The lake is nine miles wide and 17 long. In the long-ago rapid evaporation of the lake's water left great salt crystals floating on the surface. In the course of time these cakes together. Thus the waters were finally entirely covered. In 1873 the lake found an underground outlet into the river Obi, which lowered its surface about three feet. The salt crust was so thick, however, that it retained its old level, and now presents the curious spectacle of a salt-roofed lake.

TALKS FOR THE FARMER.

SHEEP A PROFITABLE STOCK FOR THE CANADIAN FARMER.

A Very Careful Review of the Different Breeds—The Competition of One Breed Against Another a Mistake—A Lesson in Farm Manners.

A great many of the farmers of Ontario have given up raising sheep, and claim it does not pay to raise them; but take an average farm of 100 acres of good land and it will carry a flock of twenty ewes under good management, and the profits will run from $100 to $200 per year from wool and mutton. Ten acres of clover and peas will, with a few roots, be all that is required for their winter feed, and there is a gain in growing these crops, as peas and clover enrich the soil and relieve the necessity of growing so much barley at the present low price, (with no prospect of improvement for coming years, it being a crop which tends to impoverish the soil and makes a very small return in manure).

There are many different opinions as to what kind of sheep are the most profitable to raise. This I believe should be regulated by the quality of the soil. The Cotswolds some years ago were awarded the medal at Toronto Industrial against all breeds for the best pair of fat sheep for exportation, which was won by ewes weighing 345 pounds each. Again recently at the London Provincial show the Cotswolds were awarded first prize against all others, although it seems to be a mistake—the competition of one breed against another. The Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association could make a change in this particular satisfactory to all interested. The real value of Cotswolds is in crossing on other breeds or on grade flocks.

Mr. Russell, Swanwick, Manager of the Agricultural College Farm at Gloucester, Gloucestershire, England, showed me a flock of sheep, two of every kind in Great Britain, which he had collected together that he might compare their feeding qualities. He remarked at the time that a great many of their Cotswold rams were used in England to cross on Down ewes, to improve their feeding quality, and no doubt the mutton sells for Down mutton on the English markets. The gain in using Cotswold rams in Canada is to get size for shipping purposes, as we all know it is the weight that brings the profit. I can only give my own experience in breeding Leicesters, Lincolns, Cotswolds and Shropshires. A few years ago I fed in one pen two pairs of first prize Cotswold ewes at the English Royal, and one pair of Shropshire ewes, first prize winners at the H. S. Show in Scotland; raised pure-bred lambs from them all, and find the Cotswold will produce the heaviest lambs, and in shearings again I find the Cotswold will shear about three pounds to two of the Shrop. Canada has only been a resting place for the Cotswolds on their way to the west, even as far as Colorado. The wool dealers injured the reputation of the Cotswolds, as they fancied every coarse fleece was a Cotswold when not one in five hundred was from pure-blooded Cotswold sheep. The demand for Cotswolds in the west at present cannot be supplied. This goes far to show that no other breed will replace them.—James Russell, Richmond Hill, in Farmer's Advocate.

A LESSON IN MANNERS.

Uncle Theodore Has an Encounter With Farmer Tumbledown.

At one of the farmers' institutes, Theodore Louis, the veteran teacher of hogology, had been relating to an interested audience of farmers how he bred, fed and marketed his hogs, giving minute details of the work, tending brood sows, cooking squashes, cleaning out the pens, supplying bedding and everything pertaining to the business. As he came down from the platform a farmer with unkempt hair and beard, a slouched hat, greasy frock and overalls, the latter sucked into a pair of dirty, coarse boots, met him and said:

"Mr. Louis, do you pretend to say you feed your own hogs?"

"Oh, yes! When I am at home."

"And clean out the manure?"

"Certainly," said Mr. Louis, with a smile.

"Well," said Farmer Tumbledown, with a sneer, "when a man with a stiff hat, a black suit of clothes, a gold chain and shiny shoes tells me he feeds hogs and cleans out the pen, I don't believe him."

This rather nettled the good-natured champion of improved "swine husbandry," and he said:

"My friend, did you learn anything new of me, to-day?"

"Oh, yes," said Tumbledown, "all you said about breeding and feeding was good, but I don't believe a man who dresses like you ever feeds hogs."

There was an interested group of listeners gathered by this time, and, with a twinkle in his eyes, Uncle Theodore said:

"Now, my friend, let me teach you something else. If you want men to respect you and your calling, you must show some respect for it yourself. You ought to have enough ambition and self-respect so that when you go to town or to attend an institute you would black your boots, put on a decent suit of clothes and clean yourself up."

The crowd seemed to appreciate the situation, and Tumbledown had business somewhere else.

It is not the farming but it is farmers like Tumbledown that cause some people to speak lightly of farmers. There is nothing in the business of farming that needs to make a boor of a man. The day is passed when dirty hands, greasy clothes and muddy boots are to be accepted as an index of occupation.—Colman's Rural World.

