Finance Committee Recommends New Fire Pumper

FIRE CHIEF FINALLY WINS BATTLE FOR NEW PUMPER

No. 1 Committee Recommends Purchasing Long-Needed Equipment For Department. MAYOR SCORNFUL

Wenige Derides Idea of Use of Pressure in Fire-Fighting.

A new pumper truck will be purchased for the London fire department, if majority action of No. 1 committee last night is backed up by the city council. Recommendation for modernized equipment for the department was brought on as a result of a battle of some months by Fire Chief John Aitken, and because of conditions at the Mount St. Joseph orphanage fire of Tuesday. The recommendation of the committee is taken in spite of adverse action when estimates were struck. City officials state that the council has power to sell debentures at any time to pay for fire apparatus.

Praise for the department's work at the orphanage fire was tempered with demands that better equipment be placed in operation. For several months the chief stressed the need for a second pump truck, only to be turned down when estimates were struck.

Last night the mayor discussed the orphanage fire from the viewpoint of a professor of physics and mathematics. He scoffed at the idea of pressure being of highest importance in fire fighting. Volume of water was the thing he asserted.

Then for a few minutes the law of gravity was shaken by the neck until Chief Aitken came to the rescue of science and recited instances where high pressure, caused by boosting from a pumper truck, would tear into the heart of a fire and expediently fight the blaze instead of the firemen having to flood an entire building with tons of water.

Ald. L. H. Douglass introduced the motion to purchase a new truck. He declared that it might be possible to turn in one or more of the old trucks owned by the city as part payment.

THE MARQUIS OF HARTINGTON, the Duke of Devonshire's eldest son and heir, has arrived at the bedside from Derbyshire. Doctors from Lismore, Durgarvan and Cork are in attendance on the duke. The duke's condition is still causing anxiety.

There are two or three old trucks over there that might just as well be sold, affirmed the chief. They aren't much use as they are. They couldn't be converted into pumper apparatus.

Ald. Smith and Ald. Doiz believed that a pumper truck was needed as added protection for the city. The chief pointed out that when any fire occurred where children were endangered, as in a school or an orphanage, every useful piece of apparatus available was rushed to the scene. Ald. Douglass declared that he would support a move for a half dozen pumper trucks if they could be secured.

Finally it was decided to recommend to the council that another pumper truck be purchased. Ald. Doiz, Carswell, Douglass and Smith voting for the move.

Other interesting incidents in connection with the department's efficiency proved high light in the meeting. William Gray of Wyatt street, London West, formerly a fireman of 40 years' experience, appeared to complain of the manner in which a grass fire was recently handled in his neighborhood.

Department Explains. Reports from Chief Aitken, Assistant Chief Scott and a captain and lieutenant of No. 3 company explained the department's side. Mr. Gray was a former fireman and knew he was breaking civic bylaws in starting a grass fire. He had called in apparatus to fight a grass fire. Later he was advised to call a hose truck and delayed action. The department had really done good work in saving a house from destruction.

He had been burning grass on his property. The wind veered and carried the flames across a lot line to a neighbor's property. He had called the fire department. They arrived with apparatus to fight a grass fire. A neighbor's shed caught fire and was destroyed. Now legal representatives of the neighbor in question are suing Mr. Gray for $500 damages. He claimed that inefficiency of the fire department was responsible for the loss.

The committee decided to file action against Gray for breach of civic bylaw. The chief and department were absolved from all blame in connection with the loss.

Substitute firemen may be engaged by the chief when regular members of the department are off sick. Five hydrants will be placed in West London and a $400 alarm system will be done and a $400 alarm system will be secured for Knollwood Park rate-payers.

A committee was appointed to confer with Lions club officials in the matter of a bandstand at Victoria park. Engineer W. P. Near and Market Clerk Charles Maker will investigate the style advisable for a new $350 weigh scales and office for the southwest corner of the city market.

No. 1 committee meetings will be shifted back to the old hour of 5:15 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon during the summer months.

Much objection to the mayor's scheme of licensing bicycles was heard. The mayor thought that a small fee should be charged every bicycle owner and this money go towards police protection for the cyclists. The scheme would help the police in their work.

"It wouldn't be practical as a municipal law," demurred the provincial Smith.

There would be all manner of trouble with cyclists riding in and out of the city," pointed out Ald. L. H. Douglass.

The motion to introduce a city bylaw found the mayor a lonely advocate. It was, however, decided to send the suggestion on to the provincial authorities.

PUBLIC PROTECTED IN SURGICAL WORK

Local Surgeon Declares Young Doctors Here Long Coached in Use of Knife.

Before taking the full responsibility of performing major operations, the young doctor in Canada usually serves a period of internship in a recognized hospital, or attaches himself to some surgeon of long experience. In this way the public is protected, in the opinion of Dr. Arthur B. Rankin, local surgeon, commenting on statements made by Capt. the Hon. R. J. Manion, M.C., M.P., Fort William, who deplored the use of the knife by inexperienced doctors.

Dr. Manion said that nowadays a young man could graduate with the letters "M. D." after his name, and, without proper post-graduate experience, set his hand to the most difficult and dangerous operations. "This is nothing short of criminal," said the speaker, addressing the Association of Officers of the Medical Services of Canada.

"No young practitioner should be allowed to perform operations of any seriousness unless he has had adequate surgical experience," said Dr. Manion, adding that he had been present and powerless to protest when incompetent surgeons had performed operations.

Knows Responsibility. London surgeons are of the opinion that the young doctor realizes the responsibilities, and so takes his internship, and following that seeks advice and help of older men in consultation when the need arises.

"I think the public well protected. I can, of course, only speak of London," said Dr. Rankin. "The university training takes the young doctor well into hospital work. Graduation would not fit him to perform the most serious operations. He often acts as assistant to a well-known surgeon."

Dr. Paul S. McKibben, B.S., Ph.D., F.R.S.C., dean of the medical school here, says that the young doctor, after passing his university examinations, passes others set by the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He cannot practice until these examinations are passed, liberty to use his own judgment. The examinations are to prove his qualifications. They are similar to those passed at the medical school.

Much Specialization. "Canadian doctors and instructors in our medical schools have given considerable thought to the very words expressed by Dr. Manion," said Dean McKibben this morning. "That is one reason why there is so much specialization today. In recent years doctors have gone into specialization, so that a great amount of training along certain lines will fit them for the highest positions in one direction. Thus we have doctors devoting their lives to eye, ear and nose diseases, and so on. They become experts in certain divisions of medicine, and I believe the public receives much protection in that way.

"The general practitioner, especially in the rural districts, cannot specialize in the same way. Sometimes in a matter of life and death he must step in and perform serious operations. It is to his credit rather than discredit that he does so. He should not be criticised when he has to face an emergency.

"The young doctor of today usually spends a year, and sometimes many years of internship, in hospital work before he actually performs major operations which he takes full responsibility," said Dr. McKibben.

Welcome to the Rotarians.

Rotarians visiting London today and tomorrow are welcome. They will find here a good city, a friendly lot of people and a wholesome, warm-hearted welcome.

The Rotarians will also find that we have wonderful schools, that we can care for the children from the time they enter the kindergarten until they graduate from the university.

When they attend the Rotary Hobby Fair in the arena and witness the pageant prepared especially for their benefit they will see the greatest Hobby Fair in the world.

If the visiting Rotarians want to do some shopping in London they will find an excellent place. It will facilitate matters very much if they consult the advertising columns of this paper.

Tell All the Facts.

