ELEVEN KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK IN CALIFORNIA

Freight and Passenger Trains in Collision

Disobedience of Orders by Conductor Said to be Responsible for Awful Tragedy—About Twenty Injured—A Fearful Spectacle

Ignacio, Calif., Aug. 9.—Disobedience of orders, according to the railroad officials, on the part of a conductor was responsible for a head-on collision between a passenger and a freight train on the North West Pacific late last night that took a toll of eleven lives and resulted in the injury of about twenty. The unidentified bodies of three others are reported to be under the wreckage.

The smoking car of the passenger train was telescoped by the engine of the freight and side from those members of the train crew who were hurt all of the killed and injured occupied the smoker. With the exception of E. W. Banks, of Rockford, Illinois, who was killed outright, all of the dead and injured whose names have been obtained were Californians, most of them residing in the towns along the railroad upon which the wreck occurred.

The most seriously injured of the wreck victims were taken to San Francisco. George Flaherty, conductor of the freight train, who was accused by General Superintendent W. S. Palmer and other officials of violating telegraph instructions to remain in the Ignacio yards until the passenger had passed, thus causing the smash-up, is in a state of collapse today and is unable to make a statement.

Frightful havoc was done in the smoker. Passengers scrambled out of the rear cars and running forward behind a fearful spectacle. The headless trunk of a man beside the tracks and from the windows of the smoker protruded the lifeless bodies of two others.

The engine of the passenger train, Robert Reynolds, jumped from its track. The baggage car sprang like a buck at the smoker, partly enveloping it, but through the windows the racing party would see the shrieking injured and the silent dead pinned under overturned seats. For hours it was impossible to reach them.

Frank A. Myers, of Pittsburg, ran to Ignacio to summon aid. Wrecking trains were sent out and physicians and nurses from various points up and down the line hurried to the scene on special trains and in automobiles. Many of the injured are thought to be in a critical condition.

PUBLICITY AS A GUARD AGAINST FRAUD IN DIVORCE

Judge Hinkle Would Have 30 Days Elope Between the Time of Filing the Suit and Trial of the Case

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 9.—Publicity as a precaution against fraud in actions for divorce is advocated by Presiding Judge J. D. Hinkle of the superior court of Spokane county, who announces that the rule, permitting 30 days to elapse between the filing of the suit and the trial of the case, undoubtedly will be adopted by the judges in Spokane county, going into effect on November 1.

Judge Hinkle, who has studied the question for years, also advocates those reforms in requirements and procedure in divorce cases not only in this county, but all over the country.

Six months or a year between the time of separation and filing of complaint in actions on grounds of cruelty and non-support.

A TRICK ON LIFE OF MAYOR GAYNOR

Assailant Arrested, Believed to be Demented

WAS ON STEAMER ABOUT TO SAIL FOR EUROPE

New York's Chief Magistrate Shot

New York, Aug. 9.—Mayor Wm. J. Gaynor, of New York city, was shot and probably fatally wounded on board the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse as he was sailing for Europe.

The assailant was arrested. The mayor was standing forward on the upper deck talking with Commissioner Thompson, Corporation Counsel Watson, and his secretary, Mr. Adamson, when he was attacked. The mayor was preparing to leave his dock at Hoboken for the Atlantic voyage.

The bullet entered the head just behind the left ear, and apparently plowed its way straight in. The mayor was hurled at the time, and standing on the forepart of the cabin deck bled goodly to the fore. The assailant was apparently a foreigner and appears to be demented.

According to reports the shot fired struck Mayor Gaynor in the mouth. He was walking on the promenade deck of the steamer when the shot was fired.

Detectives were immediately rushed in numbers from Manhattan headquarters to the scene of the tragedy at the Hoboken steaming pier.

Gaynor is expected to depart on a month's vacation abroad. He was to go unaccompanied for a trip of two weeks in northern Europe, and this trip was forward to a well earned rest, for he has been at his desk in the city hall for from twelve to fourteen hours a day for many months.

The man who shot Mayor Gaynor gave his name as James Gallagher, 440 Third Avenue, New York city.

When asked why he had shot the mayor, Gallagher said: "He deprived me of my bread and butter."

LoBLANC LEADING IN AEROPLANE RACE

Cross-Country Race in France Continues to Excite Much Interest

Nancy, France, Aug. 9.—LoBlanc and Avbrun again led the van on today's leg of the cross-country aeroplanes race. The second section of the flight was from Troyes to Nancy, a distance of 160 kilometres, or approximately 102 1/2 miles. The race between the leaders was an exciting one. Avbrun started five minutes earlier than LoBlanc and the air men were in sight of each other until they landed here. LoBlanc's machine proved the swifter and gradually overhauled the other reaching the goal thirty seconds ahead of his rival.

LoBlanc covered the first leg from the aviation field at Les Les Meulniers to Troyes, about 84 miles, in one hour 37 minutes 29 seconds. Avbrun's time for the distance was one hour 37 minutes and 23 seconds.

London Standard on Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Expect Speeches at The Hague Will be Concluded Thursday or Friday

London, Aug. 9.—The Standard says it is merely his optimism which compels Sir Wilfrid Laurier to estimate that the complete abolition of protective duties could be accomplished in two or three generations. Reading full reports of the premier's speeches the Standard sees not one trace of evidence that Canada will abandon its policy of protection and preference.

Dr. Chippen has called Solicitor Newton denying that he made any confession whatsoever.

Earl Percy of the Greenhairs was appointed an extra aide de camp to Earl Grey.

