MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARGET IN COWS.

20 YEARS SUFFERING FROM ECZEMA

For 20 long years Mr. Joseph Johnson of 584 Broome St., New York, suffered from eczema. He says:—"The disease appeared on my hands and face. Not only was it very unsightly, but the sores were extremely painful. I went to a doctor, but his treatment afforded only temporary relief. I then commenced to try first one and then another of the so-called remedies which were recommended; but for over twenty years I suffered from this painful, disfiguring disease. I spent hundreds of dollars, suffered hours of agony, but all I got was temporary relief.

At last Zam-Buk was suggested to me, and I decided to give it a trial. At that time the disease had got such a firm hold that I did not expect a cure. The first few applications of Zam-Buk, however, showed me that this remedy was entirely superior to the scores of preparations I had used in vain. I continued with the balm, and perseverance with Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap, I am delighted to say, has effected a complete cure.

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES

Files, cuts, burns, eczema, ulcers, chapped hands, cold sores, pimples and eruptions, various veins, scap sores, and all skin diseases and aches. Also an effective embrocation for stiffened muscles, rheumatism, sciatica, etc. All druggists and stores 50¢ box, 3 for $1.25, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

A Queen Among Women

CHAPTER X.

"Of course! But—er—"

"It all rests with her," said Vane, gravely. "I have asked her to be my wife."

The earl winced, and his under lip quivered, but he uttered no exclamation; on the contrary, he said blandly, suavely:

"Yes. And—may one ask—what did the young lady reply?"

"She said to give me my answer tomorrow," said Vane.

"Enough to live upon, I think you said," remarked the earl contemptuously.

"You mean that—that there will be trouble, sir?"

The earl smiled; it was a mirthless—indeed, a ghastly—smile.

"No, I mean that it will be—ruin," he said, in a low voice. "No, no! Don't let's talk it over! I hate—so do you—talking things over. Besides, there's a chance for us yet."

"A chance?" echoed Vane.

"Yes," with almost religious fervor. "Not much, seeing that you are —who and what you are, and that she is the daughter of 'somebody' who has left her 'enough to live upon.' But she may refuse you. Did you hear Melba when you were in town, Vane? Gad, I don't think she was ever in better voice!"

And he talked of London, and the last race-meeting, until they parted; and it was not until he was alone, and trying to sleep, that the old man muttered sadly:

"A poor chance! I wonder how soon Starkey can get here to-morrow!"

The moment he had arrived at Shortledge, he had wired for that long-suffering gentleman.

The legislature, with a wisdom that does not characterize all its enactments, closes all the licensed places of public refreshment at one half hour after midnight in London. But this is far too early for some folk, and the police, recognizing that fact, are, consequently, blind to the existence of sundry unlicensed places where a thirsty and hungry man—thirsty and hungry for "pleasure" which shall not be limited to 12.30 P.M.—may procure food and drink galore, and a certain amount of doubtful amusement.

Most of these places are to be found in the region of Leicester Square, the historic square which forms the center of the metropolitan gaiety.

Here the electric light sets the darkness at naught; here it is, indeed, that the great city never sleeps; it is here that the rattle of the cab, the song of the roysterer, is heard from dewless eve to gaunt, unsmiling morn. It is here that vice shows its gay and seamy side, that the footpad and the unfortunate touch elbows with the foolish rich and prosperous.

And it was on this pavement, on the night of Vane's avowal of love for Diana, Mr. Desmond March, in company with some companions of like mind and character, sauntered in search of illicit supper, champagne, and amusement. It was half past two, the clubs had closed, and Desmond March was showing "life"—save the mark!—to the son and heir of a historic peerage, a vacuous youth, who regarded his mentor and friend as the most charming and faithful of guides.

The lad was half intoxicated already, but Desmond March, though he wore his immaculate silk hat on one side, and walked with a rakish air, was quite and dangerously sober; and, linking his arm in the boy's, he led him to the night house at the back of one of the narrow lanes off Coventry Street.

"I shay, March, old chap, what the deuce are you stopping at—his!—this blessed 'bacca shop for?' inquired the young viscount, as Desmond March pulled up at the door of a seedy, neglected-looking shop, and knocked three times at the closed door.

It was opened very quickly, an evil-looking face peered out at them, a sign of recognition passed between March and its owner, and the door being opened just wide enough to permit them to pass, the two gentlemen entered.

The man who had admitted them had disappeared; but Desmond March lifted the lid of the counter, and, pushing open a door, papered like the wall, went down a narrow and stuffy passage into a long room filled with men and women, most of the former of whom were in evening dress, the women being richly attired—some in good taste, but the majority in clothes of the loudest, and most garish in vulgarity.

There were several tables in the room, at which some of the company were eating badly cooked food, served in silver-plated dishes, and drinking champagne of an unknown but vile brand, both food and drink costing twice and three times the usual amount. At other tables card-playing was going on, games at which the pigeon may lose anything the men who are rooking him please, and lose quickly.

A buzz of subdued voices filled the room, thick with heavy fumes of cigars, subdued because the farce of a visit from the police—who never came—was maintained as part of the fun and enjoyment, and every now and then there was a buzz of laughter from the groups at the supper-tables, or an angry exclamation and an oath from one of the players.

It was a noisome, disreputable place, and a forbidding one, notwithstanding the rich apparel of its company, and the costliness of its drink and viands, and the glitter of jewels—not all false, by the way. But the young viscount felt quite grateful to his friend, Desmond March, for bringing him there—for was he not seeing life?—and at once lurched up to one of the card-tables.

"Want to play?" said March genially. "All right; but let's have some supper first." The lad wasn't quite primed enough. "Give us something to eat—the best you've got. Moss," he said to the proprietor, who smiled, and bowed, and rubbed his hands, for Mr. Desmond March was one of his most valued patrons.

"Yes, Mishter March! Shertainly, shir! And champagne?"

"Yes. And some brandy," said Desmond March, with a significant nod.

While the supper was being prepared, he linked his arm through the young viscount's, and took him

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere. It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

NEVER AGAIN

WILL WE OFFER, AS WE DO NOW, SUCH BARGAINS IN

DRESS MATERIALS,

(ALL ENTENTE-CORDIALE MAKES).

Being manufactures of England and France, and this is an offer of entente-cordiale. We are reducing stocks in certain departments, hence this offer. We could not put those English and French Wool Fabrics into stock to-day at anything like the figures we quote. If you don't wish a Dress or Costume now, it will pay you to buy and lay aside a length for later. We quote:

COLOURED HABIT CLOTHS, 54 inches wide. Regular $1.30 to $2.30. Now90c. to $1.50 yd.

CHEVIOT (HEAVY) SERGES, 50 inches wide. Regular 90c. yard for65c. yd.

LOT DRESS TWEEDS at various prices, which are greatly reduced ones.

ALL WOOL TARTANS, three ends only. Clans—Gordon, MacKenzie and MacLaren. Regular 90c. yard. Now only 60c. yd.

LOT OF BLACK DRESS MATERIALS, principally Crepilles, Crepe de Chine, Voiles, Crepe Cloths, Zibelines and Checked, Striped and Spotted Materials at Cost Price and under.

We may say that it is very difficult to get Black Materials at present in England and on the Continent at any price.

In conjunction with the Clearing Prices we have made on the above-mentioned fabrics we are also making lesser though generous reductions on our staple lines of Cheap Habit Cloths, Serges, Cashmeres, etc., despite the fact that our first costs on these goods are advancing.

ALL DRESS LININGS, TRIMMINGS, BUTTONS and other findings we shall give during this sale at large reductions to all buyers of Dress Materials.

