German Resistance Between Soissons and Rheims Is Reduced to Mere Shell- Ludendorff Is Expected to Launch Another Counter-Offensive.

London, July 25 .- On the western front of the Soissons-Rheims salient the Allied forces have advanced to an average depth of three miles on a twelve-mile front during the past two days.

There were no new developments this morning in the battle area, according to advices from the field of the fighting received in London up to noon. The situation was considered quite satisfactory for the Allies.

The reports show that the German high command has thus far engaged 64 divisions in the battle, representative of groups of the German armies from Flanders to Alsace. These 64 divisions are nearly a third of the available German army.

The conclusion is drawn that the enemy is being hard put to it for reserves, although Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, on the northern front still has plenty of reserve divisions.

London, July 25.—Nine divisions of reserves from the army of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and a division from the eastern end of the line have been rushed to the aid of the German crown prince between Soissons and Rheims, but, says Reuter's correspondent with the American forces in France, the Germans may well hesitate to push more troops into the already crowded salient, seeing the difficulty they have of feeding those already

RESISTANCE WEAKENED.

German resistance on the southern sectors of the salient has been reduced to a mere shell, it is added, and the enemy doubtlessly is concentrating efforts on keeping open the northern outlets of the salint. The Allied drive toward Oulchy-le-Chateau not only threatens the enemy communications with Fere-en-Tardenois, but it is a serious threat for the German troops around Epieds, whose line of retreat would pass through Fere.

TOMORROW-FAIR AND WARM.

Paris, July 5.—The trial of Louis Malvy, former minister of the interior, which had become an interminable squabble among the officials of the prefecture, the police and the detective service relative to responsibility for certain acts done or left undone, woke into new life today when an elegantly but simply dressed lady took the stand. A large hat concealed her face, and her name was given as Madame le Brun. She testified she had made thirteen trips to Germany, where she had been intrusted with missions in France, although she was really in the service of the French general headquarters.

Calgary,Alta., July 24.—Norman Earl
Lewis, the young man at Sarcee camp, for whom R. B. Bennett applied for habeas corpus and got the order for his realess, but has been held ever since at court, was formally released by the military authorities today. In that way the military compiled with the order of the court. One minute after the formal release he was taken under the M. S. A. and conscripted for service. He is still at the Sarcee Barracks, but now without benefit of any habeas corpus.

Labor Minister Declares Government Will at Once Draft All Those of Military Age Who Persist in Striking-Threatened Giant Walkout Roundly Denounced as Savoring of Bolshevism — Engineers May Take a General Vote.

Birmingham, July 25.—It was estimated that 100,000 munition workers were out on strike in the Birmingham district this morning.

London, July 25.—The British war cabinet has decided that if the munitions strike continues the strikers of military age will be drafted promptly in the army, according to an unofficial statement printed in some of the morning newspapers. George Roberts, minister of labor, gave a hint to this effect in a speech in London Wednesday, when he declared that no young men had a right to exemption from military service except on the ground that they were doing work more valuable than football.

The Government remains firm in its refusal to withdraw the embargo which ostensibly is the cause of the strike, although it seems that in some instances the embargo is used as a pretext to cover other

It is helieved in some quarters that a majority of the delegates will insist on a ballot of the members before calling a general strike. This course is strongly supported by Alexander Thompson, Socialist, and editor of the Clarion, who writes in the Daily Mail:

Must Have Ballot.

"It is unthinkable that the conference will assume the tremendous responsibility of stopping the munition output of the whole country without a vote by all the men and women concerned. The tactics of the young rebels who forced a strike at Birmingham and Coventry against the advice of responsible leaders, make not for democracy or socialism, but straight for anarchy and bolshevism."

London, July 24—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Conclusive proof of the diminution of the U-boat menace is afforded by the admiralty's latest statement of losses in merchant tonnage. This reveals that the total losses of the world's merchant ships for the month of June were 275.629 gross tons, comprising 161,062 British, 114,567 allied and neutral.

These figures show a month's drop in world's sinkings of $1,905 tons, as compared with April, and 125,334 compared with March of this year. Compared with March of this year. Compared with March of this year, the drop is 437,092 tons.

Purely British drops are $4,627 compared with May, 67,095 compared with April and 63,604 compared with March of this year, and 271,333 compared with June of last year, and 271,333 compared with June of last year.

The losses in world's tonnage, including Marine risk, are lower for the month.

The Government agreed.

TO RETURN YE

Will Remain in London For a Time To Attend War Councils.

