Patrons will confer a favor by reporting to the management any incivility or inattention on the part of the employees, and annoyances of any nature

If the individual members of an audience would stop to think for just an instant, they would undoubtedly appreciate the fact that the habit of rising from their seat and leaving the theatre before the curtain falls, is a most annoying one, and one that should be stopped. We therefore beg our audiences to kindly remain in their seats until the close of the performance.

Carriages can be ordered at the Box Office or of the Chief Usher.

For all lost articles, apply at Box Office.

It is strange, but there is a class of people that seem to take an intense delight in bespattering the floor with tobacco juice, and in being boisterous and using profane language. FREDERICK BANCROFT, the Magician states in a re cent interview that his new spectacular production of magic has been the one great ambition of his life, and is the outcome of years of experiment and research. He is an ardent student of the natural sciences, and claims to have developed some startling and entirely novel illusions, which he will present this season. As a sleight-of-hand performer, Mr. Bancroft is said to be unsurpassed, and upon the spectacular background of his entertainment he is said to have spectacy large. to have expended a large amount of money, engaging in its construction only the most noted scenic artists and the most skilled labor to be had in this country and in Europe, and he claims that the result is one of the most elaborate stage settings ever seen in this country. Certain it is that two special cars will be required to trans-port it from place to place, and that he has engaged some of the best specialty artists to be had in this country. to be had in this country, and has even drawn upon the European supply in order to secure artists whose acts are in keeping with his Oriental play and scenery. entertainment takes the form of a visit to entertainment takes the Jorm of a visit to the palace of a magician, where, surrounded by the slaves of his household, he performs many of his marvellous tricks and illusions. Then in the palace of the Sultans of Oriental fable the magician works fresh marvels. MR. GILMORE'S....

Great Band Coming.

It is a long time since the famous old GILMORE'S BAND has played here. It is coming again though, on TUESDAY, NOV. 19th, 50 strong, directed by the distinguished Victor Herbert, and with it an equally famous prima donna, Miss Ida Klein, at one time of the Metropolitan (Ger.) Opera, New York.

New York.

But the old organization has been vastly changed since Victor Herbert became director, and for the better. It is no longer a mere "brass band" It is on a far different footing now. The time for jim cracks in music of respectable order has gone by. No firecrackers in a barrel, or anvils, or cannon touched off in the wrong measure now. The Gilmore concerts are of another sort under the new and better regime. They are "grand" concerts, pure and simple—brilliant, artistic, and finished. Victor Herbert began, developed, and flourished in the atmosphere of the great orchestras of atmosphere of the great orchestras of Europe, and continued in the great orchestras of America, and naturally he has applied the best orchestral methods to Gilmore's, and with splendid results. We shall see on Nov. 19th.

"Why not? It's goin' up to a dollar an' you'll make thirty cents a bushel. Ain't that enough?"

"Oh, yes; but you see that seventy cents is only a speculative price. It ain't what they pay for real wheat."

"Don't pay that for real wheat? What in

"Why, for options."

"Well, what the blazes are options?"

Why, they're promises to get wheat and sell it for such and such a price.

"Well, then, they got to get the wheat, ain't they?"

"No; they sell the promises again, according as the market rises or falls."
"An' don't they buy an' sell any real wheat at all?"

" Not much."

"Just buy an' sell wind at seventy cents a bushel?"

" That's about it."

"Thunder an' Mars, wish I'd knowed that last fall. I wouldn't a-sowed any wheat.
