Ere the daylight quite died out the squaw took the two men to the crown of a white hill. She looked out across the virgin carpet of towering pines below them and pointed with one blanket-covered rm outstretched. She was silent while she indicated several points in the vast panorama stretched out before her. Then she tried to tell them something. But her language was the language of her tribe, and neither of the men could understand her. Then she spoke in the language of signs which all Indians speak so well.

She raised her hand, pointing eastward, till it poised directly overhead. Then she pointed to her feet, and her hand moved slowly in a northern direction, after which she made a running movement with her feet. Then she bent her body and appeared to be gazing about her, searching. Finally she pointed to two very large trees which stood out alone and apart. Then again came the motion of running, which finished quickly, and she pointed first to Nick's face and then to herself. After that she stood motion-less, with arms folded over her bosom. And the two men read her meaning.

At daylight they were to start out northward and travel until mid-day. Then they were to halt and search the outskirts of the forest until they found two mammoth trees standing apart. The space between them was the mouth of a pathway into the heart of the for-They were to traverse this path a short distance, and they would discover the White Squaw. A thrill of emotion moved both men. There had leapt within them, in one great overwhelming tide, all the old reckless craze for the sha-dowy creation of Victor's story. At the mere suggestion of a squaw's the mere suggestion of a squaw's presence in that valley their blood-tide surged through their veins like a torrent of fire, and pulses were set beating like sledge-hammers. known that there is a species of fish which uses this very device on its own account. "Lophius piscatorius" is the proper name of this very intelligent individual, but he ans this very wers readily to his more ordinary name of the angler. He would laugh at the notion of such a clumsy apparatus as artificial lights, boats, spears, nets, or indeed, any tools whatever but such as can be carried so to speak, in his own pocket. Like some other anglers, he is not at all active and prefers to spend his time in the mud at the bottom of the sea. This being so, he has little use for fins to swim with, and therefore uses them in

PHOSPHORESCENT LIGHTS. His two side fins are very strong and large, but they look more like a short, clumsy leg and foot than real fins, and the fins on his back he has turned into long thin fila-ments; on one or two of these he hangs phosphorescent lights. Curously shaped filaments grow out all round his sides, looking some thing like a seaweed. When he is hungry he lights his lamps, and foolish fish come to investigate this strange appearance, an enormous mouth opens beneath them, and in one huge gulp folly pays the price of foolishness. The angler then puts out his light. That these methods pay fairly well is shown by the fact that these fish sometimes grow to five feet in length and are proportionately broad and heavy. can thus be seen that fins may be made to serve other purposes as well as swimming.

ODD MODE OF TRAVEL.

The sucking-fish, remora, is another case in point. He is exceed-ingly fond of travelling, and having no money to pay his fares has learned how to gratify his taste cheaply and satisfactorily. The fin which most fish wear about the mid-dle of the back he prefers to have on the top of his head, and this fin he has turned into a most effective sucker; with this he fastens himself like a limpet to the underside of a whale, a shark or anything that represents in his mind an express train. So he is carried along at a far greater rate than he could achieve for himself and with no trouble or expense. Let is be said to his credit that he does no harm to his temporary locomotive, but honorably catches fish for himself; a free passage is all he wants and he never thinks of waiting for an invitation. As he only grows about darsesay a dozen of him would not trouble a whale much.

A passenger and cargo liner of 5,000 tons, equipped with internal 5,000 tons, equipped with internal combustion engines, is about to be laid down by a Clyde, Scotland, firm. The vessel is intended for a Danish company, and in her case will be possible to start the engines in five minutes, as compared with the fifteen hours required to raise steam with boilers. It is also estimated that 100 tons of oil will take a liner as far as three hundred tons of coal.

Czar's Boy Said He Would Not Tell His Father.