Ottawa, July 25. — Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior, who arrived in the capital at a late hour last night, was in conference throughout the morning with Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways. At noon they were joined by Hon. J. A. Calder. Subsequently Mr. Meighen gave out a statement to the press, in which it was intimated that Sir Robert Borden and Hon. N. W. Rowell will remain in London for a short time at least in order to attend sittings of the supreme war council. To Attend War Council.

To Attend War Council.

The statement in part follows:
The work of the conference was far from completed when we left. The subjects presented for discussion with a view to arriving at conclusions to be recommended to the various parliaments, were this year not only larger in number, but were impressed with increasing importance by reason of the ever-intensifying war conditions.

The prime minister is being strongly pressed to remain for some time yet. He is personally anxious to return, but the view of his associates in the war cabinet, both from the United Kingdom and from Canada, was that he should continue his work there, at least for a short time, Mr. Rowell will in all probability accompany him. In the present state of the western battlefront, as well as for other but less grave causes, it will be of great value to the Government here to have SI Robert Borden and Mr. Rowell in constant attendance at the supreme war council.

British In Advance At Fismes Halfway Between Rheims and Soissons Have Made Escape of Crown Prince Almost Impossible—Foe Is Hastily Removing All Material Accumulated In Rheims District -Enemy Fighting Furiously To Shake Off Grip of Allies As Sides Begin To Cave In.

London, July 25 .- The Pall Mall Gazette says that rumors are current that British troops have made a great advance in the direction of Fismes, about midway between Rheims and Soissons. It is also reported that French forces have advanced on another part of the Aisne-Marne salient and that the armies of the German crown prince have been placed in a position out of which extrication seems to be impossible.

GERMANS RETREATING NORTH.

With the American Army on the Marne Front, July 25, 1:30 p.m.-Franco-American troops this morning advanced their lines north of the Marne River more steadily. The Germans continued their retreating movement to the northward.

The French and Americans also made gains on other parts of the front. The Germans viciously resisted in a majority of cases.

BRITISH SUCCESS AT VIGNY NOW THREATENS FISMES

London, July 25-(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).-The latest var communique shows that Gen. Foch is methodically continuing to close the pincers which are gripping the Germans between the Aisne and the Marne. The capture of Armentieres increases the envelopment of Ouchy-le-Chateau, and the capture of Brecy brings the Allies only five miles from the important road centre at Fere-PREMIER BORDEN the Allies only five miles from the important road centre at Ferentender en-Tardenois, from where, according to the Paris report today, the Germans are hastily removing all the material that has accumulated Germans are hastily removing all the material that has accumulated there since the beginning of June.

ALLIES THREATEN FISMES

On the eastern side of the triangle the British advance north is important, threatening the German left flank with envelopment, while the Franco-American troops advancing from the Marne are a menace to the German centre.

The British succes at Vigny threatens Fismes, another important centre, hence the desperation of the Germans, who are attempting to prevent the Allied advance in this direction. Their defence of Soissons is also beginning to become formidable.

THREE MILES FROM TARDENOIS.

French Headquarters in France, July 25 .- The French are now within three miles of Fere-en-Tardenois, the meeting point of eight roads. The centre of the German communications is in this region. The town is being heavily shelled daily and bombed by air squadrons.

ADVANCING WHOLE LINE.

With the American Army on the Marne Front, July 25 .--The Entente Allied forces in the territory to the north of Chateau Thierry are paying less attention to running down machine-gun nests and are advancing their whole line, small detachments being left to clean up the machine-gun crews.

OVER HALF OF ENEMY SHOCK TROOPS ARE SHOT TO PIECES

French Headquarters, July 25.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—The position of the enemy on the salient south of the Aisne has become untenable.

On the western side the enemy is fighting a retreating battle, depending upon the machine guns placed in advantageous positions to hold up the Allied advance, while the enemy is busily engaged in removing material. There is little left of the enemy artillery on this front.

Fere-en-Tardenois is about the centre of the salient. An advance of a few kilometres, such as the Allies made today, would enable them to sweep with

MANY PRISONERS CAPTURED.

