty-five years it has been a bugbear to the company.

Wednesday last the separating rock of the second tunnel between Field and Hector was broken through. The two horses met within a fraction of an inch. Nothing much remains to be done except to lay steel through the tunneling of a new road bed in connection with it.

The tunnel has cost the C. P. R. $250,000, but a great saving in locomotive power, etc., will amply repay even this large expenditure.

The total length of the two tunnels is something over a mile, and they are the first spiral tunnels ever driven on the American continent.

HOW HIGH A TIGER CAN JUMP.

For the benefit of the prospective big game hunters a correspondent has made a study of the theory that a tiger is unable to jump to any height from all fours. He records that he took refuge in a tree from a particularly big tiger. The beast, however, jumped up to him, "like an india rubber ball, a good seven feet," and it was only by letting go with my right side ramming the both barrels down his mouth that I did not have a very bad time of it.

The moral evidently is that when avoiding a tiger it is necessary to find a tree with its lowest branch at least fifteen feet from the ground—India Field.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

"Way out in the sea of Vain Reeret. On the Island of Might Have Been. It is walked around by the Cliffs of Remorse.

Which are lashed by the Waves of Sin.

We who live in this fowery world. And have every hope before. Know not of those hearts in anguish wring. Who dwell there evermore;

Whose each and smile tells a wordful tale Of years that were spent in vain. In the empty search of the joys of life. And awake from the dream in pain.

Not a murmur tells of their poignant grief. Only a weary smile; But they long to flit on the Wings of Death Away from the sunless Isle.

"Way out in the sea of Vain Reeret. On the Island of Might Have Been. That is walked around by the Cliffs of Remorse. Which are lashed by the Waves of Sin.

ROBBERS HOLD UP TRURO

CLERK AND STEAL $1,500

Canadian Express Co.'s Office Entered at Noon Yesterday

—Robber Compels Silence From Lone Clerk at Point of Revolver.

TRURO, N. S., May 19.—The loss sustained by the Canadian Express Company this afternoon by a hold-up of the clerk in the office here today amounts to about fifteen hundred dollars. The clerk's name is Burgess. He has been in the employ quite a number of years. At about a quarter to one this afternoon a man dressed in a dark brown suit entered the express office, at a moment when the clerk was engaged in washing his hands at a sink in a lobby. He produced a revolver and told the clerk to keep on with his washing and to look neither to right nor left. He did as he was told.

A second man entered, went to the safe, opened it and the drawer, took out the money and packages, amounting in all to fifteen hundred dollars or thereabouts, then left the building and was joined by the man with the revolver. Burgess was warned not to move for several minutes, and during that time the station policeman expecting one man, who sat half asleep in a doorway at the street entrance to the express office. He reports that no body came or went while he was there.

Full Description Burgess gives a full description of the man who held the gun and this man is reported by a number of persons to have been seen frequently about the station for several days back. The robbers took a thousand dollars in United States money slipped by the Royal Bank agency here, and several packages, one of them containing money sent by W. Davidson Hill to a correspondent in the city of Halifax. There were in all probably three men at the work, one at the door, one with the revolver, and the third at the safe. Burgess gave the alarm as soon as the robbery occurred.

Detectives are at work. The men who were in the robbery going in a southerly direction, and hope is expressed that all will be under arrest by tomorrow.

Opportune Moment The robbery was the plan of a very observant man or men. They selected an opportunity when no person was likely to be doing business with the office, caught the clerk in a remote corner, held him there at the peril of his life and looted the premises. It was skillfully executed. Three men, none of whom the clerk, Burgess, could identify, were arrested on the spot and were released late this afternoon. All railway stations, police offices and wherever telephone or telegraph could send the description of the robbers have been fully advised. Some persons declare the robbery to be the work of local men conversant with the express company methods, others are sure that three strangers who have been in Truro but who left at dusk, are the culprits.

HOW HIGH A TIGER CAN JUMP. For the benefit of the prospective big game hunters a correspondent has made a study of the theory that a tiger is unable to jump to any height from all fours. He records that he took refuge in a tree from a particularly big tiger. The beast, however, jumped up to him, "like an india rubber ball, a good seven feet," and it was only by letting go with my right side ramming the both barrels down his mouth that I did not have a very bad time of it.