A Startling Statement.

A New Hampshire institute the state that a ton of butter contained 18 cents worth of fertilizing material, that in a ton of cheese was valued at 10 cents, created an unusual degree of interest.

Easy Competition Effects.

Competition is the great trouble in the farmers. And there is but one way to reduce the cost of production by increasing yields and growing more per acre.

Dress Goods.

We have the newest shades and most popular effects in dress goods. We call especial attention to our black and colored all-wool Henriettas from 40c. per yard upwards.

Tweeds, Coatings, etc.

We show the best goods and best values. If you want a spring suit or overcoat you will make a mistake if you purchase without inspecting our stock.

Cotton Goods.

Anticipating an advance in price in all lines of cotton goods as a result of the recent combination of manufacturers, we have bought largely in cottonades, denims, shirtings, grey and white cottons, etc.; we are headquarters for these goods.

Groceries.

In this line we keep the highest grades of goods at the lowest possible living prices.

Teas.

We give the Tea trade especial attention. Our Japan at 4 1/2 and 3 lbs. for $1 cannot be excelled. We have cheaper and dearer lines but these are leaders.

A WORD IN CONCLUSION:

Some think us dear because we will not COME DOWN in the price of our goods. It is not our way of doing business. We mark all our goods in plain figures and sell at one price to all. The poor man's $ is as good to us as the rich man's. We cannot see any other honest way of doing business. Our past experience convinces us that a majority of the public appreciates fair dealing and goods as they are represented.

Mr. John Sanderson returned home from Manitoba last week.

Our village is full of strangers. Nearly every family appears to be enjoying the pleasure of a visit from distant friends or relatives.

Hamilton & Sanderson are shipping heavy consignments of sheep and cattle from here nearly every day.

The Agricultural hall here was struck by lightning during one of the late storms. It sustained considerable damage, which was fortunately fully covered by insurance.

Mr. David Weir's barn, in this village, was burned to the ground one day last week. The building was insured.

Quite a pleasant re-union occurred at the residence of Alex. L. Gibson, Esq., in this village last week, all his children having gathered for the purpose. Of the boys, Thomas is a reporter on the Globe staff; George holds a good position in far away Vancouver, and John, the youngest, is a school teacher at Mildmay. Of the five girls two are residents of the village, the eldest, Mrs. Jas. Ireland, and a younger sister, the obliging Deputy in the post office here. The other ladies came home from different parts of the States. During their stay the family was photographed in a large group in Mr. Ireland's lawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson will thus have a souvenir of an occasion which their hosts of friends hope they will often enjoy in the future ere the Reaper steps in to break the happy circle.

The people of the village turned out en masse the other day and gathered up all the loose stones and large boulders which have been a nuisance there for some time past. The streets now present a much more respectable appearance than they formerly had.

Mr. Taylor, druggist, of Harrison, and a friend, have been the guests of Mr. Jos. Cowan, for a week or so past.

Mr. Fortune, V. S., has recovered his driver. After a long hunt the lost animal was found at Hanover. Hereafter Mr. Fortune will be in Fordwich one half day in each week, commencing next Monday afternoon.

A few young ladies and their gentlemen friends enjoyed a picnic near the village the other day. By the merry laughter and romping I judge a very pleasant time was spent.

My songs fit away on the wing
They are flitted with a smile or a sigh
And away with the songs that I sing
Fit my joys and my sorrows and I.

Old Mr. Wallace, who has been ailing since last winter, is still on the decline. He is one of the pioneers of this township.

Glenfarrow.

Mrs. Fraser and Miss McMillan, of Shakespeare, are visiting at Mr. Douglas Fraser's.

W. T. Farrell, of St. Louis, was here last week renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Farrell has now a good position in a railway office in St. Louis. His many friends here were glad to see him.

The Misses Bentley, of Blyth, are spending their holidays with friends here.

Mrs. Wm. Walker and family, of Langside, have moved into the house lately occupied by Mr. Green.

Huntingfield.

Miss Agnes Harkness left on Monday for Manitoba. The best wishes of all go with her.

The sheets at McIntosh's church are badly dilapidated. A skillfully wielded hammer and some nails would soon make the needed repairs.

Berrying is still quite popular.

The Mildmay creamery wagons are doing a good business in this section. The patrons realized 10¢. clear of all expenses, for their June butter.

Mr. Walter Pomeroy had his barn re-shingled last week.

Mr. John Johnson's barn was slightly damaged by the storm Friday evening.

Mr. Wm. Loadt, 2nd con., Carrick, raised a fine bank barn last Tuesday. Wm. Woods and C. Waack acted as captains and after a spirited race Woods came off victorious by three rafters.

Mr. John Taylor and wife have returned from a short visit to the North West.
