INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE

Oxford and Acadia Tenuis Discuss League of Nations

An audience that taxed the capacity of the Baptist church gathered last Friday evening to listen to the debate arranged for between Oxford and Acadia speakers. It was an occasion of more than ordinary interest. Rev. Dr. Patterson presided and opened the proceedings with fitting remarks in which he extended a warm welcome to the visitors from overseas. Acadia was represented by Messrs. Burns and Emerson Curry and Preston Warren, who, considering the meagre opportunity for preparation and the formidable opponents whom they had to meet, made a most creditable showing. The subject for the debate was "Resolved that the League of Nations is worthy of the full support of the governments of the world." The visitors upheld the affirmative while Acadia spoke for the negative.

Gordon Bagnall opened the debate for the affirmative, and won the sympathy of his audience by his witty remarks and pleasing personality. Although he said that he had come as a substitute, he fully justified his position on the Oxford team. In his opening remarks he expressed appreciation of this opportunity for the world's public opinion was turned against Italy because of her attitude in this instance. The League of Nations forwarded recommendations to the ambassadors conference, and they were accepted and put into effect. Thus, in this case, the league was responsible for maintaining the peace of the world.

Mr. Warren, for the negative, spoke clearly and to the point, concerning the League as it was now constituted. His contention was that if there were a governing body, the League lacks the essential psychological basis to make it effective. Continuing the debate for the affirmative, C. H. O. Seton declared that the League as constituted, was the only means yet devised for the application of justice and international law. As an example of the accomplishments of the League, he pointed to the rehabilitation of Austria.
R. B. Curry, for the negative, dealt with the problems of the Saar Valley, the reparations and the Graeco-Italian crisis, contending that the league in these instances had not acted in a manner compatible with justice.
Mr. Gardiner, who closed the argument for the affirmative, quoted from the covenant of the League. He said its aims were to promote international co-operation and achieve international peace, and that he would discuss the League in regard to purely practical issues. Article 10 had been mentioned as a weak point in the covenant, but the abolition of this article already had been recommended. Concerning the Saar problem, he left the question with his audience as to which would be better, the League in charge or the French. Such a new organization, continued the speaker, had not felt itself strong enough to discuss reparations, but it already had stopped three wars. "Are there so many instruments of peace that we can afford to refuse support to this one?" he said.
E. L. Curry, the final speaker for the negative, congratulated his opponents very generously, and in an eloquent manner began the concluding speech. "Our opponents have a vision of a temple of peace," said Mr. Curry. "We have the same vision, but see also the tottering pillars and faulty superstructure which must be corrected." The speaker insisted that the covenant of the League must be interpreted and amended in order to be worthy of the full support of all governments. In concluding his remarks the speaker expressed the hope that the League would yet be clothed in a proper covenant, without which it could not march on to its destined goal of universal peace. The judges selected for the debate were: Prof. Norman Rogers, of Acadia, Prof.

DISTRICT CONVENTION

Of Methodist Missionary Societies at Grand Pre

The District Convention of the Methodist W. M. S. held its annual meeting at Grand Pre on Wednesday, the 17th inst. Mrs. Arthur Ward, of Canning, District Superintendent, was in the chair and devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. A. C. Borden, of Grand Pre.
Miss Sabra Chambers, the Secretary, presented the report for the year, which contained much interesting information regarding the work of the organization. The roll-call of delegates was responded to by a goodly number from the Auxiliaries, Circles and Bands in the district. The Falmouth Auxiliary reported a very successful year, during which one member was made and gifts of clothing, apples and ten dollars in money were sent to the United Mission at Sydney. During the year $114.28 was raised, which is a very good showing for so young an auxiliary.
Hantsport Auxiliary made one life member during the year and raised $59.00 and expects soon to have twenty-five members.
Canning has made a new life member every year and last year raised $198.50. The auxiliary sends a donation every fall to the United Mission, Halifax.
Windsor reported a good year and did a fine thing when they extended an invitation to the W. M. S. to meet with them next year. They raised $300 last year and sent several barrels of clothing, etc., to missions.
At the evening session the devotional service was led by Rev. Mr. Whitman, the pastor of the church, and excellent music was furnished by the choir. Mrs. Ellis, of Canning, rendered a vocal solo with pleasing effect. An interesting address was given by Miss Sabra Chambers, of Newport, was re-elected as Secretary.

Miss Bessie Elderkin, of Wolfville, a returned missionary, addressed the Circles and Bands telling how they carry on school work in China. Some of the pupils come from twenty to thirty miles to attend the school, and while it costs only from ten cents to fifty cents per year for the pupil some are too poor to pay even that.
In listening to the address we realize the need for missionaries in China is still very great.

The judges selected for the debate were: Prof. Norman Rogers, of Acadia, Prof.

John Read, of Dalhousie, and Mr. Macgillivray, of the Bank of Commerce, Halifax. While they were in consultation Dr. Patterson asked the audience to indicate their opinion regarding the League of Nations and a vote being taken resulted unanimously in favor. The finding of the judges was announced to be in favor of the Oxford speakers, and the meeting was concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.
After the debate the visiting speakers were entertained by Acadia at a banquet at Acadia Villa Hotel.

KINGS ENGLISH STILL GOING

The excellent service Miss Rosamond Archibald has done in the Kings English Drill and in her recent efforts among the schools of the Maritime Provinces to promote better English is meeting with favor on every hand. The following editorial from the Halifax Chronicle, as the last paragraph indicates, was inspired by the Better English movement inaugurated by Miss Archibald.

A Priceless Gift
One of man's priceless gifts is speech. Through it he is able to express his thoughts and ideals. Without it, there would be little advance and no international understanding. Yet like many another heritage whose value man can never compute, it is taken for granted and seldom actively appreciated by any considerable number of persons in any generation.

All the great tongues have given something of permanent value to the world, and proved themselves worthy of admiration by those born to them as well as by those who acquire them. Each tongue is in some degree a debtor to each other, and the greater its power of absorption and adaptation the greater the tongue. No language yet known is so much an aggregation of all tongues as the English language. Narrow visioned persons are inclined to cite this fact as an accusation against the importance and supremacy of the English tongue. But they forget that civilization is greatness which has reached back and taken out of each preceding civilization, the best that it had to offer, incorporating it into itself until it became an integral part. For civilization is but the best expression of all the advancement mankind has made in the aeons since progress began. Just so it is with speech. That speech is best which has been able most to enrich itself with words that all other tongues have found valuable as clothing for ideas. And after all that is what words really are—the garments with which we clothe our thoughts and ideals, or use to hide the paucity of both.

Who would be content to possess only one, or possibly two sets of garments wherewith to clothe the body? To have to don them day after day, as the weeks, months and years went by, until they were so threadbare and shabby and outgrown that they mortified ourselves and distressed our friends, would be a cruel fate. Yet that is what the great majority of persons do with words. They acquire a sufficient number to express a few commonplace thoughts and feelings, and continue to use them indefinitely. At a crisis they have no change of thought-clothes. If unusual emotions are experienced, no adequate method of expression is possible. In time the power to feel is lessened by the straitness of the garments binding the thoughts. It is like wearing a morning dress soiled with the dirt of workshop or kitchen to a reception at the King's palace, and the door is shut in one's face.

With the fullness, the beauty, the flexibility and living quality of the English language, there is no excuse for a markedly limited vocabulary. Many a man and woman whose wardrobe contains changes of inner and outer dress suitable for every occasion in material life, possesses a mental wardrobe so scantily filled with beautiful or appropriate words, that even such thoughts as they may possess appear ill-dressed even to the point of grotesqueness.
Anything that will bring home to those of English speech, the importance, the beauty, the priceless nature of that speech, will make for the advancement of the whole world. It is rich in color and variety and it is the best medium for the expression of spiritual ideas, the only eternal thoughts known to man. A campaign for the use of better English also, should find hearty support. To guard against its corruption, to prevent its being undermined, or weakened, or subverted, should be the sacred duty of every man, woman and child born to this great heritage. In the home, the school, the church, on the stage and in the Press, this campaign should be steadily waged and enlist our whole-hearted support. The flag, for which we gallantly die is only an emblem of our common tongue. To abuse or misuse our speech is in reality but to drag our flag in the mire, and what Briton would do that?

A Cook's Tour.

A package of Moir's Chocolates, weighing 5 lbs., was recently sent to Korea—postage 96c. Another order came in from India. Thus within a few days Moir's Chocolates have circled the globe.

In the long stretch from noon to night meals, a chocolate bar breaks the monotony to advantage. Many are very fond of Moir's Melto Milk, made after the Swiss style, a big bar for 10c.

