New Plan in Canada.

It is proposed that part, or all of the issue, be purchased outright by one of the local banks, loan companies or capitalists. The actual debentures will be held by the purchasers. Certifleates, in small denominations-$10 or $25--will be issued against these debentures, and placed on sale for the benefit of the small investors. The idea is to give the people an opportunity to purchase the city bonds, through the certificate plan. In brief, the idea is to use the debenture as collateral against which the small denomination certificates can be issued.

Tried at St. Paul.

Last Saturday the plan was tried for the first time on the American continent, in St. Paul, Minn. James J. Hill, of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railroads, and his associates of the Northwestern Trust, co-worked out the idea. From now on the city bonds of St. Paul will be purchased by the Hill coterie of capitalists. They will be placed in the hands trustees, and certificates issued by of trustees, and ceruncates issued the Northwestern Trust Company. Ten-Dollar Certificates.

All certificates will be of $10 denom inations, and will be sold over the counter of the Northwestern Trus Company. The certificates will pay high rates of interest, the rate paid by the city, and the certificates wil protected by the bonds, guaranteed by the trustees

The St. Paul plan has already passed the experimental stage. It has become an acomplished fact. Saturday morn ing, following the announcement of the Hill plan, the Northwestern Trust Company officers were besieged with hundreds of investors, clamoring for the certificates. A special squad of police was called out to keep the would-be investors in line. The "experiment" St. Paul was with a $25,000 issue of public playgrounds bonds. The bonds had remained unsold for some time, be- in the home of Mr. William Godwin, 210 cause of prevailing conditions in the Wharneliffe road, West London, money market. To make the investal Last Thursday his daughter ment an ideal one the Northwest Trust Company will redeem the certificates on demand.

Good For Small Investor Jim Hill's idea in promoting such scheme is two-fold. His main purpos was to make it possible for the small investor and workingman to secure ron-clad investments at good rates of interest. At the same time he believes that St. Paul will be able to finance its own public improvements, and as a re- grown worse, and becoming alarmed the sult the city's progress will be by leaps and bounds While the first issue was sold in lots ranging from $10 to $100, the idea is that in future sales investors may purchase larger lots than $100.

Approved By Experts.

Carmi Thompson, former treasurer of the United States, declared the Hill plan, the greatest ever devised in either America or Europe. St. Paul and Minneapolis bankers have also stamped the proposal with their approval. Just how it will be worked out in London is problematical. London financial men, because of unfamiliarity with the Hill plan, are unwilling to commit themselves. The advertising possibilities for any company that would undertake to finance such a proposition are recognized. The difference in population and in monetary resources between London and the "Saintly City" are pointed out, however, as reasons why the plan

Runaway Caught After Narrowly Many Government Bills To Be Sir George Ross, in a Masterly Address, Turns the Tables on Mr. Borden by Urging Him to Make Good His Pledge.

> Urges Right of Canadian Electors to Give Their Judgment On Question of Such Moment to Canada and the Empire.

Ottawa, May 27 .- On motion of Sir George W. Ross, seconded by Hon. Hewitt Bostock, the Senate this afternoon decided that the House is not justified in giving its assent to the navy bill until the proposal has been submitted to the electors of Canada.

In a memorable speech, Sir George went fully into the question, and emphasized the importance of allowing the people to settle a matter of such moment not only to them but to the future of the Empire.

In the forcible manner which has won for him the title of the "silver-tongued orator," he brought Premier Borden face to face with his own challenge to go to the people if the Senate turned down the bill, and invited him to make good his pledge.

In a telling manner he showed how the Borden proposals have already caused needless friction, and urged that they would cause more if proceeded with without the people having a chance to express their views.

Sir George's speech was a masterly one, delivered with all his tawa and Port Arthur, amounting to dramatic earnestness, and filled with the highest imperial ideas.

TROUBLED WITH KIDNEYS COULD NOT SWEEP FLOOR.

It is hard for a woman to look after her household duties when she is suffering from a weak and aching back, for no roman can be strong and well when the kidneys are out of order.

The weak, lame and aching back comes from sick kidneys and should be attended to at once so as to avoid years of suffering from the kidney trouble which is sure to follow if the back is neglected.

