

MOST APPALLING OF DISORDERS CONTINUE THROUGHOUT THE TROUBLED AREA OF BELFAST

"The City of Horror," the Like of Such Happenings Since Troubles Began, As Prevailed in Roman Catholic Areas Thursday—Streets Raked With Machine Guns, Blocks Burned and Houses Bombed.

London, June 1—The hottest battle between the military and Sinn Fein gunmen since the Belfast turmoil began occurred this morning in the Roman Catholic areas between Grosvenor Road and Falls Road, according to the Star's Belfast correspondent.

The Evening Standard's Belfast correspondent says: "Appalling disorders have occurred here, the like of which this city of horrors has never experienced before. Between seven o'clock and noon ambulances were summoned thirteen times. The streets were raked with machine gun fire; the rebels, in turn bombed several places; two whole blocks of houses were set on fire and while the firemen fought the flames, the battle waged in the streets all around.

Nine civilians were carried off dead from this inferno. Two of them were women. Many were killed in houses, into which the rival factions pursued them in fury. The bodies were rescued only in time to prevent cremation.

Bayonet charges by the military were necessary to dispel the mobs which gathered to join in the battle. Gunmen retreated to the Grosvenor Road area, where a fresh battle broke out, involving Lenson street, Norfolk street, Grosvenor Place, McDonnell street and other thoroughfares.

The crown forces had a difficult task in suppressing the gunmen. Their concentrated fire reduced the gunmen to silence for a while, but later the rebels mounted a machine gun and swept the streets, causing men, women and children to fly for their lives.

Interest Shift to Borderland

Interest in the Irish situation shifted today to Ulster, where the borderland disturbances and the Belfast outrages are more serious than ever. The conferences of Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier and the Marquis of Londonderry, with Premier Lloyd George were not productive of optimistic statements regarding the solution of the problem.

It is understood that the question of the support to be given to Northern Ireland in case of an invasion of that territory was considered and an agreement reached. The situation remains grave. Mr. Lloyd George has concluded his whitewash conference between the Ulsterites and the Earl of Balfour of the foreign office.

Lord Balfour attended a meeting of the Belfast signatories of the treaties this afternoon, the discussion lasting more than an hour. This did not contribute much, however, to brighten the situation.

Fierce fighting at Belfast continued this morning with considerable sniping throughout the afternoon.

The death toll in the two days engagement has reached fourteen, while fifty persons have been wounded. Along the border the military has replaced the specials.

Equal activity among the maverick forces indicates the anxiety of the Northern government over the menace of an invasion.

A meeting in Downing street of the cabinet and the Irish delegates, lasting an hour and a half, preceded Michael Collins' departure for Dublin. No statement was issued. One of the Irish delegates on being questioned replied: "Things have not yet reached the stage where we can make a statement."

Mr. Collins was accompanied to Dublin by Eamon J. Duggan and William Congreve, leaving Arthur Griffith and the other delegates O'Hagerty, O'Higgins and Kennedy in London.

Believed 8,000 Maintenance Men Will Be Called from Their Work.

New York, June 1—Expecting a new strike order calling from the mines the 8,000 maintenance men who have remained on duty since the suspension on April first, anthracite operators of the entire industry held an emergency conference here today to decide upon means of protecting their property.

A union order, making the strike absolute, is expected by both miners and operators because neither side is prepared to modify its demands when the joint sub-committee resumes wage negotiations tomorrow, after adjourning in a deadlock a week ago.

The Free Press suggests that Mr. Rogers has political ambitions which are not unrelated to his alleged intention to move to Toronto.

BREAK UP OF CRERAR PARTY IS FORECAST

Militant Section of Progressives in Rebellion, Threatening Mr. Crerar's Leadership.

CHARGE THAT HE IS LIBERAL IN DISGUISE

Recall Some of His Many Moves Detrimental to Party's Progress.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., June 1—Something like most approaching open schism has developed in the Progressive ranks. It became known today that M. Hoey's failure to submit his promised amendment yesterday was due to orders from Mr. Crerar, and that, as a consequence, the more militant section of the party is in rebellion and actually threatening Mr. Crerar's leadership. They charge that he is a Liberal in disguise, that his effort to join Mr. King's ministry, as well as his repeated and poorly concealed attempts to save the Government's face in the House, prove their contention, and that, in addition, his timidity in leadership has thus far resulted in the party arriving nowhere in achieving its political programme.

FATHER AND SON LOST LIVES IN ST. CROIX RIVER

Father Endeavoring to Save Six Year Old Boy and Both Drowned.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, June 1—A sad fatality occurred late this afternoon at Kelly land, up river, about eighteen miles from St. Stephen. It is the sight of a large dam of the St. Croix Paper Co., and of a large power plant of that company. About five o'clock this afternoon while some children were fishing from the bank, one little boy, Freddie Guest, about six years of age, slipped from the bank into the river. His companions gave a speedy alarm and the child's parent, William Guest, rushed from the power plant, where he was employed, and plunged into the rapidly running river in a vain effort to save his child. Both were swept down stream and were drowned.

STOCK BROKERS CALL ON FIELDING

Their Visit Had to Do With the Proposed Tax on Cheques.

Ottawa, June 1—A delegation from the Montreal stock exchange this morning interviewed Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, in regard to the proposed tax on cheques. The interview was in private. The tax was opposed on the ground that it would bear heavily on brokers who find it necessary to issue many large cheques. Alternative proposals were made by members of the delegation.

The delegates were introduced by Herbert Marler, Liberal member for St. Lawrence-St. George, Montreal. Just before the delegation from Montreal arrived, the Minister received a delegation representing the Toronto stock exchange. It is understood that representations were made on similar lines to those of the Montreal delegation.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES IMPROVED

Remittances on London: Rose to Highest Quotations in Three Years.

New York, June 1—The granting of a nine year provisional moratorium to Germany, by her former enemies, was followed by a series of interesting movements in the local foreign exchange market today. Remittances on London rose to highest quotations in three years, demand sterling selling 4.45 3/4, with cables a fraction over 4.46 and a corresponding gain in sixty day bills.

Strength of British exchange, according to well-informed brokers, seemed to be predicated on the belief that the moratorium would be followed by a large German loan and resultant re-establishment of large credits by that country in London, more or less to the disadvantage of France and other continental centers.

DE VALERA ONCE MORE BECOMES RATHER SURLY

Intimates He Will Do About As He Pleases, Despite Churchill.

London, June 1—A number of questions were put to Eamon De Valera today respecting Winston Churchill's statement in the House of Commons yesterday, especially as to whether, as a member of the Coalition Cabinet, he would give a written acceptance of the treaty, and, according to the Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent, he made the same stereotyped answer to all inquiries: "Churchill's threats do not affect us. We deny the right of any English authority to prescribe what an Irishman shall or shall not do."

The correspondent asked whether this meant that Mr. De Valera would do what Mr. Churchill prescribed, but says he learned at Republican headquarters, that such a construction could not be placed on De Valera's words. "In other words," the correspondent adds, "Mr. De Valera objects to Churchill telling him what he ought to do, but he may or may not do it all the same."

VILLAGE CLUBS IN ENGLAND GIVE RURAL LIFE A BROADER OUTLOOK

Exert Strong Moral Influence Beside Serving as Centres of Educational and Recreational Activities.

London, April 30.—(By Mail)—The Village Clubs Association of which the Earl of Shaftesbury K. P. is president, and Sir Henry Rew, K. C. B., chairman, was organized toward the end of the World War with the object of assisting the development of the social and intellectual sides of rural life by promoting the establishment of village clubs in England, Scotland, Wales, on lines to meet post-war conditions.

The association was initiated by the Agricultural Club, composed of representatives of landlords, farmers, and laborers who were members of the Central Wages Board, and persons interested in agriculture. Rules laid down with regard to village clubs stipulated that they should be the center of all social activities, and of all forms of physical and mental recreation; that they should be self-supporting and free from the elements of patronage; that all male inhabitants of the village without distinction of class or opinion should be eligible for membership, and that when practicable women also should be admitted to membership. Entire control is vested in a committee elected either by the members, or by the members and the residents of the parish.

Broader Outlook Needed
"The village club has for many years been a feature of village life in some rural districts, but many of these clubs were very limited and local in their outlook and did not meet the needs of the people. They often consisted of only one room, and no provision was made to satisfy the desire for reading and instruction," says J. Nugent Harris, organizing secretary of the association.

"The post-war clubs are quite a different proposition. They are established more on the lines of the town clubs which provide amenities for different types of members with varying tastes. They have larger premises, so as to include billiard, reading, and card rooms and practically all have a stage for dramatic performances and for the use of the choral society. We find the provision of social, recreational, and instructional activities pre-

COTTON GROWING GIVES RELIEF FOR VETERANS IN AUSTRALIA

Quick Results Obtained by Planting Between Vines and Fruit Trees—Care in Selecting Seed.

Adelaide, South Australia, May 30.—Experiments, for which great success is predicted, are being tried on the extensive area of irrigation settlements on the River Murray with cotton growing. The new industry is regarded as one which will provide the repatriated soldiers who have taken up blocks on the fertile Murray banks with a way out of financial difficulties. Those who have gone on the land have been faced with the problem of how to maintain themselves during the years before the vines and the fruit trees come into bearing.