The bowlers sail on the Empress of Britain on Friday.

The Scotians also whether the friendly sentiment has not induced British capitalists to advance money to Canada on too easy terms. It is easy to discount even such a brilliant future as Canada's. It looks as if this were at last being recognized by the public. So far no injury has been done Canadian credit, but in the question is being asked whether it is not time to adopt a conservative attitude.

The Hague, Aug. 9.—Mr. Root pointed out that while the treaty of 1818 contained restrictions on the use of the banks for drying and salting fish on landing on those shores where America renounced the fishery rights, no mention was made in the treaty of any restrictions as regarded fishing off the coasts of Labrador and Newfoundland. For sixty years Britain recognized this liberty to fish and it could not be restricted by any regulations drawn up by the Treaty of 1818, which could not be modified or affected by any ulterior colonial legislation.

It is expected that the speeches will be concluded by Thursday or Friday.

SAILOR'S GALLANT ACT Saves Lives of Girls in Burning Gasoline Launch—Prospector in Cobalt Region Drowns Before Eyes of His Wife

Prince Rupert, B. C., Aug. 9.—(Special)—Forty-three miles of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad east of this city were opened yesterday afternoon when the first train passed over Zernoff Bridge. There was no ceremony. The train was simply a locomotive and a string of flat cars.

Port Dover, Aug. 9.—(Special)—Three young Hamilton girls spending their vacation here, and two men, had a narrow escape from death off the harbor here last evening, as the result of an explosion aboard a gasoline launch. The launch was owned by Jake Byrnes, and was being run by his son, assisted by Dan Sinclair, a sailor from the cruiser Vigilant. A pipe leading from the tank to the engine became detached and almost in an instant twenty gallons of gasoline flooded the uppermost floor of the boat and took fire.

With praiseworthy presence of mind the vigilant sailor caught the girls while flames raged all around him and held them overboard in the water until help arrived. It is a little short of miraculous that no lives were lost. Byrnes was badly burned.

Cobalt, Aug. 9.—(Special)—Overturning Peter Jacobs fell into Lake Temiskaming yesterday and was drowned before the eyes of his wife. Jacobs was a prospector and lived at Martintown Bay. As he was good swimmer no attention was paid to him until he showed he had cramps. His wife was powerless to aid him. Jacobs leaves his wife and five children.

Toronto, Aug. 9.—(Special)—Mrs. Charlotte Morrison, an old time actress, and first manager of the Toronto Grand Opera House, died yesterday. She had been in declining health for a long time.

Hitchcock, the American Postmaster General on the question of inducing the big Cunard steamers to resume calling at Queenstown.

Captain Anthony J. Donelan member of the house of commons for Cork, has received a communication from Theodore Roosevelt in which the ex-president says that in accordance with his promise to Messrs. Redmond and Dillon in London, he is moving in this matter and that he hopes finally to discuss it with Mr. Redmond on the latter's arrival in the United States in September.

MONTREAL MAY YET AID CAMPBELLTON

Montreal, Aug. 9.—"I have decided," said Mayor Guerin, "to see the city attorney and ascertain if no possible means can be devised so that the city may vote money for the sufferers at Campbellton."

"I know that according to rules laid down in the city charter, the council cannot vote funds, in a case like this without first obtaining the consent of the legislature, but in such a case special means must be adopted. I shall ask if it will be possible for the city council to first vote money and later on get the consent of the legislature to what has been done. I understand that such course has been taken in the past."

ELEVEN SAILORS SAVED AS SCHOONER IS SINKING

New York, Aug. 9.—Bringing to port eleven seamen who had taken from a sinking schooner in the Atlantic after they had made a brave but vain attempt to save their ship, the ore carrying British steamer King Edgar, reached port today from Halifax, Spain. The shipwrecked men comprised the crew of the American four-masted schooner Edith Olcott, which was abandoned on Sunday, August 7, in a waterlogged condition in lat. 37.04, long. 64.30.

The Edith Olcott, Captain Walker, sailed from New York on July 31, with a full cargo of merchandise for Porto Rico, and last Wednesday a southwest gale started the schooner leaking. The ship was sinking Sunday when the King Edgar bore down on her.

After the Donville match the Prince of Wales match for a challenge cup, presented by H. R. H. The Prince of Wales, is 1811 in cash, will be begun. The ranges for this match are 200 and 600 yards. The Hazen match, in connection with the

NO NIGHT PATROL FOR CAPITAL POLICE VETERAN

Fredrickton, N. B., Aug. 9.—(Special)—Quite a flutter was caused this morning by the announcement that Police Sergeant Paul Phillips, who has been a member of the force for twenty-eight years, has tendered his resignation.

It seems that he was given the option by the police commission of going on night duty or resigning, and he adopted the latter course. The commission are anxious to have Policemen Foss on duty, to have a more vigorous enforcement of the Scott Act.

George Arthur Hammond, veteran merchant and poet, of Kingsclear, is critically ill. He is in his ninety-third year. Between 300 and 400 shares of C. P. R. stock are held in this city and the announcement of the increase in dividend came as a pleasant surprise to the holders.

Cuticura Remedies Cured

To those who have suffered long and hopelessly with eczemas, tetter and similar torturing, disfiguring eruptions, the immediate relief afforded by the first wash with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment is almost beyond belief.

