Gold vs. Blood

For some time there has been a well-grounded suspicion that individual millionaires and corporations having interests in Mexico have been endeavoring to involve us in a war with that country. Six months ago a warning came from Washington to the effect that a powerful lobby at the National Capital was bringing strong influence to bear upon the Administration with a view of inducing it to favor intervention; which would mean war. President Wilson has been unyielding in his resistance to the plotters who are actuated solely by a design to add to their overgrown fortunes. To them it is a matter of indifference that the country would have to pay dearly in blood and treasure for the gratification of their sordid greed. They care little for what may be called international ethics. They know that Mexico is endowed with vast natural wealth, and they are "hungering" to get a good share of it with the assistance of the United States.

To them it would be a matter of little concern if a war, with all its attendant horrors, should result from the United States Government entering into partnership with them for the purpose of looting our sister Republic. Their views were briefly set forth in an editorial which recently appeared in the New York Evening Journal, owned and controlled by Mr. William R. Hearst who is the possessor of a million acres of Mexican territory. The editorial in question sneers at President Wilson for not ignoring the claims of right and justice in his dealings with Mexico. It tries to make it appear that he is opposed to a war with that country because it might elevate some military hero to the Presidency. "If we had war with Mexico," it says, "some man would be bound to distinguish himself." We have a description of the conquering hero "returning on horseback with Huerta's sword, and several carloads of other Mexican spoils, bringing back with him some millions of acres of new territory."

As a reward for killing thousands of Mexicans and for enslaving this country to conquer and subjugate Mexico, the military hero would be placed in the White House. It is suggested that President Wilson, fearing the possibility of his being overshadowed in this manner, has decided to adhere to a policy of peace. It is a case of judging others by one's own standard. William R. Hearst is thinking of those million Mexican acres. He is convinced that President Wilson views the Mexican situation from just as selfish a viewpoint as he does himself. In other words, he is persuaded that the President holds back the dogs of war because "unleashing them might endanger his future political aspirations. Whereas if they were let loose the Hearst interests in Mexico would be benefited. Here is the cold blooded manner in which the possibility of the United States going into the international highway robbery business is referred to: "Interference with Mexico would very probably mean war with Mexico. And that, of course, means, be it said with all possible United States modesty, the conquest and subjugation of Mexico, Spain, American fighter, old or young, would find himself at the right moment doing the right thing. Mexicans would flee before him like the dead lines in the "Ode to the West Wind." * * * And when he came back bringing Mexico with him, adding fifteen millions to the population of the United States, and offering one hundred million opportunities to the citizens of the United States, it might be hard to keep him out of the White House.

Never did the chief of savage Indians urge on his tribe more inhuman motives for starting out on the war-path than are here presented to a Christian and civilized Nation to persuade it to adopt a policy of wholesale murder and spoliation. Instead of dangling before us the prospect of scalps, the Hearst newspaper holds up to us as inducement the subjugation and spoliation of a sister republic after a bloody and successful raid upon it. From a moral viewpoint wherein does the Indian chief exhorting his followers to put on the war paint, differ from the person who would approve of such an act of international brigandage as that advocated by a multimillionaire who would plunge the country into an unjust war in order that the Mexican interests of himself and other millionaires may yield to him and their larger financial returns. What the Roman poet fittingly described as "the accursed thirst for gold," is back of all this shouting for war with Mexico. President Wilson is deserving of much praise for refusing to be intimidated by it. His hands should be strengthened by expressions of public opinion. Labor especially should make it known that it is strongly opposed to the war spirit that selfish greed seeks to popularize. Wage workers, in the last analysis, would pay the cost of a war which would be a crime against civilization.—N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

Want Sisters Back.