With the coming of colder weather and earlier evenings, indoor functions are more the rule. The demand for Fig Newtons is accordingly very great. Tom Thumb type Fig Bars.

Although more machinery has been installed and the staff increased, it is hard for Mpir's plants to catch up on the orders rolling in from all directions.

Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

TRY THE RULE OF REASON

Perhaps no one is more familiar with the conflicting ideas of our home dwellers than the editor of this newspaper. Scarcely a day passes but he receives some criticism of the way in which the affairs of the community are run. It would take columns, and also it would be very unfair, to publish many of these criticisms.

The most important thing for our taxpayers to realize is that little is to be gained by simply complaining and that everything may be gained by constructive criticism, if it be accompanied by an idea of how the condition complained of may be improved.

It is not a difficult matter to improve our community. All it needs is a little study of the principles of community building and a reasonable amount of money. However, there seems to be the rub. The officials cannot get money out of the air. They cannot make improvements without spending money, and the spending of money means a jump in the tax rate. No one need be reminded what happens when there is talk of increased taxes. The howl echoes even throughout the district. As a fact, slight increases for legitimate improvements should not be deplored. Only waste of public monies should arouse our indignation. Money spent in useful public improvements is an investment, not an expense. We are all stockholders in the corporation, and we always get dividends in the shape of increased value to our properties when we add something of public moment. Just a little reasoning will make a good many of us much happier, and perhaps a little more prosperous.

ECONOMY IS OUR GREATEST NEED

We are living in a fast age, an age of extravagance and waste, an age in which too many don't know and don't care about the value of a dollar. People are spending their money for things they can't afford, and wasting time and material in ways that bring no profit. The continuance of such conduct will result in financial ruin to the individual and in the country to national bankruptcy. Times are not as good as many would like us to believe. Bank failures are a harbinger of danger. There are too many banking institutions and the inevitable result will be the failure of the weaklings. Ere long it will be a case of the survival of the fittest and the time is even now here.

Much money is spent in useless luxuries. When money was plentiful too many were tumbling over each other to find a way to spend their accumulations. The craze for cars is one of the present evils, and people to-day are running cars on gasoline that will never be paid for and repair bills that will never be satisfied. Debts are piling up and no effort is being made towards economy. The national debt of nearly all countries is going up at an alarming rate and still the extravagant dance goes on. Only the strictest economy will save the individual and the nation, and for years the warning has been proclaimed and unheeded.

We are living in a fast age and a well-ordered economy is the only solution to the problem. A judicious expenditure is not an extravagance, but reckless buying will be sure to end in ruin. Governments are not teaching lessons of thrift and labor the world over is in a state of unrest. Of course we blame the war for many of the troubles, but the war is practically over, yet its effects remain and the debt must be paid. Economy is the greatest need of the time, but economy is not known as it should be.

EDUCATION IN FIRE PREVENTION NEEDED

The visit of the Provincial Fire Marshall to Wolfville last week in order to investigate the origin of fires which have occurred in the town during the past summer reminds us that the fire loss in Nova Scotia, as in all Canada, is very much greater than it should be. A short time ago the public was called upon to observe Fire Prevention Week, due notice of which was gratuitously given through the columns of this paper. The institution is an important one and received considerable attention in many parts of the province although any attempt to celebrate the occasion locally was conspicuous for its absence. What is needed, however, is not so much a "fire prevention" week as a continuous agitation and education to prevent the needless waste that is ever going on. The public appear to be possessed of a very silly idea that the loss in case of fire is borne by the Insurance Companies, and we frequently hear a statement to the effect that they get well paid for it and deserve to meet the loss. On the contrary the insurance companies bear no part of the loss but make a substantial profit for the work they do in collecting from Peter to pay Paul. Until our people fully realize the stupendous wastage caused by easily prevented fires and their personal responsibility for such, present conditions will continue. We need a campaign of education which should begin in the home and the public schools and touch every department of community life. Provincial and municipal government should take the lead in this most important undertaking and the required funds would be equally as well expended, if not better, than invested in fire insurance premiums. Mr. Rutland expressed himself as satisfied that the fires which recently occurred in Wolfville were not likely of incendiary origin, but agreed with THE ACADIAN that like most of the disasters of this kind which happen were probably due to criminal carelessness on the part of some one, and our property will never be safe so long as similar acts are allowed.

MOUNT ALLISON TOO STRONG FOR KING'S

Mount Allison University football team celebrated the inauguration of their new president by treading heavily upon the King's College rugby squad on the college campus there that afternoon to the tune of 19 to 0.

Though Mount A's scrim seemed during the first 15 minutes, to be getting the ball every time, the King's forwards, who showed their lack of practice, bucked up, and for the remainder of the game had about an even break with their rivals, both in hooking the ball and in following up. The King's half line was also evidently in need of practice, while the Mount A's though they at times fumbled unardonably, were able to get away on several occasions and get in some deadly work. King's showed up to better advantage in the tackling department than in any other.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. M. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

BOOTLEGGING IS NOT VERY PROFITABLE

Border City Star: Judge Tuttle of the United States district court for the eastern division of Michigan, rises to a point of order in the endless discussion as to the riches which flow from bootlegging. He says that the big profits we hear so much about are largely imaginary. The judge bases his statement on the experiences on the bench. "I have seen many bootleggers in this court and I have yet to see my first rich one," he says. "They tell me about them, but they can never give me the names and addresses of those who have made fortunes out of their liquor operations." There is probably much truth in what the judge says, for it follows from a general truth that nothing really substantial comes from attempts to gain easy money in an unlawful manner. Undoubtedly there are many who have acquired riches from the bootlegging business, but their tale of life is not yet complete. It remains to be seen whether such wealth will ever do anybody any good.

AGAINST FILTHY LANGUAGE

The Stipendiary Magistrate of Hamilton, Bermuda, is determined to put a stop to the use of obscene and filthy language on the street. Three youths were recently brought before him, and in convicting them he said: "This sort of thing has got to stop because there is far too much of it. One can hardly walk along the street at the present time, unless he hears a lot of improper language. It may be heard all times of the day and night, and particularly Saturday nights when there seem to be more people about to hear it. It is my duty to make an example of these cases, so that decent people who are entitled to walk the streets without having to close their ears for fear of hearing filthy language, may do so. In order that others may take heed of the sentence of the court is that each of you be imprisoned in Hamilton goal for 10 days at hard labor."

THE SUCCESS OF PROHIBITION IN THE UNITED STATES

Rev. Lionel Fletcher, President of the Christian Endeavour Union of Great Britain and Ireland in an interview with a representative of "The British Weekly," of Sept. 6th, speaking of Prohibition in the United States said:

"What impressed me most over and above the evidence of the tremendous wealth which is apparent to the more casual observer, is the wonderful success of Prohibition, combined with the almost universal regret that is expressed because of what the Americans call the "Rum-runners" from Great Britain. From some parts of the American coast a fleet of ships can be seen just outside the five-mile limit waiting for an opportunity to smuggle their wretched cargoes ashore. And it is said that most of these ships are British ships. This creates a feeling of resentment against Great Britain in all classes of the people in America. Yet, taken all over, Prohibition is a tremendous success. In the two months I was in the States I did not meet a single person who told me that it was a failure. Mission halls are closed because the usual proverty and rescue stations in the large cities caused by drink is now absent. This fact seems to me to speak with a more decisive voice than the statements in various newspapers which are inspired by money from the liquor traffic."

Keeping friends

One of the most important things in life is keeping your friends. You have to win friends first, and having won them you have to keep them.

Friendships demand attention, and there is nothing more binding than the little acts of remembrance that take so little time and mean so much.

In a dozen and one ways you may use Greeting Cards to keep friends as a present reality, rather than a past possibility. Even if someone lives across the continent or over great waters, a "Hello" written on a Greeting Card will strengthen the bond of interest.

The idea of using Greeting Cards lays claim to meeting the need and the interest of men of affairs and charming women enmeshed in the obligations of social life.

MEMORIAL ALTAR DEDICATED

Services of a special and impressive nature were held at St. Joseph's church, Kentville, on Sunday.

The dedication of the magnificent altar, the memorial erected by the parish to those of its members who gave their lives in the Great War, was held at 11 o'clock. These heroes, whose names will live forever in history, were Wilfred Doherty, the first Kentville boy to make the great sacrifice, Joseph Keylor, Oatha Gould, Leo Gould, Arthur Quigley, J. Kehoe and Harold McGarry.

The altar is pure rich Gothic, in white and gold. In front of the altar is "Da Vinci's" last supper, in bas relief. There are two niches. In the niche on the Gospel side is the statue of the Sacred Heart, and on the epistle side the statue of the Blessed Virgin. The pulpit is of quarter-cut oak, the gift of Mrs. Charles McFadden, of Canard, in memory of her brother, the late William O'Hearn. The prie-dieu is of quarter-cut oak, the gift of Mrs. Charles Lombard, of Melford, in memory of her father, the late John O'Hearn.

