SPEECH OF R. K. TRACY, M. L. A.

Deals Moderately witn all Questions But Frankly States His Position

Mr. Speaker—On rising to take part in this debate I will assure you Sir, that I will not take up very much of the valuable time of this House but will try and be as brief as possible. Just at this time Sir, I would like to join with all previous speakers in congratulating the mover and the seconder of the address in reply to the speech from the throne, and to concur in all other congratulation that may be in order. I am sure sir, that all members from both sides of the House will join with me in extending a hearty welcome to the Hon. Member from Queens, who has been able to take his seat in the House and we hope will soon be restored to his usual good health.

After listening to so many speeches from both the Government and opposition members and hearing the great difference of opinion as to the affairs of this Province, I am led to believe that there is need of more independent thought and action. On the one hand we have a picture of growth and prosperity and we are told that our financial condition is of the very best, that our credit is good and that we are paying off our debt. On the other hand we have a picture showing that we are facing financial ruin. These may, perhaps, be termed the two extremes, and I would rather discuss this matter more from a business standpoint than from a political standpoint, such as politics that exist in the province today. It seems to be an undisputed fact that in 1916 and 1917 when the present Government came into power the bonded debt was about $15,000,000 dollars, but perhaps we had better go back a little further to 1908 when the late Conservatory Government came into power, we find that the debt was only $5,000,000 dollars, and that now it has reached the enormous sum of $30,000,000, or an increase of about one and one-half million dollars per year for the whole period. Now if this goes on for the next fifty years what will be the situation, as we have nothing more to look to for a further increase in revenue. We all know that our Crown Lands have been our chief source of revenue, and we also know that they are becoming depleted and that our returns from them will in the near future become less and less each year. Our other greatest source of revenue is the Auto Tax which has been increasing each year, but we cannot expect this to increase to any great extent and no doubt it will have reached its limit in the next eight or ten years.

It is true that upwards of three millions of this money was spent for hydro and will, or at least should, take care of itself, although the Province is responsible for that amount. It is also true that large sums of money have been spent upon our Trunk roads and our bridges supposed to be of permanent nature, and while they are an asset to the Province in one sense of the word, yet we must admit that we are not deriving a direct revenue from them and at the same time we have to pay interest on the bonds and that we must keep them in repair, otherwise the roads at least, would wear out in from four to six years according to the traffic over them. In the fact of this we must expect to take care of this expenditure even with a sinking fund provided as the roads will be worn out before the bonds mature.

It will mean that our debt will have increased at least seventy-five millions of dollars which will mean a bonded debt of over one hundred million of dollars and we must assume that it would be much more than this as our interest charged would increase each year with the result that our debt would increase in the same proportion. If this should happen and the time come when it would take all of our revenue to pay our interest what would we have for our public service? If this should happen I wonder if our credit would be as good in the money markets of the world as it is today. I believe that our credit is good today and in order to keep it good we must not allow our Public Debt to increase as it has in the past, as we may find ourselves in the same position as a good many private individuals and corporations have in the past few years. I wonder what this Province would be worth after a debt of this amount had been paid, after the share of the Federal debt had been paid, after the bonded indebtedness of the cities and municipalities had been paid, the debt of the school districts, the debts of the individual secured by mortgage on real estate.

It looks to me Mr. Speaker as though this Province would not be worth very much, and while I do not wish to preach blue ruin, it looks to me as though we must face the issue sooner or later and that we should start at once and not heap burdens upon the future generation that they cannot carry. I would like to ask any member of this legislature if in his own private affairs he would think it good business to go on and borrow money each year to carry on his business whatever it might be, thinking

CHRIST CHURCH, GLASSVILLE ANNUAL VESTRY MEETING

The annual meeting of the congregation of Christ Church, Glassville, was held on Monday evening at the home of G. B. Reid, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The Rector presided and opened the proceedings by prayer, after which he thanked the church officers and congregation for their cordial co-operation in the work of the church during the past year, and spoke of the increased confidence between priest and people. He asked them to continue their warm-hearted support, and said that he looked forward to a bright future for the church.

