Criminal Carelessness

Caused the Mona Isle Steamship Disaster.

The Crew and Many of the Passengers Drunk at the Time.

Complete Solution of the Althorpe Murder Mystery.

Some of the Successful Tricks of Bogus Claim Agents—Egyptians Have "Sweated" £30,000 Sovereigns —Wholesale Frauds.

Launch of the Largest Steamship.

GLASGOW, Sept. 8. — The steamship Campania, built for the Cunard Steamship Company, was successfully launched here to-day. The Campania is the largest steamship in the world and is to be used for the New York and Liverpool service.

The Ameer to Meet Roberts.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Simla correspondent of the Times says: "The report has been confirmed that the Ameer has proclaimed that on the arrival of Gen. Roberts' mission, which is now believed to be at Peshawar he will start for Jelalabad to meet Roberts in October."

Fusilade of Flowers.

GENOA, Sept. 8.—King Humbert and Queen Margherita arrived at this port to-day on board the yacht Savoir to take part in the Columbus fetes to be held here. The carriage which conveyed the King and Queen to their destination was pelted with showers of bouquets all along the route, which was traversed from the landing place to the palace.

Heathen Egyptian Tricks.

CAIRO, Sept. 8.—More than 530,000 English sovereigns have been "sweated" in this city to such an extent that their value is greatly depreciated. The peasants everywhere refuse English gold, and, as the Egyptian gold coins are much debased, a general dislocation of trade has ensued. The dishonesty of the Egyptian coins has given a new impetus to counterfeiting. A firm of bankers in this city are implicated in the sweating, but the police fear to act. This is the third successful attempt of the last sixteen years to commit wholesale fraud through the currency of the country.

The Cleared Up Althorpe Mystery.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The woman whose mutilated body was discovered on Sunday evening, Aug. 7, near Althorpe railway station, Northamptonshire, is believed to have been Ann Pritchard, aged 30 years. The woman resided at Walsall, Birmingham. She was confined at Northampton in June, and in July she and her child disappeared and have not since been seen. A wardrobe dealer has identified Andrew McRae, the provision dealer now under arrest, as having sold to her the garments of a woman and a babe. These garments have been identified by a sister of Ann Pritchard as having belonged to the missing woman. The case has aroused the greatest interest, both owing to the horrible nature of the affair and the respectable standing of young McRae.

A later dispatch says: The mystery of the headless and armless body of a woman found in a sack near Althorpe has been cleared up. The woman has been fully identified as Annie Prichard, who had been living with Rae Anderson at Northampton. Anderson was found to be the assumed name of Andrew McRae, manager of a warehouse in Birmingham, who has a family and was living a double life. McRae's office was searched, and in the fire place were found the bones of a child and the arms of a woman. Detectives discovered that the child was murdered in the house occupied by the victim and McRae. The girl was decapitated, and the head, with the arms, which were sawed off, and the baby were taken to Birmingham and cremated in McRae's office. Though being unable to dispose of the trunk and limbs in this manner, the fiend placed them in a sack with lime and dumped them where they were found some days later.

Lady Scott's Bankruptcy.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Lady Scott has been examined as to her solvency in a sitting in bankruptcy before Mr. Registrar Linklater. Lady Scott is the mother of Mrs. Dick Russell and the Countess Russell, who have been conspicuous in the divorce courts and on the amateur variety stage. Considering her age she has not lagged behind her daughters recently in causing comment in London society. Her neglect to pay the florist, the milliner and the caterer involved her in complications which resulted on July 27 in a meeting of her creditors in the London Bankruptcy Court. It was then shown that while her liabilities were £14,358 her assets were nil. Of this sum, however, £11,000 are secured to her creditors by insurance on her life. After telling these facts Lady Scott was asked to explain the causes of her bankruptcy. She answered that it was due almost entirely to the loss of income incident to the marriages of her daughters. By the will of Sir Claude Scott, her late husband, she received £1,600 annually for their maintenance. When her younger daughter married Earl Russel £20,000 was settled on her as directed in Sir Claude's will. Lady Scott added that she would have been able to meet her obligations, nevertheless, had Earl Russell kept his word. He had promised before the marriage to pay her an allowance, but he had never done so. The sitting was then adjourned.

The Mona Isle's Mishap.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Further particulars of the grounding of the steamship Mona Isle at Scarlet Point show that the accident was due directly to criminal carelessness of the officers and crew. The steamship left Dublin for Douglas, Isle of Man, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. The bars on the steamship were open all evening, and everybody on board, including the officers and crew, had free access to them. Many passengers and some of the crew were boisterously drunk before 10 o'clock. The steamship was run with the utmost recklessness, and when she struck most of the crew were incapable of rallying to the emergency. Had there been rough weather everybody would have been lost. As it was the ship was favored with a smooth sea, and the sober passengers, under the direction of the sober officers, behaved with admirable coolness. All the passengers put on life belts and were on deck at 11 o'clock, but a few minutes after the steamship struck the rocks. One drunken passenger howled that all would be lost, but he was gagged and locked in the cabin to prevent his creating a panic. All the passengers remained on deck for an hour more, singing almost constantly to keep their courage up. The first report that all got ashore in lifeboats was incorrect. A few were taken off by means of a breeches buoy, and about 150 were carried ashore in lifeboats. By 2:30 o'clock the tide had gone out and left the boat high and dry. Ladders were then spliced, put over the ship's side, and the rest of the passengers clambered down to the rocks and walked to dry land.

Tricks of Bogus Claim Agents.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—In spite of the repeated warnings of the press bogus claim agents are doing a thriving business with supposititious heirs in the United States to supposititious estates in England. The inquiries at the United States Legation and Consulate and at the British Treasury as regards estates with lost heirs are more numerous now than at any other time within the last year, and there is every evidence that considerable sums are sent here constantly from the United States and Canada as fees for the swindlers. Cornelius Chadwick, of Germantown, near Philadelphia, is one of the latest victims. He was induced by claim agents to suppose that he was the long-sought heir to the estate of his ancestor, Sir Andrew Chadwick, who died in 1768. The value of the estate was estimated with unusual moderation to be only about $187,000. While the estate was still unsettled, and, therefore, in the Court of Chancery, the agents said, it was kept in the Bank of England, and the Duke of Bridgewater was drawing from it annually $20,000. The facts of the case furnish only the names in this remarkable story. Otherwise it is pure falsehood. The Dukedom of Bridgewater has been extinct since 1803. There is no Chadwick estate available for distribution among heirs, as the personalty was disposed of a few years after Sir Andrew's death, or more than a century ago, and legal limitations bar all possible claims to the reality. The money in the hands of the bank is only a few hundred pounds, payable to two unknown heirs, whose names are not Chadwick.

The selection of this particular estate as a basis for their swindle was suggested to the claim agents probably by the attempt of two men in 1772 to obtain possession of the estate of Sir Andrew by forging a will. The forgers produced a will dated 1764, but it was proved that it had been made in 1768, after Sir Andrew's death. The two forgers were hanged. It is believed that the gang behind the Chadwick swindle is the one which in 1891 was forced out of business temporarily by the energetic action of Minister Lincoln. Their method is to obtain advances of $25 to $50 from their victims for the ostensible purpose of paying preliminary costs of proceedings. They are of the same kidney as the notorious William Lord Moore, whose exposure the United States representatives in London have accomplished repeatedly within the last ten months.

Massacre of Christians in China.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A European missionary and a number of native Christians have been massacred in the Province of Shensi. The bodies of the victims were multilated by the mob.

Hoist With His Own Petard.

WARSAW, Sept. 9.—By the explosion of a dynamite bomb in the Orthodox Greek Church here the man who threw it was killed. He was a Catholic, who was bitterly opposed to the doctrines and practices of the Orthodox Church.

Over a Precipice.

MUNICH, Sept. 9.—Two sisters, Susanna and Theresa Bietschenmacker, tried to ascend the Bavarian peak Benedicthueren on Tuesday without a guide. Both fell over a precipice, and Susanna was killed. Her sister caught on a stump part of the way down and was rescued by a guide who passed shortly afterward with a party of tourists.

British Exports.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Daily News prints a table of the British exports to America for the last three years, which shows that in August, 1890, the value of these exports was £1,198,000; in August, 1891, £1,238,000, and in August, 1892, £1,166,000. The News contends that, considering the decline in prices making the volume of trade greater than it appears this year, the decline in trade as a consequence of the new American tariff is very slight.

Trades Union Congress.

GLASGOW, Sept. 9.—In the Trades Union Congress, a number of resolutions have been introduced looking toward reforms in the suffrage and in methods of election, the one-man-one-vote principle, the payment of members of Parliament, the formation of an independent labor party, extension of employers' liability for accidents, payment of union rates of wages to working people employed in the Government service and by municipalities, the eight-hour day of labor for all such working people and other propositions advocated by labor. An amendment was offered, on behalf of the Socialists, to the resolution in favor of paying salaries to the members of the House of Commons. This amendment proposed to pledge trades unionists to vote only for candidates for Parliament who were pledged to support national control of the means of production and distribution. After considerable debate, the amendment was rejected by a vote of 153 to 128.

Capture of a Wild Man.

MADRID, Sept. 9.—The Imparcial publishes a remarkable story concerning a wild man who has been captured near the desert track to Cape de Gata, in Southwestern Spain. During the latter part of August this man was seen several times by hunters. He was tall, drassed in skins, and his beard and the hair of his head hung to his knees. Efforts to speak with him were in vain, as he always ran when approached. Last week a search party was organized to capture him, and after two days' work succeeded. The man is about 50 years old and has been in the desert 25 years. He told his captors that he was a native of Galicia, Spain, and at the age of 24 had worked in a large stocking factory in Lugo. He and the daughter of his employer loved each other, but the parents of the girl forbade the marriage. The young couple eloped. A few miles from home they were overtaken by the manufacturer and two friends, who beat the young man severely and carried off the daughter. The young man was locked up while recovering from his injuries, so he could not communicate with the girl. When he regained his liberty she had married a Lugo banker. He started to leave the country on an emigrant ship, but was shipwrecked off Cape de Gata. All perished except him, and he became convinced that Providence intended that he should be a recluse. Consequently he had lived in the desert avoiding the society of man, ever since. Inquiries in Lugo, the Imparcial adds, tend to prove the truth of the wild man's story.

The Welsh Eisteddfod.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Neither the Prince of Wales nor the Duke of Westminster was present at the opening of the Rhyl Eisteddfod, Wales. The Prince is still at Homburg, and will leave that place to-day for Balmoral. Notwithstanding some disappointment caused by the absence of royalty, Rhyl is celebrating the Eisteddfod with the enthusiasm that characterizes the Welsh in all national affairs. The entries for poetical, literary and musical competitions make a total of 4,500. In the arts department the entries form quite a unique record. In the chief choral competition, for which a prize of £200 is offered, there are five choirs entered, including the Dowlais choir, which intends to compete at the World's Fair in Chicago, next year. Five choirs have entered in the Welsh choral competition, and six in the choral competition for children's voices. There are not less than ten choirs entered in the choral competition for male voices, and seven brass bands have entered for the brass band competition. The chief competition in the poetical department is the chair prize, for which there are eight competitors; also the silver coronet, for which six bardic compositions have come to hand. The prize of £50, offered by the Eisteddfod Association for the best unpublished work of original research in any branch of Welsh literature has brought in seven voluminous works. If the Prince had gone to the festival, as expected, he would have been the guest of the Duke of Westminster.

Wreck of a Norwegian Vessel on Anticosti.

Premier Abbott's Health Slightly Improved — Probable Case of Drowning at Windsor.

At St. Michael's Palace, Toronto, on Wednesday Mr. H. A. Vandusen, merchant, of Tara, was united in marriage to Miss Maggie A. Ford, third daughter of the late John Ford, late of the inland revenue department, Prescott.

Mr. Charles Schmidt, a well-known hotel-keeper of Hamilton, died Wednesday after a short illness. Deceased was born in Hanover, Germany, and came to Canada in 1876, residing at Listowel and Wingham before settling in Hamilton. He was 43 years of age and was respected by all who knew him. The funeral will take place at Wingham.

Premier Abbott has returned to Ottawa. His health is slightly improved.

The royal commission on the liquor traffic closed its sittings at Quebec on Thursday, and will meet next in Montreal.

Active prepartions are going forward in Toronto for an anti-home rule demonstration here to offset the reception to Hon. Edward Blake.

The Norwegian bark Albion, from Londonderry to Quebec, went ashore at South Point, Anticosti, Thursday morning, and will be a total wreck.