A cable dispatch from Paris, which appeared in last Sunday's paper, is suggestive of much. It stated that efforts to have nurses restored to their old places as nurses are unavailing. A monster petition bearing 167,949 names of citizens of Paris and its suburbs has been presented to the Municipal Council. The hospitals of the French Capital are about to be organized and this furnished the occasion for asking that patients desiring the attendance of Catholic Sisters should have their desire complied with. Here is an extract from the petition: "The petitioners have no political design. Our sole design is to permit sick persons who ask to be attended by the Sisters to have their wish. We do not wish to interfere with the rights of the present staff of the organization, but we think that patients have also a right to express their wishes, and that their rights are equal to those of the staff."

The nurses in whose behalf this petition is made have been treated by French officials as if they were social outcasts. They have been debarred not only from hospitals, but have been evicted from their homes. The head and front of their offending is their unselfish devotion to suffering humanity—a devotion they have displayed under the auspices of the Catholic Church. If they had not been Catholics, they would have been acclaimed as heroes by the very persons who have placed them under the ban of French law.

It is acknowledged that the lay nurses who succeeded these Sisters in the hospitals have not rendered as good service. This was to be expected. The nobler the incentive, the better the work. Attendants on the sick who work for a stipend will never render service any way comparable with that prompted by the highest of motives. Gerald Griffin, the Irish poet, thus describes that motive in his poem, "The Sister of Charity."

"Unshrinking where pestilence scatters his breath,
Like an Angel she moves mid the vapors of death,
Where rings the loud music and flashes the sword,
Unflinching she walks, for she follows the Lord
How sweetly she bends o'er each plagues-stricken bed,
With looks that are lighted with holiest grace;
How kindly she dresses each suffering limb,
For she sees in the wounded the image of Him."

Yes, that explains the superior efficiency of Catholic Sisters in the hospitals of France and of all lands. They see in their patients, "The image of Him." That is the reason why these Catholic heroines have made such a splendid record in the noble work to which they have consecrated their lives.

It remains to be seen what answer will be made to that army of French petitioners who ask for the admission of Catholic Sisters to the hospitals of Paris.—N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

In the Diocese of Pittsburg the Gospel is preached every Sunday in sixteen different languages. Two-fifths of the entire population of the diocese do not speak the English language. The Rev. Dr. Cockey calls Pittsburg the Pentecost Diocese of America.

The origin of the name "Amen Corner" is interesting, and throws a pleasant light on English Catholicity of the days before the days of Henry VIII. Each year, on the Feast of Corpus Christi, says an Australian exchange, the faithful went in procession to St. Paul's Cathedral. Mustered at Chesapeake, the procession moved toward the Cathedral, the clergy chanting the "Our Father" as they passed along the street, still called Paternoster Row, reaching the "Amen" as they turned the corner known for years as "Amen Corner."

Parisian society circles have been astonished by the announcement that the Count de Oastillon de St. Victor has entered the famous Jesuit school of Falmes Du Lac, which was transferred in 1882 from Paris to Canterbury. The Count, who is thirty-eight years old, inherited a large fortune from his father, who died in 1909, and his father, who died in the Avenue Marceau, where he lived. With Count Henri de St. Victor he broke the record for a balloon flight, travelling from Paris to Kieff. He made an ascent in an aeroplane with Wilbur Wright in 1908, when the inventor was giving his first exhibitions abroad at the Camp Davour, at Le Mans.

World's Greatest Library.

In the course of the revision of the Vulgate, of which Catholics in America are hearing much in these days, the famous library of the Vatican was the central source in which the Commission's agents sought for manuscripts and documents dealing with the earliest Latin version of the Bible in the 4th century. This library of the Vatican is the most famous in the world on account of its ancient manuscripts of which it possesses some thirty-five thousand. It owes its first organization to Pope Nicholas V., to whom the secular world is also indebted for preserving the classical masterpieces of Rome, since he was the first to give the art of printing its official recognition. The Vatican Library was, indeed, one of the results of the discovery of printing, and it now contains four thousand five hundred books which were printed in the fifteenth century. Pope Nicholas was the first sovereign in Europe to found a collection of precious and important books, and what this has meant for the history of the world and civilization is easily appreciable. Yet, of few Popes is so little known, and it was, indeed, not till some generations after his death that the Popes themselves realized what a treasure they possessed in the manuscripts left to their care. Pope Sixtus IV. placed the precious archives in the Vatican Rooms, gave the library a definite endowment and appointed Platina, the famous historian of the Popes, as its head. Sixtus has been wrongly termed the founder of the Library; he was in reality only its re-founder.

