THE AUTHORITY OF THE POLICE.

Further extracts from the Police Magistrate's judgment are now available in the case of the man who was released on Saturday on the charge of drunkenness, voluntarily resisting the police and assaulting a policeman by kicking him. No sound reason appears to be forthcoming, however, to justify the Magistrate's decision that "handcuffs are not to be used in a case of this kind." On this point the Magistrate says:

Was it necessary to handcuff the prisoner under the evidence adduced? Not one of the four policemen who assisted at the arrest show any mark, any signs of violence by White, whilst on the other hand White's body and face and head show many signs of violence. In the words of a decided case, "is not this palpable evidence of wanton and unnecessary violence?"

It would naturally be inferred from this line of argument that if the police, in effecting the arrest of a man who is drunk and violently resisting, are successful in avoiding the kicks and blows which may be aimed at them, no handcuffs are to be used. How does the Magistrate propose that a man violently resisting should be handcuffed to the lockers under such circumstances? Is it necessary in the Magistrate's opinion that a policeman should be marked with a black eye or other evidence of violence to the satisfaction of the Bench to justify him in using handcuffs? "Not one of the four policemen who assisted at the arrest show any mark, any signs of violence." Had they shown marks or signs of violence, or, in other words, had they not succeeded in dodging the kicks and blows aimed at them, they might have handcuffed the prisoner with the Court's approval. No further evidence is necessary to show that under existing conditions the authority of the police force is reduced to a farce.

THE SCOPE OF THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT.

Lieut. General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, more familiarly known as the Chief Scout, has returned to London having completed a 23,000 mile journey around the world in the interests of the Boy Scout Movement. During his tour Sir Robert reviewed more than 25,000 British Scouts and visited more than seventy sections. The countries visited include Australia, Canada, China, Japan, New Zealand, South Africa, Tasmania, the United States and the West Indies. If there was one thing more than another which must have impressed those who met the Chief Scout when he was in St. John, two years ago, it was the fact that his heart and soul were in the movement. His latest tour, which has lasted eight months, supplies further evidence of this fact.

It is satisfactory to note that Sir Robert reports the Boy Scout Movement is everywhere showing a marked development. In certain parts of Australia and New Zealand he found that much difficulty was being experienced in inculcating the right sort of discipline in the schools and among the cadets. Recourse was finally had to dressing the masters or teachers up in uniform, but this procedure proved to be nothing short of a farce. He was accordingly consulted as to the suitability and possible application of the Scout system to such a condition of affairs, and it is probable it will be adapted or adopted in both Dominions.

While he was in China, Dr. Sun Yat Sen wrote to him expressing the deepest interest in the Scout system, and requesting full details. The authorities in Japan are also making a close study of the movement with a view to its adoption for educational purposes. In many parts of the Overseas Dominions also the school authorities are utilizing Boy Scout methods and precepts as part of the school curriculum. He visited every large town in South Africa, where his reception was of the heartiest description.

A NEW FERTILIZER.

That manganese, used as a fertilizer, will increase a crop from 25 to 50 per cent., was the subject of a lecture by Dr. Gabriel Bertrand of Paris, at the Eighth International Congress of Applied Chemistry held in New York last week. This discovery is the result of ten years' experiment by Professor Bertrand on the biology of plants and is of considerable interest to every farmer. No less an authority than Sir William Ramsay, discoverer of argon and other constituents of the air, who attended the Congress, expresses the opinion that the achievement is among the greatest in the chemical world. The process is already known to French manufacturers, and in France preparations are under way to manufacture the new fertilizer on an extensive scale.

