FIFTY MILLIONS FOR "DEFENCE"

This Is Identical With Preparations Made Prior to the War With Spain—President's Message To Be Delivered Today—American Press Is Solidly Behind Administration's Attitude in Refusing Any More Concessions to Huerta, and Promising Action.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, April 20.—A bill to appropriate $50,000,000 to be expended by the President was introduced by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military affairs committee, to which the bill was referred.

The Chamberlain bill provides: "That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby authorized to expend in his discretion for the national defence, and for each and every purpose connected therewith the sum of fifty million dollars out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sum shall remain available until expended."

This is identical to the bill passed before the war with Spain.

Mexico City, April 20.—The Mexican capital awaited with the most intense interest today the next word from Washington in reply to the refusal of President (provisional) Huerta to comply with the demand of the United States that the Stars and Stripes should be unconditionally saluted at Tampico.

All the morning papers published a lengthy statement by the Mexican Foreign Minister, Señor Portillo y Rojas, outlining the reasons for the position. Huerta had taken up.

This statement was followed by Provisional President Huerta's advice to Mexicans to refrain from demonstrations, with the view of not embarrassing possible future negotiations.

Many American residents have made preparations to stay in the Mexican capital whatever be the outcome of the present crisis, unless they are positively ordered to leave by the Mexican authorities. They express the belief that they will not be harmed in any emergency. Others are going to Vera Cruz, or are making preparations to leave should such a step become necessary or advisable.

No Hostility Shown.
News of the attack came as a complete surprise to the large majority of Mexicans, as the fact of the existence of a diplomatic controversy had been kept out of the newspapers. Everywhere today Mexican citizens eagerly read and earnestly discussed the statement from the Mexican Foreign Minister, published in the morning newspaper. They stood in groups on the streets or congregated in the cafes, but nowhere did they give any evidence of hostility towards America.

Gets No Encouragement.
Washington, D. C., April 20.—The only suspicion of a break in the silence between Washington and Mexico City came during the forenoon, when Charge Alcala carried a communication to Secretary Bryan. The charge said he considered it was somewhat different from the proposition which was refused last night, but Secretary Bryan declared it was the same as that forwarded by Charge O'Sullivan, and could not be accepted.

Mr. Alcala telegraphed to the Mexican foreign minister, Señor Portillo y Rojas, that Mr. Bryan had received his communication "with no encouragement."

Huerta's telegram to President Taft on February 18, 1913, was given out again at the White House today, and officials of the State Department are making a bearing on the present situation. It follows: "I have the honor to inform you that I have overthrown this government; the forces are with me, and from now on, peace and prosperity will reign. Your obedient servant, Victoriano Huerta, commander-in-chief."

A Refugee Ship.
Washington, April 20.—The navy department today chartered the Ward liner "Mexico," now in Mexican gulf waters, for a refugee ship at Tampico. The war department took options on several ships to be used as the transports.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 20.—This city continues very quiet in spite of the situation. Communication by launch with the American war vessels lying off the port was rendered difficult today by a stiff north wind.

STATEMENT BY MEXICAN FOREIGN AFFAIRS MINISTER

Tells Story of Events Leading to Present Trouble and Mexico's Refusal of United States Demands for Salute.

[Canadian Press.]
Mexico City, April 20.—Portillo y Rojas, minister of foreign affairs, in announcing that it would be impossible to agree to the demand of the United States that the flag of that country be unconditionally saluted, gave out the following statement:

"On the 9th of the present month, between 11 and noon, a boat without an American flag and with nine marines and one officer landed at a point, called the beach of Huertista in Tampico. Col. Raymond Hinojosa, who had charge of defending that point, detained the marines and officer and conducted them to the presence of the general who had command of the fort, Ignacio Morones Arangoza.

"It should be remembered that at this time the port not only was without military control, but was withstanding an attack by rebels.

"General Arangoza immediately and without even investigation of the case put the marines and the officers at liberty, placed Hinojosa in prison and sent an apology to Rear-Admiral Mayo, the commander of the American fleet.

Incident Not Closed.
"We thought the incident was closed, but unfortunately this was not so, because Mayo sent to him sometime afterward an ultimatum, wherein he asked that a second apology be presented to him by the staff of the chief of the fort, General Arangoza; that the American flag be hoisted at a public place in Tampico and saluted by twenty-one guns and, besides the severe punishment of Hinojosa, stipulated that all this be done within 24 hours.

"The term was later extended, when diplomatic pourparlers were begun between the Sub-Secretary of Foreign Affairs in Mexico, the minister being absent at that date, and continued until now.

To Show Good Will.
"The President of Mexico when informed of the case, ordered another investigation of the facts and the punishment of the guilty officer, if it were proved he was blameworthy. He also authorized the Minister of Foreign Affairs in Mexico, the minister being absent at that date, and continued until now.

"The American Government did not agree with that idea, but insisted upon Rear-Admiral Mayo's request, giving assurance that according to international precedent the salute would be returned by American ships after the salute to the American flag.

NO "WAR" WITH MEXICO

Washington, D. C., April 20.—"Don't get the impression that we are going to have war with Mexico," President Wilson today told the Washington correspondents. "Under no circumstances would we fight the Mexican people; we are their friends."

"I am going to Congress to tell of a special situation," said the President, "and to request approval for plans to meet that special situation. This is only an issue between this Government and the person calling himself the President of Mexico."

"We never have conceded his right to call himself the President of Mexico," continued President Wilson. "In no circumstances would we fight the people of that country; we want to help them in every way we can. I got a feeling of uneasiness today when I read the papers and found them fired with an enthusiasm for war."

"I have no enthusiasm for war," said the President. "I want justice. This may not eventuate war, if Huerta takes the wise course."

When the President was asked if he considered the plans for seizure of Tampico and Vera Cruz an act of war, he replied: "Certainly not," and referred to the Greyhound precedent in which that town was destroyed as an act of reprisal by British warships.

Still Chance of Peace.
"Events of the day, the President indicated, such as a final acceptance from Huerta, might alter his plans, and he added that even the course of action by the navy was dependent upon circumstances from hour to hour there.

When the President was asked the direct question if the purpose of his action was to secure the elimination of Huerta, he replied that the Tampico incident did not involve that question. He replied that the United States merely wanted full recognition of its dignity and such a recognition as would constitute a guarantee that such incidents as the one at Tampico would not occur again.

Has Message Ready.

The President announced that he had his message ready, that it was about a thousand words long, and would take about ten minutes to read. He declined to give out copies of it in advance, as has been the custom, saying he wanted to keep it under advisement to the last minute.

He arranged, however, to have copies given out at the capital simultaneously with his delivery.

The President revealed that foreign diplomats at Mexico City had been using their good offices with Huerta in an effort to induce him to accede, but that no representations had been made to the United States Government in any way by other nations.

C.P.R. to Use M.C.R. Tunnel to Handle Freight at Windsor

New Theory of Sequel to Many Conferences Between Officials of Both Roads.

The presence of C. P. R. officials at the Windsor and Detroit keels for the rumors about that the C. P. R. is due to some extent to a union with the Michigan Central.

The conjecture was made this morning, when it was learned that Messrs. McNichol, Price and Leonard had been in Windsor Friday and Saturday, to use the latter's tunnel to enter into an arrangement with the M. C. R. to use the latter's tunnel at Windsor and that the C. P. R. has its freight difficulties in the Windsor yards. The per diem charges are said to mount up enormously at times, owing to congestion there. Heavy rain in the river always interferes with the movement of freight by ferry.

LIBERALS TO MOVE FREE WHEAT, FOOD AND IMPLEMENTS

Amendments to Budget—Main Estimates Yet to Come Before House—What About Farmers Bank Depositors? [Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 20.—Free food, free agricultural implements and free wheat will be the basis of the amendments to the budget which the Liberals will move this week.

It is expected that the debate will conclude Tuesday or Wednesday, and that the remaining business of the session will then be taken up. The supplementary estimates will be brought down, and the main estimates for public works and militia brought before the House for passage. It is said, because of the heavy criticism they are likely to get. The committee on redistribution is endeavoring to get together again and adjust differences. The chief difficulty is over the ridings in Quebec, where Hon. L. P. Pelletier is said to be seeking all the political advantage possible through a general recasting of constituencies.

There has been nothing yet heard of the promised bill to aid the depositors of the Farmers Bank, and the bill to aid Mackenzie & Mann in completing their financing is still in the stage of preparation. Prorogation early in June is now looked for.

VOTES OF THE PEOPLE.

To the Editor of the Advertiser: Will you answer to decide an argument, whether there was any vote of the people on the annexation scheme, and on the court house repairs?

HILL STREET.

Ans.—There were no votes of the people on either of these questions.

War May Mean a General Strike Among Miners

Haywood Declares This at Workers' Defence League Meeting.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, April 20.—War between the United States and Mexico was denounced in resolutions adopted at a meeting of the Industrial Workers' Defence League, addressed by William E. Haywood and Alexander Berkman.

Haywood declared that the signal for war given by President Wilson would mean a general strike in the country's coal mines, as this strike has already been authorized should war be declared.

SAYS ADAM BECK MAY LEAVE GOVT.

Toronto Star Says He Left Important Task to Hon. Mr. Hendrie.

The Toronto Star of Saturday says: "The absence of the Hon. Adam Beck, Minister of Power, from the Legislature last night has led to a great deal of conjecture, and rumors are afloat that there has been still further friction between the members of the Progressive Conservative Government and the Hon. Mr. Beck went to London by the afternoon train yesterday and left the Hon. Mr. Hendrie to present the estimates and make the explanations in the House, which has been usually done by the Minister of Power."

Further, it is said that it is almost certain the reduction of rates in Toronto will be ordered by the Provincial Commission, because the reason ascribed is that Mr. Beck has set his heart upon that reduction and is determined to carry it out at any expense, and it is said that if his request is not acceded to that he is prepared to drop out of the commission, and perhaps the Government, thus creating additional embarrassment to the present Administration.

As there is every indication of a general election taking indication of a near future, it is claimed that what Mr. Beck says he wants, will be granted because the Government desire to gain whatever glory it can derive from having Mr. Beck within its ranks."

CITIZENS CLEANING UP

Many Are at Work of Tidying Up Yards and Laneways.

The opening day of the clean-up week campaign might have been brighter and more favorable from the weather standpoint, but notwithstanding the board of health and the garbage collection departments report a good beginning on the part of the citizens.

As a matter of fact, Dr. Hutchinson stated that many citizens got to work as soon as the campaign was announced and had completed cleaning up their yards and lanes on Saturday.

The campaign will continue all week.

Indian Relics Discovered in North London

INDIAN CEMETERY IN THE NORTH END

Bones of Three Aborigines Taken With Relics From "Happy Hunting Ground" In Valley of the Thames.

Three skeletons, lying side by side, wrapped in decayed blankets and surrounded by Indian relics, were found by five young men Sunday afternoon on the bank of the north branch of the river in what is known as "The Valley," at the end of Colborne street.

The skeletons were buried only about eight inches deep, close to the cliff, which drops straight down to the water's edge. On Saturday, John Gowdy, 336 Regent street, saw a skull partly buried in the shale. He took it home, and on Sunday he and four others took a spade to the spot and unearthed the three skeletons. The bones are dry and decayed, and each skeleton was wrapped in what was a blanket.