The French victory on the Avre resulted in the capture of a large number of prisoners, which was made in the space of a few hours—significant of the feeble quality of the troops with which the enemy was obliged to hold sectors where he did not expect an attack. Tomorrow Will Be Remnant Day The Event You Have Been Waiting For Tomorrow (Friday) will be remnant day—every section throughout the entire store brings its proper quota to the front to be cleared out during this pre-inventory stock-cleaning event. Of course, in some cases quantities are limited and assortments, too, but this is all the more important that you attend this sale as early as you can tomorrow. Remnants are undesirable quantities and broken lots and incomplete assortments and sizes are very unsatisfactory in merchandising; inventory presents the opportunity to square up stocks and clear out all odds and ends, making room for the new stocks soon to arrive for the incoming season. The significance of such sales were never more apparent, as a half, a third, or a quarter off under existing conditions means more than the figures tell, as the regular prices do not represent the present value of the merchandise. Read the list carefully and profit by early buying tomorrow, shopping first in the departments offering the goods that interest you most. Space will permit only brief listing.

Findings of Court-Martial in Similar Case To Be Made Public Tomorrow.

Pte. Wilfred Trudell of the Western Ontario Regiment appeared before a court-martial at Carling Heights Camp today, charged with wilfully maining himself in order to escape military service, his case having been adjourned from Friday last. Trudell shot himself in the foot at his home in Windsor recently and claimed that it was an accident.

The prisoner was found not guilty on this charge, but was found guilty of disobeying a lawful order, in that absented himself from hospital without leave, thus delaying the recovery of his injury. His punishment will be prom-

OF EXPERT ENTOMOLOGISTS

Examination of Insects Sent In For Inspection Basis of Their Opinion.

Expert opinion has been secured on the two different types of fly sent to The Advertiser by J. H. Morden of Illigerton, and which, according to Morden's letter, were the cause of the heavy loss to cattle in that district. One of the specimens, a beetle-like looking insect, was sent to L. Caesar, provincial entomologist at Guelph, by J. R. Higgins, assistant agricultural representative of Middlesex County. This has been identified by Mr. Caesar as an "assassin bug," which might, he says, acc.,entally puncture a cow's hide, but would not intentionally harm cattle.

The London letter carriers were today advised by Alex. McMordie, Toronto, to remain at work. Mr. McMordie, who is head of the Carriers' Federation, stated that he believed that the committee had made a settlement with the cabinet and that everything would write the full details later. All the carriers are satisfied.

All danger of a strike of the local letter-carriers has practically been averted, according to officials of the union here. Press dispatches from Ottawa stating that the strike had been called off by the secretary of the Letter-Carriers' Federation were received last night, but no official news had been sent to the local union by the representatives.

The cattle bot-fly is more pōpularly known as the heel-fly. It similarly reaches the animal's mouth by licking over the eggs, but is supposed to migrate from the gullet, and make its way to the skin, where it causes an ulcer, known as a warble. At the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, the proportion of "grubby hides" during what is called the gruibby season, was more than 50 per cent. The entailed loss is very considerable, for $1 a piece was deducted for "grubbiness" in a hide.

Obligations to Outside Unions Would Be Detrimental, Says Peterboro Police Head.

Chief of Police Thompson of Peterboro, formerly of the London police force, who seconded the resolution of the Chief Constables' Association, which so strongly disapproved the formation of labor unions among Canadian policemen, has been notified by the Trades and Labor Council of Peterboro, that the union organization will wait on him in connection with the motion he supported at the recent Hamilton convention.

Hamilton convention.

According to stories appearing in the Peterboro papers, Chief Thompson has made an announcement that the purport of the resolutions was not against policemen forming unions of their own, but against what the chiefs called a questionable innovation, whereby some policemen have been induced to join trades unions. The reason for this objection by the Chief Constables' Association is based one the fear that the police could not fulfill their obligations to the municipality, in certain events, if they were affiliated with trades unions.

"The force of this contention is generally recognized," says one Peterboro paper. "The policeman's first duty is to the public, and it is demanded that there should be no conflicting obligation that might arise out of membership in a trade union.

"Chief Thompson did not dip into the details of the argument, and if the trades and labor council press their objection they will perhaps share an interesting bit of information illustrating the machinations of allen enemies and of their attempt in

CARINET'S CONCESSIONS

Further Employees To Receive Bonus-Details To Be Arranged.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, July 24.—At the close of a sultry conference not unpunctuated by lightning flashes, a decision was reached this afternoon in the mall carriers' dispute, and the men will, it is stated, go back to work tomorrow. The Government has finally promised that the bonuses provided by Parliament last May shall, at long last, be paid, and that temporary employees shall also share in these. It has further consented to a committee of the men meeting a sub-committee of the cabinet and presenting their claims, with a view toward a future revision of the wage schedule. Such revision will, however, most probably be made after Parliament meets.