As explained by Professor Bertrand in the course of his lecture, he began his investigations by questioning the supposed perfection of fertilizers, which are now used the world over where the soil has become impoverished. Chemists had found many substances in the composition of plants, other than the usual elements of carbon, hydrogen, oxygen and nitrogen, some of them in such minute proportions that the weight was less than 1-100,000 of the plant's weight. One of these minute substances, Professor Bertrand found, was the element manganese, and he set out to find out whether this element, in its minute quantity, played any useful part in the plant's life. He started with the premise that the growth of a plant is stunted when any one of its natural constituents is wanting, and, realizing that the crops, in some localities, are furnishing only half their full yield, he desired to find out what constituent was lacking. This, his experiments proved, was the element manganese. Until the discovery of Professor Bertrand, no other fertilizers were resorted to other than compounds of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. These will still be used where no other is necessary, but where, after an examination of the soil, it is found that the ordinary variety of saltpetre fertilizer, which was perfected by the late Baron Justus von Liebig, does not suffice, there the new fertilizer, having a compound of manganese as one of its bases, must be used. Actual experiments covering the last five years have shown, according to Dr. Bertrand, that the yield of the ordinary crop has been increased from 25 to 50 per cent., where manganese has been introduced into the soil.

THE DEFEAT OF SYNDICALISM.

A decisive verdict against syndicalism was pronounced by the Trades Union Congress at Newport, England, last week, on the ground that the propaganda of this revolutionary cult had nearly ruined unionism. A resolution was passed by an overwhelmingly majority pledging the support of the independent working class in Great Britain to political action in the industrial fight. Syndicalism had but few supporters among the five hundred and two delegates who represented trade unions with a membership of nearly two millions. Ben Tillett and other extremists, who stand for a policy of a universal strike, were told in plain terms that if their advice had been followed and a general strike had been called, as the result of the recent defeat of the dockers, trade unionists would have been overwhelmed throughout the country.

In the recent labor troubles in Great Britain the champions of syndicalism professed to see the beginning of the end of the present industrial regime. There were to be no more local strikes. One big strike after another by syndicalism, or "one big union," was designed to paralyze the economic life of the nation and ultimately through the means of production such as factories, mines and railways, under the control of the unions themselves. The treasurer of the unions are almost depleted by the reason of the strikes during the past year and the delegates were in no humor to listen to the revolutionaries whose propaganda they were convinced would be fatal to the cause of labor.

Events in England have shown what events on the Continent had shown before, and what the astute Social-Democratic leaders in Germany have recognized: that the attempt not only proved a failure, but brought about the loss of much that had been gained in the first assault. It is the theory of the syndicalist leaders that the general strike educates the working class for revolution, and that by dint of repeated attempts they will some day bring off a strike that will turn into a revolution. What is much more apparent is that every unsuccessful general strike leaves behind it a discouraged and disorganized mass, and paves the way to reaction.

The Times remarks that "Sir Wilfrid Laurier will not appeal to prejudice on the navy question. His attitude is that of a statesman." Mr. Pugsley's organ might take a hint from his leader in that case and in future discuss the navy question with some pretension to fairness and decency.

Current Comment

The Biggest Yet.

(Hamilton Spectator.)
Russia has under consideration a canal that will rank among the world's greatest, if ever completed. It is one to connect the Black Sea with the Baltic, and would have a total length of 1,800 miles, although but sixty would have to be dug. The scheme is agitated by shippers, whose interests have suffered severely by the recent closing of the Dardanelles. Such a waterway would prove of immense benefit to that great Empire, which has for so many years chafed under the restrictions entailed by the present outlet from its great inland sea. As a unique depth of but fourteen feet is contemplated, it would not serve for vessels of large draft or for war vessels.

A Natural Sequence.

(St. John Globe.)
The withdrawal from the police of weapons of defence which they have hitherto allowed would seem to be the natural result of a decision delivered by the Police Magistrate on Saturday. Perhaps this is not intended; but it must be clear to the simplest mind that if policemen may not use a handcuff on a person arrested, who resists; if he cannot use his baton to defend himself in conditions that endanger him, he ought not to be given such implements by the civic government. "They are but encumbrances."

Last Words of a Hero.

(Toronto Star.)
"You don't think Sir James Whitney would run from the British suffragettes, do you?"—Galt Reporter. No. He would stand his ground, and as he could not strike a woman he would perish where he stood. And his last words would be: "This is preposterous!"

To Improve Civic Conditions.

(London Free Press.)
Woodrow Wilson is a social advocate of the public school being used as a social centre on the evenings. He sees in it a movement which will bring men and women together, get them talking over civic affairs and on talking lead them on to better their civic conditions.