Both pulpit and prie-dieu have brass memorial plates. The oak sanctuary benches are the gift of friends of the parish. The whole church has been redecorated, has new hardwood floors and other improvements.

The attendance was very large, the church being filled to capacity. Low mass and communion were at 8 o'clock, the first mass at the new altar being celebrated by Rev. A. R. Donahue, P. P. Solemn high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. H. J. Flemming, P. P., Windsor. Rev. Hugh John MacDonald, M. A., St. Francis Xavier, Antigonish, officiated as deacon, and Rev. Thomas Johnstone, P. P., Morden, as sub-deacon. Fr. Vincent Gray, of St. Joseph's church, Halifax, was master of ceremonies, and the sermon was by Rev. H. J. MacDonald, M. A. The choir, assisted by Miss Ella Courtney, Halifax, who sang Battman's Mass in F. Miss Courtney also gave beautiful solos. Rev. A. R. Donahue officiated ably at the organ.

At 7:30 p. m. the rosary and sermon, by Rev. Vincent Gray, were followed by the solemn benediction, by Rev. H. J. MacDonald, M. A., with Fr. Flemming and Fr. Johnstone as deacon and sub-deacon. At end of benediction a Te Deum was sung in Thanksgiving.

The church was very beautiful, the masses of gold and white chrysanthemums adding to the effectiveness of the golden splendor. The vestments used at services were pure cloth of gold, loaned for the occasion by the Rev. Mother general of the Sisters of Charity, Mt. St. Vincent Halifax.

SELLING APPLES ON THE TREE

Many growers in eastern Ontario have again sold their apple crops on the trees. The orchards have been bought en bloc, and the price figures out at about a dollar a barrel. This method of disposing of the fruit has little to commend it other than the fact that the grower is relieved of all marketing worries. With few exceptions during the past ten years the producer who has picked his own fruit, sorted out the culls and delivered the crop, tree run, to the nearest packing house, has made more money than the man who sells on the trees. With the latter method of marketing the grower must pay all the risk from any storm losses which may occur. The buyer usually figures on a certain amount of wind damage, and bases his offer on this factor. If there is no loss he makes that much more profit and the grower loses accordingly. If the apple industry in this Province is going to develop properly, the grower must not only produce the right kind of fruit, but should also finish his job by handling that fruit at least as far as the nearest railroad station.—Toronto Globe.

CHOICE RECIPES

- PUMPKIN PIE—One tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup strained pumpkin, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1 cup rice milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients; add pumpkin, melted butter, and egg, slightly beaten; molasses and milk. Pour into a pan lined with a good crust. This makes a large pie.
- SQUASH GRIDDLE CAKES—Two cups flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 cups sifted squash, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Beat the eggs, add them and the milk to the squash. Pour over the squash and beat until dry and light. Drop by spoonfuls upon greased griddle or frying pan and when well puffed up full of bubbles and cooked on the edges, turn and cook on the other side.
- RICE AND SAUSAGE—Brown 3 large tablespoons of finely chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter. When light colored add 6 sausages. Cover and cook very slowly for 10 minutes. Add 1 pound rice which has been washed and cooked in boiling water for 10 minutes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 1 pint of boiling water. Cover and cook slowly until rice is tender but unbroken.
- SQUASH PUFF—Two cups sifted squash, 1/2 cup rich milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon butter, pepper and salt to taste. Add the milk, butter, salt and pepper to the squash. Beat the egg until light and beat it into the squash. Place on a buttered baking dish and brown in the oven.
- SPICE CAKE—Half cup chopped dates and raisins. Pour over this 1 cup boiling water, with 1 teaspoon soda. Let boil a few minutes, then cool and add 1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ground cloves, 1 grated nutmeg, 1 cup chopped walnuts. Bake in a moderate oven. This is very nice with date filling and maple icing.

ON THE STREET

The girls are chasing on the street, may heaven bless their little feet! In olden times the little maids eschewed the midnight street parades; in quiet homes they spent their nights enjoying safe and sane delights; they read good books that soothed the soul, and played a game of crokinole; at seamy hours they sought the hay and slept the peaceful hours away. And if at night a damsel fair desired to journey anywhere there always was a stately aunt who by her side would gallantly and guard her from the mischief of the hoodlums stare and sinner's guile. But times have changed and at this date each girl's the master of her fate; if she elects to roam the street and elbow Mike and flirt with Pete, there is no guardian aunt on deck to take her gently by the neck and run her home with kindly tact and there declaim the riot act. The morning papers we peruse and shudder at the dark red news. The tough and hoodlum ply their trades; the victims oft are winsome maids; who gambol up and down the street, and elbow Mike and flirt with Pete. And we bewail the good old days, the sheltered homes, the quiet ways, the girls as sweet as growing plants, who walked at evening with their aunts.—Walt Mason.

OUR DAIRY OUTPUT

While the production of cheese has decreased in Canada during the present century, the making of creamery butter and of condensed milk products has greatly increased. In 1900 the production of cheese in this country was 220,833,269 pounds; in 1922 it was 134,530,053 pounds. In the first year of the century, 36,066,739 pounds of creamery butter was produced; last year the production amounted to 146,833,517 pounds. In 1900 the condensed milk products amounted in value to $269,520; last year they reached $6,839,232. The butter output of the Prairie Provinces in the last dozen years has increased enormously. From being importers those provinces have become exporters, and their products have received a good reception in the British market. As regards cheese, if Canada would regain the place she formerly held in those markets, it is plain that she must adopt progressive measures such as that inaugurated on April 1 of the present year, when the official grading of factory cheese and butter intended for export commenced. In the three Prairie Provinces and in Nova Scotia, government grading of cream at the creamery has also been instituted with good results, so far as butter-making is concerned.

ABOUT BOOKS

(By the Acadian's Reviewer)

Among the most charming products of the human mind are the attempts of primitive peoples to explain the world and the phenomena of nature. The Indians of Canada have a rich and varied folklore, the best of which has been collected by Miss Mabel Burkholder and published in "Before the White Man Came" (McClelland Stewart). The volume contains general legends, legends of the Maritime Provinces, of Quebec and Ontario, of the prairies, of the Rocky Mountains, and of the Pacific Coast. There are stories of animals, of heroes and heroines, of demi-gods, and of the Great Spirit. There are stories that remind one of the folklore of other peoples, and of the scattering of tribes. Very beautiful are such narratives as "Who Calls" and "Ojistoh", the latter of which is the same story that Pauline Johnson has told in one of her best poems. While reading stories of the kind found in this volume one is transported from the complexity of the modern world to the simplicity and freshness of the morning of time.

Very few people know any news until after the paper is printed—and then they remember that they had heard all about it before.

THE RESOURCES OF ANNOPOLEIS, KINGS AND HANTS COS.

(Second Prize Essay at the Kentville Exhibition, awarded to Miss E. G. McCormick of Annapolis Royal. The prizes offered in this competition were by G. C. Nowlin, Wolfville; 1st $3, second $2.)

The resources of Annapolis, Kings and Hants counties are almost without limit. The valley located between the North and South mountains in Annapolis and Kings counties and part of Hants County is well adapted for both agricultural and horticultural purposes. Apples are grown in great quantities in this territory. Quantities of apples are also grown on the North Mountain and large quantities on the Southern Range. Only a small part of Hants County has grown many apples but where they have started orcharding they take no second place, viz. Falmouth on the banks of the Avon river, Hantsport, and intervening points. There is no question that the greater part of Hants County is well adapted to the raising of fruits. About every variety of fruit can be grown in this territory viz. pears, plums, peaches and grapes. The territory named will probably produce two million barrels of apples this year. There is every variety of soil in the territory named. Large quantities of dyke land have been reclaimed from the sea which produces annually very large quantities of hay which enables farmers to keep large herds of cattle. Many of these farmers pasture their cattle on the mountain sides. There is a sandy kelt on the upper parts of Annapolis County through to Kentville which many years ago was considered worthless and now is being reclaimed and when cultivated and fertilized produces excellent crops, and is well adapted for fruit growing. The land under the north and south ranges of mountains in Annapolis and Kings Counties is largely a loam with clay sub-soil and very productive. The soil of Hants County is well adapted for agricultural purposes. Creameries are established at different points along the line of railway. Canning fruits and vegetables is on the increase. Annapolis and Kings Counties have large deposits of iron ore on the south mountain which have been worked successfully at Torbrook Mines, Nictaux Falls and Clementsport. Hants County holds the record for the production of gypsum and has large quantities of lime stone, while gold is also found in the eastern part of the county. Large quantities of fish are taken on the shores of the Bay of Fundy of Annapolis and Kings Counties. These three counties have large tracts of forests and large quantities of lumber are exported every year. To sum it up we can't quite understand why immigrants should pass us by and make for the far west. We have plenty of room for thousands of willing workers.

