STORY OF LOVE, INTRIGUE AND REVENGE

CHAPTER XXVIII

It was almost pitiful to see how Gertrude and Lord Fielden watched the post—the sickness of hope deferred indeed made the young girl's heart sink. One morning a whole bundle of letters came; none of them contained any news of particular interest, but they occupied considerable time in the reading and answering.

"I wonder, Lord Fielden," said Gertrude, when the last envelope was directed, "if ever there will be an end to this quest of mine?"

"There is an end to everything," Gertrude, he replied, thinking to himself that the one exception was his own great love for her. There could never be any end to that—it was impossible.

"I wonder," she continued, "what I shall have to fill my life and to interest me when this is over. I shall be quite lost. Now every day brings its own work, and that work occupies my whole time. I do not think I could ever live without some real employment again."

"You need not do so," said Lord Fielden, with a quick throw at his heart. "I know work that will just suit you."

"What is it?" she asked, her eyes fixed on the spreading beeches. "Women's rights?"

"Women's rights in one sense of the word, Gertrude," he replied, "decidedly not in the other. You ought to have a husband who loves you, not with a common-place affection, but with an unfeigned love."

"He has to be found," interrupted Gertrude, with a shy, sweet smile.

"No, indeed, he has not; he is found."

But Gertrude would not listen. "I can think of nothing yet but finding my father," she said gently.

"Gertrude," he cried, "suppose that some man—we will presume that he would be in every way eligible—should, through his own exertions and skill, bring to you certain proof of your father's innocence, the sure solving of the mystery that surrounds his name and that of Lola de Ferras, would you, as a reward, marry him?"

His heart beat so violently as he asked the question, that he was afraid she would hear it; his suspense was so great, that he could hardly draw his breath. But she did not look at him. She seemed to forget all about him in the thought of answering his question.

"Yes," she replied, "I think I would."

He turned away with a deep sigh, and without seeing the furtive glance from Gertrude's blue eyes.

"I wonder," said Harry, with an impatient stride across the room, "if it would have been better for me if I had never been born?"

"I should say that it is many years too late to answer the question," observed Gertrude.

"And so their conversation ended, but he did not forget it. Lord Fielden felt convinced that the only way to win the prize of Gertrude's love was by clearing up the mystery of her father's disappearance, and that was the task he set himself to perform."

CHAPTER XXX

Near the pretty town of St. Remy, in a remote corner of France, stands a chateau, quite shut in from the world by the forest that surrounds

it. It is supposed to have been built by a king of France who, passionately fond of hunting, enjoyed the chase best when he had only a few select friends about him. He would spend a week at a time at the chateau, and while he was there the merry sound of the hunting-horn was frequently heard. The next king sold it to one of the bourgeois, who purchased it simply because it had been built for the pleasure of royalty. He gave it his own name of Fleuris, which it retained. Then—for it has quite a history, this chateau—it was purchased by a French noble man who had married a very wealthy heiress. She was mad, but as all his income was derived from her, he kept the matter as secret as possible, and sent her with nurses and attendants to the Chateau Fleuris, where she lingered all the years of her life, a victim to the terrible malady. How often those walls had re-echoed to shrieks and cries, frightening even the birds from their nests!

Once every week a cart was driven from the chateau to St. Remy by a surly-looking man—a Belgian evidently, from his accent. He made his purchases without more comments than the occasion demanded; and if any one presumed to question him as to the number of the household—if it were madame or monsieur whom they had the honor of serving—his reply was a gloomy suggestion that the inquirer should mind his own affairs. Persons drew their own conclusions. Articles of every kind were purchased—books, papers, cigars, wines, old cognac. There must certainly be a gentleman living at the chateau—and a lady too; there was no mistake about that. Gradually, however, all curiosity ceased, for the simple reason that it never was gratified, and the Chateau Fleuris remained as great a mystery as ever. But, after a time, one of the inhabitants of the old house issued from her seclusion.

She was a tall, dark, stately woman with a strange beauty of her own. A story of passion was written on her face. The dark eyes burned with almost lurid light, a grand but distorted, darkened soul, looked out of them with proud, pained defiance.

She went frequently to St. Remy; no one knew whether she was wife or widow. She never spoke of husband or children; but she wore a wedding-ring, and called herself Madame St. Ange. People watched her with something like awe. It was so strange that she never spoke to any one. The children, when they met her, ran away frightened and crying; no little one ever went to her with outstretched arms; even the very dogs refused to make friends with her.

She always wore black, loose, gracefully-hanging garments that fell in stately folds about her; she walked with a proud, stately grace that was peculiar to herself. In passing through the streets of St. Remy she never looked either to the right or to the left; she swept on as though there were nothing to interest her on earth. Those who noticed her were startled at the tragic sorrow expressed on every feature of her face. Once, as she was passing down the Rue d'Espagne, a pretty little girl fell down a few yards in advance of her, and hurt herself badly. The child's cries were piteous, yet Mme. St. Ange did not go up to her, as any kind-hearted woman would have done, and raise her from the ground; she had no words of sweet womanly compassion for her, but stopped aside so that even her dress should not touch the little one. With a cry on her lips, the mother came rushing out of her house, and saw madame passing by with raised head, as though she neither saw nor heard the child.

Who Make the Scientific Discoveries

College professors who used to make most of the discoveries in science, are now being run hard by the "practising" scientists in the laboratories of big industrial companies. At least this is true in the physical sciences, we are told by an editorial writer in The Electrical World (New York). In engineering, he says, it looks as if the teachers had abdicated entirely in favor of their "practical" brethren. The he does not consider an ideal condition. The theorist and the practical man, he thinks, should continually keep in touch and move up the hill of progress hand in hand. In beginning his discussion, this writer says that if the man-on-the-street were asked how discoveries in physical sciences are made to serve human needs, say through electrical apparatus, he would probably venture a guess that unnamed inventors and college professors make discoveries. But, he continues:

"As a matter of fact, the tendency in our industry has unmistakably been away from such a state of affairs and toward an integration of mental as well as of physical resources. Just as large manufacturing companies have found it to be their advantage to control sources of their principal raw supplies and transportation, so they also have found it indispensable to employ physicists, chemists and inventors of the highest rank, to be assured of 'private wires' from nature's own laboratory. Of late the names of the leading industrial scientists have become as widely known as those of productive scholars connected with institutions of learning."

"The titles of subjects and the character of employment of the authors of the papers presented at the recent meeting of the American Physical Society in Washington are rather illuminating from the point of view of this changing character of the relation between pure and applied science. Out of the seventy-seven papers presented, 68 per cent. were by teachers and by research fellows, 20 per cent. by scientists connected with commercial concerns, and the remaining 12 per cent. emanated from government bureaus and other non-commercial organizations. Even apart from mere statistics, the nature of the papers shows a very close cooperation between the departments of physics in universities and the research departments of the electric manufacturing companies. Practical identical topics are treated by both, and one could hardly find a confirmation of the old belief that physical laws are discovered by college professors and then handed over to practical men for application. This present harmonious state of affairs should be very encouraging to both groups of scientists, and, in providing a direct channel for practical uses of new discoveries, it is a mainly ideal from the point of view of humanity at large."

"Those versed in the affairs of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will find no such marked parallel connection between professors of electrical engineering and practising engineers. It seems that in this country, with a few exceptions teachers of electrical engineering have been forced by external circumstances—or have voluntarily agreed—to limit their activities to teaching undergraduates and to supervising the work of a few advanced students. This, of course, is also a necessary activity in the industry, and the high standards, both mental and moral, of our young electrical engineers are a glowing tribute to the teaching profession. The questions here raised and which deserve comment are these: What are the reasons why the sum total of the original contributions by our professors of

Scientific Discoveries

College professors who used to make most of the discoveries in science, are now being run hard by the "practising" scientists in the laboratories of big industrial companies. At least this is true in the physical sciences, we are told by an editorial writer in The Electrical World (New York). In engineering, he says, it looks as if the teachers had abdicated entirely in favor of their "practical" brethren. The he does not consider an ideal condition. The theorist and the practical man, he thinks, should continually keep in touch and move up the hill of progress hand in hand. In beginning his discussion, this writer says that if the man-on-the-street were asked how discoveries in physical sciences are made to serve human needs, say through electrical apparatus, he would probably venture a guess that unnamed inventors and college professors make discoveries. But, he continues:

"As a matter of fact, the tendency in our industry has unmistakably been away from such a state of affairs and toward an integration of mental as well as of physical resources. Just as large manufacturing companies have found it to be their advantage to control sources of their principal raw supplies and transportation, so they also have found it indispensable to employ physicists, chemists and inventors of the highest rank, to be assured of 'private wires' from nature's own laboratory. Of late the names of the leading industrial scientists have become as widely known as those of productive scholars connected with institutions of learning."

