CONCERT AT BERWICK TONIGHT—SPECIAL TRAIN

The famous 85th Battalion Band assisted by the best talent in the Highland Brigade as well as other artists of equal merit will give a concert in the Baptist Church, Berwick, this evening, Friday, Oct. 6th in the interest of the Military Y. M. C.

Besides the Band the programme will include Miss Helen Knowles, soprano, Miss Evelyn Spidell, contralto, Corpl. Owen, violinist; Mr. Harry Murray, baritone, The Highland Quartette, and Mr. Wallace Kemp, bass.

The special train will leave Aldershot at 6.30 p.m., Kentville at 6.45 and return the same evening.

INDUCTION SERVICE POSTPONED

The public induction service in the Baptist Church at Kentville has been postponed for a while. The interest taken in the concert at Berwick prevented the arrangements for special music being carried out. The service will be held either the week following or as soon as possible after the close of the Baptist Convention at St. John.

STRANGE CASE OF MARY PAGE

Episode 2—"THE TRIAL"

Mr. Stephen Kidston of Church St., has received word that his son has been wounded in battle in France and is now in the hospital.

What was probably the biggest event this season was the Masquerade Dance given by Mr. J. L. Hosking at the Pastime Theatre on Thursday evening last. Considering the difficulty to obtain costumes here the "hop" was a decided success and everybody enjoyed the evening immensely. The music was furnished by a six piece orchestra. In all probably the best orchestra of its kind the citizens of Kentville have had the pleasure of hearing for some time. Mr. Hosking is giving a Thanksgiving Dance on Tuesday next (Oct. 10) and it is hoped he will be given the support of the dancing public of Kentville and surrounding country. The admission will be $1.00 for gentlemen and 50c for ladies. Refreshments will be served and the Hosking Orchestra will be in attendance.

Wanted—At once a book-keeper. Apply Boylan & Gaal, Kentville.

The farewell concert given by the 193rd Battalion Tuesday evening, under the direction of Sgts. Fletcher and Ballard-Brown was a great success. The Nicklet Theatre was crowded to overflowing, many being unable to gain admittance. A splendid program was given including music by the 193rd Band, comic sketches by Pte. Jock Ward, readings by Mrs. (Sgt.) Herman, solos by Miss Helen Knowles, Bandsman Walter Kemp, and Sgt. Ballard-Brown, cornet solo by Sgt. Bandsman Lyons. Sgt. W. E. Fletcher ably presided at the piano. Selections from the Highland Brigade Quartet were also much enjoyed also the 85th Pipers Gillies and Mcintosh, Highland Dancing and Pipes. A unique part of the program was the scientific display of self defence by the Bros. Hilson (aged 8 and 11). Five reels of excellent pictures added much to the enjoyment of the entertainment.

INVENTOR OF THE BRITISH TANKS

Man Who Took the Plans to England Declines to Permit the Use of His Name.

London, Sept. 29 — While friends are claiming for Winston Churchill former First Lord of the Admiralty, and Colonel Swinton, the credit for the discovery of the "tanks," which played, such an important part in the recent advance on the Somme front, the original inventor remains undisclosed, but The Associated Press is informed by a reliable authority that the war machine is an adaptation of the caterpillar tractor.

According to this authority the invention was brought to the attention of the War Office early in the war. Great Britain declined to finance the project, unless the machines were manufactured in England.

These armored ships on land are mounted on four caterpillar tractors, which not only make the machine incapable of being capsized, but it crosses ditches. The idea of using a caterpillar tractor has been worked on for the last ten years, and the problem was solved finally equipping the machine with engines of such tremendous horsepower that they are able to pull the heaviest harvesting machines and gang plows over extremely rough ground.

The man who brought the plans to England declines to permit the use of his name, declaring that for business reasons he does not desire to dim the glory of those claiming the credit. He says he has plans for a tractor which will probably be more effective than the tanks.

Dr. S. K. Patten of 141 Milk Street, Boston, who happened to be on board and who arranged with the voyager about his passport, verified the story with a good natured grin when questioned, and finally Stewardess Gouley admitted a degree of culpability in the untoward evasion of the law.

Almost immediately little Arthur Newell had 700 good friends in the cold world in which he had arrived, and they were prepared to give substantial evidence of their good will. Leonard Grant, a business man of Halifax, and Elsie Reidel, who is in vaudeville took the initiative and began a canvass of the passengers. So it happens that as a result of his perspicuity of choosing his own time and method of coming aboard the young man starts life with a fine name, a fifty-dollar bank roll of which any young man of his age and attainments might be proud, and the good wishes of his fellow-passengers.

Mrs. Newell and the enterprising young gentleman were taken to their new home on Falcon street, East Boston, in a City Hospital ambulance. And it is said that Capt. Kinney entered in the Prince Arthur's in the following significant statement: "Ship struck by lively little quail somewhere about 2 o'clock this morning."

BABY BREAKS TWO NATIONS' LAWS $50 REWARD

(From Boston Exchange) "There are 700 persons on that boat now and there aren't going to be even 701 make the trip," declared the inspector as the Eastern Steamship Corporation's boat, Prince Arthur, was making ready to leave Yarmouth, N. S., for Boston Saturday evening.

