PROPOSE BOARD CONTROL RACING IN THE DOMINION

Question of Commission Will Be Brought Up in Senate.

COMPLETE POWER
Would Take Ten Per Cent From All Pools—Clubs Reserve Expenses.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.
Montreal, June 8.—The appointment of a Dominion racing commission will, it is now reported, be proposed in the senate, in the near future. A special committee, of which the chairman is Mr. Pardee, is now looking into the racing situation in connection with the amendment to the criminal code, recently introduced by Hon. Smeaton White, and it is understood that a solution has been suggested by the appointment of a Canadian racing commission to take complete control of the racing game in all parts of Canada.

The commissioners would be appointed by the Dominion Parliament, two from Quebec, two from Ontario, and from each of the other provinces where racing under the pari-mutuel system takes place. They would also regulate the admission prices, and pari-mutuel take-off, supervise the distribution of purses and exercise control over all entries.

It is proposed, moreover, that the present Rutherford schedule be discarded, and that the commission take ten per cent from all pools, with the arrangement that the clubs reserve a fair amount for operating expenses, and that the balance be turned over to the provinces for application to charitable or horsebreeding purposes.

The matter will come up in the senate in the near future, and it is said to have been introduced by practically all the senators, and by many members of the Commons.

RESTORES BABY'S LIFE BY USING ADRENALIN
Child Born Dead Is Suddenly Revived When Drug Is Injected.

Special to The Advertiser.
Fall River, Mass., June 8.—Adrenaline, recent addition to medical science, restored to life an infant born dead here early yesterday morning. The infant was born to Mrs. Francis Mellock, 149 George street, at the Union Hospital. Doctors at the birth declared that there was not a spark of life in the baby.

Adrenalin was injected near the heart and for two hours Dr. J. E. Cross of Cranston, R. I., worked over the body. In time his efforts brought results. A few spasmodic heart beats, a flutter, and then regular action. The infant is doing well today, and physicians believe it will continue to live.

According to Dr. Cross, the Mellock infant is the third that he has successfully used adrenalin for in restoring to life.

LONDON WOMAN'S HUSBAND ELOPES WITH YOUNG GIRL

Mrs. Herbert Eldredge, Formerly of This City, Abandons Hope of His Return.

TEN MONTHS ELAPSE
Sixteen-Year-Old Maid Steals Love of Man Thirty Years Senior.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ayr, Mass., June 8.—Abandoning hope after nearly ten months of waiting for some word of her husband and Miss Bertha Frazee, 16-year-old roton high school girl, with whom he is believed to have eloped, Mrs. C. Herbert Eldredge has quit her home here, and leaves today for her home at London, Ontario.

With her is her 11-year-old son, Lorenzo, more puzzled than any as to what became of his father, who walked out of his home last August, leaving his family and a $10,000-a-year milk business behind. About the same time that Eldredge, who is 46 years of age, left his home, Bertha Frazee, Groton school girl, packed her best gingham dresses and likewise vanished. The girl's mother, like Mrs. Eldredge, has received no news.

GOES OFF WITH MAN.
A few days after the girl had vanished, police learned she had gone with the wealthy milk man, who is 30 years her senior, her mother received a postcard, purporting to come from the girl. It was mailed in Toronto, Ontario. The Groton police visited Toronto and Montreal, but no trace of Eldredge or Miss Frazee, who was about to become a mother, was found. That was last August.

Eldredge had confessed to his wife that he loved the little school girl. That day Eldredge went to meet Miss Frazee and tell her of his wife's agreement to a divorce. Neither have been seen since.

WARRANTS FOR ARREST.
Warrants for the arrest of Eldredge on a charge of seduction and for Miss Frazee are in the hands of the police of Groton after months of weary search. Once a hurried trip by the police to Toronto was made after a colored train porter said he had recognized Miss Frazee living alone and friendless in a shack on the outskirts of that city. The tale was false.

Meaning the mother of the girl had carried on a search for her. With the new interest in the case, investigators today contemplated that Miss Frazee and Eldredge will be found and returned.

BEAT BECK AND SAVE HYDRO" SAYS WENIGE

Children By Thousands At London City School Picnic

LIBERAL PARTY WILL BATTLE TO SAVE HYDRO FROM POLITICS

Domination of Strong Candidate For City To Protect People's Rights.

JUST DEFEAT BECK

London's Interests Must Not Be Handed Over to Tory Political Machine.

The battle is on in deadly earnest. The Liberals of London are determined to the fact that they have become the dominating factor in the four-cornered contest.

With the entrance of U. A. Buchner into the provincial arena last night as the Liberal standard-bearer, the Liberals of London are rejoicing in the knowledge that once again the party is in a position to present a solid front to the enemies of hydro and all other public-owned enterprises—notably those who lay in waiting behind Sir Adam Beck at Tory headquarters.

Sir Adam Beck must be defeated at this election if public ownership is to survive as the success that non-partisan people of this province have made it—whether they be Liberal, Conservative or otherwise.

There are Conservatives who declare that hydro shall not be sacrificed for the selfish sordid interests of a little clique that has handed it. If together behind Howard Ferguson, the leader of the Conservative party, and represented in London by Cameron Wilson, Ald. William Wilson and companions at the Tory hotel.

Sir Adam must be defeated in the election if hydro shall survive. Mayor Wenige declares today in a solemn warning to the good people of this city, and he leaves it to their judgment to act accordingly.

The Tories for the race are now in the hands of the judges. Dr. Hugh A. Stevenson is going to the electorate as the only candidate in Ontario who has come into the open with a straight and light wine platform, and challenges Sir Adam to enunciate O. T. A. stand.

NEW CARS OBTAINED BY STREET RAILWAY

Five Double Truck Trolleys Expected To Augment Present System.

The London street railway corporation is adding to its rolling stock. The Advertiser was informed today that new cars, of the double-truck type, are expected in the city in a few weeks or so. It is stated that representatives of the local transportation lines are in Cleveland making arrangements for transferring the cars to the city.

The cars are of the latest double-truck type, such as were in use in Cleveland before the street railway authorities of that city introduced the New York City surface lines. They have been in service but a year, and are far superior to any car in use in London. The addition of these cars will naturally improve the local service substantially. Several weeks ago the company proposed to purchase these cars upon the condition that the council would grant it permission to convert fifteen of their present public-truck cars into one-man cars.

This council declined to do, and the company stated it would be unable to carry out its intentions in respect. Since that time, however, President Charles Currie visited the city and an agreement was made whereby the company would undertake all paving enterprises as directed by the city, upon the condition that the council would grant it permission to convert fifteen of their present public-truck cars into one-man cars.

DECLARES MOTOR THEFTS ARE NOW ON THE WANE

Motor stealing is on the wane, according to Inspector of Detectives Nickle. Inspector Nickle told The Advertiser this morning that fewer and fewer cars are being stolen every year, the number taken in this city since the beginning of the year being only a small fraction of the number in previous years. He said that the reason for this is that the part of those who are caught is made a practice of this, is sentences meted out to them. He said that all cases now fall sentence of some

TO PROTECT PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

This is Urban A. Buchner, who was unanimously chosen as provincial candidate by the Liberals of London in open convention last night. Mr. Buchner declared his willingness to fight in order to protect public ownership of the people's hydro from being handed over to the manipulations of Howard Ferguson and his followers, through the election of Sir Adam Beck as a Tory candidate. Mr. Buchner is out to fight for fair play for the people of London and the safeguarding of those interests and reforms which the people of Ontario hold dear.

WHY WENIGE BELIEVES BECK MUST BE BEATEN

Sir Adam Beck, as Tory candidate in London, should not be endorsed by the people, declared Mayor Wenige today.

In explanation of the stand which he took at the Liberal convention last night to protect the people's rights in public ownership, Mayor Wenige makes the following clear-cut statement:

"Sir Adam Beck has no business mixing in party politics because he is a paid servant of the government.

"This means, of course, that he is an employee of the people of all, any or no political affiliation—Liberal, Conservative, Labor, and so forth.

"Sir Adam Beck's entrance into the local field has brought hydro into politics beyond all shadow of a doubt, and he would only be recognizing his duty to the people of this province, of all classes, if he resigned immediately from his seat as chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

"There is still another point to be carefully considered by the people of this city before they mark their ballots, June 25 next. They should satisfy themselves that they have had at all times such information of the internal management of their public utilities as they would consider imperative.

"The pay list episode and controversy, which has raged since the first of the year and was only brought to an abrupt termination by Sir Adam's entrance into the political arena, has prompted me to think that it would not be unreasonable to suppose that the same thing could happen, if it has not happened already, with respect to our provincial utilities; notably the vast hydro undertakings at Niagara Falls.

"We'll suppose that at some future time the people demanded, as they have in London this year, certain information about their own hydro plants. What would happen? Would they receive it without hesitation on the part of Sir Adam and his political advisers?

"The time for autocracy in this country has long since passed. We ask for, and shall have, democratic administration, and we do not want a return to the day when the citizens of this country who pay the bills were ordered to wipe their feet carefully on the political door-mat before they could be granted the privilege of entering the offices of their own employees. The time for that has passed. This is and must be kept as a democratic province, in a true democratic country."

Miss Marion Beck Captures Consolation Championship From Miss Thompson.

POPULAR WINNER

Miss Audrey Farncomb Takes Her Game—Mrs. Williams Defeats Miss Phin.

Canadian Press Despatch. Brantford, June 8.—The players in the finals of the seven flights that were played this morning encountered the worse weather conditions of the week, a cold, raw wind from the north putting them up a severe handicap. Despite this some very good golf was turned in. Miss Marion Beck won the championship consolation from Miss Dorothy Thompson, 2 and 1.

Miss Beck played great golf for the first six holes, having the first and winning the next five. Five holes down after only six handicap played was enough to put most players off their game, but Miss Thompson staged a great upshot fight, winning both the seventh and ninth and halving the eighth, made the turn only three in arrears. She won the tenth and eleventh and halved the twelfth. Miss Beck took the thirteenth, but Miss Thompson squared the match by winning the next two. On the sixteenth Miss Thompson found the gully and Miss Beck won. On the next hole trouble still followed Miss Thompson and she drove out of bounds. Miss Beck winning the hole and the match. Miss Beck made a birdie on the sixteenth.

Mrs. Henderson Wins. Mrs. Henderson of Rosedale was given a great argument by Miss Marion Beck. Cockshut of Toronto in the first consolation for the first nine holes, but after that the more experienced player drew away and won. 4 and 3. Miss Cockshut was one up at the eighth, but they made the turn on even terms. Mrs. Henderson continued her streak of winning golf and won the 12th, 13th and 14th, and ended the match with a birdie 5 at the fifteenth.

Miss Louis MacDonald of Toronto won the third consolation final from Miss L. Jackson of Paris, 6 to 5. The winner had greater length in her drives, and also was better playing up to the pin. She made the turn 2 up, and won the first four holes of the homecoming play to end the match on the thirteenth.

In the second consolation, Mrs. W. Forsyth of Lakeview won from Mrs. Margaret Findlay of Lambton, 3 and 2, after being 2 up at the ninth.

Londoner Wins. One of the most popular victories of the day was that of Miss Audrey Farncomb of London in the first consolation (Beaten eight). She is the youngest and smallest player in the tournament, and despite her lack of experience, this being her first tournament, she played good golf. Her opponent, Mrs. Dalton Davies of Toronto, was also good, and while the lead was never greater than one, Mrs. Davies always won the odd hole. Mrs. Davies made the turn one up, and halved the next three, but Miss Farncomb squared the match at the 13th, and won by winning the fourteenth and seventeenth and halving the intervening holes. Miss Farncomb laid her opponents seven stymies, two on one hole.

London players continued their winning ways when Mrs. L. Williams (Rosedale) defeated Miss M. Cockshut (Toronto) 4 and 3. First consolation—Beaten eight—Miss A. Farncomb (London) defeated Mrs. Dalton Davies (Toronto) 2 and 1.

