

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAY 4, 1888.

It is now reported, though perhaps incorrectly, that the Dominion Parliament will prorogue on the 15th inst.

On our first page to day we publish a few selections of spring poetry from the pens of our best poets. Below we give another which we consider more in keeping with the "spring weather" we have been enjoying (?) this week: Where are the joys of which the poets sing? Where the "ethereal mildness" of the spring? This cold east wind, so cruel and unkind, Quite proves that poets are a little blind. The "gentle spring" which Thomson did invoke Is nothing now but just a bitter joke.

We have often called attention to the inconvincence to which the people of this place are subjected by not having direct steam connection with the other parts on the Basin as formerly. This week we are glad to be able to announce that a steamer is again to call here during the summer months, beginning some time this month, we believe. There is no doubt but that it will be a great accommodation and we believe the owners of the boat will find the change profitable to themselves. Especially in the autumn there will be a large trade between Wolfville and the Cumberland ports as almost all their fruit supplies come from here. Besides this there will probably be a good trade in St. John goods, as the proprietors of the Minas Basin boat also have a direct boat to St. John. We bespeak for this new arrangement a liberal patronage, and we trust our people will show their appreciation of the convenience that is to be returned to us.

The old bridge over the Avon at Windsor, which was destroyed by fire about a year ago, and on the site of which workmen are now employed constructing a new one, was built and completed fifty-one years ago at a cost of about $7,700, by one Ewing Cameron, of St. John, N. B. He completed his contract within the specified time and to the complete satisfaction of all interested and to his own benefit. As the work progressed the staff of workmen was increased, until as many as 80 men were employed and no obstacle was allowed to interfere with its progress or to prevent its completion within the prescribed time. Although the engineering difficulties at the time of building the old bridge were much greater than at present the work at that time progressed much more rapidly and satisfactorily than it does now on the new structure. If we remember rightly the new bridge was to have been completed last autumn; but now spring has come and summer is near and still the work lingers. From present appearances the contractors will be many months behind in completing their contract, and if the penalty of the non-fulfilment of the agreement is enforced, there can be but little profit for the builders of the present structure.

Russell Caldwell, Esq., of Gaspercau, worked up the old bridge for 103 consecutive week-days and with the exception of one, is the only survivor, as far as we have been able to learn, of those who were employed upon it.

On Sunday night last at Halifax Albert Webber, a patrolman of the Chandler company, noticing that the electric light at the corner of May street and Kempt road was burning badly, took the two wooden pins used by patrolmen from his pocket and placing them in the holes in the post proceeded to ascend to the light. Fifteen minutes later he was lowered down a corpse. Tuesday evening following George Crocker, who had been engaged as successor to Webber, met a similar fate on the same spot under circumstances almost identical with the former, being as follows: About 10:30 p. m. the light on the north corner of May street being out, Crocker went up to the post with the intention of fixing the lamp. He was noticed to hesitate as if undecided, when his head reached the level of the wires, whether to go between the wires or not. After remaining in this position for some minutes he pushed himself up through the wires and threw his right leg over the cross-trees holding on to one of the uprights of the lamp with his left hand. In a few seconds an observer noticed a spark or small flame near the side of the patrolman's left leg and almost immediately after he fell back dead. The question uppermost in people's minds will be, How did these accidents happen, and can these occurrences in the future be prevented? Surely if the electric light is to become the light of the future, some endeavors should be made to prevent loss of life under ordinary circumstances being at all possible in connection with the care and management of the lamps.

Our Public Schools.

WHAT THEY ARE DOING—A SUCCESSFUL EXAMINATION.