The Drink Question.

KEIR HARDIE AND COST OF LIVING

Noted British Labor Leader Attending Meeting of Dominion Trades and Labor Congress in Guelph, Ontario
Guelph, Sept. 9.—President Parker, of the Guelph trades and labor council, opened the proceedings of the trades and labor council of Canada today, being followed by Mayor Thrope and Ald. Howard on behalf of the city council; Hon. Mr. Crothers, federal minister of labor; Hugh Guthrie, M. P., of South Wellington, took part in the opening ceremonies. President Waters then took charge, receiving greetings from fraternal delegates J. T. Smith, of Kansas City, from the American Federation of Labor. This afternoon is an open day for the delegates, and a trip has been planned to the prison farm, where the labor men will have a chance to hear Hon. Mr. Hanna explain his hobby.

The big meeting is on Tuesday evening when a representative from each province will speak at an opening meeting in the armory where the meetings are being held. J. Kier Hardie, labor leader in the British House of Commons, will be the attraction for that evening, and will discuss labor conditions in Britain. Another outing is planned for Wednesday afternoon to see the agricultural college, while a monster banquet tendered by the labor council will be a feature for Thursday evening. Many matters affecting the labor world will come up for discussion, and as the socialists are strongly represented some interesting debates are assured. The programme includes as many features the following questions:
1. Dominion and provincial legislation affecting labor interests.
2. The alien labor act and its utter unpopularity among the working man in his present cumbersome administration.
3. The immigration laws.
4. The eight hour bill.
5. The workmen's compensation acts in the various provinces, administration of them by the provincial government and their interpretation by the courts.
6. Clear definition of our position as wage workers on the project of old age pensions to be introduced before a special committee of the Dominion House of Commons.

In acknowledging the ovation given Kier Hardie upon his arrival in the hall this morning, the noted British labor leader took a fall out of Harry Schofield, the local member, who had attributed the high cost of living to cold storage. Mr. Hardie said they had it in England without cold storage. In the past ten years the cost of living has gone up 22 1/2 per cent, while wages have been almost stationary up to two years yet in those two years the incomes over three pounds a week as shown in the returns increased by 24 million pounds. It was not cold storage, but an unfair amount of labor earnings going to other than was responsible for the higher cost of living. The labor men have power to redress every wrong, if they will only stand together. This is the day of trades unionism, and it is here to stay. You have to control the governments through your votes. Mr. Hardie is a direct repudiation of the charge that the working classes cannot produce men to direct your affairs. Mr. Hardie deprecated the introduction of British landholderism in Canada, the system which is at the root of the poverty in the old land. He urged his hearers to keep out of militarism, the whole spirit of which is anti-democratic.

SIR RODOLPHE FORGET OUT OF BIG COMPANY

Montreal, Sept. 9.—It was announced today that Sir Rodolphe Forget has resigned from the board of Waymack Pulp and Paper Co. The resignation of Sir Rodolphe, it was stated, was handed in several weeks ago but no formal announcement of his retirement has yet been made by either side. It is understood that a difference of opinion was the cause of his withdrawal, and that a considerable block of stock has been marketed since. The East Canada Power and Pulp Company is said to have been the bone of contention among the members of the board, one side favoring a merger between the two industries, and the other faction successfully opposing the move.

GOVERNMENT WILLING TO INCREASE SIZE OF DRY DOCK; MR. MONK WRITES COUNCIL

Minister of Public Works Again Shows His Readiness to Grant Requests From St. John.

Council Pleased with Letter, and Commissioner of Public Affairs will at Once Take Matter Up—Board of Trade to be Invited to Co-operate—Regular Meeting of City Commissioners Yesterday.

At a meeting of the Common Council yesterday afternoon a letter was received from the Minister of Public Works stating that the government would be prepared to consider any fresh proposals as to the dimensions of the dry dock at Courtenay Bay. The matter of holding a referendum on the question of Sunday band concerts was discussed. An order to sell the Green Head property unconditionally was passed, also an order to close up the northwestern end of Nelson street, West Side.