Mrs. Reid read the financial report for the year 1923 which showed the church to be financially sound, the offerings during that year being the highest on record. Mr. Reid, senior warden, also spoke in support of the Rector. He said that only the pleasant feelings existed between the church officials and the Rector. He went on to say that the congregation and friends desired to show their appreciation of the Rector's work in a tangible form, and he was pleased to hand to the Rector $100 to help towards buying a new car. He wished to associate Mr. John P. Millie with the gift as helping to see the members who had donated. In thanking them the Rector said that it was one more tie to bind him to the parish and hoped that he would be worthy of the confidence they reposed in him.

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Churchwardens—G. B. Reid and Thomas Guthrie; vestrymen, Fred McBrine, Archie McBrine, Roderick Lee, Robert A. Lee, Edward Wiley, sr., Edward Wiley, jr., Fred Hannington, Frank Hannington, William Guthrie and George Guthrie, jr. The meeting closed with the benediction after which refreshments were served through the kindness of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Reid.

REV. A. E. CHOCHALY ON ARMENIAN RELIEF

Rev. A. E. Chochaly, a native Persian, who grew to manhood in his native country, but who took his arts and divinity course at McMaster University, Toronto, and who is now Maritime Field Secretary for the Armenian Relief Association of Canada, preached at the morning and evening services at the United Baptist church on Sunday and was listened to by large audiences. He also addressed the Anglican, Methodist and United Baptist Sunday schools. His theme is one that should appeal to every person, as there are hundreds of thousands homeless and starving in Armenia through the ravages of the Turks and they are kept alive only by the Christian people of the west, largely England, Canada and United States.

The Armenian Relief Association of Canada is interdenominational and at the head of the New Brunswick committee are Lieutenant Governor Todd, president; Lord Bishop of Fredericton, vice-president; and Judge Forbes, chairman. Of the orphan waifs 53,000 are already housed, but it requires a great deal of money to feed them and to care for others. Five dollars a month will keep one of these children and fit him for self support and a career of usefulness.

C. S. Baker, manager of Bank of Montreal, consented to act as local treasurer and he will receive any contribution that any may desire to make. On Monday evening Mr. Chochaly showed two films of pictures depicting the work being done in Armenia and also the awful need of more work being done. The object is a most worthy one and should have the support of everybody who is getting three square meals a day quite regularly.

HOLY TRINITY CHURCH

BETTER POTATOES FOR AROOSTOOK

Seeing Arookstookans As Other People See Them.

An editorial in The Portland Express Advertiser has the following to say regarding Aroostook.

"Simultaneously with the word received from General Primo de Rivera, who is just now general manager of Spain, that he could use a few Aroostook potatoes, comes the announcement that the Maine Potato Growers' Exchange, has appointed a plant pathologist of nation reputation to advise the potato planting industry in the northern county. Each announcement is good news. Aroostook growers have made a little money from their crops this year, but the call from the Spanish dons for Maine spuds, has sent prices soaring which means more dollars for those who have them to sell.

Domestic consumers for a few weeks now may have to pay a little more for their tubers, but here in Maine we won't mind that much so long as it makes for the prosperity of the chief agricultural section of the State.

The success of the co-operative marketing plan which has been well tried out this year, followed by the plans that are being made for growing better potatoes in Aroostook indicates that the farmers of the county have no intention of quitting their chief crop. They are improving the product and they are going ahead to plant more potatoes instead of less.

All the experience of the past year confirms the good judgment of this determination. The potato has its fat years and its lean years. The year after the war was the fattest of fat seasons and a stream of gold poured into Aroostook county, so brilliant that it blinded the eyes of some of the farmers. This was followed by a very lean season which not only dimmed the gains of the previous season, but practically dissolved it.

We heard much talk at that time how Aroostook would have to quit potato business and the country deluged with outside advice about the diversification of crops. But the producers refused to diversify. Instead they looked about for ways of guarding their industry, the value of the co-operative marketing plan being one of the means that will make the business less of a gamble than it had been. The employment of a plant pathologist indicates that they propose not only to sell their potatoes better but to produce better potatoes to sell.