Excelsior! Whoop! Golly! BWANA TUMBO.

THE NATIVES IN ROOSEVELT'S HUNTING PARTY HAVE NAMED HIM BWANA TUMBO, OR "PORTLY MASTER."

"What's coming off?" the old man said, Emerging from his hut with dread. "Is it a fire, a murder or suicide?" And loud the strainer's voice replied: BWANA TUMBO!

"Oh, stay!" the maiden murmured, "Do— We've got steved dog on today's! The water dripped from his pensive mouth. But he only answered, pointing south: BWANA TUMBO!

In vain the simple village folk Implored the tourist to explain the joke; He simply flashed his banner quaint Which bore the words in fresh black paint: BWANA TUMBO!

But presently the jungle shook Till tremors stirred its furthest nook; Approaching fast and then much faster: He came, they saw, the "Portly Master": BWANA TUMBO!

Excelsior! Whoop! Golly! BWANA TUMBO.

ICE OFF THE COAST. Never in the history of navigation has the harbor of St. John been so blocked by ice as it is at the present time, and rarely have ocean steamers been exposed to dangers such as have been encountered during the past month or two.

Parliament has prorogued rather earlier than usual, and before the long hot days have come. During the session a very considerable amount of business has been put through, and the preliminary steps have been taken in questions which will, in the near future, become of particular importance.

Although despatches do not mention it, there can be no doubt that one of those Turro robbers referred to in questions which will, in the near future, become of particular importance.

Who would ever suppose that Turro, of all places, could furnish a sensation? COYOTE SONG. A-o-o, my brothers, the moon is red, And the antelope starts from his prairie bed; Then join ye again in the ancient throng.

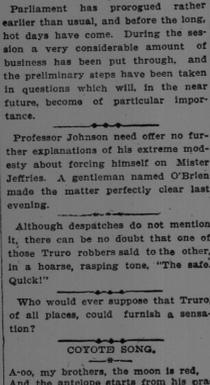

WANTED, AN ART GALLERY. The St. John Art Club holds its last regular meeting for the season this evening. From time to time during a considerable number of years, the suggestion has been made that an art gallery might be established in St. John, and two years ago Mr. Craven J. Betts outlined a scheme by which he believed the project might be successfully carried on.

MUNICIPAL MURDER. Mention was made a few days ago of a family consisting of a woman and two children, living in absolute destitution because the husband and father was spending a month on the chain gang. This sort of thing is nothing more nor less than municipal murder.

EDITOR STRIKES MEMBER ON THE FLOOR OF HOUSE

QUEBEC, May 19.—One of the most exciting scenes ever witnessed in the provincial parliament was enacted this morning just as the members were leaving the assembly chamber, when Oliver Asselin, formerly editor of the Nationalist, now of La Patrie editorial staff, struck Hon. Mr. Taschereau in the face. In replying to Mr. Bourassa, Hon. Mr. Taschereau, as Mr. Asselin claims, had referred to the latter as having been a boarder in a house on St. Denis street, Montreal, where a cablegram was received addressed to Premier Gouin in answer to another message which bore the latter's name, but which the premier claimed to be a forgery.

ASSASIN ARRESTED. Mr. Asselin was arrested upon the orders of Speaker Pelletier, as the assault happened on the floor of the House. Strict instructions were given by the attorney general that on no condition was Asselin to be allowed out on bail nor to be allowed to telephone or communicate with any person. This morning Mr. Asselin was brought up in the police court, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until Friday, bail being refused.

FIND 50 SKELETONS IN PEACH ORCHARD. Workmen Unearth Ancient Burial Pit in Niagara County Full of Bones of Human Beings.

HUFFALO, N. Y., May 19.—A gang of men at work in the peach orchard of Edward J. Sweeney, of Orange Port, Niagara county, today uncovered the skeletons of about fifty human beings.

Dr. C. F. Johnson, of Gasport, who was driving by, was called to the site of the burial pit and thereafter directed the work until darkness put a stop to operations. Dr. Johnson says: "The pit now excavated is about six feet long by four feet wide and as many deep. So far as we could see, the bodies are piled in without regard to order."