A good story of the six-year-old Czarevitch is now going the rounds of society in St. Petersburg. His Imperial Highness is, of course, greeted with a salute wherever he passes a sentry in the palace precincts. Recently, however, it be-came evident that the honor so cincts. much gratified the young Prince that many unnecessary excursions were being made past the box of a certain sentry, the customary salute being accorded every time. The matter reached the ears of his fath-er, who, to give his son a lesson, ribbon of forget-me issued orders that in future no no-tice should be taken of the Cvarevitch's comings and goings by the sentries. The dismay of the heir was profound when, on passing his favorite sentry box the next morn-ing he found that his presence was ignored. In childish indignation he went to the sentry and demanded the reason of the omission. "It is by the Czar's orders," was the reply. This seemed at first to settle the matter, but after a few moments cogitation the Royal young-ster approached the sentry again and said, pleadingly: "Please just do it this once, and I promise you father shan't hear anything about the tips into faint gold. CANADA 18 AN EPIDEMIC

Weakened and Breken Constitutions Left Behind-Hew to Regain New Health and Strength

La grippe is one of the most danperous diseases that annually weeps over Canada. It starts with a sneeza-a slight cold-and ends a sneeze—a slight cold—and ends with a complication of troubles. It lays the strong man on his back; it tortures him with fevers and chills, with headaches and back-sches. Its victims are left low-spirited and depressed, and an assy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia, rheumatism, and often that most dreaded of all diseases—consump-tion. You can avoid la grippe en-tirely by keeping the blood rich and red by the occasional use of Dr. red by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The trouble takes as its victims those whose blood is in a poor condition, and its after-effects are more dangerous and more lasting than the trou-ble itself. For the after-effects of grippe there is absolutely no other medicine can equal Dr. Wil-liams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps make rich, red blood that drives disease from the system, and makes bright, cheerful and strong. If you have suffered in any way from the epidemic of la grippe that has been epidemic of la grippe that has been sweeping over Canada, give this great health-restoring medicine a trial, and it will not disappoint you. Here is proof of the wonder-ful power of Dr. Williams' Pink world and have a little time left Pills over the after-effects of this disease. Mr. P. E. Paulin, collector of customs at Caraquet, N Β. says: "A few winters ago I had a severe attack of la grippe, which completely broke me down. I had to take to my bed for several weeks, and although during that time I employed a doctor I did not seem to recover from the trouble. I was left terribly weak, did not sleep well, had night sweats and little or no appetite. I was really a phy-sical wreck. On a former occasion I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for general debility with such great success that I decided to try them travelling circus. There he made again. I sent for a half dozen boxes and began to take the Pills at once. When taking the second box I began to feel quite a change in my condition. I was able to walk about the house and my appetite was im-proving. From that on I gained strength every day and before the six boxes were done I was able to return to the office and attend to my work. I have since enjoyed the best of health, and think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine for trouble of this kind." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only promptly cure the serious after-eflects of la grippe, but they make well and strong all persons suffer-ing from any form of depility or general weakness. These Pills have no laxative or purgative action; their mission is to make new, rich, red blood, and thus fortify and strengthen every organ and every part of the body. INTERNATIONAL LESSON. MARCH 5.

Lesson X .-- Elijah goes up by whirlwind into heaven, 2 Kings 2. 1-18. Golden Text, Con 5 %

Verse 1. Jehovah would take up

Elijah-Elijah bursts upon the scene at the start with none of the an nouncements as to birth which we find in the lives of most heroes, and his departure is as full of mystery as his origin. Of no other, except Jesus, is it recorded that he was translated in this way, although Enoch, of course, shares the disseems to have been the seat of a school of young men in training for the work of a prophet. 2. Tarry here—The purpose of Elijah was probably to spare his successor the anguish of witnessing the stormy scenes of his departure. Fully a dozen years had elapsed since the call had come to Elisha at the Netherlands). the plow, and during all that time he had no doubt enjoyed the closest intimacy with this most picturesque character in the Old Testament. It may be, also, that, with his love for solitude, Elijah wished in these closing days to tear himself away from all human companionship. Byth-el-His object in halting here and at Jericho was, in all probability. to reassure the young pro-phets who were being schooled in these places. Bethel was inseparably connected with the patriarchal history, and had become renowned as the abode of ancient sanctuaries (see lesson for January 8). Went down to Beth-el-Bethel itself was higher up than Gilgal. But between them lay a deep valley into which it was necessary to descend in making the journey from Gilgal. 3. Sons of the prophets — These were some of the fruits of Elijah's strenuous loyalty to the true religion. These young men had caught his spirit and were being trained the older prophees at Bethel and Jericho and Gilgal, and it may be other centers, to continue the war against the heathen supersititions which threatened to destroy the nation.