This of course is much better than trying something else as so many so-called agricultural economists advised them to do. The farmers of Aroostook are highly intelligent and enterprising. They know better how to produce potatoes than anyone else. But they also have shown that they realize that there is yet much which they can learn about the job. So they are going ahead to learn and to sow their fields with spuds and their country continues to hold its ancient prestige as being the "garden spot of Maine."

Bridge in London!

There's one form of recreation which the English share with us and, in spite of Foster, often are able to give us pointers: Auction Bridge.

As evidence of the grip of the game over there, an order for Moir's Chocolates has just come in from the Holborn Restaurant, London. Two-fifths of the order was for the Bridge Box, each package containing, of course, a pound of chocolates, a pack of playing cards, and a pad of Bridge scores.

The Bridge Box is similarly popular from coast to coast in Canada.

ASTHMA NEVER CAME BACK

Since Taking The Fruit Treatment in "Fruit-a-tives"

Read this letter from Mrs. J. M. Pennington of New Rockland, P.Q.

"In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered during the winter. I began having choking spells and would just gasp for breath and could not speak. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

In the spring of 1920, I started taking "Fruit-a-tives" and soon the choking spells became easier and I have not had one since May 7th, 1920. It is such a relief to be able to go to bed and have no thought of having to get up in the night for an hour or more as I did all that winter, but never have to now, all because I take a "Fruit-a-tives" tablet every night.

SPEECH OF R. K. TRACEY, M.L.A.

it was a safer proposition. Would there not be a time when he would get in difficulties? And I am very much afraid that if we go on and increase our debt each year that sometime we would find ourselves in the same position. There is only one business that I know of that could keep this up and that is the drug business with a vendor's license.

Just here I would like to say just a word in regard to Prohibition. The Prohibition law is no doubt the hardest law that we have to enforce, and some go so far as to say that it cannot be enforced, and the Government tells us that the Act was in force when they came into power, and that according to certain weak points in the Act they are unable to carry out the law. Now it is pretty well known that the Prohibition Act is being used for revenue purposes and not for the suppression of the liquor traffic. Now my advice to the Government would be, that if they wished to enforce the law to amend the Act so that they would have the power they wanted in order to make it a success, and if they do not wish to do this to come out and say that they are going to run it for the sake of the revenue.

Now Mr. Speaker, I will try and get back to the subject again, and no doubt the Government will say that they cannot cut down their expenditure any as the demands of the public will not allow it and that the public service must be maintained. My own opinion is, Mr. Speaker, that the expenditure of this Province can be greatly reduced without any injury to the Public Service. The heads of the different departments of the Government will have to cut down his overhead expenses just the same as everybody else has done in the past few years, and what is true of one is true of the other and I would suggest that they start at the head and hew to the line in every department. I believe this has been done in at least one department and should be followed by the others.

We have heard a great deal about losses from forest fires, and from bad winds, and also from spring freshets. We all realize that the destruction of property was great and that it took an immense amount of money to repair the damage to our roads and bridges. I know that in Carleton county the damage during the freshet was great and that it required a large expenditure to repair and rebuild, and I think perhaps it is quite hard for those in sections where the freshet was not so heavy to realize how bad it was. But while we have had these losses, I am sure that the greatest loss we have sustained is the loss of so many of our Canadian born men and women, so many of our boys and girls who have gone to other countries to try and better their condition. This drain has been mostly from our rural districts and does not speak well for the agricultural industry of this country upon which we are depending for our growth and prosperity.

If the manufacturer is not making his business pay they simply get together and raise the price of the article being manufactured to a price that will pay. If a telephone company finds that their rates charged will not return a dividend, and rightly so, as capital should be paid the same as labor, they appeal to the Public Utilities and have a rate fixed that will pay all expenses, allow for depreciation, and pay a reasonable interest on the capital invested.

Now, I do not say that it is possible to do this in the case of the farmer but were it possible to do so I feel sure that all the vacant farms would be taken up again and that we would have a happy and a contented people in the rural districts at least.