The terminal examination of the public schools of this place was held on Friday afternoon last and was one of the most successful in their history. A large number of visitors were present, among whom were Inspector Roscoe, Dr. Jones, Prof. Caldwell, Dr. Hall and Prof. Eaton of the Normal School, Rev'ds R. D. Ross, F. Friggens and G. F. Day. The visitors appeared to be much pleased with the appearance of the school and the work done during the term just closed. In all the departments the attendance has been good and not a day has been lost. Following is a minute of the attendance in the different departments:

	Registered	Average	Per Cent.
Advanced	50	37	74
Intermediate	51	40	79
Primary	60	35	58

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Of all the grades of our public schools we consider this department the most important. In it is laid the foundation on which is to be built a successful education. We believe more care should be taken in selecting a teacher for this department than in any other. The examination on Friday last proved conclusively that the trustees made a wise selection in placing Miss Dennison, who has just concluded her first term, at the head of this department. The pupils were examined in geography, reading, spelling, and oral lessons, and showed a great amount of proficiency. The teacher appears to have gained the entire confidence of her pupils and the manner in which questions were answered evinced the greatest care on her part. Marked progress has been made during the past term. At the close of the examination the children rendered the following programs which reflected credit on teacher and pupils.

- Recitation, "Queen Mary," Mrs. Wakeham.
- "Franks or Smiles," Mabel Stewart.
- Song, "Spring," Beatrice Franklin.
- Recitation, "Four Little Sunbeams,"
- "A Baby's Prayer," Stella Heales.
- "Golden Keys," Frank Day.
- "Which is Best," Four Little Girls.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

This department is presided over by Miss Scott, who, since she took charge, nearly two years ago, has given unequalled satisfaction. This accomplished teacher put her pupils through a thorough examination, touching every branch of study pursued. Every part of the exercises gave evidence of a thorough, painstaking teacher and clever pupils. After the scholars had been examined on the different branches taught, the visitors were entertained by the pupils with several excellent recitations, which were delivered in a manner which would do credit to much more advanced pupils. Following is the program:

- "The Senoiole's Reply," Archie Minard.
- "Entertaining her Big Sister's Beau,"
- "A Baby's Prayer," Stella Heales.
- "School Days," Edith Johnson.
- "The Star," Louie Cowen.
- Selection from "Hiawatha,"
- "Little King Charles and I,"
- "The Star," Aggie Johnson.

The examination in this department was in every way a success, and the large number of visitors present manifested their pleasure in its entire proceedings.

ADVANCED DEPARTMENT.

Four years ago Mr. J. L. Bishop took charge of this department and under his management the school has made great progress. Good work has been done during the past term and the examination on Friday last was of more than ordinary interest. The pupils were put through a rigid examination in the different branches taught and the prompt and correct answers given was very satisfactory. As in the other departments the exercises were in part of an entertaining character. Miss Minnie Brown recited Howe's beautiful poem, "My Country's Pleasant Streams" in a very pleasing manner. Several excellent dialogues were also performed in a manner reflecting credit on those who took part. They were as follows: "Water-drops and Wine-drops," by Misses Flora Vaughan and Mabel Jones; "The Boston Dip, or The Girl of the Period," by Misses Addie Minard and Nellie Murphy. Three others were also given—"Playing School," "Caught Napping," and "A Precious Pickle." These were taken part in by a number and were very amusing. Interesting addresses were made by Inspector Roscoe, Rev'ds Ross, Friggens and Day, and W. C. Archibald, Esq. All spoke in flattering terms of the school and expressed themselves highly pleased with the work done. Mr. Bishop is evidently the right man in the right place. We hope to see him long at the head of the Wolfville school.

I was afflicted with Sick Headache last summer and autumn; had it awfully bad about every fortnight. When it would come on, everything turned green before my eyes, and I would fall down and vomit until I thought I would die. This would last two or three days at a time. I tried the doctors, who failed to help me. Three bottles of Dr Norton's Dock Blood Purifier cured me.

NEWS, NOTES, JOYTINGS, ETC.

Rev. D. O. Parker is our representative in Berwick, and is prepared to take orders for job printing and advertising. We are constantly adding to our plant, and will give prompt attention to all work. Get our prices.