Shreds of the material, still clinging to the bones. One of the wrappings is black, and looks like a shawl, while another is coarse, thick and greenish in color. These are much conjectured amongst the residents of the district, as to whom the skeletons represent. Two of the skulls are undoubtedly those of Indians, but the other is larger, better developed, with a straighter jaw and higher forehead; yet he was buried in Indian fashion. On his chest was a copper kettle, about six inches deep and eight inches in diameter, with a metal handle. It was filled with earth, and at the bottom was a wooden board, carved with a design, but rotted. On top of the kettle was a pipe-stem, evidently made of horn, naturally hollow, and with a small hole at the tapered end.

String of Fine Beads.
A string of minute beads was around the neck. It dropped to pieces when touched. The beads are white and hard, but no larger than duck-shot. A handful was also found at the back of one of the other skulls. A metal axe head, rusted and scaled, was resting on the body. The handle was not found. It is thought that the man, probably a settler, was killed by Indians, and the spot is an old battle ground. The body was lying in a natural position, however, with one arm under the head. The three skeletons were close together, the heads pointing west.

The finding of the three skeletons which has always been connected with the "Valley," on a summer day it is a beautiful panorama of far-stretching scenery, but at night several people say they have seen mysterious lights, and heard strange noises. It has for years been the favorite haunt of the youngsters of the neighborhood. Crowds of people have visited the spot where the skeletons were unearthed, and it is likely that more will be brought to light.

10-YEAR GUARANTEE MAJOR BEATTIE TO FOR PAVEMENTS RETIRE FROM HOUSE

Controllers Award Asphalt Contracts on This Basis. $26,330 FOR GOOD ROADS

Overhauling for East End Sanitary Sewers at Cost of $40,000.

Letting contracts for pavements, supplies, sewers, etc., occupied the attention of the board of control this morning.

Foley & Gleason, an Ottawa contracting firm, was given the contract for asphalt and vitrified brick pavements totalling $26,330. The successful firm's tender on the asphaltic concrete was $2.28 per yard, which was approximately 20 cents higher than the figure submitted by the Warren Paving Company, of Toronto. The Ottawa firm, however, gave a ten-year guarantee on its work, whereas the Toronto company was prepared to guarantee its work for only five years. In five blocks of the pavement, the difference in cost will amount to $1,600.

Messrs. Foley & Gleason were the only ones tendering for the vitrified brick pavement. Their price on the two blocks of brick pavement to be constructed ranged from $2.65 to $2.68, the total brick contract being estimated at $7,265. The asphaltic concrete contract represents an estimated expenditure of $19,065.

Asphalt a Bidder.
The city engineer's department was awarded the contract for the sanitary sewer constructions on Ridout and Simcoe streets, the figures being $995 and $568.90, respectively. The engineer's bid on the Inglese sewer was $19 lower than the next tender, the Fielder Construction Company, but the company which submitted a figure of $898.35 was given the contract, the understanding being that the other two jobs would be about all the civic department could handle this season. C. Leathorne got the contract for the Wortley road sewer on a tender of $1,085.

STUDENTS BECOME VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

Thirty of Them Work Forty-Five Minutes to Check Grass Blaze.

About thirty students of the Western University and the exciting experience of fighting a miniature prairie fire on Saturday afternoon.

Some boys had started a small fire on the river bank to the west of the university, which spread rapidly up the hill and over the campus. At one time the fire looked as if it might prove dangerous. The boys were equal to the occasion and after 45 minutes of exciting and warm work managed to put it out.

SAYS UNIVERSITY MUST BE GIVEN $10,000 GRANT

T. J. Murphy Cannot Understand Why No Provision Has Been Made.

FAIR TO BE CUT OFF

No Funds for Current Revenue From City Will Be a Serious Matter.

"The Western University should, and I think will receive the same amount that was given to it last year," said T. J. Murphy this afternoon when asked what he thought of the action of the controllers in making no provision for a grant this year.

"I intend to see the mayor this afternoon," he went on, "I think there must be some mistake about it. We do not think it would be the right thing to ask us to take the $5,000 we did not use last year. We expect to receive $10,000 this year, and I do not think we will get it."

"Can you understand why it was not put through without question or equivocation?" was asked.

"No," he said. "I think there must be some mistake. The university needs this assistance."

The situation now as to the Western University and the Western Fair is somewhat changed.

Since the article in The Advertiser of Saturday, pointing out that not one cent of this year's revenue was to be given to either the university or the exhibition, some of those responsible are endeavoring to prove an alibi.

It is said now that the proposal is to give the university a grant of $5,000, half of that voted last year. The fair will receive only the balance of the insurance money, $2,800.

The fact that neither of these institutions received one cent when the estimates came up is proof of the contention that it was not intended to give either any of this year's revenue.

One of the members of the board of control said that the Western University was to have the remainder of the grant of $10,000 given last year, and that possibly the sum of $5,000 would be added.

A Fair Came Along.

"They didn't use what they were given last year," he said.

"Not because they did not intend to use it, but because they had not started work on improvements," he was informed.

"Everyone connected with the university expected that the city would make an annual grant of $10,000. After all the talk that has been made about the university, I should look for the city to do its duty to reduce its grant. The Government has granted $10,000 this year, and with an equal grant from the city a start could have been made. But the reducing of the grant would be a serious blow. It is most unfair and not in accord with the wishes of citizens, who wish to help the university because it will bring more people to London."

Fair Needs Grant.
There is not much hope of the Western Fair receiving any grant. It will have to be content with the balance of the insurance money left after the sheds that replaced the burned buildings were constructed. A meeting of the fair grounds and buildings committee has been called to consider the matter. The members are not allowed by law to raise the $2,800 left over for other than building purposes. The grant made by the city last year of $5,000 was used for current expense. This year, unless the exhibition board is able to demand the grant and secure it, the $2,800 will receive nothing from the city. It will be quite a serious matter, according to the officers.

L. & P. S. FIGURES GIVE ENGINEER MANY SURPRISES

Freight Returns Prove Baffling to Hydro Expert Sent Here to Investigate.

BIG VOLUME OF COAL

Investigator Finds It Represents 85 Per Cent of Receipts.

Engineer Stewart, an official of the Ontario Hydro Commission, has been in the city for some time going over the figures representing the business done on the London and Port Stanley Railroad for a number of years past.

It is said that Mr. Stewart was given some surprises when he discovered how little freight, comparatively, was carried on the road, exclusive of coal. It was shown that at least 85 per cent of the freight was coal, and that when the coal ferries stopped running the receipts of the Pere Marquette dropped about $40,000 a month. Almost all of this coal is routed to the Grand Trunk Railway.

NO INSTRUCTIONS WERE GIVEN REGARDING LICENSE RENEWALS

Centre Huron Commissioners Should Have Submitted Applications to Provincial Secretary.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 19.—All is not yet over in the license situation in Centre Huron. Inquiries by The Advertiser of the officers of the license branch of the provincial secretary's department today showed that although no instructions had been issued by the minister with regard to the renewal of the licenses for Huron County the officials were cognizant of the statements made by Hon. W. J. Hanna in the House, and having regard to those statements, would, as a matter of course, submit the applications for renewal to him when they are received.

When this is done Mr. Hanna will be able to exercise his power of veto under the liquor license act and not until then. When that is done the local commissioners are relieved of all authority in the matter and the only alternative they will then have is to authorize a three months' extension of the old license, that is for May, June and July, in order that the hotelkeepers may dispose of their stock. This course is usually adopted in local option cases.

LEAGUE DISBANDED AFTER 24 YEARS

Hensall Is Planning to Build a New Town Hall.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Hensall, April 18.—The Craig family, who recently arrived here from Moose Jaw, are making preparations to visit Ireland. Mrs. Craig, though 80 years of age, is the most enthusiastic of the party. The Epworth League of the Methodist Church, which has been in existence for 24 years, disbanded on Monday night. The minstrel company connected with the band went to Staffa last night, and put on a very enjoyable entertainment. The audience was estimated at 250.

House cleaning, onion sowing and gardening are now in full swing. John McEwen and John E. McDonnell, executors of the estate of the late George McEwen, have completed their laborious task of settling up the business, and the former left this week for Minneapolis, and the latter for St. Marys. Our council has given a bylaw a first and second reading for the purpose of raising $5,000 for the purpose of erecting a new town hall on the property recently bequeathed to the corporation by George McEwen. A vote of the ratepayers will be taken on May 16. A neat and commodious hall will fill a long-felt want. Three members of the council, Reeve Dr. Nicol, A. Smith, and H. Reynolds, architect, are visiting Ailsa Craig today to inspect the fine new hall erected there a couple of years ago.

Protested Against Licenses

This is the Centre Huron temperance deputation which appeared before the license commissioners' board of Centre Huron in Goderich on Friday to urge that the vote in favor of the C. T. A. be respected and no licenses granted. They are: Top row—J. H. Colborne, Jas. Beattie and Rev. J. Greene. Bottom row—J. A. Irwin, R. A. Pryne and A. T. Cooper.

Three Sisters Cured of Weak, Watery Blood

A Splendid Example of the Great Blood-Forming Qualities of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is in the red corpuscles of the blood that the nutritive qualities lie. If on analyzing the blood it is found to be deficient in red corpuscles the doctor will say you are anemic, that your blood is weak and watery. But you can find out for yourself, for when the blood is weak you will be pale and your eyelids and lips will be bloodless in appearance.

Other symptoms of watery blood are indigestion, headache, feelings of weakness and fatigue and lack of energy and ambition.

There is nothing like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to overcome this run-down condition. Here is a letter to tell you what this food-cure did in one family by curing three daughters. Miss Emily Bancroft, Longwood, Ont., writes: "A year or so ago I was very much run down in health. The blood seemed to be weak and the nerves very much exhausted. Having heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and of its success in curing cases similar to mine, I began to use it, and was very greatly benefited by continuation of this treatment. Two of my sisters also used this medicine, and found it to be a splendid means of building up the system.

We have also used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with good results. One of my brothers had pneumonia twice, and we always use this medicine for him, as we find that it breaks up a cold the quickest and best of any medicine we can get."

NO TRACE YET OF MALCOLM JOHNSON

Missing Merchant May Have Come to London—Traced to Talbotville.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Thomas, April 20.—Up to 2:30 this morning the most vigilant search has failed to reveal the whereabouts of Malcolm P. Johnson, of the firm of Johnson & McCormick, who has been missing from his boarding house since last Tuesday afternoon.

It is not unlikely that Mr. Johnson is in London, as he has been traced to Talbotville, and it is thought he may possibly have boarded a car for London. On the other hand, he is just as likely to have gone to Port Stanley or to have continued to ramble out into the country. While at Talbotville he asked for work at two places and also for something to eat. On being given something at one home, he immediately went to the house next door and also asked for food. He acted queerly in other ways also. Mr. Johnson's friends believe that he has suffered a temporary lapse of memory from the effects of a fall he sustained last October. He was unconscious for 32 hours after falling down cellar and has repeatedly complained of pains in the head. During the past two weeks his head bothered him a great deal.

Dr. Bruce, of Toronto, who attended him, stated to friends over long distance telephone that he was sure Mr. Johnson had simply lost his memory temporarily and would turn up all right. When last seen he was dressed in a dark brown coat and vest with gray trousers with a black stripe. He had a heavy gold watch and chain and a locket. He has a scar on the right temple, a very wrinkled face and coarse, large hands. Mr. Johnson is about 5 feet 10 inches tall, very heavy built, and although only about 42 years old looks older. He has light hair and gray eyes. He did not have an overcoat when he left his boarding house.