Knowest thou ?-- We have no ink ling as to how the knowledge of Elijah's impending departure had reached these schools. But, how-ever the news had come, Elisha was in no mood to discuss it, and warns the talkative youth that it is not a matter for idle gossip. 4. Jericho-A city in the valley of the Jordan, over against Nebo, made famous by the siege of Joshua, it being the first to oppose the pro gress of the Israelites after their crossing the Jordan.

prophets that Elisha was not lack-ing in the gifts of a great prophet, and they humbly make acknowledg-ment of their allegiance. Still, as verse 16 shows, they remain some-what skeptical as to the departure of Elijah, and suggest a search by fifty strong men. There is a certain humor in the persistency with which they urge this upon Elisha until he shamefacedly gives in and bids them send and look. Their failure to find a trace of the old seer, after-three days, left Elisha as their undisputed leader.

WONDERFUL SILVER PLATE.

In the Collection are Five Wine Coolers as Big as Footbaths.

The Spencer family has inherited the greater portion of the once world famous Spencer Churchill plate housed at Blenheim Palace during the lifetime of the great Duke of Marlborough, for whom hy a grateful Queen and nation this country palace was originally built. This plate came to Althorp through the intermarriage of an heiress of the Spencer Churchills and comprises one of five marvellous wine coolers or "foot baths" (one was actually used as such by its great original owner, the Duke of Marlborough. . n his campaign in

" "I have often gazed with wonder and admiration at this 'wine cooler' (capable of hoiding I can't remember how many dozens of champagne bottles) on the occasion of a dance in St. Patrack's Hall," says a writer in the Lady's Pictorial. This famous piece always formed the centre of the wonderful collection, which, closely set together on raised baize covered panels, reached practically from floor to ceiling of this huge hall in Dublin Castle. Spencer's plate includes "Lord solid gold Russian cups, Old World silver water bottles of Charles II.'s time, more resembling great cans in size, with the corks, Jacobean fashion, secured with silver links and chains; then there are two gold pails, reckoned the largest of the kind in any private collection in the world. and among the comparatively modern pieces is the beauti ful silver gilt jug, one of the four subscribed for by the English na tion, and presented (each receiv-ing one) to the Lords Althorp. * BAD SPELLING.

Schools and Colleges are Blamed For It.

To spell badly is no longer considered particularly illiterate-that is to say, it does not betoken a want of education. MESOPOTAMIA TO AGAIN BE A FERTILE REGION.

Three Million Acres to be Irrigated

Under the Proposed Scheme.

After the Nile the Euphrates. Both are to be dammed, and both by Englishmen.

Sir John Jackson, the engineer and contractor, has just signed a contract with the Turkish Governor-General of Bagdad for the construction of a great dam at the Hindia section of the Euphrates, with the expected result that Mes opotamia will again become one of the most fertile regions of the world.

This new Turkish irrigation plan is based upon the recommendation of Sir William Willcocks. This involved the irrigation of over 3,000,-000 acres, at an estimated

COST OF $37,000,000

Since the submission of that scheme in 1908 a large staff of engineers has been at work survey. ing the ground and studying the conditions with the result that new plans of a more limited scope were prepared and approved by the prepared Turkish Government.

The damming of the head of the Hindia Canal forms part of the new scheme. The canal is an ancient cutting which the Euphrates in recent years has followed, in preference to its own bed, with disastrous consequences.

The original Euphrates, passing through Babylon, is now quite dry in Summer, all the water flowing down the canal except in flood time Cultivation on the Euphrates banks has, therefore, been almost abandoned, the population having migrated across country to the Hindia Canal. The canal, however, never having been meant to contain the whole of the Euphrates, has become badly water-logged, and much good land has become swamp.

The Turks have been trying for years to construct a barrage which would force part of the water back into the bed of the Euphrates and permit regulation of the flow in the canal,

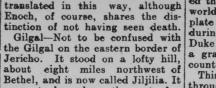

BUT WITHOUT SUCCESS.

Sir William Willcocks' engineers succeeded in filling up the space between the two arms of the barrage, only to find the structure breached at another point when the water came down in flood. Completion of this scheme will have the important and of greatly improving the con-ditions along the length of the can-

'Ine principal crops in order of importance that would be planted are wheat, barley, rice, sesame and cotton. It is estimated that about 800,000 acres of land will be placed under wheat, and on the basis of a ton from every acre the Mesopotamian wheat would amount to about 30,000,000 bushels