Table comparing income taxes paid in Vancouver and Seattle, made by H. H. Stevens at Ottawa.

Note and Comment.

One chap we know boasts that he got 31 miles out of a gallon of gas.

Ontario fish are in for a hard season.

Henry Ford is now running an aeroplane service in connection with his plants.

The first boat up the St. Lawrence carried coal from Virginia.

Prince Zerdesheno is liable to be deported by United States.

The report is circulated that the ex-kaiser put up a million marks for Hindenburg's campaign fund.

If the amounts spent for just six years on the war are considered it is not difficult to see why the tax is levied.

Mr. Stevens is fond of comparing Vancouver and Seattle.

Walkerville has cut civic expenditure so that a ratepayer who has an assessment of $5,000 will pay $50 less in taxes than last year.

Hamilton taxi driver when held up kicked his assailant in the stomach and knocked him out.

Walkerville should tell other places what sort of a pruning hook it used and whether there are any more of the same kind in stock.

The Meanest Man

There be some folks we'd like to punch and swat them with a baseball bat, but here's the meanest jay of all, whose wife can't have an Easter hat.

The Bible in the Schools.

It is significant that at the educational conference in Toronto so many speakers urged the necessity of religious education in the schools.

Samuel Farmer of Port Perry, president of the urban trustees section of the Ontario Educational Association, claimed we "should be willing to give the Bible an equal place in the school with such classics as those of Homer and Virgil."

It might be urged that these references had to do with schools in United States, and that conditions here are entirely different.

The demand for more Bible instruction in Ontario schools does not come from any particular or isolated section; it was voiced by those who are deeply concerned about the welfare of public school students.

The London schools have taken leadership in this essential, and passages of scripture are included in the various grades as memory work.

THE MIND OF THE CHILD IS STRONGER FOR HAVING learned these verses; they bring thought back to first principles and in no other way can the responsibility toward others, respect for God and all His mighty works be more effectively placed before the young life.

THE EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION in Toronto is on solid ground when it seriously considers the greater use of the Bible in the schools.

It is only fair to consider why this rate of taxation is charged in Vancouver.

Henry Ford is now running an aeroplane service in connection with his plants.

The first boat up the St. Lawrence carried coal from Virginia.

Prince Zerdesheno is liable to be deported by United States.

The report is circulated that the ex-kaiser put up a million marks for Hindenburg's campaign fund.

The Meanest Man

There be some folks we'd like to punch and swat them with a baseball bat, but here's the meanest jay of all, whose wife can't have an Easter hat.

Detroit woman suing for divorce says, among other things, that her husband refused to buy her an Easter hat.

If I be sittin' as a judge and tryin' of a case like that, wherein a man was so dern tight he wouldn't buy his wife a hat, I'd be inclined to let her win in suin' for divorce.

It's not so bad to sit in court and listen to the daily grist, where husbands come home late at night and punch their wives with brawny fist—sometimes the rough stuff does them good and makes them love their husbands more.

At other times these husbands jump and leaves their wives alone a spell, there be no money comin' in, the folks don't fare then none too well—but after while they get their sense and do the things they ought to do.

Then other jays they strip their roll and prawl around the town at night, a-doin' the things that decent men they know be sixteen blocks from right, but even these gay tous will go and quit their ways of noise and crime.

If I was sittin' on the bench and weightin' out great chunks of law, I'd tell the biggest cop in town to smite this Johnny on the jaw, I'd send another one along to whack a plank upon his hide.

I'd thump my fist upon the desk and holler at this heartless dude, how he should simmer in hot oil and stay in there until he stewed.

He be the meanest man I know, a useless and a skinny sap, this jay who hollered at his wife she couldn't have an Easter hat.

TREAT ALL ALIKE.

THE RESULTS of the threatened decrease in grants by the Ferguson government to Western and Queen's universities will be of effect locally since the affiliation of Waterloo college with the former corporation and since Waterloo county lies in the territory of the London institution.

Western University has justified its existence. It has stimulated educational activities of Western Ontario, and its initial achievements justify a substantial support on the part of the public which benefits from its work.

London as a municipality has responded most generously to the needs of the university, and in addition Middlesex county made a grant of $100,000—an unprecedented action for a Canadian rural municipality.

There is room for all three universities, each of which fills a niche peculiarly its own in the provincial system of education.

When Garbage Day Comes. It would be interesting to know who sets the style in garbage cans for the cities.

The employment secretary of the Detroit Y. M. C. A. says he has a long list of young Canadians in that city who are out of work.

A look over any of the city streets on garbage day will show that the old wash-boiler is a prime favorite. It has served its day and generation in the laundry of the house.

New Adventures of Sherlock Holmes By SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

SYNOPSIS OF FIRST INSTALLMENT. Sherlock Holmes is called upon by a client of unknown identity to investigate the designs of a titled Austrian criminal and murderer on a beautiful young woman of high birth.

SECOND INSTALLMENT. When our visitor had left us Holmes sat so long in deep thought that it seemed to me that he had forgotten my presence.

"I have not had occasion to mention Shinwell Johnson in these memoirs because I have seldom drawn my cases from the latter phases of my friends' careers."

"Well, Watson, there seemed to be no more to say, so I took my hat and went to the door."

"Who knows, Watson? Woman's heart and mind are insoluble puzzles to the male."

"Loves Close Contact. Oh, to be sure, I had not told you of my plans, Watson. I love to come to close grips with my man."

BLACKHEADS. Get two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist. Sprinkle on a hot, wet cloth and rub the face briskly.

eye and said: 'He died within a month.' It wasn't hot air either. But I took little notice—you see, I loved him myself at that time.

"Where is it? I tell you where it is now? It's more than a year since I left him. I know where he kept it then. He's a precise, a tidy cat of a man in many of his ways, so maybe it is still in the pigeonhole of the old bureau in the inner study. Do you know his house number?"

Interview Arranged. "I've been in the study," said Holmes.

"Have you, though? You haven't been slow in the job if you only started this morning. Maybe dear Adelbert has met his match this time. The outer study is in it—big glass cupboard between the windows. Then behind his desk is the door that leads to the inner study—a small room where he keeps papers and things."

"Is he not afraid of burglars?" "Adelbert is no coward. His worst enemy couldn't get to him. He's a man who looks after himself. There's a burglar alarm at night. Besides, what is there for a burglar—unless they get away with all his fancy quiring and his meanness?"

"No good," said Shinwell Johnson with the decided voice of the expert. "No fence wants stuff of that sort that can't be sold."

"To be continued tomorrow."

WEDDINGS BERDAN-THROWER. The marriage took place on Saturday, April 11, at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie Burdan, Terrace street.

DEAMUDE-BARBER. A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Barber, 44 Douro street, Stratford.

MALLION-LINDLEY. The marriage was quietly solemnized at the parsonage of the Central Methodist church of Miss Annie Lindley, daughter of Mrs. Annie Lindley, 12 McParlane avenue, Stratford.

HALE STREET M. C. The members of the Hale street mothers' club met at the home of their president, Mrs. James McMillan, York street, yesterday afternoon for their regular sewing meeting.

There was a large attendance. Much work was accomplished during the afternoon, and the sewing for the year was completed. Later in the day, afternoon tea was served by the hostess, when she was assisted by Mrs. G. Arms and Mrs. Charles Tomlin.

Not Everyone Has the "Turn" for Matrimony Any More Than Any Other Business.

One of the things that is the matter with matrimony is that so many men and women get married who were foreordained and predestinated to be bachelors and old maids.