The Green Head Matter. Com. Schofield recommended that in consideration of the sum of $12,500, in addition to the sum of $25,000 already paid by the purchaser of the Green Head property, a deed in fee simple be granted to the purchaser without any restrictions or limitations whatever. He said the commission had fallen fair to an order to grant the deed on the condition that the purchaser should be bound to pay the balance of the purchase price in full within a reasonable time.

The Closing of Nelson Street. Com. Agar then moved that the notice of motion regarding the closing of Nelson street be taken from the table, and that the motion be adopted. He said the matter had been taken up with residents who had protested, and he thought it had been shown to their satisfaction that their interests would not be jeopardized by closing the street.

HALIFAX AND ST. JOHN WILL PLAY BALL THIS AFTERNOON

It is expected that all the old time good natured rivalry between St. John and Halifax will be given full vent during the next three days on the Marathon grounds, when the Marathons will play the Halifax Socials. The Marathons are the fastest ball team St.
 John has had, while the Socials represent the best ball played in the Nova Scotia leagues.

The visitors will arrive this morning determined to do better than an even break with the Greeks, and will be on their toes all the time during the next three days. The first game will be called this afternoon at 3.15 sharp and there will doubtless be large numbers of fans on hand to see who will bring in the most interesting struggle between two evenly matched ball teams. More than ordinary interest attaches to the visit of the Hal-fax team through the fact that several members of it figured in the New

ONE ROUND HOGAN LOST TO F. BURNS

San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 9.—In a contest characterized by great gameness on the part of the defeated man, Frankie Hogan of Oakland eliminated
 One Round Hogan of San Francisco as a lightweight possibility by knocking him out in the tenth round of their fight today. As early as the third round Burns proved himself Hogan's master, sending him to the mat four times in this round.

ST. JOHN GUN CLUB SCORES ON SATURDAY

There were some good scores made by the members of the St. John Gun Club at the traps on Saturday afternoon last. The competition for the Dupont trophy and silver watch fob has been most keen and there are at present about ten members eligible for the finals which will be shot off on Saturday, 21st inst.

There are also three prizes for the members who have an average under 50 per cent. and there is considerable interest in the competition. The following are the scores made Saturday:

THE BANKERS: Jake Stahl (above) and Hugh Jennings (below).

THE OUTFIELDERS in action, left to right: Speaker, Lewis and Hooper.

One admitted that to swing the deal would be worth $50,000 to him. The other insisted that to put it through he would have to be sighted to a whole lot more than $50,000.

These two bankers are better known in another profession. One of them, the vice-president of the Washington Park bank in Chicago, is J. Garland Stahl, manager of the Boston Red Sox. The other is a director in a Scranton, Pa., bank, and is commonly known as Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers, and the only man to that the matter was peacefully set-but because of his habits, had fallen out of the game. Formerly he pitched for St. Louis and was traded from that club to the Giants several years ago.

 He was expelled from the National league in 1911 after McGraw, his man-

BANKER WOULD LIKE TO BUY BOSTON OUTFIELD

BUT IT WOULD JUST ABOUT BUST HIS BANK TO DO IT.

When a couple of bankers set their heads together and begin to talk about a deal involving say $50,000 or more, you can gamble that they are talking about something worth while. For despite any opinions you may have to the contrary, bankers know the value of "iron men."

Two bankers were talking the other day. Up to a certain point they agreed.

win three American league pennants in a row.

Their talk was on the Boston outfield. Speaker, Lewis and Hooper, the greatest aggregation of pasture fat ruminen to be found on any team in the country.

Jennings opined that he would like to buy $50,000 for the trio. Stahl just laughed. He realizes that this outfield is the real backbone of his ball club and that it would be foolish to part with them for twice $50,000.

Here is Jennings' line of reasoning.
 With an even break of luck, the three ought to improve for the next seven years. Speaker, the oldest, is only 22 and Jennings figures that Speaker, the biggest star of the lot, is easily worth $25,000, that Lewis ought to bring about $15,000 in any action, and Hooper about $10,000.