"GRATEFUL FOR WONDERFUL CURE"

I have been treated by doctors for upwards of five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did not know how to cure it. My own doctor had advised me to have the leg amputated, but I said I would try Cuticura Remedies. I had a piece of raw fish and I had to walk about with it on my leg for several days. I bought a box of Cuticura Soap and a bottle of Cuticura Ointment. After the first wash with Cuticura Soap and the application of Cuticura Ointment my leg was cured and the eczema disappeared.

ULCER HEALED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

Some time ago I suffered from an ulcer which was caused by various causes. I was sitting on my feet for several days and a physician attending me, but the ulcer seemed to be getting worse and was breaking out in spots. I was advised to use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. The ulcer gradually healed and the skin was restored to its normal condition.

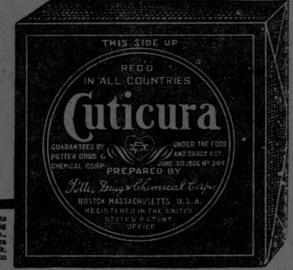

"WOULD HAVE DIED FOR CUTICURA"

When my boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery discharge. We tried everything we could do but it got worse. I was advised to use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. The rash gradually disappeared and the skin was restored to its normal condition.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

NOMINATION

As I supposed it would, has resulted in my election, and that, too, by a very large majority. And now I wish that I could resign the office which your partiality has accorded to me. But I must not—I cannot. To resign it would be a most ungrateful and offensive requital of the rare generosity which broke through your strong attachments of party and bestowed your votes on one the peculiarities of whose political creed leave him without a party.

LETTERS WHICH WOULD BE CERTAIN TO SECURE

2. That the right to the soil is as natural, absolute and equal as the right to the light and air.

LETTERS WHICH WOULD BE CERTAIN TO SECURE

LETTERS WHICH WOULD BE CERTAIN TO SECURE

I need not extend any further the enumerations of the features of my peculiar political creed; and I need not enlarge upon the reason which I gave why I must not and cannot resign the office which you have conferred upon me. I will only add that I accept it; that my whole heart is moved to gratitude by your bestowment of it, and that God helping me, I will so discharge its duties as neither to dishonor myself nor you.

Brett made a haphazard guess at Gaultier's meaning.

"Yes," he said, "we ought to place a good many thousand tons with them."

Gaultier bent forward to strike a match and glanced at his companion. For some indescribable reason he shared Brett's views concerning the gentleman, and immediately started a conversation of general significance.

They soon discovered that they had several mutual acquaintances, and in this way they passed the dreary journey to Paris pleasantly enough.

At the Gare du Nord, their knowledge of French methods enabled them to get quickly clear of the octroi, as neither of them had several mutual acquaintances, and in this way they passed the dreary journey to Paris pleasantly enough.

They found the Frenchman who seemed to be thoroughly revived by the air of his beloved Paris, hurried out simultaneously with themselves. He had no difficulty in hearing Brett's directions to a cabman. Gaultier entered another vehicle.

Brett was the first away from the station. He fancied he saw his French traveling companion hastily whisper something to a longer near the exit, so he suddenly pulled up his vehicle, gave the driver a two-franc piece and told him to go to the Grand Hotel, and there await his arrival. The cab had halted for a moment in the Rue Lafayette, at the corner of the Place Valenciennes, and the cabman, recognizing that his fare was an Englishman and consequently mad, drove off immediately in obedience to orders.

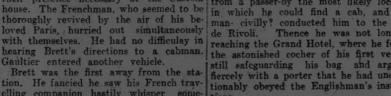

Though nearly six o'clock in the morning, it was quite dark, but as Brett walked rapidly towards the station he had no difficulty in picking out Gaultier, who occupied an open vehicle. Some little distance behind came another, and herein the barrister thought he recognized the man to whom the Frenchman in the train had so quickly recognized the well-known signs which indicate the signature of another with the object of reproducing it freely and with reasonable accuracy. There are always perceptible differences in the frequency of the ink.

Allowance had evidently not been made for the fact that Englishmen almost invariably write their names very badly in Continental hotels, registers, owing to their inability to use foreign alphabets. The man who not only forged Mr. Talbot's name, but also supplied him with a wife, labored under no such disadvantage. Indeed, Talbot himself would probably not have written his own name so legibly.

"That is all right," said Brett wearily, traversing a corridor to gain his room. "Now, I wonder if there is any connection between Houssein-Mulk and the Rue Barthelemy."

THE ALBERT GATE MYSTERY

BY LOUIS TRACY Copyright 1901 by R. F. Fenno & Co.

The transit was effected without incident much to Brett's relief. After a minute or two he felt that a cigar was possible. He turned to his companion with a quiet observation.

"The vessel has filled. You can start now."

"Well," said Gaultier, "tell me what is the mystery attaching to Talbot's movements in the Department, but something very terrible appears to have happened, and, indeed, I heartily believe it to be so."

"I had a meeting with Talbot last Tuesday, as the affair was no business of mine. Moreover, you have not somewhat shaken my belief in his identity, although I can hardly tell you why that should be so."

"Brett seemed to make sure that no one would overhear him, but the fierce wind whistling round the obelisk next to the bridge, the sea that smote the ship's quarter with a thunderous noise, the all-pervading sense of riotous fury in the air, rendered the precaution unnecessary. In any case, there was no one near enough to act the part of a eavesdropper, which frequently impressed others as a gift of divination, determined to let such a man as the King's messenger into a secret could not possibly be harmful to the interests of his client, whilst his help might be beneficial."