Too Much Oil.

By RUTH CAMERON.

hand neighbour's view of the much mooted question. It was exactly opposite to mine, and her enthusiastic, sympathetic manner was the same in both cases.

Can you blame me that my ardor abated? It simply meant that the sympathetic cordiality which I thought was sterling, was only very thin plate.

Of course this acquiescence springs from a desire to please. But how can it please anyone who likes genuineness? If I know that my friend takes the tone of his discourse, not from what he feels or thinks, but from what he thinks I want him to say, I know I am being cheated. Such a person is about as satisfactory to anyone who wants to feel the contact of a real personality as to see oneself in a mirror or hear the echo of one's own voice when one is lonely and wants company.

Some people even carry this acquiescence so far as to repeat one's last words. I wonder if I am alone in being made nervous by the habit. It makes me feel just as I used to as a child when anyone teased me by mocking me. I have just met a sweet little woman who was so anxious to please and agree with me that she scarcely waited for me to finish a sentence before she echoed the last few words. I knew she meant it in a kindly spirit but it made me so self-conscious that I couldn't think of a thing to say.

Of course a measure of acquiescence has its usage. It oils the wheels of society, and when we meet people who do not know how to use this oil the wheels creak fearfully, but let us not forget that there is such a thing as regarding a machine by clogging it with too much oil.

Great Film is "The Lost Millionaire."

EVERYONE SHOULD SEE IT.

The high class programme at the Nickel Theatre last evening attracted large audiences, every seat being occupied for each performance. All spoke in highest praise of the pictures and the musical part of the entertainment. The two-reel film by the Vitagraph artists ranks among the best ever shown in St. John's. It is a marvelous story, and the acting was perfect. That charming little lady of the footlights Anita Stewart, who has hosts of admirers in St. John's played a brilliant part. She has very few equals and no superiors on the 'movie' stage. It is an unusual story of a young millionaire who finds a girl who loves him and not his money. Nothing like it has ever been seen on local canvas before. It was highly interesting from start to finish. The other pictures were also fine and were very favorably received. Mr. Arthur C. Huskins, the sweet voiced tenor, made another big hit. He chose as his number the celebrated tenor solo "I Hear You Calling Me." This song is known the world over; it has been sung by all the great singers of the day and Nickel patrons were delighted to hear it last night. The rendition was perfect and the highest praise was given Mr. Huskins. The programme will be repeated this evening, and we advise all our readers to attend.

THE TIME IS APPROACHING—Don't Leave It Too Late—If you intend to economize, and make last winter's overcoat do you this winter, have it sent to us to be renovated, a new velvet or cloth collar and generally repaired. Good work and prompt service our motto. SPURRELL BROS., 365 Water Street, or Phone 574 and we will call. DO IT NOW.—nov5,ed,tf

King George's Message to the Canadian Troops.

London, Nov. 5.—King George has issued the following message to the Canadian Expeditionary Force at Salisbury Plain:

"It gives me great pleasure to take this opportunity of welcoming to the Mother Country such a fine contingent of troops from the Dominion of Canada.

"Their prompt rally to the Empire's call is of incalculable value both to the fighting strength of my army and in the evidence which it gives of the solidarity of the Empire. The general appearance and physical standard of the different units are highly creditable.

"I am glad to hear of the serious and earnest spirit which pervades all ranks, for it is only by careful training and leading on the part of the officers and by efficiency, strict discipline and co-operation on the part of all that the demands of modern war can be met.

"I shall follow with interest the progress and work of my Canadians."

Excellent Programme at Rossley's.

Last night there was a very large attendance at Rossley's and a very good programme which the crowd thoroughly enjoyed. The Frog Man and Serpentele in songs and dances won much applause. The pictures too, were all highly commented on. Kelly and Mack, the Boys from the Emerald Isle, will soon be here. They are great performers, good singers, dancers, musicians, burlesque and pantomime artists.

Mr. Rossley is making great progress with his little West End Theatre. This little enterprise has afforded quite a bit of work at this dull season for a few workmen. There will be one of the prettiest, cosiest and most up-to-date little theatres in town, when complete. The people of the West End has already named it "Ours."

At the Crescent.

"The Death Stone of India," the big three-reel Bison feature, now showing at the Crescent Picture Palace, drew large audiences at the afternoon and evening shows yesterday. This great historical picture features the Sepoy Rebellion and shows Sir John Havelock and Scotch Regiments marching to the relief of the Cawnpore garrison, and has a fascinating story running through it. The two comedies "Cupid's Bad Aim" and "Two Hearts and a Thief" with the Nestor fun making trio, Lyons, Moran and McDonald, were also very much enjoyed. The duet singers Walsh and McDonald made a big hit last night, their singing of the duet "Don't You Wish You Were Back Home Again," was loudly encored. Mr. Walsh sang a solo "The Little Bunch of Shamrock I am Holding in my Hand" in a pleasing tenor voice that delighted everybody present. We predict a very successful engagement for these two gentlemen. The same bill will be repeated to-night.

C.L.B. Outing.

The College Company of the C. L. B. held its annual outing at Smithville last evening. The lads set out from the College early in the afternoon in company formation and marched to Smithville. On reaching the grounds they divided into two sections one forming the attacking and the other the defending force. Several visitors interested in the work of the Brigade attended.

At 6 p.m. an excellent tea was served which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Return to the city was made at 9.30 p.m. The following is the toast list:—

- "The King."
- "C. Co."—Prop., Adj. Winter; Resp., Capt. Wood.
- "The C. L. B."—Prop., Mr. Blackall; Resp., Col. Rendell.
- "The College"—Prop., Rev. J. Brinton; Resp., The Headmaster.
- "1st Nfld. Regiment and Our Absent Officers"—Prop., Mr. Hawse.
- "The N. C. O.'s"—Prop., Mr. F. Rendell; Resp., Corp. Jerrett, Corp. Bishop, Lance Corps. Caldwell and Mills.
- "The Donor of the Feast, Hon. E. R. Bowring"—Prop., Mr. Bown.

Have You an Itchy Spot?

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In Eczema—and itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally sczomatous—delays are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and if used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Ask your druggist about it. Price 50c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

C. C. C. Dance.

A largely attended dance was held by the C. C. C. Band at the British Hall last night. A programme of fifteen dances was gone through and greatly enjoyed. At the opening the band rendered the Russian National Anthem, the Marseillaise, the Banks of Newfoundland and Rule Britannia. The affair terminated with the rendition of the National Anthem.

The War Situation.

In explaining to Sir E. Goschen, the British Ambassador at Berlin, the refusal of the Kaiser to refrain from violating Belgian neutrality, Herr von Jagow said: "they had to advance into France by the quickest and easiest way, so as to be able to get well ahead with their operations and endeavour to strike some decisive blow as early as possible. It was a matter of life and death for them, as if they had gone by the more southern route they could not have hoped, in view of the paucity of roads and the strength of the fortresses, to have got through without formidable opposition entailing great loss of time. This loss of time would have meant time gained by the Russians in bringing up their troops to the German frontier. Rapidly of action was the great German asset, while that of Russia was an inexhaustible supply of troops."