Another installment of the Salvation Army controversy is published, being Commandant Booth's reply to ex-Brigadier Philpott's letter of Monday. There is nothing new in the letter. Booth reiterates all he previously stated.

On Monday morning a valise was found on the Canadian Pacific dock at Windsor, and it is supposed the owner is drowned. The valise contained collars with the laundry mark "H. 269" and a book, on the fly leaf of which is written the name of W. Milne, Dundas, Ont.

A careful estimate among Winnipeg grain men places the wheat crop at from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels. The grade, generally speaking, is very high, and the expectation is that for quality the crop will eclipse anything ever grown in Manitoba. The opening price is likely to range from 20 to 55 cents for the highest standard.

Eight Killed.

ALTONA, Pa., Sept. 8.—Eight men were killed and three fatally hurt in a collision on the Clearfield and Cambria Railroad to-night.

A Minister Missing.

HAMILTON, Sept. 9.—His friends are anxious concerning the fate of Rev. C. G. Snepp, who is well known here as having officiated for some time as curate of St. Mark's Church. Mr. Snepp left here for Rochester on 25th July, and is known to have arrived safely at Niagara Falls. His trunk was checked to Rochester, from this point, but it lies unclaimed in Rochester and nothing has since been seen or heard of its owner. His friends are confident that Mr. Snepp has been the victim of foul play, and are working diligently in the hope of getting tidings of him.

Mr. Abbott at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—Sir John Abbott came up from Montreal last evening. He looks years older than when here last, and in reply to a question as to how he was, replied in a complaining tone. "Oh, I'm sick, I'm sick." It is believed in high quarters that the Premier will resign before the present week is out, unless prevailed upon by his colleagues to hold on for a few more weeks. A member of Parliament who saw Sir John Abbott last evening replied to the remark that the Premier would probably recommend the name of Sir John Thompson to his Excellency by an emphatic shake of the head. He declined to say whether his opinion was founded on his interview with the Premier or not. Sir John Abbott was not present at the Cabinet Council yesterday afternoon.

SANDY HOOK AS A REFUGE.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 8.—Dr. Jenkins said this morning he had accepted Sandy Hook as a cholera refuge for cabin passengers of the pest ships. He is endeavoring to purchase an old Dominion Line steamer, and has offered $70,000 for one. This steamer is to be used as a transport to the Hook. As yet no arrangement has been made.

THE NEPIGON RELEASED.

QUEBEC, Sept. 8.—The steamship Lake Nepigon was released at quarantine this morning. The passengers remained on the island. The steamship Brothers was subsequently chartered to bring them to town.

THE NEW YORK SITUATION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The quarantine commissioners are in continual session. The situation is grave and they have arisen to it as one man. Several deaths occurred to-day on board the Rugia and Normannia and at Swinburne Island. The steamer Rugia has again hoisted the yellow flag. This shows that another death from cholera has taken place on board.

The steamers City of New York and La Burgogne have just left Quarantine for New York. Chauncey M. Depew, his secretary and the wife and daughter of Secretary Foster were taken off the City of New York by the cutter Grant. The Belgian steamer Waesland, from Antwerp, was released this evening.

GROWING SERIOUS.

The cholera situation at quarantine is no doubt very grave. Not only are new cases breaking out every day among the steerage passengers of the illfated Normannia and Rugia, the former of whom are on Hoffman Island, but it has now settled among the crew of the big express steamer who are on board. If anything can be added to the gravity of the situation it is the fact that the cabin passengers who have been free from any sign of disease are still kept on the plague-infested vessel. Dr. Jenkins has made strenuous exertions to obtain a place to put the well passengers, but has been unsuccessful. As regards the situation at Lower Quarantine, things are much worse in regard to mortality, eleven fresh cases and four deaths being the day's record. At present the only vessels in Upper Quarantine are the Saratoga, from Mexico and Havana; the Corean, from Glasgow with emigrants; the Wyoming, from Liverpool; the German steamer Spree, from Bremen; the Dubbledam, from Rotterdam, and the Hamburger Stubbenhuk.

GOOD NEWS FROM HAMBURG.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The Secretary of State this afternoon received a telegram from Vice-Consul Burke at Hamburg saying: "There has been a steady decrease of cholera during the last few days."

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Sanitary Superintendent Edson received the following cable dispatch to-day: "Hamburg methods in handling cholera are defective. The situation is exaggerated. The disease is on the decline." (Signed) SEIBERT. Dr. Seibert left this city for Hamburg two weeks ago for the purpose of studying the cholera situation.

SANITARY MEASURES ADOPTED BY CANADA.

United States Consul Ryder at Quebec telegraphed to the State Department at Washington on Thursday as follows: "Order-in-Council passed last night prohibiting all immigration by water to land at Quebec."

It is denied that cholera had been brought to the St. Lawrence by the steamship Wandrahm, from Hamburg.

The C. P. R. Company, it is stated, have decided to transport no more emigrants this season to any American point of destination. They will give passage only to emigrants who seek settlement in Canada and who have passed examination at Grosse Isle.

The Medico-Chirurgical Society of Montreal has appointed Drs. Craik, Roddick, Buller and Campbell, four leading physicians, a deputation to go to Ottawa and urge upon the Government strict measures to prevent the advent of cholera. The deputation will urge the appointment of a central board of health for the Dominion at Ottawa.

Railway agents at Quebec have received instructions not to issue or exchange tickets for points in the United States to emigrants on account of the twenty days' quarantine.

RUSSIA'S RECORD.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—Returns for the whole empire show that 6,944 cases of cholera and 2,540 deaths were reported Monday. One hundred and nineteen new cases of the disease and 39 deaths were reported on Monday in St. Petersburg.

NEW CASES IN PARIS.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—In this city and suburbs 68 fresh cases of cholera and 52 deaths occurred to-day. A nurse employed in the St. Antoine Hospital died after only two days' illness.

EN ROUTE.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Of the liners which sailed to-day for New York the Anchor steamer Furnessia, from Glasgow, took 220 saloon and 400 second cabin passengers, the White Star steamer Majestic, from Queenstown, took 285 saloon and 220 second cabin passengers, and the Inman steamer City of Chester, from Queenstown, took 163 saloon and 276 second cabin passengers.

THE SITUATION IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A review of the cholera situation in England shows one case only, that of William Murphy, who is in the London Hospital. Murphy is a sailor, who caught cholera at Havre while his ship, the Brazilian, lay in the harbor. He went to the hospital, came out "cured" and journeyed to London, where he was taken sick again. It is the only case here.

Quietly but rigidly the authorities have been taking the greatest precautions to keep out the scourge and for fighting it if it gains a foothold. Nearly all the precautions of this kind are kept secret, so as not to alarm the people. Immense sums are being spent for precautions of this kind.

The cholera committee has held a meeting and decided to strengthen every quarantine guard. The committee has a number of beds in every hospital ready for cholera patients, and has rigged up 60 litters on wheels to convey patients through the streets. Ambulances will not be used because wagons vibrate, and vibrations are supposed to scatter the germs.

The fear that America, in shutting out immigration, will bring a flood of paupers into England has been general, and the Government has decided to prohibit the landing of any passenger who cannot give a definite address in this country. This means that immigrants without homes will be turned back.

LANDED AT LAST.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The French liner La Bourgogne, after a five days' detention at Quarantine, has landed her passengers. The steamship City of New York, from Liverpool, has also landed her 1,100 passengers after a detention of over 36 hours in the lower bay.

THIS SIDE THE ATLANTIC.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 9.—It is hoped and believed that the precautions taken here, seconded as they have been so thoroughly by Canada, will be effectual in preventing one single case of cholera appearing in any city on this continent. All the alarms about the outbreak of cholera in different cities have thus far been found, on investigation, to be based on groundless fears.

ANTWERP'S WATER CONDEMNED.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Daily News says: "The cholera returns here are less favorable. Dr. Smith, who has been commissioned by the Lancet to report on the outbreak, condemns the water supplied to the poorer quarters of the city as contaminated with sewage and the sanitary condition as generally bad."

HAMBURG'S AWFUL AFFLICTION.

VIENNA, Sept. 9.—In an interview to-day Dr. Wortmann, who has just returned from Hamburg, said that only the doctors have been able to bear the heartrending and sickening scenes in the hospitals of Hamburg. The epidemic has reached such a pitch that there is no time for preventive measures. Every moment is occupied in attending to the sick and dead. Identification is out of the question. Very few names are given and hundreds are piled in nameless graves. Relations can only guess the fate of stricken friends. The common misery appears to have hardened the people. None accompanying the dead were seen crying. There is little doubt that many persons—principally children—have been taken to the hospitals on suspicion, and there have been infected. There is no law providing for the forcible removal of sick persons from houses, therefore, I believe the epidemic will continue spreading through the winter to reappear with vigor in the spring."

DEATHS ON THE PEST SHIPS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The records of deaths among the crews and passengers of the three pest ships since they sailed from Hamburg with the latent germs of cholera are:

	Deaths.	Sick.
Moravia	23	3
Normannia	13	19
Rugia	7	10

OFFICIAL CHOLERA RETURNS.

HAVRE, Sept. 9.—The cholera returns for yesterday show a decrease of eight new cases and one death compared with the returns for Wednesday. The figures for yesterday are eleven new cases and ten deaths. For Wednesday there were nineteen new cases and eleven deaths.

NOTES.

A case of Asiatic cholera has occurred at Vilvorden, six miles from Brussels.

The appointment of a medical inspector at Malone, N. Y., and one at Suspension Bridge, N. Y., is authorized by the Washington authorities.

A new cholera case is reported at Berlin.

The United States consul at Rotterdam telegraphs saying: Cholera yesterday, one case.

INCIDENTS OF INTEREST

There are persistent rumors of a coming crisis in English banking circles.

The funeral of Dan Dougherty, "The Silver-Tongued Orator," was held at Philadelphia on Thursday.

Rev Dr. Elliott Brown, of Seattle, Wash., has accepted the call extended by Westminster Presbyterian Church, Detroit.

A Marsfield, Ore., dispatch says: The whaleback steamer Chas. W. Wetmore is reported on North Spit bar a total wreck. The sea is washing over her. Her crew were saved.

After four days of profitless wrangling over the Pacific coast rate situation; the passenger meeting of the Transcontinental Association at Chicago adjourned Thursday evening, subject to the call of the chairman.

Unofficial advices received from Venezula are to the effect that Gen. Crespo has finally triumphed, and the dictatorship has been overthrown, and there is now a bright prospect for restoration of peace in the distracted country.

The Northwestern Miller, of Minneapolis, Minn., says the mills keep up the manufacture of flour at a tremendous rate. Foreigners are comparatively free bidders for October and November shipments for both patents and bakers, but they usually want flour on the basis of present prices, and millers as a rule are unwilling to sell in that way.

At Salem, Mass., Thursday afternoon, Fred Coan, a 13 year old lad living on West avenue, South Salem, found an old carbine and took it to play with. He started to frighten some little girls by pointing it at them, pulled the trigger; when an old charge in the weapon exploded and four of the girls were seriously but not fatally injured.

THE GREAT SNAKE QUESTION.

Many Victims of Snake-Bite in British India.

The most recent publication of the return of deaths due to snake-bite in India would seem to have awakened considerable attention in England. Year after year the number of deaths due to this cause continues without diminishment. Indeed the returns show them to be rather increased than otherwise; though whether this may not be due to an improvement in the system of obtaining returns rather than to an absolute increase may be somewhat open to doubt. One would have hoped that the scale of reward given for the destruction of those reptilia would ere this have produced an improved result; but in spite of all that has been done, and of the heavy amount paid for such destruction annually, we still have to regret the deaths year after year of between 40,000 and 50,000 persons from this cause. One great obstacle to the extermination of venomous snakes in Ceylon as well as India is the so-called religious objection to the taking of life, even the life of the fiercest and most destructive animals and the most virulently poisonous reptiles; although those who entertain this objection in regard to the lower animals have no hesitation in taking human life to gratify their feud-hate, their revenge, or their cupidity. If we accept the verdicts of inquiries into cases of sudden death as revealing the whole of the fatalities from snake-bite in 1891, the proportion of deaths from this cause in our population of 3,000,000 was within a fraction of 35 per 1,000,000, the total being 104, according to the return in the judicial statistics. The principal victims, it is believed, are the semi-nude natives who on hot night sleep in the open air. A venomous snake coils near such a person, who, turning over in his sleep, irritates the snake into biting, and the person is fatally affected before awakening out of sleep and being able to apply the proper remedies even if these are understood. But instead of tight bandaging and bold excision, confidence is placed in useless "mantrams" or charms.—[The Literary Digest.