About 150 dissatisfied, would-be passengers heard the verdict and resigned their intention of sailing, but inspector or no inspector, the government regulations were smashed to bits and the Prince Arthur sailed into Boston harbor yesterday morning with the 701st passenger lustily calling the attention of the other 700 to his place among them.

And they welcomed him heartily. In fact, they appreciated the good joke he had pulled off so thoroughly that they rushed about and collected $50 in silver as a present for him. Even the captain was so taken with the clever evader of the laws of the United States and Canada, that he insisted he continue the career, began so auspiciously, and be named after his boat, and that, of course, is as high a tribute as any captain can pay a passenger.

It all came about this way. Mrs. Wallace Newell of Cape Sable Island, Nova Scotia, was among the throngs who tried to get passage on the Prince Arthur Saturday night. She was journeying to Boston to join her husband, who is a deck hand on the steamer Myles Standish of the Nantasket line, and, as he was to meet her she was particularly anxious to be among the 700 taken.

Somewhere around 2 o'clock Sunday morning the little son and heir of the Newell family came aboard the Prince Arthur. He brought no substantial amount of baggage and he passed up the formality of registering his name on the passenger list. As a matter of fact, he didn't at that time possess such a thing as a name.

Yesterday morning the news quickly spread among the passengers on board the Prime Arthur, that the 701st passenger as among them. The new arrival was announced at breakfast time in the dining room and Captain Kinney, who was bursting with pride over the event, expressed to everyone his intention of being lenient with the youthful law-breaker.

Dr. S. K. Patten of 141 Milk Street, Boston, who happened to be on board and who arranged with the voyager about his passport, verified the story with a good natured grin when questioned, and finally Stewardess Gouley admitted a degree of culpability in the untoward evasion of the law.

NEMESIS PURSUES

The constant, tireless push of the British Troops in France must seem, as an American writer says, to the enemy the most amazing thing in the war! The German home papers, voicing reports of their correspondents at the front have each week since the Allied drive began on July 1, announced that it had been finally checked or had worn itself out against Germany's invincibility. The Kaiser told his soldiers and the Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria repeated it that the troops facing the English had the honored position in being able to beat Germany's real enemy—England. The Kaiser set the fashion in August, 1914, with the reference to "General French's contemptible little army"—Prince Rupprecht responded with his first echo in the following November: "Soldiers! You must not now lose energy in the fight with our most hated foe (England.) You must finally break his pride. He is already tired out."

Naturally Prince Rupprecht and the Kaiser are too busy to recall such utterances—indulged in not only by themselves but by countless prophets, priests and kings. Nemesis has not overlooked it. The cause, of course, is in the fact that these leaders, living in Hate Street, believe they can stimulate effort in their troops by fooling them as to the strength of their enemies—a policy and purpose which has lost Germany every trick of the war and which now weakens her arm in the hour of her greatest necessity.

A CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

(From the Little Paper)

We should like to print this story in letters of gold. It is on a Colonel on the British front who wanted twenty men to face almost certain death. He called the whole company together, and made the situation clear to them. Then he asked for twenty volunteers to advance one pace. He loved his men, and it was almost more than he could bear. He closed his eyes to keep back the tears, and when he opened them the men stood in exactly the same formation. He was pained. "Is there not one volunteer?" he asked. A little sergeant stepped forward at salute "Everyone has advanced one pace sir," he said.

"Hoo de ye knaa he's an Australian?" asked Geordie.

"Why; canna ye see he's got a kangaroo's feather in his hat?" replied the pal.

"Fruit-a-lives" Made Him Feel As If Walking On Air

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1914. "For over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. One day I saw your sign which read 'Fruit-a-lives make you feel like walking on air.' This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, and everything I eat, and the headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends."

Summary of Y.M.C.A. Work

Interesting Statement of Formes and Successes of Activities at Aldershot.

The Y. M. C. A. at Aldershot was opened about May 19th. The new building Annex was completed and formally opened on July 12th. From that date to the present time there were held in the Auditorium eleven Sunday night services consisting of a sing song, special music and a Gospel address by a Chaplain. The average attendance would be about 400. In addition to this there were smaller group meetings following the regular services.

During the week nights there were fourteen religious meetings with an average attendance of 400. Special music was also a feature of these meetings. There was one Communion Service at which sixty men, many of them for the first time, communed.

There was one Temperance Sunday when seventy-nine signed the pledge of Total Abstinence. As a result many more are doing so.

There were eight free concerts, with an average attendance of 750. The performances were of the first-rate order.

There was a free "movie" show every night except Sunday.

The Brigade Bible Class met twelve times, about 140 men were in attendance, with an average attendance of 44. The Soldiers Service League has almost reached the 200 mark, and has rendered magnificent service. The Hospital has been visited about 150 times and a large quantity of writing material land magazines distributed there. About 160 razors were honed free of charge. Flowers were distributed ten times. The daily paper was placed in every pair of two tents and in every isolated tent each day.

A library of 400 books was always more than half in circulation and the sale of stamps was $97.00 in one day. An average of 1,400 sheets of paper and envelopes in corresponding quantity were distributed free. Thanks are due to the ladies who contributed books, magazines, flowers and fruit of all which greatly helped in the work of service.