That great German asset has already been lost. The decisive blow against France was to have been delivered within four weeks. Fourteen weeks have now passed and France is not crippled. The easy road through Belgium and North France has proved as formidable as if they had contented themselves with paucity of roads and faced the fortresses of East France. The easy way brought in two great factors which have saved France and enabled her to gain time to present the strong front she is presenting to-day. Belgian opposition proved more stubborn than they expected, and "the contemptible little army" of Britain has proved the most formidable opposition they have met with. In addition to this, the German Dreadnoughts have had to quit the open sea, and Germany is faced with a total destruction of her overseas commerce, and in sacrificing her honour she has failed to obtain the advantage of time she placed so much reliance on. Russia has had time to bring up considerable portions of that "inexhaustible supply of troops" Germany so much feared. The attempt to divert large Russian forces to the Caucasus by inveigling Turkey into the war is not likely to neutralize materially the forces which have pushed back the Germans from the Niemen over their own borders in East Prussia, which has driven the Germans from Warsaw and the Vistula back to the Warthe and over their frontier in Silesia, and which is now driving the Austrians and Germans on towards Cracow and is working to the rear of the Austrian army confronting another Russian army on the San. The "inexhaustible supply of troops" is beginning to tell all along the line in the Eastern theatre of war. In the West General Joffre is not only holding his own, but he is gradually and surely gaining ground in pressing the German out of France. Sir John French after doing yeoman work in preventing the turning movement on the West in early stages of the war, and holding the lines on the Aisne in the neighbourhood of Soisson has defeated the gigantic effort of the Kaiser to back his way through Tynes and across the Yser to Calais. Not bad work for the "contemptible little army" against the violent attacks of twelve German army corps. But over and above all this is the spirit which animates the people in preparing a million British men who will be ready to take their place within the next twelve months. The spirit of the nation can be seen in the determined tone and inspiring speeches delivered at the Guild Hall last night. The sentiment in the speeches rings true. Asquith has made clear what Britain intends to do. Kitchener not only is a Maker of Armies, but his words show that he can stimulate the spirit of the nation and army and in his own way of putting it, that is what tells. The British bulldog is fully aroused, and now he has got his hold, he will not leave go, until the fight ends as Asquith says it must end with the destruction of Prussian militarism.

BOERS DEFEATED.

LONDON, To-day. General DeWet, rebel leader, says Reuter's Pretoria correspondent, has been in contact with and dispersed a small Government Commando under General Cronje, Member of the Legislature near Doornberg. In the course of the fighting DeWet's son, Daniel, was killed. The Government is sending strong reinforcements to Cronje. Reuter's Capetown correspondent gives the following concerning the fighting in South Africa. An engagement between General Lammer's forces and the Transvaal rebels under General Beyers occurred on Wet River, Southwest of Bloemhof on Nov. 8. The rebels were well armed and led by Beyers. They were entirely dispersed, losing 9 men killed, 11 wounded, 364 prisoners, 300 rifles, 300 horses; the loyalist casualties were 3 men killed, 9 wounded.

EMDEN'S CAREER ENDED.

LONDON, To-day. It is officially announced in London to-day that the German cruiser Emden has been driven ashore and burned. Twenty-two ships, mostly British, have been sunk by the Emden, to the total value of about four million dollars, which was destroyed by the Australian cruiser Sydney, was driven ashore on an island of the Coco group. The Sydney sighted the Emden yesterday morning and with a superior speed she at once closed in and gave battle. The German boat could not escape. There was a running fight, at the end of which the Emden, burning from the effects of the shells of the Australian boat, was beached. The casualties on the Sydney are said to have been slight.

This was the steamer that devastated so much shipping in the Indian Ocean. She bombarded Bombay and she also disguised herself as a Japanese cruiser and entered Penang, destroying a Russian cruiser. [The Emden is 3600 tons and carries ten 4.1 guns. The Sydney is 5400 tons and carries eight 6 inch guns. Her speed is 24 1/2 knots.—Ed.]

Vice-Regal Visit to Commercial School.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Davidson visited Springdale St. Commercial School yesterday and were accorded a hearty welcome by the Principal. The distinguished visitors spent about two hours at the school, inspecting the class rooms and examining the pupils. His Excellency expressed his great pleasure at the satisfactory answering of the pupils, and at the close addressed the three hundred pupils present on the subject of patriotism. He referred to the causes of the great war in which the Empire is now involved. He also made reference to the good showing made by the ex-pupils of the school of whom there are 74 in the ranks of the Newfoundland Regiment. Lady Davidson then addressed the girls and at the close of her remarks, some thirty of the seniors volunteered to join the sewing class to assist in preparing clothing for the soldiers of the Empire. Several patriotic selections were sung by the pupils, and the National Anthem brought the enjoyable proceedings to a close.

In removing clothes from the line, much trouble will be saved if they are pulled into shape and folded smoothly.

Persons wishing to send Parcels, for Xmas, to their friends and relatives now on active service with the Newfoundland Regiment or Naval Reserves, may send them any time up to Dec. 1st to MRS. EDGAR R. BOWLING, at the Balsam House Annex, Barnes Road. nov9,10,1914

The celebrated engraver and painter who satirised the follies of his time in a series of engravings instinct with character, humour and power.

MARTIN LUTHER born 1483. He was educated for the law, but his deep religious convictions prompted him to retire to the cloister to study the Scriptures, after which he began to lecture on theology and was soon known for the strength of his opinions.

OLIVER GOLDSMITH born 1728. His poetical works are limited, but they are exquisite in their kind; he is one of the pioneers who broke down the artificial barriers which convention had erected against a natural literature. "The Traveller" and the "Deserted Village" belong to the highest order of descriptive poetry. He was enriched by his irregular and careless habits, and his generous disposition, kept him in perpetual embarrassment.

SCHILLER born 1759. German poet and one of the most sympathetic figures in literature. A man of singular purity of character, with a mind ambitious of reaching the highest, he strove, in spite of bodily weakness and the frowns of fortune, to attain the ideal in life and art.

"I am God's Sword."

Kaiser's Call to "The Chosen People." An extraordinary proclamation, only comparable to the ravings of a megalomaniac in an asylum, is said to have been issued by the Kaiser to his army in the eastern theatre of war. A translation of it, taken from the Warsaw Journal Gazetta Poranny, has been sent by M. Ponarski, a Polish student of the University of Grenoble, mobilised at the beginning of the war, to his friends in France.
"Soldiers," it began, "remember that you are the chosen people! The spirit of the Lord has descended upon me because I am Emperor of the Germans. I am the instrument of the Most High. I am His sword, His Priscners Held by Germans.

A Thought for the Times

A DAY AT ADMIRAL'S COVE.—CHAPTER XXVI.

L. C. MORRIS.

Storm usually means wreckage, and so it was with the storm of Sunday, September 27th. The first results were seen when a small schooner of about thirty tons, entered the harbour with her head sails blown away. By careful steering the little ship was brought to safe anchorage, and there rode out the gale in company with the other boats.

The next news was that a large schooner which had landed supplies at Cape Race, had been driven ashore, and that the crew had taken to their boats and were standing by their ship, as she had grounded in a sheltered part of the shore. Following this came the news that a large steamer was ashore at Ferryland Head. The steamer was reported to be outward bound, and that she was grain laden. This part of the story seemed contradictory to the men of Admiral's Cove, for, if the steamer were outward bound with grain she must have left some of the Gulf ports, and, if so, how could she get down by Ferryland. But the mystery was soon solved, for the next report stated that the ship had left St. John's, and it very soon became known that the wreck was none other than our popular Montreal boat "Caouana." When this question was settled there was still anxiety among the people, and there was every reason for it. On Saturday evening one of the schooners of the place was seen approaching the harbour, but owing to a change of wind she failed to make the port. The night proved wet and foggy, and the high wind on Sunday gave room for grave concern. What intensified the anxiety so much was the very serious, and most unusual fact, that the crew of the schooner consisted of seven men, all of one family, viz., the father and his six sons. At such a time the suspense is keen, and those whose loved ones "Go down to the sea in ships" feel the anxiety deepen as the hours pass. Twenty-four hours is a long time to wait and watch when every moment of it is filled with uncertainty and suspense, but at last the dawn broke, and in the darkness foundland is proverbial for hospitality, and it has fallen to the writer's lot to receive an abundance of it during his visits to these smaller places. We may not be able to repay these kind people for their hospitality, but the least we can do is to thank them. While at Mrs. Walshe's we were privileged to hear a very lengthy recitation given by Mr. Brothers, and entitled "Jonathan Brown's Courtship." Mr. Brothers did every justice to his rendition, and for the space of twenty minutes held the closet attention of all the friends and neighbors present. After he had finished, and the applause had died away, I asked him how long it was since he had learned that poem, and he replied that he had done so thirty-five years ago, when he was a lad of some thirteen years of age. Considering that Mr. Brothers had followed the sea and has had a good share of knock-about work in his time, it is certainly a commendable feat of memory to so correctly repeat such a long composition.