THE MAGISTRATE'S DOCKET.

Harriet Chrysler Convicted of Keeping a Disorderly House—The Inmates Fined—A Juvenile Scrimmage —Called the Dog in.

The crowd of men at the Police Court this morning indicated something unusual on the docket. Harriet Chrysler was charged with keeping a disorderly house on Nelson street, and Martha St. Clair, James Woodfork, Frank Watson, Edward Fountain and Hugh Kyle were charged with being inmates. Mrs. Chrysler is rather up in years while the other female occupant was a young girl about 17 years old. Mr. McKillop, for the Crown, dropped the case against her and Kyle. Sergt. Jenkins, who raided the house with a posse of police, stated that when he first approached the place last Wednesday morning about 1 o'clock he could hear women calling as if in distress. Men could also be heard using profane and abusive language. The officer went immediately to telephone for assistance and left P. C. Day to guard the house. The latter stated that the disorderly conduct continued until the patrol wagon with a posse of police came along. When the house was entered only two women could be seen. The men had crawled into a hole under the house and a constable had to rout them out with his baton. Evidence was given to show that Woodfork was now on suspended sentence on a charge of vagrancy, that Fountain had been arrested a number of times before, and that Watson had been a prisoner on charges of drunkenness and larceny. The magistrate considered the four defendants guilty. Mrs. Chrysler was remanded for a week for sentence and the men were each fined $5 or twenty days in jail. Woodfork and Watson were warned that the next time they appeared they would spend a term in the Central Prison.

Chief Williams charged Philip Richards, Frank Tilbury and Farmer Everett, three young lads, with disorderly conduct. Richards and Everett were fighting on Richmond street, near Piccadilly, the other day. Everett, the smaller of the two, was evidently getting the worst of the encounter and picked up a stone and threw it at Richards. But instead of hitting him it went through a window in Wm. Skellet's butcher shop. The boys furnished 50 cents each with which to repair the damage and they were let go. Tilbury tried to stop the fight, and he also was let go.

John H. Powe was charged with allowing his dog to run at large without a tag, and also with rescuing it from the dog catchers. Mr. Powe explained that it was a pup that his children had for a pet. They were playing with it on the street when they saw the man with the net coming along and at once they ran crying to their father who called the dog into the house. He had since paid his tax and obtained the tag. The case was dismissed.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

The Hamilton Street Car Strikers Still Out—Powderly's Latest Move.

A deputation from the Hamilton street car strikers waited on the officials of the road Thursday to discuss the situation but no agreement was arrived at. At the council meeting on Monday next a motion will be introduced to have the mayor force the Street Railway Company to conform to the terms of the bylaw.

It is said that the Knights of Labor, at the instance of General Master Workman Powderly, are about to make a determined stand in behalf of the Homestead strikers. The first move, it is said, will be to institute a searching investigation into the true condition of the armor plate from the Carnegie mills, which was accepted on behalf of the Government by the Bureau of Construction at Washington, but which subsequently was declared useless and unfit by the Ordnance Bureau of the Navy and rejected.

Both Thighs Broken.

SAGINAW, Sept. 9.—Morris Hicks, a sawyer in D. McLeod's shingle mill, was cleaning out the sawdust carrier late yesterday afternoon when the jointer burst, knocking him down, breaking his right thigh in two places, his left thigh once and cutting a bad gash in his head.

Condemned Murderers at Large.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 9.—A wholesale jail delivery has occurred here, eighteen prisoners escaping. Among them were three condemned murderers, Bud Gordon, John Massengel and Moses Browder, the latter colored. The bars in a window were sawed until they could be pushed out, and when darkness came the work of making an exit was completed. A well-nigh successful attempt of the same sort was made only a few weeks since, and much complaint is made on the streets of carelessness in the jailer's office. A thorough search is being made for the escaped jailbirds, but so far without success.

Our Public Schools

Are the main-stay of our Country. In them are being cultivated the minds which are to be our future law-makers and leaders in every walk in life. How essential it is that these minds should be united to strong, healthy bodies. So many children suffer from impurities and poisons in the blood that is a wonder that they ever grow up to be men and women. Many parents cannot find words strong enough to express their gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for its good effect upon their children. Scrofula, salt rheum and other diseases of the blood are effectually and permanently cured by this excellent medicine, and the whole being is given strength to resist attacks of disease.

Mrs. Fannie McCormick of Great Bend, Kan., was elected state worthy foreman of the Knights of Labor at their last annual meeting. This is the first recognition of a woman as a State officer in the Knights of Labor.

ELGIN.

It has been discovered that impure water was being used in the St. Thomas schools.

The young people of Crinan, with their ladies and friends, gathered at the residence of McPherson Bros. a few evenings ago to bid farewell to Colin McPherson, who is about leaving there, and spent a most enjoyable evening. The most important event was the presenting to Mr. McPherson of a gold watch and an address, showing the high esteem in which he was held. Speeches were made by P. Stalker, J. J. Stalker and others. Mr. McPherson very feelingly and suitably responded.

HURON.

Reeve Mooney, of Morris, has corn growing that measures over twelve feet in length.

Cameron Bros., of Cranbrook, have started their flax mill. They have a large acreage of choice flax this year.

Willie Moser, Blyth, who has been spending his holidays in Mitchell, had the misfortune to have his arm broken recently by falling off a load of oats.

Work on the Grand Bend cut is progressing favorably. A dredge, which is to be constructed by John McHugh, of Essex Center, and which is to cost about $4,000, is to be used, when completed, at the cut. It is said that the work will be in full swing right away.

Adam Annand, a Huron pioneer, has died in Colborne township.

It is said that the potato crop in the Exeter district is in no comparison with the potato crop of last year. The tubers thus far are small, and it is therefore probable that they will command a higher price than was paid last season.

AMONG THE SOCIETIES.

BONDS.

All lodge treasurers are by law called upon to furnish bonds. Many secretaries and trustees are required to do likewise. The form of law is generally complied with, but the spirit thereof is too often ignored. In many instances (and we are almost tempted to say in most instances) are the sureties irresponsible. At the last moment, just before the installation ceremony, the blank bond is filled out, and any brother happening to be near by is called upon to sign as bondsman. The bond is read and accepted, and it matters not whether the bondsmen are or are not responsible. That is rarely inquired into or thought of. While it may be brotherly and charitable, it is so only to the financial officer and his sureties, but is just the reverse to the entire membership of the lodge. This is a business matter, and should be conducted in a business way, and the brotherly relations existing between the respective parties should not warp or influence business judgment. Not to conduct this matter in a business manner is simply making a farce of it, and occupying the time required to sign, present and accept the bond for a useless purpose. If bonds are demanded they should be such as are safe and valuable, and all brethren should feel it a duty to refuse their assent to the acceptance of any other. When the first objection is made to an irresponsible bondsman the financial officer will learn that the spirit of the law must be upheld, and he will not thereafter act as if the subject was simply a matter of form. Be an objecter for the benefit of the lodge on principle.

ANCIENT ORDER UNITED WORKMEN

This organization has no connection with any of the trade unions. It represents in its membership all the branches of industry and the learned professions. It is non-political and non-sectarian, with principles broad enough to embrace all parties save Anarchists, Socialists or Communists. It has for its objects "the raising of a sick and funeral fund, a fund for the help of the widows and orphans of its deceased members, to assist each other in business, and to aid members who have become incapable of following their usual avocations in procuring situations suitable to their afflictions." It has an endowment fund that calls for light assessments and on a basis that has stood the test of years.

The committee on fraternal congress will hereafter consist of the supreme master workmen, supreme overseer and supreme recorder.

The committee on finances was instructed to report at the next session of the Supreme Lodge the three cities of 50,000 inhabitants in which the future sessions of the Supreme Lodge can most cheaply be held.

MASONIC.

We are pleased to note that in connection with the article in another column that Bro. Ross Robertson, P. G. M. of Canada, is again on a visit to this country. His stay will, however, be short, and it is to be regretted that it will not admit of his being present at either the Grand Lodge communication on the 7th prox. or that of the Grand Mark on the 6th, at either of which functions he would be cordially welcomed.—[The Freemason, London, Eng.

"Pretty sort of goings on to which they don't admit women." Such was the opinion of the late Mrs. Caudle with regard to Freemasonry,[and such is conventionally supposed to be the opinion of the weaker sex in general on this subject. It is rather startling, therefore, to read in a society paper a defense of Freemasonry by a lady, who declares boldly that veneration for the great brotherhood has submerged within her all traces of feminine curiosity concerning it, and who reproaches her fellow-women for their foolish and unreasoning abhorrence. She concludes: "For those who consider Freemasonry as being merely a vehicle for much dining out and many late nights I should like to organize a party to one or other of the educational and charitable institutions founded and supported entirely by Masons."—[Hobart Mercury.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

Rev. Harry Cassil says: "I believe it is now universally recognized as a Christian duty for all men of small means to carry as much life insurance as they can for the benefit of those dependent upon them. I am very sure, too, that the neglect of this privilege is an undeniable proof of want of love for the dependent ones. There is no place where life insurance, pure and simple, can be had with better security or at less cost than in the order known as the Knights of Honor.

The order carries about $272,000,000 insurance, and pays over $36,000,000 yearly to widows and orphans.

For the past eighteen years the average cost to members has been about $900 for $1,000 insurance per year.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

New York still retains its position as the banner State of Royal Arcanism.

A regent can, if he so chooses, appoint on an investigating committee a brother who is not present at a meeting.

From the New Jersey committee on the state of the order comes this strong reasoning, which is worthy of consideration: "In these days of frequent failures of schemes, which are started for the ostensible purpose of assisting mankind to speedily acquire wealth, but which are really formed to enrich a favored few of the organizers, it is positively refreshing, a comfort and a pleasure to have attention called to one order that has assumed such proportions as to lead all others of its kind in the United States, and one whose correct method of conducting business is commended even by its most bitter rivals."

A member who resigns a subordinate office before the end of the first term for which he was elected is not eligible for regent.

The World's Fair Royal Arcanum Club estimate that 25,000,000 strangers will visit Chicago during the fair, which means about 135,000 per day. In view of this fact they feel that all members of the order should join the club and thereby be placed in a position to receive the benefit and advantages offered of all facilities provided by it.

from Mr. W. T. Clay, who was several years in the Grand Lodge of Ontario Masons, and was two years District Deputy Grand Master Toronto District, G. R. O., of the same order, and is well-known in business and socially:

DEAR DR. BEAR,—Have had failing health, loss of appetite (ate meal a day of late); took severe cold, settled on lungs and bronchial tubes, developed into asthma, pain in chest, faint spells, bad cough. The worst spell of tight breathing was in the Citizen's Mill, where I am millwright. The engineer thought I was dying. Reliable information said that "Histogenetic Medicine" would save after all else failed, and twenty years' knowledge of your family, and your scientific research, satisfied me that you would tell me the truth. I consulted you ONE MONTH ago. You prescribed Dr. J. Eugene Jordan's (late of Germany) Remedies. The "tight breathing" is already about gone! No pain left! Cough about well! No faint spells! Appetite splendid—could eat a man on horseback!' I have to day climbed ten or twelve times to the top of Knox Church tower and only had to rest once. It is a wonderful system.

THAT DREADFUL SCOURGE

CHOLERA

PEOPLE should be very careful what they eat just now. If the food taken into the stomach does not digest it ferments and becomes sour, producing an acid. This decomposes the food (which should be digested), and from that decomposition evolves gases that produce pressure on the nerves, disorganizing the system and producing various symptoms of disease.

HON. EDWARD BLAKE.

Some of the Conservative newspapers have resumed their tirades against Hon. Edward Blake. They desire to kill his influence in imperial politics as far as their abuse and misrepresentation can effect that object. Since Mr. Blake has been in England Sir Charles Tupper has been almost unheard of, and in order to prevent the still further eclipse of that worthy ready-made editorials are sent out from Ottawa, snarling and sneering at Mr. Blake, and trying to make it appear that he is a man of no influence or standing in the Dominion, and that his Liberal friends are not sincere when they recognize his abilities as a promoter of Irish self-government. The trick will not work.

If the Tupperian influence in British politics is waning, it is because Sir Charles and his patrons are too well known to Mr. Blake and the majority in the British Parliament with whom the distinguished Canadian is acting. No matter how bitter the denunciation of Mr. Blake may be by the Tupper journals, to the Canadian Liberal statesman and not to the self-seeking, pampered High Commissioner, will British statesmen turn in future when they want information regarding Canada.