Y.M.C.A. Leader Gone Overseas

Capt. S. O. Watt Sent to Continue Work With Canadian Troops Abroad

The Y.M.C.A. staff at Aldershot has recently lost an efficient member and leader in the person of Capt. S. O. Watt who has had charge of the work here during the summer. He has been sent overseas to continue in Y.M.C.A. work with the Canadian troops in Europe, a position for which he has been excellently fitted by two years of military Y.M.C.A. service at Amherst, with the 6th Mounted Rifles, at Valcartier, Halifax and Aldershot, backed by several years of creditable work in local Associations.

Capt. Watt is a genial soul, a "good old scout"—to use an epithet which he himself sometimes applied to individuals among his many friends in camp. He was "Dad" with many of the boys, and a friend to all, one who had a smile and a joke always ready for use, and in whose presence it was difficult to be "blue." He goes to what we believe a larger service with the good wishes and the confidence of officers and men alike. He is succeeded in the important position which he has left by Mr. Guy MacKenzie.

Capt. Tupper Recruits Eighty Men to War on Kaiser Alcohol

Sunday, Sept. 24, was Temperance Sunday at the Y.M.C.A. A. Capt. Chaplain Tupper was the speaker. In an address that combined humor and pathos, he arraigned the evils of alcoholic indulgence, and took away or annulled all evidence used to make a good case for the upholders of the use of alcohol as a beverage.

So well did he argue and so thoroughly did the men agree with his words, that at the close of the meeting eighty men came forward and pledged themselves totally to abstain from alcoholic drink and to assist their comrades to do the same.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION

The electors of Kings County are in a few weeks to have the duty and privilege of exercising the franchise in the selection of men, who will have in charge the affairs of the municipality for the next three years. Inasmuch as, in some respect, the questions of temperance and moral reform are the most important with which the new council will have to deal, it is fitting that attention should be drawn to the principles of the Temperance Alliance, as they apply in this election.

The object of the election should be to secure a body of intelligent God-fearing men, who, putting aside all selfish considerations, will work for the highest welfare of the municipality. The Christian standard is set forth in Romans the thirteenth chapter as follows: "For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to evil. For he (the civic ruler) is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil be afraid, for he beareth not the sword in vain, for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil." To realize this standard, and to seek its attainment, will serve as a guide to all concerned.

The Alliance holds that the ideal condition is that municipal affairs should be kept out of party politics. Suitable men for councillors should be selected irrespective of party affiliations, and they should be expected to keep themselves free from the machinations of petty partisanship. But where this ideal has not been attained, the policy of the Alliance is to use its influence so that none excepting good candidates shall be in the field. Then, whatever the complexion of the Council may be from a party viewpoint, the purposes of temperance and moral reform will be served. In order to encourage the parties to measure up to this standard, it is necessary simply for Alliance members, first, to use their influence; in their respective parties, to have the right kind of candidates nominated, and, secondly, to exercise a sufficient degree of independence to vote for the best man on the ticket. Unless Christian electors are prepared to take this stand, it is not only folly, it is positive sin to pray "Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done."

THE BROWN TAIL MOTH

We have during 1914-15 and 1915-16 two successful seasons in controlling the Brown Tail Moth in the Province. In 1913-14 the year following the big flight from New England States, the inspectors found 24150 nests in the Province. The following year they cut this down to 18154 nests and this winter they made a further reduction finding only 14755 in the Province.

One of the reasons that they have been so successful is that they know most of the infested orchards and go to them early in the season before the crop of the nests begins.

Many infested orchards however could not be located until quite late in the season and thorough work was of course impossible in them on account of the drop that had already occurred.

The Brown Tail is very easily located by apple pickers during October. The winter nests are now being formed and a circle of skeletons of leaves surround each nest to a distance of from six inches to two feet. These spots of brown skeletonized leaves are now very conspicuous against the dark green of the trees and the nests containing a number of small caterpillars in the centre of these brown leaves will identify the work with certainty as that of the Brown Tail.

Owners desirous of keeping their orchards free from the brown tail would do well to tell their pickers to keep a look out for these nests and to destroy they by burning wherever found. They would also confer a great favor if they would notify the writer of nests found in their orchards so that an insector may be sent to these orchards at the beginning of the season, and that more effective work can be accomplished.

KINGS CO. BARRISTER MARRIED AT LUBEC

(Lubec Herald) A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday of last week at high noon, at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. K. McBride, when Miss Esther Elizabeth Winchester, a sister of Mrs. McBride, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Phillips Newcombe, of Saskatoon, Canada. The house was tastefully decorated with golden-rod and purple asters. The bride, who was dressed in a dark blue traveling gown, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and lilies, was given away by her brother, A. Brooks Winchester of Grand Manan, Miss Belva Bancroft McBride niece of the bride, acting as maid of honor. The wedding march was played by Miss Emelle Newcombe, sister of the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. M. Angell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in the presence of immediate friends and relatives. After the ceremony, dinner was served by the hostess. The bride, who was formerly one of Lubec's poular teachers, has for the past two years been engaged in Temperance Reform work, and recently resigned her position as New York State Lecturer and Organizer. She has also served as president of the W. C. T. U. in Washington Co., and as Maine State Secretary of the Young Peoples Branch. Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe left on Wednesday night's steamer for Boston, enroute for their new home in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, where he has an established law practice.