"These skulls that I have examined are prehistoric—that is, they have low foreheads and heavy jaws, and seem not to have belonged to white men. On the other hand, although I am not an anthropologist or an ethnologist, and have only the neighborhood here in Indian history, I have never heard or read of an Indian burial ground where there was such lack of system and ceremonial."

The excavation will be continued tomorrow.

MEXICO'S POINTERS TO CANADA

"In the opinion of the Senate, liberal provision should be made at once for the instruction of Canadian merchants in seamanship and navigation, with a view to the development of the shipping interests of Canada, and if need be, the protection of Canadian commerce in coastal waters and on the high seas."

The above resolution, which was this week introduced in the Senate by Hon. George W. Ross, in a speech full of interesting matter, deserves the careful consideration of every Canadian.

While Canada is discussing the question of presenting Dreadnoughts to the Mother Country, and allowing her own ships and seamen to be driven from the sea, it may be interesting to glance at the maritime policy of the Republic of Mexico. No doubt Canada, the daughter of the greatest maritime power the world has yet seen, should not need to go to a country like Mexico for object lessons in matters maritime, but she may do so if not with profit at least, with a sense of charity.

Mexico now owns a score or more of war vessels, and all of them are superior to our own baby battleships, the Canada. And more than this she has a definite maritime programme, which embraces not only the construction of large up-to-date battleships and the training of officers and men to crew them, but the development of her merchant marine as well. In pursuance of its policy in respect to railways, the Government assists the steamship companies by purchasing outright or guaranteeing their bonds, and by granting liberal subsidies to companies engaged in the coasting or foreign trades. In contrast with the comprehensive maritime policy of Mexico, Canada's lack of any definite programme is rather humiliating. Our Government maintains no naval colleges or nautical schools of any sort—though it does arrange for nautical lectures at certain ports during a few months in the year. Our Government maintains no training ships for the merchant service, and though we may regard the Canada as a training-ship for the naval service, it is hardly one to be proud of. Some time ago it employed an instructor to midshipmen, but as the Canadian navy at the time boasted only a midshipman, his instructions probably did not greatly increase the supply of Canada's naval officers—a matter, perhaps, of small importance, as our navy hardly competes with that of the plebeian Republics of Haiti or San Domingo.

A MERCHANT MARINE.

Our Government is not taking measures to assure the development of a merchant marine at all commensurate with our importance as a trading country. The sea-going tonnage of the Maritime Provinces is dwindling rapidly; foreign vessels, despite orders-in-council, are still engaged in the coasting trade; wages of officers and men are too low to attract our own people; more and more foreign vessels take over our carrying trades, and foreigners man our native ships.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur appears to be cognizant of these facts. Certainly, unless something is done to revive our merchant marine, it is idle to assume that we can create, or maintain, a naval reserve force in the Maritime Provinces any importance.

SCRAPS OF SCIENCE.

WHY NOT "WIRELESS"?

Marconi's wonderful device for telegraphic communication without wires is considerably exercising some who would add to an already overloaded vocabulary, "Telegraphy," "undigraph," "teleography," and other still more powerful or massive antipodes. The fact is overlooked that "telegraphy" does not signify the use of wires, and is equally applicable to the wireless system; so that the simple "wireless telegraphy" is exactly accurate.

BURNED SUGAR AS DISINFECTANT

The old idea that the burning of sugar has an important value as a sick-room disinfectant has been shown by Professor Tribert, of the Pasteur Institute at Paris, to have a scientific basis. He has demonstrated that a product of the combustion is formaldehyde, one of the most powerful of gaseous antiseptics. He burned about eight grains of sugar in a bell glass holding ten quarts and filled with water, and the water, small pot, etc., exposed in open tubs in the vapour produced were all dead within half an hour.

COMPASS WITHOUT MAGNETIC NEEDLE

An artisan of Kiel has invented a compass without a magnetic needle. It is in the form of a gyroscope, which, when suspended in a certain way, always adjusts itself to the earth's axis. The invention is regarded as of great importance, inasmuch as the compass-needle is frequently deflected by the adjacent metal.