The traducing of Mr. Blake by an uninfluential section of the press of Canada can have no other effect than to show how despicable some men can become when they find their selfish aims thwarted.

MANY people have been surprised to read of the large number of deaths from cholera in Hamburg. They labored under the impression that this city was one of the smaller German communities. That is not so. According to the census taken in 1890 Hamburg had 323,923 inhabitants, and was the fourth city in population of the German Empire. The three larger were Berlin, Munich and Breslau. The city of Altona, however, to all intents and purposes a part of Hamburg, has 100,000 population or more, and there are other immediate suburbs that bring the population to fully 500,000. The troubles of Hamburg, however, have not arisen from its size, but from the filthy surroundings of many of its residences and its impure water supply. Its terrible experiences is a warning to every city, town and village in the world. Cholera cannot thrive where the people are cleanly, eat good food and drink pure water.

TAKE THE LAW TO THE PEOPLE.

No one living outside Toronto can deny that the present system of administering law in this Province needs reform.

Our common law has been simplified and in some respects cheapened in recent years; but there is trouble and difficulty in applying it to the needs of the people.

Practitioners as well as clients living in centers outside the Provincial capital have a right to complain of the present arrangements and do complain. The trouble hitherto has been that there has been unity among the Toronto practitioners in favor of concentrating the law business of the Province in that city, while the outside members of the profession have not got together for the purpose of devising means to combat this centralizing tendency. Now that the people as well as the practitioners are becoming alive to the fact that the centralization of the law business in Toronto is a serious loss to both outside lawyers and clients, we may expect the application of a remedy at an early day.

The law should be taken to the people at a center in each county. That is the plan adopted in many of the States of the neighboring Republic, and we learn that it works admirably.

As the courts of appeal must be somewhere, let them still be held at Toronto, but no legal business that can possibly be transacted in the county town should be taken to Toronto.

The next session of the Legislature could be most profitably employed in passing a measure carrying out a scheme with this object in view. It would be most popular in the constituencies, as all legislation looking to the promotion of the welfare of the people is certain to be. We should suppose that the Attorney-General would be glad to initiate the legislation, but in case he fails to do so early in the session, strong pressure should be brought to bear on the Premier to take action. The reform cannot be brought about too soon.

The Toronto News (Conservative) laments that the present Dominion Cabinet are as pigmies when contrasted with the "Giant Chieftain" who was struck down last summer.

RIVALS OF COLUMBUS.

Just as the United States is about to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, having the co-operation of the nations of the world in the effort, M. Napoleon Ney, president of the French Society of Commercial Geography, comes forward with the contention that the intrepid Spanish explorer was not the discoverer of this continent. He maintains that in prehistoric times Eastern Asia and North America were joined by a strip of land, since almost entirely submerged. The Orkneys, Shetlands, Iceland, Greenland, etc., were but stepping-stones, as it were, between the old world and the new. The London Standard's Paris correspondent sends the following extract from a paper by M. Ney, in which he says:

"I have seen a tomb of masonry discovered in Boston Bay at the end of the last century. It contained a skeleton and an iron handle of a sword. The skeleton was that of a man of the white race, and the sword handle was of European make previous to the fifteenth century—that is to say, it dated back a century earlier than Christopher Columbus. At the Smithsonian Institution, I saw the fac-simile of the curious inscription of Dighton Writing Rock, known since 1863. The inscription, which is written in Runic characters, accompanied with cryptographic signs and drawings, relates to the adventures of the Scandinavians in Vinland. It signifies: 'One hundred and thirty-one men of the north occupied this country with Thornfinn.' But a more important inscription is that of Arrow Head. I have examined it on the bank of the Potomac, three kilometers from the falls of that river. It marked the tomb of a Norman chief's wife, killed by an arrow, and like the other inscription, is graven in the rock in Runic characters. Translated into English, it runs: "Here lies Syasi, the fair one of Western Iceland, the widow of Koidr, sister of Thorgr, by her father; aged 25 years. God be merciful to her." In the tomb were found three teeth, a fragment of a large bone which fell to dust, various toilet articles in bronze, ill-formed and full of holes, two fragments of a necklace, and two coins of the Lower Empire. The fact of those Roman coins being in possession of a Norman chief is not extraordinary, as the men of the north—Danes, Norwegians and Swedes—were sought after to recruit the guard of the Emperors of Constantinople."

M. Ney further asserts that several years before the voyage of Pinzon (who commanded the Nina on Columbus' first voyage and who later visited the coast of Brazil) a bold captain from Dieppe landed on the shores of South America. The original documents concerning this voyage, M. Ney says, were destroyed in the fire which burned the archives of Dieppe in 1694.

The Chicago exposition need not be put off on account of M. Ney's alleged discoveries. It is unfortunate for the claims of the rivals of Columbus that there now exists no convincing proof of their priority in the discovery of this continent. They have lost their opportunity to be lionized by posterity through carelessness in establishing their claims as pioneers, if pioneers they were, thus affording a warning to all future voyagers in search of the wonderful. If men will go hunting up new continents they must leave behind them something more tangible than alleged Runic inscriptions, which may be nothing more than scrawls of native Indians, or run the great risk of being turned aside as myths by posterity.

In the long train of evil influences of the prize ring, word comes from Hazelton, Pa., of a quarrel near that city over the Sullivan-Corbett "mill," in which Anthony Weed was killed by a blow from an iron bar. Thomas Rooney, of Plymouth, Pa., having lost all his money and property on the result of Wednesday evening's fight, committed suicide Thursday by taking poison. Immense sums of money have been lost. The heaviest loser in the fight referred to is John Kelly, of New York, the ex-baseball umpire, who backed the Bostonian for $21,000. Kelly is ruined.

IN QUARANTINE.

The ADVERTISER has called attention to the shortcomings of the authorities who have control of the Dominion Quarantine Station solely in the interests of humanity. We have been told that Canada in recent years has had treasured up from its taxes millions of dollars at Ottawa, while hundreds of thousands have been stolen or squandered. When money was so plentiful, a small sum might have been spent to put the Quarantine Station at Grosse Isle in decent shape. Here is a statement of affairs as existing this week:

There have been harrowing scenes at Grosse Isle. The Circassian passengers are disposed to complain bitterly. "Why were not the cabin passengers exposed to quarantine?" was a frequent remark yesterday. Several ladies, who had been intermediate passengers, said that the treatment was awful. "The sheds were made of wood. You had to sleep on the floor. There was no bedding. A bag of biscuits was thrown to you, and if you did not like them, nobody was offended. There was no water in the closets. Baths were impossible. The water supply is very deficient." There was no disease on the Circassian, but the officers at Grosse Isle were perhaps right in stopping us for two days. Mrs. Dalglish, of Toronto, who has been on a visit to England, was not disposed to complain. To be sure, it was inconvenient. But then, there was danger. She did not mind the absence of water. The food was not properly served. The steerage and intermediate passengers complained bitterly that the saloon people should have been allowed to escape, while they suffered extreme distress. It must be remembered, that there was not a single case of cholera on board the Circassian.

With this as the experience of passengers on a vessel where there was no cholera, we shudder to think of what it would have been if an outbreak of the plague, such as exists at the New York Quarantine Station, had to be dealt with. Instead of waiting till the disease was at our doors, the Minister of Agriculture should have heeded the warning of the medical authorities, and put Grosse Isle station in good shape months ago.

Pugilistic experts now allege that if Sullivan had lived a sober, regular life, he would have more than held his own with Corbett. Intemperance is ever a bar to physical endurance.

LUCKY OR UNLUCKY THIRTEEN?

[Montreal Star.]

Both parties in the dead-locked North-West Legislature number thirteen; and yet hardy people continue to gibe at superstition.

WHAT TEXAS BRIC-A-BRAC IS.

[Galveston News.]

Bric-a-brac consists of rocks, heavy bottles, paper weights and other missiles piled up in the corners of the room in which the domestic battles are liable to take place. Every well regulated family has its bric-a-brac.

TO AVOID CONTAGION.

[Boston Globe.]

Contagious diseases seldom attack perfectly healthy people. Persons whose vitality is low, and whose general health is impaired, are the first to fall preys to epidemics. In view of the present cholera scare, it behooves everyone to be as healthy as he can.

PROFESSIONAL "LOYALTY."

[Goderich Signal.]

The whirligig of time brings its revenge. A few short years ago A. H. N. Jenkins was the Tory editor par excellence in Western Ontario, and whooped it up for the old flag with a loud and lusty whoop. He is still whooping for the old flag, but the old flag now is the Stars and Stripes and not the Union Jack, and the place is Grand Rapids, Mich. Of such is the grand army of loyalty shouters.

ROMAN BATHS.

National Review.]

Every Roman had the use of the public baths on payment of about half a farthing. These were not such structures as we call public baths, but superb buildings, lined with Egyptian granite and Nubian marble. Warm water was poured into the capacious basins through wide mouths of bright and massive silver. The most magnificent baths were those of Caracalla, which had seats of marble for more than 1,600 people, and those of Diocletian, which had seats for 3,000 people.

DISASTER AT SUDBURY.

Five Men Killed at a Rock Slide and Two Injured.

SUDBURY, Ont., Sept. 9.—A serious accident has occurred at the Blezard nickel mine here. A rock slide took place at an open working, and falling upon the men at work, killed five instantly and badly injured two others. The injured men were quickly attended to and all the bodies were recovered. The inspector of mines has left for the scene of the accident and will make a full investigation into the cause thereof.

FELL FROM A BALLOON.

Prof. Odell and Wife Drop 25 Feet—The Lady Badly Injured.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Prof. Odell and wife, who made a balloon ascension together at Riverview Park last night, fell a distance of 25 feet, the parachute having become detached from balloon. Mrs. Odell suffered concussion of the spine, and will probably die. The professor escaped serious injury.

Britain Versus England.

At a public meeting held in Dundee on the 17th ult., the Lord Provost presiding, to protest against the setting aside of the name "Britain" and substituting "England" (with special reference to Lord Salisbury's message to Spain in connection with the Columbus celebration) the Rev. David Macrae said: "We object to have Scotland included in the term England, because the name falsifies our position. Scotland is not a part of England—no more a part of England than a part of Ireland. We object to be spoken of as Englishmen, because we are not Englishmen, but Scotchmen. We speak English, we use the English language but that no more makes English people of us than the wearing of Scotch tweeds, or the drinking of Scotch whisky, turn an Englishman into a Scotchman."

Commenting on this meeting the London Pall Mall Gazette says: "The Scots who 'wi' Wallace bled' evidently did not do so for nothing, and memories of Bannockburn have still power and potency in Bonnie Dundee. But this is not the first time that similar protests have come from the town on the Tay, and the curious thing is that they come from nowhere else Nevertheless, as we have often said, there is a real need for some new form of national nomenclature which will include all parts and satisfy all parties. It is all very well to include Scotland by speaking of 'Britain' 'Her Britannic Majesty,' and 'the British Empire.' But why leave out Ireland?"

"August Flower"

"I inherit some tendency to Dyspepsia from my mother. I suffered two years in this way; consulted a number of doctors. They did me no good. I then used Relieved in your August Flower and it was just two days when I felt great relief. I soon got so that I could sleep and eat, and I felt that I was well. That was three years ago, and I am still first-class. I am never Two Days. without a bottle, and if I feel constipated the least particle a dose or two of August Flower does the work. The beauty of the medicine is, that you can stop the use of it without any bad effects on the system. Constipation While I was sick I felt everything it seemed to me a man could feel. I was of all men most miserable. I can say, in conclusion, that I believe August Flower will cure anyone of indigestion, if taken Life of Misery with judgment. A. M. A Veteran's Story

Jos. Hemmerich.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich, an old soldier, 529 E. 146th St., N. Y. City, writes us voluntarily. In 1862, at the battle of Fair Oaks, he was stricken with typhoid fever, and after a long struggle in hospitals, lasting several years, was discharged as incurable with Consumption.

Doctors said both lungs were affected and he could not live long, but a comrade urged him to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before he had finished one bottle his cough began to get loose, the choking sensation left, and night sweats grew less and less. He is now in good health and cordially recommends as a general blood purifier and tonic medicine, especially to his comrades in the G. A. R.

HOOD'S PILLS are hand made, and are perfect in composition, proportion and appearance.

Eastern Association games, Wednesday: At Binghamton—Binghamton 20, Rochester 6. At Providence — Providence 9, Albany 4. At Troy—Troy 4, Buffalo 6.

A friendly game of baseball was played on Erie Park Wednesday afternoon, between the Athletics and Riversides of London West, which resulted in an easy victory for the Athletics by a score of 14 to 5. Batterie—Athletics, Turner and Lee; Riversides, Marshman and Reidy.