"Cascarets" Always Straighten You Up

If Costive, Headachy, Bilious, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad—Clean your Liver and Bowels.

Get a 10-cent box now. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headachy, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep. Cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and the foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep you regular, and clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

Lamentation.

The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year; our bank accounts are out of plumb, and all we buy is dear. I take a downtown my large green roll, that would a heifer choke, but when I've bought my winter's coal,

I find that I am broke. I seek my uncle's equal den, where my great-coat is in brine; alas, when I come out again, an empty purse is mine. In tears that from my eyelids leak, my whiskers are awash; it takes the wages of a week, to buy a Hubbard squash. When to the butcher's shop I slope, for nice lean pork to fry, I always need a microscope to find the meat I buy. I draw good wages for a dub, but, by my halldome, when I have bought my daily grub I haven't car fare home. In summer man himself can garb in cheap den flimsy clothes, and he can eat the juicy yard that in his garden grows; and he has small desire for meat, he lives on corn and grass, and he has no expense for heat, for kerosene or gas. But Autumn's nipping, eager air increases all his bills, and he has grief till in despair he kicks and breaks the thills. The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year, when all the prices skyward hum and things are doubly dear.

Salvia Hair Tonic Makes the Hair Beautiful.

ATTACK RENEWED.

Special to Evening Telegram: PARIS, Nov. 9. An official announcement given out by the French War Office this afternoon, says that the German offensive has been renewed at Dixmude and in the region of Ypres. To the southeast of Ypres all German attacks have been repulsed.

Caterpillar Siege Guns.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sivash." In the feverish march of progress nowadays, no one can tell what will happen when a brand new war breaks out and begins to make messy marks on an otherwise perfectly good map.

There was much speculation a year ago as to what a European war would do to Europe. It was unanimously agreed that when the Zeppelins, the aeroplanes and the submarines had gotten through with their appointed tasks there would be no war left for want of belligerents. It was felt that as soon as an airship had unloaded a few cargoes of explosives upon the shuddering vitals of Europe that continent would give a few conclusive twitches and succumb.

The war has now been raging with great fury for three months and, as usual, the prophets are trying to remove their prophecies from the records. The airships have fizzled and the aeroplanes have not murdered any armies to speak of. The navies are so carefully wrapped up in tar paper and other preservatives that the submarines cannot get at them and only one new invention has created any havoc to speak of. That is the caterpillar gun.

The caterpillar is a large and very heavy cannon with the instincts of a volcano. It is a moveable catastrophe and it travels by gasoline on a series of iron feet. This enables it to waddle slowly up and down hill, through mud and ditches and farm yards at the command of a chauffeur. If the gun were hauled by horses it would take forty of them to haul it on a good road and a cavalry regiment to budge it after a heavy rain. But the caterpillar gun travels in any weather and after it has sat down in a comfortable location it coughs a 2,000 pound shell over onto the enemy's fort. After the shell has exploded it takes a chemist and a geologist to identify the said fort.

The Germans thought up the caterpillar gun in times of peace and tried it upon the forts at Leige. There are no forts there now. There is a great deal of dread over this new perambulating cannon throughout Europe and it is felt that until some effective method of eradicating caterpillars is devised that Germany is going to cause unlimited woe to the enemy.

But who would have thought a year ago that the lowly caterpillar would prove so much more valuable than the roaring birdman!

Germans Abused the White Flag.

French Too Proud of Their Uniforms to Change Them for the Germans.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The Foreign Office despatch to the French Embassy to-day duplicated the usual war office statement, and added a denial of accusations made in the German press that the French were using German uniforms as disguises to cover their attacks.

"In one of their recent communications to the press," the despatch said, "the Germans accused our troops of having on many occasions put on the uniforms of certain of their regiments. This ruse, to which they have often resorted, themselves, has never been employed by our soldiers, who, proud of their uniform, are content to fix bayonets and hurl themselves into the assault of a position. The Germans, however, have often abused the white flag since the beginning of the campaign, waiting to shoot down our troops at close range, after they have advanced unsuspectingly."

SOUTH AFRICAN REBELS CAUGHT

LONDON, Nov. 9. The Governor, Newfoundland: The following is from Press Bureau: In the north the enemy appears to be concentrating actively in the region of Ypres, but we hold our own. Progress has been made around Soissons.

Russian cavalry has penetrated the German province of Posen, destroying the railway at Pleschen, and the Russians are advancing on the East Prussian front. Between Oct. 23 and Nov. 4, the Russian left wing captured nearly 19,000 prisoners and many guns on the Thorn-Cracow front, and a further 12,000 prisoners in recent fighting on the San.

The Admiralty report a successful operation against Fao in the Persian Gulf.

About 400 more rebels have been captured in South Africa.

HARCOURT.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(Official.) Too our left wing the Germans have again taken the offensive on Dixmude and in the region of Ypres, especially southeast of the latter town. Their attacks have been repulsed everywhere. To sum up: at the end of the day on the front from Dixmude to La Lys we have progressed on nearly every point, but our advance is slow owing to the offensive of the enemy, and the very important organization they have had time to effect around our points since beginning. The fog has made operations difficult, especially between La Lys and the Oise. At the centre on the Aisne the progress, previously reported, has been maintained. In Argonne and around Verdun nothing important. To our right in Lorraine there is quiet; in Alsace new attacks of Germans against Col. de Stenarie again resulted in failure.

A council of ministers was held yesterday morning under the presidency of M. Poincare. M. Viviani, accompanied by M. Leon Bourgeois, visited Rheims yesterday and decorated Mayor Cross with the Legion of Honor. M. Millerand, Minister of War, arrived at Toul and visited the Alforty battlefields, where he saluted the graves of our dead, and after visiting the ruins of Gerbeville left for Bordeaux. The War Minister addressed a congratulatory letter for the armistice to General Joffre.

RUSSIA, from Tiflis, Nov. 7.—Two Turkish divisions and numerous artillery, covered by cavalry, marching from Hassan Kala towards Koeperek, were defeated in an effort to outflank the Russian left wing. The Turks were unable to resist the Russian artillery fire and fled. The hilly nature of this region protected their retreat.

BELGIAN OFFICIAL.

HAVRE, Nov. 9. The Belgian Government has issued the following: The situation at Neuport is stationary with a slight advantage to us. On the remainder of the front there is almost complete quiet. The enemy still occupy the right bank of the Yser, at several points of support, which have been annihilated by our artillery.

AN IMPROBABLE STORY.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 9. A correspondent at Antwerp says that a movement of the German troops from the western theatre of war, on a big scale, is now progressing. A large number has been withdrawn from the Yser, and long trains filled with men and munitions are moving into Germany by way of Brussels and Louvain.