BERWICK SCHOOL.—L. D. Robinson, Esq., the popular and efficient teacher of the Berwick school, has retired from the principalship of the school for the summer term, to recreate and recuperate on his farm. Mr Robinson is not only an earnest teacher, but an enthusiastic farmer. His place the current term will be filled by Mr Harry S. Shaw, of the senior class of Acadia College. Mr Shaw has elsewhere made an honorable record for himself as a teacher, and we are confident that, however high the present standing of the school may be, it will not retrograde under his tutelage. Mr Robinson will assist part of the day. All the teachers are now natives and residents of the section. The Inspector of schools in his last annual report says: "I may almost report Berwick school as one of the academies, or entitled to rank among them, so far as results are concerned. The principal does not hold an A license and the school does not receive the academic grant; but the school has won an excellent name, and deserves it. Three of its pupils passed successfully the matriculation examinations, and are now freshmen in Acadia College. Three more obtained grade B, eight C, and three grade D, as the result of the last examination of teachers." The Inspector might have said the three young gentlemen were among those who entered the freshmen class with the highest standing. As complimentary as the Inspector's report may be, a careful comparison of this school with the county academies as given in the "Blue Book," will show that in the work really done it is far in advance of the academy for King's Co., and of most, if not all, the academies in the Province, and yet only one of the teachers; a lady, has ever attended the Normal School.

ENTERPRISE.—Mr Thomas Clark, late of Truro, patented the "ideal" washing machine and of several other valuable machines, has elected his business home for the present in Berwick at the Clifton House. From the popularity of his washer, contractors here and elsewhere have failed to furnish the machines in sufficient numbers to meet the large and growing demand. Mr Clark has leased an interest in the Berwick steam mill, and will manufacture his own machines and intends to drive a large business. We hope his sanguine expectations will be more than realized. In this enterprise he has associated with him J. S. Dudd, Esq., of Wolfville, late of Halifax.

The village of Millville is about two miles from Aylesford station, and S. P. Chute, of Berwick, is one of its most busy and enterprising proprietors. We note among his industries a first-class grist mill with three run of stones, a carding mill with machines for doing a large business, machinery for the extensive manufacture of boxes and cases for strawberries and other small fruits. He has recently put in one of Mumford's improved shingle machines, and has it adjusted for cutting material for boxes. He has the contract for making three thousand boxes for the Aylesford Canning Factory.

Rev. S. B. Kempton will lecture in the Baptist meeting house, Berwick, next Tuesday evening, on "Things Seen and Heard in Washington." This is the most interesting place for sight-seers in America. Here is the accumulated wealth, wisdom, genius, enterprise and statesmanship of a great and busy nation. Mr Kempton has lately been conducted through the almost endless labyrinths of this great city of wonders with open eyes and recording pen, and we are sure he will give us one of the most instructive and entertaining lectures ever presented in Berwick. Come and hear him!

FURTHER DECLINE IN POTATOES.—Prices now offered for "Red Stock" and Prolifics is 30c.; Burbanks, 35c. The Consolidated Produce Co., of Boston, have 8000 bushels bought on P. E. I not yet shipped. Scotch potatoes still arriving in the States in large quantities.

Get your furniture and pictures framed at Parker's new furniture rooms, Berwick. Choice picture-moulding in stock.

Camp Meeting on the Berwick grounds will open this season on the first of August.

A heavy thunder storm passed over Berwick on Tuesday.

Church Street Items.

The robins and swallows have returned again, and so has the time for sowing the seed. And it is now, as you look from the hill-top upon yonder valley and watch the husbandmen scattering their seed upon the earth, that you are reminded how wonderful are the workings of nature.

Quite a number of properties in this vicinity have changed hands this spring. W. Sutton, the blacksmith, has bought a piece of land from E. O. Chase, and intends as soon as possible erecting a new dwelling house. W. Abbot has bought six acres adjoining the same lot. E. & O. Chase have bought the globe opposite their present situation. There are many others wanting to sell.

Quite a sensation was created over the occasion of papers being served upon two bar-room keepers of Port Williams, for violation of the Canada Temperance Act. The trial came off on the 21st inst. Neither of the defendants appeared in person, but sent H. Dennison, who plead both cases. The judgment was reserved on account of defendants trying to find a fault in the papers. I understand that judgment has since been given against defendants, as both evidence and papers were correct.