It is about time there was some improvement in the audiences as well as in the umpires. No one can judge correctly whether a ball is delivered over the home plate or not unless he directly faces the line. It is absurd for those who are sitting at right angles to be continually expressing their dissatisfaction with the umpire's decisions on these points. This is sound sense. To hear the comments of people who are sitting where it is impossible for them to judge the ball, one might suppose that an umpire in a game was a useless individual.—[Henry Chadwick in Chicago Inter-Ocean.

CRICKET.

A RETURN MATCH.

Yesterday a return cricket match was played on the London Asylum grounds between "D" School team and the second eleven of the Asylum. The Asylum ran up in one inning a score of 125, of which Pumphrey (49), Bowers (15), England and Barbeau (13 each) were top scorers. "D" School compiled 108 runs as a total of two innings, of which Taylor (19), Minhinnick (16) and Burnard (13) reached double figures. Victory rested with the second eleven of the Asylum by one inning and seventeen runs. Appended is the full score:

To-day will witness the last match of the season on the Asylum grounds between the doctors of London and the Sarnia Cricket Club. A close and exciting game is expected. The medical team includes Drs. Moore, Beemer, Hobbs, Butler, Weld, Williams, Bayly, Balfour, Macklin, McLaren (Del.) and Smith.

ATHLETICS.

SULLIVAN IN TEARS.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—Sullivan was an object of pity when he left the ring last night. The crowd was still massed thickly against the back of the reserved seats watching every movement of the bruised and suffering ex-champion, whose body was covered with blood, in the ring, and who was too far gone to appreciate what had happened. As Sullivan started out to the dressing-room Charley Johnson proposed a cheer for him, but it was not the cheer that Corbett got. "Well, I don't want too much," said the defeated champion as he stumbled to the door of his room. "Corbett is now the greatest man in the world, and he is the only one that could lick me." When the little guard got into the room Sullivan threw himself on a lounge and broke down entirely. His self-control was gone, and in a moment he was crying like a child. In a little while he was freshened up physically, but his spirits seemed to be down. His upper lip was bruised and swollen to twice its natural size. There were splits of red, raw flesh on his stomach, and his nose was cut and bleeding. It was a repulsive face. The sneer around the corner of the mouth had gone, and the countenance had lost its ferociousness. "I did not feel him but once," he blubbered; "the punishment did not hurt me early in the fight. It was only in the last round that it troubled me. When he smashed me in the face I felt as though I was falling backward on a bridge into water, and after that I don't remember anything," and another fit of crying came on.

"Why, John, you were beaten through your own fault," said McAuliffe, who had bet his money on Sullivan. "You ought never to have gone on the stage. You cannot be an actor and a fighter both. You have been strutting around doing fancy slugging and you lost your grip."

A New York dispatch says: "Snapper" Garrison, who is $30,000 better off by the result, is about the only big winner in this vicinity.

Sullivan, after his defeat last night, began undoing all the careful work which he and his trainers have been doing for weeks. Defeat and chagrin, coupled with absence of motive for further discipline, doubtless led him to resume his drinking habits.

GOLD RING TROTS IN 2:19½.

The celebrated Canadian stallion Goldring, 218, trotted an exhibition mile during the afternoon for a purse of $200 to beat his record of 2:21, made on the St. Thomas track last week. He was driven by his owner, Mr. Randall Learn, and trotted the full mile in 2:19½, lowering the trotting record for Canada on a half mile track. The time by quarters was :38½, 1:09, 1:44, 2:19½. He will go on Saturday for another purse to lower his Canadian record made to-day.

HOW THE ST. LEGER WAS WON.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Doncaster St. Leger race attracted a brilliant throng from all parts of the United Kingdom. This was largely because the race was favored in attracting three such prominent candidates as Orme, Watercress and La Fleche. The deeds of all three have been variously discussed during the past months, and about the first there was more than the usual diversity of opinion. Orme is no giant now, said one party, while the other assert as confidently that the bull-dog courage he showed when refusing to be beaten by Watercress only enhanced his St. Leger claims. Yesterday's race has rather sustained the unfavorable view of Orme. Bonavista had confident backers, and so had May Duke, but it may be said that the victory of La Fleche did not disappoint the majority. The start, when made, with twelve horses in the field, was excellent. La Fleche led with Col. North's El Diablo, Sir Hugo and Orme, following in that order. On settling down Sir Hugo took the lead, and for a time his backers thought that the surprise of Derby day might be repeated. Sir R. Jardine's Llanthony kept near Sir Hugo, and next were La Fleche and Orme. Sir Hugo steadied as he breasted the hill, and Orme took the lead, and was leading at a mile from the start. This was the occasion for great applause by the admirers of the famous son of Ormonde. Passing the rifle butts Llanthony joined Orme, and the pair raced together for some distance, while the vast crowd looked on with the most intense interest. Mr. John Charlton's May Duke followed them closely, La Fleche next and Watercress, who had been looked upon by many knowing ones as the probable rival of La Fleche, also pressing close upon the runners ahead. The horses were now upon the half-mile from home, and it was apparent that Llanthony was unable to keep in the lead. Llanthony lost his place and fell behind. May Duke and La Fleche pressed ahead and closed upon Orme, now leading alone. Entering the bend for home, May Duke joined Orme. La Fleche soon drew to the front. The race now drew the most intense interest, for the rider of Watercress, who had conspicuously not urged his horse, was now pushing for a spurt that might mean victory. La Fleche drew to the front with a pace that left little doubt as to the result. Watercress pressed closer to La Fleche and Sir Hugo came up alongside of Orme, then passed him, Orme falling back. Sir Hugo next joined issue with Watercrsse, and after a brief and exciting rivalry passed the son of Springfield and came in next to the victor. La Fleche won easily by two lengths, Sir Hugo second and Watercress three lengths behind Sir Hugo. May Duke was fourth and Orme fifth.

JAY-EYE-SEE VS. TIME AND RAIN.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 9.—Jay-Eye-See paced a mile over the Hamlin track yesterday afternoon under decidedly unfavorable conditions in 2:09. His time at Chicago was ¾ second faster. It was a race between time, Jay-Eye-See and the rain, the finish was in order named. The mile was a wonderful one—not a skip, not a break, not a falter nor the slightest unsteadiness anywhere.

A NEW HALF-MILE TRACK RECORD.

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 9.—The world's record for a half-mile track has been broken at the State Fair races in this city. The pacer Bunco Jr., in a matched race with Chesterfield, placed three heats in 2:20, 1:16½ and 2:15. The last quarter of the third mile was made in 32¾ seconds.

TROTTING AT CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—Attendance at Cleveland Park, 5,000; track sticky. Hal Pointer paced against time, and made a mile on the bad track in 2:06½, breaking the Cleveland track record. Midnight Chimes equalled the 3-year-old record in a race. Summary:

LIGHTNING ZIM. LOWERS THREE RECORDS.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 8.—"Jersey Lightning" Zimmerman took three seconds away from F. J. Osmand, the crack English rider, at Hampden Park to-day. He started for the five-mile record and lowered the three-mile, four-mile and five-mile records. His time was 7:05 4-5, 9:41 and 12:12 2-5.

PROVINCIAL HEALTH BOARD.

A Canadian Quarantine of Twenty Days Urged—Inspectors to Prevent the Advent of Cholera Into Canada.

At the meeting of the Provincial Board of Health, held on Wednesday at Toronto, a communication was read from Dr. Bryce, secretary of the board, dated New York, Sept. 4, dealing with the capability and efficiency of the quarantine station at Grosse Isle. After some discussion of Dr. Bryce's letter the following resolution was passed: "That in view of the action of the President of the United States, who has issued an order establishing a quarantine of twenty days against vessels carrying emigrants, so as to prevent the introduction of cholera into the ports of the United States, thereby deflecting the stream of emigrants to our shores, and also, seeing the unprepared condition of the quarantine station at Grosse Isle and other Canadian ports, the Provincial Board of Health of Ontario, through the honorable the Minister of Agriculture, desires to urge most strongly on the Government of the Dominion of Canada the advisability of issuing immediate regulation enforcing a quarantine of twenty days against all vessels carrying emigrants to Canadian ports."

After the passage of this resolution the question of preventing the introduction of cholera by way of New York State was taken up, and was followed by a motion, "That we recommend the Government of Ontario to pass an order-in-council authorizing the appointment of sanitary inspectors, whose office it shall be to board all trains, steamboats, etc., passing from the State of New York into the Province of Ontario in order that they may take such steps as may be necessary to prevent the importation of cholera into this Province."

The question of privy pits and their great tendency to endanger public health was then brought up, and this source of danger prompted the passage of a resolution: "That the Provincial Board of Health desires to emphasize an opinion already expressed on several occasions that all privy pits should be abolished in every municipality of the Province, regarding them as a most potent factor in the spread of Asiatic cholera and other epidemic diseases."

In regard to cholera regulations and the great need of having the people of the Province obtain a more intelligent idea of the nature of the disease and the best methods of guarding against infection a motion was passed to the following effect: "That in consideration of the danger to be apprehended from the near approach of Asiatic cholera the committee of the board are instructed to revise our cholera pamphlet No. 14, entitled "Directions for preventing the spread of Asiatic cholera and other infectious disease, and to have a sufficient number printed for distribution among the people."

TIDINGS FROM TORONTO.

The Exposition Booming — Seizing the Court House Works.

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—The attendance at the exhibition is most gratifying. The receipts Wednesday were $1,292, as compared with $891 on the same day last year, or an increase of $401. Yesterday was Breeders' day. Every department of manufacture is now complete. The special features yesterday were the exhibit of thoroughbred, roadsters, carriage, Clydesdale and shire horses; high jumping contests by saddle horses and hunters, and trotting and running races. There are 725 entries for the bench show.

The city authorities have taken forcible possession of the court house works. Six police officers, in charge of the inspector and led by Architect Lennox, marched to the works, and two or three of the officers climbed over the fence and broke open the gates. A couple of watchmen found inside were promptly "fired," but immediately re-engaged on behalf of the city. The whole affair was quietly accomplished in fifteen minutes, and not twenty people knew anything about it. The city will proceed at once to relet the contract, unless the late contractor, Neelon, succeeds in preventing them by process of law.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Civic Contracts.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In re the request of C. Beckett at last night's Board of Works meeting, that he be given more money than he bargained to do the work for, is it fair and just to the other tenderers, and to the citizens generally, that, after a man has cut prices and given special reductions to get the job, he should be paid extra, virtually raising his contract to a sum for which others would gladly have done the work? I think that such claims should not be considered for a moment, and would like to see the council shut down on all such demands once for all. Please give us your valued opinion on freeze-out contracts and council remunerations. BUSINESS.

THE HORSEMAN.

The object of every breeder should be to make a colt a sound, healthy horse at maturity. His prime necessity is fresh air. If you do not permit him to have this during his colthood, what sort of a horse can you expect him make? Bear in mind that a badly ventilated stable is very much worse than no stable at all.

Nature has not provided any safeguard against bad ventilation. She intended her creatures to have plenty of fresh air at all events, and it is only man who in well-meaning ignorance attempts to defeat her plans. She has provided enough and to spare for all, and yet we seem to take especial pains to render her providence unavailing.

* * *

There is nothing which nature supplies in such prodigal abundance as fresh air. It is the cheapest commodity on earth, and except in crowded cities, where vast masses of men and animals are huddled together regardless of the laws of health, it can always be had even without the asking. But, judging from the manner in which most people build, they seem to forget that nature has supplied this fluid with lavish bounty for a purpose; that its office is to contribute to the health of air-breathing plants and animals, including her crowning piece of workmanship, man. Neither man nor brute can possibly enjoy a high state of health without being plentifully furnished with this life-giving element.

It is better a thousand fold that horses and colts should be left out in the weather and exposed to the storms of winter than that they should be shut up in air-tight cells. Nature has provided them with thick, heavy suits of clothing that enable them, to a very considerable extent, to resist the inclemency of the weather. It is doubtful whether a healthy, well-fed colt or horse in our climate suffers much from the cold, provided he has not been accustomed to being stabled. This is shown by the fact that where excellent sheds are provided, many, possibly most, horses will refuse to take shelter under them, even in the roughest weather, and if well fed and cared for they do not seem to suffer much inconvenience from the exposure. It is the animals that are well housed that seem to be the most subject to colds, pneunomia and kindred diseases.

