

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., DEC. 16, 1910.

A Startling Story.

Toronto Globe.—It is a startling story that comes from Ottawa in the form of a report on recruiting for Canada's naval service. Of the young men in Nova Scotia and British Columbia—fine luscious fellows in appearance—who wished to join the naval service seventy-five per cent. failed to pass medical inspection. In most cases rejection was due to cigarette heart or moving-picture eye. The cigarette heart is something with which medical men and all interested in the athletic training of the youth of the country are familiar. Nicotine poisoning, and especially the variety of nicotine poisoning following the use of cigarettes, is steadily on the increase. In every factory, store and office one may see lads with the tell-tale yellow stains on the first two fingers of the right hand. Not for them are Marathon triumphs, the fierce joy of Rugby championship game, or a place in the Henley eight. The stains on the fingers are but the outward signs of the havoc wrought by the cigarette heart. It is a fact that a few days ago it was suggested in the House of Commons that a bill to prohibit the use of cigarettes was almost as necessary as one to forbid the smoking of opium.

The moving-picture eye is a new peril of civilization. The effect upon the sensitive nerves of the eye of prolonged attendance at moving-picture shows must be very great. Many people say that they have a headache after keeping the eyes fixed for a time on the constantly changing points of light that produce a moving picture, but the headache, like the tobacco stain on the fingers, seems to be only evidence of more serious trouble. The moving-picture eye must be a rather dangerous thing when it leads to the rejection of otherwise healthy young fellows who want to serve in the navy.

The Montreal Witness of Saturday is a magnificent number—comprehensive and dignified, as becomes the paper's golden jubilee. It gives a picture of the growth of Montreal and of the whole country, which is well worth careful study, and the paper is interesting in all the multifarious phases of this gigantic edition. The witness is to be congratulated on what it is able to do, as manifested in its half-millionth souvenir edition in commemoration of fifty years of growth and usefulness.

The province of New Brunswick, from the standpoint of the Government, has had a prosperous year. The territorial revenue was $90,000 greater than that of 1909. It is chiefly derived from the crown lands. For example, the stumpage paid on lumber cut on crown lands amounted to $350,000, compared with $246,724.77 last year. The receipts from the game and fishing licenses amounted to $44,000 compared with $33,000 last year, and there was also an increase in the revenue from mining leases.

The death of Rev. Robert Murray, for over half a century editor of the Presbyterian Witness, will be heard with regret. The deceased gentleman was one of the most devoted workers in the Presbyterian Church and his able articles in the Witness were always read with great interest. In the field of religious journalism the Rev. Gentleman was considered one of the best in Canada.

The population of the United States is 93,000,000. This is the total number of people enumerated throughout the states, territories, district of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico in the thirteenth census, which began April 15, 1910. The total does not include the Philippine Islands.

At the Conservative Convention held in Kentville on Thursday last, Mr. B. C. Parker was nominated to contest the County in the interests of that party at the coming provincial election. No other nomination was made.

During the year the proportion of foreigners in Canadian penalitaries has increased from 14 per cent. to 25 per cent., which shows how rapidly the foreign population is increasing, and what masses of people many of them are.

Superior quality throughout is a characteristic of our products. Most of the consistent details in construction.

The Reviewer.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.
The owners of the Canadian Northern railway system express themselves as believing that the Intercolonial Railway should belong to them; that it would enable them to carry their transcontinental line to a winter port. At present they only have Montreal and Quebec as shipping terminals. Their western lines are extending more and more. They are carrying trade to the lakes in growing enormity, and it is necessary for them to soon have an eastern extension, whether they build it or buy it.

It would not be out of accord with the railway policy of our Ottawa government if the Intercolonial were put up for sale. Not only the Minister of Railways but the Premier himself have expressed their hostility towards Government ownership of railways and have asserted that the means of regulation in the Railway Commission is all the protection that the public requires.

There is a flavor about this statement that sounds reactionary. The statement does not sound well from the mouths of Liberal Ministers. Certainly they do not express the ideas of the Liberal party through the Intercolonial.