DIED IN HIS FATHER'S ARMS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, April 19.—The 5-year-old son of James Weir, of Glenallan, fell over while playing in front of his home this afternoon and a few minutes later died in his father's arms. Mr. Weir and the little fellow had just returned from a walk and the boy went out to play. Suddenly Mr. Weir saw him fall and at once rushed to pick him up. He noticed he was breathing heavily and before a doctor could be secured the child died. Heart failure was the cause.

John Kelly received a telegram today from Swift Current stating that his brother Peter had died after an illness of only a couple of days with scarlet fever. With his parents young Kelly, who was 20 years old, went West last fall. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Kelly, he leaves four brothers and one sister. All are in the West except John, of Wingham.

WILL LEAVE HARRISTON

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Harriston, April 19.—At the close of his discourse this morning Rev. W. M. MacKay of Knox Church intimated to his congregation that he intended asking the Presbytery to release him from his present pastorate in order that he might further equip himself by rest and academic work for the work of the ministry. Mr. MacKay has completed six years of a most successful pastorate in Knox Church and leaves the congregation in a united and prosperous condition.

DRUNKEN MAN HACKED TWO BOYS TO PIECES

Newcastle, N. B., April 19.—A double murder and suicide occurred at Porterville, nine miles from here Saturday night. Park Sobey, a man of 23 years, had been in Newcastle drinking and rode home with Alfred Mullin. While Mullin was stabling his team, Sobey seized an axe and hacked to pieces two little Mullin's, aged 7 and 5 years. He then threatened Mrs. Mullin and two smaller children with a rifle. Mrs. Mullin begged for life, and the maniac, returning to the barn, struck at Mullin, who, although wounded in the shoulder, grappled with his assailant until he fell unconscious. Sobey was later found in his cabin dead, with a bullet wound through his head.

GET POWER FROM LONDON

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, April 19.—One of the big transformers at the hydro power house burned out today and Woodstock will have to rely on London for a supply of juice for a few days at least. London is supplying the city with thirteen thousand voltage and will continue to do so until the transformer is repaired. The consumers here have suffered no inconvenience over the incident.

Mr. Martin saved his horse, but lost nearly everything stored in the buildings. The fire is supposed to have been started from a smoldering bonfire.

TO REORGANIZE C. N. R. WITH GOVERNMENT HOLDING CONTROL

New Plan Being Worked Out by Solicitor-General at Ottawa
—Subsidiary Corporations To Be Pooled.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 19.—There is a new development of the plan to give aid to Mackenzie & Mann. It is understood that Finance Minister White has been put to one side and that the details for a deal on a new basis have been entrusted to the solicitor-general, Hon. Arthur Meighan.

The Government is determined to give aid to the Canadian Northern magnates, but wants to do so without alienating the support of R. B. Bennett and a large number of Ontario Conservative members who have been hostile up to the present time. It is now proposed to give the bill and disguise its contents, as far as possible.

To this end it is understood that pressure is being put upon subsidiary corporations of the Canadian Northern Railway pooled. These include terminal, right-of-way, steamship, mining, lumbering, and a multitude of other companies, including that which has handled the town site business of the Mackenzie & Mann Company. The new plan is to have these merged in "Canadian Northern Railway Company of Canada." The merger will absorb the Canadian Northern Railway, the Canadian Northern Pacific and all the other Canadian Northerns. If possible it will be made to appear that neither Sir William Mackenzie, Sir Donald Mann nor Z. Lash have any part in the direction of the new holding corporation for the amalgamation.

In return and as a security for the large measure of aid which it is now proposed to give 40 per cent of the stock of the Canadian Northern Railway Company of Canada will be assigned to the Government of Canada. In addition 15 per cent of the stock will be placed in the hands of trustees to be held as security for the fulfillment of conditions to be agreed upon. Should Mackenzie & Mann fail in making good these obligations this 15 per cent of the stock issue will be turned over to the Government, thus giving the control of the system to it and making the Government road. It is proposed that on the board of directors of the new company the Government shall be represented by one or more directors to be named by itself.

The plan likely will be disclosed to the House of Commons this week or next. It will be subject to careful scrutiny and is bound to receive criticism. However the Government is determined to give aid to Mackenzie & Mann and it is said to have determined to call upon its followers in the House to vote this plan through.

It is not certain now that the aid will be limited to guarantee of bonds, but that there may be a loan of cash direct or possibly the payment of money for the 40 per cent of stock which the Government is to receive.

REACH PEACE RIVER COUNTRY BY RAIL SOON

[Canadian Press.]
Winnipeg, April 19.—In the course of an interview, J. D. McArthur, the railway contractor, stated that steel had been laid from Edmonton to Lesser Slave Lake, a distance of 170 miles and that the valley of the Peace River country would be reached this summer.

Mr. McArthur gave out for the first time details of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway that is opening this last great west, an inland empire thousands of square miles in extent. He also announced that work would commence this spring on the Great Waterways Railway to Fort McMurray, northeast of Edmonton, a distance of 350 miles. The line to Dunvegan and British Columbia will extend 400 miles to the very heart of the Peace River district, where the settlers are reported to be pouring in.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF PARNELL EMPLOYEES

Thirty-Third Anniversary of Firm Celebrated in Happy Manner.

Joy was unconfined at the annual banquet of the employees of the Parnell Baking Company, held in the banquet hall of the Chivas Restaurant Saturday night. It was the thirty-third anniversary of the formation of the company in this city and was the occasion of the return to this city from Winnipeg of the president of the company, Ex-Ald. E. Parnell.

About 45 employees of the company sat down to an excellent repast at 8.30 o'clock in the evening. After the dinner the president, who acted as chairman, made a brief speech to the men, in which he complimented them on their excellent work, which he contended was the main factor in making the Parnell Company's output the largest and best in Western Ontario. "Sanitary bread and sanitary delivery has done much to build up the immense business of the Parnell Company," said the president. "Of course, we have had the co-operation of every employee and without that co-operation we would not have the business that we have today. Employees and employer should have the one object in view, that is to give the best service possible to the public. Today we ship to 120 points outside the city of London. That shipment amounts to a carload of express every day. The conditions that prevail in the city are so different today that there is absolutely no comparison. Fifteen years ago nearly everyone baked their own bread. That was on account of the insanitary conditions that surrounded the production of bread; but today between 55 and 52 per cent of the bread consumed by the people is made in bread factories. In our three factories in London, Winnipeg and Toronto we employ 450 men and bake over 20,000,000 loaves of bread a year. In London we used 300 barrels of flour last week and turned out nearly 15,000 loaves of bread on Saturday."

Mr. Parnell then touched upon the bread laws of the province and characterized them as being arbitrary and unfair, but he urged his employees to endeavor to give the people honest and fair weight. He pointed out the handling and delivery of bread would help to make Parnell's loaf even more popular, and closed by urging the men to be always courteous and obliging to their customers.

Frederick Parnell, manager of the company, in a brief speech outlined the policy of the company and told the men how they could make successful bread salesmen. "In the past we have the finest lot of emmentin, the men all try to co-operate with the firm in giving satisfaction to the public and I want you all to know that the firm knows this, appreciates it and intends to recognize it in some tangible way." He had set a slogan of 75,000 loaves a week for the last of the year and felt sure that he would see the consummation of it.

John Wilson, an employee of the firm for over 25 years; Thomas May and a number of the employees made short speeches and promised to do all in their power to push Parnell's bread. Among those present were:

E. Parnell, president of the company; F. Parnell, manager of the London branch; J. Deane, W. Jones, T. Poulton, C. W. Kennedy, W. Leclair, W. Burgess, W. W. Lawrence, W. Norris, W. J. Marsh, M. P. Hunt, R. Stevens, E. H. McLean, W. Bennett, T. Kingston, J. Eggert, E. Hayter, A. Russell, F. Kitchingman, H. B. Spaul, Thomas G. May, John Wilson and A. Jarvis.

NEW CULTURIST PRESIDENT

Andrew R. Macdonald Elected to Succeed Dr. Barklie.

"The Poetic Renaissance of the twentieth century" was the subject of an interesting and comprehensive address delivered by Andrew R. Macdonald, M.A., before the London Cultivist Society in St. George's Hall yesterday afternoon. Mr. Macdonald dealt with the work of the poets of the Georgian period, whom he characterized as the "vaudeville school of poetry." The works of Massfield, Alfred Noyes and William Wilfred Gibson were discussed.

At the meeting, Mr. Macdonald was elected president of the Cultivist Society to succeed Dr. R. C. Barklie, who resigned. At the next meeting, Sunday, May 3, John A. Cottam will speak on "The Woman Movement."

CANADIAN TROOPS TO WEAR KHAKI IN CAMP

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, April 18.—The Canadian troops will go into camp in khaki uniforms this year. This marks the passing away of the various uniforms which used to mark the annual training camps. In the past it was here a red coat, there an artilleryman in blue with red stripes, the cavalry in dark blue with white or yellow stripes, and so on.

IS ORANGE CHAIRMAN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Lucan, April 19.—T. H. Coursey, well-known drover of Lucan, has a novelty in the shape of a team of oxen which he brought down from a lumber camp at Sundridge, near North Bay. The appearance of the team on the street caused quite a sensation in the village. Old-timers say it is forty years since there were oxen in the district. There are four men here who were one-time ox-drivers, and they demanded to be photographed with the outfit. An argument ensued regarding their drawing up last week and "enaked" three great sawlogs into the sawmill as an exhibit. Each log would contain about 200 feet of lumber, and those who witnessed the demonstration were of the opinion that there was not a team of horses in the neighborhood that could have given such a performance. To Buck and Lamb, however, it did not seem to be an extreme task. The team are just "coming 6 years

KING'S VISIT TO PARIS THE MAIN PRESS TOPIC

Unionist Papers Quiet On the "Ulster Plot"—Government
Ignores Allegations.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, April 20.—The newspapers are filled up with the program of the King's visit to Paris and editorials based thereon. Says a London cable to the Daily Mail, "The 'Ulster plot' incident is consequently crowded out of the limelight, although the Daily Express declares that the declarations have 'sent shudders of horror through the country.'"

It is notable that the leading Unionist journals, following a suggestion made by the Weekly Spectator, sing small on this matter, displaying as the Daily News says, "A curious stillness in regard to these sensational revelations." One of the most remarkable points about these revelations is that J. L. Garvin, the chief leader of the Ulsterster supporters in the press, did not even make mention of them in the Sunday Observer.

Ministers in Downing street decline to issue any repudiation, preferring to ignore the allegations altogether. The Unionists, however, propose to press the matter in the House of Commons where the demand for a judicial inquiry would be repeated on three subsequent days, but it is generally anticipated that the Government will persist in refusing an inquiry.

John Ward, the labor M. P., who issued a proclamation during the debates in the Commons upon the army budget, has tabled a "retaliatory" question drawing attention to the promotion of Lord Shaftesbury in the Ulster volunteer organization, and asking what are the Government's intentions regarding the appointment of Lord Shaftesbury as an official of the dog.

APPREHENSION FELT FOR EMPEROR'S HEALTH

Austria's Ruler, Suffering From Catarrh, Has Fairly Good Night.

[Canadian Press.]

Vienna, Austria, April 20.—"The Emperor Francis Joseph passed a fairly comfortable night. His health otherwise is not satisfactory." This was the official bulletin issued at the Palace of Schoenbrunn today. It was also stated that his majesty rose at his usual hour and transacted official business.

The guarded language of the official bulletin caused apprehension in Vienna that the Emperor's condition was graver than was admitted by his physicians. He was expressed in court circles that unless the catarrh from which he is suffering diminishes within a short time, serious complications may develop. Archduchess Marie Valerie, the Emperor's daughter, arrived at Schoenbrunn today from Wallsee.