There are good reasons for supposing that cotton, as a main crop, will prove a profitable commercial venture, but to the returned soldier settler it is regarded as a "pot boiler" that will give its immediate benefits. If, as is now believed, a satisfactory return can be obtained from plants grown between the rows of vines and trees, the settler on an irrigated holding of from 10 to 15 acres will find a way out of an embarrassing difficulty. The additional cultivation necessary for the cotton will reflect itself later in increased yields of grapes and fruit.

Some months ago, the managing director of the Australian Cotton Growing Association, Crawford Vaughan, who is a former Labor promoter of South Australia, accompanied by his co-directors, H. C. Armstrong and W. H. Johnson, previously director of agriculture in Nigeria, visited the Murray areas and investigated the possibilities of cotton growing. Mr. Vaughan then went to America and attended, as the Australian representative, the world conference on cotton men, and afterward inspected the immense cotton districts from Georgia to New Orleans. What he saw and learned on his South Australian visit, and his American tour, convinced him of the wonderful future for the industry in this State. His examination of the experimental plots of cotton, confirmed this conviction so much so that the association is contemplating taking up a large tract of land up river to grow the commodity as a main crop.

The kind recommended for the South Australian irrigation areas is Pima cotton. One settler has a number of rows of the plants between young grape vines, and this block, from the point of view of the new industry, is a model example. Great precautions have been taken to insure that only clean seed is received in Australia. That for the experimental plots was obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture. Machinery is being imported to handle the cotton on the spot. It is being urged that the Government in-

Opinion Changes In United States Regarding Tariffs

The Situation at Washington from the Canadian Point of View.

"The United States Investor."
"While on the surface, from the Canadian point of view the latest product of the tariff makers at Washington, seem to be about the worst yet, some students of the American political situation are warning Canadians that all is not as it seems. It is being pointed out in many quarters that while the increased duties on agricultural products asked for in the Fordney-McCumber tariff measure, are designed to appeal to the farmers of the West and Middle West who in 1920 felt the competition of Canadian farm products most keenly, times have changed since this method of getting votes for the members of the farm bloc in the Senate was devised and that in the matter of tariff protection, farmer opinion in the American West is in a state of transition. The American correspondents of several Canadian newspapers have recently been assuring their readers that the ground is being shaken to shake ominously under the feet of the high protectionists in Congress and that the time is not far distant when the passage of the Emergency Tariff measure in return for their support of an all-around high tariff they have made a bad bargain, a bargain which they would willingly denounce if they could. For, according to the correspondents, the farmer newspapers, the farmer no longer think as he did six months ago. His reception of the new tariff has, therefore, not been as enthusiastic as many of us would expect. Congress expected that it would be.

Growing Demand for Lectures
"A criticism which used to be heard was that the clubs were purely amusement centers, but we have a growing demand for lectures from affiliated clubs, some of which are situated in the most isolated places, and almost every week a letter arrives asking for advice on how to start a library, while from one county a request has come from more than one village for loan collections of pictures.

"A striking testimony was recently given as to the good moral influence of the clubs when a village in the north of England, where the club was the only one of its kind, owing to the fact a club had been opened in that particular village there would soon be no need for him in the locality.

"The association now has 450 clubs affiliated, and an indication of how the movement is telling is that a similar association has been started in France, under the title of "Le Foyer des Compagnes." A conference is being organized to take place in Paris in June, out of which it is hoped to establish an international joint committee of the two organizations. During the last six months we have also had several letters from the United States from people who have heard of our work and want to start a similar organization there."

Miss Leitch Will Not Defend Title

London, June 1.—Miss Cecil Leitch, holder of the Canadian women's golf championship title will not defend her title this summer, because of an injured arm. Women's Congress Great Success

Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond Vividly Describes Wonderful Conference Recently Held in Baltimore.

In an interesting and graphic manner, which carried her hearers along with her, Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, president of the Women's Canadian Club, described the Pan-American Congress of Women Voters, which was recently held in the city of Baltimore, and which she attended as the official representative of the St. John Women's Canadian Club.

Mrs. Raymond described the congress as an inspiration. It was attended by over two thousand women from North, Central, and South America, as well as representatives from England, Belgium, France, Sweden and many other European countries. Reports were read of the progress that was being made in women's work in all these countries by the women leaders sent from them. The conference itself was enlivened by countless recitations, when Baltimore's richest homes were thrown open to the visiting delegates, with all the open hearted hospitality for which Maryland, and the South, have ever been noted. Amongst the celebrities in attendance mentioned by Mrs. Raymond, were Lady Astor, Mrs. Parkhurst, and Mrs. Cary Chapman Cat, of Eng land.

On the morning of her arrival in Baltimore, Mrs. Raymond stated she conveyed the greetings of the mayor of St. John to the mayor of Baltimore, and was met by a very kindly and courteous reception by the latter gentleman.

One of the first women she encountered in the city, she said, was Mrs. Kate Tronson, the distinguished English suffragist, who proved herself a warm friend of the Canadian delegates. Mrs. Raymond stated that the sessions of the conference were held in the Century Roof Theatre. In describing the quarters, she stated that on the stage in the theatre were seated the official delegates of each country, banners of which in large placards were printed the name of the country they represented. The other delegates were seated on the floor of the house, and the galleries were filled with visitors. Immediately in front of the stage was the press table, about which were grouped one hundred newspaper reporters, and back of them a row of cameramen with many other reporters were scattered throughout the audience.

The machinery of organization Mrs. Raymond described as bordering on perfection. Everything was handled with precision, and promptitude. In the corridors outside the assembly room large placards with the names of the delegates, all gossipping there and the same rule was adopted to enter the hall while an address was being made, and each speaker was allowed an allotted time for her address. On one occasion twenty-two women delivered addresses in the space of one hour and forty minutes.

The opening session she stated was opened by Mrs. Woodpark, and the invocation pronounced by Archbishop Curley, of Baltimore. Addresses of Curley, of Baltimore, and the Mayor of Baltimore following which the president of the conference explained the purpose of the strengthening of a universal sisterhood amongst the women of Pan-America.

Speaking of the women of the south, Mrs. Raymond said that they were all beautiful cultured women, modestly dressed, highly educated, an odd majority of them fluent linguists.

It was a revelation to many delegates to learn that the legal status of the women of South America was higher than that of the English speaking women. This was due to the fact that their laws were based on the old Spanish law, where on marriage the wife was considered a partner of the union and did not lose her nationality as under the English common law.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aiding the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. New Group of Financiers in N. Y.

New York, June 1.—(By Canadian Press)—New York has a new group of high financiers. A score or more of street hawkers appeared in the Wall Street district the other day with huge bundles of Austrian paper money which they offered at 25 cents for 1,000 kronen. They received such a raising from the messenger boys of the financial district, who are well aware that a thousand kronen made is valued at ten cents, that they moved the scene of their operations. They are now doing a flourishing business further up-town, where the international exchange rates are not so well known.

SAYS ENGLAND NOT BEHIND THE U. S. A. IN THE RADIO GAME

London, June 1.—England, which today can claim no more than a few thousand radio fans against the million of the United States, plans to start in on the business right away and show America just how the radio game should be played.

The authority for this statement is no less a person than Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, who has just arrived in London after a visit to the Continent. Isaacs looks forward to the time when there is going to be a radio receiving set in every English home, and this time is coming soon, he says.

What is the matter with radio in England? Why is this country so far in such an inferior position to the United States in wireless development? Godfrey Isaacs answers these questions in two words—“Government control.” The use of receiving apparatus by private persons has been made almost impossible up to the present by the continuance of the licensing system by the Post Office.

British Well Ahead is Claimed.

The position in this country, it must be allowed, has been a little different from that of the United States; wartime conditions have necessarily given the point of view that the American authorities have not had to take. It is not due to it, it is claimed, to any lack of technical skill or knowledge that wireless telephony has not made any comparable strides over here. British experts are not one bit behind American, and in the handling of valve reception and transmission are possibly in advance, it is said. The one difficulty has been the official restrictions.

Now, according to Godfrey Isaacs, the post office is going to change its policy and to allow every facility of the extension of wireless telephony. An important announcement is expected from Parliament. And when the restrictions have been removed or modified there will be nothing to prevent a very big advance.

Godfrey Isaacs thinks that Government control in the early stages of radio in this country may turn out in the end to have been a good thing. He hopes, he said, that England would take the new extension in a more serious and sober way than it had been taken across the Atlantic. “I don't want to see ‘radio’ here,” remarked Marconi's managing director, “in America the boom is rather premature. The equipment in use is rather primitive and not such as we should like to see employed here. I think that the British press is rapidly lining up behind the drive. “America,” says Isaacs, “has already embraced this new era with both arms. Just as it seized the idea of the film with eager hands, so it has gripped the idea of a wireless telephony in every home. American imagination, American initiative, American energy are driving the new era along at a gallop.”

What does the wireless telephone in the home mean? asks Isaacs. “It means a great new industry, astounding extension of knowledge, immeasurable sources of entertainment, better business facilities, new political methods, an end to home isolation and dullness.