The men effectively pleaded their case before the cabinet, claiming that even with the bonuses a man couldn't keep a family on his present salary. They were backed by representatives of the city and board of trade of Toronto and the Retail Merchants' Association.

To this some of the men dissented, and more placid counsels on the part of Sir Thomas White and T. W. Crothers prevailed on the men to accept the Government's proposals.

The men were clearly pleased with the concession that temporary men should share in the bonus voted by Parliament at the last session. That was one of the things they held out for, although they have all along been against accepting a bonus, demanding a permanent increase and a minimum of $1,000 a year and a maximum of $1,400.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, July 24.—There is a scene south of the River Marne today which, once photographed on the human mind, can never be driven from it. It is a battlefield from which more than 50,000 Germans, finding their safety menaced by Foch's strategy and the victorious Allied advance above them, retreated swiftly two days ago to the north bank of the river.

Stiffened corpses lying there, carrion horse fiesh, debris of wagons and cannon and a mass of soldiers' equipment, and munitions scattered over miles of surface torn and tortured by powerful explosives, give a picture of war in terrible reality.

Golden Fields Blotched.

But the scene is not uniformly like this. The terrain is punctuated occasionally by yellow wheat fields, which seem to heal somewhat the wounded countryside, though close inspection reveals in them blackened patches of shell holes or something worse.

Occasionally red-roofed villages appear, nestling in the valleys of this country, just south of the famous river. Close inspection shows they are now empty shells, having been looted systematically by the advancing Germans and torn by both Allied and enemy explosives.

The burlal of horses and men is proceeding here and there, but the task is colossal. Already white crosses are being erected over the graves of those who fell, to take their places beside the graves of some of Joffre's immortals of 1914, for the war has now passed over this ground for the second time in four years.

But most of the losses are German, because the Germans were doing the advancing.

MONTREAL, July 24.—According to the proposed settlement of the railwaymen's wage scale, an engineer receiving $4.50 per day in Canada will receive $5.01 under the McAdoo award, just as an American engineer receiving $4.50 per day in the United States received $5.01 under the award.

Some misconception appears to exist with regard to the railroad wage scale introduced by Director-General of United States Railroads McAdoo, which in modified form has been offered by the Canadian Railway War Board to the federated trades of the mechanical and car departments of Canadian railways, who are asking increases.

Does Not Meet All Demands.

The McAdoo schedule, which is now in effect in the United States, does not represent all that the employees wish, but it is recognized by them as an attempt to meet their demands, and, on the basis that "half a loaf is better than no bread," it was accepted. Some of the classes concerned made objections, but the general opinion is that the scheme is a workable one, and that with certain adjustments, which can be made later on, it will prove satisfactory.

The main principle of the McAdoo schedule is to raise wages for those on whom the cost of living presses on whom the cost of living presses hardest, and the schedule at large is an attempt to meet the American railroad situation in a reasonable and adequate manner for all classes employed.

To this end it provides that the greatest increases be made to those adequate manner for all classes employed.

To this end it provides that the greatest increases be made to those receiving the smallest wages, while the smallest increases are given to the highest salaried employees who, the report takes for granted, are willing to share the burden imposed by the war on all citizens in a similar position.

tion. Based on Rates of 1915.

The increases provided in the Mc-Adoo schedule are based on the rates of wages in effect on December 31. 1915, but they do not represent a net increase. If any employee has received an increase in wages since the date mentioned above the amount of the increase this increase is deducted from the increase granted to the particular class in which the new schedule places him. Thus, a telegraph operator who holds the same position today that he did on the last day of December, 1915, and who then received $75 a month, and has received no increase since, will receive an additional wage of $30.75 a month. If he has received an increase of $10 a month in the two years the increase of his wages will be cut down by that much, making hit net advance $20.75. The increases range all the way down from $20 a month in the case of those getting less than $46 a month, to an increase of nil for the $250 a month man, who is regarded as receiving sufficient recompense for his war-time needs when compared with the lower salaried employee intermediate Ratings.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

HOSE WHO have read the lesson of the war aright know well that along with the stirring of the mud in the depths of the world there goes a re-estimation of all social values and a reshaping of all social relations. Though war tends to let loose the baser tendencies of mankind it is also true that it stimulates that which what conditions after the war would be we would is not less of shaping the means at hand to bring about such conditions as may tend to the greatest day to day, justify the hope that tyranny will soon happiness of a world that by the time peace comes will be racked in soul and body.