BAD BLOOD IS THE DIRECT CAUSE OF Pimples.

Pimples break out on the face and body, and it is impossible to get rid of them, unless you cleanse the blood of all of its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt, the very best medicine for this purpose.

This old, and reliable medicine has been in use for nearly forty years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other preparation for removing all the impurities from the blood and banishing the pimples.

Mr. Edward Paquette, Navan Centre, Ont., writes:—"One month ago my face was covered with pimples and a rash. I had tried a number of these so called blood purifiers with no avail. Seeing an almanac of yours in which you strongly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to try a bottle, and after I had taken it I could see a decided change, and after using three bottles more all the pimples had completely disappeared."

THE TURNBURY HOLE ONCE AGAIN OPENS UP

Township Council Will Take It Up With Government—$2,000 Already

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, April 17.—For a length of sixty feet the large hole in the roadway in Turnbury Township, which was filled in last fall, has opened up again, and some twenty feet of water has appeared in it. The township council has ordered the road closed until the matter is taken up with the Government. Two thousand dollars was expended last fall in filling up the hole, and members of the council have decided that it is unwise to attempt to fill up the depression again. The road runs through a swamp, and it is doubtful if a suitable roadbed could be found through it.

As a result Turnbury Township farmers en route to market at Wingham have to drive 1 1/2 miles out of their way. Rural Mail Carrier Tyndall feels the hardship most of all, as in the week he has to drive some fourteen miles out of his way.

AN INTELLIGENT DOG

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, April 20.—Attracted by the strange actions of a little terrier, Mrs. Johnson Fitton followed it to the bank of the St. Lawrence at Lachine, where it jumped into the water. Mrs. Fitton's husband is missing, and from the actions of the animal, who was his constant companion, and left the house with him yesterday morning, and the evidence of several people who think they saw a man and dog struggling in the water, it is believed that Fitton was drowned after the terrier had made an attempt to save him.

The Dress Store

In DRESSES there is more variety of style, there are so many different ways of trimming, there is so much in their fit and comfort, so much to their suitability for wearing at the places and times for which they are intended—that many women feel that, even if they can buy ready-to-wear suits and coats, DRESSES they must make, or have made, specially for them.

To such women Raphael Dresses will prove a revelation. They are "Store Dresses" without the "store look." They cost less than you could duplicate them for, and they have the very look of individuality which you seek in having a Dress made for you.

If Tea and Coffee Don't Agree

Much of today's nervousness, indigestion, languor, kidney and liver trouble, come from indiscretions in eating and drinking, so commonplace that they are seldom considered till Nature pulls one up with a sharp jerk.

More often than is suspected, tea or coffee drinking is the cause of these troubles.

A simple, easy way to discover the real cause and relieve one's self of a lot of discomfort is to quit both tea and coffee for ten days and try homely virtues. Should we stop hammering war because we lack originality?

 The late McKee Rankin, one of the old school of actors who died the other day, was well known to many Londoners when he was touring. He was a warm personal friend of the late Archie Bremner, of The Advertiser staff, and spent considerable periods in this city. His brother, George Rankin, a man of versatile ability, resided on Talbot street for some years, and was engaged in mining operations near Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.
 He was the author of "The Canuck," a play in which McKee had a great success. The latter was for some time the sole owner of Bois Blanc Island, now Detroit's greatest playground. In fact, he financed the purchase of it in London.
 He died a poor man, but was regarded as one of the greatest Thespians of his day.

INFANT INDUSTRIES.

ONE of the strong arguments in favor of protection for manufacturers is that it helps infant industries, which without such help could not live. That sounds reasonable. But then the question arises, when does an industry cease to be a creeping infant and reach an age and size when it can stand alone? Mr.
 Cockshutt, the member for Brant, manufactures plows. He has had a large business in Canada. Under the high tariff of the United States he was able to send an occasional carload across the line, and sell at an advantage. With the reduced tariff he will have no trouble in securing a large trade with our neighbors. But his industry is still in an infantile stage, if we are to judge from the fact that the Government of which he is a supporter continues the protection he has had for years, even though the farmers are calling for free agricultural implements.
 The Massey-Harris Company is a wealthy and prosperous corporation. It does a big business. But the president, Sir Melvin Jones, withdraws from the Liberal party because it is in favor of giving the farmers their tools free of duty. Evidently, in the opinion of Senator Jones, his industry is still an infant; it cannot stand alone without the prop of protection.

In his budget speech, the Hon. Mr.
 White announced that a duty would be imposed on caustic soda and hypochlorite of lime, which have hitherto come in free.
 He said that a certain Ontario salt company had been manufacturing these articles for three years, "and was today producing one-third of Canada's requirements of caustic soda." Now here is an industry three years old which, without any help from protection, has been able to secure one-third of the Canadian business. One might think that that was going pretty well. This is a lusty youngster, which without any help has got control of one-third of the business of the Dominion. Evidently it can stand alone, and run alone. What more is required? Mr. White proceeds to coddle it.
 True, he says, it has got one-third of the business of the country, but if we give it a little help it may secure it all. So he puts on a duty, and gives it a monopoly.
 And the soap-makers throughout Canada will have to support this puffed-up monopoly. The "infant industry" argument is not available here, and Mr.
 White comes out candidly with the real protection argument. He is prepared to do what he can through his protection policy to give certain parties a monopoly.
 Of course, it may cost the soap-maker a little more for his chemicals. But then he can add that onto the price of his goods. It is the consumer who will have to pay in the end. And he does not count in the calculation of the protectionist.

RAILWAY LEGISLATION.

"TIME changes men as well as things" and "the crowd that cheers today will hiss tomorrow" are old sayings verified by long experience. Only a few years ago the people would get down on their knees and give anything in reason and out of reason to get a new railway. London was no exception.
 Look at Bathurst street entirely given up as a railway yard in the south. Look at Wellington street completely closed up in the north, each a permanent inconvenience and loss to the city; and other examples might be given. There was then all over the vicinity a great desire for railways, and their building was regarded as the best possible guarantee of present and future prosperity for cities. That the prosperity of the country did largely depend upon its railways cannot be doubted. For many years, if the Grand Trunk had been closed down, and that is largely true today.
 There are other large and powerful railway corporations now in Canada, such as the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern, indispensable to the prosperity of the sections served by them.
 In the United States at the present time, railways are having a hard time of
 it. The interstate commerce commission fixes the rates, and the railways are starving. As compared with the previous year, the net income is over twenty per cent less. There is a demand by the railways for increased freight rates, one of the leading railways asking for an increase of five per cent. That the railways are being persecuted, and should be fairly dealt with by the interstate commission seems to be the almost universal opinion of the American press. It seems strange that in the space of so few years so great a change should take place in the attitude of the public towards railways. A short time has served to show that the prosperity of the whole country still depends, to a large extent, on its railways. Stocks have steadily gone down, the incomes of many people decreased, and the effect on the general prosperity of the country has been very marked.
 The limit of depression and oppression that the American railways and the country itself can stand has been reached, and a turn for the better cannot long be delayed. Canada is too apt to imitate the mistakes of the United States, and as Canada is still in the condition that railways and more railways are a necessity to its prosperity and development, it is to be hoped that instead of imitating their mistakes Canada will take such warning and avoid whatever caused the existing railway conditions in the United States, which are much to be deplored.

SHAW IN BERLIN.

AN ARTICLE in Harper's Weekly of April 11 by Mr. Granville Barker, the English playwright and theatrical manager, gives an account of the production of Bernard Shaw's new play, Pyg-malion, in Berlin.

Not long ago Mr. Shaw made a sikit on the old Greek fable of Androcles and the Lion. Now he chooses to hang his wit upon a classic myth and amuses himself by giving it out first in their own tongue to his Berlin admirers. According to Mr. Barker, Shaw has a great grip on the Germans, those men of blood and iron, also of commerce and philosophy. It is, then, a peaceful and grateful tribute to the most intelligent theatrical public in the world, and not merely a Shavian whim, this new comedy in five acts in German.

While Shaw is still taken rather as a joke by the English, much as was the case with his compatriot, poor Noll Goldsmith, in his lifetime, the German critics have picked him out for a genius.
 They will soon be claiming to have discovered the greatest dramatist since Shakespeare, in fact to have begotten him almost. That is what they say of Shakespeare, who was first fully explained to his own countrymen by Les-sing and Goethe. Not to compare Shaw with Shakespeare, is it nevertheless quite possible that British critics will soon be repeating diligently the opinions of Teutonic Shavians, as they repeat the dicta of the Schlegels and the Wenders on the great Elizabethan.
 What a paradise of the theatre goes

Berlin is. Mr. Barker observes that in one week this month could be seen in the high-priced houses eight plays of Shakespeare, two of Strindberg, one of Hauptmann, one of Ibsen (in two theatres at once), and Shaw's at the Les-sing Theatre. At cheaper places, more Shakespeare, Schiller and the rest. Knowledge and taste are substantial in Berlin. It is suitable that Shaw's play should be given in the theatre named from Lessing, the first modern exponent of that far greater Briton, Shakespeare.

ON BLONDE COOKS.

A WIDOWER of Port Credit, Ont., has been writing to the postmaster of Rochester, New York, asking Uncle Sam's official to secure for him a cook, and specifies that the lady shall be a blonde. Setting aside the question as to why he should have to go outside this fair country for a fair cook—why the blonde? Are blondes natural cooks, good cooks? They look distractingly fetching fussing around a cooking range in one of those long aprons, and it is small wonder that a man is eager to help with the dishes, but an alluring appearance will not give the exact degree of spicing necessary to make a steak worthy of a place on the menu of the gods. However, in another part of his letter the cookless
 one confesses that he dotes on omelets, dreams of them, and has written orders to their loveliness. Perhaps this explains his desire for a blonde cook, for there is something appropriate about a golden-haired kitchen divinity evolving a glowing, golden-tinted omelet. And if one had a passion for French-fried potatoes, wouldn't it be nice to associate those delicious, crisp, olive-hued chips with the vivacious beauty of a brunette. However, if the omelet be overdone, or the potatoes underdone, the resultant dyspepsia is a stiff price to pay for poetry in the kitchen. Without wishing to interfere in another man's domestic affairs, we suggest that the Port Credit gentleman first assure himself as to the cooking ability of applicants. Then he can import one of those Parisian wigs of just the right shade, thus at one stroke saving his stomach and soothing his soul.

MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF BABY GIRL COMES TO EX-CITY WORKER TO HELP MAKE HIS FORTUNE ON FARM.

Ex-$18-a-Week Clerk Doesn't Fear More Mouths to Feed,
 For His Land Makes Their Living.

BY W. M. J.
 CHAPTER V.

The three years that followed were filled with hard work, and at times the struggle was discouraging. We lost a fine heifer by boat from turning her on clover when it was wet with dew.
 Twice weasels got into the coops and killed a lot of the pullets.
 One June the frost killed the corn,
 and a second planting failed to ripen.
 I bought some smut-infected seed wheat and the crop was practically ruined. I discovered afterward that treating the seed with formaldehyde would have saved the crop.
 Two weeks of rain ruined a fine hay crop. We lost a cow from milk fever before we learned to feed grain lightly
 the week before calving.
 By rigid economy we made the second payment, three acres of potatoes contributed $300 toward it. Our herd of cows had increased to seven, and the quality of the younger stock was improved by breeding to better sires.
 One of the sows farrowed eight pigs.
 These were kept on clover and rape pasture all summer, fattened on corn and tankage in the early winter, and in January six of them sold for $100. Deducting cost of tankage, market value of corn and land rent, a profit of $30 was left.