"The titles of subjects and the character of employment of the authors of the papers presented at the recent meeting of the American Physical Society in Washington are rather illuminating from the point of view of this changing character of the relation between pure and applied science. Out of the seventy-seven papers presented, 68 per cent. were by teachers and by research fellows, 20 per cent. by scientists connected with commercial concerns, and the remaining 12 per cent. emanated from government bureaus and other non-commercial organizations. Even apart from mere statistics, the nature of the papers shows a very close cooperation between the departments of physics in universities and the research departments of the electric manufacturing companies. Practical identical topics are treated by both, and one could hardly find a confirmation of the old belief that physical laws are discovered by college professors and then handed over to practical men for application. This present harmonious state of affairs should be very encouraging to both groups of scientists, and, in providing a direct channel for practical uses of new discoveries, it is a mainly ideal from the point of view of humanity at large."

"Those versed in the affairs of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will find no such marked parallel connection between professors of electrical engineering and practising engineers. It seems that in this country, with a few exceptions teachers of electrical engineering have been forced by external circumstances—or have voluntarily agreed—to limit their activities to teaching undergraduates and to supervising the work of a few advanced students. This, of course, is also a necessary activity in the industry, and the high standards, both mental and moral, of our young electrical engineers are a glowing tribute to the teaching profession. The questions here raised and which deserve comment are these: What are the reasons why the sum total of the original contributions by our professors of electrical engineering to methods useful in the industry is not greater than it is? and, Why is it that the voluntary co-operation between professors of engineering and their practising confreres is not nearly so close or pronounced as between the teaching and practising physicists?"

Old Legion Traces White Indian in Roving Scotchmen

New Orleans, July 21. (A.P.)—The recent discovery of so-called "white Indians" on the isthmus of Panama by the Marsh expedition has unleashed its legend in New Orleans, versed in the romantic lore of Central and South America.

An expedition of Scotsmen, some say, settled in Darien in the autumn of 1698 by authorization of the Scotch parliament. This expedition, numbering some 1200 persons, included four ministers of the Church of Scotland, who went along to establish a presbyterian organization, and it is told that because of their ascetic tendencies, some of the sturdy Scotch families rebelled against them, and were banished from the settlement.

Later, it is said, others of the settlers were driven away by the Spaniards, and it is thought likely many of them fled into the jungles and remained. This, if the supposition is correct, might account for the white Indians.

But the San Blas tribe of Indians have a different story. Many years ago, they say, so long ago that no one can recall the date, a band of white men came to Darien and set about to rob the red men of their wealth. In their exploitations, however, the pale face visitors incurred the displeasure of an evil spirit, and soon they died. Their spirits, so the story goes, being accused, were driven into the fever-laden jungles where they stayed forevermore. That is the legend of the San Blas tribe.

According to their oldest chiefs, no San Blas could inter-marry with another race. The law still holds, and so strictly is it observed that even now a white man visiting their villages is carefully watched. But there are tales of Poochontases even among the San Blas, and they say that some of the women of the tribe ran away with pale face men, whom they married, only to be slain later or their babies killed a few days after birth.

It is thought improbable by these Indian historians that the white Indian is of Spanish origin, for the men of Spain were never referred to by the Indians as white men, but as

French Rock Bottom Plan is Not an Ultimatum

Plan for Evacuation of the Ruhr Submitted—U. S. Fliers at Kirkwall—60 Natives Perish on Burning Steamer.

TO AMEND IRISH TREATY.

LONDON, July 30.

Legislation to amend the Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland is foreshadowed in the newspapers. It is stated the judicial committee of the Privy Council, which was recently entrusted with the task of examining the position the position created by Ulster's refusal to appoint a representative on the Boundary Commission, has unanimously decided that the only way to constitute a commission is by new legislation in the Imperial Parliament which would bind both the northern and southern governments of Ireland. The British Government is said to contemplate introducing a Bill at an early date, although it is recognized such a measure would be severely controversial and would create serious trouble for the Ministry and prolong the session of parliament.

HERRIOT MAKES ROCKBOTTOM PROPOSAL.

LONDON, July 31.

The new French proposal embodying Premier Herriot's rockbottom offer in concessions to break the deadlock in the Inter-Allied Conference, was handed to Prime Minister MacDonald at 4 o'clock to-day and laid before the chief delegates, who were gathered in the Prime Minister's room, House of Commons. The French delegates hope the proposals will bring the Allied delegates together on methods of launching the Dawes plan and at the same time reconcile the International Bankers' security for the Dawes plan loan to Germany. If the new plans fail, the French say, they have nothing more to offer. They do not submit the scheme in any sense of an ultimatum, they emphasize that they are not looking out of the window toward the

60 NATIVES PERISH ON BURNING STEAMER.

MONOLEA, July 29.

Sixty natives are believed to have perished when the motor ship Augustan burned off the Coast of Camiguin Island, in the Sea of Mindanao, says a telegram received here from the commander of constabulary in Misami. The telegram stated the Inter-Island steamer Antonio Costa rescued about sixty persons from the burning vessel. The Augustan was a wooden steamer, 195 tons, built in Fort Ludlow in 1879, and owned by the Augustan Coconut Company. She plied between the Southern Islands of the Philippines.

THE PLAN OF EVACUATION.

LONDON, July 31.

The semi-official Havas Agency of France is in a position to give the first summary of the Ruhr evacuation plan submitted at the Inter-Allied Conference here and elaborated under the direction of M. J. Seydoux. After the floating of the loan of eight hundred million gold marks by Germany, French and Belgian troops would evacuate Hanen. After the is-use of each of the three slices of the two billion German industrial railroad bonds, French and Belgian troops would evacuate successively Dortmund, Bochum and Essen. If the markets were unable to absorb the issue of two billion German industrial railroad bonds, the troops, nevertheless, would definitely leave Ruhr by August 16th, 1926, on condition that the Reichstag would have fulfilled all the obligations of the Dawes plan. The arbitration formula as finally drafted will apply to disagreements of the reparations committee concerning defaults and non-execution of German industrial contracts and appeals from decisions of reparations commission.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY AT THE LEVEL CROSSING.

NEWCASTLE, Ont., July 30.

Four persons were killed and three injured, two seriously, when a motor car in which they were riding, was struck by a fast freight train at Adams Crossing, a few miles from here, shortly afternoon to-day. The dead are Mrs. and Miss Burroughes, of Newcastle; Mrs. Stewart, of Toronto; Morris Cambridge, a boy, of Gladstone Ave., Toronto. The injured are the parents of the Cambridge boy and James Cambridge, another son. Mrs. Cambridge and her son James are said to be in a critical condition.

A MIX-UP WITH K.K.K.

LANCASTER, Mass., July 30.

After a night of disorders and clashes in which scores were injured, a crowd of men who had engaged in a night of hostilities with members and spectators at a Ku Klux Klan meeting in a field near here, were dispersed with the arrival of additional State patrolmen to-day. Between 500 and 800 men had engaged in the fighting.

FLEISCHMANN DIVORCED.

PARIS, July 30.

A divorce on the grounds of abandonment to-day has been granted to Mrs. Laura G. Hyland Hemingway Fleischmann, wife of Julius Fleischmann, former Mayor of Cincinnati. A fortnight ago Mr. Fleischmann, the great rival, admitted his wife was suing for divorce in the Paris courts. While the terms of the decree are not made known, and while Mr. Fleischmann refused to discuss them it is understood they included a settlement of $5,000,000 on Mrs. Fleischmann. Mr. and Mrs. Fleischmann were married in 1920. Both had been married previously and divorced.

DRUSCILLA LEDREW, Cupids.

The death took place at the General Hospital, St. John's, on June 29th, 1924, of Druscilla, wife of Henry Ledrew of Cupids and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bishop of Burnt Head, Conception Bay. The deceased was in her 41st year. Death came unexpectedly to her relatives and many friends as she was ill but a few days. A small pimple appeared on her lip and was not taken seriously until an examination showed that blood poisoning had set in. She was then immediately rushed to the General Hospital at St. John's, where she succumbed a few days later. The deceased was a very popular lady, being Vice-President of the Ladies' Aid, active in all social and public functions, and a regular and devout member of her church. Her casket was beautifully decorated with many wreaths and flowers, which showed the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her. Her death has been a severe blow to her aged parents and husband, who is left with five children, the eldest being about fifteen years. She leaves beside the above mentioned to mourn their sad loss one sister, Mrs. Hubert Bishop of Burnt Head, Cupids; four brothers, Christopher of Cupids, William of Sydney, N.S., and Azariah and Ronald of Alaska, Saksatchewan.

A SILESIA LABOR STRIKE.

WARSAW, July 30.

A general strike has been voted by all labour unions in Silesia effective to-day. A Warsaw despatch last Friday said more than 30,000 factory workers in Silesia had gone on strike because of the introduction of longer working hours. The Government was said to be attempting to obtain concessions from employers.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

THE FOOLISH DAUGHTER.

We were talking the other day about in-laws, about a mother-in-law who plucky has no use for her daughter's husband. "Do you want to know whose fault that is, to my way of thinking?" said one of the group.

We expressed our desire to know. "It's Louise's own fault," she said. (Louise is the daughter.) "I don't see how you can say that," said another woman. "Why, I've heard Louise say over and over again how she cares for the most in the world don't get on together."