MAGNIFICENT WORK OF NOVA SCOTIANS

Made a Name But at Terrible Cost

In the Canadian Eye Witness report of the capture of Courcellette and adjacent positions on September 15th and the succeeding days, reference was made to the brilliant work of Nova Scotians, as follows:

"On their left (referring to the French Canadians), a Nova Scotian Battalion co-operated brilliantly in the capture of the rest of the village."

Substantiation of this magnificent work of the Nova Scotians was contained in a cable from Colonel Hilliam, Commanding Officer of the Nova Scotia Battalion to Premier Murray, the cable being as follows:

"Let Nova Scotians know that all Canadian Corps is proud of Nova Scotia Battalion's magnificent work."

"COLONEL HILLIAM."

Letter From the Front

Recent letters from the front, written by officers who were through the actions of September 15, have brought fuller details of the terrible fighting of that day and the glorious work of the Nova Scotia Battalion.

The following is an extract from a letter written by a young Halifax officer of the Nova Scotia Battalion:

"France, 5.30 p.m. Sept 20th. I've been through the most trying experience that any man could go through and live, but thank God I was one of the five officers out of twenty-two that went into the engagement who came out unharmed, and I must bear a charmed life for I never thought any of us would return. "On Sept. 15th we left Div. Reserve with orders to capture Courcellette and extend our line the other side of the town. We formed up in four lines of platoons across an eight hundred yard front, my platoon being the first wave. This was about 1,200 yards from the German trenches in front of the town. As soon as we started the advance we came under heavy shell and machine gun fire but our lines kept on as straight as if on parade.

Major Brooks' Death

"The first officer to fall was Major Brooks, the bravest and best gentleman I ever knew. Major Flowers and Lieut. Wetmore were wounded, also Lieut. Hiltz, our scout officer. We passed over our first line and went forward at the double through a hell of fire, but we got through, driving everything before us and dug in about 100 yards the other side of the town. Hobkirk and I raced through the streets pot-potting a Fritzes. Some of the beggars put up a fight but in most cases they put up their hands with 'Mercy Kamrad.' We bombed their dugouts and captured machine guns and trench howitzer.

Received Highest Praise

"Our Battalion has received the highest praise for a most gallant charge and probably some one will write a more glowing account than I can. We held our new trenches till late on the night of the 17th when we were relieved by another Battalion.

"We lost 17 officers during the three days, five killed, 12 wounded and about 275 men.

"Poor old Battalion! We were twenty-four hours at one time without water and on half rations.

"Poor Hobkirk, he fell at the head of his platoon, a gallant soldier. I can't write about it now. Poor John Stairs too, he is gone.

EIGHTEEN APPLES TO HALF BUSHEL

Bridgetown, September 29 — While looking through the big orchard of Arthur T. Marshall, at Clarence, yesterday, a Daily Post representative saw some "Wolfe's River" variety being packed for the English market. Eighteen of the biggest apples ever grown in Annapolis Valley just filled a halfbushel. And ninety-five filled a barrel close fit. These are the apples that took first prize at the Halifax Exhibition for size and quality.

SOLDIERS' RECEPTION AT PORT WILLIAMS

Everyone at Port Williams loves the soldiers and this was fully exemplified on Wednesday evening last when the people of that vicinity gathered to do honor to the Port Williams lads who had enlisted in the 219th Battalion and the other men in khaki who assembled.

It was a beautiful night and the new hall was crowded with eager and expectant people. Rev. A. J. Prosser was an ideal chairman and the program was as follows:

Song and chorus—"O Canada."
Purple Feather Quartet.
Address—Chap Tupper, 193rd Battalion.

Song—Miss Muriel Starr
Purple Feather Quartet.
Address—Rev J D Hull.
Violin Solo—Corpl. Owen.
Address—H. G. Harris.
Solo—Miss Thelma Gates.
Reading—Mrs. Kinnickell.
Recitation—Mason Cogswell.
Address—Lieut. J. Belyea, 219th Battalion.

Several other songs were given by the Quartet including "Crossing the Bar."

Mrs. J. D. Hull as president of the Institute working in behalf of the soldiers in a very pleasing manner addressed the 13 Port Williams recruits of the 219th and all present were handed a parcel of well knit socks. The boys were as follows: Roland Sutton, Kenneth Hogan, W. Spriggs, Norman Regan, Waldo Gates, Percy Bezanon, Roy Bezanon, Walter Murphy, Gerald Mills, George Stearns, Edgar Stearns, Norman Chase, Ross Collins.

The address by Chaplain Tupper held the closest attention of all and when Lieut. Belyea told of his experience in getting out of Germany just after war was declared and related other incidents connected with the war the whole audience showed the deepest interest and showered him with questions at the end of the program.

Elaborate refreshments were served late in the evening and all felt that Port Williams had done her share in entertaining the brave soldier lads.

KILLED IN ACTION

Company Sergeant-Major Harold L. McGarry

Another of our Kings County boys has fallen in action in France and paid the supreme penalty claimed by this terrible war. We are obliged to chronicle the death of one of New Ross Road's noblest sons Harry MacGarry one who was beloved by all and will be mourned by many not only for his noble qualities as exemplified at home but for his devotion to his country.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGarry and enlisted March 1915 in C Squadron Canadian Mounted Rifles. Besides a father and mother he leaves five sisters and two brothers.

The parents received the following telegram on Tuesday from Ottawa from the officer commanding regiment:

"Regret to inform you that Co. Sergt. Major Harold L. McGarry, Mounted Rifles, officially reported killed in action between Sept 14th and 16th."