In the fewest possible words, therefore, he poured into the ears of the King's messenger the substance of what he had just said. When he finished, Gaultier remained silent a few minutes.

"Already the clear radiance of the moon's intermittent flashes of brightness over the sea and the long, low, dark, and narrow gale back into mid-Channel."

"I think," said Gaultier, speaking slowly and thoughtfully, "that your view is the right one. Mr. Brett. There is much more in this business than meets the eye, and any man who believes that Jack Talbot would mix himself up in it must be a most determined man, but they shouldn't be in the police force. You are going on to Paris, you said?"

"Yes, I can travel together. All that you have said is quite new to me. Curiously enough, I have just returned from Constantinople, and I am able to assist you."

Brett silently thanked his stars for the gratuitous circumstances which three him into the company of Captain Gaultier. He recognized that the King's messenger, with the precaution that might be expected from one whose daily life demanded extreme prudence, desired to mentally review the strange facts made known to him before he committed himself further. With ready tact the barrister clinched the conversation to matters of the moment until they reached the pier at Calais, when both men, not encumbered with much baggage, were among the first flight of passengers to reach the station buffet. On their way they captured a railway official and told him to reserve a couple of seats in a compartment, but the latter meal the Frenchman arrived, with ample apologies. The train was crowded. Never had there been such a rush to the South. By the exercise of most profound care he had secured them two seats in a compartment, but the third had already taken itself. He was sorry for it; he had done his best.

When they entered their carriage the Frenchman was in possession. He was French, aggressively so. Phil. May might have been the model. The man appeared to be doing peacefully enough, but the alert barrister had an impression that his limbs were not sufficiently relaxed under the influence of slumber. Indeed, he felt sure that the Frenchman was wide awake and endeavoring to catch the drift of their conversation.

"I will be most pleased to meet your friend, Captain Gaultier," he said, and least it should slip your memory I will give you a reminder."

He opened his card-case and wrote on the back of a card: "Grand Hotel, Breakfast, 11.30. No more at present."

The quick-witted King's messenger read and understood.

"It seems to me," he wrote on "that he is the very man for your purpose. Though he is not in favor of Court just now he has plenty of friends in the various departments, and he could give you

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 8.—Early Sunday morning an eight-year-old French Canadian boy, unaccompanied, mounted the steps of the premier's car on the train as it lay in switch at Battlefield. A knock brought F. F. Pardee to the door. "What is it, my little man?" he asked.

"These, sir," the lad replied, producing a minute kodak, "Will Master Laurier come outside for me to have his picture taken?" Mr. Pardee picked the boy up in his arms and carried him inside. Here he found that his name was Pierre, that he had got photographic apparatus for a birthday present and wanted to take the first picture of "Mr. Laurier." Mr. Laurier produced chocolates and the delighted youngster awaited the return of the premier. Half an hour later the happy boy carefully posed his kodak and snapped the all smiling gentleman who stood patiently on the track for several minutes till the juvenile photographer got it "right."

Little Pierre secured first hand what scores of correspondents and local photographers have been struggling with crowds and breaking pedestals for weeks to obtain.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

IT WAS in a home the other evening where the whole family go about on tip-toes with their fingers on their lips, making any necessary remarks in awed-whispers from six to seven.

Why all this hush and mystery? Why, because the baby goes to sleep at that hour, of course.

I was in another home yesterday where the two big brothers were playing tennis under the bedroom window and little sister was practicing her scales in the parlor and big sister was entertaining a group of swains on the front veranda, while little mother was putting the baby to bed.

As she closed the baby's door and came smiling down the stairs to me, a sally from big sister was greeted by an uproarious burst of laughter from the swains, big brother started a new set with the loud voiced and triumphant announcement "Three-love," and little sister, reached the pedal point of her exercise.

"You don't mean to say that baby will go to sleep in all this racket?" I demanded in amazement.

"Why, certainly," answered the little mother serenely, "he will be asleep in three minutes—the precious."

"Why, just because he always has. He couldn't, of course, if he were trained to expect absolute quiet, but he hasn't been, so he can go to sleep under pretty nearly any conditions and I hope he always will be able to."

Which of these two mothers do you think was the kindest and wisest?

Of course, I scarcely need to tell you what I think. The man or woman who is the least above to conditions and circumstances of this sort is apt to be the most comfortable and the most efficacious in this world.

"I simply cannot sleep well in any bed but my own," I heard some one say the other day.

If I felt that way it seems to me I'd upset the family to the extent of sleeping a night or two in every bed in the house until I had freed myself from that dependence upon condition.

An author announces with pride that he cannot do good work unless he is seated at a desk near a certain window, and one who is a teetotaler and a temperance reformer, I call it weak-minded slavery to circumstance. I think that man ought to have his desk moved into another room and break these chains, and make his power independent of conditions.

Do you remember—the Hoosier Schoolboy, I think it was—the story of the boy who could not write unless he twisted a certain button on his coat, and how some of his enemies managed to cut this button off just before the examination day and the boy failed utterly because he missed the button?

That sounds rather absurd, doesn't it? And yet a lot of us have fetich buttons of one sort or another upon whose presence we set our comfort and facility depend.

That first baby, for instance, when he grows up will have the fetich of an inability to go to sleep unless he is absolutely alone.

Isn't it better when we find we have gotten into such ways, to cut off the button ourselves, and learn to rest without it, rather than to risk being utterly upset if it is unexpectedly cut off by circumstances?

