ren intend to help the circulation of the MESSENGER AND VISITOR on their field, now is the time. Hundreds are ready to take the paper if asked to do so. Who will give a day to this work this week?

-ULAD.—We were made very glad by what we learned from a sister in Haiffax who is a subscriber to the Mansamous AND Vanron. She has been acoustomed to preserve her copies of the paper and give them to the sallors. Over a year ago the gave them to a captain about to proceed upon a long voyage. He visited her on his seturn, and gave her the bleesed intelligence that the reading of the papers had led to the conversion of hisself and two of his uses during the time they were shut in to themselves on the great deep. In the bope that these are only instances of many similar cases the reader can imagine how it has unde ut thank God and take courage. The reading of the papers also led these three to see the truth as we hold it. The captain received another bundle of the Mansaugum AND Vistrons, and is now on the eas with a large crew of young mental the reader offer just one prayer that the propers way again be made a bleesing. Is there not a suggestion here of a way to use the papers when read by subscribers?

there not a suggestion here of a way to use the papers when read by subscribers?

—Sacurron in Giving.—The following incident, given at one of the meetings of the conference of the Evangelical Alliance is suggestive. As E piecopal minister was urging upon one of his wealthy parishioners the duty of making sacrifices in 'order to give to the Lord's work. "He replied, it is no use to talk to me about sacrifice for the cake of giving. I could give all lithe money contributed to all the great societies of our church by all its members—amounting to over $200,000 per year—from my income and not feel it. It is shoutless true that there are individuals in each of the great religious bodies of the United States who could do the same for at least one or two of the great objects of denominational w.rk, while there are numbers untold who could give amounts many, many fold more than they do, and will live in ease; and comfort. In our own land it is the same, so far as the latter statement is connected. How must our Lord, is full assemely of all this has sacrificed for men, regard all this, as he sees the work for which he gave his blood crippled, because his professed people will not give more, when they know that the eternal fate of nouls; it depends upon the liberality, or otherwise, with which they give?

that thry are not ready to grasp at every thing for themselves, irrespective of the rights of others.

There is also be an argument in favor of education under religious au-pioes and control. In Christian obsois, where there is a pervedieg religious influence, there is training in high principles of unselfisher gard for others, and a disposition to give forth for others good rather than to take from others welfare for the sake of our own.

from others welfare for the ease of our own.

After all, religion is the great safeguard of kingdome and realms as well as of individuals. It is in the golden rule that peace and gord will are to come and hover with their benison over the earth.

—ACMOSTICISM.—Dr. Gordon, in his address at the Conference of the Brangelical Alliance, described Agnosticism abullates as the conference as the higher mountain peaks are lest in clirch." He thinks it deserves "to be pitted rather than pelted," and so he loves to quote to them the words of Scripture, congerning our Great High Priest "sho can have compassion on the ignorant—the agnostics—an I upon those who are out of the way."

—INDIA AS A COMPETITOR.—Few are agnostice—an I upon those who are out of the way."

—INDLASA A COMPETTOR.—Few are perhaps aware what a competitor of the New World India is becoming, in the British market. Her cheap labor and the fertility of her vast allawial regions, now that the Sene Canal has shortened the distance and lessened the dangers to commerce between her and England so materially, make her a dangerous rival-All this is helped by the fact that her legal tender is silver and this metal has higher value in India than in England. The result is that silver is taken from Englani and given for wheat and cotton, and because of its greater purchasing power in India, helps to give India the advantage over her western competitors. She is developing quite a cotton trade, while her alvance as a wheat producing country must be well nigh alarming to the wheat producers of the West. We copy the following statement of fact from a reliable source:

following statement of fact from a reliable source:

In 1879 the export of wheat from the United States was one hundred and fifty three million bushels. The export from India for the same time was but four ntillion.

In 1885 the export from the Waited States had fallen to fifty-seven million, and the export from India had risen to thirty-size million bushels; and the average price of American wheat fell from $1.24 per hushel in 1879 to 84 cents during the last half of the year 1886.