After all, whatever we would desire to prevail when peace again comes will only be realized by our own effort. War of itself does not alleviate evils or bring improvements; it is rather the conscious effort of men and women who see the opportunity to bring about the change and seeing the opportunity embrace it. It would be worth a task is the thing, the future will take care of it-task is the thing, the future will take care of itself. Let no one make the mistake of thinking that the future will take care of itself. Let no one make the mistake of thinking that the future will take care of itself. Anyone who reads history with a sense of values knows that when the future has been left to take care of itself the future has turned out dark and disheartening.

They aren't letting the future take care of itself in Great Britain. It is doubtful if there is any allied nation that is taking such account of the morrow as Great Britain, and this fact is being taken note of in the United States already where businessmen are discovering that the old England of pre-war times has gone, that in its place has come a new business rival that will have even larger place in the world's markets than did the old. But not in business alone is England preparing for the morrow. Take the matter of education. When England makes such radical education. When England makes such radical changes as are proposed by the Government of the day one may well say that four years of war have changed ideas in this part of English life. In war time control of industry, with all that may mean after peace comes; in the housing of her workers, in the development of her agriculture, in the status of women, in the plans for the linking up of all the British dominions and even for something yet larger that shall include all nations determined to maintain the peace of the world, these are but a few of the phases of afterwar thought in Great Britain today.

Reconstruction is a good word, and this is a time for thinking in terms of reconstruction. Canada needs a lot of thought of that kind, directed to specific ends, and there is neither individual nor organization that hasn't a part in it. Are we going to be content with old blots on our society, on our educational systems, our living conditions and our relations of man to man? If so, the war will have lost many of the best things it might have brought to us. It isn't the soldiers' task to make Canada better; they have the big job of setting the world aright. But what of the day when they return? Will it be to the old day when they return! Will it be to the old Canada, blissfully complacent with itself and blissfully ignorant of what other countries are doing, or will be to a Canada that we have made a better place to live in while they are away? The answer rests with those at home.

Said Bill to "Nick," "I need your help, Those allies have up beat; Unless you help me now, old top, Twill sarrely mean defeat."

"I'm sorry, Bill," old Satan said, "I'd hant to see you fail; Corpur hypers by the list ame, Two put it up for sale."

INCOMENTITIES exist in the provisions of the Lord's Day act which ought to receive members. The sale of strong some by the east is to permit the sale of st which the air is stifling, the sick child who eraves and cries for something to remove, temporarily, the heat of fever, must forego the iced luxury. In some instances these latter ones may be able to make it at home, but in many cases there is no possibility of doing so.

If it is not reasonable refreshment, there is no more reason for allowing its sale under any circumstances than there is for permitting the sale of candies, fruits or any other edible. The majority of people will consider it fully as reasonable as a cup of tea when the temperature is

THE AUTUMN TINTS.

HEN TWILIGHT lets its curtain down and pins it with a star"-some evening in the near future it will be on a world at peace. The autumn tints may be on the trees to help the beauty of that time.

'The fate of the world will be decided before this year's leaves turn brown on the trees, and perhaps before the harvest is gathered in. I believe it will be decided in our favor." That is the belief of Philip Gibbs, one of the war correspondents of the New York Times. Either during harvest time or before autumn what the whole world longs for will be realized. May it be during harvest! It cannot come too soon. Our autumn leaves in Canada have many colors as is best as well. Could we predict with certainty well as brown. THE "UNDILUTED" patriotism of the New York Herald has been one of the noble things in newspaperdom since war began. When the word "patriotism" is used, it is in the good deal to know just how much conscious effort sense of unswerving fealty to the cause of humanis being put forth in this country at the present ity since the very moment Postdam challenged time to realize in the days to come that which the freedom of the universe. With his fortune, he tablished, where workers of the press may find in their old age a haven. This act marked the man's stature and revealed the richness of his impulses. Canada will count him among staunch friends, for he threw his soul into an honest newspaper courtship of this country more than one occasion. If we repulsed his sincere efforts to serve us, the worse for this country. Giants among men are found everywhere. Newspaperdom's leaders are remembered as Delane, Greeley, Dana, the elder Bennett, George Brown, Henry Watterson and with these must rank the name of the man who led the Herald's batteries to the very doors of Prussian junkerdom, causing confusion to the Hun, and cheering the embattled citizens of Britain, France, the United States and Canada. Long may the Herald fly before the eyes of a great nation!