A horse shut up in a tight box stall, say sixteen or eighteen feet square, without means for the ingress and egress of atmospheric currents, cannot be kept in good health. Fortunately there will be little crevices through which the fir can penetrate, in spite of the efforts of well-meaning, but ill-judging owners to exclude it. Were it not for this fact much more damage would be done. It is safe to say that in the course of a single hour a horse confined in a stall sixteen feet square would inhale and exhale all the air which it could contain. Accidental appertures would then be his only salvation. The air exhaled from the lungs of a man or horse consists largely of carbonic acid gas. This is heavier than the atmosphere, and sinks to the bottom of the stall. If there is no means of egress, it will eventually fill the stall, and without fresh accessions of air from the outside, not only would the animal's system be poisoned, but he would eventually smother to death just as though the stall was filled with charcoal. Most people in providing ventilation seem to think that apertures above the horse are sufficient. The facts above stated are sufficient to show that this view is erroneous. There must be an opportunity for the air once breathed to pass out, near the bottom of the stall or stable, as well as for fresh air to come in near the top.

Beautiful lace is made in the Presentation Convent at Youghal, the workers being Irish peasant women. Some of these women are such expert workers that the most exquisite reproductions of Greek, old Venetian and Milanese laces have been reproduced; narrow colored linen lace, like fine torchon, is also made, and is much used for trimming handkerchiefs and linen batistes. This lace wears admirably, Irish lace thread of superior quality being used. Carrickmacross, Kinsale and Limerick lace is the kind most commonly seen; it is a kind of embroidery executed on a net foundation. Irish guipure is much in demand at present; exquisite church lace is made in Limerick, and is used for altar coverings and priests' vestments.

The Grain Field.

—In growing winter wheat, and indeed any other form of cereal crop, it is important, says an Ontario Agricultural College bulletin, that the farmers give much attention to the selection of the more useful varieties. In some seasons this is not so important, as almost any variety will give a fair return, but in others when the conditions of growth and ripening are not so favorable the difference in the yields in some instances amounts to nearly 50 per cent. with varieties grown under the same conditions. As it is impossible to forecast the nature of the season, it is better to be forearmed by sowing varieties possessed of sufficient vigor and hardihood to enable them to bear up well under adverse conditions.

The qualities to be sought in winter wheat include the following:

1. Ability to give good yields. Occasionally we meet with varieties having nearly all the requisites given below, and yet the yield from them is only ordinary.

2. The quality of the grain, including weight per bushel and value for milling purposes. A variety possessing good milling properties is certainly to be much preferred to one equal in other respects but lacking in these.

3. Strength of straw. This is very important in some seasons, more especially on soils where the grain is liable to lodge, as it bears so directly on the labor of harvesting.

4. Non-liability to rust. Although rust is largely dependent on season, soil and location, some varieties have the power of resisting it in a marked degree.

5. Earliness in maturing. This is also intimately associated with yield, as in some seasons an advantage of from three to five days in early ripening will make a great difference in the returns.

6. The presence or absence of beards. Beards are so far objectionable unless there is decided superiority in other directions, as they are less pleasant to handle, they lessen the value of the chaff for feeding purposes and are associated more or less with lack of refinement in quality.

Owing to the low prices ruling for winter wheat there is an inclination to sow a less acreage this season. This tendency can easily be carried too far. We have an excellent wheat producing country and want large quantities of straw for bedding which cannot be secured so effectually in any other way. There is always less hazard in growing a variety of crops, and it also furnishes a more equable division of the work of the farm. And there is at the same time a possibility of some advance in prices. It is at least questionable as to whether this Province should at any time grow less wheat than will suffice for home consumption.

BURNED OUT.

A $40,000 Blaze in Toronto—Fire Thorold—Other Conflagrations.

THOROLD, Sept. 8.—About midnight last night fire destroyed a large frame barn and contents on Mrs. Daniel Munro's farm about a mile out of town. The contents belonged to John Kearney, the tenant. Loss about $200.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 8.—Fire broke out early this morning in the rear of a five-story brick factory at 102 Adelaide street west, occupied by several manufacturing firms and others. The building was badly gutted. The loss will probably be about $40,000. The occupants are: Austin & Bothler, tinners; the Wyness Plating Company; John Vanderschaef, wood carver; Joseph Coulter, cabinet maker; E. M. Cattley, machinist; the Wells Manufacturing Company, desks; Tushingham & Son, wood turners.

RIVER DU LOUP, Que., Sept. 8.—This morning at Ste. Rose du Degele, Que., the premises belonging to Mr. Octave Titalien were burned to the ground. Loss about $10,000; no insurance.

JOHN BRIGHT AND THE QUEEN.

[From a sermon by Rev. D. C. Hassock, Orangeville.]

He held that the Canadians' was a priceless heritage, but with it was associated a perfect freedom of speech. He cited the deliverance of the late John Bright on continental union, and asked:

"Did Queen Victoria dislike him because he declared himself in favor of the union of Canada and the United States? When this man who had so boldly expressed his radical opinions went to Windsor to go through the ceremony of taking the oath of office, her Majesty showed her delicate consideration for the great tribune in a marked manner. She notified Mr. Bright that he might omit the ceremony of kneeling. Availing himself of this permission John Bright stood erect, a noble subject in the presence of a good queen. Let us remember the example of her Majesty, and let no one interfere with freedom of speech —the brightest jewel in the British crown.

Speaking of good roads, an Eastern philanthropist in a district of notoriously bad roads, "built at his own expense one mile of good road." The object lesson was not lost. It is a good pointer for other philanthropists over a wide district of country. When old Nehemiah started to rebuild the walls of the ancient city, he set every man "to building the wall over against his own house," and he made a grand success of it. Take Nehemiah's plan; build good roads in front of your own farm and your neighbors will follow suit.

Mrs. Ellen Harris of Philadelphia, who organized the first woman's aid society in the States, soon after Fort Sumter was fired on, is still living at Florence, Italy, at an advanced age.

Miss Kate Pier, court commissioner of Milwaukee, married Jacob Yondall and Adelpena Hanson of Chicago a few days ago. They were the first couple to be married by a woman in Milwaukee.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Cattle—One car of fresh stock and a few lots of odds and ends, making in all 4 or 5 cars, constituted the offerings. Nobody wanted the class of stock on sale.

Sheep and Lambs—Offerings 13 loads of Canadian lambs and 6 to 8 of native lambs and sheep. Hardly enough trading done to call it a market; one load of the best of the Canadas brought $6 15, and tops of the native lambs would not bring above $3, while choice lambs were not quotable above $5 75, and good lots $5 to $5 25; cull and common stock were hardly looked at; extra choice sheep quotable around $4 75, and good to choice at $4 to $4 50, while common and cull stuff rated $2 to $3 50. The eastern market was reported slow, and the outlook for both sheep and lambs is decidedly unfavorable.

Hogs—Twenty-seven cars on sale; market steady; offerings pretty well disposed of; packers and butchers paid $5 40 to $5 5) for the best on sale; good, common pigs, $5 to $5 15, there being but few on the market, while grassy lots are only quoted at $4 25 to $4 50; light to fair weight Yorkers sold at $5 75 to $5 80; roughs, $4 25 to $5 50; stags, $3 50 to $4 25.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—700 head of cattle, 75 calves and 1,000 mutton critters were offered at the East End abattoir to-day. The superior class of beeves could be bought at 4c per lb, decidedly the lowest rate paid for such good cattle this season. Pretty good stock was also lower in price than usual, and sold at from a little over 2c per lb up to nearly 3½c. A number of good stockers were bought by shippers at about 3¼c per lb, while ordinary thrifty steers sold at about 3c, and common young steers at about 2½c per lb. Calves were in good demand and sold at from $3 to $14 each. One man bought eight superior calves at $8 to $14 each, and a lot of fine lambs at from $3 50 to $4 each. Lambs were very plentiful to-day, but they were chiefly bucks that were being sent to market before they became unruly at home. Prices ranged from $2 to $4 each. Fat hogs are very dull of sale to-day, and prices of common lots are about 5c per lb.

Dairy Markets.

PETERBORO.

PETERBORO, Sept. 8.—At yesterday's market 40 factories boarded 4,545 boxes of last half of August make. Sales: 323 at 9½c, 3,075 at 9 15-16c, 450 at 9¼c. The factories unsold were given permission to sell off the board.

LISTOWEL.

LISTOWEL, Sept. 9.—Forty-four factories boarded 10,553 boxes of cheese at the fair here yesterday, August make. About one-third of the whole amount was sold. Many salesmen held, however, for ¼c to ½c more than they were bid and one factory man refused 10½c, holding for 10¾c. The sales were: 165 boxes at 9 12 16c, 735 at 9 15-16c, 980 at 9¾c, 2,420 at 10c, 596 at 10 1-19c and 650 at 10¼c. Bidding fairly active. The bulk of the balance is held at 10c.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, Sept. 7.—All cheese in the Kingston district has been contracted for at 9½c to 10c per lb.

Bad for Barley.

"We are not making the active preparations in connection with the barley crop as in former years," said Mr. W. D. Matthews yesterday at Toronto. "The duty imposed by the United States last year has brought about some uncertainty in the trade; in addition, I am afraid that this year's crop is too light in weight and too dark in color for use by the English brewers. Its value, therefore, will depend entirely, if it is to go for export, upon what it will realize for feeding purposes. I think our barley will average two pounds to the bushel less than that of last year, and a large proportion of it is stained."

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—A gang of men will start to-morrow to clean out Carling's Creek.

—Judge Elliot left to-day to hold the Division Court at Watford.

—Civic work is slack, and many of the corporation men have been laid off.

—Judge Mackenzie, of Sarnia, is presiding at a sitting of the First Division Court to-day. There are 46 cases on the list.

—Mr. T. R. Parker, city ticket agent of the C. P. R., left to-day for a trip of a month or six weeks to the Pacific Coast.

—Old Subscriber (Galt).—We are under the impression that the Great Eastern steamship never was in Montreal harbor.

—The Bishop of Huron will conduct the quiet day for the Alumni Association of Wycliffe College, Toronto, the first week in October.

—Ven. Archdeacon Marsh and Mr. W. J. Imlach, of this city, leave in a day or two to attend a Church of England gathering at Montreal.

—The London Cricket Club was defeated by the Hamilton club in that city yesterday. A score of 131 to 86 and seven wickets to spare.

—The East London Methodists expect to open their handsome new church on Sunday, Oct. 31. The dedication will probably take place on Sunday, Nov. 7.

—Bailiff English took David Glennie, of Caradoc, to the Central Prison this morning to serve six months' sentence for the larceny of a silver watch and some pieces of harness.

—Ed. Sinnett has been bailed out on account of the serious illness of his wife, whom he had threatened to kill. Squire Smyth committed him to jail in default of securities to keep the peace.

—Assistant Health Inspector Lutnam started to-day to examine the rear premises of the stores and business establishments. It is likely that an additional inspector will be appointed soon by the Health Board.

—Two eagles were shot one day last week at Grovesend, Elgin county, by Mr. John P. Hunt, artist, of this city. One was a "baldhead" and the other grey, each measuring from tip to tip of wing 6 feet 10 inches. As an amateur Mr. Hunt is a skillful marksman.

—Rev. Mr. Wilson, missionary to Central India, and son-in-law of Principal Caven, of Toronto, arrived with his wife to spend a few days with his uncle, Rev. James Gordon, of this city. The reverend gentleman has fallen seriously ill, consumption of the bowels being the complaint.

—Mr. Thomas Martindale, of Philadelphia, a native of London, is spending a few days with his mother and other relatives here. Mr. Martindale, who is one of the Quaker City's progressive business men, is about to start for a pleasure trip to Japan, via the Canada Pacific Railway and steamers. His son James accompanies him. Mr. Martindale's recent address before the Board of Trade of this city will be remembered.

—"The reason we need new schools, although the city's population is increased but very little," explained a school trustee, "is due to the fact that pupils in the first form have now but one promotion examination a year instead of two, as before. Under the bi-yearly system the primary classes were necessarily kept smaller by more frequent promotions, but under the present regulations, there are far too many in the first forms, more than the bylaw permits, in fact. Therefore we must have more accommodation for the juveniles."

—Judge Davis' big mastiff was attacked by another dog on the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets yesterday. As "fight" is the prevailing topic just now a big crowd gathered round and encouraged the canine. The judge tried in vain to separate them with his umbrella, but P. C. Egleton's club proved more effective.

The Finance Committee.