“Step into the home telephone era,” This is the new English slogan.

and the wire, will soon enable one to run up an antenna with a surprising minimum of delay.

Antennae such as these have been kept aloft for periods of several days, although the best practice is to run in the 100 or more feet of wire as soon as it has served its purpose.

• Good Reception.

Antennae supported by kites have been very successful for the reception of signals from European high-power and semi-high-power stations. Under these circumstances, as much as 1,000 or more feet of wire may be fed up into the sky. With an antenna of such excellent characteristics as to height, surprisingly strong signals may be received with even the simpler types of vacuum tube receivers.

Ground connection may be made by stretching a wire 300 feet long over the surface of the earth in a direction away from the station which it is desired to receive.

HOW TO HAVE A Radio At Camp

Use a Kite to Stretch Your Aerial and You Are All Set.

Many camps this summer will take radio outfits as part of their camp equipment. They will be wise in so doing, for it is hard to imagine any place where a radio will be more desired, particularly during the occasional inclement weather when it is bound to come during a vacation period.

During these spells, nature's electrical interference may sometimes prevent the satisfactory reception of signals. But the interference will only be temporary. During the rest of the time the camper will be able to get the weather forecast, time signals, baseball scores and other broadcasted material.

Due to the nature of the terrain, the erection of the antenna frequently effects serious difficulties, particularly if it is necessary to receive the radio reports from a great distance.

Kite Aerial.

If trees of fair height are available, they may serve as antenna supports. But if they are not, kites may be used for holding the antenna wire aloft.

At the seashore, on lake shores or in the mountains, there is seldom a time when a breeze of some kind is not blowing, and there is a kite for every breeze. Many amateurs have found no end of pleasure in selecting two or three kites, each of different size. These are of the “tailless” variety, sometimes known as “flying” kites. They can be purchased in any number of toy shops or stationary stores at prices ranging from five cents to a quarter each.

A light breeze calls for a kite “string” consisting of No. 23 bare copper wire, while the heaviest wind may call for something considerably stronger, for example, No. 18 bare copper wire. A little experiment with the breeze, the kite (or kites, for these may be flown very handily in tandem)

MANY CHILDREN SICK. HOW TO TREAT THEM

The kiddies will get their feet wet, catch cold, get croup and give their mothers lots of trouble. With the first cough or sneeze, rub the little one's chest with Nerviline, rub it on plentifully, it can't harm. Then make a gargle with Nerviline and water, and have the child gargle for five minutes. Just at bed time, give the child ten drops of Nerviline in his sweetened water. The result is fine, and next morning child is better. Nerviline is a great protection in the home. Large 50c. bottles at all dealers.

The directors of the new company, which has set out to make this business one of the foremost in the city for its size on the continent, are A. Neil McLean, George H. Waring, and John B. Jones.

WHO'S WHO IN RADIO

Born in Upsala, Sweden, Jan. 25, 1878, Mr. Ernest Frederick Werner Alexanderson was educated at the high school and University of Lund, Sweden, and at the Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm, completing a post-graduate course at Berlin.

He entered the service of the C. and O. Electric Company in 1901, and joined the General Electric Company in 1902. He occupied the post of consulting engineer to the latter concern and is also chief engineer of the Radio Corporation of America.

After years of research and constant work, he developed a type of high frequency alternator suitable for radio work, which is known today under his name. He was the first to install this high frequency alternator for radio telephone transmission, he designed the magnetic amplifier, which is used to modulate the antenna current.

In 1915 Mr. Alexanderson came in contact with Mr. Marconi during a visit to the Schenectady works, and an arrangement was made to install the large radio frequency alternator and magnetic amplifier at the New Brunswick station owned by the Marconi Company.

This sending set has given full satisfaction, having a high degree of efficiency, and has been adopted by the Radio Corporation of America to be used as a radio transmitter in all the big stations of the world.

Mr. Alexanderson holds numerous patents on various radio apparatus and is at present developing some new inventions in the General Electric Works, at Schenectady.

Among several papers and articles written by him may be mentioned “An American method of Electrical Engineering,” which was presented to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and in which was described the alternator and magnetic amplifier. The announcement of the successful completion of such a machine caused considerable sensation because the frequency was ten times as high as had previously been considered possible for practical purposes with a dynamo-electric machine.

While developing the magnetic modulator, the United States Patent Office issued a patent to Mr. Alexanderson for “Magnetic Properties of Iron at Frequencies Up to 300,000 Cycles Per Second.” This paper has been extensively quoted in scientific literature in every country and is considered unique along this line.

Among others may be mentioned “Diabetic Hysteria at Radio Frequencies,” “Magnetic Amplifier For Radio,” “Telephone ‘Simultaneous Sending and Receiving,’ ” “Transoceanic Radio Communication.”

Mr. Alexanderson is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

True To Be Hanged In Prison June 13

Must Pay Penalty Then for Murder of Gertrude Yates.

London, June 1.—Major Ronald True will be executed at 9 o'clock on the morning of June 13 at Pentonville prison for the murder of a young woman, Gertrude Yates.

True was formerly an officer in the Royal Flying Corps and was a civilian flier at a Brooklyne airplane factory and at Ellington Field, Houston, Tex., during 1917. He was found guilty of the murder of Gertrude Yates, known also as Olive Young, who was found dead in the bathroom of her apartment in Kensington on March 15 last.

While in military True had several adventures in matrimony, marrying a Houston girl who afterwards annulled the marriage, and becoming engaged to a woman in Wilmington, Del. When

Mt. A. Players Scored A Hit

Three Act Farce Comedy “A Pair of Sixes,” Pleased Imperial Audience Last Evening.

The Mount Allison college players added another to their laurels, already won in amateur theatricals, when they presented the three-act farce comedy, “A Pair of Sixes,” to a fairly large audience, in the Imperial theatre, last evening. The plot of the play was such as to involve some difficult acting, and the entire cast acquitted themselves in their various roles in a manner which left nothing to be desired. The direction of the production was in the hands of Miss Ida M. Leslie, B. L. L. and much of the success attained by the collection with this play, was due to her efforts. Pleading musical numbers were rendered as specialties between acts, and included a violin solo by Miss Bertha Stultz, and a vocal selection by Miss Kathryn Thompson.

The following is the cast of characters:

George B. Nettleton, Norman Burroughs and T. Bogg Johns, “Reg” MacDougall—Business partners.

Fire Underwriters Make Objections

Object to Amendment Adopted by Common Council Recently Regarding Erection of Wooden Buildings.

President J. C. Mitchell of the N. B. Board of Fire Underwriters, and assistant secretary R. D. Fudger were heard at the meeting of the Common Council yesterday morning. They advised that the board objected to the amendment adopted by Council whereby wooden buildings were restricted in height, measuring to the highest point in the roof, may be erected in districts 2, 3 and 4, provided the roof, if hipped or peaked, are covered with composition or other non-combustible material. Under the old law the height of the wooden building was restricted to 25 feet.

President Mitchell opposed the amendment on the ground that it weakened the safety requirements. The hazard would be increased and adjacent buildings would be affected, as well as the individual structure built under the new law. Hip or pitched roofs were objected to in the district referred to, even in buildings 25 feet high.

Fudger explained that changing a building from three to four storeys would tend to put up the rate, as the rate is based on the number of floors. The building inspector called attention to a No. 5 class of risk. The new law may lower the classification to No. 6, with higher rates.

Com. Wignome observed that while the underwriters threaten an increase in rates, because of the amended law, they have not made any reduction for the big improvement made by the city in better water pressure and in more efficient firefighting equipment.

Com. Thornton added that ten permanent men had been engaged since the city was graded, and one hundred men force now totals fifty. He requested that the fire underwriters advise definitely if the amended law would cause higher rates, as he did not wish to put anything into effect which would result in a hardship or a setback. The law would not go into force for twenty days, and he asked that the insurance men take some action in the matter. He also said that he should have taken the question up sooner.

The building inspector called attention to discrimination in the building laws, in that in the North End a height of 35 feet is allowed for wooden buildings, while in Carleton the height is 34 feet, and in No. 2 district, 25 feet. He explained that the peak roof for the proposed building on Orange St., about which the amendment question had arisen, would enable the construction of two bedrooms under the peak, and the use of the upper story for two families, making the total three families, this meant considerable to an owner who desired revenue.

The Acting-Mayor Frink urged that the underwriters be honest and say flatly that it was not the hazard but the high cost of living that had brought up the question of increased rates.

Com. Thornton interjected that the increase in firefighting efficiency here had reduced the annual loss considerably in recent years.

When this had been pointed out to the insurance company delegates, the latter replied that the rest of Canada had helped to bear the local loss in former years and that St. John must reciprocate.

Secretary Fudger read fire loss figures from the N. B. Fire Prevention Board as follows for the first quarter of 1922, as reported: 77 fires, $136,097 loss, $128,633 insurance loss, $7,474 not covered.

The Acting-Mayor said insurance companies appear ready and willing to give insurance on practically any old thing that offers.

On motion, it was decided to defer action on the by-law pending a report from a fire board which is to meet at an early date.