In other words, we got $20 a ton for clover and 90 cents a bushel for corn fed to the hogs when hay was worth only $12 and corn 60 cents on the market. I decided to raise more pork.
 Fourth Step.
 Clearly, live stock farming was the most profitable. Moreover, it was a necessity in the building up of the soil.
 The first two or three years I couldn't do much of that.
 There were payments to meet, and that meant something to sell. We couldn't produce enough live stock products, so it had to be soil products.
 Potatoes were a good crop, as they removed the fertility. For the rest, thorough tillage, rotating crops, and gradually deepening the soil had to do.
 All of the manure was saved and that helped a great deal.
 The third year I began the work of soil building in earnest. Ten acres had been sown to rye the fall before. This was plowed under in the spring.
 "Good idea," the cheerful neighbor said. "Deepen yer soil and plow under all the manure an' green crops you kin.
 When it comes a dry year that's what saves the crops."
 I had six acres in clover that spring, and seeded eight acres more. I found that nothing puts new life into old furrows like clover—unless it's alfalfa.
 I grew that later.

The blue bird is first among our feathered friends to arrive from the south.
 But the fourth spring from the farm a larger bird arrived two weeks earlier and left us a million dollars' worth of baby girl. Nothing less than complete disaster could have taken the brightness out of things that season.
 Everything looked fine. Clover seeding of the year before was a pleasure to look at. The old clover meadow had been fall plowed for corn. Rye was sown on all the bare land and plowed under in the spring.
 I had the work about half done when one night one of the horses got at the box of ground feed kept in the stable.
 Not even the prompt administration of linseed oil could save him.
 The other horse was getting pretty old. It meant a new team—$350 to pay in the fall.
 The little farm did well that year, but we couldn't quite make the cost of the team and the last payment of $500 without selling more of the stock than we cared to. So we carried $200 over to the next year.
 The next summer was dry and hot and

N. B. CABINET MINISTERS ALSO PRACTICE PROFESSIONS

H. F. McLeod, Former Provincial Secretary, Says He Does Not Fear Probe.

[Special To The Advertiser.]
 Ottawa, April 19.—"I have nothing to fear from an investigation," said H. F.
 McLeod tonight. Mr. McLeod, who is the member representing York, New Brunswick, was formerly solicitor general of New Brunswick and afterward provincial secretary. He resigned his provincial portfolio to contest the riding for the Federal House. Last Friday L. A. Dugal, leader of the New Brunswick Opposition, bracketed Mr. McLeod with Premier Flemming in serious charges connected with the construction of the Valley Railway which the Province is financing. Mr.
 McLeod is charged with having received a payment of fifteen hundred dollars before a contractor could obtain a contract for work on the road.

Tonight Mr. McLeod said that the salary of a minister in New Brunswick was not sufficient to sustain him and that it was the custom for them to practice their profession when they were lawyers. He had done so and had acted as legal advisor for one or more contractors who had been paid for his professional services.
 However he is maintaining that these services in no way were to the disadvantage of the Province or constituted abuse of his position as Provincial Secretary in the Flemming Government.

OTTAWA MOTHER KILLS DAUGHTER

Ottawa, April 19.—Wielding an axe as the instrument of death, Mrs. Placide Massie, aged 45, wife of a plasterer residing at Adelaide and Alfred streets,
 Hull, murdered her 19-year-old daughter,
 Marie, the oldest of a family of seven children.

The woman had been acting strangely for about a week, and it is thought she committed the crime in an insane frenzy.
 The cause of the crime, it is believed,
 was the mother's objection to a young man, an acquaintance of her daughter.
 So far as known there were no witnesses to the events leading up to the crime.
 The screams of the girl were heard by a neighbor, Felix Charron, who reached the house, but was too late to save her.
 He held the woman until the police arrived.
 The body of the girl was horribly mutilated, though she lived a few minutes after Dr. Bellisle had reached her.

MONTRÉAL'S HUMILIATION.

[Stratford Beacon.]
 Montreal, especially the English-speaking portion, though the better element of the French majority is fully in accord with it, is still writhing under the humiliating results of the municipal contest.
 The old gang has recovered power strengthened in numbers, with only one English-speaking member of the board of control to keep them in check, and he got in by only a small margin when hope for him had been almost lost on the first count. The rule of having the mayoralty alternate between the French and English has been shattered and may not be restored for many years. This is part of the penalty of the English permitting themselves to be influenced by mercenary interests as voiced by a newspaper trust—the remainder will be revealed in another long term of municipal corruption and misrule which is due.

Conducted by "THE NOMAD."

SOME At a recent ball given in ANCIEN Montreal by an Arts Club, RECIPES, the supper was remarkable in that many of the dishes were according to recipes dating back to A. D. 1329, and even earlier. The venison patty was made after a recipe of the time of Richard II., and was given to Queen Elizabeth by Lord Stafford.

Some curious old recipes from the books mentioned make one more willing to read the directions than to eat the product. Pancakes, as they were, called for "a pint of cream, six eggs, three spoons of the flour, three minims grated, half pound melted butter almost cold, mingle all well together and butter the panne for first pancake, let runne thin, (they certainly would) and when thirty colored, they are enough. And so do with all the five pancakes."

Probably Richard II. ate eggs boiled after this manner, as the recipe dates from his time.

"Break a very little hole at the bigger end of the shell and put it into the water whilst it boileth. Let it remain boiling whilst your pulse beareth two hundred strokes. Then take it out immediately, and you will find it of an exact temper."

During these housecleaning days many a man is inclined to question the sentiment in the old lines, "Home, Sweet Home."

THE A Tokio newspaper recently IDEAL asked its women readers for a description of an ideal husband.

Here are the seventeen main virtues set forth by the fair maids of Japan as being most desirable: He must not be a miser; not be too much taken up with his own toilet; be mainly in appearance; not be a woman's man; express himself clearly, avoiding anything like a hint; be prompt in decision and clever in extricating himself from an awkward position; have an ideal which may be left to his own choice; leave the management of the household to his wife; never put his face inside the kitchen; never criticise his wife's hats or dresses; never make other people the recipients of his confidences; not end by becoming an object of disgust to his wife; not interfere in feminine matters at all; cultivate the virtue of compassion; not

FIGHT THE MOTHS BEFORE THEIR DEADLY WORK IS DONE

Now Is the Time to Destroy Eggs—Air and Sun Fine Remedies—Newspaper for Wrappings

The time to begin to guard against moths is before the moths get to work and that means before warm weather begins. For once moths have chosen a garment as their nesting place, the fight against them is almost hopeless.

However, if moths have begun to work, don't be discouraged. Air and sun the garments in which their traces have been found. Brush out any eggs you may find. Kill all the moths in sight. The sponge the garment thoroughly with soap and water, or else with clear water. Air it for two or three days, bringing it in the house at night. Then pack it away separately from garments in which no trace of moths has been found.

Really the best thing to do to a garment in which the moths have begun to work is not to pack it in a trunk or box, but hang it in a light room. Moths work little in the light. Therefore if it is possible to hang a garment where it can be frequently moved about, in the light, there is a good chance that it will escape further devastation at the hands of the moths.

Moth balls, camphor, cedar and other remedies do little good after the moths have once begun their work. If a garment free from moths is packed securely away in camphor, where no moths can reach it, the moths won't harm it. That is about the truth of the matter. Of course they dislike camphor and other moth preventives and probably will not go near garments steeped in these preventives. But if they have already laid their eggs, the eggs will hatch. And if the moths are in a garment that is packed away in camphor balls, little as the moths like the camphor, they will probably stay where they are.

Air and Sunshine. Both are helpful in making clothes moth proof. Air everything in the sun that you wish to back away for the summer. Then brush everything and make sure that no spots or dust remain. Moths gather where there is dirt.

The rooms where clothes are stored should be thoroughly aired and, if possible, sunned. The woodwork should be washed with soap and water to which ammonia has been added. The inside of closets or drawers in which garments are packed should also be washed thoroughly with ammonia water.

Camphor balls that are put in carpets or rugs should be ground up and rubbed into the carpet to do the most good.

After everything is prepared, wrap all garments or hangings or carpets in newspaper. Glue or paste the edges together. Then use more newspaper wrappings, gluing the edges of these securely. For the whole secret of success lies in making the paper wrappings airtight—therefore moth-tight.

Dear Miss Grey—In a couple of weeks I shall attend the fifth wedding anniversary of an intimate friend. What would you suggest for a gift? As the couple do not keep house I cannot think of anything suitable. Your advice will be truly appreciated.

UNDECIDED.

Ans.—Even if your friend does not keep house, she must live some place, and there are many articles that I am sure will make acceptable gifts: a pair of wooden candlesticks or even a single one, either in mahogany or of carved wood gilded. You may fit them with electric lights and shades, if you wish to do so. Nearly every one serves afternoon tea, and a muffin stand of two or three places or plate holders in mahogany, could not fail to please. Then had you thought of trays? They come in all sizes, one to hold the small pitcher and glass for the bedside would make a charming gift.

What Is A Mousse?

Dear Miss Grey—What is a mousse? I am invited out to dinners quite often and see this word and also sorbet on the menu. I. G.

Ans.—A mousse is a frozen mixture not frozen quite as solid as ice creams and ices. It is usually not stirred in free freezing, which leaves the texture spongy. Sorbets are flavored liquids frozen just sufficiently to be mushy.

Better Not.

Dear Cynthia Grey—Is it correct for a young woman to take the arm of her escort during the daytime?

Ans.—Not unless it is in a very crowded thoroughfare, on a slippery pavement, or under circumstances where it may be necessary for protection and support.

Songs We Used to Whistle and Sing

THE FIRST SNOWDROP.

Only a snowdrop blossom
I came on in winter today.
Little, white, innocent flower,
How you turn my thoughts far away—
Away from the strife of the living,
And the world where nothing seems true;

And with hand divine, formed you
First wee snowdrop of spring.

Little snowdrop blossom,
As your petals so white unfold,
My heart is filled with a longing
For that which never grows old,
For the God who tinted the rainbow
And arched the heavens of blue,
Yet tenderly stooped to beauty in you,
And snow forth his beauty in you.
First wee snowdrop of spring.
—Evelyn Hulbert.

LOCAL ITEMS

D. O. E. Musicales.

The ladies of the Patricia Chapter, of the Daughters of the Empire, were the guests of Mrs. (Dr.) James S. Niven at a delightful musicale given in her home, 423 Colborne street, Saturday evening.

Will Receive.

Mrs. Marshall Graydon, 474 William street, will receive on Tuesday next, from 3.30 to 6.30.

W. C. T. U. Classes Close.

The evening classes which have been conducted so successfully during the winter by the Women's Christian Temperance Union at the hall, 422 Park avenue, were discontinued with last week's meeting. All winter these classes have met on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, the girls receiving instruction in millinery, dressmaking, and music, and greatly enjoying the semi-weekly assembling together.

On Thursday night members of the millinery class proudly displayed the result of the winter's work in a number of neat and very tastefully trimmed hats. The dressmaking class received instruction in skirt and blouse making, and other branches of plain sewing also have some very creditable handiwork to show.

The class in music is still meeting, as it is the intention to give a concert some time early in May.

Apart from the educational value of these classes, the members have thoroughly enjoyed the social side as well, and many of them regret the approach of the summer months which necessitates the closing of the evening sessions.