Now, what we need to make conditions better in this province, to my mind, we need more industries, wider markets, lower freight rates, better schools and better roads in rural, and especially outlying districts.

There has been a great deal of advice given to the farmer as to what he should raise, and in most cases he is advised to go into the dairy business or at least into mixed farming. Now I myself, am in favor of mixed farming but the returns from the dairy, from beef, pork, hay and oats are not such that would be very encouraging unless having the advantage of a local market.

It is rather amusing to note how many of those giving advice claim that they are not farmers but were born on a farm, and I suppose for this reason should know what is best. It is a wonder that more of these gentlemen did not stay on the farm and put farming on a paying basis. I wonder if they ever took a pencil and figured out what it would cost to raise cattle to a stage when they would be fit for beef or the dairy. If you just allow one cent per meal for the labor of feeding until the animal is three years old you will find that you have about thirty-three dollars which is more than we could get for a three-year-old in Carleton county during the last year, and say nothing about the feed to raise the animal.

The honorable member from Kings county told us the other day about twelve cows that returned a profit of one hundred dollars each for the year. I think he must have meant gross returns and not net profit. He also pictured a very dismal scene in Carleton and Victoria counties where they are raising a few potatoes and where the people did not have any Christmas dinner this year. I would like sir to correct that statement, and while the people of Carleton and Victoria counties did loose a lot of money immediately after the war and have had a hard fight but with true Canadian courage they are coming back again, and while we have lost some of our best citizens, we have learned the lesson that others have learned, and are learning, and that this Government and other Governments must learn, and that is to earn more and save more, and to spend less.

Now just a word about hydro development. I am glad to hear the government report that the Musquash development is now on a paying basis and is taking care of itself, and that they feel justified in going on with the Grand Falls development. Speaking for myself and I think the great majority of the people of Carleton county, I may say that I am strongly in favor of development, if it can be shown (as I understand it has) to be a feasible undertaking. I am in favor of the work being done through a hydro commission representing the whole people. One of the board to be a representative of the rural districts in order that justice may be done to masses of the people and that the benefits of the development may be had by the rural districts (wherever feasible) as well as the urban population. I firmly believe that a market will be found for the power faster than it can be developed. I understand that Ontario is spending ten millions every year on hydro and cannot supply it fast enough. We cannot realize the benefit this will be to the province. It will bring many new industries and encourage old ones, all of which will bring back many of our own people to the province again. Owing to the scarcity of fuel I believe the time is not far distant when electric current will be used for heating purposes in some localities, and it will also be used for running our railway trains, our motor cars and such like.

Just here I want to say just a word about motor cars or rather about the auto tax. At the present time we are taxed $1 per hundred weight on our cars and in addition twenty per cent of this amount for patrol purposes on trunk roads. While I am strongly in favor of the patrol system, I believe the tax to be unfair to many of the people who pay it. As I see it the auto tax goes to provide a fund to build the roads, and the patrol tax is for the upkeep of the roads. Now I believe that the people who use the road the most should pay the most toward the upkeep. We have a great many people throughout the province who own cars, but who do not get out upon the trunk road very little and should not pay as much when they only drive say one thousand miles as the other fellow that drives ten thousand miles. If this tax must be imposed it should be done by a gasoline tax. No doubt it will be said that this cannot be worked out on account of the fisherman's motor boat and stationary engines and tractors, but it is done in other provinces and

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

Sunday found a number of curious people drawn to the railroad bridge below town, where a crew of bridge-builders were engaged, with all modern hoisting appliances, in moving the old super-structure over on the new abutments, just completed.

Three especially good films were shown at the local theatre on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Probably the most noteworthy of was "The Virginian" a picture taken from the thrilling novel of the west written some twenty years ago. Owen Wister. Kenneth Harlan and Russel Simpson, were each excellent in the title role and that of Tramp respectively. "Crossed Wires," comedy-drama with Gladys Walton was a very high order. The crux of the play ran around the efforts of a most plebeian young "hello" girl, who succeeded in filching an invitation to a select ball among the four hundred and the amazingly intricate developments which grew from it. A western two-reeler on Saturday evening was also much enjoyed. Look for this weeks advertising on page 7.