On the first sign of a pain in the back Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go right to the seat of the trouble. Mrs. Joseph Throop, Upper Point De Butte, N.B., writes:—"I cannot speak too well of Doan's Kidney Pills. For two years I was so tired, life was a burden and I got up more tired than when I went o bed, and my back was so lame I could hardly straighten up. I took different kinds of medicine, but none of them did me any good until a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and to-day I don't know what it is to be tired and my lame back is all gone. I can recommend them to any person suffering with lame back and that terrible Reford Boufard Was Unable to Swim -Six Others in Peril.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, May 27.—Reford Bouford, of Amherstburg, was drowned, and four other men, a woman and a little girl narrowly escaped a similar fate when the sand barge Tolmie, of Walkerville, capsized in Lake St. Clair, two and one-half miles north of Windmill Point, last night.

The Brooks and Tolmie were bound down with sand. A heavy sea was running and the Tolmie sprang a from one side, and the boat started to keel over, finally upsetting. As it went over, Boufard leaped into the lake and was not seen again. James Schroll, one of the crew, had his wife and 2½-year-old daughter, Lieda, aboard. Schroll grasped the child as the Tolmie lurched, and he managed to climb on the craft's side. Mrs. Schroll and two members of the crew, unable to obtain a hold, were hurled into the lake. They wreckage grasped. Mrs. Schroll in the water until all were picked up. Meanwhile Schroll, the child and the other men were clinging to the slippery bottom of the washing over Tolmie, with waves

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, MAY 28. AN IMPORTANT SPEECH

Sir George Ross is the same fucid, 'logical and fervid speaker as of old, to read at least. There is also all the long-known shrewdness in the brilliant and perhaps epoch-making utterance which has apparently sounded the death knell of the contribution bill in Adroitly, Sir George made Mr. Borden his own guarantor, and then instantly and incisively put the Government on the defensive in respect of loyalty, "He says I am a good imperialist, he stands convicted by his own mouth, he admits that his policy is going to cause at least friction between Canada and the Empire; he is the separatist." There is a trenchant and deadly vehemence in the whole manner of Sir George's attack in this part of his speech. Sitting there before a old and prophetic, he pointed the finger land is favorable to the Conservative and bargained for certain pieces of sil- extreme Radical journals in England. ver and engineered for himself this This might barely have been said o something rotten somewhere else.

Another example of the debater' of the bill's uselessness. "Under the friends of Mr. Borden's ideas. Naval Service Act of 1910, still unredon't you see, that act calls for Cana- frid Laurier and Sir George Ross. dian men, which the Nationalists in Mr Borden's tent forbid.

It was quite obviously open to Sir to threaten the Senate. And there is Laurier and Borden measures. The Britain, former was based squarely upon a unanimous resolution of the House of Commons for a Canadian navy; the latter has engendered bitter party strife from Atlantic to Pacific, bids fair to make a cleavage in the Empire itself, and it is very doubtful whether it has the approval of a majority in Canada, no mandate having been given for it. Again, Sir George takes up Mr. Borden's own challenge. He declared that the would appeal to the country if blocked by Parliament. Let him do it then, let him find out whether the country likes his trucking with the Nationalists, is Sir George's answer.

PASSED BY.

The Government has at last filled the Ontario vacancies in the Senate They have been open for some time, and doubtless Mr. Borden had some the numerous candidates. But an "emergency" occurred. It was necessary to make as good a showing for the naval bill as possible, and the vacant places had to be filled.

With regard to the fitness of choice, and we presume can be depended on to vote right, which is the main consideration from the Government's point of view. The interesting feature of the case is not who has been appointed, but who has been left out. Where is the representative from London? The major's friends have been hinting that he had a promise of one of the vacancies. No one here would have objected if the promise had been fulfilled. Liberals as well as Conservatives would have been very well satisfied. London had one worthy Conservative senator in the person of the late financial shares were all that a citizen Sir John Carling. If a Conservative has in his country. Another, Lord was to take his place, Major Beattie Hugh Cecil, holds that votes should would have suited us very well. And it be apportioned to the degree of a

Is it because they consider London Imagine Lord Hugh Cecil and such such a safe seat that it does not mat- people setting examinations and giv not be safe.

Then what about Hamilton? No one from that city has a place in the Upper Chamber, and the Spectator has been urging the name of Mr. Barker, an old member of the Commons, and one of the able men of the party. Is Hamilton safe enough to be ignored? Then there is that old imperial warhorse, Col. McNeil, of Wiarton. His friends have been pressing his claims. And he certainly had far better claims than Mr. Donnelly, who is not known outside of his own riding.