"Doubtless," said the other woman drily. "But I know Louise even better than you do, and I know this, whenever she has a disagreement with Charles she goes over to her mother's and just fills her up with stuff about him. How mean Charles is about money; and how irritable he is; and how he won't let her do this and that that the other women do. And Mrs. Jackson gets all worked up over it and wishes her daughter had never married Charles. And then Louise and Charles make it up and Louise forgets all the things she said, and doesn't feel that way any more."

"Charles Doesn't Kiss Her." "But Mrs. Jackson doesn't make it up. Charles doesn't kiss her and do something nice for her. And naturally she doesn't get over feeling sore with him and thinking he's an awful tyrant. And that makes her act stiff and queer with him and that makes him dislike her. "You may think that I imagine all this. But I know both Louise and her mother pretty well, and I've heard them both talk and I have a hunch

The Broken Friendship.

I have even known wives and husbands who committed the supreme blunder of passing on to their own people sharp things that the other partner had said about them, in what he or she believed was matrimonial privacy; or of passing on to husband or wife some sharp thing that one of their in-laws said about him or her. I know of no instance where a woman who had greatly enjoyed the intimacy with her sister and her husband, passed on to her own husband some things her sister had said about him in a moment of irritation. He never forgets and the intimacy was completely broken up. She has tried to patch it up but it can't be done. How much simpler to have kept her mouth shut in the first place!

Easily Bruised.

All human relationships are delicate things easily pitched and broken and spoiled, but none so delicate, none requiring so much tact and wisdom as that between in-laws. It will add greatly to most people's happiness to remember this, and try not to inflame in-laws against each other to gratify one's feelings in a moment of irritation.

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHY PIMPLES

On Face, Neck and Chest. Were Hard, Large and Red. Lasted Six Months.

"My trouble began with pimples on my face, neck and chest. The pimples were hard, large and red and fastened and itched very badly, especially at night. The irritation caused me to scratch and the scratching caused eruptions. The trouble lasted about six months. "I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they afforded relief, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Harriet Gordon, 617 S. Elm St., Spokane, Wash., June 4, 1923.

TAKE IT EASY.

Some fellows always are excited, they rant by night and day; they know of wrongs that should be righted without an hour's delay; and heedless men are so benighted they do not whoop and brag. I see my worried neighbors passing in grim, despondent bands, and they're slacking and slacking, and wringing of their hands; our famed palladium is passing, our bulwark broken stands. They scold me as I rest serenely beneath my upas tree; why do I sit, untroubled, queenly, and drink my ginger tea, when everything is going meanly, and peace and virtue flee. I say to them, "To weep and grieve'll accomplish nothing fine; you cannot kill a single evil by weeping tears of brine; you cannot rid a field of weevil by sending up a whine. If getting mad and raising thunder would purify the air, or rend a single ill asunder, I'd yell and tear my hair; but since it won't, 'twould be a blunder to leave my easy chair. A lot of evils grind and bore us; I've spotted one or two; perchance dark days are strung before us, without much hope in view; but I won't join the frantic chorus—some way we'll muddle through. And he who sits in peace and quiet beside his happy's hole, and reads the "Hins on Health and Diet with calm and tranquil soul, will help as much as those who riot and talk of doom and dole."

Radical Body Manoeuvring

TO CONTROL THE WHEAT POOL.

WINNIPEG.—Unanimity of opinion as to the desirability of establishing a central selling agency in Winnipeg for the wheat pools of the West makes such a project practically certain, according to those in close touch with the situation here. It is not expected, however, that definite arrangements will be made until after the election of the permanent directorate of the Saskatchewan pool. The Manitoba wheat pool has also not yet attained its quota of 1,000,000 acres signed up, and, consequently, cannot be regarded as yet as in the realm of certainties. The Alberta pool has already established its own selling agency in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The recently published figures by the latter showing the average prices obtained for their grain has been severely criticized by local grain men. The contention that the farmers identified with the pool received more for their wheat than those on the outside is refuted by grain exchange men, who contend that the Alberta figures are not correct. The Grain Trade News here alleges that the prices quoted by the Alberta wheat pool could only have been obtained if the grain had been held and sold around the high marks this spring and summer, in which cases, it is stated, the carrying charges would have largely eaten up the profits.

London Letter

(By PANTON HOUSE for the Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 4.—With so many thousands of Canadians here for the British Empire Exhibition, Dominion Day gatherings were this week the largest that London has ever seen. Over 2,000 guests attended the reception by P. C. Larkin, High Commissioner for Canada, assisted by his daughter, Miss Aileen Larkin. In the evening the High Commissioner presided at a Dominion Day dinner, attended by the Prince of Wales and a large company that included J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Colonies, and E. H. Armstrong, Prime Minister of Nova Scotia.

THE EMPIRE DANCE.

Another great function in honor of our visitors from all parts of the Empire was the reception, ball and concert held on June 30, given by the Lord Mayor and Corporation of the City of London at the Guildhall. The Great Hall had a temporary dancing-floor for the occasion; the Royal Artillery band played there and in the Library. Refreshments were served in the crypt, the most ancient part of the building, a relic of the Guildhall built in 1411-35. Among the guests, of whom there were over 2,000, were the High Commissioners for Canada and Newfoundland, and Agents-General for British Columbia, Nova Scotia, Ontario and Quebec.

CANADIAN EDITORS' TOUR.

The party of 170 Canadian newspaper representatives who arrived in London this week are not letting the grass grow under their feet. Besides attending all kinds of private functions and inspecting London newspaper offices, they will have visited Wembley, Richmond, Hampton Court and the House of Commons, spent a day with the Atlantic Fleet and appeared at the King's Garden party. Most of them were present at the Dominion Day reception, and another reception at Kensington Palace, where they were presented to Princess Louise, the Duchess of Connaught and Lady Patricia Ramsay.

Fashions and Fads.

The very short cape may fall in a cascade at the side, and be trimmed with buttons. The light cape of satin, with a scarf collar, is ideal to wear over the lace evening gown. Brocade slippers and black pearls are delightful accessories to a sheath gown of black satin. A small, untrimmed hat, and a scarf of printed silk are worn with a tailored suit of satin. Very rich and colorful embroidery is used on a straight frock of satin or crepe mousseline. A sleeveless jacket of red flannel is worn over a frock of yellow flannel with touches of red. A straight, short-sleeved frock of black satin has a pleated jabot of white crepe at one side. Striped flannel is used for a one-piece sports frock with an overblouse frock and straight back. A slip coat-frock has a narrow surplice shawl-collar and a cape-back of contrasting material.

ST. JOHN'S.

The results will not be apparent until the pool election returns have been announced. The Farmers' Union represents a new radical movement on the prairies. Over one hundred locals have already been formed, the great majority in Saskatchewan. Collective action by the farmers to obtain their serious conflict with the older grain aims is the principle upon which the growers' associations, but consideration stands. Strikes and in-able entity is in evidence. The limitation method to be applied to corporations and governments are the present discontent on the prairie. C.L.B. Cadets

Haig weather still on top at the C.L.B. Cadets Camp at Topsail Tuesday was spent in the usual routine manner. Capt. R. W. Sheppard was Orderly Officer for Tuesday and Wednesday, and Portugal Cove Company can all feel proud of his work. Lance Corp. Whitten has been appointed Postmaster in charge of all Camp mails, and he is always on the job. A prize has been offered for the best kept tent. Lads are all keen on winning this prize plus as they have the championship for the year.

Yesterday afternoon the annual Camp Sports were held. The Battalion Brass Band and Pyramid squad were on duty helping the Mount Cashel Orphanage. The prizes were won by the following:

C.L.B. CAMP SPORTS, July 30th.
100 Yards, Senior—1st, E. Cranford; 2nd, D. Badcock.
100 Yards, Junior—1st, R. White, Grand Falls; 2nd, J. Greely, Portugal Cove.

1/4 Mile, Senior—1st, D. Badcock; 2nd, W. Calk.
1/4 Mile, Junior—1st, R. White, Grand Falls; 2nd, L. Duffett.
3 Legged Race, Senior—1st, H. Coburne, LeMoine (Pta.) Grand Falls; 2nd, Bandmen Cranford, Sergt. Mitchell.

Boat and Barrel, Junior—1st, W. Carson, Grand Falls; 2nd, J. Greely, Portugal Cove.

Band Bar Swing—1st, E. Cranford; 2nd, Sergt. L. Hooker.

Kit Race—1st, J. Snow; 2nd, G. Allan, Grand Falls.

1 Mile, Senior—1st, J. Ralph; 2nd, Pte. LeMoine, Grand Falls.

220 Dash, Junior—1st, R. White, Grand Falls; 2nd, G. Noseworthy.

Leap Frog, Junior—1st, Ptes. Snow and Crane; 2nd, pair, Ptes. Snow and Crane.

Cavalry Tournament—1st, Pte. Lieut. H. Rendell and Pte. Taylor; 2nd, pair, Ptes. Waugh and Frost, Grand Falls.