The Commissioner of Safety read a letter from the building inspector, in reply to a communication, dated May 29 sent to the Mayor by W. E. A. Lawton concerning the old Harding property, Union Street, for which Mr. Lawton has asked for a permit to remodel.

The building inspector reported that Mr. Lawton had written that the investors previous to purchase had requested that approval of the fattening inspector be secured for the fattening

Some reports received regarding the Children's Division work are of a very encouraging nature. The Cradle Roll department was recently organized and the energetic superintendent, Mrs. Richards, has enrolled over one hundred and twenty names. After years of the Mothers' Meetings give promise of instructive and helpful sessions and will show the real value of the work.

The district conventions in York county recently held, show encouraging results being obtained in the Sunday schools. The addresses by local workers and the discussion of practical plans for better work give evidence of thoughtful interest and endeavor. In one district (Canterbury) it was decided on June 4th to hold a Community Sunday School session. The different schools were assigned memory work for the occasion, beside the regular features. This session will, no doubt, bring very definitely before the community the whole Sunday school program.

Messrs. Burns and Brewer, county president and secretary, visited two districts, making the added much of interest to the meetings.

A delightful rally of the Canadian Girls in Training of Halifax was held on Saturday afternoon, May 27th, in the Y.M.C.A. A large number of girls were in attendance and entered heartily into the spirit of camp, which was the theme of the afternoon's gathering. The president of the council presided very graciously. The rally opened with a rousing song. Two of the former campers then spoke on the recreational and serious sides of camp life respectively. This was followed by an original poem which described well a typical day at camp. Miss Allison then spoke on the value of camp, following which a group of former campers presented three unique and original scenes, one of which set forth in music the varied activities of a day at camp; another represented in a humorous way the morning exercise period; while the third very fittingly closed the “day at camp” by a camp fire scene, whose number of worship made the true “spirit of camp” felt by all.

That Much Settled.

Watch Your Gums—Bleeding a Sign of Trouble

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the forerunners of Fyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Fyorrhea poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. These poisons often cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and other ills.

To avoid Fyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Fyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U.S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

GIRLS LEMONS

WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rose-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

DYSPEPTIC DIET NO LONGER NECESSARY

The old plan of prescribing strict diet for dyspeptics and stomach sufferers is no longer popular among progressive medical men partly because of its weakening effect but mostly because of the discovery that nearly all stomach trouble is due to excessive acidity. The gans of digestion themselves all right but acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining and cause sourness and premature food fermentation. The logical treatment, therefore, is to get rid of the acid, when natural pancreatic digestion will follow.

For this purpose a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bismarated Magnesia in a little water neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation of the food, dispels the gas, and thus permits the stomach to proceed with its work without hindrance. Owing to its prompt action Bismarated Magnesia, which is obtained from any druggist, in either tablet or powder form, should always be used in preference to the other forms of magnesia, such as milk, citrate, carbonate or oxide. Stomach sufferers are advised to try this plan for three weeks and note results.

of the roof of the property. There had been no interview in that regard, Mr. Carleton reported. He said he had been interviewed by Mr. Lawton in reference to a building at the corner of Carleton and Dorchester streets, but not concerning the Harding house. The latter is in No. 1 district, hence there is no provision for granting Mr. Lawton's request. The letter of the law is that it is no longer lawful to erect wooden buildings in No. 1 district, and the spirit of the law is to eliminate wooden structures already there. When a property ceases to be habitable and requires restoration expenditure of 50 per cent of its value, then a new building should be called for under No. 1 district regulations, the inspector concluded.

On motion it was decided to notify Mr. Lawton that under the present act the permit could not be granted.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

No Use For Coalitions
(London Daily Mail.)
In domestic affairs a dictator who poses himself first on a Conservative leg and then on a Radical leg is bound to bring confusion. The country feels that something is wrong. Here, too, the remedy is to return to the quieter and steadier methods of Government by parties. The Coalition has ceased to stand for any intelligible principle except that of clinging separately to office.

Australia Against Socialism
(The Australasian.)
The apprehensions of a crisis do not now oppress the people who no longer think it necessary to huddle together for safety. Prudence in government is as desirable as ever, but the best form of prudence is that which leaves the commerce free to expand to its full strength in the manner which individuals deem best. The people of Australia are definitely opposed to Socialism, and the platform of the predominant party should be framed without any timid concessions to Socialism.

The Golden Age
(London Observer.)
We do not deserve to have any greatness in the future unless we attack our present problems in a cheerful and resolute spirit and refuse to consider that our race is ruined. Critics in Queen Elizabeth's time probably thought that they were living in the golden age which would never repeat its triumphs. And yet as they, too, were succeeded by the Victorians, so in the course of history it is just possible that we may be preparing for not by awaiting pessimism, but by the fearless strength of an undefeated hope.

DETECTIVES
Robbers and satch who walk around
Feeling unappetizing,
Would change their impression if they saw
They was followed by a detective.

Detectives don't wear uniforms
And look as innocent as can be.
But if a pick pocket picks one pocket,
The next second he stops being free.

If a burglar sees a policeman
He knows when to run at a glance,
But there's nothing to beware of
In a detective's coat and pants.

O they look harmless in the distance,
And even when they get near,
But there's handcuffs in their side pocket
And a revolver in their rear.

They have a badge inside their coat
In case you doubt who they are,
But a honest man looks strate in their eye
And offers them a cigar.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

When Mr. Foster was poring over the public accounts for the year 1916 he saw in his mind's eye nothing ahead of the province save bankruptcy and financial ruin. If then the Government was allowed to continue its pernicious course unchecked, his mind reverted to the palmy days of the Tweedie-Pugsley-Robinson regime prior to March, 1906, that glorious time when all were for the party, and none were for the State (to adapt Macaulay), and when, despite the profligacy which existed, the public debt amounted to $6,359,657 only. He sighed heavily when he reflected upon the awful sum that the successors to that party in the administration of public affairs, had increased that debt to, $10,804,646, exclusive of $4,547,000 for the Valley and Gloucester Iron Mines Railways, and all in nine years. His whole being yearned for the opportunity to rectify this deplorable condition of affairs, and on a platform built up of promises to keep the ordinary expenditure within ordinary revenue and not to get any more into debt; the people put him in charge.

Mr. Foster's administration of affairs had not been quite so successful along the lines of reform he promised, as he led the people to think it would be. When he assumed office, the public debt was, including the railways mentioned, $15,351,646. He has been in office just five years, and that debt today now stands at $35,374,932, including the issue of debentures made about three weeks ago. In other words, Mr. Foster has added as much to the public debt in five years as his predecessors did in nine, despite all his protestations regarding the iniquity of saddling so much indebtedness on the province.

Mr. Foster concluded his soliloquy in 1917 with the remark that "of course there would be the usual excuses and explanations forthcoming," but he emphasized three items which he thought would prove to the ordinary taxpayer just how much these excuses and explanations were worth. These three items were as follows, and to bring them down to date, we have added Mr. Foster's contribution to them in heavier type, so that the public may have the opportunity to compare Mr. Foster's precepts with his practice. Here are the items:

Interest charges in 1908	$ 178,569
Interest charges in 1916	351,034
Interest charges in 1921	697,069
Actual deficit at 31 Oct. 1916	371,737
Actual deficit at 31 Oct. 1921	807,132
Bonded debt and guarantees:
At 31 Oct 1907	6,359,657
At 31 Oct 1916	16,927,616
Bonded debt alone at 31, Oct 1921 (not including guarantees)	23,574,932
Added since	1,800,000

As Mr. Foster himself said: "Think it over."

THE NEW C. P. R. SERVICE.

The inauguration by the C. P. R. of a Sunday service of trains locally is a welcome innovation which will probably be greatly appreciated as its existence becomes more widely known. There is a large number of people so fixed that their only chance to get into the country is on Sunday and they have not been able to do this hitherto because there was no train service available. Of course we realize that everybody who is anybody nowadays owns—or is registered as the owner of—an automobile; but just the same, there is still a large army of nobodys who must have recourse to the trains to take them out of town if they are ever to go. It is to this section of the public that the new service will appeal. The time of departure, 10.10 a. m. (daylight) is a convenient one, as it gives intending passengers time to attend church at 8 o'clock, and get breakfast without undue hurry. To the man who is occupied in an office or a store all the week, the opportunity to take his family into the country on Sunday will prove an inestimable boon.

HORATIO BOTTOMLEY.

Judging from the cabled extracts of their criticisms on the result of the Bottomley trial most of the English newspapers appear to think that he fully deserved his fate. If he really is as guilty as the jury's verdict would imply, he certainly got no more than was rightfully coming to him. His sentence was of about as mean and petty a nature as could well be imagined in view of the fact that his victims belonged to the less well-to-do classes, who were the least able to stand the losses his pecuniations caused. Yet he was not a fool, he was once a real force, even if a somewhat unclean one. If he had been perfectly honest instead of deliberately corrupt in his pecuniary affairs, he would none the less have been more or less of a menace to society.