$1.24 per bushel in 1879 to 84 cents during the last half of the year 1836.

—SERMON SHLERS.—The London Freeman calls attention to seven advertissments of sermons for sale in one copy of the Church Times. These sermons are all written out in manuscript for the use of those who are willing to preach sermons they do not prepare, and to pay for them. The sermons are supplied weekly, and can be had on any designated subject or text on due notice. The price asked by one advertiser sights per done. Each alvertiser crice up his goods as especially worthy to be bought and preached. One of them declares he has uncolicited testimony from over 660 of the clergy to the great superiority of his sermons. This will give some idea of the existent of this wrestobed business a mong the olergymen of the Established Church. The moral effect of palming of such aermons as their own must be worse than that on the mind to reduce it to vaccuity. If there he anything which might, as we suppose, arcuse the divine vrath to the judgment point it is for men to practice this decoption is connection with the work which is highest, the most secred and the nearest to God.

—Who Carains It?—A correspondent of the Religious Henglit has 2 cents.

The Danoua and Manitoba weather has been consething very remarkable through out the autumn and the beginning of winter. The farmers could not have asked for a flore season for harvesling, threshing and ploughing than they have had. About the time the reaping was completed, and ploughing was well under way, a sever-frost came, that in the more mojet and clayry soils about stopped the plough for nearly a week. Then there ast in a season of the mose mild and delightful weather, which lasted for about three weeks, when every farmer who was not actually tardy accomplished more than his full tale of acid untitation. Ploughs kept going where their work was not done till after the middle of Nevember. Then after a week or two of real sharp nor' west weather, the thermometer reaching well on at times into the twenties, another change took place in the weather wheel, and for two or three weeks we have been having the most enjoyable weather, the sero point being seldom reached, and coal stoves, at the lowest degree at which they can be run, almost unendurable. The monwfall has been but very little as ye, and wheels are going in full blast. The magnificent wheat crops are raising up the depressed farmer, debts are being paid, better houses being built, improvements generally undergone, as well as excursions to the old lands, indicating a degree of prosperity not experienced for the last year or two.

THE TEMPERANOU NOVEMENT.

The local option law for probibition has swept over our territory with a most unlooked for success, some 57 counties out of 55 that made the test, carrying, and many of them with large majorities. Our own county—Walsh—although thabalited by a very large proportion of forsigners (Norwegians, Polanders, Bohemians, forlanders, Germans and French Canadiane), notwithstanding all the tricks of the whisky trade in election times, carried with a majority of 361. Of course, the whisky rulers and their sympathicers, as usual under much circumstances, kicked will now be to enforce that has he had been an authorit

ARTHET MISSIGNARY CONVENTION.

The Convention of Manitobs and the Northwest met Dec. 2, some, four or five months after its accustomed time, by reason of anticip sed rearrangements with the friends in the east, specially the "Dominion Board of Missions," in co.junction gwith which it has been endeavoring for the last few years, with more of less success (chiefly the latter) to carry lon mission work in Manitobs and the regions beyond.
There was a very large representation of the friends of the mission "from various parts of the wide west, some having come nearly two hundred miles. All the resident missionaries on the field were present, and some few visiting brethren.

The most of the sessions of the Convention were marked by greats harmony in planning and unanimity of realing, quite in contrast with the last Conventional meeting in Winaipez, it may be presumed, to some extent, on the principle that prevented the shrewd, quaint Breton's mare from crowdjng when she was alone. All seemed have been during the last few years.

Without cotering into detailed, and prhaps

a marked improvement, that, in the judgment of more than one impartial observer

Now many uninisters are begging for release from "Aard fields"; some of them ready to many uninisters are begging for release from "Aard fields"; some of them ready to send the shower to start the seel they have sown! The quality of too much Christian labor in our land, whether it be religious or reformalized that it ends in a spasmodic spirit of enthusiasm. "Well done" once to aothing unless there be "patient continuence in it. Brethree, let us remember that Paristian patience is not only a waiting on God, it is a steady working for God. Christ in us is the only staying power. The soldier who stands fire to the last shot, wins the victory. And up yonder they who are arrayed in the while ribes and wear the diadems are they whe "came out of great tribulations." Of them it is proclaimed—"Here is the Patience of the saints; here are they that kept the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus!"