The whole tendency of modern Progressives is to take public utilities out of the hands of exploiting corporations, and to put them under the control of the people whose interests they serve. It has been proved that public service corporations are not particularly about public rights. The very establishment of the railway commission is an admission of this fact, and, but at least, it is a half measure only.

The federal government had the chance of making the Intercolonial a prosperous and a profitable line of railway. At comparatively small cost it could have been extended to the lakes, and then could have secured its share of the grain trade which is the sheet anchor of all Canadian railways. The government demurred, and neglected the great chance of putting the road on a stable basis.

The Intercolonial remains a local line, running from seaport to seaport, tapping no part of the country where freight originates. But even this apparently was not enough. The Government is building the Transcontinental line from Winnipeg to Montreal, a line which will cost $200,000,000 of public money, and which, when completed, will be handed over to the Grand Trunk Pacific. If it cares to take it. And from Montreal east this new line will be a competitor of the Intercolonial and still further divide the local traffic.

It looks as if the Government were deliberately trying to injure the Intercolonial so that it might be handed over to one of the big companies which has a western connection. What once the people of the maritime provinces become convinced that the Government is seeking to dispose of the Intercolonial railway there will be something doing. No greater breach of the Confederation compact can be enacted by the Government, than in handing over the people's line to a private company. Suppose there is a deficit annually, and suppose the west is anxious to get rid of an annual deficit. The western provinces helped to build the Canadian Pacific for the west. The eastern provinces helped to build the Canal system of the west, and why should it be considered detrimental to the interest of Canada, as a whole, to hold on to the Intercolonial. The only reason given, and only one the Government seems to consider, is that the government owing utility, is too expensive for the west to help own.

When any Government hands over this great antidote to the greed of one of the great railway corporations of Canada, there will be a civil war in the maritime province. The Confederation compact must prevent such an outrage, and we are looking to our Liberal members to so protect the Intercolonial by extending her mileage to the Great Lakes.

We want more government owned railways, and less railway owned governments.

Mayor Harvey in Halifax.

The Halifax Herald of Wednesday has the following: Mayor T. L. Harvey, of Wolfville, is in Halifax. Mr. Harvey says the people of Wolfville have voted $10,000 to improve the streets of the town. The main street will be macadamized in the spring, and as much work done as the $10,000 will allow. The machinery outfit will require about $4,000, leaving $6,000 for improvements. The town will go on from year to year with its plant, making further improvements each season till the whole town with its twelve miles of streets is macadamized.

Wolfville has sewerage, electric light, and what Mayor Harvey thinks is the best water service in the country. It has its source on the South Mountains.

The failure of the fruit and potato crop will entail business to a certain extent, but troubles of that kind will never be passed and another year will likely give a bumper yield.

One thing shows business is better by truck roads. They should all be macadamized and state labor should be used. Only a favor is what the Mayor called state labor.

What do You Think of it?

In a recent number of a religious paper, I read from the pen of a well-known clergyman, 'Children are credulous and accept without hesitation the whole gospel story. They are more accessible than adults. They will soon be beyond our reach and power, what we do must do quickly or wake up and find another generation is lost to the church and to God.'

Has such a minister no sense of the ridiculous? No idea of shame? The above quotation needs little comment and would not even merit attention, did not similar statements appear continually in the religious press and from the pulpit.

I read yesterday in a private letter from a Baptist clergyman as follows: 'The Church is at a standstill. The rich dread what may happen and the poor dread what is already happening.' He also writes, that rich and poor, old and young, male and female, black and white, good and bad, native and foreign, are all indifferent to spiritual things and care not what you may believe.

Why cannot clergymen be mechanicians, and when the church comes to a standstill take of their coats and find out what is the matter with the machinery instead of exhorting and finally condemning innocent spectators?

Let me respectfully suggest that the questions I have given would indicate that Christian ministers are trying to run a touring car with an engine which by their own confession is fit only for a baby carriage.

December Horticulture.

Fruit growers will find much to interest them in the December issue of The Canadian Horticulturist of Peterborough, Ont. Reports and illustrations are given of the first Canadian National Apple Show, the Ontario Horticultural Exhibition and the New Brunswick Apple Show. The important subjects discussed at the recent convention of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association are reviewed in this number. 'Cover Crops in the Orchard,' is dealt with in an interesting and practical article by Prof. Blair of Macdonald College, Que. The bright prospects ahead of the apple growing industry in Canada is dealt with in an article by G. H. Vroom, of Middleton, N. B. Other articles of practical interest to apple growers and fruit men generally appear in this number.