COLORS OF 25TH AND 85TH REGIMENTS
Will Be Deposited in Rotunda of the Province Building

The colors of the 25th and the 85th Nova Scotia Regiments in the late war will be deposited in the rotunda of the Province Building on Sunday, November 11th, Armistice Day. At present they are at Government House, where they were placed temporarily when the bat-alions returned from the front in 1919. Arrangements are now under way to make their transfer from Government House to the Province Building an event appropriately fitting to the spirit of the occasion. All members of the 25th and 85th who are at all able to attend are asked to fall in at the Burns Monument at 10.15 a. m. November 11th, and parade from there to Robie Street Methodist Church, where a short service will be held. From the church the parade will go to Government House, except from the

Lieut-Governor the flags which have been in his keeping since 1919, and then convey them to the Province Building, where they will be deposited permanently. Two large glass upright cases have been placed each side of the entrance to the Legislative Library, one for the 25th and the other for the 85th colors. This is a very conspicuous place, where these banners, a perpetual reminder of Nova Scotia's glorious part in the war may be seen any day.

WHO WAS ABRAHAM MARTIN? Had that question been asked one year ago probably not one Canadian in a hundred thousand would have been able to answer it. Today it is different. Most Canadians now know he was first King's pilot on the St. Lawrence river, and the first known Canadian of Scottish extraction—two claims to distinction either one of which might have made him famous. Latterly other things to his credit have come to be known, and they will be recorded in their due place.

In the meantime it is not remarkable how little Canadians know of Canada's history—as rich a bit of nation history as ever was crowded into a space of three hundred odd years. The high points of the splendid story some of us know fairly well, but the little byways and side-lights, so full of human interest, they lie in a deep obscurity from which they are being rescued one by one, at the patient digging of this or that person or institution actuated by a love of the heroic past and a realization of its value in building the national life of the future. Abraham Martin was some figure of a man in his day although most of his just claims to fame seem to have been thrust upon him. It was hardly more than a matter of accident that the "Plains of Abraham" should come to be named after him, and yet that was plenty to set all good Canadians wondering who he was and what manner of life he led. Much digging in the archives of Quebec, and there are none more interesting or more faithfully kept, has brought out much information about the man and his times. He was born in France, his father being a Scot, which is probably why Jesuit writings of the times refer to him as "Abraham Martin, called the Scot." His father probably came from Perthshire and was one of the Scottish Guards of Louis XI. In 1614 Abraham brought his French wife to Canada and that he saw the actual founding of New France may be gathered from the fact that his name was on the list of the 31 white persons who lived in Canada from 1629 to 1632, and he was then known as a pilot. He later had ten children from whom have come a vast number of descendants among whom are numbered some of Quebec's best families and leading citizens. Bishop Tache of St. Boniface is one of his descendants in direct line, Champlain gave Martin a deed to the farm land on the Plains of Abraham, and documents telling of his living there still exist. He apparently travelled greatly up and down the river for Cape Martin in the Gulf of St. Lawrence is also named after him. All this was distinctive enough to justify the memorial which has been raised to Martin in the Harbor Square at Quebec. The handsome shaft of granite, designed by Henri Hébert and T. Roxburg Smith, was unveiled early in May by Hon. Athanase David, Quebec's Provincial Treasurer and the event was marked by a gathering of notables including the Governor of Quebec, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick. Among those who spoke were F. L. Wanklyn, representing the Canadian Pacific Railway Company by whom the memorial was erected. Lieut.-Col. Alex. Fraser, A.D.C. to the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, Lawrence Burpee, President of the Canadian Historical Society and Monseigneur Laflamme, Curé of the Basilica. The latter spoke as the successor of the first Curé of Quebec who was Martin's parish priest and who was afterwards martyred by the Iroquois. He read the baptismal certificate of Abraham Martin's first child who was also the first white child born in Canada. He also read the baptismal certificate of Martin's third child upon which appeared the name of Samuel de Champlain as godfather. The memorial has been set up by the Canadian Pacific in honor, not only of Abraham Martin but of the stout-hearted pilots who for over three hundred years have done so much to make the St. Lawrence River a safe and speedy route to and from Europe. That Company uses the route more than any other, and the arrival at Quebec of the great liner "Empress of Scotland" on her first trip of the season with 731 passengers from Europe later in the day of the unveiling emphasizes what has been accomplished in the making of the St. Lawrence route a great highway for ocean borne commerce.

WHAT THERE IS IN A PIECE OF COAL

A number of substances contained in a piece of black coal down in the cellar bin is amazing. There are over two thousand shades of aniline dye, numerous drugs like phenacetin and antipyrine, disinfectants for purifying the air, such as carbolic acid and naphthalene, oils for lubricating, beautiful perfumes, flavoring extracts that taste much like vanilla raspberry and other flavors. Much of the ammonia used for trade purposes comes from coal as does the very sweet substance known as saccharine.

All these products are obtained from coal tar, a liquid formed when coal is heated to produce gas.

HANTSPORT'S PAPER

The appearance of the Hantsport ACADIAN last week was greeted with very favorable comment by citizens who received copies. A need has been felt for such an institution, and the public will give it a hearty support. Already a goodly number of our residents have become subscribers and the number will be increased as opportunity offers. Most of the business men have made contracts for a space in the advertising columns of the paper and their announcements from time to time will prove an interesting and profitable feature of the Hantsport ACADIAN. Co-operation in this matter on the part of all will most assuredly result in community good, and the publishers on their part promise to use the utmost to produce a newspaper that will be a credit to Hantsport and surrounding country. The use of the paper is freely offered for the discussion of matters of public interest, and all items of personal or community news are invited and will be given a place. Suggestions that will make for the betterment of the paper and add to its usefulness are cordially invited.

GREATER HANTSPORT

This town occupies a rather unique position owing to the fact that practically as many of the inhabitants reside outside the bounds of incorporation as are included within its borders. The boundary line between Hants and Kings counties passes through Hantsport and on that account it was decided impractical to include the whole community in the town when it was incorporated twenty-eight years ago. Because of this decision residents of both the town proper and the Kings county section have been often placed at a disadvantage, and the present time seems opportune for a review of the whole situation with a view to a satisfactory adjustment in light of present day conditions. With the whole community included the town would assume creditable proportions making possible the accomplishment of many undertakings that are at present out of reach. In a very short time the contract receives its water supply will come to an end and when a new arrangement is entered into and the present pipeline renewed provision should be made for adequate fire protection such as is not now enjoyed. THE ACADIAN freely offers the use of its columns for a discussion of this matter and will gladly receive communications from its readers dealing with any phase of the proposition.

HANTSPORTS FIRE FIGHTERS

Ever since it became a town Hantsport has been fortunate in the possession of a very well equipped and efficient fire company. Citizens have freely given their services and have shown commendable energy and interest in this most important institution. The work of a volunteer fire company is not always a pleasant service, and often times is attended with considerable hardship and loss to its members. Good men have not been wanting, however, in our town, and in several cases that might be mentioned have won the gratitude of their fellow citizens by their prompt and faithful performance of duty. The company at present numbers thirteen members and is supplied with two hose reels and hose, a ladder-wagon and other necessary material. We have a splendid water supply which furnishes a pressure never below 110 and provides a service adequate for every requirement. The present officers of the company are as follows: Chief—L. W. Wall. Secretary—G. C. Bazley. Captain—John McDonald.

DENMARK MAY SEND FARMERS TO MARITIMES

Danish Government Official Looking Over Prospects for Immigration

An event fraught with a good deal of significance to the agricultural future of the Maritime Provinces is the visit to this territory at the present time of C. Gormsen, who is in Canada as one of two official delegates of the Danish Government to investigate conditions here with a view to encouraging a Danish immigration movement to these shores. Mr. Gormsen has just completed an exhaustive and entirely satisfactory tour of the Canadian West. He is visiting the Danish colony in New Brunswick, one of the oldest established in the province and in the understanding that considerable agricultural opportunity for his countrymen exists in the Maritimes making a personal investigation to secure first hand information to include in a report to his government.

Whilst nothing definite can be said regarding the future of Danish settlement in the Maritime Provinces it is confidently hoped that Mr. Gormsen will find conditions here such as to enable him to recommend the establishment in this territory small colonies of his countrymen. Such would prove a boon to the agricultural development of the Maritime Provinces. Danish settlers in the past have, for the main part, passed by the Eastern Provinces and gone on to the western prairies. There the success of their agricultural activities is widely appreciated and the mark they have left upon western farming, particularly in the dairying industry, is indelible.