Daily Hints for the Cook

STUFFED EGG SALAD. Chop to paste enough cold chicken and veal to make a half cupful, add one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, two teaspoonfuls salt, a little pepper and the beaten yolk of one egg. Rub until well blended. Cut six hard-boiled eggs in half lengthwise rub yolks with chicken mixture, shape into balls, put in nest of lettuce leaves and serve with dressing.

VANILLA PARFAIT. Cook a half cup each of sugar and water over the fire until it thickens. Do not stir after the sugar has dissolved. Beat the whites of three eggs until very stiff, pour the syrup slowly over it, beating constantly. Flavor with vanilla, and when cold fold in a pint of cream whipped stiff. Pour into a mold and pack.

CURRIED POTATOES. Cook 1-4 cupful of butter with a small finely chopped onion until yellow; add 3 cupfuls of cold boiled potatoes, cut in cubes and cook until the potatoes have absorbed the butter, then add 3-4 cupfuls stock (preferably beef) and 1-2 tablespoonful each of curry powder and lemon juice. When the potatoes have absorbed the stock, season with salt and pepper. This is a nice served with cold sliced meats.

CHOCOLATE LAYER CAKE. Melt a half cake chocolate in the oven or over hot water. Stir to a cream one and one-half cups sugar and a half cup butter. Sift together two cupfuls flour and a half teaspoonful soda. Repeat this sifting three times over. Beat the yolks of four eggs until lemon colored and thick, and the whites of two until stiff. Put a half cupful sour milk in a bowl and stir into it a scant half teaspoonful soda dissolved in a half cup warm water. Put all the ingredients together and bake in layers in a tin. Put together with lemon king made from the whites of two eggs.

CHERRY TAPIOCA. A quick and simple dessert is cherry tapioca made with either canned, preserved or fresh cherries, preferably the last. Soak a cup of pearl tapioca in two cups of cold water until the water is absorbed and then simmer it in the juice from a pint of cherries for half an hour, using a double boiler to economize time. Take from the fire, add the cherries, turn into a mold and set away. When cold and stiff serve with a whipped cream or with a sauce made of a cup of stiffly whipped cream mixed with the beaten white of one egg, half a cup of powdered sugar and a drop or two of any flavoring desired.

Or try this with either freshly stewed or canned fruit. Heat a pint of the cherry juice, add a teaspoonful of gelatine dissolved in a very little water. Put the fruit from which the juice was strained in a mold and pour over them the juice. Cool and then set on ice to become very cold. If necessary, add more sugar to taste. This depends on the original sweetness of the cherries. Serve with cream.

Carr G. Howe, a newly appointed United States immigration officer, will, in future, be stationed at the office here, and Inspector Thomas H. O'Neill, who has been on duty here for some years, has been transferred to New York. Mr. O'Neill will leave his new station this evening.

COUNCIL DEALS WITH THE MAIN STREET PAVING

Decide to Dig Up Portion to Find Out if Specifications Have Been Departed From

At the special meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon, it was decided, on motion of Ald. Smith, to take up a block of the Hassam foundation at the place where ex-inspector Carleton charged it had been laid three inches thick instead of six, as called for in the specifications.

On the result of the examination of this piece of work, it was said, the future action of the council would depend.

Ald. Jones' motion calling for appointment of men to investigate was defeated because it was said such a committee could not take evidence under oath. Another motion naming Ald. Elkin and Holder to procure counsel and hold an investigation, introduced by Ald. Potts, was defeated. A resolution declaring that the board found the engineer had not departed from the specifications for the contract was passed.

After the mayor had explained the business for which the meeting had been called, Ald. Jones said he felt called upon to make some explanation. Ever since the paving had been started there had been ugly rumors. He felt it was necessary to hold an investigation, along what lines he was not prepared to say, but he felt that anything less would be striking a blow at the honesty and integrity of the members.

Ald. Willet said an impression had gone abroad that the specifications had been departed from. He contended that this was not correct.

Ald. Jones moved that his resolution of the previous meeting be read.

Ald. Wigmore, in seconding the motion, claimed that the specifications had been departed from. One of the tenders had asked the engineer in reference to retaining walls, if he would accept a concrete wall, which he declined to do, but later accepted a concrete wall from the Hassam. He also asserted the stone used was much larger than called for in the specifications.

His worship said if Ald. Jones' motion was passed it meant the appointment of experts and he had no faith in expert evidence. On motion to go into general committee the engineer was heard and explained that the conditions in the specifications were copied verbatim from one issued in Troy, N. Y.

Ald. Baxter said that Ald. Wigmore's assertion, indicating favoritism in allowing the Hassam to depart from the specifications had been departed from in the matter of broken stone. The engineer said that an excess of broken stone had been used in the Hassam foundation larger stones were permissible and he allowed them.

Ald. Baxter thought that Ex-Inspector Carleton should be asked to explain his statement that in one place in the street only two inches of concrete had gone down. If it was correct he might be asked why he allowed it to go down that way.

The engineer said that he had no recollection of a tenderer asking him if he would accept a concrete wall.

Mayor Frink said that Mr. Carleton had stated to him, and his worship had afterwards read it, and read it to the council, that the concrete was not six inches thick. In reply to Ald. Potts' question as to whether the city was getting what it was paying for the engineer said that the samples looked all right, and Ald. Potts replied that he had no faith in the samples, as they would naturally be all right. He had no faith in the engineer. It would like an investigation before a supreme court judge.

The engineer said that he had been to the work thirty times and had seen nothing that would lead him to believe that the city had been defrauded.