Nature never intended them to be husbands and wives and fathers and mothers. They were born to be celibates. They were old bachelors and old maids in their cradles, and no matter how many times they marry they still remain old bachelors and old maids in spirit.

Their wedding rings always galled them, and after the brief alibi estate is over they spend the balance of their lives wondering what made them fool enough to marry.

There are many men and women who should never marry just because domesticity is not their country.

Chief among those who should not marry are the egotists, male and female. Their whole hearts are centered upon themselves.

Now, every home is built on sacrifice. There is not an hour in the day in which every husband and wife do not have to give up their own desires, opinions, tastes and inclinations.

The unadaptable should not marry. They are the granite men and women who are set in their ways, and who are absolutely convinced that their opinions and their views of life are the only right ones.

These men make the kind of husbands who are grinding tyrants, and who crush the joy out of their wives' lives, and the sort of fathers whose children fear them more than they love them.

There are plenty of married old maids who think it far more important to have every book and chair and table in its place than it is to make a happy home.

The very essence of conjugal felicity is adaptability, a man and woman being able to adjust themselves to each other, to change their very characters to meet each other's needs, and those who are constitutionally unable to do this save themselves and others a lot of trouble by staying single.

TIRED OUT ALL THE TIME

Nerves Gave Little Rest Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Harrowmith, Ont.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would take weak, fainting spells. My nerves were so bad that I could get little rest, day or night. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to publish this good medicine. I lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can write with the greatest of pleasure my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will serve to help others."—MRS. HARVEY MILLIGAN, R. R. No. 2, Harrowmith, Ontario.

In a recent canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 100,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 said they had been helped by its use. This medicine is for sale by all druggists.

My! What a Pain!

It takes you right across the back! Sometimes in the arm, hip, or foot. Probably due to over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. Happens when the kidneys become clogged, and are unable to filter the uric acid from the blood.

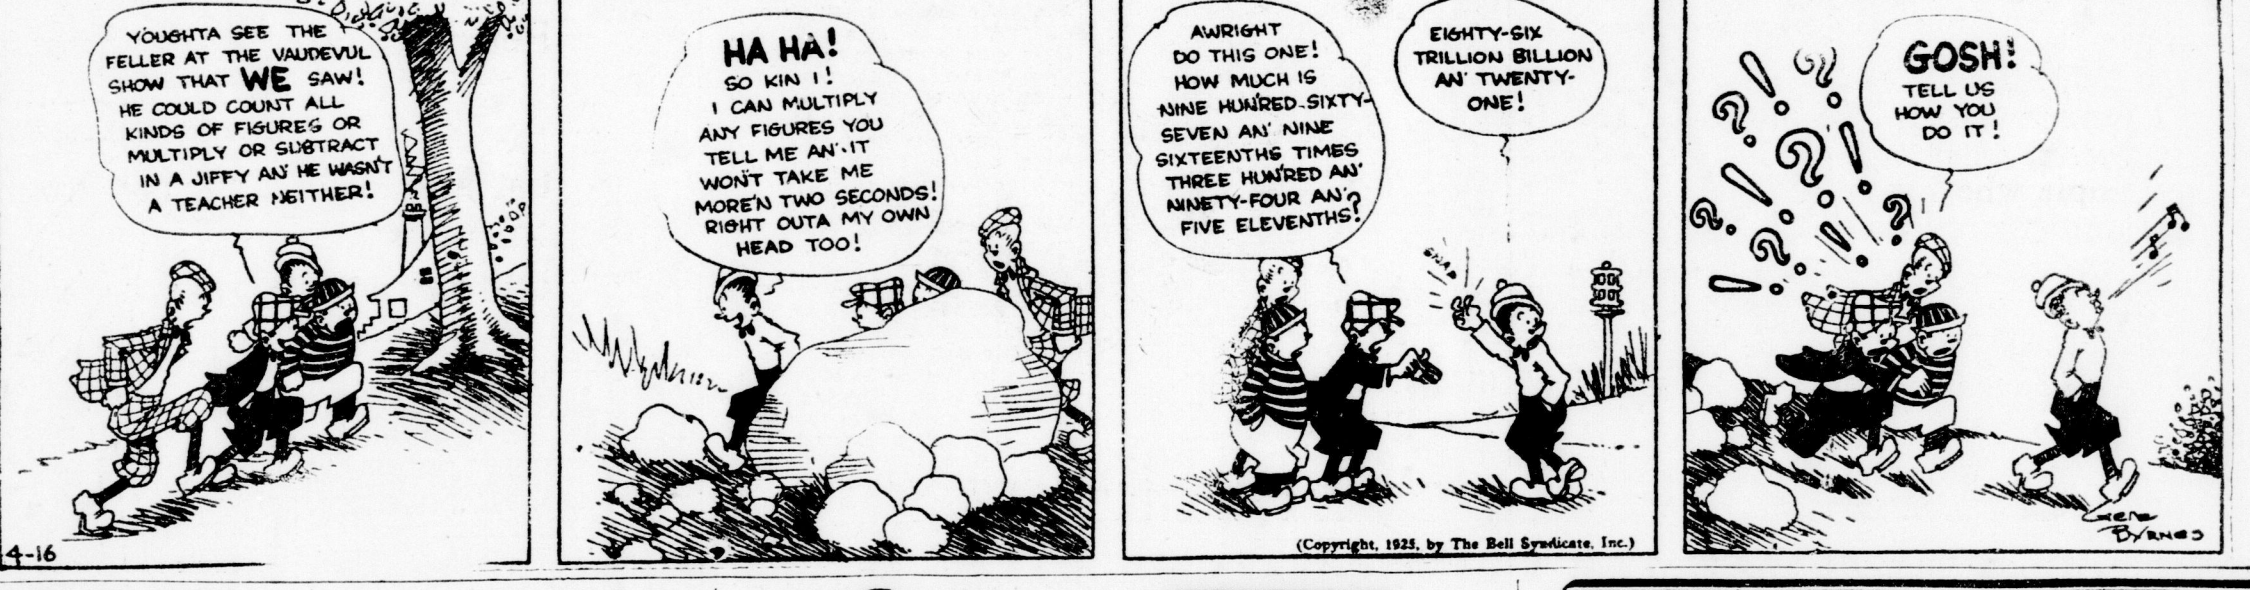

There's more of this trouble in winter, following a cold, or an attack of grip, which, like any other infectious germ disease, fills the blood with an extra load of poisons that overwork and break down the kidneys. You may know the kidneys are weak when you have constant back-ache, sick headache, dizzy spells, the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or neuritis or when sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. At the famous 'Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., (Dr. Pierce, Pres.), hundreds of such cases are treated every year, and the result was the discovery of "Anuric."

NEW TRADE PACT TO AID FARMERS

Treaty With Spain Will Benefit Canadian Growers of Wheat.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, April 15.—Exports of Canadian wheat and agricultural implements to Spain will benefit under the new trade agreement between the Canadian and Spanish governments signed at Madrid a few days ago. The text of the agreement as cable here provides in brief that:

Rheumatism a Mystery

Some diseases given immunity from another attack, but rheumatism works just the other way. Every attack of rheumatism invites another, worse than that, it reduces the body's power so that each attack is worse than the one before.