The present splendid building was erected in 1588. It has grown not only by the purchase of successive Popes, but also by the absorption of various libraries. Napoleon, with his customary rapacity, carried off in 1798 nearly five hundred precious manuscripts and transferred them to the Louvre; these were, however, restored by ordinance of the Congress of Vienna in 1815. Pius IX. added forty thousand books to his collection in 1856, these being bought from the estate of Cardinal M. de. In 1902, Leo XIII. purchased the Barberini library for one hundred thousand dollars, while Pius X. has supervised the occasional augmentations made during his reign. The Vatican Library may be divided into the New, or Leonine Library on the ground floor, and the Old on the first floor. The actual library is in the charge of a senior ecclesiastic (writer) generally a monsignor. In the Sixties gallery, on this first floor, are housed all the language manuscripts and the printed books on the ground floor. Library of the archives is directly under the supervision of a Cardinal and is separated from the new library by a doorway. The entire walls are lined with printed presses in which the manuscripts relating to the story of the Church are kept hidden away from sight.

Among the most famous manuscript treasures of the Vatican may be mentioned: the Codex Vaticanus, a Bible of the early part of the fourth century, the celebrated Virgil of the Vatican, a Platonic with notes by Grotius, a Seneca of the 14th century with comments by an English Dominican, a Hebrew Bible for which the Jews of Venice offered its weight in gold, several manuscripts of Luther, a manuscript of Dante, part of a very ancient Bible known as the "Codex Pappaeus," written in silver upon purple parchment, but with the name of Jesus always written in gold, a letter from the King of Barmuth to Pius IX., enclosed in an elephant's tooth, letters of King Henry the Eighth to Anne Boleyn, and a copy of the work against Luther which won for Henry the title "Defender of the Faith" and is called in Latin "the assertion of the Seven Sacraments, against Martin Luther"; it was printed on vellum in London in 1521 with Henry's signature. Finally there is a book by St. Thomas Aquinas containing corrections made by the illustrious author himself whose handwriting, it is interesting to note, was almost as bad as that of Napoleon. These are, of course, only a few of the best known among the vast number of manuscripts.

As one may readily suppose, so consummate and thorough a scholar as Leo XIII. did not allow his reign to pass without looking to the needs of the Library. His intention was to make the Vatican Library the focus of European scholarship; no collection of manuscripts can compare with it, those of the British Museum and the Bibliotheque Nationale being far behind in the matter of treasure.

PIMPLES Are an "EYE SORE."

Pimples are caused by the blood being out of order. Those little festering sores appear on the forehead, on the nose, on the chin and other parts of the body, and although they are not a dangerous trouble they are very unsightly to both you and your friends. There is only one way to get rid of them, and that is to purify the blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt the best remedy on the market for this purpose. Wm. F. Donohue, Jr., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "About six months ago my little son's face was literally covered with pimples. I tried every preparation I was told of by my friends, but to no avail. Soon I thought I could not have them fixed up, and would have to wait, and let him grow out of them, but thanks to Burdock Blood Bitters they are all gone, and I gladly recommend it to anyone." Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured solely by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Watch Your Liver.

If It Is Lazy, Slow or Torpid Stir It Up By the Use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver is a terrible affliction, as it holds back the bile, which is required to move the bowels, and lets it into the blood instead, thus causing Constipation, Catarrh of the Stomach, Sick Headache, Langour, Pain under the Right Shoulder, etc. Mrs. Wesley Estabrook, Midway Station, N.B., writes: "For several years I had been troubled with pains in the liver. I have had medicine from several doctors, but was only relieved for a time by them. I then tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and I have had no trouble with my liver since. I can honestly recommend them to every person who has liver trouble." Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a box, or 50c a box for $1.00, as all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Subscribers Attention.