Capt. Foster appeared before the Finance Committee of the Council at their last meeting and asked for the remission of this year's taxes. He said that he had lost thousands of dollars since he came to this city. The boat had earned $1,700 and the expenses not including his own remuneration for services had been over $1,500. He had been assessed $18 every year for income. His request was granted. Ald. Yates reported for the sub-committee on advertising the city that fifteen pages of matter for a pamphlet had been prepared. The balance of $150, granted by the council for the purchase of copies of the Buffalo Express, will be used in completing the pamphlet. The matter of an exemption bylaw for manufactories in the city was brought up and the laws observed in Hamilton, Kingston and Toronto were read. The latter exempts machinery and tools while the other two cities exempt everything but land. Morris Jackson's taxes of $1 80 will be remitted, as will also those of Louisa Hall, Henry Stabler (dog tax) and Robert Percival. Ald. Gartshore (chairman), Yates, Leonard, Judd and Dreaney and Mayor Spencer were present.

CHOLERA.

SICKNESS ON THE WIELAND.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 9—8 a.m.—The Hamburg-American line steamship Wieland, which arrived at Lower Quarantine soon after 7 o'clock this morning, has her yellow flag hoisted, indicating that she has sickness, if not cholera, aboard, and in all likelihood has some cases of the scourge. The Wieland is not one of the first-class steamers of the Hamburg-American line, but is a vessel of about the same size and build as the Rugia. The Wieland, however, carries both cabin and steerage passengers, and no doubt has her usual full complement of the latter.

HAMBURG, Sept. 9.—Official figures continue to show a material decrease in the number of cases and deaths. Yesterday, according to official returns, there were 393 new cases and 215 deaths. Compared with figures for Wednesday, yesterday's returns show a decrease of 262 new cases and 100 deaths.

THE WHEEL.

COLORED WHEELMEN EXCLUDED.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 9.—By a vote of 8 to 2 the associate 'cycling clubs of this city have decided not to admit the Chicago Colored 'Cycling Club to the privileges of the association. It means virtually that they are opposed to the admission of colored 'cyclists to the League of American Wheelmen.

ATHLETICS.

MORE POUNDING SOUGHT.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 9.—Jimmy Carrol has pooled $1,000 forfeit on behalf of Johnny Griffin for a fight with George Dixon for a belt, $10,000 and the largest purse offered and under the same conditions that governed the Dixon-Skelly contest.

A British Failure.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The House and Land Investment Trust (Limited) has suspended payment. The capital of the concern is £500,000.

Red Pepper Throwing.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 9.—Red pepper was thrown into the eyes of non-unionists at Homestead last night as they were passing along Eighth avenue from the restaurant where they had supper to the mill. Many of the men had their sight so badly injured that they will be unable to work for a few days. The pepper throwing was done by a lot of boys, who lined the sidewalk. The non-union men could not resent the attack as the strikers stood on both sides of the street ready to help the boys.

A Fredericton, N.B., dispatch says the Metropolitan of Canada died this (Friday) morning. He was 88 years of age.

Patrick Fitzgerald, of Oakville, was struck by an M. C. R. train near Welland Thursday morning and had both arms broken.

Billy Lawlor, the burglar who was sent to Kingston penitentiary some years ago through the instrumentality of the Hamilton police for his connection with a big jewelry robbery in Simcoe, is in Denver, Colorado, insane.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellegg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

Adam Graeme, of Mossgray.

By Mrs. Oliphant.

"Eh, Robbie!" exclaimed Mrs. Mense, "it's a judgment—it's just a visible judgment and retribution on that hard auld man! As if we werena sinfu' enough ourscls to learn us mercy to our neighbors, let alane our ain bairns, bane of our bane, and flesh of our flesh."

"The minister says we maun hae sure word afore we tell Saunders," said Robbie; as if the word we hae gotten wasna ower sure; but I say we've nae richt to keep the news frae the faither and the mother. Thea hae mair richt to ken than fremd folk. To be sure, I gied my word to the minister that I wad tell naebody. I'm saying, Jen, mind; till ance the minister maks his inquiries, ye're no' to say a word about it; though I kenna but what it wad be richt to tell the auld man, whether it turned out true or no, just to bring him to himsel'."

"Eh, preserve me!" said Jane Mense, "they say he put his curse upon the lad."

"I wadna say onything was ower hard for Saunders Delvie," said the fisherman.

"Whisht! nane o' ye ken," said the old woman. "If he had been mair moderate in his liking, he wad hae been mair moderate in his wrath. I tell ye, nane o' ye ken. Wha's yon, Jen? is't no' Saunders, his ain sel'?"

The fisherman glanced eagerly out, and then drew back.

"I put on my Sabbath-day's claes just for the purpose, but I canna face him now. I'll slip awa into the milk-house, Mrs. Mense; and say naething to him. It's in the minister's hands; we maun just leave it to the minister."

So saying, Robbie with some trepidation hastened away to conceal himself in the dairy until the auld man had passed.

The stern, harsh face of Saunders Delvie was lighted with a fire of strange and wild excitement. Defiance and yearning, tears and frowns, were strangely mingled in it. His voice shook, his gray eyelashes were wet, and under his heavy, blushy eyebrows his eyes shot out glances of fiery grief. His stern composure of manner was entirely broken. A burst of weeping, or a paroxysm of fierce rage, might, either of them, have brought to a climax the old man's unusual agitation. With his heavy, quick, unsteady step, he came into the kitchen at Mossgray. No one spoke to him, for both of the women were afraid.

Mrs. Mense was sitting in her chair by the fireside; he went up to her hurriedly.

"Auld friend," he said abruptly, with that harsh tremor in his voice, more moving than many lamentations, "ken ye onything that concerns me or mine? tell me plain out what it is, for this I wunna bear."

"Oh, Saunders," exclaimed the old woman, wiping the tears from her withered cheek, "have pity upon the lad—the puir lad!"

"Is that a'? have ye nae mair to say but that?" said Saunders. Janet had followed the example of the fisherman, and the two old servants of Mossgray were alone. "Is that a'?" repeated Saunders, speaking rapidly, as if, in the contradictory impulse of his anxiety, he wished to prevent her from answering. "Ye're sure that's a'? Then I maun gang my ways—I maun tak counsel; if it's righteous it maunna be ower late; but I'll no' speak to the laird. He's no' a man like me; he takes the reprobate and the race o' the reprobate into his bosom. Na, I winna speak to the laird."

And lifting his head again with something of his usual rigid pride, the old man went away, as hastily as he entered.

The market was over in Fendie, and as the summer afternoon drowsily waned, and the weekily stir subsided, Mr. Oswald sat in his little private office alone. The banker was an elder of the church, and a man, as Saunders thought, of kindred mind and temperament to his own. It was from him that he came to seek counsel.

Mr. Oswald looked up in some astonishment as the old man was ushered into his sanctum.

"It's a case of conscience, sir," said Saunders, in his harsh, tremulous voice. "I was wanting to ask your counsel."

Mr. Oswald was a little startled. Cases of conscience were not quite in his way, although he had the ordination of the eldership upon him.

"Had you not better speak to the minister, Saunders?" he said; "but sit down, and tell me what troubles you."

The banker's heart was touched with the trembling vehemence of the old man's manner and appearance as he stood before him.

"Na, sir, I canna speak to the minister," said Saunders. "The minister's a young man, and doesna ken the afflictions of the like o' me. He may hae comfort for his ain kind, but the grief o' the gray head are aboon the ken o' lads like him. I canna speak to the minister."

Mr. Oswald had heard the rumor of Peter Delvie's death, and pitied the stern old father; again he asked him to sit down.

Saunders took the offered seat, and pressed his bonnet convulsively between his hands.

"It's touching the lawfulness of a vow—a vow before the Lord."

Mr. Oswald's voice faltered a little; an indefinite thrill of conscience moved him.

"What is it, Saunders?"

"I made a resolve," said the old man, his features twitching and his strong, harsh voice shaking with the very force of his determination to study it, "to put forth ane—ane that had sinned—out from my house as an alien and a reprobate. He had shamed the name that righteous puir men had labored to keep honest for him—he had sinned in the sight of God and man; and before the Lord I pat him forth, and took a vow on me that he should cross my door-stane never mair. Maister Oswald, ye're an elder of the Kirk, and a man of years, and that has had bairns born to ye, and ken—am I no bound before the Lord to haud to my vow?"

Mr. Oswald moved upon his chair uneasily. He could not answer.

"I have had converse with Mossgray," continued Saunders, shrill tones of excitement mingling with the usual slow, grave accents of his broken voice, "but Mossgray is anither manner of man, and kensna—kensna the like o' me. He tells me that change is a guid gift of God, given for our rising like ither providences, and that what I have said wi' my lips may be broken, and me no mansworn—but I say no—I ken nae law ither than the auld law of Scripture, and I maun perform to the Lord my vow. Sir, Mr. Oswald, think ye not so?"

The old man's shaggy eyelash was wet, but the fire shot forth behind. Strongly the two contending powers within him struggled for the mastery. He wanted his authority to second the dictates of the yearning nature, which, moved by whispers of some unknown calamity to his son, contended bitterly with the stern obstinacy of his temper and his sense of right; yet he had entered upon the oft repeated arguments, with which he had been used to defend himself against the gentle attacks of Mossgray, and was becoming heated in his own defense. If the banker had pronounced his judgment against the breaking of this vow, it would have carried a bitter pang to the old man's heart, and yet would have been a triumph. He sat, pressing his bonnet in his hard hands, and shaking like a palsied man. He had put his fate in this chance. He had resolved to make the judgment of the other pertinacious man to whom he appealed, his final rule, and anxiously he waited for the decision.

But George Oswald moving there uneasily in his elbow-chair was too much perplexed and conscience-stricken to give a ready answer. The vehement father-love of Saunders Delvie, which, in its agony of disappointed hope, produced this vow, sublimed the old man's sternness and lifted it out of the class of ordinary emotions. It was not anger, or wounded pride, or shame alone, but it was all these, intensified and burning with the strong, bitter love which still worshiped in its secret heart the son whom it had expelled from his home. The worldly man who had put the barrier of his disapproval in the way of his son's happiness, for such paltry motives as Saunders Delvie never knew, felt himself abashed in presence of the old, stern peasant, whose appealing eye was upon him.

"Saunders," said Mr. Oswald, with a faltering voice, "we are bound at all times to forgive."

"It's no that I dinna forgive him," cried the old man in his passion. It's no that I dinna think upon him night and day—it's no that—oh man! do ye no ken?"

And Saunders, forgetting all artificial respectfulness, put down his gray head into his hard toil-worn hands and sobbed aloud—such strong convulsive sobs as the awed banker had never heard before.

Hope Oswald had opened the door very quietly to look in, and the instincts of childhood were scarcely yet subdued in the young heart of the banker's daughter. She came softly across the room to stand by Saunder s side, and touch his hand with awe and pity.

Rushville, Schuyler Co., Ill., U.S.A., Feb. 14, 1889. "I have been afflicted with dyspepsia over twelve years and I know I have found nothing that has benefited me like Diamond Vera-Cura. The first few doses relieved me of fullness and soreness of the stomach, and shortness of breath. I was also troubled with palpitation of the heart, which it has relieved, and I feel better in every way since I commenced using Diamond Vera-Cura, and cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from dyspepsia or indigestion." JOHN W. HAYES, Elder Union Baptist Church. At druggists or sent on receipt of price, 25 cents. Address E. A. Wilson, Toronto.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Women are great in small things.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too.

No man is a Christain by compulsion.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

Don't you think a medicine which cures others will cure you? Don't you think you need Burdock Blood Bitters to help you to health and happiness? We know B. B. B. cures dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache and bad blood. Don't you think it is time you tried it?

Matrimony is hard work.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, is ear ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, in which the young are specially subject.

A rose would not be half a rose without a thorn.

A Consideration.

Gentlemen,—My brother suffered from summer complaint and was extremely weak. We tried many remedies but without effect. At last my aunt advised us to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was cured. We consider it saved his life. Miss ADELAIDE CRITTENDEN, Baldwin, Ont.

A MILLIONAIRE DROWNED

While Fishing in Lake Milona, Minnesota.

ALEXANDRIA, Minn., Sept. 8.—George R. Grant, a millionaire attorney, guest for a few days of Hon. William B. Keep, both of Chicago, at the Chicago Club, on Lake Milona, in this county, was drowned on Tuesday while fishing. He stood up in the boat to remove his coat, which was loaded down with cartridges, and had it off just so far as to securely pinion his arms when he fell overboard. His brother-in-law, stationed half a mile away, saw the accident and hastily rowed to his assistance. Grasping the heavy trolling line which hung over the boat, the hook caught in the clothing of the drowned man, and he raised the body to the surface, but could not get it into the boat. So lashing the arms over the gunwale of the boat, he rowed with the other boat for help. Half an hour elapsed before the body could be taken out of the water and life was entirely extinct. Grant leaves a wife and daughter. The deceased carried $250,000 insurance on his life and took out policies for $16,000 accident insurance before leaving Chicago in several old line companies.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Rev. Canon Chance, of Tyrconnel, is at the Tecumseh.