Wortley Road Mothers' Club.

The monthly meeting of the Wortley Road Mothers' Club will be held in the kindergarten rooms tonight (Monday) at 8 o'clock. Mr. Mottashed will speak on "Education." Some musical numbers are being provided, and refreshments will be served at the close.

THE HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1914.

The morning hours are not fortunate. Astrology reads that Saturn and the Sun exercise a malefic away until afternoon. Then Venus and Jupiter are in benefic aspect.

Venus is in a place dominating strongly for good. It is interpreted as extraordinarily lucky for all love affairs.

Places ruled by the planet are held to disseminate pleasant influences. Banqueting-rooms, gardens, fountains, theatres and cafes should prosper while Venus is friendly.

Good luck should come from dealing with jewelers, engravers, silk merchants, embroiderers and goldsmiths. Poets, actors and singers should benefit. It is prophesied that a woman shall win fame by her verses.

Jupiter gives an access of ability to lawyers, scholars, bankers and college students under this rule of the stars. There is a fortunate sign for wrestlers and athletes. Baseball is under a promising omen, which foreshadows a season of extraordinary success.

There is a prophecy that Italy will experience many troubles beginning in the early summer.

June 12 and 28 are said by an English astrologer to be critical dates for Europe and Asia. Increase of armaments is forecast.

Ireland still remains subject to discordant astral rule. Mars ascendant at the summer solstice, augurs ill for Berlin, Rome, Constantinople and Cairo.

Women are warned by the seers that a period of severe stress is at hand when they will have to encounter subtle antagonisms in business and professional life. They must not mistake liberty for license, astrologers declare. An outbreak of scandal and libel will cause a return to extreme conservatism.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of the year in which financial affairs may be troublesome, but business anxieties will be overbalanced by much happiness in the home. Children born on this day may experience many ups and downs of fortune, but they will be likely to have friends who will aid them. Girls may be unfortunate in marriage. Their magnetic centre is the sun in Taurus and their principal ruling planet is Venus.

HOW TO PREPARE SPINACH

BY CAROLINE COE.

Spinach should be one of the most healthful, but there is no other vegetable more abused or ruined in the cooking. It is rich in mineral matter and potash salts, and by the ordinary way of cooking these are almost entirely lost. It is also a laxative, although it does not supply much nutriment.

Wash spinach many times in clear, cold water. Be sure it is perfectly free from sand and dust. Put into sauce pan, with tight cover. Do not put in a drop of water. Cover closely and cook about fifteen minutes. The juice will run out and it will cook in that. Stir up once or twice. When done drain, chop fine and season with butter, salt and pepper. Serve with either hard-boiled eggs or cream sauce.

Spinach Patties. Boll spinach as in recipe given above. Drain and chop fine. Allow to drain dry. Put a tablespoon of butter into sauce pan. When hot but not brown add two even tablespoons of flour. When smooth add chopped spinach. Salt and pepper to taste. Cook slowly five minutes. Butter muffin or patty pans, press the spinach mixture firmly into these. Set in oven for ten minutes. Do not bake—just keep them hot. Turn out on platter and cover with rich white sauce. Slice the whites of hard-boiled eggs, place on top of each patty. Rice the yolks over top and send to table hot.

WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"When I boil potatoes they seem to come out a dirty color," complained Mrs. Newlywed. "Let the potatoes lie in cold water for a little while before paring if you wish them to be white," comforted Mrs. Neighbor.

HAY IS SOARING AND LIKELY TO GO HIGHER

as Farmers Are Beginning Seeding Price May Go Up.

The market this morning, after the record attendance of Saturday, was small. Hay, the only commodity offered, advanced in price, quotations ranging from $12.50 to $16.00 on Saturday. Only 10 loads were offered to meet a brisk demand. Prices still undoubtedly advance higher shortly, the ground in ideal state for seeding. While comparatively little has been done, yet, although some farmers on high land have started, they are all anxious to begin, and will be out en masse tomorrow if the weather clears.

PAYS GREAT TRIBUTE TO LATE FRANK COOPER

Pastor of Dundas Centre Methodist, in Funeral Service
Lauds His Memory.

The funeral of Frank Cooper, pioneer photographer and well-known citizen of London, who died a week ago Saturday in California, was held yesterday afternoon at Woodland Cemetery. The remains arrived in London on the 1 o'clock C. P. R. train and were taken first to the funeral parlors of John Ferguson & Sons, where they were viewed by friends and relatives, and afterwards to Dundas Centre Methodist Church, where services were conducted by Rev. A. J. Johnston. Mr. Johnston referred to the late Mr. Cooper as a man who took a great interest in his city, a man of large heart and wide vision. His interest was not alone in the municipality or in his business life, said Mr. Johnston, for he gave his thought and attention to everything that tended toward the welfare of his fellow citizens, the joy and delight of his boys and girls of his city.

"Mr. Cooper was a member of the deputations which met at the station on my arrival in London, and Mrs. Johnston and I have commented often on his kindness, his thoughtfulness and his graciousness," said Mr. Johnston. The funeral was largely attended and the church services attracted a crowded audience. Among the floral tributes was a large one from the photographers of London, a tribute to the high regard in which the late Mr. Cooper was held by his fellow artists. The pallbearers were Messrs. H. Ashplant, Dr. Zeigler, C. J. Beal, A. N. Udy, Dawson Keenleyside and John Tanton.

IN POLICE COURT

When Is a "Train" Not a Train?

Fair Line Difference Between Freight and Passenger Saves Alleged Trespasser.

"This man is lying," said Percy Glibbard, in police court this morning, charged by Special Officer John C. P. R. tracks at Quebec street Saturday night.

The fine-hair difference between a "train" and a "freight" is what saved Glibbard.

"He told me right out that he was waiting for a freight train going east," said Langley.

"Did I say 'freight train' No, you bet I didn't," said Glibbard.

"I live in Toronto, and from there, I went to St. Louis, then to Decatur, Ill., and then to Peru, Ind. I couldn't find work there, so I went to Montpelier, and then I hit Detroit, and from there, I came through to London, and I wasn't on the tracks anyway, I was on Quebec street. I was looking for a passenger going east."

All this story of Glibbard's strenuous hunt for work it took to convince Magistrate Judd that he was not guilty. Glibbard also had some money, so he will be sent to Toronto on the next train.

"Pretty smooth," said the magistrate, "I guess he's been there before."

Trespassers Fined.
William Langston, of Toronto; Joseph Cowdon and Jerry McLeod, of Bay of Quinte, were each fined $5 or ten days for trespassing on the Grand Trunk.

Gus Dockstater, for breaking the Indian liquor act, was fined $25 or one month in jail. A bottle of liquor was found in his possession on Sunday night.

Threw Landlady Out.
Magistrate Judd fined four Poles $5 each or 15 days in jail for being drunk and disorderly Saturday night.

They are said to have thrown their landlady, also a Pole, down a flight of stairs at their boarding-house, 84 Adelaide street. When asked why they were drunk and disorderly, they replied through an interpreter, that they did not know. They were Rego Colomeski, Nathan Lasarick, Tony Pollock, and John Less.

1,000 CADETS COMING
That Many Have Signified Intention of Going Under Canvas Here.

The date for the opening of the annual cadet spring training camp has been set for July 6. It was at first intended to hold the camp a week earlier, but, owing to the fact that examinations will be held in both public and high schools on June 29 and 30, it was found necessary to change the date.

Over one thousand boys have already signified their intention of attending the camp, and it is expected that the militia authorities feel confident that at least fourteen hundred boys will attend the camp.

TO MAKE LABRADOR SUPPLY REINDEER MEAT

Dr. Grenfell Bent on Developing
His Adopted Country.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, April 20.—A cable to the New York American from London says: A vigorous campaign for the development of Labrador will be started soon by Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, the missionary explorer and friend of President Wilson, who sailed on the Mauretania yesterday for a lecture tour in America. He said: "I am going to the north of the continent, to the north of the American continent, to the north of the world. The most important international task before me is to start reindeer farms to meet the demand for reindeer meat in Canada. I hope to surpass the meat supplied by Alaska."

"The Canadian Government is building two large harbors on the east coast, whence the reindeer meat will be brought to this country as well."

"I am also going to work for the preservation of the valuable fur-bearing animals: martens, minks, foxes and seals have been hunted almost to extinction."

"For a pleasure trip the southern part of Labrador offers great attractions."

WOULD TAX BILL BOARDS AND CAN ADVERTISING

Ratepayer Calls Attention to Fact That City Derives No
Revenue From Either.

A ratepayer calls the attention of the city authorities to the fact that a number of garbage cans, for which theatrical companies are charged so much a performance, return no revenue to the city. "It looks as if a few passes were doing the trick," he said. "These cans cost the travelling companies about $10 each, and there is a considerable sum made on every performance. But the city does not secure one dollar from them."

Another point that should be taken up is whether billboards pay a tax to the city. They enter into competition to a certain extent with concerns that pay heavy taxes, and as it is understood it they do not return the city one cent of revenue.

LAKES APPETITE SATIATED
Erie Is No Longer Feasting On Orchard Beach at Port Stanley.

Orchard Beach residents who have visited Port Stanley this summer are pleased to report that the lake appears to be repaying its long feast on the banks of the favorite cottage section.

Orchard Beach is regarded as the exclusive section of the resort (Cries of "No," from Fraser Heights) by those who live there, and for years they have tried to fight back the lake. For years they have taken yards of the beach each year. In the last ten or twelve years it has washed back away. This year there is more beach than has been the case in many years, and the residents have washed the lake will satisfy its appetite on the southern shore for a change.

STILL ANOTHER ESCAPE
Brick Street Nurseryman Once More
Is Near Death.

Charles Baker, nurseryman of Brick street, was severely burned on Saturday night, when a lamp, which had been left burning, exploded, igniting the bedclothes and the furnishings of the room in which he was sleeping.

Baker was retired at his usual hour on Saturday evening, moving a reading table upon which the lamp was sitting close to his bedside, preparatory to reading a short time. Escaping tired he turned the lamp down and immediately went to sleep.

He was awakened by an explosion, and found the room in flames. He attempted to quench the fire, but his efforts were in vain. He had not his son and daughter, who had been upturned during the evening, seen the flames through the window and rushed to his assistance.

Baker had his face, hands and one leg severely burned, and several cuts inflicted on different parts of his body from the pieces of broken glass.

"Thirty dollars' damage was done."

DENOUNCES DANCE EVIL
Superintendent of City Mission Draws
Lesson From Salome's Dance.

The City Mission was crowded to the doors last night when Superintendent "Billy" Matheson delivered his address on "An Ancient Tango and Its Effects."

The speaker took his text from that portion of the Scriptures dealing with the dancing of Salome before Herod, her demand of the head of John the Baptist, a charger and the prophet's death, brought about by the inevitable moral law to modern days. Mr. Matheson delivered a stirring denunciation of the dances of today and brought tears to many eyes who were poring on the consequences that have accrued to the consequences through the allurements of the dance hall.

A splendid musical program was rendered by the choir under Frederick Booth, and Mr. Simpson's interpretation of the intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" on the violin was keenly appreciated. Mr. Simpson also sang a duet with Miss Durst, to her own accompaniment, in a highly satisfactory manner.

WILSON FOLLOWING
GEN. SCOTT'S PLANS

London Times Says Intervention
Is Inevitable—Criticism
for President.