And our journalistic brethren, where are they? Bro. Dingman, of Stratford, and the editor of the St. Thomas Times, to say nothing of others. It had been suggested that in filling the vacancies an editor should be appointed. And it would have been all right if the suggestion had been acted on. The Conservative party owes a great deal to its editors. They could always be depended on. And if the editor of the Toronto News was deserving of a knighthood, why not a representative of the rural press for the Senate? Possibly it was thought that if a city editor was made a knight that ought to satisfy all the journal. istic friends of the Government. Or possibly, it was thought that the heavy bills for advertising that had to be paid by the country made a sufficient reward. Perhaps cash receipts are better than honors; we don't know.

Well, it is none of our business i better men have failed to get the senatorial plums. If the Government is satisfied, and if the rejected applicants are satisfied, we are content.

OPINION IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The Toronto News assures its readcrowded, breathless house, crippled up, ers that official Liberal opinion in Engof accusing truth at the Premier, and Nationalist contribution plan. It deseemed to say: "There is the traitor, precates quoting the London Daily the enemy of my country and mother- News and Leader as hostile, on the land, the man who has clasped hands ground that that paper is "one of the with a ring of pelf-seeking Nationalists least important and least influential of

The so much for Quebec Nationalism." Toronto News does not instance any Reading Sir George's speech one can Liberal papers of Great Britain as have no doubt of the impassioned favoring Mr. Borden's measure. It patriotism which prompted it, and of a might have had the honesty to confess that the Nation, the first Liberal weekly of the United Kingdom, and the skill appears in the clearness with Manchester Guardian, the foremost which Sir George brings out the fact Liberal daily, are neither of them

The News goes on to say: "We know pealed, the Government could do all and that Mr. Borden's policy has the enmuch more than it is now proposed to thusiastic approval of all the British do under the present bill. If there ministers." This assurance almost would not be necessary to meet it. Tortured With Terrible Itching and Burning. Scratched Until Tore Flesh, Lay Awake for Nights at a Time. Used Cuticura Remedies and Found a Cure.

St. Ola, Ontario.-" When I was ten years old I began to be tortured with a terrible itching and burning of the skin, and was told it was eczema. I have had it right along for seven years steady, it getting worse every year. I was affected from head to ankles. It seemed to appear like hives at first, then I would begin to scratch until I tore my flesh. It would always be at its worst at night. I have waked myself up at nights scratching and my fingers would be just stiff and cramped from scratching, so that I would be hardly able to straighten them out. My, how I have suffered! My face and whole body would be just a mass of blotches red as fire and after having soap and water on my face then I would begin a time when mye ema was at its worst.

"I would be tortured for months at a time. I was getting not only disheartened, for nothing helped, but completely disfigured also, but dame fortune smiled upon me one day in the summer of 1910 and laid before my eyes an advertisement of Cuticura Remedies. I used them according to directions and after a few applications I began to feel and see relief ahead. It is nearly six months since I first began and I can truthfully say I've found a cure." New Camera Takes Finished Pictures In Two Minutes.

Mr. Edmond F. Stratton, of New York city, has invented a camera that takes and completes pictures ready to see in two minutes. It does away the expense of buying films or plates having them developed and pictures printed by a photographer. The camera has a fixed focus lens and there is no delicate focusing mechanism to get out of order or for you to learn to op.

Gordon camera, is being manufactured by the Gordon Camera Company, of York. As they are desirous making it known in every locality they are making a special offer to our readers. For a limited time they will sell models A, B and C at half-price. The regular price of model A, which takes pictures 2½ x3½ inches, is $5, but it vill cost our readers only $2,50. Model B (regular price $10), which takes pictures 3 1/4 x 5 1/2 inches, will cost you $5, while model C (regular price $15) which takes both sizes, will cost only $7.50. Whichever one you order, inclose 90 cents additional to cover express charges, sensitized cards and de.

The sensitized cards are wrapped for daylight loading, and the powders make the developing solution to be put into the developing tank, which is inside the camera. Model A is 5x812x9 inches in size and weighs 2 "pounds 4 ounces. Model B, 6x9x10 inches, weight 2 pounds 14 ounces. Model C, 6x9x10 inches, weight 3 pounds 2 ounces. The cost of taking pictures with the Gordon camera is almost nothing in comparison to all other cameras. Extra sensitized cards (2½x3½) can be bought for 1½ cents each, (3¼x5½ for 3 cents), and 10 cents' worth of developer will develop over 40 pictures. The Gordon Company sells flashlight lamps for 80 cents, which will enable you to take pictures at night in your own parlor, or out of doors.