Stahl's outfeld is different. He believes that his outfeld won't give him any trouble for at least ten more years.
 As for the cash value of the players,
 he is really afraid to commit himself.
 He has his own private opinion but that opinion carries figures of such startling proportions that he doesn't care to let the public in on his secret.
 At any rate, they are three wonderful players. All of them fast on their feet, equipped with superb arms. All of them good hitters. They have caused other American league clubs a lot of trouble this year, and if they get into the world's series they are sure to worry the Giants or Cubs as well.

As for selling them, that is out of the question. Of course Stahl might be willing to talk trade, provided that he secured in return, say Ty Cobb, Joe Jackson and Clyde Milan, with Walter Johnson and Ed Walsh thrown in for good measure.

Now you can figure just how much of a chance there is for a swap.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Sept. 9.—Showers and thunderstorms have occurred today, in upper Ontario and there have also been a few scattered showers in the Maritime Provinces, but elsewhere in Canada the weather is fair and warm in most districts.

AROUND THE CITY

Barbados Merchant Here.

A. C. Gittins, representing a large sugar and molasses commission house in Barbados, arrived in the city yesterday and is at the Royal. Speaking of conditions in Barbados he said that there is considerable anxiety by sugar growers owing to a drought which has prevailed for some months on the island, and unless rain comes there is danger of a large portion of the crop being destroyed.

A Peculiar Accident.

The Boston train which is due here at eleven-thirty p. m. did not reach the city until ten minutes past twelve. The delay was caused by the lateness of the train on the Edmonton branch. As the Boston train neared the city a rather peculiar accident occurred when the air tube that connects the air brakes with the engine punctured with the result that the wheels immediately closed on the wheels bringing the train to a sudden standstill. Repairs were soon effected and the train pulled into the station.

Natural History Society.

At a meeting of the council of the Natural History Society held last evening, preliminary arrangements were made for the observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the society. The anniversary occurs on November 12th next, and it is the intention of the society to commemorate the founding of the society with interesting ceremonies. Arrangements are under way for the opening next month of the winter series of lectures. On Thursday next Dr. Hewitt, of Ottawa, will lecture before the society on "The Housefly in its Relation to Disease."

Is Diggs a Benedict?

Shortly after 8 o'clock last evening an alarm was sent in from box 221 from Dykeman's corner, in the West End. When the fire department arrived they found that some person had sent in the alarm on account of a bonfire which the youngsters had built on the street. The firemen were informed that the celebration was in honor of a wedding and that the bridegroom was no other than Charles (Ammonia) Diggs, the well known colored commercial traveler, who walks about the city selling booties and matches. It could not be learned last night if it was a fact that Diggs had taken unto himself a wife, but as Charles has appeared about the streets during the last few weeks attired in a new stylish cut pair of trousers, and has been presenting a rather dapper appearance, it may be possible that he has won the heart and hand of some dainty maiden who has become Mrs. Diggs.

PERSONAL.

Miss Jean Morton, of Moncton, is visiting friends in the city. Mr. R. A. Estey, of Fredericton, spent a few days in town, the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Currie, Queen street.

Mr. Theodore McKeeney, of Woodstock, spent a few days in town visiting Mr. Currie.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clarke are the guests of Mrs. G. W. Currie, Queen street.

Mrs. R. D. Currie, who has been visiting her son, George W. Currie, Queen street, left Saturday for Wolfville to visit her sister, Mrs. Colin Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Phillips, of Fredericton, spent a few days in the city and were the guests of Mr. G. W. Currie.

Mrs. Horace G. Black (nee Smith) will receive her friends Tuesday and Wednesday, September 10 and 11, at her residence No. 4 Wentworth street.

Mrs. Corbet and Miss Corbet, of Wright street, have returned from visiting friends in western Ontario.

Bliss Beaumont, of Moncton, is visiting friends in St. John.

Miss Gertrude McManus, of Woodstock, is on a visit to friends in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Howson, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Bell and Miss Bell, of Amherst, who are making an automobile trip through different parts of the province, arrived in the city yesterday.

Miss Helen Hunter, of Sackville, returned to their home on the C. P. R. at noon yesterday after spending a week in the city.