"Here, here," he said brusquely wanting to hide his emotions, "I'm a soldier with a grand medal—not a baby doll." This was when Lucinda finttered about doing the thousand and one things an ultra-feminine woman must do for a soldier who has fought. She blushed hotly but continued, for in David's eyes she read the hunger for mothering and home. She felt instinctively that her seventh soldier needed mothering and home. She felt instinctively that her seventh soldier needed her more than any of the others. In fact, Lucinda felt many things—among them that her own need of David was going to be great. She had written of so many fine men, but David embodied the finest of them all. She hoped desperately that he would fall in love with her.

When you feel that you must ease up or stop altogether-

When you just don't want to work overtime, or work on holidays--

Remember:

Your labour is the bulwark upon which your own flesh and blood in the trenches relies for munitions.

If you, munitions workers, fail them, they are lost.

Compared with the roar of the guns the noise in your shop is a whisper.

Compared with your weariness of body, theirs is the weariness of ceaseless suffering. But always, they pull themselves together and resolve to stick it out and see it through.

Are they not worthy of your utmost efforts?

HELP COMES IN THE NICK OF TIME

MELP COMES IN THE NICK OF TIME

One night of silver moonlight, Jimmy Coon heard a peal of joyous and savage yelping of the dog, Ranger, who had been hiding behind a big fallen log in the Great Forest. Ranger, the dog in the Jones' Farm, had surprised from the Jones' Farm, had surprised fimmy Coon, so that he had no time looked as if the last hour in life had come for Jimmy Coon! But Jimmy is a furry bunch of courage and fire, and his eyes were flerce, fearless, and watchful. All of a sudden the dog. Ranger, jumped for Jimmy Coon, with wide-open mouth, to finish him with one terrific onslaught.

But Jimmy jumped aside, as nimble one little Jimmy Coon. And Spot whispered to Ranger, telling him to grab Jimmy in front, while he jumped upon Jimmy from behind.

And in this peril of his life, Jimmy gave a little cry of rage. And, wonderful to tell, Mrs. Jimmy Coon heard the call of Jimmy, and she came tearing through the moon shadows like fury in fur.

And instantly Mrs. Jimmy rushed for Ranger's leg, and gave him such a victous snap, that Ranger went howlood Spot saw Jimmy's wife in the

Then we must feed the baby by the schedule that is made.
And the food that he is given must be measured out or weighed.
He may bellow to inform us that he isn't satisfied.
But he couldn't grow to greatness if his wants were all supplied.
Think how foolish nursing stunted those poor weaklings long ago,
The Shakespeares and the Luthers and the Bonapartes, you know.

We are given a great mission, we are here today on earth
To bring forth a race of giants, and to guard them from their birth,

12. If a man truly resolves and, by the grace of God, is determined to "keep Jesus" words," how long will it be before the love of Jesus springs up in his heart? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Golden Text.—If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments. John 14:15.

TRUE LOVE FOR CHRIST IMPLIES ABILITY TO OBEY.

Love is not what one may call an effeminate virtue, or a mere sentiment, which soft-hearted people sometimes have, but it is in itself a dynamic. It has power, and indeed we may say, with truth, that all the graces, or virtues, are included in love; it is the only compound grace; it is formed of and drying in summer.

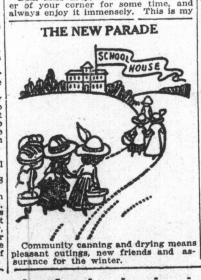

Piease send above-mentioned pattern as per directions given below:

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Vhy Blue Affects You

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

The sense of color is a great, divine gift. Colors that are say and attractive give zest to the epirit, force to the muscles and keen action to the emotions. Most colors are pleasant and the lovellest border on true happiness. The epurest and most thoughtful minds can scarcely resist a love of color. Indeed, the poetartist Ruskin spoke as well for physiology as he did for polor when he sang that color is, in brief, a type of inner feeling akin to love. It is especially connected with the blossoming of the earth, with its fruits and flowers and with morning and sevening.

Psychologists have a multitude of instruments and tests whereby you may be tested as to the influence of colors upon your affections, feelings and sentiments. The transition of the average person through the stages of student, art devotee, up to artist and ganius, can be traced in this way by instruments of the experimental laboratory.

From Scarlet to Gold.