Thomas McCain and Thomas Boyer of Florenceville were in town on Saturday.

Centreville has a sure bet for Olympic honors in the hen fruit eating contest. We would be glad to hear from any other locality that has an aspirant for competition against the following authentic record made in the presence of six citizens. It was our Sunday evening vaudeville, putting far in the shade all other indoor sports. Speaking of eating during the course of the evening one young fellow made the rash statement that he could eat three dozen raw eggs by the time-worn custom of sucking them from the shell. Immediately a reward of five dollars was laid up by as many gentlemen, if he could carry out his programme. Adjournment was at once made from the hotel to a local store where the cruel waste began. One fellow tapped the eggs, another sucked and the empty caskets bore mute verification of the havoc wrought. Through the consumption of the first dozen unbelief kept saying, "It can not be done." As the half mile post was reached, wonder began to overspread countenances and the onlookers began to lose their certainty. Two dozen, two and a half. It was evident that the luscious egg had lost its marvellous taste. One, two, three more and the boy had enough. Dead at 33. This is strictly authentic and affidavit can be made by any present as to its truth. To any one doubting this eating contest's place among the Herculean tasks, let them consider the amount as half of a Humpty Dumpty egg case, or count out 33 eggs and look at them in toto. "Is the boy alive," do I hear one ask? In reply let us state that the only untoward effect of the ample diet was a distorted dream wherein the eater dreamed he was hit by a hard-boiled egg and instantly killed, was laid away in an egg-shell coffin, was spirited across the river of Styx on an egg shell raft, and woke up in the other world dressed in an egg shell suit of asbestos fibre, where he spent the millennium as head waiter where breakfast was composed of ham and eggs. The feat really resulted in no economic waste as the remnants of the feast are to be fashioned into a racing shell and sent over to the olympics with the champion egg eater to Hilton Belyea, with our best compliments. P. S. All the hens in Centreville worked two shifts on Monday.

HARTLAND, N. B., APRIL 30, 1924.

RAILWAYS AND POLITICIANS

The speech of R. K. Tracey, M.L.A., which takes up much of this issue of The Observer, is worth reading and preservation. His utterances are marked by moderation and show that the man is a careful thinker. He states that he wishes to discuss all the questions from a business standpoint and not from the view of the politician. But Mr. Tracey is something of a politician, nevertheless, as is shown by the naive way in which he side-steps some important questions. The Observer, however, will let these pass and take up briefly some other matters in which he is more out-spoken, but before going any further it is well to correct some figures which are somewhat ambiguous to the hurried reader.

This refers in particular to the clause of one sentence which says "The Valley railway gets six cents for hauling a car about 175 miles." As the speech stands there will be very many people throughout the country who will declare on the authority of Mr. Tracey that the Valley road gets only six cents for hauling the car load from Woodstock to St. John. What Mr. Tracey really meant was six cents per hundred pounds, or about $60 a car of 50 tons which is a very reasonable rate. Mr. Tracey should show as figures of what the Valley railroad gets for cars originating on its line and transferred to the C. P. R. at Woodstock or at Fredericton.

As regards the building of the Valley railroad from Centreville to Grand Falls, Mr. Tracey, as well as Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Burlock, Mr. Smith and all the other Misters that intend to enter politics, are going to tell the people that this is the very thing for them and that they are going to do their very utmost to bring it about.

Let us face the first fact. In order to have a paying district the railway must have a clear twenty-five miles of good supplying territory on either side of it. The proposed extension of the Valley Railway will run to the apex of a triangle with Centreville as its base, with Florenceville, on the C. P. R., on one corner, and Bridgewater, on the B. & A., at the other corner, a distance of about eight miles as the crow flies. Therefore, the Valley Railway if run north to Grand Falls will at no point be further than three miles from the B. & A. on one side, or the C. P. R. on the other; and neither of the two existing roads are over-burdened with traffic, and yet have served and are serving faithfully and well.