As to the truth of this last statement I cannot say, as it is only as a report I heard it. It is to be hoped, though, that it is true, and that the most stringent means may be used to collect the fines in case they refuse to pay. There are two evidences against each man.

LIGHTNING.—During the thunder storm of Tuesday, May 1st, the lightning struck the telegraph posts beginning in front of A. Morrine's tenant house, and splitting everyone, more or less for thirteen posts, north, passing by I. F. Marsters' dwelling house and carpenter shop, W. Marsters' house and tenant house, giving the latter such a shock that several panes of glass in the chamber windows were broken. The hired man was dipping water from a loghead at the house, and was so affected as to drop the pail and become for a time partially insensible, and it was not till some time in the night that he fully recovered. As to the like of R. Six posts never say the like of R. Six posts were split through and through from top to bottom. Three of these the tops were completely taken off, and one is all scattered over the ground a radius of forty feet or more, (some of the splinters are driven in the ground a foot and a half or two feet) and only two feet above the ground is left, except a few splinters. The rest of the posts have pieces taken out and split, some more, some less. Strange to say, nine years ago the same day and same hour E. F. Marsters' barn was struck by lightning. A fat ox was killed instantly, and a fine mare died a few days after from the effects, besides tearing an end of the barn into splinters and setting fire to straw behind the cattle.

Wolfville Division. A joyful time was participated in by the members of Wolfville Division last Monday evening. About sixty members were present and spent the evening in feasting and jesting, and enjoying themselves generally. Some six weeks ago the Division was divided into two sides, each side taking alternate nights in entertaining the Division. At that time judges were elected to judge of the merits of the entertainment furnished by both sides and the forfeit to the side furnishing the poorer entertainment was to be for that side at the end of the period designated to furnish refreshments for the Division. Mr C. A. Patrician and Miss Eliza Wallace were chosen captains of the respective sides. The captain of the victorious side was Mr Patrician. Monday evening of last week ended the contest and last Monday evening the members of the opposite side surprised the Division by presenting to them a sumptuous repast. Fowl was served as first, followed by cake, pie, fruit, &c. This was amply done justice to and heartily appreciated by all. At the end of this speeches were made by prominent members of both sides, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the defeated side for the great trouble and expense to which they had gone in entertaining the members in such a kindly and laudable manner. A most enjoyable time was spent during the evening and the members retired to their homes late in the night with kindly feelings one toward another and with the impression that an enjoyable time really can be had "without the aid of wine."

Face to Face.

If my face would only promise that its color would remain...

If my trembling hand were steady, if my eyes spoke not so plainly of the tears they shed...

If the melody of spring-tide awoke no wild refrain, if the autumn's golden burthen awoke no living pain...

If my woman's soul were stronger, if my heart were not so true, I should long have ceased remembering the love I had for you...

"The Last Time."

"Come, George, have a drink?" said a young man, stepping into the bar of the palace-like room...

He was very young, but there was a firmness about his finely-cut mouth, and a truthfulness in the clear, brown eyes...

The other was in the prime of life, his blood, fair forehead stamped with a noble intellect, giving promise of a bright future and a life of usefulness...

The brow of his companion flushed for an instant, as he answered firmly: "No, thank you; I have pledged myself this day by all that is dear to me, never again to drink of that deadly poison...

These flashed through the mind of the first speaker the vision of a beautiful wife, to whom he was more than life, and the pleasant fireside where her dainty hands would make ready what most would please his fancy...

The last time! Oh! vain man. No other life in which to clear your sullied name, to cleanse your perjured soul...

The last time! Oh! vain man. No other life in which to clear your sullied name, to cleanse your perjured soul...

We are all passing through this life for the last time. Oh! let us strive so to live that when we have greeted our friends here for the last time, and looked our last upon earthly things...

An Extraordinary Offer. TO ALL WANTING EMPLOYMENT. We want live, energetic agents in every county in the United States and Canada...

What the Offer Means. The reader of proprietary medicine ads. often wonders what reply is given to the surviving victim who makes bold to go to the medicine man and demand the $500 reward...