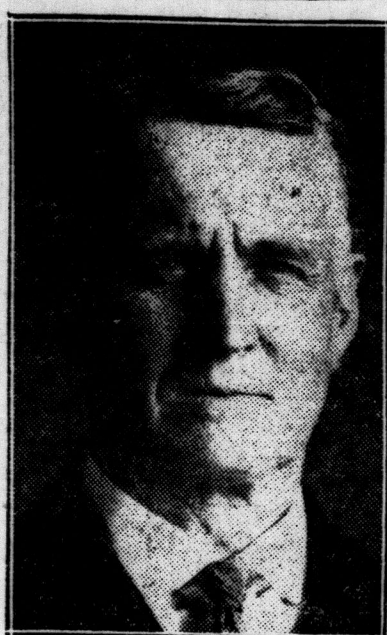

Second consolation—Mrs. W. Forsyth (Lakeview) defeated Miss M. Findlay (Lambton) 3 and 2. Third consolation—Miss L. MacDonald (Toronto) defeated Miss L. Jackson (Paris) 6 and 5. Fourth consolation—Mrs. E. McCoughy (Glendale) defeated Mrs. D. W. Brown (Simcoe) 7 and 5. Fifth consolation—Mrs. E. L. Williams (London) defeated Miss Vera Phin (Hamilton) 5 and 3.

LONE VAGRANT APPEARS, REMANDED FOR WEEK

One lone vagrant greeted Magistrate Graydon this morning in court opened, and after a few minutes conversation the court remanded him to jail for a week in order that he might get in touch with an uncle at Embro.

John McDonald was the culprit's name, and he was picked up at the corner of York and Wellington at 5:15 this morning. He stated that he had no name but that his uncle would look after him.

Several breaches of the motor vehicles act were also dealt with.

DECLINED NOMINATION. Andrew Tobson, president of the London Liberal Association, who by order of his physician was forced to decline the Liberal nomination at last evening's convention.

OAKS STAKES WON THIS AFTERNOON BY BRUNHYLDA

Sir Edward Hulton's Shrove Is Second in Great Turf Classic.

THRILLING RACE

Leader Crosses Tape Neck Ahead of Second—Third Head Behind.

Associated Press Despatch. Epworth Downs, June 8.—Brunhylda, by Siedfast out of Valkyrie, owned by Vicomte De Fontenay, won the Oaks Stakes, the classic event for 3-year-old fillies run here today.

Sir Edward Hulton's Shrove was second, and H. H. Agz Kahan's Teresina was third. Twelve horses ran.

The betting on the winner was 10 to 1 against; on Shrove 100 to 7 against and on Teresina 7 to 1 against. Brunhylda won by a neck, and Teresina was only a head behind Shrove.

Lady Torrington's Polydora, with Steve Donoghue, the winning Derby jockey, up, was unplaced.

This was the 141st renewal of the Oaks Stakes of £12,000 with extras, run over a course of about one mile and a half.

Seldom has there been a more thrilling finish to a race run on the flat. Twelve horses, the smallest field since 1912, started.

The Oaks is the fourth of the five classics for 3-year-olds, and like the one thousand guineas at Newmarket, it is confined to fillies alone. It is run over the Derby course of a little better than a mile and a half.

DENIES RUM-RUNNERS ACTIVE ON COUNTY ROADS

All this talk of rum runners making nightly drives through the county at high rates of speed is much exaggerated, according to License Inspector Bolton, who a few days ago under took to visit several residents and find out their views on the matter.

He stated that while there are some persons running liquor over the county roads, there are not nearly so many as popular opinion believes. Most of the reports are merely hearsay and on investigation prove to be untrue.

LONDON RECEIVES GOOD PRICE FOR ITS DEBENTURES

City Treasurer Gets 97.33 For $180,000 Western Fair Securities.

COMPETITION KEEN

Municipal Bankers Offer Highest Figure of Fifteen Tenders.

Another safe indication of London's superior place in the financial world was evidenced today by the price secured by City Treasurer James Bell for the $180,000 Western Fair debentures—97.33—from the Municipal Bankers' Corporation of Toronto.

No less than fifteen financial concerns tendered, which is further proof of the city treasurer points out, that they are all only too anxious to purchase City of London securities.

Mr. Bell and Mayor Wenige are both particularly impressed with the excellent tenders, which were opened this morning by the treasurer in the presence of representatives of the several firms bidding.

The treasurer is well pleased with the transaction, pointing out that the price secured is 10 cents less than a 3 1/2 basis.

Following is a complete list of the other firms and their tenders: Aemilius Jarvis & Co., London, 96.45; S. Ames & Co., 96.44; Nesbitt Thomson & Co., 96.31; Wood, Gundy & Co., 95.28; Stewart Scully & Co., 95.93; Dymott, Anderson & Co., 96.76; Bell, Gounilock & Co., 96.45; McLeod, Young & Co., 96.17; Murray & Co., 97.03; C. ENTER CLAIM FOR COST OF MOTHER'S FUNERAL Unusual Case Aired Before Judge Macbeth This Morning.

One of the most unusual cases ever heard in the local county court was opened this morning when Judge Macbeth heard the claims of Jane Clark against Frances George Clark for the funeral expenses of their mother, Mrs. Margaret Clark.

The plaintiff claimed that the defendant, her brother, had in a lease agreed to be responsible for the funeral expenses of the mother. The defendant, while not disagreeing with this claim, that the expenses were too high, ($600) and that he had never been consulted as to the form of burial or any of the other incidents. When the bill had been presented to him he refused payment.

Evidence was brought forward to show that Mr. Clark had not been on friendly terms with his parent and that he had at one time been bound over to keep the peace with her.

Miss Jane Clark, giving evidence, said that her mother had first expressed a wish to be buried in a brick vault but that later on she had wished for a steel one. When she had died, all the members of the family had been consulted, but although living but a few miles distant, the notification of the death was left to be delivered to Mr. Clark by a country doctor. The reason for this was that following a heavy storm telephone wires were down. Mr. Clark had attended the church service and interment.

Thomas Coleridge is acting for the plaintiff and Gladman and Stanbury for the defendant. The case is continuing this afternoon.

DAMAGES FOR PLAINTIFF.

Damages totaling $328 were awarded Forest Durbin in his case against Leo La Fortune, after the jury had been out for an hour this morning. The damages were made up as follows: Damages to car of Durbin, $147; Adam Finch, doctor's bill for attendance to Mrs. Madeline Finch, $81; Mrs. Madeline Finch, injuries received in accident, $100. The costs were also assessed against the defendant. J. M. McEvoy K.C. for the plaintiffs, and Menzies & Cluff for La Fortune.

9,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN CAPTURED SPRINGBANK IN ANNUAL CITY PICNIC

Happy Youngsters Throng to London's Pleasure Resort For Their Gala Day—Weather Cold But No One Cared, For Blood Was Warm.

RESULTS OF SCHOOL RACES TO NOON

Young blood is warm and young hearts beat fast, so what is a keen east wind or a few black clouds when there is a picnic in view? The London kiddies are all healthy little people, and today being their picnic, nothing daunts them. Early this morning, long before the break of dawn, they rivalled the birds in the daylight saving idea, and by the time the first street car was ready at 8:50 they had lived a whole week of picnic days in happy anticipation of the time they were going to have at Springbank. It is estimated 9,000 children were in attendance.

The rumble of the cars filled the city from the time when the busy man is having breakfast, along to noon, and down at the park they were pouring their laughing and singing freight over the green fields in a continuous stream. In spite of the excitement and the determination of all the small boys to see how easy it was for anyone to travel on London's street cars simply by hanging on to some projecting bar as handle with one hand, there were no accidents, and the long record of the company of taking the youngsters down to the annual picnic without a single accident was maintained unblemished.

Did they chant their school war cries in every key in the musical world? Did they roar and cheer every time they passed a school waiting at a corner for their respective car? The conductors on the cars, surely chosen for their wonderful good nature and their patience with the children, could hardly make themselves heard, but they manfully went around taking tickets, even though they had to wait once in a while for some budding Caruso had finished his solo. Yes, they started well, if ever any picnic was blessed with the energy of enthusiastic school children, the laughter of absolute happiness, this was one.

Packagers, Rolls Royces, Studebakers, away with them; youth needs no other entertainment than its own strong and sturdy faith. Some of the cars were rather elderly, but it mattered nothing to the tough boys, who pulled them down to the corner of the citizens of tomorrow. Springbank smiled gladly at the new arrivals; the grass had dried up well, and down by the river the wind seemed much softer and warmer.

A Minor Accident. Only one minor accident marred the forenoon. A ten-year-old girl was seized with convulsions for a few minutes, but after being taken into the Red Cross tent and being attended to by the nurses she was able to go back to her school again. Two small boys were faced with a tremendous problem. Rover, their dog, had persisted in coming down with them and they wanted to send him back in case he got lost. So they pulled him down to a returning car and offered him to the conductor. "Please take him home for us. Just put him off at Dundas and Richmond and he'll go home himself." "Does he want a transfer?" asked the lord of the nicker bin. "Oh yes, ain't you smart, sure he wants a transfer, but if you put him off Turn to Page 2, Columns 4 and 5.

COUNCIL WILL FIGHT DELINQUENT CONCERNS

Industries Who Refuse Additional School Taxes To Be Sued.

Industries located in the annexed districts of East London will not evade their additional school taxes levied by the 1923 city council without a fight, Mayor Wenige declared today.

"We'll fight them in the regular way," his worship stated. "We'll just have to make a test case of one of them. I don't know which one. It doesn't make any difference for that matter. We just select one at random and ascertain through the courts if necessary whether the city or the industries are in the right."

Questioned as to the "customary procedure" when one fails to pay taxes, City Clerk Bailey explained it is usual to leave the matter in abeyance until the following year, when the delinquent tax is charged against the property. And eventually if it becomes imperative, there is no alternative, but to sell the property and deduct the taxes.

That the controversy will ever reach that stage is extremely doubtful, and while the mayor is determined this money, approximately $20,000, shall not be lost to the city without a fight, he is conferring with City Treasurer Bell and other officials as to the best method to pursue.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1923.

The Issues in This Campaign.

The London Liberals made it plain at their nomination meeting on Thursday evening, when they placed Mr. U. A. Buchner in the field, that they were not fighting against public ownership of hydro in Ontario.

The action of the Liberal convention was the result of the belief that there must be a protest to the attempt to drag public ownership in Ontario into the dangerous position of being the chief political hope of any one party.

Mr. R. L. Brackin, Liberal member of West Kent, stated plainly how public ownership had won out in Ontario when he instanced the fight that had been waged by Liberals and Conservatives together for the principle of public ownership in his own city of Chatham.

That is the atmosphere that has made possible the success of the enterprises with which Sir Adam Beck has been associated, and that is the atmosphere that the Liberals of this province are fighting to maintain.

The Liberals of London are not opposing Sir Adam Beck as a public servant who allows himself to be drawn into politics in London in order that the Conservative party might present a united front here.

They are opposing him because he has taken his position behind Hon. Howard Ferguson, the most spineless exponent of public ownership that the province can bring forth.

Oleo Has Another Innings.

The old oleomargarine question came up in the House of Commons again, when a motion was made to continue permission to make and sell it in Canada.

When it was discussed before representatives of farming and dairying constituencies took a very broad and consistent view on the matter. They wanted to allow oleo in Canada, because as a matter of principle they were against restrictive tariffs.

Oleo is not injurious, but it is not as palatable as butter, nor can it be, so in that sense of the term it is not a competitor.

It is cheaper than butter, and there are families who find it more within the reach of their purse than butter, and these families have every good reason to be considered.

It would be bad business, were a purchaser to ask for oleo, only to be met with the reply that the Dominion government will not let you have it.

Pays No Attention To Facts.

If there is one man in Ontario who is making it hard, and who has made it hard, to administer the O. T. A., that man is Hon. Howard Ferguson.

The method he employs is both cunning and awkward. He has had not one word to say in favor of the O. T. A., during the life of the legislature; he has been critical and whining about its enforcement; he has lent himself to all sorts of reckless comments during the campaign, all with the purpose of bringing the law and its enforcement into as much disrepute as possible.

There is no surer, no meaner, or no more miserable way of killing off a law than by creating the impression in the minds of the people that its enforcement is all wrong and that the men who are entrusted with its direction are disreputable and crooked.

When Mr. Ferguson was in St. Thomas less than a week ago he said:

"Fancy paying a 15-year-old boy to get drunk in order that they might get a conviction. . ."

Again at Stratford:

"Above all things the enforcement of the O. T. A. should be upon a moral basis, but instead of enforcing the act in that manner Hon. Mr. Fergusson has gone into the gutters of immorality to select jailbirds and ex-convicts in the hope that they are the types of citizens who can help to build up the community."

"Gutters of immorality." That is the phrase Hon. Howard Ferguson uses when he tries to bring before his audience a picture of conditions surrounding the enforcement of the O. T. A.

Let us investigate. Of the men employed in the enforcement of the O. T. A., viz., the provincial police force, 84 per cent are men who have been service overseas, for the most part as despatch riders or as officers. We wonder to what extent this loud-mouthed Conservative leader is prepared to come out into the open and name these returned men as having come from the "gutters of immorality."