That the connection with the N. T. R. at Grand Falls will form a link for through traffic from the West is a fallacy. The N. T. R. route via McGivney and Fredericton to St. John is shorter than the proposed Valley route and it is lying in practical disuse, representing millions upon millions of wasted money. Will Mr. Tracey or any other politician tell us that the completion of the Valley railway from Centreville to Grand Falls is going to create more freight from the West?

The cost of the building of the N. T. R. from Levis to Moncton was $35,000,000. GO THINK OF IT! And the road is scarcely more than two streaks of rust. Every effort to operate it has resulted in millions of loss each year. So heavy is the loss of this section that it is absorbed into the general revenue of the whole Atlantic region so that the officials declare they cannot separate the gross earnings of the section.

This is the fourth of a series of railway editorials in The Observer but it is not the last. We must tell the people who have hoped for the extension of the Valley railroad that as much as individuals should desire it, the road is not feasible from a business standpoint. It can never pay the enormous cost of building, and those higher up know with absolute surety that the extension will never be built. Had the N.T.R. been built from Grand Falls straight down the St. John river, as was at one time planned, both the Valley road and the N.T.R. would today be saved from much of the loss they at present sustain, but the building of the extension will not reclaim the wasted $35,000,000 nor the bonded debt of more than $7,000,000 which little New Brunswick is responsible for.

The chief difference between railways and politicians is that one is very expensive and the other is cheap. Expensive railways should not be exploited by politicians.

SEWING CIRCLE GOSSIP

There was some discussion at the Sewing Circle this week about the cup of coffee one gets at the Parker House in Boston. The wife of the radio operator, who visited Boston, recently said that she found the Parker House coffee of excellent quality, but no better than LUXOR ORIENTAL COFFEE, which she gets from MacPherson the grocer, in half and one pound tins. It would be impossible, she thinks, to make a more delicious cup of coffee than she prepares for her husband's breakfast every morning with LUXOR ORIENTAL COFFEE.

forest and cleared up some of the finest farms in the Province of New Brunswick today and had not caused any damage. Last year in burning some brush where they had got firewood, and in order that the land could be cultivated and their farms kept neat, seven farmers were summoned to court and fined. This sir, was an injustice and the department should at least refund them their money, as this does not have a tendency to make people happy and contented and to remain on the farms. If it is necessary to have this law to protect the Crown Lands from fire then the province should be divided into different areas so that people on private owned land can burn his slash as he is not going to run the risk of burning his property and will take the necessary precautions. I would also like to call the Hon. Minister to the fact that not very far from this place the Americans come over and hunt and fish and at the same time build fires in defiance of our officers, and in most cases it is done on Sundays which is not appredicted by our law abiding citizens and should be stopped, and I might say that I have on a previous occasion called the attention of the Hon. Minister to this and was promised that it would be looked after.

Now Sir, I wish to pass on for just a moment to the Department of Agriculture. I would like to refer to a resolution that was adopted by the Canadian Horticultural Council, seeking to amend the Roots and Vegetable Act by raising the standard of the Canada Grade A potato whereby the minimum size would be two and one-half inches in diameter for the round variety and two and one-quarter inches ifor the long variety. Now it may be hard for some to understand why this recommendation was made as there never was any complaints from the consumer of any kind, and the Now Mr. Speaker I am going to refer for a moment to a subject that [illegible] referred to by previous [illegible] and that everybody seems [illegible] for certain reasons. [illegible] Workman's Compensa[illegible] Now I wish to make it per[illegible] that I do not object to the [illegible] workman getting compensa[illegible] I do believe that it is cost[illegible] much money for overhead [illegible] and the service could be giv[illegible] much cheaper. Hon. Mr. Veniot—The honorable [illegible] is mistaken, they only have [illegible] four per cent.

Mr. Tracey—I must differ with the [illegible] Premier as the assessment was [illegible] per cent and then another assess[illegible] was made later of four per cent.

Hon. Mr. Veniot—It was only the small amounts that was paid and the [illegible] was allowed to spread over a [illegible] of years.