His publication, John Bull, had at one time a very great circulation; it appealed systematically and unscrupulously to the worst passions that war excites; in his periodical as in his financial schemes he was exploiting meanly and wickedly the noble virtues of patriotism. The law could not touch him till he stole; it is no crime in the eyes of the law to play the demagogue for personal profit. Every country has its Bottomleys; they are free to go to the limit in breeding hate and sowing the seed of war. An editor who preaches sedition quickly gets into trouble; let him pose as a patriot and rally the mob by preaching hatred of foreigners and he may not only go unwhipped of justice but may get into Parliament or the peerage. Whatever punishment Bottomley has incurred by his fraud, his offense against the law is no greater than his offense against society as an instigator of hatred.

One of Bottomley's greatest obsessions was his hatred of Americans, in fact it is perhaps doubtful who has been the most violent of the two, Bottomley in his Anti-Americanism, or Hearst in his Anti-British outbursts. They, both of them, carry to the limit a tendency which is found in most countries to a greater or less extent. Just as the better class American citizen despises Hearst and his Anti-British propaganda, so sensible Englishmen detested Bottomley and his pernicious teachings, but in his case nothing could be done about it till he let himself get caught in an offense of which the law could take cognizance. Then British law acted promptly as usual, and without the slightest regard for his prominence or his wealth. The plea of patriotic service during the war was brushed aside; it was idle, said the judge, to talk of patriotism if he were guilty of those frauds. Until his appeal is heard, a cell has an occupant and a seat in Parliament stands vacant, and, in addition, the Bottomley bubble is burst. The law had to protect the convicted criminal from the mob, and it is assured that his influence over the mob is a thing of the past. It is a wholesome lesson, even though it leaves lesser offenders unscathed.

A STATE MANAGER.

Governor Harkness of the State of Vermont is evidently very much enamored of the town manager system of civic government, for he has suggested the extension of this system to State matters. He has written to the Budget Committee of the Legislature proposing the appointment of a business man to act as general manager of the State's affairs, and as a justification for so doing, he expresses the opinion that half the five million dollars it has cost to run the State could be saved by the employment of such an official.

Whatever may be said of the Governor's idea, as a theory, in practice, it may be doubted if it would be possible to install in the State government a business machine that would not be handicapped by political considerations. The fact is that business and popular government are not synonymous, and can hardly be made so. Popular government is the best possible government, but there are many penalties which we have to pay for popular rule, and lack of business efficiency in conduct of Government affairs is one of them, as the people of New Brunswick have found out to their cost since 1917. Under an autocracy there can be efficiency, for then the affairs of the State are directed by a single individual, who is responsible to no one but himself, and who can see that the different departments of Government are handled by experts whose only concern is the execution of the will of the autocrat. The German Government previous to the war was perhaps the most efficient Government the world had ever known, while the present German Republic is anything but that. But there are no autocrats in the various governing bodies of this continent, and while an efficient executive under popular government can no doubt do many things to promote efficiency, to accomplish the task of dividing business and politics in the affairs of State would be an absolute impossibility.

THE FATEFUL DAY.
(New York Evening Post.)
We are not afraid of May 31 and a French lraod into the Ruhr. Competent students on the spot have never been afraid of such an invasion, and the prospect is more remote than that of the lraod into the Ruhr from Great Britain and with France rejoicing over what it regards as our indirect backing at Genoa. A Franco not abandoned is a France that can be brought to the table to participate in the Government that has shown serious intentions to fulfill obligations is a Government to work with. Already in the discussion of the German loan which is essential to a reparations adjustment. What our bankers are doing privately in the way of co-operation, our Government must do publicly to do, officially, manfully, in the open.

The High Cost of Books.
(London Daily Telegraph.)
Despite the general poverty of the land, there is always room for a brilliant author and always a sale for his literary output. In a great American city fabulous wealth co-exists with incredible privations. In the same fashion one or two huge recent successes reveal a similar contrast between abounding popularity and general neglect. But these are, after all, isolated phenomena. It still remains true that there can be no healthy prosperity for the book trade as a whole, or, indeed, for authorship, until the cost of production—and especially the cost of printing—comes down. What is happening at present is the inevitable issue. Printing is going out of the country, to Holland, to Sweden, and even, as some report, to Germany itself. And this is not a state of affairs to encourage our local and national industries.

The Farmer in Politics.
(Cape Times.)
What party gives the farmer the best guarantee of sound conditions? Not the Liberal Party, obviously, for its policy tends to drive capital away and restrict development. Not the National Party, either, for it does more to stir up dissension and strife than to bring about any real national expansion than any other influence in the Union. There is left the South African Party. It is a party of moderate men representative of both white races. It bears in peace and conciliation and constitutional methods, because it is convinced that under those conditions only can the country secure a maximum of stability and progress. It is, and always has been, sympathetic to the farmer, because it knows that agriculture is South Africa's lasting standby and that the more prosperous the farmers can be made the happier and more prosperous will the entire country be.

Canada's Budget.
(Boston Transcript.)
The pending Fordney Tariff Act calls for a series of all preceding tariff agreements, including the ill-fated reciprocity act of 1911, nor is it likely that the Canadians will soon be able to have reciprocity on as liberal a basis as that which was offered to them in 1911. Powerful elements in Canada, moreover, including the Quebec Liberals, still favor a high tariff wall between Canada and this country, and their strength is probably sufficient to prevent, for some time, any further reductions in the tariff duties imposed on American goods. Americans will note with satisfaction the willingness of the Canadian Government to lower the tariff bars against American goods. The reductions recommended by the Minister of Finance indicate, for one thing, that Mr. King's Administration does not propose to yield to the demand that Canada put up a retaliatory tariff against American goods, in order that American business men in meeting the competition of their British rivals.

"Oh, what a darling!"
"Da-da! Goo-goo! Hoo-o! D!" replied the baby.
"The dear!" exclaimed Mrs. Beane.
"He's trying so hard to talk!"
"Yes, he talks that way all day, but he doesn't say anything," ventured Bobbie, the five-year-old brother of the baby.
"The baby is so much like his father," Mrs. Deare commented, apropos of nothing, of course.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night.

To all women whose hearts are weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend

as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Beanson, Loganville, N. S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, have done for me. My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep, I would take another pill, and was so weak I could not do my house-work. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

Price, 50c a box at all druggists, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ITALY LIKES PLAYING HOST BUT RUES EXPENSE OF GENOA

Costs of Larger Delegations Were Paid by Government at Rome—New Political Party Formed.

Rome, May 31.—When the Italian Parliament separated for the Easter recess, the Genoa Conference had not yet begun, and it was even doubtful whether it really would meet, at the time fixed. The Conference was, and whatever else may be said about it, at least everyone praises the manner in which Luigi Facta, the Italian Prime Minister, acquitted himself as its president.

This is all the more remarkable because he was so far from being a commanding factor in European politics, like Bismarck at the Berlin Congress of 1878, that his name was hardly known outside Italy till he became prime minister in February. Yet this quiet, good-natured Piedmontese, who had hitherto been a secondary figure on the political stage, chiefly remarkable as a lieutenant of Signor Giolitti, managed to preside over a gathering which comprised far more distinguished statesmen, leaders of assemblies in their respective countries.

Harmony Preserved
Genoa has made Signor Facta's reputation as an excellent chairman, who succeeded where a bigger man of less tact might have failed. Aided by his Foreign Minister, Signor Schanzer, who is a good linguist and has a docile temperament, he raised the prestige not only of his Cabinet, but of Italy. The Italians are a sensitive people, and it has gratified them to know that a great conference has been conducted by an Italian upon Italian soil. Moreover, Signor Facta used his persuasive powers to prevent the Fascist and the Socialist from dividing at each other under Mr. Lloyd George's windows, and to hinder the Seamen's Union from organizing a strike in the harbor of Genoa, in front of the palace where the Conference sat.

Thus the foreigners—and Italians alike to expose themselves before foreigners—were favorably impressed with the state of public order there, and realized the organization. But there are no roses without thorns. Italy's moral satisfaction at the Conference has cost a big sum materially. For the Italians paid the expense of the states which summoned the Conference—Great Britain, France, Belgium, and Japan. This was an illogical arrangement, for those states were perfectly able to pay their own expenses. The arrangement was especially to be deprecated in the case of Great Britain, because that country had the largest delegation.

Expense Was Heavy
None of these countries has the means of inviting the Italians back, for there is no probability of a new conference in any of them. Anglophobe Italian journals criticized the British acceptance of Italian hospitality, and it would have been much better for all to have been paying guests. The cost of the Conference was estimated at £2000 daily, and there was a large initial expenditure upon telegraphs, telephones and roads, which last will, however, constitute a permanent improvement to the district. But for the minor delegations who had to pay all their own expenses and who, as in the cases of Poland and Yugoslavia, lost heavily on the Italian exchange the cost was enormous. The Genoa hotel keepers profited by the occasion to make a harvest, and Italian hotels nowadays are not cheap, when the luxury tax, the tax for service and that for the touring association are added to the bill. Here in Rome the proposed tax upon visitors will bring the extras up to about 30 per cent of the total.