IRRESISTIBLE OFFENSIVE.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 9. What is described here as a continued and irresistible offensive by Stop Coughing.

It's quite as foolish as it is annoying to keep on coughing since "PHORATONE COUGH MIXTURE" is guaranteed to soothe and heal the irritated parts at once, and to rapidly destroy the very cause of this aggravating nuisance. Hundreds of persons are complaining every day about the cough or cold they have had for a long time, and they are not able to get rid of it.

Don't let a cough or cold hang on to you day after day and run the chance of catching and developing the "cough" that is not easy to throw off. You will avoid all this worry (about the cough or cold you have) by obtaining "Phoratone Cough Mixture" at once.

Sold at Stafford's Drug Store, Theatre Hill, and Stafford's Pharmacy, Duckworth Street. Price 25c.; postage, 5 cts. extra.

Phoratone Cough Cure is prepared only by DR. F. STAFFORD & SONS, St. John's, Newfoundland.

Manufacturers of Stafford's Liniment, Stafford's Prescription "A", Stafford's Phoratone Cough Cure, etc.

The Russian Army, resulting in the evacuation of Poland by the Germans is reported to-day. A Russian army has successfully established itself in German territory, 15 miles west of the Russo-German border. In addition the Germans are said to be generally relinquishing their stand along the Wartha River. This advance was accomplished by a Russian cavalry movement, in outflanking the German left. Russian penetration of German territory to Pleschen, Prussia, northwest of Kalsz (Kalish) from which point the Germans appear to be withdrawing, threatens the German line of communication along the South Polish frontier. The Russians attacked the Austrian rearguard at Pimozom which commands an important crossing on the Vistula, 25 miles from Cracow. It is asserted that a general retreat of the Austrian forces on Cracow, as a new base, is now apparent.

TSING TAU GARRISON.

PEKIN, Nov. 9. The German legation states that the garrison at Tsing Tau numbered between 4,500 and 4,800 men. It is thought at the Legation, from advices received, that the town was not badly damaged by the bombardment.

THE FORMAL SURRENDER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. The German garrison at Tsing Tau is to be formally surrendered to the investing allied British and Japanese forces to-day.

STEAMER BURNED.

LONDON, Nov. 9. A despatch from Melbourne says that the British steamer Norfolk, on Ninety Mile Beach, near Port Albert, is burning fiercely. She caught fire at sea and was beached.

SWEDISH STEAMER BLOWN UP.

LONDON, Nov. 9. The Swedish steamer Alle was blown up by a mine in the North Sea and foundered. Six of her crew were drowned, and the others were landed at Yarmouth.

GLASGOW AND OTRANTO REPORTED.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 10. The British cruiser Glasgow, which was engaged with the German squadron in the battle off the Chilean coast on Sunday, Nov. 1st, and the British transport Otranto, have arrived at Pont Limit in the Straits of Magellan, bound for the Falkland Islands.

RUSSIANS STILL ADVANCING.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 10.—(Official.) On the East Prussian frontier fighting continues. The Russian troops have occupied Solap. In the direction of Mawa (Poland) we have advanced and have stopped the movements of railways trains of the enemy near the station of Soldan, east Prussia. Beyond the Vistula the Germans have withdrawn from Wloclawek to Messuma, and from Konin to Shepey. On the roads to Cracow we are continuing to push back the rearguards of the Austrians. South of Przemysl on Nov. 7, we captured 1,000 prisoners and a number of cannons. On the coast of Caucasus on Nov. 6 and 7, cruisers of the enemy made appearance.

STILL CONTINUING THEIR SUCCESS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. Despatches from the French Foreign Office to the Embassy here yesterday, repeated in substance the French and Russian War Office statements, and added some comment on the successful work of the British troops in the west, and the destruction of a railway by the Russians in the east. The cablegram says: At Ghelweid the British troops repulsed the enemy in a notable attack made upon them, and forced them back at the point of the bayonet. In Woivre district we have been able to retake several trenches which had been previously taken from us by the enemy. In Prussia, the Russians have destroyed a railway leading to Pleschen northeast of Calson.

FOG HINDERS OPERATIONS.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—(Official.) There has been no notable modification in the situation by reason of difficulties which an intense fog has created in connection with operations of any extent. In the north the day has been good. We have maintained our positions between Woivre, Lys and Lanemarck, and made appreciable progress between Lanemarck and Dixmude.

ANOTHER STEAMER FOUNDERS.

LOWESTOFF, Nov. 10. The Dutch freighter Luger Poolster has foundered through striking a mine. The crew were saved.

JAP ARMY AND EUROPE. TOKIO, Nov. 9. Since the fall of the German position at Tsing Tau, the question of Japan sending an army to Europe has begun to attract increasing attention. The idea finds considerable support in military circles, where it is believed that such a movement would be welcomed by France.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—The sanitary inspectors of the city are very attentive to their duties, and a marked improvement in the cleanliness of the thoroughfares is noticeable. In order that our city be kept clean, citizens must do their part, and thereby aid the inspectors and the sanitary staff in making the task as easy as possible. For some time it has been customary for shopkeepers to sweep their stores after the closing hour on Saturday nights, leaving the sweepings on the street opposite their premises, which presented a very untidy appearance on Sunday morning. I am glad to find that this matter is being attended to, for last Saturday night about 11.30, I found one of the Sanitary Inspectors enforcing the law and remonstrating with a grocer who thoughtlessly of course, was sweeping out old paper, etc., on the street. This Inspector has a difficult task to perform, but nevertheless he merits the thanks of the public and the assistance of the shopkeepers in his effort to perform his duty, for it is only by the efforts of such officials, aided by the assistance of citizens in general that we can hope to have an improvement in the sanitary condition of our city.
Yours, etc.,
CITIZEN.

Dear Jack—
Thanks ever so much for the hundred DE RESZKE CIGARETTES you sent me and I am glad to hear they only cost you $1.50. I find that the only cigarette smoked in Camp over here is the DE RESZKE. The reason for this is that DE RESZKE CIGARETTES are easy on the throat and are not "doped" and so do not affect the eyesight which is an important item in war time.
Several of our fellows received presents of DE RESZKE CIGARETTES by last mail and a good many of us are expecting more for Christmas.
Yours sincerely,
TOMMY TERRA NOVA.

Wants U.S. to Fight for Allies.

Noted Historian, Prof. G. B. Adams, of Yale, Bids America Join in Conflict Against Germany.

London, Nov. 2.—"So much is at stake for civilization in this war, that Germany must not be allowed to win it, even if it is necessary for the United States to enter the conflict on the side of the Allies," is the assertion made to-day by Professor George Burton Adams of Yale, who has just returned to England after several months in Italy. But Professor Adams does not think it is likely that Germany will win. On the contrary, he is inclined to believe that the Germans have already spent their strength in two great attempts one on the east and the other on the west, to crush the Allies, and has failed in both.

He says that, judging from the information from all available sources, there are not enough soldiers in Germany to strengthen either wing sufficiently to bring about a final decision in the Kaiser's favor. This, he maintained, places Italy in a position where, if she entered the war now on the Allies' side, she would be a deciding factor, and as Turkey has chosen to become embroiled, it would be little surprising if Italy joined the Allies. Professor Adams said:

"And Italy can place a fine body of troops in the field. From what I could learn she would be able to supply fully 3,000,000 men. The Italian army, next to that of England is composed of the finest body of men I have seen in England. The officers are alert and keen and the men are a fine appearing lot. The Italians are overwhelmingly in favor of the Allies. I think there seems to be only two kinds of Italians those who want to remain neutral and those who want to fight against Germany and Austria.

Thinks Revolution Possible.