From Scarlet to Gold. The color-blind man, to be sure, by a trick of heredity which skipped his mother and all women, confuses reds and greens. He, of course, is worse off than you and I. Yet white means the good, the true and the pure to him as it does to you. Black bespeaks evil, unpleasantness, gloom, depression and mischief Scarlets and reds, however, appeal to plood in happy motion; patriotism the fighting surit are associated perhaps from the childhood ideas of flags, flames, blood, pictures and the brilliancy of red itself.

bake in a moderate over the hour.

PUDDING FROM STALE BREAD.

Over a sufficient quantity of stale bread, after removing the crust, pour boiling water. When well soaked, thoroughly press out all the superfluous water and beat smooth. Add sugar to taste, and a little lemon peel chopped fine. Grease a pie dish, and spread the bottom with stewed fruit. Put enough bread over to make the pudding fairly thick. Beat with milk one egg, and pour over the bread sufficient to cover it with helf an inch to spare. Grate a little nutmeg and bake in a slow oven till a nice brown. The pudding can be eaten hot or cold.

DRIED APRICOT JAM.

Soak one pound of dried apricots in four pints of water for 48 hours, then boil all together for helf an hour, add three and a half pounds of sugar, and boil for another half-hour. The mixture should be poured while hot into carefully dried jars and closely covered.

HADDOCK FILLETS.

To cook these properly, sprinkle wittle lemon juice over the fillets, and season lightly with sait and pepper. Butter a baking tin, put in the fillets, cover them with a buttered paper, and bake them for 10 minutes. Have ready some smoothly-mashed potatoes; make a border round a hot dish, arrange the fillets in the centre, and sprinkle fillets.

Take five ounces of flour, a pint of milk, two eggs, a little sait, and a pound milk, two eggs, a little sait, and a pound milk, two eggs, a little sait, and a pound milk, two eggs, a little sait, and a pound PUDDING FROM STALE BREAD.

SAUSAGE TOAD-IN-THE-HOLE.

Take five ounces of flour, a pint of milk, two eggs, a little salt, and a pound of pork sausages. Mix together the first three, afterward adding the salt. Put sufficient dripping into a baking tin to form a thin layer when melted, beat up the batter again, and add half a fearpoonful of baking powder to it; pour it quickly into the tin and put in the sausages. Bake in a moderate oven for one hour and add boiled potatoes before the dish is served.

The Tower of Babel was only 140 feet high, but as it was built upon an elevated foundation it was the loftiest object in Babylon, a city of low buildings, spread over a flat plain. This description of the most famous structure of ancient times has been obtained from recent translations of old Assyrian records, some inscribed on tablets of burnt clay. The tower was a temple and the architectural pride of Babylon. The lowest of its seven stories was 272 feet square, and it was constructed of the only available material, sun-dried brick, the walls being faced with burnt brick.

soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—ane and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. and downy at his visit and downy at his result, hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow

Ordinarily, the combination of blue silk with black and grey would be too nun-like and subdued for any young person to wear. But so many young women nowadays feel constrained to wear these subdued colors. In spite of wear these repole are more and more person to wear. But so many young women nowadays feel constrained to wear these subdued colors. In spite of the fact that people are more and more taking to the sensible idea of avoiding wearing mourning colors, neverfaeless when there is concern and anxiety for some one at the front there is little desire to deck oneself in bright colors. This young woman insisted on something quiet and subdued, and the dress of sombre colors is relieved by the girlishness of the soft, but inconspicuous frill at throat and cuffs.

A gown of this kind can be worn with almost any color hat, although it demands a wide-brimmed model. A charming effect is obtained with this large leghorn, veiled in grey organdie

AMERICANS

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, July 25.—Night.—By the Associated Press.—With their alines of communication reduced by operations on their flanks and their rear north of the Marne being constantly punished, the Germans have been forced to give up more territory. The French and American troops rested tonight some distance in advance of the points where they started this morning.

The German retirement under pressure is believed to indicate that Genvon Boehm, the commander of the armies within the sailent, has had enough punishment to convince him of the advisability of taking new positions.

BUT ONE LINE REMAINS.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Massed German reserves are holding open the jaws of the trap General Foch has sprung in the Aisne-Marne region in a desperate effort to stabilize their lines without the crushing of the forces withdrawing from the Chateau-Thierry and Marne salients.