3 Mile Road Race—1st, J. Ralph; 2nd, Pte. Crane.

Football Sixes—St. John's vs. Outport Company; won by St. John's, 1 corner.

Relay Race—Grand Falls vs. City. Won by City, Cranford, Rees and Badcock.

Lieut. Eric Jerrett acted as Referee. Private Jordan Greely, of Portugal Cove Company, has been promoted Lance Corporal for his general efficiency in Camp. Lance Corporal L. Wiseman and W. Calk have also received their first stripes. Private A. Norman was also appointed Acting Lance Corporal. Congratulations, Company Sergt. Major Constable of Grand Falls is Acting Regt. Sergt. Major. Well done Grand Falls.

During Tuesday evening the representatives of Camp visited the home of Dr. Fred Burden, the Chief Medical Officer, who has been most attentive to his duties in rendering medical assistance and seranaded him, voting him one of the most popular officers on duty. The genial doctor acknowledged the compliments paid him by the Camp Contingent very modestly, and assured them that the lady had always his hearty good wishes. The Colonel and Headquarters Staff are very grateful to the following gentlemen who very generously and voluntarily contributed towards the heavy burden of this year's camp: Hon. Sir Edgar Bowring, $50.00; East End Baking Co., $5.00; Mr. James Ayre, $5.00; Old Comrade John Colyer, one of the first members of the Brigade in Newfoundland, $10.00; and $5.00 from ex-Private No. 378. Thank you, gentlemen very sincerely for your encouragement and support.

Last night at nine o'clock the Band were motored in from Mount Cashel and provided excellent music for the officers' Dance in the Orange Hall. The dance was very jolly and the social event of the camp, being attended by the Cadets and the youth and beauty of Topsail with many of the visitors from the city. The tea tables at the Garden Party were presided over by Mesdames A. Pittman of the Rectory, Tasker Cook, Perlin, W. H. Hynes, George Hiscocke, Wm. Healdy, Hibbs, John Chaytor, Tobias Moscor, Fred Chaytor, Edward Chaytor, Alex. Chaytor, Charles Mercer; and Misses Pittman and Hynes.

The gatekeeper was Mr. Alexander Squires, who collected nearly fifty dollars admission fees. The visitors all voted the afternoon most enjoyable. The gross proceeds were about $300.

To-day, Thursday, at noon the 1st Newfoundland Regiment C.L.B. Cadets will be officially inspected by His Excellency the Governor, who will be accompanied in all probability by the Vice-Admiral of the North Atlantic Fleet, Sir James A. Ferguson, K.C.M.G., G. of H.M.S. Calcutta and Sir Archibald Gibb, whom we understand, afterwards will be lunching at the country residence of his Worship Mayor Cook.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

TRAIN ACCIDENT ON LONG I.
NEW YORK, July 31.

A woman was killed and twenty seven persons injured, thirteen of them seriously, late this afternoon when several cars of an express train on the Long Island Railroad jumped the rails, one of them sideswiping an electric locomotive on an adjacent track at Woodside L.I. The 13 seriously injured were brought to the Pennsylvania Station in a special ambulance train and then transported to Bellevue Hospital.

FULL PREPARATIONS FOR 500 MILE FLIGHT TO ICELAND.
KIRKWALL, SCOTLAND, July 31.

Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, Lieut. Leigh Wade and Lieut. Erik Nelson, the American Army round-the-world aviators with their mechanics, Lieutenant L. P. Arnold, Sergt. A. Morgan and Lieut. John Harding, Jr., who arrived here this afternoon from England will attempt to continue their transatlantic jump to-morrow morning if the weather permits. This was decided upon this evening at a conference between the aviators and Rear Admiral Magruder, commander of the United Light Cruiser-division scouting fleet. The departure will be made shortly after six o'clock in the morning on the receipt of a message concerning weather conditions from Iceland. The early take off will give the aviators plenty of daylight for the five hundred mile trip which lies before them to Hansjorden on the southeast coast of Iceland.

(On board U.S.S. Raleigh) The United States cruiser Raleigh advance guard of the United States naval vessels which are mothering the flight of the round the world fliers over the dangerous waters of Greenland and Iceland is approaching the Iceland coast. Early to-morrow morning she is expected to take the upper position near Hornsford to await the coming of the aviators. All indications point to good flying weather to-morrow when the United States airplanes are scheduled to hop off from Kirkwall Orkney Islands. By early morning the Raleigh and the destroyers Reid and Billingsly which are assigned to protect this leg of flight will be in position and ready for any call.

SQUADRON EN ROUTE TO HALIFAX.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 31. The British special service squadron comprising the Hood, the Resolute and the Adelaide sailed this morning for Halifax.

BY COMMON CONSENT.
PETERBORO, Ont., July 31.

Clasped in each others arms, the bodies of Samuel Taylor and Mrs. Joseph Sharpe were found floating on the Otonabee River near here shortly after five o'clock to-night. Coroner Young, after viewing the remains, decided that an inquest was unnecessary, that in each case death was due to suicide. The position of the bodies tightly clasped together he said gave every evidence that the act had been premeditated and there was no indication that there had been any effort on the part of either to save the other. They were both about forty years old.

DOG BITTEN BY A MAN.
MONTREAL, July 31.

Horace Greeley, in telling an inquiring young reporter that it was the unusual which constituted news, once cited that if a dog bit a man it was not news, but if a man bit a dog, to spare no expense to get to his editor. Three local men, H. B. Talley, J. B. Walford, and a Montreal Star reporter announced that they have at last tracked the Horace Greeley story to earth. While vacationing in the Laurentians, they saw a lumberman attacked by a dog which he had accidentally hit with a stone. The dog sank its teeth into the lumberman's chest, but the man, as the two went down the man sank his teeth into the dog's throat, and the two lay locked together in their grips. The dog was driven off by the party and carries a nasty scar while the man is unscathed.

GASOLINE AT SILVER LOCKS—Navy Test, 40c. per gallon; High Test, 45c. per gallon.—July 29, 31, eod

Personal

Rev. Dean Jones and Mrs. Jones who have been spending the past month in the city and outports renewing old acquaintances, left for their home, Cincinnati, Ohio, by today's express.

Messrs. Lyman, Calvert, H. Sowers, I. H. Johnson, J. McKay and H. Snow who were spending a holiday at Phippards, South East Placentia, whipping the nearby streams, returned to town Tuesday having had great success. The party secured 17 fine salmon, the average weight being 12 lbs.

NEEDS REPAIRS.—Complaint is made that the road to Cape Spear is in an impassable condition for any class of passenger. No repairs have been made to this thoroughfare for the past three years and in consequence it is strewn with boulders.

INTEREST TO HORSEMEN.
 "Without him, to-day Halifax would be without racing," is a pertinent statement which the veteran turf scribbler and starter, Frank Power, has written concerning Frank Adams of that city, whose ownership of the Exhibition Grounds has resulted in their transformation to an attractive racing plant. Mr. Adams also has the largest racing stable in that section of the country.—The Trotter and Parer.—It may be interesting to Newfoundland horsemen to know that the gentleman referred to above is also the owner of a beautiful four year old stallion sired by Burt Arworthy, 3.5.8.4. This youngster, by a name "The Great Arworthy," was a Blue Ribbon winner at Prince Edward Island last year, and is considered one of the grandest standard-bred colts in North America. This surely speaks well for Burt as a sire of beautiful colts, but it is regrettable that such a magnificent individual as he is so little appreciated by horsemen of this city.

RIFLE SHOOTING.
 An Australian's Great Record—25 Consecutive Bull's-Eyes.

The great rifle carnival at Bales N.R.A. range, finished on July 23rd, with the Empire Match.

In a team match, 8 a side, between the North London Club, the Canadians, the Australians, and the Royal Marines, under King's Prize first stage conditions (7 shots per man at 200, 500, and 600 yards), J. Shearim, a member of the Australian team, created a world's record in rifle shooting, by scoring highest possible at all the three ranges, and thus registering 105 points.

There were four sighting shots allowed, and Shearim, also scored bull's eyes with all these, two at 200 yards and one each at the other ranges, so that he had 25 consecutive bull's-eyes.

Other splendid shooting was witnessed. For the Australians, R. H. Hall, (S. Australia) scored 108, W. Keyte (Victoria) 100, G. Bryans (Queensland) 100, and G. B. Addison, son of the Australian gold medalist, 100. For the North London Rifle Club H. G. Burr, G.M., scored 101, and W. Norton and W. F. King, 100 each. For Canada, W. Hawkins, G.M., scored 100. The following was the result of the match—Australia, 792; North London Rifle Club, 777; Canada, 761; Royal Marines, 742.

The Army Rifle Association commenced the contest for the Army Championship with the shoot for the Roupell Cup, 19 shots at 300 and 600 yards. For this there were 447 competitors.

The Royal Marines also held their championship shoot, with the following results: Winner of R.M.R.A. Championship and Gold Medal: Col. Serjt. Westcott, 707. Winner of the Prince of Wales Cup: Col. Serjt. Dodds. Portsmouth Royal Marines, 266. Winner of Colquhoun Cup, Col. Serjt. Westcott, 257. Young Soldiers' Cup: Marine Ashby, Portsmouth H.Q.