—The C. P. R. will exhibit a 12-foot model of the company's steamer Empress of India at the Western Fair.

—Ida Van Cortland will devote her time this season almost exclusively to her new melodrama, "The Devil's Web."

—Manager Haystead, of the Josie Mills Company, which plays here all next week, has one of the finest orchestras on the road this season.

—Rev. S. McVittie, of this city, will preach morning and evening on Sunday next in the Queen Street Church, Sarnia. Rev. Mr. Martin, of Sarnia, takes Mr. McVittie's work here for the same day.

—Mr. C. W. Jones, of New York, formerly of this city, has disposed of his city property on Albert street to Mr. John Jones. Mr. Jones will remove his family to New York, where he met with business success.

—Mr. Peter Macarthur, who was formerly connected with the Toronto Mail, but who is now a contributor to Puck, Life and the New York Herald, is in the city. His home is near Appin, where he is going on a visit.

—T. G. Davey, of London, is endeavoring to lease hunting privileges on a block of land of about 1,000 acres for five years for the purpose of training his dogs and trying to domesticate prairie chickens.—[Glencoe Transcript correspondence.

—A regatta of the London Rowing Club will be held on Saturday, Sept. 17. The steamer will leave the wharf at Dundas street, at 1 p.m., and hourly thereafter. The races will begin punctually at 2 p.m., and will consist of four-oared, pair, and single scull, canoe races, etc.

—Mrs. Wilson, wife of Rev. Mr. Wilson, missionary to India, and daughter of Principal Caven, of Toronto, addressed a meeting in St. Andrew's Church last evening under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary. Her description of missionary life and work in the Orient was very interesting.

—David H. Hull, of Ekfrid, near Appin, was a volunteer in the campaign of 1837-38. He has in his possession a pair of glasses over 150 years old. They were the property of his grandmother, a resident of the State of New Jersey, and she found them when a little girl. He had also a feather bed in constant use that is over 100 years of age. The first piece of furniture ever made in London, Ont., is in his possession.

—Mr. E. Ruse, whom the Allen Contract Labor Law deprived of a good position in Buffalo, has resumed his former work here as assistant station ticket agent for the Grand Trunk Railway. Though regretting the loss of his Buffalo engagement, his many friends will be glad to see him at his old post. Mr. S. Albertson, who assumed his duties, has returned to Niagara Falls. He was very popular while here.

—The well-known Whyte brothers, the singing evangelists, gave an entertainment in Victoria Hall last night under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of St. Andrew's Church. Though not large the audience was appreciative. The Whyte brothers are sweet singers; they have fine, cultivated voices, each well attuned to the other through constant rehearsal. Their selections were popular, ranging from the sacred and pathetic to the humorous. A guitar accompaniment lent charm to the melody.

Will Return the Visit.

President Porte, Mayor Spencer, A. M. Smart, John Kennedy, Geo. M. Reid, J. S. Pearce, Col. Leys, Ald. Shaw, R. Venning, D. Mackenzie, J. W. Little, Chas. Trebilcock, W. J. Reid, Col. Lowis, Allan Hogue, George Taylor and Secretary Browne attended a meeting of the Western Fair Board yesterday afternoon. Arrangements were completed for telephone, telegraph and postoffice service, and other accommodation on the grounds. The appointments of attendants were all made, and the secretary will notify the appointees as to their duties. This will save the continuous tramp, tramp of eager applicants up the office stairs. The directors will leave on a special car on Tuesday, Sept. 13, to visit the Toronto Exhibition—in return for the visit of the Industrial Fair directors to the Western last year. Mr. J. S. Pearce assured the board that the electrical display in the Agricultural Hall would be fine.

Inner School Matters.

All the members of No. 2 Committee of the Board of Education were present at last night's meeting. Besides the cleaning furnaces referred to in the report of Janitor O'Brien will be procured. Materials for repairs at Princess Avenue school will be ordered and the purchase of a cupboard recommended. The inspector will report on all rooms needing cupboards. Tenders will be called for the heating of Princess Avenue school. After a good deal of discussion the committee decided to again request in favor of the Green-Ball property, several of the members having visited the various properties in the afternoon. Several small repairs were ordered in various schools. A letter from Architect Fred Henry asking for instructions as to the system of heating at the Collegiate Institute was read. The committee requested the chairman of the board to call a special meeting to decide the matter, having failed to decide the matter themselves after several the worse as to the hot air or hot water.

Dogs' Doings.

Mr. James Arthur, jun., who lives next door to Lorne avenue school, sustained a serious loss on Wednesday morning. It appears that Mr. Arthur has a taste for raising fancy poultry, and up till the morning referred to he was the proud possessor of about 30 choice chickens, including Wyandottes, Leghorns and other valuable varieties of fowl. About 7 o'clock a.m. he was awakened by a neighbor who tapped at the window, and told him there was an unusual racket in his henhouse. Mr. Arthur, partially dressing himself, hurried out to the back yard, where he found a mastiff in the act of carrying away a chicken. Chasing the brute Mr. Arthur came across two more dogs of the same breed, who also had been making havoc among the birds, and were endeavoring to escape over the high fence inclosing that portion of the premises. With Mrs. Arthur's assistance, and the aid of a rope, the three marauders were captured and tied up, the canines having intelligence enough to know that they were in mischief and offering little resistance. The owner of the dogs was soon found and while expressing regret for the mischief they had done, demurred somewhat at paying the heavy cost incurred; finally, however, he drew a check for a good round sum and the matter was amicably settled, though the owner of the fowls considers he did not get their full value. Nearly every one of the 50 or more choice birds were killed by the dogs. Mr. Arthur feels his loss more keenly from the fact that they were particularly fine specimens, and a number of them were entered for competition at the approaching Western Fair.

"O'Dowd's Neighbors" To-Night.

That smart little bit of a man, Mr. Mark Murphy, will, with the assistance of his company of comedians, present his latest New York success, "O'Dowd's Neighbors," at the Opera House to-night. "O'Dowd's Neighbors" is one of those theatrical productions for which you cannot find a name in the dictionary, but call it what you will, it is a winner. There are 32 people in the cast. Roger Dolan, who has the second best part in the piece, is said to be a very clever comedian. An addition to the company this year is Miss Marie Cahill, the renowned dancer, late of Hoyt's forces and of the "Miss Helyett" Company. She holds the stage for nearly a half hour. The immense hit the clever little lady makes with her audience can only be judged from that fact. Miss Jennie Murphy is another member of the company who has been well known as a comic opera singer. Mr. James Thornton (late of Lawlor & Thornton) is also one of the neighbors; others of the dwellers of the neighborhood are the Misses Yorke, Carling, Winton, Graves and George, Messrs. Riggs, Erhardt, Reynolds and Murphy, and the well-known Irish comedians, Roger and Belle Dolan.

STREETS AND DRAINS.

The Board of Works Deal With a Batch of Petitions—Claims of Contractor Beckett and Thos White Granted.

The Board of Works met last evening. Ald. Bartlett, O'Meara, Jones and Shaw, City Engineer Graydon and Secretary Bell were present. In the absence of the chairman Ald. Bartlett took the chair.

Chas. Maker and others petitioned for a block pavement on Rectory street, between Campbell and Dundas streets. The assessment commissioner reported that there were not sufficient signatures on the petition, and the matter was laid over to allow the petitioners a chance to get the requisite number of signatures.

James Fitzgerald complained of the condition of the block pavement on Maitland street between Princess and Dufferin avenues. The water after a storm lay four inches deep on the pavement. The question arose as to where the funds to pay for the necessary repairs were to come from. The engineer will estimate the cost of doing the work and report to the council on Monday evening. The blocks for about two-thirds of the block and for a width of about eight feet would have to be taken up.

E. R. Cameron and others petitioned to have a change made so that the Victoria avenue drain would not have to empty into the Elmwood avenue drain, as the latter was not large enough to carry off the supply. They claimed that their cellars were flooded after every storm. The matter was left with the engineer and member for the ward.

Ald. Garrahore complained of a mud hole on Wellington street, opposite the office of the McClary Manufacturing Company. The defect will be remedied.

Thos. White appeared before the committee and claimed damages for the upsetting of a wagon and the consequent smashing of some furniture owing to the defective condition of Hamilton street in the sixth ward. He claimed $15, but urged that the damage was not less than $25. The electric light was not lighted on the night of the accident or it might not have happened. He will be given $10.

C. Beckett, block pavement contractor, asked that he be given the original amount of his contract. His tender was considerably lower than the others. As an inducement to the committee to award him the contract he took 2 per cent., or about $140, off his first tender and this made his tender nearly $1,000 lower than the next lowest. The Waterloo street pavement cost him about $200 more than he had expected, and here he consequently lost money. The council will be recommended to grant his petition.

Dr. Hutchinson's report on the Emery street drain was read. The Board of Health recommended some alterations, and if they wish the work done from a sanitary point of view it will be done and charged to their account.

Ald. Bartlett will decide on a new name for Park street, ward 5, before Monday night.

Accounts were passed including the pay sheet of $226 35 and the committee adjourned.

Imprisoned Regardless of Wealth.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 8.—Simon J. Ahern, a leading lawyer, capitalist and real estate man, worth $300,000, was convicted yesterday of criminal libel and sentenced, without the option of a fine, to 90 days in the county workhouse.

Lost Both His Legs.

Ypsilanti, Sept. 3.—Jay Harvey, a young man 16 years old, was run over by the way freight train going east yesterday afternoon. He was stealing a ride from the depot and jumped off at Cross street, intending to go to the Athletic grounds, where the German fair celebration was being held. The wheels passed over both legs near the ankles, crushing them so badly that amputation is necessary. The injured lad was taken to his home.

Wrecked in Oregon Waters.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—The whaleback C. W. Wetmore, whose route to England and back to the Pacific has been watched with such interest by shipping men, has been wrecked in Coos Bay, Oregon, and lies on a sand pit rapidly going to pieces. The crew was saved, but the vessel will be a total loss. The vessel, which was built in 1890 by the American Steel Barge Company, of West Superior, Wis., was laden with 3,000 tons of coal. Her trip along the coast has been a series of disasters.

Given Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removes the corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What is the time now it will do again.

Pilles! Pilles! Nothing Pilles.

Symptoms—Moisture; intense thirst and stinging; must sit nights; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue unless them, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swaynes Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents.

WHY NOT?

You have corns, warts, bunions, moles or cancers? Why are they not cured? You ask a reasonable question. It demands a candid answer. You have it here: You bought a corn cure. You thought you had Barkwell's, but it was not the genuine; you got a counterfeit. It was no more use than water. We felt. It was no more use than water. So far, missed the sale of what you wanted. So far, it is your money gone; our money is gone too. You get another and think it is the genuine. You have made a mistake and we are in distress. More of your money's gone; more of grace. our money is gone. Your corns are no better; our reputation no better. You make up your mind they cannot be cured. We have lost a customer. You have got hold of the wrong end of the fact. You have got hold of the wrong bottle. Both our moneys are gone. Not only our moneys are gone but our opinions of one another are wrong. We don't know you by sight or name. You don't know us. We think "how dull you are to get an imitation when you might as well get Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure." And you think "what fools the manufacturers of that corn cure are to cheat so." Let's get acquainted with one another. Let's get acquainted with Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure. The manufacturer is not the unhandsome name you call him by. And you can't help it. Come on. Nobody deals more handsomely. Nobody ever loses a cent by getting Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure, but they always lose a corn. We never had any trouble except by these infernal counterfeiters. Neither do you with Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure. v

TORN BY A TIGER.

Frightful Death of an Animal Trainer in Kentucky.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 9.—During the street parade of Sells' circus a man known as "Animal George" and whose home is thought to be in Columbus, O., was attacked by a huge tiger, in whose cage he was riding. The beast screamed in fury as he bit and tore his shrieking victim. The spectators, panic-stricken, fled as if pursued by death, while the show-hands rushed to the cage and did everything possible to rescue the man who was being rent to pieces alive. They could accomplish nothing until the trainer was dead, when the infuriated beast retired to a corner. Not a shred of clothing remained on the unfortunate man. His head was torn open, the face gone and nearly every bone in his body was broken.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.