The cowardly thing about this man's campaign methods is that he is taking charges made in the legislature, tried and investigated by impartial committees there and found untrue and without foundation, and using them as though they had been substantiated.

Mr. T. Herbert Lennox made a whole string of these charges, sanctioned by Mr. Ferguson. The public accounts committee spent 16 days on this matter, and nothing was proved. Mr. Ferguson captained the Lennox charges before the public accounts committee. He knew at that time, and he knows now, that there was no evidence to support the Lennox charges of the employment of boys and immoral women and drunken officers to enforce the law.

Mr. Ferguson is out today spraying his loose talk all over the province. He pays no attention to facts; he slanders returned men on the provincial police force, and is ready to turn somersaults or stand on his head if by so doing he can grab office.

His campaign is one grand orgy of malicious insincerity.

Not An Enthusiastic Welcome.

Perhaps we are too curious and a trifle over-expectant, but we have been watching for the Toronto Mail and Empire, the Conservative paper, to have a leading editorial welcoming Sir Adam Beck into the fold as a public ownership advocate.

On Thursday the Mail and Empire had an editorial about "Canada Not Suing For Reciprocity." That's a nice, round subject to discuss and not very dangerous from the angle of a Conservative paper.

Then came "Passing Up the Combine," more Ottawa politics. Next was "To Make Farming Pay," and some Tory at Ottawa had said the farmers of Canada were losing $200,000,000 yearly by keeping poor cows. Say, that would make a big heap if it were all in nickels and dimes. Well, when a farmer wants to know what to do next to make farming pay all that is necessary is to consult the editorial columns of the Mail and Empire.

Further on comes an editorial on the kind of histories used in the schools. No mention is made of the history the Mail and Empire made itself on the 29th of December, 1922, when it read Sir Adam Beck out of the Conservative party because he grabbed a plank and tried to swim in 1919 when the official Tory scow was full of salt water and ready to sink. Perhaps that shouldn't be mentioned here, but the Mail and Empire's reference to history brought it to mind.

Then the last editorial is "Chinese Immigration," wherein it is made out that Chinese come to Canada, and go home rich after they have gathered up "the fat earnings made out of the improvident and wasteful Canadian." Well, say, there's a good idea. The Chinese are making too much money, so let us set the price we will pay—a nickel for a shirt and 15 cents for a six-course dinner.

Yes, sir, that takes in almost three full columns, and not a word to say that Sir Adam Beck is officially welcomed by the Conservative party and recognized as the hydro man.

Should Start This Year.

London has not given up the idea of getting its new city hall under way this year, and it is well that the aldermen should go ahead, get the plans, pick out a good one, turn the first sod and proceed.

The probable amount of floor space needed for civic offices can be estimated, and other civic bodies can be housed in the building.

It should be possible to make a start early in the summer. Once started, the work will be completed. The start is the main point now.

Following Old Party Lines.

The U. F. O. convention at Wingham for North Huron was carried by Mr. Sheldon Bricker, a cattle dealer of Fordwich. The only thing that came in to mar the proceedings was the continued reference to Mr. John Joynt, who sat as a Conservative candidate, but who was always ready to support Mr. Drury when there were any issues that needed support in the interests of his constituency.

Some of the speakers were quite outspoken. A report of the proceedings contains the following references by men whose names were placed before the gathering:

"Robert Coulter had nothing to say against Mr. Joynt as a candidate. He had satisfied the U. F. O. perfectly."

"Frank Johnston was optimistic. . . . But why have an election? . . . Mr. Joynt had been a good friend of the U. F. O. We want a man who will act in the interests of the whole riding, and Mr. Joynt is that man."

"J. J. Kerr spent his five minutes in eulogizing Mr. Joynt, whom he thought had met all the requirements of the U. F. O."

But the thing had gone far enough, and the next speaker put sand on the skids. "We have been fighting for group identity and how in the world are we going to preserve it if we take a man from another party as our candidate?"

That settled it. John Joynt had been in the legislature. In his action there he had followed a line that members of the U. F. O. could not question, although he was not elected by them.

But he was outside the party. The U. F. O., which decries old parties, and old party methods, is following old party lines with a zeal that some of the old party managers might even envy today.

Note and Comment.

When a man gets a very big diamond folks begin to wonder whether it's glass.

Renfrew voters turned down a bylaw to spend $15,000 for a fire truck. Another case of a town voting to stay in the dry column.

The Brandon Sun claims that fewer cows are now killed on railroad crossings, the reason no doubt being that autos can get there faster than the cows.

Mr. James Simpson may yet go to Brantford and run there as a Labor candidate against Mr. M. M. MacBride. Mr. Simpson, if he got a medal every time he ran, would have a collection that would fill a barn.

A report from London on world wheat supplies says the demand is increasing. Increasing demand means better prices. If that is so, the regrettable thing is that the increase will not go to the man who grew the wheat in the first place. He had to let go of it months ago to pay his debts.

The Hamilton Herald says: If Howard Ferguson were as astute a politician as his supporters suppose him to be, would he continue to lambast the judges who, acting as commissioners, disclosed the fact that as head of the lands and forests department he was a negligent administrator? Abuse is no defence.

Four English farmerettes who are on a tour of Canada at this time visited Ottawa. They went to call on the premier, who "chatted pleasantly with them," but when it came to luncheon they were entertained by Mrs. Motherwell, wife of the minister of agriculture. Are these cabinet ministers' wives afraid that a farmerette might capture Canada's bachelor premier?

HARM RATHER THAN GOOD.

(From the Brantford Expositor.)

Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the hydro-electric power commission, has decided to enter party politics, and this end he has agreed to accept the invitation to become the Conservative candidate for the City of London. There is no doubt that Sir Adam is an exceedingly capable public servant, and that his presence in the legislature, if he should be elected, will be of great value in the business administration of the province. Few men in the public life of Ontario are more respected for integrity of character, unswerving zeal for the welfare of the people, and efficiency of administration than Sir Adam Beck.

While his presence in the legislature will be of undoubted value, it is questionable whether his decision to enter the turmoil of party politics is wise. It does not appear to be consistent with his motto, "Keep the hydro-electric arena the standard of a candidate of one particular party. The hydro-electric system of Ontario belongs to the whole province, it is not related to any one political party, and the most fatal error that can be made is to identify its interests with partisan conflicts. For this very reason the legislature will be of out of politics. It is more necessary to keep it out of politics now than ever before, as in the near future there will be enormous extensions contemplated, both at Niagara Falls and on the St. Lawrence. The hydro-electric ought to be kept out of party politics, and any attempt to link it up with any one political party will bring harm rather than good.

The Free Press quotes the Toronto Globe in support of Sir Adam's candidature. After the election the local organ will be playing a different tune.

As the chief potentate of the Hydro Electric Commission we opine that Sir Adam is the first individual to thrive in the electric chair.

In some political races the man who gets to the red tape first often wins.

HOW TO OVERCOME DANGERS OF ONE DISTRESSING TROUBLE. By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

It is rare for any person past 40 to be entirely free from some form of haemorrhoids, or piles. Habitual constipation, over-dilatation of the rectum with waste material and straining at stool are responsible.

It is a pity that so many persons neglect this simple ailment. But they do, and piles is one of the results. The trouble may be observed by the protruding of the rectum, or until they drop down and protrude through the opening. This form is apt to bleed.

A swelling or lump is round outside the opening of the bowel. It is dark red or blue in color and sensitive to the touch.

If this tumor cannot be pushed back through the opening, it may become sore and ulcerated, and may bleed at times. There may be more than one such tumor—a group, indeed. After some months the soreness disappears, and the lumps become hard and leathery.

I have described the form usually called "external piles."

"Internal piles" develop higher up in the rectum. Their presence is unsuspected until they get big enough to be gripped by the muscles of the rectum, or until they drop down and protrude through the opening. This form is apt to bleed.

To prevent haemorrhoids, it is necessary to have regular bowel movements, and to keep the bowel contents soft. Regular and frequent movements, without straining, are essential to rectal health.

In the treatment of haemorrhoids the first attempt is to replace the protruding tumor. This can be done usually by lubricating the parts freely with vaseline, getting down on the hands and knees, and gently pushing the mass back through the opening. By getting into a tub of hot water the replacement may be accomplished quite readily in most instances.

If the swelling cannot be returned by these methods, the local application of ice water, or a cold water-bath will be useful. In other cases, hot sitz-baths, with heat as great as can be borne, will be better.

Most persons who have any trouble with the rectum complain of terrible itching. This can be relieved almost always by keeping the parts perfectly clean. After each movement the region should be washed with soap and water.

If this is not enough to produce relief, apply zinc oxide ointment after washing. Extract of witch hazel, or a teaspoon of alum to a cupful of water, may be used. Ointment of galls may be applied twice a day.

If the victim of piles becomes constipated, movement of the bowels is a real ordeal. Relief may be afforded by the insertion into the rectum of a glycerine suppository. This will soften the waste material.

Mineral oil, a tablespoonful every night, three hours after eating, will hurry the fecal stream, produce smaller and more frequent stools, and by removal of the existing agent, assist the cure. To the same end, simple food is important.

If, in spite of these simple measures, the trouble persists, or grows worse, see your family doctor for further advice.

Answers To Health Questions. K. K. Q.—Will you please tell me how many grains would be contained in a teaspoonful of salt? Which is more healthful—salt or sweet butter?

A.—Each teaspoonful of salt contains about 60 grains. Salt and sweet butter are of equal value as foods. Suit your own taste in the matter.

B. C. M. Q.—What can I do for a severe case of earache? A.—This is due to the cause of continued sore throat?

A.—I would advise you to see an ear specialist to determine the cause of this trouble.

2.—This is probably due to infected tonsils. You should have them removed.

M. H. L. Q.—My little boy, 11 years old, is troubled with a swelling and reddening of the lips. What may be the cause of this?

A.—This is due to something that he eats. Watch his diet, and eliminate any food which seems to aggravate his condition.

"The Ten Books I Have Most Enjoyed"

By ALDOUS HUXLEY, Author of "Crome Yellow," "Limo" and "Mortal Coil."

"War and Peace" (Tolstoi). "Candida" (Noel Coward).

"Three Years in Tibet" (Kawaguchi). The Japanese monk's description of his travels in Tibet is certainly the most enjoyable travel book I know.

"Instincts of the Herd in Peace and War" (Trotter). "Rabelais: Gargantua and Pantagruel" in Urquhart and Potters' translation.

"Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" (Gibbon). "Nicholas Nickleby" (or indeed almost any other Dickens novel you like to mention).

"Tractatus Logicus" (Wittgenstein). Encyclopaedia Britannica, 11th and 12th editions.

Chaucer's works. Especially "Troilus and Cressida" and the later "Canterbury Tales."

It is a misfortune to the English speaking world that Chaucer should have written when he did—in a now obsolete language which deters some would-be readers and to others of a more pedantic cast is so attractive in itself, by reason of its difficulty, that they forget that Chaucer wrote the best narrative poetry in existence as well as a philologically interesting dialect of middle English.

TO THE EDITOR.

USING THE PARKS.

Editor of The Advertiser: Sir,—Being a reader of your valuable paper for years, and knowing you will have no objection in publishing a few remarks in connection with one of our city bylaws, that is, freedom of Victoria Park to lovers of nature, I want to state my experience on June 4, when riding a bicycle along about 5:30 p.m. I thought I would take a run around the driveway in the park to enjoy the beauty of the flowers and a change of scenery. To my surprise an officer stopped me and asked me if I didn't know the bylaw, also saying it was in the papers. I stated to him that I didn't get a morning and evening paper to read up city bylaws, as if I did I would have nothing else to do; also stating that the citizens' minds are getting tainted with bylaws now. If these so-called city officials do not want the people to have the pleasure of a quiet drive byway mark to enjoy nature at this time of the year, then put up your gates. Also the public would understand without having to get a paper or go to the city hall to get advice.

About a week ago a few Americans were driving around our park in a nice car, and had to be held up, and they thought the joke until they found out otherwise. They stated if the bylaw makers of London would come over to Detroit they could even park their cars in any of their parks, and enjoy all the freedom possible. Isn't this a fine reputation of London for our neighbors to carry home and broadcast? I think some of our city bylaw makers should be placed in our park, inclosed in a glass cage, placing up high gates, and charge 25 cents to see them.

Thanking you, Editor, for this space, I remain, yours truly, A. W. JOHNSON.

HOME LIFE MENACED.

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused, and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas! When a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household duties and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength, or some ailment develops because of overwork. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them.—Adv.