'Rose Growing a delightful occupation,' is the subject of an article that will prove of interest to every lover of flowers. The writer is an enthusiastic horticulturist who has several hundred different varieties of roses in his garden in Toronto. The article gives cultural directions and a list of recommended varieties. 'Insects that Attack Vegetables,' is an article that will interest every person who owns a vegetable garden. The issue throughout is well illustrated. The most recent illustration shows a general view of the main building of the Canadian National Apple Show at Vancouver. B. C. Persons desiring to secure a copy of this number may obtain the same by writing to the publishers.

The work on the horse-shed has been delayed somewhat by a shortage of material. The stock is expected to arrive at anytime now and the work will once more be resumed. The lecture given by Dr. H. Chipman on Wednesday evening was a success in every sense of the word. Although a larger number might have attended and have been benefited, those who were there thoroughly appreciated the advice given. The local doctor first traced the cause and how consumption is transmitted to the affected part; then how that by proper precautions the disease may be arrested and even cured. The great feature in this lecture was the manner in which the speaker avoided technical terms and used words which even the youngest could understand. After the lecture was finished several questions were asked all pertaining to the subject. The doctor is indeed to be commended for the able manner in which he can present medical science, religion and common-sense as a preventive of disease.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Abbott visited at Mrs. Abbott's home last weekend. Mrs. G. Brooks, who has been ill, is now gaining strength fast, while Mrs. Peter Green is able to take her place once more.

Mr. George Lewis, one of the Acadia students, preached on Sunday evening a very appropriate and forcible sermon on, 'Am I my brother's keeper.'

Things in the line of Christmas festivities promise to be lively here this year. Christmas trees, concerts, etc., seem to appear on the horizon in great abundance.

Hattie LeBlanc, the Arachut girl whose trial at Cambridge, Mass., for the murder of Clarence F. Glover has occupied a large place in the public interest for the past few weeks, has been acquitted by the jury, whose verdict of 'not guilty' was cheered by thousands.

In some Canadian towns and cities skating rinks for the people in the open are proving exceedingly popular. In those localities civic authorities do not think it beneath their dignity to make provision for such open air amusements for the children.

In Ottawa a young man was arrested charged with being football crazy. If all the people who appear crazy over football in Wolfville and other college centers, were adjudged crazy what a lot of asylums would be needed.

Winnipeg must be checked full of moral inconsistencies. E. D. Martin who was supported by the church elements is engaged in the wholesale drug business, and has disseminated more poisons throughout the west than any other named agency between Ottawa and Vancouver. He calls himself a Christian and a man of virtue and has announced a tortoise racing moribund, cocaine and other dopes which have wrecked the lives of more unfortunate than can be counted.

The supper and sale given by the ladies of the Baptist church on Thursday last week was a very successful affair. It was held in the vestry of the church which was prettily decorated and presented a fine appearance.

The supper was a good one and well patronized, and the various tables contained about everything in useful and pretty needlework, &c. The net proceeds, we understand, amounted to $195. During the past year the ladies have raised over one thousand dollars toward the new church and are to be congratulated on their success.

Last Sunday evening at the Baptist church the service was under the direction of the College Y.M.C.A. Mr. Brittain, the president of the association, presided, and prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Manning. Inspiring music was rendered by a choir of students, in which the large congregation which filled the church heartily joined.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. A. B. Cohen, pastor of the First Baptist church, Halifax. "Missions—why we should support them," was the subject of his address, which was a most able and convincing presentation. Rev. Mr. Cohen is a very original and eloquent speaker, and those who heard him on Sunday will look forward to another visit from him.

On Sunday afternoon Rev. Mr. Cohen gave a most interesting address before the Y.M.C.A. in College Hall.

Anniversary.

The Kings County Agricultural Society celebrated its first anniversary on Tuesday evening by a dinner held at Evangeline Hall, Lower Horton.