The movement of Danes to Canada in the early future will be considerably aided by the farm help scheme of the Canadian Pacific Railway, under the arrangements of which an immigrant comes to Canada to assured employment upon some farm the owner of which has asked for him. The popularity of the Danish agricultural helper in other parts of Canada can be estimated from the fact that in the past year, the first of the operation of the scheme a total of 210 single men and 15 married couples from Denmark were asked for by farmers. Seventy per cent of these, it is estimated, were willing to give these people employment the year round on their farms.

Mr. Gormsen has spent almost two months in Canada with Mr. C. M. Revell, the other Danish delegate, thoroughly looking into conditions as they affect the movement of his countrymen. He is entirely satisfied with the prospect in the western provinces and as a result there will undoubtedly be a stimulated movement of Danes to Canada in the early spring. The Maritimes are at present coming in for their share of attention and the successful result of the Danish government will result in their sharing in the valuable human flow from Denmark in the new year.

A SIMPLE TRIBUTE

Marshal Foch is a great soldier, but he is something more; he is an orator, with power to rise to a great occasion. His speech at the dedication of the Canadian memorial at St. Julien a few weeks ago, has attracted notice for its simple tribute to the aid of a strong ally. In the course of his address he said:

"It is indeed easy for me, at the foot of this monument, to recall that fateful day when the Germans, in an effort to assure victory, had recourse to emissions of gas, violating once more another treaty, another solemn agreement.

How can one forget such events? Can you understand the deep anguish of the leaders, who, surprised by new methods of attack against which they had no means of defence, had, just the same, to face them and send into the furnace men whom they knew in advance to be disarmed? It is the glory of those men come from Canada to have held fast, and, miracle of energy, counter-attacked St. Julien, making this village and the little neighboring wood into a redoubt behind which Marshal French and I were able to seek and put into effect means which were to prevent the surprise from being a serious defeat.

The Canadians paid heavily for their sacrifice, and the corner of earth on which this monument of gratitude and piety rises has been bathed in their blood. They wrote here their first page of that Book of Glory which is the history of their participation in the war."

You would give your boy a good trouncing if he spoke as impolitely to you as you sometimes do to him.

"You must keep this to yourself!" starts many a piece of juicy gossip on its way.

A Waterloo may not be so bad—it depends upon which side we are on.

CHILDREN COME TO CANADA ON MAGIC CARPET

DESPITE the fact that the Canadian Pacific is the nearest transportation system in the world, it finds it wise and profitable to give individual attention to any little children who may be consigned to its care.

The war broke up families and left orphans in all European countries. Many of these are now being transported to friends and relatives in the United States and Canada. In most cases there is little money, the actual passage being all that can be raised, so there is no question of a companion for the child.

Here is where the great Canadian Pacific becomes nurse, companion, chaperon or guardian for the young travellers, transporting them from their homes to the port of embarkation, looking after their comfort and welfare on board ship and, finally, delivering them safe and sound to their destinations in Canada or America. These children, as a rule, are cheerful kiddies who soon work their way into the hearts of their fellow travellers who are generally eager to smooth the paths before the childish feet.

Above are shown some of the little folks who have recently crossed the Atlantic alone. Keith Herz, an 11-year-old boy, travelled from his home in Uscing on the Russian-Panama border, to Montreal, and panied him to Antwerp, whence he sailed on the S.S. Metagama. A very interesting passenger came over on an August run of the S.S. "Melita," a little 6½-year-old Armenian refugee, who is to become the adopted son of western Canadian farmers, a marvellous change from poverty to plenty. Dick Anderson, the boy being shown the working of the compass by Captain Landy of the S.S. "Melita," was the youngest member of a party of boys sent from England to the Dr. Barnardo's Home in North Toronto, Ontario, where waits from London are given education, a comfortable living and become worthy Canadian citizens.

A Scotch lassie, Rita Tiffey of Dundee, Scotland, boasts of many trophies won by her nimble 9-year-old heels. She owns 4 silver cups and 21 medals won at dancing, and gave much pleasure to all passengers on a recent voyage of the S.S. "Montclair," by executing 16 different dances on her way out to

Where are the boys of the old brigade,
What knowed a monkey wrench from a
An' tended the cattle down in the glade?
I dunno!

Where are the girls—they all knew how
To weed a garden and milk a cow,
Where are them red-cheeked maidens
now?
I dunno!

Where are the boys that once we had
When you was a girl and I was a lad,
Up in the mornin' to help-ole dad!
I dunno!

Many's the night I lie awake
Askin' myself, for heaven's sake,
Where are the girls who could cook and bake?
I dunno!

Nobuddy works this side of Toronto,
Plenty o' work, but they don't want to,
And as to the girls—where've they gone to?
I dunno!

No more you hear the happy hum of us,
It looks like the House of Refuge for some of us.
You ast me, mister, what'll become of us?
I dunno!

FAR too many home-owners make the mistake of insuring for the original value instead of for the present-day replacement cost. Re-building is the big service of fire insurance. Insure for full value so that you can rebuild if fire comes.

There is no surer protection than a policy in the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. Let this agency estimate the cost of replacing your home, and how little it costs to carry Hartford protection.

FAREWELL TO HIGH SCHOOL PUPIL

On Monday, October 8th, the day preceding the departure of Miss Pauline Miller from this High School to that of Misquodobit, the members of the Grade IX class assembled in the library at 4 o'clock to spend a social hour. Tables and chairs were arranged for various games. At 6 o'clock refreshments were served, which consisted of ice cream, cake, candy, etc. Then, in behalf of the class, a sterling silver brooch set with three Blomidon amethysts was presented to the guest of honour by Miss Jean Shaw. Following this, Mr. Silver gave a brief address on behalf of the pupils as well as the teachers expressing appreciation for Pauline's achievements in school work in the past years and best wishes for her success in future years.

THE CANADIAN'S CREED

"I believe in the Dominion of Canada as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a sovereign State, being a component part of the British Empire, an association of sovereign states established upon principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity. I therefore believe it is my duty to my Country to love it; to obey and maintain its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies."

That is precisely the situation today--the mountain--BUSINESS--will not come to you--you will have to go after it and go after it hard. YOU have one great advantage over the prophet--he had to take the going as he found it--you can pave the way with advertising.

Col. Eric MacDonald is spending a few days with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. MacDonald.

Mrs. Chas. Jackson, of Pasadena, Cal., spent a day here last week with Mrs. Weeks, of the woman's residence. Her husband, Rev. C. W. Jackson, is a graduate of Acadia in the class of 1896.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Davidson were at Moncton this week attending the annual meetings of the Maritime Weekly Newspaper Association and the Maritime Selected Weeklies.

Mr. Vernon Miller, of Halifax, who has been a guest of Mrs. Leslie Eaton, left on Monday for Kentville where she will visit Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Phinney. Mrs. Horton Phinney entertained at afternoon tea on Monday for Mrs. Miller.

Miss Mable Archibald, who has been home on furlough during the past eighteen months, leaves to-day to return to her missionary work in India. She will sail from Montreal by the "Andania" and her many friends will wish her a safe and prosperous voyage.

Miss Marie Borden, of Boston, who has been spending a few weeks visiting her old home and friends in this vicinity, left on Monday morning to return to Boston. Miss Borden, who is a daughter of the late Daniel Borden, of Town Plot and a sister of Dr. A. S. Borden, of Grand Pre, and Mrs. C. M. Vaughn, of Wolfville, is regarded as one of Boston's most clever business women.

Mr. Yerxa, of Caldwell-Yerxa Limited, was a visitor in Wolfville this week, having accompanied his partner from Yarmouth to inspect their new branch in this town. Mr. Yerxa is a native of New Brunswick, and spent his early life in Fredericton and vicinity. He now resides at Watertown, Mass. To THE ACADIAN he expressed himself as very much pleased with our town and business prospects here. We found in him a cordial and interesting gentleman whom it was a pleasure to meet.