Asia Minor Problem
The Government has thus emerged from the ordeal of Genoa with an enhanced prestige. But it still has to face difficult questions, and being a coalition Cabinet, is exposed to all the chances which menace combinations of different groups. One of the foreign problems confronting the Cabinet has to do with Asia Minor. The Italian troops have been withdrawn from the valley of the Meander, and thus, having previously evacuated Adalia, Italy has no more soldiers in Asia Minor. This withdrawal displeases the Nationalists, who see in it a further step in the policy of renunciation connected by them with Count Sforza.

All the Italian troops have also evacuated Albania since the recent return home of the battalion which garrisoned Scutari on behalf of the Allies. Thus Italy's only overseas commitments, outside her three African colonies, are the islet of Saseno in the bay of Valona, and the 13 Southern Sporades, which their Governor, Count Bodardi, has just described as "Our Islands," thereby provoking a Greek press campaign.

Besides these, Italy has received under the Treaty of Serris in full possession another Aegean island, that of Kastellorion. Those who are not Nationalists will probably approve as a wise policy the withdrawal of Italy from such a hornets' nest as Albania and the avoidance of any possible collision with the Greeks in the Aegean valley. Money in the present state of the Italian finances would be, according to these critics, better spent at home.

New Party Founded
Although the Fascisti and their rivals have respected the truce at Genoa, they have continued their conflicts in several other towns. The writer recently found the Communist Municipal Council of Tivoli shut up and besieged by Fascisti in the town hall. And Tivoli is only 18 miles from Rome. Still there has been a diminution in the number of these faction fights. There has been, however, an increase in the number of parties, for a new party with the label of "Democratic-Socialist" has just been founded.

It would surely have been wiser, in view of the powerfully organized Roman Catholic and Socialist parties, to have fused "all the democratic forces in a single party," as Signor Alessio, a shrewd old parliamentary Radical, proposed. For the lesson of the last two general elections was that, under the new electoral system only large, organized groups can fight successfully.

Instead of the Liberals, political power falls to the more closely united parties, numerically their inferiors in the country. The new group will have a decided tendency to the Left: it will be constructive rather than dogmatically Liberal, and aims at obtaining the peasants' votes now generally given to the Roman Catholics or the Socialists. The activity of the Roman Catholic party's "boes," Don Sturzo, during the Genoa Conference, showed how powerful that group is. For this Sicilian priest, who is not even a deputy, went to Genoa and held colloquies with the leading foreign delegates, as if he were a plenipotentiary.

King Greets Bolsheviki
Meanwhile, the Archbishop of Genoa sat at meat and exchanged signed "menus" with the Bolsheviki, and the Jesuits sent a relief mission to Russia. The Socialists likewise were active in seeing the Russian delegates, whereas the Liberal leaders remained outside the Conference.

Some old-fashioned senators would have wished the King to have imitated them, for his reception of the Bolsheviki there was criticized in Conservative circles. As he went thither he should receive all the delegates, whether Royalists or Bolsheviki; but there was no special reason why he should have gone. Only Royalty in these days usually thinks it polite to be polite to extreme parties, on the policy that the Conservatives will in any case be on the side of the Crown.

In Italy a democratic monarchy commends itself to the masses of the people, and a King who is "modern" is preferred. And no king works harder or leads a simpler life than Victor Emmanuel III.

GREATER DEMAND FORCES PRICES UP
The increased consumption of tea in 1921, during which year, by agreement, the tea growers of Ceylon and India had curtailed production, forced the price of tea steadily upwards to the present abnormally high level. The lowering of the duty in England will mean still greater demand, and authorities on tea tell us that still higher prices may be expected.

Gompers Calls Labor Board Wage Ruling Unjust
Says Men in Jail Get Far Better Food Than Does Laboring Man.

Washington, June 1.—The decision of the Railroad Labor Board in the case of the maintenance of way employees is a most unjust and inequitable proceeding, said Samuel Gompers today. "The minority decision, which says the new wage will not allow the father of a family to purchase as much food as is allowed an inmate of the Cork county jail, leaves little to be said in characterization of the action of the majority."

"No one will contend that it costs less to live now than in 1920. The fact is there has been almost an appreciable change in the cost of living so far as the average family is concerned. Prices of day to day requirements are about as high as ever. Some prices are higher than ever. Rent, the largest single item for every family, remains as high as ever, and in most cases higher."

The decision penalizes the workers and helps the railroads. It is another illustration of the unfairness of the Railroad Labor Board.

Bootleggers Using "Raised" Currency
Get Good Liquor Cheap in Canada by Clever Pen Work.

Montreal, June 1.—Some of the American bootleggers who buy their supplies in Canada are getting the "real stuff" at 1 per cent of its Canadian value by the use of "raised" bills, it was learned today.

Government agents said they had discovered existence of a number of "hundred dollar bills" raised to that denomination from humble "ones" by some of the cleverest penwork ever seen here. The originals used are notes of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Bootleggers, however, are not the only ones passing the spurious bills. Two members of the Italian steamship Piave, which docked here, were fined $1,500 by means of these bills. They handed over their French and Italian money to two well-dressed strangers who offered them an attractive rate and got twelve raised "ones" in exchange.

Americans Pay Treble Travelling Through Germany
U. S. Voyager Predicts Return Very Soon of the South American Trade.

New York, June 1.—Americans recently in Germany arrived yesterday by the White Star liner Celtic from Liverpool and Queenstown complained that they had been discriminated against by hotel keepers and merchants, who are charging in American dollars instead of German marks. They said prices were double and treble those charged to Germans. Some of the passengers told of instances where German officials had forced Dutch and American counterfeit notes and German paper marks on Americans.

John E. Rible, representative of the Ansonia Clock Company, said he learned while in Germany that Chile and Argentina had found out in recent months that German industry could not guarantee to deliver goods either at the time specified in contract or at the contract price. He predicts that within a few months the large volume of trade in manufactured goods in South America will swing to the American market.

Soviet Recognition By United States Is Vital, Says Borah

Senator Declares American Prosperity Rests Largely on Feeling in Europe.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Supporting his resolution that the Senate of the United States favor the recognition of Soviet Russia, Senator Borah issued a statement today declaring that the non-recognition of Russia insures economic chaos in Europe and threatens the peace of Europe.

He asserted that the prosperity of this nation depends to a great extent upon the purchasing power of Europe, and that Europe will not resume her purchasing power until she adjusts the Russian question.

"We will, of course, continue to live and do business in a hectic, unsatisfactory way under present conditions and policies," said Senator Borah. "But neither the business man, the manufacturer nor the farmer can enjoy anything like prosperity until Europe settles down and resumes her purchasing power."

"Our manufacturers cannot keep their plants going and thereby buy the farmers' products or employ labor unless they can find a market for much of their manufactured goods in Europe. And they cannot sell to Europe on any advantageous scale until Europe settles down and Europe cannot settle down until the Russian problem is settled. So long as the Russian problem is an unsettled proposition, Europe will remain armed, uneasy and unsettled and the whole world will suffer."

"The farmer must find a market, not only in the busy manufacturing centers, but even after he has supplied our own market, he must have a European market for his surplus. It is the market for his surplus which grades his prosperity. Our own markets, even in a healthy condition, do not take the farmers' products to sufficient extent to justify a reasonable price."

"The fact that Russia does not buy very heavily from us is a wholly immaterial matter. Europe does buy heavily from the United States under normal conditions. And Europe will not resume her purchasing power until she adjusts the Russian question. But the present policy of refusing to deal with Russia keeps the world in turmoil and threatens it with another war."

"Already Russia and Germany have made their treaty, and even without a treaty they are being driven together, thereby giving rise to justification for increase of armaments upon the part of France and other nations."

"The very fact that Russia was again recognized as a member of the family of nations would have the most pacifying and beneficial effect upon the whole of Europe and the entire world. Russia has offered to reduce her armaments upon a much larger scale than we reduced the navies at the Washington parity provided she can be assured that she is no longer to be treated as an outlaw nation. The policy of non-recognition of Russia insures economic chaos in Europe and threatens the peace of Europe."

DUNLOP

CORD TIRES FABRIC

Making "Mile-ionaires"

These are great days for the motor car user—in a tire sense. Your dollar never before bought as much. Your speedometer never before registered as much. Your repair kit never was so idle. All because Dunlop Cord Tires came and ushered in a new era. Five years ago you paid half as much again for the same size tire; ten years ago you paid twice as much. Prices have been tumbling. Quality has been mounting. One time we thought 3,500 was mileage to boast of; to-day we may run into half a dozen "25,000 Miles" in a forenoon. "Dunlop did it," says one enthusiast. The "Two Hands" are making us Mile-ionaires," says another, and so on.

The Sign "Mileage Wanted" is now changed to "Mileage Supplied"—use Dunlop Cords.

One of the most important social events of the early summer is the formal opening of the Riverside Golf and Country Club, which took place yesterday under ideal weather conditions, and during the afternoon and at the tea hour a large number of members and visitors gathered to enjoy a round of golf—also to admire from the spacious verandah of the club house, the beauty of the surrounding country. The tea table, which was centered with a large bowl of wild cherry blossoms, was presided over by Mrs. Walter E. Foster and Mrs. Hugh MacKay, who were the hostesses for the afternoon. Mixed foursomes were played by the members beginning at four o'clock and were continued throughout the early evening.