Hundreds of Londoners Welcome Circus In City

Comic Clowns, Daring Trapeze Artists, Fair Equestriennes and Performing Animals Win Rounds of Applause From Spectators.

"And make me a child again, just for tonight."

Hundreds of London's citizens once more became as little children for two or three hours at Queen's Park last evening and forgot all worries and cares while they remembered once again the days when they were young and went to the circus.

John Robinson's Circus, undeniably one of the best that has ever visited this city, was the mascot for old and young, and not one regret was heard from those who attended. All came away feeling that they had seen a really good circus, and one that was well worth the money.

For an hour before the big thronging tent was thrown open, the crowds thronged around the animals, feeding the elephants, big and little, with peanuts, popcorn and buns, gazing with wonder on the hippopotamus and other wild animals of the jungles. Camels, lions, leopards, tigers, pumas and many other beasts that are mentioned in stories were to be seen, and it is doubtful if a larger collection of animals of the cat family has ever been seen under one canvas roof.

All the sideshows were there, and many took advantage of the time before the big performance to gaze on the freaks and absurdities of nature, as well as skilled performances of one kind or another. "Pink Lemonade."

At 8:15 the circus proper started, together with the shouts of "pink lemonade," "peanuts," "cracker-jack," "cones," and the hundred and one things that combine to make such an occasion long to be remembered.

With a parade of the many performers clad in strange garb. The opening pageant took the form of a short musical extravaganza, "Peter Pan in Animal Land," and the costumes with which the animals and the actors were fitted would have done credit to any theatre on the continent.

The customary performances, going on in all three rings of the tent, attracted the attention of the large audience, and for two hours there was not a dull moment. Clowns with their many antics caused the spectators to convulse themselves with laughter, daring feats performed on trapeze, aerial ladders and tight wires, caused them to hold their breath, and wonderful exhibitions of animal training and intellect brought forth remarks of admiration. At one time all eyes were on the steel arena where several lions were being put through their paces by the trainer, who had a difficult time and found it necessary to use several means of defence against the savage beasts.

Polar bears, slipping down wooden slides as though born to it, elephants cavorting around bearing on their backs some of the many fair maidens with the circus, pumas and leopards jumping and pirouetting, monkeys performing high up in the air, dogs riding on ponies and many other similar acts, all drew their meed of applause, which in every case was well deserved.

Undoubtedly the best performance by far was that given by the dancing and jumping horses. Jazz, cake walks, chicken reels, "Turkey in the Straw," waltzes and two-steps were carried out by some of these animals almost in a ballroom manner, and the fair equestriennes beside them seemed to be part and parcel of their mounts. While the jumping was being carried out a minor mishap occurred when one of the riders on a broad-jumping horse was thrown as her mount went over the jump, but she was again on her back in a few seconds and carried out the feat without further accident.

Clean and Wholesome.
Altogether the circus proper is clean and wholesome, and nothing offensive could be seen in any portion of the performance. The girls were all comely and the costumes bright and new. The attendants were civil and obliging, and as a result the crowd was kept in good humor all through the performance. Citizens of London may rest assured that should they at any time in the future contemplate visiting John Robinson's Circus, they will see the highest that can be presented along this line.

Only one incident occurred that roused the ire of the citizens. It was not in the circus proper, but happened in the after-show when Charlie Geanos, a local boy and lightweight wrestling champion of Canada, engaged in a bout with Herman Hackensmidt. The local lad was to get $2 a minute for the length of time he stayed with the circus man and a lump sum if he threw him. Geanos, after Hackensmidt had wriggled out of a toe-hold, put a scissor lock around his neck and held him with his shoulders so that the referee declared the winner. Geanos walked over to the bigger man and offered to shake hands with him; the other turned his back and walked away, angry at having been overcome by a man about half his size. This was most unsportsmanlike, and the audience showed their disapproval by booing him off the grounds.

SAYS RACIAL CALUMNIES IN QUEBEC NOT MERITED

Meihegn Addresses Members of Cartier-MacDonald Club at Montreal.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, June 8.—"If there is one determination in my mind more than another, it is to demonstrate to my Canadian fellow-citizens of this province that I have not merited the racial calumnies heaped against me, and that I am just as loyal and friendly to those of this province as to those of any other province in Confederation, and that my life will prove me to be just as devoted in the service of the province of Quebec as to that of any other part of Canada."

The above was the declaration of Right Hon. Arthur Meihegn, leader of the Conservative opposition in parliament, in his address at the inauguration of the Cartier-MacDonald Club here last night.

ITALIAN IMMIGRANTS ON WAY TO CANADA

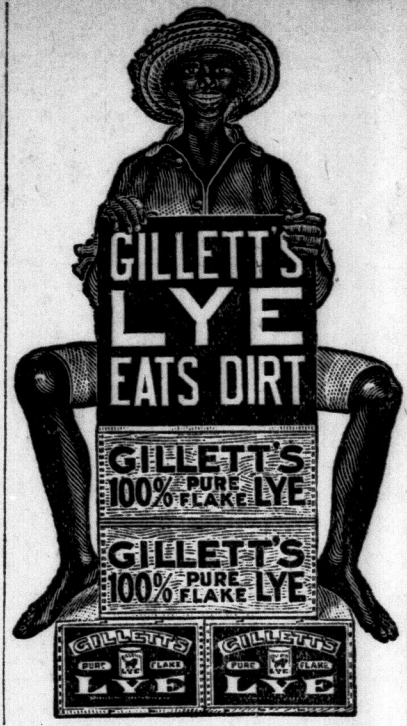

Will Wait in Montreal Until Admitted to the United States.

New York, June 8.—Two hundred Italian immigrants arrived here yesterday on the Italian liner Colombo and departed immediately for Canada.

Most of them are en route for Montreal, where they will remain until the new Italian quota of immigrants to be admitted to the United States becomes effective July 1.

Three prospective brides were among the number going to Montreal. They have come over to marry men in the United States, and will do so when admitted, they said.

The purpose of the Italians in going to Montreal is to avoid any possibility of their arriving in the United States after the new Italian quota is exhausted. Immediately the new quota becomes available they will come to New York by rail, and will be given attention at Ellis Island before new arrivals by boat.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

BIG SENIOR DRILL TONIGHT; STRATFORD HERE TOMORROW

Long, Thorough Workout On Field, and In Batter's Cage On Tap Today—Tomorrow, Game Promises To Be Down vs. Young, Hurling Duel.

Today and tomorrow are big days for London's senior O. B. A. ball tossers. Today, or, rather, tonight, they are filled for a strenuous and thorough going-over under Manager Ed Stein at Tecumseh Park. Tomorrow afternoon they play hosts to Abbie Johnson's Classic City pets.

Both jobs are big ones for both Manager Stein and his squad. The workout part of it, as former drills have been, will be serious, and all the added polish the boys can take on will not be placed amiss.

Stratford must be taken seriously in every one of the regulation nine innings. Young, who may hurt tomorrow, is rated as one of the best amateur pitchers in Ontario. He has St. Thomas to three hits for six innings last Saturday—and six runless frames as well. Then his support blew up, and a St. Thomas dual defeat metamorphosed into a bright victory. That little bit of experience was costly knowledge for Abbie's young men, and it's a sure bet they'll remember it tomorrow.

London will have some remembering to do at the same time. The local hopes are not counting the fact that it is delivered, sealed and signed, as they did one Wednesday in St. Thomas. With down in the local winning section, however, and his support functioning properly, the Stratford boys' assignment looks like a heavy day's labor. Nevertheless, one of the things Manager Stein reminded his men about real early in the season was this little fact about there being nine innings to all reasonable ball games, and, at that, the boys went right out one inning and forgot all about it—at St. Thomas.

But the London defeat at St. Thomas was in a way the result of a linking circumstance that is hard for a team to fight clear of. A high wind blowing across the field had something to sing in the result chorus. St. Thomas hits that counted sailed with the wind, while London's batsmen were left to stare. Less than a thousand paid admissions saw last Saturday's delayed fracas with Woodstock. But all true amateur fans should be out tomorrow, and those who do file into old Tecumseh Park will see a smart battle.

Those who don't relish a wait by standing in line for tickets (and there are many who do) will find a good standing in a pastebord line a week ago, may secure tickets downtown at Elm's before heading for the park. Clear, bright, sunny weather will pack the stands, bleachers and grounds. A delay cooled the boys last week, and the brand of ball suffered. There won't be any delay tomorrow.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER.

Special to The Advertiser.

WALKER'S NOT WORLD'S CHAMP
Only Champ Outside of New York State, Rules Commish.

By FAIR PLAY.
Copyright.

New York, June 7.—Coincidentally with the announcement today that New York Athletic Commission that has been deposed as welter champion for refusal to defend Mickey Walker had been deposed as welter champion for refusal to defend Mickey Walker, the commission has taken Walker's crown away from him. Walker does not lack fighting spirit, but being a champion he has some natural objections to putting his title at the risk of judges whose opinions are not likely to meet with the views either of the champion's friends or very often in fact, of impartial observers.

Walker's manager, Jack Bulger, throws a fit every time a New York judge is mentioned, and never, never will he give one of more of them a chance to write on a slip of paper a more or less leatherheaded opinion about a bout looked. And so long as there are no decisions states Walker won't have a fight. He may not make as much money in New York, but in the end it will work out about even.

The ease and grace with which fighters are relieved of their titles under New York present system is scaring champions away from here, and no wonder. The Southern League is set right now for some of the best amateur baseball battles this part of Western Ontario has seen for many years.

Woodstock should be able to hand in a good fielding team and they showed they could hit in their game here, though admitted weak hitting prior to that.

The split season should work well in an amateur league, and it does not get the same start and a split series gives every team a chance in the second half.

Stratford Classics showed in winning the tourney at Brussels this week that the Southern League justifies its senior classification.

Stratford Classics in their first three games, accepted 119 chances for an average of .880, which is more than average, considering some of the diamonds.

McNamara's stars going strong. The Washington players were strong. Mac, Beckinghaugh thinks he's one of the best players in the league, and he never gets very enthusiastic over anybody.

What's getting into Manager "Hump" Pierce? He is usually as gentle as a lamb on the field, but yesterday he gave a display of temper which may result in his being suspended for a decision and just to let the folks know how he felt about it, he threw a ball into the stand and just missed hitting one of the lady patrons. "Hump" money and he will have the "Club" treasury broke if he continues to hurt the balls away at such a rate.

WALKER'S NOT WORLD'S CHAMP

Only Champ Outside of New York State, Rules Commish.

New York, June 7.—Coincidentally with the announcement today that New York Athletic Commission that has been deposed as welter champion for refusal to defend Mickey Walker had been deposed as welter champion for refusal to defend Mickey Walker, the commission has taken Walker's crown away from him. Walker does not lack fighting spirit, but being a champion he has some natural objections to putting his title at the risk of judges whose opinions are not likely to meet with the views either of the champion's friends or very often in fact, of impartial observers.

Walker's manager, Jack Bulger, throws a fit every time a New York judge is mentioned, and never, never will he give one of more of them a chance to write on a slip of paper a more or less leatherheaded opinion about a bout looked. And so long as there are no decisions states Walker won't have a fight. He may not make as much money in New York, but in the end it will work out about even.

The ease and grace with which fighters are relieved of their titles under New York present system is scaring champions away from here, and no wonder. Lu Fyfe Decides To Keep Hat On

Special to The Advertiser.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 7.—Whether 'tis nobler in the mind for an ump to suffer the slings and arrows of the fans' rage, or to take arms against a sea of jibes, and by removing his cap end them?

Ump Fyfe, chief of staff of the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union, decided today to do the latter in Tuesday's double-header at Ramona Park and refused to remove his headgear while making announcement to the audience.

Five rallies in the ninth put the visitors one run ahead, but Muckegon tied up the count.

Kayser took the mound cold and was touched for five singles and a sacrifice in the tenth.

New Stories By O. HENRY

THE PRISONER OF ZEMBLA.

So the king fell into a furious rage, so that none durst go near him for fear, and he gave out that since the Princess Astia had disobeyed him there would be a great tourney, and to the knight who should prove himself of the greatest valor he would give the hand of the princess.

And he set forth a herald to proclaim that he would do this.

And the herald went about the country making his desire known, blowing a great horn and riding a noble steed that pranced and gambled; and the villagers gazed upon him with awe and said: "Lo, that is one of them tin-horn gamblers concerning which the chroniclers have told us."

And when the day came, the king sat in the grandstand, holding the gage of battle in his hand, and by his side sat the Princess Astia, looking very pale and beautiful, but with mournful eyes from which she scarce could keep the tears.