A. W. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, of Main street, will leave today on a trip to Boston, New York and Fall River.

AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE TO BE HELD THIS EVENING.

A meeting of special interest to Christian workers is announced for this evening in the Portland street Methodist church.

It will be a gathering for personal conference and special prayer in the interests of greater efficiency in Christian work.

The meeting will be in charge of Rev. J. W. Atkins, of Toronto, who is already widely known in St. John.

Mr. Atkins will arrive in the city this morning and conduct both the morning and afternoon conferences with the minister and officials of the St. John district in the Portland street church.

All Christian workers are invited to the evening conference at eight o'clock. It is hoped many will recognize the value of the opportunity.

TRIED TO KILL HIMSELF IN A POLICE CELL

James Lavine Kept Central Station Officers Busy Last Night.

WAS DETERMINED TO END HIS LIFE

Made Two Attempts to Hang Himself and Would Have Succeeded but for Timely Police Interference.

What is greatly needed at the central police station is a padded cell. It could have been used on many occasions and was sorely needed last night when a man, whose name is given as James Lavine, of Clarence street, was arrested and exhausted much ingenuity in attempting to kill himself.

It was about nine o'clock, when the traffic on Mill street was heavy that Lavine started his dangerous actions. He assaulted several people and finally struck James McCormack on the side with a brick causing a painful injury. There was a hurry up to the central police station for an officer and Policeman Henry Hasted to the scene. On arrival he found a large crowd of people looking on of Lavine's way. Lavine appeared to have charge of the street and people were afraid to get near him for fear of being injured.

Policeman Henry found Lavine staggering about and he had but little difficulty in placing the man under arrest. He placed him in the lockup near the C. P. R. depot and a few minutes after he had locked the door the officer says he heard a noise like a surge and on opening the cell door he found that Lavine had tied his necktie around one of the bars and was making a fairly good attempt at hanging himself. It took but an instant for the officer to cut the tie and save the man's life.

Policeman Written arrived at the cell about this time and it was thought advisable to leave the handcuffs on the man so he could not injure himself.

A Second Attempt.

He was again left in the cell and Policeman Written left the lockup for a few minutes and then went back again to see how the prisoner was acting. When he looked into the cell he was horrified to see Lavine once more in the act of hanging himself. He had torn off his shirt and had managed to fasten a strip of the shirt about his throat and tie an end around the bars of the cell door and it was only the quick work of Policeman Written that saved the man the second time from strangling himself.

The prisoner's shirt was torn from his body by himself and in order that he could not be watched more closely Policeman Written telephoned for the patrol wagon and conveyed the insane man to the central police station. The officer had his hands full on the way to the station, for the insane man said that no matter what they would do with him he was bound to kill himself. He fought with the officer, scratched his hands and once while attempting to bite the officer's hands he managed to get the policeman's coat sleeve between his teeth and before he could be taken to let go bit through the coat sleeve and bit one of the brass buttons off and after chewing on the button for a few moments he spat it out.

Had Been in Asylum.

When he arrived at the central station, the prisoner stated that he had on previous occasions been in the insane asylum and kept on saying that he wanted to kill himself. By this time he had torn his outside and inside shirts into ribbons from his body so that he was left naked with the exception of his trousers and boots.

Lavine is a man with but one eye and as he was placed in the cell he imagined that there was some enemy in the cell and he would chase the imaginary person about and would kick and call for him to go away. It was then feared he might try in some manner to injure himself so he was handcuffed to the bars of the cell door, but he had only been in this position for a few minutes when he started in biting his arms. He was then taken out of the cell and his hands handcuffed behind his back.

It was found necessary for an officer to keep a sharp watch on the man all night as it was feared that perhaps he would attempt to put his head against the cell door or injure himself in some other manner. In nearly every city of any size the police station is supplied with a padded cell for just such cases as that of last night, and a cell would have been the proper thing last night and has been found very necessary on many other occasions.

Another Mystery.