The following from the Montreal Star of May 25th, is of interest to friends in St. John: "At St. Stephens Church, Westdale Park, at six o'clock yesterday the marriage of Louise Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Wilson, Belmont Avenue, Westmount, to Mr. Guy Quinlan, Westmount, Iroquois Falls, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Q. Downing by St. John, New Brunswick. Maude and green will be the color scheme of the decorations in the church, which will be carried out with white hydrangeas, lilacs and darwin tulips and the church banked with palms and ferns. The Rev. Dr. Frank Charters will perform the ceremony and Mr. Wilson will give his daughter away. Miss Barbara Wilson, as maid of honor, and three bridesmaids, Miss Gladys Dowling of St. John, N. B., sister of the groom, Miss Ida Williamson and Miss Helen Schoemaker of Northtown. The bride will wear a gown of white Spanish lace with long panels of white kitten's ear crepe caught at the side with a trail of orange blossoms. The train of kitten's ear crepe lined with white georgette. Her veil of pleated tulle, will be arranged in Russian head-dress effect, edged in front with a band of pearls and edged in place at the back with a circle of orange blossoms, and she will carry a shower of white larkspur lily of the valley and sweetheart roses. The maid of honor will wear a dress of silver lace with bodice of apple green and the bridesmaids will be in apple green georgette. They will all wear hats of silver lace, with green and silver shot ribbon, and will carry bouquets of lilac and pink snapdragons, tied with mauve tulle. Mr. Alton Williamson is to be the best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Jerome Johnston, Mr. Frank Gillett, Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bride will wear a gown of corn colored lace, over satin of the same shade, and a black hat with jet and an ostrich plume. The dowry, mother of the groom, will be wearing in grey Canton crepe, with touches of mauve, a black hat with jet and feather trimmings. Miss Mary Wilson, aunt of the bride, is wearing brown headed georgette and a brown hat. A reception will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Belmont Avenue, Westmount, when the guests will include, only, relatives and a few intimate friends. Going away the bride wore a grey and navy blue crepe-knit dress, with navy blue cape, grey hat and grey shoes and stockings. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Downing will reside at Iroquois Falls, Ontario.

St. Andrew's Church, Germain street, was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms yesterday for the marriage of Miss Helen Isabel, youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. William Murdoch, to Mr. Phillip McAllister Simms, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. T. S. Simms of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. S. Downing and Mr. Gray Murdoch gave his sister away. The bride wore a costume of navy blue satin and a becoming French hat with a draped veil of lace, an ermine fur and carried a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss Marjorie Simms was the bridesmaid and wore a dress of pink georgette over satin—a large pink georgette hat with orchid touches, and carried a basket of apple blossoms. While the bridal party were signing the register Miss Frances Murdoch, a cousin of the bride, sang very beautifully, "O Perfect Love." Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Simms left on the Halifax Express on their wedding trip and on their return will reside at 85 Lancaster Avenue. Mrs. Murdoch, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black satin with touches of lace and a becoming black hat.

THIN BLOODED PEOPLE

Need a Tonic to Enrich the Blood and Restore the Health.

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded, just as others come an inherited tendency to rheumatism or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers, comes on so gradually that anyone with a natural disposition in that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Bloodlessness, or anaemia, as the medical term is, can be corrected more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale, and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going up stairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of troubles due to thin blood. With pure air and good food these blood-enriching pills are the correct treatment when the symptoms described above are noticed. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. M. Chase, of Trenton, Ont., who says: "I can highly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who suffer from anaemia and nervous exhaustion. For three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and until I began taking these pills no treatment seemed to do more than give me temporary relief. I had read of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were doing for others and finally decided to try them myself. I further decided to give them a fair trial and kept on taking them regularly for several months and I am glad to say have derived permanent relief. I feel that I can safely and honestly recommend this wonderful medicine."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50c a box or six boxes for $3.00 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Famous Horses Will Be Entered

Morvich and Snot II. Will Start in Kentucky Special at Latonia, June 24. Louisville, Ky., June 1.—Turfmen here today were discussing the announcement of Matt J. Winn, general manager of the Kentucky Jockey Club, that Morvich, Kentucky Derby winner, and Snot II, J. S. Coston's $98,900 colt would be on hand to battle for the $50,000 add-on money in the Kentucky special to be run at Latonia, June 24.

Manager Winn announced last night that he had received the entry of the Coston colt, winner of the Belmont Park Withers stake yesterday, and that later he had received a telegram from Morvich's owner entering Morvich.

In the opinion of turfmen here, the receipt of those entries practically ensures Kentucky the meeting of those great thoroughbreds three years old.

Maritime Y. M. C. A. Physical Directors

Matters of Importance at Conference—Banquet Enjoyed and Prizes Presented.

The conference of the physical directors of the Y.M.C.A. for the Maritime Provinces, which began its session yesterday morning, in the Y.M.C.A. building, closed last evening with a banquet in Bond's, at which the prizes, won in the various athletic activities during the winter, were presented, and addresses were delivered by officers of the association and others.

At the morning session, it was decided that the Dunlop road race would be held at Truro on October 13. Other matters discussed were the national swimming campaign, an athletic alliance between the A.A.U. of C. and the Y.M.C.A. Athletic League and G.S.E.T. athletics.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: William Bowie (St. John), president; A. B. Dawson, (Halifax), vice-president; and Fred Hardman, (Sydney), secretary.

About forty persons were present at the banquet which was tendered in Bond's last evening. After a sumptuous repast had been enjoyed, the prizes for the winter's athletic activities were presented, and an address was delivered by J. Howard Crocker on "Physical Education."

The following were awarded prizes for bowling: Highest averages, first, W. W. Covey; second, W. A. Young; T. Jenkins. High single scores, first, L. Ward; second, McMurray. High three string scores, first, L. Ward; second, Covey.

Frank White made the presentation of the banquet prizes to the following members of the Y.M.C.A. senior team: Roy Willet, Murray Nixon, G. Smith, H. Evans, L. Marsh, and J. H. H. H.

During the course of the evening J. Howard Crocker national physical director, in a brief address, gave a historical review of physical education, and explained that the object of the Y.M.C.A., in their educational programme, was to develop citizenship through the medium of athletics and healthful training.

After the banquet the conference adjourned to the Y.M.C.A. building where St. John challenged for the world, at volleyball, the visitors coming out winners in both games.

Some of the visiting delegates then enjoyed a frolic in the swimming pool, while others took advantage of the opportunities of enjoyment afforded on the bowling alleys.

On the whole, the conference of the delegates was a most successful one from all angles.

GAME THIS EVENING. This evening's game in the City Amateur League will be played on the Queen square diamond, West End. The Wolves and St. George's are scheduled to oppose each other there.

The Blue Bonnets Racing Season

Some High Class Horses Have Entered After Making Grand Showing at Other Meets.

Blue Bonnets racing will attract in Lord Granite, a son of Grand and Devonshire Dolly, St. Valentine, a son of Theo. Cook and Katrina, a son of Wrangle, a son of Seth and Medding Hannah, three promising juvenile developments of the spring season of the Metropolitan Jockey Club at Jamaica and the Maryland Jockey Club at Pimlico. Lord Granite will ship in the next week. He buckled his shins last Saturday in the running of the $7,000 Youthful stakes and is temporarily on the shelf.

St. Valentine, which belongs to J. Edwin Griffith, of Baltimore, and Wrangle, which is owned by Frank Farrar, will come on from Woodbine Park after the spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club.

It is improbable that three faster or more generally capable youngsters than these will be seen around Montreal through the spring and early summer. They are runners of old Granite, which began his career at Lexington in early May with a condition race at half a mile equaled the Jamaica track record of 33.3314, on May 12th, when he defeated High Chief, Homestretch, Vennie, and High Prince in a race of five furlongs for maidens of both sexes.

St. Valentine was beaten by Jolly in the first race in which he started in the first half dozen years. Baby Grand will race at Blue Bonnets at the same time Lord Granite does.

Preparations For Olympic Games

Paris, June 1.—The preparations for holding the 1924 Olympic games in the Colombes Stadium, which appeared to be progressing smoothly, struck another snag today when the French Olympic committee informed Premier Poincare that a subsidy of ten million francs was insufficient to organize the games, and that the committee might have to turn over the games to the International Olympic committee unless the subsidy was raised to fifteen million francs.

The notice to the premier was sent after the Olympic committee had been officially informed that the finance commission of the Chamber of Deputies had appropriated only ten million francs for the games, 4,000,000 of which would be advanced to the racing club of France in order to improve its stadium at Colombes and build a swimming pool, the amount to be repaid to the government by the club from gate receipts of the Olympic games. The other six million would be placed to the credit of the French Olympic Committee by the ministry of finance.

Thus the government would be disbursing only six million francs. The finance commission of the Chamber has invited sporting societies and private individuals or France to subscribe the other five million francs which the Olympic committee insists is necessary to organize the games. This is regarded as a discreet invitation by the finance commission to the city of Paris to supply the required amount.