If any disease needs attention early it is rheumatism, but there is scarce any disease more difficult to treat successfully. When a medicine does relieve rheumatism, therefore, it is worthy of special notice. Medical authorities agree that the blood becomes thin with alarming rapidity as rheumatism develops. Maintaining the quality of the blood is, therefore, a reasonable way of preventing and combating rheumatism. That it works out in fact is shown by the beneficial effects which follow the treatment of rheumatism, acute, muscular and articular, with that great blood tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

SCOTT CONDUCTED TO DEATH CHAMBER

Former London Promoter Persists in Hope For Reprieve.

Chicago, April 15.—With less than 26 hours separating him from the time fixed for his execution by hanging for the murder of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, Russell Scott, formerly of London and Windsor, Ont., persisted tonight in the belief that the state supreme court will grant him a reprieve.

ANCHOR-DONALDSON CUNARD CANADIAN SERVICES

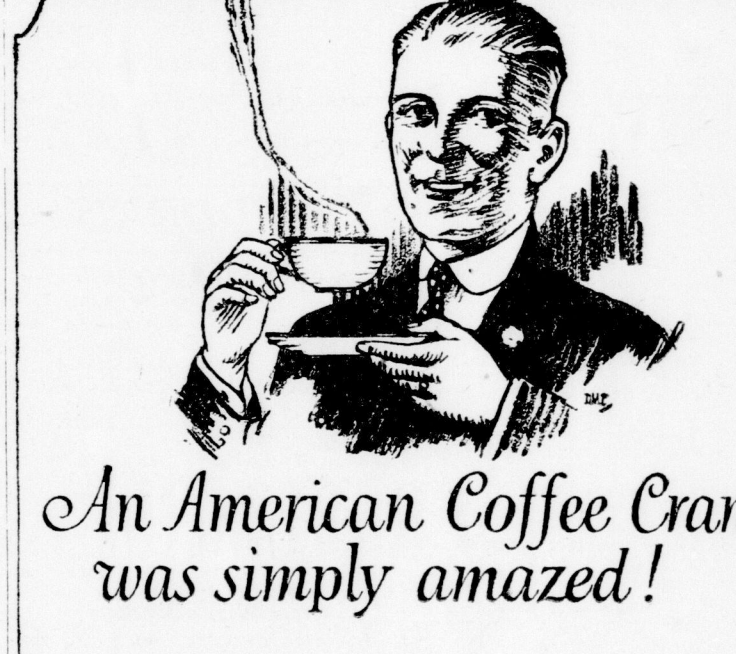

What Holiday so enjoyable? Nowhere is so much enjoyment packed into each twenty-four hours as aboard ship on an ocean voyage. Games and exercise on spacious decks, or cosy relaxation in deck chairs with the clean sea breeze on your cheeks; meals fit for an epicure, served in a luxurious brilliant saloon; dancing to the strains of a wonderful orchestra, with a stroll between numbers to watch the moonbeams dance on the waters; cards and conversation with congenial companions; and each night, restful refreshing slumber in a comfortable berth in a spacious airy stateroom.

Why not make a trip to Europe your holiday this year? You can cross the Atlantic, visit in the Old Land for a few days, and return, all in three or four weeks. And, if you go via Anchor-Donaldson or Cunard Canadian Route you will see, as well, the beauties of the historic St. Lawrence River.

LONDON TOWNSHIP WOMAN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS Special to The Advertiser. Denfield, April 15.—Mrs. James McEwen, aged 69, of the 13th concession, London township, passed away on Sunday after a lengthy illness. Survivors are the husband and two daughters, Agnes at home and Evelyn of Windsor; three sons, Craig, and a sister, Mrs. Homer Tor-George of Windsor, Herbert of Ailsa Craig, and Gordon at home; a Wednesday to Nairn Union cemetery.

An American Coffee Crank was simply amazed! HE voiced a common fallacy, saying there was no good coffee in Canada. A "man who knew" sent him a tin of Rideau Hall Coffee. The American tried it at his New York home and wrote to say he had never tasted finer coffee than Rideau Hall.

The secret of Rideau Hall flavor is that the finest quality of coffee is selected; it is properly roasted; cut by steel dies that eliminate the chaff; then sealed with its fresh-roasted flavor in the patent Vacuum Tin. Its aromatic taste is retained to the last spoonful. Ask your grocer.

PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE EMBODIED IN ROTARY

Peoples of 28 Nations Pay Tribute to Movement That Seems to Herald New Social Order—Membership Is Now in Excess of 105,000.

IS FORCE TOWARD LASTING WORLD PEACE

"What is Rotary? Why is Rotary? Where is Rotary? How is Rotary?" Thousands of people have asked that question during the past few years. Briefly it is this: Rotary International is the organization of which all Rotary clubs are members. March 15, 1925, it consisted of 1,908 member clubs, with approximately 105,000 members in 28 countries.

Rotary is more than an organization, it is a great social movement; it has already found congenial soil among the diverse peoples of 28 nations. Rotary International may be the means of a new social order; and with the further extension of Rotary, a force of great potentiality for world peace and goodwill.

Rotary is more than a mere luncheon club; Rotary is a philosophy of life. Rotary not only teaches the doctrines, but Rotarians practice it. In Rotary that static ethical principle of the Golden Rule becomes dynamic.

Rotary came into being in Chicago, Feb. 23, 1905, with a group of four men—one a coal dealer, one a mining operator, one a merchant tailor, and the fourth an attorney. The attorney, Paul P. Harris, first advanced the idea of forming a club different from any club then known, and to him belongs the credit for starting the great Rotary movement. At this meeting of the four, when decision was made to organize a club, it was decided to invite to membership just one man from each different business or professional calling. A printer, a real estate man, an insurance man, and a banker were the next four admitted.

"Rotary" was chosen as the name of the new club because the members met in "rotation" at their places of business. "Rotation club" seemed somewhat inapt so they adopted the shorter form "Rotary club."

The Chicago club continued to increase in membership. In 1908—three years after the first meeting—the second Rotary club was organized in San Francisco.

Other clubs followed on the Pacific coast, and then the movement spread to the east and then to the south until sixteen clubs had been organized by 1910.

First Convention in 1910.

It was in 1910 that the first convention was held in Chicago and the "National Association" formed. At this convention, Chesley R. Perry was elected secretary and he continues to hold this office at the present time. Rotary emerged from a national organization to an international organization two years later at the Duluth convention.

A short time previous to this convention a club had been organized at Winnipeg, Canada, and during the convention a cablegram was received from the Rotary club of London, England, asking for a charter. Rotary had thus quickly evolved from one club in 1905 to an international organization in 1912.

Since 1912 the organization has grown even more rapidly than during the first seven years. Today there are over eighteen hundred Rotary clubs in the world. Although the greater number are in the United States, where the movement originated, and in the British Isles and Canada—there are now Rotary clubs in Newfoundland, Porto Rico, Mexico, Cuba, Republic of Panama, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, China, Norway, Panama Canal zone, British India, Spain, France, Denmark, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Peru, South Africa, Japan, Holland, Brazil, Belgium, Italy, Chile and the Bermuda Islands.

Under the prevailing practice of the organization, a new club must start with a minimum of fifteen members or a maximum of 25. In other words, the new clubs should not be smaller than fifteen nor larger than twenty-five at the beginning. Also, during the first year of its existence a Rotary club cannot grow faster than at the rate of three new members each month. The idea behind all this is to make sure that every Rotary club organized shall have a very substantial basis at the start, and that its membership shall be very carefully selected during the first year of its existence, and thoroughly grounded in the precepts of Rotary. Each Rotary club is a complete working unit in itself, entirely independent of every other club, and is supposed to make itself a part of the community in which it is established and to adapt itself to the peculiar problems of that community. During the last few years a model constitution has been provided that all the new clubs are required to adopt.