And the knights who came to the tourney gazed upon the princess in wonder at her beauty, and each swore to win her so that he could marry her and board with the king. Suddenly the heart of the princess gave a great bound, for she saw among the knights one of the poor students with whom she had been in love.

The knights mounted and rode in a line past the grandstand, and the king stopped the poor student, who had the worst horse and the poorest equipments of any of the knights and said:

"Sir knight, prithee tell me of what that marvelous shaggy and rusty-looking armor of thine is made?"

"Oh, king," said the young knight, "seeing that we are about to engage in a big fight, I would call it scrap iron, wouldn't you?"

"Ods bodikins!" said the king. "The youth hath a pretty wit."

The tourney lasted the whole day and at the end two of the knights were left, one of them being the princess' lover.

"Here's enough for a fight, anyhow," said the king. "Come hither, O knights, will ye joust for the hand of this lady fair?"

"We joust will," said the knights. The two knights fought for two hours and at length the princess' lover prevailed and stretched the other upon the ground. The victorious knight made his horse caracol before the king, and bowed low in his saddle.

On the Princess Astia's cheek was a rosy flush; in her eyes the light of excitement vied with the soft glow of love; her lips were parted, her lovely hair unbound, and she grasped the arms of her chair and leaned forward with heaving bosom and happy smile to hear the words of her lover.

"You have fought well, sir knight," said the king. "And if there is any boon you crave you have but to name it."

"Then," said the knight, "I will ask you this: I have bought the patent rights in your kingdom for Schneider's celebrated monkey-wrench and I want a letter from you indorsing it."

"You shall have it," said the king, "but I must tell you that there is not a monkey in my kingdom."

With a yell of rage the victorious knight threw himself and his horse and rode away at a furious gallop.

The king was about to speak when a horrible realization flashed upon him and he fell dead in the grandstand.

"Good heavens!" he cried as he expired, "he has forgotten to take the princess with him."

THE COACH'S JOB

Something of the taskmaster, the general and the diplomat, and a lot of the doctor must be hidden away in the man who would be the coach of a successful football or track team.

Emergencies of all kinds are his daily routine. A thorough knowledge of first aid is as essential as a knowledge of the game played by his men.

Bumps, bruises, strained ligaments and muscles are every day happenings, but the coach never becomes contemptuous of them. He knows that if neglected, they may result in anything.

Trainers everywhere keep Absorbine Jr. in their lockers. They use it not only for sprains, cuts and bruises, but for the skin and blood protection of its disinfecting properties. In one convenient container it combines the functions of a number of preparations.

It is the first of all the First Aid requisites in use in all of the leading athletic clubs.

And there are just as many everyday uses for Absorbine Jr. in the homes of Canada as there are in the training camps. Always keep it in the home where you can "jump to it" in case of emergency.

Marcus M. Sims Appointed To Post of Truant Officer

Board of Education Makes Appointment After Long Consideration.

SALARY IS $2,500
School Trustees Send Check For $20,000 To Contractors.

Marcus M. Sims was appointed attendance and vocational officer for the City of London by the board of education at their meeting last night. The appointment came as the result of some seven months of debating the question. The board was divided as to whether they wanted to appoint an officer who would combine the positions of attendance and vocational officer, and the matter had been referred to a special committee for consideration. At last night's meeting the report of the committee was to the effect that they recommended Mr. Sims as "being eminently qualified for the position." Of the twenty-five applications received by the board, those of Mr. Sims and James Hussey were the two that found most favor.

The motion of appointment that was carried by the board stated that the salary would be $2,500, and that there would be annual increases as they were earned by the applicant. Mr. Sims is also to be allowed street car fares as expenses, and will commence his duties on August 1st. All members of the board were strongly in favor of the appointment with the exception of Edwin Smith, who went on record as being opposed to the motion. He stated that his objection was based solely on the ground that it was in his opinion impossible for any man to hold both the attendance and the vocational office. Trustee Wilnot voted with Mr. Smith.

Send Check for $20,000.

In a long session which lasted from 4:45 to 6:50, the board annihilated an army corps of routine business. They agreed to send a check for $20,000 to Messrs. Hyatt Brothers as part payment on the work done at the Trafalgar school. This was in accordance with the original agreement with the contractors. Frank Adams, who came before the board with a suggestion that they take a page of the Old Boys' Reunion Book which is being issued for presentation to the Old Boys in August, was fairly successful, and the board agreed to send $100 in two pages of the book. On the condition that the editing of the pages was left in the hands of Principals Millar and Beal, together with Inspector Greer.

Trustees Casselman, Silverwood and Rowe were appointed a committee to go into the question of the superannuation of Dr. Weir, the retiring attendance officer, and to report to the board at their next meeting. Permission was granted number two committee to sell the houses on the newly-acquired property on Empress avenue on lots 79 and 81 by tender. This is part of the preparation for the building of the new school in London West. A bill for $2,785.05 was authorized to be paid to the garbage department of the city for 1923. Last year the board collected their own ashes, and paid the city some $1,400 as well in taxes which have never been recovered. A satisfactory arrangement has been made with the city for this year.

Accept Resignations.
Resignations from John McKellar, the mathematical teacher at the London South Collegiate and from Mahel Broughston, were accepted, and $50 was granted towards the celebration of Dominion Day. This was a gift that was made unanimously by the members of the board, who regretted that the old patriotic customs of their youth had been so much neglected in late years. Principal Millar was able to satisfy the members that pupils of the London South Collegiate had just the same standing in all their work, and that their status was exactly similar to that of the pupils of the Central Collegiate. The question was asked by Mrs. Hunt in view of an article that she had read in the Free Press to the effect that the pupils in this school did not receive the same status as pupils in the Collegiate.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 8.—Final reading was given by the house yesterday to a bill providing that the annual salaries of judges of the Supreme Court of Ontario should be: Chief justice of Ontario, $10,000; chief justice of the second divisional court, $10,000; eight justices of appeal, each $9,000; nine judges of the high court division, each $8,000. The bill also provided that the salaries of judges of the circuit court of the district of Montreal should be: Senior judge of the court, $8,000 per annum, and three other judges of the court, each $7,000 per annum.

Why You Got Paper Early

Today is "the day" of the year for the pupils in the public schools of London. They are going to Springbank for the annual picnic, and as there are many newspaper carrier boys in their ranks, The Advertiser has arranged to have the morning edition of the paper delivered in many cases of evening subscribers to the homes of these subscribers so that the boys may enjoy to the full their day of sport at the down river resort.

This is why you found your paper beside the milk bottles this morning, by falling in with this plan, in order to insure a full day's fun for the paper carriers of London. On Saturday, of course, the usual afternoon delivery will be resumed. We thank you.

MARCUS M. SIMS, who was last night appointed attendance and vocational officer by the board of education. Mr. Sims, who is the present manager of the international correspondence schools, is particularly well qualified for the position, having had seven years' experience in vocational work. He was in France from 1914 to 1919 as an officer with the First Divisional Field Engineers. Mr. Sims assumes his duties on August 1.

APPROVES GOVERNOR'S ACT.

Chicago, June 8.—Although voting 31 to 3 in favor of a repeal of the search and seizure act, a compliment to Governor Smith of New York for signing the repeal measure in that state and a general disapproval of prohibition, the Chicago city council last night failed to approve a resolution embodying the actions because of a parliamentary rule requiring a two-thirds vote of the entire council, or a total of 34 votes.

DEFEAT PROHIBITION LAW.

Madison, Wis., June 7.—The Wisconsin Assembly today voted 47 to 43 to repeal the Severson law, the state prohibition enforcement statute.

SID MURRELL WILL OCCUPY HIS OLD JAIL WARD

Believe Toronto Officers
Shall Be Sent To Escort
Sid Murrell To This City

When Bandit Is Ready For Deportation, He Will Be Brought Here.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

Governor Dawson States Prisoner Will Be Unable To Make Second Escape.

Although Sid Murrell escaped from jail in London and will be brought back to this city, no local officer will be sent to fetch him back from California, according to information received this morning.

Crown Attorney J. C. Elliott told
The Advertiser present indications were that men from Toronto would be sent and that it was most improbable anyone from here would be given the job, or would accompany those sent.

"We may hear at any moment now that Murrell is ready for deportation," said Mr. Elliott, "and as soon as the word is received, men will leave to get him, but I do not think the local provincial police will be sent. From what I have heard, it would seem that the task would devolve on men from headquarters in Toronto. In the event of deportation is refused and we have to ask for his extradition, it means a delay of at least three weeks and probably more, as there is much legal matter to be gone through in this event. However, we are looking for his deportation, and he should be back here within a very short time."

In same Ward.
On his return to London Murrell will again be confined in the county jail, and in the same ward as when he escaped, although it may not be the same cell. Governor Dawson stated this morning the ward in which he was before was the strongest in the building, and that he did not think he would stand much chance of making a second escape. Added precautions will be taken, however, and if at all possible Murrell will be kept by himself and from close communication with other inmates. This will depend on the number of prisoners there are in the jail when he is returned. There are at present but seventeen, and these are all for minor offences, so it is likely that he will not be afforded any chance of meeting the others.

No Chilled Steel.
Asked concerning the recommendation made by the grand jury, that chilled steel bars be placed in at least two cells in wards 1 and 2, Governor Dawson said he did not think this would be carried out, as practically any bars that could be installed could be sawn through, except some kind of the cost of which was almost prohibitive. The present bars are of steel, and he did not think that they could be bettered very much.

Associated Press Despatch.
Cleveland, June 8.—"Tex-Jack" Sullivan, university graduate, world traveler and adventurer, will try to paddle across Lake Erie in a canoe on June 20. He was accompanied by the Cleveland Yacht Club today.

He will leave Rondeau, Ont., about 5 p.m., and expects to arrive at the yacht club in the next evening. The yacht club is sponsoring the trip in an effort to awaken interest in canoe-ing as a live water sport by demonstrating the possibilities of the small craft. A launch will follow Sullivan's canoe.

It will be the first attempt in 150 years—since Indians made the trip—for anyone to try to cross the lake in a canoe, club-officials declare.

Special to The Advertiser.
New York, June 8.—Two packed trucks and another partly filled, gave evidence of the Earl of Northesk's departure from New York today. A large picture in a silver frame of Jessica remained on the dresser, as also a picture of a former football team.

"Yes, I am packing. I will leave tonight for Buffalo, to join Miss Brown, and we expect to be married Monday or Tuesday, possibly in Toronto."

Cyril R. Reinhard said: Miss Brown is still my wife. I do not know the laws of Canada, but I am satisfied that marriage in this country would be illegal.

He rather hoped they would get married. "What I am going to do will come a good deal later," he said.

URGES PROVINCE
STEER CLEAR OF LIQUOR CONTROL

Dr. W. A. Smith States Penitentiary Commitments Have Increased 114 Per Cent.

SPREAD OF CRIME

Believes British Columbia Bootleggers Make Nearly Million a Month.

By R. E. KNOWLES,
Special to The Advertiser.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 8.—This morning I had a brief conversation with one of the conspicuous visitors to the assembly, Principal Dr. W. A.
Smith of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, one of the most eminent educationists of the west, and one of the first citizens of Vancouver.
The dialogue was about as follows:

"How is your Ontario election going to come out?" the principal asked me.

"I don't know," was my reply. "Who is doing this interviewing?"

"I suppose you are. Have you anything to ask me?"

"Yes, have you any advice for the Ontario electors?"

"I sure have. Tell them to do as they like about governments, but for heaven's sake to steer clear of government control."

Government Control.

"Of the liquor business. We have government control in B. C., you know."

"Yes, I know, and what do you think of it?"

"It's a failure, pure and simple.
Liquor practically free out there if anyone has the price. The cost of a permit is so small and the allowance of liquor so large that the supply is practically unrestricted. The government has 68 stores in B. C., and sells $1,000,000 worth a month, and it is reckoned bootleggers take in as much more."

Crime Decreases.

"Yes, during the war, and crime decreased 58 per cent under it. But whereas under our present system the jail and penitentiary commitments have increased 114 per cent over the prohibition figures. These are the cold facts."

"Which would you prefer, the present system or the old license way?"

"Nothing between them, except that we escape the bar and get a bigger revenue for the state. Otherwise, one is as bad as the other. The government has a profit at present of $5,000,000 a year, but they pay millions of dollars for it, believe me.
The Retailers' Association of Vancouver has asked the government to open the question, but you can state your life there alternative is not a return to the old license system, the only alternative is clear."

"So what is your actual advice, Dr.
Smith?"