AN INTERESTING OCCASION

The "Oriental Social" which was held in the school room of the Baptist church on Thursday evening of last week proved a decidedly interesting and successful event. Given under the auspices of the Social and Benevolent Society of the church, an organization that has been responsible for successful entertainments of various kinds in the past, it reflected much credit and brought new laurels to its membership. The decorations were beautiful, consisting of handsome tiger and deer skins, woven rugs, Indian and Chinese draperies and lanterns, and an artistic representation of a Japanese house and courtyard. Mrs. (Dr.) Avery deWitt, Mrs. Burgess, Miss Fitch and Miss Smallman were in charge of this part of the arrangements, and the receiving line was composed of those who had once resided in the Orient. All were in native costume which gave a delightful Eastern setting to the occasion. Among these were Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Eaton, Dr. Eugene Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Tedford, Miss Lillian Bishop, Mrs. Hardy, Miss Mable Archibald, from India, Miss Good, from Burma, Miss Elderkin and Miss Gates from China. A splendid exhibit of curios, lacis, brasses, teak-wood, trophies was arranged in classrooms, from Burma, India and China. An especially interesting feature was a collection of curios from China which were collected by Lieut. Harold R. N., and attractively arranged and exhibited by his mother, Mrs. J. B. Tingley, of this town.

The program was composed of pantomimes and scenes from India life and also a talk on big game hunting by Dr. Eaton. During the evening Dr. MacDonald, who was clad in a handsome mandarin coat, presented to Miss Mable Archibald, on behalf of her friends, a purse of gold. Miss Archibald, who was dressed as an Indian princess, made a fitting reply, referring to her pleasure in being home on furlough and to her approaching departure for India. Refreshments were served by waitresses, some of whom were dressed in the native Burmese costumes.

BOY SCOUT ASSOCIATION

Hold Annual Meeting—Interesting Report of Year's Work

The Annual meeting of the Boy Scout Association was held on Monday evening, October 22nd. Mr. H. Stairs, Vice-President, was in the chair.

A very interesting report of the work was given by Scout Master Brown, of the trips and camps of the Girl Guides and Scouts and the usual Chester trip for the winning patrol. His report showed from the financial standpoint that the expenditures have been kept well within the estimates submitted at the time of the canvass, a statement of which is appended showing what has been done with the money paid in. This statement is the treasurer's report in detail.

The thanks of the Association was tendered Mr. C. A. Patquin for his very timely assistance at the camp. It was decided that the use of the Camp be reserved exclusively for the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Wolf Cubs. That $500.00 insurance be put on the Camp and contents.

The officers for the year were elected as follows: Pres., Alex. Sutherland; 1st Vice-Pres., H. Stairs; 2nd Vice-Pres., H. W. Phinney; Treas., G. K. Prescott; Secretary, H. A. Peck.

Items Of Local Interest

We learn that Mr. A. G. Cowie has resigned the office of Warden of St. John's Church, this town.

The Men's Class at the Baptist church has again been organized under the leadership of Mr. E. W. Robinson.

The Acadia football team played its first game in the Intercollegiate League at Sackville yesterday when they were defeated by Mt. Allison by the score of 14 to 3.

The pulpit of the Baptist church was very acceptably filled last Sunday at both services by Rev. Dr. Hutchins, who preached able and interesting sermons to attentive hearers.

Mrs. Alma MacGowan, of Hillaton, N. S., announces the engagement of her daughter, Erdine Evelyn, to Mr. James Howard Rushton, of St. John, N. B., marriage to take place early in November.

The time is near at hand for the annual V. O. N. canvass. This year Monday, Nov. 12th, has been selected as the date and citizens are asked to be in readiness. The splendid work which is being done by Miss Harry should ensure a generous response when the collectors call.

Mrs. Janet Marshall, matron of the Academy home, received a message yesterday informing her of the death of her mother, Mrs. Louisa Foster, at Hampton, Annapolis county, on Wednesday night. Mrs. Marshall has the sympathy of many friends in her bereavement.

There is more to be considered in buying tea than quality; although quality is the principal thing. The other thing is economy. How many cups can you get to the pound? A pound of MORSE'S Tea makes 240 cups of strong liquoring tea. From the standpoint of economy then as well as quality, it will pay you to buy MORSE'S Tea.

The dwelling of Lemuel Pinch, at Wallbrook, with most of its contents, was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday evening. The fire, which apparently originated from a defective flue, broke out at about 6:30 and in spite of the endeavors of Mr. Pinch and his neighbors the dwelling was totally destroyed. Although partially covered by insurance the loss is quite a heavy one.

The new Acadia Tea Room had a most successful opening on Saturday last, and is receiving a liberal patronage. Patrons are delighted with the dainty appointments and satisfactory service which they receive. The establishment is certainly a credit to the proprietor and a decided addition to the town. Citizens are loud in their praise of the enterprise and join THE ACADIAN in wishing for it a full measure of success.

Provincial Fire Marshall J. A. Rudland was in town on Friday last and held an investigation into the fire which occurred some weeks ago at Jackson's livery stables. Court was held at the Council Chamber and witnesses were examined including Aubrey Dakin, who has charge of the fire alarm, Fire Chief H. E. Fraser, Albert Weatherby, Stanley Jackson and T. E. Hutchinson. All the facts known in connection with the fire were brought out fully and Mr. Rudland at the close of stated to THE ACADIAN that he saw no reason to suspect that the fire was of incendiary origin.

DEATH OF FORMER ACADIA STUDENT

The death of Karl Merrill Robinson, a member of last year's Freshman class at Acadia, occurred on Wednesday morning at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax. The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Robinson, of Canso, and a brother of Leland Robinson, who graduated with the class of '23. Karl was a popular student here and was successful in his studies. Shortly before the closing of the college he was obliged to give up the work and return home. Leading physicians of the U. S. were consulted and gave him treatment which apparently resulted in his complete restoration. About three weeks ago, however he again became ill and was taken to the hospital where he passed away. The shock is naturally a severe one to his parents, who entertained high hopes for his future, and they have the sincere sympathy of Wolfville friends. The funeral will take place at the old home of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, at Gloucester, Mass.

BRITISH PREFERENCE WILL BENEFIT CANADIAN FRUIT GROWERS

The proposed offer of increased British preference to the Dominion as announced recently at the economic conference in London will particularly interest Canadian fruit growers and producers of canned fruit.

For the twelve months ending August, 1923, exports of Canadian canned fruit to the United Kingdom were valued at $552,882. For the previous 12 months exports of canned fruit to the United Kingdom amounted to $1,006,952.

It is believed, says a Montreal despatch, that the preference on preserved fruits, if put through, would not only directly benefit the fruit canning industry in Canada, but would also greatly benefit the sugar refining business, as a considerable proportion of the contents of a tin of preserved fruit is sugar. It might also tend ultimately to cheapen the cost of preserved fruits, by increasing the production and therefore reducing the proportion of overhead.

CANADA NOW STRONGER FINANCIALLY THAN EVER

The fact is that the financial world of Canada is stronger to-day than at any time since the war, says the October letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. A large percentage of its assets are in the form of cash or of securities that can quickly be converted into cash, and as frozen credits are liquidated or frankly written off an increasing proportion of its total assets can be regarded as representing the actual working capital of the nation. It only requires a persistent adherence to the principles of sound business, such as have saved Canada in the past from the worst effects of world-wide panic in order to vindicate to the full the Canadian credit system.

UNIVERSE RUNNING DOWN?

The universe seems like a clock running down with no mechanism for winding it up again, says Bertrand Russell in his new book, "The A. B. C. of Atoms" All the uranium in the world is breaking down, and we know of no source from which new uranium can come. Under these circumstances, it seems strange that there should be any uranium. But if, like some insects, we lived only for a single spring day, we should think it strange that there should be any ice in the world, since we should find it always melting and never being formed. Perhaps the universe has long cycles of alternate winding-up and running down.

A RECENT VISITOR

Mrs. Hiram Humphrey, of Queens county, N. B., is making a short visit with Mrs. C. E. Burbidge, Canning, and is gladly welcomed by her kinsfolk and schoolmates of the days when DeWolf, Porter, Spinney, Foster reigned supreme in the lower flat of the old Seminary.

Mrs. Humphrey was formerly Miss Jeanette Lowden, daughter of the late David Lowden, whose residence is now occupied by Mrs. E. B. Strong and whose shop was removed across Main street to become part of the Anglican church of today.

It is worthy of mention that one of Canning's earlier schools was taught by Miss Annie Woodworth in the basement of the Lowden home.

Of the family of four girls and one boy, Mrs. Humphrey and her younger sister Mary are the sole survivors, while of her own consins among the Lowdens, Eatons, Northup, and Wickwires but one, Mr. Fred Northup, remains in this locality.

As Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey's family of three daughters and one son are settled at or near the old Humphrey home in New Brunswick their visits to this province are few, the former one being in 1914, but a cordial greeting always awaits them.

NEW KEYS TO WEDLOCK

If comic artists were abreast of the times they would no longer picture Cupid with a bow and arrow and shooting haphazardly at susceptible hearts from ambush, says the Fredericton Mail.

Rather they would arm him with the tools of trade of the man of medicine.