HERALD subscriptions are not coming in as numerously as we would wish. This is a subject which we do not wish to discuss at any length; as a matter of fact we are loath to refer to it at all. But we cannot help reminding our friends that it is not easy to do business and supply goods without receiving the price in return. In no other line of business is this so much neglected, so far as we know. Only two weeks more of this year remain and we trust those who have not yet remitted will not allow the year to close without attention to this little matter. We trust we are not asking too much.

A Good Day's Work.

Two by-elections for the Dominion House of Commons were held on Saturday last and both of them resulted most favorably for the Borden Government. One of these elections was in South Lanark, Ontario, the constituency so long represented by the late Hon. John Haggart. The riding is strongly Conservative and was carried by Mr. Haggart at the general elections in 1911, by a majority of over 1,100. In the election of Saturday, however, there was a kind of family quarrel in the party ranks. Dr. A. E. Hanna, was the regular Conservative nominee, but Col. J. M. Balderson, another Conservative, who claimed he had been cheated out of the nomination at the Convention, ran as an independent Conservative. In addition to these a Mr. Arthur Hawkes butted in. He proclaimed himself a "Canada First" man, whatever that might mean. He opposed the Borden naval proposition, and advocated a Canadian navy, just the same as Laurier's scheme. He had the support of some of the Grit papers and some hope was entertained among the opponents of the Government that he might slip in because of the division of the Conservative vote between the other two.

The Borden naval proposals was the principal question at issue in the campaign, and any hopes of success that Hawkes and his backers may have entertained were rudely shattered. Dr. Hanna was elected by a majority of 135 votes over Col. Balderson. The vote stood, Hanna 1907; Balderson 1772. But where was Hawkes? He was nowhere; he lost his deposit and polled only 70 votes in the whole constituency.

This is South Lanark answer to Laurier and Hawkes. Nearly four thousand voters went to the polls, and of those only 70 voted against Borden's naval proposals. Poor encouragement surely for Laurier and his policies!

The other election on Saturday was held in the Constituency, of McDonald, Manitoba, of which our Grit friends and Grit newspapers have had much to say for the past year. About a year ago a by-election was held there, when the Conservative was returned by some 700 majority. A protest was entered by the Liberals and the case went to the Courts, Morrison, the Conservative member, admitted technical wrong by agents and the seat was declared vacant. Morrison was again nominated by the Conservatives and the Liberals put forward Dr. Myles as their candidate.

The campaign waxed warm and the result of the contest was the election of Morrison, Conservative, by over 900 majority. An increase of a couple of hundred in the Conservative majority is what the Liberals have to meditate upon as the result of their push to have this constituency reopened. Rather disheartening, to be sure.

The results of these two by-elections on Saturday, constitute certainly an excellent day's work for the Borden Government.

As a result of legislation enacted last session, the Supreme Court of New Brunswick has been reorganized. It is now constituted in two divisions, the Court of Appeal and the Court of King's Bench. Sir Frederick E. Barker, already Chief Justice becomes Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Appeal and Judge P. A. Landry, also of the Supreme Court, is created Chief Justice of the King's Bench division. Mr. O.S. Crockett M.P. for York County is appointed an additional judge of the Court of King's Bench.

Word comes from Ottawa that George O'Holloran, deputy minister of agriculture, and M. T. Gussow, Dominion botanist, have left for Washington in regard to the threatened embargo on Canadian potatoes on account of the alleged outbreak of a disease known as "Powdery Scabs." A conference has been called by the American authorities for December 18th, when the Canadian officials will present reasons to show why the embargo should not go into effect. The export of potatoes to the United States is considerable, and if an embargo were to put on, it would work considerable hardship. For the past ten years, from 1902 to 1912, the average amount of exportation was 433,000 bushels valued at $197,000. The heaviest year was 1901, when there was a shortage in the United States, when the exports totalled 1,450,000 bushels. It is believed at Ottawa that dealers who have been trying to corner the American potato market are behind the attempt to place an embargo on Canadian potatoes. It is possible that if an embargo goes into effect Canada may retaliate.