Arbitrary Groupings.

In order that the board may keep itself informed of the desires and wishes of the clubs, there has been established a system of arbitrary grouping of clubs in what are called districts. There are 43 Rotary districts in the world at the present time. Each district governor is elected by the annual convention from nominations made by clubs of the district, and the governor is an international officer and the accredited representative of the international board to the clubs.

At the convention which met in Los Angeles (June, 1922), a new constitution and set of by-laws was adopted which made provision for the organization of national association of Rotary by groups of clubs in separate nations through petition to the convention. This gives an additional administrative unit between the club and the international board, but these national associations function under authority of the international board which is still the supreme governing body of Rotary.

Under the prevailing practice of the organization no president of International Rotary can succeed himself. The board at present consists of ten persons—the president, who is elects by the international convention; one director elected by delegates to the convention from clubs the association for Great Britain and Ireland; one director elected by delegates to the convention by the clubs of the Dominion of Canada; five directors elected by delegates from clubs in the United States, and one director elected by the board itself from some group, national or otherwise, that has no representative on the board. The immediate past president is the tenth director. Each Rotary club has a board of directors which is its governing body. Each club has an office in connection with the office of its secretary and in some of the larger clubs there is a permanent office and a paid secretary and office force.

CATTLE PERISH IN FIRE AS LIGHTNING HITS BARN

Oxford Farmer Loses Eleven Cows, Two Horses and Grain Crop.

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, April 15.—A severe electrical storm passed over Oxford county on an early hour this morning, during which the large frame barn on the farm of Israel Schell, about five miles east of the city, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed. The reflection of the shooting flames were first noticed by members of the family, who had been awakened by the loud crashes of thunder. Strenuous efforts were made to save the barn, but, despite the heavy downpour of rain falling at the time, the whole building was a mass of flames in less than five minutes. Four horses were saved from the building, but 11 head of cattle and two horses were destroyed, together with about 1,000 bushels of grain. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Mrs. Grace Kitchen, St. George, Ont., writes:—"After having a severe attack of pneumonia I was left in a weak and rundown condition. My nerves were so bad I could not sleep nights, and in the daytime I had terrible fainting spells, caused by my heart being weak. Finally I got so bad I had to take to my bed for weeks at a time, but one day I read about

London Rotary In Service 10 Years Welcomes 800 Visitors

TEN YEARS OF SERVICE LONDON ROTARY AWARD

Club Came Into Being in City Ten Years Ago—Started With Thirty Charter Members—Happy Childhood One of Results of Great Work—Recruiting For War One of Early Activities.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS RAISED TO AID CITY

Just over ten years ago a Rotary club was organized in London, Ontario. On March 19, at a special meeting held in the Tecumseh house and presided over by Rotarian W. A. Peace of Toronto, it was decided to start the club and a charter was applied for from the Rotary International. There were about fifteen charter members of the club, but it grew so rapidly and proved so popular that by the end of the year there were nearly eighty members.

For the ten years that the club has been in existence in the city it has worthily lived up to the motto of Rotary "Service Above Self". It has been engaged in a variety of activities all having the same aim, community improvement and has always been a generous supporter of every scheme with which it was connected.

Throughout its history it has been true to another ideal of Rotary, which is to support policies and never candidates. Every project which in the opinions of the members has been of advantage to the community at large has had the unlimited moral and usually very large financial support of the club.

Though it has no regular group of boys under its wing as have some of the other clubs, yet many a healthy, happy boy and girl owes his and her happiness to the London Rotary club. Rotary works for the benefit of the community and believes that as the individual is helped the community is bettered.

Originally London was grouped in a district that comprised all Ontario and Quebec and at one time W. A. Martin, one of the old charter members was district governor of Ontario and Quebec. With the growth of Rotary London was moved into the district known as number eighteen which takes in Ontario and Michigan.

In 1915 when the Rotary in London was launched there were no "service" clubs in the city, so Rotary has the distinction of being the pioneer in this community work. Appropriately enough the club undertook a feature of its service work at the outset. A Red Cross campaign was on and the club formed a committee of which Col. W. M. Gartsore was chairman to take part in the campaign.

Introduced Court Idea

Today London has a juvenile court, but only after years of effort and it was the Rotary club which was first concerned with the idea. In 1915 a committee was appointed consisting of Colonel Gartsore, Ray Lawson, and W. G. Young, to consult the Men's Federation as to the needs in the city for a juvenile court and as to the feasibility of putting such a court in operation.

As befitted a club organized in wartime recruiting is one of the earliest activities mentioned on the records of the club. As was mentioned in 1915 a special meeting discussed recruiting and the ways and means to improve conditions of life for the soldier stationed in London. During the first year, the club twice held its weekly luncheon away from headquarters, at the Tecumseh house. In October it went to the McCormick plant in London east which was a new building and in November to McClary's city plant at the request of Colonel Gartsore.

That first year was remarkable for one thing which was unique. The club entertained 150 visiting cadets from Perth, Western Australia. These boys who were from sixteen to twenty years of age had been on an imperial tour in which they had visited England and South Africa demonstrating the type of cadet training which had just been instituted in Australia. They were on their way home and passed through London.

They were the guests of the club at luncheon and had very favorable impressions on the members. Since returning to Australia many of them have written to members of the London club thanking them for their hospitality. They gave a concert in the Masonic Temple while in the city, having a very fine band with them. Lieutenant Simmonds was a charge of the party. Together with several of the older cadets he saw service in France and the eastern front in the three years that followed.

Returned Men

In the following year the club was actively engaged in campaigning for funds for the new buildings at Byron Sanatorium in answer to the appeal of Sir Adam Beck for extra accommodation for returned men. The same year saw the inception of the Industrial Area project in London and again the Rotary club took a prominent part in furthering this suggestion. E. S. Little was one of the speakers who addressed the club in this connection.

In 1917 the club for the first and last time committed a breach in the rules of international Rotary, in cancelling the weekly luncheons in the city and the movement to build civic playgrounds was launched.

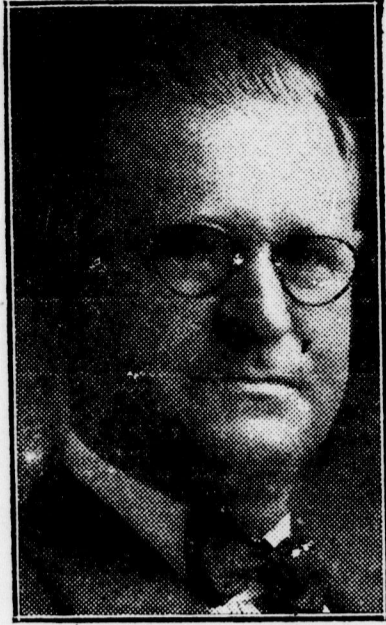

1923 was outstanding in the world of Rotary not merely in London but internationally. The London club at the instigation of Roy H. Cunningham arranged the first Boy's Hobby Fair ever held under the auspices of any Rotary club in the world. Its success was immediate and it has gained in popularity with boys and grownups with each succeeding year. Each month has brought in queries from Rotary secretaries as to the management of a Hobby Fair.

Promoted Children's Day.

When the other "service" clubs came into being in the city, the Kwanis club and the Lions club, the Rotary joined with them in promoting Children's Day at the Western Fair. With their members the Rotary members help to look after the children at the fair on Children's Day and thus add to the work in behalf of children for which the London club has always been recognized.