The Saloon and the Supreme Court.

The Saloon reels thader the terrific blow dealt by the Supreme Court of the United States in the Kunsac Sases. It reels to and fro and staggers like a drunken man, and it at its with end. Its awagger infor the moment gone. Its load, boastful tones have fallen into a hoarre whisper, and its impertinent challenge to the American prople has lost its defiant ring. The power and majesty of Law which it has so often scorned, inspire it with an awe in never felt before. It has made its final appeal and has found that tiere is no way of escape for it from the mighty grip of Luw. Any state may now declare it a nuisance and proposed to abset it, and it has no remedy except in rebellion. Every phase of the Saloon—the brewery, the distillery, the groggery, is subject to the exercise of this sovereign power; and the meaufacture and wholesale such estated.

groggery, is subject to the exercise of this sovareigo power; and the manufacture and wholesale and retail of intoxicanis may be as rigaronally suppressed as any other form of missace desmed detrimental to health or morals.

The decision of the Supreme Court declares that compensation for damage to property cannot be exacted from the state when the manufacture and sale of intoxicants are prohibited. Tain is the great point decided. Every man, henceforth, who enters into, or continues in, the business of making or selling intoxicants in any state, does so at his own risk. His business may at any time, either by legislative concurrent or constitutional provision, be ceclared a nuisanne and be suppressed as in Kanes, or be prohibited as in Maines and other states. It is in effect a notice to every brewer and distiller and dealer that he must be prepared to give up this business whenever his eta'c communds him to. Formal action by the popular voice or by legislative process outlaws his business, and turns the promise soutlaws his business, and turns the pupular voice or by legislative process outlaws his business, and turns the investment of the state against him. The moral force of this fact is irresivible. It will orush the Salon as slavery was crushed. The supreme interpreter of our Supreme Law has given us this mighty weapor of warfars. Let us wield it with all our power.

The decision has robbed the Saloon of a strong hope. It "annihilates at once and forever," says the St. Lunis Ansetger dex Westens, all hope of protection against the suppression by individual states of the liquor traffis, and "extinguishes irrevoably" a I expectations of indemnity. It is "not only a heavy blow to the business interests directly concerned," says the Baltimore Deutsche Correspondent, "but also to the whole movement for the maintenance of personal liberty." Mr. Thoman, one of the chief writers for the brewers must mimit. It have them out of all prohibition states and local option counties. L'quor dealers all agree that it wittl CHESTER.—There was a pleasant entertainment a few evenings ago in the Chester Baptist ohurch, consisting of recitations and readings from Longfellow. At the close the sad, rivilage was given the church as ad congregation "of bidding farewell to their retiring president, Sister Huxferd, who for many years has presided at the organ, being a faithful helper in the prayer meeting, Sabbash school, and every department and Christian living endearing herself to all. One of the brethers, in behalf of the church there, presented her with a substantial and finely finished writing desk, as a slight token of their regard and appreciation, and in a few well-chosen words referred to the recomb losees they had custained in the departure of Sisters DeWitt and Kempton, expressing their regret at being obliged to part with another highly valued sister, and their sincere desire that God's ble esing might follow her, her husband and little daughter to their new home and through life. Some of the pages are dazzling.

With the teather-fiskes of the sn
Some of them thrill to the music.
Of the merriest winds that blow

I cannot begin to tell you

Of the lovely things to be,

to the wonderful year book wait

A gift for you and me.

And a thought most strange and sol is borne upon my mind,— Ou every page a column
For oursel &s we ll surely find.

And shou'd we not be careful Lest the words our fingers wri e

When we stand in the dear Lord's sight

And should we not remember
To dread no thought of blame,