Apple shipments from Halifax to Great Britain for the Christmas markets finished with the departure of the Empress of Ireland on Saturday night last. She carried out a shipment of 2,897 barrels, and was the fifth boat taking apples on board Friday and Saturday. The others were the Manchester, with 3,600 barrels; the Letitia, to Glasgow with 6,000 barrels; the Hesperian, to Liverpool, with 10,000 barrels, and the Rappahannock, to London, with 745 barrels. On the five boats the most importance is attached to the Letitia. These shipments were largely made by the United Fruit Companies, and the Donaldson line boat was brought here by them, who practically furnished all the fruit. The fruit sent aboard was in high-class condition and intended specially for the New Year holidays which the Scottish people observe rather than Christmas. The Letitia as an apple boat was one of the best to sail out of Halifax, her speed of fifteen knots making her particularly advantageous in the shipment of this fruit.

Caretaker (showing tourist round old castle). See—h—go quietly, sir; this is the 'sacred' chamber of 'Bloody Rafe'—I got an old 'en inside a-settin' on six een eggs, an' don't want 'er disturbed.—Punch.

The information given below coming direct from Mexico City under date of the 15th inst., indicates that the proceedings in the national Legislature bear no evidence of perturbation as a consequence of President Wilson's peculiar diplomatic methods. The Mexican legislators apparently have not taken Wilson's personal representative, Lind, very seriously. As a matter of fact all the evidence before us show that Congress is quite satisfied with provisional President Huerta's conduct, and has shown its confidence in him by giving him a free hand. This is what the Mexico dispatch says: From now until April 2, President Huerta will be obliged to conduct the Government without Congress, as that specially created organization was formally adjourned today. Its most important acts during the session were the ratification of the President's assumption of power over the various departments of the Government, after dissolving the preceding Congress, and re-granting to the President this same power, which gives General Huerta until Congress convenes again, practically the sway of a dictator. Altogether, the New Congress was unobtrusive, interfering not at all with the executive's ideas of Government. Its most notable act, aside from these directly connected with the executive plans, was the ratification of a concession to a Belgian syndicate to construct 5,000 miles of narrow gauge railway.

The Culture Of Black And Silver Foxes.

A timely publication, THE CULTURE OF BLACK AND SILVER FOXES, has recently been issued by the ROD AND GUN PRESS, Woodstock, Ont. This book is a series of articles written by Dr. L. V. Craft, who in addition to being a successful breeder of foxes in captivity, is a specialist in veterinary science and his attitude in these articles is that of a real sportsman. To those breeders of fur bearing animals who have no knowledge of veterinary science—and comparatively few of those who are engaged in this new industry have—Dr. Craft's book will be of inestimable value. The book comprises chapters on Heredity, Origin, Breeding, Mating and Gestation, Feeds and Food and Feeding, Hygiene and Care, etc. It is well illustrated, neatly bound in paper cover, and can be produced from W. J. Taylor, Limited Publishers, Woodstock, Ont. for the remarkable low price of sixty cents. Oct. 27, 1913.—21.

Over 250 natives are believed to have perished at Freetown Serra Leone West Africa when a terrific tornado blew twenty canoes with some 400 natives on board out to sea. The cable ship Sentinel rescued 134 of them, but no trace of the remainder was found. The storm swept the town and port and did much damage.

While putting the American schooner Premier on the marine railway slip at Yarmouth N. S. the vessel slipped on the ways and fell over into the water carrying the crew with her. Small boats at once rescued the men but one man named Thibedeau was badly hurt. The vessel was considerably damaged by the breaking of the cradles and in other ways.