Dr. D. E. Berrymann was summoned to examine the man and the leather mitts that are used for violent insane prisoners were placed on the prisoner. These mitts hold the man's hands stationary in front of the body and it is supposed that they cannot be removed unless unbuttoned from the back. After they were placed on Lavine, he quieted down and fell asleep. About 10 minutes later Policeman Henry visited the cell to see if the prisoner was resting easily and the officer was given a great surprise, for there stood Lavine in the centre of the cell, with his hands free and waving the leather mitts and straps about. How he managed to get the appliances off and free himself is a mystery to the officers.

The safety mitts were again put on the man's hands, and at two o'clock this morning, he was asleep and was reported to have not pulled off any new stunts.

SISTER PAUL HAS RESIGNED AS A TEACHER

School Board Receives Resignation with Keen Regret.

ROUTINE BUSINESS AT MONTHLY MEETING

School Teachers Ask Remuneration for Extra Work on Examination Papers and Board Decides to Grant it.

At a meeting of the Board of School Trustees last evening on motion of Trustee Russell, seconded by Trustee Coll, the committee in charge of the matter were empowered to call for tenders for the installation of new heating boilers in the Centennial school, and award a contract for the same. The new system will be of the Viking variety double boiler, and with appliances will cost about $2,000.

The resignation of Sister Paul from the teaching staff of St. Vincent school was accepted with regret, and several matters of a routine character were discussed. Chairman R. B. Emerson presided at the meeting, and members of the board present were Trustees Coll, Russell, Loy, Keane, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. Dever, Superintendent Bridges and Secretary Leavitt.

Following the adjournment of the meeting of the preceding meeting the application of Miss Genevieve Marry for a position on the teaching staff was read and referred to the teaching committee. Miss Pauline Livingston wrote of absence from duty until the opening of the next term in January. The request was granted.

Sister Paul Resigns.

A letter was received from Sister Paul teaching resignation from the staff of St. Vincent's school. The resignation was received with expressions of regret. Sister Paul has been connected with the teaching staff for thirty-two years, and has been recognized by the board as one of the most efficient teachers in the city. The secretary and superintendent were instructed to write her expressing appreciation of her services and regret at her resignation.

An application from Joseph Harrington for increase in salary was referred to the teachers' committee. A communication from the secretary of the St. John Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was received asking for information as to the action taken by the board relative to medical inspection in the public schools. The matter was referred to the committee which is already appointed to deal with the matter.

A petition was received by the board from the High school entrance papers asking that the board supplement the grant made by the government for this work by a further remuneration. The petitioners claim that in as much as the work is extra, requiring considerable preparation throughout the vacation, and is also irksome, more compensation should be granted.

The members of the board expressed themselves as in accord with granting the request and referred the petition to the teachers' committee to be dealt with when the next estimates are laid up.

In both the towns of Fredericton and Moncton the school boards have already supplemented the government grant by a remuneration.

Strathcona Shields Here.

A number of the Strathcona shields which are to be presented to the different schools throughout Canada have been received by the secretary of the board, and the ceremonies in connection with the presentation probably be held during the present month. Apart from their historical interest, the shields are a source of pride and a committee comprising Dr. Bridges, Mrs. Dever, Mrs. Skinner, Trustee Russell and Coll was appointed to look after the arrangements for the public ceremonies in connection with the presentation.

The matter of procuring a site for the new Douglas avenue school was discussed at length, but no action taken.

Trustee Coll reported that many of the fire escapes on the schools required immediate attention as the paint had worn off, and the visitors of all schools where such action is found necessary were empowered to call for tenders for repainting the escapes and having the work done under the supervision of the buildings committee.

An Artistic Catalogue.

Probably one of the most ambitious pieces of catalogue work ever turned out in St. John has just been issued from the press of Messrs. J. & A. McMillan for the Enterprise Foundry Company, Limited, of Sackville, N. B., for whom Messrs. Emerson & Fisher, Limited, of this city are the selling agents. The Enterprise products are known from coast to coast for their sterling worth and the fact that the McMillan press has turned out such a splendid example of the "art preservative" will further advance the interests of "made in New Brunswick" products all over the Dominion.

RECEPTION TO MEMBERS OF THE ST. JOHN DEL. EGATION RETURN FROM MONTREAL.