"There would be a revolution in Italy, I believe, from what I was told, if the government should attempt to fight on the side of Austria. Now that Turkey has stepped in, I think it likely that Italy will not long remain out of the fighting. Germany represents in Government and institutions an obsolescent system, away from which the world has been advancing from generations."

If Germany should become the dominant power of the world, Professor Adams asserted that history would be turning back upon itself. England would probably lose all her African possessions, and, in the not distant future, England would have to wage again with other nations a war against Germany. He said:

"Germany must be defeated in this war. If it comes to a point where it is necessary for the United States to aid the Allies to the end that they should win, then I hope it will be done. She is opposed to everything for which we stand, and our turn would be next if Germany were successful.

Says Germans Hate British.

"Thirty years ago I spent twelve months in Germany. I was profoundly impressed with the hatred expressed for the British. Germany was even then fired with the desire for a predominant place as a world empire. When I asked Germans how they would accomplish their desire they told me that the English had won their Empire by conquest, and that through conquest it could be broken. It was not until the Boer war that England realized Germany's attitude. "In the Spanish war we began to be classed in German feeling with England, and we realized at Manila Bay her feeling toward us. Germany now sees the islands she wanted being taken from her grasp. The longer Germany waited the more remote she saw her chances become of achieving her ambitions.

"I believe that, if the truth were known, Germany was back of the demands of Austria upon Serbia.

"She had seen the Balkan peoples solving their own problems in a way which interfered with her ambitions and those of Austria in the eastern Mediterranean. Therefore the war."

Professor Adams does not see a Germany divided into small states, if she is beaten, but he does see an end to military despotism. America, he believes, should place herself strongly on the side of disarmament in the congress to follow the war, which might in all probability, be held at Washington.

Every Stiff Joint Limbered, Rheumatism Cured

That Old Family Remedy "Nerviline" Is Guaranteed for the Worst Cases.

CURES NEURALGIA, BACKACHE, LUMBAGO.

Rheumatism to-day is unnecessary. It is so well understood and so readily curable that every day we have reports of old chronics being freed of their tormentor.

"I can speak confidently of the Nerviline treatment, for the simple reason that it cured me," writes Albert B. Cornelius, from Kingston. "You can't imagine how stiff and lame and sore I was. Nights at a time I couldn't sleep well. I followed the Nerviline directions carefully—had it rubbed into the sore regions four or five times every day. Every rubbing helped to reduce the pain. The swelling went down. I got a fair measure of relief in a week. I also took two Ferrone Tablets with my meals. They increased my appetite and spirits, purified my blood and toned up my system generally.

"I am as well to-day as a man could be—in perfect good health. I give Nerviline all the credit."

A large family size bottle of Nerviline costs only 50c, or the trial size 25c, and is useful in a hundred ills in the family. Whether it's toothache, earache, headache, neuralgia, lame back or a cold, Nerviline will cure just as readily as it will cure rheumatism. For family use nothing equals Nerviline.

Mechanics Society.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Mechanics Society was held last night. President Scott in the chair. The Treasurer submitted his report for the quarter which showed the Society to be in good financial standing. Resolutions of condolence dealing with the death of His Grace Archbishop Howley, were adopted and will be forwarded to the Administrator and the relatives, after which the meeting adjourned.

"Catarrhzone" Prevents Bad Colds Strengthens Weak Irritable Throats.

Employs Nature's own Methods and is Invariably Successful.

Few will escape a cold this winter, but alas! many colds run into Catarrh.

Neglected Catarrh is the straight gateway to consumption.

Catarrhzone is a germ-killer—destroys microbes that cause Catarrh. It heals and soothes, relieves the cough, gives throat and lungs a chance, cleanses the nostrils, clears out the phlegm.

You feel better in an hour. In a day you're greatly relieved, and on goes the curing of Catarrhzone till you're well.

No treatment so direct. Catarrhzone goes right to the spot—acts quickly cures thoroughly catarrh, bronchitis and all throat affections.

"Nothing could kill a cold so fast as Catarrhzone," writes Amy E. Snelling, from St. John's. "Last month I had a frightful cold in my head, suffered from itching nose, running eyes and torturing headache. Ten minutes with "Catarrhzone" inhaler gave relief and in one hour I was well of my cold. Catarrhzone I consider a marvel."

Carry "Catarrhzone" inhaler in your pocket or purse—take it to church—to the theatre—to work—use it in bed. It prevents and cures all manner of nose and throat troubles. Complete outfit, guaranteed $1.00; small size 50c; sample size 25c; at dealers everywhere.

Royal Review of Contingent.

Great Success.

Salisbury, Eng., Nov. 5.—If smartness in appearance and alertness in drill are the measure of soldiers' ability and cheers the measure of their loyalty, King George and Queen Mary, Earl Kitchener, Earl Roberts, and the entire Royal entourage must have been delighted with the Canadian troops when their Majesties inspected the entire division on Salisbury Plain at noon yesterday.

All roads leading to the camp were guarded, and no one was allowed within five hundred feet of the King and the General Staff.

The King remarked the large number of men wearing medals, and shook hands with the officers and men with African and Egyptian war service medals. Pte. Brennan, of the Fifth Royal Highlanders, was singled out for a long chat with His Majesty, who inquired as to his previous service and campaigns. The King also remarked on the splendid condition of the men of the Montreal Regiment, and of the Fifth Royal Highlanders.

The Queen was greatly interested in and inspected the cook-houses and camp.

Inspected in Lines.

Earl Kitchener and Earl Roberts inspected the whole contingent formed up in two lines.

The King rode down each line, the massed bands playing the National Anthem and "The Maple Leaf for Ever." The buglers sounded the salute and the men cheered vociferously.

The King, at the close, complimented officers and men on their splendid physique, and said he was sure they would uphold the honor of Canada.

Of the "Princess Pats," Earl Kitchener simply said: "Fine fellows."

When the King rode away, Col. Williams called for cheers for His Majesty. The men put their hats on their rifles and cheered.

It was a wonderful sight. The men showed up well on ceremonial drill, but on the return through the lines, enthusiasm broke loose. The men were drawn up in single line for miles along the road, and the cheers and waving of hats seemed like an incoming tide before the slowly passing motor. The outbursts lasted fully fifteen minutes. The King leaned from the motor acknowledging the plaudits while the Queen seemed delighted.

His Majesty was much amused at the regimental pet bear of the Strathcona Horse and the Queen stroked the animal's head.

The heavy rains lately made the ground unfit for a march past, but the men were mightily pleased with the visit.

Earl Kitchener remarked on the fine motor transport supply column.

The party left by motor, the entire stay in the camp not having lasted over an hour.

H. N. MOORE.

Cable to Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The Hon. George H. Perley to-day cabled regarding the review of the Canadian troops by the King and Queen on Salisbury Plain: "The King to-day inspected and reviewed the Canadian expeditionary force on Salisbury Plain. Her Majesty was also present, and Earl Roberts and Kitchener. All were much impressed and expressed themselves greatly pleased with the appearance, physique and spirit of our men. The weather was very fine and the whole scene was most impressive."

A Stalwart Army.

London, Nov. 5.—Viscount Bryce, speaking of the visit he paid to Salisbury last week-end, said no army in the whole world could boast of men more stalwart, active and healthy or with more intelligent faces and ardent devotion than the splendid recruits from Canada and Newfoundland.

M. Pichon Severely Trounces the Kaiser.

Writing in the Petit Journal of Paris M. Stephen Pichon, the foreign minister, says: "The words of the German Emperor's order of the day to his troops that their first objective should be to exterminate these 'treacherous English and walk over 'General French's contemptible little army' is the finest Sulphate of Ammonia.