Mr. Tracey—They had to pay interest on this amount and the fact remains that they did pay the assessment of eight per cent and when you add to this six per cent sales tax, interest on money to do business on, stamp tax, receipt tax and draft tax, it means that it is almost prohibitive, and nearly always turns what might have been a fair profit into a loss for the operator and in this way discourages the industry.

Now Sir, as so many speakers have preceded me the ground has been well covered and it would be unwise for me to take up the valuable time of this House in going over the same story again, and so much criticism has been hurled at the Department of Public Works and the Department of Public Health, I will pass on and say just a word in regard to the Department of Lands and Mines, who generally escapes with very little criticism. The subject I wish to refer to is the burning of slash. Now Mr. Speaker, I believe that the burning of slash in the fall of the year is almost impossible and not at all practical, as it is very seldom that the slash is dry enough to burn, and if you fail to get it burned in the fall, before another opportunity occurs the underbrush will grow up through the slash and it will be almost impossible to clear the land at all. This makes it impossible to clear the land and we might just as well dismiss the idea of placing settlers on new farms unless the Act is changed. I would like to call the attention of the Hon. Minister of Lands and Mines to a case in Carleton county where men had gone into the

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not be without it. I have taken it before each of my children was born and afterwards, and find it a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and ringing in my ears. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of my husband told him what the Vegetable Compound had done for his wife and advised him to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help as it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. SMITH, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intended. Thousands of women testify to this fact.

NO TREASON

PRICE has always been of secondary importance in the blending of KING COLE Orange Pekoe. It has to be, if that characteristic rich flavor is to be maintained. Unusually choice teas are continually sought for it, and the cost of these is frequently changing.

KING COLE Orange Pekoe is for the real tea lover to whom a fine cup of tea is a delightful necessity. Any lowering of the quality would be treason.

The price of KING COLE Orange Pekoe has changed slightly from time to time, and may again be higher or lower according to market conditions, but its original exclusive flavor remains unaltered.

grower was satisfied, and it was uniform with the American Grade No. 1. Now while this change was not made I wish to point out that if it had it would have destroyed the potato industry in New Brunswick, as so much of the crop would have graded as Grade B that no market for them could be found and so make the growing of potatoes prohibitive.

Now Sir, I would like to point out that there is not a Province in Canada with the possible exception of P. E. I. that can compete with New Brunswick in raising a good quality of potatoes, and as the other provinces cannot raise Grade A potatoes it is very evident that they wanted to raise the standard in order that ours would to a great extent be classed as Grade B which would put us on a level with them and no doubt would put us out of business as far as the raising of potatoes was concerned.

I would like to call the attention of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture to the fact that while the amendment was not made we did not have a representative on that Council, but we were represented by a man from Nova Scotia, and I would like to suggest that in future we have a practical potato man to look after our interests in this important industry.

Mr. Mersereau—The Hon. Gentleman is right.

Mr. Tracey—Now Mr. Speaker, as it is six o'clock I will not take up any more of the valuable time of this House but will thank you all for your kind attention and take my seat.

School started again on Wednesday after the Easter recess. The children say one more lap, and then the summer vacation. The teachers say, one more struggle and then rest. Meanwhile knowledge has to be rammed, and jammed, and slammed and banged into the heads of children that they may amount to something in after life. Of course SOME children are so bright that knowledge comes to them easy, like a dog wagging its tail, but this only applies to a few—yes dear reader, your children do belong to this class.

trial and here circumstances placed him in the selfsame plight she had before found herself. He was likewise exonerated and a love affair ended happily. Some strikingly beautiful northern northern scenery was shown in this picture. On Saturday evening Hoots Gibson was shown in a comedy drama "Double Dealing," wherein the hero was outwitted in property transactions by the town shylock, only to find that the property he considered himself gypped with was really valuable. A real honest-to-goodness scrap was shown in the course of the film. "A Corn Fed Sleuth" proved a side-splitting two-reel comedy. See advertising for this weeks programmes.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our little daughter, Gladys M. Lovely, who departed this life, May 2, 1923.

Dear one, you have left us,
Gone to dwell with God above;
Gone to meet our other loved ones
In that mansion house of love.