The matrimonial reports of our day are undertaking to put love on a sound scientific basis.

In the front rank are the eugenists with an eye principally to heredity. At their heels are the psycho-analysis who have the singular idea that self-love and intelligence can be brought to harmonize with each other.

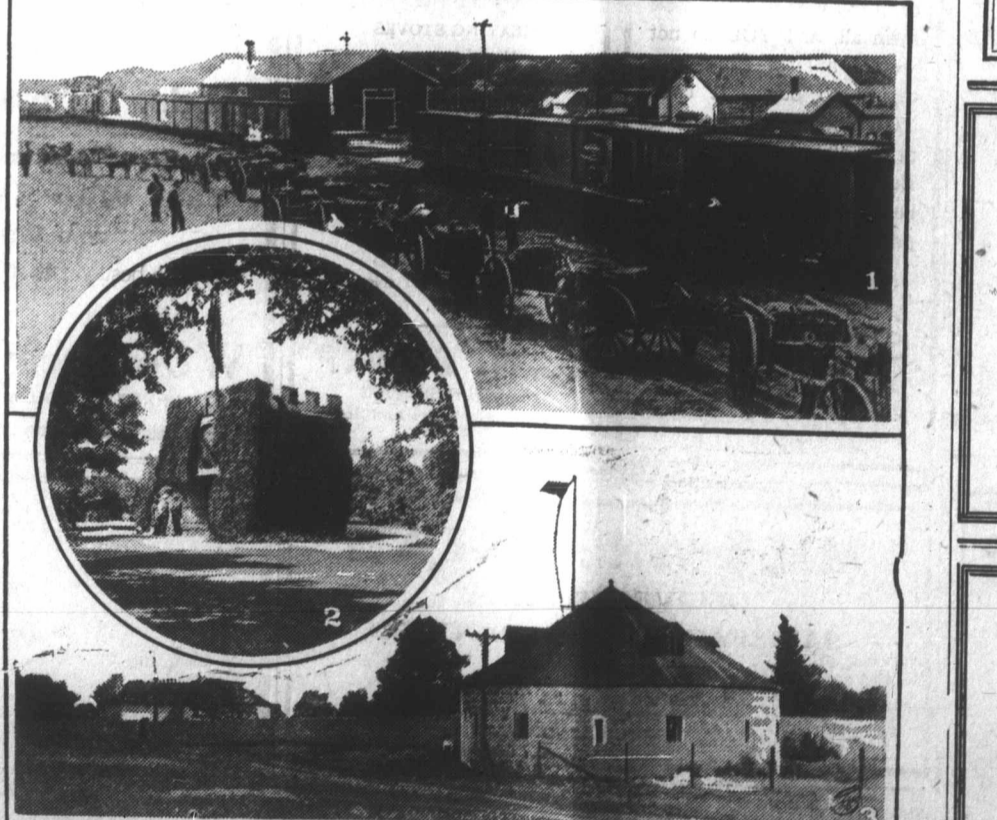

The latest authorities upon the subject embrace a chiropodist and a blood specialist. The chiropodist tells the world that happiness of marriage is a question of feet—soul mates must first of all be sole mates.

He guarantees conjugal bliss where the feet track according to his specifications. Dr. William S. Brainbridge of New York, recently informed a group of surgeons that there are four kinds of blood.

Unfortunate unions can be prevented—he declared—by seeing to it that the marriages are within the same blood group.

Let us skip a few hundred years and behold the synthetic romance of a youth and a maid of some generations to come.

BY THE RED RIVER

(1) A train of Red River carts laden with furs that travelled down Portage Avenue, the longest street in the world, from Fort Edmonton to the Canadian Pacific yards, Winnipeg. (2) Fort Garry Gate, Winnipeg. (3) A part of "Lower Fort Garry" known as "The Stone Fort," still in good repair.

NOT long since, Fort Garry was the point of exchange between the traders and hunters of the plains—the bartering point of the great fur country to the west. The fur traders flocked around the fort, snatching every opportunity for trade and thus, within a stone's throw of Fort Garry, was begun the foundation of the city of Winnipeg.

The lake sixty miles to the north had long since been named "Winnipeg," a contraction of the Cree Indian "Ouinipique" or "Winnipic," meaning "Wine—murky, and "Nipi"—water, so the name was adopted for the new metropolis.

Across the river was the old Catholic settlement of St. Boniface and one ranges up and down the corridors of time and history walking its streets, overshadowed by great, old trees, gazing in the mellowed cathedral and buildings, with the imprint of time on them. It was as early as 1817 that a band of French soldiers made their headquarters at Point Douglas and established St. Boniface.

There are now over 500 miles of streets in Winnipeg and many of the avenues are rich in historical interest.

The young man, armed with a stethoscope, a tape measure and the means of making a blood test, goes to call upon the lady whose charms have attracted him. He taps a vein, listens to the thump of her heart and to the wind whistling through her bronchial tubes and ends his labors with a careful examination of her feet.

Satisfied with the showing, he makes a request for a kiss and obtains one, duly hygienized through a strainer whipped from a vanity bag. That is, he does unless the young woman whips him instead.

While on the subject, the following from "LaPatrie," Quebec, is interesting: "President Credeen, of Georgetown University, has advised his students that they ought not to marry until they each have an income of $4,000 a year. We are certain the directors of our universities will not give like counsel to their pupils.

Marriage is a sacrament, not a matter of dollars and cents. Experience has demonstrated that amongst our people the happiest homes are those in which the consorts brought only their love and their will to succeed. Can happier and brighter homes be found anywhere than those our ancestors created and which our father perpetuated on the shores of the St. Lawrence? And everybody knows that at the foundation of this colony people of wealth were not legion.

Our fathers and mothers were poor and honest. Why should our young men today wait until they each have an income of $4,000 a year before marrying? After all, it is not money which procures happiness. On a modest income, a young couple may marry and expect to find happiness and prosper if they are sincere in their mutual love. Such people have been and are the strength of our race.

and the source of the most fruitful of national wealth."

OCTOBER 31ST IS NATIONAL FISH DAY

Wednesday, October 31st, has been set apart as National Fish Day. The object is to attract greater attention to the wonderful food resources we have in our fisheries and to educate the consuming public to make a more systematic use of this economic article of diet.

Every household, hotel or boarding house throughout the country is urged to observe National Fish Day in the manner for which it was intended by adding fish to their menu on this occasion.

As many of our readers are no doubt aware the per capita consumption of fish in Canada is approximately 19 pounds per annum. In Great Britain the people eat an average of 58 pounds a year. Does it not seem strange that Canada, which possesses the greatest fisheries in the world should pay so little attention to the fact? Local consumption of fish is increasing very slowly, and it is the hope of the Fisheries Department at Ottawa that by various means impetus will be given to its expansion.

Our fathers and mothers were poor and honest. Why should our young men today wait until they each have an income of $4,000 a year before marrying? After all, it is not money which procures happiness. On a modest income, a young couple may marry and expect to find happiness and prosper if they are sincere in their mutual love. Such people have been and are the strength of our race.

MULCHING OF SMALL FRUITS AND PERENNIAL FLOWERS

Although the mulching of small fruits and perennial flowers is useful, in the attaining of several objectives, its chief use is for winter and spring protection. Ordinarily, our common hardy species do not suffer much harm from freezing, but are usually killed by alternate freezing and thawing. By the use of a good safe mulch, properly applied, the plant, after freezing will, as a rule, stay frozen during winter and early spring thaws, and when it finally thaws out, severe weather, and the danger of its again freezing will be over. It frequently happens that a few quite warm days will occur during early spring and the high temperatures not only thaw out unprotected plants, but induce growth as well. Such unseasonable weather may be followed by severe cold which will damage or kill the newly started growth and often kill the plant itself. It is, therefore, evident that a mulch for winter protection is not so much a protection against cold as it is against unseasonable heat by preventing, premature thawing and too early growth.

Nature's protection, or mulch, is ideal, although unsightly. The stems of herbaceous plants, after dying, remain upright and catch wind blown leaves and later snow. As the season advances these stems break down and form a protection in the early spring for the crown of the plant. Shrubbery holds leaves that are blown into it, and anywhere necessary leaves and litter collect to form an effective mulch. It is, however, usually desirable to clear up fall litter of this sort, as it has an untidy and unsightly appearance, but if this is done, artificial protection, of a similar nature, in the form of a mulch, should be given the plants. Generally speaking the best material for a mulch is coarse straw or very strawy horse manure. Close lying or dense material, such as well rotted manure, is not satisfactory as heating may often start and kill the plants. The mulch should be applied to a depth of two or three inches as soon as the ground is frozen, in the fall, and removed when danger of severe cold is past the following spring.