The following men have addressed the London Rotary club during the course of its ten-year existence, many of them well known internationally in their respective fields:

1915—W. A. Mathieson, of Detroit. Mr. Mathieson was the first Rotarian from another city to address the Londoners. He visited the city on April 5. The practice of asking each member to speak to the club on his particular occupation was instituted and George T. Brown spoke on insurance, being the first London member to discuss his own vocation with the club. Others followed, suit after suit in accordance with the requests of the

Here are eight of the nine charter members remaining with the London Rotary club, who join in the convention today. At the top, from left to right, are J. M. Watt, W. A. Martin, Ray Lawson, J. K. McDermid, bottom row, A. A. Langford, J. C. McConnell and Peter Glen. The other charter members who are still members of the club are C. R. Rowntree and Charles Ivey.

ROTARY WAS BORN TWENTY YEARS AGO

Paul Harris Offered His Fine Ideals to Nations of World.

Twenty years ago the first Rotary club in the world was formed by Paul Harris in Chicago. Mr. Harris, who has sent a letter of goodwill to the London executive of the forthcoming conference, is now president emeritus of Rotary International.

In forming this great club, he suggested the ideal of Rotary to three of his friends and they together instituted the first club. His goal was to begin an organization which would occupy a position of importance in the establishment of universal peace and goodwill.

This could be accomplished, he reasoned, by cultivating personal friendships with men of other nations. The desired result can be achieved only by putting aside national differences and cultivating a charitable disposition towards other civilizations.

The goal of Rotary, outlined by Mr. Harris is to accomplish a vast work in the establishment of the principle of fellowship among men and nations. Rotary has passed its adolescent period, according to its founder. It is now coming into mature growth as a world force. Each year members can look back on steady progress. The forthcoming convention is being held, he states, to help bring about the international amity that will make for substantial peace and hearty goodwill among all nations of the world.

Rotary's progress, since its inception twenty years ago, has been remarkable. Rotary International, the organization of which all Rotary clubs are members, consisted of 1,864 clubs, with an approximate membership of 103,000 Rotarians, in twenty-eight countries, on Dec. 22, 1924. There are 1,549 clubs in the United States, 77 in Canada, 168 in Great Britain and Ireland, and 70 other clubs scattered all over the face of the globe.

R. McFarlane and building up a large business supplying manufacturers with knit goods.

He was a charter member of the Vancouver Rotary club and served the club as committee chairman, director and president. He was made district governor and served on the resolutions committee at one of the international conventions. He also served as a member of the Canadian advisory committee and as its chairman. Brown spoke on insurance, being the first London member to discuss his own vocation with the club. Others followed, suit after suit in accordance with the requests of the various presidents.

1916—Harry Lauder, himself a Rotarian; the late Dr. H. A. McCullum, who spoke on "Happiness and Health"; Allen D. Albert, of Minneapolis, who was then the international president of Rotary; Sir Adam Beck, on October 16, who made the first public pronouncement at that time of the work that the London health association would be called upon to do in connection with the returned soldier with tuberculosis; E. S. Little, who outlined to the club the scheme for the purchase and control of the industrial area in London; and C. R. May, who spoke on the work of the mercantile agency, being the second member of the club to speak on his "classification."

1917—Walter Damrosch, leader of the New York symphony orchestra; Archie Clumph, of Cleveland, international president of Rotary for 1917; Dean H. W. Hill, D. P. H. of the Institute of Public Health here; Herbert Fricker, leader of the Mendelssohn choir, Toronto; Roland Duce, an attaché to the United States embassy at Constantinople; Eddie Guest of Detroit, the journalist; and the Bishop of Kootenay.

1918.—On June 19 the club was addressed by the Duke of Devonshire, who at that time was governor-general of Canada. There was also a speaker for that year, Alfred Miller, who had just returned from Europe as a member of the Canadian editors' tour of post-war conditions in England and France.

Armistice Day Dinner.

The club has always held its weekly dinners on Monday, and armistice day occurred on a Monday. Very few of the members turned up with the usual excitement of those who did hold a little celebration of their own.

In 1919, there was Jack Miner, who addressed the club for the first time on a wild goose farm. He has since spoken to the club on the same subject in view of later developments on his ranch. Then there was Dr. Walsh of New York, who delivered an interesting and typical address on Marshal Foch; Rt. Rev. Michael Fallon, Bishop of London; Canon Hugh H. Martin, director-general of the work of the Church Army during the war; and the original Gipsy Smith, 1920—Rev. Leslie Pligson, D.D., of Winnipeg, a past president of International Rotary; Rev. C. V. Eaton, D.D., of New York, pastor of John D. Rockefeller's old church, and Hon. P. B. Carvell, chairman of the railway commission.

1921.—Sir Harry Lauder once more, the team of British bowlers (they were not speakers, but guests), and Kenneth Dunstan, vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company.

1922.—Victor Illah Baksh, the Indian Christian missionary and writer, who gave the club a most interesting talk on the work and personality of Ghandi, the organizer of the non-operative movement in India; Charles Wheeler, who outlined the progress and development of the organ throughout civilization; Dr. Franklin H. Martin, director-general of the American College of Surgeons, and Rt. Rev. George Eckston Lloyd, Bishop of Saskatchewan.

1923.—Edward Johnston, the Canadian tenor; Daniel Swamides, another Indian Christian missionary; Rev. A. J. Vining, D.D., secretary of the American Relief Association; Tom Russell, president of the Canadian Cyst Company; Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragette leader; and Prof. R. S. Kingston of the University of Western Ontario, who spoke on the eclipse of the sun which he had seen off the Catalina Islands that year.

1924.—This was a year that started well from a club standpoint. On Jan. 20 one hundred Rotarians from Detroit came to the city, headed by Eddie Guest. They had dinner with their hosts in the Tecumseh house, and The Advertiser joined in the welcome with a special edition, featuring some of the visitors in cartoon and story. January was also the month that saw E. J. Zavitz, the provincial forester, address the club on "Reforestation," and Dr. Barker of Grand Rapids speak on "The Education and Training of the Teen-Age Boy and Girl." Dr. Barker is personal medical adviser to ex-President Taft, and also spoke on "Work Amongst Boys and Girls" while in the city, in St. Andrew's church. Mr. May, the secretary, believes that the brinking of Dr. Barker to the city was one of the finest things the club has done in the way of community service. The addresses of Dr. Barker were well attended and reached a large part of the community through the press.

Charter Members.

Charter members of the London Rotary club who are still members of the club are: J. M. Watt; Ray Lawson; Peter Glen; W. A. Martin; J. E. McConnell; C. R. Rowntree; C. H. Ivey; A. A. Langford and J. K. McDermid. The presidents of the club have been as follows:

1915, John K. McDermid; 1916, J. M. Watt; 1917, A. E. Silverwood; 1918, Frank Jewell; 1919, Ray Lawson; 1920, James Gray; 1921, W. R. Yendall; 1922, Jared Vining; 1923, Silverwood; 1924, Mr. Alfred Grant. The Rotary year ends on May 1, when the new president is chosen, so that Dr. Grant will be the president during this conference in London.

There have been only three secretaries of the club. First there was C. H. Ivey, who acted until November, 1915, when he went overseas; then came A. R. Cairncross, who was in office until October, 1916, and third, the present secretary, C. R. May, who has served eight years as secretary of the London Rotary club.

In the same way there have been three treasurers. E. J. McConnell became the first treasurer in 1915, turning over his office to Frank Jewell in January, 1921. Mr. Jewell continued in office until April, 1924, when W. A. Martin was made treasurer. He still holds this position.