L. P. D. TILLEY TELLS OF THE RECEPTION

Scene of Wonderful Enthusiasm when Canada's Premier Reached Montreal—Gorgeous Decorations.

Some of the members of the St. John delegation who took part in the national demonstration given to Premier Borden at Montreal, on his return to Canada, returned to the city yesterday. Others, including Senator Daniel, H. Thorne and J. R. Stoe, went on to Ottawa to attend the banquet given in honor of Premier Borden last evening.

St. John and the province were well represented at the Montreal reception to the prime minister. The city delegation consisted of Senator Daniel, Hon. J. D. Hazen, W. H. Thorne, Hon. John E. Wilson, Hon. J. R. Stoe, M. P., L. P. D. Tilley, M. P., Philip Granman, M. P., F. Daniel Mullin, K. C., J. Stone, J. Starr, J. T. McNeil, J. McDonald, Jr., among other New Brunswickers who were present were Hon. John Morrissey and Mr. McCurdy, Newcastle; F. J. Bolduc, M. P., of Kent; Geo. J. Clarke, M. P., of Charlotte county; O. C. Crockett, M. P., of York county; A. R. Slipp, M. P., and H. W. Wood, M. P., of Queens county; Geo. E. Jones, M. P., of Kings county, and J. K. Findar, M. P., of York county.

Messrs. Findar, Jones and Crockett went to Ottawa to attend the banquet to the prime minister last evening.

Wonderful Enthusiasm.

Speaking of the demonstration given to the premier at Montreal, Mr. Tilley, who returned with the members of the provincial delegation who did not go on to Ottawa, said that he was filled with enthusiasm and interest when in his experience.

When the members of the provincial delegation arrived in Montreal they were met by representatives of the national committee, and taken to their headquarters prepared for a cordial welcome to the pier where the S. S. Earl Grey landed the premier. All the wharf lights were illuminated, were illuminated in a gorgeous manner, and the landing of the premier was signalled by a great display of fireworks. After the premier and his entourage had come, he was escorted to the Windsor Hotel by a procession of automobiles, two miles long through streets brilliantly illuminated, decorated with banners and bunting, and lined by cheering multitudes of enthusiastic people.

On arriving at the Windsor Hotel the premier in response to the demands of the people gathered there delivered a brief speech, and then he and Mrs. Borden held an informal reception, shaking hands with thousands.

Reception by Hon. Mr. Hazen.

After Mr. Borden's departure for Ottawa, Hon. E. Hazen held an informal reception at which members of the delegations from the Maritime Provinces and others attending. Among those from Nova Scotia who were present at the reception given by Mr. Hazen were John Stanfield, M. P., for Colchester; E. N. Rhodes, M. P., for Cumberland; C. Jamieson, M. P., for Digby; L. Davidson, M. P., for Annapolis, and Mr. Tremain, M. P., for Hants.

Fall Coats.

The fine display of fall coats at F. A. Dykeman & Co.'s is being commented upon most favorably by their many customers who have seen them. Every day they are making ready sales of their coats because people can see that in purchasing one of their coats they get durability, comfort, good style and good fit at a most reasonable price. They have a very attractive coat priced eleven dollars and fifty cents. It is a navy blue trimmed with black with thousands which is most pleasing and attractive.

INVENTORIES OF HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS.

Household inventories are of prime importance to the householder who should know at all times the value of his household belongings for purposes of insurance—three-fourths of their cash value being the usual amount of insurance conservative owners carry on their homes and contents.

This inventory, together with all valuable papers should never be kept where they are liable to be destroyed in case of fire in the home but in a bank safety vault, where one is available, is a caution observed by prudent policyholders.

In case the inventoried and insured property is destroyed by fire, all trouble in adjusting the loss, when the adjuster comes, demanding a sworn limited statement of all articles on which loss claim is based is removed. The inventory is the available substitute for a defective memory, verifies the claim, eliminates disputes, prevents delays and suits at law.

I have a number of these inventories which I shall be pleased to place with any one applying for them. They carry their own instructions how to use them and will be found very serviceable.