A CRICKET ENTHUSIAST WRITES.
 Editor "Realms of Sport,"
 Dear Sir.—Reading last night's

Telegram, I saw with great pleasure, an article urging the revival of cricket, and I must say that I am in complete agreement with the idea, and would do all I could to revive the game.

Cricket is a game for which one must acquire a liking, but once this is acquired, it takes a great deal of looking for to find a game into which can be instilled so much spirit and team work. For the last two weeks I have been playing little games of cricket with a few other boys, and anyone who would like to revive cricket is welcome to have a game at any time. We play on Wednesday afternoon in Bannerman Park.

Thanking you for the interest which you have shown in sport generally, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
SPORTS ENTHUSIAST.

A GALA DAY AT MOUNT CASHEL.
 Thousands of People Flocked To The Grounds And Enjoyed One Of The Best Events Of The Season.

The citizens of St. John's turned out in their thousands yesterday afternoon, to attend what has always been predicted to be, the Premier Day, Mt. Cashel Garden Party. It is estimated that fully 7,000 people of all classes and creeds, were present. The day was all that could be desired and, in spite of the broiling sun, not even one case of prostration was reported, and everything to make the annual event a phenomenal success went off without the slightest hitch, while the huge gathering clearly demonstrated their demonstration of the good work done by the Christian Brothers and other buildings, after which they moved to the space allotted for the Field Sports, where they remained a considerable time, viewing the local athletes either kicking football or running races. The usual side shows, as in other years, were in evidence. There was plenty of amusement to be found in the throwing of rings, shooting the arrow, "buns" the hat, red for a fat cigar, or the throwing of a dime to try your luck on the wheel of fortune. The wheels were not patronized as well as other years. Nevertheless, a good sum was realized in this connection. Then again, energetic young ladies were on the lookout for everybody to purchase a ticket on something, whether it was a handbag, box of chocolates, box of cigars, or a dainty cake, and many other things which would readily attract customers. At 5 o'clock, when time came around for tea, the various tables were quickly filled. The ladies in waiting, who had made every preparation for this occasion, were fully rewarded for their efforts. The tea tables were overflowing with many delicacies and the appetites of all were appeased. In this department the tables had big receipts, which helped considerably in the success of the affair.

Sports Programme Proved Interesting.

In the matter of athletic numbers, the football five created big interest. Five of the League teams competed: a team from the Calcutta replaced the Saints. The latter team withdrew. After a close contest the Saints and Guards were left in the finals. This game resulted in a win for the Cadets by one goal and one corner tie nil. The winning team was: Brown, Medigan, Meaney, Callahan (2), who received handsome gold medals. The silver medals were won by the Guards team, composed of the following: Coultas, Thistle, D. Quirk, and Rose (3). Owing to the number of competitors, the pony race was run in heats. In the first heat Clarke's, Cowan's, and Skinner's ponies got away together, and a great race was witnessed over the three laps course. Cowan's pony held the lead until within fifty yards of the finish, when Skinner's pony running second, came up abreast and won out by a neck in the last few yards. The second heat was also closely contested. Brown's pony came first, with Clarke's second. The first and second ponies of the previous heats raced off in the finals. This race took place after tea and was witnessed by a large gathering. The race was very thrilling. Cowan's pony got off first and held the lead for two rounds. In the final lap Dolgor's pacer forged ahead and finished first. Cowan's came second, with Brown's third, and Clarke's fourth. Judging by the enthusiasm which prevailed yesterday, the pony race is growing in popularity each season.

The Junior League Relay Race was also a fine exhibition. Two teams entered, the B.I.S. and the T.A., who have been victorious in all these races this summer. Russell of the T.A. took the lead, over Cotter, and this was maintained by McCormack, who ran against Kent. The third runner was Nikosey, for the T.A., and Halley, for the B.I.S. With a lead in his favor Nikosey started off well, but after a short distance he stumbled, allowing Halley to take the lead, and eventually take the lead, which he increased to about five yards at the finish.

3 Mile Race.
 Perhaps the greatest event of the day was the 3 Mile Tuff Race. Only two contestants stood the line, viz: Linegar and O'Toole, our speediest long distance runners. In view of their past performances general enthusiasm prevailed as to which runner would cross the line first. After a heart braking race for the honors, both runners flashed across the line, which appeared to be neck and neck. Due to the crowd surging on the fence and blocking the way near the winning post, the judges were handicapped somewhat in their work. However, the officials soon gave their decision and announced that O'Toole had won. Many were of the opinion that the race should have been declared a dead heat. Both runners were cheered to the echo at the finish. The time by miles was as follows: 1st mile, 5.23; 2nd, 11.12, and the time for the completed course was 16min. 42.2-5 seconds, or twenty seconds behind last year's winning time.

The Pyramid Exhibition by the C. L.B. Cadets, under Instructor Dewling, was splendidly executed, and called for much applause.

The different games were carried out under the supervision of Hon. W. J. Higgins, K.C., with Messrs. C. E. Ellis, G. E. Hanlon, J. P. Croft and J. M. Tobin, as assistants. Mr. Erin Churchill was football referee. The traffic regulations were all that could be desired and not a single accident was recorded. The motor cars, busses, cabs, etc., were busily engaged moving to and from the city to the grounds, and they certainly did a running business. The police, at the entrance, directed the traffic very satisfactorily, while yeoman services were rendered inside the grounds. When the final field event of the day, (the pony race) had been brought to a close, the presentation of prizes to the winners of the various sports' events followed. Rev. Bro. Ennis, assisted by Hon. W. J. Higgins, K.C., presented the trophies in his usual graceful manner, after which a few congratulatory addresses were made, followed by ringing cheers for the Brothers and Mount Cashel.

Successful Dance.
 As a fitting wind-up to a successful day's proceedings, a dance was held in the Play Hall at night. Upwards of 500 people were present. The spacious building was specially decorated for the occasion. The music was furnished by the Mount Cashel Band, under the leadership of Mr. Arthur Bulley.

Dr. G. N. Murphy's Office will close August 6th, for two weeks. July 28, 31.

Industrial Exhibition Taking Shape

Judging by the number of manufacturing firms which have promised to support the Industrial Exhibition it looks as if the affair will be a big success. Mr. W. A. McKay the energetic organizer is meeting with a ready response and has received an assurance from the following firms that they will display their products:—Standard Manufacturing Company, Colin Campbell, Ltd., Thompson Leather Co., Harbour Grace, W. Dawe and Sons, Bay Roberts, Harvey and Co., Riverside Woolen Mills, James Baird, Ltd., Marshall Bros., W. J. Clouston, Bert Hayward, T. A. Macdonald & Co., Imperial Tobacco Co., St. John's Light and Paper Co., Moore & Co., J. B. Orr, Co., Dicks & Co., Gerald S. Doyle, Pope Bros., McCarter and Clayton, Orange Crush Bottling Co., St. John's Nail Co., Colonial Cordage Co., Ewing & Co., Meehan & Co., John Clouston, Penmar & Co., Gaden's Ltd., Horwood Lumber Co., Franklin's Agencies, Archibald Book Co., John's Shoe Co., Noble Knitting Mills, Consolidated Foundry Co., Imperial Oil Ltd., Ayre and Sons, Ltd., Bowring Bros. Ltd., Brehm Manufacturing Co., J. G. McNeil.

KILBRIDE DERBY—Drawing will take place at Kilbride Hall on or about August 12th. Parties having stags should send in immediately. Tickets now on sale at various city stores. July 31, 1924.

Prospero Sails

S. S. Prospero, Capt. Field, sailed from the Dry Dock wharf 11 a.m. yesterday, for the Cooks Hr. Service. The ship took a large freight, besides the following passengers:—Misses James, Blackmore, House, Cornick, Taylor, Bourne, Sparks, Gosse, Wells, Yates, Oke, Peters, Woodhill, Leighton, Fitzgerald, Eason, Stapleton, Templeton, Jardine, House (2), Pardy, Vatcher, Cummings, Crane, Lockyer; Messdames Marshall and three children, Blackmore, Cornick and 3 children, Walsh, Bourne, Gosse and child, Woodland, Earle, Fitzgerald and two children, Eason and three children, Burrey and two children, Batstone, Cummings, Hacking, Crane, Buckingham, Bury, Clarke, Green and two children, Clouter and child, Flynn, Hennebury, James, Misses Miller, Walsh, Parker, Whipple, Earle, Wilcox, Fifield, Newhook, Lahey, Dyke, Sheppard, Clouter, Greene, Jones, Long, Collins, Embery, Jeeves, Thorne and 35 in steerage.

Delightful Travelling Companions

Ladies leaving on vacation should be sure to take a plentiful supply of the dainty Three Flowers cosmetics, for these fragrant toilet necessities are delightful companions when holidaying. The soothing effect of the vanishing cream is most pleasant to the skin—the soft, fine "touch" of the face powder is both refreshing and stimulating, whilst the charming odor of the perfume itself adds a touch of romance to the atmosphere. Luxurious, it is true, are these dainty toilet things, yet their usefulness and practicality cannot be disputed, particularly during the vacation period. It is well to make sure that you get Three Flowers when you go to purchase your toilet requisites.