There was a good attendance of members present, and although the Society was disappointed in not being able to secure speakers from the Agricultural College and elsewhere to take part in the proceedings the whole affair was a most decided success.

The dinner was held in the lower room, where all the good things of the season were bountifully supplied and excellently served by the lady friends of the society. The manner in which these were done justice to by those who surrounded the well-filled tables was an eloquent tribute to the ability of the Lower Horton ladies in this regard.

The dinner was certainly a most excellent one and the efforts of the ladies was the subject of the most flattering comment.

After the material wants had been amply satisfied the company repaired to the handsomely trimmed and comfortable hall above, where the meeting was called to order by the president, Dr. Henry Chipman. Dr. Chipman made a most excellent address in which he gave an interesting sketch of the Society and some account of the work it had done during its long and useful career.

The Kings County Agricultural Society is probably the oldest organization of the kind in the continent, and has never failed to celebrate its anniversaries in appropriate manner. He then presented a number of suggestions to the farmers present, and showed that in addition to being a skillful physician, he is fully in touch with agricultural interests and has made a close study of those things that tend to successful farming.

The chairman then called upon Rev. Dr. Borden, pastor of the Methodist church, who gave a fine address. Although he deprecated his ability to speak on agricultural matters he gave a number of valuable hints, particularly with reference to his own observations in this and other countries.

Other speakers were Messrs. B. O. Davison, of THE ACADIAN; C. A. Patrinquin; Daniel Muser, who recently returned from the west and gave an interesting account of his travels; J. Alfred Elderkin, F. H. Crane, Dr. Fuller, and others.

Excellent music was furnished by Misses Flossie Palmer and Edith Woodman, which added very much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The meeting was brought to a close at a late hour by the singing of the national anthem.

The following from the Wakefield, Mass., Daily Item refers to a young man well known in this vicinity, Mr. Albert W. Hardacre, son of Mr. James Hardacre, of Grand Pre. He was 35 years of age. Many friends here heard with deep regret of his death, which occurred on Dec. 4th.

Funeral services for the late Albert W. Hardacker were held at the residence on Byrnes street, yesterday afternoon and were attended by many neighbors and friends. There were many beautiful floral tributes, Rev. C. M. Peterson of the Methodist church conducted the services, and it was peculiarly sad that his last duty as pastor of the church should be to speak over the body of one of his parishioners. Mr. Peterson and Miss Whitten of Melrose sang two selections. The interment was at Lakeside cemetery.

After an illness of two years, Mr. Harwood passed away last Sunday, leaving a wife and two young children, Hazel, age 7 and Viola, age 4. He was a quiet, unassuming, devoted to his home and family and well-liked and respected by all who knew him. Besides his family there are left to mourn his loss his parents Mr. and Mrs. James Hardacker, of Grand Pre, N. S.; five brothers, J. Orland, Stanley, Jr., James H. and Lloyd A. of Grand Pre and Leigh H. of Melrose, and two sisters, Mrs. Harry J. Logan of Melrose and Miss Mabel M. Hardacker, of Grand Pre.

Really it was the heartiest welcome I ever received, and I have not the least doubt that I will be equally welcome there this year. My reindeer are in fine fettle and impatient to be off. Yes, I'm coming with my faithful reindeer. Ulcers and Cold Sores

Are Healed by Zam-Buk.

Ulcers, cold sores and chapped places are common troubles just now. The hands and the face are the parts generally affected, but sometimes cold sores arise from chilblains on the toes and feet, and had ulcers sometimes follow cold cracks. Zam-Buk will be found a quick and sure cure.

Mr. W. J. Halliday, of Ash Grove, Ont., says: "I had my little finger frozen, and it cracked at the first joint causing a bad sore, which discharged freely and would not heal. The pain was very bad, and the whole of my hand became swollen and in bad shape. Nothing I got seemed to do it any good."

"A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk, and I soon found that Zam-Buk was altogether different to any preparation I had ever tried. In a very short time it soothed the pain and healed the wound. I am convinced that Zam-Buk has saved my hand."