REV. E. E. DALEY'S WORK APPRECIATED

On Sunday last at the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Halifax, Rev. E. E. Daley entered upon his 6th year as pastor and in his address spoke of the fine work accomplished by the church during his pastorate. At the close of the sermon Mr. Daley was presented with an address on behalf of the church which gave full credit to him for the strong position in which the church and congregation stood and the excellent financial condition.

Mr. C. C. McKee, Pianist, and Director of the Acadia Seminary Conservatory, is a brilliant player, self possessed, and plays with ease and confidence. He has studied in Detroit, Indianapolis, Paris and Berlin. He is well known as a concert player, having performed in many cities of the West (U.S.) His playing always calls forth applause which is an unmistakable tribute to his powers.—Detroit Free Press.

MISS GAY is a pianist of exceptional talent. Her playing shows a marked individuality combined with a superb brilliancy of style and technique.

MISS LEILA SWEET BAILEY, Soprano, Miss Bailey presented a most pleasing program at Carnegie Hall, New York. She possesses a beautiful soprano voice, of wide range, with a promising future. Her interpretation of Gretchenhoff's "Lullaby" was so sweetly rendered she was asked to repeat it several times.—Musical Courier (New York).

MISS BESSIE EADIE, Violinist.—"At a recent concert given by the British Club of North Adams for the benefit of the wounded soldiers, Miss Eadie delighted the audience with her violin selections." "She possesses a beautiful tone and pleasing personality."—North Adams Transcript.

MISS ZAIDA GAINES, Reader, formerly of the Walter Bentley Ball Concert Co., now of Acadia Seminary Faculty, "possesses that rare talent of best knowing how to depict the character she represents, and also has the ability to present it in the most taking manner." "She has an originality that is striking."—Ohio State Journal and Toledo Blade.

Lieut. W. Pitt Potter One of the Officers With Field Artillery Howitzer Brigade Ammunition Column.

The above mentioned military unit has just completed their Canadian training and plan in a short while to be at work in France. The men composing the unit are of a very fine type and number one hundred and twenty. The officers are all well known, highly popular and thoroughly trained for their important posts. Captain Gordon Medcalf of Halifax is in command and associated with him are Lieutenants Potter of Canning and J. D. Smith of Halifax.

Mr. Potter was editor of the Western Chronicle, Kentville, for about a year, and was also Liberal Organizer for Kings Co. and is therefore well-known in this vicinity.

Mr. Potter's many friends in Canning, his native town, and throughout Kings County in general will be pleased to hear of his appointment and unite heartily in best wishes for his success in Flanders and his safe return to his native land.

Speaking of Mr. Potter the Evening Mail in a recent issue says:—"Lieut. Potter is a graduate of Acadia University in arts and science, and studied law in the offices of McInnes, Mellish, Fulton and Kenny. He was on Saturday evening admitted to the bar of Nova Scotia by Mr. Justice Drysdale. Before taking up the study of law he was private secretary to Sir Frederick Borden. He is a graduate of the Royal School of Artillery, Halifax, and is in every respect worthy of the Dominion's trust."

Mrs. Alfred Brown who spent the winter at Canard expects to go to Arizona with friends and remain through the coming winter.

Miss Trainer of Regina, who has been visiting her former home in Charlottetown is now visiting her friend Miss Kathleen MacFadden, returning to Regina on Monday with her.

Miss Kathleen MacFadden and her niece Miss Mary Wind death return to Regina on Monday. Mrs. Charles MacFadden expects to leave with them and spend two months in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacFadden gave an informal supper on Wednesday evening at which were assembled several of the chaplains from Aldershot, Rev. Dr. Donohoe, Kentville, and Rev. A. J. Prosser of Canard.

Crops are good in this locality and help is quite scarce. The fine weather assists in the gathering of the produce.

Capt. C. Mackinnon, chaplain of the 219th battalion, Aldershot, better known as the Rev. Clarence Mackinnon, D.

D., Principal of Pine Hill College, Halifax, will preach in the Presbyterian Church, Upper Canard on Sunday morning, October 8th. This will probably be Principal Mackinnon's last sermon before leaving Aldershot.

The Rev. J. U. Bell of Upper-Canard, attended the Synod at Truro this week and is staying at Great Village over Sunday where he will preach communion sermon for his brother-in-law the Rev. W. M. Gillespie Presbyterian minister of that place.

Recruiting for the 246th is going steadily on. The new feather has arrived. It carries the combined colors of the Highland Brigade and is pretty.

For Sale a good Driving or Riding Horse. Apply to Mrs. T. A. Lydiard, Kentville. sw

A despatch from Ottawa says:—"Military depots in and around Ottawa have received a notice from headquarters raising the embargo on hairless lips. It was intimated that hereafter a moustache will not be a necessary feature for military purposes. No reason is given."

The Lake of the Woods

AT KENORA:—
(1) Yachting. (2) Diving and Swimming.
(3) A Regatta Day.

THE Lake of the Woods, along the line of the Canadian Pacific, is a fascinating link in the chain of lakes between the boundless waters of Superior and the golden grain of Manitoba prairie.

With nature's own loveliness as a recommendation it stands unrivalled in the estimation of the many who yearly visit its island-crested waters and plunge into the pure unadulterated delights which it affords.