Stolen Necklace Provides Laughs in Photocomedy

Jack Holt's New Picture "Nobody's Home" Features With Fun and Thrills. One of the most laughable situations in "Nobody's Money," a Paramount picture starring Jack Holt, which will be the feature at the Majestic Theatre for the next three days begins to-day is that of the stolen necklace. This necklace passes from hand to hand at a dizzying rate of speed, everybody trying to get rid of it by passing it on to his neighbor.

From then on the pearl necklace becomes a "hot cake." Nobody wants it, yet they can't rid themselves of it. After trying many and varied methods of returning the valuable jewelry to its proper place in the Governor's safe, Holt finally succeeds in returning it unseen and breathes a sigh of relief. But he forgets to lock the safe, and Eddie, venturing along a minute later, again steals the pearls and brings them to Holt, who is almost completely overcome by the turn of events.

But with the pearls in his pocket, he proposes to the Governor's daughter and is accepted, then manages to slip the pearls back on her person without being caught red-handed. The situation of the pearl necklace is one of the most laughable things ever seen on the screen. Wanda Hawley heads an excellent supporting cast.

Keep one night next week open to see "The World's Applause" at the Majestic.

Drama of Northwest at the Nickel

Not shooting the scenes in foothills nearby the studio as a matter of convenience, but in the actual region in which the story is laid, has been responsible for making "Man's Law and God's," a Film Fox Production, starring Jack Livingston and Ethel Shannon, which is now being presented at the Nickel Theatre, sensationally one of the most enchanting pictures which ever graced the silver sheet.

The scenes are laid in the Canadian Rockies, and there the picture and sublimity of this range is unequalled on the American continent. The majesty of its peaks awes the beholder, but it is the enchanting beauty of its valleys with its rocks and rills, its cascading rivulets, its underbrush and ferns and wild flowers which make this region the paradise of the late—very few of whom, however, penetrate far enough from the railways to enjoy such vistas as are unfolded to the spectator in "Man's Law and God's." And the story told in the film, that of the courtship by proxy of a gallant young officer of the Canadian Northwest Mounted by a Seattle belle, the why and wherefore of it and what resulted when he mistook her for a fugitive and placed her under arrest, is a story which, except for a sequence filled with pathos, is exceedingly humorous, bright and cheery. The telling of such a story in a setting of such glorious, natural beauty makes of

Mr. Little also asked Hon. the Colonial Secretary to lay on the Table of the House a copy of the petition signed by the residents of Catalina asking that a Tax of 50 cents per ton be placed on all coal imported into Catalina for domestic purposes to be paid to the Road Board towards the lighting of the Public Street at Catalina.

Following is the reply:—

To His Excellency the Governor in Council:

We, the undersigned petitioners of Catalina in the Electoral District of Trinity, humbly pray that in accordance with the Act of Lighting Streets a tax of fifty cents per ton be collected on all coal imported into Catalina, the said tax to be instituted at the earliest possible convenience.

Baby Show At Bannerman Park

EXHIBITION TAKES PLACE TOMORROW.

Mothers! Mothers! Mothers! A Baby Show, for Babies under 13 months old only, will be held at Bannerman Park on to-morrow afternoon at 3 p.m. We would like to have every baby in St. John's who is under thirteen months old in this exhibition. There will be four groups of babies. The first group will consist of all babies up to and including three months old. The second group will consist of babies four, five and six months old; the third group, those who are seven, eight and nine months old; and the fourth group, those who are ten, eleven and twelve months old. Prizes will be given in all four groups for the best "all round baby." In judging for the prizes the baby's skin, its general tone (whether the muscles are firm or flabby), its weight, general brightness, general appearance, and whether it is properly dressed will all be considered. There will also be special prizes for the most hygienically clothed baby in each group. The baby show will end with a baby carriage parade and prizes will be given for the most beautifully decorated baby carriages.

To-morrow is the day, Bannerman Park the place, 3 p.m. the time. Come mothers, and bring your babies.

M. D. Leaves for Hampden

In connection with the outbreak of Typhoid at Hampden, Dr. Brehm, Medical Health Officer despatched Dr. W. Templeman to the scene by S. S. Prospero yesterday to investigate. Arrangements are being made to send along a trained nurse as well.

All That is Necessary

You do not have to use other soap in hot or cold, hard or soft water. Pearlina contains all the soap necessary, and does the work of washing thoroughly and economically. Every woman who uses Pearlina saves hours of time and can show cleaner results. Pearlina for easy washing has no equal. Ask your grocer to give you Pearlina and see for yourself its marvelous effects.—July 31st

C. OF E. PICNIC—The Cathedral Sunday School picnic, took place at Hafey's Farm, yesterday afternoon, and proved a very enjoyable affair. The children were conveyed to the grounds in motor buses at noon. During the afternoon various games were indulged in, and a happy time was spent by all. The Women's Home Missionary Society attended to the catering. Return to town was made at 7 p.m.

Further Destruction From Forest Fires

EIGHT DWELLINGS AND SEVEN BARNY DESTROYED AT CAPLIN COVE.

A message received last evening by Messrs. Cramm and Puddeter representatives of Bay de Verde district from Mr. Walter Cull, states that a forest fire which raged at Caplin Cove on Tuesday had destroyed eight dwelling houses, besides seven barns and a number of outhouses. Immediately on receipt of the message the Inspector General was communicated with, and instructions will be sent to Sgt. Farly, of Carbonar, and Constable Forsey of Old Perlic.

H. B. Thomson, Optician, will be at Carbonar from Monday, July 28th until Thursday, July 31st. Office over J. P. Guy's store, Harbor Grace, Friday, August 1st to August 4th. Office, at LeDrew's Hotel, Bay Roberts, Tuesday, August 5th to August 7th. Office, at Mrs. D. Taylor's. "Please make your appointments early."

A straight coat-frock is open in front to show a panel of the all-over pleated frock worn under it.

Satin is here—ostensibly to stay—as we see it on the streets, and in the restaurants and ballrooms.

The Nfld. Nursing & Industrial Association

The voluntary workers of this Association are prepared for a busy day while the S.S. Rosalind is in port. Last week, beside selling garments and goods, hand-knitted and woven by the Outport fisherfolk of Newfoundland, they were fortunate enough to secure a number of new orders. Their "Nania Knitting Depot," which has been kindly lent to them by the Reid Newfoundland Company, in their new building on Duckworth Street (and facing Water Street) will be open daily from 9.30 a.m.

A Baby was born to-day Its Father died yesterday

Tragic? Yes! But that isn't all. The young husband left his wife almost penniless. He had been so healthy and vigorous, he thoughtlessly put off securing life assurance until—too late.

Man! Life Insurance is something more than a duty. Fail to avail yourself of its advantages and your heart will fill with remorse when you realize that you are no longer insurable and are passing on, leaving wife and little ones unprovided for.