"Tell the people of Ontario to beware of government liquor control. It works out at nine-tenths liquor and one-tenth control."

Crew of Mine Sweeper in a Precarious Situation in Pacific.

Associated Press Despatch.
Seattle, Wash., June 8.—Rescue of 70 men from the mine sweeper Cardinal of the United States navy, clinging to the jagged margin of Chirikof Island in the Pacific Ocean
100 miles south of the Alaska peninsula, was to be attempted today.

According to the latest word from the scene of the disaster of the Cardinal, which was given up for a total loss, the oil tanker Cuyama of the navy and the exploration steamer Discoverer of the coast and geodetic survey, were standing by.

The Discoverer, which arrived soon after the Cardinal hit yesterday, attempted to rescue the crew, but the Cardinal struck the rocks herself in attempting a rescue. The Cuyama which had gone north with the Cardinal was 150 miles from her companion and proceeded to her aid.

Courageous Action Saves
Liverpool From Explosion

Greater Part of City Might Have Been Wrecked But For the Successful Attempt of Constable and Watchman To Extinguish Flames.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, England, June 8.—An amazing story of how the greater part of Liverpool might have been wrecked by an explosion has been revealed by the Mersey dock board.

Two wagons, under military guard, containing picric acid, which is used as the chief ingredient in melinite, a powerful explosive, were being conveyed for shipment when the dock side crane broke and fell across the wagons.

The fire under the crane's boiler fell underneath one of the wagons.
A watchman and constable, realizing the danger of a terrific explosion, courageously crawled under the wagon and extinguished the fire. The chairman of the dock board states that the war office has the legal right to pass through Liverpool any explosives, however, dangerous they may be.

On this occasion the war office sent 120 tons of picric acid right through the city on the way to the docks. The impact of the broken crane upon the wagons, apart from the boiler fire, was quite enough to explode the lot of picric acid, the chairman says.

He was sure the war secretary, the Earl of Derby, would be as much disgusted and horrified as any person that the city of Liverpool should be at the mercy of some light-hearted and irresponsible official.

SOVIETS' LATEST NOTE

Representations to Britain May Have Effect of Mollifying Curzon, However.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Eng., June 8.—Soviet Russia's answer to the latest representations of the British Foreign Office has arrived in London, but has not yet been presented to the British government, it was learned today.

It is understood that the note is of a contentious character on certain points, and before presenting it, Leonard Krassin, assistant to the government representative here, hopes to have the Moscow authorities temper it so that it will mollify Lord Curzon in connection with the demand of the British foreign secretary for the recall of the Soviet envoys at Tehran and Kabul as well as other matters in dispute.

The Russian trade delegation here declared today that M. Krassin hoped to hand the revised note to Lord
Curzon this afternoon or tomorrow.

Malone, N. Y., June 8.—Twenty-five thousand gallons of bottled-in-bond Canadian liquor has crossed the border into New York since Governor Smith signed the state prohibition law repeal a week ago.

This figure, which was given me by the boss of a liquor smuggling organization as I entered one of his bootlegging automobiles at a point not far from Dewittville, Quebec, and made ready to run over the line with fifteen cases of Scotch, intended for sale in the shadow of the Albany hill where New York's laws are made and repealed.

Three hundred to four hundred motor cars are engaged in the traffic, my informant said, as trained packers exactly placed the fifteen dozen quart carefully protected in straw wrappers into every available space in the car.
The driver even displayed an extra spring hidden under the floor to help carry the load.

This 25,000 gallons crossed the line between the Vermont border and a point on the international frontier a few miles north of Malone. The estimate does not include the vast amount said to be crossing the St. Lawrence from Ontario, despite that province's dry law. It does not take in the cargoes which enter Vermont.

At existing bootleg prices this means a gross intake of $500,000 a week. The cost at the Canadian sources, again quoting the present market, is roughly half of that, leaving about $400,000 a week in net profit, transportation expenses and other overheads. It does not include the profit for those engaged in this organized illegal smuggling traffic.

RENT DISTRIBUTION BILL
GIVEN SECOND READING

Defeat Labor Motion For Re-

Inadequate Protection.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Eng., June 8.—The House of Commons passed the rent restriction bill last night after defeating a motion by Sir Henry Webb, Labor member, for its rejection on the ground that inadequate protection of tenants against rapacious landlords was continued in the bill. The vote was 287 in favor of second reading and 129 against.

The Asquithians had decided not to oppose the measure. The bill provides for the control and restriction of rents for another two years, the restriction act of 1920 continuing in force until June 24, 1925. The bill is sponsored by Neville Chamberlain,

URGES SHOOTING OF MURDERERS
IN NORTHLANDS

Judge Dubec States Hanging
Almost Impossible to Carry Out in Arctic.

HARD TO GET JURY

Eskimos Gladly Face Death To Spend Year in Prison.

Special to The Advertiser.

Edmonton, Alta., June 8.—That executions in the far north should be carried out by the military method of shooting, and not by hanging, is the recommendation of Judge Lucien Dubec to Ottawa. Judge Dubec leaves next week for Herschel Island where several Eskimos will be tried for murder.

Changes in the judicial procedure and methods of serving sentences also advised by the judge.

Owing to the great difficulty in securing sufficient white men to act
as jurors his honor feels that in Arctic trials the judge should be permitted to try the Eskimos. According to a recent report of Wada, the Jap.
there are only four white men on Herschel Island. Members of the Mounted Police, of course, are not permitted to do jury duty.

Other Form of Trial.
Judge Dubec, therefore, feels that in the Arctic some other form of trial
than by jury should be permitted.

Then again, if capital punishment is decided upon, it should be carried out by the department of justice at Ottawa must be received, and this means a year's delay. Meanwhile the condemned man is having a whale of
a time, getting three square meals a day, with warm quarters and good clothing at the police post. Many an Eskimo would gladly face death for a year of such fat living, and so the punishment is nullified.

Failing a radio being set up at Aklaik or Herschel, which would establish direct connection with Ottawa, Judge Dubec feels that if other capital punishment is decided upon,
authority should also be given to carry out the sentence almost summarily.

Lack Scaffold.
Further, hanging in the far north is not easy to contrive. To begin with, suitable lumber for a scaffold is hard to obtain in a land where barren of timber. Also a hangman would have to accompany the judicial party.

Under these circumstances, therefore, Judge Dubec thinks that shooting, rather than hanging, should be the mode of carrying out such death sentences as are imposed at Arctic trials. The men of the Herschel detachment, and of the special escort, could carry out this sentence in the same manner as military executions.

Until the tribes reach a higher state of civilization than the present
it is doubtful if the strict application of Canadian justice to punish what the Eskimo feels are acts of justice under their own code of law, is a wise course of procedure, says
the judge.

power failed and it plunged eight blocks down one of the steepest hills in the city, killing a young girl, seriously injured four other persons, and made homeless sixteen families who lived in a brick tenement partially demolished by the crash.

The car was of the one-man type, operating on Amsterdam avenue. Just as it reached the top of a long ascent extending from La Salle place toward Columb University, the power failed. At least, the motorman, in his report to the police, applied the brakes, but the vehicle started backward down the hill, rapidly gathering momentum.

The motorman jumped and a male passenger followed him, leaving three girls and a woman in the car. The vehicle, going 60 miles an hour, struck the front of the brick tenement, and crushed it, leaving a wide berth and hundreds running screaming as the plunging vehicle, going 60 miles an hour, struck an open switch at the foot of the hill, tore along the street, and at a curve gouged away
the front of the brick tenement, and was finally crushed beneath the falling debris.

On one side of the tenement was a candy store, on the other side a motion picture theatre.

Mary McLaughlin, 13, was going toward the candy shop when she saw the wild car rushing toward her. She raced in front of it, screaming. As the car tore into the building she was crushed by falling brick and thrown beneath the wheels, dying almost instantly.

Changes in the judicial procedure
and methods of serving sentences also advised by the judge.

Owing to the great difficulty in securing sufficient white men to act
as jurors his honor feels that in Arctic trials the judge should be permitted to try the Eskimos. According to a recent report of Wada, the Jap.
there are only four white men on Herschel Island. Members of the Mounted Police, of course, are not permitted to do jury duty.

Other Form of Trial.
Judge Dubec, therefore, feels that in the Arctic some other form of trial
than by jury should be permitted.

Then again, if capital punishment
is decided upon, it should be carried out by the department of justice at Ottawa must be received, and this means a year's delay. Meanwhile the condemned man is having a whale of
a time, getting three square meals a day, with warm quarters and good clothing at the police post. Many an Eskimo would gladly face death
for a year of such fat living, and so
the punishment is nullified.

Failing a radio being set up at Aklaik or Herschel, which would establish direct connection with Ottawa, Judge Dubec feels that if other capital punishment is decided upon,
authority should also be given to carry out the sentence almost summarily.

Lack Scaffold.
Further, hanging in the far north
is not easy to contrive. To begin with, suitable lumber for a scaffold is hard to obtain in a land where barren of timber. Also a hangman would have to accompany the judicial party.

Under these circumstances, therefore, Judge Dubec thinks that shooting, rather than hanging, should be the mode of carrying out such death
sentences as are imposed at Arctic trials. The men of the Herschel detachment, and of the special escort,
could carry out this sentence in the same manner as military executions.

Until the tribes reach a higher
state of civilization than the present
it is doubtful if the strict application of Canadian justice to punish
what the Eskimo feels are acts of justice under their own code of law,
is a wise course of procedure, says
the judge.

STATES FIRE CONSUMED
100,000 ACRES OF WOOD

Quebec's Chief Forester Declares Present Situation Alarming.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Quebec, June 8.—Stating that in the Temiskaming region of Quebec there were one hundred thousand acres of valuable standing timber and pulpwood had fallen a prey to forest fires, Chief Forester Piche, who has returned from a trip to organize fire prevention there, affirmed that the situation was very alarming.

He added that in the St. Maurice, Lake St. John, Saguenay, Temis-caming, Bonaventure and Gaspé districts, where no rain has fallen lately, fresh fires were being reported every day.

These fires had been caused in some cases by settlers burning slash, and in others by fishermen, Indians and others.

Mrs. William E. Corey Turns
Matter Over to Scotland Yard.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, England, June 8.—A necklace, said to be valued at $20,000, the property of Mrs. William E. Corey, formerly Mabelle Gilman, an actress, disappeared from her apartment Saturday night. Scotland Yard authorities investigating the case, express the belief that it was misplaced or lost, and that it was not stolen. The hotel management expressed itself as of the same opinion as Scotland Yard.

A search made by Mrs. Corey of her apartment so far has failed to reveal the missing necklace.

Weddings and Engagements

Costs $682.75 To Establish Modern Benedicts In Home

Denying Themselves Movies and Sundae, Newlyweds Might Include Picture For Sitting-Room In Budget.

As it was June—month of roses—Ophelia roses and lily of the valley—month of white satin and shell pink georgette month of going-away suits of navy blue tulle, month, in a word, of brides, The Advertiser reporter closed her desk and set forth to discover how much it takes to establish the 1923 bride and groom in a home.

"What sort of bride and groom?" asked the assistant manager of the furniture department, casting up three columns of figures at once in his head.

"Oh, just a nice, simple, well-brought-up bride and groom," said The Advertiser, "the kind that always has a victrola and about fifteen jazz records and two really good selections."

"A thousand dollars," said the assistant manager cautiously, for though it was only the fourth of June he was heartily sick of brides and grooms already.

"Not a thousand!" cried The Advertiser, thinking of the hundreds of nice, simple, well-brought-up brides and grooms of 1923, struggling for their happiness against the iron rigors of the economic system and losing their ardor and growing old and stale and indifferent, all because of a thousand dollars.

"They'll have to have walnut for the dining-room," said the assistant manager.

"They could do with gum-wood," pleaded The Advertiser, "and gray enamel for the bedroom, with pink roses in blue flower-baskets."

"You're as bad as they are," sneered the assistant manager.

"Six hundred dollars," urged The Advertiser.

"Eight hundred," said the assistant manager doggedly.

They compromised on seven hundred and fifty. And afterwards The Advertiser went over to talk to the furniture man across the way.

"Let's see," said the furniture man, taking out a paper and pencil, for he wasn't gifted like the assistant manager, "first of all, we'll do their living-room. They'll have to have a chest-dresser."

"Must have Chest-dresser."

"Couldn't they get along without the chest-dresser?" asked the Advertiser, and was instantly ashamed of the negligently thought. The furniture man shook his head. He had been in the furniture department for many years, and he knew that a bride and groom may be able to get along without a gas range or a kitchen table or the blessing of their parents, or even without the blessing of a clergy, but they can't possibly get along without a chest-dresser set.