International Rotary conventions, which have been attended by members of the London club, have been held in the following cities: 1916, Cincinnati; 1917, Atlanta, Georgia; 1918, Kansas City, Mo.; 1919, Salt Lake City; 1920, Atlantic City; 1921, Edinburgh.

OTTAWA LAWYER
GAS CONTROLLER

George Henderson, K.C., Former Referee, Supersedes Three-Man Commission.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, April 15.—George Henderson, K.C., Ottawa, was appointed gas commissioner under the new legislation passed at the session of the Legislature just closed, by order-in-council today. Salary is to be fixed. Mr. Henderson was formerly gas referee, and his appointment supersedes the three-man commission, which held office under the Drury commission.

Municipalities where natural gas is produced and consumed, recently made strenuous objection to the commission or referee plan of controlling gas. They asked that all rules and regulations made by referees or by the three-man commission be rescinded, that original franchises and agreements be reinstated, that the municipalities deal directly with the producing and distributing companies, and that the county judge be made referee in questions on which an agreement could not be reached.

LONDON'S ASSESSMENT PLAN BEST IN CANADA

Information Contained in Reports of Citizens' Research Institute.

"London's assessment system is the best in Canada" is the information contained in reports sent out by the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada. Dr. Horace L. Brittain's bureau points to London as a model city in the matter of assessments.

This information was sent to a western municipality which has decided to abolish the single tax system and adopt eastern methods. This city has for some years assessed land only and at last opposition has become so great that the city has decided to tax improvements. Writing to Dr. Brittain for advice, the western city was referred to London for information.

PREDICTS VANCOUVER WILL BE CANADA'S PREMIER PORT

A. R. McFarlane, International Vice-President, Is Rotary's Guest of Honor.

BREATHES OPTIMISM
Frank Mulholland of Toledo Talks on World Problems.

Frank Mulholland, of Toledo, Ohio, who is a past president of Rotary International, and a man with an international reputation as a lawyer and businessman was one of the first arrivals for the district convention.

He is a middle-aged man, full of energy, who would look quite at home in the role of an English country squire. Like the rest he is confident that Rotary will soon overflow the thirty-six countries in which it now functions and reach to the farthest limit of all countries.

The value of this he is in a position to know, for four years ago he went to Russia to investigate business conditions and the chances for American capital there. He had a most interesting time, though he was refused entrance by the Soviet government. He then travelled through Europe and England, and is closely touched with every international movement today.

The Debt Issue.
He holds strong views on that most controversial subject the debt question between America and the European countries.

It is extremely difficult for me to say what the American government should do in the way of cancellation of European debts," he said. "However, I would say this. There can be no cancellation of any debts by America without a new and more generous settlement with Great Britain. No American would stand for that for a moment.

Asked how a settlement of the troubled conditions in Europe could be obtained Mr. Mulholland was decisive. "France must get rid of the expense of her huge army and navy and air force," he said, "until she does that there is no hope of a permanent settlement that I can see. In Europe there is only one way to get a fresh start that will be any good. You in Canada and we in the States have no forts or guns or warship on the Great Lakes opposing each other. Very well, it will have to be the same way in Europe if they are going to make any real headway."

Business Optimist.
Mr. Mulholland is in touch with big business in the States, and agrees with Charles S. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, that business is on the way to a sound and permanent expansion.

"We are ahead of you in a business sense," he said, "but you will come along. Speaking generally, business is over the hill and is headed for sound, steady progression."

After his visit to the Russian border he does not believe that the American government is in any mood at present to recognize the Soviet government.

Alexander R. McFarlane of Vancouver, another of the early visitors for the conference, comes with a message that fairly breathes the optimism of the west and the freshness of the coast. He sees his city the largest shipping port in the dominion in a few years, in less than a decade, and looks for an era of growth and prosperity both from the handling of its Oriental and transpacific trade.

Vancouver Growing.
"Vancouver is now a city of 220,000 people," he said, "and is growing rapidly. There is an ever-growing volume of trade to the south and across the Pacific. There is no doubt at all in my mind that we shall very soon be the first shipping port in Canada."

Then we have quite a tourist business. Last year there were 300,000 cars passed across the border at Blaine, a small town on the international line thirty miles from Vancouver, so you see we have a good deal of contact with the Americans to the south.

Mr. McFarlane, like all the Rotarians who are stopping their caravan in the city for 48 hours, is enthusiastic as to the future of Rotary. He sees it as one of the international links of the future, and he is as sure of its success as of the development of his native city.

ALEX R. McFARLANE of Vancouver, B. C., a director of Rotary International, and guest of honor at the present District Conference.

ARK OF NOAH MADE SEAWORTHY BY OIL

Large Audience Hears History of Oil Since First Discovered.

That Noah used crude oil in asphalt to make the ark watertight was one of the interesting points brought out by W. A. Schorman in his lecture at the Central Collegiate last night. Tracing the developments of the oil industry through the ages, with the use of films the speaker told "The Story of Petroleum". That the word mummy is derived from a Persian word meaning oil and that crude oil was used in embalming was another claim of the speaker. In reviewing the development of the industry in recent years he stated that 2,000,000 barrels are produced daily in the United States from 275,000 wells.

Showing the immense investment in the industry the speaker displayed a map giving the location of 40,000 miles of trunk lines of pipe used to carry the crude products to the refineries in the United States.

An interesting development in this connection is the "Go-Devil" an instrument which runs through the pipes to clear them. Runners travel along the pipes in relays of three miles listening for the "Go-Devil" as it moves from station to station. It is forced through the pipe by the pressure of the oil.

Oil was first used in North America by the Indians as medicine and the first well was drilled in West Pennsylvania in 1859 by Edwin L. Drake.

Mrs. Schorman in reviewing the work of the geologists in locating wells stated that no man can definitely state where oil will be found and added that if the public would keep that fact in mind there would be fewer investments in wildcat schemes.

In conclusion he reviewed the refining process by distilling and told how the three hundred oil products from gasoline to coke are secured.

Mr. Schorman spoke last night under the arrangements of the British American Oil Company, Limited.

PROTEST ACTION OF SCHOOL BOARD

Women's Canadian Club Would Keep Domestic Science Classes.

The Women's Canadian club of London has sent a protest to the board of education against their suggestion that domestic science and manual training courses be deleted from the collegiate institute curriculum.

The protest, which was drawn up at a meeting of the executive, held at the home of the president, Mrs. F. W. Hughes, reads as follows:

"The executive of the Women's Canadian club, in session on April 14, 1925, respectfully protests to the board of education against the proposed deletion of the classes in domestic science and manual training, from the collegiate course.

At this meeting plans were also made for the presentation of "O Hara San," brilliant little Japanese operetta, in the Central collegiate auditorium on Thursday, April 23. The University of Western Ontario glee club and the university orchestra has kindly offered to repeat this successful little production, played at the university a short time ago. The Canadian club is undertaking this presentation with a view to raising money towards Canadianizing and educating an Armenian boy.

The club has an interesting speaker in prospect in the person of Mrs. McWilliams of Winnipeg, former president of the Federated University Women's clubs of Canada, who will be in the city about April 27.

ROTARY—He Profits Most Who Serves Best—ROTARY

'Service Above Self' Is Urge That United Many Nations In Cause of Brotherhood

Rotary Wheel Which Started in Chicago in 1905 Has Now Circled the World and Is Ever Aiding Understanding Between Peoples.