The operation of this camera is so simple that any little boy or girl can easily take pictures with it after reading the directions sent with each one as the Gordon Company will ship to you from their Canadian factory, which is near Toronto. All orders and letters, however, must be sent to their office, which is at 1926 Stuyvesant dering a camera under this special offer be sure to mention that you are

Black Barrier Bars Way of White Hopes to Championship

[Canadian Press.] San Francisco, May 28.—Hugh McIntosh, retired fight promoter, of Australia has arrived here from the antipodes with news that Sam Langford, the colored light heavyweight, may be expected to follow on next steamer.

"Langford, McVey and Jeannette," he said. "stand as a black barrier against all the white heavies in sight. The only hope of a white champion is to pick out the likeliest candidate in sight and train him for a couple of years. Experi-ence counts for a great deal in the ring, and the three negroes I have named have been in the game for from ten to fifteen years. They know too much for any of the inexperienced white men. "As for Jack Johnston," he continued, "he is definitely out of it, whatever the outcome of his legal difficulties. "Very likely by the time a dangerous white man is developed, Langford, Mc-Vey and Jeannette will have outlived their fighting days. As things look now that seems the likeliest path by which

Makes Rheumatism Promptly Disappear

Crippled-Up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of Croxone Are Taken.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs he misery.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and rritate and cause rheumatism, and leans out and strengthens the stoppedup, inactive kidneys, so they can filter

"I-I don't know. I left everything in you at your word, how can a marriage bethe hands of Monsieur de Courtois." A very real and active doubt of the Frenchman's good faith was beginning to peep up in Curtis's mind. Rather to account for the thoughtful lines on his forehead than for any reason connected with the license, he took that document from the table, where it had lain since he produced it and affected to avanine it judiduced it, and affected to examine it judiciously. Therefore, he was really surprised when he found an indorsement on the back which read: "Issued in duplicate. This license is not available if the original has been used."

"Given a license and a comparatively small sum of money, New York abounds "Oh!" he said, and the monosyllable might mean much or little.
"What have you discovered there?" said the girl, rising and coming nearer, to stoop over the table and scrutinize the paper with him.
"The original lights." paper with him.

"The original license certainly seems to have disappeared," said Curtis, who had suddenly become aware that the propinquity of a charming woman was one of the subtle joys of life.

"Ah, me!" signed Lady Hermione,

the subtle joys of life.
"Ah, me!" sighed Lady Hermione, straightening her supple form, and turning slightly aside.
There was a little pause. Curtis, whose enunciation was usually distinguished by its ease and clearness, found some slight difficulty in resuming the conversation. He resolved firmly-that in future he would eashew liqueurs after champagne.

He resolved firmly that in future he would eschew liqueurs after champagne.

"I hate to act the role of inquisitor, Lady Hermione," he said, rather huskily as to the first few words, "but would you mind telling me why you are so opposed to Count Ladislas as a husband?"

"First, because I do not want to marry any man; secondly, because Count Vassilan is a vile person, both in appearance and repute; and thirdly, because my father is only urging this match to serve his own ends. Our unhappy history is so widely known that there is no harm in telling you that my mother and he were separated during many years, and when mamma died three years ago she left all her money to me, absolutely under my his own ends. Our unhappy history is so widely known that there is no harm in telling you that my mother and he were separated during many years, and when mamma died three years ago she left all her money to me, absolutely under my control. I was young, only seventeen, but I managed to retain it, though goodness only knows how, and this horrid Hungarian prince wants it—to help him to regain a throne, he says—but I don't believe him."

"You could not be forced into matrimony," said Curtis, with a slow gravity that was lost on his dejected hearer.

"You cannot have lived in France, or you would not say that," was the bitter answer. "Everyone, everything, was opposed to me. I was a minor, and one posed to me. I was a minor, and one posed to me. rid on my lips, but the man is really a beast," and she stamped an emphatic foot on the floor; Curtis could see the whites circles over the tiny knuckles as her hands clenched in protest. They were such pretty hands, too. He had often smiled at the notion of a man kissing a woman's hand, but it did not strike him now as a specially foolish act.