Kenora, a town of growing importance in lumbering, mining, flour milling and fishing, possessing a population of 5,000, reclines on the north shore of the lake and holds the unique position of gateway to this attractive body of water.

Keewatin, whose flour milling industry has made the name a household word in the Dominion, fringes the lake three miles distant. It is a mecca for the summer-seeker who has built his artistic and attractive home on its splendid shore line and on the islands adjacent.

For some 80 miles this richly adorned sheet studded with over ten thousand islands stretches along the border line between the provinces of Ontario and Manitoba and the state of Minnesota.

These water girded bits of land vary in size from a few square feet to several square miles and are richly timbered with spruce, pine, birch and poplar. The northern portion of the lake covers an area of 2,500 square miles. From the middle of May until the end of October, the months are panorasms of beauty to the camper, the lake voyager, the sportsman and hunter who visit this aquatic wonderland, 1,077 feet above sea level.

A few car strokes from Kenora you can rough it in the woods or if you wish to enjoy life more leisurely, an up-to-date cottage can be secured.

Fishing is a very popular pastime for the men, women, and children each season. In the numerous nibbling preserves are found pike, pickerel, rock bass, trout, muskellunge and sturgeon.

During the autumn months exciting raids are made upon the wild duck, geese, and partridge, while the deer and moose on the larger island stretches furnish an attraction of wonderful possibilities for the enthusiastic hunter.

Coney Island with a shore line of seven miles lies but a ten minutes' glide from Kenora. It is the summer residence of over three hundred people. It possesses a large natural park, a portion of which has been fitted up as playgrounds for children. Kenora Park, a large wooded tract of land, has been set aside for pleasure purposes. Kenora Trap Association Island is a much frequented spot and is open not only to Kenora residents but to the summer guests who come within her gate. Kenora Rowing Club and Keewatin Yacht Club are the rendezvous of many from town and the islands. Here the social side of life is indulged in either by the weekly dance or the local water races. Regattas are held at intervals during the season, many outside events being entered from different portions of Canada and United States, a carnival of sports continuing several days. Steamers, launches, sail boats and various craft cruise about the lake daily and for a small fee the visitor can make a trip of several hours in and out among the islands of the lake. For a long cruise, the steamers "Kenora" and "Argwinde," well-appointed and commodious, leave Kenora twice during the week for Rainyriver and Fort Frances. The steamer "Kathleen," a popular boat, makes a daily trip during the season to Minkai, Ont. It is a delightful trip of three hours down the Winnipeg river, return being made to Kenora same day, in sufficient time to permit the traveller to entrain for the east or west via the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Even when the summer is gone it is a great delight to visit the Lake of the Woods district in the Fall. J. M. S.

BURNED THE BAKER

Two years ago the Germans burned the town of Gerbevillers.

Then as part of their policy of frightfulness, they led fifteen of the old men of the town out into a pasture and shot them down in groups of five.

The town baker at this time disappeared, and it is only now that the mystery surrounding his fate has come to light. The end of the baker of Gerbevillers is another count in the indictment of murder that the world's civilization will bring against Germany.

Not long ago a French soldier whose home was in Gerbevillers, came back on leave, and from his old neighbors he learned the story of the ruin of his town.

"And they say," his townspeople wound up their narrative of sack and flames, "that the Germans burned the baker alive."

"I know all about the baker," was the soldier's surprising answer. "They burned him in his upper oven. He screamed as they thrust him in."

Last week on the Somme the French army took many thousands and prisoners. This Gerbevillers man was one of those who was set to guard them with others of the Gerbevillers company. One of the Germans examined his regimental insignia with interest. The German looked at it and turned away, and came back and looked at it and turned away, and finally came back again.

"Your regiment," said he, "was raised around Gerbevillers?"

The French soldier asked some questions. The German said that he and others of the prisoners had been present at the burning of Gerbevillers.

"If my officer would let me, I would slip my bayonet through your middle," said the French soldier, gritting his teeth.

"You would be right," said the German soldier. "We did awful things there. I did none of them. I kept my hands clean. But the others did them. In was an order."

They talked off and on for three days. The German seemed to have something on his mind. He would lead up to the subject, and then shy away from it. At last he bolted it. At last he bolted it. He could resist no more. The sentence came from him as though he could not close his teeth.

"We burned the baker in his upper oven," said he. "He shrieked as we thrust him in."

The French soldier got all the names and all the details from the German. Then he came home to Gerbevillers on permission, and after everything else had been talked over, this story of the baker came to the front. The French soldier went to Sister Julie with his new evidence and that capable woman—she is mayor and police force in Gerbevillers now—ordered that the debris be cleared away and the oven opened. They had never been touched from the day the Germans fired the town.

In the upper oven were the thigh bones of a man.

"Murder is murder and shall be punished as murder. Arson is arson. Theft is theft. War offers a cloak for many things, but not for all."

Punishment To Be Dire

This statement briefly outlines the programme which the Allied governments propose to pursue after the war. As a result of such incidents as this. Evidence is now being gathered against the German soldiers who under cover of war broke the most elementary laws. If it is possible they shall be punished when the victory is gained. Murderers shall be hanged, not every murderer, because there are too many of them, not even every murderer against whom full proof has been found; but a sufficient number of murderers that the world conscience shall be stamped with the knowledge that murder is murder, even in war.