"They can get a chest-dresser set for $125," said the furniture man, and if it had not been for the candor of his look it would have been difficult to believe him, "and, let's see— a mahogany veneer bedroom set at $175, with $25 for the rug and $15 for the blinds, and in the kitchen a gas range for $60, table and chairs $10, refrigerator $12.75, oilcloth $25, and in the dining-room—"

"But that isn't all for the kitchen," urged The Advertiser. "She'll want three kinds of egg beater, and a set of graduated mixing bowls and a set of graduated tubs, and six kinds of strainer—"

"Hold on," said the furniture man. "Is this a bride or a bootlegger? And anyway, how about showers?"

"This was true, but it was humiliating that a man should have thought of it."

"If someone would only give her a chest-dresser shower!" said The Advertiser.

How it's Done.

The furniture man figured rapidly with his pencil and paper, and finally assembled his totals. Here they are:

Living room: Chest-dresser set$125.00
Rug 25.00
Curtains and blinds 15.00
Table 15.00

Blackheads Go Quickly
By This Simple Method
Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body can be quickly and easily removed by this simple method that just dissolves them. It does this by the action of peroxide powder from your drugstore—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave the large and ugly—while the simple application of peroxide powder and the water mixture then dissolves the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.—Advt.

Beauty Advice

By RUTH ROLAND.

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—When Ruth Roland, the beautiful actress, was interviewed and asked if she would be willing to tell the readers of this paper how she kept her complexion so youthful and fresh looking, she replied more than delighted to do so. It is a very simple matter, she said.

First and foremost, cleanliness is an important factor. I cleanse my face thoroughly with Liska cold cream, after which I use a simple toilet preparation called Derwillo. I always apply this before going out.

"Anyone can beautify their complexion if they will use these preparations Derwillo and Liska cold cream. I have no difficulty in securing them at almost every toilet counter."

The first application of Derwillo astonishes you, as it gives the skin a youthful appearance and a clear baby softness every normal woman craves. If you wish to insure have a beautiful rosy-white complexion and clear, unblemished skin, Derwillo and you will be delightfully surprised. Veil to Match the Eyes. Paris, June 7.—The veil to match the eyes is an innovation today and a happy one. The veil in blue or deep brown comes just below the eyes and ought to be a perfect match. In the case of hazel eyes, however, a green veil gives a fascinating green tinge greatly admired.

Sherry Tint for Blondes. London, June 7.—It is interesting to note, as one may at such smart gatherings as a tea dance at Claridge's how wide a vogue the new sherry tint has achieved today. ALMA DAUGHTERS PLAN GARDEN FETE, JUNE 30

Function Will Be Held at the Home of Mrs. A. J. Morgan, Wellington Street.

The members of the London branch of the Alma Daughters arranged to hold a garden party on June 30 at their regular meeting held last night at the home of Mrs. D. M. Morrison, Grosvenor street. The fete will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Morgan, Wellington street, who have loaned their beautiful garden for the occasion.

Conveners of the garden party are Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Stella Venn, Miss Doris Tanner and Miss Gertrude Morgan, with Mrs. Ead, president of the club, also acting on the committee.

Rapid work was made at last night's meeting in connection with the Alma Daughters' banquet to be held at the college in St. Thomas on June 18. Miss Stella Venn gave an interesting account of the board meeting held in Toronto recently.

The chief feature of the evening was a talk by Miss Margaret Coyne on her trip through Egypt and her interesting visit to the tomb of King "Tut." Mrs. Ead, the president, occupied the chair.

At the Movies Last Night

"Slander the Woman."

A curious thing about "Slander the Woman" at the Allen is the face at the window. One is intrigued to discover whether it is that of a murderer, a madman or a rum-runner, or more exciting still perhaps, a combination of all three. Dorothy Phillips makes one of her infrequent screen appearances in this picture of Montreal and the Hudson Bay country. Allen Holubar who directed it, has the old-fashioned weaklings for his close-ups, giving a straight dozen or more in one instance on very slight provocation.

For the rest, however, the picture is nicely compounded of mysterious episodes in the night, murders, and near-murders, starting off well with a shooting in the second or third scene.

The dependable Mayme Kelso adds greatly to one's enjoyment of the picture by her appearance as Nanette, and her admirer, the guide, is another familiar figure on the screen who insures something very taking in a character role.

"Slander the Woman" has a few crudities, first and foremost "Yvonne" earlier than, but if these are excused, and it is ground out a trifle more rapidly than at the second performance yesterday afternoon, it ought to pass muster quite creditably. The custom metropolis has been looming large in the movies of late, but "Slander the Woman" commences in Montreal for reasons which are other than the O. T. A.

"Missing Millions."

"Missing Millions" at Loew's for the rest of the week is a "crook" picture, devoted from one of the popular "Boston Blackie" stories. In the last picture of this series, which we saw here, Lionel Barrymore was Boston Blackie, and Mary McLaren, his wife. In "Missing Millions," we have David Powell giving a very fitting interpretation of Blackie, and Alice Brady a definite improvement on Mary McLaren as the proper type for Mary Dawson.

Every Boston Blackie story is a revelation of what a crook can do, and "Missing Millions" is not the exception. It is but one episode in the career of this famous pair, but it is the episode which has preceded their experience in The Little Church Around the Corner which makes it all the more interesting from a hygienic point of view. The picture is a really excellent one, and the picture is rightly entitled "Court Plastered."

White Shoes Still Prevail. New York, June 7.—In spite of the fact that shoes of all the colors in the spectrum are displayed under the all-white shoe is still at the height of fashion. Though shoe styles tend toward a long and more pointed toe, the sports white shoe is moderately square.

UP FROM THE DEATH CELL

By JOHN W. KANE.

Kane Runs Into a Party of Sightseers and Gives Them Something To Think About

SYNOPSIS.

Curly Kane wins his way to re-generation while in prison. A wild lad, he killed two carmen in a hold-up and after 17 months in Murderers' Row got a new trial, with a life imprisonment sentence instead of death. He studies law, reads, trains himself to be a magazine writer and conceives the idea of a law permitting parole for life prisoners who serve 15 years. By finesse he gets it passed. A new warden, with modern ideas, makes Kane his private secretary. After 12 years Kane walks alone two hours in the open country.

CHAPTER 40.

"Yes, sir, that is the state prison," I answered the driver of the auto. The occupants of the car, two men and two women, consulted; then the driver looked my way again. "I wonder if we could look through the place, if we'd drive over there," said he.

I arose and looked at my watch. "You would have a better opportunity in the forenoon."

"We saw some men working down there a little way. They weren't prisoners, were they?"

"Yes."

"We wondered about it," said he. "we couldn't see any person with arms guarding them, and concluded that they were not convicts."

"There was an officer with them," I explained, "but he was there more as an instructor than as a guard. He has a revolver, but the old rifle days have passed away, just like the ancient ball-and-chain practice."

"Well, there are not any really bad prisoners among them, are there?"

asked one of the women.

"That," said I, removing my hat in recognition of her entrance into the conversation, "would depend upon what one would call a really bad prisoner."

"I mean," she hesitated then, "well, those that have done terrible things like robbing trains and killing people."

I laughed. "There are a number of ex-highwaymen working outside the walls," was my reply, "and also a few who are under sentence for killing."

"You're connected with the place," remarked the other woman.

"Yes—unfortunately I've been connected with it quite a while."

"Would you mind having a smoke and telling us something about it?" asked the driver, a middle-aged man. He drew forth a silver-looking cigar case.

"In a Subordinate Position."

"No, I thank you just the same," returned I, "but just now I am not supposed to leave the reservation."

"I'll just bring the cigar to you then. Any the rest of you want to get out?" He turned back to question his companions. "I'm going to talk with this gentleman—here's a chance to learn something new."

He approached and handed me the cigar—I put it in a pocket, with the remark that I would smoke it later—and the others followed him. They were highly intelligent, well-dressed men and women who carried with them an atmosphere of success and refinement.

"In what capacity are you employed?" was the first question by one of the men.

"It's a rather subordinate position," I said, "and if it be all the same to you, I'd rather not discuss myself any."

"Certainly not," he returned quickly—"and I beg your pardon. But how much land belongs to the institution here?"

"Upward of a hundred and sixty acres."

"And those men we saw—are they tilling the soil?"

"Yes—they're one of about five different gangs, and all of them are working to make the place produce more. The idea is to make it as nearly self-supporting as possible, and thus relieve the taxpayers some."

"That's good common sense."

"We hope that it is. Nearly all the inmates themselves have caught the spirit of produce-more-and-win-the-war, and that spirit along with the new ideas of penal management means transformation here in general."

"The prisoners themselves!" exclaimed the woman who had inquired about the "bad prisoners."

"To a marked degree," I answered. "And because of the big heart and soul of the new warden up there, a kind of new atmosphere of hope permeates the whole place. There's an opportunity to play the game of life in the right way."

"Is it possible? I fear my remark about the bad prisoners sounded puerile."

"What is a Real Criminal?"

"Oh, no," I quickly returned. "The reason I laughed was, that your remark was so strictly in line with the remarks and expressed beliefs of so many others. So many persons think there is a kind of hard and fast line between the bad prisoners and those who are not so terribly bad."

"Now, as to those that have committed the most serious offenses," observed one of the men. "Is there anything about their looks or bearing that is different from the average?"

"Nothing whatever," I assured him. "What would you call a real criminal?"

I knew that, irrespective of the fact that the questioner was fully 20 years older than I, he had no had reason for giving as much thought to the matter as I had. Quickly I reasoned, "Now maybe here is a chance to leave a thought that will eventually prove helpful to others." I glanced from one to the other, then asked:

"What would you call a criminal?"

"Well, I should think a criminal is a person who practices the commission of crime."

"That would be my answer," I agreed. "And, of course, in your expression 'who practices the commission of crime,' you mean one who commits crime again and again, do you not?"

"Precisely that."

"And right this moment you four here think of all those persons in and around this prison as being criminals, do you not?"

"Now, I don't know—perhaps we do though," he answered.

"Then," I went on, "what constitutes a drunkard? If this gentleman here," I indicated one of the men, "who I imagine is no drinking man, should go over in the city to-night and get drunk, would that one spruce make him a drunkard?"

"Not necessarily."

"Would another instance of getting drunk make him a drunkard?"

"Perhaps not."

"Yet, if he got drunk, we'll say a half dozen times, people would be saying, 'Why, he's getting to be a drunkard,' which would be the truth, wouldn't it?"

"It would," answered the lady who up to that time had not spoken a single word.

"Back at 4:43 Sharp."

"And so I tell you," said I, speaking to her direct, "that because those boys up there," I pointed toward the prison, "have committed crime once, they are not necessarily criminals; neither are they real criminals—real 'bad men'—because of twice committing crime."

There was a moment of silence, during which the four stood looking at me. Presently one of the men spoke.

"My friend," said he, "you've given us something to think about. I wish we might talk with you longer. However, here's my card," he passed it to me, I saw he was from the state just north, "and I know these others want to shake hands with you also."

"Kane is my name," said I, watching them closely for a sign indicating that they associated me with the convict Kane, but there was none. "And I appreciate your saying that I've given you something to think of."

I shook hands with all of them, raising my hat in adieu; then they returned to their large touring car, while I went upon my two hours' stroll—that first one for 13 years—thinking of how little idea they had that they had met one of the "bad men" face to face.

Back at the prison, to where I returned at exactly 4:45, there was a surprise in store for me.

une 8.—The downward turn in the market this week has led to the calculations of those who are in the meat business for a while, at least to assume that the advance in the markets at the advance in the far as the butcher cattle and hogs, that calculation has been a little too optimistic. For some time the demand for butcher stuff has slackened, and prices on the open market went off from the previous Monday. There will be a demand for cattle of export quality, the early part of the year at any rate, for butchers expect for best choice, but the little uncertain, and shipper is advised to be cautious. As the coming of the market for the usual winter spells, there is bound to be a hold prices down. The export outlet is a favorable one market, and with moderate prices should hold fairly for the butcher and export.

Prices are steady to strong at 60 cents by the pound. There has been a pronounced slump in this week, and it is said to present low bacon prices in the markets, that prices here are all lower. The week-end hog market was based on a flat rate of $8.25 a cwt. and a 60-cent differential or more was watered. Information of those interested in the marketing of hogs, the prices of the hogs, based on a $8.25 a cwt. for all graded hogs to the official market.

FERGUSON POURS SEVERE CENSURE ON DRURY'S GOVT.

