CORRECTION.

MADOC, ONT., Jan. 18th, 1892.

Editor CANADIAN ARCHITECT AND BUILDER.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to draw your attention to an error in Volume V, No 1, CANADIAN ARCHITECT AND BUILDER for Jan., '92.

On page six you state the stone for new drill shed, Toronto, is being supplied from Deschambault Quarries, Que.

In justice to your paper as well as ourselves, we take the liberty of informing you this is not the case, as we have the contract, and are now supplying all the thick foundation stone, also two thirds of all rubble stone required for above structure. Possibly some of the lighter or finishing stone is being shipped from Quebec. We would thank you to make correction.

Yours respectfully,

J. BRODIGAN & Co.

BUSINESS FAILURES.

J. J. Carruthers, builder, Toronto Junction, has assigned to J. H. McArthur.

W. N. Crone & Co., builders, Toronto, have called a meeting of their creditors.

James Hannah, builder, Toronto, has assigned to E. R. C. Clarkson.

TO CLEAN AND POLISH BRASSWORK, PIPES etc.—take one ounce oil vitriol, one-half gill sweet oil, one gill powdered rotten stone, 1½ pints rain water, mix and shake well before using; add to the mixture one-half ounce nitro-myrbane to make it fragrant, stick on a French or German label that nobody can read, boom it in the papers as a newly discovered polish just imported, and you can do a good business. At any rate, you'll have a No. 1 polish, and if your customers don't read the papers too closely you may get rich selling it. Put on with cotton waste and polish with woolen or chamois.—Ex.

USEFUL HINTS.

Do not finish windows to the floor—the circulation across the floor is one of the causes of cold houses.

Bituminous rock is used for many street pavements in California. It is found in some parts of the State, and closely resembles asphalt.

Lanlords in England, the courts have held, are liable for damages in case of disease of tenants from defective drains, &c., on condition that the landlord had warranted the premises to be in good sanitary condition.

The "staff," for decorating the World's Fair buildings at Chicago, is a mixture of plaster paris, alumina, dextarine and glycerine. It is of French origin, and was first used at the Paris Exposition of 1878. The various constituents are mixed like ordinary plaster, with cold water and allowed to harden in molds. The composition is quite water-proof, and to correct any tendency to brittleness the castings are backed by some textile material such as coarse canvas. The color of the material is dirty white, but it can of course be tinted to any hue that may be required.—Ex.

Geometricians have proved that the circumference of every circle is nearly 3.1416 times its diameter; hence, when a diameter is given it is quite easy to find the circumference to the ten-thousandth part of an inch, or even a much finer fraction than that. Suppose it is required to find the circumference of a wheel cylinder, tank, round table, cotton bobbin,—in short, anything that is circular. Diameter \times 3.1416 = circumference. This rule gives the result near enough for all practical purposes. Simple as this calculation is, there is no other one that is required oftener by all mechanics; it is, therefore, as useful as it is simple.

At a recent meeting of the French Societe Technique du Gaz an ingenious contrivance for the distribution of hot water by an apparatus was shown by M. Garnier. Cold water arrives by a ball and constant level arrangement at the top of the house; it is heated by certain gas burners, and descends to the main pipe, which supplies baths, washhand basins, &c. But when the flow downward ceases, the gas supply becomes choked off by a water plug, and no gas is being burned except at a bye-pass jet. When water is being drawn off the plug of water which choked off the gas supply is drawn away down with it, and now freely flows to supply the 15 bunsen burners which are used to heat the water newly come in to take the place of that which has just been drawn off.

Plumbers are often asked, when making repairs, whether they can not rejuvenate faucets and other plumbing appliances which have had the silver plate worn off. Here's a recipe which it is stated will enable them to gratify their customers, and also to make a penny extra very often: To a strong solution of silver nitrate add a solution of potassium cyanide, sufficient to redissolve the precipitate at first thrown down. To this add sufficient Spanish whiting or precipitated chalk to form a thin paste. This composition in a warm state applied to perfectly clean brass, German silver or copper, will leave a thin but very substantial film of silver. Copper treated in this way will give a much better effect if zinc filings are sprinkled over the article, and when the silver is obtained these may be washed off.