George Fifield Won At Halifax

Toronto Fighter Received Judges' Decision Over Roy Chisholm—But Was Close.

Halifax, N. S., June 1.—George Fifield, of Toronto, received the judges' decision over Roy Chisholm, of Halifax, in a boxing bout at the arena to-night. The bout was close and FIFIELD, the champion, had a close call from being put away in the final round.

Although advertised as a four round go it was announced at the outset that the fight would only be three 3-minute rounds. In the first FIFIELD showing class drew blood from Chisholm's nose. In the second Chisholm landed some stiff punches, but FIFIELD was coming back strong at the end. In the third both fighters took and gave lots of punishment.

When the decision was announced the fans howled their disapproval. About 2,500 spectators were present.

Gillmore Won At Philadelphia

Defeated Durnan Six Lengths - Rooney Outclassed - Time 7 Minutes, 36 1-5 Seconds.

Philadelphia, June 1.—W. E. Garroll Gillmore, of the Bachelors' Barge Club, Philadelphia today qualified for competition in the race for the Philadelphia challenge cup, emblematic of the amateur single sculling championship of the world, by winning the preliminary event in which two other prominent scullers participated, John H. Durnan, of the Argonaut Rowing Club, Toronto, finished second, and Tom Rooney, of the Undine Boat Club, Philadelphia third. Gillmore's time for the mile and a quarter course was 7 minutes, 36 1-5 seconds and Durnan's, 7:51 3-5.

Rooney's time was not announced. The challenge race will be held Saturday over the same course. Other entrants, none of whom were required to compete in the qualifying event being Hilton Byles, St. John, N. B., Canadian title holder; Walter Hoover, Duluth, national champion and Paul V. Costello, of the Vesper Boat Club, Philadelphia. Jack Kelly, holder of the gold trophy which is valued at $2,000 will not defend his title.

Gillmore's victory today was won with comparative ease, six boat lengths separating him and Durnan, who beat Rooney, a former national champion by ten lengths.

At the start of the race Rooney took the lead by a quarter of a length, with Durnan second and Gillmore a few feet behind. In the first one hundred yards the Canadian passed Rooney and at the half mile post he had a lead of a length and a half with Gillmore a length in the rear.

Durnan held his lead until the three quarter mile post was reached when Gillmore started, shot between his opponents and went out in front.

From that point Gillmore was never in serious danger. A quarter of a mile from the finish Rooney was far in the rear and appeared to be hopelessly out of the contest. At this point Durnan tried gamely to overtake Gillmore but the Bachelor oarsman was not to be denied. He increased his lead with each stroke and finished strong.

WARSHIP BRINGS CHEER TO U.S. NOT TERROR AS IN 1914

British Vessel at Washington Blocked With Good Supply of Scotch. Story about a British warship's visit to Washington.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—The first British warship to venture up the Potomac since 1914 reached Washington today and docked at the navy yard. Instead of bringing terror and names she brought a considerable quantity of cheer.

As an explanation—a British warship is British property and even the American territorial waters habitually intrude by the high, representative Vintcent and Wayne B. Wheeler notwithstanding.

It was an unexpected group of navy officers and others that went aboard to visit and a satisfied group that departed. The supply of Scotch is sufficient, it appears, to last until June 15, when the vessel is to be replaced by the H. M. S. Raleigh, a light cruiser, commanded by Captain Bromley, and in the company of Admiral Sir William Pakenham, commander in chief of British naval forces in the north Atlantic and the West Indies.

Fairville Meeting Was Well Attended

Strong Arguments Advanced by J. D. Palmer, Dr. Barton and C. D. Richards for Opposition.

J. D. Palmer, provincial opposition leader, last evening at Fairville, paid his respects to the campaign of insurrection which the Telegraph has been conducting in its editorial columns concerning his connection with the Valley Railway Directorate, and challenged that journal if it "had any skeletons hid away in its closets, either as director or affecting him personally, to trot them out and let us have a look at them."

William Golding was in the chair and introduced as the first speaker Dr. J. H. Barton, the candidate of the local opposition party.

Dr. Barton expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present to hear the opposition speakers set forth their arguments for support in the coming election.

Referring to election activities of the Government he said they were unable to do anything last winter to assist in finding work for those out of employment but now they were able to start work on the South Bay bridge.

Board Of Trade Delegates Return

Delighted With Warm Welcome and Attention Received in Halifax—An Excellent Conference.

The two outstanding features of the visit to Halifax by the committee from the St. John Board of Trade, were to me, the warm welcome which we received, for we met not only the conference committee from the Halifax Board but Halifax itself, and the wonderful physical beauty of the city and the way they are handling community welfare matters over there.

Mr. Barbour said the delegation were surprised and delighted with the reception they received. They expected to meet a committee from the Halifax Board of Trade, but they were welcomed with open arms by the whole population of Halifax.

Mr. Barbour said, was a wonderful institution and the work they were doing was marvelous. They had eleven nurses operating from this centre, all doing preventative work, calling on about 1,900 families who were unable to pay for medical attention necessary. Since its inception the infant mortality rate in Halifax had been reduced by 40 per cent, from 120 per 1,000 to less than 80 per 1,000.

Later in the afternoon they called at Government House and had five o'clock tea with Governor Grant. Wednesday night Mayor Murphy called at the hotel and invited them to have a farewell dinner at the city before leaving for home and landed them at the depot in time for their train.

Speaking about the conference itself, Mr. Barbour said the St. John Board of Trade had been very successful in its cooperation with the Maritime Provinces, and a conference such as that just held ought to bring to both Halifax and St. John a larger interest than ever in things in which all three provinces were interested, and one of these was the Maritime Board of Trade, in the past neither of these cities had taken the degree of interest they should in that organization.

It was a remarkable fact that so far as he could see there was not a subject brought up on which the two committees divided. One of the items discussed was the establishment of a research bureau, either Maritime or Dominion, to examine into the natural resources of the provinces and bring home to the people the possibilities in our lumber, fishing, agricultural and manufacturing industries.

If the matter of freight rates the opinion was expressed that we of the Maritime Provinces must get the viewpoint of the central and western provinces and obtain what we considered our rights by union and friendship rather than by threats and force. It was also suggested that the representatives of the Maritime Provinces should form a solid bloc, which would on occasion forget politics and remember only the Maritime Provinces.

There was a good deal of unemployment there he said at the present time the mayor estimating that they had 1,500 unemployed to care for and a large programme of road work had been outlined to provide work for this class.

The report of the conference, he said, would be made public and would be presented to the Boards of Trade, and the committee suggested that any matters which were to be referred to the Provincial or Federal Governments would be taken up with these bodies by the members of the committee.

There will be two public meetings held next week in connection with the Canadian Public Health Congress, the object being to interest the public in matters relating to health. The first of these will be held on Tuesday evening in St. Vincent's Hall, Le-Bon, Quebec, and the second on Wednesday evening in the same hall, the speakers will be Hon. W. F. Roberts of St. John; Dr. Frankwood Williams of New York; and Dr. C. J. Hastings of Toronto. At the Thursday night meeting in the same hall, the speakers will be Dr. Amyot, deputy Minister of Health; Dr. Bernard L. Wyatt, Director of Health Service, Grand Mere, Quebec; and Dr. Chas. H. North, Director of the Bureau of Health, New York. The subjects to be discussed at these meetings should attract large audiences.

"Whither Are We Drifting". "Whither are we drifting" was Mr. Foster's plaintive wail when criticising the annual balance sheet for 1915 under the late Government's regime, which showed a surplus of $7,445.58. "Think it over," was his warning upon reading the balance sheet for 1916, also under the late Government, when the surplus was $12,077.29. What did these balance sheets show? In 1915 an income of $1,634,079.44—an expenditure of $1,626,633.86. 1916 " 1,580,419.36 " 1,568,342.07 That is the way Mr. Foster talked when in opposition. Now note what happened when he came into power—he had In 1917 an income of $1,572,813.75 and spent $2,166,905.23 1918 " 2,357,909.86 " 2,399,062.11 1919 " 1,282,419.77 " 2,595,937.21 1920 " 3,100,892.07 " 2,969,323.24 1921 " 2,892,905.00 " 3,432,512.38 Thus in five years Mr. Foster's Government received in revenue $12,106,940.45. They spent in that time $13,563,740.17, $1,456,799.72 more than they received. This is one of the ways the Province gets into debt. If Mr. Foster had any justification for asking "whither are we drifting," when the public accounts showed a surplus each year, how much more reason is there for asking it now, when he has gone behind $1,456,799 in five years? In the course of a speech made by Mr. Foster in the House in 1920, he promised that the Government would keep the current expenditures within the revenue. The way he kept this promise was to spend $539,607.38 more than the revenue the very next year. Where is it Going to End? In compelling the people to dip down into their pockets for another income tax, or by legalizing the sale of liquor to young men to get drunk on, Which? Electors: do what you can to stop this waste of public money, by electing Opposition Candidates. Come to their meetings, which are for this week: Today, Friday, at the Masonic Hall, St. Martins. Tomorrow, Saturday, at Chance Harbor and Dipper Harbor. Next Week's Meetings will be announced later.