MAN-LIFTING KITES

Major Baden-Powell, speaking at the inaugural meeting in London of the Kite-Flying Association, held that there was a great future for man-lifting kites for military purposes, though in the hands of the ordinary amateurs it was a dangerous practice unless efficient apparatus was used. Another speaker said that such a man-lifting kite as that referred to by Major Baden-Powell would be of great service for long-range flying. Various conditions are being arranged with a view to discovering the best uses to which kites can be put, and a prize scheme has been formulated.

COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY

Some years ago a process was invented which photographed objects through a very finely ruled screen that split up the colors into their component primary colors, and enabled their resolution into color to be made with only one photograph instead of three superimpositions. It is not unlikely that some such method of taking color photographs on the cinematographic film has been successfully adapted and that this is the explanation of the secret of the moving colored pictures which have lately been introduced at certain popular places of entertainment.

TWELVE MILES BELOW GROUND

Mr. Richard Threlfall, lecturing recently at the Royal Institution in London, suggested the exploration of the body of the earth by digging a hole twelve miles deep. The labor, he said, would occupy eighty-five years, and would cost $2,000,000, but the result in the investigation of temperatures and

THE SPEED OF SOUND.

The speed with which sound waves are transmitted through the atmosphere depends upon several conditions. When the air temperature is at thirty-two degrees Fahr., sounds move with a speed of 1,090 feet per second, the velocity increasing with the temperature at the rate of about one foot of speed per second for each degree above the freezing point. Then, again, in damp air sound moves with a greater velocity than it does in dry air. In water sound moves more than four times as fast as it does in air.

HOW TO BREATHE PROPERLY.

Perfect breathing (argues an eminent authority in Health) is not natural to most men and women of sedentary occupation. It must be worked for, and the work must be persevered in until full and deep respiration has become a habit. It is advisable at intervals throughout the day to rise, throw back the shoulders, and draw in ten or twelve deep, slow respirations, holding the breath for three or four seconds each time the lungs are filled. These exercises, like breathing in general, should always be done with the mouth closed, for the nose is the only proper channel for the passage to and fro of the air.

REFLECTING MAGIC LANTERN.

The Pixax reflectoscope is claimed to be the best solution so far of the problem of reflecting postcards, photographs, and other pictures or designs so that they may show as sharp and brilliant as the views projected by the ordinary transparent lantern slides. The new magic lantern resembles the ordinary one in general appearance, but the picture is placed at the back, where a 3,000-candle power beam of light is concentrated upon it by two reflectors, and the image is retransmitted through the lens to the screen. Though other powerful lights may be used, gas, with special high-pressure burners and incandescent mantles, has been found to give the steadiest and most penetrating beam.

MONGOLIAN GRIPPED BY ENORMOUS ICE FLOES

Lies in a Dangerous Position One Mile Off St. John's, Nfld.—Hundreds of Passengers on Board—Peril Imminent.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 19—

The Allan line steamer Mongolian, bound from Glasgow and Liverpool for St. John's, N. F., Halifax, N. S., and Philadelphia, with hundreds of passengers on board, was caught in a dangerous ice jam one mile off this harbor late today, and tonight was in a hazardous position. It is feared that if the wind increases before daylight the Mongolian will be driven ashore and will become a total wreck. Should such an accident occur, it is thought that the passengers can escape by walking over the densely packed ice floe.

Prospero Caught

Just returned from the ice-packed waters of Bellisle Strait, where she had been abandoned by her crew and later rescued, the coastal steamer Prospero also lies wedged in the ice between the Mongolian and the shore. The Prospero had been dispatched by the agents of the Allan line here to attempt to reach the Mongolian and take on board the passengers and mail. The little steamer had but just passed the harbor harbor when the ice barrier became impenetrable and further passage was arrested. There she spent the night with the Mongolian, which was equally helpless in the unrelenting grip of the surrounding ice.

The Mongolian left Glasgow on May 5 and Liverpool a few days later with a passenger list for this port, Halifax and Philadelphia. She met the first of the great fields of ice yesterday, but up to this morning her progress was fairly steady.