Ald. Scully moved that an investigation under oath. Ald. Hayes was also for an investigation.

Ald. Smith moved that, in view of Mr. Carleton's assertion that in one place there was less than six inches of concrete, that the co-inspector be asked to point out the place and they could have the pavement dug up there.

Ald. Lively said that in all the discussion in the press the point had never been mentioned that the present contractors were doing the work for $100 less than the next lowest tenderer.

Ald. Mitchell said that he had not been directly named in the press, but in situations were made. He had been named in the press and he was not going to be a hoodler now. He would come an investigation. Mayor Frink thought the members too busy to attend to criticism. Ald. Smith's motion was put and carried.

The committee then rose and the council went into session. Ald. Jones asked, in view of his worship having refused to name a committee to investigate the work, that George Fisher and Edwin Bates be the members.

Ald. Hayes brought up the point that the committee could not take evidence under oath, and Ald. Jones said that the only effect the appointment of the committee would have would be that they would bring in some recommendation to the council.

Ald. Baxter moved that Ald. Smith's motion be adopted.

Ald. Potts seconded this. Ald. Jones' resolution meant nothing and Ald. Smith's motion covered the ground. One of the men named in the motion had expressed himself to him as favorable to the work.

The controller clerk at this point read a letter from Mr. Hassam in which he said that in his opinion all the fuss was about the method of mixing the concrete. He offered to substitute the hand mixed concrete for machine mixture if relieved of the guarantee bond.

Ald. Baxter then moved a resolution that, after investigating the Main street paving they found that the engineer had not departed from the specifications for the work.

This was seconded by Ald. Russell, but a number of those present opposed it, and Ald. Baxter offered to withdraw with the consent of his recorder. Ald. Russell refused and on the question being put the resolution was carried, only four voting against it.

Ald. Potts moved in amendment that Ald. Holder and Elkin be appointed procure counsel and hold an investigation before a supreme court judge. This was seconded, also asked to be executed. Both the aldermen named refused to serve and Ald. Lively, whose name was suggested, also asked to be executed. The question was put, however, and the amendment was lost, only two voting for it.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE WHEN TOLD HE HAS SMALLPOX

Bullet Failed to Take Effect and He Went to Hospital for Treatment

New York, Aug. 9.—"I shot myself yesterday, but have come to the conclusion I want to live," said Emil Mannon, aged twenty-one, a confectioner, living at No. 167 Second avenue, as he walked into Bellevue Hospital the other night.

Mannon had a bullet wound in his left eye, the missile had become lodged near the back of his ear. After the physicians made a thorough examination Mannon showed several signs of smallpox.

"Will I live?" he asked, addressing his words to Dr. Hopkins.

"No reply was made by the physician. He had stepped back and was looking intently at Mannon, who had a great deal of rash on his face and hands.

"That rash looks like small-pox," said the doctor.

"Oh, that's what it is," said Mannon, "that's why I shot myself. You see it was this way. I was feeling bad yesterday and went to find out what was the matter with me. When a doctor told me I had smallpox I ran out of my office and got my revolver.

"I couldn't make up my mind to kill myself before I had another good time, so I went over to an amusement park in New York City mingling with a lot of people over and enjoyed myself pretty much. After a while I began to feel worse and worse, and finally went to a secluded spot and shot myself in the eye—my glass one.

I thought sure I was dead when I heard the explosion of my revolver, but the only effect it had was to make me feel worse. I was able to walk, so I wandered around last night hoping that I would die, as I always loathed small-pox. I continued to wander about today and although I felt weak and worn, the world began to look good to me again."

He is a Prussian. He said that before he came to this country he was a locksmith, and was blinded in one eye while working at his trade. In part of the glass eye was his head when he arrived at the hospital.

Dr. Hopkins, after treating Mannon variously, probably will take up the case and his fellow workmen were also vaccinated. The police are trying to learn all the places Mannon was during the last few days so that the spread of the disease can be prevented. The doctors, however, are not certain that Mannon has smallpox, and it will probably be several days before they know.

ROOSEVELT'S COUNTRY LIFE COMMISSION MAY BE REVIVED

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 2.—One result of the second National Conservation Congress in St. Paul, September 5-9 may be the revival of the Country Life Commission, a Roosevelt project which fell by the wayside after Representative Tawney of Minnesota had succeeded in having an amendment which put it out of business, tacked on to the suit city bill.

In his speech before the congress on September 6 Col. Roosevelt is expected to announce that he is going to revive the Country Life Commission and he has no doubt will throw his energy into the fight to have the commission restored to good standing. President Taft likewise may say something on the subject and a movement is afoot to have the bill introduced in congress to appropriate sufficient funds to carry on the work.

If a number of certain persons interested in the matter are carried out there may result a sort of affiliation between the National Conservation Commission and the Country Life Commission.

The matter will be presented to the conservation congress by Walter H. Paps, editor of World's Work who is on the programme to speak on "The Farmer and the Nation." James J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern Railway board, who always has the interests of the farmer at heart, probably will take up the matter in his address on "Crops, Food and Clothing." Clifford P. Hatch, may also have something to say on the subject. Liberty Hyde Bailey, dean of the Agricultural College of Cornell University; Kenyon L. Burtchell of Massachusetts and Charles S. Barrett of Georgia, are going to lend their assistance to the movement, as is Henry Wallace of Des Moines, Ia.

The appointment of the Country Life Commission by President Roosevelt attracted considerable attention. It was intended as an uplift for the farmer and improving of farm conditions.