Conservative Leader at Strathroy and Lucan On His Western Tour.

SCORES THE O. T. A.

Pledges His Party To Make Changes in Act If Elected to Power.

On the last lap of his Western Ontario tour, Hon. Howard Ferguson, Ontario leader of the Conservative party, addressed gatherings at Strathroy and Lucan yesterday. George A. Elliott, Tory candidate in North Middlesex, assisted his chief at both meetings.

At the Lucan gathering Mr. Ferguson continued his remarks on the Drury administration during the past four years, and bitterly attacked the farmers for their "ruthless campaign of extravagance."

A summary of his thought can be seen in part of his speech, which states: "It is time for us to forget party differences and work together to get rid of this government and restore sane administration. As I go about the province, day by day, I find this feeling growing very rapidly. It is being realized that we have had three and a half years of the grossest kind of waste, extravagance and misgovernment that the province has ever experienced. Mr. Drury no longer represents farm sentiment. He promised to introduce a number of novel methods and he has. Some of them have been expensive, but we have had the experience of trying them out. What we desire is to be surrounded by men of capacity, honesty and integrity, such men as you have seated behind me, my friend, Mr. Elliott, your candidate in this riding."

Urges Organization.

A. K. Hodgins, chairman, spoke briefly on organization, and in summing up told his audience that "we have a chance second to none at this election, and if you don't get together you have only yourself to blame."

Frank Boyes, candidate in East Middlesex and George Elliott, candidate in North Middlesex, said: "I think there is any doubt about the outcome of the election in North Middlesex. You have kept posted, and know the record of this government. I believe the citizens are determined not to stand for extravagance any longer, and the sooner government is restored to the two old political parties, one in power and the other in opposition, giving fair, constructive criticism and assistance, the better for Ontario and Canada generally."

In his address on what he called Raney's hypocrisy, Ferguson launched a bitter attack on the present administration of the O. T. A. He gave vague promises of a change in the event of his being elected, but forms would be. He said: "This business has been put on the basis of treated as such as if it is to be seriously object to the hypocrisy of the whole situation." Switching over to Premier Drury, he said: Let Mr. Drury clean out his own household before he criticizes anybody else. The Conservative party was battling for temperance without the assistance of these gentlemen with their opposition for many years.

"I don't intend to dive into the cesspools of immorality to get fellows to put on the police force of Ontario for the purpose of getting convictions. If I am honored with the organization of a government to administer the affairs of this province, I hope to do something different course. I hope to do something to build up Ontario, and give our people some pride in claiming citizenship in this province."

At Strathroy.

Mr. Ferguson's meeting at Strathroy was held in the Lyceum, and Mayor Walter Wright acted as chairman. As an introduction to the chief speaker, George Elliott of North Middlesex gave a brief address on the alleged extravagance administration of the Drury government, and stressed which, he claimed, had been laid out for the convenience of the tourist rather than as a public utility to help the farmer and link up our smaller towns.

Hon. Howard Ferguson took the stump after the preliminary "warm ups" were concluded, and for an hour delivered a bitter address on the record of the former administration of the province. He referred to the present government as "this bunch of scoundrels," going into detail in his accusations of extravagance and misgovernment. He stated that the government had gone beyond their rights in invading the field of municipal government, collecting from postrooms and other institutions which had always been respected as a municipal source of revenue.

He hinted that under Conservative government this would be unnecessary, as the policy of retrenchment proposed would reduce the amounts needed for the administration of the affairs of the province.

In passing over the subject of the O. T. A., he again referred to the mulcting of the sick and afflicted by the exorbitant price the government charges for liquor as a medicine, and said these extraordinary measures were the only alternative to direct taxation which will surely come if the present enormous expenditures for highways are allowed to go on.

"That is the position which Ontario occupies today," he said. "There is not another avenue left to which they can resort to keep up this wild pace. Now what are you going to do about it? Are you enjoying that kind of government? The fellows in the government are! If you want to pay for it, and if you want it to continue, don't vote for Mr. Elliott as a supporter of mine, for we are going to try to retrench to some extent and put a stop to that sort of thing. We are going to try to run the business along sane, reasonable lines. We realize that the government coming in will have a herculean task in taking care of the arrears, deficits and debts, but the situation has to be faced and any government coming in, particularly a Conservative government, will do pretty well."

Candidate George Elliott followed his leader in a carefully prepared repetition of Ferguson's remarks on taxation, and followed his argument in detail and in some instances did not even trouble to change the style of delivery.

GRAVEL FROM PARIS PITS.

The London division of the Canadian National Railway has commenced to haul gravel from the Paris Junction pits. The gravel will be used for ballasting the right-of-way, and work will be carried on from the eastern end of the division until the needed amount has been distributed throughout the whole division. Those in charge of the work speak highly of the quality of the gravel which is being shipped from the new pits at Paris Junction.

At present it has only 110,000,000.

Germany's unemployed on March 1 numbered only 194,000.

RED CROSS CHIEF LAUDS THE WORK OF YOUNG FOLKS

Former Member of Collegiate Staff in the City.

ENROLL THOUSANDS

Junior Red Cross in Ontario Is Doing Remarkable Work For Unfortunate.

S. B. McCready, organizer of the Junior Red Cross in Ontario, and formerly a popular member of the staff of the London Collegiate Institute, spoke enthusiastically to The Advertiser during a visit to town today of the growth in the province during the past year of the Junior Red Cross movement.

"We now have ten thousand or more children enrolled in Ontario," he said, "in the crusade for health, usefulness and friendliness. A number of these are actively and happily taking part in the campaign in schools surrounding London within a radius of a few miles."

"The Junior Red Cross is the only plan of training through group organization which fits in with the work and methods of the school. The Junior Red Cross is carried on in school in school time."

"So far as the cities are concerned it enhances the service of the school nurse by providing a practical means for carrying out her instructions between visits."

Helping Hands.

"Not only are the children intent upon intelligently making themselves healthier and stronger, but also in lending a helping hand for the healing of others."

"If we want to abolish war as well as disease in the world, I can't imagine a more ideal method than the Junior Red Cross, which links up children around the world. It may be interesting to readers of The Advertiser to know that the Junior Red Cross is flourishing in such countries as Japan, Siam, Argentina, Yugoslavia as well as in Canada and 24 or 25 other countries, doing its big bit for international friendships in the years to come."

Mr. McCready had hoped to visit a number of London schools today all unaware that the annual school picnic was set for this date. Yesterday afternoon he spoke to the Normal students, also paying a visit to the Alexandra and Simcoe street schools with Inspector V. K. Greer. He expressed his special appreciation of the "self-government" system in the Alexandra school.

"I haven't seen anything like it elsewhere in the province," he stated.

Refers to Cochrane.

Sympathetic reference was made to the plight of the residents of Cochrane, Ont., due to the typhoid epidemic, the opening of a Red Cross Hospital, and the desire of the Provincial Red Cross to give all aid possible to the stricken townspeople.

"Three times the town has been swept off the map by fire," he said, "and the people have gallantly rebuilt and gone ahead. Now one of every four of the population has been down with the plague of typhoid among these numbers of bread-winners. There have been fifty deaths among 3,400 inhabitants. The Provincial Red Cross feels it is the least we can do to come to the aid in every possible way of these great sufferers from fire and epidemic."

DIFFICULT TO DECIDE WHO WAS TO BLAME

Judge Macbeth in Quandary What To Advise in Accident Suit.

Several more witnesses were called in the case of Durdin vs. La Fortune, being heard before His Honor Judge Talbot Macbeth in the county court, which started yesterday morning and was left with the jury at noon today.

The witnesses heard this morning were all for the defence, and merely corroborated evidence given yesterday afternoon and evening. In giving the case to the jury, Judge Macbeth stated that it was a most troublesome case to decide, owing to the conflicting testimony given by either side. It was exceedingly difficult to determine who was at fault in a case like this, where two motorists collided after dark on a narrow road. The jury were to decide as to whom was the negligence, if any, and also to assess damages to Mr. and Mrs. Durdin, Mrs. Finch and the defendant, Leo La Fortune.

PLAN INCREASES FOR EMPLOYEES OF CITY SHORTLY

Deserving Civil Servants Will Be Recognized, Declare Aldermen.

SITUATION 'BRIGHT

Next Week Council Will Thresh Out the Entire Salary Question.

There is every indication that increases for some of the city employees will be forthcoming. It was acknowledged to The Advertiser today that a reasonable amount for this purpose had been provided in the estimates. In this way it is believed that there will at least be a few who will benefit.

There are those who are considered by officials and members of the council as being particularly deserving and there are those whom it is felt have been sadly overlooked in bygone years. Viewing the situation at large the aldermen conclude that in certain instances they can well direct such reasonable advances as circumstances and finances will allow at this time.

The situation will be thoroughly threshed out, Mayor Wenige assures today at a special informal session of the council as early next week as possible.

The council has already directed each departmental head to bring in his entire pay list with the length of service of each member of his staff attached. He will also be asked to make further recommendations in special instances.

From present indications the situation is not nearly so blue as it appeared before the tax rate was struck and some interesting developments are anticipated.

There is nothing for the city hall employees to do but to wait and hope. It was promised by the aldermen that in any event, any increases will be retroactive.

Mayor Wenige's only enlightening comment today was that he desired a "standardization of salaries and wages."

The cheapest ruler in Europe today is probably the president of the Austrian Republic who receives a total of $3,800 a year.

NOTES BIG IMPROVEMENT IN LONDON'S DAIRY HERDS

All milk consumed in London is either pasteurized or is from cattle that have been subjected to the tubercular milk test, according to Dr. C. S. Tamlin, London's inspector of herds and dairies.

"There has been a vast improvement in the quality of the milk," the inspector reports enthusiastically, "and the government officials state that of the 55 herds already subjected to the second regulation test less than 5 per cent of the cattle react. This is ample evidence that there has been a vast improvement in the methods employed by the farmers

COCK-FIGHTING was born with the cocks.

But it is only 80 years ago that the first man felt "like a fighting cock!"

Now he has brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, all over the world—all feeling "like a fighting cock!"

It happens this way: A person half sick with bad stomach, dull and heavy headache, takes Beecham's Pills just before going to bed. Immediately the digestive organs begin to harmonize the digestive and eliminative organs.

Consequently, this person has a good night's sleep and arises in the morning with clear brain, bright eye, keen appetite, and full of energy for work and play.

It is now just 80 years since Beecham's Pills first began correcting disordered stomachs and stirring sluggish livers and bowels to natural activity—and feeling "like a fighting cock" is associated as inseparably with Beecham's Pills, as the pills are with good health.

Season's First Sunday Band Concert

By the ROYAL CANADIAN REGIMENT BAND

Invererie Heights, Port Stanley, NEXT SUNDAY, 3.30 p.m.

SEASON IS GOING FULL SWING NOW AT PORT STANLEY

Famous R.C.R. Band Giving First Concert Sunday Afternoon.

SUMMER TIME TABLE

Special Saturday Evening Train Service Arranged For Dancing Pavilion Patrons.

The regular summer schedule goes into effect on the London & Port Stanley Railway on Sunday next, which means an hourly service on fast, all-steel electric coaches, to and from Port Stanley. The regular summer fares have been in vogue for some time, and will continue during the season.

Sunday next the first band concert of the season will take place, when a choice program of artistic numbers will be rendered by the band of the Royal Canadian Regiment, under the direction of Captain M. Ryan, one of the most famous bandmasters of both the British and Canadian armies.

The R. C. R. Band competed in the famous band competition at Toronto, and carried off second prize in the face of the stiffest sort of competition. This fact proves that the R. C. R. Band is one of the finest in America, and the program to be rendered on Sunday next will surely prove a musical treat for all.

Two of the most popular of the L. & P. S. services are the huge bathhouse and the cafeteria. The bathhouse, with its thousand rooms, has every accommodation for bathers—sterilized suits and towels, electric hair dryers for the ladies, and lockers for everybody.

The L. & P. S. Cafeteria is enjoying the largest patronage in its history, and is electrically cooked meals and lunches appeal very strongly to picnicers. The prices are more reasonable than ever, and compare most favorably with the rates charged at other resorts.

All boardwalk attractions are in full swing, and the visitors will find many amusements to pass away the hours at the lakeside. Invererie Heights are very beautiful just now, and the harbor, with its myriad of small and large craft, makes it a very pretty picture. Every day the breakwater is lined with fishermen and fisherwomen, and some excellent catches are being reported.

A change in the time table this year, which is of interest to those who patronize the dancing pavilion, is that the last train will leave for London at 11:45, instead of 11:30, as was the case in the past.