With the approach to the Mongolian met more strenuous resistance when the narrow harbor of St. John's was sighted, the great steamer forced its way through the ice floes until a position about a mile off the harbor opening had been gained. There she stopped, the power of the engines and the stout hull unable longer to successfully cope with the great irregular stretches of ice. The steamer's efforts to run the blockade are believed to have left her in a condition at least somewhat strained, but the fishermen who managed to reach her side over the closely packed floes could discern no appreciable damage. Tonight the normal action of wind and tide strengthened the grip of the floes, and the Mongolian was completely surrounded, unable to advance or recede.

Gazed Wistfully

Although assured that they were in no immediate danger the passengers on board the Mongolian crowded the decks and gazed wistfully at the harbor lights.

There the two great, frowning sides of the solid cliff appeared as sentinels to the harbor wherein rested the passengers' safety. Soon some of the anxious eyes discerned a little steamer which was headed to them. The officers of the Mongolian explained that it was the coastal steamer Prospero, which had been sent out by the agents of the line to take off passengers and mails and the hopes of the passengers grew, only to be dashed again as the Prospero came to a stop just at the mouth of the harbor, where the crush of the tide had packed the varied shaped cakes in a conglomerate mass, impossible of penetration. There the little steamer lay during the night with her lights set, an ever-present reminder of the situation in which both steamers were held in common.

The hardy fisher-folk, undaunted by the fate of the two steamers, traversed the ice floes tonight and reached the side of the Mongolian where they held converse with officers and passengers, the latter envying them their adaptability to the treacherous and shaking ice. With the thought before them that it might be only a few hours before they would be forced to find their way to shore over the same insecure path, the passengers followed closely the little movements of the fishermen as they passed from cake to cake and successfully reached the harbor mouth. All imagined that should they have recourse to that means of escape it would be an experience such as would probably never be equaled during their life time.

Where on shore could notice be change in the steamer's condition at midnight. The steamer cannot possibly escape while conditions remain as at present. If the ice slacken she may be able to work into port here, but if the wind increase it would be but a short time before the steamer would be grinding against the bleak rocky coast, where destruction is almost certain to overtake her. That fate, however, does not seem imminent, as indications point to a continuance of existing conditions of wind and sea.

GIVE UP EFFORT FOR 9 HOUR DAY

TORONTO, Ont., May 19—

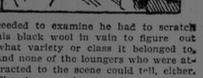

After a fight of over two years to establish a nine hour working day, machinists and unskilled engineers of Toronto have given up the struggle and have given permission to their members to work in any machine shop of the city. When the fight was commenced a large number of the small shops conceded the shorter work day, but the big shops resisted. Trade depression at the time militated against the men in their struggle. A large number of men were out of employment, and when the strikers vacated their positions unemployed machinists were glad to fill their places.

Local officers state that they have not given up hope of establishing a nine hour day, and will wait for a more favorable opportunity to gain the concession.

A FISH FROG? AIN'T YOU DRINKING AGAIN?

GALVESTON, Tex., May 15—

An idle negro, fishing for a dinner at Pier 12, landed a queer specimen of fish that nearly started him out of his senses. When he recovered his wits and proceeded to examine he had to scratch his black wool in vain to figure out what variety or class it belonged to, and none of the loungers who were attracted to the scene could tell, either. The ebony angler, to solve the puzzle, took it to a store for information.

One of the best authorities on fish hereabouts pronounced it after close study to be a "frog" fish—a rarity in these waters. The "frog" fish has the body of a frog, with fins on the side, has the nose of a fish, the face of a mole and eyes like a bird. It breathes, apparently, through nostrils in its back. The body is nearly a foot long and about half as wide. It is certainly a queer-looking monstrosity.