Before congress cut off the funds the commissioners visited various sections of the country and questioned the farmers, their wives, their grown sons and daughters. Of particular interest in the report made by the commission were the answers given by the farmers' wives. The women complained that while the stalky plow, the self binder, the hay stacker and the traction engine with their canopies to keep off the sun had made life easier for the men on the farms, but little had been done to relieve the women of the drudgery of the farm. These complaints touched Roosevelt and he wants to see such conditions improved.

While in Fredericton yesterday, J. F. Gregory said that the lumber returns so far had caused great surprise, as they were far below what was expected. About thirty million feet of logs are tied up somewhere up river. The lumber dealers had not received anything like anticipated quantity.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE AT BIG BAND CONCERT

Perhaps never was such a scene witnessed in this city as that which King Square presented last night when from 10,000 to 12,000 sympathetic citizens gathered in the hall to hand concert given in aid of the Campbell fire sufferers and at the same time to contribute towards making the prospects of the stricken people a little brighter.

The concert was not only successful from a financial standpoint, realizing the magnificent amount of $892.23, but was also a most pleasing one. Dotted with red and white lights which were strung along the walks, the square itself presented an unusually pretty scene. In addition to this every advantage was given in aid of the Campbell fire sufferers and at the same time to contribute towards making the prospects of the stricken people a little brighter.

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

NICKEL

The Nickel theatre was crowded again yesterday afternoon and evening to see the third production of the Sadie Calhoun Co. and to enjoy a magnificent bill of motion pictures. The comedy offering by the stock company of players was His Awfully Here Not Tompkins, or Oh You Hat, and it is not an exaggeration to state the age audience were convulsed with laughter from the beginning until the end. Miss Calhoun and her associates have produced comedy-drama, straight drama and in the farcical offering have demonstrated their versatility.

The picture "The Judgment of the Mighty Deep," by the Edison Co., contains much scenic grandeur, while the Biograph production, "Serious Sixteen" (a comedy), and "As the Bell Rings" (a drama), were up to the high standard of that company's work. There was a European picture entitled "The Shepherdess," and with Miss Prescott in illustrated ballads and the orchestra's highly entertaining hour's programme seemed to please everybody. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of pictures and on Thursday another sketch by the stock company.

LYRIC

Although the opposition was great last evening the "Lyric" was well filled at every session and to say that everyone was delighted with the performance would be putting it very mildly. All the good things said in advance of the McGinley's, the clever trapeze artists were found to be more than true, as they certainly lived up to the expectations. They perform a number of thrilling and hair-raising feats suspended in mid-air, and the trained dog which is a member of the troupe attracted no little attention. Perhaps the most startling feature was the wonderful stunt by Madam McGinley on the flying rings. This act will conclude the nucleus lining of the Lyric theatre. When this troupe of players have a rumbling success or a perfect ending, and when it is a fairly good ending, it is the result, and unless the indication can be taken out and they have returned to their normal condition, learning will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh of the bladder, and an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

RAILWAYS EXPECT LITTLE DIFFICULTY HANDLING CROPS

(Montreal Gazette)

While optimistic reports are being sent out from the prairies as to the crop possibilities it is not expected that there will be any difficulty in handling the grain in the west this year, either by the railways or by the demand for harvesters from the west. It is expected that the harvest of the crop will be more nearly able to handle the harvest than in any season during the past decade. The railway men already on the spot will be able to handle the harvest of the crop, and it is expected that the harvest of the crop will be more nearly able to handle the harvest than in any season during the past decade.

MEMORIAL TOWER AT HALIFAX TO BE BUILT BY A. SHARP

The first prize in the competition for the design of a National Memorial Monument has been awarded to Andrew Sharp of Toronto.

The author of the design will be asked by the Royal Architectural Institute which conducted the competition, to prepare working drawings for the structure which is to be erected on the Northwest Arm at Halifax.

The rules of the competition specified a building to cost not more than $2,000 and constructed of solid rubble with granite trimmings.

Before the results were announced that entire cost of the structure had been guaranteed by the Canadian people.

Twelve drawings were entered second honors going to W. M. Brown, of Halifax, third place to J. M. Leitch, of Toronto.

The report of the judges, Professor Noble, of McGill University, and F. S. Baker and Frank Darling, of Toronto, scores the entrants for lack of originality and for failure to express adequately the purpose of the memorial.

The winning design is highly symbolic as would be expected in a memorial intended to commemorate the establishment of self-government in Canada.

Explanations accompanying Mr. Sharp's drawing said: "The design is an attempt to symbolize the foundation of the Dominion and its growth.

"The tower rises on a base solid and massive even as confederation stands on strong amalgamation of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The arms of these four provinces have been incorporated in the foundation which supports the superstructure.

"The more architectural character of the edification of the design embodies the Arms of Canada, while the globe and ship of progress crown all.

"The design is British in sentiment, but it was felt that the tower should not be designed in any of the fully formed styles of the other countries, nor should there be any suggestion of the warlike battlements of the medieval keep as the monument should stand as an emblem of the spirit of peace."