Billy Queal, the great American distance runner, won the twelve mile race in the Aberdeen Bink Amherst N. S. the other night. A. E. Woods finished second, and Alfred Shrubbs was third. The time was 65 minutes and four seconds. The race was for a purse of $400. There was a large crowd present, and the race was interesting from the start to finish.

Five men were seriously burned at Johnstown Pa. Monday when a hot metal train was wrecked at Cambria Steel Works. The train was made up of six ladle cars, each carrying fifteen tons of molten metal speeding to the Franklin Plant when the cars upset, left the rails and went into Conemagh River. The men were injured in the following explosion.

The Cunard Line steamer Carpathia from New York December 3 for Naples, reported by wireless to her agents that she had passed the British steamer Rio Colorado, from Brunswick and Norfolk, for London, which signalled that she had on board the crew of the three-masted schooner Bluebell, of Parrsboro, N. In our obituary column, today, will be found notice of the demise in San Francisco, of Mr. Patrick McKenzie, formerly of St. Peter's, in this Province. The older members of the community at St. Peter's and other parts of the Province, we know, retain kindly remembrances of the deceased. He was exceedingly well and popularly known by a large circle of friends, and many will remember the sweet strains he was wont to draw from the violin, on which he was an expert performer. R. I. P.

Frank E. Harvey, engineer on the Railway, was killed yesterday by a car passing her. He miscalculated the time and his head crashed against an iron bridge, killing him.

Thirty-eight men were killed in the Rocky Mountain Fuel Co's Mine at Newcastle, Colorado, yesterday, by a disaster. Two miners were rescued after underground workings caught fire. All the victims were married with the exception of six or eight. They were American.

The British battle cruiser Tiger, known as the "Mystery Ship," was launched on the 15th at the Clyde Bank Shipbuilding Works, where her keel plates were laid on June 20, 1912. Details of the new vessel have been guarded most strictly by the Admiralty. It is known, however, that her engines are designed to give the battleship, unassisted, a speed of 100,000, calculated to develop a speed which will eclipse that of any naval vessel afloat. Unofficial reports give the Tiger's dimensions as: Length over all, 700 feet; beam, 90 feet; displacement, about 30,000 tons.

A spectacular fire yesterday in New York practically destroyed a five story apartment house on Amsterdam Avenue. The fifty occupants found the exits cut off and the flames made thrilling rescues. Fireman Thomas McManus, who lived there and was on duty was trapped in his room with his mother and sister and all perished. In trying to make his way to rescue them, fireman Michael O'Sullivan fell from a ladder and was probably fatally injured.

The School Inspectors of the Province were in Charlottetown last Friday and Saturday, consulting with one another and with Superintendent Campbell concerning the finishing up of the work of the present school term and the planning of more vigorous and better work for next term. Premier Matheson took advantage of the meeting to hold a lengthy conference with Superintendent and Inspectors concerning the condition of the schools and the best means of further improving them. As there are now five Inspectors devoting their whole time to the work, viz. Marin Gallant, Urbainville, Wilfrid Boulter, Tryon, James H. Devereaux, Kelly's Cross, Vernon Crockett, York, and D. J. Mullin, St. Peter's, it is expected that every school in the Province will be visited at least twice a year and that the more backward schools will receive special attention.

The strongest earthquake in several years occurred at Tokio, Japan, on the 15th, and was felt over an extensive area. Houses in Tokio and Yokohama were violently rocked and the people were greatly alarmed. So far as can be learned there were no casualties, and the damage was confined to windows and bric-a-brac. The yearly average earthquake record for Tokio is ninety-six, according to the results of observations extending over twenty-six years. During the last fifty years only two severe shocks have been experienced, one in 1884 and in the other ten years later. In other parts of Japan, however, heavy earthquakes are common. In June, 1893, in the Senriku districts, North Japan, 27,000 persons were killed; in Formosa in February, 1906, 1228, and an earthquake which occurred August, 1909, at Mino-Omi, destroyed nearly 10,000 houses and killed fifty people.

Progress is God

There is no peace on earth for us these days. We rush around when we should seek repose. We make of even recreation labor. That threatens life with an untimely close.