A boarder in a Union street house was evidently afraid to go asleep in the dark last night, and as a result alarmed his boarding mistress, four policemen, two members of the fire department and two relatives of the above persons noticed a peculiar reflection coming from a third story window of the boarding house. DEDICATING A STATUE OF REV. JOHN WITHERSPON

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—In memory of his illustrious services as a patriot, a philanthropist and theologian, a handsome statue will be dedicated here today to the Rev. Dr. John Witherspoon, famed as a Scotch Presbyterian minister, signer of the declaration of independence, member of the continental congress and president of Princeton University. The statue is of bronze and represents Witherspoon in oratorical attitude. It is mounted on a marble pedestal bearing his name, as follows: "John Witherspoon, 1723, Scotland, 1794, Princeton," and other inscriptions. The monument will be unveiled by William Banks Witherspoon, seven years old, a lineal descendant of John Witherspoon, of the sixth generation. The Rev. Dr. Jera Witherspoon of Richmond, Va., also a lineal descendant, will deliver the invocation, while the benediction will be pronounced by Rev. David A. Wood of Gettysburg, Pa., another descendant. The opening address will be made by James Bryon, the British ambassador, on the "Contributions of Scotland to America." Vice-President Sherman will also make an address.

GEN. MGR. McNICOL MEETS HARBOR BOARD C. P. R. Not Inclined to Build Grain Elevator.

The Government Must be Consulted Before Anything Can be Done.

Important matters at issue between the city and C. P. R. Railway were discussed at a conference this morning between members of the harbor board and David McNicol, vice-president and general manager of the C. P. R.

The city was represented by Aldermen McGoldrick, Baxter, Lively, Codner and Elkin, and the meeting was held in the office of Wm. Downie, general superintendent. The chief topic for discussion was the need of a grain elevator and conveyors for the new berths numbers 5, 6 and 7 at Sand Point. The civic representatives wanted the railway to provide these facilities or else to supply a floating elevator for use there next winter. Mr. McNicol stated that he understood that the city had done all it could be expected to and they could not be asked to go to this additional expense. He thought, however, that the port should be nationalized, and such expense born by the government. In view of the fact that the government is already doing so much at this port, and also that there is a prospect of the government taking over the harbor and all its facilities, he did think that any plans could be made until the government had been consulted.

The city, the railway and the government were all equally interested in the matter and the three parties would have to come to an understanding before anything of the nature could be undertaken. Mr. McNicol said that he expected to see Hon. Wm. Pugsley soon who would talk the matter over with him. The exchange of the 1600 foot strip held by the C. P. R. for the shore station beach first and then over the northern section between McAdam and Woodstock. The company has been doing considerable work on the latter section in the way of reducing grades, laying heavier rails, building new bridges and strengthening old ones.

MR. McNICOL TALKS ON THE WORK OF THE C.P.R.

Great Improvements on the North Branch—Change in Divisional Point Not Settled.

In conversation with the Star, D. McNicol, first vice-president and general manager of the C. P. R., who arrived in the city at noon, said that while here he would inspect the various facilities and would look over the ground at Bay Shore, where some extensions are to be made in the station house first and then over the northern section between McAdam and Woodstock. The company has been doing considerable work on the latter section in the way of reducing grades, laying heavier rails, building new bridges and strengthening old ones.

Regarding the suggested change of the divisional point from Woodstock to Arcostook Junction, Mr. McNicol said that he could not state definitely what would be done, and when he reaches Woodstock he would hear what the citizens, who have objected to the change, would have to say on the subject. From his remarks it might be taken that Mr. McNicol was in favor of the change. Mr. McNicol stated that he did not think the C. P. R. would be doing much in the way of extensions or changes around St. John. From their standpoint St. John might almost be regarded as a finished city. Before any more money would be spent there would have to be a pressing need for it. He could not say how much they would do or how soon they would do it if they were given the shore lots at West St. John. They were, however, anxious to make a start on the work.

When asked about the rumor that the company was going to reduce some of the grades between St. John and Welsford, Mr. McNicol said that he knew nothing of it. The heaviest grade was around the bridge and he added that he could set over the Rocky Mountains almost as easily as from St. John to Fairville. The company was not particularly interested in the proposal to erect a bridge across the harbor by way of Navy Island. This would be too round-about way for their passenger traffic and they do not need it particularly for their freight business. Touching on the business of the coming summer, Mr. McNicol said that the prospects were good for a fairly heavy inflow of immigrants.