BENEFIT IN WINDSOR FOR CAMPBELLTON

John Bustin, Manager of the Nickel, Arranges Benefit Night and Forwards $70 to the Fire Fund

The Windsor, N. S., Tribune says: With characteristic benevolence, John Bustin, proprietor of the Nickel, arranged a benefit night for the sufferers by the Campbellton fire, the entertainment being held last evening in the Opera House, which was packed with fully six hundred representative citizens. The amount realized which will be forwarded to Campbellton, was $70. This sum has been deposited with the town clerk to be sent with other donations. H. A. Lynch kindly assisted at the door by selling tickets. Since coming to Windsor, Mr. Bustin and his estimable wife have always shown themselves ready to assist materially every worthy object in the town, and his action on their part for those in distress elsewhere, is but another proof of their large hearted generosity and wide-spread sympathy for those in need of help.

Mr. Bustin is a son of Mrs. W. H. Bustin, of the Lansdowne House, King Square.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Michael Griffin

Mrs. Michael Griffin passed away yesterday at the home of her son, John Griffin, 100 Erin street. She is survived by five sons—John, Dennis, Jeremiah, Thomas and Daniel—all of this city. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Moore

News of the death of Mrs. Tamer Moore, wife of J. B. Moore, at Alberton, S. B., was received here yesterday. Mrs. Moore was a daughter of Philip Heustis, of Washington, La., and was well known in St. John. Many will regret to hear of her death.

Statistics are almost as unsatisfactory as facts are stubborn.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid strings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, loss of breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Farrow's Golden Medical Discovery is the cure of such abnormal condition. It is a grand, efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on the wrapper and sealed under cellophane. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made from pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proven strength, from the roots of many American medicinal force plants. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR THE KIDNEYS

A Guaranteed Treatment, Money Back if it Fails

Kidney diseases are more prevalent than is generally supposed, and are not always recognized as such. What was at first but a slight derangement of the kidneys often results in indigestion, rheumatism, anaemia, chronic and very painful headache, neuralgia, eye weakness, and other diseases of a most aggravating type. Therefore it is highly important and absolutely necessary that the kidneys and the urinary system be kept in an active and healthy condition.

After thorough experience with the most successful and highest treatment I have discovered, I have prepared a remedy which embodies the most reliable, safe and effective curative principles, so necessary to the successful treatment and active eradication of kidney diseases in general.

I am confident that Rexall Kidney Remedy is such a remedy that it will not cost the owner a cent if it should fail to give effective satisfaction.

I particularly recommend Rexall Kidney Remedy for kidney ailments that are chronic and which resist ordinary treatment. I believe, if taken according to directions with a regularity and persistency for a reasonable length of time, it will positively remove all symptoms and effect permanent cure.

Surely, I could not more strongly demonstrate my faith in Rexall Kidney Remedy, and my genuine guarantee, and should know the most skeptical that I would not dare make such a statement except I knew what I am talking about. I urge you to try Rexall Kidney Remedy at my risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at my store—The Rexall Store, Chas. R. Watson, 100 King street.

Short Stops Are Scarce.

High-class shortstops are scarce these days, according to George Huff, veteran scout and chief picker for the Chicago Cubs. Likewise there is a awful dearth of classy first-basemen eligible for advancement from minor to major league society.

TWO WITNESSES ARE HEARD IN ITALIAN SHOOTING CASE

Dr. Berryman and Detective Killen on the Stand - Case Up Again on Friday

With little change in appearance, beyond looking slightly paler, the Italian, Andrew Rosa, charged with the murder of Diego Siracusa, was again brought into court before Judge Ritchie this morning, and remanded until Friday. G. Earl Logan appeared for him. Two witnesses were examined; Dr. D. E. Berryman, and Policeman Goshine.

The former told of going to Siracusa's house in North street on Sunday, June 28 last, and spoke of the condition of affairs there. Siracusa was not then dead, but was lying in a pool of blood in his bed, the reddish fluid oozing out of a wound in his head. The man had evidently been restless, as there were streaks of blood on the wall, as though he had been flinging his arms about, or striking his fingers along it. Policeman Goshine told of going with Detective Killen to a spot in the Marsh road, and with the aid of the prisoner, finding the revolver, said to have been used in the shooting.

RESOLUTION OF COUNCIL DOES NOT COVER CASE

Says Ex-Inspector Carleton in Discussing Main Street Paving - Should Look in More Than One Place

With regard to the motion adopted by the city council yesterday, ex-Inspector Carleton said to the Times-Star this morning that it did not cover the case at all because he had said there was one place where the concrete was two inches thinner than it should be, it is proposed to dig one hole in that spot. Mr. Carleton explains that at this particular spot they will not find merely four inches of concrete, but they should find twelve. It was a soft spot, a sort of quagmire, in which the roller got stuck. After consultation the engineer decided to make cross drains and lay twelve inches of concrete. When it came to laying on the sand, Mr. Carleton found that there was four inches of this substance near the curb, and about half as much near the street car rail. He contends that, since four inches of sand was needed to bring it up to grade near the curb, the concrete must be two inches thinner than it should be. The specification says there shall be not less than an inch and a half of sand. Here there is four inches. If it is not well bound the paving blocks will hold their position, but become loose and fall out of grade. Mr. Carleton states that to tell whether the work has been done according to specifications tests should be made at intervals all along the street, on the line where the pavement meets the curb. He has nothing to take back of what he has said regarding the work. He was never summoned by the board of works or by the council to state his position fully in the matter.

Scullion said he had no remembrance of the affair, but the complainant stated that he had been knocked down, and bitten about the face by the prisoner, Scullion. The latter was remanded.

Olle Johnson, a young Norwegian, pleaded not guilty to inducing two young sailors from off the vessel Juba, Captain Harrison, and Anglo, Captain Sunde, lying at Sand Point.