St. John's Gas Light Company. Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your Works, and I found 20.5 per cent. of NITROGEN, Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen manure.

Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season.

homage which the Emperor could pay Great Britain and her troops, as it proves both the anger felt by the instigator of the war towards our admirable Ally, and his chagrin at being unable to overcome her.

"It is one more title of honor for the British Government and the British people. What William calls Britain's treachery is that great Empire's fidelity to her pledged word, to her oath to guarantee Belgian neutrality, to European independence and liberty, and to those principles of civilization which are the honor of modern peoples.

"What he describes as French's contemptible little army are several hundred thousand men whose valor and fearlessness are the admiration of the world, and who are placed under the command of one of the most illustrious military chiefs of our times.

"In whose name does the German Emperor attempt (without success, however,) to insult these heroic upholders of justice to which they are sacrificing their lives? In the name of an army of house breakers, navigators, executioners, and 'fire-bugs,' dishonored for all time by their crimes; in the name of the Imperial Princes who found nothing more worthy of their race to do than to loot chateaux, as the Crown Prince did at Baye; in the name of the Generals who raised pillage to a law of war like those who cleared out the hotels at Compiègne.

"If these people had known how to carry out the orders of their supreme chief, and had been able to destroy the enemy, as it was their duty to do, well and good; but they exterminated nothing at all, and the Emperor has achieved nothing by his ragings and his anger. His insults have no effect, and he is like Bismarck, with the end of his life haunted by the nightmare of the coalitions which make him foresee the last days of his Empire. He is specially furious with Great Britain, because he feels in his shoulders the claws of the British lion. He vainly seeks to bite great Britain. She holds him and will not let him go."

A REBELLION Food Demanded.

The human body will stand a lot of abuse but sometime it will surely rebel and demand proper food in place of the pasty, starchy, greasy stuffs on which it has been made sick.

This is the time to try Grape-Nuts, the most scientific and perfect food in the world.

A lady writes: "Three years ago I was very ill with catarrh of the stomach and was given up to die by one doctor. I laid in bed four months and my stomach was so weak that I could not keep down medicine or hardly any kind of food and was so weak and emaciated after four months of this starvation that my daughter could easily lift me from bed and put me in my chair.

"But weak as my stomach was, it accepted, relished and digested Grape-Nuts without any difficulty the first time that wonderful food was tried.

"I am now strong and in better health than for a great many years and am gradually growing still stronger. I rely on Grape-Nuts for much of the nourishment that I get. The results have certainly been wonderful in my case and prove that no stomach is so weak it will not digest Grape-Nuts."

"My baby got fat from feeding on Grape-Nuts. I was afraid I would have to stop giving the food to him, but I guess it is a healthy fat for his health is just perfect." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Household Notes

Keep a bundle of postcards in the house, and when you see a household article advertised write for information.

Spirits of turpentine will remove most spots from silk, but care must be taken to be sure that the dye is fast.

Varnished paper on walls should be cleaned with a flannel dipped in weak tea and polished with a dry cloth. Before washing, all clothes should be thoroughly wetted with cold water, and should be "set to boil" in cold water.

Turpentine is one of the most useful of washing aids. It will loosen dirt without the slightest injury to fabrics.

A little vinegar placed in the rinsing water on washing day will prevent the hands from becoming rough and chapped.

A long box, stood on end on casters, fitted with shelves and a screen door, is a convenience in the kitchen. Several thickness of disks cut from discarded kitchen-olecloth make good mats for flower pots in the various windows.

To sharpen a knife, fold a piece of emery paper in the center and draw the knife rapidly back and forth several times.

It is best to clean windows on a cloudy day, as the sunshine dries the water too quickly, and the window is apt to be streaked.

After cleaning clothes with gasoline, a ring can easily be removed by steaming over the teakettle.

To make codfish salad, the cold picked fish should be combined with sliced cold potatoes, oil, vinegar, black pepper and chopped parsley.

A rubber plant or other large house plant can be moved about with very little trouble if set upon a tiny wooden platform with casters.

Never turn your faucets on with a jerk. Turn slowly and gently when turning the water on or off. The faucets will wear twice as long.

It is a good idea to put the freshly laundered sheets at the bottom of the pile in the linen closet. This makes it possible to give the sheets equal wear.

To clean brass flower pots or trays, rub them with a piece of lemon; then pour boiling water over them, and finally polish with a soft dry cloth.

If you are pinning any heavy article on the line, you will find it more satisfactory to place the pins below the line, catching together the two edges.

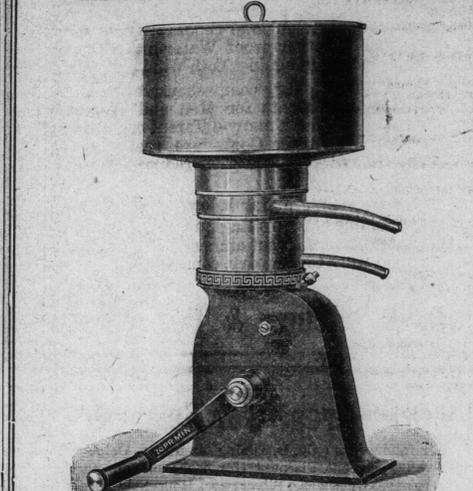

To remove the meat from butter-nuts whole, pour hot water over them and let stand over night. In the morning stand the nuts on end and crack with a hammer.

Wedding Bells.

A quiet wedding took place at the R. C. Cathedral on Sunday, Oct. 25th, when Mr. Thos. Kane and Miss Agnes Glavine were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Dr. Greene.

The bride was neatly attired in embroidered voile with hat to match and was attended by Miss Margaret Quirk, while Mr. John Butler supported the groom. The wedding was held at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. Mahon, Cove Road. The bride received many costly presents. Congratulations.

WAR SPEECHES

At the Guildhall.

Balfour says Belgium must be Restored to Full Prosperity--Asquith Declares Britain Will Not Sheath the Sword until Prussian Militarism is Destroyed--Kitchener Declares the Empire is at Stake. While the Army is Good he must have more and more Men. Churchill says in spite of Losses the Royal Navy is Stronger now than at the Beginning of the War.

BALFOUR SPEAKS AT THE LORD MAYOR'S BANQUET.

LONDON, To-day. Scenes of extraordinary enthusiasm were witnessed at the Guildhall last night, on the occasion of the inaugural banquet of the new Lord Mayor of London, Sir Charles Johnston, who succeeds Sir Thomas Bowyer. An added interest attached to the gathering by reason of the special circumstances of the times, from the presence of the principal Ministers of the Crown responsible for the conduct of the war, and diplomatic representatives of the Allied nations. The Guildhall has been the scene of many civic national functions during the past five hundred years, but seldom has there been one which so strongly appealed to popular imagination. The guests who numbered a thousand, including leading statesmen, diplomats and financiers, entered the civic headquarters of London between two lines of khaki clad men. As each dignitary entered and repaired to his place in the Hall, he was greeted with rounds of applause but the real outburst was reserved for Premier Asquith, Earl Kitchener, Secretary for War, Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty and the Japanese, Russian and French Ambassadors, the Belgian Minister and the Commander of the Canadian Contingent. After the formal toasts of the King and Royal Family had been proposed, Ex-Premier Balfour proposed the Allies. He emphasized that the toast was without precedent, but he added: "We are living in times that are also without precedent, when the whole world is either in arms or in anxious expectation. Japan," continued the speaker, "had made one most drastic answer by the capture of Tsing Tau. The most insolent message ever sent by one 'sovereign' to another, was that which 17 years ago, compelled Japan to give up Fort Arthur which she had taken from the Chinese." The ex-Premier spoke in glowing terms of the gallantry of the Russian army and the powers of organization displayed by Grand Duke Nicholas and the remorseless speed with which Russia had carried out her movements. Here one success after another might be looked for, and as for the West, the memory of the days when the French and British fought side by side against the enemy of civilization would never be forgotten. Balfour also spoke of Serbia which was prepared to give up everything short of national existence, to keep the peace of Belgium whose history was even more tragic. Belgium had been overrun by Germans for no cause except the expediency of war. Cynicism would go no further in politics, and he denounced the brutal militarism inflicted upon the civil population of Belgium. He declared Belgium would be restored to all and more than her ancient prosperity by the Allies who were bound together by the pursuit of one great object. There was no danger of a disagreement, for no mean or petty motive actuated them. "We are five Nations," said the ex-Premier, in conclusion, "and we fight not for ourselves alone, but for civilization, and for all small States who seek to follow their own ideals without interference from any unauthorized and insolent aggressor."