Christ in The Heart

"Christ in the heart and His love in the nation!" Stronger are these than the sword or the sword.

SHORT STORY

"The Personal Equation"

(Continued from last week.) Father Cleary fumbled with his hat, cleared his throat and resumed. "As I said, I appreciate your kindness very much. And now, even at the risk of overdoing things I have come to ask a still greater favor."

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Removes the cause of rheumatism—no outward application can. Take it.

that the money is spent on a good work. That's what you're there for. I have neither time nor inclination to bother about details. Organization—organization of charity—that's what I believe in. I have the money and I give it to you, and you see that it goes to the places where it will do farthest and do the most good.

Mr. Shea twisted his mouth in order to shift the unlighted cigar a bit nearer his wisdom teeth and beamed upon his visitor with an air of urbane superiority. Oh, he could give this unassuming little priest a few pointers on organized charity, all right!

But the unassuming little priest, somehow, didn't seem to be particularly impressed. He smiled, with one of those quiet, inscrutable smiles that might mean almost anything except respectful recognition of superior acumen.

"Yes, sir, organized charity, business like charity. That's what gets results nowadays. Which reminds me," he continued, seeing the priest's smile broaden a trifle; "that some of you clerical gentlemen don't sufficiently value the possibilities. I might as well be frank some of you are pikers. You're willing to bow your heads off when somebody throws you ten dollars. Instead you ought to fling it back and say: 'We have no room for small change; give me a thousand.'"

Mr. Shea, like so many other men who resemble the Sugar Trust, rather enjoyed the sound of his own voice; so he proceeded to enjoy himself some more.

"You can all learn a lesson from some really progressive and up to date charitable organizations in this city. Right here I have a cheque I'm sending to the Bramfield Humane Society. Look at it. Why, I'd be ashamed to send them ten dollars. Why? Because they aren't pikers. They're organized on a large scale. They get big money and they do big things."

Father Cleary twirled his hat—it was a well worn hat—and gazed at it vacantly before speaking. "I might remind you, Mr. Shea, that organized charity has its drawbacks, even from the business point of view. I know of at least one instance where a deserving widow applied for aid to an organization of the sort you appear to admire so much."

"Well, I'll bet she got it." "In a way, yes. They gave her three hundred dollars in dribbles—after waiting six months and after spending eight hundred dollars to investigate her case. That strikes me as rather cold charity and mighty poor business."

Couldn't Do Housework

HEART WAS SO BAD.

Mrs. Thomas Melville, Saltcoats, Sask., writes—"I thought it my duty to write and tell you how much your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart was so bad I could not sleep, and our work about the house. I could not do my housework at all what my husband could not do had to go undone. I had two small children depending on me besides three men to cook for, and it worried me to not be able to do anything. My husband had taken some of your pills, some years ago, and insisted on me trying them; so I started, and before I had taken them two weeks I was considerably better, and before I had taken two boxes I was doing my own work again. Anyone suffering from heart or nerve trouble of any kind should just give your pills a trial. If anyone cares to write to me I will gladly give them all the information I know concerning your wonderful medicine."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Her Cough Racked Her Terribly.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP Effected A Cure.

Obtunate coughs and colds yield to the grateful, soothing and healing power of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and for the racking, persistent cough, often present in consumptive cases, it will be found exceedingly beneficial and pleasant to take. The use of it is generally indicated wherever symptoms of throat, chest or lung trouble are present, especially so with all persons of a consumptive or catarrhal tendency, as its prompt curative properties speedily remove the danger, and restore the throat and lungs to a sound healthy state if used in time.

Mrs. Edward Patterson, Young's Cove Road, N.B., writes—"I have had occasion to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and can say that it is certainly a good medicine. About a year ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and left them in a very weak state. The cough racked me terribly, and I was in despair until a friend advised me to give Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a trial. I got a bottle, and before I had it half gone I found relief. I used two bottles, and have never been bothered since. I would not be without it in the house."