"Let us forget him," he agreed.

"How can I forget him," he will be here tomorrow. Once my father and he have found me, what am I to do? Die, I suppose! I would rather die than marry Count Vassilan, and again I would rather die than figure in a vulgar brawl, such as the newspapers would take a delight in. My father is well aware of that, and will play on my weakness. B-but—I and will play on my weakness. B-but—may—be able—to defeat them—in anothe

The girl whirled round on him; her eyes were glistening with tears, but her face was radiant. was radiant. 'Do you really mean that?" she cried.

"To you really mean that?" she cried.
"I do."
"Then never let anyone tell me that the age of chivalry has passed."
"I fancy it has just begun," he said, though the jest nearly choked him.
"But why should you do this kind and gracious thing for a girl you have been acquainted with only a brief half-hour? You see, I understand that you are a gentleman—I realize that, although I have plenty of money, I cannot offer to recompense you as I did that poor Jean de Courtois."

"No," he agreed grimly.
"Don't you grasp what this one-sided bargain implies? You are merely to pose as my husband until Count Vassilan leaves me in peace."

"Perhaps. The fact remains that I shall agree to all your terms save one—you, of course, can divorce me at your own pleasure. The procedure is simple in some States of the Union."

For no obvious reason, Lady Hermione blushed. For an instant, indeed, she was somewhat disconcerted, and the vivacity fled from her mobile face.

"Perhaps, Mr. Curtis, I have no right to let you make this sacrifice," she said, a trifle coldly. "It would be different if I could repay you in some way. Another case is that of the British hip Lord Nelson, which was seized on he great lakes by the United States two weeks prior to the outbreak of the war of 1812. The United States courts later decided that the seizure was illegal. In the meantime the United States had sold the ship for $2,000, and the money was paid over to a court. "Quite positive."
"Can you be punished if it is found When the owners of the Lord Nelson got their decision that the seizure was got their decision that the seizure was out?"

"I'll run the risk."

After a fateful pause, which would have been considerably curtailed had Lady Hermione Grandison been vouchsafed the least premonition of events in which the night was still rich, she held out her hand.

"I can only thank you from the depths of my heart, Mr. Curtis," she said. "I must trust someone, and I do trust you most implicitly."

Britain There was no evidence of public approval of it. It introduced a new practice in legislation not sanctions And it removed from the free control of Canada one of her effective elements of national defence.

In obresenting his amendment. George pointed out that he had followed the lines followed by Senator Lougheed, and indorsed by Mr. Borden and Mr. Foster three years ago. Go to the People.

"What should we do now?" asked Sir George, in his eloquent perora-tion. "Find out what the will of the people is, and obey that mandate. The day of small things is past and gone. We are no longer walking timorously along the path of destiny. Our pulse beats stronger and our step is firmer, for the strength of young manhood is in our loins. Not by young shirking from responsibility of man's estate, not by listening to the feeble voice of mediocrity, a not by cloudbursts of patriotic emotion, will Canada be admitted into this family of nations. It is for the statesmen of set the pace for the next generation, as well as for the present and to give the national charac ter an impulse which will fire it with new-born enthusiasm for higher na tional ideas.

Shall Children Be Ashamed?

"Is there anything in this bill to Shall our children of twenty years hence read the history of Canadian maval defence and cover their faces when they discover that it was proposed in the Senate of Canada to place at the disposal of the British admiralty a certain number of modern battleships, but not a single Canadian to man, them? When we joined with the other Dominions to fight for the Empire in South Africa, we did not send empty uniforms. It was not Nelson's ships that won the battle of Trafalgar. Nelson did not say, 'England expects this day that every ship will do its dair; Nelson said, Engand expects this day that every man

"The bill calls for money, not men," exclaimed Sir George, with fine scorn, "for models of steel and iron, not for models of courage and daring. appeals to no man's flesh and blood. It offersano Victoria Crosses for lives risked on the battlefield. Empty as an exploded cartridge, and soulless as its plated side, it arouses no sympathy, no sentiment, no emotion of joy or slory Should a bill like this be mitted for the assent of a royal scion, whose ancestors for many generations honored the British constithe palladium of liberty and self-government?