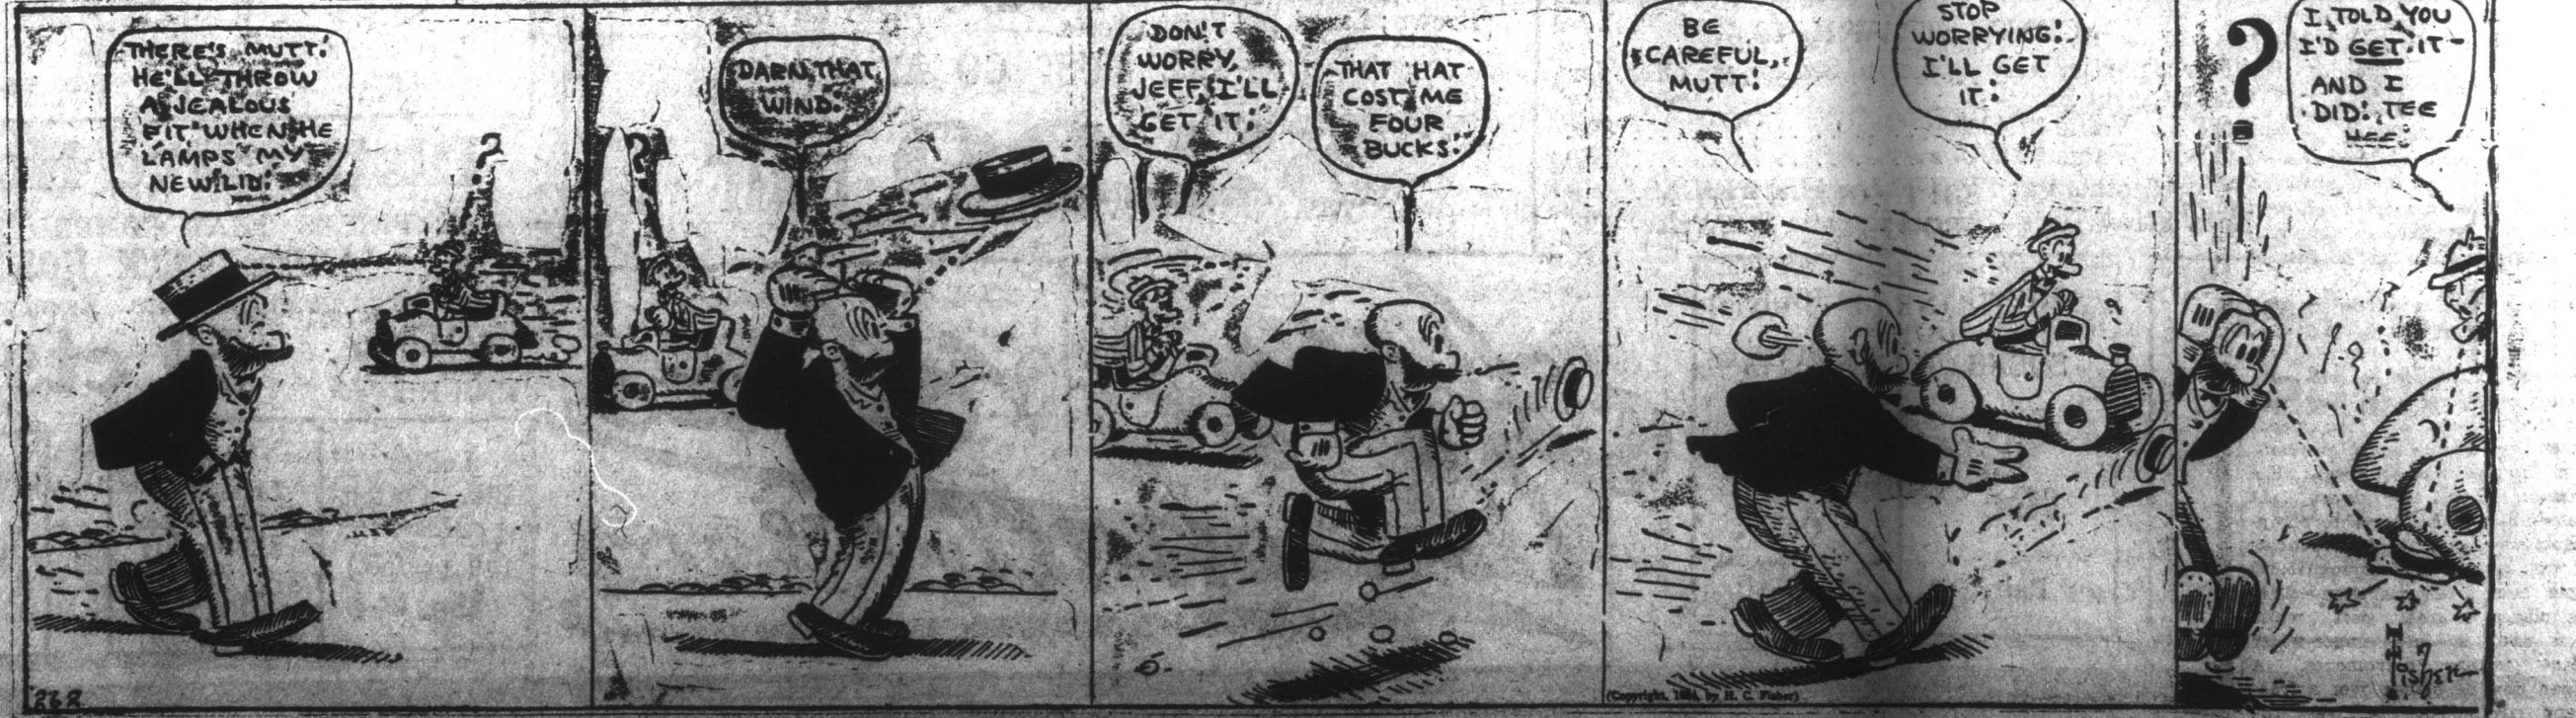

Is your estate protected against the contingency of your sudden death? If not, let us send you particulars of the Imperial Home Protection Policy, so that you can secure one while you are in good health.

You'll say it's the wisest thing you ever did.

Many British Vessels Salvaged

Vancouver, B.C., July 29 (Canadian Press)—Five hundred merchant vessels valued at $320,000,000 were salvaged by British during the war, according to Sir Frederick Williams, K.C.B., chief director of naval salvage during the war for the British Government, stated in an interview here. Sir Frederick and Lady Young are on a pleasure trip around the world and stopped off here en route to England.

During the entire war period Sir Frederick was director of salvage attached to the Grand Fleet under Lord Jellicoe, and had personal jurisdiction over all salvage operations, naval, auxiliary and merchantmen. Some of the astonishing results of these salvage efforts are now published for the first time.

"One more than one occasion," declared Sir Frederick, "we were able to salvage torpedoed food ships in time to use the food, and on one particular ship from Canada, 12,000 lbs. of foodstuffs were recovered, perfectly fit for use. The salvaging was not confined to British ships, but included the ships of all Allied nations." Speaking of many hard and yet wonderful experiences in dealing with the salvage of battleships, Sir Frederick said, in answer to a question, that the raising of the Vindictive at Ostend in 1918 was his biggest achievement. This warship was raised along with three cruisers, Iphigenia, Intrepid and Thetis, which had been sunk purposely in Bruges Canal to embarrass the enemy. He also had charge of the Lion, Admiral Beatty's flagship, when it went into North for repairs after the battle of Jutland, and salvaged the first captured German submarine, the UC5, at Harwich, with all mines set in her tubes ready for spreading.

One of the most thrilling stories of salvage was that related regarding the K13, sunk in the Gairloch on her trials.

Sir Frederick said: "While a good many of His Majesty's ships were in trouble at one time or another, without anything being heard about them, perhaps the most spectacular salvage, which included human life, was that of the K13, the super-submarine. Built to give great speed on the surface, the object being to keep abreast of the main fleet, she was 300 feet long, with 2,000 tons displacement, and carried two 6-inch guns. She was oil-driven and was running trials on the Gairloch at the time of the disaster. She had been rejected from the builders and the captain decided to have a final diving trial himself. There were 83 officers and men on board, including representatives from the shipyard. Unfortunately, in diving someone neglected to close the ventilators in the engine room, which close automatically by touching a button, and as a consequence water rushed in, and the ship sank in the bottom of the Gairloch in fifteen minutes.

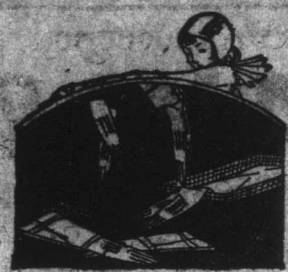

"Forty-eight of the crew were in the forward end, closed in water-tight compartments, the remaining 35 in the engine-room being drowned. Captain Goodheart, D.S.O., a guest, decided after consultation with the captain of the ship, Captain Godfrey Herbert, D.S.O., to use compressed air to counteract the weight of the water on the conning tower, to open it. Top much air was evidently used, and when the screws were released, Captain Goodheart was blown out and killed against the beams.

"The captain of the ship also was blown out of the tower, but succeeded in gaining the surface without hurt, and through his knowledge a supply pipe was inserted into the submarine and food passed down to the imprisoned crew. The bow was then lifted by the Admiralty salvage team, and all of the 45 men rescued after having been imprisoned 15 hours during which time they had been able to converse with those outside by means of the Morse code, a small lamp having been lashed to the periscope and connected with the control room.

"Oxy-acetylene burners were used to bore a hole in the ship. It broke away from the wires, and sank again, but was raised by pumping in compressed air.

"The Asturias, a big merchantman used as a hospital ship, torpedoed by the enemy while carrying all her lights, was salvaged under the personal direction of Sir Frederick, after she had gone upon the rocks at Bolt Head, near Dartmouth. There was no time to lift some of the torpedoed ships, until after the armistice, and of course very few of those now still under water will pay for the cost of salvage.

Of great interest is the big development of salvage equipment in recent years. Sir Frederick declared that 15 per cent of the present efficiency of salvage equipment was developed during the war and the instruments now used all over the world are modified on the final war equipment. His department handled the largest plant ever assembled. The portable pumping equipment used on the Asturias was capable of pumping 15,000 tons per hour. Electric submersible pumps played a great part, while there is now in use under-water acetylene cutting instruments. A date can now be placed over a fracture and riveted by the diver, the principle being that of firing a gun the bolt receiving the force of a discharge sufficient to send it right through the plate, where it swells and becomes properly riveted. Submarine photography and searchlights with electrical methods for locating wrecks, were also most valuable adjuncts.

To show the effectiveness of the new development, Sir Frederick said that after the war the whole of the Belgian coast had to be cleared. Some of the cruisers were embedded in eighteen feet of clay and ten feet of mud. Nine-inch lifting wires were used, and 32 had to be placed under each ship. Under the old arrangement, it actually took his workers two months to get one wire fast under one ship. It then occurred to him to use a fire float similar to one he had seen throwing water over a high building on the Thames. A submarine monitor was requisitioned from the Admiralty, and a water jet played on the mud. With 120 pounds to the square inch all wires were placed and three ships raised in three weeks.