No effort will be made to punish the guilty men during the war. It is recognized that this would merely lead to reprisals, and for every German soldier hanged by France and England Germany would hang two prisoners. There is no hallucination as to the nature of the resistance Germany would make to the punishment of her soldiers held as prisoners of war, no matter how overwhelming may be the evidence against them.

Practically therefore, whatever action may be taken will depend upon the nature and extent of the allied victory.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM LIEUT HARRY HILTZ

Lieut. Harry Hiltz, Who Was Wounded in a Recent Battle Writes Interesting Letter

Mr. Fred W. Hiltz has received the following interesting letter from his brother Lieut. Harry Hiltz who is now in the hospital in England as the result of a wound received in a recent battle:

Ward 36,
1st London Gen. Hospital,
St. Gabriel's College,
Camberwell, London.
Sept 20, '16

Dear Fred:—
Must write you a few lines this morning as my foot or whole leg rather isn't as painful as it has been for the last few days but its too painful to let me sleep so all that I can do is write, read and smoke and the greater of the three is smoke.

I will write you what I can about the attack made by our Second Canadian Division on Friday 15th September lasting a whole day and we gained about 1800 yards of trenches and a town. On the afternoon of 14th our Brigade the 5th, moved back from Albert a large town back of the firing line to support the attack to be made, the next day by the 4th and 6th Brigades. As we moved up we had a chance to see some of the greatness of England, thousands of guns of all calibre belching out tons of steel per minute on the German defences and works that the following day would be our objective and prize. All night long our heavy guns and field pieces kept up a bombardment and at 6 a. m. Sept. 15th it grew in intensity at 6.20 the 4th and 6th Brigades went across, an hour later we got the news that they had won their objective and had advanced 700 yards and taking a stronghold known as the Sugar Refinery. Now came our chance and the old 5th Brigade prepared for action. At 4.30 p. m. we formed up in long lines of extended order in this manner, leading the attack was the 25th Nova Scotia Battalion on our right the 22nd French Canadians and fourth line the 26th New Brunswick Battalion, and supporting us the 24th Victoria Rifles of Montreal, at 4.40 we started to advance and took it at a slow walk as steady as if we were on parade, it was simply wonderful to see the men advancing over that mile and a half of shell swept country, never hesitating and with a smile on every face. At 6.30 p. m. we got to our jumping off place and with a final cheer we swept over the German trenches and entered the town of Courcellette an hour later we were in the village and had dug out in two hundred yards in front making our gain about 1000 yards and taking about 500 prisoners. Our Colonel led the attack himself although wounded quite early in the advance he was right there with the goods and was the first over. Our casualties quite heavy but those of the enemy much worse they paid about 8 to 1 including prisoners and we had made the largest one days advance in the big push on the Somme.

Well must close as the sister says that I must not write any more today.

Love to all,
HARRY.

One of the interesting results of the adoption of prohibition in Ontario is that in Toronto no less than sixty members of the Bar Tenders' Union have already enlisted to go to the front. The fact of such enlistment is proof positive that a deterrent to enlistment as the liquor traffic. Incidentally it may be mentioned that there is a great panic as to the possible future suffering from thirst and one liquor firm in Toronto within the last four days sold no less than two million bottles of whiskey in anticipation of the closing of the bars at the end of this week. At seven o'clock this evening in Ontario the province goes dry for three years at least.—Ex.

Nature makes the cures after all.

Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out.

Things get started in the wrong direction.

Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

A New Bracer

Seth had been trying to cure himself of the alcohol habit by eating, instead of drinking, when the craving came on. One day he met a friend, who asked him how the plan had worked.

Seth said: "Fine. Whenever I've felt like drinking I've made for a quick-lunch counter. Sometimes it's been hard. For instance, the other night in the room next to mine at the hotel a fellow shot himself. It was awful. There was a shot and then the body thudded to the floor. I jumped out of the bed and dashed down four flights and made for the office with just enough breath left to pant to the clerk:

"My God! the man in the next room has just killed himself—it was awful. For God's sake give me some ham and eggs and a piece of lemon pie."

Wonderful Hair

Clean and free from dandruff and possessing all the radiance of perfect hair. This is just what Sageine means to those who suffer with itching scalp, dandruff, coarse, dry or common looking hair. HAS A "DOUBLE"

(From Toronto Daily Star) Although in the trenches "somewhere in France," Andrew Macdonald, who in former years was one of the press representatives at the Exhibition, has remembered his days at the great Fair and has written to one reporter friend at present on the Ex. assignment. The letter just received read, in part: "I wish I could be with the boys in the old Press Building again, but there is a different kind of work to do just now over here. I was drafted some months ago to the C. M. R. and am now in the grenade section. Imagine my surprise when I found Billy Willison (formerly of the News staff) with us a week or two later as bombing officer. Things are moving livelier over here just now and there may soon be an opportunity for another Peace Year Exhibition. 'Doc' Logan (also of the News staff) is in France, I hear, with one of the eastern Canada battalions. I saw him in Halifax standing on guard in front of the Wellington Barracks, but did not have a chance to speak to him."

The Editor of the Highlander says—We knew Andrew Macdonald well, both as a newspaper man and as a piper in the 48th Highlanders, Toronto. Andrew could always invent news when there was none really. We assure him and our contemporary The Star that the Editor of the Nova Scotia Highlander has never been in France or on guard in Halifax. He hopes, however, to be overseas soon and to meet his "double" whom Macdonald saw.