Miss Lillie May, of Stoney Creek, Ont., says: "A few weeks since several nasty, disgusting cold sores suddenly broke out on my lips, which became much swollen. Seeing my condition, a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk and have all other preparations aside. This I did, and was much surprised, after a few applications of this balm, to see every cold sore healed, and my lips in a better condition than before."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for eczema, blood-poison, various skin eruptions, ringworm, ringworm, inflamed cuts, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell it in boxes, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. You are warned against harmful imitations and substitutes. See the registered name Zam-Buk on every package before buying.

Queen's Views on Marriage.

The queen of Roumania, who recently was extremely ill, says that woman's true happiness lies in regarding marriage as a holy sacrifice, as a perfect oblivion, they perhaps would get on better. I do not say they would be happier. That is another question. In every nation, marriage bears the character which that nation needs. For this reason no laws and regulations can be made. It is for single individuals to ennoble and perfect themselves in this as in all things. There would be no woman's question if married life had been differently handled. The men wanted to have servants, the women heroes, and the men did not become heroes, and the women could no longer bear the pressure under which the men tried to hold them. In wedded life persons imagine they can let themselves go and do not think that as soon as they let themselves go all their faults become gigantic and their good qualities insignificantly small. It is just in married life that one ought never to let oneself go. An untimely yawn may result in a complete tragedy.

World's Largest Farmer Dead.

David Rankin, operator of the largest farm in the world, is dead at his home in Tarkio, Mo., U.S.A. He began his career in 1846 with one bull. On the 25,000 broad acres he leaves 250 men employed. He planted 19,000 acres of corn a year, yielding about 1,600,000 bushels; 1,000 horses and mules are required to do the work of this vast farm, and Mr. Rankin brought 250 carloads of feeding cattle a time. In one field he had 6,000 acres of corn, the largest cornfield in the world. The millionaire farmer raised more corn each year than the nine states of Utah, Oregon, Arizona, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Rhode Island, Wyoming and Nevada combined.

He gave $200,000 to Tarkio College and regarded it as one of the best investments he ever made. In speaking of this he was wont to dwell on the importance of an education, saying he needed more than he had himself and wished to make it easy for boys and girls of the present time to acquire learning. Mr. Rankin was married in 1850, and he paid his last $1 to the preacher. But he had 80 acres of land at that time and a few head of cattle. They had to trade for everything to eat and wear. In 1855 he began to make big money. He died worth over a million.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for three or four weeks. This is due to lack of proper treatment. When Chamberlain's Liniment is applied a cure may be effected in three or four days. This liniment is one of the best and most remarkable preparations in use. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Mistakes—Seen and Unseen.

My friend the coal merchant's book keeper, was seated on a high stool when I entered. He was busily engaged in making some alterations in a daybook with his ink eraser.

"Hey," he began, "you fellows—meaning newspaper writers—make me tired. A couple of nights ago my little girl took part in a Sunday-school concert and her name was spelled wrong in your paper. And yesterday it is that accident to one of our teams you hadn't half the details."

"What were you doing just now?" I asked.

"What's that to do with it?" I was creating a wrong addition.

"How many people will see the mistake you corrected?" I asked again.

"None, I only made it yesterday and changed it to-day."

"That is just it," I told him. "You a book keeper rub out your mistakes; a lawyer tears up his mistakes—or they go to prison; a doctor writes a prescription which he makes a mistake, or quietly gives a certificate as to the cause of death. But a mistake in a newspaper stands out for all the world to see. A man comes to his office in the morning feeling poorly. In your case he checks his work over next day and corrects it, and no one is the wiser; in the case of the newspaper a revision is possible, the work is done at high speed, the mistakes are indelibly recorded on the printed page—and the chances are that he finds them first, and feels more annoyance over them than they could possibly give you."

"If never thought of that before," said the coal merchant's book-keeper, as he started out to work again with his eraser.—Ottawa Journal.

Many persons find themselves afflicted with a persistent cough after an attack of influenza. As this cough can be promptly cured by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it should not be allowed to run on until it becomes troublesome. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Thinking of Building a Silo?

Better Build it of Concrete

THE construction of a Silo affords an excellent example of what the farmer can do with Concrete over all other materials in various structural work about the farm.