PREMIER ASQUITH

LONDON, To-day. At the Guild Hall Banquet the Prime Minister, on rising to respond to the toast of His Majesty's Ministers, "Never," he said, "has any Government in our history more needed the whole-hearted confidence and unselfish co-operation of the community without distinction of party or class. Never has that confidence been more unreservedly expressed and that co-operation more generously offered." Referring to Turkey's entrance into the war, he said, "when war began we made it clear in conjunction with our allies to the Turkish Government that if they remained neutral, the Empire should not suffer in integrity or authority. The Turkish statesmen vacillating in Council from day to day has allowed their true interests to be undermined by German threats by German ships, by German gold. They were tempted to one futile outrage after another. It is not the Turkish people. It is the Ottoman Government that has drawn the sword and I do not hesitate to predict that the Government will perish by the sword. It is they and not we who have rung the death knell of Ottoman Dominion not only in Europe but in Asia. With this disappearance of Turkey will disappear as I hope and believe the blight which for generations past has withered some of the fairest regions." Asquith told his readers that they should not be moved unduly by the conflicting fortunes of the campaign which was going to be a long struggle. There is certainly nothing, he declared, in warfare of this hundred days to damp our hope, to depress our confidence, or impair our resolve. Our enemies tried in turn three separate objectives, namely: Paris, Warsaw and Calais. From each in turn they retired balked, frustrated by the invincible steadfastness of the allies, but this is not enough, we shall not sheath the sword which we have not lightly drawn, until Belgium recovers in full measure more than all she has sacrificed, until France is adequately secure against the menace of aggression, until the rights of the smaller nationalities of Europe are placed on an unassailable foundation, until military domination of Prussia is fully and finally destroyed. That is a great task worthy of a great nation. It means for its accomplishment, that every man among us, old or young, rich or poor, learned or simple, should give what he has and do what he can.

EARL KITCHENER'S INSPIRING WORDS.

Earl Kitchener pointed out the great issues at stake, the advantages possessed by the Allies in men and material and in that wonderful spirit which has never understood the meaning of defeat. He praised the territorialists, particularly the London Scottish, and the East Indians. He spoke of the admiration of the British troops for "The Glorious French," and said that under the direction of General Joffre, who is not only a great military leader, but a great man, we may confidently rely on the ultimate success of the Allied forces in the Western theatres of the war. He praised the brilliant leadership of Grand Duke Nicholas, and also "the splendid deeds of the gallant Belgian army" and the gallantry of Japanese forces. Continuing, Lord Kitchener said: The British Empire is now fighting for its existence. I want every citizen to understand this cardinal fact, for only from a clear conception of the vast importance of the issue at stake can come a great national moral impulse, without which Governments, War Ministers, or even their Navies can do but little. I have no complaint to make whatever about the response to my appeals for men. The progress in the military training of those who already have enlisted is most remarkable, and the country may well be proud of them, but I shall want more and still more until the enemy is crushed. Our losses in the trenches have been severe but such casualties are far from deterring the British Navy from seeing the matter through. They will act rather as an incentive to British manhood to prepare themselves to take the places of those who have fallen. In paying a tribute to the leadership of Sir John French and his Generals and to the high efficiency and courage of the army, the War Minister said: "I think that it has now been conceded that the British army has proved itself to be not so contemptible an engine of war as some were disposed to consider it."

CHURCHILL AND THE NAVY.

Churchill told of the work of the Navy and continued: "It is difficult to measure the full influence of the Naval pressure in the early stages of the war, but it will spell the doom of Germany as assuredly as Winter strikes the leaves from the trees. As to the loss we have suffered," he said, "the punishment we received is clear, and the definite punishment we inflict is very often not seen, and when seen very often cannot be measured, but time will tell." The First Lord also pointed out that despite the losses, the Navy was stronger in every way than at the beginning of the war.

Obituary.

We regret to announce the death last evening of Mrs. Moss, widow of the late Capt. J. B. Moss, at her residence, Gower Street. The deceased lady was a native of Scotland and came to this country some thirty years ago, and married Capt. Thomas of the bart. Lavina, who died at Pernambuco. She later married Capt. J. R. Moss, so well and favorably known in shipping circles in this city. We understand that Mrs. Moss leaves no relatives residing here, but her death will come as a severe blow to the many widows and sick folk whom she has so often visited and helped.

First Aid Examination.

A Ladies' First Aid Class, lectured to by Dr. Duncan, was examined last week at the British Hall by Dr. Burden. The results were as follows:—

- In Order of Merit.
1. Miss Amy McEvoy.
2. Miss May Benedet.
3. Miss Ruth Duncan.

In Alphabetical Order.

Misses Dorothy Berteau, Margery Berteau, K. Burnham, Marjorie Crane, Mary Doyle, Gladys Duley, M. C. Fennell, Margaret Foran, Syretha Squires, Jean Trappnell, Nellie Walker, M. White. The first three secured respectively 98, 97 and 96 per cent.

Carman Injured.

Yesterday afternoon Henry Thomas, carman with the Horwood Lumber Co., met with a serious accident. He was driving down Bambrick Street when the pole of the cart broke, throwing him to the ground and breaking his leg just below the knee. He also received a bad gash in the head. Dr. Roberts, who was called, had to insert four stitches to close the wound.

TRAPNELL

The Eyesight Specialist

Examines the eyes without DRUGS, DROPS or DANGER. He not only finds the trouble, but with his perfect optical machine he can grind the correct lens for you. He does it quickly.

There was a time when all compound lenses had to be sent out of the country for, involving a delay of three or four weeks, but that day has passed; an hour or two is sufficient to produce any lens that may be called for. Prescriptions filled or broken lenses replaced if you have the glasses.

"Vanities"—for the Young Man's Fancy Feet

WHAT avails the Smart Suit?

What profiteth the "Last Word" in Collars and its Postscript in Hats or Neckties, if the Young Man's Shoes look belated.

Twenty-two different Regal styles for Young Men who like "Ginger" in Shoe Expression.

"Knobs, Kinks, Swing Soles, Bulgers and Bluchers." Say that quickly and then hie away to the Regal Shoe store to see what these terms mean when skillfully translated into leather.

Quiet Shapes, also Super-Standards, for Older Folks who have more money—whose feet need Nursing, and whose Digestion needs Walking.

Regal Shoes are made in four Regal Shoe Factories.

These Regal Shoe Factories (through huge volume) are now satisfied with a mere 5% profit above actual cost—giving the Surplus Value to Consumers.

The sure value of each Regal Shoe is stamped on the sole by the responsible Makers—who alone know what Service is under the finish.