Practically all of our common perennial flowers are benefited by a mulch two to four inches in depth of straw, leaf mould or strawy horse manure. Many follow the practice of digging this material into the soil and thus enrich the soil and get rid of the litter at the same time. Strawberries are best mulched with coarse spread straw evenly over the rows to a depth of two or three inches. The canes of blackberries, tender varieties of raspberries and grapes should be laid down and covered with four to six inches of soil. Currants, gooseberries and hardy raspberries are benefited by mulching around the roots with ordinary barn-yard manure, which can be worked into the ground by cultivation during the late spring. As a rule, many plants will survive and even appear to thrive without mulching, but experience has shown that mulching, if properly done, will benefit practically any variety or species of small fruits and perennial flowers.

THE VALUE OF A GOOD MALE

That it pays in dollars and cents to breed from pedigree bred to lay cockrels has been frequently demonstrated. One illustration may be taken from the last Canadian Egg Laying Contest held at Ottawa. The Experimental Farm had a pen of White Leghorn pullets (pen 55) in this Contest, nine of these pullets were from the same sire though they were from nine different mothers. The total production of the mothers in their pullet year was 1469 eggs or an average of 163. The nine pullets in the 52 weeks of the Contest laid 1892 eggs, an average of 210.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Good home-made bread is the finest food on earth—the one food that everybody eats—and that agrees with everybody.

The sire of these pullets came from a line of high producers of which the six nearest female ancestors averaged 222 eggs in their pullet year. The care of the mothers and of the daughters was similar, therefore, the increased production must have been due to the sire and if he had had no more than the nine daughters that were in this pen the increase of 400 eggs at an average price of two cents an egg would have meant $8.00 additional. It is a question if anything brings quicker increased revenue in the flock than a proper selection of the male and now when breeders should be seeing about securing the males for mating next spring with the flock this matter should receive attention.

The man who would make the maximum from his flock must use only males that have a record of production behind them; males that can transmit this ability to their daughters. There are available in Canada breeders who specialize in pedigree stock, a good many of them under government inspection through Record of Performance and through Registration secured in the Canadian National Egg Laying Contests. From these, as well as the Experimental Farms and Colleges, good breeding males may be secured if they are purchased now rather than when they are needed next spring.

BURYING APPLES

(By A. Rutledge in The Country Gentleman)

As in a well-settled rural community I do not know more than a few people who use the following method of keeping apples for winter and early spring use, I must conclude that the method is not widely known. If it were it would certainly be adopted, for there is nothing superior to it. The cellar with the dirt floor is a mile behind it. This device can be employed to keep a considerable quantity of apples, but I had in mind just a few bushels for use on the family table.

Select a spot in the garden near a path. Be sure that the place is well drained, preferably on a slight slope. Sink a barrel or a box to a depth to be determined by the number of apples it is to contain, the rule being that the topmost apples in the container should be about eight or ten inches below the level of the ground. In well drained situations I have used receptacles that had bottoms and those that had none—there is no apparent difference—but in the bottom put a little clear straw or hay. If the holder has cracks, tack pieces of pasteboard over them. Some people line the receptacles throughout with paper, but if the holder is clean I have found this is not necessary.

Store only choice apples and lay them in by hand. A spotted apple may affect the whole adjacent group. If tumbled in, many of them, being bruised, will rot. When the container is sufficiently filled, spread loose newspapers over the apples, but don't tuck them down tightly so as to exclude the air. Fit a good top that extends like a roof away from the lips of the container so that rain will be shed. This top need not be tight on the container, but it must not leak. It is well to tack a piece of tin, sheet iron or even oilcloth over it for safety. A stone on top will keep the wind from blowing it off. If the top fits snugly, cut an air-hole near the top of the container, on the south side; this is for ventilation. If the container is not wholly sunk and if the apples are heaped high in it, pile the loose earth about it.

I remember buying a barrel of choice Baldwins in November and sinking the barrel as described; these were nearly used by March. Buying a second barrel then out of cold storage, of the same grade as those purchased first, I found the buried apples far superior in condition. They seemed to retain, under this treatment described, all their fragrance, their plumpness, their firm consistency and their delicious flavor. Though I have a cellar for storing fruit, I don't know what I should do without a box or a barrel for burying choice apples in the garden.

The average value of a young man is said to be $15,000. We know a whole bunch who are doing little to keep the average up.

New Lamp Facilitates Night Work

In the past interruptions to telegraph service caused by damage to outside wires could only, in the majority of cases, be rectified by daylight, when the damaged section could easily be located. There is no doubt this was a disadvantage which delayed the recovery of interrupted services. Where the trouble may have been anywhere along the line between points some 20 to 100 miles apart it was not possible to take care of the interruption especially at night. To overcome the disadvantage due to night interruptions to its wires, the Canadian Pacific Railway Telegraphs provided a special electric light and all the linemen on the System were equipped with it, enabling them to successfully take care of interruptions and do their work at night as well as by day. The special light is provided with its power from the locomotive dynamo turbines with which all Canadian Pacific locomotives are equipped.

Looking at the engine in the same light. 4 and 5, the lamp, conducting wire attached to a socket in the cab of the locomotive is of sufficient strength to enable the operator to work any place within two car lengths of the locomotive. There is also a semi-permanent stand to which the lamp can be attached for the convenience of men working at night on bridges or, in fact anywhere that requires a steady flow of light. The lamp can also be interchanged of globes be used where there is a domestic current, but not with such good effect. As there is so much that can affect the Telegraph System, such as fire aurora, lightning, snow, wind and rain, the advantage of being able to locate the source of trouble cannot be overestimated and time and time again, when the lines have been seriously damaged during the night, it has been found that the electric hand lamp, which is now used throughout the System, has been of great benefit. During the past winter, when the service experienced a considerable number of interruptions the lamp was often used during snow and sleet storms and not in one instance is it known of its having failed to meet all services put upon it. There is no doubt that the perfection of this lamp has been a decided progressive step in telegraph maintenance at night.

GREENWICH

The apples picking is about done. Had the terrific gale of Oct. 1st not blown off such quantities the season would scarce have been long enough to gather in the country's bumper crop. "Hope Farm" is producing 9000 bbls. in spite of one-third the wind took off. Mr. Darell Sutton, of "Sea View Farm", gives the challenge for competition in number of bbls. gathered in one day, three men and a boy having picked 2014 barrels of Starke and Hubbards from his trees on Wednesday last. Who has a better record?

Where World's Record Speckled Trout was Taken

Above, The new bungalow camps are built after this style. Below, Fishing scenes: left, Nipigon; right, Lake of the Woods, camps at French River, Nipigon River and Kenora (Lake of the Woods). These camps will be similar to those which have proved so successful along the line of the Canadian Pacific in the Canadian Rockies. A served and facilities provided for social diversions, will be surrounded by cosy little bungalows, designed for one, two or four persons, equipped simply but comfortably with a camp bed and a few other accessories. The simple construction and low cost of maintenance will enable the management to charge much lower rates than are possible in the standard hotels.

FOR a distance of 880 miles, between Sudbury, the junction of the two main lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the Manitoba boundary, there are only twelve points with a population of over 200. This means that for 880 miles there are only twelve points at which civilization has to any extent encroached upon what is one of the last few remaining accessible wilderness regions of the North American continent. From the French River, north of the Georgian Bay and Lakes Huron and Superior west of Kenora, a tract of land 880 miles long unknown depth is practically unexplored. This part of Northern Ontario is one of the most richly endowed sections of Canada in natural beauty. Sylvan lakes, streams and larger waterways form a network through the country and almost incredible stories are told of the size and quantity of fish particularly red and speckled trout to be found there. It is a well known haunt of big game.

That this country is sparsely populated is alone responsible for the fact that it is not known to more tourists and sportsmen. Each year hundreds more are absorbed by the country, but the lack of accommodation has kept many more hundreds away. Three of the most fascinating districts of this glorious land will therefore be rendered more attractive than ever by the erection this summer of comfortable bungalow

The French River bungalow camp is located on an elevation which commands a magnificent view of the main channel of the French, within 200 yards of the railway station. The scenery is characteristic of the Georgian Bay region, rocky islands, deep waterways, and dense pine forests in which all kinds of game abound.

The Nipigon is called the home of red and speckled trout, and with some truth, for it is undoubtedly the most prolific breeding place for these sporty fish in the world. The world's record speckled trout came from there in 1915 when Dr. J. W. Cook, of Port Williams, Ont., took one out weighing 14 1/2 pounds and measuring 31 1/2 inches from head to tail and 11 1/2 inches across. What need to say more unless it be that the scenery is equal to any seen at the French River or Lake of the Woods.
