The Motherless. God help and shield the motherless, The stricken, bleeding dove-For whom there gushes no rich fount Of deep and deathless love ! The saddest title grief confers-For who so lone as they, Upon whose path a mother's love Sheds not its holy ray !

No gentle form above them bends To soothe the couch of pun-No voice so fond as her's essays To calm the feverish brain. Ob, other tongues may whisper love, In accepts soft and mild, But none on earth so pure as that A mother bears her child

Judge kindly of the motherless-A weary lot is theirs, And oft the heart that gayest seems A load of sorrow bears. No faithful voice directs their steps, Or hids them onward press. "And if they gang a kennin' wrang," God help the motherless !

And when the sinful and the frail, The tempted and the tried, Unspotted one ! shall cross thy path, Oh. spurn them not aside. Thou knowest not what thou bad'st been With trials even less_ And when thy lips would vent reproach, Think, they were motheriess !

A blessing on the motherless Where'er they dwell on earth, Within the home of childhood, Or at the stranger's hearth Blue be the sky above their heads : And bright the sun within ; O God, protect the motherless, And keep them free from sin !

Hysterics, mervousness cured. Newark, N. J., Oct. 10th, 1863. Dn. Radwaw: Your Pills and Ready Keitef have saved my daughter's life, In June last she was eighteen years of agg, and for three months her memers were suppressed. She would frequently vomit blood, suffer terribly from headache and pain in the small of the back and thighs, and had frequent fits of hysterics. We commenced by giving her six of your Pills every night, and rubbed the Ready Relief on her spine, back, and hips. We continued this treatment one week, when to our joy she was relieved of her difficulty. She is now well and regular, and has been so ever since. Yours very truly, J. G. HODGSON.