[Canadian Press.]
London, April 20.—The Times, in an editorial, says: "President Wilson is an order to act in the spirit of General Scott's orders at Vera Cruz in 1846: 'When dealing with Mexicans, command, never argue.' Our Washington correspondent makes it clear that both Congress and public opinion are behind the president, and that intervention is inevitable sooner or later."

"We can well understand that no American contemplates it with anything but a most profound reluctance and a most profound anxiety of responsibility and entanglements it must bring upon his country."

The Daily Express, commenting on the Mexican situation, says:

"President Wilson and Secretary Bryan wished for peace at any price. The price may be heavier than America cares to pay. President Wilson temporized and selected Villa as the barbaric and uncivilized instrument of his policy. He is now reaping the consequences of his irresolution."

McEACHERN-TAKEN:
A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Mann, eighth concession of Ennisville when their daughter Annie B. was united in marriage to John N. McEachern, of the town of Brookville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. A. Campbell, of Inwood, and the bridal couple were unattended.

The happy young couple took a short honeymoon trip to Detroit and other points and are now settled in their new home on the tenth line of Brookville. Their many friends wish him much happiness.

CARD OF THANKS.
Mr. Thomas Allen and family, 564 William street this city desire to thank everyone of their kind friends for sympathy shown to them during their sad bereavement.

CRITICIZES LABOR COUNCIL FOR PRO BAR STAND

Rev. W. R. McIntosh Says Something Is Wrong
With It—Ministers Consider Minimum
Wage Question.

"Something is wrong with the Trades and Labor Council. It is singular that it takes a stand in favor of the bar. In the King Street Presbyterian and the Centennial Methodist Churches, the audience declared for the closing of the bars on King street. The Trades and Labor Council members say they have no confidence in the ministers. But we must desert the workingman just because those who control the Trades and Labor Council take an attitude opposed to us."

Such were the remarks of vice-president W. R. McIntosh, of the London Ministerial Alliance, this morning in a discussion on the "minimum wage" in the Y. M. C. A. parlors this morning. The industrial committee of the Men's Federation asked the alliance together with the press and all educators of the city to emphasize the need of a minimum wage standard in view of living conditions and prevailing rates of wages brought to light by the social survey last fall. The communication of the Men's Federation reached the mind of the ministers present the adverse criticism of the alliance last week by the Trades and Labor Council.

The injured man was taken to Victoria Hospital, where he is being attended to by Dr. N. H. Beal.

As the result of a report reaching the Men's Federation or anyone else should block out a program for a Christian ministerial follow.

Rev. J. G. Stuart said that employers should recognize the right of the workers to at least a minimum living wage and thought all the ministers would stand in favor of any paid musicians.

Wage Committee Appointed.
The members were not quite clear just what the men's federation meant by a minimum wage, and on the motion of Rev. Mr. Stuart a committee including Rev. W. R. McIntosh, Rev. A. J. Johnston, and Rev. H. H. Bingham, was appointed.

FOREIGN DIPLOMATS

That U. S. A. Should Threaten War Over Trivial Incident.

[Canadian Press.]
London, April 20.—(Morning Gazette.)—The Morning Post's Washington correspondent says: "The management of foreign affairs by the Administration has not elicited warm approval from the diplomatic corps in this capital, and it appears to them as somewhat ironical, after the tremendous efforts Secretary Bryan has been making to negotiate a peace involving national honor, that it should be threatened over an incident so trivial as the temporary detention of a paymaster and five sailors."

Bryan urged the acceptance of his proposals as offering an opportunity for delay and consideration, and to allow passion to cool and excited public opinion to become calm; but diplomatic circles in this capital, with the action of the Administration, which has given Huerta no time for consideration and little or no time for investigation."

PINCH ALL HOBOES
Railway Tecs Notified To Permit No
Trespassers—Thirty days Sentences Promised.

As the result of the numerous complaints from railwaymen running on freight trains in and out London that they are continually having trouble with tramps and hobos who they find stealing rides on their trains, the Grand Trunk, Canadian Pacific, Michigan Central and Pere Marquette railways have all instructed their special officers to arrest all persons found on the railway property who have no business there.

Magistrate J. C. Judd today after passing a ten day sentence on four men arrested by special railway officers stated that if this section of the country from stealing rides on trains he would commence to met out a month sentence to persons arrested on the railway who were found guilty of trespass.

Railway fliers report that of late the number of men stealing rides on trains has increased, and such a situation that they have had to add a number of extra officers to their staff in order to keep the tramps and hobos off the trains.

TEN-YEAR GUARANTEE

The Vulcan Foundry Company, Ltd., of this city, was awarded the contract for castings at a figure of $225 per hundred, although the Canada Iron Corporation, of St. Thomas, offered the same article for $185.

Controller G. E. Rose thought that the contract should be kept at home, and Controller W. G. Weller agreed with him.

Would Take Lowest Bid.
Controller J. P. Moore was for giving the contract to the firm submitting the low figure. You have asked these men to bid, he said, and you must take the lowest bid.

The contract amounts to approximately $5,300.

Hayman and Mills will supply cement at $1.45 a barrel in small lots, and $1.43 in wagon lots, while John Mann & Sons have the contract for car lots at $1.40.

William Heaman & Sons were awarded the contract for pipe and special work to twelve inches in size, while William Copp was the successful tenderer for larger pipe. Hayman & Mills will supply the small pipe and fittings. All these contracts were awarded on the recommendation of the city engineer and are on a varying schedule of prices.

$40,000 For Sewers.
An expenditure of an additional $40,000 in night. The controllers decided to have Consulting Engineer Willis Chipman prepare a survey and estimate of sewer hauling and improving the East End sanitary sewer system. Another object from the syphon chamber to the bay is necessary. It is said, and this man was quoted as having said, the system will be sufficient to meet the needs of the whole East End until the population of the city is 100,000. The cost would be met with a vote of the city council, would be unnecessary. The provincial board of health would be considered.

It was decided to engage the Y.M.C.A. auditorium for the convention of the Y.M.C.A. association of the West, to be held next June.

The clerk was instructed to issue refund notices to street oiling and watering on Hamilton road, between West street and the limits. There is a great deal of vacation in this section, and it was felt that the expense of laying the dust on the road would be, to a large extent, unnecessary.

In motor cars, on Tuesday morning, at 9 o'clock, the controllers will leave the city building for an inspection trip.

Another object from the syphon chamber to the bay is necessary. It is said, and this man was quoted as having said, the system will be sufficient to meet the needs of the whole East End until the population of the city is 100,000. The cost would be met with a vote of the city council, would be unnecessary. The provincial board of health would be considered.

It was decided to engage the Y.M.C.A. auditorium for the convention of the Y.M.C.A. association of the West, to be held next June.

The clerk was instructed to issue refund notices to street oiling and watering on Hamilton road, between West street and the limits. There is a great deal of vacation in this section, and it was felt that the expense of laying the dust on the road would be, to a large extent, unnecessary.

In motor cars, on Tuesday morning, at 9 o'clock, the controllers will leave the city building for an inspection trip.

CRITICIZES LABOR COUNCIL FOR PRO BAR STAND

Rev. W. R. McIntosh Says Something Is Wrong
With It—Ministers Consider Minimum
Wage Question.

"Something is wrong with the Trades and Labor Council. It is singular that it takes a stand in favor of the bar. In the King Street Presbyterian and the Centennial Methodist Churches, the audience declared for the closing of the bars on King street. The Trades and Labor Council members say they have no confidence in the ministers. But we must desert the workingman just because those who control the Trades and Labor Council take an attitude opposed to us."

Such were the remarks of vice-president W. R. McIntosh, of the London Ministerial Alliance, this morning in a discussion on the "minimum wage" in the Y. M. C. A. parlors this morning. The industrial committee of the Men's Federation asked the alliance together with the press and all educators of the city to emphasize the need of a minimum wage standard in view of living conditions and prevailing rates of wages brought to light by the social survey last fall. The communication of the Men's Federation reached the mind of the ministers present the adverse criticism of the alliance last week by the Trades and Labor Council.

The injured man was taken to Victoria Hospital, where he is being attended to by Dr. N. H. Beal.

As the result of a report reaching the Men's Federation or anyone else should block out a program for a Christian ministerial follow.

Rev. J. G. Stuart said that employers should recognize the right of the workers to at least a minimum living wage and thought all the ministers would stand in favor of any paid musicians.

"HE WAS TOO BUSY"
Rev. W. H. Harvey Preaches On That Theme.

Preaching on the subject, "He Was Too Busy, Just Too Busy," in Ash Street Methodist Church, Sunday morning, Rev. W. H. Harvey, B. A., showed the manner in which, through indifference, a man can reject Christ and so lose his opportunity of entering the kingdom.
The life of the practical, hard-hearted man was outlined: That of the man who cares only for worldly things and little of the after life. His time is so taken up with material things that he loses sight of the after life, the pastor asserted. Business occupation should not divert a man from the church, the pastor was certain. There was ample time for both. For eternal salvation it was necessary to live a righteous life, not only some times but always. Through this only was it possible to be certain of the after life.

RELIGION AND SCIENCE INTERLINKED IN PROGRESS

Rev. F. E. Malott, of St. Mary's, Declares That Two Combine for Better Civilization.

Preaching on "The Growth of Faith" in Wellington Street Methodist Church yesterday morning, Rev. F. E. Malott, of St. Mary's, formerly of the Colborne Street Methodist Church in this city, spoke of the value of faith as a governing principle in life. In mentioning some of the reasons why faith should be growing, he enumerated the conditions which are essential in order that faith may grow.

Value of Knowledge.
Among other things the speaker dwelt on the value of knowledge, and showed how the growth of knowledge not hindered, but helped faith. Science and faith are not opposites, but in perfect harmony, said Rev. Mr. Malott. He reviewed the last half of the present century and showed how, when in the nineteenth century science began changing and taking on new characters, many people were afraid the foundations of Christian religion would be shaken and that it could not stand before the revelations of modern science.

Scientists Are Christians.
The speaker further explained that more of the great men of science are among the most devout leaders in Jesus.

Today Christianity has nothing whatever to fear from science, but rather receives a great deal of help from it. "The best place for a man to cultivate an intelligent faith is one of our colleges," asserted the preacher in concluding.

Evening Service.
In the evening his theme was "The Education of Our Church and the Value of College and its Place in the Life of the Church." He chose as his text, "I went into Arabia" (Galatians, I, 17).

Historians were divided as to why Paul went into Arabia. Preparation for his work was very evident in the life of the Apostle Paul. His going into Arabia was necessary in order to assure his success as a Christian minister after his conversion before entering on his life work.

Long Preparation Essential.
The speaker, continuing, asserted that thorough preparation for any calling in life was fundamental, and that the men who had worked and contributed most to the world's wealth, were men who had not cut short their period of preparation.

"One of the weaknesses of the young people of this day is their feverish haste to get out into the world and be doing things, when they should be preparing themselves for their life-work, at school, college or university," declared Mr. Malott.

Importance of a long period of preparation for a minister of a gospel was dealt with. The speaker disabused the idea that a minister does not require any particular preparation if called to preach.

Cites Paul as Example.
In concluding the minister drew attention to the fact that he was eight years after Paul's conversion before he entered upon his work as a real minister. Three years were spent in Arabia, and five in Tarsus. Due to his eight years of study and reflection he became the strong theologian, preacher and minister of the age.

Miss Leslie Ross, of Ottawa, sang a solo in a very acceptable voice.