If you have left sad hearts behind you,
Where you once made glad our home,
Left many hearts grieving—
But we know God's will be done.

You have found a friend in Jesus,
Better than an earthly friend.
And one who was ever near you
And with you to the end.

But we never will forget you,
Neither will thy memory fade;
Flowers of love will bloom forever
On the grave where she is laid.

Father, Mother Sister, and Brother.

In loving memory of George W. Lund who died April 30, 1923.

You're not forgotten, Father dear,
Nor ever will you be;
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

And again we hope to meet him
When the days of life are fled
And in heaven once more greet him
Where no farewell tears are shed

PIGS FOR SALE

For Sale—Purebred Yorkshire Pigs. There is no better stock in the province than the dams of these pigs. their sire was imported from Ontario last fall. His sire took first place at the great Toronto Fair last fall. The sire of his dam took first prize at the Toronto Fair in 1922.

These pigs are the correct bacon type, and are stock that I am proud to recommend of very prolific strain. Considering the small extra first cost you cannot afford to use inferior stock as breeders. Plans are now on foot to ship hogs this fall to be sold on the graded basis with a premium for selects. Get the best we have them.

Eminent Railway Builders

A unique record of Canadian railway pioneer engineers isembodied in a photograph taken in Vancouver recently of three prominent members of the profession whose record for continued service in the survey and construction of railways is possibly without parallel. They are—reading from left to right, H. J. Cambie, M.E.I.C., eighty-seven years of age; T. H. White, M.E.I.C., seventy-six years of age; and J. H. Kennedy, M.E.I.C., seventy-two years of age. They are all resident in Vancouver.

Each has been identified with one of the three great transcontinental railroads now operating in British Columbia, as chief engineer on the location and construction of the original main lines within the Province, pioneered through the wilderness of mountains, canyons, forests and plains by feats of engineering skill and perseverance not surpassed and scarcely equalled in any other part of the world. Each one is enjoying excellent health, and occupies the very highest place in the respect and esteem of the members of the engineering profession together with the general public. Another very interesting coincidence lies in the fact that each one possesses the apparently magic name "Henry".

Henry John Cambie, M.E.I.C., was born on October 25th, 1836, in County Tipperary, Ireland. He had charge of the location of the present main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway from the Coast to Griffin Lake, and was chief engineer of the world-famous construction through the Fraser Canyon from Yale to Lytton, and also the construction of the section from Savona Ferry to Shuswap Lake.

Mr. Cambie has been continuously associated with the Canadian Pacific Railway and its predecessor, the Government Railway, for sixty-eight years. His name is perpetuated by the station on the Canadian Pacific, Cambie, on the giant loop below Glacier. Mr. Cambie explored, surveyed and planned the whole course of the Canadian Pacific through a large section of the province of British Columbia, and under his direct supervision the part that runs through the canyons of the Fraser was built. At the age of eighty-seven he is still hale and hearty, enjoying the love and esteem of his fellow men.

Thomas Henry White, M.E.I.C., was born on January 20th, 1848, at St. Thomas, Ontario. He was chief engineer of the location and construction of the present main line from the Yellowhead Pass, down the North Thompson and Fraser Canyons to New Westminster. It is interesting to note that he was Mr. Cambie's right-hand assistant during the work in the Fraser Canyon.

Mr. White has always been popular with his fellow engineers, being noted for abundant good nature, keen sense of humour, and an absolute fairness in all his associations.

James Henry Kennedy, M.E.I.C., was born on March 3rd, 1848, in Carleton County, Ontario. He had charge of the location of the main line in British Columbia, under the Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern Railway charter, from Esquimalt to the Coast. As chief engineer he built the first section in the Province, from Laurier to Grand Forks, through the Kettle Valley country and afterwards constructed the longer section from Chopaka to Brookmere, through the difficult Similkameen and Tulameen Valleys.

The complete record of the lifework of each of these pioneer railroaders is full of interesting reminiscence, and the monuments of their handiwork are to be seen in practically every province of the Dominion. Although British Columbians take great pride in the achievements of these men, they nevertheless feel that they belong to Canada, from coast to coast.