One of Sir Frederick's biggest jobs prior to the war was the raising of the Gladiator, sunk in collision with the American ship St. Paul in the Solent. This ship was raised only because she was in the way of traffic.

Harnessing the Humber

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER DEVELOPMENT AND PAPER MANUFACTURING PROJECT IN THE HUMBER VALLEY MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

"On June 8th, 1923 the S.S. Canadian Coaster arrived in Humbermouth with a full cargo of machinery, flour and feed for the Northern Construction Company, sub-contractors for Sir W. G. Armstrong Whitworth and Company, Limited. Among the cargo are seven small railway locomotives and five steam shovels."

The above clipping from 'The Western Star,' active organ of the West Coast, published at Curling, Newfoundland, records in its humble fashion probably the greatest step in industrial progress ever made by the Ancient Colony.

The Humber Valley Hydro Electric Scheme is now an accomplished fact and the immense natural resources of the West Coast of Newfoundland will at last be opened up. Thousands of acres of spruce and fir stretching along the Humber and inland to Grand, Deer, and Sandy Lakes are being harvested for their valuable papermaking woods. Hand in hand with logging operations will go an adequate reforestation policy which will make the supply of timber inexhaustible.

A paper mill of four hundred tons per day capacity is being built at Corner Brook. The power plant will be located at the South-East corner of Deer Lake.

In the early part of 1923 work done included:

- (1) Clearing of the right of way of the Canal, that is, the removal of timber, brush, etc., from a strip three hundred and fifty feet wide and extending along the whole eight miles of the Canal course.
- (2) The clearing of the right of way for the penstock from the Canal to the power house, a strip of the same width running four thousand feet as well as a large area at Deer Lake end of the Canal, where the control system for the water before it enters the penstocks will be established.
- (3) Clearing the timber for a large area of land to be flooded at the upper end of Grand Lake, and the clearing of site for the Power House on the margin of Deer Lake.

THE CANAL.

Following the arrival of the S.S. Canadian Coaster the Northern Construction proceeded to establish headquarters at Humber Canal Station, Mile Post 367½. The building of sheds for housing twelve locomotives, machine shops, carpenter shops, smithy stores, work houses, residences for officials, were carried on throughout June and July, 1923.

The contract of the Northern Construction Company embodied the construction of a Canal, one hundred feet wide at the bottom and eight miles long, between Grand Lake and Deer Lake. The material to be removed from these cuts which varied from grade to fifty-three feet consisted of muskeg, hardpan, boulders of granite and hidden ledges of sandstone and shale. The quantity to be removed is about 6,000,000 cubic yards. The Canal when completed will enable about 4,000 cubic feet of water per second to pass.

For despatch in moving the enormous quantity of material the Constructing Company has eight Buxrus Drag Lines on operation. Four of these are class 24, capacity 3½ yards; one No. 225 and one No. 320, capacity six yards each; two class 7, capacity one yard.

For blasting the hardpan and hidden ledges of rock ahead of the drag lines the Constructing Company is using Portable Well Drills. The blasting of boulders on the right of way and also the grading of the rocky Canal bottom is being accomplished by the use of three Gasoline Engine driven portable compressors and Jackhammers.

DAMMING JUNCTION BROOK.

To W. I. Bishop Company, Constructing Engineers has been entrusted the design and construction of the Huge Dam across Junction Brook. This Dam becomes necessary in order to raise the level of Grand Lake twenty-seven feet.

To provide for its construction a temporary dam known as a "crib" dam or cofferdam was built early in 1923 across the outlet of Grand Lake. The cofferdam or crib dam consisted of a central section made up of alternate cribs and sluices and two wing dams one at either end.

The wing dam consisted of a sheet piling core and rubble slopes. There are twenty-two piers and twenty-one sluices, each fifteen feet wide. The sluices were fitted with stop-logs to hold back the waters of Junction Brook when the Company started work on the dam foundations.

The main dam which is of the Ambursen type in addition to accomplishing its principal purpose of holding back the waters of Junction Brook will also function as a railway bridge whose piers and girders are embodied in its concrete bulk.

The dam when completed will be seventy feet high and will have a cubical content of about twenty-eight thousand cubic yards of concrete.

Among the principal features of the design and construction of the dam the following are worthy of note.

- (1) The cut-off which is carried nine feet in the bed rock.
- (2) A four feet core wall at either end of the dam.
- (3) Two 12 x 8 closure bays, the sealing of which will be the last step in the dam construction.
- (4) Twenty foot grout holes two inches in diameter for sealing.
- (5) The buttresses of which there are forty-two placed at 18 foot centres.
- (6) Spillways consisting of 18 bays constructed of reinforced concrete.
- (7) The decks, 48 inches thick at the base and 21 inches at the top.

The stone used as coarse aggregate for the concrete was quarried and crushed at South Brook and delivered via Newfoundland Government Railway to stock piles near the site of the Main Dam. A sufficient supply of suitable sand was also secured at Grand Lake.

The sand and stone are handled from the stock piles in hoppers by Horten hoisting engines equipped with Hayward Orange Peel buckets. From these hoppers the stone and sand are tapped into nine yard Smith concrete mixers. The mixers in turn discharge into one yard skips or buckets which pass via Ledgerwood Overhead Cableways to desired points on the Dam.

A very important feature of the power water way is the construction at low places near Glide Brook of two banks. One is a sharp deep bank, and the other a long shallow bank. Both are necessary to impound the waters diverted from Grand Lake into the Canal. The construction of these two banks will form a lake at Glide Brook at the Canal site, when the Canal is watered.—Western Star.

Just the right amount of pale green is used to give dash to a costume of the fashionable dead leaf brown.

By EDGAR A. GUEST

HELLO THERE!
I like a friendly greeting
In the good old Yankee way;
When a friend I'm meeting
It is good to hear him say
With a smile or recognition
Some such phrase as "how are you?"
For it puts me in condition
For the tasks I have to do;
But when someone cries: "Hello There!"
In a voice a trifle lame,
From the way he lets it go there
I can tell he's lost my name.
When the glad acquaintance throws you
That "Hello There!" you can bet
He is wondering if he knows you
And just where it was you met;
He has heard your salutation
And is eager to reply,
There's no time for hesitation
And he doesn't dare to try
For the name he knows he ought to
Shout upon the m-air air,
But one trick he can resort to—
He just answers "Hello There!"

"Hello There!" means I know you
But I can't recall your name,
And I'm trying hard to show you
That I like you just the same;
If by chance you should delay him
Further dodges he'd employ,
To the favor that you pay him
He would say: "Well, how's the boy!"
When he cannot Ed or Tom you
"Hello There!" he'll loudly cry;
But when names have vanished from you
Do you use it? So do I.

German Imports

Serious Handicap to Our Industry

DEPRECIATED CURRENCY MAKES POSSIBLE FLOODING OF MARKETS WITH PRODUCTS.

Germany's industrialists and distributors who are actively engaged in the campaign to flood every market of the world with their cheap goods must reap much amusement out of the lame effort of Canada to maintain her so-called standard of living. After passing legislation to keep out labor whose living standards are lower, including even our own fellow-subjects of the British Empire, our legislators take no precaution against the inflow of goods from countries of depreciated currencies, which is the same, in practical results, as a lower living standard. Our imports from Germany are now four times as great as in 1921 and are expanding rapidly. This is one of the factors in bad business and in the increasingly intense competition which is tending to undermine the business morale of the country, as well as being one of the leading factors in unemployment.

The subject of the increasing volume of German imports has been dealt with at some length in last week's publication, after referring to the more obvious phases of the subject, continues:

An examination of trade returns covering a few lines of hardware shows the following increase in imports of German merchandise in the twelve-month period ending last March, compared with the same period ending March, 1923; clocks and watches increased 3½ times; watches, 3½ times greater; glass containers, etc., five times greater; knives and forks, nine times greater; razors, nearly doubled; scissors and shears, five times greater; all other cutlery doubled; hand tools, 3½ times greater; firearms from other countries than United Kingdom and U.S., and therefore very largely Germany, five times greater.

German insecticides have been coming into this country in large quantities since the recent revision in the sales tax and tariff. There is said to be a strong possibility of German binder twine being imported, to bind our sheaves of grain in Western Canada. Some articles of builders' hardware are also finding their way into this country from Germany, for the first time. In electrical supplies, too, the German products are being

Quantity Price Fair and Unfair--

Any grocer who sells BABBITS soap loyally and faithfully is entitled to just as good treatment and just as fair a field for profit as any other grocer. Favoritism is what kills the independent retailer.

We have only one concession for quantity—that which the buyer actually earns in the freight saving. We don't give it to him; he earns it.

We agree with the Retail Grocers that differentials so great that they upset fair competition should be condemned. The wonderful popularity of BABBITS soap is built on fair sales policies and real value to the consumer.