Our feelings, our judgment, our sense of duty to our country, all combine to ask for further delay in the hope that even at this late hour we may decide to show to the world that the disruptive forces of party warfare have been submerged by the loyalty of a united nation acting for the naval defence of Canada and the Empire." (Prolonged applause.)

"May I adapt the lines in which Tennyson, England's greatest poet aureate, welcomed the Queen mother, when as bride of the Prince of Wales she turned her face towards England, and says: "For Saxon or Dane or forman are we, Teufon or Celt, or whatever we be, we are Britons all in ur love for thee, Britannia'?" (Ap-

We are feeling our vay in a large sense for the first ime how we can best express that atriotism. The line of cleavase beween the two sides appears to be hether, as the bill says, to increase House. pire is a better expression of our loyalty than the permanent policy hich combines the defence of Can-Britain by the creation of a Canadian fleet, serviceable at the same time for the defence of the Empire wherever its integrity may be assailed." Sir George reviewed the origin of the question of naval defence and its development during the last few years.

The first motion for naval defence was made by Hon. George E. Foster in the House of Commons in 1909, in financial burden incident to the suit-Borden, then leader of the Opposition, Plea for Unanimity.

"It would be intolerable," said Sir der the naval service act. e concur unanimously in the pro- gener of not was not team, a day of its own at that statement, sition to which unanimous consent and the present bill was entirely uned the sincerity of that statement. Stood Sponsor. Continuing, Sir George noted that the three men who stood sponsor for that resolution were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Borden and Sr. Foster. He quoted salient extracts from speeches of the two Conservative feaders in support of that resolution. Mr. Borden had said that he was entirely proper line upon which he should we have no money to spend for proceed was the line of having a naval maintenance, and if we have we of opinion in the first place "that the force of our own.

Mr. Borden again had noted that the policy of contribution had not met with the approval of the Australian people; that the policy of contribution would lead to entanglements and friction with the admiralty, and that permanent co-operation could be only along the lines of a constitutional and autonomous development of the Dominion. Mr. Foster has emphasized the fact that a policy of contribution was not consonant with Canadian national pride, and would leave no

The opinions and policy then enunciated, said Sir George, suited him ex-They suited both sides of the They suited Canada as a he effective naval forces of the Em- whole. Out of them grew the naval service act of 1910.

For that act the present Government was now responsible, since it ada and of her commercial routes to had not repealed it or amended Under that act the Government could do all and much more than it was now proposed to do under the present bill. Thirty-five millions, or three times that amount, could be voted by Parliament for increasing the effective naval forces of the Empire.

Many Objections.

The first objection he had to the present bill was on constitutional grounds. Under the British North America act the Parliament of Canida was intrusted with defence. The present bill sought to put under the control of another Government the noneys that the Canadian Parliament voted for defence purposes. Thus the exclusive jurisdiction conferred by the British North America act was being surrendered in part at least. George did not believe that the Government had any authority to surrender any part of that power, or to delegate it to another body. Moreover, he did not believe that the British Government had any constitutional authority for taking a power to which it had no right.

"I am not going," he said, "to be supercilious in discussing the question of responsible government. There may be emergencies, when we have to yield a little here and there. Indeed, if would perhaps forego, if there were a no emergency in this case, so that we has asserted itself. Let us begin, are not required to give way or surrender any of our constitutional

Instant Postum

Is in thousands of homes where health is valued.

Former tea and coffee users who have felt the pinch of indigestion, headache, heart disturbance, nervous irritation, etc., have written by the score, telling of remarkable benefits following the change from tea and coffee to Instant Postum. A level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate, and have it served that way in "Thanks for the sample of Instant Postum sent me. I had been drinking coffee for a long time and thought it would be difficult to give it up, but I was mistaken. "While I was drinking coffee I always felt exhausted and I weighed but 112 pounds. After using Instant Postum I soon recovered and now am as healthy as any person can be. I now weigh 120 pounds, and am steadily gaining in weight." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Conditions in China.

Mr. Scott spent a considerable amount of time in studying conditions in China, and not only studied the missions of the Canadian church, but also of other countries and denominations. The visit to Honan, the field where Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie has labored so long, was to a place where the traveller found much interest. The conditions in China are gradually settling down and notwithstanding the many difficulties of the great upheaval there will be built a republic which will be of a stable character.

Mr. Scott was very much pleased with the progress of the work in Formosa and he had a rare opportunity with the progress of the work in Fornosa, and he had a rare opportunity of studying at first hand the wonderful work which was started by Dr. Heorge L. Mackay.