KAISERS MUST GO

A naturalized German in London who was recently discussing the end of the war declared his strong conviction that the complete destruction of German militarism is essential to the well being of the German people and the liberation of the real German genius which has no relation to the spurious sordid kultur of these modern years. He feels, however, that the German people themselves will have to open their eyes, assert themselves, shake off the slavish habit of rejection to dynastic military authority and become effectively democratic if they are to win back the esteem and friendship of the democratic nations. He sees no hope of this self-liberation unless they got rid of the Hohenzollern and other royal houses who are beyond hope of repentance and reform.

CONCERT AT NEW ROSS

On Sept. 25th we received a complimentary invitation to attend a concert in the Baptist Church at Charing Cross on that evening and found that it well repaid those who on entering laid their small piece of silver in the plate at the door. About twenty children took part in the programme as follows:

- Marching song—"Victory"
 - Address—P. Cornwall
 - Chorus—"We Praise Thee"
 - Recitation—"Patience" Freda Gates
 - Solo—"Jesus was a little boy"—Fred Meister.
 - Recitation—"Weeds and Deeds"—Mary Meister.
 - Chorus—"The Story of the Year"
 - Recitation—"The Candle light"—Francis Gates.
 - Solo—"Christ the Good Shepherd"—Pansy Lantz.
 - Exercise—"Mother,"—5 little girls.
 - Recitation—"The Little Cripple"—Nora Meister.
 - Chorus—"The Old Clock"
 - Recitation—Dorothy Meister
 - Solo—"Birds of Summer Time"—Lydia Meister.
 - Recitation—"The Rain," Vera Gates
 - Duet—"The Boys Brigade"—Chesley Lantz and E. Walker.
 - Recitation—"Waking Grandma," Hazel Cornwall.
 - Chorus—"Reaping,"
 - Exercise—"Growing in Gods Care,"—Six little girls.
 - Solo and chorus—"Beautiful Lilies"—Edna Meister.
 - Saved by a song recitation—Alice Meister.
 - Solo—"Rock a Bye"—Marguerite Meister.
 - Chorus—"Good night, God Save the King," by all.
- The proceeds of this effort of the children under the direction of Mrs. Cornwall, who was accompanist is to help to pay for the repairs on their furnace, proceeds $7.00.
- Teachers and pupils deserve great credit from the remarks made as they moved out.
- The Sunday School of Charing Cross Church of England held their picnic on the Rectory grounds on Saturday 22nd, and a great tea on the grass they were delighted to have Rev Prof Harley of Kings College, Monday, the 24th. He has been very popular with all. New Ross loves a Nova Scotian.

WHISKY FROM CANADA
Nine thousand barrels of whisky arrived at the port of Manchester on Monday night in the steamer Glenelagh from Canada says the London Daily Mail. Small quantities of Canadian whisky have been received at Manchester before, but no cargo of this size and value. The whisky is to be stored in the bonded warehouses in Trafford Park.

Getting Out of the Rut.

The merchant who conducts his business according to the method of the last century is not giving his customers the service they are entitled to. The spirit of the new century is to do more than to merely turn goods over at a profit. It is to really earn that profit by giving real service, accommodation and reliable advice. The modern merchant must know his goods thoroughly and what is best adapted to every household requirement.

That class of merchant invariably advertises. That is the one sure test of his being abreast of the times.

TROUSERED WOMEN

(From the Boston Herald)

No one would have ventured a few years ago to predict that millions of European women would today be clothed in trousers. But this vast and surprising change has come about in the countries that are at war, and especially in those that have put the largest armies of men into the field, leaving to the women a great part of the men's ordinary work and also throwing upon them a share of the extraordinary work of mun-tion making. In many employments the women have found that it is advantageous to adopt men's clothes for men's work. Therefore they have abandoned skirts for trousers, and now pops up the puzzling question whether they will abandon trousers for skirts when the war is over.

Pte. Phillip McKenzie of No. 15 Platoon received word last Wednesday that his brother of the 64th Battalion had been seriously wounded in action.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM WOOD MARRIED

Halifax, Sept. 27—The marriage was solemnized very quietly this morning at eight o'clock, in St. Stephen's Chapel, All Saints Cathedral, of Mildred Alice, daughter of Mrs. James B. Uniacke, of this City, and Captain William Truman Wood, of the 85th Highlanders, and son of Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Wood, of New Brunswick. The Very Rev. Dean Liwy officiated.

The Chappel had been very prettily decorated for the occasion with palms and pink lilies. The bride and groom were unattended, and the only immediate relatives of both families were present at the ceremony.

The bride looked very lovely in a handsome gown of nigger brown satin with trimmings of blue, with which she wore a hat to match, trimmed with blue. Her bouquet was of cream roses.

Immediately following the ceremony Captain and Mrs. Wood left for a motor trip followed by the good wishes of a large number of friends. The bride wore a travelling costume of brown with fur trimmings.

Among the guests present were the groom's parents, Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Wood, and his two sisters, Mrs. Harvey, of London, Eng., and Mrs. F. B. Black, of Sackville, N. B.

Capt. and Mrs. Wood are stopping in town with Mrs. G. W. Woodworth.—Ed.