LITTLE CHURCHES OF LONDON
---NO. 13---

CHELSEA GREEN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Chelsea Green Presbyterian Church was opened in April, 1906, by the London Presbyterian Council, which collected $2,000 for the erection of the present building. Rev. John Bannatyne, then a student in the Western University, took charge of the work, and from the beginning, Thomas Baty has been superintendent of the Sunday school. Mr. Bannatyne conducted the church services for some two years and was followed by other students, among them Charles Evans, recently called to the pastorate of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, West London. For several years Rev. John Smith, then pastor of Hamilton Road, Presbyterian Church, carried on the work in addition to the work of his own congregation. This was previous to the appointment of Rev. Peter E. Nichol, the present pastor, as missionary three years ago. Last Thursday evening, Rev. Mr. Nichol was ordained pastor of Chelsea Green and Knollwood Park Churches, the ordination services being held in Knollwood Park Church, and the two churches now forming an independent church.

Voluntary assistants from other churches carried on the work of the Sunday school for years. Three years ago the first communion roll was started. The following summer the interior of the church was rebuilt and institutional features added, including a gymnasium and swimming pool, at a cost of $1,500. At present the church membership is 40 and the Sunday school enrollment 140.

Since the beginning of the present year the church and all its organizations have grown rapidly, the church revenues especially showing a marked increase. The members of the board of managers are Frederick Gartshore, chairman; George Snow, secretary; John Jackson, treasurer; Thomas Baty, Alexander Speirs and H. L. Edwards. The interim church session, includes Thomas Baty, Professor W. J. Patterson, George Dickie, Archibald McMillan and W. A. Scott. The Sunday school officers are Thomas Baty, superintendent, and Percy St. Clair Aldridge, secretary. The teachers are Mrs. Fred Gartshore, Stanley Staples, Walter Dellmore, Miss Nora Clarke, Miss Simmons, Miss Maggie Douglas, Miss Addie Douglas, James Winslow, Mrs. Thomas Baty, Miss Bessie Baty, Mrs. George Snow, Mrs. Alfred Chitche, John Jackson and Thomas Baty.

In the last year the attendance has increased three-fold and the finances have quadrupled. One feature of the Sunday school is a strong organized men's Bible class taught by Mr. Baty. Mrs. Arthur Dellmore is president of the band of hope. Walter Dellmore is president of the young people's society, and Mrs. John Jackson is president of the ladies' aid society.

GREAT REWARD FOR THOSE WHO GIVE
A More Blessed Experience Than That of the One Who Receives.

MOTTO OF JOHN WESLEY
Impressive Discourse by the Pastor of Colborne Street Methodist Church.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive"—The Acts, chapter xx., 35th verse—was the text chosen by Rev. D. N. McCamus for his sermon in Colborne Street Methodist Church Sunday morning. "The Bible tells the story of the poor dying man lying on the roadside, who was found by the good Samaritan. He comforted him, washed his wounds and helped him on his way. It was blessed for that poor man to have the capacity for receiving, but how much more blessed for the good Samaritan."

Put Riches to Good Use.
"Some people, through the store of knowledge they possess, become rich, but do not put their wealth to good use; others have used it for blessing giving. John Wesley, finding that he could write and that the people seemed to like his works, started to spend much of his time in writing. He became rich, and he has said that his motto was: 'Get all you can, save all you can, give all you can.' He used his wealth in helping others. You are here," the speaker asserted, "not to become wealthy, but to help others."

Mr. McCamus explained that it was the spirit which human beings possess that distinguishes them primarily from the animal. "We are told, have an instinctive knowledge that there is a God, and that there is a hereafter. No matter how ignorant they are, they are human beings. This knowledge distinguishes them from the brute."

Giving is Blessed.
"The development of the mind gives human beings the capacity for doing things. Boys of today have advantages never equalled before for the development of the mind. The capacity for giving is the most blessed of them all."

"I love to recall a time many years ago," the speaker said in conclusion, "when I knew a storekeeper near the school. Whenever the children had a little money to spend they would go to this little store for candy. The good-natured little man, in weighing out the few coppers' worth of candy, would always make the scales tip a little towards us. Just a little bit more for good weight," he would say with a smile. He did this so regularly that those school children came to call his store 'The Bit More Grocery.' That went down a treat. The little man was called 'The Bit More,' and they remember him every one for his kindly generosity. It became a by-word with them."

"It is more blessed to give than to receive," said Mr. McCamus, "and it is more godly."

The church of today is running to services instead of service.

Dr. Ott pleaded a new Christian Socialism as the only thing that could adequately cope with present conditions. "Every individual should have his individual home—one house for one man, one woman and their family," he declared, "until that is accomplished we should not build one more church. God Almighty does not love architecture."

The clear-cut, clear-thinking sociologist who deals out equity and justice to the world is the true Christian. This is the religion that wipes out all social distinction, and until the problem of poverty is solved we can never hope to do away with the vice and wickedness incumbent upon its sordidness.

Great Work in East.
At the morning service of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday, April 19, W. Whitehead, of Madras, India, spoke on the work of the Y. M. C. A. in India.

Mr. Whitehead sketched briefly the work of the association in Japan, China and Korea, and the support and success with which it was meeting, but dwelt chiefly on the conditions and work in India. The speaker described vividly the existing conditions, both religious and social, which enabled fathers to marry their little girls to trees and stones, while older girls were, after their husband's death, kept as slaves in his family. The speaker declared, "It was rampant, and even the highest officials gazed on it with indifference, their religious teaching permitting it. The speaker also told of the great success of the workers and how princes and rulers had turned in support of the work, and hundreds of students were being converted where but a few years ago none were Christians. But this harvest had been dearly bought with the blood of the noble missionaries who had died for the cause in uprisings of fanatic natives."

The speaker attributed this marvelous success to prayer, and as proof of this told of a great student gathering in Madras which was held in the largest theatre. The first night, at the mention of Christ, the audience hissed the speaker to silence, but a little band of thirty Christian students left the auditorium of the building, and going behind the stage fell on their knees in prayer for the success of the meeting and the men of the student multitude. The meetings were continued for five days, and at the closing session two hundred came forward and confessed their faith and have been since received into the church.

"Y" CELEBRATES 35TH ANNIVERSARY
Nothing is Super-Natural or Common Clinging to Ideas and Traditions Is Not Inductive to Better Things, Rector Declares.

"There is no such thing as the supernatural. I refuse to believe that there are some things common and ordinary, and other things uncommon and extraordinary," declared Rev. N. N. Norwood, at the annual conference of the Y. M. C. A. in Hamilton, Ontario, Sunday morning.

The speaker, who was in the city for the first time, addressed the Y. M. C. A. at the Y. M. C. A. Theatre, where a large audience gathered to hear him. He declared that the resurrection is not a supernatural thing, but a natural one. "You like to feel that there is a difference, a demarcation between this life and the next."

Mr. Norwood preached his sermon from the text, "Jesus said unto them, bring forth the fishes which have caught. Simon Peter went up and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three; and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken." St. John, xxi. Chapter, and 10 and 1 verses.

Cling to Tradition.
"You expect Christ to come in elaborate form, and in a specific manifestation. You were taught that when you were young, and the idea still clings to you. If we don't get it that way, we ignore it altogether. We expect the supernatural and the uncommon. This grandeur is not expected, is contrary to the teaching of Jesus Christ."

"I have compassion for those dear persons who look back on the olden times, and say, 'Why have we continually to readjust ourselves? If we only had the religion of Henry Ward Beecher, or Spurgeon, or John Wesley.'"

"Unless we have progress in religion, what good are we doing?" the speaker asked. "You must make the world over again, and you can't do that until you make yourself over again."

"St. Peter had mastered the life of Christ. You remember, in the dream, while he was sleeping, a net was let down from the wall, filled with unclean things. Peter, remember, was a Jew. The teaching of his parents came to him, and he said, 'It is common; it is unclean; and the voice of God thundered, 'There is nothing common, or unclean.' Because of that, Peter was able to say 'I go fishing.' He knew then that he was as likely to find Jesus there, as any place else. He had learned that there was nothing common or unclean. God is in all. We can't see that Monday is as good as Sunday; that one day is as good as the other, but it is."

"Assert Yourself."
"Live your life, assert yourself, and dare. That is what Peter did, and when the end of the day came, it was a completed day."

"Don't worry, don't be frightened," the speaker said in conclusion. "When the work is ending, in His own appointed time, you and He will meet. Other people will say you bungled, but it will be seen when your net is drawn to shore, not one of the beautiful things of your life will be missing. Only the beautiful will survive. Go forth. Be Christ's radiant sons and daughters, the world needs you."

Nothing is quite so annoying to a woman as ugly fuzzy growth on the face, and while the electric needle brings relief, it is no more effective than a simple paste made with powdered delatone and water. After this treatment the skin should be washed to free it from the remaining delatone, and it will be soft, clear and hairless. Be sure, however, that you get the real delatone.—Adv.

BAPTIST DIVINE GIVES PATRIOTIC SERMON

Talks on Life of St. George to Large Audience.
Before a crowded audience, many of whom were Englishmen, Rev. W. C. Riddford, of Egerton Street Baptist Church, last evening delivered a patriotic sermon on the life of St. George.

The speaker reminded the Englishmen of their many privileges which they should enjoy as direct descendants of the men who had played a great part in ordering and molding the world's history. His advice was "Do not divorce patriotism; let us be true to dear old England, true to the land of our birth, and true to the flag that we love."

His appeal to his hearers against Catholicism was made through the channels of British history and British hearts. The red cross, the pride of distinction of the Admiralty flag in the present day was explained by the speaker. In concluding, he referred to St. George as the earliest champion of Christianity, and also as one of the true Christian martyrs. It was through the work of St. George, who paved the way for the king to be the first citizen of the state, that the Pope has nothing to do with the Empire of Great Britain today as far as the state is concerned, declared Rev. Riddford.

CRITICISM IS BLASPHEMY
Running Down Neighbors Against Laws of Heaven, Says Rev. Mr. McIntosh.

The old story of the struggle between David and Goliath provided the text for an intensely interesting sermon by Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D. D., at King Street Presbyterian Church last evening. The struggle between Israel and Philistia signified the eternal conflict between the material spirit and the moral and spiritual forces, declared the pastor.

"This business of running down your neighbors because they are different to you is blasphemy against the law of heaven," stated Rev. Mr. McIntosh. "The flesh and blood of men are too much losing our individuality. The world has got a tendency to turn out all people with the same brand on them. Perhaps it is the factory system, but human beings are not things, but spiritual entities. If a man is different, that should be his glory, not his shame."

COUNTY LIBRARIES NEXT

President Carson of Ontario Association Urges Action For Middlesex.

County library systems are the next step in the improvement of the Ontario public library service, according to President W. O. Carson, of the Ontario Library Association. Mr. Carson would like to see Middlesex the first county in Ontario to adopt the county system, the idea of which is to make all the smaller libraries of the county branches of the main or central library and giving the same full and free library privileges to the residents of the county as are now enjoyed by people living in the cities.

The annual convention of the Ontario Library Association, held in Toronto early last week, was, according to Mr. Carson, characterized by a tremendous growth of interest in public libraries. Two hundred delegates attended the convention, a notable increase in the number of smaller libraries represented being evident.

Mr. Carson was quoted in the press as stating that the Ontario Library Association was not a book society, but a library association. He said that the Ontario Library Association was not a book society, but a library association. He said that the Ontario Library Association was not a book society, but a library association.

At the convention, the annual report contained a very fine tribute to the late Rev. Dr. James Ross, who at the time of his death was an active member of the London Library board.