Holds the Record for "Appearances"

In Court Seventeen Times in Eight Months and Paid $198 in Fines.

Henry Sterling has a record. No one nows it better than himself. He has it down pat. With perfect accuracy he can tell you how many times he has appeared in the prisoners' dock in poce court for the past eight months. Today he reeled it on for Magistrate J. . Judd with the rapidity of an express "Been - here-17-times-in-the-past-8nonths - paid-$198-in-fines-here-threeimes-in-one-week," was the burden of his recital when the magistrate asked him how many times he had been beore him lately. Henry appeared company with another on a drunk and disorderly charge that grew out of the fracas in the Victoria Cafe last Friday night. Officer Russell Fulcher nd John McCaffrey also figured in the said fracas, together with John Wing, one of the chop-sucy-serving Celestials. No evidence was produced that Henry was really disorderly, although it was proved he was drunk in spite of his protestations to the contrary. He got by with a suspended sentence, and the promise of a place on the Indian list when he makes his 19th appearance.

REAL THRILLS EXPECTS LITTLE BEHIND SCENES

CASE MAY GO TO COURT

The Stanley Stock Company is not keyhole while rehearsal was proceeding Monday morning, one would have thought that the famous character of Thespis was bestowing some choice imprecations upon the property mob. Centre stage stood Arthur Stanley (leading man) and David Davies (character parts). They looked one another full in the eye. Each thought himself the hero of this particular Menitt today cordially welcomed the drama. Each thought the other the villain. They proceeded to elucidate in their choicest stentorians their particular their choicest stentorians the stentori ular opinions of the dramatic abilities of both. The rehearsal was suddenly changed into reality ,and the property man began to take notice. Throbs and Thrills.

Mr. Davles, so it appeared, had given two weeks' notice that he would not longer be enrolled on the company payroll. Mr. Stanley is said to have informed him that he would not be required for the two weeks and that he could at once proceed to put out the "resting" sign. Mr. Davies objected to this, stating that the terms of the contract demanded two weeks' notice. Mr. Stanley held to his position. Enter the Heroine.

Miss Atlen, who in private life is Mrs. Stonley, ond who on the stoge does the emotional leads, came to the assistance of her husband, and for a time there were prospects of a thrilling climax. But just when it seemed as if there was to be a completion to this drama of real life, the actors decided that they had need of all their fine passion and rhetorical display, and called it off.

Mr. Davies saw a firm of lawyers, and it is understood that if his claim for two weeks' salary is not met he will make an effort to attach the box office receipts. He has been taking the "old ! man" parts in the company's produc-

Great Collection City Might Have

Dr. Woolverton Has Beautiful Lot of Mineral Specimens.

What is probably the finest collection of minerals and geological specio an Advertiser reporter on Monday vening by Dr. Solon Woolverton, The ollection embraces geological, mineralogical specimens, and specimens array of stamps, coins and curios from all parts of the world, gathered years of painstaking work. Dr. Woolverton has been asked to sell his colection to a gentleman in Calgary who is donating a museum to that city. He would prefer to have his collection tay in London if the citizens would poost the plan to have a museum here. 'he collection, which is one of the argest ever seen in private hands, would be a welcome addition to the ducational facilities of the city. Dr. Woolverton's private museum covers the top floor of the house and should have more room than it has at present. If properly arranged and classified the collection would cover bout 1,000 feet of floor space. Some of the most perfect specimens of corals and other sea animals are to be found here. There is also a fine ellection of Indian arrowheads, grindstones, pottery, carving and weapons. Many curios from China, Japan, and South America, Malay rises and swords of every descripion. The mineral collection includes netals in the ore form and specimens from all parts of Canada and the United States. The doctor also has head of an extinct animal perfectly ossified many centuries ago.

There was considerable trouble some years ago in Sydney between the High Church party and the Low Church, the leader of the High Church party being the Rev. W. I. Carr Smith, of St. James' Church, who is now in England. There were some strenuous times in the synod meetings at Sydney, and the Mr. Alex. A. Cameron, of Fairmount, archbishop, Dr. Saumarez Smith, who was a most tactful man, did a great deal to smooth the troubled waters. The difficulties that beset the late archbishop are now a thing of the past, and the present metropolitan, with his wide breadth of things, is liked by all the parties.