The situation was graphically explained today by General March, chieffortstaff, in a mid-week conference with newspapers reporters. For the last two days, General March said, the employment of probably fifteen divisions of fresh German reserves on the Soissons jaw of the trap has practically steadied the line there. On the eastern jaw front, however, the enemy has been crushed back more than a mile and a half on a ten-mile front, further imperilling his whole position in the salient from which he is endeavoring to extricate the interior of the German from which he is endeavoring to extricate the interior of the German from the continued battle all along the front of the greatly reduced the line there. STRYCHNINE FOR BUGS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Some years ago myself and a friend experimented on an elm tree on Wellington street opposite Mr. Beck's stables. This tree, at the top, was covered with a pest similar to the one now so prevalent, and we bored a half-inch hole in the tree about four feet from the ground and put strychnine in and plugged it up with a piece of wood. In a few days these bugs were on the ground under the tree, and on the sidewalk. We came to the conclusion that the sap going up carried the strychnine with it and killed the bugs. I have watched this tree ever since, and have never seen any more on it. I would like someone else to try the experiment and see how it works.

HAVE ONLY SOCIAL PRIVILEGES. To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Reading in your issue of the 24th inst. I notice that the president of the G. W. V. A. has not yet finished his "mud slinging." but I am pleased to state that the so-called "insurgents." (perhaps a fitting name for returned men), who are simply asking for their legal rights, are in receipt of a letter dated July 23. from the Dominion secretary, Comrade R. M. Stewart, which is inserted below. Now, we will leave it to the public to decide who is right or wrong, and as we maintain that the London delegates are appointed illegally, we maintain that, as our two delegates were appointed by "A" button men, we claim the right to be the real delegates and the others the "insurgents."

The letter follows, which may be real delegates and the others the insurgents."

The letter follows, which may be seen by any returned soldier by seeing Comrade U. E. Capewell:

To W. E. Capewell. Esq.,

127 Mattland Street,

London, Ont.

Dear Sir and Comrade:

Parlying to your wire of the 22nd,

Dear Sir and Comrade:
Replying to your wire of the 22nd,
I would state the following:
An associate member of the association has no privileges other than social privileges, that is to say, he has no vote, and he may not be elected to office or appointed on any committee.
He is also denied the privilege of debate.

bate. So, if associate members have been permitted to vote in any branch of this association, the branch permitting permitted to vote in any branch of this association, the branch permitting such action is acting illegally. However, if you have any complaints to make regarding your branch, I know of no reason why you should not address a letter to the convention, setting forth the facts of your grievance. No one but duly elected and properly accredited delegates will be permitted to introduce resolutions to the convention. Yours fraternally,

R. M. STEWART.

Dominion Secretary-Treasurer.

Thanking you for insertion of the above, I remain yours truly,

SERGT. CRESSWELL.

LAMBETH, July 24.—Miss Irene opeland, who took seriously ill while n London on Monday, is not yet able to be brought home and an operation way be recessful.

The Traction Company is remodeling and painting its cars. A better service is being maintained and the rates from Lambeth to Port Stanley have been made the same as from London. This is good news to the villagers. Rain is very much needed in this locality. Wheat is ripening fast, and though killed out in many placed, a few fields are showing up well. Oats will be very heavy.

Messrs. Soper and Spence have now over 2,000 birds hatched this season—all White Leghorns. They have completed the new laying pen, which is 20x150 feet. It is the intention of these hustlers to have 2,500 laying hens. The feeding of these is a very big item. but good returns are expected.

WILLIAM S. HART in Shark Monroe An AUTCRAFT Picture

At the Majestic Today, Friday and Saturday.

The story deals with the fortunes of a primitive skipper of a sealing schooner on the Alaskan coast whose soul is purified through love for a brave girl whom he rescues from a scoundrel. Many of the scenes transpire on a storm-tossed ocean, and Mr. Hart is seen to splendid advantage therein, as well as in the subsequent scenes in snowy Alaska, where the story finds its denouement in a highly romantic scene. Viewed from all standpoints, this is positively one of the finest picture subjects with which Mr. Hart's name has been associated.

Other features include a comedy film and a News Weekly screen review. In vaudeville Bert Ferte and Hilda Barr make a complete change in their program

PARIS CHILD DROWNED.

TORONTO, July 24.—Walking from a flight of steps placed on the promenade at the eastern gap for the convenience of sailors, three-year-old Marion Cale of Paris, Ont., was drowned shortly after 5 o'clock tonight. The child was with a number of children of her own age, when she slipped into the water.

The child was a visitor at the home of Frank Wilby of Wards Island.

Our pump season has been the largest in the history of this store, and in taking stock of our lines we find they are broken in sizes, so to get ready for our new fall pumps we are clearing out these broken lots at a great sacrifice. See our window.