The usual wooden silo, besides being expensive, is far from satisfactory. In the first place, it does not last long, and, more important still, being far from weather-proof, it is liable to become water-logged, producing an unhealthy condition.

A Silo built of Concrete, on the other hand, is practically everlasting—it is proof against rust, cold and moisture—and it has the merit of comparative economy.

This economy feature is further explained in our free book—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—which tells how to mix and use concrete for the making of silos and other buildings on the farm.

You may send out a copy of book entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete" free of charge. Fill out the coupon below for the book to-day.

The Effect of Drunkenness.

Man with raging drunk infatuated in far more average and untoward. Supplies his loss of wit and sense with barbarousness and insolence; believes himself, the less he's able, the more heroic and formidable; lays by his reason in his bowels; Turks are said to do their souls until it has often been shut out of its lodging, and let in; at length it never can attain to find the right way back again.

—Samuel Butler.

What People Have Said About Whiskey.

The editor of "McClure's" publishes the opinion of many noted men on the subject of whiskey. A few of these follow:

Joseph Chamberlain, the great English statesman, says of whiskey: "If there is in the whole of this business any single encouraging feature, it is the bound to be found in the gathering impatience of the people at the burden which they are bound to bear, and their growing indignation and sense of shame and disgrace which this imposes upon them. The very serpent of drink is destroying our people, and now they are awaiting with longing eyes the upturning of the remedy."

"Sir Andrew Clark, the great London physician: "I am speaking solemnly and carefully in the presence of truth, and I tell you that I am considerably with in the mark when I say to you that, going the round of my hospital wards to-day, seven out of every ten owed their ill health to alcohol."

The late Edward Everett Hale: "If anybody will take charge of all Boston's poverty and crime which results from drunkenness, the South Congregational Church, of which I have the honor to be the minister, will alone take charge of all the rest of the poverty which needs relief in the city of Boston."

Abraham Lincoln: "The liquor traffic is a cancer in society, eating out the vitals and threatening destruction, and all attempts to regulate it will not only prove abortive, but will aggravate the evil. There must be no more attempts to regulate the cancer. It must be eradicated, not a root must be left behind; for until this is done, all classes must continue in danger of becoming victims of strong drink."

Bishop Phillips Brooks: "If we should sweep intemperance out of our country, there would be hardly poverty enough left to give hearty exercise to our charitable impulses."

Governor J. W. Folk, of Missouri: "It is a business the natural tendency of which is toward lawlessness, and the time has come when it will either run the politics of the State or be run out of the politics of the State."

Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of labor: "I have looked into a thousand homes of the working people of Europe; I do not know how many in this country. In every case, so far as my observation goes, drunkenness was at the bottom of the misery, and not the industrial system or the industrial surroundings of the men and their families."—Temperance Magazine.

A Truthful Boy.

Robert Burdette says: "How people do trust a truthful boy! We never worry about him when he is out of sight. We never say, 'I wonder where he is; I wish I knew what he is doing. I wonder how he is with; I wonder why he doesn't come home.' Nothing of the sort. We know that he is all right, and that when he comes home we will know all about it and get it straight. We don't have to ask him where he is going, or how long he will be gone, or every time he leaves the house. We don't have to call him back and make him solemnly promise the same thing over and over again. When he says, 'Yes, I will,' or 'No, I won't,' just once, that settles it."

How He Got His Money Out.

The following conversation is reported to us as having taken place recently in a saloon located in one of the counties of Ohio where it is an open secret that a county election will

HELPLESS CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

Five Boxes Of "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Her

"I was a terrible sufferer from rheumatism for nearly a year, and my right arm was swollen and the pain was fearful. All down the right side, the pain physicians but their medicine did me no good, and I tried numerous other remedies but received no benefit. I was simply a helpless cripple and suffered from rheumatism all during last winter."

I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try this remedy. After I had taken one box, I was much better and the pain less, and I was so well that I could use my arm again and the pain was practically gone. After I had taken five boxes, I was entirely well again—no pain—no suffering—and now I am as well as I ever was.

The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid, because all the doctors failed to even relieve me of my sufferings.

For the sake of others who may suffer from this terrible disease, Rheumatism, I give you permission to publish this statement."

Mrs. LIZZIE BAXTER.