SPRIT STRONG IN BRITISH ISLES

A tremendous power for world fellowship and understanding has lain dormant until our reach for long years until that something called Rotary, under the banner of "Service Above Self" and actuated by the principles of acquaintance, friendship and understanding with the radiating influence of inter-club communication, was conceived.

Little did Preston Emeritus Paul Harris and his group of friends realize that the club they formed in Chicago February 23, 1905, to formulate these principles of practical service to their fellowmen would in such a short time encircle the world as it has today.

Rotary derived its name from the original Chicago club, where the meetings were held in rotation at the various members' places of business.

From Canada across the Atlantic to the British Isles that something called Rotary travelled, and at Dublin and London the first Rotary clubs were formed. Since then, in Wales and Scotland the spirit flourished so that at present there are more than one hundred and sixty-four clubs in the British Isles cementing more tightly the bond of relationship all English speaking peoples hold toward each other.

Came to British Isles

Four years after Rotary established itself in the British Isles, the winged spirit settled in another island home at the opposite side of the world. In 1915, we find Rotary established in the Hawaiian Islands, the willing self-annexation of these islands to America speaking again so forcibly of a brotherhood of men.

The following year Rotary travelled from Honolulu to Havana, Cuba, where it is now represented by eleven Cuban Rotary clubs and where Rotary has played a prominent part in civic movements that were of great importance from a local standpoint.

From Cuba to San Juan, Porto Rico, was but a short span and two years later the first Rotary club was formed in San Juan, and true to the spirit of Rotary its progress has been steady and in October of the following year the first Rotary club of Spain was formed at Madrid, a slight recognition of the gratitude that America owes to Spain and Queen Isabella for having made Columbus' discovery of America.

Spain has slowly taken a firm hold in Spain and the Rotary club of Barcelona, which was organized in 1922, has already entered upon a very conspicuous and active career.

That same month and year, October, 1920, also served to introduce Rotary to Japan at Tokio. The Tokio Rotary club was formed and its members not only endorsed and approved of the universal precepts but are forming and entering upon a club which was formed in the ancient city of Osaka.

Mexico Sees Rotary.

The force exerted by Rotary for making acquaintance through the fellowship and service next led to the organization of a Rotary club in Mexico. The Mexico City Rotary club was organized in 1921, made a special feature of work among the children and through its efforts in the short time of five weeks a complete playground was fitted out and dedicated to the poor children of the city of Mexico. With the return of peace and prosperity to this republic they took up a rapid spread of Rotary in their country and there are now seven Rotary clubs in actual existence in Mexico.

From Mexico the spirit of Rotary moved to France, where the Rotary club of Paris was brought into being in 1921, at about the time of the visit of the international officers, who placed upon the tomb of the unknown soldier the bronze memorial wreath of Rotary International. Paris hopes some day to be one of the great headquarters of Rotary in Europe and fellow Rotarians may be assured that Paris will do her best to be worthy of this great honor. In 1923 the Rotary clubs of Lyons and Toulouse were formed, and in 1924 the Rotary club of Nice.

The cordial relations of Rotary were next felt by the great trans-Pacific commonwealth of Australia and New Zealand. In April, 1921, was formed the first Rotary club of Australia, with Sydney following almost immediately.

We again find a simultaneous organizing of clubs, as the same month that brought Melbourne into Rotary also served to bring in Johannesburg, South Africa.

From South Africa to New Zealand is a long jump, but not when you stop to consider the progress that Rotary has made, and at Wellington and Auckland in June, 1921, were formed the first Rotary clubs of New Zealand. The Wellington Rotary club has some recently issued a pamphlet calling attention to the need of building up among the younger generation a desire to become useful and constructive citizens.

A Universal Wheel.

The Wheel of Rotary is now being worn on coat lapels in almost all sections of the globe, and it is not surprising to note that a request for a Rotary club was to come from so far north as Newfoundland, Britain's oldest colony in the new world, and at St. John's, the oldest city on the American continent, and famous for many other reasons, including its unexcelled coal fields, on the evening of Nov. 25, 1921, was born the Rotary club of St. John's.

And there is something of the same sort of conditions in relation to the Rotary clubs in Scandinavian countries. The first charter was granted to the Rotary club of Christiania, Norway, in February, 1922; but the Rotary club of Copenhagen, Denmark, which did not receive its charter until somewhat later in the year, had actually been formed in the fall of 1921.

In Amsterdam, Holland, Rotary next established itself in the fall of 1922, and immediately thereafter a second club was established in the Netherlands at Utrecht.

To the city of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Rotary came as a Christmas gift in 1922, and the Rio club has already made strides in putting the principle of service to work in the great South American capital, one of the most beautiful cities of the world.

At Ostend the first Rotary club in Belgium was formed in the early part of 1922, and very shortly thereafter came into being at the capital city of Brussels.

Italy, long a student of Rotary, joined the international gathering in December, 1922, when the first Italian club was chartered at Milan.

In March, 1924, the Bermuda Islands were enlisted under the banner of service by the establishment of a Rotary club at Hamilton.

Late in April, 1924, Chile was added to the list of Rotary nations, a club at Valparaiso having been formed and elected to membership in the Rotary International.

In May of that year Switzerland joined the ranks with a club in Zurich.

And so the spirit of unselfish service spreads its way around the world under Rotary auspices. Every continent and most of the great island commonwealths and dominions are now represented in Rotary international councils.

ONTARIO WILL GET ONLY 25,000 TONS

More May Be Secured If Conditions Warrant Shipment

RATE EXPERIMENTAL

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, April 15.—Outlining the arrangements made by the provincial government under which the public may participate in the shipments of Alberta coal which are to reach this province next month, Premier Ferguson today stated that owing to the lateness of the season only 25,000 tons will be shipped instead of 100,000 tons as at first arranged. However, he added that if conditions warranted, an additional shipment could likely be made.

The procedure which has been laid for the purchaser is that he shall notify the provincial fuel controller of the amount of coal he wishes to secure and of the name of the dealer through whom he is securing it, forwarding at the same time a blank guarantee to cover the freight charges. The order then will be transmitted to the Alberta trade commissioner, who, if he considers that the coal to be shipped is suitable for Ontario use, will sanction the shipments under the experimental seven dollar transportation rate which is to prevail next month.

"The government feels," Premier Ferguson said, "that to retain the large expenditure paid by Ontario for fuel in Canada it would be well worth while to carry Alberta coal at

Erratic Road Sets New Record As Passenger Train Gets Lost

Associated Press Despatch. London, April 15.—The erratic service of the Southern Railway has caused many strong expostulations from the press and the people of the south country during the last year, but the line made a new record last night when a train is said to have been lost.

It is reported that one of the Southern Railway trains, which was ostensibly taking London residents to points within a radius of fifteen miles of the metropolis last night, took a wrong turning just after it had left the Cannon street station and actually wandered round Surrey and North Kent, 75 miles away.

The trainmen stoutly deny that the train was lost, and declare that they knew all the time where it was going. Nevertheless, the company's officials admit that things went a bit wrong.

Special to The Advertiser. Aylmer, April 15.—Hydro men are busy this week changing the transformers at the local hydro station from 250 horsepower capacity to 1,000 horsepower. This change is necessary because Aylmer will be the distributing point for several rural power lines, as well as supplying power to Springfield. Material is now being hurried for the construction of the Aylmer-Springfield power line. Springfield has been receiving power through Tillsonburg. Many farmers between here and Springfield have had their homes and buildings wired, ready to use hydro.
